"SERVING GORMAN FOR OVER 85 YEARS"

NUMBER FORTY-ONE

The weatherman has promised us some cold weather the next few days. It was a little wet in Gorman on Wednesday morning early and the weatherman expected the weather to get colder for the weekend. Sure hope none of that bad freezing weather comes before the farmers have a chance to complete the harvesting of peanuts in the area. With just a couple of weeks of good weather and dryer conditions, the farmers could easily complete the harvest.

Our Yard of The Week honors this week go to Pauline and Odis Welch who have done a marvelous job with their yard this year at their home on the Kokomo Road. The yard features some beautiful flowers, shrubs, trees and other plants and they have added some additional touches to really make the yard look great. Of course some of the plants are beginning to fade out some but the yard has really been beautiful this season. Pauline really has a great touch with growing things and, of course, Odis works real hard at it too.

Received a few notes in the mail this week as follows:
Dear Joe,

Just a note to let you know that I really enjoy the paper. I wanted to come home for the homecoming but when you work for your husband sometimes it is hard to get off. You probably don't remember me. I finished high school with your brother, L. A., in 1943. My name is Jonnie (Broom) Bell. My dad used to have a barber shop by Jay's Grocery. Mt husband said he wished he had taped some of the wild tales they used to tell in the shop.

I won't send the paper to my aunt Emma (Stanfield) Little for her birthday which is November 16th. I am sending you a check. If it is not enough, let me know.

My postman knows if he is late with the paper I fuss at him. Last week is the first time I ever got it on Thursday. He told me he went to Gorman and picked it up. Said he was tired of me fusing at him. Sometimes he comes in and tells me who died or who won the ball game.

It is still my hometown paper and I do enjoy the paper.

Thanks alot,
Jonnie Bell Duncanville, Texas
Dear editor;

We are anxious to receive five copies of the issue of your paper which will cover the 1985 homecoming celebration for Gorman school exes.

The effect of former coach Carr Sprayberry to meet with his "kids" of fifty years ago was a decided success and a challenge to all who attended to continue to seek a goal of daring to win in spite of odds, giving of their best each day no matter what or where and cooperating with their teammates in affection and tolerance.

As someone on the "outside looking in" the steady flow of "remember . . ." was a blending of special harmony laced with delightful humor.

Coach Sprayberry remarked over and over "when I speak to you boys that is what I see - boys." The boys addressed him positively as they spoke. "Coach, remember when you said . . . Coach you said . . . Coach you demanded . . . Coach we know you meant it . . ."

Fifty years dropped away. The disaster of World War II was ignored for tales of how we coped with the depression along with - remember there was only one lighted field in the entire district. No field was

"Mike" Morgan Services Held Monday

W.M. "Mike" Morgan, 91, of Carbon died Saturday at Rising Star Nursing Home. Services will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday at First Baptist Church in Carbon.

The Rev. Sherl Taylor, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Longbranch Cemetery, directed by Bakker Funeral Home.

Born June 19, 1894, in Longbranch, he attended Hallmark schools. He retired from farming in 1955. He married Edna Greenwood Dec. 16, 1955, in Carbon. He was a member and former deacon of First Baptist Church.

He was preceded in death by two wives, Margie Fay and Era Lois; two daughters; and a son.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Charles of Carbon, John E. of Houston and Ray of Big Spring; a daughter, Minnie Jo Evans of Chico; a step-daughter, R. Lee McDaniel of Carbon; a sister, Verna Lanier of Monahans; 15 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; 12 great-great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Mack Stubblefield, Marvin Hale, Hep Jackson, Royce McGaha, Truman Bryant and Phil Sandlin.

Then came a contest as to which field had the most goot heads (stickers for those too young to remember). If I had brought a tape recorder the current price paid for peanuts, lack of motorized transportation, non conveniences in school and homes and Coach Sprayberry's top salary of $84.50 a month for teaching and coaching would have been labeled fiction by many hearing it today. Why the fact we were being served delicious hamburgers at the Dairy Queen was such a contrast to what we recalled when 5 cent hamburgers were out of the purchase reach of most of us except on very special occasions.

I'm sorry. I didn't mean to ramble. It is just that now at home I am playing a rerun on my memory screen and will often be strengthened by reviewing on my mental TV the "good ole days" when teachers were leaders as well as teachers and students were challenged to give their best rather than ask "what can you do for me."

Please send us five copies of the Progress edition covering the 1985 homecoming. Ignore my rambblings. I only intended to order papers.
Sincerely

Dear Joe,
Please change mother's subscription to my name. She enjoyed reading the paper every week and so do I.

Keep up the good work.
Sincerely
B. G. Alsbrook

Dear Joe
Enclosed is my check for my subscription. Keep the paper coming. It's like having a little bit of home away from home. Even though I've lived here in Bolingbrook for 9 years, I still consider Gorman home.
Thanks alot
Betty Yarbrough Gurlin

Thanks for the good words folks. We always try to give readers the best paper we can produce. We are short on news sometimes, but we try real hard.

PANTHERS END SEASON WITH LOSS TO LOMETA HORNETS FRIDAY NIGHT

47 Yards Passing	4
3 of 9 Passes Completed	1 of 5
0 Interceptions	2

The Panthers ended their season on Friday night by dropping a playoff spot to the Lometa Hornets by the score of 14-0.

The Big Red had an inkling of what was to come as they fumbled on their first possession after moving the ball for two consecutive first downs. Then on their second possession they moved a few yards before having to punt. On their third possession the Panthers fumbled again on the Gorman 20 and set the Hornets up with an opportunity to score. And the Hornets took advantage of this opportunity as they score in 4 plays with Butch Campbell getting the final yard on a quarterback keeper with just 27 seconds left in the first period. Campbell added the PAT and Lometa was out front 7-0.

H E L P!!!

We the Senior Class of 86' are trying hard to raise money for our Senior trip. We have an overload of red pather stadium cushions in need of good homes. We deliver - - or call Pam Childers at 734-2862.

The Panthers got a very good drive going just before halftime and appeared to be moving for a touchdown, but again the Big Red fumbled away the chance for points when the snap from center was fumbled on a fourth down try and the Panthers came up empty.

Then with 2:22 left in the third period, the Hornets got another break as the Panthers were forced to punt from their own end zone, and Shawn O'Banon rushed in from the outside and blocked the punt in the end zone and fell on the ball for another touchdown. Campbell kicked the PAT and the Hornets were ahead 14 to 0 and the Panthers' chances to get back in the game and win a playoff spot died as the turnovers continued to plague the Big Red. In all the turned the ball over seven times, plus getting the punt blocked for a score, which seemed to kill the Panther momentum. The Panthers continued to play their best but just

THANK YOU!

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped make our "Mini Spookhouse" and Hayride a success.

A big "Thank you" to April Daniels, Julie Grice, Barbie White, Bill Black, Sandra Warren, Martha Rainey, Linda Straube, Beth White, Veronica Kight, DeeDee Rodgers, Brenda Scitern, Steve and Tracy Spivey, Bobby and Toni Beth Underwood, Eddie Auvenshine, Nita Scitern, Lou Ellen Snell, Marge Hudson, Vicki Rich, Lana Sharp, Karen Guthrey, Kathy Gilmore, Carol Ervin, Sandra Osborne, Mary McCormick, Alvis, Bonnie and LaVeda Scitern, Merle and Alvin Laster, Sav-On-Foods, Higginbothams, and Lasater's Dept. Store.

All those listed above either donated their time, refreshments, or things to be used in the spook house.

I want to thank each and everyone who came to our spookhouse and hayride - if you had not come it sure would not have been a big success.

I am sorry if I have left someone out. Please let me know if I have.

Now for my last big thanks. This goes to the business people who entered my "Halloween dress up" contest.

Movies Galore & More gave a $15.00, $10.00 and a $5.00 gift certificate to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners. 1st place went to Shelby Hagood from Bob's Gro. 2nd place went to Karen Guthrey from Artistic Beauty Shop and 3rd place went to Eva Grice from the Dairy Queen.

I want to thank Cecil Funderburgh and Bill Black for being the Judges could not muster enough offensive power to come back.

This win gave the Hornets the opportunity to advance to the playoffs against Irion County at Brady. The Goldthwaite Eagles were District Champs and will meet Santa Anna at Early.

The Panthers did good this season despite losing some very good players from last year's team. Also they were hurt by some academic problems in the second six weeks period.

David Gibbs led the Panthers with 69 yards on 11 carries. Rhett Harrison had 27 on 6 tries. Lucio Pacheco had 43 on 15 runs, and Tommy Campbell had 12 on 2 tries.

This ends the season for the Panthers, so they will begin basketball now and prospects are good for a very fine season this year.

And as the old saying goes: "Just wait until next year, and we'll get 'em!"

SAVE-ON FOODS STORE REPORTS BURGLARY

Gorman Police Chief Cecil Funderburgh said Riley Curb, meat market manager, discovered the break-in Sunday morning.

The Eastland County Sheriff's Department is assisting Gorman Police Department in the investigation.

CAPITOL UPDATE

by Jim Parker

I had written an earlier column about elderly abuse that generated considerable response and received some media notoriety. Since that column, I have had an opportunity to participate in hearings concerning the specific instance of abuse, among other things, that occurred in Austin, Texas, wherein an elderly lady died of malnutrition while in the care of her son.

I am struck by the fact that the local, state and federal governments literally dump billions of dollars of your and my money into this specific area of our society yet testimony revealed that this poor unfortunate did not "fit" into any category or compartment bureaucratically promulgated.

This lady in question had a total income of approximately $800 a month consisting of social security benefits and a small retirement annuity. Evidence indicated her son at least made some half-hearted effort to obtain nursing and nursing home care for her but had been unsuccessful. Would you believe that, had she been destitute, she could have qualified for all manner of benefits; had she been wealthy, she could, of course, have cared for herself. She was in that huge category that is, "betwixt and between," to which no help is available.

It seems our society has rushed pell mell to care for the very poor, has provided economic circumstance where the very rich can adequately care for themselves but created an entire third class of citizens made up of those people who are neither rich nor poor. Most often I find these are the people who bear the brunt of the expense for our myriad social programs, quite simply because they work and produce and pay taxes but cannot afford to avoid taxes as someone could, perhaps, with greater wealth, yet they are exactly the people who cannot qualify for the very benefits they sustain.

Can you imagine the frustration of an elderly person unable to receive much needed care because they receive $15 per month more income than the regulations allow?

It happens. I cannot put my finger on the problem. I cannot determine why, in light of the billions of dollars we spend, we still have a system so poorly constructed.

This problem takes on a significance and urgency, probably equal to no other issue we face, when you stop to consider the fact by the year 2010, one out of five of us will be "elderly."

Eastland County Sesquicentennial Committee to Hold Meeting

The Eastland County 1986 Sesquicentennial Committee cordially invited you to attend and participate in, the official sanctioning ceremony designating Eastland County as an official Texas Independence County. This event is to be held Thursday, November 14, 1985 at 2:00 p.m., at the Eastland County Courthouse.

Success depends upon the initiative, cooperation and effort of thousands of individuals like yourself, persons who know Texas best, and care enough to make every project, activity, and event for 1986 one that will reflect a standard of which Texas's may always be proud.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

Late-Calving Cows Lose Money

Cattlemen should have little respect for late-calving cows because they are income robbers and should be culled, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Late-calving cows wean lighter calves and have lower rebreeding rates than early-calving cows, and that means money down the drain. In a recent study by the Extension Service in Calhoun County involving 200 crossbred cows, 16 percent were considered late calvers. These would have contributed three additional calves to the total calf crop for that year. At a weaning weight of 450 pounds and a market price 65 cents a pound, that's an extra $877.50 in gross income.

Ammoniating Hay Boosts Quality

Any hay that might be of poor quality this year can be improved by treating bales with anhydrous ammonia, notes a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. This involves covering hay bales with black plastic and injecting anhydrous ammonia. Hay ammoniation increases crude protein, digestibility and animal intake, all of which lead to increased animal performance. In feeding studies, steers fed ammoniated hay gained one-half pound more a day than those on the same type of hay but untreated. Treated hay should remain covered for at least three weeks before feeding.

Only wild roses come from seed. Name varieties are hybrids and every seedling will be different.

Stenholm Says Deficit-Reduction Bill Essential To A Sound Future

Congressman Charles Stenholm praised the House version of a deficit-reduction bill at a Thursday morning breakfast of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking to more than 200 of the country's business leaders, Stenholm said the bill is essential to a sound financial future for America. He said the Senate's Gramm-Rudman legislation is the closest Congress has come to dealing with the realities of the $2 trillion-dollar national debt.

"I commend my fellow Texan Phil Gramm for forcing Congress to do something that the majority of my colleagues did not want to do," the Stamford native said. "His version was not perfect, but it was the impetus for the measure in the House, which is better."

"The House Democratic revision of Gramm-Rudman is now the key to real deficit reduction," he told the crowd. "It trims more and does it quicker. We cannot put deficit-reduction off. We have to make those crucial decisions today and let the people see where we really stand. It's time to bite the bullets."

The Senate bill requires phasing in a balanced federal budget by 1991, but would not require major spending cuts until after the November, 1986 elections for 34 senators. The House bill cuts spending immediately and balances the budget by 1990. In both, a balanced budget is enforced by making automatic, across-the-board spending cuts in most programs if the President and Congress fail to write annual budgets that meet the phase-in targets.

The largest controversy has been which, if any, programs would be exempt from the automatic cuts. The Senate version exempts from cuts $250 billion in entitlement programs, none of which are targeted for the poor or disabled, totalling one-fourth of the entire budget. The House added $10 billion more in exemptions, which includes protection for Disabled Veterans benefits and programs for the poor.

"I do not agree with those who say that adding the House exemptions will gut the bill," the Congressman said. "My question to them is how can you oppose the House bill because it exempts $10 billion, when you took out $250 billion? How in the that he supported Texas Congressman Marvin Leath's proposal last April, which asked for the reductions now being considered in Washington. That bill would have required cuts across the board.

"Gramm-Rudman shows the direction we need to go in order to control spending, but it is not the best vehicle. The only fair and equitable legislation, the one that would help our country the most, will allow us to have deficit-reduction across the board. I have heard from senior citizens in my district and they tell me, they don't want their benefits cut if we keep heaping money on defense at record levels. But they always say, 'If everybody else is tightening their belts, then I'll do my share. That's only fair.' This is what must be done," the four-term Democrat said.

Stenholm added, "We can reduce the budget by cutting out the waste and unnecessary benefits for people who don't need government help. We can and must continue to help the poorest of the poor. This is not just farmer's optimism. This is a

Beef Belongs in a Balanced Diet

"Beef is no higher in calories than other types of meat, and it belongs in any well-balanced diet," says Texas Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten. Sweeten cites U.S. Department of Agriculture figures which show that three ounces of lean roast beef contain 169 calories and three ounces of top loin (strip) steak has 195 calories. Three ounces of baked chicken, without skin, has 174 calories and three ounces of fried chicken, with skin has 209 calories. "It's a similar story with cholesterol," says the nutritionist. "People think beef is high in cholesterol, when it has only 73 milligrams per three ounce cooked serving." By comparison, the same amount of roast chicken contains 76 milligrams of cholesterol; fried chicken 74 milligrams; pork 177 milligrams; and shrimp, 130 milligrams.

FIRE ANTS

An imported fire ant infestation has been confirmed in Eastland County according to County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon. The ant mounds were found in the 1000 block of South Daugherty in Eastland. They are well established with 25 to 30 active mounds, says Gordon. The city of Eastland and affected land owners are taking steps to eradicate the ants before they spread to other areas.

Gordon sent the ant specimen to Entomologists at Texas A&M and to Texas Department of Agriculture officials. They were confirmed as the imported fire ant. A team of Texas Department of Agriculture officials will be in Eastland November 8 to assess the extent of infestation. Prior to this time no established fire ant mounds had been reported in Eastland County.

The imported fire ant, now considered the most harmful ant pest in North America, is reddish-brown in color and about a quarter of an inch long. It is known both for its venomous sting and its mound building activity.

In 1918, when the fire ant arrived in Alabama aboard a South American freighter, it brought none of its natural enemies with it. In less than three human generations, it has spread west to cover half of Texas and across the South.

Once fire ants infest an area heavily that land becomes virtually unusable. The ant colonies form mounds as high as two to three feet, with diameters of three feet or more. An infested acre may contain as many as 300 to 500 such mounds, each with up to three-quarters of a million ants. If the mounds are disturbed, the ants will attack the cause inflicting multiple stings and injecting their venom into the victims, whether human or animal. Fire ants are indiscriminate in choosing sites for their mounds. Any land, urban, suburban or rural, will do. Mounds are found on farmland or in pastures, on lawns, parks, or in home gardens, or playgrounds, golf courses, camp grounds and even cemeteries.

Imported fire ant venom is more complex and dangerous than bee venom, including that of the so-called "killer bees." Medical treatment is often required by those bitten and severe allergic reactions have been reported in about three out of every hundred cases. Some deaths have been reported. Even those not allergic will suffer from burning and itching sores or welts.

This ant damages young plants by growing holes in roots, tubers, stalks, and buds. They may attack and kill unprotected animals such as newborn calves and pigs and newly hatched quail and poultry.

Each mound is the breeding ground for dozens of new colonies. When a mound matures, winged males and females are produced, which fly from the nest and mate. A fertilized queen either flies or is blown to a new site, where she burrows into the ground and starts laying eggs. These hatch into worker ants which build the new mound. Unless controlled the process continues until the entire area is infested.

Gordon says it will take everyone's cooperation to stop these ants and prevent their spread. All known mounds are being treated, but each property owner must be alert to mounds on their property, and treat them immediately. Gordon says he needs to know of any other areas of infestation.

Entomologists report that the best control treatment at this time of year is individual mound treatment with chlorpyrifos drench.

Chlorpyrifos is the active chemical in a number of brand name insecticides. It is known as Dursban or Lorsban or as Fire Ant Killer. Amdro is a fire ant bait that is effective, but works best in warmer weather.

The Extension Service has a publication available to anyone upon request. The title is "Fire Ants and Their Control."

A Symbol of Personal Responsibility

The best known symbol of Freemasonry . . . the nation's oldest and largest charitable fraternity . . . the "Square and Compasses."

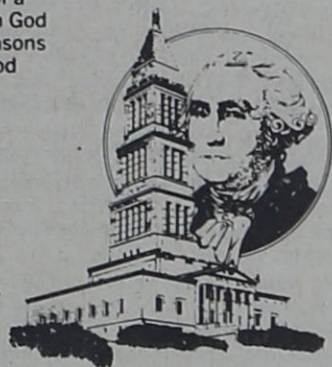

The 3 1/2 million Masons in the United States use the tools of the medieval stonemasons, the builders of the great Gothic Cathedrals. They are reminders of a Mason's duty to live by the highest moral standards, to practice brotherly love, and to affirm loyalty to his country.

Masons believe that the quality of a man's life should reflect his faith in God and his ethical ideals. Although Masons do not solicit members, men of good character may ask to become members.

Rx for Flu or Chicken Pox: Kindness

Be good to yourself when you've got the flu or chicken pox. Take it easy. Get plenty of rest.

Viral illnesses such as these are usually self-limiting. Time will cure them.

Check with your doctor about using medications to treat flu or chicken pox. For children — including teenagers — medications such as aspirin and aspirin-containing products may not be a good idea. A rare but dangerous condition called Reye syndrome may develop in young people just when they appear to be recovering. Studies suggest a link between the development of Reye and the use of aspirin to treat the flu or chicken pox.

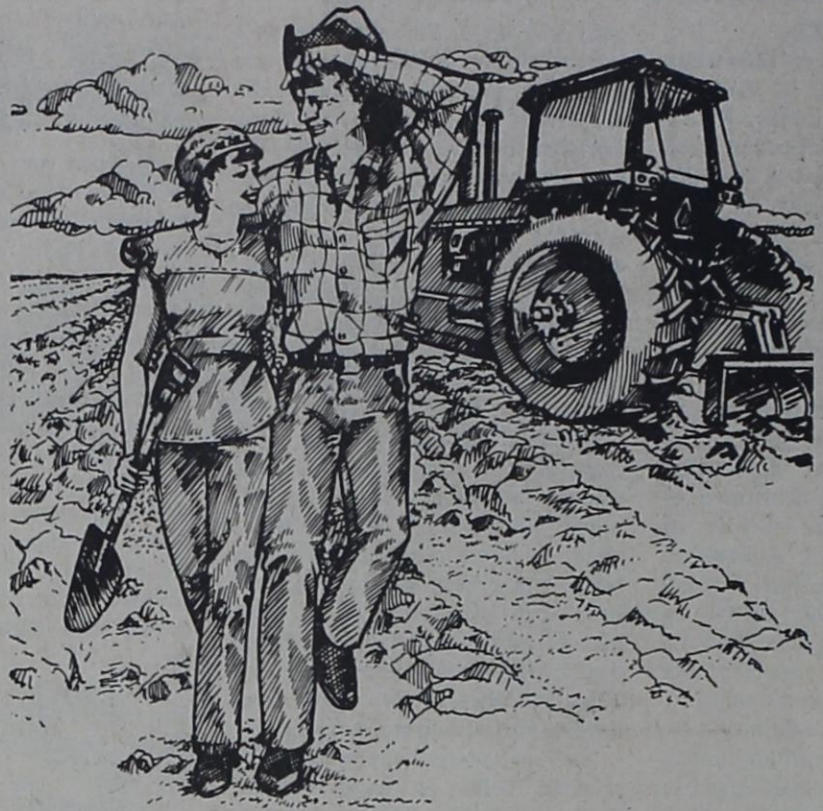

So, treat yourself right when you've got the flu!

A tradition in the good country.
And at Olney Savings.

The tradition of pride runs deep in the good country, and it sets the people here apart from others.

At Olney Savings, that's the kind of pride we encourage — and always will. Because that's the kind of pride that makes the most important things in life happen.

Come see us soon. Or call and we'll come see you. We'd be proud to serve you.
