SECURITIES LAW SAVES
 Dispatches from Washington indicate that the new "truth in securities" law, passed by the last Congress amid walls from the financial district, has already saved American investors a good many millions of dollars.

During the speculative frenzy of the early summer it seems, some of the smart boys decided to cash in by promoting a lot of new gold mining and brewery stocks. The legalization of beer and the high value of gold had paved the way, and the public was being in the market again. Chances looked very good for a killing.

But under the new law there must be filed a public record of all the data an investor needs to determine for himself the value of a new security and this record must include the size of the promoter's cut; so a lot of these lames never got to the public at all. And the general public has, thereby saved a good deal of money.

'The World's Greatest Thrills' Completed R-R Super Road Show With 'Moonlight And Pretzels'

The thriller of thrillers is announced by manager Robb of the Ritz theater as a unit of the R & R Super Road Show featuring "Moonlight and Pretzels," Broadway's Surprise Musical Sensation. It is aptly titled "The World's Greatest Thrills," and is a compilation of the most spectacular crashes, feats, accidents and other spine-chilling events of the past few years.

Necessarily this is not a staged production but a digest of blood-curdling happenings of an altogether unpremeditated nature caught by the camera's eyes by daredevil cameramen. Thrill follows thrill from the start, and each thrill is heightened by the terse descriptions of Graham MacNamee who appears personally for the first time on the screen.

Among the amazing scenes of this thrill picture is one of a torpedoed battleship actually turning turtle as it sinks, while members of its crew, cast into the sea battle to escape horrible death. Persons jumping frantically from burning buildings; a man cast from a glider; other men carried aloft by the ill-fated Akron and falling to death; a speed boat bouncing in to air and capsizing over its driver; a racing plane somersaulting in the air and cracking up while speeding at 200 miles an hour; a head-on locomotive collision; explosion and numerous others.

"The World's Greatest Thrills" is the most astounding record of nerve-shocking experience ever seen by mortal eyes.

Surplus Used To Preserve Highway Jobs

Department Closed Gap Between Short Funds And Public Works

AUSTIN—How the state highway commission, its current revenues exhausted, saved the jobs of workers this summer by pouring the bulk of its cash reserve into the breach was revealed by the Texas Good Roads Association today from figures for the fiscal year ending August 31, compiled by E. J. Amey, department statistician.

To preserve the livelihood of these thousands of men and their families until the Roosevelt public works program could get up steam, the highway department exhausted its surplus funds carried over from better years. It spent $8,000,000 more than it took in, the figures show, yet without going into debt a single dollar.

The near miracle was achieved despite a drop of nearly $12,000,000 in state road revenues, due to retirement of many motor cars, loss of county aid, and diversion of one-fourth of the gas tax to refund county bonds.

Money for the successful job-saving fight came from a 33-per cent emergency boost in federal aid, $1,000,000 in old license fees which had been in litigation, and $7,500,000 in cash surplus from other years, all the department could spare and still finish its projects. Federal aid is not paid until jobs are complete, it was explained.

W. O. Huggins, Texas Good Roads Association president, called the figure "a valiant battle against human misery," but warned that the state fund is now crippled. "For next year we are absolutely dependent on federal aid," he said. "To hold our ground, we must get more money from Washington. To do this, one course is imperative; we must not divert any more state road money to other uses. The Roosevelt administration has said flatly that states which do this, which will not help themselves, need not expect the government to help. This help is so vital to Texas now that we must permit nothing to endanger it."

Mickey Mouse Notes

Everyone is invited to attend Mickey Mouse's birthday party. One of the most celebrated occasions of the year for kiddies will be staged Saturday when Mickey observes his fifth birthday—even the schools will be closed.

Reason for all this jubilation is that the world's most celebrated motion picture star, who half a decade ago made his screen debut, is inviting children to join with him in celebrating the occasion.

In five short years, Mickey Mouse created by Walt Disney, has risen to a place in the hearts of the children of all lands in a degree equalled only by Santa Claus.

Other familiar characters of the strip are Minnie Pluto, and Horace Horsecollar.

From a rather humble beginning, Mickey has risen to be the most popular screen star of the day, probably because he has been just Mickey from the beginning—clean, wholesome and a favorite of all the family.

Friday, announcements for the birthday party will be made in The Herald.

Loughran Takes Decision Over Jack Sharkey By Narrow Margin

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

BAKER FIELD, Philadelphia—The revenge that Tommy Loughran has lived for through four troublesome years came sweetly, to him Wednesday night as he jabbed out a fifteen round decision over fading Jack Sharkey, and even managed to batter to the floor the man who knocked him out in three rounds in 1928.

Before a home crowd of no more than 10,000, which made up for what it lacked in numbers by lusty vocal effort, the fleet Philadelphia courageously stood up under a terrific body bombardment, boxed his way out of one trying moment after another, then stunned the gathering by dropping Sharkey to his knees in the tenth with a right hand smash to the chin.

It was this amazing punch, probably the hardest Loughran, famed for anything but his hitting, ever delivered that gave Tommy the decision. The two judges, Al Voice and Herman Weingart, were divided in their opinions, the first voting for Sharkey the second for Loughran. Referee "Spud" Murphy scored the rounds evenly. Giving the "knock."

1. Eighty per cent of beer drinkers prefer tap beer.

Loughran would receive anything but revenge for his greatest effort. The round count of the judges was widely dissimilar, and they rarely were able to agree, but Voice scored seven for Sharkey six for Loughran and called 2 even. Weingart gave Loughran seven, Sharkey four and called four even. Sharkey weighed 202, Loughran, 183.

A. F. Of L. To Receive Specific Items Of Criticism For NRA At Convention

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The American Federation of Labor, meeting next week in the most important convention in its history, will demand that the National Recovery Administration create further safeguards for organized labor. It was learned that a laudatory report on the NRA had been toned down and specific criticism included. The executive council of the A. F. of L. feels that the NRA: 1. Has not put sufficient men back to work. 2. Has resulted in a breakdown of wage differentials between skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers. 3. Has resulted in organizing employers effectively while leaving labor to shift for itself. NRA officials realize that criticism of the NRA is bound to gain increasing attention. The intensive "blue eagle" campaign throughout the country served to hold this in check for a time, since criticism would be interpreted by the more cautious campaigners as a lack of patriotism. While some in the Roosevelt administration feel that a general attack on the recovery program would be harmful, others feel that there would be a healthy effect from discussing things in the open rather than in an atmosphere of polite camouflage. The faults found by the A. F. of L. are with specific developments of the NRA and not in any sense with the program as a whole. There is a feeling among federation officials that the NRA has compromised too readily on some controversial questions and that the result has been to lessen the effect of a concerted re-employment drive.

AUSTIN, (UP)—Suit filed in 98th District Court here by Attorney General James V. Allred asks $108,123 from the Magnolia Petroleum as unpaid oil tax. "Doggie" Baird, hasty fullback, stood out in the Panther backfield. Now a third back, T. G. Bailey, promises to get his share of the limelight.

Bailey, a sophomore player with two more years of eligibility left, will start at a half back position Saturday. He will do a lot of the ball carrying and passing. His left handed tosses may be a deceptive measure that will take the visitors by surprise. Austin followers expect him to develop into a back as good as Ed Strout, Panther 1932 captain.

Captain Pat Murphy indicated in practice the past few days that he was still dissatisfied with the Austin line. He had Walter Francis running at right guard in place of Ben Carson, who started against Yaleta last week, and Richard Wright was installed at left tackle in the berth formerly occupied by J. B. Wilson.

A hard scrimmage will bring other revelations to Coach Murphy, he believes, as to starters against the locals.

Football Season To Swing Open Saturday

NEW YORK (UP)—On a start in low gear Saturday football competition will swing into second this coming Saturday when such top-notch elevens as Army, Navy, Fordham, Pittsburgh, Georgia and Tulane making their 1933 debuts.

Not until the following Saturday will things be gliding along in high. On that date the remaining leading elevens—Notre Dame, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia, to mention a few—will be in the thick of the fighting.

In the far west and south big time football shapes up as offering the best show.

The southern schedule is studded with first-class games chief among which are Duke-V.M.I., Georgia-North Carolina State, Louisiana State-Rice, Oklahoma-Vanderbilt, Tennessee-Virginia Poly and Tu-

Brawny Bill Terry Hits Baseball Heights As The Super-Salesman

By JACK CUDDY United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—They're called Bill Terry almost everything—miracle man and dandy—but he's really one of baseball's super-salesmen.

This brawny young fellow from Memphis stepped into the shoes of the mighty John McGraw, and in his first full season as manager sold the club the pennant and sold the fans the club.

Terry the salesman is a pleasant-looking fellow in a rough sort of way. Your first impression is one of amiable indifference. Meet him a hundred times and the impression lasts. He's a fighter.

The club was in last place when Terry took it, and the Giants finished the season in a sixth-place tie with St. Louis. Then Terry went to work. During the winter he hired and fired right and left; the greatest upheaval in the Giants' history.

When the 1933 outfit showed up at training camp, the writers thought it hopeless. It was a nondescript aggregation that had no chance. Everyone figured the Giants for second division except Terry. He knew he had a team that would fight.

"That's all I want," he told the players. "All I want you to do is fight, hustle. Just get out there and win today's ball game. There's nothing much to this business. All lane-Texas Aggies. On the Pacific Coast, Stanford heads the list, opposing University of California at Los Angeles, Oregon State-Montana and Gonzaga-Oregon are other good games.

University of Southern California, national champions, meets a tough team in little Loyola of Los Angeles. This was the team that held the great Trojans to 6-0 last year.

we have to do is beat those guys today. That's easy. Just win today. There's no tomorrow."

And so now Mr. Terry, who down in Memphis is a Shriner, chamber of commerce man, director of Boy Scouts, vice-president of an insecticide concern, stockholder in a chain of gas stations and auto laundries, and contact man for the Standard Oil Company of Tennessee, is selling his club the idea that "there's nothing much to this world series. All we have to do is beat Washington in the first game."

Athletics Cinch Third Position

PHILADELPHIA—The Philadelphia Athletics clinched third place in the American league Wednesday when they divided a doubleheader with the New York Yankees, losing the first 7 to 0 and winning the nightcap, called in the seventh on account of darkness, 10 to 1.

Lefty Gomez was largely responsible for the Yankees' victory. He held the A's to seven scattered hits while his mates were getting to Bob Grove for thirteen, one of them Lou Gehrig's 32nd home run of the season.

With Johnny Marcum, American Association recruit, hurling four-hit ball for his third major league victory and Jimmy Fox driving in five runs with his 48th homer and two singles, the Athletics had little trouble taking the abbreviated nightcap.

Blenny Cross announced that Sweetwater has "conceded" the district 3 football championship to San Angelo. That is, Sweetwater coaches, scribblers and some of the fans have announced by word or mouth that Harry Taylor's ambitious Conechoans have the inside edge to the flag.

In spite of the gloomy remarks from the Nolan county camp, fans and officials really have big hopes for the Pony club. Overconfidence is a bad thing for any team, but if Sweetwater keeps its present attitude there will be no danger from that quarter. The Bobcats may make the strongest team on paper, but watch that Hennig machine on the grid.

Gee whis, isn't this a tough old world. Saturday will be a fiery day for M. K. Boone of the Herald forest. Coach Pat Murphy of Austin High, El Paso and House are old cronies. Wouldn't you hate to be in his place?

Ben Daniels sends his fiery Devil club against the second string steets this afternoon for a practice till. A full calendar of games will be carded for the boys.

The Bovine pilots gave the club a stiff scrimmage work-out until dark yesterday. Several new plays have been tried from Bristol's dome, including some new pass wrinkles. The coach hasn't cut the team any yet.

While looking over the minutes of the recent district palaver, we notice where McCamey was given a good cause for grief when the dads ruled Leonard Cain ineligible for further participation with the Badgers.

The McCamey superintendent, A. H. Blackman, brought up the question of the boy's eligibility because he was passed only one subject last semester.

The committee also decided to allow 18 Junior High grideters in at each conference contest.

John Barry Hubbard, sports writer for the Sweetwater Reporter, says George Hudspeth Gentry the following compliment: "Principal George Gentry, of the Big Spring high school was elected chairman of the district committee to succeed Supt. B. H. McLain of this city. Professor Gentry has been a member of the committee for several years and is considered one of the most prominent young school men of this section. His reputation for fair dealing and good sportsmanship is so well known and the committee is so congratulated on having such a man as its chairman.

"Some of the sports followers of Sweetwater may remember Gentry as the man who entered the first protest in the memorable Sheridan eligibility case of last year but we should also remember that we people of Sweetwater were in position to know the facts involved in the case that people elsewhere couldn't know, and for that reason we should look on Mr. Gentry's attitude of last year as one of those little mistakes from which no person's life is free."

Hubbard was quite high in his praise of Gentry other than references made to "that little mistake." Gentry made no mistake, Sheridan was ineligible, but the committee, frightened by the stir made over the case, changed their tactics and declared the flaming-haired star eligible.

Can there be any stronger recommendation for a car than this

America can't be fooled when it comes to spotting the best "buy" in any field. America knows too much about motor cars for that. So when one certain car wins almost as many buyers as the next two put together, you know the answer: IT MUST BE BETTER. And that's what the new Chevrolet Six most certainly is.

Better looking—it has long, sleek, aer-streamed lines—Fisher's smartest styling. Chevrolet has better bodies—they're built not just of steel alone, but of steel reinforced by a sturdy hardwood frame. Chevrolet has a better engine—six cylinders for lowest gas and oil consumption, cushion balancing for killing vibration. And Chevrolet gives better value—a long line-up of features, including the Starterator, Synchromesh gear-shift, Free Wheeling, which no other low-priced car can match.

Now, in September, is the time to start thinking about a new car for winter! And when you do so, think of the way Chevrolet is leading all other cars in sales. What more could you possibly ask as a recommendation for a car than that?

For The Love of Eve by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XX

At 10 o'clock the next morning Eve answered her desk phone to find Theron Reese on the line. "How about luncheon at my hotel this noon?" he asked.

"That would be impossible," Eve answered curtly.

"Let's make it the Music Box then," he urged. "We can dance."

"No—a thousand times, no!" Eve answered and hung up the receiver.

Arlene looked over with a grin. "For whom were those cold, cruel words?" she teased.

"That man Reese," answered Eve with contempt in her voice. "As though I would go to lunch with him!"

In a few moments Mona received a telephone call which she answered in monosyllables. Later she surprised Eve by asking her to have lunch with her at a fashionable Italian restaurant. Inasmuch as this was the first overture of its kind, Mona had made toward her Eve felt that she should accept.

When they reached the street at noon they found the snow dazzling in the February sunshine. There were crunching sounds under their heels as they crossed the snow-packed street. Within the entrance to the restaurant stood a boy with a tray of violets. Eve stopped and bought a bunch which she pinned high on her fur collar so that they nestled close to her chin. As she breathed their fragrance a feeling of sweet contentment came over her.

The feeling persisted as she and Mona entered the revolving doors of the restaurant. Mona tripped before Eve, her extreme French heels sinking into the deep pile of the short fluff of iron steps to a little balcony. She said something to the waiter which Eve did not catch and they were seated at a table near the rail where they could see the diners below. The waiter removed a card marked "Reserved" and took their order.

He would explain in detail.

"Yes," he answered, glad for an attentive audience. He named several stocks which had advanced and others which had shown a decline. Eve nodded, listening. She tried to imitate Dick's poker face when Reese mentioned Pure Soap, Inc.

"Pure Soap took a slide," he said authoritatively. "That will hit a lot of fellows. Pure Soap is a popular number."

"When did all this happen?" Eve asked, hoping she gave no indication of the concern she felt.

"Just before noon," he answered. Eve noted that Dick and the men he was with were leaving. She slipped the strong, hot coffee slowly and ate her dessert without further comment. When she had finished she glanced at her watch and arose.

"I think I'll leave you," she said, slipped into her fur jacket before Reese could assist her. "I have an errand to do before going back to the office—and there is no need for you to hurry." She managed to smile at Mona. At the desk she signaled the waiter and paid her check.

Then she boarded a trolley to ride the 10 blocks to the bank. The car seemed to be forever stopping for traffic lights. Finally it arrived at the square and impatiently Eve hurried out.

The usual calm atmosphere pervaded the stock and bond department of the bank. Eve asked for Mr. Brown but he was out. His assistant offered to help her.

"Pure Soap, Inc.—has it gone down?" she asked.

"Well, it dropped two points this morning," he answered calmly. "But it's gone up again within the last hour. Just a minute and I'll get you the figures."

Eve's knees were weak and she sank gratefully into a chair. This was another angle of playing the market. Well, she was still safe. But ought she sell now in case the stock might drop again?

The young man advised her to wait. Eve returned to her office slowly and thoughtfully.

Arlene was interested in Eve's account of the luncheon.

"I thought Mona was playing up to Reese at Freda's party last night," Arlene commented. "I felt sorry for Mr. Elias. He's so nice, and to think he fell for Mona, only to be hurt by her! I suppose he's so infatuated, though, that he can't see her tactics."

"We'll have to watch out for that girl," declared Eve.

"She's the worst traffic jam this office has ever been mixed up with!" added Arlene.

But Eve scarcely heard her. She wondered if Dick had seen her with Mona and Reese at the restaurant. What would he think after what had occurred the night before?

Perhaps it would be better for her not to mention the luncheon. However, Eve was worried.

Bryan Bank Employees Indicted For Shortage

HOUSTON (UP)—Three former employees of the First National Bank of Bryan were indicted here for embezzlement and misappropriation of funds in connection with a $32,000 shortage at the bank.

The men were Philip H. Hensarling, Eugene and Adolph Syptak.

The indictment said that on May 29, 1932 the three men made a false entry on the bank's books listing deposits of about $32,000 short of the correct figure. "This

Southwest Conference Gridmen Ready For Intersectional Tilts

By JACK DISCO
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, (UP)—Southwest conference gridmen will get down to serious business this week, with every team taking the field.

Chief interest will center in Louisiana, where the Texas Aggies, boasting the best line-up they have had since 1927, march against the powerful Tulane University team at New Orleans Saturday afternoon.

Rice institute will meet Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

Both these intersectional clashes rank among the more important ones on the season's schedule.

The Aggies, led by stock Bill Couser, sophomore quarterback, lived up to pre-season expectations Saturday when they trampled over Trinity University, 38 to 0, at College Station. Couser scored three touchdowns and gained 115 yards from scrimmage to carry away individual honors. Muggins, Frenchy Dominique, Gus Barfield and Fowler, sturdy Aggie regulars, saw the Trinity game from the sidelines, but may get into action against the Green Waves.

Rice eked out a 7 to 0 victory over Texas A. & I., but they demonstrated a stubborn defense which, coupled with aggressive driving ability, made the Owl showing a good one. Behind Fay Legow's blocking Norman Letts ran through for the winning touchdown.

First game on the week-end card will be played Friday afternoon when Texas Christian University, last year's titleholder, invades the North Texas Teachers' camp at Denton. T. C. U.'s 28 to 4 victory over Daniel Baker was its second of the season, the Frogs having previously trimmed A. in College, 38 to 0.

The teachers upset the dope at Dallas Saturday by downing Southern Methodist University, 7 to 0. Cox, Teacher guard, did the trick in the last few minutes of play when he intercepted a pass and ran 42 yards for a touchdown.

Coach Ray Morrison of S. M. U. represented a shortage caused by the defendants, the indictment said.

The Boy Who Made Good

Dollar An Hour On Emergency Road Work Now Sought

FORT WORTH—Fort Worth labor leaders circulated a petition asking the state highway commission to raise the minimum wage for skilled workers from 45 cents to $1 an hour on emergency road projects.

The proposed hike refers to work done under the $34,000,000 federal grant to Texas for emergency highway improvements.

The national industrial recovery act specifies that state highway bodies shall set their own wage scales, subject to the approval of the federal district engineer, according to C. E. Swain, federal engineer in this district.

The Texas commission set 30 cents an hour for common labor and 45 cents for skilled labor as the minimum. This was approved by Swain.

Members Of Supreme Court Return For Term

WASHINGTON (UP)—Like so many wise old oids, the nine members of the United States Supreme Court are returning solemnly to Washington for the term.

Although the term may be the most momentous one in decades due to questioned legality of some "new deal" legislation, the justices scarcely rate a line of type for their return.

The hustle and hubbub of the recovery program and its administrators alone bring ripples on the Washington tide.

Opinions written in the book-lined library of a dull red brick house on a quiet street here may have a great influence on the court's attitude toward the new deal.

Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote most of his opinions in the room. His liberal attitude may be felt in the coming session through those opinions, which might in some cases be considered as establishing a precedent.

Friedl received his fatal injuries when a car driven by his employer, T. B. Otis, also of Burkburnett, collided with a machine driven by Dick Slaughter, Willis Point. Otis and Slaughter were slightly injured, and a hitch-hiker riding with Slaughter received a broken hip.

The crash occurred when Otis attempted to drive around another automobile.

Two men occupants of the car Otis sought to pass were arrested and were given a hearing today.

without even being touched.

He also found that a lot of desks tops were badly scarred from file heels.

The heels came off the desks pronto and went right out the front door. Even the fact they belonged to ex-Congressmen in some instances didn't bother Prettyman in his house-cleaning.

In an effort to catch up with his horribly jammed docket the general counsel shot some of his best desk men into the field to try cases. And a system was devised to check cases in the future. The top office will know in short order from now on who is gold-bricking.

Slated—

A very definite rumor is floating that Guy Helvering will resign as Commissioner of Internal Revenue by January 1.

Necessity of returning to his private business is the reason given in some quarters.

Political considerations are ascribed in others.

Overdone—

A new order is being developed in patronage distribution.

In the future Democratic bigwigs will look askance at the claims of men who made big contributions to the Party treasury and seek to replace their fair-haired boys in responsible key positions of the government service.

To much endorsement is now as embarrassing to a job hunter as not enough.

One man is knocking at the patronage door right now. He is endorsed by both of his Senators, his state and county chairmen, a White House relative—and a gentleman from another state who gave many thousands to the campaign fund.

He wants a particular job in Washington.

Those in charge here have offered him a place in his home state. They can't overlook the endorsements but they're wondering why he brought so many and has been so set on a particular spot.

Recognition—

If those reputedly close to the President can be believed, Mr. Roosevelt is growing just a little distrustful of Russian recognition at the present moment.

They say he has about made up his mind to wait until Congress assembles and let them shoulder the yoke with him.

This despite a noticeable decrease in anti-recognition propaganda.

Notes—

First signs of activity in the Republican camp looking to 1936 are beginning to show. Representative Wadsworth of N. Y., House Minority Leader Snell and Senate Minority Leader McNary all will be in the running for the nomination on doubt.

Ogden Mills still has hope but his friends don't share it generally.

Three cases on the fall docket of the U. S. Supreme Court involve negro rights in the South.

One attacks the Louisiana "understanding" law which requires a person to understand the Constitution before being allowed to vote.

The other two allege negroes can't get fair treatment in Virginia and Maryland because

Washington Considered Stronger In Outfield Than New York Giants

BY STUART CAMERON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Just as they hold a paper edge in the infield so do the Washington Senators outfielders have an advantage over their world series rivals, the New York Giants.

Only in one of the three garden positions do the New Yorkers pack more class. That is in right field where stocky, hard-hitting, rifle-armed Mel Ott does his chores. In his heyday, his opponent, Goose Goslin, would have to give nothing to the Louisiana boy, but the years have clipped the Goose's wings. Goslin still is a fine outfielder, but no longer a great one. Ott is.

Of the Senator and Giant outfielders likely to see service in next week's battle, Goslin is the only one who has been through World Series fire. He played with Washington in the series of 1924 and 1925.

In the centerfield where Fred Schulte will be pitted against Geo. Davis, not long removed from college ranks, the Senators have an edge. It is a thin edge, however, being based on the 30 or more percentage points in batting held by Schulte, and the Washington player's greater experience. There is little to choose between the men in fielding. Both are about the fastest men on their respective teams and can go and get them all over the park. Davis' relatively low batting average is offset in part by his knack of hitting in what the trade calls the clutch.

The left field comparison involves a third player, for it's likely that the Giants will use Homer Peel against left-hand pitching. But of the two likely to start in Tuesday's opening game, Herbie Manush of the Senators must be rated above the younger opponent, Joe Moore.

Manush is one of baseball's mightiest hitters and has been since 1926 when he won the American League batting championship. He proved that he still swung a wicked bat this year when he became the first major league to

First Indictment Based On Gold Hoarding Law Returned In New York

NEW YORK (UP)—The first indictment in the United States under the gold hoarding laws was found by a federal grand jury when Frank C. Campbell, New York attorney, was charged with failure to report a deposit of 27 gold bars.

Conviction under the law carries penalty of 10 years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000.

The bullion, held by the Chase National bank, is valued at $200,000.

Campbell, before his indictment, indicated his willingness to test the constitutionality of the hoarding laws, and said that if he had to go to jail "in defense of my rights, I don't care."

The indictment was handed up after Campbell had attracted attention to the gold hoard by suing the Chase National bank for its return.

area in which one or more Episcopalians live; and the Bishop's plan is to assure pastoral care for these persons; and for all who feel the need of the joy, the peace, and the consolation of the religion of Jesus Christ, said Vicar Martin.

Rev. Mr. Martin has already developed two strong missions and is planning the systematic use of his band of layreaders and singers at other points in his field.

Beginning with Sunday, October 1, at 11 o'clock, there will be regular services every Sunday morning in Trinity Chapel, Midland. The Rev. Mr. Martin will come to Trinity on the second Sunday of each month for the Holy Communion.

Dr. Amos R. Wood and H. S. Faw of Big Spring will have the honor of conducting the first regular every Sunday Service Sunday morning, October 1. It will be Morning Prayer. The sermon subject will be "Light."

At the close of the service a picture will be taken of the entire congregation, to be sent to Bishop Seaman who may use it as an exhibit at the approaching meeting of the House of Bishops at Davenport, Iowa, to secure funds from the National Council for carrying on the work in the widespread mission fields of North Texas.

Episcopalians and friends of the church are urged to attend this meeting. Visitors are welcome at all services in Trinity Chapel.

Ouster Suits Due To Begin Next Monday

Biggest Civil Action In History Of State Aimed At Oil Companies

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN (UP)—The state's biggest civil law suit is scheduled to start Monday, October 2, in 98th District court here. In it Attorney General James V. Alfred for the state asks penalties for alleged anti-trust law violations totaling $17,500,000.

Right of 15 major oil companies, the American Petroleum Institute and the Texas Petroleum Marketers' Association to continue operating in Texas is attacked. Cancellation of permits and charter forfeitures are asked.

Political destinies, too, are at stake. If Alfred wins, his progress to governor or to the United States senate seems assured. Already it has brought a clash with former governor James E. Ferguson, chief adviser of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

"The suit should be stopped. It is a blow to national recovery. It will throw thousands out of employment if oil company charters are forfeited," said Ferguson.

"We are not suing because of agreements to raise wages and spread employment," said Alfred. "We are suing because we believe a code of ethics was used as a smoke screen to drive out independent filling stations and competition."

Ignoring Ferguson's denunciation of the litigation, Alfred has gone ahead preparing for the trial. Sixty witnesses have been summoned from 17 counties.

They are expected to furnish new evidence for the trial. How the code was drafted, adopted, approved by a federal trade commission and put into effect is on record in preliminary testimony taken before a master.

Included as witnesses are: C. H. Roening, G. E. Baker, Charlie Mays and Claude Oden all of McLennan county; Frank Emond, Bates Robertson, G. A. Forster, R. E. Tomlinson, Jack Cannon, W. S. Word, C. A. Sill, E. W. Sullivan, W. H. Goodnight, Ray Goodnight and Sam Kays all of Dallas county; J. H. Hunt, H. L. (Larry) Bowles, Stanley Hawryak, Press Wright, H. A. Jones, E. H. Miller, R. V. Nored, B. L. Hocker, Guy Estill all of Tarrant county; A. J. Davis, Barney Oden, C. W. Long, Ralph Dale, Jimmy Lawless of El Paso county; W. A. Saunders and E. R. Wave Of Petty Thefts Continues In Midland

MIDLAND—Theft of a car belonging to Billy Bryant marks a continuance of thievery in Midland over the past few weeks, most of which, however, has been petty.

Intruders have entered several houses during the last few days, and have not confined their activities to unprotected families. For instance, a man tried to steal Deputy Sheriff Fisher Pollard's car Saturday night, and a few moments earlier threw a flashlight beam into the bedroom where Peace Justice B. C. Girdley slept. Intruders in each instance fled when the officers tried to apprehend them.

'Vigilantes' Not To Enforce Compliance With NRA Codes

Set-Up For Enforcement Of Code Applying To Gasoline Prices In Texas Submitted; Secret Check Begins In Fort Worth

WASHINGTON (UP)—Existing agencies of the government, not volunteer "vigilantes," will be used to enforce compliance with NRA codes, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins said.

A definite plan for policing under the NRA will be announced shortly by Recovery Administrator Johnson, Secretary Perkins said. Pointing out the NRA compliance boards were appointed for only 45 days, Secretary Perkins asserted her opposition to any system of vigilantes, although she urged citizens to watch for violators and report them to the proper governmental agencies.

DALLAS (UP)—A set-up for enforcement of the NRA oil code, chiefly as it applies to retail gasoline prices in the Texas and North Texas areas was ready for submission Wednesday.

Laverne Guinn, attorney for major and independent oil marketing companies here, made the announcement after a conference with P. M. Miskell, Tulsa, chairman of the district administrative marketing committee.

Guinn said Miskell had agreed to the setup, which will be submitted to the entire district Monday at Tulsa.

Texas, now in a district comprising also Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will be given a separate committee, Guinn reported, with a local committee setup for North Texas.

On the North Texas committee will be Dick Cobel, chairman, E. O. Oswald, O. W. Peterson, all of Fort Worth. Edward T. Moore, Dallas, vice president of the Simms Oil company, is strongly favored for chairman of the Texas committee, it was asked because of "the acute gasoline price situation here."

DALLAS (UP)—Five secret investigators began a check of complaints here that business houses displaying the NRA eagle were not complying with terms of the recovery agreement. The probes were employed by the city NRA compliance board.

Bank the Federal Land Bank of Houston has added a night crew as well as enlarging its day force to speed up the consideration of applications and the closing of loans. A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank said today. "In the past seven weeks," Mr. Williams said, "more applications have been received than during the previous 29 months, beginning at the outset of 1931. In the first three weeks of September, 2,631 Texas farmers applied for loans totaling $12,023,828." This was nearly twenty-four times the volume of loans sought during the same period of last year.

"When the Emergency Mortgage Act of 1933 was passed by Congress in May, we had nine appraisers. We now have 113 appraisers in the field and about 125 men in training. When their training is completed those who are qualified will be appointed and assigned to regular appraisal work. This will further accelerate the handling of the large number of applications now on hand and being received daily by the bank. Officers and employees of the bank are earnestly endeavoring to give prompt assistance to deserving farmers of Texas," Mr. Williams said.
