Stalingrad, Rostov In Grave Danger

Nazi Industrial City Pounded By 300 RAF Planes

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—The air ministry announced today that many large and widespread fires were started in an attack last night on Duisburg, Germany, by a strong RAF force during widespread operations from which 13 bombers failed to return.

FD And Aides Ponder Whole Cost Problem

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) disclosed today that President Roosevelt disclosed with congressional leaders today "the whole question of the cost of living," but has not decided whether he will send a special message to congress concerning means of preventing inflation.

Asked whether wage control was debated, Barkley replied, "we discussed the whole set up, everything that goes into the cost of living."

Barkley also expressed the opinion that all prospects of a formal record of congress are out of the window.

He added that he reached this conclusion several days ago, and the opinion had nothing to do with the new discussions of cost of living.

The president replied with a flat no when asked at the press conference whether he intended to "freeze wages" and advised his questioner to wait for the message when asked if intended to suggest that congress take that step.

Mr. Roosevelt would say only that the message would go into the cost of living which he described as the first real domestic problem in carrying on the war.

Oil Quota Fixed At 1,388,021 Bbls.

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—A state-wide oil order authorizing average daily allowable production of 1,388,021 barrels in August was announced today by the railroad commission.

The permissive was 8,679 barrels less than the office of petroleum coordinator's certification for August market demand in Texas and 200,738 barrels greater than the average allowable reported for Texas wells on July 15.

Nine producing holidays were decreed, Aug. 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23, 29, 30 and 31.

Establishments are not required to close their doors, Ford said. Inspectors in the field will check on observance of the law.

'Troopship Of The Sky'—The new 25-ton Curtiss Commando, a military transport plane now being delivered to U.S. Army air forces, dwarfs its fighter escort plane. This new 'troopship of the sky' is designed to carry troops, one or more jeeps and other artillery to battle zones. Details of capacity and performance were withheld by the war department.

Welcome Rain Dampens Much Of County

Farm and range lands in sections mostly in the western part of the county benefitted from rains which fell Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, with many sections receiving moisture varying from one-half inch to three inches.

At the Caubie ranch southwest of Big Spring half an inch fell at the ranch house, but the fall grew heavier to the west where an estimated one inch fell. At Forsan storming clouds brought very little rain, but Lee's Store to the west reported two inches.

Martin county recorded precipitation varying from one half to three quarters of an inch as a result of showers which were considerably heavier south of town.

In other sections of Howard county heavy showers brought half an inch to the Center Point community and clouds in that area continued to a point east of Coahoma. Some farmers east of Center Point estimated that they received as high as three inches.

Morgan and Wild Horse creeks were on a marked rise, although water did not get out of banks. Water was flowing rapidly through their channels, even in areas where no rainfall was recorded.

At Knott good showers were reported, which continued heavier to the center of the county's western boundary. Lomax reported an inch in showers that continued in a sort of belt as far as Elbow creek.

Big Spring was still watching clouds hopefully as additional water in the city lakes would be welcomed. The lakes did not benefit from Tuesday's showers. Although clouds hung low over the waterheds for some time, not enough rainfall was recorded for runoffs.

Official gauges at the airport and experiment station measured 3.2 inch for Tuesday.

Air Attacks Extended To Isle Of Crete

Allied Bombers And Fighters Blast At Rommel Lines

CAIRO, July 22 (AP)—Allied bombers and fighters ranged far over and beyond the El Alamein front yesterday to blast large concentrations of axis vehicles and attack Marshal Erwin Rommel's supply base in Crete as the desert ground fighting settled into artillery duelling. British general headquarters reported today.

Suda Bay, Island of Crete, was attacked "in force" and direct hits were scored on two vessels, the communique reported. A near miss was scored on a larger ship and a pier was set afire.

United States air men probably took part in the raid, RAF sources said. American Liberator bombers have been employed frequently on assignments in the Mediterranean and the mention of "heavy Allied bombers" indicated that Americans had participated, these sources said.

The axis desert positions at which British artillery units were firing lie from two to five miles west of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's El Alamein line, British military sources said.

In the central sector of the 40-mile desert front, the Allied bombers attacked a concentration of about 1,000 axis vehicles and started many fires, the communique said.

Large forces of German parachute troops have been reported concentrated on Crete.

In the actual desert fighting yesterday, action was confined mainly to artillery fire at the northern end of the front west of El Alamein, it was reported.

Coastal roads west of El Alamein also came in for attention from the RAF as near Field Marshal Rommel moved up reinforcements of infantry in trucks. The motorized infantry was described as "badly dispersed."

Many direct hits were scored and fires started on enemy positions and axis vehicles, the communique reported. The air action ranged over the entire 40-mile battle line and at dusk bombers attacked vehicles in the southern sector.

Hearings will begin tomorrow with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau expected to renew before the senate group recommendations for administrative changes and additional taxes which would raise the bill's total by $2,600,000,000 to meet his revised revenue recommendations.

In passing the measure Monday, the house voted to make the excess profits tax 90 per cent and declined to lower other corporate taxes from the 45 per cent to 40 per cent, the committee originally had recommended to the 40 per cent it subsequently suggested.

Victory In 1943 With Luck, Says Churchill's Son

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Randolph Churchill, 31-year-old son of the British prime minister, predicted today that "if we're lucky" the United Nations would win the war by the end of next year, "and if we're unlucky then we'll win by the end of 1944."

"We, the British, were only one-quarter ready for this war," Churchill said at a press conference. "Germany prepared for 20 years for this war. The English have not been as clever in this war as the enemy."

"We have been largely enthusiastic amateurs in this war as compared to professional military men. We still have a lot to learn, but we are learning fast and we are going to win."

Churchill, captain of a British parachute formation, reached here yesterday from Egypt where he suffered a crushed vertebra in an automobile accident last May.

Mexican Labor Plan Still Under Study

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Aides of Secretary Wickard say negotiations are still being carried on with Mexican officials on proposals to import several hundred thousand Mexican farm laborers to help harvest sugar beet, vegetable and other crops in Pacific Coast and southwestern plains states.

Wickard discussed the proposal with Mexican officials at the inter-American agricultural conference at Mexico City, but no agreement was reached.

Furious Assaults Gain New Ground For Hitler Army

MOSCOW, July 22 (AP)—Stalingrad and Rostov both were imperiled gravely by fresh German advances today as the million men of Marshal Fedor von Bock pressed relentlessly south and east against bitterly fighting but outnumbered Russian forces.

Red Star, the army newspaper, said ominously that the Germans were approaching the border of Stalingrad province.

A furious German assault beat against the men of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko along the Moscow-Rostov railway. The drive was moving on Rostov from southeast of Millerovo and from Voroshilovgrad, both of which have fallen to the Germans in the 300-mile wide Don basin offensive.

Red Star pointed to the danger thus: "Terrible days face the country. The enemy is rushing to the vital centers of our country." The newspaper called on Red soldiers to repeat the example of 28 Soviet troops, who in defending Moscow last winter, fought tank charges with their hands, all dying in the struggle.

The German high command said the lower Don had been crossed on a broad front and that organized Russian resistance in the Rostov region had collapsed. Rostov was declared hemmed in.

Even as the Russian armies in the south strove to stem the German advance, the forces at the northern end of the front around Voronezh were reported holding the initiative and counterattacking vigorously. The Russians announced four bridgeheads had been seized.

Cutting Off Communications Perilous

But the Russian press showed that the greatest urgency was before Rostov and Stalingrad, both vastly important industrial and communication centers and guardians of approaches to the Caucasus, oil lands and fertile farms.

The loss of either city, it was acknowledged, would be a tragic blow, but by far the worst damage would be caused by cutting communications. Stalingrad lies astride an elbow of the Volga within 40 miles of the Don and the Volga is the Russian life line through which the United States and Britain have been pouring supplies via the Persian gulf route.

The fall of both cities would isolate many other southern centers Russian northern and southern armies. The loss of Rostov along with the presently Russian-held section southeast of Millerovo would mean the near isolation of the Russian army of the Caucasus.

Vital Centers Of Resistance Menaced

Oil—the lifeblood of mechanized war—would be denied to large sections of Russia except that which has been stored.

The fall of both cities would isolate many other southern centers from aid in the north, so vital to carry on Russia's resistance.

The Germans are pouring tanks, cannon, trench mortars and planes into the battle zones before Stalingrad and Rostov. The Russians were summoning all their strength at the front. Significantly, the Red army introduced wound stripes recently to decorate wounded soldiers who return to the front.

The Red army's courageous stand at Voronezh has now turned into daring counterattacks. These drives are helpful but not enough to offset the impending danger to Stalingrad, the Volga and Rostov.

The Russian man-in-the-street's confidence, however, was unshaken and there was not a man or woman with whom this correspondent talked who did not express confidence that Russia will survive this crisis.

Dispatches continued to report that the Germans had numerical superiority in men and machines in all southern sectors.

Increased Soviet air activity throughout the Don basin was noted by the newspaper Kommunist. It said German bombers, as well as German army and infantry groups, were raiding airbases newly gained by the Germans.

Sporadic fighting was reported on both the Kalinin and northwestern fronts above Moscow.

Murray Leads In Montana

HELENA, Mont., July 22 (AP)—Senator James E. Murray, ardent Roosevelt supporter who accused his colleague Burton K. Wheeler, of attempting to purge him, took a growing lead today in his race for renomination on the democratic ticket.

The primary, one of the most lullest Montana has known, flared suddenly in the closing hours into a radio dispute between the state's two senators in which Wheeler charged that Murray was "trying to ride into office on the coattails of war fever."

Senator Wheeler, a staunch isolationist before Pearl Harbor, is not up for reelection this year.

Murray, in turn, said Wheeler had attempted to purge him and "besmirch our president," and said the apparent result was a victory for the administration.

He claimed renomination on the basis of returns from 973 of the state's 1,125 precincts which gave him 27,978 votes and former Congressman Joseph B. Monaghan of Butte 16,704, and said this showed the voters had "repudiated any attempt to dictate Montana politics."

Wellington D. Rankin, Helena attorney and brother of Jeannette Rankin, Montana representative who voted against war declarations for both World wars, was leading for the republican nomination for U. S. senator. Miss Rankin did not bid for renomination.

City Of Tyler Is Winner Of Suit

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—The city of Tyler today was victor in litigation in which Mrs. Clara Belle Ingram sought damages for injuries received in the collapse of temporary bleachers erected on city property for a rose festival pageant.

The supreme court, reversing lower court judgments in favor of Mrs. Ingram, ruled the city was not liable for damages although it had permitted the Texas Rose Festival association, a private corporation, to erect defective bleachers on city property.

'Hemmed In'—Berlin announced that German troops, by attacking from three sides, had "hemmed in" (Rostov (1) while bombers set the city afire. Nazis also claimed a 50-mile advance (2) toward Stalingrad. At Voronezh (3) hand to hand fighting raged on both sides of the Don. Broken arrows indicate unconfirmed German claims. Black arrows mark German advances admitted by Russia. Light arrow indicates Russian attack.

Berlin Claims Resistance At Rostov Has Collapsed

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), July 22 (AP)—The German high command said today "organized resistance of the enemy in the Rostov region has collapsed" and reported that "to the east of the Donets the lower course of the Don was crossed on a broad front."

Rostov was described as hemmed in by axis troops "standing before a defended bridgehead position which runs in a semicircle outside the town."

The Donets joins the Don about 70 miles northeast of Rostov. Russian accounts for several successive days have reported Red army withdrawals in this direction before the numerical superiority of German forces driving southeast from Millerovo, 150 miles northeast of Rostov. Nothing in the Russian dispatches has indicated, however, that they had been pushed back as far as the Don.

"Organized resistance of the enemy in the Rostov area has collapsed," said the German war bulletin. "German and German allied troops are in front of bridgehead positions which run in a semicircle outside the town."

"To the east of the Donets the lower course of the Don was crossed in a broad front."

"Italian units succeeded on July 19 in taking the important coal region of Kraanfluech when pursuing the enemy in the Donets loop."

"Numerous prisoners were taken and much booty was captured." The communique said that weakened Russian forces in the big Don bend were "putting up only slight resistance," and reported that the Red army's attacks north and northwest of Voronezh were repulsed.

Past secretaries of the Order of Eastern Star were honored by officers with a program at the meeting Tuesday evening at the lodge hall.

One Little Girl Can Cause A Lot Of Distress

Excitement reigned at the swimming pool Tuesday afternoon when 300 girls and their counselors from the Baptist encampment went for a dip.

All girls were checked into the pool and everything hummed nicely until checking out time and 299 girls were checked out and the 300th basket was left sitting on the shelf.

Life guards and soldiers twice covered the bottom of the pool in search of the missing child and for thirty minutes the frantic counselors wrung their hands.

And then they found her in the camp with her bathing suit on bewailing the fact that she had lost her clothes.

SAVE YOUR TIRES
By Riding The YELLOW CAB—150

To My Many Friends Of Howard County
I wish to take this method to thank each and every one of you for the splendid support you have given me in the past. I appreciate the fact that you have permitted me to run unopposed in this campaign. I have made an honest effort to run your office in an efficient manner, and according to the report of our State Comptroller, Hon. Geo. H. Sheppard we have one of the best collection records in West Texas.

Please do not think for one moment that just because I do not have an opponent, I have neglected to see you, and personally ask you for your support. Nearly everyone whom I have contacted during the campaign has suggested that I save the expense of an extensive canvass. As a result of these opinions, I have used the money that would have been spent on campaign expenses to buy defense bonds and stamps, and have saved tires and gasoline which is in keeping with the President's policies.

I submit for your approval a record of collections since becoming your Tax Collector: 1935 87%; 1936 92.5%; 1937 93.3%; 1938 94.4%; 1939 95.3%; 1940 94.45%; 1941 95.35%. And now Claud Wolf, your popular auditor, is threatening to sue me because I did not make it 100% for the past year.

Yours for service,
John F. Wolcott

At the Collins Coffee—MRS. W. P. EDWARDS brought her parasol to protect against the sun's rays while she walked the short distance from her home to the Collinses.

MRS. WILLIAM MENGINER is so young looking one would think she was her daughter's (Mrs. Ira Thurman) sister. Nearly everyone at the affair had on cotton frocks that were a joy to see.

MRS. ARCH CARSON was very attractive in a small white pique sailor.

MRS. R. O. BEADLES has such an infectious smile that one feels better for having seen her.

The COLLINS home is so green with the lawn, vines and trees that it makes you think of a good, cool drink of water on a very hot day.

When enough members of the Tuesday bridge club couldn't get together for the bridge games those that could come to Mrs. J. M. Woodall's and had a lot more fun just talking. They later came to the Collinses coffee.

Enrollment Of Baptist Encampment Exceeds Expectations By 150

Meeting Underway At City Park Campsite Said By Leaders To Be Largest And Best In State

Acclaimed as the best and largest youth camp in the state of Texas, the third Y.W.A. and G.A. encampment was in full swing today as the Baptist girls and their leaders went into the second day of work at the City park.

Enrollment has exceeded by 150 girls the number expected for the camp and 549 are listed on the registration rolls. Last week 260 boys camped at the site.

Twenty-six girls have been converted during the session thus far and last week 53 boys pledged themselves. This number surmounts any report made from other state meetings.

Teaching staff of the camp is headed by Mrs. R. L. Mathis, state young people's secretary, and Dr. H. D. Bruce of the College of Marshall is the camp pastor and holds services twice daily. Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, district secretary, arranged the programs and presides over the meetings while Vernon Yearby, called by the leaders a master at his work, is in charge of the recreation.

Largest Job
Largest job of the camp is headed by Mrs. R. O. Collins of Midland who is in charge of feeding the girls and the staff. Assisting her are Mrs. Bill Arnett of Smith Chapel and Mrs. Blair Morris of Big Spring.

Mrs. J. M. White of Midland, district president of the W.M.U. is called the camp mother and almost anything that anyone wants to know is brought to her for an answer. Mrs. J. M. Hogan conducts a first aid station which thus far has not been busy.

Feeding this mass of young people is a major problem and menus were planned as far ahead as April by Mrs. Collins, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. White.

However, with contributions of food and money coming in from the different churches the women have had to revise these a great deal.

Sports Climb With A Win Over Cats

By The Associated Press
The third-place Shreveport Sports inched up in Texas league standings and put themselves in a position to oust Fort Worth from the second spot by defeating the Cats 4-3 last night.

The league-leading Exporters could do no better than split a double bill with the last-place Dallas Rebels at Beaumont, but the Fort Worth loss put the Shippers another half-game ahead of the Cats.

At San Antonio the Missions edged past Tulsa 4-3, and the Buffs, divided a doubleheader with Oklahoma City at Houston, talking the opener 4-1 and losing the second game 3-2.

Earl Cook's pitching gave Beaumont a 3-0 victory over the visiting Rebels, but in the nightcap Dallas won 5-3.

Hank Oana, the converted outfielder who has developed into one of Fort Worth's pitching aces, caused the Sports no trouble at all. Shreveport pushed over three runs in the second and the other in the fifth inning.

The Missions got a three-run jump on Tulsa, but the Oilers tied it up in the sixth and seventh. San Antonio scored the winning run in the eighth.

Jack Creel held Oklahoma City at bay while Houston piled up enough runs to win the first game. Excellent relief hurling by Clay Touchstone, who took over from Al Fisher in the third, gave the Indians the nightcap.

Cubs Downed 4-3 In Year's Longest Tilt

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Underneath the sign that says "Braves Field" at the National league ball park in Boston there should be added a line "home of extra-inning ball games."

Marathons disguised as baseball are the specialty of the Braves. For this reason that 17 inning struggle of the Braves and Chicago Cubs yesterday was bound to happen. It wasn't quite as historical as the 26-inning 1-1 tie between the Braves and Brooklyn in 1920, the most extended game in National league records, but it was the longest game this season and the Braves won 4-3 with a unique finish that made it entirely satisfactory to Boston fans.

The Braves tied the score in the eighth with two runs and after eight more scoreless stanzas they loaded the bases with none out in the 17th on three successive bunts. Then John Cooney stepped to the plate and rapped a single to right center to finish the fracas four hours and 17 minutes after it started.

While this was going on the Brooklyn Dodgers curbed the Cincinnati Reds 5-4 with 12 hits in six innings against Paul Deringer. Johnny Allen limited the Reds to half a dozen blows, one of them a circuit clout by Eric Tipton.

The St. Louis Cardinals kept the Dodgers from increasing their National league lead, however, by bowling over the Philadelphia Phis 6-1 in a night game with Howard Krist pitching six-hit ball.

Three home runs and Buster Maynard's two-run pinch single in the eighth inning gave Carl Hubbell and the New York Giants a 6-5 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in a twilight game from which Manager Frank Frisch of the Pirates was banished in the fifth inning. New York's homers included one by Mickey Wittek in the third and two in succession by Manager Mel Ott and Johnny Mize, their 13th and 14th of the season, in the sixth.

The New York Yankees extended their winning streak to ten games and Joe DiMaggio stretched his hitting string to 18 games in an 8-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Lefty Gomez received credit for the victory, his fifth, although Fireman Johnny Murphy worked the last three frames.

The Boston Red Sox dropped a 10-inning 5-4 decision to Chicago to let the Yanks slip another game ahead. Bobby Doerr hit his 12th homer, a double and two singles and Ted Williams made three hits.

The St. Louis Browns were held to four hits by Luman Harris and Phil Marchildon but beat the Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 on Walt Judnich's three-run homer in the first inning and a round-tripper by Harland Clift in the second.

The Detroit Tigers broke Buck Newsom's spell with a 6-4 triumph over the Washington Senators on the five-hit hurling of Hal White.

Amateur And Pro Matches Started At Tam O'Shanter

Abe Greene Renamed As NBA Prexy

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—In an election held by mail because war forced cancellation of its coming convention, the National Boxing Association today named Abe J. Greene the first president ever to succeed himself as the head of boxing's biggest ruling body.

The annual conclave, slated for New Orleans in mid-September, has been called off, the organization explained in its announcement, "at the request of New Orleans and in accordance with the suggestion of Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation."

The nationwide mail vote of the NBA's 53 state and local boxing commissions shattered two of the association's most ancient precedents in re-electing the Paterson (N. J.) newspaper who has made a specialty of ironing out the fight game's most troublesome wrinkles.

Greene's state commissionership ended recently when Governor Charles Edison of New Jersey, appointed John Hall, sports editor of the Elizabeth Journal, to the office.

County Yields An Ancient Reptile

AUSTIN, July 22. (AP)—Science's first complete specimen of triphosaurus—a 200,000,000 year old specie of reptile—has been assembled and placed on display in the Texas Memorial museum at the University of Texas, Dr. E. H. Sellards, director, announced today.

One of the earliest primitive animals, the prehistoric monster has been known to paleontologists through fragmentary specimens but a university-WPA geological field crew discovered a virtually complete skeleton in a Howard county quarry.

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—The Tam O'Shanter golf tournament entered its double phase today, with 64 of the nation's top amateurs wading through two rounds of match while the professionals swung into action in an 18-hole qualifying test for their $15,000 medal play event beginning tomorrow.

All of the country's "name" amateurs survived the qualifying rounds the last two days.

As for the professionals, their qualifying test did not concern the game's leading figures insofar as participation in the big money play starting tomorrow was concerned. All the big stars, men like Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan, qualified automatically through their past deeds.

Scores the amateurs shoot in today's matches will not count in the open championship starting tomorrow. The 16 who reach the third round, though, will find themselves playing in two tournaments—the amateur and open.

For a long time there has been agitation to abolish the stymie rule in match play golf, and here they are going to do it through necessity. It is the only way the amateurs, while playing their matches, can at the same time post accurate medal scores.

A couple of players who were not even fleetingly considered in advance views of the amateur championship found themselves tied for the medal when the shooting ended last night. They were Johnny Lehman of Chicago, with 71-72-143, and John Holmstrom of Rockford, Ill., with 77-66-143.

Softball Stars Receive Bonds

HOUSTON, July 22. (AP)—The four outstanding players, by position in the war bond southwest servicemen's softball tournament completed Sunday, were chosen by a committee of sports writers. Each will be mailed a $25 war bond. The tournament total $150,000 in war bonds.

William Choe, Camp Wallace's left-handed sensation who struck out 49 batters in 24 1-3 innings, allowed but seven hits and had only one run charged against him, was voted the outstanding pitcher.

Camp Wallace's Joseph J. Getson, sparky short fielder and the tournament's second best hitter at .583, was named the outstanding outfielder.

Camp Bowie's William M. Worcester, rangy third baseman who took hitting honors with .607, was named the outstanding infielder.

Kelly Field's Clifford J. Rumpy was picked as the leading catcher.

Five other softballers were selected for several prizes including Holden Redfern, Camp Wallace third baseman.

O.K. TOJO
you asked for it!

YOU dished it out, with a head start by treachery—now we're going to see how you can take it!

We're ganging up on you, Tojo, in a way you and your Nazi friends don't understand.

Spreading like wildfire from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico is our Payroll Savings Plan—get that, Tojo? Not confiscation—savings.

By the tens of millions, workers and employees of plants in every state of our country are cooperating with their unions and with management.

Of their own free will they're agreeing to put ten percent—a dime from every dollar—of their earnings in United States WAR BONDS.

Every payday the plant management sets aside this ten percent, then, each time it adds up to $18.75, the worker gets his Bond.

See, Tojo? Hundreds of millions of good U. S. dollars are going into the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships to blast you right out of your sandals!

And we're paying for it... the workers and employers... the farmers, doctors, lawyers... all of us of our own free will.

And—because this is the American way of doing things—we're building our own financial security, too, against the day when the war will be over—when we've shown you what decent, clean, free people can do.

Every year those War Bonds of ours increase in value, Tojo, until, after ten years, Uncle Sam hands us back TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS for every $18.75 we invested in beating you.

Get it, Tojo? It isn't the Jap way, the Nazi way, nor the Fascist way.

It's the free American way!

So, when you see those clouds of planes over your troops, your ships and your factories—when the tanks come at you

5 Reasons Why

① By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.

② You prove that you are a patriotic American.

③ You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.

④ You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.

⑤ You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

spitting lead—and our good American boys get you on the run—remember, we're paying for it—Smith, and Harrigan, and Cohen, and Godowsky, and Leblanc, and Havlek, Americans all, in a free country.

Texas Ready To Push Guayule Production If Govt. Says So

AUSTIN, July 22. (UP)—Commenting on an offer for free use of 6,000 acres of Texas ranch land for experimental planting of rubber-bearing guayule, Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald called upon federal authorities to "tell us whether they'll put money into guayule production in this state."

"It's not a question of whether we can produce rubber in Texas, but whether the government wants us to grow it," the commissioner declared, stating that O. W. Killam, Laredo oil producer, had offered half of his 12,000-acre ranch at no cost to the government to conduct guayule experiments.

In a joint interview, McDonald and William C. King, San Antonio horticulturist who recently submitted Killam's land offer to commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard and the Texas congressional delegation, asserted the guayule plant would grow better in Texas than any other state.

"West Texas is the only area in the United States where guayule grows wild," said King, who conducted an extensive survey of wild guayule in West Texas and the Laredo region before carrying Killam's offer to Washington officials. President T. O. Walton of Texas A. & M. accompanied King to Washington and participated in the discussions.

"Dr. Walton and I went to Washington to see if the government will let us produce rubber in Texas with a native plant," King stated. "All the tillable soil from Fort Stockton to the Big Bend park—about 5,000,000 acres—will grow guayule, in addition to millions of additional acres available in the vast Laredo country.

Declaring that guayule is the only plant on the North American continent to be used commercially for rubber, King recalled that during World War I a processing plant for extracting rubber from guayule operated at Marathon, Tex., between El Paso and San Antonio.

"Guayule already has demonstrated its merits and value," commented McDonald. "My department is interested in getting the federal government to grow guayule plants right here in Texas—and an amazing number of Texans have offered their help to bring this about.

"If the experiment in the Laredo area should prove satisfactory, Mr. Killam has agreed to rent the land to the government at 25 cents an acre a year after five years of free use.

"This demonstrates how Texans are cooperating to find a solution of the rubber problem. In California, where the government has spent $2,000,000 on a guayule experimental plant, they are paying $50 an acre for land for guayule experiments."

Experiments have shown that guayule does well only under certain climatic conditions found only in Texas and a few other southwestern states, King explained.

All of these conditions, he said, are present in the Laredo and West Texas areas.

ADMIRAL LEAHY

Losses Reach A Peak Since Start Of War

WASHINGTON, July 22. (UP)—Bluff, outspoken Admiral William D. Leahy became President Roosevelt's chief of staff today amid disclosures of a grave crisis in the shipping situation and of sharpening warfare off Alaska.

There was immediate speculation that the president would create a supreme army-navy general staff about the granite-faced sailor and diplomat who listens long and talks short and who represented at Vichy America's friendship for a broken France.

Mr. Roosevelt announced Leahy's appointment yesterday. Confronting the chief of staff as he took office was a report by the war shipping administration that shipping losses during the week of July 13 were the highest since the war began and that sinkings of United Nations vessels have greatly exceeded new construction.

The navy, meanwhile, announced the sinking of three more Japanese destroyers by United States submarines in the vicinity of the Aleutian island of Kiska. This brought Japan's losses in the Aleutian area to six destroyers, one transport and one cruiser sunk; and four destroyers, two destroyers, one aircraft carrier, one transport and one transport damaged.

These 13 ships sunk and damaged went to pay for Japanese occupation of three islands—Kiska, Attu and Agattu—all at the western extreme of the Aleutian chain. The navy said that army bombers recently made several attacks on the Japanese encampment at Kiska and on ships in Kiska harbor.

On the shipping crisis, the shipping administration gave this report:

"Shipping losses during the week of July 13 reached their highest level since the beginning of the war. While construction in American shipyards is breaking all records, sinkings of United Nations ships through enemy action and marine casualties have greatly exceeded new construction."

The report said that because of losses the shipping administration has had to "accelerate the application of its policy to limit space in ships under its jurisdiction to cargoes essential to prosecution of the war, whether the cargoes are for export or for import."

Mr. Roosevelt gave no information as to exactly what the functions of Leahy's position would be. Military and naval authorities indicated that his duties might involve decision of questions of high military and naval policy turned over to him by the president, advising the president on grand strategic problems, and clearing all military and naval matters before they reached Mr. Roosevelt's desk.

Soldiers Take Oath As US Citizens

CAMP WOLTERS, July 22. (UP)—Forty members of United States armed forces, natives of 20 different nations, became American citizens yesterday at a mass naturalization ceremony.

While rifle and machine-gun fire crackled on the ranges outside the camp service club, Judge William H. Atwell of federal district court administered the citizenship oath under a law speeding naturalization of members of the armed forces who are co-belligerent or friendly countries.

Explaining the duties of citizenship to the newly naturalized soldiers, Judge Atwell assured them that "the heart of the nation is beating in unison with your tread."

"You have become children of the flag you have sworn to defend," he told them.

Blaze Sweeps Grazing Land

Fanned by a steady breeze, fire chewed its way through a corridor in the A. L. Wasson ranch on the old San Angelo highway south of town Tuesday and consumed approximately a section and a half of good grazing area.

Not until fire fighters were able to backfire against a road a mile and a half west of where the flames started was the stubborn blaze brought under control. The fire was out by the time a light shower came along late in the evening.

A. L. Wasson, who has the pasture under lease, blamed the blaze on carelessness. It originated, he said, at the right-of-way for a pipeline the city is extending from the city park to the army air school site, and continued westward through high grass saved back principally for fall grazing. Cattle turned in on the pasture recently will have to be moved, said Wasson.

Every time a ton of scrap iron or steel is used, more than four tons of iron ore, coal, limestone and other natural resources are saved.

THE WAR TODAY: Economic Strangulation Of Reds Is Hitler's Grand Strategy

By De WITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

While Soviet Marshal Timoshenko coolly manipulates his hard-pressed forces under the terrific assault of a million-man Nazi army at the gateway to the Caucasus, day up on the northern extremity of Russia's two-thousand mile front there is developing against the reds another grand threat which is correlated with the southern offensive.

I am reliably informed that the Germans are concentrating heavy forces in Finland, preparatory to a major attack against the Soviet Arctic port of Murmansk. Hitler's hope is to make a quick conquest of this vital rail-head and thereby cut one of Russia's two remaining feasible lifelines to the outside world, the other being the cumbersome route through the Persian Gulf.

The Fuehrer's strategy is to apply to the Muscovites that fierce economic strangulation which the British blockade has inflicted on the European axis countries and occupied territories. It's well that we recognize this situation now, for it's likely to tower like a monster this coming winter, not only for the Hitlerites but for the United Nations.

To put it bluntly, our mighty Russian ally, which covers a sixth of the entire land space of the globe and is blessed with a diversity of resources which make it virtually self-contained, is drawing terribly close to a dangerous lack of supplies, both military and foodstuffs. The time may come when she will need bread from Uncle Sam.

As you know, the Allied blockade of Europe has squeezed Hitler so hard that the chief reason for his present grand offensive is to break through to fresh supplies. Unfortunately for the Allies, however, they haven't been able to retain exclusive use of this economic garrote, and the Nazi leader is struggling to fasten it about Russia's throat.

Marshal Timoshenko's task is more than that of presenting his armies from annihilation and preventing a Nazi break-through into the Caucasus. It also is to keep Hitler from cutting the reds off from the vital supplies of southern Russia and the Caucasus.

Timoshenko's tactics for carrying out his Herculean assignment apparently project a stand on the great bend of the Don river where it curves deeply eastward into the fertile Steppes that guard the route to Caucasian oil and other treasures. But stand or no stand, every yard the Germans advance means the destruction of grain fields and other resources upon which the Soviet has been depending. This territory, and the Ukraine which already has succumbed to the grinding of the war machine and the scorched earth policy of the reds, formed Russia's main source of breadstuffs.

BIG SPRING

Our Major Task: Stopping Disastrous Shipping Loss

thing is going on right at our door step that should constitute of the darkest pages of history for us—a thing that only now seem duly alarmed.

According to tabulations, sunk in the western Atlantic now against the 400 mark, or about two a day since war on Dec. 7 last. As alarming that may be, it should be considered that the real picture probably is substantially worse. Our loss of the sinkings is from one six weeks old. Perhaps scores of ships are actually on the bottom and the news is being held until the navy thinks it is time for release.

Loss of the shipping is bad with in itself, for it certainly represents a loss in transportation capacity of the United Nations. To date, we are told the rate of destruction exceeds our current capacity to replace. This points to a simple conclusion which, although they haven't discovered it yet, radio war experts can grasp, namely that if we keep losing ships faster than we can build, we shall inevitably fall far behind in the race to send supplies to our Allies. Thus, our main ally, Time, will have played us no good.

For what shall it profit us to produce and produce if that production is destined for the bottom of the sea. Everytime a cargo laden ship goes down, thousands of man hours of labor as well as mere material go down with it.

This is the thing we must somehow stop, the rathole we must somehow plug. To be sure the navy has been working feverishly on stopping it, and there is no telling how many submarines have been blasted to the depths. But we must find a way to seek out these raiders before they play among the flocks, to discover the traitors without our midst who systematically tip off the enemy of ship movements. Whatever it takes, we must find the answer to this appalling loss. Until we do, talk of winning this war is going to prove little more than talk.

And release of "good news" about huge convoys that did get through isn't solving the situation, either.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

Film Inspector Sees Enough Movies

ROBBIN COONS

Esther Clark sees movies for a living. Six hours a day, six days a week. But when she wants to see a movie she goes to a theater and lays her money on the line.

Esther Clark is a film inspector for M-G-M's big laboratory. She is one of 16 girls who do their work in small individual projection rooms under supervision of Betty Kirkley, forewoman.

Esther is on the first shift. Every day she is up at 5:15 a. m.—likes a leisurely breakfast—in her room in her dark cubbyhole. At 9 a. m. she has 15 minutes rest, at 12:30 she is through the day.

starts another—a copy of the same reel. Her job is to catch any flaws in the picture as they come from the laboratory. The other girls are looking at "Crossroads" too—different reels.

They look for flaws not only in the pictures but in the sound tracks. They see the sound—the track is projected at the left of the screen—but they do not hear it. A bit of dust or dirt in the track, which would cause crackling noises if not removed, shows up in the "picture."

Seeing the same scenes over and over, the girls will see an entire picture before they finish with it, but not in continuity.

"Sometimes," says Esther, "I am surprised when I see the picture in a theater, with sound and dialogue. We are trained to detect flaws, but at the same time we are conscious of the action on the screen. Subconsciously, I suppose, I figure out what the action means—and then when I hear the dialogue later it may turn out to be something entirely different. After a while you get to be fairly good at lip-reading."

Esther goes to movies about once a week, usually selecting her fare from the films which have pleased her interest while working. Some pictures which had no appeal for her as she worked on them turned into favorites when she saw them "whole."

Today you could find her, if you will, in the dark, checking a reel of "Crossroads," the William Well-Hedy Lamarr feature. She is sitting on a miniature screen about a foot away. When these 1,000 feet of film are checked, Esther

Man About Manhattan—

With Morgan, Year Seems Like Ten

GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Jesse Adler gave party for Morgan. . . Adler is short man who invented elevator shoe that men could wear longer than they actually are. . . Morgan is a grousing radio comic who castigates and browbeats his honours. . . In one of his broadsides he casually referred to Adler "that runt." . . The reason for a party, as Adler stated on his visitations, was "to celebrate my years with Morgan." . . "But you've only been my sponsor for a year," Morgan pointed out. . . "That so?" ejaculated Adler. . . Well, it seems like ten years."

much obliged. I've tried lowering the bags in the knees of my pants four inches but that doesn't do any good."

A little later Hal LeRoy, the dancer and his pretty wife, Ruth, came in and Hal told of something new that had been added to his experiences—in Montreal.

Hal was just back from an engagement at an exclusive Montreal supper club. He opened on a Friday. The next afternoon he went out to the ball park to see the Montreal Maple Leafs play the Rochester Red Wings, and while he was there a fellow he had never seen came up to him and said, "Aren't you Hal LeRoy?" Hal told him yes, and the fellow said, "Here's a tip—tonight, when you get back to the club, why don't you ask the management for an advance on your salary?"

Next day Hal went back to see the Leafs play again, and this same fellow sidled up to him again. "Did you get that advance?" Hal admitted he hadn't given it any thought. "Don't be stupid," the guy argued, "go on in and ask for an advance. Ask for a couple of hundred bucks."

But Hal didn't.

Next day the club went bankrupt. As a rule Americans playing in Canada take little money with them, as the exchange rate from Canadian money to American is 11 per cent. He had some money himself, but several of the other acts were stranded. They all hurried over to the American consulate and put in their claims, but there they were told little could be done.

"What do you recommend we do?" the Consul was asked.

"Turn yourselves over to the Canadian government and they'll deport you. They'll get you out of the country by train or by boat, and at least they'll drop you off on the other side of the border."

It was, Hal said, something brand new for him.

Trailer Tintypes

Two months ago, on April 15, the average set of tires on the private automobiles of the United States were still good for another 9,000 miles.

That was, if they continued to drive as they had in 1941—whipping up above 40 miles an hour in city streets, burning their treades away at 60 miles and more on the open highways, indulging in jack-knife starts, scraping the tire-walls against the curbs in parking, carelessly bumping them over obstacles and rough spots, and keeping them under-inflated so they would not feel the full shock of this rough driving.

But by careful driving of properly inflated tires at reasonable speeds it may permit those same "average sets" to last for 14,000 miles.

In 1941, the car-owners in the occupational groups who used their cars for "necessity driving" averaged about 8,000 miles a year and roughly 3,500 of those miles were for recreational or social driving.

By cutting out all pleasure driving, confining to the limit on necessity driving and taking every care of the irreplaceable rubber, it is possible that many cars which might otherwise be standing useless early next spring will still be able to deliver from two and a half to four years of vital war-time transportation.

When the speedometer creeps up, the temperature "inside" the tire leaps up, and while the rubber is being torn off the tread, the rubber inner tube and the rubber impregnating the fabric are being cooked to death.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Chapter 33
SURPRISE FOR KENT

Puzzled, Kent stood very still. With every sense alert, he tried to project his perceptions through the darkness, and suddenly he had the feeling that someone was here. He listened, hearing nothing, then moved aside, away from the door, and pressed the switch. After that there was nothing he could do but stare.

Smack in the middle of the double bed lay Jack Fenner, both pillows under his head and his face turned towards the window. On the bedside table was a pack of cigarettes, a pitcher of water, an empty glass and a bottle of Scotch, half full.

"Well, how do you like that?" Murdock said aloud.

Nothing happened. He walked around the foot of the bed. Fenner's eyes were closed.

"Hey," he said, and stood there another moment or two, running his fingers through dark hair already tousled, frowning, watching the detective with mild annoyance. Finally he picked up the bottle of whisky and uncorked it. He held it under Fenner's nose.

Fenner stirred, muttering softly. He flicked his lips and opened one eye; then he opened both and turned over on his back.

Without a word he reached for the bottle. Murdock put it back on the table. Fenner sighed loudly and grinned.

"It was a swell dream," he said. "All about a robbery in a distillery."

"Nuts," Murdock said. "You were playing possum."

"Ho-hum," said Fenner, stretching. "What time is it?"

"After three."

"My, my," Fenner reached for a cigarette and lit it, propping the pillows behind him. Murdock began to undress and his grin went away. A sobersness came upon his face and he touched his eyes, for he could no longer pretend that Jack Fenner was merely here as an overnight guest.

"What's up, Jack?"

"I guess they wanted a man in the house. We got in a little after one and sat around."

"Who are you protecting them from?"

"The guy that killed Clarke. He was at it again tonight." Fenner hesitated and his voice was suddenly remote. "A guy I knew—Nick Hardacker. Joyce and the Stewart girl were in on it. They had a pretty rough time what with that and a couple of hours with the police. When I came home with them they were still jittery and I told 'em I'd stick around until you came. Your wife pushed me in here."

The Story

Murdock put on his robe and sat on the edge of the bed, trying to put down his bewilderment, to speak reasonably.

"What did Joyce and Della have to do with it?"

"Plenty."

"But how, damn it? And how did you get mixed up in it?"

"I'm working for them."

Murdock peered at him. "You're what?"

Fenner nodded. "I told your wife you'd probably find out about it."

"Go on."

"I told her you'd get sore too."

"Never mind that. What were you doing for them?"

Fenner cocked a brow at him. "Ordinarily a client's rights have to be protected—"

"Oh, sure," Murdock said disgustedly.

"—but this time it's okay. Joyce knew you'd find me here, so she said I'd better tell you the whole thing."

"Well, that's big of you both."

"I knew you'd get sore."

"I'm not sore but—"

"You want me to tell it or not?" Fenner waited; when he saw he wouldn't be interrupted he said: "The way I got it is this. . ."

At first, as Fenner began to unfold the story, Murdock's reaction was one of resentment, but as the details began to pile up the feeling of resentment gave way to one of worry. He had known, of course, that Joyce had been anxious about Ward Allen and Della Stewart, but he'd had no idea that she would actually involve herself in the investigation without telling him.

Actually he had had no opinion on the murderer at all. He had been so busy he'd had no time to think about it. But when he heard what had happened that night a feeling of alarm and dismay came over him. It was impossible now to ignore the threat of danger to Della—and Joyce.

"This Hardacker was a private dick?" he asked when Fenner had finished. "Do the police know who he was working for?"

"They will," Fenner said. "They were trying to contact the girl that works for him when we left."

"Was he the man who hired the apartment across the hall from Clarke's?"

"They don't know that yet either."

"How was Bacon?"

"Burning."

Fenner reached for the bottle of Scotch. He poured a little in his glass, added water. "You" he asked.

Murdock shook his head. "I'll get a beer in a minute," he said, and his face was sombre and grooved with wrinkles at the brow.

For some moments he sat there trying to recall the things that Hester had told him in an effort to see how they fitted the story he had just heard. The result was a merry-go-round of thought and answers his irritation began to mount again.

"A fine thing," he said. "Joyce running around getting messed up in a murder case and not even telling me about it."

"That's the way it goes," said Fenner.

"Why didn't she come to me in the first place? Why—"

"Because I promised Della I wouldn't," Joyce said through a crack in the door. "Can I come in?"

She came to Murdock and kissed him. She had on a navy blue dressing gown and her arms were hugging themselves in front of her so that the collar was high about her throat. Her smoky-blue eyes were soft with sleep and a flush lingered in her cheeks.

"Are you angry?"

"Certainly I'm angry," Murdock said.

Joyce sighed. "I was afraid you would be."

"And why not? You knew Della'd been at Clarke's place when I came home that first night."

"I knew it before that," Joyce said. "She was here, telling me about the envelope when you phoned."

Murdock waved his arms. "Is that something? I ask you? You hold out on me even after I'd told you all I knew. I even told you what Hester said."

"I'd promised Della, Kent."

"So what? Am I the bogyman?"

"You're trying hard," Fenner said.

Murdock glared at him; then looked back at Joyce and found her eyes rebellious.

"I asked you to help," she said. "I asked you last night. But you couldn't be bothered, could you? You said it was none of your business and you—"

"Why didn't you tell me the truth then? That would have been different."

"I couldn't tell you anything," Joyce said, "until I knew you'd help us."

Washington Daybook -- Bill Burden Good Choice For CAA

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Capital in Wartime:

The Civil Aeronautics Administration is having the luck of the Irish. No sooner had the gloom over the loss of Robert H. "Bob" Hinesley spread over CAA than word came that his successor, so far as Civil Aeronautics is concerned, would be William A. M. "Bill" Burden.

In aviation and CAA, Hinesley was considered an irreplaceable. An air-minded fellow with a heap of executive ability and personality-plus, Hinesley wrote his name in capitals in the infancy of commercial and civil aviation. He is going on now to become an official of the Sperry Gyroscope Co. His departure would have been the signal for a pretty sorry wake, had not Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones come forward immediately with the appointment of "Bill" Burden as assistant in charge of air.

Burden is a 35-year-old former New York banker. He is serious and hard-working. He isn't tarred with any particular political brush and he doesn't wear the brand of governmental bureaucracy. As an aviator, he was over the department of Hinesley, the workers from filling clerks up have put the okay on Jones' selection of Burden.

That's important. Like Burden, CAA is just a youngster. But it's the government agency in charge of regulations and training today for the transportation of tomorrow.

Off-the-record: The rubber salvage drive was the biggest disappointment on the home front the government has had to date, with the one over-shadowing exception of the setbacks in the anti-inflation drive.

The two things tie together. There have been so much confusion and so many conflicting statements about the rubber shortage that Mr. A. Citizen hasn't taken it very seriously. It isn't Mr. A.'s fault but it's pretty unfortunate.

Memo to Broadway: Don't think that all the good phrases are made on 32nd Street. This was overheard in a conversation between two buck privateers in a Pennsylvania avenue drug store—"Oh, sure you know Olsen and Johnson. Those guys who hit the jackpot with a wooden nickel."

The next big "scrap" drive may

Texas Honors Adm. Nimitz

By The Associated Press

Texas threw a party today in honor of a gold-braided middle-aged man who as a little boy surveyed the hilly West Texas countryside near Fredericksburg with a pair of binoculars from the front porch of his father's hotel and dreamed he was in command of a ship cleaving a mountainous sea.

And although the honor guest—Admiral Chester William Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet—was 5,000 miles away somewhere in the Honolulu area, Texans knew that he would pause a moment or two in whatever he was doing and return in mind to the land he knew as a child.

Greybeards who knew the youthful Nimitz at Fredericksburg and Kerrville, where he later lived, exchanged reminiscences about the boy who was determined to have a naval career—an ambition which he was encouraged by the seafaring tradition of his family.

The lad's greatest desire was realized when he was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy when he was 16.

At Fredericksburg the Louis Jordan Post of the American Legion and various civic bodies celebrated Nimitz Day, proclaimed by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

The governor was to speak tonight at a night patriotic rally in Dallas, where a hundred naval recruits will be sworn in as part of the Nimitz observance.

Senatorial Race Gathers Heat; Voting 3 Days Away

By The Associated Press

The fast and furious U. S. senatorial race, highspot in a Texas political campaign that lacks none of the pyrotechnics of other years, approached a climax today with the democratic primary election only three days off.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, running to succeed himself, appears at Texarkana for a radio address, later speaks at Clarksville, and tonight makes another radio talk at Mount Pleasant.

Dan Moody, another senatorial candidate, addresses audiences at Wharton, Edna, Victoria, and San Antonio.

James V. Allred, the third senatorial aspirant, was scheduled to talk at Austin at 8 p. m.

At Dallas last night Allred ridiculed O'Daniel's charges that Texas newspapers and radio stations were discriminating against him, saying "even the president and Mr. Churchill have been the subject of cartoons and editorials, but Senator W. Lee O'Daniel has denounced the newspapers of Texas because they have commented editorially on the inconsistencies of the senator."

"Since when," asked Allred, "did a senator become such a sacred personality that it is sacrilege to speak of him except with reverent admiration?"

Moody in a talk at Fort Arthur besought his opponents "to bring their campaigns up to the level on which I have pitched mine, and discuss the issues."

Attacking both O'Daniel and Allred, Moody asserted that "what they have been doing indicates that it takes something more than what they say to draw and hold a crowd." He added that Allred has been conducting sing-songs and giving away war bonds at his rallies, bringing "his campaign down to the level of O'Daniel's street-corner show."

O'Daniel told a Sulphur Springs audience that farmers should make reasonable profits and "we haven't started to give the farmers and ranchers of this country a fair break. I am proud of the

Defeat No Worry To Alfalfa Bill, And He Won't Say He's Through

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22 (AP)—Another little setback at the polls doesn't mean he's through with politics, former Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray declared today.

"One thing I won't say," said the sage of Tishomingo from his usual seat on a curbside bench in front of the downtown hotel where he rooms, "is that I won't run again because I was beaten last week."

He lost out to Sen. Josh Lee in a race for democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the primary election.

"I've learned never to tell my plans. Back in 1918, after taking a licking in trying for re-election to congress, I said I'd never run again. Then in 1930 I was elected governor."

The vicissitudes of Oklahoma politics are no novelty to the former governor. He's been active in virtually every campaign since 1907 and twice was defeated in gubernatorial campaigns before he won election.

So he's quite philosophical, for Alfalfa Bill, about his lack of success last week. His explanation: "They counted me out. They stole the election. There's $4,000 votes ready to follow me anytime."

He didn't say who "they" were. In the primary, he got 36,925 ballots against 188,279 for winner Lee.

He blames his defeat largely on state election laws which, he claims, prevent a successful contest of official tabulations. The protester must post a bond of $250 per county for a complete re-count, for one thing.

Yet his campaign didn't tire him in spite of his 72 years.

Here 'n There

Put down Dr. P. W. Malone's airplane as a wartime casualty. With prospects that there would be no hangar facilities here or in the area, he closed a deal over the weekend to sell his ship. It probably will go into coastal patrol.

Sgt. Charles Sikes is visiting here this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sikes. He has been stationed on the West Coast but is to report in Maryland when he leaves the latter part of this week.

Allen Stripling, Grand Prairie, is visiting his father, Fox Stripling, for a few days. He is stationed at the U. S. Navy base school at Grand Prairie as an instructor.

Jack Bickers of Fort Neches is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nell. A nephew of Mrs. Nell, Jack has been serving for more than a year as wireless operator on coastal tankers, and has experienced the hardships in transporting oil in the face of the sub menace. With Gloria Nell, he spent Tuesday in Snyder visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakey and family, and in Colorado City with Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Nell and family.

A warning that all school transfers should be turned in as soon as possible was issued by the county superintendent's office today. According to law no transfers can be made after August 1, and they have been coming into the office very slowly this year.

Monday fire had eaten away covering on approximately two sections of good ranch land on the Grady place in southwest of Lomax community. The fire worked into luxuriant flats of dry grass and was difficult to head.

A group of Waco city officials will be here early Thursday morning to view the municipal garbage load packers in operation. Big Spring was one of the first cities in the state to use these pieces of equipment, since regarded as almost revolutionary in the handling of garbage collection.

Although the president hadn't signed the measure into law, the navy had an applicant Wednesday morning from a woman who wanted to become a "sailorette," the naval counterpart of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, now in training. "Come back," was about all the navy could say.

Harold G. Talbot, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Talbot, has been promoted from the rank of second lieutenant to that of first lieutenant, his parents have been advised. Lieut. Talbot is stationed in the Panama Canal zone.

Boy Scouts, who left more than a week ago for a camp in northern New Mexico, are due to return here late this evening, Ben Newhouse, field executive, said Wednesday. Only word he had received from the group was that they were having a "swell time."

Read Well Tests At 221 Barrels

Unofficial reports today placed potential of the Ray Oil Co. No. 1 Willard Read, eastern Howard county outpost test, at 221 barrels on a 24-hour gauge.

The test was reported to have made this in a run through two-inch tubing from 2,750, plugged back depth of the well. It reportedly had made 83 barrels of 32.6 gravity oil in the first seven hours of the test period.

Nearly two miles north of nearest production in the Dodge-Denman pool of eastern Howard county, the No. 1 Read was regarded in many quarters as a possible new pool opener because of its higher gravity oil. The well was shot with 450 quarts from 2-581-2,750, lodged a baller when it exploded prematurely and bridged at 2,581 feet. It had been plugged back from total depth of 2-882 feet.

Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 37-30-1n, T&P, and the development was regarded as one of the most important for the county in several seasons.

Two Enlisted In The Air Corps

Two youths were enlisted Wednesday in the air corps, Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, army recruiter, reported.

They were Roy L. Butler and Robert Odum, Jr., both of Otis-chalk. The two were shipped to Lubbock for induction.

No Release After Induction Ordered

Henceforth there will be no releasing of men from selective service after their notices of induction have been mailed, the local draft board was informed Wednesday by state headquarters.

Once the notice to report for induction has been placed in the mail, the board cannot legally release a man to volunteer.

Chinese Recapture City From Japs

CHUNGKING, July 22 (AP)—The Chinese have recaptured Kienteh, 65 miles southwest of Hangchow, main Japanese base in Chekiang province, after a five-day battle which ended Sunday, the high command announced today.

The war bulletin said fighting was continuing around the Chekiang coast port of Wenchow from which the Chinese are trying to drive the invaders for a second time.

Gains Cited As Result Of Army Project

Construction of the army flying school here has boosted activity in certain lines of business by marked degrees, J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, told the Lions club at its meeting Wednesday.

"Percentage gains for restaurants, men's furnishings, groceries, hardware and drug stores — the lines partially checked — ranged from 35 per cent in the smallest instance to 67 per cent in the greatest. Individual gains ranged from a scant increase for some businesses to more than 100 per cent in others," said Greene.

Declaring he had no tangible proof of his figures, he did estimate that the number attached to the construction both in labor and supervision, now ran considerably past 2,000 and the monthly payroll for all purposes was approaching half a million dollars.

The chamber of commerce, he said, had located more than 300 families in houses and apartments, which were bringing in a monthly rental well in excess of $40,000. This did not count hundreds placed in bedrooms, and those in tourist courts and hotels, or families placed through other means.

Gas meter connections were up 77 1/2 in the city and 90 outside the city over the same time a year ago, he said, and the city water meter gain in the city was pegged at 120.

He anticipated that civilian personnel and the arrival of several hundred officers would maintain housing needs at their current high rate, and that there would be little need of an economic cushion when the construction period was over.

An appeal to citizens to be "good sports" and to be patient was voiced by Sonora Murphy, rationing board secretary. Miss Murphy explained that the one-third of our sugar supply from our Pacific outposts had been cut off, hence the necessity for rationing although there might be a southern surplus momentarily.

Speaking briefly, E. F. Robbins, general rationing chairman, said that 60 tire certificates were issued Tuesday, but that not even 150 would have been sufficient to have gotten all the equipment on the army airport job up and running. The program Wednesday was in charge of Bob Ward and Larson Lloyd, vice-president, presided.

Negro Vote Up To Each Judge In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 22 (AP)—Whether negroes are allowed to vote in Arkansas' democratic preferential primary next Tuesday will depend upon individual judges and clerks in each precinct, Chairman Joe C. Barrett of the democratic state committee said today.

"The party rules speak for themselves in the matter, and I feel they will be complied with," Barrett added.

The party rules limit membership in the party to "eligible and legally qualified white electors."

June P. Wooten, veteran secretary of the Pulaski (Little Rock) county democratic committee, said the U. S. supreme court in a 1930 Arkansas case upheld the right of a political party to define its own membership.

The case was brought by a group of Little Rock negroes. The tribunal affirmed an Arkansas supreme court decision that there was nothing in the federal or state constitutions that prevented a party from restricting its membership.

Barrett's declaration followed an announcement last night that the Arkansas Negro Democratic Association would hold a mass meeting here Sunday to discuss plans to vote in the primary.

Defense Rental Offices Planned

DALLAS, July 22 (AP)—The Office of Defense Information here announced today that defense rental area offices would be opened at Corpus Christi, Waco, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Little Rock, Ark., on Aug. 1.

The four in the southwestern OPA region will bring the total for the nation to 18.

The office at Corpus Christi will take in Nueces and San Patricio counties. The one at Waco will include only McLennan county.

The maximum rent base will be that of March 1, 1942, meaning no tenant is to pay more than he did on that date. However, it was explained, there will be exceptions where major capital improvements have been made. However, this must be reviewed by the authorities before such a rent increase can be inaugurated.

Area rent directors have not yet been named but will be announced shortly by Director Leon Henderson of the Office of Price Administration.

Materials Dealers Have Housing Forms

Persons interested in erecting new houses for defense workers or in remodeling homes to care for another family were advised Wednesday by the chamber of commerce to consult with their materials dealers.

If the dealers do not have the necessary forms, the chamber has six sets of form PD 105 (new construction) and 405 (remodeling). These must be made out in sextuplicate.

Forms were secured from W. W. Ryan, Fort Worth, chief underwriter for FHA in this district.

Officers Named By Colorado Legion

COLORADO CITY, July 22 (AP)—The Oren C. Hooker post No. 127 of the American Legion at Colorado City announced this week the election of officers with Dr. Harry A. Logsdon re-elected post commander. Leroy Gressett was named first vice-commander; Fred Isom, second vice-commander; Albert Heiser, adjutant; John Williams, finance officer; John Busbee, sergeant-at-arms; the Rev. H. H. Black, chaplain; Thomas R. Smith, historian; and Joe Y. Fraser, service officer.

Humble Workers Get Pay Increase

HOUSTON, July 22 (AP)—In a joint statement the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company today announced an increase for all hourly, salary and wage earners. The wage increase benefits the 13,000 employees of the two companies.

Hourly workers get an increase of 5 1/2 cents an hour; salary and wage earners an increase of $10 monthly.

The increases are retroactive to July 16.

Airdromes Built For U.S. Forces

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Several new airdromes have been built in Great Britain to accommodate the growing United States army air forces, it was disclosed by reliable sources today.

Members of the American air forces are seen in increasing numbers all over Britain and the first bombers bearing the U. S. insignia already have appeared over London.

Hockley-Lamb Win Boundary Dispute

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—Hockley and Lamb counties remained victors in a boundary dispute with Cochran and Bailey counties today.

The supreme court refused a review of litigation in which the Amarillo court of civil appeals had ruled in favor of Hockley and Lamb counties.

The suit was to establish the common boundaries between the two sets of counties.

Absentee Total Indicates 4,000 Votes On Saturday

A count of absentee votes cast at the close of the final day Tuesday showed a total of 302 for the county, Lee Porter, county clerk said today.

Although Tuesday was the last day for absentee ballots to be cast, those coming in through the mail later will be counted if they are postmarked in time to meet the deadline.

Speculation is that according to the absentee not more than 4,000 votes will be cast in Howard county this year in the primaries. Absentee vote usually accounts for approximately 10 per cent of the total, and in case this holds true this year 3,500 might be a closer estimate.

Election machinery for the county is ready to swing into action Saturday, and supplies have already been received and voting places arranged.

Precinct number one voters in Big Spring will vote in the grand jury room, upstairs in the north-west corner of the courthouse. Precinct two will be handled in the county judge's office, which is also upstairs.

Precinct three voters will cast their ballots in the food stamp office downstairs in the west side of the county court room, while number four will be in the district court room upstairs.

Absentee votes according to precincts and boxes were as follows:

| Precinct | Box |
|----------|-----|
| 1 | 26 |
| 2 | 75 |
| 3 | 42 |
| 4 | 2 |
| 5 | 2 |
| 6 | 1 |
| 7 | 6 |
| 8 | 32 |
| 9 | 14 |
| 10 | 3 |
| 11 | 6 |
| 12 | 8 |
| 13 | 9 |

No absentee ballots were cast in precincts 14 and 15.

Jews Forced To Aid German War Effort

BERN, Switzerland, July 22 (AP)—Countries under axis domination are taking measures designed to force Jews to increased labor in behalf of the German war effort.

Police of Salonika have registered more than 6,000 Jews between the ages of 18 and 45 for compulsory labor.

About 80,000 Jews of Warsaw, all skilled workers in their own ghetto workshops, have been assigned to tasks by Germans through a special office.
