Malenkov Impresses As Hating Western Peoples

By The Associated Press
Soviet Russia's new boss — Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov — is a man of action, he showed that in the speed with which he moved into Joseph Stalin's shoes. For years the chubby, beetle-browed man whom Stalin molded into a model Communist plotted to succeed his boss.

G. M. MALENKOV

There is little doubt that Malenkov figured some time ago that Stalin's final days were nearing and schemed accordingly. When the end came he apparently acted swiftly. His appointment as chairman of the Council of Ministers, the key government job held by Stalin, means that he has firmly grasped one of the real controls of power in the Kremlin and probably has his hands firmly upon others as well.

When Malenkov reached his 50th birthday in January, 1952, the Soviet press pulled out all the stops, crying his praises in a manner reminiscent of the fuss made on Stalin's own decade birthdays.

The celebration started in the Western world and probably a good portion of the Communist world as well. To the West it could mean but one thing — the bright boy who grew up politically under Stalin's wing was being prepared for succession to the crown.

His elevation to the prime ministry over the heads of older Bolsheviks did not surprise many observers. His designation last fall as keynote speaker at the 19th party Congress demonstrated clearly that he was recognized as the outstanding figure under Stalin in both party and government affairs.

His speech lambasting the party for "mistakes and shortcomings" showed the elements of a successful bidder for his leader's mantle. The tumultuous reception he received from Congress members — second only to that accorded Stalin — showed the position of power he had attained.

VICTIM 'HURT' AFTER MISHAP

TORONTO, March 7 (AP)—Two amateur first-aid "experts" gave Roy Wallis a rough time last night when his car crashed into a pole.

"I told them I was ok," Wallis said, "but they seemed to know only that their instruction book called for the 'laying out' of accident victims."

They forced him to the pavement and twisted his arm when he resisted.

"It sure was cold on the road," Wallis recalled. "Thank goodness the police came so quickly."

Deluge Of Bills Is Expected In The Legislature

By MARTHA COLE
AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Take heed everybody's expecting a deluge of bills in the Legislature this coming week and one is bound to affect you.

It's the last week for free-wheeling introduction of bills.

For the first 60 days of a session, a legislator can introduce any bill he wants to, one to make all mothers-in-law live in Big Bend Park if he wants to.

This year, those carefree days are up Friday, March 13. After that, a legislator has to get a four-fifths vote of the House or Senate for permission to introduce a bill.

Of course, he always can try to slip in a sleeper.

Last session Rep. A. J. Vale, Rio Grande City, asked permission to introduce a bill "to improve the livestock standards." Everybody thought that was a pretty good idea until somebody started asking questions. Turned out it was a horse racing bill. Vale didn't get the four-fifths vote.

On the basis of previous years, at least 150 bills will be introduced in the House this week; at least 40 in the Senate.

Introductions so far in eight weeks of the Legislature stand: 204 bills in the Senate, 541 in the House.

They do a pretty good job of covering everything—from regulation of catching minnows in Lake J. B. Thomas out in the Snyder area to a natural gas tax that will raise 60 million dollars a year.

Some of the legislators write their own bills. Some have an idea and take it to the attorney general's department where assistants will put it in bill form. And a lot frankly admit the bills were handed them already written out, like the eight bills worked out by the Governor's Water Conservation Committee.

Some expected bills are missing. Gov. Shivers suggested another penny a gallon state tax on gasoline. Nobody has introduced that so far.

Then there is the big, basic reason for the Legislature in the first place. Those bills are supposed to be ready by March 15, 1953. But there's no indication they will be and no penalty prescribed if they aren't.

Chamber Offices To Be Moved To Permian Building

Chamber of Commerce offices will be moved to the new Permian Building when the six-story office structure is completed at Second and Scurry.

Manager J. H. Greene Saturday announced completion of arrangements for transfer of Chamber headquarters. The offices will be situated in the northwest corner on the ground floor of the new building. Approximately 1,400 square feet will be utilized.

A sub-committee of the Chamber Executive Committee, composed of Truman Jones, Champ Rainwater and Greene, completed arrangements for the office space Friday. Directors had authorized the action last Monday.

The Chamber of Commerce contracted for office space in the new building last June when Cooly Interests of Fort Worth agreed to erect the structure on land to be provided by the local Chamber. The land is part of the consideration for office facilities for the next 10 years.

Chamber Invited To Send Delegates To Abilene C-C Fete

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has been invited to send representatives to the 45th annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet in Abilene next Friday.

J. H. Greene, local Chamber manager, said Saturday he doesn't know who will represent the Big Spring organization at the meeting.

Artillery Needs Him To Blow Up Balloons

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written by Pfc. John Sack of Larchmont, N. Y., for the Army newspaper, Pacific Stars and Stripes, published in Tokyo. The story was distributed by the Associated Press.

By PFC. JOHN SACK
WITH THE U. S. SEVENTH DIVISION, Korea (AP)—Some men have walked 10 MIGs. Some men have walked 100 patrols. Some men have fired 1,000 shells.

This month, Sgt. Donald W. Guinane of Norwich, N. Y., will blow up his 2,000th balloon.

"Most of the balloons are red," he says. "The others are black or white—it all depends. We blow up the balloons every four hours, day and night."

If it weren't for Guinane's balloons, United Nations artillery might miss its mark by half a mile.

"That's how much difference it makes," says Guinane. "A 155mm gun, for instance, throws a shell that goes eight miles high. By the time it lands a little bit of wind can make a lot of difference."

Guinane's job is to find out how much wind there is, where it is, and which way it's blowing. He does it by watching his balloons as they rise in the air and reports it to the men who shoot the guns.

"The color of the balloon depends on the color of the sky," he said. "Today it's white and cloudy, so we use a black balloon."

He walked to an open tent where Pvt. Elmer Young of Stanford, Ky., was filling the balloon with hydrogen.

Guinane took the balloon and walked to the top of a knoll. With him was Cpl. Billy Harper of Walton, W. Va.

"Are you in the section?" I asked Harper.

"Naw," he said. "I just like to watch."

Guinane draped earphones on his head, pushed his face into a telephone, squinted into a theodolite—a kind of surveying instrument—and let go of the balloon.

"How do you see the balloon at night?" I asked.

"We have tiny flashlights. You tie them to the balloon and you can see them for miles," I said.

"So that's what that is," I said. "We thought it was flying saucers."

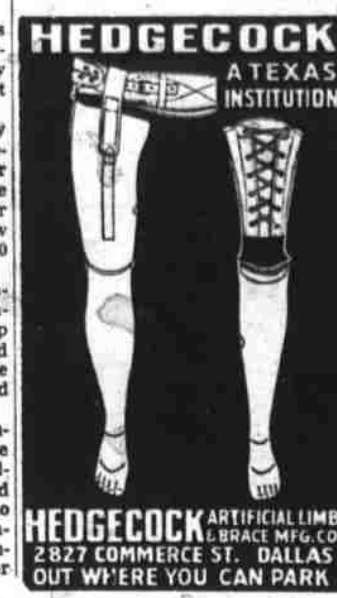

"So does everybody else," said Guinane. "If you see them at 10 at night or 2 in the morning you can stop worrying."

U.S. Preparing To Test Fire Atomic Shell

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The United States, in an atomic weapons race with Russia, announced tonight it is about to test-fire an atomic shell from a giant cannon.

The announcement, by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department, said a "projectile armed with an atomic warhead" will be fired during the series of experiments starting soon at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

This was the first official confirmation that an atomic-loaded shell has been produced to fit the 280 - millimeter mobile artillery piece designed by the Army.

Such a gun could play a decisive role in any ground fighting of the future.

The Soviet Union and its satellites hold a substantial advantage in manpower should the new Kremlin regime decide to try war, and the basic Allied plan for countering this is to come up with superior firepower.

The theory of tactical atomic warfare is to maneuver-advancing enemy forces into columns of masses of men and equipment and then strike with atomic weapons, airborne A-bombs as well as those delivered by artillery.

The explosion of a single atomic shell could produce complete destruction over an area of more than a mile from the bursting point—a firepower which could be equaled only by a huge number of conventional artillery shells.

An undisclosed number of the 280-millimeter guns, capable of firing either atomic or standard ammunition, have been produced and units are training to use them. The guns have been fired frequently during the past year, but not with atomic shells.

Tonight's announcement said the atomic shell will be fired by a unit from the Ft. Sil, Okla., team of the Army's artillery service.

Billy Gilbert Is Herald Carrier Of The Month

It's not a new honor for Billy Gilbert, but he's Carrier of the Month again, among The Herald route boys.

He takes possession of a trophy for a month, and gets some other awards as well—a dinner and a show for himself and all his family, and a $5 merchandise certificate at the store of his choice.

Carrier of the Month honors come on a grading system by which the Herald boys are credited with good delivery service to customers, prompt payment of bills each week, regular attendance at carrier meetings, and signing up new subscribers.

The system was instituted last year, and Billy was the first month's winner. As it is resumed in 1953, he's the first winner again.

Billy has had a route for three years, and regularly turns in an outstanding record. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gilbert, 1509 Goliad.

The gold trophy he keeps for a month will become the permanent possession, finally, of the boy who is named Carrier of the Year. This award will be made in October, on National Newspaper Day.

Stevenson Remarks On Death Of Stalin

HONOLULU, March 7 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, arriving in Hawaii on the first leg of an around-the-world tour, said today it would be a "dangerous assumption" to feel that Joseph Stalin's death would improve relations with the West or worsen conditions in Soviet Russia.

"It would be foolish for us to assume that the transfer of power in Russia is any basis for our confidence of reliance that things will be better or that they will disintegrate. That would be a dangerous assumption.

"All we can do is pray that maybe the future direction of Malenkov and Molotov may give some sincere evidence of the hope for peace they talk about incessantly."

Looking tanned and rested after his four-day crossing from San Francisco, the former Illinois governor was in good humor as welcoming civilian and military dignitaries smothered him with Hawaiian flower leis at the dock.

"I smell like an undertaker's establishment," he said.

Today he was to have lunch with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific Fleet commander, and attend a dinner in his honor tonight at the Chinese-American Club.

He will leave on the President Wilson for Tokyo at midnight tomorrow.

Corporation Court Fines Reach $822

Corporation court fines amounted to $822 during the past week.

Heading the list of offenses for which fines were assessed was drunkenness. Forty-four persons were fined $615 for intoxication.

Driving without license was the principal traffic violation. Two fines totalling $75 were assessed and one person was required to write a traffic slogan 25 times as a result of no driver's license charges.

Three persons were fined $35 for speeding, and one was fined $25 for driving in violation of driver's license restrictions.

Other traffic fines were $10 for leaving the scene of an accident, $3 each on two prohibited left turn charges, and $3 for parking in a prohibited zone.

One man was fined $25 for disturbance, one was fined $10 as a result of indecent exposure charges, and a $3 fine was levied for shoplifting. Three charged with illegal solicitation were fined $5 each when they pleaded guilty to selling magazine subscriptions without a license.

Transferred to other authorities were two persons accused of receiving and concealing stolen property, two charged with driving while intoxicated, three charged with assault, and one accused of drunkenness.

Four men were held Saturday for investigation in connection with two Friday night burglaries.

Police arrested the quartet Saturday. All were drunk and one also was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Officers thought the men might have become inebriated on whiskey stolen from Everybody's Liquor Store, 301 N. Bell. The liquor store and the Northside Drug were the establishments burgled Friday night. Nothing was taken from the drug store.

Whoever broke into the liquor store made off with eight half-pint bottles of liquor. They gained access to the building by prying open the front door.

Window was broken and screen removed from door to the drug store.

REGULATIONS, THAT'S ALL!

HARTFORD, Conn., March 7 (AP)—Strapping, 20-year-old Freddie G. Draper, once a high school athlete, tried to join the Air Force yesterday. A recruiter looked at the medical discharge the Navy gave him last year and said: "First, get a waiver."

Bewildered, Draper went back to the Navy to find out what he was supposed to waive.

A petty officer checked his papers for reason for discharge. "Art. C-10306 (F) BuPers Manual," it said in typical Navy fashion.

"Pregnancy," interpreted the amused petty officer.

"Did you ever hear of anything so ridiculous?" he asked.

But he still needs that waiver to get into the Air Force.

Texas Road Deaths In January Decrease

Although there were more Texas automobile accidents in January of this year than in January 1952, there were less deaths.

A report released Saturday by the Texas Department of Public Safety shows 153 persons killed in 14,406 January accidents. There were only 11,887 accidents in the same period last year, but 186 people were killed.

According to the report, the 1953 death figure for January is 18 per cent below the figure for January 1952.

However this year's death figure is incomplete, and the percentage rate is expected to change. Some of those injured may die, and final difference is expected to be nine per cent rather than 18.

There were more people injured in January this year than last.

This year there were 3,913 injured, compared to 3,010 last year.

The report also estimates the death rate per 100 million vehicle miles to be 5.1 for the month of January. It was estimated at 6.7 for the same period last year, meaning a 24 per cent decrease.

Of the total accidents in January, most were by far in the city. Yet most fatal accidents were in the country.

Urban mishaps totaled 11,383, while rural accidents hits 3,020. Of the 102 killed on roads, 54 were on U. S. highways, 27 on state highways, 15 on farm-to-market roads, and 8 on county roads. Most of the road accidents were also on U. S. highways; they totaled 1,416.

Byrd Believes Ike Must Insist On Even Budget

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today President Eisenhower will have to take the lead in demanding that Congress keep taxes up and cut expenses if the new Republican administration is to balance the budget.

Byrd, who aided Eisenhower in the presidential campaign by refusing to support his Democratic opponent, said he is impressed with the sincerity of GOP officials in their desire to equalize expenditures and revenues.

But the Virginia senator said he doesn't believe the goal can be reached unless Congress continues present taxes in force for the year beginning next July 1, and cuts at least 7 1/2 billion dollars from former President Truman's $78,500,000,000 spending program for that period.

"The only hope I can see of balancing the budget is to cut that amount and not reduce taxes," Byrd said. "And I doubt if it will be done unless President Eisenhower specifically asks Congress to keep taxes up and recommends specific budget cuts."

"I am satisfied the President is very anxious to balance the budget, because he feels that federal deficits feed inflation. But he must take the leadership in demanding that it be done, or it probably won't be done."

Byrd already has proposed that the excise tax on business scheduled to expire next July 1 be extended for another year and that a 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes be postponed six months from its scheduled effective date next Jan. 1.

Both would take affirmative action by Congress. This action must start in the House, but there is strong demand there for letting the excise tax die and advancing the individual income tax slash six months to next July 1.

Eisenhower has said there ought not to be any tax cuts until expenditure reductions bring budget balancing in sight. But neither he nor any other influential Republican has gone as far as Byrd in urging continuance of present taxes until July 1, 1954.

Danes Won't Turn MIG Loose; Plane Escorted To Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 7 (AP)—The Russian-built MIG15 jet fighter landed by a Polish Air Force lieutenant on the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm was taken apart today and loaded on a ship bound for Copenhagen under armed naval escort. Allied air experts are making a thorough study of it. The plane would be a rare prize if it can be put together again and flown. A MIG15 found in Korea was not airworthy.

Heavily armed Danish soldiers kept away the enraged first secretary of the Polish Legation here, Mieczyslaw Lakomy, who rushed to Bornholm to claim the plane. He was not even allowed to watch Danish Air Force specialists take it apart.

In Copenhagen, Polish Minister Stanislaw Kellies-Krauz continued to fire stiff notes at the Danish Foreign Office and ominously talked about "grave consequences" if the jet fighter is not returned to the Polish Air Force without further delay.

But the Foreign Office made it plain that the Polish government would have to remain patient for some little time yet. An official statement tonight said bluntly a thorough examination will be made of the craft.

It is the first MIG15 to fall undamaged into Western hands and is believed to be the latest of its type.

The pilot brought the plane down at Bornholm's tiny Roenne Airport last Thursday after streaking at 600 miles an hour from the Polish coast 60 miles away.

He claimed to be a political refugee seeking asylum. He is being questioned at Copenhagen police headquarters.

Dis-assembly of the plane was done behind a canvas screen erected at Roenne Airport. Barbed wire and soldiers with orders to shoot unauthorized persons guarded the operations.

To prevent Russian or Polish warships from capturing the prize at sea, the Danish destroyer Huitfeldt was on hand to provide escort from Bornholm to Copenhagen.

Complying with a request from U. S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Supreme Allied headquarters that Denmark hang on to the jet fighter until its secrets have been ferreted out, the Foreign Office told Poland:

"The fact that the aircraft cannot with live ammunition as well as photographic equipment obliges Danish authorities to take into account the possibility that flight over Danish territory may have been carried out for illegal purposes."

"It will consequently be necessary to conduct a thorough examination to clarify the matter. The examination will involve not only painstaking interrogations of the pilot but also examination of the aircraft."

Declaring that the plane would have to be brought to Copenhagen because it could not take off at the tiny Bornholm Airport, the announcement added:

"It has been necessary to disassemble the aircraft."

On hearing this, Kellies-Krauz exclaimed:

"The position of the Danish government is outrageous. This is just a bad excuse for carrying out espionage. Grave consequences may flow from it."

By the "grave consequences" the minister may have meant that coal shipments from Poland to Denmark may be stopped. In some informed quarters there was talk Poland might even partially sever diplomatic relations.

Western military spokesmen said however, that the MIG15 was so valuable a catch that close inspection was worth any such risk.

The general belief is that the 21-year-old pilot is a bona fide refugee and will be granted political asylum here.

Car Owners Given Warning About Licenses

Howard County car owners were warned Saturday that only three and a half weeks remain for the purchase of 1953 license plates. Deadline is April 1.

Mrs. Viola Robinson, tax collector, stated that at least 63 per cent of the county tags must yet be purchased. She said the percentage figure was based on last year's license sales.

So far this year, only 2,718 licenses have been issued. In 1952 some 7,238 licenses were sold through March 31, and Mrs. Robinson is sure that many licenses will have to be issued again this year.

Although the license sales started Feb. 1, people seem to be holding up in buying them. Mrs. Robinson reports that sales have been brisk during the past week, however.

For the convenience of the public, sub-stations will be opened about the county starting Monday. Mrs. Robinson stated that passenger, farm and commercial vehicles can be registered at the sub-stations provided the owners have Texas titles.

People wishing transfers of titles and those owning out of state cars must obtain licenses at the tax office in the Courthouse, she said.

Sub-stations will be opened at Coahoma City Hall from Monday through Wednesday, at the Forsan Hardware Company on Thursday, and at the M. & S. Grocery in Knott on Friday. Stations will also be opened at the Big Spring Motor Company and the Main Street Fire Station from March 16 to 31.

Mrs. Robinson also will keep the tax office open during the noon hour starting Monday. Licenses can be purchased on Saturday afternoons from now until the deadline, she said.

State Unit Approves Canadian Water Plan

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Legislation to create a Canadian River water control-improvement authority was up in the air today after the State Board of Water Engineers approved the project.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, was out of town and not available for comment. He had introduced the bill after the water board failed to approve the plan Jan. 12.

The board's move followed a ruling by the attorney general's office that a permit for the Canadian River Authority would not conflict with 1937 legislation setting up the Panhandle Water Conservation District. The water board had asked for a ruling and announced it yesterday.

It happened as Hazlewood was expected to press for Senate consideration of his bill. He had gotten it to that stage earlier only to pull it back for revision to meet criticism.

Opponents attacked his bill on the same grounds they used in criticizing the Canadian River plan proposed at the January water board hearing. They said they felt it would lead to federal control of water in the state.

But last week the Hazlewood measure still had provisions for either federal or private control. Hazlewood has indicated he thinks the cities affected would prefer a state financing plan proposed recently as a constitutional amendment.

He urged an early public vote on the amendment if it is approved by the Legislature. It would let the state collect fees for water use and apply these to guarantee local conservation bonds.

The dispute over federal vs state financing broke out at the water board hearing in January. Several Panhandle landowners, led by J. Evetts Haley, writer and educator, objected to possible federal influence in the project.

Others replied that the federal government would not necessarily get the construction award. E. H. Cline, mayor of Amarillo and leader in the citizens' campaign, added he favored the contract going to the lowest bidder.

Disagreement on this was shown by S. W. Freese of Fort Worth, an engineer who headed a group investigating the proposal.

"It is my understanding that once a project is federally authorized, the project cannot be undertaken privately," he testified.

Federal authorization is on the books, but not appropriation of the $5 million dollars necessary. Republican leaders in Congress have indicated disfavor for a federal financing scheme.

Union-Sponsored Film Crew Leaves New Mexican Area

EL PASO, Tex., March 7 (AP)—Mexican Actress Rosaura Revueltas left for Mexico City by plane late today, saying she expected to take a new role when she got home.

"I'm very happy to be going home."

She was the star of the controversial movie "Salt of the Earth," filmed in the Silver City, N. M., mining area.

Mrs. Revueltas was arrested last week, while the movie was only partly finished, and charged with entering the United States illegally. The Immigration Service dropped charges when the actress voluntarily left this country.

Meanwhile, the movie crew was leaving the Silver City area after a hurry-up finish. Angry residents of the Southwest New Mexico mining area had threatened them and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a backer, after the movie was labeled in Congress as Communist sponsored.

Technicians and cameramen left yesterday, and the others were hastily following. Where they were headed was not known, but there were reports more work might be done on the movie, perhaps in Mexico.

back home," she told a reporter as she left the San Antonio Hotel for the airport in Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande.

Dis-assembly of the plane was done behind a canvas screen erected at Roenne Airport. Barbed wire and soldiers with orders to shoot unauthorized persons guarded the operations.

To prevent Russian or Polish warships from capturing the prize at sea, the Danish destroyer Huitfeldt was on hand to provide escort from Bornholm to Copenhagen.

The Service of "Mr. 4%" is reflected in Jefferson Standard's 46th Annual Report

MORE PROTECTION FOR MORE PEOPLE. Jefferson Standard during the past year continued to grow in stature and in usefulness to the insuring public. New life insurance placed by the company's fieldmen in 1952 exceeded $153 million, a 20% increase over 1951. Insurance in force reached a new high of $1,136,600,000, a gain of $97 Million for the year.

Today Jefferson Standard is providing a measure of financial security for more than 350,000 policyholders in 29 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year just closed amounted to $13,500,000, bringing total payments since organization of the company to $226 Million. Assets of the company increased by more than $28 Million to a year-end total of $324,852,407. Investment earnings were maintained at a high level throughout the year, and Jefferson Standard for the sixteenth year leads all major life insurance companies in rate of interest earned on investments.

"WHO IS MR. 4%?"

Mr. 4% represents the Jefferson Standard

Jefferson Standard, now guaranteeing 2 1/2% on policies currently issued, has never paid less than 4% on policy proceeds left on deposit to provide income. Four per cent is the highest rate of interest paid by any major life insurance company in America!

Mr. 4%, a welcome visitor in the homes and offices of thousands of policyholders, is pointing the way to extra income through 4%. His friendly counsel is helping policyholders and beneficiaries use life insurance more effectively—the Jefferson Standard way.

For Example

On a $10,000 life insurance policy, interest income at 2 1/2% amounts to only $250 per year... at 4% it amounts to $400 per year—$3,000 more income over a 20-year period!

Jefferson Standard's investment record is outstanding in the life insurance industry. The company's excellent earnings rate makes it possible to provide extra income dollars to the policyholder or beneficiary. For 46 years Jefferson Standard policies have never paid less than 4% interest on proceeds left with the company to provide income.

Let Mr. 4% Serve You

Small wonder, then, that more and more people are turning to their local Jefferson Standard Mr. 4%. Jefferson Standard policy dollars are larger. Keep in touch with your Mr. 4%—he's a good man to know.

Path Is Cleared For W. Reich Army Vote

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
BONN, Germany, March 7 (U.P.)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today received the legal green light to win approval in the Bundestag (lower house) on March 19 for his treaties to rearm West Germany in alliance with the West.

But these treaties—the six-nation European Army Pact and the related Allied-Bonn Peace Contract—still face stiff legislative and court tests. Once they get through the Bundestag they must be approved by the Bundesrat (upper house).

McCarthy Probe Clears Kaplan Of Wrongdoing

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON, March 7 (U.P.)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today his Senate Investigations Subcommittee has found nothing to indicate any wrongdoing by Raymond Kaplan, a Voice of America employee whose death has been ruled a suicide.

The subcommittee has been conducting search for waste and subversion in the Voice, but McCarthy said it never had any plans to call Kaplan as a witness.

Kaplan, a radio engineer, said in an alleged suicide note to his wife and son, that he had done nothing wrong but that "once the dogs are set on you, everything you have done since the beginning of time is suspect."

McCarthy, telephoning from New York, where the investigations subcommittee met in closed session today, said co-workers of Kaplan expressed "grave doubt" that his death was a suicide.

Kaplan, 42, was killed by a truck Wednesday night in Cambridge, Mass., and witnesses said he hurled himself into its path. A certificate of suicide was issued.

McCarthy said the subcommittee was curious as to why Kaplan would commit suicide and had decided to go over his files and to take testimony from his co-workers.

"We have found nothing to indicate he was guilty of any wrongdoing of any kind," McCarthy said.

Two U.S. Women Killed In India

DEHRA DUN, India, March 7 (U.P.)—Two American women were killed by an unidentified intruder at the American Presbyterian Mission compound early today. Police said a servant was held for questioning.

The women — Mrs. Herbert Strickler, 59, wife of the executive secretary of Presbyterian missions in India, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, 46, a school teacher, were beaten and stabbed. They were found in beds in separate rooms.

Mrs. Bennett, a widow, taught at Haddon Heights, N. J., High School until last January. She arrived in India only a week ago to teach languages at the Woodstock mission school operated by American and Canadian missionaries near Dehra Dun in the Himalayas, 100 miles north of New Delhi. The Presbyterian school is attended mostly by children of diplomats and other foreigners.

Mrs. Bennett was the daughter of Mrs. Helen Duff of Camden, N. J.

Seek To End Burma Fight

BANGKOK, Sunday, March 8 (U.P.)—Thailand's Premier Pibulsonggram is reported seeking a way to get representatives of Burma and Nationalist China together to call off fighting reported between Burmese troops and Nationalist guerrillas just inside Burma's border with Red China.

The Thai government, worried about its own Communist problem, seems to fear that the renewed activity of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist guerrillas in Burma may be used as an excuse for intervention by Red China troops.

A reliable source in a position to know said the Thai Cabinet is considering a proposal to invite the Burmese and Chiang's representatives to informal three-power talks in Thailand. This probably will depend on whether Burma takes the issue to the United Nations.

After ratification they can be challenged on their constitutionality. What Adenauer gained today was a clear road to get ratification by a simple majority vote in the lower chamber of the legislature before he calls for Washington where he will see President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on April 7-8.

If he achieves this, it will be a prestige victory, for none of the other partners in the army treaty has yet attained that much. It would be Adenauer's answer to Secretary Dulles' call for "clear and visible evidence" by April 1 that the army pact will be ratified. The path for the third and final vote in the Bundestag was cleared when the Federal Constitutional Court at Karlsruhe refused to make an advance ruling on whether the treaties require a two-thirds margin or a simple majority vote in Parliament.

Any change in the constitution requires a two-thirds vote, which Adenauer cannot command in the present legislature. Opposition Socialists contend that rearmament requires a constitutional amendment, but they already have been told by the court that such a test cannot be made until after the treaty bills have been made law.

OFFICERS HAVE MISHAPS, TOO

Police men have accidents too. Patrolman W. T. Cole was teaching Officer Thermal Haley how to ride the police department's three-wheel motorcycle Friday night.

The machine "got away from them" and ran into the Jordan Printing Company window, other officers reported. The big window was broken, but the motorcycle wasn't damaged badly.

No injuries were reported.

San Angeloan Dies At Hospital Here

Death claimed George S. Broome, 58, a resident of San Angelo, at a local hospital at 3 p.m. Saturday.

The body was to be shipped to San Angelo by Nalley's Funeral Home today. Rites are pending. A son, Claude A. Broome, El Paso, survives.

The new Borden County Rural High School plant will be dedicated in special exercises at Gail at 3 p.m. today. Dr. Bascom C. Hayes, director of rural services for the Texas Education Agency, is to be speaker. On hand for open house at 4 p.m. will be the team of consultants from Texas Tech which had a large hand in the design of the plant. One of the problems connected with the million dollar facility was that of gathering in high school students which had been going to Coahoma, Snyder, Ackerly, O'Donnell and Lamesa. Another was teachers, but when 11 new one-family teacherages were built, the district had 100 applications.

Top Congress Probers May Be Facing Fight With Ike Regime

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, March 7 (U.P.)—The Big Three of congressional investigating committees are riding high and hard these days.

The big question is whether or not they are pounding along toward a head-on clash with the Eisenhower administration as they hunt for Communists in schools and for subversion, waste and inefficiency in government. There are signs at least one of them may be.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), and the House Un-American Activities Committee, under Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), seem likely to avoid any immediate row with the new administration.

They are busily looking for Reds in the educational field, and uncovering some teachers who admit they used to be Communists.

But education primarily is a state and local rather than federal function. The Senate Investigations Subcommittee, run by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has been concentrating on the federal government and so appears closer to a possible run-in with the executive arm.

Like a juggler keeping several plates in the air at once, the Wisconsin senator has been going after the State Department's Voice of America program, the handling of State Department files, the storage of strategic materials, and fraudulent claims for social security benefits.

As long as the committee can blame the Truman administration for anything it finds that it doesn't like, it may avoid a big conflict with the Eisenhower regime.

But things might change if the investigators ever start tromping on the Eisenhower toes — on operations, policies and people for

Election Date Is Changed Again In Consolidation Vote

Election to determine consolidation of Cable and Elbow common school districts has been changed again—this time to April 4.

County Judge R. H. Weaver stated Saturday that the consolidation election will be held on the same day school trustee elections are held.

The April 4 date was originally set after petitions were received for the election. However, it was changed up to March 28 when it was found trustee elections were on April 4.

After a conference with County School Superintendent Walker Bailey Saturday, the date was changed again. Weaver and Bailey decided the trustee election would not interfere with the consolidation election, and visa versa.

Man Changes Plea, Fined $100 On DWI

Clinton W. Willis of Liberty, who pleaded not guilty on Feb. 26 to charges of driving while intoxicated, changed his plea Saturday.

After pleading guilty, County Judge R. H. Weaver fined him $100 and costs of court. Willis could not meet the fine Saturday and remained in jail.

When Willis first pleaded not guilty his bond was set at $500. As he could not post bond, he has been in county jail since. He said he was passing through Big Spring on the way home when arrested.

Prisoner To Be Sent Back To Nebraska

A man now being held in county jail will be transferred to prison authorities at Lincoln, Neb., next week.

He is Curtis V. Turner, who is charged here with forgery. Turner has been identified as an escaped inmate of the Nebraska penitentiary.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter said that Nebraska authorities will be here Thursday to take Turner into custody. Turner was arrested only a few weeks ago, but forgery charges against him are a couple of years old.

Workers Okay Hike

Schenectady, N. Y., March 7 (U.P.)—Officer workers employed by the American Locomotive Co. gave their okay today to a 16-cent-an-hour package increase that opens the way for production of Army tanks and diesel locomotives here for the first time in more than four months.

other witness had made untrue or half true statements, got to go into only two of the points and put the rest of his rebuttal in the official record.

Complaints against the Jenner-Velde investigations have been even louder and more spectacular. Educators, a Methodist bishop, other clergymen from the pulpit, a labor leader from a rostrum have jumped on the committees for going into the educational field in the first place.

The worst slip to date in any of the inquiries was Velde's charge that Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer, wife of the board chairman of the Washington Post, had written a pro-Russian letter to a Russian magazine in 1947. Mrs. Meyer proved the charge was false. Velde retracted and fired a committee investigator he said gave him erroneous information.

Regardless of criticism and missteps, Congress is about as solidly behind the investigating committees as it ever is behind anything.

GENERAL MUD IS BACK Spring Headaches Bother UN Troops

By FORREST EDWARDS
EASTERN FRONT, Korea, Sunday, March 8 (U.P.)—Spring has come to the 155-mile Korean battlefield. It may not stay — it's a month early — but it is causing front-line troops plenty of headaches.

And these headaches will last until Spring's mud and slush turn into summer's clouds of dust.

Trails and side roads which have carried 10-ton trucks across their frozen roadbeds during the winter are sinking under jeeps.

The premature Korea thaw, with afternoon temperatures ranging into the 50s the past week, has turned front-line areas into a quagmire.

Fighting men who have grown used to wading through snow are slipping, sliding and falling in the two inches of clay mud that covers the roads and patches and cascades down ridgelines into the valleys.

An Allied patrol into no man's land two nights ago had to turn back before making contact with the Communists. Three of its men slipped off a narrow ridge trail in front of Allied lines and had to be pulled back by rope.

The patrol, intact except for bruised and abrasions, finally got back to Allied lines 7½ hours after it started. The men were soaked from head to foot and plastered with so much clay mud that they could not be immediately recognized.

Front-line soldiers are propping up bunkers, walls, sagging under their own weight as the frost oozes out of the ground below.

Sandbag parapets on the forward edge of trenches, built on frozen ridgelines during the winter, need constant watching and repair. One 20-foot section slid into the valley below while South Koreans were trying to hold it in place with stakes and wire.

"V-ditches across front-line roads to speed up drainage of water flooding down from the ridges.

L. O. Cox Quits Hospital Post

AUSTIN, March 7 (U.P.)—After proposing a plan which would reduce his job's scope, Larry O. Cox, director of the State Hospital System, announced his resignation today.

His health was the reason. Several weeks ago he suffered a stroke at Stephenville.

The State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools will receive Cox's resignation at its meeting Monday.

No Factionalism Group To Deal With To Be Tolerated By New Regime

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
MOSCOW, March 7 (U.P.)—Two points have emerged crystal clear since Joseph Stalin died two nights ago: the new Soviet regime is going to follow Stalin's policies down the line, and no factionalism is going to be tolerated.

The Communist party organ Pravda, which reflects the official view, has made it plain that Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov's government will follow the same line of foreign policy laid down by Malenkov with Stalin's blessing, at the 19th Party Congress last fall.

The accent on unity was made very apparent from the wording of the announcement of Stalin's death and the decree on government and party leadership. Both stressed and re-stressed unity.

Western observers here believe that Malenkov, with his years of experience in keeping party unity under Stalin, is the man who can best assure it in the present circumstances.

These observers also feel that the Malenkov government will make no changes at present in the previous policies laid down by Stalin.

The Moscow press and radio are emphasizing that there will be no interruption in the working of the government.

It is being explained that the decreed organization of the party and state leadership is directed at preventing any interruption in that leadership.

Along with Malenkov, Stalin's closest collaborators have inherited positions of responsibility.

Such men as L. P. Beria, V. M. Molotov and Nikolai Bulganin have taken over the chief posts in the government machinery.

Each is operating in the field he knows best: Beria in internal affairs and state security, Molotov in foreign affairs, and Bulganin in the Army.

In short, it will continue to be a Stalinist government.

All Local Band Entrants Score

Every entrant from the Big Spring Senior and Junior High School bands got by the screening committee Saturday in preparation for the regional music contest on March 21.

Only one contestant was cut back, but this individual made it in another field. The eliminations, designed to save time at the regional meet, were held at Odessa.

Qualifying soloists from the senior band, according to J. W. King Jr., director, were Bill Bradley, Margaret Martin, Harris Wood, Kenneth Briden, Ann Pendergrass from the Junior band Julius Glickman, Donald Davidson, Donald Cannon, Patsy Rogers, James Montgomery, Douglas Eastham, Barton Grooms, Ann Pendergrass from the senior band and Ann Herndon and Robbie Flowers from the juniors qualified on twirling.

Passing screening for woodwind quintet were James King, Gloria Byrd, Joe Dawes, Harris Wood, U. G. Powell; for clarinet quartet, Merling Peterson, Betty Bradford, Owen Gafford and James King; brass sextet, Wyle Brown, Kenneth Briden, Howard Sheals, Ray Shaw, Margaret Martin, Derryle Sanders; saxophone quartet, Frankie Marstrand, Bill Bradley, Manuel Puga, Norman Gound, and from the juniors a flute trio composed of Helen Winchester, Jackie Franklin, Barton Grooms.

Vocalists participating in screening auditions Saturday came through with flying colors. While some slipped on solos, they made places for the regional competition on group arrangements.

Among those passing the initial check, said Harry Lee Plumley, director, were Nancy Conway, soprano solo; R. B. Hall, Jackie Shirley and Don Loyceale, tenor soloists.

In a triple trio were Angela Fausell, Billy Ann Norris, Anna Bell Lane, Nancy Conway, Dolores Sneed, Nola Caldwell, Beverley Edwards, Martha Wiggins, and Arlene Mitchell.

Former Resident Killed In Mishap

Clarence W. Hooper, 47, formerly of Big Spring and more recently of Hermleigh, was killed in a construction mishap Saturday at Chamberlain, S. D.

Details of the accident were not learned immediately. Mrs. Ella Mason, 406 Settler, his sister, said Mr. Hooper had been doing oil field construction. He was reported to have been killed in a fall.

The body will be returned to Big Spring and services will be in charge of Eberly-River Funeral Home.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Ella Mason, Big Spring; Mrs. Ethel Mason, Hermleigh; Mrs. Blanche Shaw, Hermleigh; one half-brother, Oscar Hooper, Snyder.

Ike Urged To Seek Release Of Prisoners

WASHINGTON, March 7 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower was urged today to take up with Russia's new leaders, if he ever meets with them, the release of an estimated 1,200,000 World War II prisoners.

The President's reaction was not made public. It was stated he would be willing to meet with Soviet leaders halfway between the two countries if he thought it would help to bring peace to the world.

Elliott Newcomb, secretary general of the World Veterans Federation representing 15 million war veterans from 19 nations, said he put the question up to the President while explaining the purposes of his two-year-old organization.

The federation, estimating that about 1,200,000 are still alive in Russia out of an estimated three million unaccounted for after the war, adopted a resolution on the issue at its recent London meeting.

After Newcomb's visit Eisenhower issued a statement saying he was greatly encouraged to learn of the support of millions of these veterans for the United Nations' stand in Korea, for European unity, and for collective security against aggression.

Of the 104 veterans groups affiliated with the world organization, the American members are the American Veterans Committee, Amvets, Blind Veterans Association, Disabled American Veterans, and Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Newcomb, a former executive director of Amvets and a World War II Navy veteran, now lives in Paris.

United Fund Meeting Is Set Tuesday

Final determination of the proposed creation of United Fund organization for Big Spring and Howard County will be made at a meeting called for Tuesday evening.

It will be at 7:30 in Room 1 on the Settles mezzanine. The public is invited to attend, and special notices have been sent to some 40 people who have been actively interested in the Community Chest and various welfare agencies.

To be proposed is a plan for setting up the welfare-fund solicitation into one program. In addition to the agencies which have been under Community Chest sponsorship—YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army and Servicemen's Center—it is proposed that the Red Cross, Heart Association, Cancer Association, Milk and Ice Fund and perhaps others be included. Object is to reduce, insofar as possible, direct canvassing in the county for welfare purposes to one comprehensive campaign.

Consideration of a constitution will be given Tuesday evening, as well as election of officers and standing committee heads.

Korean War Movie To Be Shown Here

A battle film dealing with combat in Korea will be shown at the City auditorium Monday night.

The film is sponsored by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post, and proceeds will go toward hospital bed funds and Little League support.

Mr. Hubbinson, commander of the post, stated that price of admission is $1. Two showings of the film will be made—one at 7 p.m. and the other at 9 p.m.

McKinney said the movie is made up of actual battle scenes filmed by service photographers. The movie is designed to better acquaint citizens with the war, he said.

Chiropractors Slate Meeting Here Today

Approximately 50 persons are expected here today for a district meeting of the West Texas Chiropractors Association.

Chiropractors and their wives are expected from Lubbock, Plainview, Mulhouse, Lamesa, Post and other West Texas cities. The luncheon meeting will be held at the Settles Hotel.

Four People Enlist In The Armed Forces

Four people enlisted in the armed forces through the local recruiting station during the latter part of the week. Three went into the Army and one to the Air Force.

Army enlistees are Billy E. McRae, 409 Northwest 8th, Big Spring; Joe D. Brewer, 222 Kendall Road, Big Spring; and LeDrew Ballard, Route 1, Colorado City. All are now at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Group To Deal With Soviet Policy Urged

people of Russia and other Communist countries" and expressions of hope that "freedom and self-determination may again operate in countries now dominated by Communist dictators."

Mundt, who visited Russia in 1945 and talked with some of the Soviet leaders, voiced his proposal in an interview as Congress members speculated on the effects of the change in the Soviet high command.

He saw hope for more peaceful conditions under the new regime headed by Georgi Malenkov.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said the U. S. should explore the possibility of a break between Red China and Russia now that Stalin is out of the picture.

Carlson, a close friend of the President, suggested the top Chinese Communist, Mao Tse Tung, "may have some ideas of his own about how China should be run."

"It is possible he might become the Tito of Asia if he had some unofficial encouragement," Carlson added.

Mundt said the administration should start by setting up "a small, high level advisory group made up of citizens who have specialized knowledge on Russia—on the Iron Curtain countries—and on international communism and its tactics." He added:

"Such a group should operate without publicity, make its recommendations to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles. These should cover appropriate steps to take on our foreign policy and through our Voice of America program in the weeks and months immediately following Stalin's death."

"I feel that the exact pattern and policies of action on our part are of such vast importance that they merit the immediate attention that the best-informed talent in America can focus upon it."

THE WEEK

G. Villaneva had been injured on the Snyder highway. It is to be hoped this will be the last this year.

Mrs. Eugenia Toland laid aside her duties as county home demonstration agent last week. She has been a devoted and capable agent and the functions and gifts of HD members and other friends gave her are evidence of their high esteem.

Some progress is being made on the Red Cross interim appeal for funds. Around $5,000 is needed now to tide our busy chapter over until the autumn when it will become a part of a United Fund drive. If you haven't mailed in your check, please do it today. Your help is needed urgently.

Scoping the field is a habit with our sports editor, Tommy Hart. On Feb. 24 he predicted that Harold Webb would be enlisted to take over the Lamesa club in the Longhorn League. For a time it looked as if other arrangements or perhaps nothing at all would be done but Saturday it was announced that Webb was indeed taking over at Lamesa.

The City turned down an offer for $100,000 in paving warrants early in the week. Then it got a better offer from the First National here and forthwith marketed the issue. This does business at home and also helps assure the paving program.

Howard County Junior College Jayhawks came within a hair of copping the Texas Junior College tournament. They breezed through the first two rounds only to run into Lon Morris and Robert Burrow, who is practically good enough for the Globe Trotters. At that, the Jayhawks made a good game of it to win second place.

Most interesting oil development of the week was Green No. 1 Wolf, a deepening operation between the Reinecke and Hoto pools. It blew out and the test is to make considerable oil from the Wolfcamp.

Dedicating school facilities is getting to be a pleasant habit hereabouts. Last week Coahoma held open house for its new elementary school and other improvements. Today at Gail the new Borden County Rural High School is being dedicated. It cost almost a million dollars.

Just Trying It Out, So Car Not Stolen

Police Friday hauled in what was reported to be a stolen automobile only to find that the driver was "trying it out" as one he might buy.

Police said the car had been reported stolen from the Dee Davis Used Car Lot. They apprehended the driver and returned the car to the lot where they learned of the mix-up. No charges were filed.

Tribute Paid Again

KATAMANDU, Nepal, March 7 (U.P.)—A delegation from Tibet, now dominated by Red China, arrived today bringing 10,000 rupees ($2,100) for the Nepalese government—an annual tribute Tibet has paid for nearly a century under an old treaty.

Trustees Slate Meet

Regular monthly meeting of the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday. Other than routine matters, reports are to be received from the textbook committee, and from the Lakeview building survey.

STALIN

Presidium from 25 to 19. This agency is not to be confused with the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, which is a guiding committee that handles parliamentary affairs when Parliament is not in session.

The old Politburo of 11 men, replaced by the 25-man party Presidium last fall, was largely reconstituted.

The only members of the old Politburo missing are Stalin, A. A. Andreev and A. N. Kosygin. The only new ones are M. Z. Saburov, chief of the new Machine Building Ministry, and Mikhail Pervukhin, who heads the newly consolidated Ministry for Electrical Industries.

Initial Canvass In Local School Census Is Over

Teachers have completed the initial canvass of the city on the annual scholastic census. However, there remains the usual and more troublesome job of calling back to make sure no one has been overlooked. Based on reports from the teachers, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said that co-operation from patrons had been among the best in years. He enlisted the aid of the public in making sure that all scholars are enumerated. "In some cases census blanks were left," he said, "but this cannot be an assurance that everyone has been contacted. If you have children of school age (those born after Sept. 1, 1935 and on or before Sept. 1, 1947) who have not been listed the past week, please call our office (phone 3520) or notify the principal of your school. If you know of neighbors whose children have not been counted, please call us or notify the teacher. If you have been left a census blank, please complete it and deliver it to your child's teacher or to the principal."

Financially, it is important to the district that every scholastic is counted. Last year the state paid $55 each in per capita aid. Equally important, this information helps the district in preparing to adequately take care of its children. Blankenship said it likely would be mid-week before any sort of a preliminary total can be reported. Before the census information comes to his office, it must first be cross-checked at the source for duplications. After all reports are in, then the superintendent's office makes another check for possible duplications.

Lodge Defends Peace Aims Of Ike's Regime

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 7 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., stoutly defended today the peace aims of the Republican party against Russian onslaughts. He wound up the debate on Korea with a new challenge to Moscow to stop the Korean War immediately on U. N. terms. The chief U. S. delegate spoke calmly but forcefully to the U. N. Political Committee after listening to fresh Iron Curtain blasts that the Republican administration is a war party and American "ruling circles" want to continue the war in Korea.

"I hear the phrase 'ruling circles,'" Lodge said. "I wonder what it means. Anybody who followed the election last fall in which there was a complete turnover in the government knows there are no 'ruling circles' in the United States. "If you have any doubt about the American peoples' desire for peace ask any family—and I have personal experience here—who has a son or brother in the American forces."

Lodge has a son in Korea. "It was the craving (and the ardent desire of the Americans for peace that was responsible for the election result last fall," Lodge continued. He summed up the Soviet position as follows: "The Soviet Union will not agree to peace in Korea. It will not allow the Communist Chinese to make peace. It insists that the war continue to the last Korean. "It is the stark truth," he said solemnly as he voiced the new challenge, "that there could be peace in Korea tomorrow if the Communists would drop their opposition to the Indian resolution."

Church Group To Give One-Act Play

"The Bishop's Candlesticks," a one-act play by Norman Kinnell, will be presented this evening in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church. Cast is made up of members of the Friendship Sunday School class and the play will be staged following the evening worship services. The public is invited. The play is based on a portion of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." It involves escape of a convict from prison and his experiences as he seeks refuge in the home of a bishop. John Edgar will play the role of the bishop, Joyce Davenport is the bishop's sister. Persons in e. Reeves, Moren portrays the convict. Others in the cast are Patricia Dillon, Bob Vaughn, and George O'Neill. Billy Bob Watson is stage manager and Rev. Walter G. White, associate minister of the church, is director of the play.

Vandenberg Departs

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, left today for France to attend a meeting of Western European defense leaders.

More Than 500 Persons Attend Borden County Livestock Show

She Is Making Impressive Record

This Jersey heifer, bred by Ray Weaver of the Ackerly FFA Chapter from Peterson (Lamesa) stock, was selected as grand champion dairy female at the annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show at Gail Saturday. Last year she stood third in her class in the big dairy show at Plainview; was second in her class at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, and in two separate shows at Lamesa was reserve champion and later grand champion. She will be shown again at Plainview next month. She has been raised under the supervision of A. A. Smith, vocational agriculture teacher at Ackerly High School.

GAIL — A crowd estimated at more than 500 persons turned out here Saturday for the annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show sponsored by the recently organized Borden County Junior Livestock Association. Classes were provided for steers, both milked and drylot, fine wool lambs, barrows, gilts, sows and poultry. The livestock and poultry was judged by J. L. Browning of Snyder, County Agricultural Agent. George Sealy assisted the association officers and committee with the show, which was held in the County Show Barn at the west edge of Gail on the Lamesa Highway. Nearly all those attending brought basket dinners which were spread at noon on the show grounds.

Bobby Ellis of Ackerly took top honors in the barrow division. He had the first and second place heavyweight barrows; both the grand reserve champion barrows; the first place pen of three barrows, and the second and fourth place open gilts. His hogs were fed out under the supervision of A. A. Smith, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Ackerly High School. All these entries were bred by J. W. Kluck of Ackerly.

Barbara Sharp exhibited the first place animal in the class for bred gilts and sows. The red ribbon in this class went to the entry of Donald Reddell. Miss Sharp also had the grand champion sow, with the reserve honors going to the entry of Samuel Ortiz. Another of Smith's FFA students, Ray Weaver, exhibited the first place Jersey heifer and the first place Jersey cow, mother of the heifer. Weaver also had the first and third place Jersey bulls and the grand champion dairy bull.

Weaver plans to show her at Plainview again this year. This heifer was selected as the grand champion dairy female at the Gail show, while her mother won the reserve champion dairy female honors.

Kenneth Williams of the O'Donnell section, had the grand champion beef calf, a milkfed light-weight Hereford. The Hereford entered by Alvin Bradshaw, also a lightweight, was awarded the reserve championship banner.

Borden Gray Jr., showed the only beef heifer, a Hereford, entered in the show. This heifer had previously placed above entries of two well known West Texas breeders at the show in Lamesa last fall.

The grand champion lamb was exhibited by Sammie Davenport and the reserve champion by Jerry Reddell. Officers of the association which writes the show program and ad-

Rose's Reward

Rosemary Rice, one of the standouts on the Big Spring High School girls' volleyball team, earned the prize she's holding here when she was named winner of the Sportsmanship Award in the recent Permian Basin Tournament at Odessa. She was also named to the all-tournament team.

20 TEAMS ENTERED

Volley Ball Meet Begins Thursday

One of Big Spring's biggest sports shows, the eighth annual Girls' Volley Ball Tournament, begins Thursday and continues through Saturday night of this week.

Twenty teams from all over West Texas are entered in the tournament. A new champion is assured, since the 1952 titlist, Antelope, will not be back.

Big Spring won the tournament's blue ribbon two years ago. Antelope turned back Monahans, 28-12, in the finals of last year's tournament. Monahans will be represented here again.

A tournament queen, judged on beauty, demeanor and ability, will again be crowned. Last year, Shirley Sehon of Odessa, a 16-year-old brunette with a quick smile, copped the honor.

The tournament director will again be Arah Phillips, who also serves as coach of the local netters. Trophies will go the champions.

RECORDS DUE TO FALL IN BORDER OLYMPICS

LAREDO, March 7 (AP)—The twenty-first annual Border Olympics, with 1,000 athletes expected to compete, come next week and records are due to tumble before the onslaught of such fellows as Darrow Hooper, Texas A&M weightman, and Fredrick Eckhoff, classy mile runner of Oklahoma A&M.

The greatest competition is due in the university class where Texas A&M defends its championship against Texas and the Oklahoma Aggies.

Hooper, runner-up in the shot put in the Olympic Games last summer, holds the shot put record of the Border Olympics at 53 feet 8 1/2. He set it last year. But afterward he threw the 16-pound ball over 57 feet.

Hooper also will endanger the discus mark of the Border Olympics which George Kadera of Texas A&M set in 1950 at 165 feet 10 1/2.

Rodney Cramer Leads HC Bees

In winning seven of 15 games the past season, HCJC's B team succeeded in outscoring the opposition, 905-880. The Beehawks averaged a healthy 60-3 points a game, compared to 58.6 for the opposition. Rodney Cramer dominated the individual scoring race, with a total of 240 points. He averaged 16 points an outing.

Only one other player counted as many as 100 points. He was Calvert Shortes, who got exactly that many.

Dates For Women's Meet Are Re-Set

MIDLAND — Dates for the Midland Women's Invitational Golf Tournament have been re-set for April 29-May 3, it has been announced by Pro Boyd Huff.

The meet originally was scheduled for May 13-17. The tournament was moved up to avoid a conflict in dates with the Women's Southwestern Tournament at El Paso.

Milwaukee May Get Brown Club In 1954

Veck Eager For Change

By JOE REICHLER SARASOTA, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Machinery for shifting the St. Louis Browns' franchise to Milwaukee is in motion but the transfer probably won't take place until 1954, at the earliest.

After talking with such baseball notables as major league Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Warren Giles of the National League, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and club heads Bill Veck of the Browns and Fred Saigh of the Cardinals, the writer is convinced that there is a very definite move on to put a major league franchise in Milwaukee.

Veck is eager to move. Harridge is in favor of it. Giles thinks it is inevitable. The city itself is doing everything in its power in an effort to swing it. Saigh goes a step further and predicts that within five to 10 years, not only St. Louis but Philadelphia and Boston will become one-team towns.

What then is holding up the Browns — to Milwaukee? A great many things. First of all, baseball law prevents a shift this season. While a major league club may invade a minor league territory at any time, a minor league club can shift to another territory only between the months of October and December after giving due notice of intention.

Second, shifting a franchise is a very expensive proposition. Adequate compensation must not only be made to the affected club, but to its league and to every club in the league. That is why there hasn't been a change in the major league setup since 1902 when, ironically, Milwaukee surrendered its franchise to the Browns.

Third, it takes much negotiation and a lot of red tape. Besides the two negotiating cities, at least two and sometimes three and four leagues become involved as each club seeks to move into another classification.

The biggest problem confronting the St. Louis-Milwaukee situation is that the Brewer franchise is owned by the National League Boston Braves. In rejecting an offer of $500,000 to move his Milwaukee franchise to Toledo, Braves' owner Lou Perini made it clear he would not stand in the way of bringing big league ball to Milwaukee provided he got an equal franchise somewhere else. He does not regard Toledo as proper compensation.

BASEBALL CARD TO BE DRAWN

Representatives of at least four high schools will gather in Supl. W. C. Blankenship's office at 2 p. m. here today to set up the district Texas Interscholastic League baseball program.

The meeting was called by Charley Romine, Abilene High School principal, temporary chairman of the district.

Big Spring, Abilene, Odessa and San Angelo will field teams in the sport. It's possible that Snyder and Sweetwater will also be represented at the parley.

District officers will be elected and a schedule will be drawn, admission prices pegged, umpires assigned, etc.

BRONC BASEBALLERS SPONSORING BATBOY CONTEST HERE AGAIN

The Big Spring baseball club is sponsoring a Batboy Contest again this year. Winner of the contest will snag bats for the Broncs the coming Longhorn League season. He will be admitted free of charge to all home games, will get a trip or two with the team after school is out and will have opportunity to obtain bats and balls discarded by the team.

In addition, the lucky youngster will get a baseball suit, just like the players, tailored to his measurements. To be eligible, a lad must be between the ages of ten and 14, inclusive.

The contest will extend until March 29. A candidate may solicit votes for himself. A person may vote only once in the contest. The voter can use the following form or fill out one similar to it. In any event, the ballot must be signed by the voter.

Entry blanks can be mailed or taken to the Bronc Baseball Office, lobby of the Douglass Hotel, or the Sports Desk, Daily Herald.

CHANGE IN SCENERY Nat'l AAU Field Trimmed To 32

By FRANK PITMAN DENVER, March 7 (AP)—There's a new setting and some of last year's top collegians have been added to the cast of the National AAU Basketball Tournament opening March 15 in Denver, home of the week-long dribble derby 17 out of the last 18 years.

The field of 32 teams — Streamlined from the usual 45 or more entries — will play in the new Denver Arena.

Trimming the field to 32 will eliminate morning games, which were formerly played the first three days. The smaller field is expected to result also in a better brand of ball for spectators the first few days. In the past, many of the teams were over-matched and a 30-point spread in the scores in the first two rounds wasn't unusual.

The defending champion, Peoria, Ill., Cats, and the Phillips 66ers, last year's runners-up, are again the favorites.

Phillips will be back with a new coach and two of last year's top collegians: Clyde Lovellette of Kansas and Olympic fame and

Question Marks Many On Major League Teams

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Can Joe Black do it again? Is Mickey Mantle really "the new Di Maggio"? Will the World Series haunt Gil Hodges? Can Casey Stengel make it five straight?

How about Hank Sauer and Bobby Shantz? Will they repeat as most valuable players? Are Bobby Feller and Hal Newhouser now just a pair of nine-game winners? And Ferris Fain? Will he become the first American League pitcher since Ty Cobb to win three batting titles in a row?

Nobody, of course, knows the answers. If a fellow did, he could write his own ticket. Because nobody knows, millions of fans will follow the spring training box scores for the next six weeks. When it's all over and the clubs are home to open the season, the answers will be as elusive as ever.

If there is a sure thing in baseball, it probably is Stan Musial winning another National League batting crown. The Cardinals' $90,000 salaried ace has copped three straight and six in all. Two more and he'll tie Honus Wagner's league record. Barring injury, there is every reason to believe he will succeed.

At 32, Musial looks better than ever. With Ted Williams in the Marines and Joe DiMaggio long since in retirement, "The Man" from Tonora, Pa., probably is the best in the business. Maybe he was before Williams and DiMaggio stepped out. But he is now, for sure, in this book.

If you had to make a guess on Musial's chief opposition, it could be Ted Kluwe, Cincinnati's hulking first baseman who now has Rogers Hornsby to light a fire under him. At lightning fires under people, Hornsby is a pyromaniac. Jackie Robinson always is a threat to Musial. He beat him out in 1949 when Stan "slumped" to .338 and "only" drove in 123 runs. Few expect Chicago's Frankie Baumholtz, previously a 279 hitter, to come close again. Baumholtz was right up there in '52 only 11 points back at .325.

As for Black, the odds are against any repetition of his fabulous 15-4 season in 56 games. With Russ Meyer an added regular starter, and capable relief help available from Jim Hughes, Black doesn't figure to work as hard in '53. Manager Chuck Dressen is thinking of making him a regular starter.

Mantle will fool many a self-appointed "expert" if he doesn't take over Joe DiMaggio's old role as the "big" man of the New York Yankees. Mickey thrived as a sophomore, although his injured knee made him a doubtful factor last spring. He added 44 points to his first year average, winding up at .311.

LEAGUE ALL SET

Webb Acquires Lamesa Club

League President Hal Sayles officiated at a happy marriage Saturday and the Longhorn League is again a going, growing concern.

Sayles announced that Harold Webb, familiar to all Longhorn League fans, is back in business as boss of the Lamesa club.

Sayles introduced Webb to the Lamesa fans. They hit it off from the start and Saturday Webb agreed to take over the franchise.

Since leaving the Midland club, which he operated for the better part of four seasons, in 1951, Webb has been raising Jersey cattle near Cleburne. He also has a prosperous clothing goods business and loan concern in Fort Worth.

Webb is one of the most prestigious yet one of the most popular individuals ever to appear in the Longhorn League. His 1948 club at Midland won the pennant after finishing behind Big Spring in regular play.

The outlook for a club in Lamesa was bleak until Webb responded to Sayles' invitation to visit the city and meet with the fans. Webb, in announcing that he had assumed the reins at Lamesa, indicated he would work with Oklahoma City and Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League to acquire a franchise.

He is personally acquainted with Jimmy Humphreys, president of the Oklahoma City club, and Bobby Bragan, new manager of Hollywood. Humphreys sent him a number of ball players at the time he was with Midland.

Harold will also manage the club itself. It is doubtful, however, he will be a playing manager. He was a catcher when he was active. Webb said spring training will be held in Lamesa, starting April 1. The new owner inherits several ball players with the franchise, most of them Cubans or Mexicans. Quite probably, he will sell or trade most of them, though, and build an entirely new club.

Mustangs Entered In ABC Club Meet

SWEETWATER — The Sweetwater High School track and field team, which is being coached by Mel Griggs, will see its first action March 14 in the Snyder Relays.

The Mustangs will also compete in the ABC Meet in Big Spring, the West Texas Relays at Odessa, the San Angelo Relays and the Bluebonnet Relays in Brownwood.

Only five seniors are out for the team. They are James Butler, Eugene Kouri, Carl Anderson, Frank Glass and Clifford Wilson.

HAROLD WEBB Back in Loop

The transfer of the Lamesa franchise is subject to approval of the league's directors but that, of course, is expected to be a mere formality. A mail vote will probably be taken.

Arturo C. Gonzales, who operated the franchise last year at Sweetwater, transferred it first to Pecos, then to Lamesa and later handed it back to the league.

Lamesa owns one of the finest Class C baseball parks in the country. The city formerly was a member of the WT-NM League but sold its franchise to Plainview following last season, after attendance skidded in the midst of a drought.

A drought effects the club perhaps as it hurts no other team in this area in than many of its fans have farming interests or are dependent upon people who do.

Lamesa Squad Is Reduced

LAMESA — The first week of spring football drills has ended at the local high school. Coach O. W. Follis has pared the squad to 45, a reduction of 20 from those issued uniforms originally.

Dee Phillips and Conrad Alexander, linemen, missed part of the workout's last week due to injuries and illness. Alexander may miss the entire drill due to an attack of the flu.

Two lettermen return to fill backfield positions. They are Johnny Jones, quarterback, and Bobby Burnett. Doyle Chapman is Jones' chief understudy.

The spring drills will be limited to three weeks.

Yanks And Bums Gain Support As Exhibition Season Opens

By JACK HAND ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Returning GI's, a fine rookie crop and an unusual number of first basemen add spice to the baseball situation as the 16 major league clubs open their exhibition season leading up to the April 13-14 openings.

Many problems must be solved in the five weeks remaining before the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers open the defense of their championships.

At this early TORGESON date, it appears that Casey Stengel's Yanks will be favored to break all records by winning a fifth straight American League pennant with Cleveland again providing the toughest opposition.

Addition of pitcher Russ Meyer makes the Dodgers the March choice in the National loop where New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis are expected to make strong bids.

Only one new manager—Fred Haney of the Pittsburgh Pirates—has taken over since the season closed but players have been shuttling from roster to roster like shares on the stock exchange.

The recent four-club swap in the National that brought Meyer to Brooklyn, first baseman Earl Torgeson to the Phils, second baseman Rocky Bridges to Cincinnati and first baseman Joe Adcock and shortstop Jim Pendleton to Boston may have decided the league race in February. Many think the addition of Meyer, a regular starting pitcher, is all the Dodgers need to become the first National repeaters since the Cards of 1942, '43 and '44.

The Phils think the acquisition of long-ball hitting Torgeson will be enough to bring them home first behind the gilt-edged pitching of Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Karl Drews.

New York, with Monte Irvin reported completely recovered from last spring's ankle fracture, counts on comebacks by pitchers Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen to close the 44-game lead Brooklyn held in October. Manager Leo Durocher wants to move Alvin Dark to second and let rookie Daryl Spencer from Minneapolis take a whirl at the shortstop job.

The St. Louis Cardinals point to their fine young pitchers—Harvey Haddix, Wilmer (Vinegar) Bendy Mitchell and Stu Miller—to get them back into the World Series money.

Except for the return of pitcher Whitey Ford from the Army to back up the big three of Alie Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Ed Lo-pat, the Yanks are standing pat on their four-time winners. With Mickey Mantle coming into his own as "the new Di Maggio," impressive rookies from the farm system probably will have to settle for utility roles with the American League champs.

Cleveland did not come up with the shortstop it needed so badly but it added Bob Hooper of Philadelphia to its already strong pitching staff. If Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Lemon repeat as 20-game winners, it wouldn't take much for the Indians to make up the two games by which they lost the pennant last fall.

Chicago's General Manager Frank Lane, the new "David Harum" of baseball, continued his wild swapping spree to make it 155 deals since he took over in 1948. Shortstop-third baseman Vern Stephens of Boston; first baseman Ferris Fain of Philadelphia, the 1952-53 batting champion; and pitchers Tommy Byrne of St. Louis and Mike Fornieles of Washington are the most important additions.

Lane's moves have kindled real pennant enthusiasm in White Sox fans.

Philadelphia also is pennant minded with the addition of power-hitter Eddie Robinson and infielder Don Kolloway to back up the pitching of Bobby Shantz, Harry Byrd and Alex Kellner.

Billies Beaten At Brownwood

BROWNWOOD — The Knott Hill Billies, District 23-B champions, lost out in the second round of the Girls' Regional Basketball Tournament here Friday evening, yielding to McCauley, 47-32.

It was the second loss of the season for the Howard County team. Both defeats came at the hands of McCauley.

Leona Lancaster scored 14 points for Knott, Wanda Jean Roman nine.

Knott had drawn a first round bye in the tournament.

Table with columns: Player, G, FG, FT, A, P, Ave. Lists statistics for McCauley (47) and Knott (32).

Pampa, South Park Crowned State Basketball Champs

Bowie Claims AA Title Again

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Pampa's poised Harvesters cut down the Austin Maroons 61-47 tonight to win the Class AAAA state school basketball crown.

Other titles in the interscholastic league's 33rd annual tourney were won by Beaumont's South Park in Class AAA; Bowie sensationally repeating in AA; White Oak in A; Cayuga in Class B after a hard struggle with Big Sandy, last year's champ.

South Park's smooth, record-smashing Greenies swamped Edison of San Antonio 83-54 to clinch the AAA championship. They scored the most points ever made in a state high school tournament in whipping Edison.

Jerry Mallett of South Park brought the record crowd of 7,800 to its feet roaring as he amassed a record high point total of 38 in AAA title game.

South Park scored the most points ever made by a team in the state high school tournament in winning the Class AAA title.

Records topped as Stephen F. Austin of Houston, Vernon and Blum won third place consolation honors in Classes AAAA, AAA, and B. Trinity in Conference A and San Marcos in AA won third places yesterday.

Stephen F. Austin dropped the pre-tourney favorite, Polytechnic of Fort Worth, 75-68, to go into third place. The total score of 143 set a new state tournament record in all divisions, topping the 130 set in the Amarillo-Greenville game in 1947.

The Vernon Lions defeated Paris, 80-41, for third place in AAAA, with Gordon Harvey and Ramon Towry sharing high scoring honors with 16 each.

No other school in the 33-year history of the state high school tournament has won over two in a row. Bowie has completed an undefeated year with 34 straight victories.

White Oak easily rode over Denver City 69-53 to take the conference A title in a game that also set some scoring records. A. J. Cayuga carried the 1953 Class B title back to the banks of the Trinity, unseating last year's champion, Big Sandy, 50-46.

District 23-B Champions

Members of the Knott girls' basketball team, champion of District 23-B the past season, are pictured above, surrounding their coach, J. T. Lowe. The Billies lost only two games during the 1952-53 season, both of them to McCauley.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The 1953 Big Spring High School gridders will, no doubt, have their hands full in the opening game this fall, at which time they invade San Angelo. True, they beat the Bobcats, 33-0, last year but the Tabbies reportedly are really working under their new head man, Bob Harrell, as everyone knew they would. Odessa's star as a track power may be in eclipse. The Bronchos were recently beaten in a triangular meet by Andrews. In 17 years as a skating professional, Sonja Heine has grossed an estimated $70,000,000, more than any other individual in the history of sports. That includes nine motion pictures, which grossed $25,000,000. Phillips 66 of Midland, a crack independent basketball team, plans to use several Hardin-Simmons University players in the State AAU Tournament later this month. HCJC's Jayhawks got a break when Cameron's Aggies of Oklahoma withdrew from the Region 5 Tournament at Amarillo. The locals had drawn the Aggies as a first round opponent. Amarillo's coach, Bob Carter, probably had his team pitted against Eastern Oklahoma A&M in the first round in hopes the Badgers could at least win consolation honors. The University of Houston is supposed to have its best football backfield in history coming up this fall. The Cougars boasted a great defense but little attack last year. The controversial Oil Bowl football game may yet go on, despite that recent court decision, because Midwestern University has announced plans to build a $100,000 stadium seating 15,000.

Local Baseball Fans To Get Break

Local baseball fans are in for a pleasant surprise. Last season, when the wind blew, the customers always flocked to one side or the other at Steer Park in useless efforts to escape the dust. The elements can get restless this year and the fans won't suffer, because all dirt within the park is being tied down, thanks to the genius of Hack Miller, who knows turf and how to work with it. When Jake McClain, who recently signed his 1953 contract with Big Spring, corresponded with the club's general manager, Bill Frank, recently, he jokingly put 350 and 40 HR's in parentheses with his signature to indicate what could be expected of him at the bat. The Broncs would settle for less but figure, as does big Jake, that he'll deal opposing pitchers misery in the local park. Plainview is still trying to raise $10,000 to complete work on its WT-NM League park.

Lon Morris Had Six Sophomores

Dutch Meyer, TCU's athletic director, gets a trip to Hawaii this summer. He'll instruct in a football coaching school there. Snyder High has come up with another crack half-miler. He is Keith Pittner, who ran practice jaunts in 2:12 and 2:10 early in the season. John Gary of Snyder ran fourth in the state meet in that event last year. Johnny Morrow, one of the officials of the HCJC-San Antonio JC basketball game in Denton last week, said the game was the easiest he's ever worked in his lengthening career as an arbiter because not a boy on either team protested a decision. HCJC had probably the biggest and certainly the most devoted and loudest rooting section in the state tournament. Billy Vessels, the Oklahoma football phenom who says he took that grid job in Canada "because it offers me more security," goes into the Army next year. One of the most successful basketball teams in these parts is the Westbrook High School girls' sextet, which has won 78 and lost 13 games in four seasons. The team has lost only three times at home, during that period. Allen Academic, a team that expected to go all the way to the finals in the TJJC Tournament at Denton and didn't, carried a record of 17 wins and nine losses to the meet but had been outscored by the combined opposition, 1744-1815. Six members of the Lon Morris squad that sacked HCJC in the finals are sophomores, four of whom were regulars. Leading scorer in District 1-AAA basketball play last season was Sweetwater's Carl Anderson, with 245 points, followed by Lester Dye, Vernon, with 213, and Ned Underwood, Snyder. Dye played in 12 games, one more than the other two.

Rose Rice And Anna Thorp Rate All-Tourney Sextet

SWEETWATER — Lamesa grabbed first place in the Sweetwater Girls' Valley Ball Tournament here Saturday afternoon, defeating the host team in the finals, 25-15.

Lamesa had qualified for the last round with a thrilling 25-20 triumph over a co-favorite in the meet, Big Spring.

Big Spring, which had drawn a first round bye, qualified for the game with Lamesa by routing the Sweetwater reserves in the quarterfinals, 48-8.

Sweetwater moved along with victories over Winters, 54-18; and Abilene, 29-19, in that order, after drawing a first round bye. Lamesa bested Snyder, 41-18, in second round activity after draw-

Rotary Edges Phillips Tire

MIDLAND — Rotary Engineer of Midland won the District TAAE title by defeating the Phillips Tire team of Big Spring, 101-81, here Saturday night.

Phillips led at half time by one point but fell behind after George Simpson fouled out. Simpson had scored 20 points.

Bennie Rutherford and Gerald Rogers paced Rotary with 21 points each but the game's high scorer was Bob Parkin of Big Spring with 22.

Both teams won a trip to the State Tournament at Temple. Phillips will probably leave Thursday for the meet.

Phillips had beaten Phillips 66 of Notrees Friday night, 72-67, to get to the finals.

MONDAY AT 2:00

Hawks Play Sayre, Okla., In Region 5 Tournament

HCJC is seeded second, immediately behind Eastern Oklahoma A & M, in the Region 5 Basketball Tournament, which begins Monday afternoon in Amarillo.

Winner of the tournament becomes eligible to compete in the National JC Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas, later this month.

The Jayhawks, who were runner-up in the State Tournament at Denton last week, will be handicapped in the meet. Tall Richard Gilmore, who gave the locals plenty of authority around the backboards, will not be eligible for the show.

HCJC, which now has a 28-4 won-lost record, will meet Sayre, Okla., in the first round. The Hawks will be heavily favored to win that one. The game starts at 2 p.m.

The Big Springers will go to Amarillo Sunday in order to rest for the meet.

Other first round games pitted Arlington State, seeded No. 3, against Oklahoma A & M Tech at Okmulgee at 4 p.m.; Conners State, the defending champion, against Clarendon at 7 p.m.; and Eastern Oklahoma A & M of Wilburton against Amarillo at 9 p.m.

If the Hawks win, they meet the winner of the Conners-Clarendon contest on Tuesday.

Conners lost not only several regulars but its coach after last season. It is seeded fourth in this year's meet.

Pat Stasey Signs Players In Cuba

Pat Stasey, former manager-owner of the Big Spring Broncs stopped here this week en route to Roswell.

Stasey, who recently returned from Cuba, brought word that he had signed nine prospects, including four for Big Spring.

He did not identify them by name but said they would fill the bill as longhorn League players.

Stasey "owed" the local club four players under terms of the contract drawn between him and the Big Spring club.

Stasey will return to Cuba the latter part of this month to pick up the players.

OKLAHOMA AGGIES EASY WINNER AT FORT WORTH

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, March 7 (AP)—Oklahoma A&M's balanced team, featuring effervescent Mickey Wilborn, who scored 16 points, and its great Norwegian star, Fredrick Eckhoff, spread-eagled the field today in winning the university division of the Southwest Recreation Track and Field Meet as 10 records fell and two others were tied in four classes.

The Oklahoma Aggies swarmed to a blistering total of 63 1-5 points to more than double the second-place team, defending champion Southern Methodist.

North Texas State easily repeated with the college division title, Southern Methodist was a pronounced victor in the college freshman class, Victoria rolled up 66 1/2 points in outscoring everybody to again win the junior college crown and Sunset of Dallas came in with the high school title.

Oklahoma A&M won 10 events and tied for two others in the 14 events run off. Only in one—the shot put—were the ambitious Aggies shut out.

The Aggies chipped in with three of the ten records. One of them was by their Swedish freshman star, Sture Landquist, who ran the mile in 4:23.7 in the college freshman class to wipe out the old mark of 4:28.4 set by Javier Montes of Texas Western in 1949.

Landquist had been expected to set an overall meet record, which would have meant doing the mile in under 4:14.2, but his coach, Ralph Higgins, ran him under wraps with orders not to go faster than 4:25. Landquist suffered a leg cramp in a workout Wednesday and Higgins did not think he was in proper condition to let loose.

Eckhoff did the mile in 4:17.2 in the university class to better the old record of 4:20.3 set by Jim Brown of Arkansas in 1951. Then Bill Heard ripped off a 1:56.4 half-mile to smash the record of 1:57.1 set by Bill Lyda of Oklahoma in 1941.

Wilborn won both hurdles, tied for first in the high jump and took third in the broad jump to be high point man of the university class.

Charles Teague of North Texas State copped the 100 and 220-yard dashes in leading North Texas State to its smashing victory. His 10 points made the North Texas State total 60 1/2. Athlete Christian was a poor second with 26.

'Big Gun' Bends Pipe

"BIG GUN" of the pipeline business is this pipe bending machine in operation on the Rancho Pipeline System, now being constructed by the Shell Pipeline Corporation. Though in this picture the 25,000-pound machine resembles a huge self-propelled cannon, its purpose is capable of making smooth, cold bends of three-fourths of one degree. The big machine, built by Crutcher, Rolfs, Cummings, Inc., is capable of making smooth, cold bends of three-fourths of one degree per foot of length of pipe. The Rancho, which will extend 467 miles from McCamey to Houston, is scheduled for completion about March 1.

Spraberry Region Operators, Royalty Owners Slate Meet

All persons having production or interests in the Spraberry Trend areas have been asked to attend a meeting in Midland at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The session will be in the auditorium of the Humble Building. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for representatives of Spraberry operators and royalty owners at a hearing to be held by the Railroad Commission of Texas in Austin March 17.

That hearing has been called by the commission to give operators and oil royalty owners an opportunity to "show cause" why the entire Spraberry area should not be shut in until gas flaring is eliminated. Representatives of four gasoline and gas companies who purchase gas in the Spraberry region have been requested to attend the Wednesday meeting and explain plans for providing an outlet for all flare gas in the area.

Those concerns are the Tex-Harvey Gasoline Company, the El Paso Natural Gasoline Company, the Texas Natural Gasoline Products Company, and the Phillips Petroleum Company.

The steering committee of the Spraberry operators, which was organized in 1952, hopes a representative group of operators and royalty owners can attend the meeting so that after facts in the situation are explained, a plan can be formulated for a united front with regard to appearance at the March 17 hearing.

It is understood that definite arrangements are being made for all flare gas in the Spraberry Trend area to be run to gasoline plants and into pipelines in the near future.

The steering committee of the Spraberry operators group is composed of representatives of the Humble Oil & Refining, Stanolind Oil & Gas, Ohio Petroleum, Tide Water Associated, Rutter & Wilbanks, Slick-Urschel-Oil, James A. Snowden, et al, and Ted Weiner, et al.

Information on the meeting or the plans may be obtained from A. W. Rutter Jr., telephone 2-6192 in Midland.

Because of the shortness of time, no written notices or invitations will be mailed to operators or royalty owners in advance of the meeting.

Well Completed In The Spraberry Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 20C Sam Preston has been completed in the Spraberry Trend area of eastern Midland County. During 24 hours flow, it made 328.26 barrels of 38.8 gravity oil. The well has been treated with 13,000 gallons of hydrate and it made no water. Tubing pressure was 225 and a 24-64 choke was used. Gas-oil ratio was 762. Top of pay was 7,139, total depth 7,303, 5 1/2-in. oil string set at 7,133. Location is 660 from the north and east lines of section 30-37-4s, T&P.

Schleicher Test To Ellenburger

Humble No. 1 S. L. Stanford has been announced as an Ellenburger wildcat in west-central Schleicher County.

It will be located 1,980 from the south and 660 from the east lines of section 196-A, H&WT survey. This puts it five and a half miles southwest of Eldorado. Projected depth is 8,000 feet or pay at a lesser depth. Operations will start at once.

CHEMICAL WIZARDRY

Cosden To Enter New Field In Making Of Aviation Gasoline

Announcement last week by Cosden Petroleum Corporation of plans to construct an alkylation unit for making of aviation gasoline opens still another vista for this busy concern.

Already a refiner, an asphalt maker, and a petrochemical manufacturer, Cosden now will extend its facilities to synthesize alkylate from certain liquefied petroleum gases. With this as a base stock, the company then will blend other components of high grade 115-145 octane aviation gasoline.

This represents more chemical magic through use of a catalyst. In this case the catalyst will be either hydro-fluoric or sulphuric acid, most likely the latter.

In the process, isobutane and isobutylene or normal butylene are brought together in the presence of the catalyst, which causes a migration of hydrogen atoms from one of the C-4 hydrocarbons to a position of double bond on the other. The result is formation of a C-5 hydrocarbon.

There is an inclination for the butylene to dominate the process, so the isobutane is constantly recycled to maintain the balance necessary for desired results.

Operators then take the alkylate and blend it with such products as isopentane and toluene. The latter product is one of three major items produced from the BTX petrochemical plant which Cosden operates. The refinery turns out most of the other raw materials, although there will be need of some supplementary supplies from natural gasoline plants in the area.

One interesting facet of the project is the growing demand for aviation gasoline in the face of an announcement that only jet fighters are to be made henceforth.

The answer is that many of the bombers still use propeller-driven engines. More than this, the transport fleet is powered by conventional engines. Today, increasingly amazing tonnages are being moved by air so that the demand

Borden Prospector Is Making Progress

Vickers No. 1 Orson, western Borden deep wildcat, was making steady progress at the end of the week. Saturday it was reported at 3,100 in shale and lime. Location is C SE SE 11-33-50, T&P, which puts it 14 miles west of Gail. Projected depth is 10,500 feet, which should take it to the Ellenburger.

Reef Wildcat Due In Eastern Kent

Estate of R. A. Welch, Deceased of Houston, et al No. 1 T, O, Sorrelle, is to be a central-eastern Kent County exploration. This test will be located 660 from the north and 1,980 from the east lines of section 399-2, H&TC, 12 miles southeast of Clairmont. The contract depth is 7,500 to test the Pennsylvanian lime. It is to be spudded immediately.

for aviation gasoline has been greater than the supply.

The U. S. government has contracted to take the Cosden output, which will be around 2,000 barrels per day, thus insuring a stable market for the product. In addition, the project is marked for quick amortization for tax purposes.

The alkylation unit will operate under refrigerated conditions. For some reason, not fully explained, the lowering of temperatures by five degrees at one point sharply increases the power output. At 45 degrees instead of 50, one of the carbon atoms in isobutylene shifts to the end of the chain instead of jutting off the center. This change in position for some strange reason, influences the power potential.

If the sulphuric acid process is utilized here, this may pose a "problem" that opens the door to other possibilities. What to do with the spent acid is a question. Of course, other uses might be found for it. In some places, this has been employed successfully in making high grade fertilizers.

Gaines Exploration To Test In Permian

Bay Petroleum Corporation, et al No. 1 Zilpha M. Russell is to test the lower Permian lime in southwestern Gaines County. Projected depth for this 8,000-foot prospector will be 660 from the north and west lines of section 17-A-24, PSL survey.

Uncertainty Of PAD Extension Still Exists

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncertainty hovers over the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) pending definite word from the Eisenhower administration as to the agency's future.

The question is whether PAD will be in business after June 30 when the Defense Production Act, under which the PAD was set up, expires.

Meanwhile, the agency is largely restricting its activities to emergency problems.

Applications for emergency allocations of casing and tubing are being processed as received.

Applications for third quarter casing, tubing and drill pipe are still coming in but are not being processed. They are simply being put on file for action if Congress sees fit to continue such allocation controls beyond June 30.

Although there's no official word on the subject, PAD authorities suggest that operators file applications for casing, tubing and drill pipe for the three-month period beginning July 1 even though the effort may turn out to be meaningless.

The PAD has announced a March 15 deadline for the filing of special applications for drill pipe, applications for line pipe still are being received and put on file, even though the deadline for those requests was supposed to have been March 1.

The question of whether the states or the federal government own offshore oil lands is heading for the real showdown.

Both Senate and House committees have completed hearings on the subject and are expected to approve, before the end of next week, some form of legislation to give the states clear title to at least a portion of the submerged oil lands.

Numerous oil industry representatives, especially from major companies, attended virtually all sessions of the hearings, which consumed most of three weeks. They have carefully avoided comments which would tend to line them up with any particular legislation or with either side of the controversy.

A comprehensive summary of the nation's petroleum picture, along with lavish praise for the men who have directed the oil industry's growth, was given in the House this week by Rep. Lyle (D) of Corpus Christi.

Choosing Monday because it was the 117th anniversary of Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico, Lyle described the part of the oil and gas industry in the economic growth and welfare of Texas and the nation.

Oil actually is being produced in 27 states, Lyle said, adding:

"Mining and geological and geophysical work is currently being conducted in practically every state in the union. Almost 14 per cent or more of the total land area of the United States, more than 275 million acres, is now under lease for oil and gas. In practical terms, such activity translates into millions of dollars, being paid to hundreds of thousands of families and land-owners each year throughout the United States for such leases and royalty payments."

"All predictions to the contrary, the oil industry is today on the threshold of new technical and scientific advances and discoveries which will make its past performance appear amateurish."

Sun No. 1 McCabe Still Makes Strong Flow

Sun No. 1 McCabe, prospective southeastern Mitchell County discovery continued to flow steadily Saturday from the reef. A potential test is due to be taken early this week.

In 18 hours of flowing through a 3 1/2-inch choke, the well made 196 barrels of oil and 60 water. Flowing pressure was 500 pounds on this week.

New Department Is Created In Western Company Set-Up

MIDLAND—Cyrus V. Helm has been named the head of the new field engineering department created by The Western Company of Midland to provide geological and petroleum engineering service to the oil industry of this area.

Walter Beadle, vice president in charge of operations, said the service is available to operators to assist them in the selection of the proper acidizing techniques or to aid in planning work-over programs.

Morris W. Frack has been promoted to consulting mechanical engineer with Western, according to John F. Younger, vice president and assistant general manager. He will serve as consulting on well servicing and will conduct research in that field on acidizing and perforating. B. J. Terrell, former experimental and development engineer, will succeed Frack as chief mechanical engineer.

Drilling Steady But Below Last Year

DALLAS.—A total of 2,580 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of March 2, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company. This compares with 2,582 reported a week ago, 2,625 a month ago, and with 2,845 in the comparable week of 1952. A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks includes West Texas & New Mexico 452 on Feb. 23 and 460 on March 2.

More Than 100 Youngsters Are Aided By The Milk And Ice Fund

Persons who contributed to the Milk and Ice Fund last fall are providing milk for underprivileged Big Spring youngsters at the rate of more than 500 quarts per month. The milk—and ice—is going into homes of widowed mothers or where the father is unable to provide adequately for reasons of health.

At present, 44 children are receiving milk provided by the fund. In all, more than 100 different youngsters have been put on the road to health as a result of the Milk and Ice contributions, reports Jewel Barton, public health nurse for the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

Miss Barton and Fire Chief H. V. Crocker are in charge of the fund. The nurse makes regular visits to the homes of the recipients of milk and ice to be sure that deliveries are being made properly. Crocker takes care of bills and handles other financial details.

At the present rate of disbursement, the fire chief figures the fund will last about three more months. It costs from $150 to $175 per month to furnish the milk and ice and the fund has a balance of $653.22.

Since last September, $753.81 worth of milk and ice has been purchased, not including February expenditures for which bills haven't been received.

During the five-month period, $622.13 was spent for milk, $120.80 went for ice, and $10.88 worth of baby food was purchased, Crocker reported.

Miss Barton said 15 families with 44 infants or small children now are receiving regular quotas of milk purchased out of the fund. On the ice list are children of 10 families.

Infants receive a quart of milk per day, while larger children each receive a pint daily.

Most of the youngsters have widowed mothers, although the fathers of a few families have tuberculosis and are unable to provide a livelihood for their children. There are Negro, Anglo-American and Latin-American families on the Milk and Ice Fund roll.

The same group hasn't been receiving assistance since the fund first was set up last year. Some are removed from the list as they become able to provide for their families. Others take their places.

Miss Barton said the fund has made milk and ice available to approximately 100 youngsters for varying periods.

In addition to the milk and ice provided for underprivileged children, a number of ice boxes also have been placed in homes as a result of Crocker's and Miss Barton's work. Appliance dealers and individuals have contributed about 12 boxes so that mothers might keep milk fresh for their youngsters.

The Milk and Ice Fund was created last summer when city firemen made available for that purpose money which they had raised to repair toys for Christmas distribution the year before.

Approximately $300 was subscribed by Howard County residents, the county's first bale of cotton also was contributed, and firemen this year added $348.50 left over from the 1952 Christmas Cheer Fund.

The total subscribed to the fund has been $1,407.03, with $653.22 remaining.

Monthly expenditures since Sept. 1:

Month	Milk	Ice
Sept.	$68.37	$26.50
Oct.	103.88	32.40
Nov.	185.88	13.00
Dec.	136.95	24.00
Jan.	127.05	24.00
Totals:	$622.13	$120.80

x-Not including baby food, $10.88.
Total, milk, ice and baby food, $753.81. Balance, Feb. 1, $653.22.

Brand New Autos To Face Atomic Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 7 (AP)—A hundred or more automobiles, some of them brand new, will be exposed to the St. Patrick's Day atomic blast to determine how safe you would be in your car if the real thing went off.

No. 1 in the Atomic Energy Commission's spring series is designed chiefly to put the searing heat of a nuclear explosion on the things folks deal with daily. It already has been announced that two frame houses will be in the target area, one only half a mile from the blast's center.

The Civil Defense Administration found itself without enough money to build or buy all the things it wanted to study. So it promoted the cars from manufacturers and dealers in all parts of the country.

It pitched the problem to dealers like this:

"One of the great gaps in our knowledge is the amount of protection afforded by typical American automobiles. Because the American public owns and operates nearly 40 million automobiles, it is certain that an enemy attack would find many thousands of people in cars."

J. Slaten Jenner, director of the project, says CDA is proud of the patriotic response.

These cars will be driven here at their owners' expense, and back again for exhibition purposes if they can be driven. CDA expects the great majority of vehicles will not suffer major damage.

In return for his expense and risk, the dealer can have a reserved seat at Charleston Park, 40 miles or more from where the bomb goes off, and the chance to display the car in his home town if he gets back with it.

As CDA puts it: "Cars will be focal points for public instruction of what the test did, and what people can expect if the atom blast hits them in cars."

Of those on the ground so far, the most distant comes from Harold J. Moye of Newton, Mass.

Jury Service Notices To Go Out This Week

Notices will be sent to 24 men Monday for jury service during criminal trial week in Howard County Court. Criminal cases will be held during the week starting March 17.

Members of the jury panel, who were secretly selected by a jury commission some time ago, are not known. County Judge R. H. Weaver said their names are sealed in an envelope filed in the county clerk's office. The envelope will be opened Monday.

Approximately six cases will be tried, and most of them concern charges of driving while intoxicated, according to County Attorney Hartman Hooser.

April 13th in exciting color

With Easter just four weeks away, and Spring's official arrival even nearer than that, it's completely timely that thoughts should be centered on the season's new finery. What milady likes for Spring, 1953 is illustrated by local models on this page.

MRS. J. EMMETTE MILLER (upper left) wears a grey worsted man-tailored suit combined with a white crepe blouse. Her natural colored straw sailor is trimmed in navy with a navy blue veil. She wears navy blue pumps and carries a blue faille bag. Her suit pocket is adorned with a corsage of artificial violets.

MRS. TOOTS MANSFIELD (upper right) also chooses a grey suit, designed with a yellow, grey and white tweed boxy jacket and a straight skirt. With the suit she chooses a yellow straw hat with a softly rolled brim, and trimmed in white pique. White cotton shortie gloves and a white scarf, white bead loop earrings and black kid pumps are attractive accessories. She holds a bouquet of yellow daffodils.

MRS. ELVIS McCRARY (lower left) shows a natural linen suit designed with a boxy jacket with three-quarter length sleeves, and a straight skirt. A beige rough straw hat frames her face and at her throat is a tangerine colored figured scarf. Her shoes and bag are black patent. Accessories include natural color shortie gloves, a gold bracelet and black enamel and gold earrings.

LIBBY JONES (lower right) wears an attractive teen-age model—a pale green polished cotton dress which buttons down the front with self-covered buttons. The belt also is self-covered. She accents this model with white nylon shortie gloves, white linen pumps and a white pique Dutch bonnet with a short beige veil.

A-Round The Corner . . . Toot Toot

With Spring tripping lightly around the corner, our thoughts just naturally turn to brightening that bend, and here . . . one step ahead of the season . . . is spring's first choice of sprightly decorator fabrics, Early American hand prints for occasional chairs and draperies.

From a host of color hues . . . we particularly like the Early Glass pattern in charcoal, figured with authentic milk glass candy jars; butter dishes and pitchers; and the exquisite Greenfield Bottles design in primrose yellow which was used in the Henry Ford Museum.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts Monday

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will be launched Monday throughout Big Spring by girls of the local troops.

Mrs. R. W. Cagle, chairman of the Cookie Sale, said the drive would continue through March 14. The sale is held annually during the week of the anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts. The organization was founded March 12, 1912, by Juliette Low at Savannah, Ga.

A $5 prize will be given to the troop which sells the most cartons. Approximately 251 cartons of 50 cents each were sold last year by the girls.

Of that amount 22 cents goes to the area camp fund, 25 cents to the company manufacturing the cookies and 5 cents to the troop. The cookies which are encased with the Girl Scout emblem come already packaged and labeled, ready for distribution. The girls make a house-to-house campaign to sell them.

Special interest has been created in the drive this year because of the purchase of a site for the established camp, which the area camp committee hopes to have in operation by summer. Plans for a dining hall already are in the national office for approval.

Jr. Forum Presents Texas Day Program

The Junior Women's Forum held its Texas Day program Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wallace Carr, 608 Bell, with Mrs. Carl A. Benson as co-hostess.

Guest speakers were Elton Gilliland and Mrs. Clyde Angel. Mr. Gilliland spoke on the history of Texas from the time the colonists were attracted to Mexico by large land grants in the Revolution.

He described Texas as being a most unusual state, both as to the large quantity of its resources and the people who were attracted to its industry.

Language difficulties developed because of the many Mexicans who did not come here to become citizens. Huge plantations were developed in Mexico and the owners brought raw materials into Texas and refused to pay duties or become citizens.

He described Texas as a wedge in the expansion of the U. S. by causing the Texas Revolution, and told of the romance and despondency which followed.

Mrs. Angel gave humorous readings published prior to 1850 by old-time editors in "poetry corners."

Guest day was observed and refreshments were served to the

Wednesday:

HB 282 prescribing annexation proceedings for cities. SB 90 regulating powers of initiative and referendum in cities. SB 172 defining the territory which may be annexed by certain cities.

Showdown Due Soon On State Money Worries

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Put up or shut time on the spending versus taxing issue loomed like a black storm cloud as the 53rd Legislature neared the halfway point.

Warnings that spending even at present levels may bring a deficit were further dramatized by a comptroller's report showing the general revenue fund's net cash balance shrank $2,651,513 in February.

The session reaches its 60th day Friday with the spend-and-tax or save-and-not-tax question coming to a head.

A flurry of activity among lobbyists and increasing pressure from both sides indicated a showdown must come soon. Literature designed to show that natural resources, especially natural gas, are already paying their share or more of state costs is piling up on lawmakers' desks. And the House faction urging more taxes on natural resources has several new propositions cooking.

Gov. Shivers indicated he agrees with the comptroller's view that declining oil revenues bring a threat of a deficit if the Legislature holds spending to what it is now.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt took the floor in an unusual action to urge no increase in money made available for state services. A group that looks now like a minority wants a big increase in teachers pay, to give state employees at least a cost of living increase and to boost prison expenditures.

It had been thought some small increases might be made without danger of a deficit. Now it's beginning to look definitely as if anything in the nature of token increases would also demand some new taxing.

There was plenty of action on the floor and in committees last week.

Most sensational was a short-lived effort to formally open the doors of all-male Texas A&M. The Senate, passed, then killed, a resolution to that effect after he-man Aggies everywhere cried it wouldn't be right.

The session's first big money bill, a $3,225,000 item for new state hospitals, was signed into law by Gov. Shivers.

Dallas and Houston started a fight to be designated as the districts for Texas' new congressmen. It's still in committee.

A strict narcotic law aimed at the illicit dope traffic was passed by the House and hurried along to the Senate.

A commission to work on problems of getting the most out of every dollar spent for education, instructed to report April 1, was

Soviet Revolutions Made Stalin's Name Well Known

Joseph Stalin sprang from a level to become the most powerful dictator in world history. Yesterday's chapter of his life, marked by frequent arrests and imprisonments, is the story of the Czar's forces. Today William L. Ryan, who has made a painstaking study of Stalin's background, writes of "two revolutions."

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst
Joseph Vissarionovich (Djugashvili) Stalin's life was one of never-ending intrigue and fantastic paradoxes, of bloody violence and deep political machinations, of steel will and iron-fisted ruthlessness which cast a shadow over world history for decades.

When the Czar was overthrown in 1917, the name Stalin was scarcely known at all outside Russia and little known inside the country. It was not for several years, after he had seized the revolution and turned it to his own purposes that the world began to reckon with him.

Stalin was one of the Bolsheviks closest to St. Petersburg (now Leningrad) when the February Revolution struck. With Russian troops disorganized on the German front in World War I, with the soldiers' morale gone, with unrest spreading through the nation, the intelligentsia led a revolution which led to the abdication of Czar Nicholas II in March.

Stalin had rushed back from exile when the revolution broke. He took charge of the Bolsheviks when Lenin was still a month away, traveling by train from his exile in Switzerland.

With Leon Kamenev (The Stone) and a young ex-clerk named Scriabin, who used the name V. M. Molotov, Stalin took over the editorship of the Social Democratic newspaper Pravda and immediately called for a "democratic republic." The gospel according to Marx was that Russia was unready for proletarian rule.

Soon after Lenin's arrival, the Bolsheviks proclaimed themselves the "Communist party (Bolshevik)" to distinguish themselves from the minority Mensheviks. Lenin announced that now all Europe was ready for socialism. This was the view, too, of Lev Davidovich Bronstein (Leon Trotsky), who by now had left the Mensheviks and associated himself with the Bolshevik wing.

With the war still on, a charge was raised in the provisional government that Lenin and other Bolsheviks were German spies. Lenin, Trotsky and Kamenev went into hiding, and the inconspicuous

Lenin became premier. Trotsky was commissar of war and foreign affairs. Stalin was minister of nationalities and one of the first Politburo of four members. In its first acts, the Council of Ministers abolished the death penalty and gave freedom to Finland, in line with the Marxist doctrine of self-determination. Stalin himself went to Finland to finalize this. But self-determination in the Ukraine was another matter. A Bolshevik government sprang up there, and the policy was revised.

The revolutionary policy from then on was ruthless suppression of all opposition, and this resulted in a state of civil war in Russia against the so-called "White" armies and against the intervention of the Allies, including the United States.

The Reds barely held Petrograd against the first White attack. The armistice with the Germans broke down and they marched on Petrograd but the treaty of Brest-Litovsk saved the day for the Reds, ending Russia's part in the war.

Angered at the treaty, the Social Revolutionary party staged uprisings, in one of which Lenin was wounded and some Bolshevik leaders were killed. An attempt was made on Trotsky's life. The Bolsheviks answered with bloody reprisals. Stalin and his old comrade of the Bakul strike days, Klement Voroshilov, called for open mass terror against the bourgeoisie.

Meanwhile, the first Soviet Constitution was written and a Communist International was formed. The Bolsheviks looked on their state as the first stage of communicism. The Bolsheviks immediately demanded "all power to the Soviets." Stalin, as emissary of Lenin on the Bolshevik Central Committee, plotted the revolt against the central provisional government at the All-Russian Congress of Soviets in October.

On Nov. 7 it is called the October Revolution because the Russian calendar was 13 days behind the West's Gregorian—the Bolsheviks struck. The Kerensky government was in panic. It had ordered the arrest of Bolshevik leaders, but it was too late.

Trotsky's military committee seized the Petrograd garrison and arrested its officers. The government sent troops to occupy Stalin's newspaper office, but Trotsky's committee sent troops to hold it. The fight burgeoned to strategic points in the city and Trotsky took them. The Bolsheviks stormed the winter palace, seat of the provisional government, took it, and were in power.

A VISIT TO A SCHOOL

Textbooks Are Brighter And So Are Students Of Today

During Texas Education Week, Herold staff members have been visiting your schools and reporting on them. The following article is the last of a series on the day-to-day activities of the students.—Ed.

There is as much difference in the first graders of today and those of the "years ago" as there is in the books they study.

A visit to the first graders at East Ward School is convincing proof that the brightness of today's first graders as compared with the first graders of 40 years ago is reflected in the brightness of today's text books as compared with those bleak, drab, uninteresting black-and-white volumes that delineated the rudiments of the three-R's a couple of scores of years ago.

In contrast, today's first grade books are brighter, and so are the students themselves. Today's books are bright with every color that the imagination of printing ink manufacturers can envision, and those inquiring little first grade minds have responded with the same difference and in the same measure, to the wonderful and amazing advancements that have been made in the science of education.

As a direct result of the progress made in educational methods today's first graders are just naturally smarter than any other first graders that have gone before them. Next year's first graders will show even more progress as the teachers develop even greater skill through experience.

Best of all, though, is the undeniable fact that these boys and girls, in spite of their academic progress, are still just plain boys and girls with a touch of Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher in the good old-fashioned American tradition.

Tip was a wonderful dog. The kids were reading about her. She knew a lot of tricks. First one and then another of the children around the table were reading a page of the story to the others. Finally one little fellow couldn't stand the tremendous appeal of Tip any longer.

"Boy," he exclaimed aloud, "I wish I had that dog!"

Then, having expressed his feelings he returned his attention in-

Mrs. Thelma Kloven, the teacher, put the word "One" on the blackboard, explaining that the children were not too familiar with it as a word. But one little fellow just knew it was the name of some numeral.

"Two," he identified it.

"No," said a little girl, "that's one."

"That's right," said Mrs. Kloven. "Oh, I know," the boy commented brightly, "just like we one a game."

Then they had their first word with a "Z" in it, a word they'll never forget. You've guessed it. The word was zebra. In their reading they occasionally ran into an unfamiliar word like "count." This is explained by the fact that many children are frequently changing schools these days and their previous training has been in readers not used here. Thus they face the disadvantage of often meeting words with which they don't have a speaking acquaintance.

A part of their word training consists of dropping certain letters from words and then adding other letters to make new words, thus establishing the similarity of some words and making pronunciation easier.

"How much is four and four?" the teacher asked.

"Eight!" they answered in unison.

"How much is five and five?"

"How much is six and six?"

"Twelve!" they chimed, and then one thoughtful little fellow added, "and twelve is a dozen."

"And what do you buy by the dozen?" questioned the teacher.

"Eggs!" he said.

By now the children were becoming a little restless, but Mrs. Kloven had a cure for that.

"It's time to stand up and sing some songs," she told them. "What do you want to sing?"

"Billy Boy! The Bus Song! Billy Boy!"

They sang, and then soon afterward it was time for the afternoon recess.

School, as Sixth Grade History at Park Hill School knew it one day last week, hasn't changed much in 25 years.

The great outdoors, as seen

This was a noble gesture following the Pentecost. Within reason it is commendable practice, but we must remember that the churches were taking up collections for the poor in Jerusalem for many years after this distribution makes paupers of all. ## Measures Should Be Enacted To Clarify Water Laws Of State

Several measures have been introduced in the House which would furnish the tools for carrying out policies agreed upon by the citizens groups known as the Governor's Statewide Water Committee.

This group had come up with recommendations in four major fields. Now there are bills before the legislature which would cancel all permits and certified filings of which no part has been used for 10 years and would set up a water pollution advisory council; would provide for temporary season water permits not to exceed one year; would widen and strengthen the powers of the board of water engineers and put enforcement means at its disposal; would clarify statutes as to how state waters can be appropriated; would set up more definite methods of procedure for applying for water permits; would fix terms of water board members and set up a chief engineer; would create a state water resources committee to make a continuing study of all data on Texas water resources and to make recommendations.

Another measure before the legislature is that of Sen. John Bell which would create a fund out of which state financing could be arranged for some of the water projects within the state. Sen. Bell would levy a tax of 10 cents per acre foot for waters used for irrigation domestic use, and other consumptive uses, and five consumptive uses. Basically, this is a reasonable approach if proper allowance or credit is given for permit payments, etc. and if it is put to a use basis rather than a potential or reserve.

The salient points of these bills represent the best thinking of Texans called to make a serious study of the state's No. 1 physical if not economic problem. Their enactment, in the main, should provide at least a coordinated start toward a sounder water program.

Perhaps it is just as well that they be presented separate and apart from the noticeably missing portion of the water picture, that of ground waters. So far as is humanly possible, there should be a clarification of these laws.

These Days - George Sokolsky

Stalin Achieved Much, But He Broke The Spirit Of His People

The indispensability of any man is a fallacy of both the great and small. Rome outlived Caesar and even the golden horde of the Mongols outlived Genghis Khan. And the human race manages to survive dead empires.

Joseph Stalin achieved much for his country. In terms of territory, his gains exceed those of all the Czars. In terms of material improvement, the progress under his regime has been unequalled in human history. In a short period of two decades, he established a steel production twice that of Great Britain, one-third that of the United States.

But he broke the spirit of man and he has kept the entire human race in turmoil. He reinstated human slavery, reducing man to a thing, and erasing that "thing" at his will. He made personal murder a weapon of statecraft.

He set himself up as a God and required a personal adulation unequalled since Nero. His photograph was an ordered symbol of faith and his icon was carried through the streets of his cities. He insisted that his words, ranging from statecraft, through economics and linguistics, to biology and music, be accepted as sacred writ and as final. Those who disagreed with his obiter dicta were disgraced and mortified.

He not only chose to be a Czar but acted as though he were a God and treated not only his country but all other nations as his footstool.

His most important writ was "Foundations of Leninism," which had to be accepted as the final doctrine on thought and conduct by his partisans. The basis of that doctrine is the world revolution, the struggle against existing institutions in all countries. This Stalin stated as follows:

"...Could the Russian Communists have confined their operations within the narrow national limits of the Russian Revolution? Certainly not. On the contrary, the whole situation, internal (profound revolutionary crisis) and external (war) pushed them beyond these confines in their work, to transfer their struggles to the international arena, expose the ulcers of imperialism to full view, demonstrate the inevitable collapse of capitalism, defeat social-chauvinism and social-pacifism, and finally overthrow capitalism in their own country and forge a new weapon of struggle for the proletariat, the theory and tactics of the proletarian revolution, in order to lighten for the proletariat of all countries the task of overthrowing capitalism. The Russian Communists could not act otherwise, for this was the only path along which such changes in the international situation as would ensure Russia against the restoration of the bourgeois order could be expected."

In consonance with this view, Communist parties in all countries were developed into apparatuses of espionage, sabotage, infiltration and propaganda. These weapons became instruments of war not only for the ideas and ideals of communism but for the revival of slavish imperialism.

Since 1943, Stalin's efforts have met with astonishing success. He has not only spread his empire from Elbe to the Pacific but in every country he has built a cell of power which is not limited to efforts among the masses but includes members of governments. He has even succeeded in weakening the resistance among his opponents by the use of ingenious propaganda, making opposition to him and his ideas liberal and offensive to the traditions of the nation which he was engaged in suborning.

His absence from power, can hardly affect the course of his country. Only those survive in power who have been trained to obey obedience to his concepts. His probable successor, Malenkov, was for many years his secretary and knows no other way of life but Stalin's. The maturity that comes with years will be lacking in Malenkov, who knows no other country but his own.

Yet, there will be a struggle for power, although it may not come immediately. The greatest danger to Russia lies in Stalin's prestige among his own people arising from his successes. No immediate successor can achieve as much or can compete with his reputation. Therefore the struggle for personal power will come as comparisons are made and as the military and the party group vie for authority. The probability is that the Russian army will reject war while the party leaders will seek war as a unifying force. In this struggle for power, Stalin's work may be undone.

A universal historic pattern will be his epitaph. After the tyranny comes death.

Sunday Talk: About Latin Words

A Latin teacher, Miss Belle Gould, writes:

"Latin Week is observed each year by Latin classes. The dates for the week differ in different places, but I hope you again will give us a topic. Your articles about the Romans in past years have proved most interesting and inspiring."

Thank you, Miss Gould. If you, or some other teacher, will remind me far enough in advance each year in the future, I shall try to include at least one article on Latin in my schedule, as long as fortune allows me to speak with you through this column.

English words with Latin roots number many thousands. We can choose different ones each year, and trace their history. Unless someone suggests special words for this purpose, I am puzzled as to which ones to choose.

Without any special reason (so far as I know) the word "paternal" has come into my mind. This means "fatherly," or "on the father's side." If we speak of our "paternal grandmother," we mean the mother of our father.

"Paternal" grew from "pater," the Latin word for "father." Interestingly enough, the Latin word helped to build up the name of Jupiter as the chief Roman god.

The Greek name for the chief god was Zeus, and the Romans spoke of him as "Zeus Pater," meaning "Zeus the Father" or "Father Zeus." Later the parts were combined, being spoken quickly as "Zeus-pater" or "Zupater"—and at length the name turned into "Jupiter." Romans also spoke of their chief god as "Jovis," which is a form of "Jove."

The Latin word for "mother" was, and is, "mater" (pronounced "MAH-ter"). In English we have the word "maternal," meaning "motherly," or "on the mother's side." When we speak of the "maternal grandparents" of someone, we mean his grandparents on his mother's side.

Students in a college or university become fond of their "Alma Mater." The term "Alma Mater" means "fostering mother" or "foster mother." Some persons pronounce the words "AHL-muh-MAH-ter," but others say "AHL-muh-MAV-ter." Both pronunciations are correct.

Although this rise to power included purges and conquests of free peoples, it is to the credit of the dead Soviet leader that he held vast powers which caused his people and subordinates to fear him.

It will be up to the present leadership to insist upon blind devotion on the part of 800 million people within the Soviet orbit. Because the object of their devotion is gone, these people are sure to be restless. And when you have a nation like this, ruled over by only a handful of stern and devout Communists, as well as torn between factions over leadership, it will be difficult to retain the fealty of so many millions.

It could be, as many point out,

Gosh—The Root's Still On

Spotlighting A Week Of News

We Can Agree It's Not Who Is Taking Over For Stalin, But What Comes Next

By FRED GREENE

Nobody knows, but everybody is guessing, what will happen next now that Premier Joseph Stalin of the Soviet Union has died.

But one thing is certain. Stalin has left a black mark upon the pages of history. Not only has his tyranny been directed against mankind in general, but even his cohorts could not even be certain they would die of natural causes. Stalin sent many of his "partners" to death after securing his immediate goals during his rise to power.

Late Friday, Georgi M. Malenkov was named chairman of the Council of Ministers, or prime minister. This was the position Stalin held at the time of his death.

V. M. Molotov was named foreign minister, L. P. Beria is the new interior minister, Marshal Klement Voroshilov replaces Nikolai M. Shvernik as president of the Soviet Union, a post that in the past has been a figurehead.

Andrej Vishinskiy, given the boot from his foreign minister's post, assumes the job as chief delegate to the United Nations. Deputy premiers are Molotov, Beria, Nikolai Bulganin and Lazar M. Kaganovich.

Malenkov is no friend of the West and has never been outside the Soviet Union.

The extent of Malenkov's power appears great, but from the announcement of positions, it seems evident that some internal bickering may have taken place or that no trust is placed in others by individual strong men. This seems clear by the fact that the four aspirants to Stalin's all got deputy premiership in an obvious effort at placating all concerned.

Even in the selection of a successor, most people are inclined to feel that none of the solidarity which was evident under Stalin will remain. They attribute this to ambitions and jealousies which are bound to arise if not from the three principals, possibly from their followers who suddenly have lost their "god" and are not restrained by verbal edicts from "Father Stalin."

It is very difficult to analyze the Soviet mind, but it would not be far from wrong to say that any action on the part of Kremlin leaders must be predicated on the mood of the people when the shock of Stalin's death passes the crisis.

In a radio broadcast immediately after the announcement of Stalin's death, noted commentators agreed that his death immeasurably aids the cause of peace.

As one of them pointed out, it's not who takes over now, but rather it is what he (or they) may do.

Essentially, Stalin's death ends the "strong-man" era in Russia. The 73-year-old Kremlin boss welded the party and nation together and held it together despite a variety of problems, wars, purges and failures to meet previously announced goals economically and otherwise. Stalin delivered Russia from the throes of economic starvation to the rank of second most powerful nation in the world, second only to the United States.

Although this rise to power included purges and conquests of free peoples, it is to the credit of the dead Soviet leader that he held vast powers which caused his people and subordinates to fear him.

It will be up to the present leadership to insist upon blind devotion on the part of 800 million people within the Soviet orbit. Because the object of their devotion is gone, these people are sure to be restless. And when you have a nation like this, ruled over by only a handful of stern and devout Communists, as well as torn between factions over leadership, it will be difficult to retain the fealty of so many millions.

It could be, as many point out, that the death of Stalin will weld closer the Soviet people. If only for a while and until a new leadership is firmly established. But this leadership cannot approach that of Stalin.

Another factor to consider is just how strong is the Russian mind and will it follow the new leaders to war, if this should be their aim.

Because so few rule so many, it seems hard to believe that sufficient manpower can be spared for an attack on the outside world. Perhaps even Stalin realized this and it could be the reason for no Soviet drive against Western Europe.

But in considering Russian war potential, we must recognize that should we attack Russia, these people are then faced with a loss of a personal nature—their home and their belongings. Thus they most certainly have something for which to fight. This would not be so were Russia to attack the West.

Still other alternatives, which in turn lead to even more alternatives, can be noted. It may be some time before we know the full impact of Stalin's death.

But the important thing is, he's dead and Russia is faced with a crisis. In this cold war which has found the West spending most of the time on the defensive.

General James A. Van Fleet kicked up a storm and despite repeated denials from high levels that no ammunition shortage occurred in Korea, the retired Eighth Army commander is sticking to his guns.

The former general told members of the Senate Armed Services Committee that serious shortages did exist. Senators reportedly were aghast by this and other revelations, and have now ordered top Pentagon officials to a hearing next Tuesday. A showdown is in the making and a good many senators seem to be backing Van Fleet. As one of them reasoned:

"Van Fleet is talking as a general who is in the field shooting the works while the Pentagon officials are looking at the world political situation and talking of supplies in those terms."

Earlier, Van Fleet told a House committee that U. N. forces can win a military victory in Korea without enlarging that war into a greater conflict. He also said he knows of no other way to break the truce talks deadlock over the prisoner issue.

One point perhaps either missed or just not pressed in the Korean debate is the fact that Van Fleet told the House group that there are no "shortages of a serious nature."

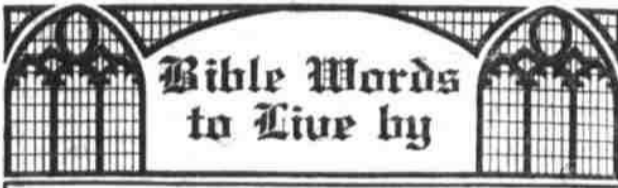

"It is my considered opinion that the Eighth Army is the best equipped, best fed, best clothed, best housed and cared for army we have ever produced," he said. It would seem, then, that if Van Fleet meant an ammunition shortage existed but does not now exist he is just operating a sore spot that could seriously hinder our defensive buildup, particularly if conducted openly and with bitterness.

The Senate continued its hassle over a resolution aimed at condemning Russia for its enslavement of other peoples. The memo was at the instigation of President Eisenhower, but it was sought as a bipartisan move.

Senate Republicans amended the original motion to say that its approval neither validated or invalidated Yalta and other agreements.

This, in effect, was a left-handed slap at former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. The Democrats let loose a stream of protest and President Eisenhower was known to feel that in order for his resolution to have any effect, it must be overwhelmingly passed. No such thing is evident in the bill's present state.

Democrats want no mention whatsoever of wartime agreements. They merely want a condemnation of Soviet violations of all agreements with the West.

JOHN 8:10, 11—"And Jesus, raising himself, said to her, 'Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned thee?' She said, 'No one, Lord.' Then Jesus said, 'Neither will I condemn thee. Go thy way and sin no more.'"

Of all the utterances in the New Testament showing the mercy, the kindness and the understanding of our Divine Savior, the above is the greatest.

When the woman found in adultery was brought to Jesus Christ, her accusers cited the Mosaic law which demanded the death penalty in such circumstances. The Pharisees sought to trick Our Lord but He with divine wisdom and insight turned the tables on them. When they asked what should be done with the woman, "Should she be stoned to death?" Christ said, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to cast a stone at her." The story is well known. Each one slunk away leaving only Jesus and the poor unfortunate sinner. Then Christ spoke those immortal words which show all the world that he loves sinners.

These are the people he came to save. And this is the difference between Christ and the world. Christ hates sin and loves sinners, but the world embraces sin and condemns sinners.

Spirit Of Alamo For Tidelands; TV-Viewers Work Out Schedule

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Wasting both your time and mine: This has been a tough week, and I don't mean just for the USSR, either. Look at some of the rest of us:

Our Howard County Junior College Jay-hawks got eliminated in the finals of the state JC basketball tournament, just when we were grading them the best. Looks like by now we could have found some excuse to say that "we wuz robbed," but no evidence has been forthcoming.

Next, turns up a deplorable attempt down at Austin to let gals into A&M. Now I ask you? I'm no Aggie, but I am a great respecter of the Aggie spirit, an indefinable something that has nothing whatsoever to do with co-educationalism. Traditions are falling all around us fast enough, and this is one we ought to protect. I say keep A&M for the men. Even if tradition were not enough, the state of Texas ought to be concerned with keeping a first-rate agricultural and mechanical college, where technical training prevails, rather than just creating another co-ed campus. There are plenty of these.

And the week has brought us just a notch nearer March 15th, a bad date on anybody's calendar. I had hoped that under a new administration we could move this back at least until March 16th, but no soap. See you at the bank.

The crowning blow for some of us split-personality Republicans (or a dirtier word if you are so minded) is that this new attorney general came out and tried to split the difference with us on the tidelands. Already some Trumanites are chortling.

What Mr. Brownell hasn't yet found out is that Texas is not a difference-splitter. We either get all our tidelands—lock, stock, barrel, title and royalties—or we call another election.

Could be that a new secession movement should take place. Just 117 years ago Friday, the Alamo fell, while Texans were defending their liberties. First thing you know, we'll have those Washingtonians crying "me no tidelands!" Just like Santa Anna's men hollered "me no Alamo!" when Sam Houston's Texans caught up with 'em.

It turns out, this is Save-Your-Vision Week. Comes at an opportune time in this part of the world. Just put a mask over your eyes all week, and keep out the dust while you're saving your vision. I understand the first-Save-Your-Vision Week was observed that time when Lady Godiva rode.

The demographers are in a state of embarrassment, and this is more important than you might think. A demographer is a fellow who specializes in predicting population trends. Seems that they got off the beam a few years ago and forecast that the U.S. would reach its population peak by 1960—with about 157 million people. Boy, were they wrong! Our population figure passed the 157-million mark last July, and there's been no downward trend since. Now the demographers are saying that by the year 2000 there will be 200 million people in this country. Some even say 300 million. This is going to make it crowded. Same ratio of good folks vs. stinkers will apply, I suppose.

Well, we've caught up with the answer to a question: where do TV-viewers go when the commercials come on? Some researchers in Toledo, Ohio reported that the city's water pressure remains high during a TV program while folks are watching. But at regular intervals throughout the evening, the pressure drops sharply. Then, in a few minutes, it's normal again.

Down at Houston, some people were intrigued by these findings, and checked up there, too. The results were exactly the same. The minute-to-minute records of water use corresponded closely with the breaks for commercials. When the low-pressure commercial comes on, it's low-pressure time at the water works. If you gotta go, go during the commercial.

Taft Can Assert His Leadership And Assist Ike's Administration

WASHINGTON - The break between the Republicans in the Senate and the Republican President in the White House can no longer be ignored. It cannot be glossed over by kind words in praise of Senator Robert A. Taft put out by those who think that is the way to woo the majority leader of the Senate.

Temporarily, the passing of Stalin from the world scene eclipses every other event, including the controversy within the majority party here at home. But, short of a fierce struggle for power in Moscow and a breakdown of the Soviet tyranny, that eclipse will not last for long.

The break in the administration party can be mended, and if it is quickly mended the damage done will not be too great. But it can be mended only by positive and constructive action on the part of Senator Taft.

The harm done is, of course, in the Republican insistence in the Senate in adding qualifying language to the Eisenhower-anti-enslavement resolution on the secret commitments. In his appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, properly open to the public, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made an eloquent case for adoption of the resolution in the form in which it was submitted.

He pointed out that if it were made the subject of partisan bickering, and then passed only by a small majority, it would be valueless as a declaration to the world of American conviction and as a sign to enslaved peoples of America's faith in their ultimate freedom. Representative John Vorys of Ohio, who sponsored the resolution in the House, told his colleagues that it was the finest presentation he had heard in his 13 years in Congress.

The language added to the resolution by Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey, on the prompting of Senator Taft, makes the resolution meaningless. It does not do what the Republican extremists want—that is, repudiate Yalta and Potsdam. By stating that Congress recognized neither the validity nor the invalidity of these agreements makes down-right ridiculous the original language in the resolution, which denounces what the Russians have done under the agreements.

The damage done may be minimized, since the resolution was, after all, only a propaganda weapon. But, when this has been said, it must be added that the resolution was the first constructive move by the new administration toward a new and positive foreign policy. An upset by the President's own party in the Senate does not give the world a hopeful prospect of the future.

Another and more crucial test is still to come. Senator Joseph McCarthy, chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee, has now demanded of the State Department two loyalty files of two employees of the Voice of America.

An executive order issued by President Truman forbidding Congress access to the confidential raw files in the executive branch of the government still stands. The issue of the raw files was raised in acute form during the spy trial of Judith Coplon. The Federal Bureau of Investigation was greatly exercised lest Congress get hold of files containing unevaluated gossip and rumor.

Such executive orders carry over from one administration to another. President Eisenhower, most observers believe, would have to take positive action cancelling the Truman order before the State Department could comply with the McCarthy request. If such a step were to be taken, in view of the fact that the department has already yielded four times to McCarthy demands, the senator from Wisconsin could henceforth be counted as the real master of the branch of the government that is supposed to make foreign policy.

It is just here that Senator Taft can assert his leadership. He can let it be known that he is opposed to permitting Congress to dip into the confidential records of a coordinate branch of the government. He could make it plain that if a question of subpoenaing such records arose, he would exert his influence against the subpoena power.

That would be enough. Taft would have the support of the Eisenhower Republicans and of most of the Democrats who have again and again opposed such a raid on the right of privacy of the executive departments. McCarthy would be left with few extremists like himself at his side.

One must be an optimist to believe that this will happen. Three years ago Taft encouraged McCarthy to go ahead with one case, and if he didn't find anything there to hit in another direction. This was taken at the time as approval by Mr. Republican himself for the McCarthy tactic of go by denunciation.

One of the ironies of recent history is the way in which the Russians have again and again rescued the West from some painful dilemma. They did that when America and Britain fell out last year over the Indian resolution on Korea. Stalin's death and its consequences might be another windfall. But it is a little unreasonable to go on expecting rescue from that quarter.

Still Practicing

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—After 62 years of medical practice, Dr. Charles Reitz, 88, oldest practicing physician in the city, still puts in a full working day at his office and takes emergency calls on week ends. He accounts for his vigor and appearance, which belies his years, simply by saying, "Don't worry—don't hurry; that's all there is to it."

Dr. Reitz put in 10 years of horse and buggy practice before he moved into the city and bought a one-cylinder Cadillac in 1900. Now he's delighted to see medicines in a sort of golden age of new discoveries to fight disease. He remembers when diseases like diphtheria, influenza, pneumonia, diabetes and typhoid fever were generally considered fatal.

LIFE OF STALIN

ism, which would finally achieve communism as the state "withered away." Instead, the stage grew stronger and stronger, while the Communist threw itself vigorously into the movement for world revolution.

Stalin — somewhere around this time took his second wife, Nadejda Allilueva — went to Tsaritsyn, later Stalingrad, and unleashed a reign of terror while White Russian armies advanced.

Stalin's job was to get Caucasus grain to starving Moscow and Petrograd. He introduced iron controls, holding prices, rationing foods and arresting government officials under special military orders.

Back in the capital, Trotsky, in dire need of army leadership, called up former Czarist officers. To check on them, Minister of War Trotsky began a system of political commissars in the Army. Stalin, bitter at Trotsky's prominence, joined Voroshilov in rebelling at the introduction of Czarist officers, but they were overruled.

In September, 1918, Voroshilov repulsed the Whites in the south, but they pressed in again and Trotsky gave Stalin a bawling out for the defeats at Tsaritsyn. But finally the Reds repulsed the Whites there. Stalin claimed the credit, even though the White ring was broken from the outside. By 1920, all the White armies in Russia were in retreat, and the Poles were chased out of the Ukraine. Peace came, but with a terrible economic situation. Lenin met it with a retreat from socialism—the new Economic Policy. Capitalist enterprise was permitted under NEP in smaller industries and trade. Big industry was nationalized. Foreign investments were instituted, but little arrived. Individual enterprise in farming was encouraged.

Now Stalin's star began to rise higher with the support of Lenin. It was about this time that Stalin delivered his denunciation of "great Russian Chauvinism"—the idea of Russiaps that all others were of inferior stock.

Stalin—by this time he had a new son named Vasily—won even more power in April, 1922. The 11th party congress, on Lenin's nomination, made him general secretary of the Central Committee. Molotov became his assistant.

The Secretariat was supposed to be the creature of the Politburo, but it was to become the party's master under Stalin's manipulation. He carefully built it into a vast personal political machine. In 1923, with Lenin ill, Stalin was stronger than ever, and Trotsky attacked him in a diatribe, "Lessons of October." It was a damaging piece, but Stalin rode it out.

Trotsky was called unpatriotic for insisting there could not be "socialism in one country," now Stalin's slogan. Trotsky said the revolution had been betrayed to nationalism, but the party formally sanctioned the Stalin program.

Trotsky resigned as commissar of war, but remained on the Politburo along with Zinoviev and Kamenev.

In 1926, Zinoviev and Kamenev fell away from Stalin. They insisted, with Trotsky, that farms should be collectivized at once. Stalin was not ready, and countered by having Zinoviev's supporters removed from posts of influence. Kamenev and Zinoviev joined Trotsky. Stalin accused them of organizing opposition within the Army. He fired Zinoviev from the Politburo. At Stalin's bidding, fired Trotsky and removed him as president of the Comintern.

On Nov. 7, Trotsky was expelled from the Communist party, along with any who supported him. The next month he was exiled to Alma Ata, and later he was expelled from the country. Zinoviev and Kamenev recanted and Stalin took them back. But now Stalin was bent on getting rid of all potential enemies.

Meanwhile, with farm production down, Russia faced a food crisis. Stalin ordered emergency measures, denounced hoarders of grain and began the drive for collectivization which Trotsky so long had demanded.

Stalin declared war on the independent farmers, seized their grain and the cattle, and began a bloody collectivization drive. Farmers, fighting back, destroyed thousands of head of livestock and thousands of tons of grain.

Famine struck the Ukraine. Much blood was spilled. Stalin took steps. He blandly blamed the whole thing on "overzealous" Communists. The drive was to go slower. But by the time 1933 rolled around, collectivization was in the USSR to stay. A second revolution had been accomplished.

It was at about this time that Stalin's second wife, Allilueva, is reported to have denounced his measures. He is said to have replied with a torrent of abuse.

After which Allilueva, daughter of an old Bolshevik who befriended Stalin in the old days, killed herself. There are those who believe Stalin shot her, but there has never been any proof.

Stalin tied in with the new economic revolution a five-year plan of industrialization which was completed in the early 30s. It involved the use of forced labor, a far cry from Marxism, in a feverish industrialization program which was to go on and on to meet evermounting demands.

But Stalin kept an eye on the world revolution, too, against the time when he was ready to stir it up openly.

"Fire must be concentrated on the national bourgeoisie" of other countries, he lectured the Comintern.

He was expounding a primer for revolution abroad. It was to be carried out to the letter later, not only in China, but in countries where Stalinist doctrine indicated the time was nearing for revolt.

In later years, Stalin's long arm reached everywhere.

Riding

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

A meeting for dairymen in the Big Spring and Midland areas will be held at the Wagon Wheel, 803 East Third, Tuesday, March 10, at 10:30 a.m. It has been announced by R. P. Mayfield, president of the Tri-County Producers Association, and a director of the Central West Texas Producers Association.

Dinner will be served at noon with adjournment in the early afternoon, Mayfield said.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the working of the federal marketing price order which is now in effect in this part of Texas covering 26 counties. Only two speakers have been scheduled. They are J. K. Webb of Miles, manager of the CWTPA which has its headquarters office in Abilene; and Foster Lewis of Dallas, assistant federal price administrator, who has supervision over the operation of the order which fixes a minimum price the processors must pay the producers.

Mayfield says it is very important that all dairymen attend the conference.

Kansas has a law which Texas should have, and which all states with soil susceptible to blowing must apparently have eventually if erosion is to be controlled.

Kansas has what is called a "blowing law." This statute provides a means through which land owner may protect his soil from the blowing from another man's fields. If the other man doesn't do something about it, last summer here in West Texas the Grub Line Rider saw a nice little irrigated pasture of about 10 acres that had been almost completely covered to a depth of several inches by sand blowing in from the land of a neighbor who didn't do anything to keep his sand at home. If Texas had had such a "blowing law" as Kansas has, the owner of the irrigated pasture could have saved his grass.

It is most disheartening to a land owner farming on a sound conservation plan to have his work almost completely undone by the negligence of a neighbor.

In Kansas, if a neighbor fails to cooperate when his soil starts drifting on to another owner's field, the man being damaged can report the situation to the county commissioners.

The commissioners then go out and view the area and determine the best method to follow to stop the blowing. When this determination is made the commissioners' court immediately serves notice on the offending land owner and advise him of their findings.

In case the responsible owner or operator cannot be located immediately, or in case that he fails to take the recommended steps to then comes the enforcement part of the law, which makes it mandatory that the commissioners immediately hire somebody to do the work on the blowing land, payment for which is to be made from the "soil drifting fund."

With the preventative work done the commissioners then are to notify the responsible land owner or operator by registered mail that the work has been done, and this notice also orders him to present his case before the commission, if he so desires, within 29 days.

When all this has been completed the cost of the work on the field to be added to the following year's taxes on the land, to be collected in the usual tax-collecting manner. When these taxes, including the soil drifting assessment are collected, then it is the duty of the county treasurer to replace the money for the field working in the county's soil drifting fund.

The folks up in Kansas reasoned that if the law gave a home owner legal protection against people throwing rocks at his windows, why shouldn't he be protected against having his farming operation ruined by sand from his neighbor's place?

Best of all, county commissioners in Kansas, under the same law, have the authority to compel a landowner to tie down his soil with grass if that is the proper thing to do.

In case of excessive blowing of certain fields or areas in these fields, which are sometimes considered "border areas" the commissioners have the power to declare these fields or areas a "barren under cultivation" and to compel the landowner to return these areas to grass to tie down the soil.

The time has come when those farmers who neglect or refuse to save their soil must be compelled to do it. Particularly they must be compelled to so farm it that they won't damage the land of their neighbors.

No man has more than a "life interest" in the soil. He can't take it with him. It fed countless thousands of generations before him, and it must continue to feed countless thousands of generations after he has passed on to become a part of the soil himself.

The human population is increasing, and under farming practices permitting erosion from wind and water, the productive acres which must feed and clothe the increasing population are becoming fewer and fewer each year.

Kansas has blazed a trail that Texas and other western states will do well to follow.

The Future Farmers of America, which celebrated its 25th anniversary on the birthday of George Washington, "America's first scientific farmer," is the largest and fastest growing farm boys organization in the world, numbering 350,000 members.

There are 40,000 Future Farmers in Texas, and of these 175 are in Howard County. These Texas Future Farmers have investments valued at more than $14 million. Texas FFA members own beef cattle valued at more than $3 million; they have over $2 million invested in 22 million acres in wine, fruit and poultry projects, are worth around $800,000 and their turkey projects are valued at about $230,000. They have more than $370,000 invested in sheep and goats in Texas.

Last year the Texas Future Farmers planted 15,000 acres of corn and 25,000 acres of cotton. Other projects include raising horses, rabbits, wheat, oats, forage, fruit, potatoes, melons, vegetables and peanuts.

According to a list received from the county agent's office the following Howard County 4-H Club members will have steers, lambs and capons entered in the annual Howard County Junior Livestock Show and sale, March 17-18-19:

LOST 75 POUNDS
"I have lost about 75 pounds and reduced my waist line almost inches, taking Barcentrate," writes Mrs. A. J. Henderson, 1209 Taylor St., Fort Worth, Tex. "I feel much better and I get all of the cream white."

THIS LADY LOST 50 POUNDS
"I think Barcentrate is a wonderful medicine. I have lost about 50 pounds taking it. I feel much better and I get all of the cream white."

LOST 27 POUNDS
"I cannot say enough about Barcentrate. It has helped me lose weight. I have lost about 27 pounds, and I feel much better and I get all of the cream white."

20 POUNDS LOST
"I am happy about the way Barcentrate has helped me lose weight. I have lost about 20 pounds, and I feel much better and I get all of the cream white."

It's simple; it's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat — or money back. Here is a home recipe to help take off ungainly weight and help restore graceful slenderness.

Just ask your druggist for a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and fill bottle with grapefruit juice. Then take two table-spoonful twice a day as directed on label. There is also a supply of appetite curb tablets in the improved Barcentrate carton. These tablets help to lessen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Take as directed on label.

If the very first bottle of Barcentrate does not show you the simple, easy way to aid in taking off weight, if fat doesn't start to disappear from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves, and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Comedy Skit

Red Skelton and Jane Greer are shown as they appear in "The Clown," comedy scheduled at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Also starred with them is Tim Considine. Skelton plays a down-and-out comic who was once famous. Miss Greer is his divorced wife, and Tim is their son. The movie combines laughs and tears.

Dueling Partners

Susan Cabot and Audie Murphy are shown in a romantic scene from the movie, "The Duel at Silver Creek," which is scheduled at the Jet Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Faith Domergue and Stephen McNally are also in the picture. The technicolor production concerns battles over silver and women.

Matching Minds

Denise Darcel questions Robert Taylor's handling of the wagon train in the above scene from MGM's "Westward The Women." The movie will show at the Terrace Theatre today and Monday. The story concerns a wagon train full of women headed west to new lands.

War And Love

John Hodiak and Linda Christian watch an aerial dogfight in a scene from "Battle Zone," to be featured at the Ritz on Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture also stars Stephen McNally. It concerns two combat photographers and a Red Cross nurse in Korea. Hodiak and McNally are rivals for Miss Christian's love as well as in their work. Many scenes were filmed on the Korean battlefield by Marine photographers.

AT RITZ TODAY

Skelton Is Star Of 'The Clown'

The movie scheduled at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday is billed as one which "tickles your funnybone and touches your heart." It is "The Clown," with Red Skelton, Jane Greer and Tim Considine. Skelton plays the role of Dodo Delwin, a once famous Ziegfeld comedian who finds himself clowning in burlesque houses at the bottom of the entertainment ladder. Miss Greer is cast as Skelton's divorced wife, and young Considine has the part of their son. Although the story is a laugh riot, it also has its dark moments—mixing both laughs and tears. Skelton's slip to burlesque performances in the movie are a result of drinking, gambling and quarreling. His wife, Miss Greer, divorces him and remarries. However the boy is allowed to stay with his father. The boy's hero worship of his father keeps Skelton going. But when Skelton lands in jail he sends his son to Miss Greer and her husband. Meanwhile Skelton's old agent arranges for the comic to make a comeback via television. Skelton refuses. But his son runs away

'Laura' To Be Shown At State

"Laura," Twentieth Century-Fox's encore production, will show at the State Theatre today and Monday. The picture has a top-notch starring cast, including Dana Andrews, Gene Tierney, Clifton Webb, and Vincent Price. Andrews plays a detective assigned to solve the murder of career girl Laura Hunt, played by Miss Tierney, whose corpse was unrecognizable because of a shotgun blast. Searching for her killer, Andrews runs across Webb, a critic-columnist, and Price, who is Laura's fiancé. Webb and Price are enemies because of Laura's affections. When Andrews goes to sleep in Laura's apartment and hears a girl's voice, he awakens to find Laura. Another girl had been killed in her apartment. The unusual climax comes when the killer and the killed are disclosed. The background music in the production became famous after the picture, and Johnny Mercer added lyrics. "Laura" became one of the song hits of the nation.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Toynbee Lectures On Western World

A timely and illuminating picture of how the Western world appears to the peoples of the East will be presented in a series of six lectures by Professor Arnold J. Toynbee, noted historian, over KBST beginning this evening. They will be broadcast from 9:30 to 10 p.m. for six consecutive Sundays.

FUN FOR ALL

"Fun for All," a rollicking audience participation show with several new twists, was heard for the first time on KBST on Friday, March 6, from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Starring the show are Arlene Francis and Bill Cullen who will act out parodies of popular plays, movies, and books; then will ask questions based on the skits of two teams selected from letter-writers and members of the studio audience. Cullen heads a team of men each week; Miss Francis a team of three women. On the first broadcast the teams were composed of, respectively, three U. S. Air Force officers and three airline hostesses.

Prizes were awarded the winners. Another feature of the program is an interlude in which Cullen and Miss Francis sing popular songs with specially tailored lyrics, and the team members are required to sing them with the correct lyrics. From time to time the two stars will do takeoffs of dramatic shows and perform other amusing shenanigans.

THE ADVENTURER

A ring of peril surrounds a British agent who sets out to smash a heroin ring in picturesque Saigon. In the episode of "The Adventurer" presented over KBST this evening from 8:30 to 9. The agent from Hong Kong poses as a trigger-man assigned to erase a sinister figure who has been making trouble for the narcotics syndicate; he is almost killed himself before he gets evidence to halt the evil trading in drugs. Stage and screen star Burgess Meredith will serve as narrator on this episode of "The Adventurer."

'Battle Zone' Has Korea War Scenes

John Hodiak and Stephen McNally play rivals in both love and war in the picture scheduled at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture is "Battle Zone," which also stars Linda Christian. Miss Christian is the object of the two men's affections. And camera work is the object of their war rivalry. Hodiak and McNally play two tech sergeants in the Marine Corps who are cameramen. Both have re-enlisted for Korean action after World War II service. Action begins in a stateside training area where the two men meet for the first time since serving together in Europe. A Red Cross nurse, Miss Christian, is also at the base. The two men break all records trying to see the nurse before shipment overseas. Miss Christian is also shipped over when they go. The photographers find their time occupied entirely with duty in Korea, where they take pictures for operational study. On a mission behind the battle lines, Hodiak is wounded in the uniform of the northern Reds. He is taken to a rest area and treated by Miss Christian. The movie contains battle action which was actually filmed on the Korean front.

Indian Story To Be Shown At The Ritz

The Indian tribes of Florida are featured in "Seminole," the Technicolor production set for the Ritz Theatre Thursday through Saturday. Starred in the movie are Rock Hudson, Barbara Hale and Anthony Quinn. Hudson plays an army lieutenant, and Quinn an Indian chief. The action takes place in 1835, when the government was trying to send all southern Indian tribes to reservations in the west. Hudson, who has just graduated from West Point, is sent to Florida because of his familiarity with the territory. He does not receive a cordial reception from Richard Carlson, the commander. The Seminoles refuse to go out west, and Hudson defends their attitude. Hudson's stand further infuriates the commander. Unknown to Hudson, his old friend Quinn is the Seminole chief. He finds out and nearly succeeds in getting a peaceful settlement. But Commander Carlson attacks the Indians anyway. His troops are nearly annihilated, and he is discredited. Hudson is proved right.

Treatments Of Radium Can Be Given Locally

Radium, the radioactive chemical element used for treatment of malignant growths, is not stocked abundantly in Big Spring, but all hospitals here have ample arrangements for patients to receive radium treatments whenever needed.

Copper Clinic-Hospital and the Howard County Hospital Foundation (Big Spring Hospital) have the radium shipped in for use at periodic intervals. Patients at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital are referred to radiologist specialists when radium treatment is necessary.

Some 150 milligrams of radium are kept at Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital. Since the cost is around $1,600 per 50 milligrams, the local investment is about $4,800.

The radium is stored in a small lead chest about six inches square. The lead is necessary because radiations from the radium cannot penetrate it.

Several different applications are possible in treatments with the radium. It can be applied directly to the skin surface, placed in the cavities of the body, or delivered directly into the tissues.

The radium at Malone and Hogan is sealed in platinum needles. Contact radiation is done by applying the radium needles directly to the skin surface.

Common locally is the use of capsules. The radium needles are placed in silver or rubber capsules, which are in turn placed in a body cavity until the required dose is given.

Also "seeds" can be inserted directly into the tissues. The "seeds" are removable implants, and such treatment is called interstitial radiation.

Greatest use of radium is for treatment of cancer and allied diseases. It has been used by local doctors to successfully correct hearing defects also. Use is made for treatment of tumors, acne, tuberculosis of the skin, warts, certain blood defects, etc.

Different treatments are made by controlling the quantity of radium, time of exposure, and thickness of metallic screening. Prolonged exposure to large quantities of radium can possibly produce fatal burns.

When radium is shipped in to the hospitals not keeping it in stock, it usually comes by air mail. Even on shipment it is sent in the lead container.

While the radium is not in use here it remains in the containers. Usually the shipments remain in Big Spring from 30 to 60 days.

The rental fee is fairly high. One hospital business manager estimated he paid $150 for 60 days rental of a small quantity. The radium is rented from such far away places as New York and Chicago. It can be obtained in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston.

VA Officials Tour Local Institution

Five Veterans Administration officials visited the Big Spring VA Hospital last week on routine inspection tours.

They were Dr. Maxwell Thomas, ophthalmology supervisor for this area; Leon M. Wilson, special assistant to the director of finance and management service, Washington; L. O. Pettit Jr., also of the finance service; William Sewell, district information services officer; and Rev. D. H. Heard, supervisor of chaplains.

Closer Management Is Object Of Proposed Water Measures

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the water bills before the Legislature this session.)

By EDWARD H. HARTE

AUSTIN, March 7.—Water, that commodity which can make or break Texans, is the subject of eight bills now before the Legislature.

What do these bills aim to do? What's new in them, and what remains unchanged? What do they omit?

It is the purpose of this and succeeding articles to answer these questions.

In brief, the eight bills, which have Gov. Shivers' blessing, are relatively modest in their aims. They are characterized by the committee that formulated them, the 101-member Governor's Committee on Water Conservation, as "stop-gap" legislation.

In other words, they do not embody a comprehensive new water code. They deal only with problems for which the committee felt it had a ready answer. The knottiest problems have been left for further study and possible action by future legislatures.

The main innovations in the eight bills include:

1. Giving the Water Board power to cancel water permits that have not been used in 10 years.

2. Making legal the practice of giving seasonal water permits.

3. Adding a little strength to the notoriously weak State Board of Water Engineers.

4. Providing for a charge to industries, irrigation projects, and others using public water to build a kitty with which to guarantee water.

County Bond Sales In '52 At $642,501

Howard County sales of U. S. Savings Bonds amounted to $642,501.25 during 1952.

Final figures for the year were announced by Ira L. Thurman following receipt of a bulletin from state bond headquarters.

Included in the Howard total were $484,241.25 of E bonds and $158,260 of F, G, J, and K series.

On a state-wide basis, sales amounted to $144,501,122, of which $115,405,138 was in E bonds. The increase in sales for the year was 12 per cent over 1951. The biggest gains were registered in the last six months of the year. Not only were quotas exceeded in general, but this also was true of payroll savings, federal civilians and school savings.

Here are how some of the West Texas counties stacked up:

Sham Battle Slated

PARIS (AP)—About 90 top ranking officers from all 14 Atlantic Pact nations except Iceland will meet here March 9 for a four-day sham battle designed as a workout on problems involved in the defense of Western Europe.

Vernon (now serving as Eisenhower's secretary of the Navy), Hines Baker, president of Humble Oil, Sen. Price Daniel, Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of A&M, and Gen. Ernest O. Thompson.

With only a few months in which to work, the committee divided its recommendations into two parts, those which could be dealt with by stop-gap legislation in this Legislature, and those which look toward a new water code in the more distant future.

A new water code presents monumental problems on which long-range research must precede any recommendations for legislation. Most of the controversial proposals for revising water laws fall into the long-range category and are therefore deferred this session.

In commenting upon its failure to recommend any changes in underground water law, the Governor's Committee wrote that the immediate problem is to conserve as much as possible of the state's 62 million acre feet of run-off each year. At present permits have been granted for only 34 million, and only 8,500,000 acre feet were actually diverted for all purposes.

"Many cities, farmers, ranchmen, and industries suffered from a shortage of water in recent years despite the fact that several times as much water was wasted to the Gulf of Mexico as was captured and put to beneficial use," the committee stated.

The membership looks like a small Who's Who of Texas. J. R. Thomas, president of the Texas Public Service Co., Fort Worth, was president. Skimming some of the top names which everyone recognizes, we find Joe Bridwell of Wichita Falls, Bob Anderson of

With tomorrow's article, a detailed examination of the eight bills in this year's water program will begin.

Synopsis: EVEN SUCH A HARDY EXPLORER AS ARN, SON OF PRINCE VALIANT, FINDS IT NICE TO SHARE THE WARMTH OF A PEASANT HUT, ESPECIALLY ON SUCH A VERY DARK AND SCARY NIGHT.

HE IS ABLE TO FINISH OFF A LARGE-SIZED DINNER. THEN, BOWING TO HIS HOSTESS, SAYS: "I FEEL SORT OF SLEEPY, LADY. WILL YOU SHOW ME TO MY ROOM?"

THERE ARE NO LONG, COLD HALLS TO TRAVEL TO HIS BED. HE MUST REMEMBER TO TELL HIS MOTHER HOW MUCH NICER IT WOULD BE IF THEY ALL SLEPT TOGETHER ON THE FLOOR, BEFORE THE KITCHEN FIRE!

ON THE WAY HOME A WONDERFUL THING HAPPENS. THEY MEET A SPLENDID KNIGHT, MOUNTED ON A GREAT CHARGER. IN ALL THULE ONLY PRINCE VALIANT, KNIGHT OF THE ROUND TABLE, IS SO MOUNTED AND ARMED!

THE KNIGHT OFFERS HIM A RIDE, AND PRINCE ARN TELLS HIM HIS SIRE IS A WARRIOR PRINCE OF GREAT RENOWN, BUT HIS MOTHER IS A SORCESS WHO CAN CAST A SPELL JUST BY DOING TRICKS WITH HER EYES. "THEN, AH SIRE BECOMES PLAYFUL, JUST LIKE SIR GAWAIN HERE," SAYS ARN, POINTING TO HIS DOG.

THE KNIGHT LOOKS AT ARN'S PACK OF HUNTING DOG AND SHUDDERS. "WHY DO YOU CALL HIM SIR GAWAIN?" "BECAUSE HE IS NOT VERY SMART AND LOVES TO PLAY. BUT HE HAS A GREAT HEART AND IS BRAVER THAN BRAVE, SO MY SIRE SAYS."

"I MUST SPEAK TO YOUR FATHER ABOUT HIS POWERS OF DESCRIPTION," MUTTERS THE KNIGHT DARKLY. "I FEAR IT TAKES A STRONGER BRAIN THAN HIS TO BRILLE A RUNAWAY TONGUE."

PRINCE ARN, BACK FROM A PERILOUS QUEST, AND BRINGING WITH HIM A GALLANT KNIGHT, IS SURPRISED THAT ONLY HIS DOG IS WELCOMED! EVEN HIS FATHER IS WAVING HIS ARMS AND SHOUTING: "SIR GAWAIN! SIR GAWAIN! WELCOME, SIR GAWAIN!"

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"IT WOULD BE MORE SPORTING IF JUST ONE OF YOU REPRESENTED THE OTHERS," MUSED ORAN--"YOU!" HE LEERED, POINTING TO TARZAN "WITH ONLY A KNIFE!"

SHRUGGING, THE APE-MAN SURRENDERED HIS BOW AND QUIVER, THEN VAULTED INTO THE ARENA BELOW.

THERE WAS A HUSHED SILENCE. THE CROWD GREW INTENT AS THE BLARE OF TRUMPETS ANNOUNCED THE START OF THE CONTEST. THE THRONG GASPED. A SLIDING DOOR OPENED--AND TWO SNARLING LIONS CHARGED TOWARD THE APE-MAN!

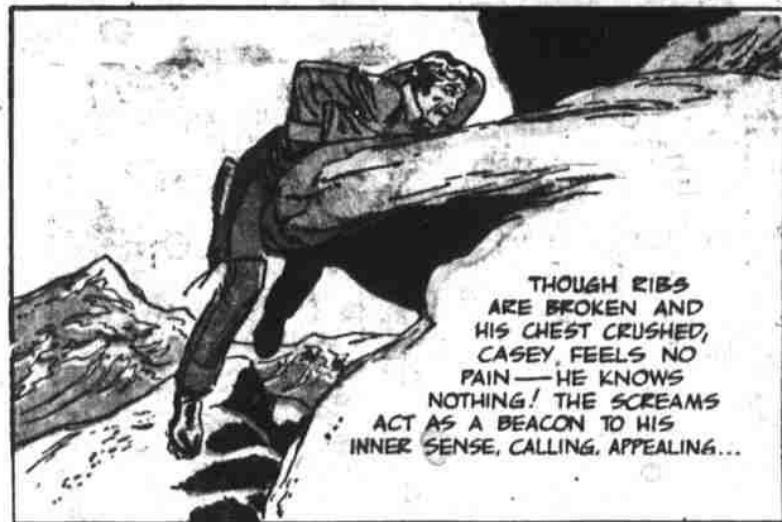

WITH ANIMAL-LIKE TENDERNESS, YAGAL PLACES HIS PRIZE UPON THE CAVERN FLOOR.....

LILLI'S EYELIDS FLUTTER AS SHE BEGINS TO REGAIN CONSCIOUSNESS... THEY OPEN WIDE... AND SHE SCREAMS!--AN EAR-SPLITTING, HEART-RENDING SCREAM THAT ECHOES AND RE-ECHOES THROUGHOUT THE DEPTHS OF THE CAVERN!

AND THE IMPOSSIBLE HAPPENS! THE SOUND STABS THROUGH TO CASEY'S BRAIN, AND IMPULSE DRAGS HIS BODY UP THE SULLY TO THE ROCKS...!

THOUGH RIBS ARE BROKEN AND HIS CHEST CRUSHED, CASEY FEELS NO PAIN--HE KNOWS NOTHING! THE SCREAMS ACT AS A BEACON TO HIS INNER SENSE, CALLING, APPEALING...

AND SO HE CHARGES, STUMBLING, INTO THE TERRIBLE GORG'S DOMAIN! THE MONSTER BACKS OFF, PERPLEXED BY THIS SMALL BEING'S RECKLESS IMPUDENCE!

HE HALF-TURNS TO PICK UP SOMETHING WITH WHICH TO CRUSH THIS LITTLE ANT.. AND CASEY SLAMS HOME HIS STALACTITE SHAFT!

ANNIE ROONEY

MY STARS, CHILDREN! WHAT MAKES YOU SO JOLLY? WHAT HAPPENED AT THE STUDIO TO CAUSE ALL THESE GIGGLES?

WE HEARD MR. EGOMANN, OUR FAMOUS DIRECTOR, HAVING A SILLY ARGUMENT WITH JOHNNY M'LOUD, OUR PRESS AGENT— IT WAS ALL ABOUT TEEN-AGERS AND KEEN-AGERS—

TEEN-AGERS-- KEEN-AGERS? WHAT IN THE WORLD IS A KEEN-AGER??

JOHNNY SAID TEEN-AGERS WAS GRAND, BUT MR. EGOMANN SAID THEY WAS JUST AWFUL—

MR. EGOMANN SAID "TEEN-AGERS" IS JUST A PRESS AGENT'S PAINT JOB TRYING TO HIDE THE HONEST WORDS "AWKWARD AGE." HE SAID THEIR FINGERS ARE ALL THUMBS AND THEIR FEET ARE NOT CHUMS—

HONEST, THEY WAS GETTIN' TERRIBLE EXCITED!

YOU MEAN TO SAY MR. EGOMANN AND JOHNNY WERE SERIOUS?

YES-- THEY REALLY WERE--

SURE! MR. EGOMANN SAID THE TEEN-AGERS ARE GREEN-AGERS TROTTERING AROUND IN LOOSE SHOES AND SLOPPY SWEATERS--

OH, THEY SAID LOTS A THINGS-- THEY WAS STILL HOLLERIN' AT EACH OTHER WHEN WE LEFT. WHAT WE WANNA KNOW IS-- WHAT DO YOU THINK??

WHAT I THINK WOULDN'T BE FIT FOR YOUR YOUNG, TENDER SHELL-LIKE EARS--

I AM JUST A POOR, WEAK WOMAN WHO WOULDN'T KNOW THE ANSWERS-- I BOW BEFORE THE ASTONISHING WISDOM OF "GENIUS" EGOMANN AND "WIZARD" M'LOUD--

- BUT IF YOU EVER OVERHEAR THAT PAIR OF MENTAL MARVELS TANGLING OVER THE OLD QUESTION OF WHICH CAME FIRST, THE HEN OR THE EGG, PLEASE CALL ME-- THAT'S ONE MAMMOTH, COLOSSAL PRODUCTION NUMBER I DON'T WANT TO MISS!!

TOOTS CASPER

TOOTS, IF THE BOSS CALLS UP, TELL HIM I'M OUT! HE'S TRYING TO GET HOLD OF ONE OF THE STAFF TO WORK TONIGHT, I SUPPOSE!

YOU DON'T HAVE TO ANSWER THE PHONE, CASPER, BUT I WANT FIB FOR YOU.

I'LL BET THAT'S THE BOSS PHONING ME NOW! LET IT RING! HE'S NOT GONNA GET ME BACK TO THAT OFFICE TONIGHT.

THE HOOFERS AREN'T HOME YET! I'LL GO SLIP A NOTE UNDER THEIR DOOR, WARNING THE COLONEL NOT TO ANSWER HIS PHONE WHEN THEY GET IN.

COLONEL, IS THAT OUR PHONE RINGING?

YES, I'LL GET IT, SOPHIE!

COLONEL, DON'T ANSWER YOUR PHONE OR YOU'LL HAVE TO WORK TONIGHT!

TOO LATE! THE BOSS PHONED JUST AS WE GOT IN!

YES, I'M STUCK! HE WANTS ME AT THE OFFICE AT ONCE.

TOOTS, I HAVE TO LAUGH! HERE I AM, RELAXING, WHILE COL. HOOFER IS SLAVING OVER THOSE REPORTS AND ESTIMATES!

WORK NEVER HURT ANYONE, CASPER.

I FELT LIKE SEEING A SHOW TONIGHT, COLONEL, AND I'M GLAD YOU COULD COME WITH ME!

BOSS, THIS IS AN UNEXPECTED PLEASURE

COL. HOOFER AND I TOOK IN A MUSICAL COMEDY AND SOME NIGHT SPOTS LAST NIGHT, CASPER!

BEST, CASPER-- WHILE THE OLD BOY WAS IN A GAY MOOD I NICKED HIM FOR A RAISE TOO!

I FELT LONESOME LAST NIGHT AND WANTED COMPANY. I'D SOONER HAVE HAD YOU WITH ME, CASPER, BUT ANY OLD PORT IN A STORM--SO I TOOK HOOFER ALONG.

WE SURE HAD FUN-- DIDN'T GET IN UNTIL DAWN!

DON'T BE A FOOL, LARSON! DON'T SHOOT THE LONE RANGER!

I WAS GOIN' TO DRILL HIM BECAUSE HE MAY KNOW TOO MUCH! HE MIGHT'VE FOLLOWED MY TRAIL FROM THE PLACE WHERE I DRY-GULCHED HAWKS!

HE CAN'T PROVE A THING! NEVER MIND THE LONE RANGER. IT'S HAWKS WHO MUST DIE! IF HE COMES HERE TO CHECK THE RECORDS, HE WILL KNOW WE'VE BEEN SWINDLING HIM!

I DON'T LIKE TO GO INTO TOWN TO SHOOT HAWKS. IT'S RISKY BUSINESS!

IT'S YOUR OWN FAULT! YOU SHOULD HAVE MADE SURE OF HIM ON THE STAGE TRAIL! NOW GET HAWKS -- BEFORE HE GETS US!

HAWKS, YOU CAN THANK THIS WALLET FOR SAVIN' YOUR LIFE. IF IT HADN'T STOPPED THE BULLET, YOU'D BE DEAD INSTEAD OF HAVING A COUPLE OF BUSTED RIBS!

I WANT TO KNOW WHO SHOT ME, SHERIFF! CAPTURE THAT MAN AT ANY COST!

THERE WERE TWO OF 'EM, MR. HAWKS, A MASKED MAN AND AN INJUN! WE SAW THEM!

YEAH! THEY CAPTURED US AN' LEFT US HOG-TIED WHILE THEY RODE AWAY!

I'LL DEPUTIZE A DOZEN MEN! WE'LL SCOUR THE COUNTRY FOR THOSE TWO!

AND I'LL OFFER A REWARD! A THOUSAND DOLLARS IF THEY'RE CAPTURED ALIVE, AND TWO THOUSAND IF THEY'RE BROUGHT IN DEAD!

The three puzzles you see across the top of this page are SAMPLE puzzles. These SAMPLE puzzles are not included among the official puzzles in this contest. The SAMPLES are shown in this advertisement merely to give you an idea of the general nature of the puzzles to be solved and constructed in this contest. These Are Rebus Puzzles. These puzzles are generally known as "rebus" puzzles. When you first look at a rebus puzzle, it reminds you of a jumble of disconnected things. However, there is always a definite solution to the puzzle, and you find the solution by identifying and adding and subtracting the various objects and letters as arranged in the puzzle. Below each of the SAMPLE puzzles in this advertisement you will find an explanation of how it can be solved.
