

HULLS by Kernel Gene, aPe

"Who has more fun than people?"
Why, that "nut" Kernel Gene, of course!

Thereasa and I had a wonderful time at the Texas Livestock Auction Association Convention in San Antonio last week. They are a grand bunch of folk and treated us royally.

R. G. Jordan, Farm Editor of the San Antonio Express, was present and when he learned I was from a peanut county he presented me with a jar of peanut butter made by members of the Wilson County Home Demonstration Clubs. These ladies make their own peanut butter and sell it. Mr. Jordan also gave me a jar of honey from Uvalde. On returning home I toasted bread, mixed the peanut butter and honey together and have been having "delectable" sandwiches.

Mr. Jordan told me about a cake that he cooks himself. It sounded so good I asked for the recipe and got his permission to print it.

CITY TO ELECT MAYOR AND TWO COMMISSIONERS ON TUESDAY

On Tuesday, April 3, an election to elect a mayor and two commissioners for Places One and Four will be held at the Fire Hall.

James Mears and T. L. Jay are contenders for the post of mayor. Mr. Jay, who has been mayor for the past twelve years, is seeking re-election, and Mr. Mears, who has been a City Commissioner, Place 4, for the past two years, is also seeking the office of mayor.

Davis Smith Seeks City Commission Post, Place Four

In placing my name on the ballot as a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Gorman, I do so with knowledge that this is a very responsible position. The actions and attitude of a city commissioner can well affect the future of a town. Therefore, if elected to this position I will strive to conduct my share of the city's business with the same interest that I conduct my own business.

I believe this is the natural thing to do as I pay taxes the same as other citizens and, therefore, will want to be as conservative as possible, but at the same time, do all within my power to assist the other city officers in improving the streets, water and sewage facilities, etc.

I will appreciate your support.

Davis Smith

Jerry Anderson Places Well In Abilene Meet

Texas A&M's Jerry Anderson, a former Gorman Panther, brought the baton in half a step ahead of ACC's Olympian Earl Young in the mile relay in the four-way track meet which also included Houston and Texas Tech at Abilene on Saturday.

Jerry also won second in the 220 yard dash.

It was the first time Jerry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Anderson of Gorman, had seen their son run. Illness had prevented them from attending the track events even when Jerry was in High School.

The Gorman senior girls and their mothers attended the Mother Daughter Tea at John Tarleton College in Stephenville this week.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown me during my stay in the hospital. To those who sent flowers, cards and those who visited me.

To the doctors and nurses for the wonderful care given me.

May God bless each of you.

COUNTY LIVESTOCK SHOW SET FOR MARCH 30-31 IN EASTLAND

Judging of the 700 animals at the annual Eastland County Livestock Show on Friday and Saturday, March 30-31, will begin at 1 p. m. on the opening day, with Angora goats, first division to be judged, according to officials. The breeding classes of sheep and dairy cattle will also be judged on the opening afternoon. Swine, fat lambs, fat steers and beef cattle entries are to be judged on the second day.

Garland Coody, Breckenridge rancher, will do the Angora goat judging. Three medallions will be presented to goat and sheep winners by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, San Angelo.

Jack Hancock, livestock specialist, Production Credit Association, will place the sheep and fat lambs. Hancock, former Agriculture Teacher at Tuscola, has judged many shows here in the past, according to Ben McKinnis, general superintendent. Curtis Richardson, dairy specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, Denton, Texas, will judge dairy animals.

Bob Morphy, Abilene, will select the fat steers and the fat hogs, while T. C. Colby of the Agricultural Department of ACC, also of Abilene, will pick the winners of the breeding classes of swine. H. A. Moseley, prominent rancher of Mineral Wells, will judge the beef cattle entries. Travis Allen, County Agent, Baird, will sift the animals.

Auction of the prize winning fat pigs, lambs and steers will get underway at 7:30 p. m. at the Eastland auction barn on the second day of the show. Each of the FFA or 4-H Club members may sell only 1 lamb, 1 steer and 1 pig at premium prices. The number of animals that can be sold has been restricted this year, it was explained.

Club animals that do not qualify for the special auction sale will find a market available through the Eastland County Livestock Association, it was explained.

The fat pigs, lambs and calves are to be judged on a packer basis only.

Eastland County 4-H Club Girls will have charge of the food and drink concession at the two-day affair. They will be under the supervision of Miss Melbadear Hohertz, Assistant Eastland County HD Agent, and local leaders from various clubs over the county.

The Eastland Auction Company will give three $10.00 cash awards to the boy or girl who does the best job of fitting, grooming, showing and keeping the animals still and aisles clean during the show. One award will be for cattle, one for swine, and one for sheep.

MORE BUSINESS FOR GORMAN — Grover C. Lee Jr., executive director of the Texas Livestock Auction Association, left, signs agreement on behalf of TLAA designating Kernel Eugene Baker, right, as "Official Printer" of the state association. Early in April the Gorman newspaper and printing firm owner will begin producing stockyards forms and other business needs for member markets of Texas Livestock Auction Association.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Kernel Eugene Baker, Gorman newspaper publisher and printing firm owner, Saturday was named the "Official Printer" of the Texas Livestock Auction Association during the organization's closing business session of its 1962 convention at the Gunter Hotel.

Approval of the official designation by the membership followed an earlier recommendation made Friday morning during a meeting of the Association's 20-member board of directors.

Under terms of an agreement between Baker and the Association, services of "TLAA Printers," to be operated at Gorman, will be available to 172 livestock auction markets over Texas.

Baker's firm will produce stockyards business forms, yardage and lottage books, buyers cards, scale tickets, special ruled forms, market report cards, letterheads, envelopes, statements, etc. for member markets of the state trade association.

Baker told the Association he would begin operation of "TLAA Printers" early in April.

Also during the final business assembly Saturday afternoon, J. R. Taylor of Amarillo, co-owner of Amarillo Livestock Auction, the nation's largest cattle auction, was elected president of the marketmen's state trade association.

Taylor, who has been active in the Association as a director and officer for the past five years, served as vice president last year.

Oris Reynolds of Abilene Livestock Auction, Abilene, was elected vice president, and Billy Bode of El Campo Livestock Commission Co., El Campo, was named as treasurer of the organization for the coming year. Reynolds and Bode had previously served as treasurer and secretary respectively.

New member of the four-man slate of TLAA officers is Clyde Hebert, owner of Bee County Livestock Auction, Beeville, and Cotulla Livestock Commission Co., Cotulla, who was elected secretary.

Ten directors were elected earlier Saturday afternoon. They included President Taylor, Treasurer Bode, Secretary Hebert, and Mrs. Lorraine Kent of Vernon, S. D. Jernigan of Goldthwaite, W. J. Noll of Floresville, Kelly Simon of Calvert, Cecil Ward of Gainesville, Bert Buchanan of Longview, and James Campbell of Center.

Mrs. Kent, Noll, Hebert, Simon and Campbell are new first-time directors and will serve for two-year terms.

Holdover directors include Vice President Reynolds of Abilene, John Cargile of San Angelo, A. V. Summy of Elsa, Garland Houck of Kenedy, Doug Magee of Hubbard, Dick Cain of Muenster, Bill Shepard of Wills Point, Joe E. Phillips of Carthage, and Earl White of Madisonville.

During spirited balloting winding up the final business session Saturday afternoon, Laredo was selected as the site for the 1963 convention early next year. Other cities considered were Houston, Mineral Wells and Austin.

C. G. (CHARLIE) SCRUGGS NAMED WINNER TSCRA'S OUTSTANDING SERVICE AWARD AT CONVENTION

C. G. (Charlie) SCRUGGS

In presenting the plaque, Welder called attention to the fact that livestock producers and sportsmen already have contributed more than one and one-half million dollars in the Foundation's program to raise three million dollars through voluntary contributions.

"Eradication of the screw-worm in the Southwest will save livestock producers millions of dollars a year," Welder said, "and Scruggs is due much of the credit for initiating the program."

HOUSTON — The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association's "Outstanding Service Award" was presented to the president of the organization which initiated the screwworm eradication program in the Southwest, last Tuesday, during the 85th annual TSCRA convention in Houston.

C. G. Scruggs of Dallas, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, received a leather plaque bearing the inscription, "For Outstanding Service To The Beef Cattle Industry."

The plaque was presented by Leo Welder of Victoria, chairman of the public relations committee, and TSCRA first vice-president.

The screwworm eradication program in the Southwest is patterned after a similar program which was used to eradicate the costly pest from the Southeast in 1958 and 1959. The systematic release of millions of sterilized flies results in self-elimination. Release of sterilized flies in Texas began Feb. 14.

Scruggs, Texas-Oklahoma editor, The Progressive Farmer, is a well known southern agricultural writer, speaker and leader, and presently is vice-president of American Agricultural Editors Association. In addition, he is an active rancher operating on land both in East and West Texas, producing beef cattle, Angora goats and horses.

He was reared at McGregor in Central Texas, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scruggs. As a high school student he was elected

Are Peanuts Profitable?

Is peanuts a profitable enterprise on your farm? How many bushels per acre do you have to produce before profit is realized?

In an attempt to answer these questions, ten producers in the Gorman area kept production cost records on their peanut crop in 1961 according to County Agent J. M. Cooper. A summary of these records showed it cost approximately $31.00 to produce an acre of peanuts. This cost figure does not include any charge for the land, interest on capital or depreciation. Using $31.00 per acre as the cost of production and $3.35 as the price per bushel, requires a yield of 9 bushels per acre to cover out-of-pocket cost. Under these conditions a yield of 16-18 bushels would give a return of $20.00-$25.00 per acre to land, management and capital. If a producer was paying rent or buying land and/or paying interest on the money used to produce the crop, his profit would be considerably less.

Certainly these costs and return figures will not apply to all peanut producers in Eastland and surrounding counties but they may serve as a guide for estimating cost and profit associated with peanut production. A farmer can determine similar information for his operation by a simple enterprise record. Such information will enable the producer to compare the profitability of peanuts with other crops and livestock produced on the farm and provide sound information for making adjustments in his operation as the need arises.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Some segments of official Washington seem quite concerned as to the front put up all over the world. This could be a reason why there is so much interest in U.S. collaboration with the European Common Market.

At least this inference could be drawn from a recent speech by Eugene Braderman, director, Office of International Economic Programs, Bureau of International Programs, Department of Commerce, before convention of The Corset and Brassiere Association of America.

Mr. Braderman is all for cutting U.S. tariffs. He seems to feel the difference between U.S. and foreign wage scales is no serious consideration. He feels all such problems can be solved by "imaginative and enthusiastic selling."

As an example of "imaginative and enthusiastic selling" he stated that U.S. exports of bras and similar articles to Common Market nations increased from 18,500 dozen in 1956 to 88,400 dozen in 1961.

For an even more pointed example, he reported all exports of U.S. bras increased from 398,400 to 752,000 dozen.

This leads to interesting conjecture. Presumably, the U.S. is not exporting bras to Iron Curtain nations, and after deducting the amount shipped to Europe, there are still a lot.

This leads to speculation as to whether the U.S. government is speculating as to whether the U.S. government mental policy is now to teach Congo women to wear bras. If so, this could perhaps account for the steady increase in federal employment. And perhaps, it could also explain in part why the men of the Congo have been so wild the past few months.

And while he seemed figure conscious in one direction, Mr. Braderman glossed over the fact that while America was exporting 752 thousand of the items, 2 million, 350 thousand were imported.

Lest the idea grow that the U.S. has a corner on bureaucratic frivolity, it should be reported that while in solemn conclave in Brussels recently, the ministers of the Common Market appointed a committee to study bras. It was found the French product does not fit Dutch women, the Italian article does not fit French women, and German women cannot wear any from any other country. A spokesman reported it is essential to develop "an absolutely interchangeable bra."

It is not difficult to imagine a French bureaucrat in the Brussels meeting springing to his feet to cry out, "Alons, ma cheries, the Common Market must go forward with a common bra."

This column may seem ridiculous. It is. But it is factual. And perhaps better than anything else, it illustrates the fact that if Congress votes an alliance with the European Common Market, there is no phase of American life that will not be controlled, regulated, by U.S. bureaucrats working in concert with the bureaucrats of Europe. Bunker Hill and Valley Forge may yet prove out to have been in vain.

Farmers Union

By D. B. Warren

Regular monthly meeting of the Eastland County Farmers Union organization was held at Rising Star on March 20th. The newly chartered organization was well represented at this meeting.

Directors: Doss Alexander and Jim Ray Cox, Rising Star; Truman Bryant and Larry Guy, Carbon; Q. D. Fuller, Bill Simpson, Ernest Weaver and Durwood Belyeu, Gorman; and Hardy Tidwell of Desdemona.

Officers for the organization elected during this meeting were Wayne Eaves of Gorman, President, and Mrs. Hardy Tidwell of Desdemona, Secretary.

Mr. C. E. Maddox, President of Farmers Union of McLennan County, presented a tape recording of Congressman Bob Poage's speech to the Farmers Union Convention held in Waco last Nov.

Eastland County ASC office manager, Mr. Emmett Powell, was present to stress the importance of releasing allotted peanut acreage that will not be planted by land owners so that it may be re-allocated to those of Eastland County that need additional peanut acreage for this crop year.

Much enthusiasm was shown by those present over the rapidly growing Farmers Union organization of Eastland County which now consists of approximately 150 members.

COMANCHE COUNTY NEWS

Reporter, Arnold Butler

The Comanche County Farmers Union held its regular meeting on Friday, March 16 at 7:30 p. m. in the De Leon High School Lunch Room with a really nice box supper. We want to thank the women for preparing the nice boxes and also the men who bought them. There was a good crowd and everyone surely seemed to enjoy themselves. The money that was made will be placed on the program of the Comanche County Farmers Union.

The group urges all of the peanut farmers that do not intend to plant peanuts in 1962 to go by the ASC office and turn in their acreage before April 4. If this is not done, Comanche County will lose some of its allotments. In 1961 Comanche County was allotted 52, 141 acres and 46,196.0 acres were planted. It would be unfortunate for all the farmers if this were to happen, so be sure to turn in your acreage.

Next meeting of the Comanche County group will be announced at a later date.

DEWEY SMITH, EDINBURG, GETS TOP INDUSTRY AWARD AS TEXAS MARKET OPERATOR OF THE YEAR

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Dewey Smith of Edinburg, prominent South Texas livestock market owner and industry leader, received the "Roy M. Kothmann Memorial Award" during the closing "Progress Banquet" of the 1962 convention of Texas Livestock Auction Assn. at the Gunter Hotel Saturday evening, March 24.

The award is presented annually to a livestock auction market owner for outstanding service to his industry and to the public.

The plaque, naming Smith as "Outstanding Livestock Market Owner of the Year," was presented by R. R. (Boots) Kothmann, son of the late Roy M. Kothmann of Uvalde, prominent South Texas ranchman and market owner, in whose memory the award is made each year during the annual convention of Texas Livestock Auction Association.

Smith, who served as president of the state trade association in 1958, is a native of Coleman County, Texas where he was born Sept. 4, 1904. He later resided in Oklahoma where he graduated from High School and attended Oklahoma A. & M. College at Stillwater. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith, retired ranchers and merchants, still reside in Oklahoma.

He came to Texas in 1939 and settled at Edinburg where he was engaged in the meat business until he and two partners, Dwight English and Dick Bryan, purchased the Community Sale Yard market, the oldest livestock auction in Texas which was established back in 1926.

He and his wife, the former Miss Neva Hatten of Tonkawa, Okla., were united in marriage on Dec. 12, 1928. The couple has three married daughters and a son, Dewey Smith, Jr., 16, of Edinburg, outstanding in 4-H Club work.

Previous recipients of the coveted industry award, all of whom were present at the Saturday night TLAA banquet, are Max Lindeman of Alice, S. D. Jernigan of Goldthwaite, and C. D. McEver of Austin.

TEXAS AVERAGE FARM PRICES DOWN SLIGHTLY, USDA REPORTS

AUSTIN (USDA) — Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers on February 15 for all farm products declined 2 points from mid-January according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The February 15 index was 258 percent of the January 1910 - December 1914 base compared with 260 last month and was 9 points, nearly 4 percent above a year ago.

An increase of 4 points in livestock and livestock products was not enough to offset a decrease of 6 points in all crops.

The all crop index was 226 percent of the base, down 6 points from a month ago.

A drop of 2c per pound for cotton was mainly responsible for the drop in the all crop index. The current price of 23c per pound compares with 30c last month and 25.7c last February.

Cottonseed at $50.00 per ton was unchanged from January, but was $6.00 above last year.

The feed grain and hay index at 125 was up 2 points from a month ago and 5 points above a year ago. In this group, corn and barley showed increases of 3c and 4c per bushel, respectively and grain sorghum increased 2c per cwt. Compared with a year ago all feed grains were higher; corn 4c per bushel, oats 4c, barley 13c, and grain sorghum 8c per cwt. However, all hay was 70c per ton lower.

The livestock and livestock products index was 310 percent of the base compared with 306 last month and 314 a year ago. The meat animal index showed a 10 point increase over last month, but dairy products and poultry and eggs were down a little, while wool and mohair showed no change.

The meat animal index was 391, compared with 381 a month ago and 389 a year ago. Beef cattle at $19.60 per cwt. were 70c higher than in mid-January, but only 10c above last February. Calf prices also were higher, the current price of $23.90 being 30c above last month, and 80c above a year ago. Lamb prices showed a drop of 10c from last month, but were $1.70 below last year. Hog prices were 10c below mid-January and 60c below last February.

The average prices of all chickens showed a 1/2c per pound increase over last month, but broilers and farm chickens were below last year's prices. Egg prices were 1c per dozen below mid-January. Turkey prices were the same as a month ago, but were 4c below the last February price.

Louisiana Backs Southwest's Big Screwworm Drive

DALLAS — Efforts of Texas livestock owners to raise funds to eliminate the screwworm in the Southwest got a real boost last week when representatives of the Louisiana Cattlemen's Association wholeheartedly joined the fight. Support of the Louisiana cattlemen came after a meeting held in Baton Rouge, which was called by the Louisiana Extension Service. Texas Livestock Auction Assn. was advised by C. G. Scruggs, Dallas, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation.

In addition to the support of the Louisiana cattlemen, the Louisiana Farm Bureau and other livestock and agricultural organizations in the state gave strong endorsement to the screwworm eradication program.

According to Scruggs, Texas livestock owners have already voluntarily subscribed $1,500,000 to the campaign. Livestockmen are seeking to raise $3,000,000, half the estimated cost of the eradication work that is being carried out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The USDA will bear the other half, Scruggs said.

CANDY BAR CRISPS spell "happy eating" for post-party pretzels, corn chips and cocktail crackers. Melt a couple of peanut candy bars in a double boiler. Dunk half of each let-over crispy in the luscious hot sauce. Sprinkle with broken peanuts, shredded coconuts or bright cookie shot. Warning -- these tend to disappear on sight!
