Jay Naman Is Guest Speaker On Friday For Annual Farmers Union Supper

The Eastland County Farmers Union met January 29 at the Fire Hall in Gorman for their annual supper. Irish stew, crackers, Fritos, home made pie, cold drinks and coffee were served by the ladies of the Farmers Union.

The meeting was attended by approximately 80 members and guests.

Mr. Wayne Eaves gave the invocation, and President, Claude Fuller, was in charge of the meeting. Fuller introduced the speaker and various members of the group and guests. In attendance was County Judge Scott Bailey of Cisco, Henry Lamance of Waco, District Insurance Mgr., Jay Naman, Texas Farmers Union President, and Mr. W. M. Burnett of Wimberly, member of the Executive Committee, and Mrs. Burnett, and also the county directors in attendance. Recognition of guests included Mr. Ross Wilson, manager of SWPGA, Mr. Frank Rhymes of the Texas Federal Inspection Service, Mr. W. C. Brown of the Texas Electric Service Company, and Mr. Joe Bennett of the Gorman Progress.

Mr. Jay Naman, principal speaker for the evening, commented on the legislative program and stated: "The tremendous growth in size and influence of Texas Farmers Union in recent years makes it appropriate that we assist the legislature in adopting a progressive program which will be consistent with our state policies. The time for a bonafide farmers and ranchers organization to have a voice at the state capitol is long past due." He stated further that "the recent action by the Department of Agriculture lowering support prices on cotton, along with others in the feed grain and wheat prices, are apparently the result of the pressure from the President's Director of the Budget to slash USDA expenditures and indicates little understanding of agriculture by the person advising the President on these matters."

"The Budget Director," said Naman, "has apparently forgotten the theory that reducing prices will cause farmers to restrict production and will reduce government expenditures, was exploded during the years of Secretary of Agriculture Benson when commodity storage stocks went to all time highs while government costs mounted and farm prices went to historic lows." "Such expenditures as the school lunch program, meat inspection, foreign distribution of surplus food, conservation of our soil and forests are all charged to farmer programs. The truth is that farmers are currently only benefitting from about one-third of the expenditures of the Department of Agriculture."

Naman urged the members of the Farmers Union, business men, civic organizations and individuals to write President Johnson, Secretary of Ag. Freeman, Senators and Congressmen and tell them what they like or dislike about the present farm program.

Mrs. G. A. Dunn of Rising Star, wore the transistor radio, door prize for the evening.

The next meeting will be held at Rising Star on February 22 in the American Legion Hall.

The meeting was adjourned by prayer by Mr. Ernest Weaver.

STATE HISTORICAL MARKER TO BE ERECTED AT DESDEMONA

The state contract for making the Confederate Memorial Information Markers for the C.S.A. Fort Blair in Eastland County has been let by the State Building Commission. This announcement was made by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and the State Building Commission, which are jointly responsible for their erection.

The marker, which will be erected in Desdemona, is made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect for durability and appearance. There are four sizes of these markers erected by the State Building Commission with research and inscriptions prepared by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The Official Texas Historical Medallion appears at the top with the inscription below.

Members of the State Building Commission are Governor John Connally; Attorney-General Waggoner Carr; and Charles S. Coates, Chairman of the State Board of Control.

The Confederate Memorial Information Marker for the C.S.A. Fort Blair is 27" x 42" in size and will be erected on Highway 16 at the south city limits of Desdemona, Texas.

The following information appears in the inscription: Fort Blair, the largest far western "family fort" used throughout the Civil War, was begun in 1857 by a settler named C. C. Blair. Among the occupants of Fort Blair from 1861 to 1865 were William Arthur, C. C. Blair, J. M. Ellison; Jasper Jim and Tom Gilbert; W. C. McGough, W. H. Mansker and many others. The fort had twelve log cabins, fourteen feet square, and fourteen feet apart in two parallel rows. The spaces between cabins were walled by pickets. Ammunition and supplies could be bought only by making long dangerous trips to the Brazos settlements or to the south. It was difficult to spare men from the fort for the trip, because they, of course, also served as the fort's defenders against Indians.

Candles, soap, soda, food, and clothing were made in the fort by use of fat renderings, beeswax, wood ashes, wild herbs, bark, roots, berries, and animal skins. Families had to provide their children's education.

Other area forts included Allens Ranch, also in Eastland County; Lynch and Green Ranches, Shackelford County; Buffalo Springs, Clay County; Bragg's and Murray's Forts, Young County; Picketville, Fort Davis, Owls Head and Mugginsville, Stephens County.

After the war, Desdemona was established as a stop on the Old Waco-Fort Griffin Road. It boomed to fame when oil was discovered in 1918. Its call for help to end lawlessness added new glory to the Texas Rangers.

The erection of Confederate Memorial Information Markers is part of the Civil War Centennial Commemoration in Texas. The markers are designed to interpret and commemorate the role of prominent Texas Confederates, battles, frontier outposts, coastal fortifications, manufacturing plants, and military supply centers.

This marking program is part of a comprehensive five-year plan of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee to record, appreciate, mark, preserve, and survey Texas history. "RAMPS", as the plan is called, seeks to place 5,000 historical markers over the state in this five-year period. These markers are to be sponsored through joint efforts of the state, counties, cities, civic groups, and individuals.

The Civil War in Texas is a part of the vast program to mark historical sites in Texas from archeological finds to modern industries and statesmen. Since the beginning of the Centennial marking program, 509 Texas Confederate Memorial Information Markers have been submitted for erection.

Rupert M. Buntin Earns Certificate Of Competency

AUSTIN — An official State Health Department certificate of competency has been earned by Rupert M. Buntin, superintendent of the Gorman municipal water department.

Signed by the State Commissioner of Health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the citation was given to Buntin after he successfully passed an examination to prove his skill in plant management and his understanding of the work's influence on community health.

Under terms of the health agency's operator certification program, candidates for certification must have acquired a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and must have shown a satisfactory record of attendance at state and regional short schools at which principles of modern plant management are taught.

Plant operators often attend such schools at their own expense and on their own time as a means of enhancing their efficiency as key community utility workers.

The schools are conducted under sponsorship of the State Health Department, Texas A&M University, and the Texas Water

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley SAFETY GLASSES

Although safety glasses are mandatory equipment in many shops, foundries, mills and laboratories in countless industries, they have a neglected but important role in the "do-it-yourself" work shop or the "hobby" workshop, in the home.

It is a human tendency, especially if spectacles or contact lenses are not needed, to avoid putting on our safety goggles when we work at home. This is as senseless as going without a life-preserver when sailing or boating.

They should be worn whenever you are working around dangerous instruments or where your eyes are exposed to flying sparks, metal particles, sand, or other polishing materials and generally all places where that million to one accident might occur.

A modified safety goggle is worn many times in most of our popular physical contact sports. Hockey, football and basketball are excellent examples. We have all seen pictures in the paper of players searching for a teammate's lost contact lens while the game is interrupted. These tiny vision aids act, at odd times, as a safety device for that portion of the eye covered. The National Eye Research Foundation has in its files many actual cases where an eye has been saved, in a hunting accident, for instance.

Another, sometimes neglected rule for safety where our eyes are concerned, is a regular and professional eye examination every six months.

Roger George Named Texas Outstanding Young Farmer

J. P. Plain, Director, Southwestern Public Relations for the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Dallas, presented George with government bonds in the amount of $1,100. Farm Journal Magazine presented him with an engraved Longine wrist watch.

From a beginning in 1952 with a tractor and rented land, George now owns and operates over 200 acres, in which he has over $61,000 invested. His quality peanuts have won awards for him at various local and county fairs, and his small herd of registered and crossbred cattle adds versatility to his overall program.

This young agriculturist, who competed with nine other Area Outstanding Young Farmers from throughout the state, has shown initiative in every phase of farming. On acreage of low production, George has removed the shallow topsoil, and subsoil, mixed them with fine sand and clay, and replaced them. Increased crop production the first year alone paid for the complete operation. By planting his peanuts in July instead of March, he has shortened

Roger A. George, 26 year old peanut farmer from Stephenville, has been named the Outstanding Young Farmer of Texas. Announcement of the award highlighted the Eleventh Annual Young Farmers Awards Banquet held recently in Dallas, where delegates of the 4,000 member State Association of Young Farmers met.

DOYLE LYNN CLARK TO RECEIVE BBA DEGREE - HSU

Doyle Lynn Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Clark, has completed requirements at Hardin-Simmons University for his Bachelor of Business Administration Degree.

His degree will be conferred at Spring Commencement exercises.

Clark, a 1953 graduate of Gorman High School, attended Ranger Jr. College, Tarleton and NT-SU and quit school in 1956 to marry Miss Patricia Rodgers. After six years and three different jobs, with Convair in Fort Worth, Lone Star Gas Co. in Eastland, and Texas Electric Co. in Colorado City, he decided he needed a college degree.

With a wife and two children to support he didn't know how he could manage, but he found a night job with Lone Star Gas Co. in Abilene and enrolled in Hardin-Simmons in 1962. He attended day classes and worked nights, and with the aid of his wife, who is employed with Timex Watch Co., he has managed to complete work for his degree.

He is being interviewed this week for job placement.

How Can You Fight Birth Defects? March of Dimes Has Good Advice

What would you do if a defective child were born in your family or to friends or neighbors? Would you know where to turn?

To answer these questions, marching mothers, more than a million strong, will distribute a new leaflet with sound advice for every family in the nation as they call on their neighbors during January for support of the March of Dimes fight against birth defects.

More than a quarter of a million babies are born each year in the U.S. with serious birth defects.

The leaflet being distributed by Mothers' March volunteers is called "THINGS TO DO IF . . ."

IF You Are About To Be Married,

- Select a family physician;
- Each partner should have a complete medical examination, providing the doctor with complete medical histories;
- Learn your blood groups and Rh factors (+ or -);
- Consult your physician together for advice important to your marriage, particularly if either family has a history of birth defects or if there is Rh incompatibility.

IF You Are Expecting a Baby,

- See a physician as early as possible to confirm pregnancy;
- Keep in close touch with him, reporting any unusual discomfort or bleeding;
- Follow the diet prescribed by your doctor;
- Do not take any drugs or medicines unless he tells you;
- Do not knowingly expose yourself to infectious diseases—particularly German measles;
- Tell any doctor you consult that you are pregnant so he may avoid prescribing harmful X rays or medication.

IF a Birth Defect Occurs in Your Family,

- Seek the best medical advice and treatment. Modern skills can often prevent or correct serious disability;
- Don't feel ashamed of yourself or the child born defective. No one is to blame so long as the stricken child is helped to make the most of his precious gift of life;

JANE WYATT, National Mothers' March Chairman, reads to Tina Tidwell, 4, who was born with an open spine and is a patient at a March of Dimes Birth Defects Center in Los Angeles, Calif.

- Do not despair. Professional help from physicians, clergy and others experienced in dealing with these problems can lead to a wholesome adjustment;

- Remember that there are many persons and organizations such as The National Foundation-March of Dimes that stand ready to help. Seek them out.

IF You Have Friends With a Defective Child,

- Treat them as you would any other friends. They do not desire pity, but the sympathetic understanding of true friendship is always welcome;
- Avoid giving advice. Let them make their own decisions with the aid of competent professional consultation.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes is using the experience gained in the fight against polio, which led to the development of both the Salk and Sabin vaccines, to back its attack on birth defects. March of Dimes funds now support:

- more than 50 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers across the U.S. which make the most advanced medical care and treatment for birth defects available to young victims and their families;
- a national research program which finances the work of scientists studying the causes of birth defects and seeking ways to prevent or correct them;
- a professional education program to train medical professionals in diagnosis and detection, and in practical application of scientific advances to treatment techniques;
- a public education program, of which the marching mothers' leaflet is a part, to alert the people to the magnitude of the birth defects problem and to let them know how much can be done to help defective children.

Fraudulent Sales Of Insurance Being Reported in County

"Beware insurance swindlers and report any recent improperly handled dealings with insurance agents."

That's the warning from County Sheriff L. E. (Lefty) Sublett, who reported Saturday that numerous fraudulent sales have been reported to his department this week, mostly by elderly, pensioned persons who have been slow in reporting improper handling of their insurance protection purchases.

"Apparently our county had a number of insurance swindlers last summer during June and July," he said, "offering policies and hospitalization protection to older, many of whom are otherwise un-insurable, taking their money and leaving town. We've had several reports from persons who said that they never received their policy, and when they wrote the company, a reputable, established firm, were informed that the agents named were not affiliated with the company."

"We've turned up four different agents names and believe that two of them are correct," he said. "We're checking with bondsmen and have placed holds' on them."

Persons who have bought insurance protection within the past 60 to 90 days and feel that a "reasonable" length of time has elapsed for them to have received their policy, are asked to contact their local law enforcement agency or the sheriff's department, Sublett said.

And in entering into new negotiations for coverage, be sure of your agent he said. Have him identify himself and prove his company affiliation before turning money over to him.

Mrs. Buchanan Is Host for WSC Meet

The Woman's Study Club met at 7:30 p. m. Monday, February 1 in the home of Mrs. O. R. Buchanan.

Mrs. J. S. Ripley, club president, presided at the business session and Mrs. John Felts gave a very good program on "Americanism." She discussed the teaching programs in the schools of our American Heritage, and the many privileges that we enjoy, and commended the youth of our nation as a young courageous group, especially their work with the Peace Corps and other various activities.

During the business meeting the club agreed to sponsor the Mothers March for the March of Dimes. This is an annual service the club sponsors and will set a date soon for the drive and will welcome volunteers from other clubs and individuals to help with the Mother's March.

It was reported the playground equipment for the school has been ordered. This has been the club project for the year in cooperation with various organizations in town.

Refreshments of a salad plate and pear cake, coffee and punch were served by the hostess to sixteen members.

Oscar Schaefer Is New President For Co. Pecan Growers

Oscar Schaefer, prominent farmer and rancher in the Cook Community, was named President of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association at their annual mid-winter meeting in the conference room of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce recently.

Schaefer served several years as head of the group when it was organized in 1956 it was said. He replaces C. E. Smith, Rising Star, who will serve as vice-president. Ben McKinnis, Eastland, was re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer. McKinnis, agricultural representative of a local utility company, has served in this capacity for the past several years.

New directors named included A. D. Ellington, Cisco, retired oil company employee, and considered an authority on walnut varieties, and Joe Bob Browning, Gorman. They will serve two years. They replace W. V. Fenter, Rising Star, and Joe Philpott, Cisco.

Hold over directors to serve another year include C. T. Barton, Pioneer, and Ben Freeman, Ranger.

The group voted to abide by the recommendation of the grower-businessman committee and not hold the annual pecan show in the same town two years in succession. To move the affair around would tend to stimulate interest in pecans and pecan growing, it was explained.

The date for the annual spring field day was set for May 17th. Committees are to be named soon to work out details of the meeting.

TB: the Problem that Won't Go Away

610,000 Americans still have active tuberculosis or are classified as "high risk" individuals.

A. 110,000 are known to have active tuberculosis.
B. 250,000 are recently recovered TB patients, many of whom are subject to relapse.
C. 250,000 are known to have had contact with new active TB cases recently reported.

610,000 persons, all told, are now in the TB picture—either as actively ill patients or in the "high risk" category. Christmas Seal funds help provide the hope and the means of achieving ultimate control and eradication of tuberculosis in the U. S.

Source: Report of the U. S. Surgeon General's Task Force on TB Control in the United States.

The first project is the making and recording history of the county's cemeteries, some of which are all but lost because of the changes in access roads, overgrowth of land and deterioration of fences.

Unusual incidents in connection with establishment of the cemeteries, donors of the land, and names of longtime Eastland County families, will be included in the historical records, Collins said.

These records will be properly bound and distributed to county libraries.

The marking of Confederate graves will be a coordinated project.

The next meeting will be held in Gorman on Tuesday, February 23rd.

Members of the committee attending this meeting were Mrs. White, Mrs. Murrell, Greenwood, Collins and Judge Scott Bailey.

the trick is skillful use of convenience foods. So who, including you, can resist buttery brown-gold peanut-crusted gooey buns or a flaky tea ring crested with peanuts and bejeweled with candied cherries?

Start with brown and serve rolls, refrigerated biscuits or packaged biscuit mixes. A twist of the wrist in shaping, simple filling or speedy topping turns out your own "homemade" like magic. Koffee Klatch specialties literally bake themselves, ready to hustle hot from the oven.

When buns and rolls have peanuts or their spreadable relative peanut butter, in them — they'll be doubly delectable for peanuts are America's favorite nut. The National Peanut Council reminds us, too, that peanuts are perfect for mid-morning pick-ups. Packed with quick energy fuel, they see housewives through the busy day. These powerful little vegetables are rich in protein and packed with top-value vitamins. That's why we recommend keeping peanuts, peanut butter and peanut candies handy on the shelf for those energy pick-ups any time of day.

Have your first Koffee Klatch this morning! We offer four recipes sure to hit the spot — and you're likely to have the mix or convenience food for a couple of them on your shelf right now. Then don't reserve their goodness and nutrition-packed value just for the gals. They're quick and easy ways to add sparkle and zest to family breakfast!

GOOBER GOOEY BUNS

1/3 cup melted butter
1/3 cup brown sugar
1/3 cup chopped peanuts
1 pkg. (12) brown and serve rolls

Mix melted butter, brown sugar and peanuts in 10x6-inch baking dish. Put rolls on top of mixture close together. Bake at 400 degrees about 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Take from oven. Let stand 1 to 2 minutes before turning upside down onto serving plate. Gently lift off pan. Spoon any extra syrup over rolls. Makes 12.

School Of Vocational Nursing Capping Exercises -- First Ceremony Of Its Kind To Be Held In Dublin

Dublin Progress - Jan. 28, 1965 — Capping Exercises were held Saturday night, January 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the school auditorium when six students of the Dublin Hospital School of Vocational Nursing received their caps.

Rev. T. F. Collier gave the invocation, after which W. D. Raley, Chamber of Commerce manager, welcomed the visitors and congratulated the student nurses on their achievements thus far. Raley commended the students for entering the nursing profession, a vocation dedicated to the service of humanity, and complimented the work of Mrs. Mildred Whitt, RN, director of the first School of Vocational Nursing in Dublin.

Dr. Carl A. Jordan recognized the members of the hospital board who were present, Lee White, Joe Kennedy, and J. W. Hall. Other members of the nursing school are Dr. Joe J. Pate, Dr. T. F. Cole Dr. Ben Bradley, and Ray Franks. Dr. Jordan also recognized Mrs. Warren Bell, member of the administrative staff of the hospital, for her services in behalf of the Vocational Nurses School. "The doctors originated the idea for the school," he said, "the board approved it, and Mrs. Bell put it together."

Mrs. Bell was also in charge of arrangements for the Capping Ceremony.

The speaker, Mrs. Johnny Morrison, LVN from Hico, was introduced by Dr. Jordan. She is the director of the School of Vocational Nursing in Hico, the first such school to originate in this area, was voted by her fellow LVN's as LVN of the year in 1964, and is president elect of the Texas League of Vocational Nurses. Mrs. Morrison has also served as president of the Tri-County League of Vocational Nurses of which she is a member.

The speaker explained the significance of the nurses cap, which she described as a symbol of the profession, identified with nursing alone. She advised the students of certain points of etiquette relating to the cap, which is never worn outside of the hospital. The nurse may arrive at the hospital in her uniform, Mrs. Morrison said, but she must carry her cap until she is inside the hospital. While on duty she wears her cap constantly, even on night duty.

Mrs. Morrison spoke on the nurses' code of ethics, emphasizing two of the most important rules which were to always do what is best for the patient, and to observe the golden rule. The nurses' code of ethics goes above and beyond the law, she said, and must be voluntarily accepted. Adherence to this code reflects the highest ideal of the nursing profession, the speaker said.

Mrs. Whitt performed the capping ceremony, assisted by Mrs. Bell. Student nurses receiving their caps were Mrs. Laura Elete Colbaugh, Mrs. Donna Alice Grant, Mrs. Elaine Marie Ross, Mrs. Oma Gertrude Skaggs, Mrs. Nelda Lois Spraggins, and Mrs. Mary Adeline Wright.

As she called the student's names, Mrs. Bell handed each a lighted Florence Nightingale lamp, which the student held while Mrs. Whitt pinned her cap in place. The caps received were plain, and on graduation a stripe will be added, signifying completion of the training.

Organ music was played throughout the ceremony by Mrs. Guy T. Jones. While the lamps were still burning, benediction was said by Rev. Wayne Robinson.

A reception followed the Capping Ceremony.
