The weather has turned off a little cool here this Wednesday morning and the peanut farmers are hoping the weather will hold for awhile as a lot of them are taking up peanuts at this time. The weather has been pretty good for harvesting and a bunch of the growers are taking advantage of it. The yields are turning out pretty good on most places. Also some have reported high grades on their tests. Everyone is hoping for a great crop this year to boost the area economy which needs a big boost after the short crops the past couple of years. So most of the growers are hoping for good weather to hold to get the crops in.

The mobile home that has been moved in out on Highway 6 east is the home of the Allan Swanners.

We have a picture elsewhere in this issue of the new home of the James Thompsons out past Frank Gray Park. It is a beautiful home and they are justly proud of it.

The fill dirt has been placed on the lot where the new Fire Station is to be built. Maybe the Firemen will be able to get some work done on it soon. Plans call for a very nice building and the Fire Boys sure deserve it. They do a great job for all of us.

Work is coming right along on the Milton Jensen home and he hopes that the construction crew will get the project finished soon. It will sure make a fine looking home.

Work is continuing on the Joe Espinoza home on the New Hope road. We will try and have a picture as soon as the project is complete.

The new home of the Gerald Burlesons near Desdemona is in the finishing stages and we will have a picture as soon as we can.

Gene Foster is still working diligently on his building next door to the Post Office. The ceiling has been finished and he is putting the final touches with painting, etc. Everyone is looking forward to Gene and his crew getting into the new location soon.

It sure is going to be a nice building and I know that Gene, Carolyn, Lisa and Joe will be proud of it.

The Panthers really came through last Friday night by defeating the Mountaineers by the score of 28 to 6 in a one-sided game that had been expected to be a close contest. But the great Panther defense just did a super job against the Santa Anna team and held them in check all night until the outcome had already been settled. The Mountaineers didn't score until the 5 minute mark in the final period. Great job gang. Now all follow the Big Red down to Evant and back them to victory over the always tough Elks in Elk Stadium. The Panthers are hoping to finish out the season without a loss and again be in the playoffs this season. And we think they will be.

The situation in Grenada and Beirut has really upset the people of this country. To think that such a thing could happen to U. S. forces was shocking to say the least. The Grenada situation seems to be causing different reactions a-

Karen Baze To Compete For Mrs. Texas Title

Mrs. Karen Baze of Clyde, Texas has been selected as a State Finalist in the 1984 Mrs. Texas Pageant scheduled for March 17-18 at the Greenspoint Marriott Hotel in Houston. The winner will represent Texas in the eighth annual Mrs. America Pageant on syndicated national TV from Las Vegas in early May. Approximately 75 women from Texas, largest number in history, will compete for the State Title.

Mrs. Baze will be judged on the basis of Beauty of face and figure, poise, personality, grooming, intelligence and speaking ability. She is a graduate of Gorman High School. She presently is going to school at Cisco Junior College. Her activities include: Basketball, Volleyball, Racquetball, PTO member, Eula Basketball Sponsor.

Karen stands 6 feet tall, weights 152 lbs. and has brown hair and gray eyes. She is 31 years old. She has three children. They are Melissa, age 10; Jared and Allison, both age 7. Her husband, Joe, is employed by Eula Independent School District.

Mrs. Baze sponsors to the Mrs. Texas Pageant are: West Texas Tall Girls, in Chimney Plaza in Abilene and People's State Bank in Clyde.

The reigning Mrs. Texas is 32 year-old Sandy Sheats of Baytown. She was one of the top 12 Finalists in the 1984 Mrs. America Pageant. During the last four years, two Mrs. Texas winners have become Mrs. America.

Marciel Justice Services Held

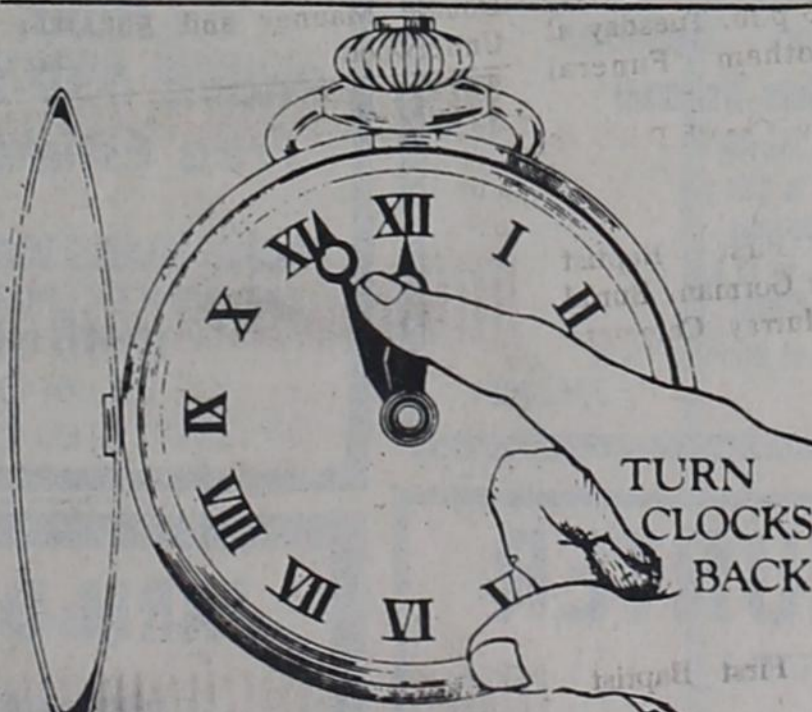

Marciel Greer Justice, 60, who received second- and third-degree burns in an Oct. 17 fire at her home in Carbon, died at 1:43 p.m. Sunday October 23, 1983 at Parkland Hospital in Dallas. Services were at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Bakker Funeral Home in Eastland.

Ronnie Armes of Fort Worth officiated, assisted by the Rev. Luther Helmes, pastor of First Methodist among the people in this country as well as other countries.

Maybe some day folks will get tired of trying to enforce their will on other people and the United States will not have to get involved in these battles. Then maybe folks will turn to the Lord for help and folks can live in love and friendship for one another instead of fighting all the time. Lets all pray that this will come true.

The Gorman Panthers hosted the up and coming Santa Anna Mountaineers in District 8-A action Friday night and surprised most everyone with a lop-sided 28 to 6 victory. The Mountaineers had been going real good in district play, losing only to Goldthwaite until they met the Panthers and the Panther defense, which did a superb job of stopping the Santa Anna offense, held them scoreless until 5:34 minutes remained in the game and the outcome was already written.

Gorman took their first possession on their own 44 and scored in just two plays with Mark Swanner breaking free and racing the final 43 yards for the score with 9:39 left in the period. Mark added the PAT and Gorman led 7-0.

The Panthers added another touchdown in the second quarter, going 99 yards in 12 plays after the Mountaineers killed a punt at the Gorman one. The score came on a 5 yard burst by Jacky Johnson with 10:26 left in the half.

The drive featured a 14 yard and a 9 yard run by Swanner and a beautiful 40 yard scamper by Rhett Harrison. The try for two points failed and Gorman went up 12 to 0.

Then following the half-time intermission the Big Red took the kickoff on their own 36 and went the distance for the score in 9 plays with Ricky Hunter getting the final 5 yards on a run with 8:00 left in the third. The drive featured 10 and 11 yard runs by Swanner and a great 28 yard run by Johnson to set the Panthers up at the Santa Anna 18. A pass from Seaton to Jeff Ripley added the 2 pointer and the Panthers lead was extended to 20 to 0.

The Panthers got an insurance touchdown with 10:32 left in the game, going 70 yards in 13 plays with Swanner getting the final 7 yards on a run. The drive featured a 17 yard pass to Swanner, and some fine runs by Johnson. Mark added the PAT and Gorman had the game sewed up with a 28 point lead.

Following the kickoff the Mountaineers got their lone score of the game, going 68 yards in 11 plays with James Bass getting the final 1 yard with 5:34 left in the game. A pass try for two points failed and the final score read 28 to 6.

The Big Red defense really came through on this one holding the Mountain-ers to only a total of 189 yards on offense. Every player of defense for the Big Red deserves a big slap on the back for their outstanding play.

In the story last week we inadvertently left out two names of Royce Ridens and Eddie Pettit. I apologize to them for the omission and I certainly didn't mean to leave them out as they are a big part of the Panther defense. That's what happens when you try to list names. Anyway, we want to make sure no one is left out because all the players are doing just great and we have a fantastic bunch of Panthers.

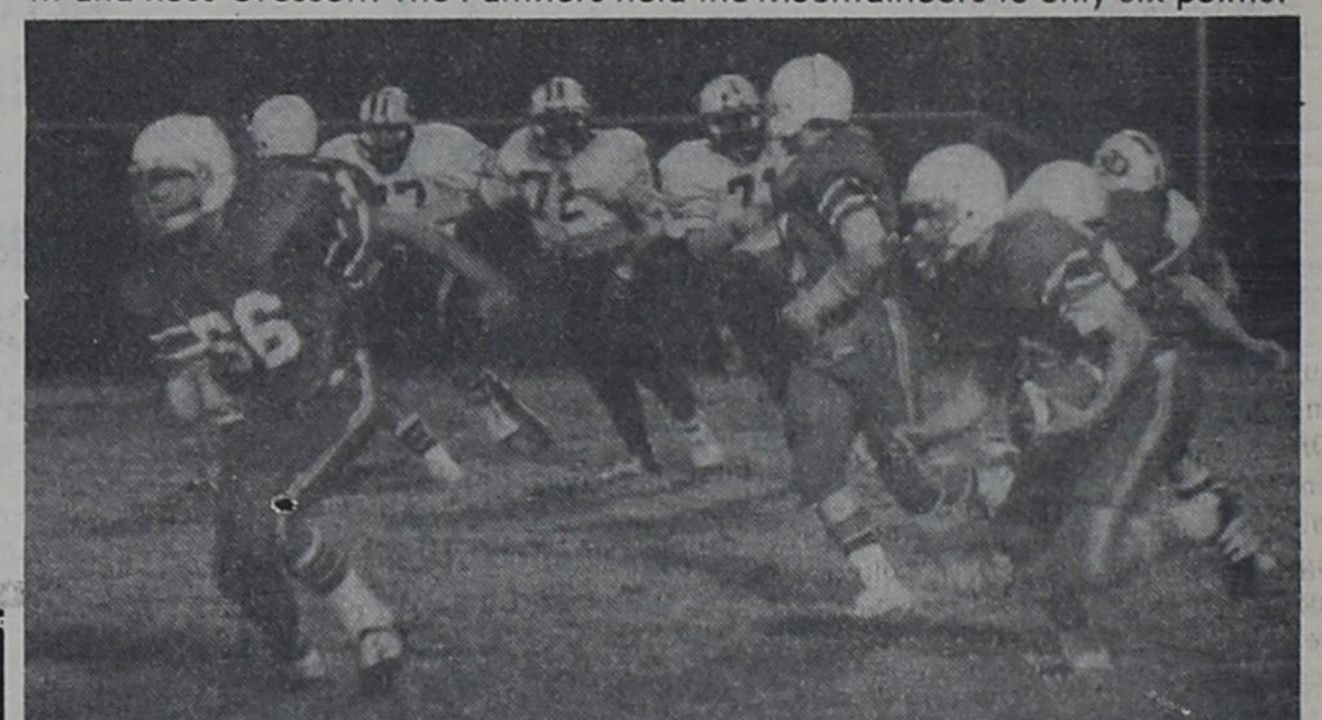

Swanner led the Panthers on the ground with 114 yards on 20 carries. Johnson had a great night getting 106 on 12 trips. Rhett Harrison had 71 on 9 tries. Ricky Hunter got 14 on 2 runs. Jimmy Woodall had 1 on 1.

The Panthers travel to Evant to take on the Elks Friday night in a game that always proves to be a tough one, especially at Evant. The Elks and Panthers have really had some battles through the years and this one isn't expected to be any different. The Panthers will be playing hard to remain in the district race and will need a fine performance to take the Elks. But that's exactly what we think they will do.

Go Het 'Em Big Red!

FINE DEFENSIVE ACTION — Above is Joe Underwood making a fine tackle in game action against Santa Anna. Other Panthers in the picture are Eddie Pettit and Russ Gressett. The Panthers held the Mountaineers to only six points.

ON THE WAY FOR A TOUCHDOWN — Mark Swanner is shown making a fine run in game action Friday. Making a path through the defense is Juan Pacheco, Rhett Harrison and Ricky Hunter.

J. E. Lawrence Laid To Rest Tuesday

J.E. "Shorty" Lawrence, 60, a retired carpenter from Gorman, died at 6:30 a.m. Monday, October 24, 1983 at De Leon Hospital after a lengthy illness. Services were at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Higginbotham Funeral Home.

The Rev. Creath Davis of Dallas, officiated assisted by the Rev. Darrell Dossey, pastor of First Baptist Church in Gorman. Burial was at Murray Cemetery near Carbon.

CAPITOL UPDATE

by Jim Parker

By Representative Jim Parker

This week I am continuing with explanations, both for and against, proposed amendments which will appear on the November 8th ballot.

Proposition #7 would permit the Veteran's Land Board to issue $500 million in general-obligation bonds to create a Veteran's Housing Assistance Fund which would be used to make home-mortgage loans to Texas veterans. Eligibility requirements would be identical to the Veterans' Land Program.

Like the Veterans' Land Program which enabled Texas veterans to buy land (minimum purchase of 10 acres), under the Veterans' Housing Assistance Program, military veterans living in Texas would be eligible to receive low-interest 40-year loans of up to $20,000 in order to make the down payment on a home. Supporters say that since most veterans are in an urban area, it would enable more of them to become homeowners. The program would be at almost no financial risk to the state since administrative costs of the program, including cost of mortgage insurance, would be borne by the veteran.

Opponents say this fraternal program would authorize a large increase in state debt and unwarranted government intrusion in the capital-investments markets. They say by offering more tax-exempt bonds to investors, the state would be taking capital away from some sectors of private industry, which will be forced to raise the interest yield on their securities in order to compete for investment dollars, thus driving up their costs of production.

Proposition #8 would allow the governing body of a political subdivision to exempt property of certain veterans' or fraternal organizations from property taxation.

Proponents say that many of these veterans' and fraternal organizations could not survive without this exemption. The current tax exemption for veterans' groups has been declared unconstitutional because an Attorney General's opinion has ruled that the Legislature could not add to the list of properties constitutionally entitled to an exemption. They say if these organizations can no longer be exempt from property taxes, either their services will suffer or communities will have to support them with more contributions.

Opponents say fraternal organizations should not be mentioned since they already receive an exemption under the "charitable organization" definition. They also say that "Fraternal organization" is not clearly defined leaving the determination up to an individual taxing unit which might be cause for litigation.

Proposition #9 allows statutory probate-court judges to substitute in any county in the state for a judge of a statutory county court with probate jurisdiction or for the judge of a constitutional county court. A county court has general jurisdiction over probate matters (registration of wills, administration of estates, appointment of guardians and commitment of the mentally impaired). The Legislature has created over 100 county courts to relieve the constitutional county judge of some judicial duties and many of the "statutory" county courts have at least some probate jurisdiction; with a few specializing in probate matters.

Proponents say those judges who specialize in probate matters should be allowed to assist county judges in other counties should the need arise, as is done by assigning a district judge to assist in another district-court problem. They say probate matters can involve complex questions of law and feel it would be more efficient to allow judges with special expertise in probate matters to hear cases when emergencies arise, such as the usual probate judge being unavailable because of an overcrowded docket or disqualification. Right now in these emergencies the case must be heard by the constitutional county judge, who may not have legal training; or a special appointed judge which takes time to arrange; or, in counties with no statutory county court, the case may go to a district court whose docket usually is already overcrowded.

Opponents say if probate-court judges could be assigned around the state, they may not be available in their own counties when they are needed. They believe the constitutional county judges would be tempted to disqualify themselves in a controversial case knowing a probate-court judge from Dallas or at 10:00 A.M. and conclude by 3:00 P.M. The current dairy situation will be reviewed with a report on the prospects for the future. Financial alternatives will be presented to assist with each dairyman's personal decision for his farm.

Feed represents half of the cost of producing milk. Higher feed costs have made a balanced program even more critical. The use of forages and feeding management will be discussed as well as possible "new" feeds that may not have been used in the past.

Breeding and sire selection will be on the program to illustrate other ways to survive in the current situation.

Herd management or "putting it all together" will provide some methods of checking each herd's operation. Many times a few small management changes can make the difference in profit or loss.

Lunch will be served and a copy of the proceedings given to all in attendance.

SOLAIR PEANUT DRYING NATURAL DRYING — A STEP TOWARD UPGRADING SOUTHWEST PEANUT QUALITY

Eaves Bros., Inc. will make available for the 1983 harvest season from 200 to 300 SOLAIR drying wagons to peanut growers in the Central Texas area.

These are specially designed drying modules built with wire mesh sides and bottoms allowing air to circulate through the load. Air is channeled through the peanuts by way of wind barrels. Each unit is equipped with a tarpaulin for covering the load. They are 20 feet long, 8 feet wide and holds approximately 11,000 lbs. of dry weight peanuts. PROVEN CONCEPT — Since the testing of SOLAIR concept in 1977, peanut quality from the modules have equaled or bettered sack dried peanuts with a lower percentage of splits from reduced handling with superior quality over artificially dried peanuts.

This concept rates high on quality and economics with research conducted by Oklahoma State University in comparison with other drying methods.

Gas ranges keep temperatures under control.

Almost all great chefs insist on natural gas ranges. Because gas gives them temperature control, par excellence.

The low flame keeps even the most delicate sauces warm without burning them. While the high flame gives immediate, intense heat for a rapid boil.

And when the flame is off, it's off! There's no hangover heat to spoil the creation. But control isn't the only reason they cook with gas. Gas saves money. In fact, you can cook 1 1/2 meals on a high-efficiency gas range for the cost of cooking one on a non-gas range.

So get more for your money and get a gas range for your home. Today. We promise you, you'll be in better control of your temperature.

GORDON SPOT PEANUT STORY

Peanut harvest is under way in Eastland County and the prospects are not good according to County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon. The severity of the drought varied throughout the county resulting in some very poor crops and some reasonably good crops.

The most drought stricken crops are west of Carbon and between Cisco and pioneer including the Nimrod and Scranton communities says Gordon.

Franklin Cox, manager of the Pioneer Co-Op estimates that 500 acres of peanuts have already been dug and baled because they did not have enough peanuts to harvest. He says others may be baled later. One farmer in the Nimrod area said he plowed under his peanuts, because the plants were not large enough to bale. Still another grower said the dry weather caused his peanuts to die while they were about as wide as your cap. He hesitates to plow them up, because there may not be enough rain to plant rye for a winter cover crop and the stand will blow away.

Wayne Eaves, one of the owners of the Eaves Brothers Peanut Company of Kokomo, reports that the peanut crops south of Kokomo and Carbon down to Rucker in Comanche County were fairly good, but were not very good east or west of that area.

Cox said harvest is just beginning in the southwest part of the county. He has purchased 34 loads, mostly from dry land. The grades are ranging in the 50's and 60's with a few in the lower 70's. This is considered low.

Harvest in the eastern half of the county is progressing more rapidly and yields and grades are better. Eaves said the irrigated runner peanuts are grading in the lower 70's while dry land Spanish peanuts are grading in the 60's.

Max Grice of Birdsong Peanut Company in Gorman reports that harvest slowed down the past week because of the cloudy, humid weather. Grades are mostly in the 70's at this time. Grice estimates the irrigated peanuts will yield about 75% of normal in Eastland County. Yields in South Texas are a little above average. Erath, Hood and Somervell counties had more summer and fall rain and their peanuts are expected to be good.

Over all it appears the Eastland County peanut crop will be about 40% lower than average reports Gordon. The yield may be about equal to the 1980 crop when the county peanut yields averaged 760 pounds per acre. However, there are fewer acres planted in peanuts this year than in 1980. The best peanut year ever in Eastland County was in 1979 when the county produced over 52 million pounds of peanuts with an average yield of 1,597 pounds per acre. Last year's county production was almost 25.5 million pounds. With less acreage and low yields this year the

EXTENSION HOME MAKER CLUB NEWS
The Extension Homemakers Council met this past week. 1984 officers were elected as follows: Chairman - Mrs. Wynelle Brown, of Kokomo; E.H. Club Vice-President - Mrs. Edna Birt, of Lake Cisco; E.H. Club Secretary - Mrs. Diane Carlile of Pleasant Hill E.H. Club; and Treasurer - Mrs. Dorothy Underwood of Morton Valley Extension Homemakers Club.

Mrs. Ruthie Keyes will be in the 1984 County T.E.H.A. Chairman. Mrs. Keyes is a member of the Pleasant Hill E.H. Club; The Extension Home-over all production may be below 10 million pounds for the county.

In 1980 the supply of peanuts were not enough to meet the demand and growers were paid premium prices from shellers over and above the basic quota price. As a result many growers made more profits than they have the last two years.

Ross Wilson, Manager of Southwestern Peanut Grower's Association, advises producers to stay in daily contact with the new crop market for possible improved marketing opportunities.

"All the signals point to not enough peanuts from this fall's harvest to satisfy domestic and export needs and some shellers may have to go beyond the normal bounds of quota price to get the supplies they will need" states Wilson in a recent article in Southwest Farm Press.

At this time it does not appear that large premium prices will be paid says the agent. Some shellers are paying 103% of the basic government quota price for non-contract quota peanuts, 100% for contracted quota peanuts and $340 per ton for additional peanuts. Additional peanuts are peanuts a producer sells beyond his quota. The basic government quota price is $540 per ton.

EASTLAND COMMISSIONERS VOTE FOR PAYMENT OF CLAIM

County Commissioner voted Monday to pay claim by the State Comptroller's Office against the estate of R.L. Rowch. They instructed County Auditor Emma Morris to send the Comptroller's Office check for $3,406.85.

Commissioners confirmed action previously taken requesting each fire department in the county to mail a copy of its monthly reports to the county judge. Departments in compliance will be paid $200 per month from the county's road and bridge fund.

Permission was granted for Westbound Water Supply District to cross County Road 141 in Precinct 4 in two places with a water line.

An alley connecting two pieces of property in Desdemona was declared vacated and abandoned by commissioners, John Walk-makers will sponsor the concessions at the annual Eastland Countywide Senior Citizen's Bazaar on November 3 and 4 at the Rebekah Lodge in Eastland. The clubs will sell homemade stew and cornbread plus all the baked goodies.

On October 8, Mrs. Ruthie Keyes, of Cisco will represent the county members and present a one-hundred dollar saving bond to each of the 4-H Gold Star winners.

The Extension Homemakers have received ten infant car seats from the national safety council. Plans are to set up a loaner program in Eastland County for parents to borrow a infant car restraint seat.

The annual Extension Homemakers Achievement Day will be on November 10th in the meeting room of the Eastland Senior Citizen's Center.

MORE NEWS AND VIEWS FROM BLACKWELL HOSPITAL

(We want you to know more about your hospital. This is a weekly column provided as a public service to this community on behalf of the physicians, staff and management of Blackwell Hospital.)

This past Tuesday you may have missed the big chance to save your life. Now, if you really don't think you have high blood pressure, why worry at all? But why take the chance that you may be wrong? Read on!

Nature's "Bushwacker": High Blood Pressure

Ever year, more than 750,000 people in this country die of heart attack or stroke. You may very well be one of those unfortunate 3/4 million this year. But you don't have to be.

You see, one of the most common causes of heart attacks or stroke is high blood pressure (hypertension), a disease that can easily be detected and treated.

Blood pressure is the force against the walls of the arteries, produced by the heart as it pumps blood to all parts of the body. The walls of the arteries are elastic and muscular so that they stretch and skrink to take the ups and downs of blood pressure. Each time the heart contracts (shrinks), or beats (about 70 to 90 times a minute), blood pressure goes down.

Certain arteries in the body called arterioles regulate blood pressure similar to the way in which the nozzle on a water hose regulates water pressure. You see, when you turn the nozzle to make its opening larger, less pressure is needed to force the water through the hose. When the opening is narrowed, pressure in the hose increases. Likewise, in your body if the arterioles become narrower because of underlying disease, body chemistry, emotional stress; or heredity, the heart must pump harder to push the blood through. The result is high blood pressure.

High blood pressure usually has no symptoms; you may feel great and still have it. Yet having it increases your risk of stroke, heart attack, even kidney failure. Although anyone can get high blood pressure, it's very common among people who are overweight, those on high salt diets, people under some type of mental stress, people in poor physical condition, and heavy smokers.

The only way to determine if you have high blood pressure is to get it checked regularly. We'll help you. In fact we'll check your blood pressure, free every Tuesday any time from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. in the lobby at Blackwell Hospital. Everyone is welcome. We'll not only check your blood pressure and pulse rate, but we'll also keep a record and provide you with educational materials for you to take home.

For you life's sake or your loved ones, don't miss you chance. See you next Tuesday.

* SPECIAL NOTE *

Got a problem with your hospital bill? Well, if you don't come see us at Blackwell, we can't help you. But, we'll be glad to help when you come.

Inspection of Stored Federal Corn Shows It's 'Going To Hell'

Displaying the results of Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) inspections of federally-owned corn stored in a Panhandle warehouse, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said today the corn "is going to hell when it ought to be going to West Texas."

Officials at the U.S. Department of Agriculture have claimed that this corn is of good quality and therefore it too valuable to release to drought-stricken ranchers. Panhandle corn growers, however, had told Commissioner Hightower and Governor Mark White that the corn is of low quality and should be released to the ranchers.

"We decided the best way to settle this factual dispute was simply to make an official inspection of the corn," Hightower said. Accordingly, I asked the Texas Department of Agriculture supervisor of grain warehouse inspection, Darrell Ketchum, to inspect the corn being stored at the largest storage facility."

On October 6 and 7, TDA inspectors pulled 86 representative samples from the PLB Grain Storage Corporation in Plainview, Texas. The samples were then delivered for analysis to the Lubbock Grain Inspection and Weighing Company, an independent, federally-certified laboratory. "We have received the results of these tests, which show quite clearly that the federal government's corn not only is of low quality, but actually is in much worse shape than we had suspected," Hightower said. "The lab's analysis shows that, of the 22,660,215 bushels stored in this warehouse, 77 percent of it has seriously deteriorated and more than 53 percent is now below the quality allowable for human consumption."

"The corn in the PLB warehouse averaged 19.72 percent damage, nearly 1/2 more damage than the 15% limit allowed in corn for human consumption. A lot of it is much worse off than that-- it's moldy, it's musty, it's weevilly. A great deal of it is no longer even fit to feed to sheep or goats-- the only thing it can still be used for is cattle feed, and some of it won't be fit to use as anything but filler by the time the winter's over."

Normally, Hightower said, corn in condition that poor would be mixed in with a large quantity of No. 1 or No. 2 corn, enough to make the overall mixture grade out to at least a No. 3 grade so it can be sold. In the case of the Panhandle corn, however, there is not enough stored No. 1 or No.

2 corn in the state to mix with it to achieve an overall No. 3 grade.

"Based on this independent, professional analysis, there really can be no more argument about whether the Reagan Administration should turn loose of the corn," Hightower said. "They're fresh out of excuses now. Think about it-- U.S. taxpayers are paying $55,000 a month to this one warehouse to hold onto corn that is turning to worthless powder at the same time that our ranchers are having to liquidate their herds because they can't afford corn to feed their livestock this winter. I've been to a political convention and two hog callings, but I've never seen anything this silly," Hightower said.

"Anyone with an IQ higher than room temperature knows that the sensible thing to do is to give the deteriorating corn to the ranchers, thus solving two problems with one good move. If the Reagan Administration would release only the 17 million bushels of bad corn that we have found in this one elevator, taxpayers would save $40,000 per month and ranchers would get enough volume to feed every remaining cow, sheep and goat in the 27-county drought area for the entire

KOKOMO NEWS

By Zelda Jordan Phone 639-2289

The time changes back one hour this next Sunday, Oct. 30, and I will be glad. I just have never really liked the daylight saving time.

The regular 5th Sunday night singing will be held at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday night beginning at 6:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome to come and enjoy singing God's praises with us.

Special music at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning was rendered by Woodrow, Helen and Donna Browning with Donna at the piano. Visitors were Tim, Nelda and Cody Falls of Abilene, Jason Greene of Brownwood and James and Mandy Rice of Gorman.

Our congratulations to Jennifer Eaves and Don Mauney of the first grade for being crowned Queen and King of the Kindergarten through 4th grade, and to LaTonya Caraway and Joe Rodgers of the 6th grade for being crowned Queen and King of the 5th through 8th grades at the winter.

"A full report on our findings has been delivered to U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block, asking him again to release the corn. I've also sent the report to members of Congress who are sponsoring legislation to force USDA to release the corn," Hightower said.

Gorman School Fall Festival. Jennifer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Eaves and LaTonya is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bo Caraway of our community.

Our community has been saddened to learn of the deaths of Marciel Justice of Carbon and Shorty Lawrence of Gorman. We extend sincere sympathy to their families.

Save energy with a heat pump.

If you're planning to install a new heating or cooling system, consider a high-efficiency heat pump. It's an energy-saving, year-round alternative.

The heat pump provides year-round heating and cooling, using only electricity. During the winter, it extracts heat from the outside air (even very cold air contains heat) and brings that heat inside where it's needed. In the summer, the heat pump is a regular air conditioner, removing unwanted heat from the inside air.

The heat pump is the most efficient combination heating and cooling system that can be installed in your home today.

To learn more about the heat pump, call your air conditioning contractor. And when you call, ask about the year-round heat pump that qualifies for a bonus check from Texas Electric.

Congressional Comment

CHARLES W. STENHOLM

The House of Representatives today approved a measure by Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) to protect American farmers from the threat of grain embargoes.

Stenholm offered the measure as an amendment to the Export Administration Act (EAA), a bill governing U.S. foreign sales. The Stenholm amendment, passed by voice vote, ensured that the EAA does not affect the 270-day contract sanctity for farm exports which Congress passed last year.

"There was a real danger that the EAA would compromise contract sanctity," Stenholm said. "This would have made our foreign customers lose confidence in our reliability as a supplier, and thus cost us export sales. In turn, that would have meant lower prices for American farmers."

Under present contract sanctity law, existing agricultural export contracts are protected in the event of another embargo like the one imposed on farmers in 1980. Contracts in force at the time an embargo is imposed can be fulfilled as long as they call for delivery within 270 days.

"Contact sanctity was one of the major goals of the agriculture industry for several years," Stenholm said. "It means more exports, and therefore higher returns for American farmers. We finally got contract sanctity last year, and my amendment makes sure we keep it."

Without the Stenholm amendment, there could have been a conflict between the EAA and contract sanctity. A future grain embargo would have left farmers without protection even for existing export contracts.

Fourteen major national farm organizations sent letters to all members of the House urging support of the Stenholm amendment. The amendments was also promoted through the Congressional Agricultural Forum, a bipartisan group of farm-state members of Congress which Stenholm leads.

"The agricultural community was really united on this one," Stenholm said. "This shows that working together, agriculture can be successful in passing legislation. But it only works when we all stand united."
