COTTON BEGINS TO OPEN IN COUNTY--Cotton is beginning to turn white in a few fields in Bailey County. The first open cotton reported to the Journal this year was on the Ralph Hall farm eight miles west of Needmore in southwest Bailey County. Hall said he planted the Rex Cotton on May 2 and did not water the cotton during the growing stage. He said he did a pre-plant water last winter, but did not turn irrigation water on the cotton this summer. The inset picture shows a close up of one of the fluffy white bolls. In the larger picture several open bolls may be noted in the rows.

Bollworm Damage, Control Discussed

Bollworm Danger Lessens In County

Dr. Bill Clymer, area extension entomologist, met with more than 40 farmers in the Bailey County Electric Cooperative meeting room Wednesday afternoon.

He dealt with the cotton bollworm problem and touched on worm damage in grain sorghum and alfalfa.

Dr. Clymer's main emphasis was on the difficulty in killing a bollworm that is more than one half inch in length.

He said, "Bollworm infestations continue to be troublesome across the South Plains. The populations are ranging from light to extremely heavy and are variable from field to field in various counties."

"This is an individual problem in each field," he commented, "and each field should be checked separately to determine if control is needed."

"Beneficial insects appear to be building in many areas and some control is apparent. The cool damp weather has slowed the development of the bollworm, but heavy populations are still present in many areas and a potentially damaging buildup is possible in other areas."

He said that where control is possible, it is possible.

Law Requires Mandatory Attendance

The Muleshoe Independent School System says that all children between the ages of six and 17, as of September 1, 1969, are required by law to attend school regularly.

The State Law places the responsibility of keeping children in school on the parents. The law provides for a heavy fine on parents who fail to require their school age children to attend school regularly.

The Administration Office asks that any violations be reported to a school principal or the Administration Office.

Make Your Dream House a Reality

Have you reached the point where your family has grown beyond your present home? Do you feel you must move into larger quarters that will be more luxurious and comfortable? But can you afford a new home? If not, you should consider remodeling your present home.

MULESHOE BUILDING MATERIAL PEOPLE CAN HELP That's where your professional remodeling contractor comes in. You can have almost anything you want in your home—if you know exactly what it is that you want. But the key is to know exactly what you want before you start to work. And the Muleshoe building material people will be happy to help you plan.

Here's What You Do Before Remodeling

1. MAKE A LIST: Decide exactly what you're trying to accomplish. Don't try to do too much in too little space. If you want a family game room, don't try to make it a den for dad, too! After working out your goals, decide on possible ways of reaching these goals. Consider your family's changing needs. Try to build in flexibility.

2. GET PROFESSIONAL HELP: They can tell you quickly, for example, whether your plans are workable. They can advise you about building codes and restrictions and they can tell you whether the structure of your house will permit the changes you have planned. NEVER proceed with any work without getting this kind of advice. You'll regret it if you do, because the advice they offer will save you money and result in a job that will give you more ultimate satisfaction.

3. MONEY IS AVAILABLE: After deciding what you want, ask any Muleshoe building material firm to recommend a reliable contractor who will give you an estimate on the exact cost on both materials and labor. Take your estimate to any financial firm in Muleshoe and make an application for a loan to cover the remodeling expense. You will be amazed when you find how easy it is for you to make your dream house a reality.

For the same interest and advice for ALL your family needs, shop the reliable stores advertising in The Muleshoe Journal. Their courteous salespeople will be happy to assist you in finding everything you need for your family's comfort and enjoyment:

Whitt, Watts and Rempe; Johnson-Nix, Inc.; Beaver's Flowerland; Perry's; Lambert Cleaners; The Fashion Shop; Deep Rock Service Station; Tri-County Savings and Loan; Western Auto; Pool Insurance Agency; C.R. Anthony Co.; Sears; Gordon Wilson Appliance and the Corral Restaurant and Drive In.

Pornography Objections Outlined by Resolution

Rev. Walter Bartholf, president of the Bailey County Ministerial Alliance, has released copies of a resolution recently adopted by the Alliance relating to pornography which has been received through the mail.

Rev. Bartholf said due to the inundation of the Muleshoe area by the pornographic literature during recent months, the resolution was adopted during the August meeting.

He stated that three copies of the resolution will be given to each civic club, social club, business, school board, county commissioners, city council and others interested may obtain the resolutions which are to be signed. After the signed resolutions are returned to the Ministerial Alliance they will be mailed to Senator Ralph Yarborough, Senator John Tower and Representative Bob Price.

The resolution cites that unsolicited pornography is being sent through the mail to businesses and into private homes and create an invasion of rights of privacy by these citizens and businesses.

It calls for the passage of legislation by the federal government to cause these unsolicited mailings to be stopped.

Postmaster Spencer Beavers said that those persons or individuals receiving such offensive mail may bring the mail to the post office where prepared forms have been made available. These forms may be signed and sent to the mailer asking them to cease and desist from sending such literature to the receiver.

Rev. Bartholf said additional copies of the resolution may be obtained from him or from the Chamber of Commerce office.

MHS Band to Attend Six Flags Festival

Jim Harvey, Muleshoe High School band director said that by earning a first division rating at the University Interscholastic League Contest in Oklahoma last April, the Mighty 'M' Band qualified for the statewide Six Flags Over Texas Band Festival. This contest will be held May 7-9, 1970. It affords the students the opportunity of hearing and competing with the very finest high school bands in the state, stated Harvey.

However, the band students must earn all necessary funds needed, Harvey announced that the students will begin a magazine subscription program on September 19. This program will be with Quality School Plan, Over 160 top quality magazines, including Reader's Digest, Life, Time, Look, McCall's and Sports Illustrated will be available. Students sell at regular subscription rates and may also accept all special offers from publishers. Renewals can be purchased through this program. There is no additional cost. The delivery within ninety days is as fast as any other source, said the band director, and delivery is guaranteed both by the Quality School Plan and by the Mighty 'M' Band.

In conjunction with the magazine sales, the band students will also be selling new subscriptions and renewals to the Journals in Muleshoe.

Harvey suggested, "As the student approaches you during this campaign, please realize that you are not contributing, but are assisting in a service

C of C Begins Membership Drive Soon

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce Membership Committee is organizing and making preparations in depth for the 1969 membership campaign, said Chamber of Commerce Manager Jerry Hutton.

There will be five teams, composed of ten local businessmen to each team. The campaign will kick off on September 15.

Hutton said, "There is a strong possibility that the team that sells the least memberships will be put on 'M.P.' (Mule Police) for several months."

M.P. will consist of keeping 'Old Pete', the mule, washed and shined, or any other detail that may arise concerning the mule.

"So please be kind to them when they appear at your place of business; they are working their way through 'Mule School' and need your help," continued Hutton.

"Also be kind to them because these men are donating their time and efforts that we might have a better town and surrounding area, through a more cooperative effort on the part of all merchants and public-minded citizens."

"We strongly urge everyone to think seriously about this effort, because without the individual support we surely can't have a unified effort."

"We solicit your cooperation," he concluded, "in order that we might realize the full measure of this area's potential."

Bollworm...

procedures have been applied to worms less than one half inch long, good control has generally been obtained. In some fields where a subthreshold level was present earlier and no control was applied, populations have appeared to decline.

"However," he stated, "this is not true in every field surveyed. If larger worms are present in the field, control is often difficult and extremely poor. Proper timing of applications of insecticide is of the utmost importance. After an application is applied the field should be carefully checked to determine the amount of kill and the reinfestation pressure. Be prepared to follow with several more applications if need be, he said.

Dr. Clymer said the cabbage loopers are reported in a few counties although most have died out of a virus.

He stated that the brighter side of the picture seems to be in the egg laying category. Most of the eggs on the underside of the leaf are cabbage looper eggs and the cabbage looper is under good control now due to the virus disease.

Emphasizing that bollworm eggs are usually found on the top of the more tender cotton leaves he said that situation seems to be abating somewhat in Bailey County.

The entomologist made a field inspection of several varieties of cotton following the meeting and found very few bollworms small enough to be readily killed and very few bollworm eggs.

Bailey County Agent J.K. Adams said, "It appears that the bollworm presently in Bailey County fields will do much more damage than usual, but many fields are practically free of bollworm eggs and low in damaging numbers of small worms that can be killed. These farms should not be sprayed. Every farmer is urged to check his fields regularly and spray for small worms if conditions warrant it."

visited Muleshoe September 4 to inspect office space for the local TEC Farm Labor Office.

Beauford Scarborough, Manager of the Farm Labor Office, announced that effective Monday, September 8, the Farm Labor Office of the TEC would be in new quarters at 210 South First Street, Muleshoe. Telephone number remains the same, 272-3260. The move was made possible through the efforts of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, Don Harmon, president and Manager Jerry Hutton. The move was concluded after Ralph Douglas, City Engineer, offered the TEC through the Chamber, part of his office space.

Travis stated that the Texas Employment Commission fills an important role in local community life. "We serve the farm employer and the non-farm employer alike," Travis stated, and "We serve the working people of the area." He expressed his appreciation to the Chamber of Commerce and to Douglas, for their efforts in behalf of the Texas Employment Commission.

Scarborough pointed out that "our office is here to serve the community and employers and workers alike are invited to visit us at our new location."

Job openings are available for all types of farm work, waitress work, clerical jobs, mechanics and driller helpers. Referrals are made by the Texas Employment Commission, to job openings, without regard to race, creed or religion, concluded the local TEC manager.

To Each His Own
"What did you come to college for anyway?" demanded the disgruntled professor. "You are not doing any studying."

"Well," replied the student, "Mother says it's to fit me for the president of the United States. Uncle Jim says it's to sow my wild oats. Sister Helen says it's to get a chum for her to marry. Dad says it's to bankrupt the family."

It is hoped two shampoo basins can be obtained but only one is in use at this time. More equipment is needed in this area. The Auxiliary hopes to obtain this by the time of completion of the Nursing Home facilities.

Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Bennett Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Bennett III, Sonny and Lisa, and Mrs. Roy Baker and Terry returned Monday from Sherman where they visited the Omer Bennetts and Mrs. Gertrude Wright and family.

They all attended the Bennett family reunion on Sunday at Sherwood Shores on Lake Texoma.

Approximately fifty family members attended the reunion including Bennett's sisters, Mrs. Lynn Boyne of Beaumont and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Todd of Bonham and Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Baker of Dallas.

One brother, Manuel Bennett of Pampa, was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Bennett III and children spent Thursday night with the Julian Woodalls in Wichita Falls.

Volunteers were solicited by the president to work with a diabetic clinic sponsored by the State Public Health Service. It is a free clinic for adults.

The need for someone to make draperies for the Auxiliary rooms at the hospital was discussed.

Mrs. Malone suggested that the Auxiliary develop better public relations and community participation through publicity and all-out effort on a door to door campaign.

Mrs. Paul Poyner and Mrs. Haney Poyner are to serve as co-chairman on a committee to secure workshops for Auxiliary work. Jenne McVicker, Cleo Gregory, and Wilma Embry volunteered to help.

Stephanie Welch Is Bride Of Michael Barron

Mrs. Michael Carr Barron

Local Teachers Hear Dr. Van Allen

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ingham, Mrs. Barbara Milburn, Mrs. Georgia Pena, Mrs. Kathryn Sanders, and Mrs. Elizabeth Watson heard Dr. Roach Van Allen, author of Language Experiences in Reading, give the rationale for the experience approach to reading Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m. in Smiley Wilson Jr. High Auditorium, Lubbock.

Dr. Van Allen has spent fifteen years developing this program, published by Encyclopedia Britannica Company. He is now on leave from the University of Arizona and travels from coast to coast lecturing, giving demonstrations, and training teachers.

Dr. Van Allen gave five do's that every teacher should check, namely (1) value the thinking of every boy and girl (2) accept the real language of boys and girls (3) encourage students to express themselves in many ways - painting, writing, speaking, etc. (4) provide many resources for children - art centers, science corners, all types of books, writing centers (5) allow children to be influenced by great poets, writers, artists through reading and observing, (6) relate all these experiences to the child personally, so that his self-concept is improved.

Miss Stephanie Welch of Martinez, Calif. and Michael Carr Barron of Las Vegas, New Mexico became man and wife August 14 in a small family wedding performed in St. Catherine of Siena Church at Martinez. The early evening ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Deans before an altar decorated in magnolia blossoms and greenery. Guitarists Collette and Ivan Sandoval played and sang "How Great Is His Name".

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven H. Welch Jr. of Martinez, Calif. Barron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wood of Muleshoe and the late L.S. Barron. He is the grandson of Mrs. Lela Barron of Muleshoe, and a 1961 graduate of Muleshoe high school. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of heavy ivory linen with lace bodice and matching cap. She carried a bouquet of rainbow colored garden flowers with ivy cascade.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Wanda Turner, who wore a long sleeved dress of bonded tuck cotton and carried a garden bouquet of many colors.

Phillip Barron of Muleshoe, Texas served his brother as best man. Patrick and Thomas Welch, brothers of the bride, were ushers, while another brother, Michael, served at the altar.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Welch chose a mint green silk dress, with cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Wood, mother of the groom, wore a pale blue crepe with matching blue hat and white butterfly orchids.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds were honored amid magnolia blossoms and astors at a buffet dinner in the garden of the brides home.

For her going away dress the new Mrs. Barron wore a loose-knit, long sleeved beige with brown accessories. After a week of honeymooning at Carmel, the couple are making their home in West Covina.

The bride was graduated from Alhambra high school in 1968 and continued her studies at Highlands University, Las Vegas, New Mexico. Her groom is a graduate of Highlands University and is employed at Baldwin Park high school in West Covina, where he is varsity football coach.

A rehearsal dinner for the wedding party was hosted August 13 at Port Costa by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Valera Carlton of Berkeley, Calif.

Attending the wedding festivities from Muleshoe, Texas were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wood, Susan and Greg Wood, and Phillip Barron.

Baker's Grandson At WTSU

The E.O. Bakers are "living it up" these days, adjusting to having a boy in the house. With only girls in their daughter's family, the Ernest Kerrs, and having had no sons of their own, they are indeed finding it different, but so nice.

David Mallory, the eighteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowery Mallory Jr. of Nyeri, Kenya, Africa, arrived at the Lubbock Airport August 27 and was met by his grandparents. He was in Muleshoe until Sunday when he and his cousin Lindy Kerr left for West Texas State University.

The Mallorys live about sixty miles from Nairobi, Kenya where Mallory teaches English in a Southern Baptist Mission. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mallory have studied Swahili which is spoken as it is spelled.

The Mallory family lived for one year in Bergen, Norway, about ten years ago, where Mallory was an exchange teacher.

David tells his grandmother seven years of English is required of public school students there.

Jeannie King Returns To OU

Miss Jeannie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. King, returned to Muleshoe last week from Camp Mafawicka, Delaware, Wis. where she served as counselor and basketball coach for the summer. Jeannie reports the camp was beautiful, surrounding Lake St. Johns and set among tall pine trees. She spent a delightful, rewarding summer and plans to return there next summer.

She will leave Muleshoe September 8 for Norman, Oklahoma where she is a junior student at the University of Oklahoma majoring in physical education.

Judy Anderson, Carl Burkhart Exchange Vows

Mrs. Carl Wesley Burkhart

A double ring ceremony performed before an archway of springeria, greenery, flanked by seven and fifteen branch candelabra in Calvary Baptist Church of Muleshoe September 6 at seven o'clock united in marriage Miss Judy Carol Anderson and Carl Wesley Burkhart, both of Muleshoe. Officiating minister was Rev. Jack Norwood, pastor of Three Way Church, cousin of the bride. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson of 1013 W. 2nd Street, Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Burkhart of Route 2, Muleshoe.

Traditional wedding selections were furnished by Wayland Ethridge who also sang "More", accompanied by Mrs. Wayland Ethridge.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a formal fitted sheath of wedding satin with an overlay of chiffon, fashioned with scoop neckline and a yoke and half sleeves of daisy appliques over net. Her chapel veil and full length train of silk illusion were caught to three tiers of daisies. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white glame-lia among bulblets, streamers with loveknots and lilies of the valley resting on a lace covered Bible which she borrowed from the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Larry Burkhart.

Miss Bonnie Edler of Muleshoe was maid of honor. She wore a pale yellow floor length gown of Roschelle lace with stem skirt, square neckline and sleeveless, the fitted bodice accented in back with white velvet bows. Her headpiece was a lace pillbox with a short veil of tulle. She carried a long stemmed yellow rose.

Mrs. Anderson chose for her daughter's wedding a Copenhagen blue A-line knit dress and white accessories. Her costume was complemented by a yellow rose corsage highlighted with pearls.

The groom's mother wore a pale blue sheath with multi-colored scarf. She also wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Candles were lighted by Larry Edler, and Charles Chandler, both of Muleshoe.

Larry Burkhart of Muleshoe served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jackie Anderson, brother of the bride, and Gary Burkhart, brother of the groom.

As she approached the altar and while the minister read the Holy Commandment to "Honor thy father and mother", the bride stopped in the aisle and presented her mother with a kiss and a long stemmed yellow rose.

Just before they were pronounced man and wife, the couple lighted a memory candle from two smaller candles.

Following the ceremony, as the couple descended the aisle, the bride presented the groom's mother with a kiss and a long stemmed rose.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bill Swope, 204 West 19th Street, Muleshoe, with Mrs. Swope and Mrs. Lonnie Merriott serving as hostesses.

Guests were registered by Miss Sherry Burkhart, sister of the groom.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over a yellow cloth and was decorated with an arrangement of daisy pom-poms, yellow roses and trailing greenery on a tall silver candelabra surrounded by lighted tapers. Appointments of crystal and silver were used to serve the punch and three-tiered cake. Serving were Miss Jeannie Martin and Miss Pam Morphis, both of Muleshoe.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Miller, Steve and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Dillard and Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Harper, all of Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Owen, Virgil and Thomas of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Depuy and daughters of Lovington, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Arie Owen of Battle Mountain, Nevada; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harvey and children of Clovis, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Heard and son of Lubbock, Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. O.M. Johnson and daughters of Graham, Texas.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the new Mrs. Burkhart chose a petal pink double knit sheath, with pink accessories.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Muleshoe high school. The groom attended Muleshoe schools also and has just completed 2 years with the U.S. Army. He is employed at Bell Service Station in Muleshoe.

A rehearsal buffet was hosted by the groom's parents in the Anderson home at 1012 2nd Street, September 5.

The love towards our neighbor must be like the pure and chaste love between bride and bridegroom, where all faults are connived at and borne with, and only the virtues regarded. -Martin Luther.

Mrs. Joe Young Shower Honoree

Mrs. Joe Young

People are curious. If they were not, there would be little intelligence of progress in the world.

Mrs. Joe Young was honoree at a stork shower Thursday night. The shower was held in the home of Mrs. Harold White.

Special guest was mother of the honoree, Mrs. Melvin Billings of Clovis.

Mrs. White and Mrs. Ken Petree served pink punch, pink and blue cake squares, mints and nuts from a table laid with ecru lace over pink. Centering the table was a stork, complete with top hat and tiny diaper in his bill.

Mrs. Young wore a corsage of tiny pink and blue satin ribbon bows surrounding a baby rattle.

As Mrs. Young opened her gifts, Mrs. Robert Shedd of Farwell registered the gifts in the baby's book.

Hostess gifts were a high chair and bassinet pad.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harold White, Mrs. Gene Sisemore, Mrs. Ken Petree, Mrs. Joe Albro, Mrs. John Blackwell and Mrs. Clarence Christian.

Pretty girls have the world at their command.

Nixon's Court

The significance of the appointment of Clement Haynsworth to the U.S. Supreme Court lies primarily in changes his appearance, and that of the new Chief Justice Warren Burger, might make in the tone of decisions from the high court, which convenes again October 6th.

Civil rights leaders opposed Haynsworth primarily because he never accepted the thesis that freedom of choice, if actually existing for all constituted school discrimination. Those who labeled him a segregationist overstated the case; it is yet to be seen if the court will sustain his doctrine on freedom of choice in the future. The Earl Warren court on one occasion reversed an Appeals Court decision in which Haynsworth was in the majority finding that genuine freedom of choice did exist and that therefore this satisfied the requirements of the Constitution and the law of the land.

Opposition to Haynsworth from organized labor stemmed from charges he is anti-labor, as it is termed, primarily because he decided in favor of a textile firm in a court case on the question of an unfair labor practice. He was in the majority on the Appeals Court in this case also, but the Warren court reversed the decision. (He owned stock in the company, which he sold shortly afterward.)

Moderates and conservatives who praise Haynsworth feel he was right in both cases, and that jurists of his inclination are badly needed on the high court to restore its balance. The President has also called for balance on the court. The future alone will demonstrate the full effect of the coming of Burger and Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

The Irish Question

In Northern Ireland recent activities pose two questions, As usual, the organized agitators, the protesters, have received most of the publicity--and public sympathy. The tactics they have used have been winked out, completely overlooked, or excused.

What started the recent rioting and fighting? It was triggered by a parade of Protestants, in a city with a majority of Catholics. The parade had been held for many years and to ban it would have produced strong resentment. There should be no reason in a free country why any group in not allowed to parade--if orderly and behaved.

What would Americans think if Protestants decided to stone Catholics marching in a St. Patrick's Day parade in New York? What would they think if bombs were thrown at the marchers? Discriminations against the minority in Northern Ireland are to be regretted and opposed, as are discriminations against the minority (Protestants) in Spain, Italy, much of Latin America, etc. However, Protestants do not stone or bomb Catholic parades, nor are they quietly aided by the United States, a predominantly Protestant country--as agitators are aided in Northern Ireland by a Catholic country.

The discriminations we hear much about, The totalitarian tactics, illegal violence and destruction of civil rights by the agitators few criticize.

The Surplus

The good news about the federal budget--announced that the surplus for the year ending June 30th was larger than anticipated, $3,100,000,000--complicates the fight in Congress over extension of the present surtax and tax reform.

Opponents of an extension of the present surtax argue that final tabulations for the recently-ended fiscal year indicate an even larger surplus for the current year.

Administration officials predict a surplus, with the surtax, of six billions for the current year; they estimate a deficit without the surtax.

It would seem early to repeal the surtax and gamble on another deficit, in view of the fact that inflationary pressures are still strong, and the extent of our withdrawal from Vietnam still not fully known, the surtax should be retained for a minimum of six months or perhaps for another twelve months at a reduced rate.

Tax reform, which should certainly be enacted at this session, might produce sufficient revenue to end the surtax sooner and perhaps allow for a lowering of rates applying to small and middle income taxpayers.

report from Moscow-- After 50 Years, Communism Still Not Efficient In Russia

(Editor's Note: This is the last of four exclusive articles from Moscow by veteran writer and newspaper-television executive Walter Brown, who has also served in key positions in the Department of State.)

By Walter Brown
(Special for Bailey County Journal)

MOSCOW--When an American visitor travels behind the Iron Curtain and sees the Communist system, he continuously asks himself: Are these people really happy under this kind of government?

The Communist state is a massive bureaucracy, and bureaucrats are happy as long as they are in power and their budgets are increased from year to year. When a visitor attends a ballet, the opera, or has dinner in some of the larger hotels, he has the feeling he is only seeing the upper echelon of the Soviet system. There are classes in Russia, and they cannot be camouflaged. The people with brains and ability enjoy higher living standards. The Communist deny this and claim citizens contribute to the state according to their talents, but all receive the same treatment from the state. This is just not true. The scientist, the engineer, the university professor, have more privileges and a better life than the rank and file worker.

Regardless of rank and status, their standards of living fall far short of that enjoyed by the people of the United States. There is a serious shortage of consumer goods in Russia, and the state farm system is not producing enough food and fiber to meet the growing demand of the people. These people are not completely in the dark as to what is going on outside their borders. The greatest curiosity on the streets of Moscow is a foreign-made car. A Ford Mustang will attract a crowd that will almost block street traffic. An old Dodge station wagon parked in front of the Metropole Hotel here in Moscow had a continuous gallery for a whole day. Most of the Russian Volva cars on the streets of Moscow would be in junk yards in America, much to their discomfort of Lady Bird Johnson.

These people, like people everywhere, want more of the good things of life. It is not the big things like an automobile, but the little things which worry them the most. For instance, they buy a flashlight which is a real luxury during the long winter nights. But when the batteries go, they have a hard time getting them replaced. Flashlight batteries, like so many other little things which can be bought in a filling station, a drug store, a five and ten cents establishment all over America, are in short supply in Russia. If they are fortunate enough to be found, the price is tremendously excessive.

The high cost of living is pinching the Russian people and living on 200 rubles a month, which is the average family income, is rough even by Russian standards. Just how they manage even with their low rent for public housing, which in only about five percent of their income, is difficult to fathom. However, one thing easy to forget is the fact that before the Revolution, people of Russia for years had been ground to abject poverty by the Czars and the ruling aristocracy.

From Congressman BOB PRICE VIETNAM

The President has announced a comprehensive plan which can leave no doubt of his desire for peace in Vietnam. For the first time in eight years, American troops are beginning to come home. However, although willing to take a risk to gain peace in that part of the world, the President is "unwilling to take part in any disguised surrender."

FOREIGN RELATIONS
In his recent trip abroad, the President clearly improved our national image in the countries he visited. He demonstrated his willingness to go anywhere to restore mutual understanding and establish a more peaceful world. In key meetings with various heads of state both at home and abroad, the President has laid the diplomatic groundwork for major new initiatives in our Asian policy and East-West relations.

INFLATION
In fighting the sharply rising cost of living, the Nixon Administration has already created a substantial budgetary surplus. In addition to cutting the fat out of the previous Administration's budget, the President has proposed an anti-inflationary tax program and effected anti-inflationary fiscal policies. Believing that economy begins at home, the President has also reduced funds available for hiring Federal employees and decreed a 10 percent cutback in Federal employees stationed around the world.

TAX REFORM
The President has proposed major tax reforms which would phase out the surtax, remove five million poor from the tax rolls, reduce the tax levied on low and middle income tax payers, and prevent the very rich from escaping their responsibility to pay federal income taxes. The President's proposals have been incorporated into the Tax Reform Act of 1969 which recently passed the House, and is now pending before the Senate. While the President's proposals were aimed primarily at the individual taxpayer, the House tackled on several controversial provisions relating to trade and commerce. If the Senate does not agree with the House version, it may modify or reject it in its entirety. In either event, the House, in conference, will have the opportunity to vote on a new or modified tax reform measure.

WELFARE REFORM
President Nixon's proposals to reshape the nation's antiquated welfare system appears to be the first significant effort in over three decades to shift welfare emphasis from hand-outs to jobs and job training. His "New Federalism" domestic policy would continue payments to those unable to work. However, through a system of job incentives and job training under the revamped manpower training programs, it would become more profitable for an individual to work than to stay on welfare. The poor will always be with us and provision must be made for their care. But, as the President said, what Americans need is not more welfare but more "workfare." Under the President's proposed welfare system, old age assistance, aid to the blind and to the partially and totally disabled would be continued.

REVENUE SHARING
The "New Federalism" policy proposes a revenue sharing plan that will allow local and state governments to combat their problems with federal funds. The plan increases the problem solving responsibility of state and local levels, and at the same time reduces red tape and bureaucratic mismanagement by minimizing long-distance Federal involvement. The Nixon Administration formulated the plan based on its belief that state and local problems could be better remedied at their source if the Federal government helped meet the financial burden presently borne by state and local governments.

LAW AND ORDER
The Nixon Administration has launched a major attack on organized crime. It has proposed new laws which would facilitate this attack and would strengthen state and local law enforcement agencies. The President has also proposed legislative attacks on the distribution of obscene and pornographic materials and the control of narcotics and dangerous drugs. Both problems have become national scandals whose origins lie in the general permissiveness which has evolved under previous Administrations.

DEFENSE POLICY
The President has gone on record opposing any cut in our state of military preparedness which would weaken our national defense posture. Realizing the need for a missile defense system, the Administration uncompromisingly put its prestige on the line in favor of the Safeguard System. The narrow approval of Safeguard in the Senate foreshadows its overwhelming endorsement in the President will speak from a position of strength in his attempts to improve East-West relations.

As you can see, the first months of the Nixon Administration have been active ones. A recent Gallup Poll found that 65 percent of the American people approve of the way the President is doing his job. This is also the consensus of a majority of the letters I have received from the Texas Panhandle. The President has worked diligently for this strong measure of approval. By his calm, careful, and well thought out approach to our national problems, the President has earned the confidence of the American people.

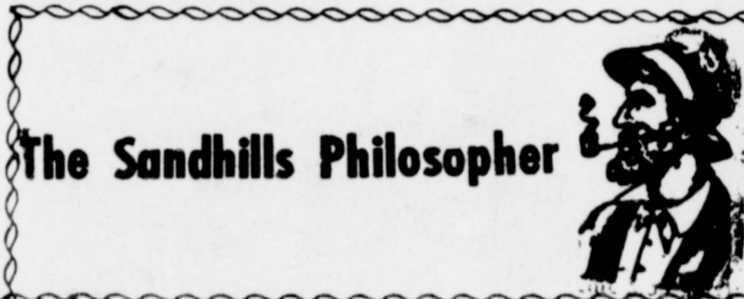

For my part, I can best assist the President in his work and can best represent the interests of the 18th Congressional District, if I continue to get the benefit of the views of the residents of the Texas Panhandle. It is for this reason that I am greatly pleased by the great volume of mail I receive, and the large number of constituents who stop by and visit while I am in my Washington and Amarillo offices.

OUT OF THIS WORLD

All letters to the Editor of reasonable length are welcome and will be published. Letters to the Editor must be signed, however, names will be withheld upon request.

state of military preparedness which would weaken our national defense posture. The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is trying to get in on a good thing, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I saw it on television and then later confirmed it by reading it in a newspaper, or was it the other way around? I really can't say because I can't remember what paper it was, but as I understand it 400,000 students, well they were young, enough to be students, gathered on a farm in New York state the other day for three days of music and mud-baths.

Now I don't know anything about this, if students want to march on a farm, why not? It's about the only thing that hasn't been marched on, and if any of them are demanding the right to work on one, here's my tractor key.

But one item in the newspaper account interested me. To get the news in depth, I'll take a newspaper every time. It said the farmer who owned the land where the cultural event took place leased it to the promoters for $50,000 for three days.

Finally, one farmer has reached parity, less what it took to clean up afterwards, and what I'd like to know is, haven't we got any kids around here interested in culture?

Now I've got this Johnson grass farm sitting out here and will be glad to lease it on the same terms that New York state farmer got, provided it was cash in advance.

This farm meets all the requirements of student music-lovers. It is not tied in with the military-industrial complex, there are no hypocritical politicians on it, no regimented city life, nobody here believes especially in working for a living, it's got wild flowers for hair--male or female, the ground is as hard and close to nature as any on earth, it believes in equal comfort for everybody and free electricity for air-conditioning in the summer and free heat in the winter and no questions asked about who chopped the wood or generated the electricity, and while it doesn't have any rock bands it does have a radio that brings in lots of static. Furthermore, if paid enough extra, I will deliver a speech just as wrathful and daft as any ever made by a 20-year-old student as he reorganized a university and threw out mathematics along with the dean.

If you know of anybody interested in promoting this JOHNSON GRASS ROCK FESTIVAL, tell him to get the money together and I'll do my best to pick out a rainy week-end. Yours faithfully, J.A.

The Grin Age

By every standard this era must be classified as the "grin" age. Every commercial we see on television, every newspaper ad, features a happy grinner enjoying some producer's product.

Every film star, every politician, every cute thing, every model knocks us dead with a flashing grin. At a time when the nation is crime-infested, wracked with violence, torn with racial hatred and fear, it's hard to understand what everyone is grinning about. But if there are six models chewing gum, or using tooth paste all the time, or if that were enough to make them infinitely happy. (If they aren't morons, the television audience supposedly is according to the ad man philosophy.)

It would be nice to hear a commercial, to see an ad in a newspaper or magazine, in which the model was something less than deliriously happy. In addition, it would be nice to see again, in social circles, the man or woman who didn't sport the accepted million dollar smile throughout the social ordeal.

Today's grin is too often phony. Sincerity is hard to detect when hidden behind a wide row of teeth and all that professional personality. It is often a better bet to trust the individual who frowns!

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D.C.--One of the quiet but vital intelligence operations in South Vietnam for the last year has been Operation Phoenix. That is a vast program designed by the U.S. Intelligence Agency to track down Viet Cong officials.

Phoenix "teams" have been set up in all 44 provinces of the country and in most of the 242 districts. Some 450 American advisers have been assigned to the teams--usually one or two per team.

The idea was to uncover members of the Viet Cong serving in official positions in South Vietnam and get rid of them. U.S. intelligence, with Saigon's help, uncovered many. Some 25,000 suspects have been brought in but over 80 percent have been released or permitted to escape.

The discouraging part of the picture is that South Vietnamese authorities are corrupt, and in some cases fearful that the Viet Cong might one day take over. Many of those uncovered go in the front door of the jail and out the back door almost immediately, the chief of the American adviser team in Operation Phoenix, John Mason, complained recently.

Phoenix was the most ambitious intelligence operation ever undertaken in South Vietnam and its success would have dealt a body blow to Viet Cong power in the countryside. But bribery, payoffs and corruption, plus fear of the Viet Cong, which controls much of the countryside, have thwarted the program.

What worries some Americans in Vietnam is the Paris peace parley. They say diplomats in Paris might come up with a solution which legitimizes the very people Operation Phoenix is designed to uncover and jail. If that happens, those already sidelined will probably be back in business also.

It is ironic that the corruption in South Vietnam, which has prevented Phoenix from being more of a success, may in the end force allied negotiators to free and recognize the very opposition leaders which have stood in the path of a unified South Vietnam.

The blame does not lie with U.S. intelligence officials and advisers but with Saigon and South Vietnamese officials who have not carried out the intelligence operation; their failure to do so may have cost their regime its only chance to rid the countryside of the Viet Cong and solidify its hold on the population.

Air Travelers Spill Over Onto the Rail

BY PAUL HARVEY

The best possible news for air travelers is evidence of a renaissance of the railroads. Overcrowded air carriers demand relief; overcrowded airports force curtailment of schedules. Now, with a traffic jam upstairs, a resumption of interest in rail passenger service is coming along just in time.

The problems of air travel will get worse before this relief can be felt. Airlines, with more passengers than they can handle, may get altogether as impersonal, unreliable and rude as did the railroads when they did not want passengers.

Indeed, the next era of "luxury transportation" may be on the ground.

Commercial travelers are learning that "predictability" is more important than "speed."

The new TurboTrain between Montreal and Toronto is typical of the new generation of rail travel, and this one is already in operation. It averages 84 miles an hour and, when the roadbed is improved and many grade crossings eliminated, it will average more than 100 miles an hour.

Similar trains are presently under construction for the Boston-New York run and, later, between Boston and Washington. Between Chicago and Carbondale, 307 miles downstate, the Illinois Central contemplates a high-speed (170 m.p.h.) train. With stops, the run could be made in three hours.

Counting the time to and from airports--and stacked up over airports--that time beats most present jet plane schedules! But again, speed is less important than predictability. Time was when you could set your watch by the daily whistle of the 5:15; hopefully that time may come again.

Trains have many advantages with which planes cannot compete: spaciousness, comfort, scenery; they run in all kinds of weather and they are safer. The 1968 rail fatality rate of .10 per 100 million passenger miles is 24 times better than private cars and three times better than scheduled airlines.

Russia will have a 120-m.p.h. electrically powered train in service next year. Japanese technologists at Meiji University are working on models of a train they predict will afford surface transportation at sonic speeds--600 m.p.h.

In Europe you can drive your car aboard some trains and ride in it if you prefer. You can go from the Arctic Circle to within sight of Africa on European trains, most lines being modern, clean, comfortable and fast.

Admittedly, Europe's nationalized railroads operate at a deficit. Thus virtually no taxes are paid by European railroads to their respective governments.

Our own railroads cannot be expected to pour hundreds of millions of dollars they don't have into new equipment in an effort to re-establish a kind of de luxe service which was phased out 20 years ago.

The Assn. of American Railroads has proposed that the federal government pay the cost of operating money-losing passenger trains. Surely the railroads are at least as entitled as are their competitors to an assist from the public treasury.

Ironically, part of the taxes paid by railroads go to help build airports and to help pave highways, but the railroads get no help in upgrading and modernizing rail track and roadbeds.

Anyway, nothing can hold back the dawn. One way or another a renaissance of rail passenger service is inevitable, if only because of the spillover from the airlines, the fallout from an overcrowded sky.

WASHINGTON NOTES

NEW POLICY & SCHOOLS
Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch said there will be some desegregation plans developed under a new administration policy that will give school districts another year to desegregate. He said most districts are complying.

ON STUDENT LOANS
The Senate has passed a bill to revive the college student guaranteed loan program. Tight money and rising interest rates have held up passage by the House where a similar bill was proposed.

WELFARE OVERHAUL
President Nixon's proposal for a massive overhaul of the nation's welfare system is planned to start with $500 million in 1971 and going to $5 billion in 1974. The federal revenue sharing program offers states $4 million in 1970. Congress has one year to act on the proposal.

SAVINGS BONDS & INTEREST
The Treasury has announced a rise to 5 per cent in the interest rate on U.S. Savings bonds. The new rate, retroactive to June 1, will apply to the remaining years of all outstanding bonds, as well as to new bonds.

AGNEW AND MARS

The Pentagon has reported that the U.S. Navy is keeping a close surface and air surveillance of the Soviet ships anchored in the Gulf west of Key West, Florida.

SUES DRUG FIRMS
In an effort to lower spiraling drug prices through vigorous antitrust enforcement, the Nixon Administration has brought suit against seven major drug firms. The suit charges them with using a fraudulent patent to monopolize sales of a leading antibiotic.

ON COTTON ACREAGE
The Agriculture Department reports that farmers have planted an estimated 11,961,000 acres of cotton which reflects a 10 per cent increase over 1968 planting. The department said the increase this year was to help rebuild reserve supplies.

Figures released recently by the Treasury Department and Bureau of the Budget showed the federal government had a $3.1 billion budget surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30th. It was the first surplus registered since 1960.

I.C.C. ON CARGO RATES
The Interstate Commerce Commission modified long-standing rules recently permitting through routes and joint rates over land and water between points in the United States and abroad. The rules were effective immediately.

ON FOOD CONTENTS
The chairman of a House subcommittee, Benjamin S. Rosenthal, reports that businesses have added a hidden 10 per cent to the cost of many food and drug items since 1964 by reducing the contents in packages. He charges that frequently contents reductions are made without changing the package size or redesigning the container.

SURTAX EXTENDED
The House passed and sent to President Nixon an extension of the income tax surcharge for the rest of 1969. The President had asked that it be extended through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Two major agricultural research centers on the High Plains, one at Lubbock and the other at Halfway, will be touting their wares at field days during the week of September 8.

Their "wares" consist of the latest and most efficient farming techniques plus the most promising new plant varieties developed through years of scientific research.

The 60th annual field day of the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, will be held on Thursday, September 11, also beginning at 1:00 p.m.

L.D. (Don) Anderson, Crosbyton farmer and President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which provides financial grants-in-aid each year to many of the research projects at both the research centers, is urging all PCG members to attend the field days and avail themselves of the latest advancements in farm technology.

"Of all PCG activities, Anderson said, our support for agricultural research has provided and continues to provide some of the most profitable returns to our members. And these returns could easily be doubled if it weren't for the serious lag between the development of new and improved farming techniques and the field application of those techniques by farmers."

At the Texas A&M facility on September 9, tours will show more than 40 varieties of cotton growing side-by-side under identical conditions. All the new varieties being introduced to the High Plains will be seen, including the new Tamcot 788 which was developed at the Center and promises to play an important role in future cotton production on the Plains.

Visitors to the Lubbock Center also will have the opportunity to view and discuss test plots of narrow-row "broadcast" cotton, one of the greatest departures from standard cotton production practices ever made, and one which offers dramatic possibilities for lowering production costs and increasing yields. Researchers say the system offers earlier maturity, higher micronaire and greater fiber uniformity, plus yield increases of 10 to 25 percent.

Other points of interest will include grain sorghum performance test plots of 75 hybrids, discussions and demonstrations of weed and insect control measures and a tour of the laboratories and greenhouses that play a vital role in agricultural research at the Center.

The field day at Halfway will begin with tours of research plots of a wide variety of crops and a tour of the Foundation's offices and shop facilities.

Of special interest to farmers will be new studies of minimum tillage seedbed preparation for cotton and grain sorghum, various applications of herbicides and fertilizers, the continuing studies on soybeans, sunflowers, castors and corn, plus a showing of the latest developments in farm machinery.

An added attraction on the evening program will be an address by U.S. Representative Bob Price of Pampa.

PCG research grants to the two centers this year, totalling $20,650 were concentrated on cotton variety breeding work; disease, insect and weed control; temperature studies, fertility levels, soil moisture conditions and conservation of rainfall and irrigation water.

The 1969 grants-in-aid brought PCG's accumulated investment in agricultural research since the organization was formed in 1956 to $369,200, which PCG officials say has attracted at least an equal number of dollars from outside sources.

Anderson commented "Without these funds, supplied largely by High Plains cotton producers through PCG, many of the advanced cultural practices and improved cotton varieties being used today would still be years in the future."

The massive High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program, this year involving 13 spray planes, 150,000 acres of cotton and over 100 people, began aerial applications of insecticide on Tuesday, September 2.

The program, now in its sixth year, is an annual fight to keep weevils from infesting vast acreages of weevil-free cotton on the Plains above the Caprick until such time as eradication techniques can be perfected.

Spraying in 1969 will cover weevil infested cotton in parts of 12 counties stretching 200 miles along the eastern edge of the High Plains. Counties in the "control zone" include Briscoe, Borden, Crosby, Dickens, Dawson, Floyd, Garza, Hall, Kent, Lynn, Lubbock and Motley counties.

Lubbock County weevils are located along either side of Yellowhouse Canyon and have been found in scattered fields within 2 miles of the Lubbock city limits. Weevils had not previously been discovered in this vicinity since 1965.

Following the pattern proven successful for the past four years, spraying in the first three applications will be on a five to seven day schedule, using 12 ounces per acre of ultra low volume malathion. These applications are designed to break the weevil's reproductive cycle.

Additional applications, up to an estimated maximum of six, will be made from 10 to 14 days apart at the rate of 16 ounces per acre to prevent weevils that may not be killed earlier from entering the diapause stage and going into hibernation. Spraying on this 10 to 14 day schedule will continue on all infested cotton until harvest or until cotton is killed by frost or desiccation.

The control zone is broken into three "units" and spray contracts were let to the low bidder on each of the three. The smallest of the units, Unit 1, went to Ueding Flying Service of Vincennes, Indiana for $1.93 per gallon of insecticide applied.

The contract for Units 11 and 111 went to D.C. Roane Flying Service, Inc. of Jeanerette, Louisiana at a price of $1.65 per gallon.

According to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the organization which initiated the program in 1964 and continues as coordinator for all the agencies involved, these per-gallon prices will result in approximately the same per-acre cost as was incurred last year. The total cost per application, including cost of the insecticide, surveying, monitoring, flagging etc., Dean said would come to around $1.25 per acre.

Beginning acreage in the control zone for 1968 was only 75,000 acres, but the infested acreage spread later in the season to about 140,000. Originally the weevil infested acreage that required spraying in 1964 totaled 300,000.

According to Dean the expanded acreage at the start of this year's program is the result of adverse weather, migration and other factors during the spray period of 1968 which prevented some applications from being made on schedule. "In 1968 we just weren't able to reduce overwintering populations in some areas to the low levels of previous years. And consequently the additional acreage that has weevils this year is no surprise to us," he noted.

Dean stated, however, that although the area of infestation is greater this year than last, weevil populations per acre are generally below the numbers that were present at the start of the 1968 program.

Cotton producers on the Plains are insuring themselves against the weevil invasion by per-bale contributions to the cost of the program. Their portion of the cost is paid as a part of compress receiving charges, amounting to 50 cents per bale in 1964, 40 cents for the next three years and 25 cents in 1968. Because of the increased acreage in the control zone this year, it was necessary to raise the per-bale rate of producer contributions to 30 cents.

These funds, plus varying amounts supplied each year by the Texas Department of Agriculture, are matched dollar for dollar by USDA.

Dean and program entomologists emphasize that the first concentrated spray effort will be aimed at infested acreage above and along the edge of the Caprock.

"It is imperative that these weevils be knocked down as quickly as possible to prevent further westward migration," Dean said.

"Otherwise," he continued, "as the weevil populations grow they would move into thousands of additional cotton acres adjacent on the West to currently infested cotton."

Nixon's economic strategy is viewed favorably.

O.E.S. Conducts Regular Meet

The regular meeting of Muleshoe Chapter No. 792, Order of the Eastern Star was held Tuesday Evening, September 2nd, in Masonic Hall. Members having birthdays in September were recognized, escorted behind Esther's Station and presented birthday cards. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Wylie Bullock, whose birthday is September 10th, and Mrs. Alex Williams, September 18th.

A very beautiful and impressive Obligation Service was observed. Poems were read by the Worthy Matron, Worthy Patron and Star Points, and the Obligation repeated in unison. Chapter closed ritualistically, after which refreshments were served by Elizabeth Harden and Mrs. Bill Johnson.

Joyce Hill Circle Meets Wednesday

Mrs. Reagan Cox was hostess to Joyce Hill Circle for their fall luncheon Wednesday.

Members attending were Mrs. C.A. Black, Mrs. Jack Rennels, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Kenneth LaRue, Mrs. Larry Combs. New Members were Mrs. Keith Taylor, Mrs. Roger Gorrell, Mrs. Butch Cox, Mrs. Duane Seay and Mrs. John Gentry. Guests were Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. Matt Nix, Jr. of Sudan.

The planned menu was served from tables decorated in black and white, with a horn of plenty filled with fall fruits.

Mrs. Cox conducted the Prayer Circle brought a devotional on angels and conducted a true-false quiz about angels. The subject was chosen because the Circle will study the entire year a book "Revelations of Jesus Christ" by John Walvoord, dealing with angels.

Yearbooks were distributed. Mrs. Nix sang "Peace in the Valley".

He demonstrated how to make simple repairs. He told the women if the cord is getting hot, electricity is being lost before it gets to the appliance, electricity that is being paid for. Heavy appliances demand heavier cords, he told them, and must be grounded.

After the meeting, Mrs. Mardis served punch, coffee and cookies to Harbin, Mrs. E.W. Bass, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. W.E. Meyers, Mrs. Gordon Murrah, Mrs. Clinton Rogers, Mrs. Manuel Self, Mrs. Joe Smallwood, and Mrs. Davis Gulley.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. O.C. Kirk September 16.

Mrs. Mardis Hosts Progress HD

Progress Home Demonstration Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Harold Mardis Tuesday afternoon. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. E.W. Bass. Mrs. Albert Davis acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Ben Roming.

Joe Harbin, educational director for Bailey County Electric Coop, gave a program on the repair of small appliances. The members thought it very informative and helpful. Harbin told the women the various points to be checked before calling an appliance repairman. (1) See that appliances are plugged properly. (2) Check breaker switch to see that the electricity is not off. (3) Check cords to see that they are in good condition. (4) Check other circuits to see that electricity is coming into the house.

DeShazo P-TA Hamburger Fry Slated

Mary DeShazo Parent-Teacher Association will have their annual hamburger fry before the first home football game of the year, September 12 from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

This is the only money raising project the P-TA undertakes. Every parent with a child in Mary DeShazo School should support this supper.

Money earned in the past has been used for such worthwhile things as playground equipment, safety patrol equipment and furniture for the teacher's lounge. Other projects are planned for this year.

Latin and colored parents should be just as interested and are encouraged to support the supper, a spokesman said. This can add much to this community endeavor.

The menu will consist of large hamburgers with all the 'trimmings', French fries and cobbler, coffee and tea. Tickets are $1.25 per person.

The P-TA hopes to serve 500 persons this year. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

AWARD WINNER--A three day trip to Ruidoso, N.M. was presented Willie James for outstanding sales of Olin Products recently. Shown from left are B.W. Knowles, Olin Southern Region Director of Marketing from Little Rock, Ark; K.M. Jodie Whitley TOPS Queen

Leader Mabel Wolfe called the meeting of Jenny TOPS Club to order Thursday night in Bailey County Coop room. Members sang the Club song and recited the Pledge.

Weight recorder Selma Redwine called the roll, with 27 members responding with her loss or gain.

Jodie Whitley was crowned queen of the week and received a gift. She told how she lost weight. First runner-up was Clara Mae Langford and second runner-up was Joyce Payne.

Judy Lambert was crowned August Queen by Mary Edmiston. Judy received a large basket of fruit and vegetables. First runner-up was Mrs. Bob Solomon. Second runner-up was Mr. Edmiston. The club lost a total of 47 1/2 pounds during August.

Joyce Payne, Leta Hefner, Betty Oliver and Tana Holmes volunteered to plan a new contest to begin September 11.

The previous contest closed and winners were: Clara Crane, first; second, Ruth Clements and third Leta Hefner.

Mrs. Vinson received a charm bracelet for reaching her goal. Mrs. Victor Foss gave her talk on what TOPS means to her. It was very inspiring.

The next meeting will be September 11 and each member is asked to bring her Club-By-Laws sheet. The national, state and local laws will be studied.

Meeting closed with the singing of the Good Night Song.

Progress Circle Meets With Mrs. Davis

Mrs. Albert Davis was hostess to Progress Circle of Women's Society of Christian Service Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Davis, also the Circle chairman, presided at the meeting and led the Prayer Circle.

It was announced Mrs. Gordon Murrah will lead the study of the book "The Inner Life and The Christian in Today's World". The opening session will be directed by Mrs. Ben Roming in the absence of Mrs. Murrah.

Officers and committee chairmen appointed were, as follows: vice chairman, Mrs. Byron Gwyn; secretary, Mrs. Johnny Westbrook; special committee, Mrs. Gordon Murrah; local church activities, Mrs. Murrah and Mrs. Roy Hogan; spiritual life, Mrs. Verge Shaw and Mrs. Wesley Harrington; publicity, Mrs. H.H. Snow; telephone, Mrs. M.O. Stearns and Mrs. Westbrook.

The devotional was given by Mrs. H.H. Snow. She spoke on what the church means to us as individuals, concluding that "people are more important than buildings". She recalled seeing, when she was a child, a worship service held under a tree by migrant workers, proving, she felt, that worship does not always need a building.

Mrs. Davis served sherbet and fresh apple cake to Mrs. Gwyn, Mrs. Steve Lara, Mrs. David Pedrosa, Mrs. M.O. Stearns, Mrs. Westbrook, and one guest, Mrs. George Chambliss.

Square Thru News

The Square Thru's all joined up with our visitors, circled to the left into a night of fun and laughter. Attendance at our dances is great, enthusiasm is tops and, best of all, we enjoy having visitors from other clubs.

August 25 the Swinging Wings from Cannon Air Base were over to collect our banner and to take theirs back home with them. Now, we have a very sentimental attachment to our banner so you can guess we'll go after it before long. Also, the Square's of Clovis came after their banner and to get our club president's (Jimmy Presley) shirt. A club can do this if they cannot get our banner, due to another club having it first. Our caller's shirt is in Lubbock and Eddie Gunnels is attached to his shirts, so the Square Thru's are going to have to get on the ball and go retrieve some shirts. We had sixteen people present from each one of these clubs Monday night and three visitors from a Lubbock club, Ronald and Brenda Scott, a couple of our students also were visiting.

Members present were Arnold and Fat Prater, Jimmy and Laura Jean Presley, Henry and Becky Stoneham, Don and Laura Seales, Hilbert and Sherry Wisian, Nelda and Robert Hunt, Eugene and Donna Shaw, Monty and Alisa Dollar, Willie and Laverne James, Curby and Mary Brantley, and Ike and Gail Wilcox.

Also attending were members' children Liz Seales, Derek and Misti Prater, Sherman and Melinda Presley, Trey and Tommy Stoneham, Jimmy and Mike Wisian, Sheila, Curtis and Tori Hunt, Della and Daren Shaw, Stephanie and Curby Jr., Brantley, Rick Sheila, and Ginger Wilcox, and our caller and family, Eddie, Betty, Elaine and Leigh Ann Gunnels.

Tuesday night brought us up to lesson five with Eddie doing some real peppy calling. Students there for these lessons and helpers for these were Stephanie, Curby and Mary Brantley; Jo, Benetta, Judy and Ben Roming, Karen and Robert Stovall, Sherman, Jimmy and Laura Jean Presley; Ike, Gail, Rick, and Sheila Wilcox; Carla and Ronnie Ethridge; Lawran Hall, Terry and Lizann Gunter, Belinda Nickels, Kelly Cihak, Bren! Blackman, Kim Bock and Gayland Bock of Earth; Don, Laura and Liz Seales; Jennifer Estes; Terry, Tim, George and Peggy Wheeler; Randal and Brenda Scott; Debbie and Tammy Bruns; Jeannene Freeman, Rhonda Stevenson, Henry Stoneham, Jerry Scoggin, Patti and Kathy Pena; Nelda and Sheila Hunt, Jana Bruns, Joe Dan Briscoe, Tani Murrah, Tracy and Kim Cowan, also spectators Betty Cowan, Georgia Pena, Vivian Stevenson, Betty Bruns, Betty Cihak, Ruth Briscoe, Ada Murrah, Pat Nickels, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hall.

Lessons have been set for 7:30 p.m. due to school starting. Some of our members will be unable to make these lessons due to this change and the fact they are farmers, but the lessons will proceed as usual. So all you students remember to be there early.

Bare midriffs seem to be the thing nowadays. At first it was a bit surprising to see someone in long bell bottomed pants and a good cover up of bosom and sleeves and then discover that the tan space between the two sections of cloth was the wearers skin. But this style is strictly one for the resorts.
