Folks in this area and those to the northwest and north sure were hit with some crazy weather on Sunday night as thunder, lightning heavy rain and some hail hit the area. Gorman received about two inches of rain and experienced some small hail. The area to the south received around an inch of rain, and those to the northwest and north received from two and one-half inch up and the main part of the front moved through their area. All we can say is this weather sure has been weird lately. But if you don't like it, just wait awhile and it will change. Most folks were happy with the moisture and are thankful for it.

We have been speaking of the postal service recently and the lack of service as far as delivering the paper to folks in other parts of Texas and out of state. A new system was begun the first part of the year that was believed to be the answer to the problem of mail delivery, but some of the machinery needed to carry out this system was not installed due to the usual delays. Even though the service has been terrible in some instances, we can all be thankful for the local postal people and the service they render to us. Without their cooperation we could not get the papers in the mail on Wednesday afternoon. The local people are always ready to help get the paper to the subscribers. And I know that when we are trying to get the service improved where it is so bad, we have a tendency to overlook the great service that we receive here in our town. I think most of the problem is that the folks we have to depend on in the larger mail centers could care less whether the mail is delivered or not. And in some instances the postal service cannot rid themselves of these folks due to some government hogwash. I say if an employee is not doing the job they should be, then they don't need the job. But when you are in the post office tell them how you appreciate the fine job they do for us. These folks deserve a pat on the back.

—J—

Thanks to the fine support of the advertisers, we are able to publish a nice tribute to the graduates this week. Our advertisers are always great to support the Progress and enable us to publish a nice paper honoring the youth of our communities for their accomplishments in school. The next time you are in these business firms tell them you appreciate their cooperation and support of your hometown newspaper.

Most of the organizations sponsoring Miss Gorman contestants will be having some kind of dinners, bake sales, rummage sales, peanut sales, etc. trying to help their candidates win the contests. In the past drawings were held to give away different items. However, it has been brought to the attention to the folks who must enforce the laws that this "terrible" kind of thing cannot be tolerated. So the organizations are forced to change the way they can receive donations for the good of the community. The problem is the restrictions that are placed on the good folks trying to do a job for the betterment of the community because of the criminal elements of society who continue to violate the law at every turn and seem to get away with it. Ugh! I had better quit right here before I get too wound up. But most folks around here know what I am talking about.

—J—

It should be pointed out, however, that if you have an opportunity to make a donation to the different candidates and organizations, please do so, because ALL the proceeds from these contests will go to a very worthwhile project, same being the renovation or maybe replacing the old fire hall building and adding a Teen Center for our youth. Proceeds from last year's event was earmarked for this project and this year (and probably the next several years ahead) will also be pledged toward

RICKY HUNTER BRINGS HOME GOLD FOR GORMAN HIGH

Three long years of frustration came to an end on Saturday for Ricky Hunter when he won the Class A Pole Vault event at the State Meet in Austin, going 14' 6" to bring home the Gold for Gorman High School (and for his Mom's birthday).

Ricky had worked very hard to get to the State Meet for four years, but due to a pulled muscle last year he missed the opportunity and before that he was competing against some outstanding vaulters who had competed previously. Ricky had three good jumps this year at the 15 foot mark after winning the gold, but just nicked the bar on two occasions.

This community is justly proud of Ricky and his family and everyone wishes him the best of everything in his future.

the goal of having a nice community center for voting polls, community gatherings, etc., and most importantly, having a Teen Center so that our youth will have a place they can enjoy their activities and occupy their spare time in a worthwhile environment that they will be responsible for upholding and maintaining. And believe me, our youth are ready to do their part toward that end. So lets all back this most worthwhile endeavor by the clubs and organizations and our youth.

CAPITOL UPDATE

by Jim Parker

The 69th session of the Legislature will go down in history as being the "year of the prosecutor." It seems that virtually any piece of legislation, if billed as a law and order measure, finds a friendly environment with uncontested passage into law.

Before some of you switch to the attack mode and decide I need to be pillared for criticizing law and order legislation, let me explain to you something of criminal justice circumstance that exists in our state. We are operating our prison system under a Federal mandate that deals, at least in part, with prison population limits. Once we reach 95% of capacity, generally speaking, an inmate must be pushed out of the system for each inmate that is taken in. This puts us in a position of "Treading water", and the treading is very expensive and often produces ludicrous results in that we frequently take non-violent, reasonably petty criminals in at the front end and put out hardened, violent, repeat offenders on the back side.

No one seems to be committed to the tax measures required to keep every one in prison for longer periods. TDC's best estimate is that, under current entrance and exit statistics, not counting legislation passed in this session, the population of TDC will be approaching 100,000 by 1990. (To help you visualize this massive number of prisoners, 100,000 is the approximate number of the entire population of Abilene, Texas.)

There is, in my opinion, a middle road that no one has, as yet, indicated a great deal of willingness to travel, and that is to be more selective in what we do with the persons convicted of crimes. I am appalled at the difference in the treatment received by convicted felons, convicted of similar crimes, in different parts of our state. The shocking effect is not necessarily based on any sympathy for the criminal element, but is caused by the total lack of consistency around the state in dealing with similar offenses.

There is no doubt that fully 2/3 of the prison inmates currently incarcerated would pose no great threat to life and limb of the general public and also no doubt that a significant number of people walking our streets

Addie Brummel Laid To Rest Friday

Addie Brummel, 77, of Desdemona died at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday May 8, at De Leon Hospital. Services were at 4 p.m. Friday at De Leon Funeral Home.

Payne Hattox, Church of Christ minister officiated. Burial was at Desdemona Cemetery.

Born May 25, 1907, in Desdemona, she was a member of Assembly of God.

Her husband, Arthur, died March 28, 1974.

She is survived by a sister, Artie Wilson of McKinney, and several nieces and nephews.

Bob Brogdon of Houston and Meissa Womack of Stephenville visited with the Coach Williams family over the weekend.

are violent, dangerous, and pose a continual threat to society.

Obviously, the difficulty is getting the right people in and the right people out. And the current spate of "Law and order" bills do not address the issue but do, in shotgun fashion, serve to aggravate the already untenable situation.

As I have stated before, this is not a liberal issue, but is, in fact, a very conservative issue because every tax dollar spent unnecessarily or ill-advisedly on incarcerating the wrong people in maximum security facilities is one less tax dollar we have to address to other vital state and public interests.

KOKOMO EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Kokomo Extension Homemakers met on Monday the 13th for our May meeting. Ava Rodgers presided and called on Bernice Rodgers to read the Devotional taken from proverbs 27th Chapter, verse 1 through 8. Johnnie B. Griffin voiced the prayer.

Nancy Hendricks read the minutes of our last meeting and then called the roll. Members answered the roll call by telling "the useless things we save". This proved to be very interesting and amusing. It seemed to prove that "What is one person's trash is another person's treasure".

Wynelle Brown gave the treasury report and then during our business meeting we made plans for hosting the "Countywide Club Day" at the Community Center on June 7th. The meeting begins at 10:30. We will be honored to have our "County 4-H Recreation Team" with us before noon to bring their winning demonstrations. We are looking forward to this at noon lunch will be served here at the Community Center. Afternoon Catherine Cawley from Lone Star Gas from Abilene will bring our programs on "Picture Perfect Entertaining". Visitors are welcome to spend the day with us.

Zelda Jordan furnished the refreshments which were very delicious. Chips, dips, cookies and cold drinks were served to the following members: Ava Rodgers, Nancy Hendricks, Bernice Rodgers, Johnnie B. Griffith, Wynelle Brown, Naoma Morrow, and little guest, Wynelle Brown's granddaughter Krystal Brown of Carbon.

We're proud of you.

PUBLIC HEARING

The City Gorman will hold the second public hearing on May 23, 1985 at 7:00 p.m. at the School Auditorium to discuss the city application for funding for the upgrading and extension of the water supply system basically in the south east and north east part of the City under the Texas Community Development Program. The application has been developed based on need and input received at the first public hearing held on April 23, 1985. This hearing will inform citizens of what activities are proposed, at what cost, and the anticipated impact of the project on citizens and local service levels. All citizens are invited to attend and provide input on the proposed project.

Charlie L. Garrett, Mayor

CITY CHIT CHAT

By Charlie L. Garrett, Mayor

I want to thank all of you who helped to make Clean-up week the success that it was. The city crew answered thirty calls to pick up and haul various items to the land fill. This is a greater number of calls than normal. Even with this much hauling, there are still many areas that were not as well cleaned as we would like to see. I am making a plea that those who did not have time to clean and haul off their items, to still make an effort to do so.

I have had several people talk to me lately about dogs that are running loose in town. Some of these dogs are large enough to be dangerous. It has been reported that in some cases children and people walking have been attacked by these dogs. At the present time we do not have a leash law in Gorman, but may have to take a look at one if dog owners do not accept the responsibility of taking care of their dogs. I would like to point out that if your dog attacks someone, you can be held liable for any injuries caused if the person should file charges against you. I am sure that there is no one who would like to know that their dog had attacked and injured someone. May I, please, ask all dog owners to see that your dogs are not allowed to become a problem in Gorman.

You will notice in another part of the paper that the public hearing that was announced last week has been changed. It will be held on May 23, 1985 at 7:00 P.M. in the High School Auditorium. I urge you to attend this meeting, especially those in the south and south eastern part of the town. This is the area in which we are trying to improve the water supply and to provide fire plugs so that this area may have an adequate water supply as well as fire protection. Come and give some input into the meeting.

Congrats TO THE GRADUATES!

We wish everyone much success and happiness

SCHOOL HILL NEWS

By Mrs. Oma Lee Riddell

Clyde and Darvella Scroggins of Lamesa, Clanton and Beulah Pilgrim of Jacksboro, and Claraleen Williams of Alaska have been visiting with their sister, Renia Hogg. They all attended the Pilgrim reunion over the weekend. Our Senior Citizens ball players are doing great. They play on Thursday night. I don't know why anyone needs a husband. I've got a parrot that cusses and a tom cat that stays out all night, so why do I need a husband? Blake and Delilah Morrison returned home Sunday from California, where they had enjoyed two weeks. They returned home to find lots of hail damage. We all had a lot of that. Patsy Moon spent Thursday in Stephenville with Flora Bays. I was sick a couple of days last week. William is a terrible cook. I'm not a gourmet cook, but I know you don't open a grapefruit with a can opener. William sure broke the dog from begging at the table. Carsan Loving of Lingleville visited with us on Thursday night. James Mac and Merle Jo Parks, Carson and Sandra Loving all of Lingleville visited on Tuesday night with Joe and Ann Staude.

Our hats off to you!

You've made us very proud! We salute you!

A bountiful onion harvest is under way in Texas. Onion production should be up about 17 percent in Texas this year despite a drop in acreage from 18,600 to 17,000 acres. Texas supplies about 65 percent of the total U.S. fresh onion stocks during April, May, and June, notes a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System. Most of these come from the Rio Grande Valley, Laredo, and the winter Garden west of San Antonio. This year's production is being boosted with a new sweet, mild onion developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

We will long remember the class of 1984.

Congratulations
To GHS 1985 Graduates

In the hustle and bustle of business, with its saving and slaving grind we are too apt to give credit to the works of our own hands and mind.

But we pause at this Graduation Time to give credit where it is really due to you kids and your parents and thankfully say that our progress results from your and their friendship.

You will meet some unsavory and immoral characters along the road of life and it is both your duty and responsibility to help change their step where possible but never to fall into the path that they have trod. Keep America way ahead of anything in second place.

We express the same Happy Graduation Greetings we have extended each class for the past Sixty years.

May 31 Is Deadline Date For Ins. Cotton

May 31 is the final planting date for insured cotton in Eastland County, Texas, according to Ardell Kalmbach, district representative for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Insured cotton planted by May 31 must be reported by June 15 in order to receive full crop insurance coverage. The acreage report reflects the actual acreage planted and reported by the farmer.

In order to provide some flexibility on planting dates, a late planting option may be exercised by farmers who find themselves unable to plant their crops on time due to adverse weather. The late planting option provides insurance coverage for the late planted crop, but at a lower guarantee.

For insured farmers, "entering into the late planting option is not automatic," Kalmbach said. "Farmers wishing to use the late planting option must sign an agreement prior to the final planting date in order to have coverage under the late planting option."

"Increasingly, our insured producers are discovering that with

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

BIG COWS NOT ALWAYS EFFICIENT--Big cows may not be the most efficient producers in a beef cattle herd. Although big cows generally produce the heaviest calves, their maintenance costs may outweigh the benefits of the extra pounds of beef, notes a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. A demonstration at the Four G Ranch near Hermstead the past two years showed that cow maintenance costs need to be considered along with the age of cows in coming up with an efficient herd. In the demonstration, the heaviest cows produced calves only 13 pounds (2 percent) heavier than calves from medium-weight cows, but these heavy cows required about 18 percent more energy and 13 percent more protein on a daily basis.

PRODUCING HIGH QUALITY HAY--Producing high quality hay takes a lot of advance work as well as proper attention to certain management practices. A number of these practices came to the forefront at the 1984 Liberty County Hay Show where producers with hay entries completed information sheets that detailed their production practices. This information indicated that maturity of hay at harvest was the biggest factor affecting hay quality, with hay harvested at 25 to 30 days of age (from the onset of active growth or from the last cutting) being of the highest quality. Proper fertilization was the second most important factor in determining hay quality, notes a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

yield guarantees which reflect production capability, crop insurance establishes a farm income floor. Thus, cash flow and the ability to repay a loan can be more accurately projected," explained Kalmbach. Farmers wishing to discuss local conditions that may affect planting should contact their local, authorized crop insurance agent.

'85 Oakland Cemetery Meeting

BY JEWELL DUKES
HUDDLESTON

It is that time of the year. The grass and weeds are up and it is time to see that our rural cemeteries are cleaned and mowed and ready for inspection of the summer visitors that will drop by the grounds when back home for the annual family reunions. Oakland Cemetery Association meets on the first Saturday in May, come rain or shine, and this past Saturday was the date.

We were there on time. I recall a first Saturday in May more than sixty years ago. Were were in the farm wagon, drawn by Kit and Shorty, a pair of brown mules. Father and the hired hands had all the tools thought to be needed—shovels, hoes, rakes, even a couple of wheel barrows for trundling soil. We set out early for the all-day work schedule. Later Mother and Grandmother and Grandfather Duker came bringing the picnic lunch, a block of ice wrapped in a tow sack, and jugs of tea. Those sessions lasted until the sun was low in the west and the Johnson grass was bested.

Times have changed. We now have a full-time caretaker and we do appreciate him. There wasn't a twig or pebble out of place. The grounds were lovely, and it was a beautiful, sunny day. Cars and pick-up trucks began turning in from the country lane to the South. The drivers lined their vehicles up along the fence, then everyone set out to stroll the grounds.

Oakland is located in the Indian Mountain community and the cemetery sits atop a red clay hill. I have been to the cemetery when my automobile got hopelessly stuck in the red mud down the lane and the rescue tractor almost didn't make it.

But, thanks to the rainfall we had had this spring, the surrounding countryside was a blanket of wild flowers. Most colorful of all were the Golden Wave, Indian Fire Wheel, Sensitive Briar, Texas Prickly Poppy, and Pink Evening Primrose. Even the birds added their song to the rural setting.

The party I was with did as all visitors do. We made the rounds, reading the epitaphs and commenting on what we remembered and what we had forgotten. No one can visit Oakland Cemetery without appreciating the Curb family plot with its beautiful rose bushes in full bloom and not realize how far the water has been hauled to care for the plants.

We greeted old acquaintances as we met while making the rounds. I counted again the head stones of two early-day families, the Echols and Underwoods. There were twenty-six of the Echols family and thirty-nine of the Underwoods. Our great-grandmothers are interred in Comanche County. The great-grandfathers died first and were left behind in Pontotoc County, Mississippi when the families moved to Texas. Great-grandmother Eliza Hill Duker is buried at Oakland, and Neneveh is the final resting place of Elizabeth McNeely.

I glanced at my watch and it was meeting time. The youngest member of our clan jogged to the car and sounded the horn to alert everyone for the meeting.

Lorene Dennis, secretary-treasurer, came prepared with folding card table and chair. Bill Haynes, president, called the meeting to order after wooden church pews had been brought out of the closed shelter and set up, down wind side, for comfort. Wilburn Overstreet opened the meeting with a prayer. Pearl Westerman of Gorman sat on my right, and Dee Burselson of De Leon was on my left as the president called for the reading of the minutes of the previous year.

The financial report was given at this time. Cost of labor for the year was $1805.00. Eleven grave plots had been sold in 1984-85. three $1000 certificates of deposit have been bought in the past year. the checking account balance stood at $1501.73. Funds from the interest-bearing account totaled $1898.38, and interest on the C.D.'s totaled $718.86. The bottom-line net worth of the association's funds was $31,000.

Bill Haynes and Lorene Dennis were re-elected by acclamation to serve the 1985-86 term. Eddie Holland of De Leon, was re-appointed caretaker for another year.

It was good to see Marion Dennis able to be with us. His role of caretaker has been deeply appreciated and it was with regret that we had to accept his resignation due to failing health.

Pro and con was discussed and everyone had an opportunity for their input toward keeping Oakland one of the best-kept cemeteries in the county. It was a delight to sit there and listen to old friends working together in unity for the common good of all.

An oriole and a trio of mocking birds joined an Eastern meadow lark in a nearby field. A scissortailed flycatcher swooped down over Bill Haynes and snared a grasshopper while the discussion was being held. A cactus wren, not to be outdone, trilled from a flowering Yucca.

Don't forget....first Saturday in May 1986!

We congratulate a Class that is simply
