BERLIN, August 30. (AP)—The city council of divided and blockaded Berlin voted today to postpone meetings until an announcement is made on the Kremlin diplomatic talks and until the Russians promise police protection.

Holland Queen To Celebrate Golden Jubilee

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Aug. 30. (AP)—Queen Wilhelmina arrives here today to celebrate her golden jubilee and to begin her last week as Holland's ruler.

En route from her rural Apeldoorn estate, she will stop at the Hague, legislative and judicial capital of the Netherlands, to resume the active role of queen from Princess Regent Juliana for the week-long festivities of the jubilee.

Juliana, who will conclude her second period as princess regent, will relinquish the duties of state to her mother until Saturday. On that day, Wilhelmina will abdicate and Juliana will become queen.

Queen Wilhelmina's arrival in Amsterdam late today will be the signal for 800,000 of her subjects in this garlanded Venice of the lowlands to cut loose at last and forget the war and the German occupation.

The Dutch already have begun to stir from their traditional stoicism to rejoice in welcome to Wilhelmina and to bid her adieu at the end of a half century of rule over the Dutch empire.

The Russian put a crimp in city government financing. Intensifying their pressure against the administration was an order from the Soviet commandant in Berlin that henceforth all residents of the Soviet sector will pay taxes only in the sector where they live. He further ordered that these tax funds should be used only for the benefit of the Russian sector.

The order, which will withhold some revenues from the city, appeared to split the city's finance department. Previous Communist maneuvers have forced division of the police, food and labor departments into east and west units.

The fresh Communist pressure to oust the elected city government came as Moscow dispatches indicated a four-power communique on the month-long talks dealing with the German situation can be expected shortly.

This is the 68th day of the Soviet blockade of the city.

BRADLEY HITS EDUCATORS Says One-Sided Democracy Taught

SAINT LOUIS, August 30. (AP)—Teaching of "two-way democracy" has been neglected by American education, Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today.

"Despite the opportunities for free education in these United States, too many young men come into the army appallingly ill-informed on the issues and crises that warrant their service," the army chief of staff said.

"American education has failed to give many young men an alert appreciation of their liberties and a consequent explanation of their obligations. We have too long concentrated on how to make good how to get ahead. We have taught our young people how to plunder our resources, how to get jobs, and how to get rich.

"We have neglected to tell them that democracy is a two-way street—that with its benefits comes the necessity for also giving service."

And, Bradley said in a speech prepared for the 49th national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, "the Army has too long ignored the insides of its men."

"During the war," he said, "it was apparent that men fought best when they understood why they were fighting. To give troops conviction and to equip them with ample justification for the service on which they embark, the Army will add emphasis to its educational program."

Touching on the international situation and the draft revival, Bradley said "the tragically divided world is engaged in a contest of perseverance and in a conflict of ideas."

Cool Air Fans Parts Of U. S.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Cool air from Canada fanned out over parts of the nation's heat belt today and brought some relief to sweltering millions.

The welcome breezes, after more than a week of 90 to 100 degree temperatures, will be only a temporary break in the late August heat wave.

Many part of the hot zone—extending from the Rockies to the Eastern Seaboard—will not get lower temperatures, the Federal Weather Bureau said. The mass of cool air started moving across the northeastern half of the country yesterday. The mercury dropped in parts of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. Rain fell in widely scattered areas, bringing further relief.

As some relief from the hot spell came, the death toll from the intense heat mounted to 173 in 16 states.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The nation's stockpile of critical war materials is growing bigger, but there is no uranium in it.

The munitions board, reporting on its stockpiling program over the week end, said uranium and 17 other materials posed problems of storage "such as to outweigh the advantages of stockpiling them."

Uranium is the raw material used in making atom bombs. About one-fourth of the overall goal of $3,402,997,000 is on hand or in sight, the board reported. It hinted, however, that the goal might have to be raised because materials being stockpiled are costing more.

Alleged Red Spy Leader Subpoenaed

Man Described By Chambers As Ring Head

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today served a subpoena on J. Peters, described by Whittaker

Chambers as the head of the Communist underground in the United States.

Peters, who also is known as Alexander Stevens, was ordered to appear at a committee hearing scheduled here for noon today.

The subpoena was served by a committee investigator at a hearing of the immigration and naturalization service. Peters appeared at the hearing to answer deportation charges brought by the service.

Asked if he would appear at the House committee's hearing, Peters said: "I don't know. I will have to consult my counsel."

Mrs. Carol King, his attorney, said her client was now under jurisdiction of the immigration service which would have to say whether he could go to the Un-American Activity group's session.

The House committee had been trying to find Peters for months but was unable to until the immigration service said he would be ordered to appear here today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—Whittaker Chambers, confessed former communist, testified today he obtained a $6,000-a-year federal job in 1937 through communist influence.

Schuman To Try Again To Form French Cabinet

PARIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—Robert Schuman, out of office as French premier for 32 days, said today he would try to form a new cabinet.

"But," the balding Alsatian said as he left President Vincent Auriol's palace shortly after midnight, "I have adopted the same attitude as M. Ramadier. I am going to examine the situation first."

Ramadier, Schuman's predecessor as premier, spent all Sunday checking over his chances to form a new cabinet. He admitted at midnight he had been unable to convince either himself or French political leaders he was the man of the hour.

France has been without a government since early Saturday when Premier Andre Marie resigned as a result of Socialist disagreement with wage and price moves planned by his finance minister, Paul Reynaud.

Marie, a radical Socialist (conservative), had been premier one month. Before him, Schuman, a Popular Republican (moderate), held the job eight months. Ramadier, a Socialist who preceded Schuman, held office 10 months although he reshuffled his cabinet once.

SHOWERS THREATEN FLOODS IN CITY

SHOWERS Sunday which apparently concentrated in the business district and residential areas in the southeastern part of the city flooded several streets and for a brief period some business buildings were threatened by high water.

A considerable volume coursed down Rannels street and for a time it was feared that water would enter the Montgomery Ward warehouse on First street, which was partially flooded during heavy rains about a month ago.

Streets also were under water for a short time farther east, with a heavy concentration reported in the 100 block of Owens street, which also was flooded by July rains.

The Sunday rainfall was light in the southwestern part of town.

FORCE WAY INTO BERLIN CITY HALL — Members of a group of Communist-led demonstrators climb iron gates at the main entrance to the Berlin city hall in order to unlock it from inside. Some of the men standing beside the gate are civilian building custodians who were brushed aside when they attempted to halt the demonstrators. The march on the city hall by the Communists was the second in two days. Demonstrators broke up the meeting of anti-Communist city council and attempted to substitute a regime of their own. 25 YEAR-OLDS FIRST Registration Gets Underway For Draft

WASHINGTON, August 30. (AP)—This is R-day-registration day. It's the first step in America's plan to build up its armed forces with a peacetime draft.

Beginning today and continuing through Sept. 18 and a half million men 18 through 25 years old will go to registration centers and fill out postcard-sized forms.

Registration doesn't mean these men will be drafted. Actually, it's just a sort of official census of draft-age men.

Only a fraction of the millions who register will be drafted into the armed forces for a 21-month stretch during the next two years. Maybe one out of every 42.

For example, all 18-year-olds and veterans will register, but those under 19 and most of the veterans are exempt. And millions of others will be deferred for various reasons. But they must register anyway.

Most of those eventually inducted will be under 22. And almost all of them will serve in the Army. The Navy, Marines and Air Force hope to fill their ranks with volunteers.

If you are in the 18 through 25 age bracket, this will brief you on registration:

First, locate your nearest registration center. The nation's 4,000-odd draft boards have organized about 20,000 of them.

Next, if you are a veteran, dig up your discharge papers. You need them to check on dates and service.

Men must register by age group, so check your birth date and find out which day you are supposed to sign up.

Don't worry if you can't register on the required day, or at the regular registration place. If you're away from home, just go to any registration center. The card will be forwarded to your home town.

If you are ill, or otherwise just can't make it, notify your draft board and they will register you later.

SPECIAL DECREE OF SUPREME SOVIET Every Russian Citizen Given Right To Build And Own Home

MOSCOW, Aug. 30. (AP)—A special decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet today gave every Russian citizen the right to build and own a home.

At the same time a decree of the council of ministers of the USSR ordered municipal and rural governments to make available to citizens desiring to construct their own homes land plots "in eternal use."

The one problem which has to be solved now is how to get the house built. There are no contractors to whom the Soviet citizen can turn, since private enterprise on an individual basis is illegal. There obviously are going to be several ways of getting homes built, of course, apparent prospects include:

1. The citizen can build the house himself, getting help from private individuals and purchasing the necessary materials from state retail outlets.

2. It is entirely possible that home building co-operative organizations will be formed.

3. Within the next year it is quite probable that prefabricated houses will go on sale.

Contest Closest In Texas History

Coke Stevenson held a 306-vote lead over Lyndon Johnson at 2 p. m. in the United States Senate race today.

The 2 p. m. tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau gave Stevenson 492,755 votes; Johnson 492,449. The total of 985,204 votes represented 253 out of 254 counties, 219 complete.

Coke Stevenson jumped back into the lead by 210 votes over Lyndon Johnson at noon today in the U. S. Senate race.

It was the closest race in the political history of Texas. The 11:45 a. m. tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau gave Stevenson 492,481 votes; Johnson 492,271. It showed 211 counties complete out of the state's 254. An estimate of 6,000 votes are out.

At the last count last night, at 9 o'clock Johnson held a 693-vote lead. Last night's final tabulation totaled 979,877 votes. This morning's total of 985,204—a total of 1,427 votes added in the overnight counting.

The 10 a. m. count was from 253 of the state's 254 counties, 190 complete. An estimated 9-10,000 votes remained out.

Stevenson picked up 854 votes in the overnight counting from 9 p. m. last night until 10 a. m. today. Johnson picked up 621 votes in the same period.

The votes out could decide the race. Both candidates are seeking the senate post of W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, who did not run for reelection.

It is the closest major race in Texas' long political history. The actual chore of counting the votes will be done by the state executive committee at the September meeting. The convention must ratify or reject the committee's report.

Asked if he would accept the unofficial count if he loses, Stevenson replied: "No sirree boss."

Johnson would not comment. It was believed he agreed with Stevenson on that point.

At Dallas, Bob Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau, said that there has never been enough difference in the bureau's returns and the official returns to change the outcome, but added: "It's never been this close before."

Stevenson, who has not lost a race in more than a quarter of a century in politics, grabbed the lead early Saturday and held on to it until 8 o'clock last night.

At 5:30 o'clock Johnson had trailed by only eight votes.

Howard Gets Good Rains Over Weekend

Jupiter Pluvius proved a very democratic individual in Howard county over the weekend.

Jupe brought his water wagon from the East Saturday but blessed only parts of the county that day. He returned Sunday and managed to hit most of the sections he had missed earlier with generous showers with the exception of the Luther community.

Walter Long, who lives in the Knott community, said he might have gotten a inch. That particular belt extended eastward past the Center Point school.

The Elbow and Lomax communities had good rains Saturday but were not dampened yesterday. Hartwells, one of the drier places in the county, soaked up more than a quarter of an inch over the weekend, most of it on parched pasture land.

Rainfall of up to one and a half inches was reported over a broad belt north of Coahoma. The downpour was heavy enough to wash out a few terraces.

Forsan reported a brisk shower Saturday but no rain Sunday. The US weather bureau's gauge here netted 1.21 inches for the two days, 93 of that amount Sunday.

The ball game between Big Spring and Odessa was rained out but ten blocks further south—around 20th street—the rain amounted to little more than a drizzle.

Melvin Choate, who lives about two miles north of town, reported a good rain yesterday. The moisture came at a crucial time for many farmers, whose crops were beginning to wilt and fade.

CIO Expected To Put Weight Behind Truman

Labor Unions Concentrating On Solcon Races

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—The CIO seemed practically certain today to throw its support behind President Truman in the November election.

But unless the trend is reversed, both the CIO and AFL figure to spend a great deal more time in efforts to elect labor-supporting congress members than in trying to put over the Truman-Barkley ticket.

The CIO called its 51-member executive board into session today to act officially on the subject of political endorsements.

The top leadership already has come out, 8 to 1, for Mr. Truman, and the Americans for Democratic action—with a number of CIO sponsors—added its unanimous endorsement at Chicago yesterday.

The ADA National Board also voted without dissent to work for the election of "liberal" candidates for Congress. While the "vast majority" of these were said to be Democrats, the anti-Communist group adhering to new deal objectives said a few Republicans will get ADA help.

In turning its back on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the GOP presidential nominee, ADA said he lacks leadership, has "absolved" Congress from "an obligation to act on even the vague" Republican platform, and provides "no immediate hope for liberal revival" with the party.

The ADA resolution called Henry A. Wallace's progressive party "dangerous and irresponsible."

While the AFL steered clear of a formal endorsement, federation leaders agreed last week to form a committee to back the democratic presidential ticket.

The presence of Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as Mr. Truman's running mate made things easy for the CIO to follow a similar course, although some of its leaders are more inclined to back Wallace's third party bid.

Jews, Egyptians Agree To Peace

CAIRO, Aug. 30. (AP)—Jews and Egyptians have agreed to proposals for bringing peace to the neutral areas of Jerusalem.

The announcement was made last night by Swedish Gen. Aage Lundstroem, chief of staff for United Nations Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte. Lundstroem said the agreement would bring to an early end the "ruthless battle" between Jews and Arabs in Jerusalem.

SENT TO INTELLECTUALS Einstein Message Remains Mystery

WARSAW, August 30. (AP)—The contents of a message from Prof. Albert Einstein to the World Congress of Intellectuals remained a mystery today.

Dr. Otto Nathan of New York, who carried the message to the congress at Warsaw, declined to say today why he decided not to present the message to the congress.

The group adjourned Saturday night.

Dr. Nathan said on his arrival here: "Unfortunately I am not able at this time to make a statement on why I felt it better not to present Prof. Einstein's message."

It was learned, however, that Nathan's decision had nothing to do with the fact that the congress had been the scene of bitter Communist attacks against the United States.

Nathan did say that Einstein's message differed from a letter the famous physicist sent to the congress organizers answering their invitation to attend the congress.

Einstein's reply, released by the congress, said the way to world peace should be sought "without losing our way in the petty political differences of every day life."

Before its adjournment the congress announced it was establishing "an international committee in defense of peace" in Paris as part of a campaign to prevent war.

The predominantly pro-Communist group had issued a manifesto calling for organization of international and national peace organizations throughout the world.

The Paris committee consists of 21 persons, including four Americans. It is expected to co-ordinate activities described as aimed at preserving peace against "a handful of self-interested men in America and Europe" who seek war.

Officers said they established the place near here as the place of the woman's death because of torn ground, blood spots and the woman's dental bridge lying near the body, indicating a struggle.

Well Live Over It No Matter What The Candidates Claim

Another democratic primary has come and gone, and with it the clamor of claims and counter-claims. Dark insinuations, ridicule, and idle boasts, all are strewn among the litter that hoes the campaign path.

Somewhere along our long and historic line we have cultivated the penchant for name calling and have persuaded ourselves that the proper technique for conducting an election is to claim credit for everything good and lay to the door of the opposition everything bad. None of us really believes this, but we swallow it religiously.

Happily we can shrug off statements made in the heat of a campaign and dwell together in relative harmony regardless of who wins what. We have one consolation/Nobody could be as bad or as inefficient as the opposition claims.

Charles Evans Hughes Added Much To Court's Prestige

Another famous figure has been removed from the scene with the passing of Charles Evans Hughes, twice a member of the supreme court of the United States and almost the nation's president.

Justice Hughes belonged almost to another era, and his famous beard made him appear as every inch the jurist that he was.

He was first and last an interpreter of the law. There were minds on the court that were perhaps more nimble than his, some more liberal and some more conservative. Few, however, were more analytical and even consistent than was that of Charles Evans Hughes. His opinions could be incisive as well as conclusive.

While he will be long remembered for his expostulations on legal questions, the element which will fix Mr. Hughes in the minds of most people is the manner in which he ruled over the supreme court. Not while he was the head justice on the bench did there occur back-biting and name-calling among his colleagues. No indeed. One piercing look from under those knitted brows would have been sufficient to discipline a dissident judge who deigned for a moment to forget that he was a justice in the highest court of the land. Under Justice Hughes the court attained a pinnacle of respect that almost amounted to a concession of infallibility. While it is easily recognized that any tribunal is no more beyond the pale of error than the human beings that make it up, nevertheless it is to be hoped that the court can enjoy some measure of the standing to which Justice Hughes piloted it. He was, indeed, a great American.

Kentucky Mountain Folk Have Ways All Their Own

By DON WHITEHEAD
For Hal Boyle
WASHINGTON, (U.S.—MEMORIES OF A MOUNTAINEER:

The scene was a Kentucky mountain courtroom where a murder trial was opening. The room was jammed with folk who had come to the county seat to hear the lawyers argue. A murder trial always was a good show.

Attorneys made their opening statements and then the prosecution called the father of the slain man to the witness stand for a routine identification.

He was a lanky, solemn man in freshly-washed overalls—suddenly conscious he was the center of the courtroom's attention. He pined his gnarled hand on the Bible and swore to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Then he swallowed his Adam's apple and set down stiffly.

"Are you the father of the deceased?" counsel asked.

The old fellow twisted his fingers nervously and stared at his boots. Then he looked up. "I'm testifyin' under oath, ain't I?"

"Yes, you swore to tell the truth," the prosecutor said, puzzled by this reluctance over a simple question. "The deceased was your son, wasn't he?"

"Well," the witness said cautiously, "my old woman always said he was."

Importance Of Berlin Has Been Exaggerated By West

By WALTER LIPPMAN
A recent dispatch from Berlin, written by Mr. Drew Middleton, the correspondent of "The New York Times," says that "the relative value of our position in Berlin and of the western German state have become slightly obscured in the heat of debate...The importance of the United States' position in Berlin has been exaggerated a bit." The purpose of the dispatch, which may be supposed to reflect what at least some responsible American officials in Germany are now thinking, is to suggest that it would be better to withdraw from Berlin than to agree to a reconsideration of the western German state.

This view now has the support of Mr. Sumner Welles, who thinks the best that is possible is to "agree to divide Germany provisionally into two states, with Berlin the capital of a Russian-dominated eastern Germany and Frankfurt the capital of western Germany under Western control." Mr. Welles is prepared to accept "the voluntary withdrawal of the Western powers from their exposed position in Berlin," though he hopes that this concession could be compensated by a peace treaty with Austria.

With all due respect I venture to think that the one thing we should not do is to withdraw from Berlin and to recognize Berlin as the capital of eastern Germany. For I do not think it is possible to exaggerate the importance of Berlin in the future of Germany and of Europe: To withdraw from Berlin, to concede that it may be the capital of a German state under the control of Russia alone, would make our position in western Germany increasingly untenable. The surrender of Berlin would lead, I believe, to the loss of the whole of Germany.

Consider the position if we accepted the idea of what Mr. Welles calls "the provisional partition of Germany." There will be two German capitals—one at Frankfurt and one at Berlin. The one at Frankfurt will in German eyes be the symbol of the partition and of the defeat and of the destruction of Germany as a great power. The one at Berlin will be the symbol of German unity, the symbol of the German revival and of Germany's restoration as a great power. As between Frankfurt and Berlin the ultimate allegiance of all nationalist Germans must be to Berlin. It is inconceivable that they could accept Frankfurt as anything more than a makeshift and expedient, invented by their conquerors, which they must get away from as soon as possible in order to recover their self-respect.

The underlying situation will tend steadily to enhance the importance of Berlin as against Frankfurt. What will be the foreign policy of the Frankfurt government? Surely its cardinal objective will be to end the partition and to restore the unity of Germany. In the pursuit of this objective, the Russians with their German government in Berlin will hold far stronger cards than we can hold with our government in Frankfurt.

Dewey Holds Lot Of High-Powered Conferences With Leaders Of GOP

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
For DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — Gov. Tom Dewey has been doing a lot of unreported high-powered conferencing. Among those he has counseled with in these private talks are Speaker Joe Martin, House Floor Leader Charles Halleck, Sen. Styles Bridges, N. H., and Sen. William Knowland, Cal.

In these conferences Dewey has presented the main outlines of his campaign strategy. He has sought advice, but in the main his operational plans are definitely formulated. They are as follows:

1. The GOP campaign will get under way the middle of September and continue at an undiminished pace until election eve, Nov. 1. Dewey will make a labor day speech. He doesn't consider it necessary to race around as extensively as President Truman will do that day. Dewey will confine his electioneering to a major speech at an important gathering.
2. The President's attacks on Congress—his chief campaign issue — will be met with the countercharge that he can't get along with Congress. To highlight this contention, Dewey will stress his record of "teamwork" with the New York legislature, and also, on all occasions, will have prominently in his entourage several or more members of Congress.
3. Dewey will avoid any hard-and-fast promises to balance the budget or cut taxes. He feels that would be inadvisable because "we might not be able to deliver" if the foreign situation gets worse. Instead, he will emphasize improving the administration of domestic and foreign affairs and eliminating "waste" and excessive personnel.
4. Dewey and his running mate will carefully co-ordinate their major speeches to eliminate conflicts and contradictions. This is to avoid what happened in the 1940 campaign, when the late Wendell Willkie and his running mate, the late Sen. Charles McNary, occasionally talked at opposite poles.

"Truman is on the defensive, and we propose to keep him there," Dewey told one congressional caller. "I'm going to hit hard, but there is no need for a long-winded discussion of issues. The public already knows what it's all about. From our standpoint, the shorter the campaign, the better. Above all, I want to avoid an anticlimax before the election. We are going to build up to a climax, firing our heaviest guns in the final phases of the campaign. Timing is very important."

HCL RATINGS
Extract from a letter of a western cattle-raiser to a Washington friend, "sold a few steers this week that topped the local market—$26.80 per hundred pounds. Just grass steers, no grain. It looks like you're going to have to eat beans, fella, and like 'em."

CLOSE SHAVE
Former OPA Director Paul Porter is back at his private law practice, after a hectic stint as President Truman's special assistant during the emergency session of Congress. As Porter walked into his office, he was exuberantly greeted by Thurman Arnold, longtime head of the anti-trust division.

"Welcome back," boomed Arnot. "You squeezed out of that one just in time. If that session had lasted a few days longer, they would have got you. They would have investigated you as a White House spy sure as shooting."

HOT OIL
Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer is on a hot seat over a decision on steel oil piping he must make in a few weeks.

The question is the licensing of a huge fourth-quarter allocation for export to the Middle East. Four big U. S. oil corporations are clamoring for the piping—Standard of New Jersey, Socony-Vacuum, Texas Company, and Standard of California. They want it to complete their 1,100-mile line from the Persian Gulf to the Lebanon coast. So far, only 300 miles have been installed. The issue is hotly involved in both domestic and foreign politics.

Independent U. S. oilmen are violently against any export of the scarce piping. They have been yelling for months that their operations are being crippled for lack of the material. Also, Army and Navy chiefs are skeptical about the Trans-Arabian pipeline. Testifying before the Senate Small Business Committee, which investigated the matter, they expressed grave doubt the line could be defended in the event of war. They advised concentrating on developing new oil sources in the western hemisphere.

The big oil companies argue their pipeline would pay itself off in a few years in huge oil supplies. Even if subsequently lost, they contend, it would still be a good proposition for the present.

Another equally touchy factor is a bitter attack on the pipeline by the embattled Israeli government. It charges the shortest, most feasible and cheapest route is not Haifa, but that the oil companies are deliberately running the line through the Arab lands to favor them.

The Israeli control a British-owned refinery at Haifa. So far, the British have refused to supply the plant with crude oil. Rumania has offered to do so in return for refined products. The Israeli are threatening to make such a deal unless the British fork over.

George Raft Still Talks Of Quitting The Movies

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.S.—George Raft who has waxed philosophical these days, still talks of chucking the movie business to tour the world.

By this time, you have probably learned to take stars' retirement talk with more than one grain of salt. Fred Astaire and George Brent are among those who have said they were quitting—and both are still treading the sound stages. But Raft seems semi-serious about his intent. His words:

"I've always said I'll quit the picture before it quits me." The film's veteran tough mug looked natty in his foreign legion costume for "Outpost in Morocco." But he seemed concerned. Although Raft pictures have always drawn well at the box-office, he was worried about the future.

"With film business the way it is, you've got to have star names to draw the people in," he reflected. "I haven't been with a top cast for 10 years."

"People look at one theater and see Alhambra Hepburn, Spencer Tracy, June Allyson and somebody else in something. Then they look at another theater and see George Raft in something. Which picture do you think they are going to see?"

I sidestepped that question and suggested Raft could line up with big name casts if he signed up with a big studio, instead of playing the free-lance field.

"Never again," he said. "I've had offers to sign at MGM and others. But I don't want to get

Astronomers Show We Move At Six Speeds In Walking

Ever watch an inebriate walk down the street and wonder how he navigates?

We used to, but not any more, after a long discourse with an acquaintance of ours while overseas. He allowed as how it was a mystery to him how anyone, drunk or sober, could keep top side up. We wondered what he had reference to until he told us he had studied astronomy.

Up until that time, we thought we'd come a long way since the birth of Christ and especially since the discovery that steam and electricity could be put to great use. But our acquaintance put the chills on that. He maintained that the men who study the heavens have just found out enough to realize they don't know very much.

For instance, our friend pointed out when you stroll down the street, do you realize you're walking at six different speeds? Explain yourself, we asked of him.

It's like this, you're moving under your own power. That's one speed. The earth, makes one revolution every 24 hours, causing night and day, that's two. She goes from vernal to autumnal equinox, a factor that effects our seasons. That's three. She makes a revolution around the sun once a year. That's four. She, along with the sun and the sister planets of the solar system is of a galaxy of stars which foves as a unit. That's five. There are seven galaxies of stars which astronomers know about moving as one. That's six. The great mystery to all of us, he added, is the beginning and the end of the vault of the sky, meaning the stellar universe, where we have come from and where we are going.

He still hadn't explained how a man in his cups can maneuver and keep command of his underpinnings. However, that didn't matter. He had put a couple of wrinkles in our forehead that weren't there before.

Perhaps it is just as well that we didn't take up the study of astronomy. It would probably drive us to drink and then where would we be, trying to shift at seven speeds instead of six.—TOMMY HART

West European Parliament Great Step Toward Union

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

WASHINGTON'S APPROVAL OF THE movement headed by France to create an all western European parliament with advisory powers may well give the added impetus necessary to bring this historic project to fulfillment.

Establishment of such a parliament might be a seven-league stride towards creation of a United States of Europe (or at least of western Europe)—dream of many generations of statesmen. However, apart from such a long range development, an advisory parliament would be an invaluable aid to the Marshall Plan.

This encouragement from the U. S. State Department comes at a moment when France needs it. Britain has indicated that she may not want to take part now, and of course her participation is vital.

ONLY LAST WEDNESDAY WINSTON Churchill released a recent exchange of letters in which he proposed to Prime Minister Attlee the creation of a European assembly. Attlee replied that he was in sympathy with the basic idea but thought this wasn't the "right" time for the government to take this major initiative, when their hands are so full already with urgent and difficult problems.

Whether there is any relation between Attlee's statement and the subsequent announcement by Washington is a matter of speculation. However, it is clear that the United States wants to get ahead with a project over which England is hesitating. As the State Department said, "this government strongly favors the progressively closer integration of the free nations of western Europe."

THUS FAR THE FRENCH PROPOSAL has been made to the other countries which have signed the Brussels Alliance—Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. However, American officials assume that the invitation ultimately would be extended to all the 16 countries which are participating in the Marshall Plan.

A union of all these countries would go a long way towards guaranteeing that the Communist aggression could be held along the line which it now has reached through central Europe. Both military and economic strength would lie in such unity—or call it an alliance for self-defense, if you will.

BRITAIN'S HESITATION IS UNDERSTANDABLE. She is, of course, a signatory of the five-nation Brussels Alliance, but the broader union is something else again. In the first place she must, as Attlee has pointed out, consult with all the other members of the British Commonwealth before entering into a United States of western Europe. Then, too, she not only is in process of overhauling her great empire, but is in the midst of a fierce economic crisis which provides a full time job in itself.

Still, one would expect England to cooperate in a project of which she approves in principle and which the United States backs so strongly. As a matter of fact, the economic rehabilitation of western Europe would be of inestimable value to Britain in overcoming her own crisis. Not to mention the added military security.

Many Politicians Have Held Multiple Government Posts

By MAX HALL
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON, AUG. 30. (U.S.—STRANGE things have happened in this country's political history.

Two years ago a man was elected to the Senate and the House of Representatives on the same day. The man was John Sparkman of Alabama and the date was Nov. 5, 1946.

In 1932, John Nance Garner of Texas was elected to the House of Representatives and the vice-presidency of the United States on the same day.

James A. Garfield of Ohio was a member of the House, a senator-elect, and President-elect of the United States—at one and the same time.

Garfield resigned from the House, declined the Senate seat, became President and was assassinated four months later.

Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, within a period of eight weeks in 1913, was a U. S. representative, governor of his state, and U. S. senator.

FOR AN ENTIRE YEAR, 1946, JAMES M. Curley was mayor of Boston and a U. S. representative at the same time. It is not unusual for politicians to be elected to one office while holding another. But unlike Curley they usually resign the first office before assuming the duties of the second.

Sometimes they delay the change, however.

Huey P. Long was elected to the Senate in 1930 for the term beginning March 4, 1931. But he wanted to keep on being governor of Louisiana. He finally resigned as governor on Jan. 25, 1932, and took the oath as senator on the same date.

Sparkman of Alabama, so far as he knows and so far as I know, is the only man in history to be elected to both houses of Congress on the same day.

Sparkman's dual election happened as follows:

In the primary election of May, 1946, he won the Democratic nomination for reelection to his House seat. In June, Sen. John Bankhead of Alabama died. A special primary was held July 30, and Sparkman won the Democratic nomination for the Senate vacancy.

THE GENERAL ELECTION WAS SET for Nov. 5. The Republicans entered a candidate for Sparkman's House seat. If Sparkman had withdrawn from the House election and left a vacancy on the ballot, the Republican would have won by default. From the viewpoint of Alabama Democrats, that was unthinkable.

So Sparkman left his name in both races and won both. Then he resigned from the House, forcing a special election in which some other Democrat could get on the ballot.

Though it may not show up in the official records, Sparkman held office simultaneously in the House and Senate for 10 days.

He officially became a Senator on Nov. 6 the day after the election. He resigned his House seat on Nov. 16, after being formally certified the winner of the two elections. But he resigned "as of" Nov. 5, and that date will appear in the record books.

GARNER, AFTER BEING ELECTED vice-president and re-elected to the House (both on Nov. 8, 1932), resigned his House seat as of March 3, 1933, and took the oath as vice-president on March 4.

Here is the explanation of James A. Garfield's unique experience:

This Ohio Republican had been a U. S. representative for years. On Jan. 13, 1880, the Ohio legislature elected him to the U. S. Senate for the term beginning March 4, 1881. But on Nov. 4, 1880, he was elected president.

He resigned from the House Nov. 8, 1880. He formally declined the Senate seat on Dec. 23, 1880. He was inaugurated President on March 4, 1881.

Robinson had been a U. S. representative since 1903. He was elected governor of Arkansas on Sept. 9, 1912. He resigned from the House on Jan. 14, 1913, and became governor on Jan. 15.

Only 12 days later he was elected to the Senate to fill an unexpired term. He resigned as governor on March 8 and took the oath as Senator on March 10.

Today's Birthday—

RAYMOND MASSEY, born Aug. 30, 1896,

is famous mostly because of his great stage role as Lincoln. He is master of stage, film and radio acting and has scored again as a producer. Scion of a wealthy Canadian family, he became a U. S. citizen in 1944. As a Canadian officer with the World War I Siberian expedition, he drew an entertainment job and was bitten by the acting bug. He got Raymond Massey's start on the London stage.

Thixton Urges Riders Of Motor Bikes To Be Quiet, Careful

Take it from an old cyclist, don't roar around streets with mufflers off of open. Cecil Thixton, operator of Thixton's Cycle shop, appeals to all youngsters who ride motor bikes, motorized cycles or motor scooters to keep their mufflers in good condition. A few who abuse the privilege of comfortable and economical riding by making needless noise might conceivably curb the right of others later on. Thixton also urged youngsters to drive safely. Thixton can repair any cycle, but that doesn't mend broken bones and heads.

Smith Supplies Appliances For Butane Needs

Users of butane gas will find any type of stove or heater they desire on display at the S. M. Smith Butane company, located on the Lamesa highway in Big Spring.

The concern, a Big Spring business institution for the past six years, recently received a quantity of new Dearborn, Humphrey and Thompson stoves and has increased storage space to keep its supply constant.

Butane experts employed by Smith go anywhere in this area to install butane systems and the ever increasing number of subscribers speak well for its success.

The modern farm house, no matter how far removed from the main arteries of traffic, is equipped with a complete butane system, which cooks the meals for the family, heats the water and provides comfort in the colder weather.

Such makes of ranges as Teppan and Estate are put on the market by the S. M. Smith company. The hot water heaters available to the public come in 20 and 30 gallon sizes.

With summer waning and cooler weather just around the corner, now is the time to check and adjust systems that are already in use. Smith company mechanics are fully prepared for that type of work.

Butane works much the same way as natural gas and is as easy to handle. Business telephone of the concern is 2032.

INDUSTRIAL DISPLAY — Operation and products of Cosden Petroleum Corp. are highlighted in this showing arranged by Cosden for a recent industrial display. People at home, too, may need to be reminded of the many processes and products at the local plant. Below the picture of the Big Spring refinery is a miniature (simplified) refinery which shows how the crude oil is drawn off, vaporized in a furnace and separated into various products in the condenser box and then stored for marketing. Below are listed some of the products — aviation, ethyl higher octane gasoline, liquid gasoline, paraffine motor oil, diesel fuel, tractor fuel, crude, No. 1 fuel oil, No. 2 fuel oil, No. 3 fuel oil, cresylic and phenolic acids. At left are pictures of the products terminals at Sweetwater, Abilene and Orme (Arlington).

Caroline's To Have Anniversary

Seven big flowers will go on the birthday bouquet for Caroline's Flower shop at 1610 Gregg in September.

They have been seven good years," said Miss Scholz. "Yes, seven is a lucky number, for I've been lucky to have so many good friends and customers and to have enjoyed such a fine business."

Scores upon scores of Big Springers count themselves lucky, too, to have had so talented and dependable a florist taking care of their floral messages in time of sorrow and joy, in remembrance and in the eternal language of romance.

Today, more than ever before, they know that whatever they need in flowers may be had at Caroline's, whether it is a bouquet or spray with rich colored gladioli, or a corsage with delicate blossoms or a lovely pom-pom, or a thrifty pot plant speckled with exquisite blooms.

Caroline's has been more than just a place for flowers, for the proprietor has never gotten away from the years she was an expert amateur gardener. Consequently,

H-D 125 Proves Highly Popular

The 10,000th Harley-Davidson Model 125 two-wheeler has come off the assembly line since its introduction late last year. Volume sales of the 170-pound single cylinder lightweight are attributed to its universal appeal, said Cecil Thixton, the Harley-Davidson dealer at 908 W. 3rd street. Teen-agers are not the only buyers, Thixton explained. School teachers, ministers, airport employees, farmers, fishermen, oil field and factory workers have been attracted to the brilliant black job which features foot-operated three-speed gear shift. Even the medical profession is represented with the sale reported by one dealer to this doctor while the former was on the operating table. The 125 is an outstanding achievement in maneuverability, in economy and efficiency of operation. Its light weight makes it easily handled by all ages and both sexes. Harley-Davidson also reports an all-time high for "Big Twin" motorcycle production. Increased production, requiring floor space in addition to that of the main factor, has necessitated the purchase of a $1,500,000 plant on the outskirts of Milwaukee. Thixton has contributed his part

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Our Town's chances to win the Shaughnessy playoffs in the Longhorn baseball league will take a crippling blow if Roberto Fernandez, the hard-hitting left fielder, is forced to go to the bedside of a gravely ill mother.

Bobby was informed upon his return here from San Angelo that Mrs. Fernandez is near death. If she improves, he'll get to stick around and help the Hosses. If her condition remains the same, he says he'll have to scurry along as soon as the regular season ends, which occurs next Monday.

If the pasture tender departs, Orlando Echeverria will have to enter the lineup as the right fielder and Pat Stacey move to left.

REPORTS INSIST JAKE McCLAIN LOSE TWO TEETH
What's this about San Angelo's Jake McClain losing two teeth in his brief imbroglio with Tony Traspuesto of the Big Springers in the Concho City other night?

According to reports brought back by some of the players, Tony — who apparently felt this thing of swinging on him after every collision had to come to an end some time — first returned Jake's swing with a right cross and then brought his knee into play.

The Big Spring catcher is supposed to have re-arranged Jacob's biceps as a result.

TITLE GAME GATE JUST MADE EXPENSES
In the recent Howard County Junior college-Forsan Tri-County baseball league game at Steer park, the clubs made $185 in addition to expenses.

Of the surplus, the Jayhawks — the home club — collected 95 cents, the Oilers 90 cents.

League President Jack Lamb is still trying to arrange a playoff between the Forsan club and the champion of the Cotton Belt league.

FORSAN OWNS ONE OF MOST MODERN GRIDIRONS
One of the most modern, up-to-date athletic fields in this section of the country is the plant at Forsan, which now has a solid turf, good lights and enough steel bleachers to seat several hundred people.

Much credit for the condition of the field should go to the Forsan Service Club, which nursed the grass along all summer. Each member of the organization was assigned the task of keeping the field watered every day for a week.

Incidentally, the field came near being spoiled before it was ever used. An oil company which owned mineral rights to the land wanted to drill a well exactly in midfield but school and service club officials finally talked them into locating their well about a hundred yards east of the gridiron.

The drillers are now at work 24 hours a day at that spot.

ENGLAND PLEASUED WITH WEST TEXAS HOSPITALITY
J. H. England, the College Springs, Iowa, six-man football coach who served as chief instructor of the ABC club clinic here last week, told club members he had always heard of West Texas hospitality and it more than met his expectations. The trip was his first in this part of the country.

Those who heard him say he is one of the most informed men in America on the abbreviated sport.

When Jack Dempsey calls here next month, it will be the first of his visits to Big Spring as a fight notable since Jess Willard was here in the middle '20's.

Willard also came as a referee, at the time Herman Fuhrer had his fight club on Main street.

Americans, British In Joint Maneuvers
TOKYO, Aug. 30. — American air and sea forces and units of the British Pacific fleet resumed training exercises today. British combat ships sailed from Northern Honshu toward a rendezvous off Central Honshu on Sept. 1 with American naval units.

During the maneuvers, which end at noon Sept. 6, the ships will be under mock attack by fighter planes and bombers.

Dick Stovall, center for the Detroit Lions of the National pro football league, has four brothers who played football in Texas schools.

Jim Pritchett Near With 73

Prospects are that more than 200 links men will converge upon the country club this weekend to compete in the 19th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament.

Golfers from Lamesa, Colorado City, McCamey, Midland and Big Spring—some 59 of them—either turned in qualifying scores Sunday or registered for the big meet.

Several times that many are tuning up their games for the tournament. They can qualify through Friday.

Frank Freer, Lamesa veteran, burned up the course Sunday with a qualifying score of 71, one under par. Freer will not be eligible for the medal—only those who post opening rounds Friday will be considered for the premium—but the Lamesan is considered a near certainty for the championship fight.

A 69 or 70 is considered likely to grab for medalist honors but a 71 could be as good as the best.

James Pritchett of Colorado City was the only other player anywhere near Freer's pace and he was two strokes in arrears. Chances are he'll be in or near the title round.

Other qualifiers and their scores, include: (Players from Big Spring unless distinguished otherwise)

James Little 85, Son Powell 4, Horace Wallin 86, Earl Carder 85, Gib Jackson, Odessa, 81, Don Donovan, McCamey, 83, M. J. Chisolm, 82, Dale McElroy 84, Gene Smith, Lamesa, 79, LeRoy Wood 84, G. F. Tony Traspuesto Fined In Angelo

Armando (Tony) Traspuesto, fiery Big Spring catcher, paid a fine of $18, including costs, in San Angelo justice court Friday on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Traspuesto is alleged to have used profane language near the stands of the Thursday night game between San Angelo and Big Spring.

The arrest was made by Andy Bowen, constable.

Cosden Tour To El Paso 's Completed

Twenty-five Cosden "seniors" — men who have been with the company for 15 or more years — are home today from a weekend in El Paso and a ride on the new T&P Eagle. The trip was made possible by Cosden in honoring its Veteran employees.

The group, leaving Big Spring at 3:45 p. m. Friday, arrived in El Paso at 10:30 (MST) that night. Reservations had been made in the Hilton hotel. On Saturday morning there was a three-hour tour of the El Paso Country club. At 4 p. m. the American Airlines complimented the group with a tour of its plant and an inspection of a DC-6, in addition to gratis air rides. Concluding the weekend was a company banquet with floorshow at the Tivoli Club in Juarez. The Eagle departed El Paso at 12:30 a. m. today (MST), and came into Big Spring at 9:30 a. m.

Another highlight of the trip was a radio broadcast, heard from El Paso studios at 2 p. m. (MST), using Cosden personnel. The 15-minute broadcast in explanation of why the visitors were in El Paso gave history of the company and of several of its outstanding employees, featuring the work of Louis Chapin who has been with the firm 20 years. On the program were J. Y. Smith, Doug Orme, R. L. Tollett, and Chester Hayes of Dallas, vice-president in charge of traffic.

Making the trip from here were Hayes, Smith, Orme, Tollett, M. M. Miller, V. A. Whittington, George Grimes, E. W. Richardson, J. T. Morgan, Franklin Nugent, J. D. Sticher, M. M. Hines, G. L. Railroad Workers Paid $1,172,178 In Sickness Aid

Railroad workers in Texas were paid $1,172,178 in sickness benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act during the year which ended June 30, 1948, according to Ben H. Fleet, Jr., district manager of the Railroad Retirement Board, the Federal agency which administers the program. Mr. Fleet pointed out that June 30 marked the end of the first year of this sickness benefit program for railroad workers.

The majority of the beneficiaries, Mr. Fleet said, were in the older age brackets, most of them being over 45. Furthermore, they generally had long railroad service, with the result that their yearly wages were high enough to permit them to receive sickness benefits at one of the two top daily benefit rates of $4.50 and $5.00.

In order to qualify for sickness benefits in the current year, Mr. Fleet explained, an employee must have earned at least $150 in railroad employment during 1947. Also, he must submit an application, together with a statement of sickness signed by his doctor, to an office of the Railroad Retirement Board within 10 days of the first day he wishes to claim as a day of sickness. If the application is not received within the 10-day limit specified by law, the employee may lose one or more days' benefits. To meet this time limit Mr. Fleet advises railroad employees who become sick or injured to mail their applications not later than the 7th day.

Dodgers Shoot Past Bostons With Twin Win

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Staff

The Dodgers did it. The accomplished what many experts said would be impossible.

In last place on July 1, Burt Shotton's Brooklyn club was perched in first place today following a tremendous two-months drive out of the National League cellar.

They did it the hard way too, sweeping a doubleheader from their arch rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals in their home lair, 12-7 and 6-4.

Of course, the Brooks got help from the Pittsburgh Pirates who knocked off the erstwhile leader, the Boston Braves, twice, 6-1 and 5-2.

The Brooks now are three percentage points ahead of the Braves, who lead the third place Cards by a game and a half. Pittsburgh established itself as a definite pennant threat by climbing to within three games of the top.

The second game went 10 innings before the Brooks put over the clincher. A pinch single by Arky Vaughan drove in Pete Reiser with the deciding run. George Shube also scored when Catcher Del Wilber fumbled Enos Slaughter's throw to the plate on the play.

Harry Brecheen and Red Munger were the losing hurlers. Paul Mimer, a secondary hurler, was credited with the first game victory for the Dodgers. Hugh Casey, in relief, got the second victory.

Cincinnati's Reds extended the New York Giants' losing streak to six straight, whipping Leo Durocher's men twice by the same 3-2 score.

Chicago's tail-end Cubs divided a pair with the Philadelphia Phils, taking the second game, 10-4, after Walter Dubiel of the Phils won a 1-0 hurling duel from Bob McCall of the Cubs.

The pennant picture in the American League remained unchanged as every club divided a double header.

Boston's pace setting Red Sox split with the St. Louis Browns in Boston, winning the opener 10-2, but losing the nightcap, 12-4. A three-run homer by Ted Williams and a grand slammer by Birdie Tebbetts helped Joe Dobson finally win his 14th game for the Sox.

He banged three boppers for the Browns who collected 20 hits off Mickey Harris and three successors in the nightcap.

The runner-up New York Yankees gained a split with the Detroit Tigers at the stadium, winning the second game, 11-10, after Detroit had come from behind to take the opener, 9-6.

After Bob Lemon had pitched the third place Cleveland Indians to a 6-0 shutout over the Washington Senators, the Nats came back to win the second game, 5-2. Jake Early's three run double off relief Pitcher Bob Feller overcame Cleveland's 2-0 lead. Lemon racked up his 18th victory of the season and his ninth shutout with a three-hitter in the opener.

The fourth place Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, in the first game, but the American League cellar dwellers came back to win the second game, 7-2.

Austin Bidding For 'Ball Title

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 30. — Emphasis is expected to be on pitching tonight as Hickory, N. C., and Austin, Tex., meet in the first game of the American Legion Junior Sectional Baseball Tournament here.

The Texans are expected to start Jack Brinkley, a diminutive right-hander who contributed heavily to 14 of Austin's 25 straight triumphs.

RAIN CANCELS GAME

Hosses Depart For Vernon, Return Here On Thursday

The elements helped Big Spring's second successive bid for first place in Longhorn baseball league standings Sunday.

A moon shower that apparently concentrated in the vicinity of the State Street ball orchard washed out a game between Pat Stacey's Broncs and the Odessa Oilers and eliminated any chance the visitors had to slice the locals' 5 1/2 game margin.

Since it was the final game scheduled between the two clubs, the contest will not be made up.

The big reason the Hosses are riding the top rung these days lies in their ability to handle the challenges as they come. In 19 contests with the Odessans this season, the Cayuses won 12 decisions while losing seven.

The Oilers have lost very few ball games the past month but the Big Springers succeeded in clipping them three times in four outings.

Midland lost eight games off the locals pace. Vernon 9 1/2. A couple of losses by Midland and a single reversal by the Dusters and it would be all over for those clubs, regardless of what disaster the locals might encounter.

The Steeds took off for Vernon and a three-game set this morning. The Dusters are hot. Superior pitching has led them into fourth place and they give every indication they will hang onto that spot. They blanked Angelo twice over the weekend and now lead fifth place Ballinger by 3 1/2 lengths.

A series sweep over Big Spring would virtually clinch the first division spot for the North Texans. Wilfreda Roca, Gumbo Helba or Julio Ramos will twirl for the Steeds tonight.

Stacey's gang returns to the village Thursday to play three games in two days with Ballinger.

BERLIN, Aug. 30. — Two German fairs opened yesterday—one at Frankfurt, in the American zone; one at Leipzig in the Russian zone. They provided another reflection of Germany's division.

Farmers from all four zones exhibited products, machinery and statistics at the Frankfurt exposition. A dozen trucks carried Russian zone exhibits to the fair.

At the Leipzig fair—once called Germany's "show window to the world"—the number of exhibits and buyers were reduced by the boomeranging effects of the Soviet blockade of Berlin. No trains were stopped a month ago in western retaliation for the Berlin blockade.

The Communists proposed a special lifting of the transport ban for the fair but the British and Americans said they would consent only when "normal traffic" is resumed.

The Russian-controlled press complained that the Western powers were imposing a boycott.

Howard Heads Shape Budget

A tentative budget setting up total expenditures of $322,834 for Howard county in 1944 was reviewed by the county commissioners court Monday morning.

The expenditures anticipated are some $17,000 less than set up for the current year. The budget calls for $318,150 in total receipts which, with forward balances of $5,300, would provide total resources of $323,450.

For the new budget, the court agreed Monday to assess a rate of 77 cents, the same figure now in effect. This rate will be applied to valuations running to approximately $21,500,000 a gain of about a million from the current year.

The levy would be broken down as follows: jury fund 1 cent, road and bridge fund 15 cents, road and bridge special fund 15 cents, general fund 25 cents, permanent improvement fund 8 cents (4 cents of this to be allocated to library), and sinking fund 0 cents.

The sinking fund allotment is one cent less than for 1943, the reduction being made possible by retirement of road bonds. The permanent improvement fund is being hiked by one cent, so that the overall rate remains the same.

Details of the budget will be presented in The Herald when a final draft is completed.

Shaw Again Urges Word Understanding

LONDON, Aug. 30. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw wrote another letter to the Times today, urging again that Russia and the West agree on some definitions of the words they are using.

HE WON'T GRIPE ABOUT THE HEAT

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 30. (AP)—The temperature rose to 95 degrees in Kansas City but Arthur F. Stockman didn't complain. In fact, he enjoyed it after being buried by a snowslide.

Stockman, a 31-year-old milk driver, went into his dairy's ice room yesterday to obtain some artificial snow used in covering cases of milk.

As he dug into the huge snowpile, a slide developed. He was covered before he could escape. Other employees dug him out just as he was beginning to lose consciousness.

Said Stockman's wife, "Not once during the rest of the day did he complain of the heat."

Otherwise Known As Bats

SCIENCE WORRIED ABOUT PUBLIC IDEAS ON THE GENUS CHIROPERA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. (AP)—A bat in the bedroom is nothing to get excited about, according to the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences.

James A. Fowler, the academy's director of education, said yesterday he and other scientists have been somewhat worried of late about the public's attitude toward genus chiropera—bats to you.

Fowler said he has noted in the last few weeks newspaper stories telling of the dire results ensuing when bats wandered into houses, only to be batted about by misguided house-holders.

"Bats are strictly beneficial as far as we're concerned," said Fowler. "They rid the night skies of all sorts of obnoxious insects, such as flies and mosquitoes."

"The big trouble with bats, said Fowler, is that they sleep in the daytime and start looking for something to eat about the time Mr. and Mrs. Householder are turning out the last light.

Once in a while a bat will wander into someone's home, Fowler added—but that is an easy situation to remedy. The only step necessary is to open a couple of windows and wait until the bat finds its way to freedom.

The whole bats situation will be cleared up—at least temporarily—come October. In the fall all bats in good standing hibernate for the winter.

Human Chain Is Rescuing Bodies From Air Crash
WINONA, Minn., Aug. 30. (AP)—A human chain of 100 men stationed on a precipitous and rocky slope today started bringing out the mangled bodies of 26 persons from the crash site of a Northwest Airlines plane. The bodies of 10 others were carried out last night.

The 36 persons died as the Chicago Minneapolis bound airliner, raked by a severe storm, crashed into a heavily wooded Mississippi River bluff in Wisconsin near here late yesterday.

The bulk of the wreckage settled 150 feet down a 500 foot precipitous slope, made slippery by heavy rains last night.

Pieces of wreckage that were lifted in order to remove the bodies were carefully inspected and logged by Civil Aeronautics Board and Civil Aeronautics Administration officials who are trying to determine if any structural defects might have brought about the crash during the storm.

The body of one man, unidentified, was found early today 1,000 feet from the main part of the wreckage. The body was strapped with a safety belt in a seat. Authorities said they believed other bodies were similarly catapulted into the heavily wooded area.

The crash occurred between Winona and Fountain City, Wis., on the Wisconsin side of the river during the height of a severe electrical and rain storm.

Wedding Rites For Billye Saunders Ralph McLaughlin Are Solemnized

Wedding rites for Billye Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Saunders, and Ralph Edd McLaughlin, son of Marvin A. McLaughlin of Ralls were solemnized Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church in a candle-light service.

The Rev. Alsie Carleton, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Wedding vows were exchanged before an altar banked in palms, woodwardia and smilax lighted by pyramids of candles arranged on white columns with large arrangements of picardy gladioli. The bridal path was marked with standards holding white satin cords. The pews were marked with satin ribbon and bridal flowers.

Mrs. Champ Rainwater, organist, played the traditional marches and a medley of wedding selections. She also accompanied Sharon Hane of Crowell who sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

The candles were lighted by Marjorie Luck and La Voe Bigham of Levelland. They wore matching pink dresses and carried cathedral lighters showered with matching colors.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of white satin fashioned with a deep rounded set-in lace yoke and long fitted sleeves which came to a point over the hands. The voluminous skirt had a cascade drape in front and a long train. The full length heirloom veil which was caught at each side with stephanotis forming a halo, was of imported real lace and embroidered with rhinestones and seed pearls. The bride carried a closed white tulle parasol hung over the wrist with bridal flowers of gardenias and stephanotis and showered with white satin ribbon and tulle.

For something old, the bride wore the engagement ring of her grandmother; something new, was the pair of pearl earrings a gift of the bridegroom; something borrowed was her veil which belongs to Mrs. Clarence Lewis of Dallas, aunt of the bridegroom; her garters were something blue. She also wore a penny in her shoe.

Betty Jane Smith was maid of honor. She wore a picardy net dress with bias roll creating a low neckline coming to the edge of the shoulders; the band was caught at the side with a rhinestone clip. She wore matching net mits and carried a blue tulle parasol decorated in shaded pom pons. The handle was caught with a corsage of matching flowers, tulle and ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Luan Wear, Ann McLaughlin, sister of the bridegroom from Ralls, Lou Lawson of Lubbock, and June Flanagan of Christoval. They wore moonstone blue net dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and matching net mits. They carried the picardy tulle parasols decorated in shaded pom pons.

Charlotte Nobles, flower girl, wore a white dress with fitted satin bodice and white net skirt over white satin. She carried a basket of white tulle and satin ribbon and wore a band of white flowers in her hair.

Gene McLaughlin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Russell Stephens, Bill Abel, Gene McElroy of Ralls and Gene Greathouse of Vernon.

Mrs. Saunders wore a navy crepe dress with long pink gloves and wore matching pink flowers.

The reception was held in the Settles hotel following the ceremony. Members of the house party were Mrs. Jim Neal who served the punch, Ann Blankenship who served the cake, and Norma Lou Jones, who presided at the bride's book. The guests were received by the bride party.

The bride's table was appointed with a silver punch bowl and the three tiered wedding cake was served from a mirrored reflector. The centerpiece was a double ring arrangement in white asters and carnations interspersed with puffs of white satin and tulle on the reflector outlined in white tulle and deflexes fern.

Mrs. McLaughlin graduated from San Marcos Academy and attended TSCW in Denton for one year. For the past year she attended Texas Technological college where she was a member of the Las Chaparrillas social club.

McLaughlin graduated from Kemper Military school. He attended Texas University where he was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity until his induction into the army. He is now a student at Texas Technological college where he is a member of the Wrangler social club. He will receive his degree in June of 14.

After a honeymoon in Colorado and South Texas, the couple will be at home in Lubbock. For traveling, the bride wore a balenciage gaberdine suit with dark green and balenciage accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Out-of-town guests were Sharon Hane of Crowell, Mrs. Claranel Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Ware, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Kneese and Scotty, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burke, Guida Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Og of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sanders of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cain, Richard and Shirely, of Fort Worth, Lucille Stallings of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. T. Sparks and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Cursinger, Mrs. O. C. A. McLaughlin, Dee Strain, Russell Stephens, Gene McElroy, Bill Abel, Ann McLaughlin, Gene McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, LaVoe Bigham and Marjorie Luck of Levelland. June Flanagan of Big Lake and Judy Jones of Las Vegas, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Saturday evening in the Settles hotel.

An arrangement of large tapers and picardy gladioli decorated the table. Colors carried out in the decorations were moonstone blue and picardy.

NANTICOKE, Pa., Aug. 30. (AP)—Ever try giving away 40,000 heads of cabbage? Farmer Henry Bobbin said today it's tough to do.

Bobbin had that much surplus cabbage which local markets could not absorb.

He advertised in newspapers he would give it away to anyone who wanted to pick the cabbage up at a nearby park. Only a few people showed up and took away only 500 heads.

Said Bobbin sadly: "It's pretty tough when you can't even give things away."
