Get Industry Or Go Broke, Expert Warns

Down in central Texas last week the highway department opened a broad new highway which literally ran smack down the Main street — probably even over the sites of once-crowded business buildings.

But the town had "folded up" because it had been a one-industry community — agriculture. A few years ago it had been a thriving little city of 5000 to 6000 persons, and the business area was prosperous. But when the highway department opened the new road through the town last week, fewer than 200 persons could be rounded up for a census check. That's how badly the town had dried on the vine. That's why the new highway didn't bother to go around the town; there just wasn't enough of a town to go around any more.

This startling story was told to Muleshoe's economic development group at a luncheon Thursday by Larry Milner, industrial development consultant, Austin. He is an employee of the Texas Industrial Commission, who came to Muleshoe this past week to arrange for an economic development clinic.

The clinic will be held here March 15, and will bring a number of experts in various industrial fields to Muleshoe for a whirlwind, one-day industrial clinic. Milner said the town which he described was not an unusual case. He said 138 Texas towns have given up their charters during recent years, and that 200 more will literally go off the map before 1980.

Failure to diversify and provide for more than one industry will spell failure to many towns during the next decade or so, Milner said. He pointed out that towns and entire areas have four main income sources:

1. Agriculture.
 2. Mining (oil and gas in West Texas).
 3. Manufacturing.
 4. Tourism.
- Of these, by far the most competitive is manufacturing. Literally hundreds of towns in Texas are seeking industry, and Milner emphasized that "those which succeed in luring people — employing industry are the towns that will still be on the map by 1980."

He said the March clinic will have five main purposes:

1. Community betterment.
2. Research.
3. Site development (for industry).
4. Financing.
5. Securing of prospects.

Milner offered an optimistic note: "While virtually every town in Texas is seeking to lure industry in its particular town, this area here has an advantage; most industries today are seeking to locate in the smaller towns rather than in the cities."

Milner cited statistics to bear out his point; he said that 25 years ago, 95 percent of all new industry went to the three large cities of Texas. But during 1964, only 45 percent of the new industries located in those three towns.

He also stressed the fact that while there are four main sources of town income, the towns that are moving ahead are those which develop as many of these three areas as possible.

"It is fatalistic for a town to depend strictly on agriculture, for example, or on just manufacturing for its income," he explained. "Towns, in order to grow and succeed, must have many different forms of income as possible."

Milner said the clinic here is one of a dozen or more going on in Texas. Three are to be held in this area — at Muleshoe, Dalhart and Dumas.

Clinics already have been held in Carthage, Coleman, Weatherford, Pasadena, Dameron, Brady and Lamesa. He urged the group here not to overlook tourism as a money source. "Tourism in Texas is growing as never before," he pointed out, "and many towns are going after the tourist business in a big way. If you can figure out ways for capturing that very lucrative trade, then so much the better."

And he added: "Don't forget that times change. That's the reason we need to find new ways."

Court Score: One Freed, 1 Dismissed

A criminal term of district court which was to have extended through a rare Saturday morning session, ended abruptly Friday after one case had been tried and another dismissed by District Judge Pat Boone.

Prior to Friday's snow storm, the judge had informed the prospective jurors they would be called back for a Saturday session despite the fact that the courthouse here closes on Saturday.

A jury late Thursday freed a 73-year-old man, Oscar Fore, charged with fondling a 12-year-old girl. The jury was given the case at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon and returned its not guilty verdict 20 minutes later.

The girl in the case now in a girls' home, the court was informed.

On the jury were Russell Bryant, Foreman; Robert

Alford, C. G. Lewis, Jack Beddingfield, W. E. Meyers, J. R. Carter, Joe Pat Wagner, Kelly Joe Barnett, Don Burns, Ed Edmondson, M. C. Street Jr., and Herbert E. Sowder.

Judge Boone dismissed a worthless check charge against I. A. Cole after the complaining witness failed to appear in court. It was the second time the case had been set for trial and the second time the top witnesses failed to appear, it was pointed out.

Another fondling case which was scheduled for trial was not heard. Silas William Lowery faces a fondling charge. Two other cases also probably will be tried at the next term which starts Feb. 1.

Earlier in the week, a jury had found Ira Chester guilty of passing a large instrument. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Winter Blares into Muleshoe, Dumping Snow on Parched Soil

Winter stabbed twice at the Muleshoe area this past week, the first a mild, glancing blow to the had, but the second a full-scale, knock-out haymaker. Welcomed by farmers (except the few who still have staggly cotton in the fields), the four-inch cover laid a badly-needed blanket of moisture over the entire Muleshoe area Thursday night and Friday.

Added to this was the early-in-the-week snowfall, the trial-balloon weather-maker which amounted to only one inch. That snow, however, had dampened daily "dusty-dry" fields which had been plowed earlier in the autumn and left standing all winter to catch moisture that was late arriving.

The Thursday and Friday snowfall was the heaviest of the season, and the first major moisture of any kind to strike here since early in the autumn.

The snowfall was general throughout the Panhandle and South Plains, extending also well into eastern New Mexico. It extended as far south as San Angelo and eastward to Oklahoma City.

Freezing rain had preceded the fall, making driving hazardous throughout much of West Texas. The rain here turned to snow early Thursday evening, the fall continuing throughout the night to lay a heavy blanket over the area by morning.

The snowfall continued Friday morning despite desperate efforts of the sun to return to the throne. Most schools, including Muleshoe schools, were closed Friday since operation of the many school buses on the country roads would have been difficult.

With entries still being counted, W. R. Watt, Stock Show president and manager, is optimistic about the possibility of the final entry figure breaking the 1965 all-time record of over 11,000. Entries of poultry, rabbits and pigeons didn't close until January 15, 1966.

Exhibitors and spectators wanting to take in the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo will find more emphasis on "Action." Under the production of Tommy Steiner and Associates

School Census Time is Here, Says Dillman

When Junior comes home from school tomorrow he will be bringing along a school census form which parents are to fill out and return to the schools not later than next Thursday — Jan. 27.

This announcement was made Saturday by Neal B. Dillman, superintendent of schools.

He said the annual head count of all school-age and pre-school youngsters began on Jan. 1, and must be concluded by Feb. 1.

He pointed out that all pre-school age children "be counted for use in future planning by the schools." He explained also that "it is very important that all school-age children are registered because part of the schools' income from the state is based on the per capita basis of the census."

Since only youngsters who are now in school will take home forms, the superintendent advised that "parents who do not have school-age children but will have a first grader next year, pick up forms at the school business office."

Youth Drinking Is Study Club's Forum Theme

Every adolescent must eventually face the choice of drinking or not drinking and that decision will be influenced largely by attitudes and information obtained in the home, the classroom and the community, the Muleshoe Study Club was told Thursday.

"Alcohol is too generally a part of our life today to allow young people to encounter little or no preparation," Mrs. Les Bruns told the group.

Appearing as panelists with Mrs. Bruns in a program entitled "Questions are to Answer" — were Mrs. J. G. Arm, and Mrs. J. Frank Peery. Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath was the moderator.

Parents who ask — "What should we tell our children about drinking?" were advised by Mrs. Bruns to "teach the basic values."

"If a person is to drink, he must realize that with every act there is an accompanying responsibility. It is urgent that every youth learn about alcohol, know its physiological actions in the body, know how the body reacts to it. They must be warned about the danger signs so they can recognize them," she said.

Acknowledging that, although most adolescents receive their first experience with alcohol and their first attitudes towards it in the home, the panelists agreed that the role of the teacher is highly important.

Mrs. J. G. Arm emphasized that accurate, unbiased and well-presented instructions about alcohol in the classroom can provide young people with a broad and sound foundation on which to base their inevitable decisions about personal drinking practices and social responsibilities.

The third panelist, Mrs. J. Frank Peery, placed special emphasis on the community's interest in a proper preparation of its youth for both present and future encounters with alcoholic beverages.

"It is imperative that youngsters learn that what is normal for one person may not be normal for another — and that a moderate amount of alcohol on one occasion can be disastrous on another," she said.

Panel members concluded, that, because teenagers are more concerned with "now," rather than "later," education in the home, school and community should focus on preparing young people for the present, instead of the future.

If the "now" is properly taken care of, the club members agreed, the "later" will take care of itself.

During the business session the president, Mrs. Ramon Martin, brought greetings from the state president, Mrs. G. L. Ginnings, for the new year. Mrs. Martin joined with Mrs. Ginnings in wishing the same for the local club.

Meeting was held in the home of Mrs. E. M. Pruitt. It had previously been scheduled in the home of Mrs. W. T. Andrews, but was changed due to illness in Mrs. Andrews' family.

Mrs. Pruitt led the group in representing the club collect.

The club went on record in support of the continuation of the High Plains Bookmobile service. They will write letters to the commissioners of the area urging their support of the Bookmobile service.

Assisting as hostess was Connie, the daughter of Mrs. Pruitt.

Next meeting of the club will be January 27 in the youth room of the First Methodist Church with Mrs. J. Frank Peery as hostess. At this time Mrs. Jack Schuster will show slides of her trip to Europe. This will also be guest day.

Members present were: Mrs. Gilbreath, Mrs. Arm, Mrs. Bruns, Mrs. Peery, Mrs. G. L. Splan, Mrs. R. O. Gregory, Mrs. W. H. Eldred, Mrs. S. L. Benefield, Mrs. Mervin Wilterding and Mrs. Martin.

Jean Martin, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a program on food for fitness and gave a daily food guide. Mrs. Martin told the group that for every five pounds of over weight your heart has to pump an extra three miles of blood. She pointed out that one out of every four women are over weight. The agent reminded the group that you should receive at least 1000 calories a day while you are dieting and that if a person would cut down 500 calories from his usual diet a week, he would lose one pound a week. Mrs. Martin also gave low calorie recipes to the group.

Plainview Man Picked as Agent At Colorado City

Bobby L. Lemons, assistant county agent in Hale County since 1962, has been named the new Mitchell County agricultural agent effective Feb. 16. Lemons will fill a position held by Buddy Logsdon, who moved to Littlefield to become Lamb County agent replacing W. R. Kimbrough, who recently retired after more than 30 years work with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Lemons' appointment was announced jointly by Mitchell County Judge Elmer Martin and Extension District Agent Billy C. Gunter, of Lubbock. Lemons, who is 27, holds a B. S. degree in agricultural education from Texas Tech College where he was vice president of the Collegiate Future Farmers of America Chapter and active in the Aggie Club. The new Mitchell County agent is married to the former Miss Janice Helmers, from San Angelo. They are the parents of one daughter, Dawn, age 2. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lemons, of Fluvanna, Hale County. Judge C. L. Abernathy and Hale County Agent Ollie Limer both expressed regret in losing the service of Lemons. Judge Abernathy said he considers him one of the outstanding young men in the area. "We hate to see Bobby leave," Limer said, "but we are glad to see him get the promotion he deserves. He has been a worker and a leader." This past year Lemons was selected as one of two county Extension agents to accompany the Texas 4-H delegation to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. However, he declined the honor to accompany the Hale County 4-H livestock judging team to the national contest. Stan Baluk, golf pro at the Kirkshire Country Club in Lincoln, R. ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

A move to worship GOD in His HOUSE is a MOVE in the RIGHT DIRECTION

To attend Church is the first step in finding God. To attend regularly is to continue in the right direction, and gives one an opportunity to understand God's will in his life. Now is the time to make your move. Choose the way that will lead you to God.

Attend Church Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editors note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found out Congress is back in session, his letter this week indicates.

Library Lists Many New Books

Williams Bros. Office Supply have recently donated eight folding chairs to the Muleshoe Public Library, which according to Anne Camp, were needed.

Two new books also will go on the shelves in memory of by Girl Scout troop No. 287. They are "The Boy Next Door" by Betty Cavanna; and "The Diary of a Young Girl" by Ann Frank. Both of these books should be popular for the young person.

Given by the J. A. Nickels and the Guy Nickels families are two books which the library has had numerous requests. They are "Angel Unaware" and "Dearest Delilah", both written in brilliant tender words by a mother, Dale Evans Rogers. Millions have read and been deeply touched by the books written after the tragic death of the little nine year old adopted daughter of the Rogers. Details of Dale's struggle with despair and doubt, and her ultimate victory. It should offer hope to anyone who has had to face the same heartache.

The library has also received through the courtesy of George Mahon, U. S. Representative, one book, and nine pamphlets; the book, "The Scientific Endeavor" is a history of the universe, dealing with the nature of matter, the determinants of evolution of life. One of the pamphlets which will be of interest is "New Approaches to Counseling Girls in the 1960's". Also received was a file of U. S. Government material entitled "NASA Facts" an educational services publication of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Even the person can take these and gain a great deal of knowledge of our space program. One is on the Tires or weather satellite, another on Project Ranger; and another on Manned Space Flight — Projects Mercury and Gemini.

One other pamphlet mentioned was sent by Smith & Fréne Laboratories and it is "Fellowships in Medicine". This gives much information of the Program of Learning and Service abroad for Medical Students.

According to Ann Camp, the library hopes to serve your library needs; if we don't have the book, says Mrs. Camp, we will try to get it, through our excellent loan service of the state library. We also have encyclopedia reference service. We hope to improve our facilities, to keep adding books, to keep the bookmobile service to all our rural areas; and in general to give the best library service possible, states the librarian.

Dear editor: Congress hadn't anymore than gotten underway last week when I found a copy of The Amarillo News with an article in it. If you're wondering where I found it, it was spread out by the wind against the back screen door and when I went out I didn't even have to bend over to get it, just sort of wipe it off my face — which already was complaining about the slowness of Congressmen.

According to it, Congressmen spend too much time answering to their name on votes and quorum calls. "In an age when electronics allows us to take pictures of Mars and transmit them over 134 million miles of space," the article said, "the House spends five entire workweeks in less than ten months last year answering, in a turn, to 435 names deliberately intoned by two clerks — a total of over 200,000 times."

This horse-and-buggy process of passing laws in outrageous in this modern day, the article went on, arguing that electric voting machines and such things are long overdue in Congress.

Well now I'll tell you. There's no doubt about it, there is a faster way to vote than having 435 members of Congress answer yes or nay when a clerk calls their names, but the way I look at it, Congress is already passing more laws than we can handle, and it's possible that this country needs is not faster voting but slower clerks. As telling how many laws we could have missed last year alone if the House clerk had been just a little tongue-tied.

Speed isn't everything. There are people who are dreaming now of the day when airplanes will be so fast you can get from New York to Los Angeles in 30 or 40 minutes. Leave New York after breakfast, they say, fly to Los Angeles, and be back home for lunch. I guess this is all right, but for years now I've had breakfast and gotten hungry again in time for lunch without ever having to leave the farm. Any time I have to travel across the United States and back to eat lunch, I'm going to see a doctor.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

as principal speaker. The dinner for the bosses and their Jaycee employees was held in Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church.

Virgil Lane, operator of Lane's Furniture Store, was given the "best boss" award, and Gil Lamb, manager of KMUL, received the nod as the "most outstanding merchant" in Muleshoe.

Reese, who is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Damm, Muleshoe, pointed to five areas of responsibility which every man should recognize:

Responsibility to himself, to his family, to his community, his country and his God.

"A man who is loyal to all these responsibilities is a well-rounded, useful citizen," Reese said. He pointed out that it is possible for "a man to change his destiny simply by changing his attitudes."

Reese told of attending a conference in St. Paul last week which featured the 10 most outstanding young men of the nation. He was particularly impressed by Richard Chappel, paralyzed by polio from the neck down for the past 19 years.

Master of ceremonies at Thursday night's banquet was John Smith, who was the first president of the Muleshoe Jaycees. Invocation was said by the Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and introductions were made by Kenneth Henry, president of the Muleshoe Jaycees.

Joe Meyers led the pledge of allegiance and Bob Stovall the Jaycee creed. Elvon DeVaney, past president of the Muleshoe club, and a state director, introduced the speaker.

Benediction was given by Carl White, a director of the Muleshoe Jaycees, and dinner music was provided by Ray Martin at the organ.

Other honors extended during the dinner included Ted Weaver, Jaycee of the month for November, and for December, Marlin Mills.

CHRISTMAS CARD SCENE — It was January 19 when this picture was made of the Bill St. Clair home east of Muleshoe on U.S. 70, but it would have been much more appropriate as a Christmas card. This was Muleshoe's first snow for 1966. (Journal Photo)

Beavers Flowerland Exotic Floral Designs

Some of the most beautiful arrangements to be found anywhere can be seen at Beaver's Flowerland, 520 S. First St., in Muleshoe.

Cut flowers, pot plants and artificial flowers for weddings, homes, hospitals, funerals and churches are here in abundance. The artificial arrangements look so real you can hardly tell the difference between them and the live plants.

Artificial flowers and pot plants have become very popular in recent years and they are preferred by many people. They can be made to order by Mrs. Spencer (Phyllis) Beavers whose artistic talent has created some of the loveliest floral arrangements ever seen.

A large stock of cut flowers, roses, mums, gladioli, carnations and many others can be found here at all times. Flowers for hospital patients can be delivered in a short time and brings great joy to the person receiving it.

A corsage for a dance or high school graduation makes a lovely gift and is greatly appreciated by the young lady wearing it. Weddings get special treatments so that the home or church will be most beautiful and attractive. Bouquets carried by bride and bridesmaids

The slender coconut palm supports a giant industry in the Philippines; it is the source of livelihood of almost a third of the Philippine population.

Mickey Vernon, former American League batting Champion, will manage the Vancouver, B.C., Mounties in the Pacific Coast League. Last season he coached for the St. Louis Cardinals.

National League pennant winners of 1965 and 1961 came from sixth place the previous year.

are also given special attention and made according to the customer's order.

Flowers can be wired anywhere in the world through Teleflora Service to which this firm subscribes. Just call Muleshoe 272-3116 and tell them the kind of flowers you want sent and give the name and address.

Mrs. Beavers has three employees assisting her in running this business. Rheata White, Willie Hail and Jewel Pool, and customers are assured of prompt service at all times. When you say it with flowers from Beaver's Flowerland, it is beautiful, and promptly said. Why not beautify your home or office with some lovely blossoms from this shop. They will give your spirit a "lift" and make the day seem more cheerful.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Beavers started this business in 1958 and have enjoyed a large volume of business since that time. The business has shown a steady growth and handles as much business as many floral shops in larger towns.

Mr. Beavers is the local Post Master and well known throughout this area.
