Poll Taxes Are Way Behind As Deadline Near

Approach of the Saturday deadline still had not stimulated any last minute rush this morning at poll tax windows in the courthouse.

Furthermore, the total number of persons qualified to vote this year continued to lag far behind figures for the same date last year. And this year's figures still needed a healthy increase to match those for 1951, the last "off year" on the political front.

Totals this morning showed 5,286 polls and 1,031 exemptions. This compared to 7,677 polls and 1,398 exemptions on the same date in 1952. By the time the tax office closed on Jan. 31 last year the county had established a new record, with a total of 11,348 polls and exemptions.

On this date in 1951 the tax office had issued 5,828 poll tax receipts and 1,132 exemptions.

Persons otherwise qualified to vote still have ample opportunity to pay their poll taxes, however. Mrs. Viola Robinson, county tax collector, said that windows in the courthouse will remain open until midnight Saturday.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce also are still circulating "agent forms," which authorize Jaycees to purchase poll tax receipts for persons who cannot appear in person at the courthouse or the hotel booth.

Jaycees and others who are working in a campaign to stimulate late poll tax sales are reminding that several elections will be held this year, despite the fact that no state and national referendums are scheduled. City, school and junior college elections are held each year, and usually a few others, such as bond elections, etc., are called, they emphasized.

MAY WITHDRAW SEVENTH FLEET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Government sources reported today President Eisenhower has under consideration an order releasing the Seventh Fleet from Formosa and Chinese Nationalists for raids on the Communist mainland.

Announcement of this plan may be made in Eisenhower's state of the union message to be delivered to a joint session of Congress Monday, one informant told this reporter.

The effect of the proposed order would be to rescind President Truman's 1950 directive to the Seventh Fleet to protect Formosa, held by the Chinese Nationalists under Chiang Kai-Shek, from invasion by the Chinese Communists from the mainland.

The Truman order, announced June 27, 1950, also called on the Chinese Nationalists "to cease all air and sea operations against the mainland."

The effect has been to keep the Nationalists penned up on Formosa, as well as to prevent any Communist invasion of that island.

It was emphasized by another government official that the proposed fleet order does not envision any attempt by the United States to blockade the China coast, as has been suggested in some quarters.

Nor would the order offer any U. S. help to Chiang in an attempt he might make to invade the Chinese mainland, this official said.

The presumption was that in such a situation Chiang would have to provide his own shipping for any hit-and-run raids he might undertake and could not expect American naval or land support.

Chiang already is receiving military assistance and equipment from the U. S. and an American mission in Formosa has been active in training his troops.

The widely held belief among American military officials has been that the Chinese Nationalist forces are not yet capable of any large-scale assault against the mainland.

One official said that if the Seventh Fleet move is ordered, the primary objective of Chiang's forces would be to cut the Chinese Communist railway from the Manchurian area to the south.

It has been argued that the effect of even the threat of hit-and-run raids by Chiang's forces might be to lessen Chinese Communist pressure on American troops in Korea.

One of the government officials who spoke on the plan was privately enthusiastic about its possible success, if adopted.

He said he thought any such move would force the Communists to transfer troops from Korea to help guard the long China coast line and thus make it more difficult for the Reds to mass in Korea.

Congress Critics Agree 'Smack' Was Necessary

Marshall Formby Is Selected For Highway Group

New member of the Texas Highway Commission is a former state senator for Howard County.

He is Marshall Formby, now of Hereford. Formby is a cousin of J. Hinnon Johnson and Homer Johnson, Big Spring.

Gov. Allan Shivers announced his appointment Thursday to succeed Fred Wemple, Midland, whose term is expiring. Formby, who is expected to be confirmed by the Senate, is due to take office Feb. 15.

Rearred in Dickens County, Formby was graduated from Texas Tech in 1932 with a journalism major. He did newspaper work in several points, including Miami, Fla.

In what was a political upset, he captured the Democratic nomination for state senator in 1940 but had his service interrupted when he entered military service in World War II in 1942.

On his return he obtained his Masters of Arts degree in journalism at the University of Texas and later his law degree from Baylor University. In the meantime, he had published a newspaper at Plainview and also had developed some interests in radio stations. More recently, he has been concentrating on his station at Hereford.

Formby has visited here on numerous occasions. He is a former head of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association. On the commission he will serve with E. H. Thornton Jr., chairman and R. J. (Bob) Potts.

Other appointments announced by Gov. Shivers yesterday included M. B. Morgan, Denton, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics; Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, Denton, adjutant general.

'Tactical Reason' Of Army Accepted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Congressional military leaders said today that after reading secret Army reports, they are agreed that last Sunday's ill-fated "Operation Smack" was not a show but rather an operation "which was necessary for tactical reasons."

SEOUL, Saturday, Jan. 31 (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet's headquarters said today it was "grossly unfair" to describe "Operation Smack" as anything but a soundly conceived and carefully planned combat operation.

Headquarters of the retiring 8th Army commander stepped into the controversy raging over last Sunday's raider operation with a three-page statement.

It declared the criticism was unfair to Allied fighting men.

The statement said that three U. S. soldiers were killed and 61 wounded in the operation. It has been estimated that 150 men of the U. S. 7th Division took part in the raid, which hit a Western Front position known as Spud Hill. Unofficial figures earlier had said 87 were wounded, including 57 hurt so slightly that they returned to duty next day.

The raid caused an uproar in Congress, where some members insisted it was only a show for top brass complete with "scenario." This last referred to an operational time table provided watching generals and correspondents.

"Operation Smack," said the statement, "conducted by the Seventh Infantry Division on 25th January was a seriously considered and carefully planned action to destroy enemy installations which threatened our forces and captured prisoners for enemy identification."

"There have been many operations of similar scope successfully conducted throughout the Korean conflict."

The Army said Friday that the criticism in Congress would turn to praise when the full story was told.

However, there was some confusion, Capt. Clair M. Wolfe, Omaha, Neb., division public information officer, said tonight he still held that position. Earlier he said he had been relieved.

"It was a mistake," he told correspondents. "I was not relieved. I am PIO of the 7th Infantry Division."

$800 Collected By Polio March; Activities Set

The Big Spring mothers march on polio netted the local March of Dimes approximately $800 last night.

Troy Harrell, MOD chairman, said $792.58 was turned in after the march, and that a few dollars collected hadn't been turned in this morning.

Mothers—members of local P. T. A. units—visited every residential block in the city during their "march on polio." Funds were counted and placed in night depositories shortly after the drive was finished about 9 p. m.

MOD campaign leaders today were hearing down on arrangements for other special events to raise funds for the Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Headlining activities planned for today will be the March of Dimes Dance in the Settles Ballroom from 9 p. m. to midnight. All proceeds will go to the polio fund, as no charges are being made for use of the ballroom, orchestra, or other incidentals.

Reservations may be made with Carter Belew, Settles manager. No admission fee has been set. MOD leaders say whatever participants wish to pay will be acceptable.

Music will be provided by Joe Williamson and his Starlighters. Program will be broadcast over Radio Station KTXC from 9:30 to 10 p. m. and from 10:30 to 10:55 p. m. During those periods, persons listening by radio can make contributions and arrange to have them picked up by calling KTXC, No. 3300.

Tri-Hi-Y members Saturday will take over the downtown funds solicitation drive. Also on tap for Saturday is the "Dance of Death" to be performed on an 18-inch platform extended from top of the Settles Hotel.

Benny and Betty Fox, who also will appear in a show at Webb Air Force Base, will perform the Charleston and other steps on the small platform as a March of Dimes attraction.

Several other programs are planned for this evening and Saturday in support of the polio funds campaign. The drive is to wind up this week and directors hope to raise $15,000 to apply in the fight against polio.

MISSING WIFE MISSES HUBBY

An Arkansas man was either asleep or absent minded when he left Big Spring this morning.

He forgot his wife.

The traveler stopped at a local cafe for a cup of coffee about 8 a. m. His wife didn't want any, and remained in the car where she had been sleeping in the back seat.

But before her husband finished his coffee, she decided to get out for an early-morning stretch. The motorist returned to the car and took off to the west without noticing his wife was absent.

She called police, who radioed to Midland and officers there stopped the man and sent him back for his companion.

White House Denies Rift With Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House says no struggle is developing today between President Eisenhower and Congress over procedure in streamlining the government.

A change in voting rules recommended by Senate and House committees would make it easier for Congress to veto presidential reorganization moves.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty disclosed yesterday that Eisenhower knew in advance of the planned change—and was agreeable to it. Hagerty said there is no conflict of view on the point.

He told reporters congressional leaders informed the President Monday that the voting procedure on reorganization acts probably would be revised. Hagerty said the President was not opposed.

Unexplained, however, was the testimony of Joseph M. Dodge, director of the budget, who told a House committee he "took a vigorous position" against the changes. Dodge normally would express the attitude of the President.

Hagerty would not discuss the apparent contradiction.

Last Tuesday, committees in both houses voted to alter the rule on rejection of reorganization plans submitted by the President.

Under the existing statute, due to expire March 31, a majority vote from the entire membership of the House, or the Senate, is required to block presidential proposals to shift agencies or functions of government. That is, 49 senators and 218 representatives have to cast a "nay" vote in order to kill a plan.

Under the proposed new rule, a simple majority of the quorum present and voting could veto White House proposals. That might be as few as 25 senators of 110 House members.

No sooner was the action taken than political observers began speculating about a battle between Congress and the President. Backers of the change denied they had anything like that in mind.

But Dodge, saying he was "reflecting the view of the President," had fought hard to prevent the rule change. He was asked if he strongly opposed it, and he replied emphatically, "I do."

The President snapped a busy day today.

It called for an 8 o'clock breakfast with Secretary of State Dulles and Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen, prior to their scheduled departure on a 10-day inspection trip in Western Europe.

He had an appointment at 8:45 with the adjutant general of Texas, K. L. Berry.

A Cabinet meeting, Eisenhower's second, was called for 10 o'clock. The agenda looked heavy, although the White House disclosed no details.

Eisenhower was in position to report on a meeting that lasted nearly two hours yesterday with the National Security Council. Those present were silent when they came out of the meeting, Hagerty said he was unable to disclose any details—except an agreement to meet with the President every Wednesday morning.

The President also had three afternoon appointments today. They were:

12:15 — Maj. Gen. George Horan, quartermaster general of the Army.

2 — Robert McLean, president of the Associated Press and president of the Philadelphia Bulletin.

3:30 — The Rev. Ruben K. Youngdahl of the Lutheran church, Minneapolis, Minn.

TO TOUR 7 NATIONS Dulles And Stassen Leave For Europe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and foreign aid chief Harold Stassen left on a special mission to Europe today, carrying with them some last-minute "suggestions and guidance" from President Eisenhower.

Traveling aboard Eisenhower's official plane, a four-engine Constellation—the two took off from Washington airport at 8:28 a. m. (CST).

Before their return Feb. 9, Dulles and Stassen are due to visit the capitals of seven West European nations.

The two chief architects of this nation's foreign affairs program breakfasted with the President before driving to the airport.

Afterwards, Dulles told reporters: "We got some final words about our prospective trip—final advice and instructions from the President."

Eisenhower wished them: "Good luck to you both."

Before leaving, Dulles handed newsmen a statement which seemed to soften somewhat the criticism he voiced earlier this week of the slowness of West European in bringing about a unified defense program.

He said the European Defense Community (EDC) had been "developed by the Europeans themselves with great courage and imagination as a step toward that unity which all recognize as necessary."

In a radio-television address Tuesday night, Dulles had said it might be necessary for this nation to "re-think" its foreign aid policies unless Western Europe got together and agreed on a program of unification—military as well as economic.

As Dulles and Stassen left the White House meeting with the President, Eisenhower called out: "Good luck to you both. Have a nice trip. Think of me when I'm out there sweating Monday morning."

This was a reference to the fact that he will deliver to Congress Monday, in person, a state of the union message.

Behind Dulles was a threat to Western Europe that he might "re-think" U. S. policies unless they go through with unification and defense programs.

France, Germany and four other continental countries in Western Europe negotiated an agreement last year to pool their military forces in Europe under a single command which in turn would be under the North Atlantic Treaty command headed by Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Eisenhower, former NATO commander, has long backed the creation of such a European Defense Community. He and Dulles have been openly disturbed by the cooling of original German and French enthusiasm for the project. As it now stands, German defense rearmament can be accomplished only through ratification of the EDC and related agreements.

Rule Requiring Lobbyists To Register Voided

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Federal judge ruled today it is unconstitutional for the government to require registration of persons engaged in lobbying activities.

The ruling by U. S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff that Section 208 of the Federal Lobbying Act is invalid resulted in the dismissal of long pending charges against two state agricultural commissioners, one of whom is now dead, and two other persons.

Defendants in the case were James E. McDonald, late commissioner of agriculture of Texas; Tom Linder, Georgia agricultural commissioner; Ralph W. Moore, Washington commodity trader, and Ralph M. Harris, a New York commodity broker.

Judge Holtzoff served as a member of a three-judge constitutional court which earlier had held another key section—305—unconstitutional. This section required that anyone receiving money in connection with lobbying activities must file quarterly reports with Congress.

Texans Fall Behind In Poll Tax Receipts

By The Associated Press

It's so tough to sell a poll tax in Waco that advertising them by aerial balloons.

Waco isn't alone. As far as poll tax salesmen are concerned there are tough all over—with a couple of the usual contrary Texas exceptions.

With the final day for paying poll taxes Saturday, receipts generally are running at less than half of those for 1952.

The main reason isn't hard to figure out. Ike and Adlai and all the other big names aren't battling for votes. There's a natural let-down from the big national and state political squabbles of 1952.

City elections are about the only 1953 voting attractions—and a lot of people just don't bother to exercise their right to take part in those.

Here's a city-by-city sampling of the poll tax situation across the state:

Waco—Four Civil Air Patrol planes released 5,000 balloons over the city, each balloon bearing the inscription "Pay Your Poll Tax." McLennan County poll taxes up to Friday totaled 7,941—less than half the number sold at the same time last year.

Corpus Christi—Poll tax payments through Thursday totaled 16,189, and Nueces County Tax Assessor-Collector Joe L. Stevens predicted a record for an off-election year. The city election is in April.

San Angelo—The Tom Green County tax office reported 6,013 paid poll taxes and 2,976 exemptions as compared with 15,525 paid and 3,379 exemptions last year.

Victoria—Poll tax payments hit 4,300 Thursday, about half the number of eligible voters and better than in most places. The possibility of a two-million-dollar hospital referendum and city elections were considered the motivation.

Midland—This West Texas city will pick a mayor, three city councilmen and two school board members next spring—but only 3,800 persons had paid poll taxes. In 1951, also an "off" year, 7,400 persons registered. A record 14,000 qualified for the 1952 elections.

Dallas—The county tax office had counted 33,000 receipts late Thursday. That's about one-seventh of the total paid in 1952. But a spokesman said a lot more poll taxes than that have been paid to salesmen sent out by civic clubs and other organizations. These won't be turned in until the deadline. Nevertheless, the total is expected to be "way below" last year's.

Abiene—The "off" year had cut payments from a record 17,540 last year to 4,478 at the time the check was made.

Borger—About 3,000 receipts sold in Hutchinson County, plus about 500 exemptions. Last year there was a total of 12,008. In 1951, the total was 8,065.

Lubbock—Tax Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan said the total, under $1,600, could reach 10,000. He collected 27,558 taxes in 1952.

Braces Tell A Story In 'Dimes' Campaign

At least one team of workers participating in the Mothers' March here Thursday evening as part of the March of Dimes campaign felt repaid for their efforts.

Mrs. Burt Sammons and Mrs. C. H. Hyden were working their part in southeast Big Spring when they found an elderly couple standing on their lighted porch. Assuming that they must have been waiting for visitors, they almost passed by when the man asked: "Are you from the March of Dimes?"

Both he and his wife made contributions and then told of their special interest. As a young woman she had been stricken with infantile paralysis, as it was called altogether then. Patience, was called and prayer restored her to an almost normal life, but it gave both of them a burning desire to help fight the dread malady.

Stopping at another home, Mrs. Hyden and Mrs. Sammons were invited in. While the grandmother went for the contribution she had laid out on the table, they spoke to a child and patted him on the head.

As they were leaving, they heard a commotion from the rear. In came the child's daddy.

"Hey, don't leave without mine," he called. "I don't know what I've got, but you get it all."

Then he turned his pockets wrong side out and shelled out better than $6 in currency and change.

Evidently noticing the surprise on the faces of the workers, he explained.

"You wonder why I'm specially interested? Look!"

He walked over to the bright-eyed youngster and pulled up his trouser legs.

Underneath were braces.

Legislature Waiting On Its Committees

BY MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Legislature got to the point today where it had to wait on committees to get the bill out for floor debate.

And the committees scheduled their first big week of public hearings beginning next Monday.

The bills expected to raise the biggest taxes—teachers' pay raise, natural gas tax, car inspection—still rest in committees without dates for hearings.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee, where tax bills must go first, has indicated it will sit back for a while to see how much money in new taxes the state will need to meet any new demands the Legislature should approve.

The House Appropriations Committee yesterday completed its sixth day of hearing from state agencies and departments how much money they want and why.

Monday, the Senate Finance Committee will start hearing the same requests. It will take many weeks to complete its hearings.

Two bills that have caused comment come up for public hearings next week. One would allow the state to build a new office and courts building in Austin. The other would prohibit cross-filing by candidates.

The plan has come up in previous sessions for building a new state office building to eliminate

Formal Action Slated Tonight On A Citizens' Traffic Group

A public hearing this evening will set the stage for formation of a Howard County Citizens Traffic Commission.

Proposed constitution for the voluntary citizens organization will be presented and, if persons present decide to establish a traffic commission, a nominating committee is prepared to suggest names of a slate of officers.

Formal action will follow a discussion of local traffic problems and safety hazards and what a citizens organization may be able to do about them. Five representatives of Lubbock's Citizens Traffic Commission will be on hand to outline functioning of their group and explain some of the ways it has been able to alleviate critical traffic problems and improve safety prospects throughout Lubbock County.

Roy Reeder, temporary chairman of a guidance committee, will outline purposes of the meeting, introduce various speakers and the proposed constitution. R. W. Whiskey will report for the nominating committee.

"It is essential that a large segment of Big Spring's population attend the meeting and learn something of the organization," Reeder urged this morning. "Public support will be necessary if the traffic commission is to be successful."

All local civic and service organizations have been invited to send representatives to the meeting. However, the temporary chairman emphasized, the meeting is for the public with every citizen of the county invited.

Officials of all clubs are urging members to attend. Presidents of women's organizations in particular are urging their members to be present. Several telephone committees are active in this respect.

Present from Lubbock will be Bill Morgan, executive secretary of the CTC; A. B. Watkins, chairman; C. I. Wall, immediate past chairman; Alton Abbott, vice chairman; and Clay Bedner, district safety officer for the Texas Highway Patrol.

Several Lubbock officials, including Morgan and Mayor Murrell Tripp, explained work of their Citizens Traffic Commission at a preliminary meeting here early in December. They told of parking, traffic, safety and engineering problems the organization has solved in the past two years.

The Lubbock delegation emphasized that widespread citizen support is essential in successful operation of the CTC. The organization works in a purely advisory capacity in cooperation with Lubbock city and county governments, similar to proposed set-up for Big Spring and Howard County.

In addition to the discussions, a motion picture, "A Day in Court," will be projected this evening. The meeting is to start at 7:30 p. m. in the High School Auditorium.

SIX PER CENT

City Credit Union Votes A Dividend

Members of the City of Big Spring Credit Union last night voted payment of a six per cent dividend and still had $485.88 in their undivided profits balance.

Payment of the dividend will require $850.95 of the $1,436.83 undivided profits. Also voted was a $200 bonus for the finance officer, C. E. (Perry) Johnson Jr.

The union also chose a 1953 slate of officers, heard treasurer's report on financial condition of the organization, and participated in a session of games and other entertainment. Mayor G. W. Dabney and City Manager H. W. Whitney spoke briefly to the group.

Report of Treasurer Johnson showed the union wound up its third year of operation with assets amounting to $30,429.41—a gain of about 40 per cent over a year ago when assets totalled $22,539.90.

Loans amount to $29,198.15 and cash on deposit and in hand totals $1,066.09.

There are 145 members of the union. They hold shares worth $22,100.34, compared to a year ago when 134 members had shares amounting to $15,146.51.

During 1952, the union made 253 loans for a total of $66,896.43, Johnson reported. That makes the total since organization three years ago 717 loans for $1,835,542.

Only one bad loan, for $33.95, has been made by the union since it was formed.

At present, 92 loans for $28,148.90 are listed as current and nine loans amounting to $1,049.16 are carried as delinquent, said the treasurer.

A year ago, loans outstanding totalled $21,011.29.

Interest on loans last year amounted to $2,783.51 and expenses for the year totalled $1,271.32 for a net profit of $1,512.19. Twenty per cent, or $302.44, was reserved for bad loans.

Named to the Credit Union's board of directors were Johnson, Roy Rogan, and Homer Ward. Roy Hester is holdover. The board will name a president and other officers at its February meeting.

Chosen for the credit committee were Lee Nuckles, Ward and H. E. Hooper. Named to the supervisory committee were C. R. McClenny and Tommye Station. Holdover member of this group is Joe Keating.

Some 125 persons attended the third annual meeting held in the Municipal Auditorium.

Barnacle-Free Vessel Returns From Sea Tour

By WALTON ROCK

BALTIMORE (AP)—The 10,000-ton Liberty ship George A. Lawson roamed the barnacle-infested waters of the Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean for more than a year.

But when she was raised in drydock yesterday, her hull showed hardly a trace of barnacles—those scraggly, crustacean hitchhikers that foul ship bottoms and cost the shipping industry an estimated 100 million dollars a year in lost time and drydock charges.

The sight of the Lawson's smooth hull was no surprise to Robert D. Spiers, a 38-year-old St. Petersburg, Fla., chemist, who it gave him a "great feeling," nevertheless.

To Spiers, it was proof that an anti-fouling compound he developed, known as Dianol, was more effective than the paint that was applied to the Lawson's hull Jan. 21, 1952.

When the Lawson was raised out of the water here yesterday, the only barnacles on her hull were in patches along the keel, where blocks that held the ship in place last year kept the painters from getting at the surface.

"I believe," Spiers said, "that this is the first time a commercial vessel has been able to stay in barnacle-infested waters over a year without developing a severe growth of fouling organisms."

The master of the Lawson, Capt. Andrew Vasaka, said the log of the freighter would show no speed loss or increased fuel consumption toward the end of her year afloat. Usually toward the end of a year, he said, barnacle formations cut 1 1/2 to 3 knots off a ship's speed and send oil consumption up.

The compound is a mixture of organic chemicals in powder form and mixes easily with any regular paint. It remains in suspension in the paint and is effective as long as the paint lasts.

Spiers said it paralyzes the nerves of the barnacles or any other cold-blooded organisms that attach themselves to the ship's bottom. They die and fall off.

Red POWs Beat Yank To Death

PUSAN, Korea, Jan. 30 (AP)—Three North Korean Communist prisoners of war beat an American soldier to death Wednesday in a compound on Koo Island, the U. N. POW Command said today.

The soldier, a private, was clearing a barracks of prisoners prior to taking a head count when he was attacked, the POW Command said. His name was withheld.

The soldier went into the compound with a Republic of Korea (ROK) Army sergeant. Later, the ROK sergeant noted the American did not come out of the building. Another South Korean searched for the soldier and reported he had been beaten.

Two ROK platoons and one American platoon were sent to the scene. The injured soldier was brought to the compound gate by prisoners. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Soja Hospital.

Ordered to send one of the POW's responsible, the prisoners surrendered three inmates and said they did the killing.

After milling about the compound, the prisoners refused to return to their barracks and started throwing rocks at the guards. Tear gas was used and order was restored.

The POW Command said there were no other casualties and an investigation was under way.

Resurfacing Project Due To Start Shortly

Equipment will be moved in late next week or early the following week for start of the resurfacing project on Highway 80 (Third Street) through Big Spring.

Collins Construction Company will apply new asphalt surfacing to the street from west to east city limits. The project will require about three weeks, city officials estimate, provided weather is favorable.

The street will be resurfaced in two-block segments with traffic to be re-routed only in areas where the work is underway.

Report Demanded On Montgomery's Death

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department will be asked to tell Congress what it has learned in an investigation of the death of John C. Montgomery.

Montgomery was head of the department's Finnish desk when he apparently hanged himself from a stair rail in his fashionable Washington home early last Saturday.

Rep. Brownson (R-Ind), chairman of a House government operations subcommittee which handles State Department matters, said late yesterday he would ask Secretary of State Dulles at once for a full report.

The State Department investigated the death as a routine procedure since Montgomery had access to secret documents.

Brownson acted after Rep. Busby (R-Ind), in a House speech yesterday, said "there are many questions that remain unanswered."

Busby indicated he was far from satisfied with explanations that Montgomery was despondent because he was lonely and unmarried and discontented with his job.

Busby insisted Montgomery, 41, was "very popular and was a bachelor by choice . . . his promotion was fairly rapid, as he was head of the Finnish desk after about six years with the State Department."

Busby said the State Department and police have surrounded the case with "mystery and secrecy" but the public is entitled to know the truth because Montgomery held an important and confidential position and handled secret government documents.

Group Visits Cosden's New 'BTX' Plant

The first Platforming-Udex installation in the world, for the production of benzine, toluene and xylene, plus high octane gasoline, is the new "BTX" unit at the Cosden Petroleum Corporation's Refinery here.

And the unit got a thorough going-over Thursday from more than a half-dozen leading figures in the field of petroleum processing.

From as far away as Madrid, Spain, from New York and from California, they came to have a look at the Cosden unit in production. Intensity of questions indicated strong interest in various features of the unit, and highly favorable comment was heard on the cleanliness of design and methods of construction and operation.

The petroleum men were here as guests of Cosden, and of Universal Oil Products Company, which engineered and licensed the facility; and Procon, Inc., which constructed it.

Visitors gathered for a de luxe lunch at the Settles hotel, where official greetings were extended by President Raymond L. Tollett of Cosden and Dan Krausse, production engineer. Then they were taken by special bus to the refining plant where they spent a couple of hours on the inspection.

Several of the group came here in chartered and in private planes. Along with processor representatives, there were several representatives of the major petroleum publications of the country.

C-City Firm Awarded Soil Test Contract

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 30 (AP)—The H. S. Weaver Construction Company of Colorado City has been awarded a $23,000 contract to test the soil at four proposed Air Force landing strips in the West Texas area. The proposed sites are near Lubbock, Stanton, Big Spring and Colorado City.

Weaver said that the work done by his company would determine the type of base necessary for the concrete landing strips. The Colorado City site was originally scheduled as an 8,800 foot touch-and-go strip to be used in training jet fighter pilots stationed at Webb Air Base in Big Spring.

Officers also located the owner and returned the coon.

son and will be until I rotate to Japan."

Wolfe was in charge of press coverage of the raid on Spud Hill. The Chinese stopped the attack cold after weathering an intensive aerial and artillery pounding.

Some lawmakers seemed convinced that American soldiers had been exploited to put on a performance for the top brass.

Criticism developed over the distribution of operational plans of the raid to generals and news correspondents invited to watch the action. The plan—a secret document—had a three-color cardboard cover and carried the emblem of the 7th Division.

"If you can show me how I am responsible for the criticism, you are a better man than I am," Wolfe commented.

The U. N. Command in Tokyo said troops of the U. S. 7th Division carried out the planned attack in co-ordination with artillery, tanks and warplanes.

Invited generals and war correspondents watched while the infantrymen, following up heavy bombardment and fire-bomb attack on the hill, slugged to within 15 yards of the crest, then were stopped cold by deadly Red crossfire and hand grenades.

AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards, one of those who watched the fight, said three Americans were killed and a few were wounded seriously. The Army would announce no casualty figures but said it returned 60 per cent of those wounded returned to duty the next day.

Maj. Gen. Wayne C. Smith, division commander, told AP Correspondent Stan Carter today he was surprised at the commotion which the operation created in the U. S.

Smith, Clarksville, Tenn., said fewer American soldiers were killed in the raid than he had expected and he considered the operation of "tremendous value."

"A large number of bunkers and caves were destroyed," he said. "A number of enemy were counted killed. A larger number were estimated wounded. A lot of valuable information was collected about the terrain, traffic ability of tanks, mass bombings and use of air cover."

"We found our artillery suppressed their mortars completely as well as the enemy's artillery fire."

Smith did not list either American or Communist casualties in his interview.

About 150 troops made the attack behind a barrage laid down by massed artillery, 15 tanks and some 40 planes.

In Washington, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) angrily compared the raid with historical fights of gladiators, battling to the death for the amusement of ancient Roman emperors.

Rep. Bray (R-Ind) said he was "mad as hell" about it.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass), chairman of the House Veterans Committee, told the House she was "shocked."

Chairman Short (R-Mo) of the House Armed Services Committee said he had sent word to the Army chief of staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, now in Japan, asking him to tell Congress what happened. Collins gathered details on the raid when he was in Korea last week. He has made no comment.

Short said he doubted that the raid was a staged show.

A U. S. 1st Corps spokesman, who declined to be named, said the "prime mission" of the operation "was that of capturing Chinese prisoners."

None was captured.

The spokesman added: "When the full story is told about the carefully co-ordinated plans only praise will be forthcoming for this well-conceived operation."

"The observation of the actual attack from points of vantage along the front line provided commanders at all levels with valuable information on which to base future combat operations."

"The effectiveness of an attack provides lessons for all concerned."

Maj. Gen. Wayne C. Smith, commander of the 7th Division, said the raid was never aimed at taking the hill. It was only a strong probe, he said, to show the type of fighting and casualties the U. N. forces might face if they launched an all-out frontal offensive against dug-in Chinese and Korean Communists.

Correspondent Edwards said he watched Allied planes, artillery and hours, turning it "into a volcano of erupting explosions."

"This was Operation Smack," he said. "I knew why it had been so named—Spud Hill was getting smacked and smacked hard."

"It was thinking, 'There can't be a Communist left in fighting condition on that hill.'"

"But when infantrymen went up the hill, the Chinese Reds, far from being knocked out by the smashing air strikes and thunderous barrages, were pouring rifle crossfire at the Americans from both ends of the Communist line on the hilltop. From the center they were lobbing hand grenades down the hill at the assault force."

Edwards said mimeographed operation plans, such as those given the visiting generals and correspondents, are standard for any action in the Korean War.

The only thing that made the plan different from others, Edwards said, was that it had a cardboard cover on which had been pasted a three-color insignia of the 7th Division, apparently clipped from the dust jacket of the division's history.

Officers who watched the raid with Gen. Smith included Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, commanding officer of the Fifth Air Force, and Lt. Gen. Paul Kendall, 1st Corps commander.

Arrests May Have Solved Crime Wave

Authorities believe the arrest of two teen age boys today in North-west Big Spring.

Long stated that one will be sent to the State School for Boys and the other will be paroled to his parents.

"There are about six boys mixed up in the various break-ins on the north side," Long said. "All have been brought before the juvenile court and dispositions made of their cases."

He said that two of the boys involved in northside break-ins have been committed to the state school. Others have been sent to other towns to live with relatives.

One boy is in Poyte, one in Lubbock and one in Midland. All were Latin-Americans, Long said.

Couple Set To Dance From Top Of Hotel

Be it balmy spring weather or be there gale-like winds or dust or biting cold, Benny and Betty Fox will do their high platform act Saturday afternoon with 14 stories of space under them.

The time will be 4 o'clock and the place will be the Settles hotel. The brother and sister team will extend their 18-inch dancing platform 10 feet out from the edge of the Settles hotel's 14th floor roof, right out over the street with no net below.

Then, nimbly skipping out on the beam supporting the platform, the couple will break into a Charleston and balancing act for the big crowd expected to watch anxiously from below.

"We've done the act many times in winds that would nearly blow a man down," Fox said. "The act will go on Saturday regardless of the weather."

Called the "Dance of Death," the stunt is to balletize the "Stars on Parade" variety show coming to the Webb Air Force Base on Tuesday and Wednesday. It is open to the public and the base will be declared open during show hours at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. on those days. It is scheduled for the base gymnasium. Any profits from the show will go to Webb's Central Base Welfare Fund. If attendance is sufficient, other major entertainments may be booked.

Preceding Saturday's daring act, which Ed Sullivan, a New York columnist declared "one of the most blood-curling I have ever seen," a 40-foot trailer float will move through the downtown area. Some of the highlights of the 17-act show include:

Rosa Patine, starred as an aerialist in the "Greatest Show on Earth"; Kinko the Human Pretzel and his midjet car; Danilo and Lucy with their 24 "educated" dogs the Aerial Ademons as trapeze artists; Clara and Adolph Deboq in their "musical horse" act, and others. Fox is well known here. He was producer of the Shrine circus which showed here last fall.

Hunter Wins Case Against Phone Firm

Trials in 118th District Court were discontinued Thursday until good faith and without notice was reached in the case SCVAK Telephone Company vs. W. A. Hunter.

The jury found for Hunter in the case. W. D. Berry, owner of SCVAK, alleged that Hunter made a contract to sell the Coahoma Telephone Company to him. However, Hunter later sold the company to C. K. Orr and B. J. Cauble.

The jury found that Orr and Cauble purchased the company in good faith and without notice of other claims against the exchange. It was also held that Hunter was within his rights making the sale.

A total of 10 civil suits have been scheduled next week in court, beginning Tuesday. Monday Judge Garland Casabier and District Attorney Elton Gilliland will be in Garden City for grand jury meeting.

Following the trial, Berry said that future plans of SCVAK probably would be announced within the next few days. He indicated that the court decision would not affect his company's plans for developing rural telephone service for a large area in north and east Howard County.

Parsons Trial Jury Is Still Not Complete

By ARNO ADAMS
WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 30 (AP)—The tension-packed selection of a jury for the Mary Jean Parsons bridegroom murder trial continued today after a call for 50 more veniremen.

An original 300-man venire had dwindled to 33 when attorneys started attempts today to find four more jurors to complete the 12-man panel.

Temper of opposing lawyers continued strained and heated words again were no novelty.

Defense and prosecution agreed yesterday on the venire call but Dist. Judge Arthur Tipps decided to wait overnight before determining the method of obtaining the veniremen.

Eight jurors had been selected by last night.

The former University of Oklahoma co-ed was charged with slaying her husband of a month, Army Lt. Richard O. Parsons, 24, Pleasantville, N. Y. The shooting occurred Feb. 16, 1952, in the couple's El Paso apartment.

After Mrs. Parsons, 22, was found sane by an El Paso jury, the case was transferred here. Twice, through technical errors, the trial was postponed.

Mrs. Parsons, in blue skirt and pink blouse, showed increasing interest as the tedious jury questioning went ahead. At one time, during a vigorous exchange that involved two defense attorneys and the court clerk, she raised a hand to her face and grinned slightly. It was one of the few times she had displayed emotion.

She sat with her wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Fleeger, Tulsa; her brother, Tom Fleeger, Midland oil man; and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Fleeger, Tulsa.

Most of yesterday's flareups between rival lawyers occurred late in the day.

Dist. Atty. George W. Anderson Jr., Wichita Falls, objected to the manner in which defense lawyer C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls, worded a question.

This brought a shouted retort from McDonald: "I've finished my formal schooling, your honor. I can't stop every minute to let the district attorney phrase every question I ask."

Examination of the final jury prospect resulted in hot words between Anderson and Defense Attorney O. B. Fisher, Paris, Tex.

The prosecution, led by Dist. Atty. William Clayton, El Paso, has repeatedly questioned jurors on their beliefs concerning the death penalty.

Defense attorneys indicate they plan two main courses of action—pleading insanity and, if Mrs. Parsons is found guilty, asking for a suspended sentence.

Mrs. Parsons is free on $50,000 bond. Except for court appearances, she has been in a private mental hospital in Dallas.

Heads Workers

Bill Cook, a 1950 graduate of Big Spring High School and son of Robert Cook, has been elected president of the Life Service Band at Hardin-Simmons University. This is a religious unit which sends workers to surrounding cities and states to hold church services, and it has more than 500 members. Bill also is a member of the executive council of the Baptist Student Union and of the Ministerial Council.

McDONALD SAYS LENDING BODY 'HERE TO STAY'

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—The head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation believes RFC is here to stay for a long time.

Harry A. McDonald, RFC administrator, said yesterday, "I don't think there is the slightest chance of the RFC being put into mothballs."

McDonald was here en route to Daingerfield and Lone Star to inspect construction work on the Lone Star Steel Company's integrated steel mill.

Lone Star Steel has an $7 million dollar government loan, of which $5 million is from the RFC and all of it supervised by the big agency.

McDonald pointed out that the Republican-controlled 80th Congress had reshaped the agency. He said he doubted that the present GOP-controlled Congress would try to undo that work.

Johnson Thinks GOP Hurt By Appointee Fight

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the Republicans have been thrown for a political loss "and great damage has been done to the country" in the Senate controversy over defense nominations.

But Republican Leader Taft of Ohio told reporters he believes any possible political setback for the Republicans will be offset if the appointees do a good job.

The Senate may take up today for expected approval the nomination of Roger M. Kyes to be deputy secretary of defense.

He and two of three others, all of whose nominations will be considered Monday, were forced by the Senate Armed Services Committee to agree to get rid of their major business holdings before getting approval for their jobs.

The same thing had been done in the case of Charles E. Wilson, the new secretary of defense, who agreed to dispose of some $2,700,000 worth of General Motors stock before his nomination was confirmed.

And Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he expects the Senate to approve the four businessmen named as top defense aides "by about the same margin as Wilson."

Johnson, Democratic floor leader, has praised the appointment of Robert B. Anderson to be secretary of the Navy. But he said in an interview he believes the "big business" tinge of Wilson, Kyes, Harold E. Talbott, to be Air secretary and Robert T. B. Stevens, to be Army secretary, "will be a handicap in their jobs."

Kyes, named to be under secretary of defense, is a former General Motors vice president. He was unanimously committee approval Wednesday when he agreed to sell his G. M. stock and interests in any other corporations which might have defense contracts.

Three other members of what Wilson calls "my team" also won committee clearance yesterday, but two of them first agreed to sell or give away personal holdings in corporations with defense contracts. They are:

Stevens, who agreed to sell off some 1 1/2 million dollars worth of stock in a textile corporation founded by his family. He argued vainly that he should not be made to get rid of this stock.

Anderson, Texas land and oil man who said he has no financial interests which might conflict with his job.

Talbott, who agreed to give up Chrysler Motors and other stocks.

Dick Simpson Is Named To Post In Cancer Unit

Dick Simpson, Howard and Borden County rancher, has been named lay director for district No. 2 of the Texas division of the American Cancer Society.

He will assume leadership of the April Cancer Crusade in 21 counties surrounding Big Spring. He also will work with Mrs. Paxton Howard, Midland, district lay woman director, and Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Big Spring, district medical director, in directing year-around activities.

Simpson's appointment was announced by Travis T. Wallace, Dallas, president of the Texas division of the society. Greatest single need is more people who are willing to give time and effort to the ACS activities, Simpson declared. The biggest challenge at the moment is organizing for the April crusade to solicit funds and to carry on educational and service work to save lives.

There were, he pointed out, 8,495 Texans who died of cancer last year, 183 of them in this district.

He urged that persons wishing to volunteer their services contact the American Cancer Society committee here.

Counties under his jurisdiction are Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, Fisher, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Howard, Kent, King, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum.

'Pressurized Society' Is Blamed For World Troubles

People today live in a "pressurized society" which can be remedied only by faith, Reagan Legg, Midland County attorney, told Kiwanis Club members Thursday.

Legg suggested that pressure is at the root of most corruption in government, ranging from Washington down to cities, towns and communities. Most people, either as a part of groups or as individuals take part in exerting pressure on public officials at one time or another, he reminded. By doing so they show a lack of faith in their fellow man.

"We can change national administrations, we can change politicians, but such changes within themselves will not eliminate corruption if pressure continues," Legg declared.

Too often the corrupt men who are ousted were good men when they started and the good men who replace them will become corrupt in the future, all because of pressure, he continued.

Legg urged a stronger "faith in God, faith in man and faith that good will ultimately triumph," as a method for reducing pressure.

Carl Strom, local Kiwanian in charge of the program, introduced Herschel Ezzell, also of Midland, who, in turn, introduced Legg.

Duke Baker was introduced as a new member of the club.

Trio Of Diplomatic Nominees Come Up FOR CONFIRMATION

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—With the Senate Foreign Relations Committee worrying over how to handle two of President Eisenhower's top diplomatic appointments, three others came up for Senate action today.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the committee predicted the three would be confirmed quickly. They are:

Mrs. Oswald B. Lord of New York, to be U. S. representative on the United Nations Human Rights Commission, succeeding Mrs. Franklin D. (Eleanor) Roosevelt.

Winthrop W. Aldrich of New York, to be ambassador to Great Britain, succeeding Walter S. Gifford.

Herman Phleger of California, to be legal adviser to the State Department, succeeding Adrian S. Fisher.

When the Foreign Relations Committee acted on Aldrich yesterday Sen. Langer (R-ND) voted against him. But Langer has given no indication he plans to make any serious floor fight against Aldrich, a wealthy banker.

Secretary of State Dulles, leaving today on a trip to Europe, has asked the Senate to do everything possible to speed confirmation of key State Department officials chosen by Eisenhower and himself.

Wiley called his committee for an afternoon session to decide whether to hold open or closed hearings Monday on two nominations which have aroused some quiet opposition.

They are Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to be under secretary of state, the No. 2 man in the department, and James Bryant Conant, former president of Harvard University, to be high commissioner to Germany.

Wiley indicated he expected, at the least, exhaustive questioning of the two men. He said the hearing on them would begin Monday morning but that he thought it could not be completed in one day.

Wiley would not say whether there was pressure from any quarter to have open hearings on Conant Smith. So far this session all of the committee's hearings on nominations have been closed except that on Dulles.

Some Roman Catholic groups have assailed Conant because of a speech he made last year which they considered unfriendly to parochial schools.

Film Stars To Appear Here Today

Two entertainers from the Hollywood scene are in Big Spring this evening for several personal appearances.

They are Preston Foster, well known in the films, and Sheila D'Arcy, another film player who is Mrs. Foster in private life.

The pair are to give a performance from the stage of the Ritz Theatre at 7 p.m. and will appear at the NCO club at Webb Air Force Base at 10 p.m. At 8:30 and again after the Air Base appearance, they will present their act at the Howard County Athletic Club. The Club appearance, for members, will be marked by a special collection for the March of Dimes.

Both Foster and Miss D'Arcy are vocalists, and will present a turn of music and comedy. Although Foster is probably better known for "heavy" and "western" roles in numerous movies, he first went to Hollywood to further a musical career, and lately has turned more to that field of entertainment. He is the author of some popular songs. He plays guitar accompaniment for his own songs and those of Miss D'Arcy.

Man Fined After He Failed To Out-Race Police In An Auto

A local Latin American who tried to out-distance police in an automobile last night was fined this morning for reckless driving and improper passing.

Officers said they started chasing the motorist near the west viaduct and were unable to over-haul him until he reached a point near the west city limits. The driver was hauled into Corporation Court this morning and fined $10 for passing in a no-passing zone and $25 for reckless driving.

Soldiers Convicted In Murder Trial

EL PASO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Two Fort Bliss soldiers yesterday were convicted of slaying an El Paso cab driver and a federal court jury recommended the death penalty.

Pfc. Marvin Lee Austin, 21, Maraduke, Ark., and Pvt. Raymond Leslie Button, 22, Des Moines, Ia., were the men.

Both admitted shooting cab driver Jesus Alvarez Gonzalez on the Fort Bliss Reservation Nov. 22 and burning his body in the car.

U. S. Atty. Charles E. Herring told the jury, "I cannot conceive of a more cold or hard or despicable killing than this one." In his final argument, he asked the death penalty.

Hubert T. Faulk, representing Austin, appealed for mercy.

Jack T. Niland, attorney for Button, asked the jury to free his client.

"Raymond Leslie Button did not shoot," Niland argued. "He did not kill."

McCarthy Group Opens Probe Of The State Dept.

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his Senate group moved more deeply today into a bush-bush investigation involving State Department personnel.

Witnesses, several of them from the State Department's personnel division, are being sworn not to discuss their testimony in any way, under pain of possible prosecution for contempt of Congress. That offense is punishable by up to a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

McCarthy refuses steadfastly to discuss the inquiry with reporters. His colleagues on the subcommittee said he has pledged them to secrecy until he is ready to move.

McCarthy has said only that he is making a "preliminary inquiry" into reports that the government paid inflated prices to some iron curtain countries for materials for the defense stockpiles. The Munitions Board handles stockpile matters, but often consults the State Department before fixing policies.

The Senate planned to debate today a resolution to grant the subcommittee $200,000—twice what it spent last year—to finance its work.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) told the Senate yesterday he wants to know what the subcommittee will investigate before voting on the appropriation. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), Republican floor leader, rejected Ellender's request to defer the debate.

The subcommittee has broad powers to investigate virtually anything in the government.

Graham Will Speak To Wayland Class

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 30—Billy Graham, evangelist, will deliver the commencement address to the graduation class of Wayland College and his assistant, Grady Wilson, will preach the baccalaureate.

Graham's appearance is set for May 28, said Dr. J. W. Marshall, Wayland president. He added that preparations would need to be made for the extra large crowd anticipated. The senior sermon is set for May 24.

At the trustee meeting this week, the athletic budget also was approved in the amount of $14,425. It did not include expenses of the Hutcherson Flying Queens, financed by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hutcherson. Mays Osborn, Plainview, was named to head a committee to plan for strengthening the college endowment. Among those attending were the Rev. J. W. Arnett, Big Spring.

No Great Changes So Long As The Rearmament Program Is Still On

In general, the same sort of queues are forming up and passing through the statehouse at Austin and the Capitol at Washington. One line is made up of taxpayers, whose mission is to urge a reduction of the costs of government. Another line—infinitely longer than the first—is made up of tax-eaters.

So the lawmakers at Austin and in Washington are ding-donged by two elements in the population, people wanting better incomes, and people wanting smaller tax outgo. It is next to impossible to please them both, for manifestly they are pulling in opposite directions.

At Least, Builders Should Make It A Point To Check Line Grades

The incident in which the city commission reached a decision which was unacceptable to one of its members, Willard Sullivan, brings up some interesting points. Mayor G. W. Dabney indicated a resignation would not be considered unless written. However, the charter is silent on this point.

contend—to the point of leaving the commission room—that the reversal of the policy did not keep faith with those who had been denied similar relief. There's justification for both positions. It has justification for both positions.

Sometimes Men In High Estate Get Lost In The Lofty Altitude

I assume that all my readers have by now seen that photograph of Harry Truman's first walk alone in Independence, Missouri. To be alone is to be free, unfettered, unguarded, perhaps even unworried.

Hand that Harry Truman was as gay as a truant on the stand on inauguration day. He tried to be nice to everybody, even to those who chose to be frigid at a time like that. Perhaps the frigid ones can be forgiven, as they had no notion of what they were getting into.

Public Divided Over 'Red Ball' Accident Plan

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 30.—Because of the alarming number of automobile accidents involving teen-age drivers, traffic experts everywhere are seeking ways to reduce the toll of death and injury among the nation's young motorists.

Statistics show that drivers under the age of 20 kill or are themselves killed nearly three times more often than drivers in their thirties and four times more often than drivers in their forties. One novel solution to the problem has been offered in Congress and, despite its unusual nature, is winning considerable support from the public.

Dulles Can Ignite Western Unity Again With Confident Approach

WASHINGTON.—Under the savage attacks of recent years the men who shape and implement American foreign policy have tended to draw defensively into the shell of the Department of State.

national horizon, his conclusion was hopeful. He appealed to the nations of the free world for confidence and cooperation. This is a good start. The noble intentions of Secretary Dulles may be lost in political intrigue here at home or they may be overwhelmed by the magnitude of the crisis growing out of the Communist conspiracy.

These men were isolated not only from the public but from others with responsibility for America's security in the world. In his first week in office, the new secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, has moved rapidly to break out of the shell and establish a confidence in the department that must carry such a heavy burden.

As Dulles well knows from his long experience, much of the work of the State Department is necessarily private, if not secret. Diplomacy, if it is to be meaningful and effective, cannot be carried on in a goldfish bowl.

The top military men in the Pentagon were startled by a call from the new secretary when he had been in office only a few days. Dulles wanted General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the three other JCS members to come to lunch with him.

Yet the obstacles are not insuperable. The base built through the NATO organization in recent years has a durability obscured for the time being by temporary doubts. The new secretary with a new and confident approach should be able to clear away the fog and start the coalition moving again.

Third Attempt To Put Out Oil Well Fire Is Set

ABOARD A MOTOR VESSEL, in the Gulf of Mexico (U.S.) a third attempt will be made today to lasso the top of a blazing gas well in a maneuver that almost killed one firefighter.

Workers added 10 feet to a boom to carry a steel lasso through the roaring flames and drop it over a white-hot T-shaped pipe at the top of one of the two burning wells, 10 miles from the Louisiana coast.

Lack of the extra 10 feet of length on the 100-foot boom nearly caused the death of Mansel Rake, 31, of Houston, Tex., who escaped death by the strength of his hands. Twice the firemen tried to lower the steel loop yesterday. Both times it lacked 10 feet.

Then Rake paddled out in a seven-foot skiff to the platform built on pilings driven into the floor of the Gulf of Mexico to clear away a twisted, melted derrick that prevented the barge carrying the boom from getting closer.

He attached a sling from the boom to the twisted steel and started back. The skiff began to sink.

Rake grabbed a slippery cable strung along the boom and pulled himself hand-over-hand to the barge 75 feet away.

Somehow, Rake brought the skiff back with him.

Then he made three more trips to the wreckage to cut away the derrick with an acetylene torch.

Once the loop is over the "T", the object is to yank away the pipe, which is spewing flames like a blowtorch from each end of the crossbar of the "T."

This will direct the flames skyward and Rake can move in close to set a dynamite charge to snuff out the two fires.

Weather Might Hinder Search For 3 Planes

SEATTLE, (U.S.)—A forecast of rain and high winds which would keep search planes on the ground gave little hope that three military planes missing in the Pacific Northwest would be found today.

The three planes, an RCAF Dakota transport, an RCAF Mitchell bomber and a U. S. Navy Privateer patrol plane, carried a total of 22 persons.

In addition, five of seven persons who were aboard a Central British Columbia Airways plane which sank while attempting an emergency landing north of Vancouver, B. C., Tuesday were unaccounted for and feared drowned.

The pilot of the CBCA plane was found alive Wednesday night, along with the drowned body of one of his passengers.

The RCAF Mitchell, carrying five persons, vanished last night while on a routine training flight from Saskatoon, Sask., to Vancouver.

The U. S. Navy Privateer, a P-4Y with 10 persons aboard, disappeared Wednesday after receiving clearance to land at the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, 50 miles north of here. The plane, on a flight from the Alameda Naval Air Station, Calif., was over McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, when last heard from.

The other missing plane, which carried seven persons, was an RCAF Dakota which vanished Wednesday afternoon on a training flight over the Chilcotin wilderness of Central British Columbia.

President Scores Purges As A Stock Weapon Of Tyrant

NEW YORK (U.S.)—President Eisenhower says purges, deportations and imprisonment are "stock weapons of the tyrant."

In a message yesterday to the American Jewish Committee, opening its annual meeting, the President deplored "vicious anti-Semitism" raging behind the Iron Curtain, and added:

"These bitter facts summon every free citizen to renew his awareness of his duty to do all in his own power to honor and to guard our precious civil and religious liberties and to decry, with candor and courage, any violation of them."

"No violation is too trivial to be attacked. There is no such thing as just a little bigotry—any more than there can be just a little persecution."

Last year Tommy had the second place lightweight crossbred lamb; the fourth place fine wool lamb; the fifth place Southdown and then took the crossbred reserve championship. This year he plans to do better, and from what is to be seen in the picture it looks like he might.

"What's the use of going down into the Lower Rio Grande Valley to raise a winter garden?" asks A. M. Rippas, 603 Ayford, and then he provides the answer to the question.

Unprotected and uncovered and growing in his back yard he has radishes, onions, lettuce, turnips, cabbages, mustard greens, and other vegetables and flowers that haven't been touched by any of the cold weather we've had so far this year.

"We've been eating out of that little garden all winter," he says. "I've kept a little moisture in the soil with the hose and these things don't even know it's been cold. I've hidden the thermometer where they can't see it."

Rippas has promised the Grub Liner a mess of those mustard greens and turnips free gratis, without charge or obligation and for nothing. If I can get him to agree to throw in a piece of salt pork he has probably made a deal.

Soviet Not Anxious To Get Austrian Treaty Finished

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—State Department officials said today the latest exchange of notes between Russia and the Western Powers on completing of the Austrian peace treaty had not displayed any Russian anxiety to get the job finished.

Efforts to draw up a pact ending Austrian occupation have been under way since 1947.

A meeting of representatives of the U. S., Britain and France with those of Russia had been proposed for today in London. Last Tuesday, the Soviets sent the Western Powers a note that they would attend on the condition that a Western proposal for an abbreviated treaty be withdrawn.

The three Western governments sent a note back to Moscow yesterday rejecting the Soviet condition but declaring their readiness to go through with the meeting either today or next Friday.

U.S. Chamber Thinks Spending Could Be Cut By $10.6 Billion

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce says government spending can be cut by $10,600,000,000 from former President Truman's estimates for the next fiscal year—more than enough to eliminate the predicted deficit.

The Chamber proposed in a report last night that the federal government limit spending to 68 billion dollars.

It proposed also that taxes be cut by allowing the excess profits tax, personal income tax increase and corporate income and excise tax increases to expire during the coming year.

SANTIAGO, Chile (U.S.)—Chile's outlawed Communist party announced last night it was withdrawing its slate of candidates for the nation's congressional elections March 1.

The party announcement was made after President Carlos Ibanez said he opposed legalization of the Communists. This reversed a stand he took in his election campaign. The party was outlawed in 1947.

Papers Are Missing On Wheat Shipments

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (U.S.)—Certain records on questionable shipments of low-grade Canadian wheat are missing from the regional Commodity Credit Corporation office here, the director said today.

C. H. Moseley, head of the Production and Marketing Administration's commodity office here contended, however, that the "records" are merely unofficial desk papers compiled by a government clerk.

The case of the missing papers was revealed yesterday when Senator Welker (R-Idaho) demanded in Washington that the Dallas CCC office's records be impounded.

"It's absurd that we don't have those records impounded already," the senator said.

Moseley countered that he represented the implication that the Dallas CCC office was withholding information.

"We have searched his hand for the missing papers," Moseley said. "We have co-operated in every way with the General Accounting Office, and all our records have been opened to GAO."

Wheat shipments under probe were made in the fall of 1951 before Moseley was assigned to the Dallas office. He came here after Latham White was removed as Dallas CCC chief because of alleged mismanagement in other grain deals.

Moseley said millions of bushels of Canadian wheat called "unfit for human consumption" were shipped into this country in 1951, supposedly for livestock feed.

Instead, he said, much of it was mixed with high-grade wheat and used in regular channels. Moseley noted that the wheat was not harmful and said the practice in the grain trade is to blend high and low grade wheat.

The Dallas CCC office came into

Group To Perform At Vets Hospital

The Sand Tunes, a unit of the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will provide a 15-minute song program at the VA Hospital this evening.

The entertainment will prelude a bingo party for benefit of the local March of Dimes. The public is invited to both events. Tickets may be secured at the door.

The March of Dimes benefit is being sponsored by the VA Hospital chapter of the National Federation of Federal Employees. It will be staged in the patients' dining room, second floor of the Veterans Hospital. Time is 8 p.m.

Some 20 games will be played with awards to go to winners. Members of the Sand Tunes quartet are Harry Lee Plumbley, Gilbert Cook, Dr. Dwight Jones, and Tolford Durham.

Calves will be judged at Sweetwater on Tuesday, Feb. 24 and the turkeys and lambs the following day.

the picture, he continued, because in 1951 many bushels of CCC-owned wheat were being shipped abroad, especially to India. The wheat so shipped was subsidized by the U. S. government.

Moseley said a Fort Worth company blended some of the low grade Canadian wheat with high grade CCC-owned wheat before shipping it to Houston and New Orleans for export.

"There was nothing illegal in this, so far as I know," Moseley said. "The over-all wheat classification was not lowered by the blending."

As a result of disclosures before the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday in Washington, the Justice Department said the wheat transactions were being referred to district attorneys in the field.

Cadet Jailed In Lubbock Murder

LUBBOCK, Jan. 30 (U.S.)—Walter E. Whitaker, Air Force cadet charged with the murder of 18-year-old Joyce Fern White, is back in jail here after being returned from San Antonio where he was transferred to civilian custody.

Whitaker led officers to a lonely, shallow grave on the prairie west of here Wednesday where the White girl's nude body was buried. He also pointed out a spot 100 yards away where her clothes were buried.

He dug up the body himself, voluntarily relieving a policeman of the ordeal, just 30 days after the high school senior disappeared from the home of her widowed mother, Mrs. Lena B. White.

"There was another girl I loved more than Joyce," officers quoted the slender, handsome youth as saying. Officers identified the other girl as a Swiss exchange student who has returned to Switzerland after living for a time in the home of Whitaker's well-to-do parents in a suburb of Hartford, Conn.

The 20-year-old pre-flight cadet played an active part in the search for the girl after her Jan. 8 disappearance and spent much time with her family. On his transfer from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock to Lackland AFB in San Antonio, he went by and kissed her mother goodbye. That was three days after he quarreled with Joyce Fern.

His father is a truck line operator in Connecticut.

Scofield Free On Bond After Jury Indictment

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (U.S.)—Frank Scofield today was free on $5,000 bond after he was indicted on eight counts by a federal district grand jury.

The onetime collector of internal revenue—whose resignation last year was requested by then Revenue Commissioner John Dunlap for the "best interest of the revenue service"—walked into the federal courthouse here last night and surrendered to a U. S. marshal.

Scofield was indicted on six counts involving violations of a law regulating and prohibiting political activities of federal employees; one count of violating an internal revenue law prohibiting acceptance of a gift from a lesser employe; and one count involving violation of the "false statement" law.

One of the specific charges against Scofield was that he solicited contributions from his employees for the May 27, 1950, Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner here. This was a Democratic Party fund raising affair.

Scofield's bond was posted by Fred B. Parsons, his former chief deputy collector, and Frank L. Scofield, his eldest son.

He was directed to appear today in federal court before Judge Ben H. Rice Jr.

Scofield, 64, told reporters, "I'm not making any comment because I haven't talked to my lawyer."
Scofield resigned Feb. 13, 1952, as collector. At the time his wife denied his resignation had been requested. But Dunlap said later it had been.

One of the counts against Scofield is that he permitted employes to give him a gift of an electric refrigerator for his office for Christmas, 1950.

The Internal Revenue law prohibits a superior official from taking such gifts.

Possessions and the Kingdom

CHRIST TEACHES REGARDING WEALTH.

Scripture—Matthew 19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IN THE beginning of the 19th chapter of Matthew, Jesus gives us His views on the much disputed question of divorce. The rabbi of Jesus' day frequently engaged in bitter debate on this question, also an important one which concerns us today.
 In this lesson the Pharisees were not so much interested in divorce itself as they were in seeking to trick Christ into saying something that would give them an excuse to charge Him with blasphemy or worse.
 "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for any cause?" was their query.
 Jesus' answer went back to the creation of the world, when God made Eve to be Adam's mate. "Have ye not read, that He which made them at the beginning made them male and female? And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh?"

kingdom of heaven. And He laid His hands on them, and departed thence."
 St. Matthew next tells of a young man who came to Jesus asking how he could gain eternal life. "What good thing shall I do that I may have eternal life?" was his question.
 This man was not only wealthy, but he was a ruler of the synagogue—an educated and influential man. Jesus told him to keep the commandments, and repeated some of them to him. The young man said he had kept them all his life.
 Then Jesus said to him: "If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow Me."
 He was a fine young man with an excellent moral character, and if he had taken Jesus' advice he would have made a wonderful disciple. He, however, could not bring himself to part with his shall be one flesh?

 "Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder."
 The Pharisees were not satisfied with Christ's answer, but referred Him to Moses who said a man could give a bill of divorcement, and put his wife away.
 Jesus' stern answer was: "Because of the hardness of your hearts he suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so."
 Then He stated that it was a sin for a man to put away his wife except for unfaithfulness, and if a man married such a woman he, too, was guilty of adultery.
 Today, with divorce so frequent, the children of the couples are the chief sufferers. A huge per cent of the youngsters who get into trouble with the law are found by social workers and police to come from broken homes. Do couples who contemplate divorce think of what it may do to the children?
 Christ's love for children is a gain illustrated for us in the verses following:
 Mothers brought their small children to Jesus to have Him put His hands on them and pray—blessing them. The disciples rebuked them for so doing, but the blessed Christ said, "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto Me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

wealth, so at Christ's last word he turned and walked away, sorrowing.
 Jesus looked sadly after him and said to His disciples, "Verily I say unto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven."
 "And again I say unto you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."
 There has been much controversy about that saying of Jesus'. It seems to me—and I hope many will agree—that what He meant was that a man who loved money more than the sacrificial life of Christ and His disciples, could no more enter the kingdom of God than a great beast like a camel could pass through the tiny eye of a needle.
 The disciples were puzzled by these words and asked Jesus how any, then, could be saved? Jesus answered, "With man this is impossible; but with God all things are possible."
 Peter, whose fearless courage came after his Lord's crucifixion and resurrection, wanted to know what the reward would be for those who had forsaken all and followed Him? "What shall we have therefore?" he asked.
 Christ's answer was:
 "Everyone that hath forsaken all for My sake shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life."

THE PROTECTING ARM OF THE LAW

Nancy's not afraid of policemen. You can tell that by her open expression of friendliness as she looks up at the officer helping her across the street.

In some countries the law is not so kind. It is not used, as in America to protect the individual. It is not made for the masses, but for the few to do with as they please.

In our great land you'll see policemen at nearly every city school, not to correct, but to protect your children at the street crossings.

That is because our country and its laws have been founded on Christianity.

Support your church and give your children continued protection and the freedom to live, learn, and worship as they please.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A More Glamorous Name Is Needed For Housewife

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
WANTED: a new name for "housewife."

Garry Moore, whose afternoon TV program draws thousands of fan letters from the ladies who stay home and take care of the chores, says it's high time someone thought up a more dignified name for these Jill-of-all-trades. He explains:

"When a woman has to reply 'occupation housewife' to a census taker or pollster, I think she always feels the term is somewhat derogatory. Women are inclined to assume a sort of apologetic air when they say, 'I'm only a housewife.'"

"The fact is, they should be proud of it. That's the object of all the love stories and romantic movies—to turn a bachelor girl into a housewife. Yet after they achieve their goal, they resent being relegated to the humdrum category of 'housewife.' Something should be done about it."

Garry is thinking about running a contest on his show, to dig up a new term. He points out that a housewife is one of the most accomplished artisans in our society. If she does her job well she must be a skilled cook, a nurse, an engineer, an efficiency expert, a party-giver, a psychologist, a community leader, a liaison officer between family, school and church, a glamor girl to her husband and a mother to her children.

"Some such term as 'chairman of the board' or 'general manager' would come closer," says Moore, "but it has to be more descriptive than that. The old term 'lady of the house' has been overworked by brush salesmen. 'mom' definitely won't do."

We might adopt a big business term and call the housewife "assistant to the president," the way they do in corporations with a valuable man who has no special title but dips into all departments. We might try out "home manager" or "doctor of the humanities" or "specialist in living." All these are too cumbersome, however, and blank.

Beautifying Rituals Pay Off In Charm And Glamour

So you want to be beautiful, pretty, charming, adorable, sweet and glamorous to the rest of the world. A small order, but if that's your main wish for 1953, now is the time to wrap the little nuggets of wishful thinking in their glittery sequins and strive to attain that beauty.

Here's the way to take out that beauty insurance that will pay dividends in the future. Start paying premiums into your glamor bank now. Here's how:

1. Hands and Nails... This is the time to train nails to grow in a pretty shape. Every time you wash your hands, push your nail cuticles back gently with the towel. A buffer is a fine idea for smoothing the nails, although some consider this method old-fashioned. If you have the time, it is an excellent way to keep your fingernails smooth and pretty.

Use an emery board, not a metal file to shape the nails, and do not round them at the corners if you want to avoid hangnails.

If nails are brittle, drink more milk and eat foods beneficial to healthy nails.

Keep hands smoothed in winter by remembering to rub oil, lotion or special hand creams into them after washing dishes or after hands have been exposed to cold.

2. Skin and Complexion... Bathe often to remove impurities from pores. Use soap lavishly.

Use a pumice stone on sole calluses. Rub heels with stiff well-soaped brush.

Wash face with soap in gentle fashion. One skin expert advises rubbing good soap directly on the face. His method is excellent, and he suggests rubbing the soap on face and neck, massaging it in with palms of hands, and then rinsing off with the same soapy water.

At the first sign of a skin blemish, attempt to find the cause. If you've been going yourself with candies, pastries and soda pop, avoid them for a while, along with pastries, gravies and other rich foods. Concentrate on green vegetables, lean meat, salad and potato until your skin looks normal.

3. Your Figure... It is easy to take off an extra pound or two, but if you let ounces roll into pounds and wait until your excess weight is ten pounds or more, the reducing job will be a miserable chore. If it is just a question of a few pounds, these can be lost usually by giving up starches, fats and sweets for a week or so until your weight is back to normal.

4. Your Hair... A good haircut and daily hair brushings are important to hair grooming. If your hair is shaped nicely it will be easy to set each evening, and if it is curled every day you should not need a permanent wave. Frequent shampoos are necessary to the health of your hair.

5. Grooming Pattern... Fastidiousness is important if you wish to be charming. Stocking seams must be kept straight, anchored properly. Heels can't be run-down; lifts should be repaired at the first sign of strain. Slips should be kept at the length that will never show below dress or skirt. All accessories such as handbags and gloves should be kept clean and in repair. White accessories are prettier if kept crisp and bright white. The little time involved in washing and ironing them shouldn't tempt you to wear them a second time to escape the minor laundry chore.

6. Make Your Time Count... Vacant people are busy people. Don't develop a mopey attitude toward life. Cultivate interesting people and your awareness of others will help stamp you as a personality girl. Be a good listener and you will never bore people. A hobby will keep you entertained and help make friends.

Youth is the time to learn about people. You can formulate impressions about characters and types you will be handy information in future years when real tests of friendships need to be made.

Eisenhower Likes Having His Mother-In-Law Around

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—For business and pleasure, the Eisenhower family likes to be together. And wherever they are, the President frequently looks around him sharply, then inquires, "Where's Min?"

"Min" is Mrs. Elvira Carlson Doud, Ike's mother-in-law. He likes to have her close at hand. Their relationship refutes every mother-in-law joke ever written.

She's a white-haired, alert, witty and friendly woman with a lively curiosity and a reluctance for the limelight which nowadays conflict. She certainly doesn't want to miss any of the excitement surrounding her illustrious son-in-law and daughter, but she finds it hard to keep a vantage point in the background.

So far, Mrs. Doud hasn't been quite able to reconcile herself to the fact she isn't a private citizen any more. Like any other normal woman, she isn't pleased about the wide circulation given her birthday—she'll be 75 in May.

Just before the inauguration, Mrs. Doud was still a bit uncertain about her future plans.

"I'm going back home to Denver, of course," she remarked during an interview, "but it's an awfully big house and I rattle around in it a bit. We've lived in that house for 47 years.

"I don't know about living in the White House. But I think Mamie would be happier if she can keep an eye on me. She's a worrier, and she won't worry about me if I'm right there. I take a lot of tumbles—I haven't a very good sense of balance—and both my girls are afraid about my falls."

Mrs. Doud's other surviving daughter (two Doud girls died in their late teens) is Frances Moore—always called "Mike"—wife of George Gordon Moore, a Washington, D. C., businessman. Mrs. Doud and her daughters have always been very close. There's real temptation for her to stay in Washington but home to her is Denver.

The postwar years have been full and exciting ones for Mrs. Doud, marked unhappily by the sudden death of her husband, John Sheldon Doud, in 1951 when she was away on a visit with the Eisenhowers in France. She flew to Paris—her first plane trip.

"Then I flew the Atlantic twice in three weeks," she remarked soberly.

Since that vacation trip to France and the sorrowful flight home, Mrs. Doud has logged almost 50,000 miles of air travel. Always an enthusiastic traveler, she has rolled up thousands more by rail.

The Eisenhower campaign train traveled the length and breadth of the nation last fall, and Mrs. Doud, occupying a drawing room next to her daughter's, was along for most of the trip.

1948 Hyperion Club Has Called Meeting

A called meeting of the 1948 Hyperion Club was held Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. G. H. Wood, president.

The group voted on a director for the General Federation of Women's Clubs for the 1954-56 term. Mrs. Wood urged all members to attend the organizational meeting of the Citizens Traffic Commission tonight.

P-TA Members Urged To Attend Meeting Of Traffic Commission

All members of local P-TA units are urged to attend the organizational meeting of the Citizens Traffic Commission at 7:30 tonight in the High School auditorium.

Mrs. W. N. Norred, president of the City Council of P-TA said all unit presidents had been instructed to contact all their members and urge their attendance at the meeting.

1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
Crumble fig bars; add peach syrup and let stand ten minutes. Fill peach centers with this mixture. Beat egg white with salt until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in sugar. Add almond flavoring. Cover top of peaches with the meringue. Place peaches in a shallow baking pan; put a small amount of water in bottom of pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350) 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Salas was content to let Why take the play in the early rounds—and then rallied too late.

Harrison Paces Tourney Field

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 30 (AP)—Dutch Harrison, the old Arkansas Traveler now playing out of Ardmore, Okla., holds a scant one-stroke lead over a tightly-packed field at the start of today's second round of the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tourney.

Harrison and a half dozen other tourney-wise veterans showed most of the up-and-coming youngsters into the background during the initial circuit of the par-70, 5,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club layout.

Harrison equaled his lowest competitive score during about 20 years of pro golf yesterday when he carded a 34-30-64, six under par.

Challenging him with scores of 65 are Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., the present PGA champ, John Palmer, Charlotte, N. C., winner of the 1952 Canadian Open, Tommy Bolt, Maplewood, N. Y., victor in the recent San Diego Open, and Iverson Martin, a Texan playing out of Maplewood, N. J., who has never won a pro event.

Doomed Manager Shows The Way

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 30 (AP)—Manager George Nichols urged his fighter, Charley Lee, "This may be the last time I tell you this, but get out there and knock him out."

Nichols collapsed seconds later. He was taken to a hospital suffering from a stroke and died without regaining consciousness.

Lee, 185-pound Cincinnati boxer, went out in that delayed fourth round last night and kayped Hosea Chapman, 182½, of Huntington.

GEORGE TELLS STEERS

Modern Athlete Must Work In His Classroom, Too

Hit your books as hard as you hit your opponents on the field if you really want to come out ahead. Ray George, Texas A. & M. College football coach, told Big Spring high graders here last night.

George addressed the annual banquet given by the Lions club honoring the high school football team. Approximately 200 attended the affair in the high school cafeteria.

Athletics are important, but getting the mental training for vocations is important, too. It is possible to be a sports competitor and be a good student, said George. In fact, many of the better players are better students.

Carl Coleman, high school coach, introduced members of the Steer squad, and to the delight of the audience, the words "junior" and "sophomore" rang out often.

Martinez, Fiore Tangle Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Vince Martinez, one of the best young welterweight prospects and the latest darling of the television fight fans, aims for his 13th straight victory tonight when he faces rugged Carmine Fiore of Brooklyn at Madison Square Garden.

The "rookie of the year" from Paterson, N. J., is a 4-10-1 favorite to keep his victory streak alive in the 9 p.m. (CST) ten-rounder. The bout will be telecast coast to coast by NBC and broadcast by ABC.

This is Vince's opening bid of '53 for a first ten ranking and he should put away the aggressive Brooklynite within eight rounds.

The curly-haired, 23-year-old corner can knock out an opponent with either hand and Fiore is the type of fighter who leaves enough openings.

Fiore's main hope is to land his left hook, his best punch, on Martinez' jaw and see what happens.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Hack Miller, Big Spring's baseball foreman, plans now to limit his baseball clinic to three days.

It'll be held March 20-21-22 at Prosper, which is just outside McKinney. Otho Nicholas will help him with the school. Several prospects in the McKinney area will be invited to take part but it will be open to the world. Anyone with a glove and the incentive to make good in the baseball world can enroll.

The Broncs, incidentally, will travel in station wagons this season, whereas they made their way about the country last year in a bus.

Two vehicles, one belonging to Miller and the other to the club itself, will be made available to the team.

The team will be able to make the long road trips much faster than it did in the bus.

BRINKOFF WILL SWITCH TO THE OUTFIELD

Leon Brinkoff, the ex-Odesa infielder, goes back to the Chicago Cubs for a tryout this spring, but as an outfielder, not a third sacker.

The Bruins are well fortified at the hot corner, with such hands as Randy Jackson and Bill Serena to man that position. Brinkoff played nine games with Chicago last year, then was shipped to Los Angeles, where he hit only .238. He drove out 27 home runs and had 67 RBI's in 135 games, however.

DIZZY DEAN THINKS HIGHLY OF McMILLAN

Diz Dean, who should know a ball player when he sees one, says Roy McMillan is on his way to becoming one of the National League greats.

That's the same boy who use to play the short field for the Ballinger Cats in the Longhorn League.

Dean points out Roy gets a lot of hits in the clutch.

"Once McMillan gets up to .280, he'll be worth .320, if you know what I mean," says Dizzy.

DON STEVENS EARNING HIS KEEP AT HCJC

Don Stevens, the Lamesa lad playing basketball at HCJC, has developed one of the best shots to be seen in basketball hereabouts—that of dribbling down the middle, gaining altitude like a sprinter and lifting the ball toward the backboards after starting it on the level on his knees.

It's a soft shot, very deceptive, and for the reason, very hard to block. Try to stop it and all too often you find yourself hacking the attacking party.

There are those who said Don wasn't tall enough to go against the college boys but he's proving them wrong. He's making them come and get him, too, for his set shot from the corner rings the bell all too often to suit the opposition.

The speed of the Big Spring High School goliath, Jimmy Ellison, will surprise you. He's out for track and he's capable of outrunning a lot of boys who don't have to carry 260 pounds around.

He's a weight man on the track team but he can pick 'em up and lay 'em down, when the necessity arises.

Texas Futurity Winners Will Get Large Purses

Total purse in each event of the Texas Futurity, which will be held in Del Rio May 1-2-3, is expected to exceed $8,000, officials of the Texas Horse Breeders Association here say.

The big races, which got their start in Big Spring several years ago, will be held in Del Rio this year, in conjunction with the regular spring meet at the Del Rio Livestock Association.

The Futurity will again have three divisions; 300 yards, ¼ mile and 3/4 furlongs and two-year-olds (foals of 1951) may be nominated for any division upon payment of the $100 fee. Each division is to carry $1,000 in added money.

Total purse is expected to exceed $8,000 in each division.

Deadline for nomination is Feb. 15, at Association headquarters, Box 48, Big Spring or to Del Rio Livestock Association.

Inaugural running of the "Texas Futurity" was held in San Angelo's Fair Grounds last year when seventy-one two-year-olds from several states competed for the $14,000 purse. This was the largest stake race in the state since pari-mutuels were banned in 1927.

The "Texas Futurity" is strictly a breeders race in that the early nomination requires reliance to be placed in the bloodlines of the young colts rather than on known ability.

Elimination trials will be held during the first two days of the meet to reduce the field to a final gate who will compete for the stake purses during the three closing days.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Wizards Play Hawk Quintet

Good-natured Jim Keller and his fellow Whiskered Wizards, who try to inject humor into the serious game of basketball, head in here Saturday night for a frolic with the HCJC Jayhawks.

Game time is 8 o'clock, the scene of action the HC Gym. Admission prices are $1 and 50 cents.

This one is billed as an exhibition and will not count against the Hawk record.

The contest is being sponsored by the Howard County JC Athletic Club, who will use proceeds over and above expenses to purchase awards for the Hawks at the end of the season.

Keller, all 6-foot-3 of him, is from California. He's in his seventh season with the Hirsute ones, which means he's played over 800 games with the San Augustine, Fla., team. A veteran of World War II, Keller served four years in the US Marines. He's averaged 22 points a game since joining the Wizards.

Others who will play with the touring troupe include:

JOHNNY STROUD, forward, 6-foot-2. Stroud rated the Mississippi all-state squad four straight years in high school and was selected All-American in the American Legion Tournaments in Wichita, Kansas, in 1950 and Natchitoches, La., in '51. He scored 761 points in the Southern League in 1949.

GERRY PETERS, forward, 5-foot-9. From Fairmount, Ill., Peters led the Parris Island Marines great teams in scoring three seasons. He's new to the team. He's a clever dribbler, able to score against any kind of opposition.

CARL MEDLEY, guard, 6-foot-3. In 1949 and '50, Medley was named

JIM KELLER
... Leads Wizards

on the Little-All America squad at the NAIB Tournaments while a member of the Delta State Teachers College team.

J. T. RAKESTRAW, guard, 6 feet. From New Albany, Miss., Rakestraw is a top ball handler as well as an outstanding defensive player. He played three years of service ball, then took part in Southern League ball for two years while with Memphis and Mobile.

RED ROBERTS, utility player, 5-11. Red attended Marietta College, where he was named the best all-around athlete in school his senior year. Lives in Jonesboro, Ga. Also plays professional baseball.

Vengeful Hawks Brand Button Quint, 97-73

HSU's Buttons tried playing race-horse basketball with the HCJC Jayhawks here last night and were left at the far turn.

The vengeful Hawks clawed the Abilene Baptists, 97-73, with a great closing rush.

Bobby Williams turned in perhaps his best game of the season around the baskets as he paced the Big Springers to their triumph. He claimed most of the rebounds and stuffed in 27 points for high scoring honors.

HCJC thus neutralized the effect of one of the three losses they've absorbed this season, a one-point reversal suffered at the hands of the Buttons in Abilene. The loss was only the second of the season for the Button quint.

The game was close for a half, though the Hawks led all the way after the first few minutes. The Big Springers went to the fore, 17-7, midway in the first period only to have the Buttons start hitting from far out and pull within two points of tying the count at the quarter.

Charley Warren's set shots, coupled with Williams' play under the basket, helped boost the locals into a five-point advantage at half time, however.

After that, the Big Springers began to put a lot of daylight between them and the visitors although Casey Jones fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Don Stevens played one of his finest games for Big Spring. Again, he proved to be a Dead-Eye Dick on his shots from the side.

Bobby Maines turned in fine defensive work for HCJC, as did Dick Gilmore.

The HCJC B team took its lumps, 90-47. The classy, hard-hitting Button reserves started to work early and never let up.

GAME DATE SET
TEMPLE, Jan. 30 (S)—The 1953 freshman football game between the University of Texas Shortorns and the Baylor Cubs will be played here on Oct. 1. The date was set at a meeting here yesterday.

ARAGON LOSES WELTER BOUT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30 (U)—Irish Billy Graham, at 30, figures he's still far from being counted out of the welterweight boxing title picture.

The ranking New Yorker last night put a damper on the hopes of the California "Golden Boy," Art Aragon, with a unanimous 10-round decision at the Olympic Auditorium. Billy's in-fighting was too much for the Los Angeles battler who looked good in flurries, but couldn't match the Irishman's boxing skill.

Graham appeared virtually unmarked after the fight, while Aragon needed stitches for a deep gash over his right eye, carried a mouse around his left eye, and talked through puffed lips.

The Aragon fans among the 10,400 sell-out crowd thought their man had won on the basis of harder hitting. And Aragon's manager, Jimmy Roche, complained bitterly about Graham's holding and hitting tactics, but to no avail.

Forsan Buffaloes Stagger Garden City Kats, 37-32

GARDEN CITY — Forsan's Buffaloes handed the Garden City Bearkats their first District 23-B defeat of the season here Thursday night, rallying in the second half to win, 37-32.

The Kats and the Bisons fought on even terms for the first two periods, Garden City led four times and Forsan twice in the first eight minutes. At half time, it was 20-20.

After that, the Buffs grabbed 15 points in the third round to gain a permanent lead.

Wilburn Bednar and Bryant Harris each counted 11 points for the losers. Johnny Baum paced Forsan with eight points. Jerry Fowler followed with seven.

The win was Forsan's third in five conference starts.

The Garden City girls defeated the Forsan girls for the first time this season, 28-12, with Theora Calverley leading the way with 17 points. Mary Ann Green had six for the losers.

In that one, Garden City led, 9-1, early in the game and boasted a 12-3 advantage at half time.

The Garden City B boys' team also won, 19-17, after trailing at half time, 14-11. Cliff Draper of Forsan led the game scorers with nine points. Richard Carter collected six to lead Garden City.

Longhorns Play Lamesa Tonight

Still looking for that elusive first conference victory, the Big Spring Steers host the Lamesa Tornados at 8 o'clock tonight in the High School Gymnasium.

The Longhorns have gone to the post against District 1-AAA competition three times now and failed to bring home a victory.

However, the locals have shown much improvement since the season got underway and could make it rough on the Tornados.

Lamesa got away to a fast start, winning over a highly touted Sweetwater outfit. However, the Tornados later ran into a hornet's nest in Snyder and limped off second best.

The Tornados are defending champions in the circuit.

Standouts in the Lamesa attack are Carlos Berry and Bernel Stevens, a brother to Don Stevens of the HCJC team. Bernel has consistently led the Lamesa team in scoring this year.

Wayne Bonner, the local mentor, will go along with his regular lineup, which has Wayne Medlin, Steve Kornfeld, Jerry Brooks, Luke Thompson and Bobby Hayworth.

There'll be a B string game, starting at 6:15 p.m.

Big Spring also sees action Saturday night, journeying to Snyder for a makeup game with the Tigers. The game was postponed from Jan. 18, due to bad weather.

The game with Snyder will complete the first round robin of the district schedule.

Forsan Cage Teams In Tourney Starts

FORSAN — Two Forsan teams see action in the first round of play in the Water Valley Basketball Tournament today.

The Forsan girls meet the Bronte reserves at 4 p. m. An hour later, the Forsan boys take on Barnhart.

Other pairings today: Water Valley vs Christoval (girls), 7 p. m.; Water Valley vs Bronte B (boys), 8 p. m.

Saturday morning, first round play will be completed with the Sterling City girls opposing Miles at 9 a. m. and the Sterling City boys squaring away with Christoval at 1 p. m.

Championship finals are booked for 7:30 and 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Solon Seeks To Get Ohio Into The Union

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Is Ohio one of the 48 states?
Is Robert A. Taft legally a senator? Is Taft's fellow senator from Ohio, John W. Bricker, under a shadow of doubt?
What about the seven presidents of the United States who hailed from Ohio? Were they qualified citizens or were they really foreigners?
With a perfectly straight face, Rep. George H. Bender—himself a Taft Republican from way back—pressed today for action on a bill that would answer these questions by the simple method of admitting his native Ohio to the union.
Bender says no, Congress defined the boundaries of Ohio in 1802, and the Ohio folk duly adopted a state constitution which was presented to federal authorities the following year—but Congress never did get around to approving it.
"Ever since 1803," Bender said, "the people of our state have been behaving as if we belonged to the United States, but the fact is that we are not full members of the flock. We have been washed but not baptized."
Now, with Ohio's 150th anniversary of statehood about to be celebrated, some "over-zealous researchers" have discovered the omission, Bender said.
So he introduced joint resolution 121, setting forth:
"That the state of Ohio shall be one, and is hereby declared to be one, of the United States of America, and is admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, in all respects whatever."
What's more, the measure says: "This joint resolution shall take effect as of March 1, 1803."
Bender got his resolution referred to an Interior Affairs subcommittee and is lobbying to get hearings started.
The U. S. Constitution, by the way, says "new states may be admitted by the Congress into this union" but it doesn't dot the I's or cross the T's or the procedure that should be followed.

High US Taxes Have Effect On Expansion Plans

Surveys made recently in eight states disclose that high federal taxes are having an adverse effect on expansion programs of many manufacturing companies, according to a bulletin of the national affairs department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.
The report stated that manufacturers have been cutting back or abandoning plans which they had made for construction of new plants or purchase of new machinery and equipment. In a large majority of these cases high Federal taxes were given as the major reason for such action.
The surveys were made in Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, New Jersey, Ohio, Virginia and Washington. Together, they contain 21 per cent of the nation's population and 27 per cent of its manufacturing industry.
The WTCC bulletin stated that an examination of the survey reports from the eight states falls into these general conclusions:
1. Billion of dollars worth of plant expansion plans have been cancelled by manufacturing companies in the United States within the past 12 to 18 months because of high Federal taxes.
2. This probable cutback in expansion plans means that several hundred thousand fewer new jobs will be created in industry.
3. It is principally the small and medium-sized companies whose growth is being stifled by the tax demands of the government.
4. The majority of companies whose expansion plans have been affected place the greatest blame on the so-called excess profits tax.

12,000-Foot Wildcat Set For New Mexico

HOUSTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Humble plans to put down a 12,000-foot wildcat 27 miles southwest of Albuquerque, N. M.
Humble already has some oil production in southeastern New Mexico.
The new test is to begin immediately, officials said yesterday, on the Santa Fe-Pacific Railroad No. 1 in the West Los Lunas area of Valencia County.
An Humble spokesman said the wildcat was the company's only exploration plans for the area at present.

Deserters, AWOLs On Way To War

CAMP STONEMAN, Calif. (AP)—One hundred and five convicted deserters and AWOLs, the Army's first mass shipment to Korea under the new "get tough" policy, arrived here under guard yesterday for movement to the battlefield.
All but two—who had finished light sentences for being absent without leave—were confined in the Camp Stoneman stockade pending departure aboard transports within three to seven days.
A spokesman said the group, which arrived by plane from the stockade at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., was the first to be shipped off to war in a crackdown on run-aways suspected of shirking combat.

150 Completions Are Reported In A Week

TULSA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Oil operators the past week completed 150 wells and reported staking another 150 locations for new ventures in Oklahoma.
This increased by 37 the number of wells finalized and boosted first reports by 27 over the preceding period.
Of the completed wells, the Tulsa World reported 82 were oilers, seven gasers, 58 dusters and three abandonments.
