How can we contain this deluge of destruction?

Perhaps the best long-range answer is the education of youngsters in the ways of preventing blazes. One leading insurance company, The Hartford Insurance Group, has been making just such an effort since 1947, when it announced the formation of the Junior Fire Marshal program.

Designed for classroom use, from kindergarten through third grade, the program's aim is to teach children the danger of fire, and uncovered cans of paint. how to prevent fire and what to do in case of fire.
