

Margaret Is Given Praise, Sympathy

Gives Up Love To Follow Her Church Decree

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—Sad hearted Princess Margaret rested in seclusion today while statesmen, churchmen and commonfolk showered her with sympathy and praise for her decision to put duty before love.

The divorced man whose suit she rejected, Group Capt. Peter Townsend, tried to face reporters but suddenly turned away with shoulders drooping. He looked pale and downcast.

Margaret's mother stayed with her in Clarence House, half a mile from Buckingham Palace. Small clusters of curious gathered outside.

Queen Elizabeth II carried on royal duties, awarding medals and creating knights in the white and gold ballroom of Buckingham Palace.

Crowds cheered the Duke of Edinburgh when he arrived in York to unveil a memorial to war dead. He flashed a smile. He is identified in many minds as an opponent of the marriage.

From all corners of the earth came expressions of admiration and praise for the 25-year-old Margaret's decision, in which she said: "Mindful of the church's teaching that Christian marriage is indissoluble and conscious of my duty to the commonwealth, I have resolved to put these considerations before any others."

There was some anger here at what was felt to be the tyranny of tradition and convention that forced Margaret to give up marriage because of the religious view of one segment of the population.

Some newspapers predicted the commonwealth and the Church of England — the established church — would be more hurt than helped by her renunciation.

To the great mass of the British people, the big question appeared to be the human one: "Is the Princess now condemned at the age of 25 to a life of spinsterhood?"

Churchmen generally praised Margaret's decision not to marry Townsend, father of two sons. He divorced his wife in 1953 on grounds of misconduct. She has married another man.

"I thank God," said the Rev. Douglas Lockhart, an Edinburgh clergyman who was outspoken in opposition to a Margaret-Townsend match. "She will have the love and sympathy of Christians everywhere."

Dr. Leslie Wetherhead, president of the Methodist Conference, said: "I think that (Margaret's decision) is very courageous, absolutely right, and I think it will endure."

'Little Front' Drops Mercury In Panhandle

By The Associated Press
A frisky north wind dipped temperatures over the northern part of Texas Tuesday but a stubborn sun kept the mercury above freezing in most areas.

Dalhart had a low of 30 degrees in the early morning hours as what the Weather Bureau called "a little front" moved southward. Amarillo had a low of 33 degrees but quickly returned springlike temperatures under a bright sun.

Elsewhere temperatures were moderate, with Corpus Christi reporting a warm 76 as its minimum.

The forecast calls for lows 30 to 40 in the Panhandle and upper South Plains Tuesday night with the rest of West Texas turning colder Wednesday. Cooler weather was expected for North Central Texas Tuesday night but East and South Central Texas were expected to remain balmy.

Widely scattered thundershowers, mostly in the north, were predicted for East Texas.

Tom Gerrard Of Tahoka Succumbs

TAHOKA (AP)—Tom Gerrard, 75, widely known West Texas lawyer, died of a heart attack early today in a hospital here.

Gerrard, a resident of Tahoka since 1933, was district attorney at Midland from 1914 to 1921 and assistant attorney general of Texas from 1921 to 1925.

He had been attorney for the 10-county Lytle gas Electric Cooperative since 1933 and the Puka-Poka - Lambro Telephone Cooperative since 1949.

Gerrard also ranched and was a Hereford breeder.

Cars Hit Headon, Four Are Injured

A head-on collision of two automobiles injured four persons northeast of Big Spring last night. None was thought to be in a serious condition today, although Herbert Eubanks, Hamlin, received a fracture in the upper portion of his leg. He also suffered rib fractures.

The crash occurred about 8:30 p.m. on the bridge crossing Wild Horse Draw on the Snyder Highway, 9.5 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Others injured were Robert Edwards Jr. of Midland, Paul Kio of Big Spring, and Larry Dexter, whose address was not available.

Edwards was traveling alone in a 1955 Ford which was in collision with a 1950 Mercury carrying Eubanks, Dexter and Kio. Highway Patrol officers said they understood Eubanks was driver of the Mercury.

The collision occurred on the east end of the long bridge. Eubanks, Dexter and Kio were brought to Malone and Hogan Hospital in a Nalley ambulance. Doctors this morning reported the fractures suffered by Eubanks, head injuries received by Dexter and lacerations received by Kio. All were in a satisfactory condition.

Edwards was brought to the Veterans Administration hospital here, and extent of his injuries had not been determined this morning. However, he was not considered in a serious condition.

Highway Patrolmen investigated one other mishap last night. They said a pickup driven by George W. Homan, 800 Scurry, overturned near the Caprock Courts on Highway 87 at the north edge of Big Spring. Homan was not injured.

Three minor accidents were reported in the city Monday. Otis Tom King, 304 Abilene, and Raymond Phillips, Stanton, were drivers in collision at Third and Johnson about 10:30 a.m. Letha Wylie, Big Spring, and Essie Wilman, Big Spring, were involved in a mishap in the 200 block of Main about 2:45 p.m.

A man was to be charged with driving while intoxicated as the result of a mishap about 10 p.m. The man's car struck a car belonging to Hugo Magenson, at the Dixie Courts, 2303 Scurry, and hit the side of a house at 2109 Scurry. Police also entered a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

AUSTIN (AP)—Davis Grant of Bryan was appointed first assistant attorney general today by Atty. Gen. Shepperd. Grant, 41, is a former Brazos County and District Troth, who resigned to join a Dallas firm.

Four Hurt

These cars collided headon Monday evening on the Snyder Highway northeast of Big Spring, hospitalizing four persons, Herbert Eubanks, in the auto on left, received a broken leg and rib fractures, Larry Dexter, also in the Eubanks car, suffered head injuries. Paul Kio and Robert Edwards Jr. were less seriously hurt.

West Lines Up Against Molotov Security Plan

Soviets Trying To Forestall German Unity

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—The Western Powers lined up solidly today against Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's latest European security treaty plan. They regarded it as an effort to confuse the issue of German unity and freeze the present division of Europe.

Moscow's master diplomat sprang his proposal, which on the surface contained concessions to the Western viewpoint, at the closing stage of yesterday's session of the Big Four foreign ministers.

By his timing he made a bid to dominate the conference news throughout today when the conference is in recess.

At the request of French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay the delegates took the day off because this is All Saints Day — a holiday in France.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles used the break to make a one-day flying trip to Madrid to have lunch with Generalissimo Franco.

The official comments of Dulles, Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Macmillan on Molotov's plan therefore will not be forthcoming until Wednesday.

But within hours after the Molotov plan was launched diplomats in the Western camp passed the word that it changed in no way Russia's key position—her opposition to the unification of Germany except on her own terms.

What Molotov proposed was that the great powers, East and West Germany and nations neighboring Germany, sign a provisional "treaty on security in Europe."

It would renounce war. It would guarantee aid to any member state which was attacked.

There were two sharp differences with another security treaty which Molotov introduced only last week.

The European-wide security pact he then proposed would wipe out NATO within three years and would include all European states willing to join.

The surface impression that Molotov was shifting position was strengthened by his indicated willingness to accept what he called the Eden plan for a disarmament zone along the East-West frontier of Europe.

Survivors include three brothers, Horace Duke and James M. Duke, both of Lamesa, and W. E. Duke, Hobbs, N. M.; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Carlton, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Irby Morton, Cleveland, Okla.

Soviets Trying To Forestall German Unity

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was reported today to have made a new move to inject Russian power and influence in the troubled Middle East.

Israeli informants said Molotov's strategy was indicated when he answered Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's protests against the flow of Red arms to Egypt.

At Molotov's insistence, Sharett and his aides refused to disclose the precise nature of his reply. But this much did come out of the meeting last night between Molotov and Sharett:

The Soviet foreign minister did not turn a completely deaf ear to Sharett's complaint that the sale of submarines, tanks, guns and MIG fighters by the Soviet bloc imperiled Israel's existence.

Talks on the military and other aspects of the Middle Eastern situation will be continued between the two countries, probably in Moscow through diplomatic channels.

Molotov sidestepped Sharett's direct appeal to stop the sale of arms to Egypt, Israel's bitter and avowed enemy. He explained it was Czechoslovakia, not Russia, which was selling the arms, and anyway the deal was a "normal" commercial transaction.

But he expressed some appreciation of Israel's opposition to the Baghdad pact. This is the alliance of Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan, the so-called "northern tier" of countries in the Middle East, to which Britain is linked and which the United States may join in 1956 or 1957.

Russia previously has bitterly protested against the creation of this alliance.

Bank Boosts Capital With A Stock Split

Increase of the First National Bank's capital structure to $1,000,000 was voted by stockholders of the institution in a special meeting Monday.

Approved was increase of common stock to $500,000 by the issuance of a $100,000 stock dividend. This amounts to a 25 percent "split." Also, the surplus is being increased by another $100,000, to $500,000.

By the same action, undivided profits of the bank are being reduced by $200,000. This figure, at the close of business on October 29, stood at $409,988.23.

The action is subject to formal approval by the comptroller of the currency, and Bank President R. T. Piner said it is contemplated having the new structure in effect by November 30.

Former Lamesan Dies At Galveston

LAMESA (AP)—Funeral was set for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Higginbotham Funeral Home for Joseph Luther Duke, 60, who died Sunday at 5:30 p.m. in the John Sealy Hospital at Galveston.

Mr. Duke was a former Lamesa resident before moving to Texas City 18 years ago. Prior to that he had farmed for a number of years in Dawson County. He was a native of Bowie County where he was born Sept. 26, 1895.

Rites were conducted by the Rev. Blake of the Klondike Baptist Church, and burial was in Lamesa Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include three brothers, Horace Duke and James M. Duke, both of Lamesa, and W. E. Duke, Hobbs, N. M.; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Carlton, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Irby Morton, Cleveland, Okla.

United Fund Girds For 'Final Push'

There were signs Tuesday morning that the United Fund campaign was firing for a final week of effort to attain working funds for 11 welfare, health and character-building agencies.

Although results of the general report session at noon were not known, indications were that the Webb AFB report was expected during the noon hour, and some other major contributions, which had been hanging fire, were anticipated during the week.

The UP office was showered with calls by people wanting to know if it had "got back the money lost from it." Actually there had been none lost here—the store resulted from a prep. association story about a United Fund office in a hotel in another city. It was said L. H. Shelton, office director, a pretty fair example of the universality of the United Fund publicity.

Adolph Swartz, general campaign chairman, and Dick Simpson, UP president, both renewed their pleas for all workers to get complete contacts and make reports as rapidly as possible.

Not only is this the only way that the UP can succeed, but it also is the only means whereby campaign directors can actually determine the status of the drive. Unreported cards are the biggest bugaboo of all.

Ozark Quartet To Appear Tonight

The City Auditorium will be the scene tonight of a concert by the Stamp Quartet of Wichita Falls, the show beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsoring organization is the Big Spring National Guard unit, and tickets are available from Guardsmen, as well as the Phillips 66 station at 1901 Gregg. Tickets are $7.50 for adults, $5.00 for students, and $2.50 children.

The quartet performs on the Wichita radio and television stations, in addition to making personal appearances throughout the state. Tonight's program will be a two-hour show.

CHILD STRUCK BY CAR

Fatal Mishap Mars Stanton Halloween

STANTON (SC)—Gaiety of a Halloween "trick or treat" party turned suddenly into tragedy here Monday evening when Madalyn Lenora Holder, 10, was struck fatally by a car.

Her mother, Mrs. Ural Holder, looked on in horror as her daughter ran suddenly across the street and into the path of a passing car.

The child was rushed to the Martin County Memorial Hospital where she died at 8:57 p.m., approximately one hour after the accident. She had sustained internal and head injuries.

Mrs. Holder was chaperoning a group of youngsters who were paying Halloween calls to various houses. Madalyn was on one side of the street and apparently decided on the spur of the moment to rejoin the others. There was no time for the car to stop. The driver was Paul Dean Deese of Stanton, officers said.

The remains were at Arrington Funeral Home and services were set for 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. E. W. Way, First Assembly of God pastor, officiating. Burial is to be in Scranton, Eastland County, at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Madalyn, a fifth grade pupil, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ural Holder on April 28, 1945, in San Antonio. The family came here 15 months ago from San Antonio.

Other survivors include two sisters, Alice Marie Holder and Sheila Holder, the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holder, San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Marum Weed, Putnam.

3 Break Jail At Plainview

PLAINVIEW (AP)—Three prisoners, one a convict from Huntsville, sawed their way out of the Hale County jail early today and escaped.

They were identified as: Robert Bradley, 28, of Fort Worth, brought to the Hale County jail on a bench warrant from Huntsville where he was serving 7 years for burglary at Corpus Christi. He had been sentenced to 4 years here and was waiting to be returned to Huntsville.

James Shivers, 19, of Abernathy, held on a burglary indictment from Hale County.

W. H. McClennan, 30, of Plainview, held on a Hale County burglary indictment.

Deputy J. E. Miller, said the three sawed the bars to an outside window between 11 p.m. and 4 a.m., and dropped the 14 feet to the ground.

Officers set up roadblocks but had found no trace of the fugitives.

Bastrop Park Has Damage From Fire

BASTROP (AP)—Smouldering stumps and ashes were all that remained today of a fire that threatened the 10-acre "Lost Pines" of the Bastrop State Park.

Official sources disagreed on the extent of the damage to the big trees.

Park Manager G. M. Marbury said yesterday it was "too early" to determine whether the fire that swept between 850 and 900 acres of grass and brush under the tall trees had damaged them extensively.

Two Big Springers Named In New Narcotics Charges

Two Big Spring Latin Americans, each with a previous narcotics conviction, were charged today with possessing marijuana.

Charged in Justice Court were Tiburcio (Chicago) Nunez and Manuel Pineda.

Nunez, who was released from the state prison only a few months ago, was charged with possessing marijuana on Oct. 21. District Attorney Guilford Jones said, Police Capt. M. L. Kirby and Investigator Bob West seized 16 marijuana cigarettes at the Nunez residence on that date.

Pineda, who received a suspended sentence on a narcotics conviction this year, was charged with possessing marijuana last Sunday. He was arrested by city officers at a local bus station Sunday evening.

Three other men, arrested at a tourist court Sunday while in possession of a quantity of paragon and hypodermic syringes, were still under investigation today. Jones said they probably will be released, however.

No examining trials had been set for Nunez and Pineda this morning.

Nunez served a penitentiary sentence in 1952 following his conviction on charges of possession of marijuana. He was charged following a raid in which several pounds of marijuana were confiscated.

Pineda was assessed a five-year suspended sentence last July 11 after he was found guilty of charges that he possessed heroin.

Three Killed In Explosion, Fire

SEYMOUR (AP)—An explosion and fire in a tenant farm killed three persons.

Sheriff Wesley Styles said they were Mrs. Lena Holloway, 39; her son, Charles, 4; and a granddaughter, Esta Hines, 5, all Negroes.

He said a kerosene stove apparently exploded.

Martin Co. Commissioners Freed By Instructed Verdict

COLORADO CITY (SC)—County Commissioner Joe Froman and Oliver Vaughn, former county commissioner of Martin County, won an instructed verdict of acquittal Monday evening in 32nd District Court on charges they had taken Martin County funds to finance a deep sea fishing trip. Neither had taken the stand.

Judge A. S. Matzey upheld the motion for instructed verdict by George T. Thomas, Big Spring, counsel for defense, on the grounds the men had been indicted as principals and not as accomplices. Testimony in the case had consumed slightly more than three hours when the defense and state suddenly closed. It was then that Thomas filed his motion. After an hour's argument in the judge's chambers, the jury was recalled and instructed.

Friends of the two defendants crowded around to shake their hands. Both appeared visibly moved.

Downstairs but not a witness to the final turn of events was James McMorris, former county judge, and a key figure in the writer of charges developed a year ago when the Martin County financial structure suddenly collapsed with the result that he was sentenced in three cases. McMorris, granted immunity in these particular cases through dismissal of the indictment for his part, had testified during the afternoon that he had received $500 in warrants from Martin County as a reimbursement for a fishing trip with four commissioners, a former sheriff and a Lubbock road contractor.

"I'm doing something in this case that I regret I have to do," Judge Matzey said for defense, on the grounds the men had been indicted as principals and not as accomplices. # Credit Restrictions Eased, Tax Cut May Be Possibility

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is quietly dropping the policy of ever tighter credit restraints it has enforced most of this year.

Instead, it has adopted an attitude of neutral, watchful waiting in the belief the dangers of inflation which brought on the tougher policy may have been mastered.

If this assessment is correct, and if another inflationary bluster does not appear in coming months, the possibility of a tax cut next year becomes a strong probability.

The new attitude has become evident through several changes in government actions — chiefly in Federal Reserve Board policy — and in public and private statements of government money managers.

A top government policy maker said privately today he thinks the government's efforts in recent months to head off what it considered excessive credit expansion in the stock market, home building, and other fields had "taken a lot of steam" out of the inflationary pressures of last summer.

He would not talk about the future course of policy, but he agreed with a description of the government position at present as "a withdrawal to neutrality."

This does not mean necessarily that restrictions already in force will be abandoned or even significantly relaxed in the near future. It merely means that new restrictions are unlikely, and that there will be a continued effort to keep the restrictions now in force from creating any credit drought.

With inflationary pressures off, and revenues from high level business activity large enough to insure a balanced budget by next June 30, the administration would have little reason, if any, to buck the election year tax cut fever bound to be strong in Congress early next year.

The administration has made the fight against further depreciation of the dollar through inflation the backbone of its economic policy. A tax cut while inflationary pressures were building up would tend to increase inflation by raising purchasing power.

A very high administration official said in a recent private talk that in his opinion President Eisenhower would "have the political courage" to veto any tax cut bill that coincided with a wave of inflation.

From spring through fall of this year the Federal Reserve system turned the credit screw down tighter and tighter with successive hikes in the discount rate — the interest rate at which it lends to member banks to help them lend to their customers. But in recent weeks it has shifted to a more open handed policy, by supplying funds to commercial banks through purchases in the open market of government securities. This has tended in part to nullify the rate boosts by creating new bank reserves.

This new supply of funds coincided with the yearly October peak of business borrowing. The board thus acted to keep its otherwise restrictive policies from drying up credit supplies at the time of greatest demand.

Marshall Fire Causes Damage

MARSHALL (AP)—A lunch time fire badly damaged a two-story downtown building yesterday before the city's eight fire trucks got it under control three hours later.

No estimate was made of the damage. The blaze started in a hearing unit in the office of Abney, Abney & Baldwin.

Some records of City Atty. Grines Baldwin were destroyed and others were damaged. Damage also was extensive in the Montgomery Ward Store, Morrison Jewelry Co., and the Lacome Oil Co. offices.

Workers were at lunch and papers scattered over desks. Fire Chief Carl Bechtold saw the smoke and had trucks out before the first alarm was sounded.

The blaze between the ceiling and roof forced firemen to cut holes and pour in water. A section of the roof caved in.

Death Date Set

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Franklin Fajris, Dallas hoodlum convicted of murdering an Oklahoma City detective, must die Nov. 18 in the electric chair, the state pardon board ruled yesterday.

Sue White Wins Another Hereford Championship

Sue White, former Big Spring 4-H Club exhibitor, won the grand championship of the Grand National Livestock Exposition in San Francisco Monday.

Miss White, now of Lubbock, won the title with a Hereford entry, and received $500 from the American Hereford Association, along with the blue ribbon.

She won the grand championship of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago in 1953 while a member of the Howard County 4-H Club. She also won the top prize at the Southwestern Livestock Show in Fort Worth that year. Last year, her entry was the reserve champion Hereford in the "Cow Palace Show" at San Francisco.

Other awards won by Miss White were the grand championship of the 4-H Club division of the American Royal Livestock Show, Kansas City, in 1952, and the champion Hereford of the Eastern National Show, Baltimore, also in 1952.

She moved to Lubbock with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White, this year. White is employed by Durward Lewter, former Howard County farm agent who now is engaged in the commercial steer feeding business. It was under Lewter's supervision that Miss White won all her 4-H club titles. Her sister, Ann White, also was a successful 4-H exhibitor.

Conference Hears Need For Teachers And New Buildings

AUSTIN (AP)—School building needs and how to find enough good teachers were major topics today at the Texas Conference on Education.

Both questions were considered by more than 1,000 Texans here for the public education study.

The meeting is preliminary to the White House conference on education in Washington Nov. 25-26.

The Texas session is to bring about recommendations to be taken to Washington.

Thomas Ramey of Tyler, chairman of the state Board of Education, was to speak this afternoon.

REFERENDUM NEXT WEEK

Ohio Must Vote On 'Layoff' Benefits

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP)—The voters of Ohio get a chance a week from today to trigger into effect the supplemental layoff pay plan negotiated earlier this year in the auto industry.

In the five months since the first such union plan was negotiated, nearly one million workers have similarly been covered under agreements that employers will supplement state unemployment compensation payments.

Such labor contracts have spread from the auto industry to scattered plants in the electrical, glass, can-manufacturing and rubber industries. Most provide that the employer will augment the state's payment to give a jobless worker 60 to 65 per cent of his take-home pay, his net wages after federal tax deductions.

A condition on putting the major plans into effect as scheduled next June 1, however, is that rulings permitting the dual payments must be obtained from states in which two-thirds of a company's employees work. Many states have banned unemployment compensation payments while a worker still draws funds from his employer.

That's where Ohio comes in. Enough states have already okayed a multistate private and UC payments, so that if Ohio voters approve the idea in a Nov. 8 referendum the condition will have been met. This is true at least insofar as the approximately 700,000 auto industry employees are concerned, including those at Ford and General Motors.

Labor unions cried to get approval from the Ohio Legislature in early summer. The legislature adjourned without acting, although it did boost maximum UC payments by $3 to $4 a month.

Then the CIO, with help from the AFL, collected more than 125,000 signatures on a petition to get before the voters in a referendum not only the dual payment plan but also considerably increased UC benefit provisions. This represents a new labor technique to get directly from the public gains it can't win from legislatures.

Employers have put on a statewide campaign to get the referendum defeated, with unions making an all-out drive for its approval.

Ohio employers are presently taxed about 60 cents per $100 of payroll to support the state system. They contend the union plan would more than double this.

Midland Man IPAA President

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert Wood of Midland, Tex., was named president-elect yesterday of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. He is owner of the Basin Drilling Co. and an independent oil producer. He will succeed W. M. Vaughney of Jackson, Miss.

A geologist told the meeting today the United States can and must provide enough oil for its own future needs "if we are to survive under present world tensions."

Dr. A. I. Levarson of Tulsa said there is enough oil outside this country to run the world, including the United States, for "a long, long time." But he added:

"To import our oil needs is to risk our future as a nation."

Dr. Robt Wilson, scientist and chairman of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, said the country's needs for energy are expanding so rapidly the ultimate problem isn't what fuel is going to be crowded out, but what cost come along to help carry the load.

He predicted that in the long run atomic energy won't be a competitor of petroleum energy, "but a burden sharer."

Dean Steps Out, With Badge Of A Combat Doughboy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, hero of Taejon, blinked back tears in the ceremony ending his 32-year Army career.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, pinned on Dean's blouse at the Presidio Parade Ground yesterday the combat infantryman's badge.

Dean won the Medal of Honor also in the Taejon fighting. After the city's fall he was captured and endured three years in Communist prisons.

Dean will make his retirement home in Berkeley, Calif.

Justice Is Done; Not Required To Pay $25 For Scotch

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A New York sporting goods distributor who went to jail rather than pay $25 for a fifth of scotch whisky at Ciro's night club—has been cleared of trying to defraud an inn keeper.

"Justice has been done," said Richard T. Shubert after being found innocent yesterday by a municipal court jury.

Herman Hoyer, owner of the plush Sunset Strip bistro, took the verdict philosophically. "Well, that was that," said Hoyer, who made a citizen's arrest of Shubert when the New Yorker hauled last Sept. 23 at paying that much for the scotch.

Shubert's attorney argued he just wanted an adjustment of the bill and did not intend to defraud Ciro's.

Draws Three Years In Swindling Case

LAREDO (AP)—Stephen Welch of Waco was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday after pleading guilty to swindling a Bryan Negro, Dr. William Hammond, in an Oklahoma gas and oil lease deal. The transaction took place at Laredo. Hammond said he paid $7,000 for the leases and found they didn't belong to the man listed as the owner who was a confederate of Welch's and is still sought.

Federal Curb May Come On Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has indicated it may curb imports of crude oil from all countries except Venezuela and Canada unless importers do the job voluntarily.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming said yesterday that imports since April have been about 1 percent above the level which the government regards as the maximum compatible with national security — that is, without unduly harming domestic fuel sources.

In a letter to 24 oil companies,

Flemming said imports during the rest of 1955 should be cut to make up for the "excess" imported since April. He estimated the excess at 50,000 barrels a day.

Specifically exempted from the voluntary curtailment program were imports from Venezuela and Canada, which supply about half of U.S. crude oil imports. These exceptions, Flemming wrote, were based on the assumption "that imports from these areas do not rise appreciably above present levels."

Apart from these two countries, the principal source of crude oil imports is the Middle East.

Flemming told importers they'll be asked within 10 days to begin reporting their imports "on a systematic basis."

Under the extension of the Trade Agreements Law voted by Congress earlier this year, the government is authorized to adjust imports whenever the defense mobilizer finds they threaten to "impair" national security.

In the case of crude oil, Flemming decided some time ago that imports should total about one-tenth of domestic production—the ratio in effect last year. This had been recommended by the Presidential Advisory Committee on energy supplies and resources policy.

Nichols To Attend Christian Assembly

Attending a four-state Area Christian Assembly of the Disciples of Christ this week will be Rev. Clyde E. Nichols, minister of the First Christian Church. The convention to be held in Fort Worth Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will be chiefly an evaluation of the Church's advancement at the half-way point of its current 10-year long range program.

Theme of the assembly will be "We Preach On," and the four states represented are Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, and Southern Oklahoma. Ten of these are conventions will be held this year. Rev. Nichols noted, in place of the Church's regular International Assembly. Study of the first half of the 10-year program bringing out its failures and accomplishments will constitute most of the program.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Edward S. Moreland, of Cincinnati, O., and an attorney from Tulsa, John Rogers. Dr. Kelly O'Neill of Denver, Colo., vice president of the International Assembly, will preside over the convention in Fort Worth.

Greeks Rise Up Against British

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Pitched battles between police and demonstrators raged in the city of Patras today. Police opened fire on the stone-throwing rioters who stormed and badly damaged the British Institute Building.

Press reports said at least 50 police and civilians received treatment for injuries in hospitals or first aid stations.

Mobs demanding an end to British rule in Cyprus ran riot through the city as Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus, leader of the Union-with-Greece movement, had a two-hour meeting in Athens with the Greek Premier Constantine Karamalis.

Demonstrations were also reported from other Greek towns.

Prisoners Riot In St. Louis Jail

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Some 250 prisoners rioted in the city workhouse last night, smashing windows and burning furniture.

Police brought the yelling inmates under control early today, herding them out of their cell blocks under guard of riot guns. No one was reported injured.

The Fire Department quickly doused the fires that had been started with paper, benches and mattresses.

Warden Harold G. Baynes said about 10:30 p. m. some inmates broke out of their cells and released others.

The warden said he didn't know what caused the riot.

There was no estimate of damage.

It was the second riot at the workhouse in five months. Tear gas was used to put down a disturbance June 8.

Charges Price Fixing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An independent gasoline station operator has filed an injunction suit against Continental Oil Co. to halt what he termed "price fixing" on gasoline. J. G. Hurley also asked for $15,000 damages to replace loss of revenue from the sale of gasoline at his station.

Group Plans To Preserve Texas Historical Sites

AUSTIN (AP)—Plans to make certain that hundreds of homes and other spots rich in Texas history not be allowed to fade away were perfected yesterday by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Leaders of the agency met at Liendo Plantation near Hempstead and reported there are 1,008 such spots, one of which is Liendo which was founded in 1823.

The meeting approved a plan to place a small marker on historic houses showing they are to be preserved. The agency is undertaking a survey of the condition of Texas Centennial memorials and monuments, and will make recommendations for the protection of the large original investment in them.

Millard Cope of Marshall, L. W. Kemp of Houston and Stuart McGregor of Dallas were named as an advisory committee on state markers. Local committee members will work with them.

The committee will publish a map of Texas historic houses, sites and land marks next spring.

Marilyn's Divorce Decree Made Final

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marilyn Monroe's lawyer went to Superior Court yesterday and obtained a final decree officially ending her marriage to former baseball star Joe Di Maggio.

The actress was granted an uncontested interlocutory divorce Oct. 27, 1954, ending a nine-month marriage. She alleged mental cruelty.

Texas Employment Hits Record High

AUSTIN, (AP)—Nonfarm employment hit a record high of 2,780,790 in September with all major Texas labor market areas sharing in the increase, the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday. The total was 2,688,300.

Fort Worth, Austin, Wichita Falls, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Houston, Lubbock and Waco led in the gains.

Funeral Held For Brother Of B'Spring Man

ROY CORNELISON has been in Dallas to attend the last rites for an older brother, Boyd (Bob) Cornelison, 67, who died Saturday evening at his home in Dallas of a heart attack.

Funeral was held Monday.

Mr. Cornelison was a native of San Angelo, where he was born in 1888. He attended schools there, including the old San Angelo Methodist College. For the past 35 years he has been in Dallas, a good part of the time as an automobile dealer but more recently as a realtor. Mr. Cornelison was a long-time Baptist.

Besides Roy Cornelison, he leaves four brothers, Floyd Cornelison and Jean Cornelison, San Angelo, Ions Cornelison, Houston, and W. D. Cornelison, San Antonio; and two sisters, Mrs. O. M. Bennett, and Mrs. Robert Donaho, San Angelo.

Surgical Fees To Come Under Study

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—Do some or many surgeons charge fees that are too high?

The American College of Surgeons today announced it is launching a special study of surgical fees.

A committee of "six or seven distinguished surgeons" will investigate the fee matter, making a preliminary report to regents of the college about mid-December, said Dr. I. S. Ravdin, of Philadelphia, chairman of the ACS board of regents.

"Statements have been made that in many instances exorbitant fees have been charged. We intend to look into this matter, and find out if it is so," Dr. Ravdin told newsmen.

He said the regents had unanimously approved appointing the investigating committee. He declined to name the members, saying they could best do their work if their names were not made public.

"This is not a white-washing committee," Dr. Ravdin declared. "We will make public whatever it finds, if there is anything to make public. We won't hide anything when we get the report."

The College of Surgeons made news several years ago in announcing its opposition and a campaign against fee-splitting. It de-

Rayburn Sees Demo Victory

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Democrats will capture both the White House and Congress next year, Rep. Sam Rayburn asserted to a cheering throng of more than 4,000 at a Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner last night.

The speaker of the House voiced no criticism of President Eisenhower, but said the Democrats will win in 1956 no matter who the Republicans nominate.

"I think the Republicans have a lot to account for in 1956 and one of them is Ezra Taft Benson," Rayburn stated.

"Farm income in 2 1/2 years has dropped from 17 billion plus to about 14 billion. That may not mean much to some persons but it does to the farmers."

Rayburn told Oklahoma Democrats he is in favor of 50 percent parity and wants to push it through Congress next year "if we can't get something better."

He declined to speculate on who will be nominated for president and said he's "not excited" about a proposal to nominate him.

Rayburn said the democrats will finer fee-splitting as a sharing of a fee between a surgeon and a physician who referred the patient to the surgeon, without specific billing for the services that each had performed.

"We believe we have made a very healthy dent in that practice," (fee-splitting) Dr. Ravdin said. "We will study this matter of fees as it affects all other practices, and particularly as it affects fellows of the college."

To become fellows of the college, surgeons "take an oath that they will not participate in what are considered immoral practices," the chairman of regents said. Surgeons judged guilty of disobeying these ethics are dropped from membership "and a number of fellows have been dropped for irregular practices."

Dr. Ravdin declared that if complaints of over-charging are found substantiated, "we will see to it that the public interest is protected so far as our own fellows (of the ACS) are concerned."

The Nostalgic Art of 'Cuevrefu'

The old-fashioned open fireplace was — and is — probably the most inefficient and troublesome device for heating a home still in use. It was an improvement on its forerunner, the simple fire built in the middle of a dirt-floored hovel, with a small opening in the roof to let the smoke out, in general use throughout Europe in the Middle Ages.

That's where we got the word cuevrefu, from the Old French cuevrefu, literally "cover fire." At a certain time every evening a bell was rung to warn the people to cover the fire for the night, probably to keep them from smothering their fool selves to death.

There is still a great sentimental attachment to the fireplace among our citizens, especially those between twenty and forty the older ones remember only too well how much trouble it was to keep the open-mouthed monster replenished with firewood, how the room would fill with smoke when the wind was wrong, how one burned on one side while freezing on the other, and how messy and disagreeable it was to "take out the ashes." Frankly, we got a bellyful of that sort of thing as a child; and although the house we have inhabited for nigh onto thirty years has a real chimney, and a real fireplace, it has never been besmirched with burning logs. We didn't build the place, we just bought it new and moved in.

In the old days father usually saw to there was to it. Our daddy would never dash kerosene oil from an open can onto the coals. Instead, if artificial assistance became necessary, he would soak a small can of ashes with kerosene, and use small balls of ashes to start the fire. No possibility of explosion.

Although from age 14 to about age 17 we never figured our father was quite bright, it turned out that he knew a thing or two. Ah, adolescence!

How About English, Too?

A lecturer, dropping in on a University of Texas gathering of the South-Central Modern Language Association, urged a vigorous foreign language program, starting in elementary schools and carrying forward systematically through high schools and colleges.

That is a fine idea, of course. Texas kids in particular should be exposed to Spanish in the elementary and high schools, and in the colleges as well.

But in our opinion what we really need is a vigorous program at all levels in behalf of English. Anyone who listens to the radio and television where people make talks or get exposed to interviews must come to the conclusion that English is a sorely neglected subject. And we are not talking about ordinary people, but important politicians, business and civic leaders, and successful career people of all kinds with what passes as a modern education.

Many of them can't express a thought in plain English, without misusing words, mashing up the syntax, or mixing up the tenses.

The same goes for the written word. Other day we came across the biographical sketch of a prominent politician in which it was asserted "He vigorously prosecuted crime and organized vice in Texas." Of course, he didn't actually "organize vice" in Texas, but that is what the sentence makes it sound like. A simple transposition would say what writer was trying to say: "He vigorously prosecuted organized vice and crime in Texas."

How often have you heard, "Let's you and I?" Oftener, we daresay, than you've heard, "Let's you and me."

And "ten a.m. Tuesday morning" is often used in the very best speaking and writing circles. That's much worse than saying "Rio Grande River."

Geneva Becomes Propaganda Contest

GENEVA—The second round at Geneva promises to be not so much a test of whether a peace can be concluded with the Soviet Union as a trial of the patience, persistence and the resourcefulness of the West in this newest encounter with the East.

Russia wants peace but a peace on her own terms, and those terms, which mean the dismantling of the North Atlantic Alliance, are wholly unacceptable to the West. The goal of America, France and Great Britain is, therefore, to demonstrate to the world that they are willing to go a long way to meet Russia's demands for security if only the Russians will yield a little on the reunification of Germany, which the West considers essential to lasting peace.

In this contest it is likely to develop quickly into a propaganda contest, resembling not so much the determined sweetness and light of last summer and the summit conference as the long struggle between East and West that took place in Berlin in the winter of 1954. This does not mean that it will end with the two sides facing each other, with drawn bayonets across opposed positions. The West is saying that if only the Russians will agree in principle to the need to reunify Germany on the basis of free elections, then the problem can be passed on at the end of the conference to working groups that will eventually translate the principles into practical steps to be approved at a later conference by the four foreign ministers.

This hopeful tone may be partly a reflection of the necessities of politics back home. Vice President Nixon, in his speech to the New York Herald Tribune Forum, made it clear that Secretary of State Dulles was going to Geneva to advance one stage further the peace that President Eisenhower and, incidentally, the Republican party are laboring to bring to suffering humanity.

This puts Dulles in a somewhat awkward position. If Geneva No. 2 does not advance the cause of peace but retards it, where will the blame lie? Obviously, on Mr. Dulles for nullifying the splendid beginning made by the President in July. Without the magic name of Eisenhower at the head of the Republican ticket the slogan of peace and prosperity becomes an even more urgent necessity.

The draft of a security treaty, including a reunified Germany, put before the conference by the Western Big Three is the opening gun in the propaganda contest. With its five phases progressively tightening the guarantees for a free Germany, with arms supervision and control, it is meant to answer all the fears that Moscow alleges as the reason for opposing the reunion of the two halves of divided Germany.

As for Foreign Minister Molotov in his opening statement he repeated firmly, although without the oratorical abusiveness of the cold war era, the Soviet opposition to the position of the West. The same opposition was voiced openly by Marshal Bulganin at the end of the summit conference, thus belying the harmonious words of the final directive which instructed the foreign ministers at their meeting to join the problems of German reunification and European security. In the three months that have intervened it has been repeated again and again so that no one can mistake the Soviet determination to have a united Germany only on Soviet terms — that is to say, a neutralized Germany oriented in the direction of Moscow.

Molotov will bend every effort to keep the conferees talking about a security pact. By putting forward a detailed proposal which he can discuss indefinitely the West has provided grist for the Molotov mill.

What he wants, of course, is to concentrate on a pact to such an extent that German reunification is lost sight of. As he has shown from the start, Molotov will use this propaganda sounding board at every opportunity to stress the dangers of German militarism.

James Marlow Candidate's Personality Most Important

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's been true in other years that the personality of the presidential candidates was a far more vivid factor than the party platforms. It will be particularly true in 1956.

The Democrats and Republicans are so close in their thinking — after allowing for extremists and die-hards in both parties — the voters will have trouble choosing between them.

Since neither the parties nor their candidates will want to rock the boat with novel notions at a time of high prosperity, the voters will be inclined to look closer at the candidates to decide which is more likely to keep the country steady.

This is written on the assumption President Eisenhower will not run again. It's especially because of him, even though he doesn't run, that the voters will examine his would-be successors critically.

They have been exposed, in Eisenhower, to an unusual political personality. It is an extraordinary political feat that he has retained his enormous popularity after three years of the hurly-burly in the White House.

This in itself is enough to make the voters not only conscious of what the 1956 candidates represent in the way of party promises but of what kind of men they are in themselves.

The Democrats will probably argue that they set the country on the road to the prosperity it is enjoying now. The Republicans will no doubt claim the credit for Eisenhower, with assurances they will keep up the good work.

But aside from the social and economic aspects of Eisenhower's administration, one thing became clearer the longer he stayed in office: He kept himself and the office of the presidency above the mud and feuds of American politics.

By calling no names, getting into no personal quarrels, avoiding all appearance of emotional conflicts and petty spites, he has given the impression of a president who had everything under control, including himself.

He has handed himself in such a way there have been no attacks on him and practically no blame for anything that went wrong.

When anything does go sour, it's blamed on his subordinates, never on him. The result for Eisenhower has been so good he must be classed — whether or not you agree with his programs or his vision or his wisdom — as one of the best politicians in American history.

Unfortunately for the Republicans, while they plan to run on his record if he doesn't run himself, they will not be able to transfer Eisenhower's personality to the 1956 Republican candidate.

Whoever he is, even with Eisenhower's blessing, he'll have to project his own personality in such a way the voters will find it more acceptable than his Democratic rival's.

Since the Republicans want to win, it's axiomatic they'll try to pick a candidate whose personality causes the least conflict and creates the most confidence. The Democrats have the same problem.

Right now both parties are probably having invisible signs painted to hang outside their convention halls next summer when the would-be candidates gather: "No sourpuss or rabble-rouser need apply."

It's Tennessee Millions Now

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's success story:

Tennessee Williams, who once wrote purely from hunger, has become one of the golden boys of the American writing scene.

He has been so successful that his friends have given him a new nickname: "Tennessee Millions." At 41 the prolific author has turned out nine full-length plays, a volume of verse, two volumes of stories, and a collection of a dozen shorter plays called "Twenty-seven Wagons Full of Cotton."

He has completed for Paramount Pictures a film script of "The Rose Tattoo," starring Burt Lancaster and Anna Magnani—it is the third of his dramas he has adapted for the movies—and his "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is a top Broadway hit.

Most successful people credit their rise to hard work. Williams feels that his own fame came, in large measure, from the revolt stirred in him by his discovery of poverty and what it did to people.

Born in the Episcopal rectory of his grandfather in Columbus, Miss., he moved at the age of 12 to St. Louis, where his father worked as a salesman for a shoe firm. The family lived in one of a row of ugly brick apartment buildings "the color of dried blood and mustard."

In the South the young writer had been unaware of any distinctions based on wealth.

"But," he says, "we suddenly discovered there were two kinds of people. The rich and the poor, and that we belonged more to the latter.

"If I had been born to this situation I might not have resented it deeply. But it was forced upon my consciousness at the most sensitive age of childhood."

How did he get his odd first name? He picked it out himself. A depression product, it took Williams seven years to earn a college degree. Twice his health broke down in years during which he worked all day and wrote most of the night. He held such odd jobs as elevator operator, waiter, cashier, shoe firm clerk, teletype operator and movie usher.

"But there was never a moment when I did not find life to be immeasurably exciting to experience and witness," he recalls, "however difficult it was to sustain."

His bread crumb days ended when he left a $17 a week movie usher job for a Hollywood writing assignment at $250 a week.

Military Diplomat

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark made a perfect score in diplomacy on a visit here. The retired military hero, now president of The Citadel in South Carolina, was asked by a reporter which school really ranked as the West Point of the South — The Citadel or Virginia Military Institute.

"The Citadel is the West Point of the farther South," Clark replied. "I've served all over the world with VMI men and they are a fine group."

Nationalism Or Internationalism?

The United States Chamber of Commerce, in its statement of policy for 1955, states that the United States should withdraw from the International Labor Organization unless certain changes are made. In stating the stand, the Chamber says that high standards of living can best be achieved through the voluntary cooperation of free men.

The ILO traditionally placed major emphasis on the improvement of living standards through intervention of governments. This is alien to the American free enterprise system, the bulletin says, which places reliance upon the voluntary cooperation of worker and management.

Basic changes should be made in the ILO if the U.S. is to participate in it. If the changes are not made, then the U.S. should take steps to withdraw from the organization, according to the Chamber.

That is substantially the case against the ILO and the reasons for it as advocated by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

A similar case could be brought against many of the other international organizations. The fact seems to be, one organization cannot consist of members from two different types of economic systems without some of the systems giving way to the others.

I don't think you can have a compromise between free enterprise and state ownership. You can have either one, but not both. And there is no apparent middle ground.

This brings up the question of nationalism. What group are we to give our support to? Our nation or our world. In many quarters, nationalism is almost a dirty word. Since the publication of Willkie's "One World," there has been agitation to create a world government which would be the ruling force.

The United Nations has been looked at in this light, but it has too little power. It is now treated as only a neutral meeting ground for the discussion of the world's problems. Even at this, it has been practically helpless. The international movements cannot be successful unless the question of nationalism is settled.

Which comes first, the safety of the national government or the aims of the international organization? The two very often differ and it seems to be that way with the ILO.

Pretty Office Girl Is Here To Stay

Amid all the current hue and cry about automation, including the present Senate House committee investigation into the possible impact of automation on the American economy, there are glad tidings this day.

Automation will not eliminate the pretty girl who is part and parcel of the office equipment of every well-regulated, right-thinking American business organization.

The pretty girl is here to stay, says my automation expert. Only in the future she will have to be brighter and better educated than ever before, since the care and feeding of automation equipment will demand a real sharp operator.

In fact, automation isn't going to create unemployment at all; just different kinds of employment in the opinion of my expert, Hugh L. Clary, a low-pressure tycoon from out of the West. Mr. Clary, who looks a bit like an absent-minded professor, was in town the other day from San Gabriel, Calif., where he heads the Clary Multiplier Corporation.

An industrial engineer, Mr. Clary has been turning out adding machines and other conventional office machinery to the tune of millions, but now he is up to his hip pockets in new-fangled electronic data handling equipment, or automation.

Uncle Sam himself sort of backed Mr. Clary into automation by drafting him to manufacture parts for Uncle's guided missiles.

"Such missiles are the highest development of automation known today," said

Mr. Clary, a slight man of medium height with thin, gray hair and a Western hat. "Many aspects of this guided missile program are adaptable to business procedures.

"Automation is not a new idea. The industrial revolution of the 18th and 19th Centuries was automation, and more dramatic in its impact on men and economies than anything now foreseeable.

"Automation in the 20th Century is a revolution, too, and will bring great change. Automation is not another gadget; it means the reorganization of industry."

"In my opinion, automation is only on the way. We have made a good beginning, but real automation is between five to 10 years in the future. And when it does come, it will not be accompanied by great unemployment.

"It will take more skilled help than ever to make automation equipment, and qualified technical and office staffs to tend such equipment. Automation will upgrade the jobs and activities of many employees. People will be doing more difficult and important work, in both factory and office.

"We will either have to give people better education in our schools or else far more and better on-job training.

"The pretty girl is in the office to stay, but she will have to be brighter. However, she will like her job 20 years from now," Mr. Clary predicted, "and her problem will be what to do with her leisure when we would all be working a 30-hour week."

Now Look Who Has Diet Problems

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Diet-conscious citizens may be happy to learn the Grace Kelly has weight problems, too.

This was disclosed during a call to the set of her first picture in over a year, "The Swan." It was late morning, and she offered some celery and carrot sticks. On her makeup table was a box of dried apricots. Nearby were some graham crackers.

She admitted that she does have to diet now and then.

"My mother is German," she explained. "And you know how the Germans love to eat. We all grew up with pretty healthy appetites."

How does she keep the Kelly curves under control? It starts with oatmeal in the morning.

"Oatmeal is best," she remarked munching on a carrot stick. "I have to get up at 6 to be at the studio on time. oatmeal keeps me from getting hungry until 11. If you get hungry before that, then you get started on the doughnut routine, and that can be dangerous."

She has a light lunch, but usually succumbs to a big dinner. And sometimes she backslides with a heavy dessert, as she did at the City of Hope Dinner honoring the Los Angeles publishers. "Then I pay for it all week," she sighed.

She likes exercise but gets little while she's working. When she's in New York, she does a lot of walking.

She plans to return East next spring. Under her MGM contract, she is allowed a leave of absence to do a play. She's looking for one now.

Prices Continue Upward Trend

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices continue their slow rise in many lines as manufacturers adjust to higher costs. But nowadays retail prices don't necessarily follow wholesale prices as they tended to a generation or so ago.

Price increases were announced last week in many fields — from newspaper to tin cans, from tires to corduroy, from plywood to prunes.

Consumers may feel some of this increase in the weeks ahead. The newspaper hike, for example, brought a quick prediction that the price of papers and of the ads in them may have to go up, too.

The rise in tin can prices will be felt by the canners preserving next year's foodstuffs. Whether they pass it along to the grocer, and he to you, will be determined then.

Most rubber companies have hiked the factory price of inner tubes and tube-type car and truck tires. For the average passenger car tire the price rise comes to 35 cents. Again, it will be the retail tire seller who must make the decision as far as the motorist is concerned.

As the new models of cars continue to make their debuts, factory list price increases over last year are usually announced. They average around 5 per cent. But the dealer has the final say.

Predictions of further price increases shaping up come from several sectors.

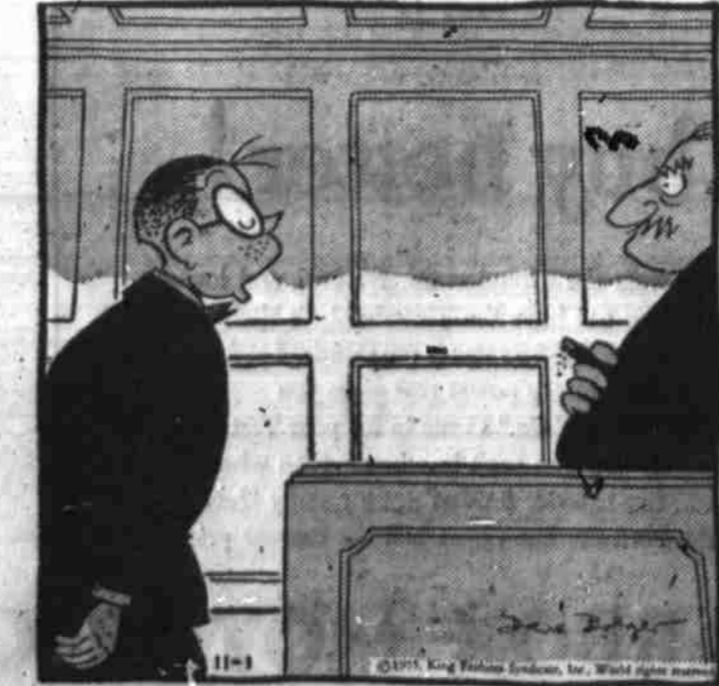

But the Federal Reserve Board sees inflation pressures generally held in check. It reports: "Credit restraint in all major industrial nations, including the United States, has helped to maintain general price stability and so to moderate the swings in the value of world trade."

Finished goods that the merchants buy have changed little in price, as a whole, in the last three years.

But retail prices in the last year have tended to sag more often than to climb. The reason is competition in styling and quality has counted as much with the public as has the competition in price.

Garden Council Lists Rules In Flower Show

Exhibits for flower shows are quite frequently disqualified because of infraction of rules governing the show. Garden club members are reminded of the following rules to be followed in Thursday's show.

1. Entries will be received Nov. 3 (Thursday) from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the gymnasium of Howard County Junior College.
2. No entries may be removed before 5 p.m. and must be removed by 9 p.m. on Thursday.
3. All horticulture exhibits must be grown out of doors by the exhibitor.
4. Exhibitor must be a member of a garden club in Big Spring.
5. One entry per person per class will be accepted, except in the unlisted specimen classes, where an exhibitor is permitted any number of entries.
6. Fresh flowers and foliage in arrangement classes need not be grown by exhibitor, but must have been grown by an amateur. Vegetables may be bought.
7. Mechanical aids in arrangements are permitted but must not be visible.
8. Professional help is forbidden in making arrangements.
9. A novice arranger is one who has never won an award in the arrangement division of any standard flower show.
10. Specimen flowers are to be shown in clear glass containers of the right size for the blossom or the right length for the stem. Exhibitors are to furnish their own specimen and arrangement containers.
11. No state conservation material may be used. This includes black-eyed Susans, yellow flowering yarrow, blue salvia, sunflowers, purple foxglove, pink plains, and cypress (Indian plum), Indian paintbrush, cone flowers, firewheel (gallardia or Indian blanket), blue verbena, yellow daisies, wild larkspur, buttercup, bluebonnets and yucca.

HCJC To Host S-C Convention

Howard County Junior College will host to the West Texas Junior College Student Council convention here Thursday and Friday.

Dr. James A. Reynolds, junior college specialist and editor of the Junior College Journal from the University of Texas, will be special guest and moderator for the convention.

Registration will be Thursday afternoon. The theme of the meeting will be "Cooperation of Citizenship Training Between the College and the Community."

The table was laid with a white Irish linen cloth, centered with a pink bouquet of carnations and candelabra holding pink candles.

Sixty-five guests registered. Hostesses, other than Mrs. Middleton, included Mrs. Juanelle Patterson, Louise Hughes, Fay Jones, Mrs. Hurley Whelms Mrs. L. H. Lybrand, Mrs. Virtus Latham, Mrs. G. Gorman, Mrs. Cleus Cox and Mrs. Pool Johnson.

Miss Barr and Melven F. Brown of Springfield, Colo., will be married Nov. 23 at the St. George Catholic Church in Fort Worth.

Coat, Suit Boys Say Winter To Be Cold

By DOROTHY ROE

The weather prophets are doing a lot of hedging these days about what kind of a winter it's going to be. Even those traditional weather indicators, the woolly bears, seem to be all confused. At last report half of the so-called fuzzy-wuzzies had wide stripes and half had narrow stripes, and it looked like the beginning of a cold war on the weather front.

As for me, I'll ignore the woolly bears and take my weather predictions from the coat-and-suit manufacturers. And according to the boys in the garment district, this is going to be a winter to remember.

For the first time since most of them can remember, retailers around the country are ordering winter coats for January delivery. Now this amounts to revolution in the garment industry, where they sell winter coats in June and spring dresses in November.

Nobody seems to know quite why this sudden demand for winter coats has arisen, except that maybe people are better weather prophets than woolly bears or moss on trees. And any merchandising man can tell you that a store buyer

Local Girl Honored In Abilene College

ABILENE—Betty Faye Bradford, junior from Big Spring, has been named to the Abilene Christian College Campus Service Organization.

Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bradford of 1316 Wood, is a 1933 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Members of the organization are outstanding girls chosen for work beyond the line of duty in the fields of arts, sciences, and leadership.

Betty, who was chosen for her work in music, is a member of the ACC band.

North Texas Lists Homecoming Plans

North Texas State College students from Big Spring and the surrounding area are making plans to attend the annual NTSC Homecoming Day celebrations at the college in Denton on Nov. 4-5, according to Arak, Phillips of the local N. T. chapter.

Thousands of former students of NTSC are expected on the campus for the two-day homecoming activities which will include a parade of decorated floats, a football game between the NTSC Eagles and Chattanooga University, a barbecue, stage shows and dances. In addition, clubs, departments, fraternities and sororities will hold socials and open house during the weekend.

The parade will be at 11 a.m., the football game at 2 p.m., and the barbecue at 5 p.m. on Nov. 5. Mail order tickets for the game for $2 may be obtained from Dr. Harold Farmer, NTSC Station, Denton.

As an added attraction for out-of-town ex-students, a free "baby-sitter service" at the NTSC Nursery School will be conducted during the hours of the football game.

Double Ring Service Unites Lamesa Pair

LAMESA, Nov.—After a wedding trip to points in North Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Moore will be at home in the Miles Apartments in Lamesa.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barrett, 1005 North 19th Street, and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Moore, Star Route 4.

The double ring service was read by W. T. Hamilton, pastor, at the Lamesa Church of Christ, Friday afternoon.

The bride wore a light blue tulle gown destined with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The ballerina length skirt was joined to a long torso waistline. She wore black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Geraldine Barrett served as her sister's maid of honor. Her dress was fashioned after that of the bride's in black tulle with long torso lines and a full ballerina length skirt. She wore black accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Milton Moore attended his brother as best man.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding reception. A light green linen cut work cloth centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and crystal appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Eugene Barrett, aunt of the bride, Carlene Barron and Charlene Whitlow assisted with hostesses.

Mrs. Moore is a Lamesa High School graduate and is now employed with the Texas Electric Company.

Her husband was graduated from Ackerly High School and is now engaged in farming near that community.

Scouts Make Boxes

Eight were present when the Girl Scout Troop 12 met Monday afternoon at the Scout Hut. Their sponsor is Mrs. Leroy Tidwell.

They worked on their project of making boxes to display historical objects for a museum.

Mrs. Dorothy Anderson of Fort Worth was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons, 119 N. Nolan.

MRS. JAMES A. HAHN

Zynn-Hahn Vows Said In Washington Chapel

In the chapel at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, D. C., at 1 p.m. Saturday, Mary C. Zynn became the bride of Lt. James A. Hahn.

Parents of the bride are Lt. Commander and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin of Downton, Pa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Hahn of Big Spring.

The Rev. C. E. Fink, base chaplain, read the formal military double ring ceremony.

Lt. Comdr. McLaughlin gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a chapel length gown featuring a bodice of white Chantilly lace over satin with an illusion neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt was three layers of net over white satin with the middle layer of Chantilly lace forming an apron effect. Her fingertip veil was attached to a queen's crown of multi-colored imported sequins.

For something borrowed, she wore a blue garter; her pin was old and belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother, a gift of a handkerchief from the bridegroom's great-grandmother was new; and she had a penny in her shoe.

Her bouquet was lavender orchids surrounded by sprays of silver wheat and ribbon.

Maid of honor, Sue Cheslure of Norfolk, Va., was attired in a petal pink satin dress with a deep rose velvet cummerbund. Her shoes were deep rose satin and her headpiece was a short veil attached to a crown similar to that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of trailing carnations dyed to match her dress.

Bridesmaids, Joan McConnell and Mrs. Betty Pierce, both of Washington, D. C., were dressed identically to the maid of honor, except in blue.

Lt. Joe B. Davis of Midland was best man. Brothers of the bride, Sgt. Warren McLaughlin Jr. and S-N John R. McLaughlin of Downton, Pa., served as groomsmen.

Ushers were Lt. Stanley G. Fielk of Detroit, Mich., and Lt. Harold G. Pierce of Nebraska.

Rick Davis Jr., son of Lt. and Mrs. R. B. Davis of Dallas, was ring bearer.

The reception following the wedding was held in the Officer's Club. The refreshment table was centered with white gladioli and the four-tiered cake topped with a miniature groom in military attire and the bride dressed as Mrs. Hahn. Lt. Joe B. Davis registered the guests.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mrs. C. E. Hahn, Mrs. W. M. Gage of Big Spring; Irene Nagey, Costesville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison, Mrs. Miriam Kenworthy of Parkway, Pa.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Mexico City, Acapulco, Carlsbad, N. M., and Big Spring, the bride was wearing a charcoal ensemble featuring a long Chinese coat. Her accessories were black.

The bride attended Notre Dame Academy in Mayton, Pa. The former fashion model in Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., is now chief hostess of the C&O Railway in Washington.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, Lt. Hahn attended Howard County Junior College and received his commission as a lieutenant in the USAF at Webb Air Force Base in June, 1933.

They will make their home in Washington, D. C.

Webb's Class 56-C Hears Address By Dr. O'Brien

Forty-one young officers—all of them second lieutenants—were graduated as jet pilots from Webb AFB Tuesday morning with an address to follow the teachings of the Apostle Paul as a basis for their profession.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, addressed the members of Class 56-C and pointed to Paul's letter to the Philippians (3:13-14) as a guide for high attainment in any profession.

MARTIN COUNTY

said so far as he knew, the trip had nothing to do with county business, that he saw none transacted. On cross examination, he said that McMorris had never given him $400 or $500. On the contrary, he said he let Vaughn have a small loan.

McMorris, tanned and dressed in business suit, testified that the "trip was made in Fanning's and my cars." Mahon asked who was Fanning, and McMorris answered he was "low bidder on..." but Thomas cut him short with an objection that was sustained.

"Did the trip have anything to do with county business? Was any form or character of county business transacted?" asked Mahon. "Not to my knowledge," replied McMorris.

When the party reached San Angelo on the way to the coast, McMorris said he told them that "not all the expenses were being paid as we thought it would. Some commissioners hadn't brought along enough money and I advanced them money — I believe it was $80. I don't remember about Kyle — I think he got $40 or $50."

He said that he advanced money funds out of his personal money and that "they said they would repay me when they got home." He added that he waited until April of 1952 — approximately a year later — and when none had been brought up the subject, he mentioned it in the April 9, 1952, meeting.

Vaughn and Froman are the second defendants to be acquitted in the Martin County cases. James Herndon, Stanton contractor was acquitted on Sept. 19, 1955 on charges he received Martin County funds for work he did not perform.

New Telephone Service Starts In Garden City

GARDEN CITY — Service was begun here Monday afternoon by the Glasscock County Telephone company, Inc., a recently organized cooperative.

The local system was activated Monday morning and the toll service was cut in during the afternoon.

A total of 91 stations are listed in the first directory issued by the company, and there is a fairly even distribution between town and rural areas.

Calls pass through a manually operated exchange, and there is a day and night operator. Late night calls, however, will be handled on an emergency basis.

B. A. Harris is president of the company which has 22 directors.

The concern is the second in Garden City and Glasscock County. J. H. Coomer of McCarney and Garden City operates the original system which recently was converted to dial.

Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County detectives, said the new information that the shot was prompted by a noise was the "major discrepancy" between her original account and her later story.

However, Pinnell had said earlier her original story was virtually "useless" because of her highly disturbed state at the time.

When police arrived at the 15-room Woodhead home on a 40-acre Long Island estate, the sobbing and incoherent Mrs. Woodward was clutching in her arms the unclad and bloody body of her husband.

Amerada Stakes Wildcat In Borden; Other Tests Spotted

Borden County gained a wildcat location this morning in the Amerada Petroleum No. 1 Dorothy Cates location. The project is about three miles northwest of the Good (Canyon Reef) field and on the south edge of the Jo Mill pool.

Field locations were spotted in the Varel (San Andres) field of Howard County, the Jo Mill field of Borden County, and the McCabe (Pennsylvanian) field of Mitchell County.

Field completions were reported from the Westbrook and Sharon Ridge 1700 pool of Mitchell County, the Jo Mill field of Borden County, and the Howard-Glasscock field of Howard County.

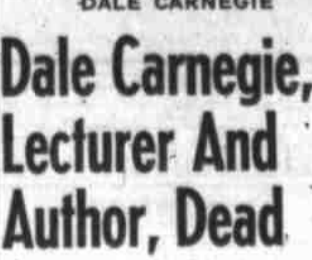

Several area prospectors were preparing to drill test this morning.

Johnson No. 1 Canon is drilling at 4,543 feet. This project is C SE SE 23-35-5n, T&P survey.

Amerada Petroleum No. 1 Dorothy Cates is a wildcat location about seven miles northeast of Ackerly. It is about three miles northwest of the Good (Canyon Reef) field and on the south edge of the Jo Mill (Spraberry) pool.

W. A. Moncrief No. 5-A W. L. Miller is a Jo Mill field location about 12 miles west, southwest of Gall. Drilling with rotary tools will go to 7,500 feet.

Texas No. 1 Foster wildcat about 8 1/2 miles northwest of Garden City, is drilling in lime and shale at 8,042 feet.

DALE CARNEGIE

Dale Carnegie, Lecturer And Author, Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Dale Carnegie, author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People," died today. He had been ill for some time.

The author and lecturer, whose book sold approximately four million copies, had for years been given courses in public speaking.

Carnegie, 66, attained wealth and fame by stressing the value of public speaking in the social and business fields.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People," based largely on personal experiences, was published in 1936.

His tremendous popularity led him to describe himself as one of the "most astonished" authors of his time.

Another of his popular books was "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living," published in 1948.

Besides lecturing and writing books, Carnegie conducted radio programs and a syndicated newspaper column.

Big Spring Has Quiet Halloween

Big Springers limited the observance of Halloween to "tricks or treats," apparently with few examples of vandalism or destruction of property.

"It was one of the quietest Halloween Big Spring has ever had," Chief of Police E. W. York said.

"Not much of a destructive nature happened," York added. "It was a very nice Halloween."

About 8:30 p.m., Mrs. R. A. Elder, 1302 Main, reported that some boys were throwing water on her front porch. They had left when police arrived. Ten minutes later, Denver D. Dunn, 512 E. 15th, said boys in a pickup truck were throwing eggs at small children who were "trick or treating."

Police found a large log in the street in the 700 block of Edwards Blvd. They removed it. About 2:45 a.m., police found garbage cans in the street in the 1200 block of East Seventh. They were placed back in the rack.

Mrs. Billie Gandy, 511 E. 17th, reported that her garbage cans had been carried off during the night.

Queens Crowned In Garden City's Halloween Event

GARDEN CITY — Kay Mitchell was crowned high school queen at the Halloween carnival and Martha Duncan the elementary school queen here Monday evening.

Plane To Pick Up Aliens Wednesday

Border patrolmen from Del Rio under the direction of Elmo Rainbolt have picked up 25 aliens in the Big Spring-Lubbock area during the past three days, and a plane is expected here Wednesday morning to pick up the illegal entrants.

The plane will carry them back to Mexico. Rainbolt and the 19 officers are searching the area for aliens and report the number is considerably below past years.

The aliens are now being held in the county jail here. They helped swell the jail population to 54 this morning, the largest number to be held in the county jail at one time in several months.

Check Charge Filed Charges of defrauding with worthless check were filed in Justice Court today against Salyador Herrera. He is charged in connection with a check for $290 given to Wilford White.

Theft Of Battery, Two Dogs Reported

Doyle Turney, 1009 Nolan, reported a battery taken from his car while it was parked at the Codden Service Station, Second and Johnson. The battery was taken between 1:30-2 p.m., Turney said.

Mrs. W. E. McIntosh, 1107 E. 6th, reported two small Chihuahua dogs were taken from her home sometime Monday. They were two weeks old, she said. One was dark brown and the other had a white chest and white feet. The report was made about 6:30 p.m.

Commissioners Set 'Make-Up' Meeting

The Big Spring city commission will hold a "make-up" session this evening in the commission room at the city hall. Time for the meeting is 5:15 p.m.

The called meeting is to consider business left over from last week when various city officials were out of town attending a convention.

Quartet Held On Assault Charges

Police arrested a woman in North Big Spring about 10:20 p.m. Monday and charged her with aggravated assault. Julia Mae Jackson was hospitalized as a result of the incident. She had a large bruise on her head, attendants at Medical Arts Hospital report, and her condition is considered satisfactory.

About 12:30 a.m., two Latin Americans were arrested for aggravated assault and destroying personal property. The men had kicked out the windows of a car at Northwest Fourth and Gregg. In jail, the two men combined forces with another Latin American and beat a white prisoner, police said. They are being charged with simple assault for the latter offense.

Eagles Beautification Project

Lloyd Brown, left, and Roy Bell, members of the Big Spring aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, look over part of the stock of trees which will be offered Saturday as a beautification project of the local lodge. Also pictured are Ray Jones, who will handle the sales at the lodge hall Saturday, and B. F. Tullis, nurseryman, who is providing the trees.

Trees Offered By Eagles In Beautification Project

Sale of trees as a beautification project will be undertaken here Saturday by the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Because it is purely a civic project, the Eagles are not realizing any proceeds whatever from the undertaking, said Roy F. Bell, a leader in the local aerie. The club is working with B. F. (Bill) Tullis, Progress, who has been providing trees for a citywide beautification program at Corpus Christi since 1945.

Corpus, largely on the strength of the tree program, won first place in the Better Homes and Gardens nationwide beautification contest.

Several varieties, including green ash, white ash, silver leaf maple, Chinese elm, pink flowering mimosa and red bud trees, will be offered at the Eagles lodge, 700 E. 3rd, starting at 8 a.m. Saturday.

The sale will be for only one day, said Bell.

Ray Jones, representing Tullis, will be on hand to handle the delivery. Tullis said that all sales (25 to 50 cents depending on the variety and size of tree) would be on the basis of individuals personally selecting the trees they want. The specimens are two to eight feet in height.

Ray's Drive-Inn, which adjoins the Eagle property has offered free parking to any who may come to secure trees during the day.

PRINCESS

her more than ever to the hearts of all our people." The Rev. Henry Cook, president of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, issued a statement saying:

"All honor to the princess." The archbishop of Canterbury, ranking prelate of the Church of England of which Margaret's sister, Queen Elizabeth II, is the constitutional head, had "no statement," his chaplain announced.

But many ordinary Britons — those who watch Margaret admiringly whenever she appears in public and who beam beneath her warm smile — obviously were disappointed by her blighted romance. A girl who performs in a cabaret was standing outside Clarence House, the Princess's London residence, when Margaret's statement of "her decision was issued."

"It takes a lot of guts to give up the man you love," the girl said. "I think she has more courage than her uncle."

She was referring to the Duke of Windsor who, 19 years ago, abdicated the throne he had ascended as Edward VIII to marry "The woman I love" — the twice divorced American Wallis Warfield Simpson.

"It's the only thing she could do, poor kid," Mrs. Mary Keller, a factory worker in London's East End, said. "I wouldn't be a member of the royal family for all the money in the world."

One teen-ager in the group outside Clarence House gave the uninhibited reaction of many: "What a shame!"

Townsend was with Margaret more than two hours just before she issued her statement of renunciation. The Princess spent the night in seclusion at Clarence House, comforted by Queen Mother Elizabeth.

It is not very likely that Margaret or any of her descendants — assuming that she ever marries after giving up Townsend — will occupy the British throne. But royal responsibilities weighed heavily in her decision.

She is third in line for the throne, coming after the Queen's two small children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

She pointed out in her statement that if it had only been a question of renouncing her rights of succession, she might have contracted a civil marriage. But, she added, she was "mindful of the church's teaching that Christian marriage is 'indissoluble, and conscious of my duty to the commonwealth."

Raney Re-Elected President Of Dawson Co. Farm Bureau LAMESA—Fred T. Raney, veteran president of the Dawson County Farm Bureau, has been re-elected to another term in that office. He was chosen by the board of directors last night at its initial meeting following the annual meeting a week ago. Other officers elected were Ralph Gary, first vice president; W. T. Snellgrove, second vice president; Herbert Green, secretary-treasurer; Geraldine Barrett, office secretary. Raney and Gary gave reports of two meetings held during the past week when they sat in on a pre-conference with the WTCC at Abilene and then on an unannounced session with the ASC committee at College Station. They were opposing the 260,000-acre cut in cotton for 1956 in West Texas. A planning committee consisting of Green, Oscar Vogler, Ben Mac Donnell and Robert Kober, Gary and Arthur Nolan was named to select committees for the coming year. This group is to meet Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, the committees will meet with R. J. Buchanan, San Angelo district No. 6 field representative, to make plans for the year's work. At the session Monday evening Green gave a report on the cotton classing session held in Lubbock last week.

Raney left Tuesday for Fort Worth to participate in the pre-convention sessions of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation resolutions committee. This unit is to have resolutions ready for submission at the state party next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ponies Make It Easy But A&M Works Hard

By LEDGERWOOD SLOAN
The Associated Press

The SMU Mustangs, sore over their 19-18 loss to Texas, took it easy Monday while the Texas Aggies, unhappy over the 7-7 tie with Arkansas, turned on the steam for Saturday's game at College Station, between the two.

The top game of the Southwest Conference will be played at night to avoid conflict with afternoon games of Baylor at Austin and Arkansas at Houston, the latter telecast regionally.

The Aggies, who usually rest on Mondays, went through a snappy practice under the lights. Paul Bryant refused to name an Aggie star, as he usually does on Monday, after the Arkansas tie, adding: "I had boys sitting on the bench that I should have played more."

Bryant said films showed the Aggies played 30 per cent below their top efficiency in the first conference game they failed to win this season.

The team is in good shape, Bryant said. SMU had a routine drill while those who played against Texas were excused from rugged work until Tuesday.

Woody Woodard said all his players would be ready for the Aggies. Herman Morgan, freshman coach who scouted the last two Aggie games, was impressed by how hard the Cadets hit.

The teams are closely matched. The Mustangs have made 309.8 yards per game, and A&M 302.3. A&M has allowed 214 yards per game and SMU 211.

Injured Texas players appeared recovered as the Longhorns worked for Baylor with running drills. Quarterback Charles Brewer, who left the game with leg cramps, and halfback Mickey Brewer, who got a solar plexus blow, went through light workouts in sweat clothes. They'll be ready.

End Allen Ernst, junior letterman from Temple, quit for the season because of the knee injury. He underwent surgery this week.

The Baylor Bears concentrated on getting five injured players back in shape for the Texas game. They saw films of the game they lost to TCU.

Four players missed practice because of leg injuries. They are halfback Bobby Peters, fullback Robert Snow, guard Willie Froebel, and tackle Bill Parsley. Peters and Froebel appeared "worse injured."

Arkansas held the usual short workout and saw films of the Aggie game. The Porkers start working out against Rice plays Tuesday.

"We'll need a full team effort like we had last Saturday to beat Rice," Coach Jack Mitchell said. Most of the Owls who played against Kentucky took Monday off.

TCU, with an open date this week, held a light drill and reviewed the movies of their 29-6 victory over Baylor.

"I don't know whether it will help us as a football team or not, but it will help us well," Coach Abe Martin said of the open date.

He expects the two weeks of practice to bring the Frogs around to top shape for Texas Nov. 12 with the possible exception of guard Bill Alexander.

Pivot Man

Offensive and defensive center of the Ackerly High School six-man football club is Warren Moore (above). The Eagles host Klondike in a Friday night engagement.

Down through the long years, the Purple has been blessed with outstanding centers. Oldtimers will readily recall such giants as Johnny (Three-Point) Washam, Noble Atkins, J. W. Townsend, Darrell Lester and Ki Aldrich.

In the opinion of the Frog coaching staff, Pitts is the equal of any of them — and better than most in some respects.

Because of his terrific performance in the Frogs' last two games, with the Miami Hurricane and the Baylor Bears, big Hugh seems likely to make many All-America teams. He was unanimous A-1.

Control the ball they did. Notre Dame had the ball for 79 plays and ran 68. The harassed Middles tried 32 running plays and went to the air 28 times. Navy had 13 completed passes and 3 Notre Dame interceptions.

Through the season in which the Irish have won five or six games, ball control has been their key. With the idea you can't lose if you keep the ball.

Terps, Sooners Are Still One-Two In Football Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan, continuing a race that's knotted up like a coach's nerves on the eve of a big game, still are 1-2-3 in the national college football ratings.

The seventh weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters drew the season's heaviest vote, but it left the situation unchanged with Maryland on top by a scant handful of points.

The tabulation of 220 ballots brought Maryland 74 first place votes and a total of 1,864 points — counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second, etc. Just behind came Oklahoma with 54 firsts and 1,852 points, then Michigan with 63 for 1,774.

A week ago, with fewer votes cast, Maryland topped Oklahoma by just 30 points. Navy, soundly beaten by Notre Dame, lost their fourth place rating to Michigan State but salvaged ninth place. And the Irish hopped from ninth to sixth and almost drew even with UCLA.

All-winning West Virginia, a 29-0 winner over Marquette last Saturday, held onto seventh. Resurgent Georgia Tech and Texas Christian took over the eighth and tenth places as Auburn and Southern California dropped out.

There wasn't much profit going that way. A 6-4 line-backing giant named Hugh Pitts made sure of that. Before going out late in the game, he made 10 unassisted tackles and had a hand in three others. Put this guy and Notre Dame's Pat Bisciglia on the same club and the enemy would have to close up offensive business.

Against Baylor last Saturday, big Hugh was just as prominent. When the Bears scored first on a long run, it was Pitts who came bowling over the middle to block the try for point so his team could go ahead 7-6 a few minutes later.

In the third period, it was Pitts who raced back to intercept a pass from Doyle Traylor and with all the dash of a halfback return it 34 yards to the Bruin 21. From there, the Frogs smashed over for their "insurance" score in a 28-6 victory.

Pitts' blocking has been just as effective as his defense. Last year he won the team's down field blocking trophy and this year his powerful work has led to many scores. Not once has the team been stalemated in close to the goal and several times Quarterback Chuck Curtis has ridden big Hugh's broad back for tallies.

As coach after enemy coach has said throughout the season, the "difference" in the two teams has been Hugh Pitts and Jimmy Swinford in Frog uniforms. The halfback has supplied the scoring punch (81 points in 7 games) while Pitts has led the Frog defense and blocking.

Word of the suspension action reached Santee yesterday at his Marine Corps base where he is stationed. He said he had never done anything to violate amateur athletic standards.

Santee, a former University of Kansas runner, said last night he planned an immediate appeal of the suspension voted Sunday by the Missouri Valley AAU Registration Committee. It said he had accepted excessive expense allowances for competing in three California track meets last May.

An official of the registration group said it was found Santee received $1,200 in all from sponsors of the three meets, whereas AAU rules allow amateur runners up to $15 a day in expenses, plus travel costs.

Paddle Still Helps Instill Discipline In Students

By DON HENRY

A little reasoning applied to the student's mind helps the discipline problem considerably. But, according to school officials, a little paddle applied to the lower regions of the torso tend to do more good many times.

Officials in both junior and senior high school report that though not used as much as in the past, the paddle still is handy in keeping the youngsters under control. In fact, Tom Ernest, principal of Junior High, when contacted Monday afternoon stated that he had used the paddle twice already that day.

Detention halls held between 12:20 and 1 at noon, and from 3:30 to 4 p. m. every afternoon eliminate a percentage of the disciplinary problems, but Ernest said that "the paddle gets results when other methods fail."

Most of the disciplining is done by the teacher in her own classroom, and students are sent to school administrators only when the problem becomes too big for the teacher to cope with. Then, many times, the paddle is used.

"The students just don't grasp what the schools are trying to do, and the paddle helps. Even at that, we use it more than we like," Ernest stated.

Most serious problem facing school officials concerning discipline is the students who "play hooky." Next to this are those students who want attention, and get it by "showing off" in the classroom, trying to outsmart their teachers, and generally make it hard for the instructor to teach the other students.

In junior high, following an absence, the school calls the parent to see if the story given by the student on his excuse is the same as given by the adult. This eliminates the student's making out the excuses himself.

About the same correction procedure and discipline problems confront teachers and administrators in senior high. But the use of the paddle is lessened, according to Principal Roy Worley.

"When students get in a senior high, we try to reason with them as young men and women, appealing to them to act as youngsters. But occasionally the paddle is necessary, anyway."

Most of the paddling done in high school, though, says Worley, is with young, new sophomores. "It isn't satisfactory with bigger boys."

Frequently, if paddling and reasoning don't remedy the situation, school officials hold a conference with the parents. Then, if the disciplinary problems persist, the school has no other choice but to turn the student over to the parents.

Then the child will remain at home until the parents either can discipline him or decide to keep him out of school permanently. Usually though, the parents can iron out the trouble, Worley added. Only an average of one or two cases arise each year serious enough to expel a student.

Worley said that students as a whole coming from junior high are better than in previous years. He went on to say that now there are no "what you would call mean boys; they might be mischievous, but not mean."

But mischievous or not, the paddle still hangs menacingly in the youngster's mind when he decides to do what the teacher won't approve of.

Dulles Visits Franco; Due To Get Request For Loan

MADRID, Spain (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived here by plane today for five hours of talks with Generalissimo Franco and other Spanish officials.

He was certain to get a request while here for more financial aid for Spain. He was the first American secretary of state to visit this country while in office.

Dulles took advantage of a holiday in the Big Four conference at Geneva to fly here with American State Department officials.

While the Spanish officials are expected to ask for a larger slice of American foreign aid funds under the 1953 U. S.-Spanish agreement, Spanish observers expected Dulles to call on Franco to give the French a hand with Nationalist rebels in Morocco. The observers believed French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay asked Dulles to

During recent clashes between the French and Nationalist rebels near the Spanish Moroccan border, the French charged Spain with aiding the rebels. The Spaniards denied this.

Still another item expected to get an airing at the conference here is Spain's request for admittance to the U. N.

All these points likely will be discussed by Dulles and Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo just before a luncheon honoring the visiting Americans.

The agreement signed by Spain and the United States Sept. 26, 1953, provided for U. S. economic and military aid in exchange for the right to build air and naval bases for joint Spanish-American use.

Under this agreement, Spain had received 190 million was in surplus products of American agriculture.

Spanish officials from Franco down have said repeatedly this country has not received a fair share of the American aid to Western Europe.

To Renew Fight For Postal Rate Boost

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration source on Capitol Hill today gave President Eisenhower no better than "a 50-50 chance at best" to get postal rates increased by Congress next year.

Postmaster General Summerfield yesterday gave notice in Denver of renewal of the rate battle when Congress comes back in January.

Woman Becomes Ill While Hunting In High Mountains

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. (AP)—Rescuers struggling down a steep, tortuous creekbed in a blinding blizzard brought to safety last night a woman hunter ill since Saturday in the mountain vastness of Wyoming's Washakie Needles formation.

Mrs. Mildred Ernst, 55, of hospital here, was whisked to a hospital here by ambulance after the ground party took her to the Col. Tim McCoy ranch, 35 miles west of here.

Her doctor said Mrs. Ernst's condition was good. He said she had "blacked out" from lack of oxygen due to high blood pressure. At first it was believed she had suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Ernst collapsed at 11,000 feet mark on a steep mountain face after a four and a half-hour horseback ride. Her descent by litter took a little more than three days. She spent two nights on the mountain, often under blizzard conditions.

The source, declining to be quoted by name, noted that Congress has steadfastly resisted three years of administration efforts to increase postal revenues by raising rates.

Much of the opposition has centered around Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.), whose position gives weight to his stand.

After conferring with the President in his Denver hospital room, Summerfield said Eisenhower had approved a plan to ask Congress for a boost in most rates to help cut down the "staggering" postal operating deficit.

Summerfield told reporters the President may ask for an increase in the first class rate for ordinary letters from three to four cents an ounce, and in the airmail rate from six to seven cents. He said definite rates have not yet been decided upon.

Economies and changes in postal procedures under Summerfield's direction were successful in cutting the deficit to around 350 million dollars last year, from an annual average of about 500 millions. But the savings have been more than offset by a 100 million dollar a year pay raise which Congress voted postal workers this year.

The big increase in the Post Office payroll, some believe, may induce Congress to vote somewhat higher rates to help Summerfield cut down his operating losses—but not anything like the increases Summerfield is expected to ask.

Some Capitol Hill sources thought the pay raise might cause Rayburn to change his mind on proposals he has turned down in the past.

Tunnel Has Record Of Traffic Safety

DETROIT (AP)—Called the "safest mile in the world," the vehicular tunnel under the Detroit River marked its 25th anniversary today.

The tunnel, linking Detroit and Windsor, Ont., has carried 47 million cars with only two accidents, both fatal.

Much of the 5,168-foot structure lies under the bed of the river. It cost 25 million dollars.

Govt. Surplus Causes Worry For Farmers

By OVID MARTIN Associated Press Farm Reporter

PENDELTON, Ore. (AP)—The traveling Senate Agriculture Committee is finding that many farmers look upon the government's seven billion dollar stock of farm surpluses as the villain back of their troubles.

At the hearings here, as well as at hearings in the Midwest last week, farmer after farmer expressed the view that if the government would only get rid of its big supplies of wheat, cotton, and other products, farm prices would rise quickly to satisfactory levels.

Some farmers said they saw little chance of better times for agriculture as long as the surpluses exist.

Proposals that the surplus be destroyed were made by two farmers at the hearings here yesterday.

Many farmers told the committee they could not understand why, with so much hunger in the world, the surpluses cannot be put to use abroad. Some blamed State Department "interference" for what they considered inadequate efforts to sell the surpluses abroad.

The committee found support here for Midwestern suggestions that the government undertake a broad program of curtailing production until the surpluses can be disposed of and until farm production is adjusted to needs.
