The Gorman FHA Chapter met Tuesday afternoon, September 29 in the Homecoming Cottage for their regular monthly meeting.

President, Joyce Joiner, presided over the business meeting at which time a booth for the Halloween Carnival was discussed. William Jay was selected as FHA Chapter Beau.

The Sophomore girls initiated the Freshmen girls on Monday by making them dress in tacky clothes and smearing their faces and hair with red paint and raw eggs and making them parade downtown. This is an annual ceremony for the FHA Chapter.

Refreshments were served by the Sophomore girls following the downtown parade.

J. E. WALKER RETURNS HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mr. J. E. Walker, who underwent surgery Friday at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth, arrived home Wednesday afternoon and is feeling fine. However, it will be two or three weeks before he will be back at his post as Pharmacist at the Mehaffey Drug.

Dorenda Arnold & Debra Smith
 This week we elected our candidates for our Halloween Carnival. They are Dorenda Arnold and Wesley Rogers. We are going to sell different things to make our money for the King and Queen.

In English we have studied nouns and pronouns. In Math we have been reviewing for our Six Weeks Tests and learning to write six and seven place numbers. In spelling we have been doing our weekly lessons. In Geography we have been reading aloud. In reading we are reading about "The Death Trap of the Ages." In Science we have been drawing the planets.

We are making our own class room library. We are making a card file and learning to arrange books correctly. So far we have about twenty-five books.

Our Sixth Grade Officers are as follows:
 President - Neal Rand
 Vice-President - Betty Seaton
 Secretary - Anna Lee Butler
 Treasurer - Tresa Duran
 Reporters - Dorenda Arnold and Debra Smith

CORRECTION
 Band Boosters names appearing in last week's issue of the Progress as serving refreshments for the after game get-together for the band members at the Ranger-Gorman game should have been Mrs. Albert Taylor instead of Mrs. W. R. Taylor.

CARD OF THANKS
 We would like to thank each and everyone that brought food to our home on the recent death of our loved one, Mrs. Velma Cooper and to those who helped in any way with kind words and money donation. And to Anna Fay Foster for all the nice things she did for Velma while she was in the rest home. Also all the other nurses and doctors.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND REGULARLY THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

Alas! And Did My Saviour Bleed

A preacher's visit lasts 36 years

The Lord Mayor was there. Like other elite members of London's Mark Lane Church, his honor rarely missed a sermon by the renowned Dr. Watts.

Isaac Watts was young for the pulpit at Mark Lane. Thirty-two he was now, but he had been at the big church ever since he was 28. He was small, just five feet—and his big head made his small body look even smaller and his long hook nose made his homely face even uglier. He was sickly, too. Hardly had he seen a well day since smallpox nearly killed him when he was 15. At Mark Lane he rarely preached two Sundays in succession, but the congregation wouldn't let him quit. They hired an assistant and told Dr. Watts to preach when he felt like it.

A few years after his illness Watts was sought out by a beautiful lady who fell in love with him through his poetry. Her name was Elizabeth Singer and Watts fell hand over heels in love with her. He proposed marriage, but Miss Singer shied away in disappointment and said she "admired the jewel but could never love the casket." Abandoning hope of marriage, the little man wrote, "How vain are all things here below... How false and yet how fair."

Isaac Watts preached that Sunday in 1712, but he didn't feel like it. So the Lord Mayor and Lady Abney carried him out to their mansion in the country. A week's rest, they said, would do him good.

At the Abney home Watts fell in love again—with the three little daughters of his hosts. He wrote verses for them about "the busy little bee" and dogs that "delight to bark and bite" and a cradle song that began, "Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber; Holy angels guard thy bed." The Abneys became so attached to their guest that they wouldn't let him leave. In 1720 Watts collected his juvenile verse into his classic "Divine and Moral Songs for Children." The book sold 80,000 copies a year and six generations were raised on it. Watts died, still a bachelor, at the Abney home in 1748—36 years after going there for a week's rest.

Perhaps the little man was thinking of his pocket-marked face and dwarf body when he wrote one of the greatest hymns that has ever been written...

*Alas, and did my Saviour bleed?
 And did my Sovereign die?
 Would He devote that sacred head
 For such a worm as I?*

*Was it for crimes that I have done,
 He groined upon the tree?
 Amazing pity! Grace unknown!
 And love beyond degree!*

*Well might the sun in darkness hide,
 And shut His glories in,
 When Christ, the mighty Maker, died
 For man the creature's sin.*

*But drops of grief can ne'er repay
 The debt of love I owe;
 Here, Lord, I give myself away,
 'Tis all that I can do.*

This is one of a series presenting the story of the world famous religious hymns sung by the faithful of all creeds.

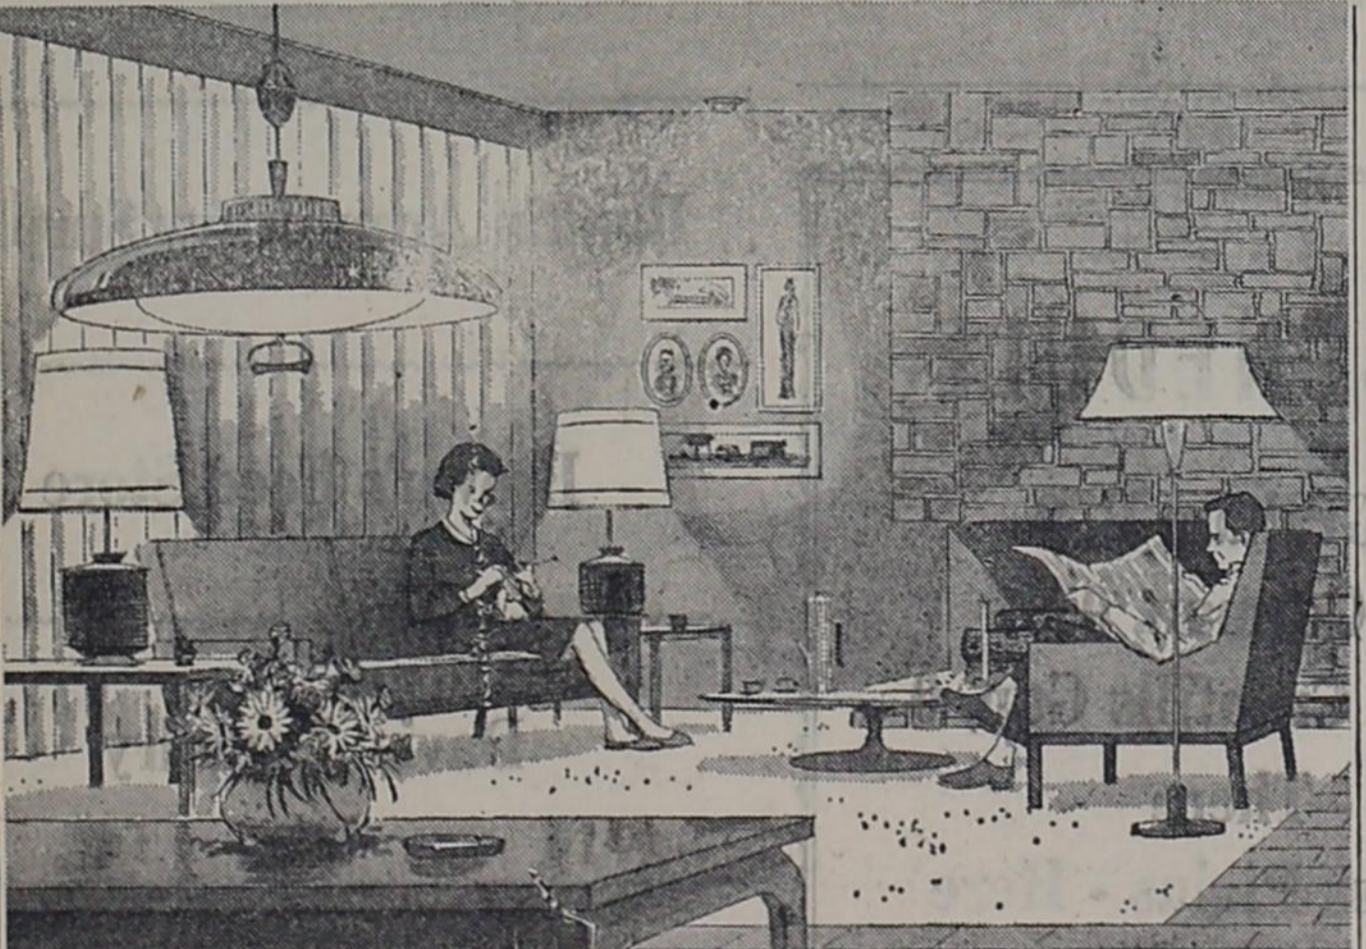

Clip and save these hymns. We will furnish you a folder to keep them in:

Bring out the beauty in your home...

with modern light for living...

The lighting in your home can do much more than merely dispel darkness. Good light in the living room, for example, can add an atmosphere of charm and cheer. It can bring out the beauty of your furnishings. It can make the room a hospitable background for entertaining... and an inviting center for your family's leisure hours.

To enjoy both beauty and eye comfort in the living room, you need three kinds of light: (1) general lighting for overall room illumination; (2) local lighting at chairs and sofas for close visual tasks; (3) accent lighting for decorative purposes. Your lighting dealer will gladly help you choose the lamps and fixtures you need for modern Light for Living. Or call our office and we'll send a lighting specialist to help you with suggestions.

For close visual tasks, like reading or sewing, portable lamps should be a part of each furniture grouping. The average living room needs from three to five portable lamps.

Overall lighting adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on the ceiling plus dramatic downlight on drapes and wall.

Accent lighting with recessed or exposed downlights brings out focal points of beauty. Lighted wall brackets may be used for the same purpose.

An Open Letter

Since it seems to be open season on open letters I feel that it is my privilege and obligation to speak out. First of all, revenue from the sale of liquor licenses in Gorman if it were to be voted wet would be negligible, and would not benefit anyone very much one way or another.

The Bible vehemently speaks out against drunkards and against being any other way except sober. Consequently it is no secret that being a drunkard or being unsober is a sin against God, and in most instances a violation of the very laws which have made our nation so great. But, is it a sin to take a little alcohol, yet remain sober? If it is, then we had better not use any patent medicines because some of them have an alcoholic proof of as much as 60. Even condiments used in cooking frequently contain alcohol, but they don't make us drunk when we use them. Certainly where normal living ends and sinning begins is determined by the quantity of alcohol taken. And it is impossible not to know when a person has had enough.

If our wonderful town were to be voted wet for off-premises consumption it would simply mean that the "wets" would not have to drive as far for their beverages. Our good town would not be transformed into a dirty, ugly town filled with crime and loud raucous dance halls. That is only if we have off-premises consumption. On-premises consumption would be entirely another matter not worthy of even the slightest consideration.

The U. S. Census Bureau says that four years from now over one-half the population will be under 23 years of age. Our nation is fast becoming a nation of young people. And whose responsibility is it to teach young people that drunkenness is wrong? If you worry about your children and grandchildren becoming alcoholics, then teach them the right way while they are young. Reverence for God, honor, patriotism, and alcoholism all have their roots in the home. Teaching is not a task to be left to schools and churches alone, but one which must begin and eventually end in the home. The book of Titus chapter 2 verse 1-4 says: "But

An Open Letter

I would like to ask YOU, the adults of our community, to do something for the young people that we aren't able to do for ourselves. PLEASE vote AGAINST liquor in Gorman.

Set an example for us to follow.
Richard W. Watson

TO THE PEOPLE OF GORMAN:
This is a letter to let the people of Gorman know how some of the young people feel about having liquor in our town.

We feel that liquor in our town would make Gorman an undecent town for young people to come to or live in.

Our parents object to us going to other towns where liquor is sold, therefore, we feel that the parents from other towns would object to their children coming to our town.

People say the younger generation is "going to the dogs!" Will the sale of liquor in Gorman help or hinder this belief?

When you go to vote, we ask you to please think of your sons and daughters and how they feel about this matter!

Toni Lawrence
Joyce Burgess
Martha Preston

speaking of the things which become sound doctrine; THAT THE AGED MEN BE SOBER grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. The aged women likewise, that they be in behavior as becometh holiness, not false accusers, NOT GIVEN TO MUCH WINE, TEACHERS of good things; That they may TEACH THE YOUNG WOMEN TO BE SOBER, to love their husbands, to love their children." To deprive a young person of a Christian education and then give them a car, money, and nothing to do is not the way to dissuade them from going to a nearby wet town.

The following question on alcoholism as dealt with by our Soviet adversary, taken verbatim from the Queries from Readers column on page 35 of the October 1964 issue of the magazine USSR-Soviet Life Today. QUESTION: "How is the problem of alcoholism being solved in the Soviet Union?" Mr. Bortnick of Chicago, Illinois asks. ANSWER "We have no dry law. Experience shows that this only leads to more harmful substitutes and to black marketing. We fight alcoholism with education - - lectures, films and medical advice over the radio and TV. We resort to compulsory medical treatment when that is indicated. Confirmed alcoholics are treated at hospital and psychoneurological dispensaries. Treatment includes hypnosis, medication to strengthen the nervous system and reduce the inclination for alcohol or even create an aversion for liquor. Like other medical treatment in the Soviet Union, it is free.

Physical culture and sports, as well as our many clubs for recreation and entertainment, play a large role in the fight against alcoholism. Then there is the very considerable social pressure exerted on the hard drinker by neighbors and workmates and the mass organizations he belongs to. It is characteristic, for instance, that at a countryside conference to combat alcoholism convened by the Ministry of Public Health not only doctors participated but also members of the judiciary, educators, trade union and YCL officials and workers from cultural and educational establishments. It should be pointed out that the law is by no means easy on drunkards. Persons drunk in public places are fined, and intoxication does not mitigate a crime. We feel that alcoholism is socially harmful, that it undermines health, destroys the family, causes crime and is economically wasteful. We fight it with every weapon at our command." The Soviets have a strong point to be a nation without God.

So if you want the "wets" to spend their money in another town, then go to the polls and exercise your privilege as an American. And if you want to buy alcohol in Gorman for use within the privacy of your home, then you also have your privilege as an American to vote. At any rate, let both "wets" and "drys" inform themselves of the facts and then do something about it, because indifference is always worse than ignorance.

Cared-For Deep Sand Pecan Trees Show Good Yields

The Eastland County pecan crop is going to be good from the sandy, well-cared for orchards but not so good from the native bearers in the bottoms, some 40 persons learned Friday on the annual Eastland County Pecan Tour.

Three towns bid for the annual county pecan show during the business meeting at the Brown Jug Cafe mid-way in Friday's tour. W. T. Eaton, Chamber of Commerce President from Ranger, bid for that city. A. D. Jenkins of Rising Star spoke for his town, and Cisco CofC Manager Tom Stevenson asked that the show be held there. Voting will be next month for the December site. The tour began at Ben Free-

The Eastland County Farmers Union met Monday night in Rising Star for their monthly meeting. The adoption of resolutions to be sent to the State Convention of Farmers Union were made.

The election of officers also was held. Claude Fuller was re-elected as president; Wayne Eaves, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Dunn, Jr. of Rising Star, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. Claude Fuller, reporter.

The following directors were named at the Monday night meeting: Youth Directors, Mrs. D. B. Warren and Mrs. Wayne Eaves; Organizational Director, D. B. Warren; Publicity Chairman, G. A. Dunn of Rising Star.

Henry LeMance from the Farmers Union office in Waco was a speaker.

FILES REUNION HELD SATURDAY IN ARKANSAS

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Files and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Files spent Friday night in Dallas with his brothers, Marcel and Wiley. On Saturday they attended the Files reunion held at Hampton, Arkansas with 76 registering.

They also visited in New Edinburg with Miss Ellen Mosley, a sister of A. C.'s mother. Aunt Ellen celebrated her 98th birthday in July. In 1960 at the age of 94 aunt Ellen took her first plane ride from Dallas to Pine Bluff, Ark. While there she wanted them to read a memorial honoring Judge Woodson Mosley, her brother, who passed away several years ago. There they learned that five Mosley brothers came from England to the United States in 1735, about a half century before the signing of the Declaration of Independence. They settled in Aiken, South Carolina. The de-man's orchard in the Cheaney community, then to Joe Bob Browning's place near Gorman. After lunch the caravan examined orchards of Les Wallace, Charles Underwood and C. D. Simmons, all of Gorman.

C. E. Smith of Rising Star is president of the county pecan growers.

The show has been held in Ranger or Cisco for the past 11 years and this is the first time in recent years that Rising Star has bid for the show.

Represented on the tour besides Eastland County were counties of Tarrant, Parker, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Shackelford, Callahan, Brown, Taylor and Comanche.

Miss Don Moorman of Fort Worth was a weekend guest in the home of her mother, Mrs. Dona Moorman.

Dale Gilmore of Odessa visited over the weekend with his sisters and brothers.
