Carol Clark Leads In Count As Miss Gorman Contest Nears End

Miss Carol Clark led the Miss Gorman Contest in the vote tabulation as of Tuesday. Mr. Baze reported 5,814 votes for Miss Clark; 5,761 for Miss Rankin; and 2,509 for Miss Park.

The contest closes at 12 noon Thursday, today, and the winner will be announced at 2:30 p. m.

The coronation will be held in the High School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. tonight, Thursday.

Admission for the Coronation will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Burglary And Theft Gases Are Reported Here On Weekend

Constable Albert White and Eastland County Sheriff L. E. Sublett combined forces for investigation of a grocery store burglary and car theft here Sunday, but the thieves left little for them to work with.

Mehaffey Grocery and Station was burglarized sometime Saturday night. R. C. discovered the $60 missing from the cash register when he opened the store at 8 a. m. Sunday.

A 1962 Corvair was stolen at 5:45 a. m. Sunday from Gene Snider who lives on the Bennett Fruit Farm about four miles east on the De Leon Highway. Snider was awakened when he heard the car being driven away. Not having a telephone, he drove his pickup to town and notified Constable White.

The Stephenville Highway Patrol was also notified.

Gorman has been plagued with several burglaries and thefts of late. Mrs. Sally Frasier reported that $95 in cash was taken from her home last Thursday. The Gorman Public Schools buildings have been burglarized twice in recent weeks and Rankin Army & Navy Surplus Store in which $400 in merchandise was taken.

night as well as from the Amateur Talent Nite Friday will be applied on this project. Efforts are also currently being made to obtain individual and organizational pledges for the pool. The fund now stands at about $900 from amounts donated by the City, Excelsior Club and various individuals. Additional donations are expected by Thursday of this week, some of which are expected to be substantial.

A committee composed of city, club and organizational representatives has made plans for the Miss Gorman Days Celebration to take place on Thursday and Friday. At noon Thursday, the Miss Gorman Contest will end. This will culminate some six weeks of competition between Carole Rankin, Carolyn Clark and Connie Park, queen contestants. These young ladies are sponsored by the Woman's Study Club, Volunteer Firemen and Businessmen's Club, respectively.

City Commission Acts In Called Meeting

The Gorman City Commission met in called session Monday, September 27. Reports were given by the mayor on the Community Swimming Pool and on a conference with Cecil Mayes who recently completed setting up a complete system of bookkeeping for the City.

The Commission authorized City Marshal Mack Curb to employ an assistant for night duty on weekends in an effort to eliminate the rash of recent robberies in Gorman. Along the line of more rigid law enforcement the Commission gave Rupert Buntin the title of Superintendent of Public Works and authorized him to set traffic regulations on city streets. This will make possible the trial of violators in Justice of Peace Court. This was done mainly in an effort to stop heavy truck traffic on Crescent Street between Highway 6 and the Duster Highway.

A resolution was also passed to adopt an ordinance requiring the owners of vacant lots within the city to keep the lots reasonably clean and free of tall weeds and grass. The text of this ordinance will be printed at a later date.

The Commission also voted to cooperate in Homecoming activities by providing transportation and labor in bringing and returning to Stephenville 400 folding chairs to seat the visiting bands at the Homecoming Game Saturday night.

As soon as the votes are tabulated, the results will be announced by Judge Graydon Baze on Thursday afternoon. The lucky young lady will be crowned Miss Gorman in ceremonies at the high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Just prior to this, drawings will be held to determine the winners of a wrist watch, a lounge chair and a calf.

Following the coronation, entertainment will be provided by the Continentals, a local teen-age quartet and by a visiting band group.

On Friday, October 1 at 7:30 p. m. an Amateur Talent Show will be staged in the high school auditorium. Combos, quartets and string bands from Gorman and surrounding towns will be featured. At this event Miss Gorman will be presented a wrist watch by the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association.

Admission to the Coronation will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, and admission to the Amateur Talent Show will be 50 cents for all.

Miss Gorman will also be presented at the Homecoming Game between Gorman and Hico on Saturday night.

Homecoming History Gorman High School

The First annual Homecoming was held in 1954. Mr. Graydon Baze, who was principal of Gorman High School at that time, was elected first Ex-Students Association president and Mrs. Kate Allen served as the first vice president. She was also the first coming-home queen.

Homecoming festivities began with registration and luncheon at the school cafeteria followed by a business session, election of Homecoming Queen and ex-student association officers. A downtown pep rally and football game at night with after game receptions held by various groups at the fire hall, band hall and churches.

This has been the usual schedule of the homecoming for the past eleven years.

Other coming-home queens include Mrs. Mary Margaret Hudson; Mrs. Florence Summitt Underwood; Mrs. Effie Jones Woods; Mrs. Elva Shell Kirk; Mrs. Verna Mae Hamrick Webb; Mrs. Christine Hudson Kinser; Mrs. Helen Williams Chandler; Mrs. Wanda Brown Glasson; Mrs. Flossie Sims Underwood; and Mrs. Doris Ham-Bassett.

Ex-Students Association presidents have been Graydon Baze, serving two years; W. C. Browning; Hubert Craddock; Bill Parr, serving two years; Glenn Kirk; Gene Rodgers; Melvin Shell; Dr. W. M. Brogdon; and Ross Wilson.

Many Gorman Exes have been active members of the homecoming committees and have contributed to the success of the annual events.

The most work is done in keeping the addresses up to date and the committees that have worked on this over the years are to be commended for the nice file that has been compiled.

We have had several great homecoming events and this year's event is expected to be the best ever.

The Senior Class of Gorman High School is sponsoring: (1) A Chili Supper on Friday, October 1 from 5 to 7 p. m. Cost is 75c a bowl. At school cafeteria.

Michaelyn Kay Barker
Winner Of High Honor
At Oklahoma Univ.

Miss Michaelyn Kay Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Barker of Frederick, Oklahoma, and granddaughter of Mr. Don Rodgers, and niece of Dr. and Mrs. D. V. Rodgers of Gorman, was honored last week at the University of Oklahoma as the most outstanding freshman girl of 1964.

It is easy to see why she was accorded the honor. After her first year and summer school, she has a phenomenal total of 74 hours, and the university enrolled her as a junior this term.

Miss Barker acquired a good many of her 74 credit hours by passing an Advanced Standing Test. This test allows exceptional students to receive credit for college courses without actually taking them.

It is not the first time Miss Barker received a double promotion. She was advanced from the first to third grade as a child in the De Leon Schools and began a string of scholastic honors yet to end.

She was presented the $250 Rita H. Lottinville Award by Dr. George L. Cross, university president. It was presented during the annual convocation at Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. The award is given annually for outstanding achievements in scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and interest and leadership.

Mickey acquired more hours than any freshman on the campus. Much of her summer school included top graduate work with a grade average of 3.9. She is majoring in letters, which combines languages, philosophy and English. She plans to be a Latin teacher after graduating.

She was valedictorian of her junior high school class and had perfect grades at Northwest High School in Oklahoma City. She also received the Northwest Classen Medal as the top senior girl in scholarship, character and citizenship.

In competition with 700 others, she won a four-year college scholarship offered by General Motors Corp. It will include up to $2,000 per year for her study at Oklahoma University, and was one of the few students to win three top awards. They were the General

She lives at Brooks House, the honor dormitory, and was president of the dormitory last year. She was also vice-president of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary sorority for women.

She is not especially a book worm.

"I love the outdoors," she said, "and think nothing of walking five to seven miles every day. I do, however, like to read, and enjoy all kinds of music."

She is a Sunday School teacher at St. Luke's Methodist Church and was president of Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The Latin language has been her favorite for years, and she studied it for four years at Northwest.

As It Looks
From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th. District, Tex.
WASHINGTON, D. C. — THE PROPOSED HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM, and particularly the control of outdoor advertising, has prompted a bit of research.
IT APPEARS THAT BILLBOARDS are the oldest form of advertising. The promotional device goes back to almost 3,000 years B. C., to the age of the Pharaohs. They were the originators of "advertising" designed in the form of a statue. The sandstone placards of the Pharaohs' physiognomies were plastered all over the countryside. Evidently the messages were long by comparison to modern standards, but, of course, traffic was slower and there was more time for reading the signs.

THE PHARAOHS WERE ALSO THE FIRST TO DESIGN the "spectacular". We now know them as the Pyramids. In this instance, although production cost may have been very high, they have paid for themselves many times over during the years.
THERE IS ALSO INDICATIONS THAT JUST BEFORE THE DARK AGES occurred, and particularly in the political campaign between Marcus Cicero and Julius Caesar, there were placards and signboards in behalf of the candidates. Probably Caesar did a better job of it since he was elected. In his advertising, he promised the people everything. To the credit of his sincerity, he kept his promise, but, of course, it brought down the Roman Empire and darkness reigned for a thousand years.

IT IS NOT BEING SUGGESTED THAT THE BILL now pending before the Congress to control outdoor advertising will result in the downfall of our Government or the return to the Dark Ages - it is just a way of leading into the subject and to get in a plug that Washington cannot furnish all good things in this life.

THE PURPOSE OF THE MEASURE NOW BEFORE CONGRESS is to control billboard displays and devices erected and maintained in areas adjacent to our Interstate Highway System. It sets forth the policy on how these signs should be controlled to protect the public's investment in our highways, to promote the safety and recreational value of public travel, and to preserve natural beauty.

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE IS DESIGNATED as the billboard board boss. He would have the say as to the size and number and other standards, even in commercial areas where signs would be permitted. The Law specifically would require States to ban billboards within 660 feet of the main roads and screen or remove junkyards within 1,000 feet or forfeit 10 percent of the Federal highway funds. The Commerce Secretary must reach agreement with the various States as to what is zoned and unzoned areas, as well as agreement as to the size, lighting and spacing of signs. A five year period is granted to remove signs and displays already in existence, or by July 1, 1970.

ON THE MATTER OF JUNKYARDS THE PROPOSED LAW states that by January 1, 1968, junkyards shall be screened by natural objects, plantings, fences or other appropriate means, so as not to be visible from the main traveled way of the system, or shall be removed from sight. The same provision relates to junkyards, which in most cases means automobile graveyards, in that those already in existence have until July 1, 1970 to comply.

PROBABLY EVERY DRIVER HAS AT TIMES HAD HIS SENSIBILITIES offended by unsightliness along highways leading into most every town. Certainly there is nothing wrong in trying to improve these conditions.

ON THE OTHER HAND, MUST FEDERAL LAW say what a person can and can not do with his own private property? Should the Government put out of business a great industry in outdoor advertising? Should another agency or bureaucracy be created to oversee and supervise such a program? These are all questions inseparable from the issue. It would seem that the States could better control and administer such activities. No one can deny that improvements are needed, but it is the method which raises the many considerations involved.

CARD OF THANKS

Although we keep saying "Thank you" over and over, words can never express our gratitude to the many folk who so willingly helped to make the completion of our Cemetery Improvement Program a success. We know that you are enjoying the same glad feeling that we are in knowing that our cemetery is now a beautiful place of which we are justly proud.

We just cannot mention all your names for the list is lengthy, but we and all Desdemona will be eternally grateful to you.

Panthers Meet Tigers In Homecoming Game

Excelsior Club Enjoys Opening Day Of Year With Guests In Mrs. J. N. Kirk Home Tuesday

Tuesday was Assembly Day, Guest Day and Federation Day all in one for the Excelsior Club meeting in the home of Mrs. J. N. Kirk, who was hostess for the occasion with Mrs. Lawrence Eison co-hosting. Guests were served on arrival from a lace laid table centered with an arrangement of white and yellow mums.

The invocation was given by Mrs. M. H. Farbetter, followed by the address of the president, Mrs. Ed Wyatt.

She said her club members were as candles, all with a light to shine - and read the most appropriate poem from which are the lines -

"Are you an active Member Or do you just belong?"

It was announced that the Excelsior Club had received an award for entering the Sears Community Achievement Contest.

At roll call members and guests answered by relating happy bizarre and interesting summer happenings.

Mrs. A. G. Lee of De Leon, who had toured Europe during the summer, was dressed in German native costume. She gave an interesting history of her trip. Her charming manner was a delight to the group. Her daughter and family live in Oslo, Norway.

Mrs. John Kirk gave a brief resume of the yearbooks and the club agreed the books were the best ever, thanks to local printer, Gene Baker.

Guest speaker, Mrs. George Rollins of De Leon, prominent club woman, spoke on Federation - Beginnings, Aim and Activities.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Federated Song.

Those present besides the above mentioned were Mrs. W. L. Underwood, Dona Moorman, Gene Baker, Nell Rainey, O. T. Shell, E. C. Sutton, Fanny Burkett, J. E. Foster, Charles Garrett, Clyde Welch of Fort Worth, J. F. Dean, Donald Bolt, S. E. Baker and W. H. Davis of Desdemona.

Mrs. Justice is not a stranger to anyone in the Gorman area as she was reared in Carbon and has been a substitute mail carrier on the Carbon Route for the past 12 years, and was full time carrier for 15 months following the retirement of her father, W. J. Greer.

Mr. Justice is Commissioner for Precinct Two, and they have three children, Nancy, a senior; Madge, a junior; and Harry Glenn, a freshman, in Carbon High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg had spent the past week in Brownwood during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Burns of Killen, and a sister of Mr. Kellogg, came home with them for a weekend visit.

My thanks to everyone who were so thoughtful of me during my recent stay in Hendricks Memorial Hospital. For the flowers, cards and visits, I am most grateful.

Edward Sutton

To the Gorman School faculty and employees, I wish to extend a sincere thank you for the lovely flowers sent me during my recent stay in Eastland Memorial Hospital.

Also thanks to the ones who sent cards.

Mrs. Charles Day Is Host On Thursday For Friendly Ladies Class

Rain! And with it Fall-like weather - - appropriate coffee drinking weather. If an excuse for a coffee were needed, that would be a good one, so the Friendly Ladies gathered in the home of Mrs. Charles Day on Thursday morning for fun and a little business. Mrs. J. O. Jackson was welcomed as our guest.

Mrs. G. C. Acree gave the devotional thoughts on "Men Made Free Through Christ" and read scripture from Romans chapter 8. After reminding the group of several examples based on experiences of Biblical personalities, Mrs. Acree closed with prayer.

Usually this class group is working on some needed project for the church but currently is without such a goal. Various possible aims were considered and a committee was appointed to investigate and report. It is anticipated that some new undertaking will soon be instigated.

But enough of business and on with the fun. Welcomed into the group was a new class member, Mrs. Barton Eppler. Perhaps it was to properly initiate Pauline, or maybe the rain and cooler weather simply made everyone feel so much better, but the group seemed especially gay and giddy.

Mrs. Day served coffee and lemonade, banana nut cake and some sort of home-baked raised fruit rolls, - - all so delicious, but there are no calorie counters in this assembly anyway.

Mrs. Othell Clark announced that she would like for everyone to pose for a group picture on the front steps - - well, of course, everybody hurried to get up in front. Pictures were duly made, but don't you agree this was rather an underhanded way to get everyone started home just because Louise had to go fix lunch?

Eighth Grade News

By Kathy Wright

Last week we had a class meeting and elected class officers for the school year. They are as follows: president, Sherry Jobe; vice president, Mike Duran; secretary, Jana Brown; assistant secretary, David Armstrong; treasurer, Mike Young; sergeant-at-arms, Randy Wright; and reporter, Kathy Wright.

Our sergeant-at-arms is able to fine us up to ten cents for talking in a class meeting without having the floor. Funds collected from fines will go into our class treasury.

Eugene Battenfield is the only person who has been absent this week.

Gorman Insurance Agency To Sponsor Fire Poster Contest

The Gorman Insurance Agency will sponsor the Hartford Insurance Group's Junior Fire Marshal program and Fire Prevention Poster Contest again this year in the Gorman and Desdemona Schools.

The two groups participating will be Group One: third, fourth and fifth grades; and Group Two: sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Cash awards will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each group.

Classroom teachers will give instructions on preventive fire measures and fire safety. Official Junior Fire Marshal Badges will be presented to each youngster who completes a Junior Fire Marshal Inspection Report. All students will receive Junior Fire Marshal Helmets. They are made of durable red plastic, realistically designed after helmets worn by working firemen.

J&S SPORTS

Joe Bennett & Speedy Clark

At this stage of the football season it looks like Rising Star and Bangs will be the big guns in District 21-B this year. The Wildcats beat Cross Plains this past week and have played the Eastland Mavericks a good game; while Bangs has won three games handsily and over some Class A opponents. The Panthers looked like they might be in the thick of it when they beat the Graham B team 27 to 0 but the Panther defense looked very weak against Ranger. The end and corner men will really have to improve if the Panthers are to contend. But the season is young and the "Big Red" have more non-district games to improve in.

The Southwest Conference continues to surprise everyone by winning some tough ball games. The best win last week was the Texas A&M victory over the tough Georgia Tech team. After playing LSU a very close game the week before and then the Tigers clobbered Rice, it makes the Aggies look very impressive under their new coach Gene Stallings. The Baylor Bears won over a tough opponent in downing the Washington team last week. Jim Owens team was slated to be the second best on the West Coast.

The J&S Sport prognosticators did very badly last week with each of us dipping to a 60%. You think that this would discourage us but every new week we think that this is the week we can hit the 100% mark.

Mr. George Hollifield and Mrs. Henry Capers visited on Sunday afternoon in Rising Star with their sister, Mrs. Joe Barnes.

Desdemona Cemetery Project Is Completed

The Desdemona Cemetery Improvement Program Committee announce with pride the completion of the improvement project which was initiated in April. Two members of the committee in an interview, Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. J. J. Sparkman, stated that the proposed work had seemed in the beginning an almost insurmountable task but, "Workers came by the score and it seemed that all the business men in De Leon, Dublin, Stephenville, Ranger, Eastland, Gorman, and of course, our own town, were eager to help us. Their contributions were so generous.

The area of the cemetery has been enlarged by two acres of adjoining land given by the disbanded '21 Study Club of Desdemona, a group that used a treasury balance to buy the acreage.

An ornamental wrought iron arch with the name "Desdemona Garden of Memories" forms a walk-in gateway. A working date sign board has been erected. Stone benches are being placed conveniently near the walks. The new addition has been leveled by Eastland County Commissioner Glenn Justice and his crew. Machinery for road work was loaned by Mansford Lewis. James Rushing did the necessary welding. Frank and Shea Genoway furnished gravel for the road. A chain link fence extends around the grounds.

"But," said the women and other members of the committee, Mrs. Ford Reed, Ott Ragland, Murrain and Frank Genoway, "the achievement was possible because of the contributions, small and large, in money, time and labor from folks roundabout and faraway."

PATRICIA O'NEILL HONORED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Albert Hendricks and the Junior Sunday School Class honored Patricia O'Neill with a party on Sunday in honor of her 12th birthday. She was presented a gift.

Punch and birthday cake were served to Christi Fuller, Patricia O'Neill, Bobby Eaves, Danny Snider, Chester Joiner, Johnny O'Neill and Ray Neal Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. D. Fuller have been visiting with their children, Russell in Bronte, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennis and children in Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hooper and children in Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fairbetter of Boyd are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Fairbetter.

Mr. H. S. Hansard of De Leon, former hand press operator and printer, visited the Progress office Tuesday. Mr. Hansard is 91 and is in amazingly good health. We enjoy his visits and he always comes by to see us when he is in town.

Dixie Reynolds of Beaumont arrived home Tuesday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Stella Reynolds, and to attend homecoming.

Gorman High School Drum Major and Majorettes pictured above are, left to right: Katrine Watson, freshman; Glenda Jordan, senior; Mary Jay, freshman; and Anita Acree, senior. They attended twirling and drum major school at Tarleton State College last June. Photo was made by Kernel Gene at a recent pep rally in the Gorman gym.

The Panthers rested last week after getting drubbed by the Ranger Bulldogs and should be in fine shape for this week's game. However, Ed Sutton was in an unfortunate accident and received a broken jaw and will be out of the Panther line up indefinitely. This will hurt the Panther forward wall because Ed had begun to play real fine ball for the "Big Red."

Eastland Industry Panel To Hold Meeting On Tuesday, Oct. 5

EASTLAND — The steering committee of EC-65, which is sponsoring the pilot industrial development program for Eastland County, along with the Texas Industrial Commission, has set a wrapup meeting to be held at Cisco High School October 5 at 7:30 p. m.

At a recent meeting of the steering committee, Jim Smothers of Cisco was appointed secretary-treasurer of the steering committee.

Program plans for the October 5 meeting are to have reports from the 29 speakers who have appeared at the six previous meetings held in Eastland County.

65-66 Intercollegiate Rodeo Slated For Thursday - Saturday

STEPHENVILLE (Spl.) — Rodeo action gets underway Thursday, September 30, for a three-day run in opening the 1965-66 National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association's season in the Southern Region.

The rodeo will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Erath County Livestock Arena, southwest of Stephenville on Farm Road 2157.

More than 100 collegiate cowboys and cowgirls from 14 schools in Texas and Louisiana are expected to participate in the several NIRA events.

Events include tie-down calf roping, bareback and saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, bull riding, ribbon roping, barrel racing and goat tying.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate — $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

The rodeo is sponsored by Tarleton State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Rodgers left Monday for Bryan to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Laura Jean Allen, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Haile, Mrs. R. C. Mehaffey and Mrs. Don Rodgers visited relatives in Austin over the weekend.

Mrs. Othell Clark accompanied by her brother, Bob Huddleston, mother, Mrs. Harry Huddleston, and nephew, Don Holdridge of De Leon, visited her sister, Mrs. Fred Holdridge, in Methodist Hospital in Houston over the weekend. Mrs. Holdridge is some better, but will remain in the hospital for some time.

Mrs. R. L. Williams of Stephenville spent Monday with Mrs. Georgie Eaker.

The game between the Panthers and Hico should be an evenly matched ball game, since both teams are rebuilding and are inexperienced. The Tigers possess a good passing attack scoring four touchdowns last week via the air route against Blanket.

With all the events scheduled this week one of the largest crowds to attend a Homecoming game is expected. Gorman will have many visitors since Mr. Alsup, Gorman's Band Director, has arranged for a large number of Bands to parade in the afternoon.

If you want to see some of your former classmates, come out to the ball game Saturday night and back the Panthers.

4-H Members Observe National 4-H Week

This is National 4-H Week, but I wonder if it shouldn't be World-Wide, because the 4-H program is operating in 76 foreign countries, and has more than 18,000 voluntary adult leaders. Those are pretty big figures, but here in Gorman we are proud to boast about our little club. Mrs. Glenn Jordan is our organization leader and sees to it we have a place to meet, a program planned, and even reminds us to go.

Most people have the idea 4-H is for the farm kiddos, but they are mistaken. Their projects are unlimited and Gorman is proud to announce a new project "Picture Taking" with Jack Harrison as their leader. He said he might even show them how they were developed if they got to perfecting their shots and needed a little extra study matter.

Mrs. Bob Green is the very capable "Public Speaking" leader and you should have heard one of the first speeches made and one coming from some who have completed a year of public speaking. It even rubbed off on some that weren't taking the project because they could see the improvement.

Other projects include "Money Management, Home Improvement, Bicycle Safety, Entomology, Electricity, and many, many others, along with the good old stand by's of cattle, sheep, swine, clothing and foods." So you see 4-H instills into the minds of youngsters how to do their particular project in a profitable manner while it also leads them to better citizenship, helps them to learn by doing, and encourages them along the road to being a good citizen.

Our club here in Gorman placed "Welcome" signs on all four roads coming into Gorman last year and on the back waved goodbye with a fond "Come Back." Some of their plans this year include a town wide rabies vaccination campaign, and more interest in their community affairs, along with an achievement day or a miniature livestock show and fair.

Mrs. Juanita Fuller is going to sandwich a class of young sewers into her busy schedule this year and we welcome her interest and the many hours she will spend doing things from teaching how to tie a knot in the end of thread to basic sewing machine jobs. Ray Williams is our beef leader, assisted by his son, Bobby, who is a junior leader and accepts his responsibilities eagerly. Last year Bobby trained a judging team that placed fourth in the county at the Livestock Show and had no previous experience.

Mrs. Ray Williams is entering her fifth year in 4-H work and will teach the fourth year sewing group. She started with 15 girls and now has only three; but I'm sure each girl received some good from what she got.

Sarah Wright plans to serve as a junior leader this year, possibly in the public speaking phase. There is so much she can do there.

Other members who have been in the club long enough and are thinking over the possibility of becoming junior leaders are Cathy Parr, Brenda Browder and Barbara Williams. These girls realize the responsibility that will be their's if they undertake this and because 4-H work is so dear to their hearts they are giving this very careful consideration.

Being a Junior leader is one step nearer learning to be a responsible individual and citizen. How could you better learn than by teaching?

Not to be forgotten are the people responsible for all this, the 4-H program sponsors, our county commissioners and judge. Scott Bailey calls the 4-H'ers by name and comments on their projects as he proudly rewards them with ribbons or pins. Last, but most important, we have our county agent and his assistant and our home demonstrator agent and her assistant, who are responsible for training all these adult leaders, then being sure they have the latest information that has been tried and proved through A&M and checking on each individual 4-H member and helping them work out their individual problems.

4-H is one of the most wonderful organizations in our time because it affords college level instruction to beginners, and oh how wonderful it is to learn the right way the first time.

The newest cookware utensils on the market hav a slippery, non-stick plastic surface which makes them a joy for the homemaker to use and wash.

Except for the tubed cake pan, all non-stick utensils should be conditioned the first time they are used by wiping with cooking oil or shortening. An occasional oiling thereafter will improve their use when they appear dry.

The use of fat in cooking is optional in top-of-ange utensils. Eggs will cook without the addition of fat, but the appearance and flavor is improved when the non-stick skillet is very lightly greased.

Most meat has enough fat in itself for flavor and browning and requires no additional fat when it is cooked in a non-stick pan. Muffins lift right out of non-stick muffin cups. With cupcakes, however, it is necessary to grease the cups firs.

ender products with hgh sugar content, such as butter cakes, have a tendency to stick and tear unless the pans are greased first. Yeast breads and quick breads release from an ungreased non-stick pan, but the pan has to be greased to bake a butter cake or a layer cake.

Angel food, sponge and chiffon cakes bake to the same light volume in a non-stick pan as in an uncoated one. The cake is inverted to cool and has to be loosened with a rubber spatula in the same way as in an ordinary pan.

Do not grease the pan for cookies which contain shortening, but grease will be needed for meringue cookies which contain no shortening. The egg poacher cups have to be greased lightly to ensure easy removal of the eggs.

The non-stick coated casseroles waffle and grid irons offer great advantages when it comes to cleaning. Hot foods seem to release better from non-stick pans than cold foods.

Remember to use nylon coated, rubber, wool, wood, all non-stick and plastic coated metal spoons and spatulas with your non-stick coated cookware.

ABC-TV To Preview '65 Texas' State Fair Sunday Night - Ch. 8

A two-hour preview of the 1965
State Fair of Texas will be provided on the ABC-TV network
Sunday, October 3.

The Sunday Night Movie will be "State Fair," the 1962 version of the Will Rogers original, which was filmed just prior to the 1961
State Fair of Texas and released in 1962.

The real State Fair of Texas will open Saturday, October 9, for its annual 16-day run in Dallas.

Stars of Rodgers & Hamner-
stein's new "State Fair" are Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Ann-Margaret, Tom Ewell - - with Alice Faye returning to the movies as Melissa.

Jose Ferrer directed the 20th.
Century Fox film, which was produced by Charles Brackett.

At the time of the filming, extras were obtained through stories in the Dallas newspapers inviting people to "come out to the State Fair and be in the movies".
For one scene some 3,000 people turned out to fill the bandshell.

The film was made prior to the Fair itself since the problems created by hundreds of thousands of fairgoers would make filming during the Fair almost impossible.
Also, scenes such as those using "Blue Boy" had to be staged and the livestock arenas are needed for various annual shows while the Fair is in progress.

Big Tex, the 52-foot symbol of the State Fair of Texas, was put up especially for the making of the movie.

Improving Peanut Quality - Why Is It Important!

WHAT CAN THE PEANUT GROWER DO TO HELP IMPROVE PEANUT QUALITY?

1. Peanut Quality Definition
Good, sound, mature peanuts free from damage are good quality.

The majority of all peanuts are used for food or in food products. All damage such as moldy spots, worm cuts, mechanical bruises and chips, dirty surfaces, freezing injury, and damage resulting from abusive artificial drying decrease the value of peanuts used for food.

2. Full Maturity at Harvest

Highest yield and grade, and best flavor are developed when peanuts are allowed to reach full maturity before harvesting. Immature peanuts may lack flavor or have an off-flavor that makes them undesirable for use in SKIPPY Peanut Butter. Immatures are more easily damaged in combining, are more susceptible to mold, and develop more off-flavor on artificial curing.

3. Timely Digging

Peanuts are mature and ready to dig when the inside of the shell has darkened veins and shows brown staining. At the same time skins are light pink and papery thin.

In order to decide when to dig, be sure to examine all peanuts on a few vines from all parts of a field. Record your counts on paper so you can figure percentage. Harvest when at least 80% of the peanuts are mature. Don't be too anxious to dig! The extra yield and higher grade you make will more than pay for the few peanuts you lose by waiting.

4. The Mold Problem

Molds have been around for a long time and their spores are everywhere, especially in soil. The spores will grow only when humidity is high and temperature is above 60 degrees F, but the higher the humidity and temperature, the faster they grow. Normal healthy plant tissue is naturally resistant to mold growth; bruised, immature or unhealthy tissue is very susceptible. Mold damage in peanuts is no bigger problem now than in the past. Mold damaged foods have always been undesirable, but recent scientific research and animal feeding studies have shown that mold damage of foods caused by certain kinds of molds is more harmful than was previously suspected. Everyone who handles peanuts must do his best to minimize mold development.

5. Careful Curing

Curing involves reduction in water content of peanuts by natural or artificial means, completion of normal ripening that produces optimum flavor and resistance to mold damage. Curing takes place when air of low humidity circulates around the pods. Normal ripening occurs during moderate drying. Actions taken by the grower after peanuts are dug are important in determining final quality. If peanuts are cured too rapidly the milling quality will be reduced and flavor will be bland; if exposed to excessively high temperatures, peanuts will have off-flavor. If they remain moist too long with no air circulation, molds will begin to grow.

Natural Curing

Peanuts cured naturally in the field should remain in the windrow until the moisture content is 15% or less. Reshaking windrows speeds curing. Try to get a "fluffy" windrow. After the peanuts are combined, the bags should be turned end-for-end several times to prevent mold damage of peanuts next to the ground. When sacks are put under sheds, be sure air flow is not restricted.

Artificial Curing

Peanuts cured artificially should remain in the windrow until moisture content is 20% or less. Take the nuts to the dryer as soon after picking as possible and start air moving at once. Holding damp peanuts in bulk more than several hours invites mold development. The bulk peanut dryer should normally be operated at air temperatures of 10 to 15 degrees F above outside air temperatures in order to reduce humidity to 55%. The drying air entering the peanuts should not be heated over 95 degrees F. When artificially drying peanuts in bags, don't stack over two high. In either bag or bulk drying, excessive trash and dirt among the peanuts will restrict air flow and provide focal points for mold growth. Practice clean, careful harvesting. We would like to use your peanuts to make SKIPPY.

6. Adjust Combine Carefully

If peanuts are picked at a kernel moisture content above 20%, the shells may be chipped, bruised or broken and kernels may be bruised. Openings in the shell permit entry of mold spores; bruised spots on kernels are easily infected by molds and may produce off-flavor. Keep combine speeds low. Adjust combine or picker according to field conditions and check adjustments frequently. Careful handling is important.

7. High Quality Planting Seed

Plant certified or registered seed of a variety proven adapted to Texas conditions. Certified or registered seed is the best guarantee of genetic purity and uniform performance of plants in the field for better yield, improved grade and quality. Examine the seed and tags carefully for quality and condition. Select seed treated with a thiram type fungicide to help prevent seedling disease. Purchase seed from a reliable retailer or seed producer. Use care in handling and planting to avoid seed damage.

8. Good Cultural and Disease Control Practices

Strong, healthy peanut plants will produce highest yields of sound peanuts. Sound, mature peanuts have best flavor and will be most free of damage if handled carefully after digging.

THE GORMAN PROGRESS, Eastland Co., Texas, SEPT. 30, 1965

Peanuts are susceptible to several soil-borne diseases that can directly affect quality. Organisms which cause these diseases overwinter in the soil and build up in numbers from year to year.

Rotate your other crops and bury residue by deep plowing. Use amount of plant nutrients according to soil test recommendations. Plant on a slightly raised flat bed and avoid throwing soil on to plants during cultivation. Control weeds with recommended herbicides by carefully following recommendations on the label.

Control leaf spot by regular dusting with 15-25 lbs. of sulfur or other approved fungicides. Early leaf spot reduces yields and provides organic matter around stem that promotes development of Southern Blight and other fungus diseases. Use PCNB to control Southern Blight as recommended by your County Agent.

The quality of Texas peanuts has been improving over the past few years. However, there is much that can yet be done to produce highest quality peanuts. The peanut butter manufacturer wants to make a product that tastes good and is nutritious. The peanut grower is the first and vital link in the chain that makes satisfied customers who will buy more peanut products! Watch our markets grow with better quality peanuts.

If you want more information, contact your County Agricultural Agent. Recommendations given in this article have been obtained from publications of the Agricultural Experiment Stations and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Comments on the importance of quality have come from over 40 years of experience in the manufacture of SKIPPY Peanut Butter.

(Note: This article is re-printed from a brochure distributed by R. G. Burwell, Peanut Field Representative, Corn Products Co., 653 N. Lillian, Stephenville, Texas.)

HIGHLIGHTS And SIDELIGHTS
From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Texas — Battle lines are forming! In the political arena, that is.
Big gloves already have been laced on the champ vote-getter — Gov. John Connally. He's in the ring and squared away — ready to battle any challenger. Question now is — will he win by default? It's possible. He has a record few will challenge.

Very likely there will be a free-for-all in most other races. Texas' second highest state office could be an exception. There Preston Smith holds forth in rather firm command as Lt. Governor.

Popular young Waggoner Carr already has proclaimed his interest in becoming U. S. Senator and is agilely dancing around the ring readying for the first sign of Democratic opposition to Republican John Tower's post. This may come from Congressman Jim Wright who is skipping rope to get in shape for something bigger. But so far he hasn't entered any ring.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin has set up his training camp for Carr's to-be-vacated post as Attorney General of Texas. Most likely he will have Connally's blessing, since he was the Governor's appointee as Secretary.

State Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio is trying to decide whether he wants to take on Martin. Other possible candidates for Attorney General are Former Sen.

Frank Owen of El Paso, Sen. Gal- loway Calhoun of Tyler, and Har- ris County District Atty. Frank Briscoe.

U. S. Sen. John Tower told Aus- tin reporters that Texas Repub- licans will concentrate their state- wide efforts on the senate race in 1966, and will field no active candidate for governor. In refer- ence to his own race and local legislative and congressional con- tests, Tower predicted a good year for the GOP.

Announcements this early could mean one of two things; a burned out field by '66 — or several Bat- tles of the Century.

As opponents warm up, only time will tell.

From the Capitol Dome and the focal point of all races — Austin — it looks right interesting.

Meanwhile, better buy yourself a ticket while still available at the box office . . . er, poll tax headquarters.

DEATH PENALTY OUT? — Some attorneys contend that the new code of criminal procedure abolishes the death penalty for crimes in Texas.

They believe that absence of procedures for assessing punish- ment — where the state asks for execution of a criminal — makes it impossible for a death penalty to stand up in appellate court even if asserted by a jury.

A member of the State Legis- lature, Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin, is asking Governor Con- nally to submit proposed revisions in the controversial code to a special session of the Legislature.

Complains Armstrong: the revision goes too far in requiring accused persons to be warned of their rights against giving state- ments to police.

REDISTRICTING ROW GOES ON — Attorney General Carr and the Republicans still are swapping legal broadsides over congressional redistricting.

Carr, in a news brief filed with the Houston federal court, urged judges to give lawmakers another chance at reapportionment in 1967 if the 1965 redistricting act is in- validated. He repeated his earlier opinion that the law adopted this year meets the court's specifica- tions, however, since population variance among the 23 districts is below 15 per cent.

A new GOP brief chides that the redistricting act borders on "sheer lunacy" and demands that it be redone by electrical com- puters rather than politically- minded legislators.

AG OPINIONS — Attorney General Carr has ruled that either parent may consent to the mar- riage of a minor, and a County Clerk may issue a marriage li- cense.

However, if both parents are alive, the mother's consent is suf- ficient upon a written affidavit subscribed and sworn to by her that she and the minor have lived in the county more than a year, and the father has been out of the county for more than six months, or that the mother and father are divorced and she has had custody of the minor more than six months.

In other official opinions, he ruled that:

A college student who takes and passes an advanced standing examination in the field of Ameri- can History, or Texas History, does not fulfill specified require- ments by merely passing the examination.

Commissioners Court of Jeffer- son County is not authorized to grant salary increases of the Criminal District Attorney, the Judge of the County Court at Law, or the Judge of County Court at Law, Number 2.

JOINT HEARINGS PROPOS- ED — Legislative budget writers are considering joint hearings by House and Senate committees as a method of abolishing contro- versial riders to spending bills.

Budget Board staff reviewed for members a long list of govern- mental studies it has been called on to undertake.

APPOINTMENTS — Thomas E. Riggs, Certified Public Accountant in Austin, has been appointed executive director of the Texas Hospital Association, replacing Bob Burkhardt who joined the staff of the State Department of Health.

Governor Connally has appoint- ed Benjamin Orland Sims of Paint Rock and reappointed H. L. Schulz of Ela and Curtis L. Stevens of Millersview to the Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Au- thority.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named to key committee to study adequacy of faculty compensation in state colleges and universities Amarillo attorney Wales Madden and Reps. Tom Bass of Houston, W. Reed Quilliam, Jr. of Lubbock and W. C. (Bud) Sherman of Fort Worth. Lt. Gov. Smith earlier named Sens. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, Andy Rogers of Childress and Pete Snelson of Mid- land to panel. Barnes emphasized need for more "fringe benefits" to faculty members.

EDUCATION LEAP — A ma- jor characteristic of the Texas government's budget this year is a leap forward on education.

Texas spent 40.8 per cent of the state tax dollar on education dur- ing the last two years, but it will spend 44.5 per cent for the next two-year period.

Highway spending will drop from 27.8 to 23.5 per cent.

Welfare and assistance will rise from 15.6 to 16.6 per cent; health and hospitals will decline from 4.9 to 4.6 per cent. Other state ac- tivities are expected to hold even.

SEEK FEDERAL FUNDS — Twenty-five Texas school districts filed early application for a share of the $81,000,000 provided under a federal act aimed mainly at helping underprivileged children. Aid will be dispersed at the rate of about $195 a pupil for those from families with incomes of less than $2,000 a year.

First districts applying were Houston, San Antonio, San Angelo, Potet, Lipan, Fannindale, Pa- ducah, Longview, Dimmitt, Del Valle, Crystal City, Taft, Gon- zales, Rochester County Line, Dic- kinson, St. Jo, East Lamar, Cun- ningham Rural High School, De- port, Laneville, Graham, Jasper, Bandera, Giddings and Witharrall.
