NEEDS NATION'S HELP

Boys Ranch Too Big For Britches

AMARILLO, July 3 (U)—Boys Ranch is getting too big for its britches. Cal Farley, the man who founded it a decade ago, is doing a tailoring job. He's making it in name what it has become in fact—a national institution.

Today there's a railroad station in the mesquite-studded foothills northwest of this Panhandle city with the sign "Boys Ranch." Soon there will be a post office with the same name.

Boys' Ranch, where youngsters get another chance, is only a few miles east of this lonely stop on the Fort Worth and Denver railroad. You reach it on a winding rocky road cut through the sagebrush.

Boothill Cemetery, one of two reminders of old Tascosa, cowboy capital of the Texas Panhandle in the 1880's, greets you as you approach the ranch. Men who died with their boots on lie buried there. The second monument to the ghost town that knew Billy the Kid and others of his breed is a building that once was the courthouse of Tascosa. It is the main building today of Boys Ranch.

In 1938 Julian Bivins, a rich cattleman, decided 120 acres of land to a group including Farley, Chanlor Weymouth, a rancher, and Tom Wingate, owner of a bottling concern. Farley then was a rising business man of Amarillo. He had come here in 1923 to play baseball but quit to operate a garage that became a big general store. He always had worked with boys and in Amarillo soon was in it up to his neck.

In the spring of 1938 six boys were taken to the ranch with its one building. Today there are 22 buildings and 103 boys. These youngsters come from 13 states. And there's a long waiting list.

Cal Farley sold his business last year and does nothing now except work with Boys Ranch. The Maverick club and other enterprises in Amarillo having to do with helping underprivileged kids also help. The project has properties worth $750,000—all as the result of contributions from the people of the Panhandle country and from over the nation. Farley himself puts about $5,000 a year into it.

There are 1,900 acres at the ranch. South of Dimmitt, Tex., is a 1,480-acre irrigated farm given to Boys Ranch by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight G. Axtell. Some of the boys are the "hired hands" at the farm. At the ranch the others take care of 57 head of beef cattle, 27 horses, 35 hogs, 16 head of dairy cattle and 250 chickens. So far as food is concerned the ranch and farm are self-supporting.

The 32-year-old Farley, once a professional wrestler and still a hearty physical specimen has no fears that Boys Ranch will ever run itself out, even when he has passed on and his dynamic leadership is lost. "It is firmly grounded and will never fail because its results are too valuable," he says.

Boys Ranch really is a town. The youngsters go to church and school, ride horses in rodeos and do everything other boys do or would like to do. They also must work. Boys Ranch takes only boys no one else can do anything with except send to reform school. "We are not concerned with a record," said Farley, who is president of the enterprise. "We could make one by choosing the boys. If we took only those who needed food and financial help, we could click 100 per cent. You know, most organizations won't take bad boys to begin with."

The record of Boys Ranch, however, is pretty good anyway. Out of 388 boys who have gone there, only 11 of them have been counted as "lost." "We could have handled half of those too if we'd had the manpower," Farley declares with a firm jut of his square jaw.

Farley is pushing Boys Ranch forward nationally because he very frankly wants more contributions so that the scope of the project may be enlarged. He knows it is impossible but if he had his way about it, Boys Ranch would take every boy in the nation that needs rehabilitating.

If you don't think he's sincere about it all just consider this fact: he sold a business that was paying him more than $60,000 a year so he would have nothing to interfere with his work with boys. Today he has no income; he's just living on what he has accumulated in a quarter of a century of business in Amarillo. "I'm not a rich man but I have enough," he says.

Draft Studied As A Possible Strike Curb

WASHINGTON, July 3 (U)—Government attorneys took a long look at the new draft law today to see whether it gives President Truman the power to seize steel company coal mines if next Tuesday's threatened strike occurs.

The steel firms squared away yesterday for what looks like a major tussle with John L. Lewis over his union shop contract with the rest of the soft coal industry. They asked the National Labor Relations Board to seek an injunction against the union shop provision.

The steel company mines produce one-tenth of the nation's bituminous coal—but all of their output goes to fuel the steel mills.

Thus a strike at the "captive" mines would quickly become serious. Closing down blast furnaces and steel mills would shortly paralyze the auto industry and hundreds of other companies dependent on steel for basic operations.

The stepped up national defense program would be affected.

That's where Mr. Truman's new seizure powers fit into the picture. The new draft law says he may take over "any plant, mine or other facility" and operate it for the production of government-ordered materials in cases where the contractor has failed to produce on schedule.

This provision was inserted at the request of Senator Russell (D-Ga.), but there has been no official opinion yet as to its possible application to the captive mine dispute.

While the rest of the soft coal industry signed a new agreement with Lewis a week ago, effective July 1, the steel companies said their union shop clause would force them to violate the Taft-Hartley act and they would not yield.

Government Still Isn't Too Big To Aid Lady In Distress

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—The government hasn't become so big that it can't lay aside its own troubles sometimes to help a lady in distress.

Not when she writes the President that "every wash day is tear day for me" because she couldn't get the pipe her modest home needed to bring in city water.

So a whole truckload of pipe was due today at the home of Mrs. Paul Ondrey of Hillsboro, Ill., who hit a responsive chord with this plea:

"Dear Mr. President: I am a mere housewife and realize I am taking your too valuable time but I am frantic. Today (June 21) is the longest day of the year and extra long for me. I am trying to do wash for five of us and we have no water to do it with. Every wash day is tear day for me.

"For one year we've done everything in our power to get two-inch pipe for our water which is 700 feet from us (city water). We are one of four families who need the pipe. We all are building our own homes (ourselves) and have only the basements finished and are living in those until we have money to finish. In desperation we've all dug wells and they have all gone dry at one time or another. We have been promised pipe from several different places but no one has it for us.

"I have a son seven, a daughter three and to really make my (water) problem worse we had a surprise visit from the stork in April.

"A family of four needs a lot of water—and then a new baby! He must be kept clean. . . .

"We surely don't wish it as a gift. We want to pay any one what it is worth.

"Thanking you, Mrs. Paul Ondrey, Kinkead Road, Hillsboro, Illinois."

A White House secretary relayed Mrs. Ondrey's letter to the Commerce Department, whose Office of Industry Cooperation (OIC), is coping with the problem of overcoming "vital" shortages.

The letter drifted along to the desk of a steel company official on loan to OIC.

It found the right man there, all right. He promptly called a company in St. Louis, and the company sent a man the 70 miles or so to Hillsboro.

The report back to the OIC man here was that Mrs. Ondrey was

IRREVOCABLE TYPOGRAPHY

Paul Liner has found that typographical errors are almost irrevocable.

He mailed out 2,500 buttons to be snapped on desk telephones, and advice of these buttons included instructions to call No. 6 in case of fire.

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker, however, pointed out that the correct procedure would be to call the operator and simply say "I have a fire to report."

The operator has a direct line to the city hall—a line which is used exclusively for fire calls. Liner asked that people note this since calling No. 6 may result in delays while calls are shifted to the fire department or in case of busy lines.

Jolson Has Sonny Boy Of His Own

LOS ANGELES, July 3. (AP)—Al Jolson has a sonny boy of his own now.

He and his youthful wife acquired 6-month-old Asa Albert Jolson through court adoption proceedings yesterday.

"He is just what I have wanted," exclaimed the mammy singer when he came out of court. "Isn't he wonderful," added Mrs. Jolson.

Heart Attack Kills 'Adeline' Writer

NEW YORK, July 3. (AP)—Richard Gerard Husch, 72, who wrote the lyrics to "Sweet Adeline" nearly half a century ago, died of a heart attack yesterday on a Greenwich Village street corner.

Under the name of "Richard Gerard," he penned the words to more than 250 songs.

The normal body temperature of a bird ranges from 104 to 108 degrees.

Flames Sweep Swedish Ship

NEW YORK, July 3. (AP)—Flames swept the 5,000-ton Swedish steamship Dagmar Salen today, forcing its crew to abandon the vessel 10 miles off the Delaware coast.

Part of the crew was reported in lifeboats near the burning vessel; others had been taken aboard another ship, the S. S. Perla.

The master of the Perla radioed The Associated Press:

"We have half the crew on board.

"The captain (of the Dagmar Salen) and the rest of the crew are staying close to the burning ship on two lifeboats."

The Perla captain added that a U. S. Coast Guard cutter had arrived to pick up the rest of the crew.

The Coast Guard gave the location of the stricken ship as 30 miles south of Cape May, N. J., and 10 miles east of the Delaware coast.

One crewman was reported injured. The Coast Guard said it had dispatched a plane to return him to a hospital.

Meet The "Seniors" of the COSDEN FAMILY This is the first in a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued service of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. COSDEN MARVIN M. MILLER Marvin M. Miller's association with the Cosden Petroleum Corporation goes back to 1928. He is vice president and a director of the Corporation, is also distribution director supervising local and truck sales, as well as tank car sales and service. Born June 10, 1906 in Munice, Indiana, Miller was on the move through Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas, while still a boy: since his father was playing the oil game and following it westward. Upon graduation from high school in 1923 at Abilene, Texas, Marvin was initiated into the oil business when his father put him to work as a roustabout in Eastland County for the States Oil Corporation. During the next two years he took courses in accounting, electrical engineering, and petroleum engineering. Joining the Production Department of the Milham Corporation of Texas at Vernon in 1925, he advanced from roustabout and ganger to field scout and finally to material and equipment supervisor, which position he held when the Milham properties were purchased by Cosden in 1928. Being retained by the new operator, Miller was kept at his old job for a year and then transferred to Cosden's Oklahoma properties, and then to their Fort Worth office as chief clerk in the Production Department. In 1931 he was sent to Okemah, Oklahoma as assistant superintendent of production, and in 1935 he was made general superintendent of Cosden's entire Production Department in Oklahoma. Cosden brought Miller back to Texas in 1938, when they were building a new refinery at Graham to handle the crude from the Sewell Pool being developed by the company. For the next year and a half Miller was busy opening up sales territory in North Texas to distribute the products being manufactured at the new refinery. Later in 1940 he was made manager of the drilling, producing, refining and marketing combination for Cosden's North Texas properties. Elected as vice president and a director at the annual meeting of stockholders in July 1941, Miller continued to reside in Graham until 1943 when he was moved to the company's main office at Big Spring. Here he took over the duties of distribution director and assistant to the general manager and president, R. L. Tollett. Miller was married to Miss Pauline Smith of Fort Worth in 1931 and they have two daughters, Marilyn, 13, and Carolyn, 10. He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church and president of the Presbyterian men's group. He is president of the board of trustees of the Big Spring schools, a member of the Lions club, the Chamber of Commerce, and is a past president of the Country Club. COSDEN PETROLEUM CORPORATION R. TEXAS POLL

Voters Don't Know Senate Race Issues

By JOE BELDEN
 Director, The Texas Poll
 Austin, July 3—A great majority of Texas voters are having to decide between candidates for United States Senator on the basis of personalities and other things besides issues.

More voters say they don't even know how the principal candidates stand on such important legislation as the military draft, let alone such controversial issues as the nomination of Truman for president and the return of price control.

Lack of public interest in the Senate race is further accentuated by the fact that almost half the voters say they can think of no particular questions to ask the various candidates.

These are findings of The Texas

Poll in its latest statewide survey of a representative cross-section of voters interviewed after the ballot closed and campaigning had started in June.

Some questions about:
 Tentative civil rights proposal... 11%
 Foreign affairs... 10%
 Military affairs... 9%
 Taxes and high cost of living... 7%
 Social welfare (old age pensions, etc.) and aid to education... 4%

Voters were asked:
 1. "If you could question each candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas this summer, what is the most important question you would ask?"

2. "Let me ask if you know how some of the candidates for U. S. Senator stand on various issues. First, about the return of price control. Is (Coke Stevenson, Lyndon Johnson, George Peedy) for or against the return of price control?" (Voters were then quizzed about how each of these candidates stands on the draft and on nomination of Truman for president.)

NOW THE HARD OF HEARING CAN HELP THEMSELVES TO HEARING

The many hard-of-hearing in this city will have an exceptional opportunity to find out how they may once again experience relaxed, noise-free hearing. A SPECIAL FREE HEARING CLINIC will be held at the Settles Hotel Tuesday, July 6, from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. by Mr. and Mrs. Hammer, at which time they will test the hard-of-hearing for individual hearing deficiencies. This clinic will also serve to introduce a new Acousticon development in hearing aids. This new discovery by the world's first and oldest manufacturers of electrical hearing aids offers amazing clarity and brilliant tone without the harsh background noises usually encountered. This instrument, in spite of its power, is so small it barely covers the palm—and that's with the batteries enclosed!

Letters have been pouring in from those who have already tried this new Acousticon saying how thrilled they were with this hearing aid. Many of them say that they have never experienced such clarity of tone against such a velvety-quiet background. The manufacturers of this instrument say that no one can even imagine what it may do for them until they hear it with their own ears.

Those hard of hearing who have been searching for the answer to their personal hearing problems are invited to attend this FREE CLINIC. (Adv.)

BOOKS FOR FOUR MOORES — Father, mother, son and daughter of the Weldon Moore family of Colorado City are enrolled at North Texas State College this summer. Shown at the issuing window of the textbook library are, left to right, son Ronald Clay, daughter Glenda Sue and Mr. and Mrs. Moore. Son and mother are sophomores and the daughter is enrolled in the college demonstration school. Moore, who is principal of Buford Consolidated School, expects to receive the bachelor of science degree in August.

Sales Tax Rumblings May Bode A Battle

AUSTIN, July 3 (U)—Sales tax talk is rumbling through state capitol conversations again.

No one you talk to seems to favor such a tax.

It's just that some dislike it less than a tax on natural resources—the latter being the tax that some 50th Legislators pushed hard and long last session and which some 51st legislators may push even harder.

The sales tax talk appears to be sort of a "fight-fire-with-fire" policy among those opposing any additional levy on natural resources.

Whether a sales tax drive develops probably depends entirely on how serious a threat is made on new taxes in general. Tax revenue is coming in at record-breaking highs and there's an unprecedented 65-million-dollar spendable balance in the general revenue fund. Present indications favor a continuance of the upturn.

But along with the revenue, government costs too are climbing skyward. Voters may kill off 30 cents of the state's ad valorem taxes by adopting a constitutional amendment at the polls next November. If the veterans bonus demands are recognized, new taxes will be inevitable.

It's enough to scare the natural resources interests, despite their frequent denials that such taxes are passed on the consumers—the inevitable course of practically all taxes.

Thus the sales tax talk—the first of any magnitude since the 46th legislature where the last attempt finally died after a four-legislature siege of sales tax bills and resultant opposition.

In the 43rd 44th, 45th and 46th regular sessions, along with two called sessions of the 44th, there were no less than 25 separate bills introduced proposing sales taxes. They called for levies ranging from one and a half up to three per cent of items ranging from all commodities and services down to such selective items as luxuries, cosmetics, candy, chewing gum and jewelry. A few called for exemption of foods.

An opposition proposal tried to write into the constitution a ban against there ever being a sales tax levied on foods, tobacco and beverages. That died, too.

During the four legislatures Texans underwent a terrific barrage of pro and anti sales tax propaganda. The man on the street was told it was a tax on poverty by one side—the road away from distressed conditions by the other. Economists have long been in agreement that it is in conflict with the theory of taxation with respect to ability to pay.

Opinions of last year's legislators who backed or opposed the gas-fathering tax proposal of the 50th session and who will back this year indicate one thing for sure—no matter what the tax proposals in the 51st session, they're due to face a battle royal all the way.

Demo Leaders May Discuss Eisenhower

CHICAGO, July 3 (U)—The move to nominate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president at the Democratic National Convention, says a Chicago party leader, will be discussed at a national conference of prominent "Eisenhower people."

Jacob M. Arvey, chairman of the Cook County (Chicago) Democratic committee, said he had been invited by James Roosevelt to a conference in Philadelphia July 10, two days before the party's convention.

A spokesman for Arvey said Roosevelt invited him by telephone from California. But in Los Angeles, Roosevelt, chairman of the California delegation, said he expected to issue a statement later. He said: "I have said before that I have talked to a lot of people all over the country about what is best for the Democratic party. Leaders of California Young Democrats said in a statement 'we always have been and are now for President Truman and feel that the (California) delegates are legally and morally bound to support him at the convention until they are released by Mr. Truman.'"

The New York Daily News said that ROOS, Arvey and Mayor William O'Dwyer of N. Y. joined in sending telegrams inviting all the state delegations to a meeting to discuss an alternative candidate for Mr. Truman.

The Daily News said no specific substitute for Mr. Truman was mentioned in the telegram which, it said, also asked the 1,234 delegates to keep their minds open on selection of a nominee. O'Dwyer was not available for comment.

Cub Day Camp Slated To Open On Wednesday

Annual day camp for Cub Scouts in Martin and Howard counties will open Wednesday morning at the Big Spring city park, officials announced Saturday.

Three full days of activity, to be climaxed with a family picnic Friday evening, have been planned.

Cubs who attend have been asked to report at the park each day not later than 9 a. m. Each individual is required to bring his own lunch each day, as well as a swim suit and a baseball glove.

There are no fees connected with the camp, except each Cub will be charged 10-cents for use of the municipal swimming pool during the swim session each day.

The camp program will begin at 9 a. m. each day with registration. Remainder of the daily program includes a game period from 10 a. m. to 11:45 a. m.; lunch from noon to 1 p. m.; policing of camping grounds from 1 p. m. to 1:15 p. m.; advancement from 1:15 p. m. to 1:45 p. m.; handicrafts and short games from 1:45 to 3 p. m.; swimming from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m.; games from 4 p. m. to 5:45 p. m.

Each family will be asked to bring its own food for the picnic at 6:30 p. m. Friday. Cubs and their fathers will remain at the camp overnight on Friday night.

All registered Cubs in Martin and Howard counties are eligible to attend the camp.

IT PAYS TO SHOP AT PENNEY

June, 1948 Was Hotter And Drier

Hot and dry to hotter and drier—that was the June weather menu, according to the monthly summary by G. A. McGahan, U. S. Weather bureau meteorologist.

The bureau at the airport registered a total of 1.17 inches rain for the month, or .74 of an inch below normal. According to bureau figures, this brought the total for the year to 4.75 inches, or 3.47 inches below normal. The total since July 1, 1947 was 10.35, a departure of 7.88 inches from the normal. This gives an even better picture of why there is an extensive and extended drought.

Still reflecting the erratic picture, the U. S. Experiment Farm showed 1.16 inches for the month of June, but it got .80 of an inch on June 1 when the airport gauge caught less than quarter of an inch. Then on June 25 when the airport measured .35 of an inch, the Farm almost missed. Experiment Farm totals for the year are 2.11 inches, or 1.77 inches below normal for the first six months. North of the Farm there is a strip estimated to have had less than two inches. On the other hand, there are many sections with twice the amount of rain that the weather bureau or the Experiment Farm have shown.

It all gets back to the June pattern, for there were seven thunderstorms—and thunderstorms account for the erratic play. They also accounted for duststorms on June 21 and 27, the latter a severe and damaging one.

Mean temperature for the month was 82.9 degrees, making it the warmest June since 1934. There were 12 days of 100 or more degrees temperature, running the total for the year to 13 such days. Only four days fell below 90 degrees maximum. Highest reading for the month was 104 degrees on June 18, the lowest 63 on June 1 and 29.

Chest Funds Distributed

Distribution was made Saturday of $5,000 from the Community Chest into the various agencies which it supports.

This brought to $25,000 the amount of money distributed by the chest, representing virtually all collections to date on a total subscription of about $27,500.

This was considerably under the $36,000 total budget and has occasioned some serious difficulties for units supported by the Chest.

Perhaps most seriously hit is the Salvation Army. Other agencies in the Chest are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the YMCA, the Chest itself and the Alcoholics Anonymous for a small allotment for maintenance of its home.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Reader Deplores Wrecks; Another Wants Blood File

Reader Deplores Wrecks;

Dear Editor:

In the late afternoon I witnessed a scene that was not quite pleasant, but I want to say a few words about it, thinking it might help to prevent another, and help prevent murder on our highways. I live north just off the highway to Lamesa, and near my place two cars had a wreck. One was a car containing some people going about their task of making a living; the other contained some who were evidently violating laws and showing no courtesy whatever, as they certainly had too much alcoholic drinks. There was beer mixed with blood running on the ground, occupants of two cars were on the ground wailing and moaning, crying for help. The two cars were completely wrecked and torn to pieces. This was a sickening scene, and there were some 200 who witnessed it before the victims were removed.

I don't know what people are thinking about, running up and down our highways, drinking and driving. It seems to me our laws should be strengthened to take care of this. If our people are not going to abide by the laws we have; if the liquor and beer drinkers are going to continue to kill our people on the highways and roads of this country, then let's raise the tax on beer and liquor and hire more men to protect our country. It seems to me that we should just start in and have a little war of our own here in this United States, or at least especially in this state of Texas.

I wonder how many people who read this have noticed the beer cans and bottles and whiskey bottles on the highways lately. It is a shame to view highways cluttered up with this junk. I am in favor of laws to take care of this and of the liquor traffic paying the bill for enough officers to see that the laws are obeyed. If we are going to continue to allow our people to get killed then it is our fault. Let's do something about it.

Another Wants Blood File

blood. Most ex-servicemen have their "dog tags" which give their blood type.

A former neighbor of ours underwent an operation and was getting along fine until some complications developed and the doctor said she needed a transfusion badly. An effort was made to locate some type B (or B) blood, a rare type. All of their close friends and relatives offered blood but it was the wrong type. When word finally reached me that she needed type B blood, I knew that was my type. It inconvenienced me very little and the lady said it saved her life. At least she started improving within a few hours and is recovering.

If this plan is worthwhile, someone or some organization might put it into effect. A pin prick on the end of a finger is all that is needed to get a specimen for typing blood.

Knights To Attend Concho Roundtable

San Angelo Knights of Pythias are expecting two score Big Spring knights and their families to the Knights of the Roundtable roundup on the South Concho this week end.

Big Spring knights defeated the San Angelo lodge by a wide margin in a recent new member campaign. At the gathering, Sol Mayer, San Angelo, is to be presented with his 50-year pin.

Eagle Award Will Top Scout Court

Presentation of the Eagle award to Joe Bailey of Troop No. 2 will highlight the regular court of honor for Big Spring Boy Scouts Tuesday night.

In addition to several other awards, a film on troop camping will complete the program for the court.

Scouting Budget To Be Submitted

New budget for the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council will be submitted for adoption at a meeting of the executive board Thursday night in Snyder.

The session will be held at the Snyder Country Club.

The board also plans to establish policies for operation of the Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains. The organization hopes to expand facilities at the ranch considerably before the next camping season.

Howard Bond Sales Rocket

Bond sales in Howard county rocketed during the past week.

Paced by sale of $100,000 in G bonds, the percentage for the county on its $328,000 Security Loan drive quota jumped from 43.8 to 84.7.

At the same time, E bond sales jumped, too, for the week brought a total of $27,318.75 in these bonds. Beside the big sale, there was another $5,000 in G bonds.

New totals show aggregate sales of $135,150 in E bonds, and an overall of $276,316.50.

Ira L. Thurman, county bond chairman, expressed gratification with the results of the campaign for the past week and predicted that it likely would equal or surpass the quota by the end of this week.

Recognizing that the large sales were pushing the percentages up, he nevertheless paid tribute to those who had a part in the E bond purchases, which had one of their best weeks since the start of the Security Loan campaign. Thurman urged others to invest surplus funds in bonds, or, better still, to begin or continue systematic saving plans by bond purchases.

Painters Group Given Charter

A charter was issued Friday night at the Settles hotel to members of the newly organized Painting and Decorating Contractors of America (local chapter) by T. W. Carter, Fort Worth.

Carter serves as president of the Fort Worth chapter.

Hubert Johnson was named president of the local organization. Other officers elected were John Chaney, vice-president; and L. R. Mundt, secretary-treasurer.

Other chapter members include Jack U. Dabney, W. D. Ellison, D. D. Johnson and Herbert Johnson.

Purpose of this association, according to one spokesman, is to better acquaint the public with the master craftsmanship of the painting industry.

Dr. Fish Joins Malone-Hogan

The association of Dr. John H. Fish, specializing in the practice of ear, eye, and nose, was announced Saturday by Malone-Hogan Clinic-Hospital.

Dr. Fish is a native West Texan, having been reared in Paducah. He comes to Big Spring from Parkland hospital in Dallas, where he completed his residence in his specialty.

Earning his academic degree from Texas Tech, Dr. Fish took his medical training and degree from the University of Texas medical college at Galveston. Following his internship in the City-County hospital at Fort Worth, Dr. Fish entered the army and spent 34 months in service, most of it at the AAF regional hospital at Kearns, Utah.

After separation from service, he engaged in private practice and then did five months of post-graduate work at the Harvard Medical School in the diseases of the eye.

Dr. Fish is married and he and Mrs. Fish have two sons, John Ronald, 3, and Gary Edd, 1. They are at home at 1805 Main street.

Christian Laymen Planning Meets For Fellowship

Preliminary plans were completed Friday night for the initial gathering of men of the city's churches in an interdenominational fellowship.

This first meeting will be held on August 3, with the First Methodist church group as host.

Plans are to bring together, twice a year, all the church men's groups for a broader phase of fellowship. The objective, said the planning group is simply "Christian Men's Fellowship," and the meetings will be open to men of all churches.

At Friday night's planning conference were Gene Hoston of the East Fourth Baptist, G. G. Moreland and Lawrence Robinson of the First Baptist, the Rev. Alste Carleton and Royce Satterwhite of the First Methodist, the Rev. John Kolar of the Main Street Church of God, and the Rev. Gage Lloyd, Charlie White and L. E. Milling of the First Presbyterian.

Mrs. Abbe, Family Featured In Story

A Big Spring woman, Mrs. Dorothy Sue Abbe, was featured Saturday in a story carried in the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Mrs. Abbe, with her sons, David, Dewey, Donnie, Deryl, Dennis and Dannie, are visiting in Fort Worth with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Ferguson, and her sisters, Mrs. M. T. Spain, et whose home she is staying, and Mrs. D. H. McNaughton. She also plans to visit another sister, Mrs. Dewey Lane, Cleburne. The story dealt with the mother on "vacation" with six sons.

I. G. HUDSON - 2142 RANNELS PHONE 810
 I want to say thanks to all you folks who dropped in to see us last week. I always did like the looks of Big Spring and now after meeting so many nice people, have decided to make this home - Drop in any time, I give me an excuse to ease up for awhile and talk and besides I like to get acquainted with all you folks.

Have some wonderful listings - about anything you want in a home from $3,000 to $27,500 - Farms, Ranches, Tourist Courts, Grocery Store, Cafe, Hotel and one Liquor Store - also some lots. Let US HELP YOU GET LOCATED.
 Here is something so HOT it is liable to burn this paper. Do you want to invest $40,000 in on a $115,000 tourist court and pay $500 out of a $4,000 monthly income? COME ON DOWN. The owner has made his and now is your chance.

Mrs. Hudson bought her a 7-room house, a pretty place but she needs about 200 yards fill dirt - what I want to do is find someone that wants some dirt moved and I will move it for practically nothing for we sure need it. - She will have a 3 room apartment with private bath for rent as soon as D & H Electric can come to our price - there is a difference of $3 in our figures, but I think they will see it my way by Tuesday. These expenses are making a nervous wreck out of me.

I want to tell you about this Ranch - it would take a newspaper to describe it fully and these ads cost a lot - but will say this, it is four sections located 60 miles from downtown Fort Worth - good well water and improvements also a spring that floods into creek. The old boy will sell it for $30 per acre. WHEN YOU READ THIS GO TO CHURCH YOU WILL FEEL BETTER THE REST OF THE DAY

SELLING THE SMELL.

Cosden Converting Sour Oil Fault Into Virtue—And Profit

By JOE PICKLE

By selling the smell, Cosden Petroleum Corp. is going the packing plants one better.

Where packers proudly claim that nothing is lost in processing a pig but the squeal, Cosden today is retrieving and marketing unpleasant odors in gasoline.

Because of its odoriferous qualities, West Texas sour crude oil has been much maligned. Only last week an independent group of area producers protested a price differential against Permian Basin crude. Yet, R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden Petroleum Corp., has encouraged Bill Jackson, the company's chemical engineer, in a search to exploit the very qualities which have penalized West Texas crude.

That smell which motorists find obnoxious and refiners found costly comes chiefly from gasoline produced from sour high sulphur crudes. The crude contains substances-known as mercaptans.

Now the mercaptan group is simply a normal hydrocarbon combination with a sulphur and hydrogen atom stuck on one end. Nature has blessed the skunk with a generator that produces butylmercaptan, which gives an idea as to the fragrance of the low-boiling mercaptans.

In the "cracking" process of refining, big molecules are broken or cracked into smaller ones. Crude oil and residues not only transfer a generous portion of the mercaptans they possessed, but in the cracking process additional ones frequently are produced synthetically. That's why untreated gasoline from West Texas crude may possess a rather pungent and not altogether pleasant odor.

Chemists learned, too, that sulphur compounds in the gasoline had a neutralizing effect on Tetraethyl lead, used for anti-knock quality. So until enough lead was added to overcome the mercaptans, it did no good. That added to costs. Hence the Unisol plant to extract the mercaptans out of gasoline.

By permitting liquid gasoline to rise through a tower filled with Raschig rings (carbon cylinders), while a heavier mixture of caustic soda and wood alcohol, descends countercurrently, an infusion takes place in which the smel is extracted. Through a series of processes, the caustic-alcohol residue is extracted into two basic products—our old friends the mercaptans, and cresylic and phenolic acids.

Each of these go through processes which results in further separation and distillation for purity.

At the same time, the Unisol plant has other steps to recover the alcohol and caustic soda, the latter being discarded ultimately when inactivated, although there is a market for it. Freight rates make its sale unprofitable, however.

Mercaptans, which Cosden can produce at the rate of about 5,000 gallons per month, are sold for use as intermediates (stepping stones) in other chemical processes and as an odorizer for natural gas so that your nose will at once detect leaks. Cresylic acids, which possess a lysol odor and which are among the most versatile in the chemical industry, are much in demand for plastics, paints, plywood glue, fire preventatives, antioxidants, ad infinitum. Phenolic acids (carbolic) command a similar and eager market. Together, Cosden produces about 6,000 of these per month.

Although they bring several times the price of a gallon of gasoline, by-products are not great money-makers even though they more than pay their way. More important they have given some experience in operation and design which might be employed to advantage in the future.

Many by-products are possible from West Texas crudes. For instance, the Cosden laboratory has made detergents from the straight (paraffinic) compounds in the hydrocarbons and could make some from the ring (aromatic) compounds that would compare with those whooped up on the radio and in papers and magazines these days as soap replacements. The ring compounds (of which benzene is the first member of a family) are sources of many of the solvents so much in demand in the chemical industry. One element even finds its way into cattle rations to produce faster and greater gains in weight.

Tollett's interest in the possibilities and willingness to experiment modestly has led to the installation of what probably is the world's first continuous cresylic plant here. Although Cosden is in the oil business, there's no telling what this pioneering may uncover from what was once the nuisance pit of West Texas crudes.

Marcy Trail Is Recalled In Book

By The Associated Press
Old southwestern trails are traveled again in imagination and fancy in a well illustrated booklet recently published—the joint effort of nearly a dozen writers and artists.

The book "Some Southwestern Trails," was printed by Carl Hertzog, El Paso craftsman, for Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times and other Texas newspapers.

It is a compilation of essays on trails that crossed West Texas, first issued by the Shamrock Oil and Gas corporation of Amarillo. Harte enlarged the series with three additional trails which touched the Concho country.

The Comanche War trail, which "stretched in a bold band across the State of Texas to carry destruction to the Mexican settlements as far south as Durango," heads off the series. Written by J.

Evetts Haley, author of several books on Texas subjects, it traces the southwesterly course of this more than a century-old war road from its northern terminal near Dodge City, Kas., to the Rio Grande crossing east of Presidio.

"With the settlement of West Texas," Haley writes, "the trail—worn deep by the hoofs of countless travelers, man and beast and whitened by the bones of animals"—passed into history. But deeper still were its bitter memories of desolation and the terror of hundreds of wailing women and frightened children carried off into Indian slavery. For everyone except the Comanche it was a trail of tragedy."

Trade with the then Mexican settlement of Santa Fe and gold strikes in California and Colorado resulted in the establishment of five trails described in the book. They were:

The Old Santa Fe trail from Independence, Mo., to Santa Fe. It traversed Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. Its only travelers who came near Texas were those who dared the shorter, more dangerous route through the trackless Cimarron desert. Stanley Yertal, Oklahoma author, wrote the essay. The Fort Smith, (Ark.)-Santa Fe trail. H. Bailey Carroll of Austin, director of the State Historical Association, described the route across Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle first traveled by Trader Thomas James in 1821. It passed near the future site of Tascosa, Panhandle cattle capital that has since come and gone.

The Marcy Trail. Captain Randolph B. Marcy of the U. S. Army opened the route from Fort Smith to Santa Fe in 1849, Haley writes, "when all known northern routes were crowded by eager immigrants" headed for the California gold fields. It angled southwest, first touching Preston, in Grayson county and crossing the Comanche war trail at Big Spring, where there were reliable water holes. It passed through the present site of Pecos and passed north of El Paso in New Mexico. The Goodnight trail, over which Charles Goodnight and Oliver Loving pushed great herds of cattle west to New Mexico and northward to Cheyenne, Wyo., is described by Haley. Leaving the border in 1866 in search of a market, they traveled through the Abilene and San Angelo country, crossed the Pecos at Horsehead, and "turned up that salty unsettled stream to the first habitation upon it, Fort Sumner, N. M."

WEEK'S BUSINESS

Residential Permits Boost Building Here

Three new residential permits helped stimulate building activity during the past week as commercial construction continued to lag. The city issued 14 permits, most of which were required for repair work. Estimated costs for the week totalled $22,450, which lifted the year's total to $6,378,390.

Real estate transactions subsided during the week, according to warranty deeds filed in the county clerk's office. Eight instruments were recorded, accounting for transactions amounting to $11,175. The current total for the year is $1,306,990.

New motor vehicle deliveries continued at about average rate for the year. The county tax assessor-collector's office issued licenses for 16 new passenger cars, five trucks and two motor scooters during the week.

Miss Myra Lee Bigony And William J. Pierson Exchange Vows Friday

Miss Myra Lee Bigony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Bigony, became the bride of William J. Pierson, of Muleshoe Friday evening in the St. John's Methodist church in Lubbock.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Hubert Bratcher before an altar banked with ferns and candelabra with baskets of pink gladioli on either side. The aisle was laid in white with pink satin aisle markers.

Robert E. Scoggin, organist, played "Evening Star," "Oh Promise Me" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" preceding the ceremony. Grieg's "I Love Thee" was played softly during the ceremony. Jennie Ruth Hooper of Abilene, who attends McMurry College, sang "At Dawning," by Cadman and "Because" by D'Hardelot. She wore a light blue dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

Mary Ella Bigony, sister of the bride, lighted the tapers. She was dressed in a chartreuse frock made identical to that of the maid of honor with matching carnations in her hair.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin styled with a fitted bodice and a square yoke of marquisette outlined with a band of seed pearls and lace. Tiny buttons covered with white satin decorated the back of the bodice. Long fitted sleeves were pointed over the hands while the full skirt extended into a court train.

Her chapel length bridal veil of illusion, trimmed in tiny bows of white satin ribbon, fell in two tiers from a lace coronet trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. The bride carried an orchid on a white Bible showered with lily of the valley.

The Bible belongs to Kappa Phi Girls' social club of McMurry and is traditionally carried by the members. For something old, the bride wore her mother's engagement ring; something new, a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom;

Gloria George Strom And Herschel F. Ezell Are United In Marriage

Miss Gloria George Strom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strom, and Herschel Francis Ezell, son of Mrs. Herschel F. Ezell and the late Dr. Ezell of Nashville, Tenn. were united in marriage Saturday evening in the ballroom of Hotel Settles.

Judge Lewis Reed of Lamesa solemnized the single ring rites. The ballroom was decorated as a colonial garden with tall white standards marking the place for the bridal couple. An archway of white cathedral tapers interspersed with fern before a background of woodwardia and greenery was above the improvised altar. Graduated columns entwined with heavy silk cord enclosed the bridal party. This sanctuary was decorated with baskets of pink gladioli.

Members of the wedding party took their places on tiered white platforms, which were flanked by additional twin arches of graduated standards. Swagged between the arcade were cords of heavy silk roping. On either side, along the colonnades, were triple-tiered standards, made on a smaller scale, entwined with matching silk rope. Atop each were chapel candles, with heavy silk cord swagged between them.

Mrs. Harry Hurt played an organ prelude of nuptial music preceding the traditional wedding march. Helon Blount sang "At Dawning" by Cadman and D'Hardelot's "Because." Mrs. Hurt played "Indian Love Call" softly during the exchange of vows. She also played "Traumerl" by Schuman while Viv-

Dolly Ruth Rosser, Cecil Hobbs Exchange Wedding Vows In Church

Announcement of being made of the marriage of Dolly Ruth Rosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rosser, of Abilene, former residents of Big Spring, and Cecil N. Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hobbs.

The wedding vows were exchanged in the First Baptist church in Abilene June 30 before an altar decorated with white candles, pink gladioli and blue streamers with former pastor, Dr. Millard A. Jenkins as officiant.

The bride wore a white waffle plique dress with white accessories. Mrs. Ann Jones, matron of honor, was attired in blue.

James Hobbs, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride attended Big Spring high school and Hardin Simmons University in Abilene. The bridegroom graduated from Abilene high school and is completing Caldwell's school of instrument repair.

The couple will be at home in Abilene following a two week's trip to California.

MRS. CECIL N. HOBBS

Norma Joan Ray, L. T. Hargrove, Jr. Marry Saturday

The East Fourth Baptist church was the scene of the informal, single ring ceremony uniting in marriage Norma Joan Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nixon and L. T. Hargrove, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hargrove Saturday evening.

The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor, officiated at the ceremony in the presence of intimate friends and relatives.

The bride was attired in a aqua summer-weight suit, with deep red accessories and her corsage was of peardy gladioli. For the traditional something old, she wore a gold bracelet belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Wilson of Coleman; something new, her suit; something borrowed, a lace handkerchief, belonging to the bridegroom's mother and worn by her mother at her wedding; something blue, was a pair of garters. Mrs. W. Douglas Stuteville, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She wore a black dress, with black accessories.

The bride's mother was dressed in a brown suit with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress, with black accessories.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Hargrove was selected as "Miss Big Spring" in 1947 and will graduate from Big Spring high school in 1949. She is a member of the Order of Rainbow.

Hargrove graduated from Midland high school and is now employed by Texas Electric.

The couple is at home in the King Apartments.

Soaring hawks often circle over the edge of a forest or cliffs, or other places where upcurrents of air can be found.

Birds have an internal "air-conditioning" system to cool them off from the heat produced by their muscular activity.

A bird's air-conditioning system, enabling it to lose body heat, consists of a system of air sacs extending through the whole body.

Historical Museum To Re-Open Today

Enlarged, re-arranged and completely redecorated, the West Texas Historical Museum is to be re-opened today.

Doors of the rock building in the city park will open at 2 p. m. and members of the sponsoring Business & Professional Women's club will be on hand until 8 p. m. The museum also will be open on July 5, and on succeeding Sunday afternoons during the summer season.

For the past six weeks, the B&PW museum committee, headed by Mary Louise Gilmour, has been busy in making use of four additional rooms, provided by the city, and in giving all collections and fixtures of the institution a thorough cleaning and reclassification.

The city has repainted the walls and woodwork, and S. P. Jones, one of the museum trustees, donated the ceiling for the big front room. A plaque concerning the institution's background has been lettered by Bobby Joe Blum and framed by Thorp's Paint & Paper Store. Barrow's has furnished some furniture for the lounge and A. Swartz, Hemphill-Wells and Anthony's have furnished models on which pioneer garments will be displayed.

Old friends of the museum will notice that most of the exhibits have been re-arranged and that new cards have been made. In this connection, B&PW committee members pointed out that this involved hundreds of changes and that it is possible some cards may accidentally be misplaced. Any donor noticing such unintentional switches should call it to the attention of the hostesses, said the committee chairman.

There will be some new items on display today. Included will be a picture of Mrs. Mary Bumpass, founder and chief supporter of the museum for years, and a picture of H. W. Caylor, many of whose famous Western paintings hang in the front room of the museum. Later, it is planned to develop a Bumpass collection, also one concerning Mother Zion, a beloved Big Spring figure who died not long ago at the age of 101 years. A case of Shine Phillips relics is on display.

Three paintings, two of them of the big spring from whence the city draws its name, are being displayed by Mrs. Mary Raley. The latter two are pastels and one is an original on the dry spring whereas the other is taken from a 1902 photograph with water still in the spring. The third painting is an oil of the city park rustic bridge.

B&PW members hope, too, that a World War II exhibit, either through loans or gifts, can be developed. Bob Evans has given this a start.

Finnish Reds Are Losing Ground

HELSINKI, July 3. (U)—The Communist-led Popular Democrats seemed today to be losing their place as Finland's strongest party as more than half the votes were counted from the election of the last two days. The Agrarians, a center party, appeared on the verge of replacing them.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everything you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

Holiday Visits Are Reported By Residents Of Stanton This Week

STANTON, July 2. (Spl.)— Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hall left Wednesday to visit a month with their daughter.

Bigony

something borrowed, a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Red Holland of Bronco.

The maid of honor, Frances Bigony, sister of the bride, wore a rose dress of soft crepe with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves and a tunic-like short train. She had matching mitts made of net and a half hat with shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations in modern cascade design.

The bridesmaids wore dresses made identical to the maid of honor. Mrs. H. T. Edwards, sister of the bridegroom, wore a sky blue dress. Mrs. William O. Spradling, sister of the bride, wore a pastel yellow dress. They carried similar bouquets of yellow and rose carnations respectively.

H. T. Edwards, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Ushers were June Wagon, Muleshoe; Paul Gardner, Abilene; and William Orville Spradling, Lubbock.

Davy Jean Anderson, cousin of the bridegroom, preceded the bride as flower girl and wore an ice blue net over taffeta fashioned with a tiered skirt and matching mitts. She wore a halo of flowers and carried a small basket from which she dropped rose petals.

Mrs. Bigony wore an aqua crepe dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a black and pink crepe dress. Both had corsages of pink roses.

A reception was held in the parlor of the church immediately following the ceremony. Members of the wedding party and parents of the couple assisted in the receiving line.

The table was covered with a handmade cloth of old Irish linen, upon which was placed a three-tiered cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom and a crystal punch service. Mrs. David Anderson, Mrs. Jeff Davis and Mrs. W. C. Maule assisted with the serving. Jeanie Ruth Hooper of Abilene, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Pierson graduated from Big Spring high school and McMurry College, where she was a member of the Chanters, Alpha Chi Honor Society, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Secretary of the Student Association 46-47 Member of the Kappa Phi Girls Social club, Princess 45-46 and Campus Queen 46-47. She has been employed as church secretary at St. John's Methodist in Lubbock.

Pierson graduated from the Muleshoe high school and attended John Tarleton College before entering the service. He served 18 months in the Army, stationed at Washington, D. C. and is now attending McMurry college where he is a senior.

Out of town guests were from Abilene, Big Spring, Muleshoe, and Norman, Okla.

THE FRIENDLY DRUG STORES

BIG SPRING, TEXAS

Mrs. M. A. Cook Wins High Score At Bridge
 Mrs. M. A. Cook won high score at the Friendship Bridge Club in the home of Mrs. W. M. Gage Friday afternoon.
 Other winners were Mrs. R. F. Bluhm, floating. Mrs. G. L. James and Mrs. M. Y. Crocker, bingo scores.
 Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. Herbert Johnson and Mrs. Lewis Murdock were also present.
 Mrs. Herbert Johnson will be the next hostess.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you buy Barontinate, you buy a prescription for taking off weight. You do not pay for a printed diet. Barontinate is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Barontinate. It contains no harmful drugs, but does contain ingredients to make you feel better.
 Barontinate when mixed with grapefruit juice does this. First, cuts down your desire for sweets and fatty foods, but you do not have to FORGE yourself. Barontinate takes care of your DESIRE. Second, delays and eliminates, so that water is excreted over—almost like melting fat. At the same time you feel better, more power, more alert, but never starved or hungry.
Lost 22 Pounds
 "I lost 22 pounds taking Barontinate and I feel much better in every way. I eat anything I want and I gladly recommend it to anyone who wants to lose weight."—Genevieve Hillman, Route 1, Devine, Texas.
15 Pounds Lost
 "I lost 15 pounds taking Barontinate and can now control my weight. I feel much better in every way and I gladly say, 'It's Barontinate to control the weight.'"—Mrs. Gayle Matthews, 628 Tarabonella Street, Beaumont, Texas.

'Homecoming' Tells Stirring Medical Story At The Ritz

The combined talents of Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Anne Baxter and John Hodiak are brought together in the newest Ritz attraction, M-G-M's "Homecoming."

Based on an original story by Sidney Kingsley, who won a Pulitzer Prize for his "Men in White," the new M-G-M drama concerns two medical men, one the smug, overconfident midwestern surgeon Ulysses Johnson, played by Gable; the other the visionary and altruistic bacteriologist Robert Sunday, enacted by Hodiak. Ulysses is so caught up with his rich clients and the country club set life he leads with his attractive, young wife, Miss Baxter, that he turns a deaf ear to Dr. Sunday's plea for aid in rehabilitating a neighboring, malaria-ridden slum area. The outbreak of World War II offers Ulysses another chance to shine when he goes overseas as a complacent major. But his complacency is soon shattered by the experiences he undergoes under bombardment and his growing love for the spirited and valiant nurse, "Snapshot" McCall (Miss Turner). It is "Snapshot" who succeeds in making a humanitarian out of the smug surgeon where Dr. Sunday had failed, and when she is killed in the historic Battle of the Bulge and hostilities have ceased, Ulysses returns to his wife a disillusioned but better man.

"HOMECOMING" — Anne Baxter greets Clark Gable in this scene from M-G-M's "Homecoming," new Ritz attraction. Lana Turner and John Hodiak are co-stars.

EAST MEETS WEST — The wild west gets a great deal wider when the eastern kids move in, and it's all unreel in a comedy called "Gas House Kids Go West," playing as the feature attraction at the Lyric today and Monday. In addition to the Gas House bunch, the cast includes Emory Parnell and Chili Williams.

Ladd Finds Action And Veronica Lake In 'Saigon' Movie

Alan Ladd and Veronica Lake are again billed together in an exciting adventure of the Far East, "Saigon." The action story begins today at the State.

"Saigon" is the sort of suspense-packed melodrama that demands the combined talents of Ladd and Miss Lake, a fact which Paramount profitably learned from its previous pairing of the duo in "This Gun for Hire," "The Glass Key" and "The Blue Dahlia." Their newest co-starrer is a highly combustible mixture of dangerous love, intrigue and sudden death, and its Far Eastern locale greatly enhances the motif of the film.

The latest leg of Ladd's screen wanderings—he was last seen overseas slugging and loving his way out of a murder rap in "Calcutta"—finds him in China with two buddies who had flown with him in the war. The boys undertake a well-paying secret commission to fly a Shanghai business man and his secretary to Saigon.

The flight turns out to be a gigantic money-smuggling scheme, with enough wealth at stake to lead men and women to lie, cheat, steal and murder. Love, too, is besmirched, and pal pitted against pal for the affections of a scheming female. Only the grim finality of smashing bullets in the climax brings about a just ending.

The fascinating characters who live in "Saigon" are enacted by the cast. In addition to those of the two stars, noteworthy performances are turned in by Douglas Dick, Wally Cassell, Luther Adler, Morris Carnovsky and Mikhail Rasmumy. Leslie Fenton's tight direction was also instrumental in making "Saigon" the thriller it is.

'Western Union' Is Returned To Terrace

Zane Grey's "Western Union" ful and thrilling episodes in the history of the West. Battling the heat of the desert and the snow of dangerous mountain passes, their cattle stolen and their wires cut down, and stalked every foot of the way by Indians who were incited to massacre by an outlaw band, Creighton and his men fought their way to an unforgettable triumph.

Intervened into the action-packed drama is an exciting romance that involves Robert Young and beautiful Virginia Gilmore with Randolph Scott as the third party of the triangle.

"Western Union" was produced under the direction of Fritz Lang. The wild, boisterous boom towns of the 1880's are seen in all their colorful authenticity. Fort Kearney and Salt Lake City of that roaring era were reborn for the screen. Location companies traveled 3200 miles filming outdoor sequences, and 1800 men and women worked on the picture which took 11 months to complete. A spectacular blaze, said to be the greatest fire ever staged for a movie, marks the climax of the picture. Harry Joe Brown was the associate producer, while the screen play was written by Robert Carson.

State Theatre To Be Closed For Repairs

The State theatre will be closed for four days this week, the management has announced, for major repairs to the building.

The change is effective Tuesday. Plans are to have the State reopened on Saturday, it was said. A new roof is to be put on the State building and other general repairs made.

Frost chocolate cookies with whipped cream, stack and spread some of the sweetened cream over the outside of the stack. Chill in refrigerator for several hours, then slice and serve. Ginger snaps are also delicious used this way.

Garnish baked potatoes by cutting a cross in the top of each just before serving, using a sharp small pointed knife. Insert a square of butter or margarine deep down in each insert, then squeeze so some of the interior shows, and add a sprinkle of paprika and parsley.

Local TNG Head Tells How Group Affects Draft

How the new draft law affects young men with National Guard membership or who might be contemplating membership in the Guard is detailed by T. A. Harris, captain commanding the local Battery.

Harris said that under new National Guard quotas, the unit here is restricted to 38 men. There are now 36 on the rolls.

Under terms of the law which became effective June 24, all males from 18 through 25 years of age must register.

For the age group 17 to 18½—may enlist in the Guard at any time; must serve in the Guard until past draft age; may volunteer in the regular army for one year, and then either join the reserves for six years or join the National Guard for four years.

For the age group 19 through 25—may enlist in the Guard and remain in it until and if drafted; if drafted, must serve 21 months in the army; then must either serve one more year in the army or must join the Guards for three years or the reserves for five years.

Veterans—liable to draft if served less than 90 days; are exempt if have 90 days but less than 12 months, and if they are members of the National Guard.

ten Middleton and Sandra Swartz lighted the tapers.
Mrs. Hurt was dressed in a blue dinner dress and wore a headdress of pink roses. Miss Blount wore a yellow organza made in colonial style with an embroidered petticoat and shirred bertha of embroidery. Her corsage was of blue agapanthus.
The candlelighters were dressed in identical frocks of white net styled with tight bodice and full skirts which had deep ruffles at the bottom of the skirts. Their French white gauntlets were caught at the wrist by plucked bows outlined with white carnations.

The bride chose a gown of ivory satin designed with a bateau neckline, long fitted sleeves which tapered to points over her hands, a fitted basque bodice. The very full gathered skirt was accented at the hipline by a peplum of handmade satin roses and swept into a formal train.
Her fingertip veil of imported French bridal illusion fell in full graceful tiers from a soft brim of heliolum Duchesse and Rosepoint lace.
She carried a fan of heliolum Rosepoint lace outlined with mother of pearl. A white purple-throated orchid was atop the fan which was showered with lily of the valley.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.
For the traditional something old, she wore a bracelet which belonged to her grandmother; something borrowed, a diamond pin belonging to Mrs. D. A. Koons of Dallas which was a gift to her from the late D. A. Koons at their wedding; something blue, was her name written in her dress and something new, was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She also wore a sixpence in her shoe.
The bride's attendants were Mrs. William Gunn of Dallas, matron of honor; Robbie Piner, Camille Inkman, Marijo Thurman, Jo Ann Rice, Mrs. Walter Bolton of Austin, and Kay Williams of Sherman, as bridesmaids; and Wah-letta Smith of Fairfax, Okla. and Vevagene Apple as junior bridesmaids. The junior bridesmaids are cousins of the bride.
The attendants wore dresses of French pink faille taffeta fashioned with a wide heart-shaped neckline, puff sleeves, a fitted bodice, and full gathered skirt over a hoop. The skirt was caught up at the hemline in the back over a panel of ruffles.
Their headresses were small maline half-hats of Better Times flowers with matching streamers down the back. They carried Better Times gladioli on fans made of pink maline outlined with minon matching the flowers.
William M. Wade of Nashville, Tenn., was best man. Groomsman were Jack Hockery of Denver, Colo.; Roy Hyre, Chicago, Ill.; Jack Glasco of Odessa; Sol M. Smith, Fairfax, Okla.; John Evans of Bay City; and Joe Bruce Cunningham.
Mrs. Strom, mother of the bride, wore a pink imported lace dinner dress, pink lace mits and a coronet of pink carnations.

Mrs. H. F. Ezell of Nashville, Tenn. was attired in an orchid formal and wore an orchid. Mrs. Richard Hackett, sister of the bridegroom of Rome, Ga. wore an orchid dinner dress and an orchid corsage.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the garden of the Strom home. A rustic motif dominated the garden planted in yucca, cacti, palms and geraniums. Hurricane lamps and candles furnished the principal lighting and marked the entrance of the reception area. Guests were received by the bride and bridegroom and the bridal party.
The bride's table was covered in floor length white satin with flounces of white maline. Garlands of plumosus were caught at the corners with wedding bells showered with white satin streamers and Bouvardia. The table was placed on the loggia against a green background of smilax, white marconies and Esther Reed garlands. On each side of the table were floral trees made of the marconies and Esther Reeds.
The bride's imported fan was used as the centerpiece for the table which was laid with a crystal punch service. The fan shaped wedding cake was decorated in pink and white and outlined at the base in an allusion of pink maline.
Members of the house party were dressed in formal frocks and wore corsages of gardenias in their hair. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Alfred Strom of Amarillo, Mrs. H. F. Ezell of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Richard Hackett of Rome, Ga., Mrs. R. E. Blount, Mrs. W. W. Inkman, Mrs. Jack McDaniel, Mrs. A. Swartz, Mrs. Robert Middleton, Mrs. Harry Hurt, Mrs. Robert Piner.

Mrs. Wayne Rice, Mrs. Ira Thurman, Mrs. Bacl Apple, Mrs. Cora Shelton, Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, Mrs. David Evans, Sr., Mrs. David Evans, Jr., of Houston, Mrs. D. A. Koons of Dallas, Clara Graves of Dallas, Jacqueline Price of Amarillo, Mrs. George B. Smith of Fairfax, Okla., Ann Graham of Fort Worth, Virginia Stapleton of Dallas, Agnes Currie, Lillian Shick, Lorena Brooks, Louise Ann Bennett, Pat Smith of Tulsa, and Bobbie Gibbons of Midland.
Mrs. Ezell graduated from Big Spring high school where she was a member of the Sub-Deb club.
She also attended Hockaday Junior College in Dallas, Southern Methodist University in Dallas and the University of Texas in Austin where she is a senior. While at the University, she was president of the Ladies Golf Association and served on the Athletic Council for two years. She has won numerous golf tournaments in this area. She is also a member of the Chi Omega College sorority.
The bridegroom is a graduate of Duncan Preparatory School in Nashville, attended VMI for two years and graduated from the University of Tennessee where he was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity. He served with the United States Army Air Corps for five years and was with the Eighth Air Force in England for two years. He is now a field representative for Kiwanis International out of Chicago, Ill.
The couple left immediately following the reception for a wedding trip to Mexico City, and Acapulco, Mexico. The bride's going away suit was white silk shantung, worn with a straw-colored off the face hat draped in veiling that came around her face and was caught on her shoulder with an orchid spiked with Bouvardia. Her accessories were of brown and white spectator.
Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. William Gunn, Virginia Stapleton, Jewel Stout, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Jr. of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bolton of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Revelette of Independence, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Revelette of Pawhuska, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Strom of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Smith of Fairfax, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Al Kelley of Midland, Ann Graham of Fort Worth, John Evans of Bay City, Jacqueline Price of Amarillo; Sol and Wah-letta Smith of Fairfax, Okla. Roy Hyre of Chicago, Ill.; Kay Williams of Sherman, William Wade of Nashville, Tenn.; Jack Glasco of Odessa; Mrs. Richard Hackett of Rome, Ga.; and Mrs. Herschel F. Ezell of Nashville, Tenn.

Attending were the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strom, Judge and Mrs. Lewis Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurt, William Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Al Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. William Gunn, Vevagene Apple, Helon Blount, Joe Bruce Cunningham, Jacqueline Price.
Roy Hyre, Virginia Stapleton, Jo Ann Rice, Robbie Piner, Sandra Swartz, Vivien Middleton, Marijo Thurman, Kay Williams, Sol M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bolton, Camille Inkman, and the hostesses, Mrs. Ezell and Mrs. Hackett.

Independence Day

THIS IS OUR HERITAGE
The Right to Change Our Minds — Is the Everlasting Right
Of All Americans

Maybe you know the Declaration of Independence by Heart. Maybe you know every word of the Constitution. Or maybe you don't. But all of us do know Big American Ideas like these...

In America, POWER BELONGS TO THE SELF-GOVERNING PEOPLE.
GOVERNMENT MUST ALWAYS BE THE SERVANT, NEVER THE MASTER.

You Can't Try Communism
Any More Than You Can 'Try' Cyanide

Why not "try" arsenic — or cancer — or leprosy? How can you "try" something, when you can't change your mind?

Although we set this Independence Day aside as a day of summer fun and holiday enjoyment, let's not lose sight of the fact that "world affairs" make it a solemn occasion on which we must rededicate ourselves to living democratically — for our own protection as well as in honored memory of those fine Americans who gave their lives — that you and I might enjoy this day...

OUR FINE
HERITAGE

Let us guard it well, for there are malevolent forces at work to wrest it from us. They might continue to hall it as an American document—even perpetuate its parchment under glass. But they would destroy its very meaning; distort it with instruments to smother all freedom; cripple our right to liberty; and make our observance of anniversaries such as this Independence Day—a thing of the past.
