PROTECTING YOUR HEART

Veal Dish Adds Interest To Low-Saturated Fat Diet

More and more doctors are recommending that everyone, regardless of age, eat more cholesterol lowering foods. For most Americans, this means a change in eating habits. But it doesn't mean that low-saturated fat foods can't be as high as flavorful as those high in saturated fats.

One of the best ways to reduce high blood cholesterol levels is to reduce dietary intake of saturated fats and cholesterol and to replace much of it with polyunsaturated fats. This means eating less of such foods as dairy products and fatty meats and more of those containing polyunsaturates such as vegetable oils, fish and poultry.

An important source of polyunsaturates in the daily diet is a special margarine such as Fleischmann's Margarine which contains almost a cup of liquid corn oil per pound, used in place of butter for cooking and as a table spread.

Suggested here for the low-saturated fat diet is this modernized version of Apple Stuffed Veal Rolls. Lean veal cutlets are wrapped around an apple-bread stuffing, browned in corn oil margarine, then simmered in apple juice until tender. Complete the meal with noodles, cooked broccoli and crisp green salad.

APPLE STUFFED VEAL ROLLS

- 8 tablespoons (1 stick) Fleischmann's Corn Oil Margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 3 cups day-old white bread cubes
- 1 cup diced apple

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Generous dash pepper
- 1-1/2 cups apple juice
- 1 pound thin veal cutlets
- Chopped parsley

Melt 6 tablespoons corn oil margarine in large skillet. Add onion. Sauté, stirring occasionally, until golden, about 5 minutes. Stir in bread cubes. Heat, stirring until margarine is absorbed. Stir in apple, salt, pepper and 1/4 cup apple juice; set aside.

Place each veal cutlet between sheets of wax paper. Pound very thin with smooth-surfaced meat hammer or rolling pin; do not tear meat. Remove wax paper. Top cutlets with apple mixture. Roll up as for jelly roll. Fasten with toothpicks or tie with string.

Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine in skillet. Add veal rolls. Brown all sides over medium heat. Add remaining 1-1/4 cups apple juice. Cover; reduce heat and simmer 30 to 35 minutes, or until veal is fork-tender and liquid is reduced to a thick glaze.

To serve, spoon glaze over veal, then sprinkle with chopped parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Specialty Potatoes Add "Sauce" Appeal

Tired of boiling noodles, steaming rice, peeling potatoes to complement the meat and vegetable every night? The R.T. French Company offers the perfect solution: "The Saucy Potato."

"The Saucy Potato," French's line of packaged potato casserole mixes, provides a tasty but easy boost to an otherwise humdrum dinner or tired side dish. Now you can enjoy Tangy Au Gratin, Crispy Top Scalloped, Real Cheese Scalloped, Sour Cream & Chives, and Potato Pancakes without the time and trouble of making them from scratch.

In fact, with some quick additions, "The Saucy Potato" becomes a simple but saucy main dish, as well as an exciting meal complement, as you can see from the following recipes.

TOMATO TOPPED AU GRATIN POTATOES

- 1 package (5.5-oz.) French's Tangy Au Gratin Potatoes
- 1 can (4-oz.) mushrooms, drained
- 1 or 2 tomatoes, sliced
- 1 green onion, chopped
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Prepare potatoes as directed, adding mushrooms. Bake at 400° for 35 minutes. Top with tomatoes, sprinkle with onion, and dot with butter. Bake 10 minutes longer, or until piping hot. 4 to 6 servings.

Microwave: Follow Microwave Method on package, adding mushrooms. Microwave 16 minutes. Top with tomato, onion, and butter; microwave, uncovered, 4 minutes, until tender.

POTATOES RANCHEROS

- 1 medium-size green pepper
- 1 package (5.61-oz.) French's Real Cheese Scalloped Potatoes or French's Crispy Top Scalloped Potatoes With Savory Onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped green onions
- 2 teaspoons chopped pimiento
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tablespoon barbecue sauce
- 1 tablespoon water

Cut pepper in half; chop one half and cut remaining half in 6 strips. Prepare potatoes in 2-quart casserole, stirring in chopped pepper, onions, and pimiento. Bake at 400° for 30 minutes.

Combine bread crumbs with butter; combine barbecue sauce with water. Top casserole with pepper strips, sprinkle with bread crumbs, and drizzle with barbecue sauce. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer. 6 servings.

Microwave: Follow Microwave Method on package, adding pepper, onions, and pimiento to potatoes and water. Top with pepper strips, buttered crumbs, and barbecue sauce after stirring in seasoning mix, milk, and butter.

The Gordon Spot

Farmers and ranchers have only a few weeks left to make decisions that could affect their 1982 income tax situation.

Year-end planning can help save tax dollars.

Such planning mainly involves decisions to adjust income or expenditures so as to come up with a more favorable tax situation. The general purpose of year-end tax planning is to level out taxable income from year to year to avoid jumping through several tax brackets from one year to the next.

With another 10 percent tax reduction scheduled for 1983, producers may be in a dilemma about their income tax situation this year. Many many feel inclined to shift some taxable income into next year to take advantage of the tax reduction, particularly if this year's taxable income will be above average.

The main thing producers need to avoid is a net operating loss (NOL) because that would mean a loss of personal deductions and exemptions. These add up to at least $5,450.00 for a couple with no dependent children and $7,400 for a family of four.

Social Security retirement benefits also will be affected by low net earnings in preretirement years. And contributions to a Keogh or IRA retirement plan may be affected if taxable income falls too low.

The first step in year-end tax planning is to calculate your 1982 taxable income. Use last year's tax tables and schedules and subtract 10 percent. For a rough estimate of 1983 taxes, subtract another 10 percent. Remember that the maximum capital gains tax on the sale of land, machinery or other investments is 20 percent.

If it would be advantageous for producers to shift taxable income from 1983 to this year, several steps can be taken. Certain purchases can be postponed until next year or payments can be delayed until after the first of the year. Certain soil and water conservation and land clearing expenses can be capitalized and depreciated rather than taking them all this year. Some tax and interest payments might also be deferred until after year-end. Shifting capital assets bought before 1981 from a rapid method of depreciation to straight line depreciation can postpone deductions.

1982 income can also be increased by receiving payment for grain and livestock sales before year-end and by receiving advance diversion and deficiency payments through participation in the 1983 farm program. Certain assets might also be sold this year that would eventually be sold anyway.

To delay 1982 income to take advantage of the lower tax rate in 1983, producers can avoid receiving income from any 1982 sales through a deferred payment agreement with the buyer. They can also delay counting crop insurance pro-

TDHR To Hold Public Hearing January 18

The Texas Department of Human Resources will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. on January 18 at McMurry College, Campus Center, Mabee Room to discuss the department's proposed employment incentives and initiatives.

Several programs are being considered for implementation in Texas, and hearings are being conducted in 10 cities during January to receive public comment on the programs, authorized by new federal legislation.

The employment initiatives include a job search program for applicants and recipients in the Aid To Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) program. Objective of the job search program is to reduce welfare dependency by helping individuals obtain regular employment.

Another initiative proposed is a community work experience program which will give experience and training to AFDC recipients who otherwise are not able to obtain employment.

Work supplementation is another proposed program under which Texas may place AFDC recipients with public agencies, non-profit organizations, and proprietary day care centers and subsidize their employment from funds that would have been used for AFDC payments.

A fourth initiative proposed is grant diversion that would allow the AFDC cash grant to be included as part of a paycheck. The assistance grant would go to an employer to cover all or part of the costs of the wages paid to the recipient.

Another proposal is for targeted jobs tax credits as an incentive for employers to hire persons who have special employment needs.

The Department of Human Resources is seeking testimony from the public hearings to assist in determining what employment-enhancing directions the citizens of Texas want DHR to pursue.

Natural Gas Pricing Problems Laid At Pipelines Doorstep

Results of a pre-Christmas poll of Texas natural gas producers and royalty owners shows that an overwhelming 97 percent of respondents believe that changes in the laws governing the monopolistic transportation of natural gas would be beneficial to consumers and producers. The poll addressed the knotty problem of bitter shop for better prices while producers have inexpensive surplus gas not being transported by pipeline purchasers.

The survey was conducted by Lubbock independent Rex Fuller, Chairman of the National Energy Policy Committee of the 5400-member Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO).

Pipeline companies have wrongly blamed producers for the huge increases in consumer prices for natural gas," Fuller commented. His letter to TIPRO members said, "The pipelines have created their own distress by negotiating high cost gas contracts with high take or pay obligations." He noted that the real culprit of higher gas prices is the increased cost of transportation and distribution which continues to escalate the price of natural gas to consumers.

Fuller asked TIPRO members to respond "for" or "against" to a proposed policy statement reading:

"To assure that maximum competitive forces work in both the producing and consuming sectors of the gas industry, steps should be taken to review and seek change, as necessary, in laws and regulations to insure that pipelines, as a unique transportation system, do not preclude natural gas producers and consumers from having equal access to whatever market exists."

TIPRO president Harrold E. "Gene" Wright, Gilmer, said, "The significance of Fuller's proposed position is that producers are finally fed up with being blamed for prices they have no control over. The pipeline companies, in attempting to shift blame from themselves, could create a Congressional steamroller which could destroy natural gas sales contracts, leaving consumers at the mercy of a pipeline monopoly which is guaranteed a profit regardless of who gets hurt."

Wright, who is also the immediate past Chairman of the Natural Gas Supply Association in Washington, quoted the recent testimony of NGSA President Nick Bush to the Senate Energy Committee. Commenting about reports of gas bills being doubled in a time of a natural gas surplus, Bush said the wellhead price of natural gas increased by only 39¢/mcf in the last 12 months while the average consumer is paying $5.60/mcf. "It should be clear to all," he concluded, "that a 39 cent wellhead increase is in no way responsible for doubling anyone's $5.60 gas bill."

Natural gas producer L. Frank Pitts, Dallas, TIPRO's Chairman of the Board, said that, "The root cause behind interstate pipeline problems and market disarray is bad legislation. The Fuel Use Act has denied natural gas to many industrial users, and has thus placed a heavier burden of transportation costs on the residential consumer. Pipelines should have to become common carriers," Pitts confirmed. "Producers should be permitted to sell directly to consumers and distributors, and the gas pipelines required to make the deliveries, as is now done with oil pipelines or interstate trucks."

TIPRO attorney Scott Anderson agrees. "If the pipelines want to do away with 'take-or-pay' contracts, he said, "then they should be required to 'take-or-deliver'."

Julian Martin, Executive Vice President of TIPRO in Austin, reiterated the association's policy calling for complete decontrol of all natural gas and said, "Full decontrol can never be a reality as long as producers and royalty owners can sell only to the pipelines. The results of Mr. Fuller's poll re-emphasizes the producer's contention that lower gas prices will come about only by opening up a true free market for natural gas."

he said. "When producers can compete for the markets against other fuels and against each other, rather than being left at the mercy of a legal pipeline monopoly to decide whose gas is bought and sold, consumers everywhere will benefit." Martin said.

The issue of the pipelines having the power to manipulate natural gas pricing by taking expensive gas and leaving cheaper gas shut in, or not hooked up at all, is gathering comment elsewhere in the nation. FERC Commissioner David Hughes Senator Domenici (R-NM) and Congressman Phil Gramm (D-TX) have all expressed preliminary support for equal access to pipelines. A number of independents have formed the Association for Equal Access to Natural Gas Markets and Supplies. D.K. Davis, Senior Vice President for TIPRO commented, "With equal access to gas pipelines, producers can be expected to make thousands of creative sales contracts directly with industrial users and local distributors. Such sales are now largely made only through the pipeline companies," he said, "and they are more concerned with their rate of return than with whether the consumer is getting the best deal possible."

Wright and Fuller both expect TIPRO's executive committee to endorse the equal access proposal as a means to reduce natural gas prices to consumers, and to

Energy Aid Program

An energy aid program through which Texas Electric, its employees and its customers can help people with severe financial hardships pay their energy bills was announced today by TESCO.

Similar programs also were announced by Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power & Light. TESCO, DP&L and TP&L are members of the Texas Utilities Company System.

The financial aid program will be designed to help needy senior citizens, people who are ill and disabled and families whose financial hardships make them unable to pay for essential energy services.

Texas Electric will be asking established charities or agencies in the communities it serves to assume responsibility for determining criteria for obtaining assistance and eligibility of those who apply for aid. The intent of the program will be to supplement existing governmental and community programs.

The agencies will administer the program and will send financial aid payments directly to the utility, which will credit the payments to the accounts of the recipients.

The program will go into effect as soon as possible after agreements can be made with agencies in TESCO's 48-county service area and necessary internal administrative changes have been made. It is expected to take about 90 days to complete arrangements for the program.

The company will provide customers with further information on how to participate shortly before the program goes into effect.

Texas Electric will make an initial donation of $30,000 to the program, and its employees will be given the opportunity to make individual donations to the fund. The three TU Company System utilities combined will make a total initial donation of $100,000 to the energy aid programs.

The company's residential customers then will be given the opportunity to donate $1 per month or more voluntarily. Customers will be able either to send in donations with their electric bills or may make contributions directly to the responsible agency in their community.

Eligible persons will be able to receive help with electric or natural gas utility bills, or both. Contributions from customers will be distributed in the areas from which they are received.

Save energy with a heat pump.

If you're planning to install a new heating or cooling system, consider a high-efficiency heat pump. It's an energy-saving, year-round alternative.

The heat pump provides year-round heating and cooling, using only electricity. During the winter, it extracts heat from the outside air (even very cold air contains heat) and brings that heat inside where it's needed. In the summer, the heat pump is a regular air conditioner, removing unwanted heat from the inside air.

The heat pump is the most efficient combination heating and cooling system that can be installed in your home today.

To learn more about the heat pump, call your air conditioning contractor. And when you call, ask about the year-round heat pump that qualifies for a bonus check from Texas Electric.
