Knutson Asks Demo Support For Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) today made a direct appeal for Democrats in Congress to split with President Truman on the big election year tax-cutting issue.

He declared his bill to lower income taxes by $6,500,000,000 is needed to help meet the high cost of living and "preserve the American system."

"Do not be misled again," Knutson told the Democrats in a prepared speech leading off debate on the measure.

"If there ever was need to encourage production to combat inflation, it is today.

"If there ever was a need to provide relief to the individual income taxpayer from the oppressive war income taxes which are stifling initiative and preventing business expansion, it is today."

Last year President Truman twice vetoed bills by Knutson, who is chairman of the Ways and Means committee, to trim taxes $4,000,000,000 a year. Enough Democrats held the party line in Congress to uphold the President.

Before the debate began, Speaker Martin (R-Miss) said an income tax cut this year is in the bag.

He conceded it might not be as much as the $6,500,000,000 provided in the Knutson bill which came up today.

But in the end, Martin told reporters, the Republican Congress will override a Presidential veto "of the tax bill we send to the White House."

This was taken to mean that Senate Republicans will tone down the House measure to attract Democratic support. The GOP will need some to round up the two-thirds majority necessary to overcome a veto.

The party lineup in the house is 245 Republicans, 185 Democrats, in the Senate it is 51 Republicans to 45 Democrats.

Ground-Breaking To Symbolize Start On Multi-Million Dollar VA Project

A significant date in Big Spring's development—that marking the start of the veterans' hospital—occurs Friday, and not even continued inclement weather will hold up the ceremonies symbolical of the breaking of first dirt for the multi-million dollar construction program.

Although somewhat warmer weather was in prospect for tomorrow, it was conceded that the elements will not be entirely favorable for "ground-breaking", but civic leaders continued plans for the program to start at 2:30 p. m.

Actual site of the program will be just to the west of Lancaster street, near its intersection with the Park road, and can be reached by Gregg and Lancaster streets. Trucks will be used as a speakers' platform, and a public address system will be employed.

Assistance has been given on the program by the Corps of Engineers, the government unit responsible for supervision of all plans and construction of the 250-bed general medical hospital.

Col. Henry F. Hannis, District Engineer at Albuquerque, whose office has immediate direction of the project, was expected here this evening, with Louis G. Bradley, project engineer. Col. Hannis is to appear on the program; and Col. Henry Hutchins, the Division Engineer of Dallas, has been invited to participate.

Robert E. McKee, Jr., head of the Robert E. McKee firm which holds contract for the $5,642,654 general construction, also will be here; and the architectural firm of Wyatt C. Hedrick will be represented by Ralph Geisler and M. J. Patton.

Numbers by the Big Spring high school band, directed by J. W. King, will open the program, for which County Judge Walton Morrison will serve as master of ceremonies. Brief talks will be made by Mayor G. W. Dabney and Chamber of Commerce Manager J. H. Greene, and the concluding principal talk will be by Judge Cecil Collings of the 70th district court.

A decorated shovel will be used by the visiting dignitaries and representatives of various governmental, service and civic agencies to turn the dirt. Within a few days, equipment will be moved in by McKee to start actual work which is to continue for 18 months.

Honors Slated For Thompson

Representatives from Sweetwater, Snyder, Colorado City, Lubbock and Midland are expected here this evening to join a group of Big Springers in honoring Ernest O. Thompson, veteran member of the Texas Railroad commission who is to be an overnight visitor in the city.

Thompson was scheduled to arrive late this afternoon, and will be guest of honor at a dinner given by friends at the Settles hotel at 7:30. He will make a brief talk, and the program will be under direction of R. L. Tollett. Some 75 are expected to attend.

Thompson is on a tour of the West Texas area. One of the state's most widely known figures, he has been a member of the Railroad commission since 1933, has served as its chairman on several occasions.

Lamesan Is In Bad Shape From Mishap

Is Discovered In Car Wandering Over Rangeland

S. E. Hemphill, 55, Lamesa, continued in serious condition at an Andrews hospital Thursday while arrangements were pending at Lamesa for his companion, Willie Scott, 56, victim of a freakish car mishap.

Scott's body was discovered Wednesday afternoon 15 miles west of Lenora on the Andrews road, probably about 10 hours after he had been thrown from the car in which he and Hemphill were reportedly enroute to work on a rig for the wildcat Mabey oil test in northwestern Martin county.

Deputy Sheriff Ogle Avery at Stanton said that investigations indicated that the car must have overturned around 4 a. m. It rolled over three or four times, said Avery, righting itself.

Apparently Scott was crushed as he was thrown from the rolling machine. Although injured, Hemphill said he tried unsuccessfully to lift Scott back in the car but was too weak. He then drove down the road, intending to find aid. The car turned at the first road to the right and some four hours later oilfield workers found Hemphill driving aimlessly over the open range.

They sought to find Scott's body but were not successful. Officers and others, under direction of Martin County Sheriff Morris Zimmerman, found the body Wednesday afternoon.

Hemphill was taken to Andrews for treatment, and Avery said he was barely able to talk.

Scott's body was taken in an Eberley coach Wednesday evening to Lamesa, where rites will be held at Higginbotham Funeral home. No time had been set Thursday morning.

Poll Tax Sales On Rise Here

Moderating weather was having a beneficial effect on poll tax payments here Thursday morning.

Steady streams of people were making their way to windows of the tax collector-assessor's office to secure their right to vote in 1948 with the result that the office experienced its biggest day of the year from Wednesday to Thursday noon. A total of 323 polls were paid, boosting the aggregate to $4,903, which, with 938 exemptions, gave a potential of 5,841 votes.

The number of polls was less than 1,000 off the record payment in 1940 when 5,865 polls were paid. If the rush of previous years is repeated, this figure likely will be eclipsed as well as the record total registration of 6,541 two years ago.

Meanwhile, veterans were cautioned that their exemptions likely have expired. They were given 18 months exemption upon discharge, and that time limit has expired. They must pay poll taxes this year if they are to vote.

Similarly, persons who were 60 before Jan. 1, 1947 and who reside inside the corporate limits should secure exemptions before Saturday midnight. All under-age exemptees (those 21 years of age on or after Jan. 1, 1947) must have certificates.

Those utilizing forms to pay poll taxes by mail must have their signatures witnessed before a notary public. The forms should show the name, age, state of birth, length of residence in state, county, occupation, voting precinct.

Clarification Is Sought On Tidelands

In a petition filed with the court, Attorney General Tom C. Clark submitted the Federal government's claim to coastal areas in which more than 300 producing oil wells are in operation.

AFL May Set Up World Labor Group

Would Rival Red Dominated Union

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29 (AP)—The AFL executive council gave every indication today it meant to take advantage of anti-Soviet activity around the world by setting up a rival labor organization to freeze Russians.

The Soviet trade unions are members of the World Federation of Trade Unions which is made up of representatives of labor groups in a score of other nations. The AFL never would join, asserting the WFTU is "communist dominated" because of overwhelming numbers.

A three-man committee within the council is working on a new policy statement which might go so far as to scuttle the AFL's traditional opposition to universal military training and reverse its historic stand on the theory that U. S. youth must be drilled for defense.

President William Green told his news conference here yesterday that in addition to the organization of an Inter-American Federation of Labor among 17 nations in this hemisphere, the AFL planned to appeal to labor groups in Europe, Asia and elsewhere to rival the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU).

The AFL was once affiliated with the defunct International Federation of Trade Unions (IFTU), but British labor leaders have stated frankly that the IFTU could be revived easily.

The AFL committee may decide to recommend pumping new life into the IFTU, with the help of the British.

French Vote Down Money Grab Proposal

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP)—A government bill to confiscate francs from black marketeers was rejected by the national assembly's finance commission today.

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP)—The government proposed today to withdraw all its 5,000-franc notes from circulation as a blow at both inflation and the black market.

Authorized sources said this would grab about $500,000,000 worth of francs away from black marketeers. There are 66,000,000 notes of the denomination in circulation, worth about $1,000,000,000 at the free exchange rate. The informants indicated those who could not explain their possession of the notes would have them taken away.

The government closed all banks to forestall speculation during debate on the measure. Premier Robert Schuman urged the national assembly to act quickly so that banks, the stock market and other financial agencies might open by Saturday.

Passage of this measure and the government's free gold trade bill seemed assured by a socialist decision to support them in the assembly. Schuman had staked his cabinet's life on his monetary program. The cabinet last Sunday decreed devaluation of the franc and the establishment of a free money market.

The 5,000-franc note is worth about $15 on the free market. Its withdrawal is something like the withdrawal of all $20 bills would be in the United States.

Assembly sources said Finance Minister Rene Mayer told them small holders of the bills would be reimbursed Feb. 2 and larger holders by a Feb. 5 decree.

Army Funeral Ship Sinks After Going Adrift From Tug

BOSTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Army funeral ship Joseph V. Conolly went adrift from a low tow line today off Cape Race, Nfld., and sank, the Coast Guard reported today.

The ship, previously ravaged by fire, was under tow for New York. The Coast Guard said the towing hawser slipped off a towing drum on the commercial tug Curb. Almost immediately, the Coast Guard said, the Conolly disappeared from the cutter Acushnet's radar scope. The Acushnet was accompanying the Curb.

Earlier, the Acushnet said, it was noted heavy seas were flooding the Conolly's after hatches. A whole sale was blowing and heavy snow squalls were prevailing when the Conolly disappeared, the Coast Guard said.

MAKES EXTENSIVE TOUR

Jester Is Sold On Complete Revamping Of Penal Program

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester returned here today from his two-day inspection trip to Texas' prison system apparently sold on recommendations for a completely revamped penal program that would require new laws and more money.

The program which General Manager O. B. Ellis recommended to bring the state's criticism-straffed prison set-up out of "antiquity" is one calling for physical improvements, a stabilized financial plan, and a merit system for promotion and demotion of prisoners.

As the governor trekked through mud, rain and ice during the past two days for a first-hand view of nine of the state's thirteen prison units, he indicated complete accord with Ellis' recommendations.

The new manager apparently pulled no punches in describing certain equipment such as the prison foundry as "so much junk" and pointing to unsanitary conditions such as open commodes adjoining kitchens as being on his eradication list.

Ellis called for better housing and better salaries for employees, more fences both for security and to provide outdoor recreation for inmates, more laundries and bath houses, better refrigeration facilities, and a diversified industrial and agricultural program that could furnish most of the prison's needs.

He asked for laws that would permit the state to sell its production to other state institutions at a profit margin to the prison and a savings margin to the other institutions. At present the prison must sell on a cost basis.

Ellis recommended that central farm be industrialized into a model prison that would provide "a hope" for prisoners elsewhere to work toward as a reward for a good record. The Ramsey agricultural farm be industrialized into a model proving ground for such "promotions" and the "walls" at Huntsville would be converted into an isolation unit for "incurables" whom the state might consider non-rehabilitative.

In his two-day tour, Jester visited the Huntsville headquarters, Wynn, Goree, Ramsey, Retrieve, Clemens, Darrington, Harlien and Central farms.

He repeatedly referred to Ellis' recommendations as "very sound."

City Is Facing Potential Thaw

Water department servicemen and plumbers Thursday braced themselves for a potential nightmare in the face of the first thaw since last Saturday evening.

Although the mercury shriveled to seven degrees, a new low for the season and the second consecutive day a new record minimum was established for a specific date, clear skies and a southerly breeze had brought the column up to 21 degrees at 11:30 a. m. Thursday.

The U. S. weather bureau here forecast a maximum of 35 degrees, which would give the area the first temperature above freezing in five days.

Some punch was still left in the spell, however, for a minimum of 13 degrees was seen for Friday, followed by a resumption of the upward trend—possibly to 45 degrees.

Pipes in scores of homes have been frozen for two or three days. Damage from this source will not become apparent until it thaws. Plumbers and water department employees, who are subjected to emergency service because many people do not have private cut-offs, anticipate several calls.

Snow blanketed the area again Wednesday night, ranking this with the snowy season of 1939-40.

Cold Strikes Apparent Final Blow At Texas

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Relief from the severe cold weather which has enveloped nearly every section of the country appeared in prospect for some areas today, alleviating in some measure the critical fuel shortage which has crippled production in many industries and brought discomfort to thousands.

The first break in the frigid wave came to the chilled north central region. After three days of temperatures far below zero, readings today generally were above that mark from the Dakotas to Illinois.

The warmer air was expected to move eastward into the Atlantic seaboard. But there was no immediate relief from the unseasonably chilly weather, snow and sleet which has harassed most of the South.

Arkansas, covered with from three to six inches of ice, was pelted by new falls of sleet and snow.

There were critical gas shortages in many communities and curtailment of supplies to industries made idle more than 250,000 workers. Business establishments and schools in sections of the South, Southwest and Midwest closed because of the scarcity of gas.

Made idle by the shutdown of indultants and factories were an estimated 200,000 workers in the Detroit area where auto production was at a virtual standstill, and 15,000 workers in the Pittsburgh district. In the Kansas City area of Missouri and Kansas gas also was shut off from 900 industrial users.

Rising temperatures and clearing skies were forecast for New Mexico after Tuesday's heavy snowfall while most of Colorado covered from the sub-zero readings. The mercury, however, was -28 at Alamosa, Colo., last night but today's low was not expected to equal yesterday's frigid -46.

The center of extreme cold had crept southward today from the Panhandle to El Paso, where the mercury dropped to six degrees below zero this morning.

The natural gas crisis which forced a shutdown of fuel to industries and schools in hundreds of Texas towns yesterday was somewhat improved today. The Lone Star Gas company said in Dallas today that pressure conditions were improving, but that the industrial and school ban would remain in effect as long as severe weather continues. Lone Star serves 333 towns in Texas and southern Oklahoma.

The situation in the area served by the West Texas Gas company likewise showed improvement today. At Odessa, one of 44 cities where fuel was cut off to industries and schools by West Texas gas yesterday, the emergency was declared at an end this morning. Business houses were permitted to reopen, but schools remained closed.

In a petition filed with the court, Attorney General Tom C. Clark submitted the Federal government's claim to coastal areas in which more than 300 producing oil wells are in operation.

Johnny Johansen Speaks At Garden Club Meeting

Members of the Garden Club voted to sponsor a weekly column on gardening and flower culture in the paper at the meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Episcopal parish house.

Johnny Johansen, superintendent of the Big Spring parks, gave a discussion of gardening and flower culture. All members of the club were given opportunities to ask questions concerning their garden problems.

He told the members that the first garden club in America was organized in 1913, to help protect the plants, animals and birds.

The main topic of his speech concerned the pruning of bushes. He said that it was too early to prune rose bushes and most shrubs. Redbud trees, lilac, and other spring blooming shrubs should not be pruned until after they have bloomed. He advised the members to spade up the spring flower beds as soon as the ground thaws so that the cold weather can kill the insects that are hidden in the ground.

Newly set out shrubs should be watered deeply and old established shrubs should be well watered when there is little moisture.

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow presided at the meeting.

The club will select the club flower at the next session.

Mrs. H. W. Smith was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Those present were Mrs. S. R. Nobles, Mrs. J. C. Lane, Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Helen Wolcott, Mrs. John A. Coffee, Mrs. Buel Fox, Mrs. Raymond Tollett, Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, Mrs. D. M. # Nets Take Beating In Scoring Battle

GALLIPOLIS, O., Jan. 29. (AP)—"Just about everything the boys threw at basket went in."

That's how Rio Grande, (O.) Coach Bob Stoneburner describes the weird 118 to 116 triple overtime decision his team took from winless Wilberforce Church university last night.

"I've never seen anything like it. Every player on each team seemed to be coming through with the greatest scoring night of his career."

The game, played at Gallipolis—Rio Grande's home—ended at 104-104 after the regulation 40 minutes. And after the first five-minute overtime the score was 114-114.

The weary players rested a couple of minutes, went at break-neck speed for three more—and the score was still tied—at 116.

The two coaches put their heads together and decided the first team to score two points in the third overtime would win, although collegiate rules permit five-minute overtimes until one team is ahead when an extra period ends.

Guard Jack Canady of Rio Grande was fouled immediately after the last overtime began. He sank his charity shot. A few seconds later, Newt Oliver—Rio Grande's one-man scoring gang—was "hacked."

He calmly sank the free shot—and his 59th point. That was the ball game.

COLD WEATHER NO PROBLEM IN HOME WITH INSULATION

During the past several days you have experienced some of our worst weather this season. No doubt you have had a most severe problem of keeping warm, and at the same time using as little fuel as possible. You probably wanted to leave your heaters on at night, but was afraid to do this because of the possibility of asphyxiation, so you did not. Of course the next morning you awoke to find it just as cold inside as it was outside, and it took quite a bit of extra heat to re-heat your home and all the furnishings, also several hours to do this.

Some of you even had to look at walls that were dripping with sweat, and could just imagine a re-papering job in the spring.

Now just think things over a bit and bear in mind what follows. The home owner who has his home insulated, weatherstripped, and floor furnaces installed did not have all of these heating problems to worry about. His insulation prevented loss of heat through the ceiling and side walls of his home, also allowing his home to be just as warm next to his outside walls as it was in the center of the house. Another thing, he did not have to look at walls sweating and the possibility of that re-papering job in the spring.

His weatherstripping prevented a cold wind from blowing in around his windows and doors. He didn't have to stop up cracks in his windows and doors and use only one door to enter or leave the house.

His Floor Furnace allowed him to control his temperature inside, therefore saving fuel. Another thing, he could leave his furnace set on about 65 degrees during the night and would get up the next morning and have a very comfort-

Designers Bank On Elizabeth To Lead British Fashion Boom

LONDON—British fashion designers are banking on Princess Elizabeth—the nation's darling—to turn the dollar earning tide of style to these islands.

Elizabeth is the trump card they count on to win London a share of the rich pot in the fashion stakes, now divided almost solely between Paris and New York.

The Princess has a lot of assets to help them realize their aspiration. One of the greatest of these is just the fact that she is an actual princess, heiress presumptive to the British throne.

She also has liabilities, not least of which is that the House of Windsor now is extremely conservative and dislikes the personal conspicuousness that attends the vanguard of fashion.

Consequently the Princess will almost certainly not become a new day counterpart of her "Uncle Teddie," the Duke of Windsor, who as Prince of Wales dashingly toured the globe and brought fashion consciousness to the male mind.

Some critics suggest Elizabeth has little chance of leading fashion outside her own country. For instance, one California-reared American woman, who has lived in Britain for more than a year, said the Princess is "too conservative and her clothes always seem out of date."

This style conscious—and, incidentally, well dressed—woman, cracked, too, that "The Princess looks as if her mother picked out all her clothes."

The Queen does see every garment her daughter buys, but there is no indication that she does more than make a few suggestions.

Whether the Princess becomes a fashion setter for the rest of the world may be questionable, but she will almost certainly be queen of the modes for her subject sisters in Britain. Many of the local lassies have become threadbare and some even verge on the dowdy under the pressure of severe rationing and its attendant difficulties.

The Sunday paper, The People, suggested she would "bring better dressing—and therefore better morale—to women at home."

Elizabeth has an excellent figure and she has the services of Britain's top most fashion houses at her beck and call to dress as she will. A tendency toward plumpness largely disappeared during her strenuous three months' tour of South Africa with her family last winter.

Now her measurements are reliably reported to include a 24-inch waist. Her bust tapes 35 inches, hips the same. However, she is somewhat shorter than the ideal dress model, with a consequent need for skillful dressing to make the most of her five feet six inches.

Her position as a princess, while it spotlights her mode of dress, also inflicts many restrictions.

All her hats must expose her face from any direction. Floppy ones that would conceal one profile or hide her eyes are out because of the disappointment they might inflict on patient subjects, waiting along the street to glimpse her.

Skirts must be loose enough to permit graceful entrance or exit of an automobile, yet not so full as to be embarrassing in a ship-deck gale. They must be long enough to prevent embarrassment on a speaking platform; the cloth must not twist when she walks nor ride up when she sits.

One of her cardinal rules in picking pieces for her carefully planned though limited wardrobe is to choose clothes which are comfortable.

Elizabeth also has definite likes and dislikes in clothes. Favorite colors are pastel shades of green, almond beige, or lime; she dislikes black. For evening wear she likes lace or crimson silk plainly made up with high neck line and long sleeves.

Court circles say she heartily dislikes "the new look," preferring a hemline at least 14 inches from the floor.

She almost never makes a casual purchase, even of a hat—which is coupon free—but clings to her mother's custom of placing two annual orders, one for spring and summer wear, the other for autumn and winter clothes.

Practically all her clothes come from the salon of Norman Hartnell, London designer who has been dressmaker to the Queen for more than ten years.

One of Hartnell's top assistants, continually assigned to watch over royal needs, handles all the details, taking designs and samples of materials to the palace and bringing back the garments for fittings.

Elizabeth, although she has a strong mind of her own, is willing to accept expert suggestions.

As a rule, Elizabeth has three fittings before the garments are completed and the Queen always sees her clothes at some stage in the process. Even King George sometimes sits in to give his opinion on a magnopus.

Hats, besides providing an open view of the face, must fit perfectly; tight enough to stay in place in the wind, yet not so tight as to make them uncomfortable.

Day shoes must fit perfectly and most of them need to be designed for comfort and foot support to obviate excessive tiredness during days when the Princess tours factories or makes other visits that require her to be on her feet for long periods.

Evening shoes not only must be attractive but the Princess insists that every pair be suitable for dancing—and she dances anything from dreamy waltzes to wild Highland reels.

Her wardrobe, in its simplicity and practicality, may have considerable appeal to average women because they can dress modestly and still claim the Princess as precursor.

To those who follow Elizabeth's lead, the newest clue to clothes may come on Feb. 3 when the Princess makes her first public appearance—at the reopening of a wartime servicemen's club—since her wedding.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen any expectorant mucus, soothe and soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcenstrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcenstrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here's Proof

"When I started taking Barcenstrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcenstrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who know me before I started taking Barcenstrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm. I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old."

"Before taking Barcenstrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all these things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded."

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhoid fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcenstrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcenstrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcenstrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Edna Whitehead, 509 Harrison, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Drugists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenstrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Thompson Urges Use Of Regular Gas Rather Than Premium Grade

AMARILLO, Jan. 29. (P)—Col. Ernest O. Thompson, head of the Texas Railroad commission, is of the opinion that Texas motorists can help ease the heating oil shortage by using regular instead of premium grade gasoline. In a speech here yesterday, Thompson said he believed that "consumers and producers, refiners and marketers, all working together can meet this challenge in typical American fashion." "The refining industry, I am sure will immediately turn out more heating oil and less gasoline at the moment," he said. "The consumers of gasoline can contribute to this great conservation move and save 35,000,000 barrels of crude oil annually by using regular gasoline instead of premium. No added mileage or horsepower is given or even promised by the use of premium gasoline. You can save two cents a gallon on your gasoline bill and can thereby contribute your part toward the saving of 35,000,000 barrels of crude oil per year, which immediately can be made into heating oil."

'Mr. America' Thrills Australian

SYDNEY. (P)—Fred Newling, middle-aged Australian father of three who won second place in the final of a "lovely legs" competition (he won his heat), has received congratulations from "Mr. America 1947."

The letter prompted Newling to advocate a "Mr. Australia" contest—the winner to compete against "Mr. America."

"Mr. America," who is 21-year-old Steve Reeves of Evanston, Ill., enclosed an autographed picture, writing: "x x x I'll be delighted to have a photo of yourself, and the famous legs—either with or without sun-tan makeup!"

Newling told a reporter he was "thrilled to bits."

Oil Journal Sees Progress By Industry

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 29. (P)—The Oil & Gas Journal, in its annual review and forecast issue, predicted today that this year will see the American oil industry drill more wells to greater depths and lay more miles of pipeline than ever before in order to overtake mounting demands.

A survey of individual operators, the journal said, indicated that if steel is available 36,612 wells will be drilled to an aggregate depth of 131,744,000 feet, an increase of 10.6 percent in number and 15.5 percent in footage over last year. The average depth, it predicted, would be 3,598 feet compared with a 1940 average of 3,612 feet.

"The demand for petroleum products in the United States this year will average 6,152,000 barrels daily, or 5.2 percent more than 1947 consumption," the journal said.

"To meet this demand, imports (chiefly crude oil) will increase by 13.2 percent and reach a daily average of 499,000 barrels. This will make the United States a net importer of petroleum for the first time in many years, and by a margin of about 75,000 barrels per day. x x x

Domestic oil wells, the prediction said, will be called on to produce an average of 5,280,000 barrels of crude every day during the year, an increase of 213,000 barrels daily, or 4.2 percent over 1947.

China Gets Around To 'Forgotten Man'

NANKING. (P)—The government worker, long the "forgotten man" in China's run-away inflation, is going to be remembered now. His salary has been static while prices soared out of sight, and how he kept clothes on his back and food on his table has been a Chinese puzzle.

Now, the state council rules, his salary will be readjusted every three months. It will be reckoned on a cost of living index, similar to a system much used in private industry.

Urges Continued Federal Air Control

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29. (P)—P. Wright, Civil Aeronautics administrator, told southwestern non-scheduled aviation operators here yesterday that licensing of aircraft and pilots and operation of airways aids should remain a Federal function.

How Much Did You Make Last Year?

That's not an easy question. Profit can't be determined by arithmetic — but only by accounting. And accounting requires informed and expert judgment. It means sorting and arranging all the complex transactions of business, and presenting them in an orderly manner to show the results fairly.

But even experts can honestly disagree on the amount of profit for a year. Optimism or conservatism can influence their judgment.

That's why the Certified Public Accountant was born. As an independent, professional auditor, he brings to the job a disinterested judgment, and a sense of responsibility to everyone who may rely on the opinion he attaches to financial statements.

WHEN YOU PLAN TO BUILD, REMODEL OR ADD NEW ELECTRIC APPLIANCES... BE SURE Your Electrical Wiring Will Efficiently Carry the Load

- There's a lot of thinking and planning being done now which will result in the building of many new homes and much remodeling and modernization of existing homes when spring rolls around.
- Right now, when all this activity is still in the thinking and planning stage, is the time to carefully consider the problem of providing Adequate Wiring for Tomorrow's Electrical Living.

Adequate Wiring simply means LARGE ENOUGH WIRES to satisfactorily carry enough electric power to lights and appliances—ENOUGH ELECTRICAL CIRCUITS to prevent overloading—PLENTY OF CONVENIENCE OUTLETS and SWITCHES to make sure that your electrical appliances can efficiently and conveniently do their job of making house-work easier and home-life more comfortable.

Before you build or remodel, consult your architect, builder or electrical contractor about Adequate Wiring.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29. (P)—U. S. members of the joint Mexican-U. S. foot and mouth disease commission are withholding judgment on a vaccine produced by Mexican scientists to fight the disease among cattle.

The first vaccine was delivered to Mexican President Miguel Aleman yesterday.

It has not been approved by the joint commission and has not been designated an official vaccine.

U. S. members said until the vaccine, a Mexican government project, is tested in the field "we will not be able to say what, if any, value it has."

No U. S. veterinarians were invited to take part in development of the vaccine nor were any consulted.

Exploration By Boy Scouts Is Postponed

An exploration trip to the Buffalo Trail Council's new Scout Ranch in the Davis mountains has been postponed, H. D. Norris, local Boy Scout field executive announced this morning.

Two members and one adult leader from each local troop were to join similar delegations from Loraine, Colorado City, Westbrook, Coahoma and Stanton on Friday morning for the three-day excursion.

Weather conditions in the vicinity of the ranch caused the postponement. Norris said that Rex Palmer, field executive at Pecos reported that a heavy snow was on the ground there and it appeared doubtful that vehicles could operate through the entrance to the ranch. Another date will be set for the exploration trip.

Sweatt Case Is In Court Again

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP)—The question of whether or not Texas can constitutionally segregate Negro and white students in its public schools came before the third court of civil appeals today.

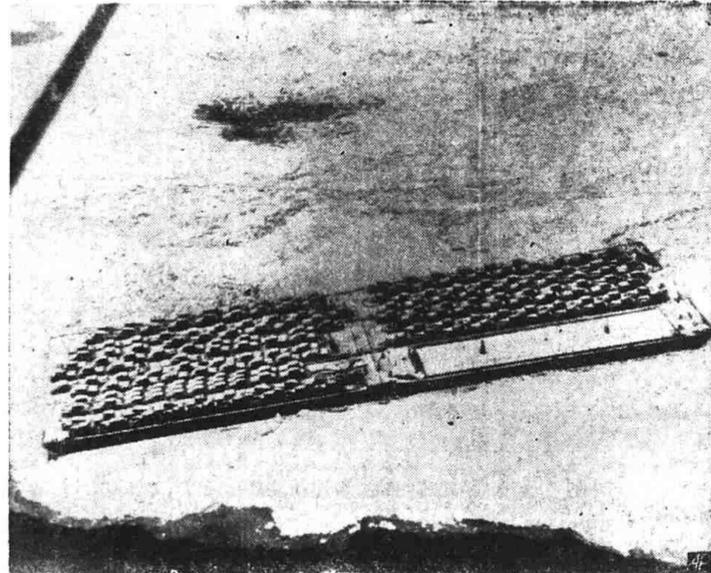

On appeal and set for oral arguments was Heman Marion Sweatt's legal battle to force University of Texas officials to admit him as a law school student.

The fight started nearly two years ago, after the Houston Negro mail carrier had been denied admission to the university law school. He was informed that he qualified as a student in every respect except that he was a Negro.

Sweatt originally brought suit for a mandamus compelling his admission in a Travis county district court. It finally denied his plea, and he appealed to the third court of civil appeals. This case was sent back to district court for development of new facts after the 50th Legislature established the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston, with a law branch at Austin.

Library Official Is Here For Meetings

Mrs. L. B. Wilson, extension director for the state library, has arrived here and has begun a series of conferences with local people interested in library problems. She will confer with members of the commissioners court and is to be guest at a luncheon Friday given by the Friends of the Howard County Free Library. Mrs. T. C. Thomas, president of the local association, will preside at the luncheon.

Merrick Is Elected Head Of 20-30 Club

Bill Merrick, one of the several young men instrumental in establishing a 20-30 club in Big Spring, was elected Wednesday evening to head that organization for the first six months of its chartered existence. Merrick will receive official recognition as president the night of Feb. 7 at which the local unit will receive its international charter.

Also at that time, Bob Hatcher, who like Merrick fostered the idea of a civic club for younger men here, will be instated as vice-president. Hatcher and Merrick will be included in the 20-20 Board of Directors, also elected Wednesday evening, which is composed of Don Burnam, Cecil Ivy, Robert Hill and Bill Beauchamp. Beauchamp will be installed as sergeant-at-arms Feb. 7.

Bill Frank, 20-30 field representative, was in charge of the meeting. Further plans for the Feb. 7 event included the acquisition of Dave Hughes' orchestra from San Angelo, a component of Johnny Dangle's orchestra, for the dance to follow the banquet. Various committee chairmen arranging for the affair gave reports.

A tentative budget for the charter night was approved and a list of special out-of-town guests announced. Joe Bonfield of Lubbock will act as master of ceremonies at the installation.

Introduced as new members Wednesday evening were Harold Stovall, Arthur Franklin and G. C. Broughton.

Sales Ring Closes

Officials of the West Texas Livestock Commission company announced Thursday that all facilities were being closed immediately. There was no amplification on the statement. The livestock sales unit has been operative for almost two years, at first at hands of incorporators and later under lease.

Two-Year Term Given Woman

Estella Crosby drew a two-year suspended sentence in 70th district court proceedings Wednesday after she had entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault and attempt to commit murder.

Miss Crosby, a Negress, admitted shooting Loraine Coleman, a 14-year-old Negro girl, at the height of an argument over the affections of a Negro man.

Miss Coleman was struck in the shoulder by a .32 caliber bullet and spent several days in a local hospital. The victim did not appear in court Wednesday.

Clyde Cullen Russell, picked up on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants (second offense) earlier in the week, drew a one year suspended sentence in another case cleared from the docket Wednesday.

The trial of Randolph Marion, charged with concealing stolen property, was due to get underway in court sometime today.

Few City Tax Payments Made

Although collection percentages compare favorably with those of a year ago, few city tax payments have been made this month, the tax department reported this morning.

Net collections on 1947 assessments totalled $149,343.96 this morning, while discounts allowed amounted to $4,072.80, accounting for $153,416.76 on a roll of $174,871.01. However, most of the payments were made during the discount periods before the end of December.

No discount is allowed during January, and a one percent penalty will be added on Feb. 1. Penalties will increase each month until July 1 when unpaid accounts will be transferred to the delinquent rolls, which carry an eight percent penalty, plus one half of one percent interest.

The penalty-free period will end at noon Saturday when the tax office will be closed for the weekend.

Funny thing about hobbies . . . When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers . . . showed a real interest in his hobby . . . until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

Nations Track Standouts Tuning Up For Olympics

Records Secure In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 29 (AP)—Plagued by continuing sub-freezing temperatures a field of 154 golfers from seven countries was to tee off today in the opening round of the 72-hole $10,000 Tucson Open. Thermometers hovered around the 20-degree mark and the weather forecast was for continued cold throughout the day with the high likely to get a few degrees above yesterday's 41.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, started out as co-favorites but it would be no major upset if any one of a dozen pros copied first money. This week's cold wave, that yesterday caused cancellation of the pro-amateur event, has had a leveling effect upon the entire field. No record breaking scores are looked for today.

Demaret was convinced that the 72-hole, 16-under-par record score of 264 he hung up last year will stand intact.

Amateurs are attracting much attention in Tucson. Doug Ford, New York, caused raised eyebrows when he led a field of 97 in the qualifying round with 88, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., is a local favorite.

At the end of today's play the field will be cut to 90 pros and 10 amateurs. The tourney is being played under regular PGA rules.

Frog Grid 11 Needs Punter

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29—Development of a punter to fill the shoes of capable Carl Knox, lost by graduation, will be one of the major problems facing Coach Dutch Meyer when spring practice gets under way at TCU Feb. 5.

Both Knox and Jim Lucas will pick up diplomas in June, leaving Leon Joslin as the only experienced punter for the Frogs. Jim Hickey, among others, ace "B" team kicker from Paris, will be given every opportunity to show what he can do for the varsity.

Meyer's first-string backfield will carry over intact from the '47 campaign. Lindy Berry at tailback, Dave Bloom at blocking back, Tom Bishop at wingback, and Pete Stout at fullback are pretty well regarded as seeded going in.

However, plans will be made to get the full benefit from such freshmen as big Frank Struska, rugged fullback from Taylor, and speedster John Medanich from Precos. If Medanich comes along he could go a long way toward making the 1948 outfit a winner.

Several big linemen from the "B" squad will undoubtedly fit well into the varsity picture.

Millrose Games Slated Saturday

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—The starter's gun has sounded and dispatched the nation's indoor track stars on a grind that will not end until they break the tape on the Chicago Stadium track on March 27.

Tuned up in first-floor armory racks, the sprinters first hit the board tracks in earnest in the Philadelphia Inquirer Games—traditional opening tests of the indoor season—and in the Boston K. of C. meet.

On Jan. 31 the smoke-eating hordes pound through Madison Square Garden in the 41st annual Millrose Games. The following Saturday night will find the tracksters back in Boston for the Boston A. A. games; then back to Madison Square Garden for four consecutive weeks. Columbus, Cleveland and Chicago meets wind up the big time indoor season.

Although these indoor meets will not be conclusive tests for the coming Olympic Games in London—the Olympics of course are outdoor—they will shed valuable light on three questions. These questions might be phrased this way:

1. Can Boston's Gil Dodds, the celebrated flying Parson, capture the 1,500 meter championship for the U. S.?
2. What are the U. S. chances in the 400 and 800 meter runs?
3. Will Americans be anywhere around when the longer races are finishing?

Dodds is reported in the best condition of his racing career. The Hub City miler had a magnificent season in 1947, showing the way to the tape in every mile and two-mile race he entered and always by margins of from 50 yards to half a lap. However, Dodds must pare a couple of seconds off his best mile time of 4:06.7 to compete with the swift Swedes who have been carding terrific times at both the mile and its metric equivalent.

The performance of the parson in the Wanamaker Mile at the Millrose Meet will go far toward establishing his Olympic possibilities for the Garden track is more conducive to fast time than the Boston oval which is more battle scarred. However, the boards at Chicago are the fleetest in the nation and it was there that Dodds set his indoor mark and has run his finest races.

In the 400 and 800 meter races which used to be known as the "middle distances" but these days more frequently are labeled "dashies," the departure of Elmore Harris to professional football leaves the U. S. searching for the men to fill these spots.

Harris' passing from the Olympic scene was not even compensated for by his emergence as a gridiron personality. For he played little for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Harris probably could have won the 400 meter Olympic event. His duel with Herb McKenley of Jamaica and Illinois might have rivalled the stretch battle staged by the immortal Ben Eastman and Bill Carr at the 1932 Los Angeles Olympics. Carr roared off the turn in that one to top Eastman in one of the famous cinder duels of history.

However, U. S. Olympic moguls may not have to look far beyond Reggie Pearman of N. Y. U. for their 800 man. Pearman will alternate between the 600 and 1000-yard runs in the indoor campaign and track fans will eye his performances closely, as well as those of Fordham's Jerry Connolly who measured Pearman in a flat-floor race.

The Olympics 400 is practically conceded to McKenley, who will carry the colors of his home island. He has applied for official recognition of his world record shattering 440 yard spring of 46.2 McKenley's top competition will come from Villanova's George Guida.

As far as the long distance Olympic races are concerned the U. S. could well have saved the boat fare and meal tabs of the athletes she entered—the U. S. never has won anything over 1,500 meters. During the coming board campaign, however, we can take a good preliminary look at the crop of collegiate cross country winners and some of the old guard like Forrest Efav and Jimmy Rafferty.

It will be these troublesome spots that indoor track fans will watch. The U. S. squad is well equipped in most of the other events. The field events should be all U. S.; Harrison Dillard will handle the hurdle races without much competition and Mel Patton, student of Olympic Coach Dean Cromwell of Southern California, is favored in the sprints.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

This year, for the first time in a long spell, the Big Spring high school basketball Steers are afforded an excellent chance to win the District 3AA championship and go on to the bi-district wars.

Those folks who are not aware of it at the moment are due to be alerted within the near future when the Bovines come hammering down the Stretch, bidding for a spot in the district tournament, which will decide the champion.

The Longhorns play the kind of game that usually keep the patrons on the edge of their respective seats, their hearts in their mouths. Hard as they work, they are probably outdone by at least three of the clientele, who were in the shoes of the youngsters 17 years ago and as such constituted a part of the greatest basketball team this village has ever known.

They would be Tommy Hutto, a peerless forward, Ted Phillips and Jake Morgan, all members of the blue-ribbon 1931 Steer outfit that Coach Bill Stevens led through the district and bi-district wars to the state meet.

STEVENS RESIGNED, THEN LED STEERS TO TITLE

The year 1931 was the year when a young German heavyweight nicknamed the Black Uhlán (real name, Max Schmeling) gave Bill Stripling a terrific licking, Sylvia Sidney was being heralded as successor to Clara Bow as the "It" girl, Malcolm Campbell raced 245.733 MPH with his Bluebird II, Helen Hicks was the scourge of the women golfers and Knute Rockne, destined to die in a plane crash later in the year, stopped off briefly in Big Spring.

It was also the year Stevens resigned as the head football coach (his successor: Obie Bristow) and then led the Bovines to practice victories over such sterling teams as Lubbock, W. C. Stripling of Ft. Worth, Colorado City, Warner Memorial college and Cosden's mighty Oilers.

HUTTO PERHAPS BEST CAGER IN STEER HISTORY

Hutto was perhaps the greatest offensive netter ever to represent the local school on the hardwoods and he had plenty of help. Phillips was a superlative guard who later starred for West Texas State college. Morgan was a first line sub who was later to make a fine varsity showing.

Dave Hooper, a tremendous football tackle, looked like a ten-ton truck on the maples but played like a Luisset. He proved a capable running mate for Hutto.

Elmer Pardue held down the center position for the Bovines and was good. Bill Flowers, later Tulane university's football captain, was at the other guard. He was all-district.

STEER LUCK PICKED UP AFTER EARLY REVERSAL

After losing to Lamesa in the finals of that city's invitational tournament, 19-17, the Steers went on to take Snyder, 41-17, and Roby, 22-12, in the Western Zone finals of the district tournament and qualify for the chance to face a good Abilene Eagle troupe in the best two-of-three game series.

The Steers didn't need three games. They knuckled over the Eagles in the first game, 22-22, despite all Jack Smith could do for the opposition and then forced the Birds into retirement in the followup tilt by winning, 26-12. Hutto had scored 13 points in the first game, 11 in the second.

Big Spring's bi-district foe was Breckenridge's Buckies, led that year by a massive forward named Truman Spain, later to make All-American football tackle at SMU.

Spain scored 14 points in the opening game but Dave Hooper got hot and the Steers won, 24-23, in a contest at Breck.

The second game was easier and Hutto and Hooper were both hotter. Stevens saw his quintet win, 31-24, to win a trip to Austin. Spain was held to a mere four points in that outing.

The Steers hit Austin favored to go all the way to the finals but made the mistake of not playing them as they came. Unheralded Yancey knocked the Longhorns off in the first game, 31-25, and then promptly bowed out in the second round.

Athens, coached by Jimmy Kitts, grabbed off the state title by defeating San Jacinto in Houston in an overtime period, 25-22. There are those who thought the locals had the best club in the tournament.

Tension In Mexican League Eases As Pasquel Denies NY Statements

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29 (AP)—A long distance squabble between former Mexican Baseball League President Jorge Pasquel in New York and High Commissioner Alejandro Aguilar Reyes here apparently has cleared the air of some doubt as to who runs the show and the league plans to resume its peace talks with U. S. Organized baseball.

The commissioner, appointed last fall for the dual job of pulling the circuit out of piling deficits and making friends north of the border, resigned Sunday on reading newspaper reports here that Pasquel wanted no peace and would continue to raid U. S. diamonds for talent.

Yesterday in a long statement explaining his resignation Aguilar Reyes called Pasquel a "dictator" and warned that Mexican baseball "never has flourished under dictatorship."

Then came a telegram from Pasquel denying the statements attributed to him. The commissioner announced he was withholding his resignation pending a meeting with club presidents to hear Pasquel's story.

The commissioner, often called "the father of Mexican baseball" for his accomplishment of encouraging it from its old sand lot status to an organized league, told the Associated Press he was communicating today with Walter Mulbry

Youth Program Is Emphasized In Big Leagues

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—The youth movement definitely is on the march in the major baseball leagues.

In sharp contrast to the war years when grizzled and fading veterans were the prime requisites in order to keep baseball alive, big league club owners are launching a drive for young blood which promises to produce the biggest turnover in history.

Already it has resulted in reducing the number of 10-year men in the majors to the lowest total in years. The 16 big league spring training camps will present more freshmen than ever before.

Of the approximately 640 players (40-player limit per team) on major league rosters for the coming season, 62 are rookies. A majority of these have never appeared at a big league training camp before. Others have had brief trials but were sent to minor league farms for further development.

Eager to make room for these newcomers, the owners have handed pink slips to 30 men who have graced big league rosters for 10 or more years. This wholesale pruning leaves only 40 members of the select 10-year group, 21 in the American league and only 19 in the National.

The National, which in past years often was accused by American league partisans as being "an old man's institution," has been much more radical in its trend toward the younger set than its rival circuit.

Of the 262 major league fledglings, 140 will be wearing National league uniforms when the teams begin preparations next month. The Chicago Cubs, for instance, have 15 players who never before have even been near a big league spring training camp.

Football Films Slated Friday

The public has been invited by American Business club officials to attend a showing of the Sugar Bowl and other football games featuring the University of Texas team Friday night at the Texas theater.

Starting time is 7:30 p. m. Admission, of course, is free. The films are being brought here by R. E. "Peppy" Blount, state representative from Big Spring and a star end of the U of T grid 11. Peppy scored the first touchdown in the Sugar Bowl classic, taking a short pass from Bobby Layne in the end zones.

Blount did not know earlier in the week what other game films he would bring here but said he would ask for reproductions of the Texas-Oregon and Texas-Rice classics.

Peppy will be the guest of the ABC club at their weekly luncheon Friday at the Crawford hotel, at which time one of the films will be shown.

Louis May Throw All In Exhibition

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Joe Louis, World's Heavyweight boxing champion, who will appear in a four-round exhibition match in the Coliseum tonight opposing young Bob Foxworth says "I'm gonna be trying to hit somebody like I didn't hit Walcott."

It will be the champion's first appearance in a ring since he was awarded the disputed 15-round decision over Jersey Joe Walcott in New York last Dec. 5 and Louis says it will also be his last appearance in a Chicago ring. He plans to retire this year.

Hawks Try To Get Back On High Road Tonight

Reeling from the effects of six straight lickings and the loss of two key men, the Howard County Junior college basketball Jayhawks converge upon Abilene this evening for an exhibition game with the Abilene Christian college B string. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Wildcats are flattened by Hawks, 58-40, here last week but the locals never threw in the towel.

They looked very bad in the first half but came back with a surge in the final round to outscore and outplay their more experienced foes.

Coach Harold Davis, who had his charges working out at the high school Wednesday afternoon, intends to start a lineup composed of Capt. Ray Clark, Donald Clark, Horace Rankin, Jackie Barron and perhaps Hugh Cochran against the Felines.

Ray Clark was the hottest thing on the courts in last week's game. If brother Don and Horace Rankin warm to the task tonight, the Cats may be in for a rough time.

The locals are scheduled to go to San Angelo Saturday for a return bout with the SAJC Rams. It was against the Rams the locals were able to register their last victory.

WYMAN SHIMKE, of New London, Wis., saw so many invading bow hunters stalking big game that he decided to take up the bow himself. The big doe he is tagging here paid him off. About 5,000 bowmen accounted for 63 deer during the hunting season in Wisconsin.

Abilene Lines Up Rugged Schedule

ABILENE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Abilene high school doesn't know how it could be any tougher unless it played Notre Dame and Michigan. Coach P. E. Shottwell has mapped a schedule that includes these opponents:

Breckenridge (San Antonio), defending state champion.
Breckenridge and Wichita Falls, two 1947 quarter-finalists.
Odessa, state semi-finalist.
Amarillo, District 1 champion.
Midland, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Big Spring and San Angelo round out the 10-game schedule.

Tourney This Week

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Eight top-ranking high school quintets have entered the fifth annual Junior Chamber of Commerce invitational basketball tournament scheduled here Friday and Saturday.

Teams to compete include Childress, Vernon, Electra, Quanah, Wichita Falls, Bowie, Nocona and Olney. Bowie is the defending champion.

Stanton Plays Billies Friday

KNOTT, Jan. 29—Knott's Hill Billies will host the Stanton Buffaloes in a District 21B basketball game here Friday night.

For all intents and purposes, both teams have been eliminated from title consideration in regular league play but, of course, will get another chance at league leading Sterling City in district tournament.

Stanton, beaten by Sterling in two close games last week, is slightly favored to topple the Billies.

Fred Taylor Hired

LUBBOCK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Fred Taylor, former Texas Christian university football player, has been named assistant football coach at Lubbock high school. Taylor will begin duties Aug. 1.

and leaves, carrots, bouillon cube and salt to the boiling water and cook until the celery and carrots are tender. Drain. There should be about 2 cups of liquor, if not, add water to make the required amount. Add meat mixture and vegetables to liquid, then add remaining ingredients down to the flour. Place in a greased casserole. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening and add milk. Stir carefully until the flour is dampened. Stir until the dough forms a soft ball. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead for 30 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and fit over the casserole. Slit top to allow the steam to escape. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 20 minutes, or until the crust is nicely browned.

Trans-Jordan became an independent country in 1946 when England gave up its mandate.

Dried beans should be picked over before using, then washed. They may then be soaked overnight in water that is four times the volume of the beans. The water in which they are soaked should be used to cook them in. When cooked they should be brought to a boil over moderate heat then simmered over lower heat until they are just tender.

Orange Rosettes With Frosting Makes Different Tasting Dessert

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures

The other day Marthan Jane Tupper called and asked me to come right over to her test kitchen, where she tries out citrus fruit recipes, if I wanted to "taste something good." I went and I wasn't a bit sorry! Since we did food work together for a magazine for a number of years I had an idea that "something good" would turn out to be an understatement. It did. She had concocted the most delicious small orange cakes, and I know right now that it's going to be one of my favorite recipes for 1948—yours too if you try it.

It reminded me of a recipe I've seen but never tried in my mother's handwritten cookbook, but the older version includes ground raisins. Martha used pecans instead; I suspect this is because she comes from Fayette, Mo., where pecans grow in her backyard.

Martha Jane said that she had found at least part of her inspiration for baking the cakes in my kitchen. Among my collection of old cooking utensils I have one of the earliest muffin tins made in this country—a handsome affair blackened with age, with each irregular pan riveted on crudely and separately—and she had admired the decorative way it hung against the kitchen wall. When she went home to Fayette for a visit recently, she couldn't wait to bring back a perfectly beautiful old iron gem pan, which had been her grandmother's, to decorate her own kitchen and to use for these particular cakes. I ate three of those wonderful little cakes right away and couldn't wait to bake them at home.

We hope you'll find this recipe for Orange Rosettes easy to follow and that you'll make them with success and enjoy them as much as we did!

ORANGE ROSETTES

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ cup chopped pecans
½ cup orange juice
Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and baking soda. Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, blending thoroughly after each addition. Beat in egg. Stir in orange rind and pecans. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice, mixing well but quickly. Fill greased 2-inch shallow muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderate (375F.) oven from 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from pan; cool. Insert fork into cup cake and dip in the following Orange Syrup, striking fork lightly against edge of pan to allow excess syrup to drop off. Place on rack to cool. Makes about 22 cakes.

ORANGE SYRUP

½ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup sugar
Combine orange juice, orange rind and sugar in small sauce pan; stir over low heat until sugar is entirely dissolved. Increase heat and boil rapidly for 3 minutes or until a 230F. temperature is reached on the candy thermometer.

Wholewheat Date Muffins

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup stirred wholewheat flour
¼ cup butter or fortified margarine
¼ cup brown sugar
2-3 cup milk
½ cup (½ package) pitted dates, cut up
Sift all-purpose flour, baking powder and salt together. Mix well with wholewheat flour. Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add eggs one at a time and beat well. Stir in milk. Add dry ingredients and dates and stir just enough to moisten them. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in a hot 450 F. oven about 15 or 20 minutes. Makes 12 or more small muffins.

Wheat oil, which used to be used in lamps, is now used largely to make soap and glycerine for munitions.

Crown Roast Of Pork With Cinnamon Apples

10 rib loin of pork
2½ pounds bulk sausage
½ cup bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery
Milk
Savory
Paprika
Have your butcher prepare the loin of pork for a crown roast. Place it in a 350 degree oven, allowing 30-35 minutes to the pound. Remove the roast 1 hour before it is done. Combine the sausage, bread crumbs, onions and celery. Moisten with a little milk and season with savory and paprika. Fill center of the crown with this dressing. Return to oven and complete the cooking time. Serve on a hot platter surrounded by cinnamon apples.

CINNAMON APPLES

4 apples
½ cup sugar
1 cup water
½ pound cinnamon drops
Nut meats
Raisins
Pare and core apples. Combine the sugar, water and cinnamon drops and boil in saucepan until the cinnamon drops are dissolved. Add apples slowly, one at a time. Cook gently until tender. Remove from syrup. Fill hollows with chopped nut meats and raisins. Boil syrup and pour on apples.

Butane Promised For Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 28. (AP)—Gov. Fielding L. Wright said last night that Tulsa, Okla., butane dealers have assured him they will expedite butane shipments to Mississippi points where critical shortages exist.

The governor said the mayor of Ocean Springs, Miss., had declared a state of emergency in that city. Citizens there were resorting to kerosene stoves and any other means available to keep warm.

Sinus Trouble May Be Less Prevalent In Southwest Area

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28. (AP)—A Cornell University neurologist has a theory that sinus trouble may be less prevalent in the Southwest and South than in the bustling, highly competitive North.

Dr. Harold G. Wolff, of New York, told the international post graduate medical assembly of southwest Texas here yesterday that San Antonio's popularity as a resort for persons afflicted with sinus trouble may be due to the easy-going and genial way of life as well as to its usually balmy climate.

He said he had noted in his hospital practice in New York that persons suffering from complaints of a more or less "nervous" origin frequently dated the beginning of their symptoms back to the time of their arrival in "Yankeealand."

So called "sinus infection," he said, is often the result of nervous tension and general dissatisfaction with life.

Public Ownership Means 'My Train' To A Night Owl

AP Newfeatures Bureau
LONDON — At least one traveler has taken a literal view of the recent change of British railways to public ownership.

Police said a man who boarded a 2:34 a. m. train at London's King Cross Station refused to leave when told it was exclusively for hauling newspapers to provincial cities and that no passengers were allowed.

"This is my blinking railway now," he retorted, "and I am not going to get out."

Railway police struggled unsuccessfully to remove him as he clung to a baggage rack.

Finally, the car was detached from the train and shunted into the darkness of a tunnel. Two hours later the man emerged.

Police, who did not bring charges, escorted him aboard a regular train.

Ethiopia Forms Private Airline

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Sultan Airways, Ltd., a new private commercial airline, has been organized here under the direction of the Duke of Harrar, Emperor Haile Selassie's second son.

Formed under the supervision of the Negro American flyer John C. Robinson of Chicago, the new air service uses American DC3's both of passenger and cargo versions. Veterans of the RAF in the Middle East, including Capt. Michael Omishl, who served seven years in the RAF, comprise the flying personnel of the new air service.

Several preparatory flights have been made to India, Arabia and French Somaliland. A regular flight schedule is now being drawn up.

Episcopals Asked To Stop Gambling

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Members of the Episcopal Church in the Dallas diocese have been asked by Bishop C. Avery Mason to refrain from using "gambling devices" to raise church funds.

Bishop Mason told an annual diocese convention last night: "There is the problem of lotteries and other gambling devices to raise funds for the Church. The fact is that members of the Church have been injured and hurt. It has always appeared unseemly and strikes at the very core of stewardship."

Young children enjoy cutting grapefruit or orange rind into decorative shapes for garnishing a meat or fish platter. Or they enjoy filling orange halves, from which the pulp and juice has been squeezed, with fluffy mashed sweet potatoes.

Use Mackerel As Meat Dish For Friday Noon

Two delicious ways to cook mackerel are suggested in this Peace Plate, both of which enhance the flavor and delicate flesh of this popular fish—pan-fried mackerel fillets, or savory broiled mackerel whose good-eating secret lies in its sauce. Suggested for the rest of the menu are scalloped potatoes, a buttered green vegetable (canned, fresh or frozen), and pickled beets. For dessert, canned pineapple cubes or cling peaches.

Stuffed Tomatoes

4 large tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1-2 cups noodles
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
6 tablespoons grated cheese
6 tablespoons buttered crumbs

Wash tomatoes and scoop out centers, leaving a thick shell. Sprinkle inside with salt and pepper. Cook noodles in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and add to sauce made of butter or margarine, flour, milk and cheese. Fill tomatoes with this noodle stuffing and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Place in a baking dish and bake in a 350 degree oven for 40 minutes.

Ragout Of Sweetbread And Asparagus In Ring

1 clove garlic
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour
2 cups chicken stock
1 cup cream
Dash paprika
Dash nutmeg
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 pair sweetbreads, cooked
2 cups canned asparagus, cut in small pieces
Baked noodle ring
Rub saucpan with garlic. Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour. Add cream to chicken stock, then gradually add to butter-flour mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring until smooth and thickened. Add seasonings. Pour onto egg yolks and cook for two minutes longer. Break sweetbreads in pieces and add with asparagus. Heat and serve in baked noodle ring.

Pan-Fried Mackerel Fillets

2 packages (about 1 pound) quick-frozen mackerel fillets
Seasoned flour
4 tablespoons melted fat
Thaw fillets just enough to separate; roll in seasoned flour. Fry in hot fat in heavy skillet 8 to 10 minutes, turning to brown both sides. 4 servings.

Savory Broiled Mackerel

3 pounds mackerel, split and cleaned for broiling.
1-3 cup fat
1 clove garlic, minced (optional)
2 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon bottled thick meat sauce (optional)

Fish weighing 1 1/2 to 4 1/2 pounds are generally ordered split and cleaned, with the backbone, head and tail removed. Trim off any fins remaining on fish. Arrange the mackerel in a baking pan, or on greased broiler rack in broiler oven, flesh side up. Brush with sauce made by combining all remaining ingredients. Broil about 12 minutes, avoiding too high heat, and brushing fish frequently with sauce. Serve with remaining sauce. 6 servings.

Scalloped Potatoes

4 cups thinly pared and thinly sliced potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1 to 2 tablespoons onion, grated
2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine
2 cups milk (about)

Wash and pare potatoes; slice thin. Place half of the potatoes in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle with half of the salt, pepper, flour, onion and bits of butter; repeat the process. Add sufficient milk so that it can just be seen between the top slices. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) about 30 minutes; remove cover and continue baking about 30 minutes or until tender and browned.

Food Tip: To prevent curdling in scalloped potatoes, sprinkle each layer of raw sliced potatoes with flour, or make a medium white sauce of the milk, flour, fat and seasonings and pour over the casserole of sliced potatoes before baking.

Chilled Fruit Cup

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The following fruit cup combination is one of my sister Rovena's favorites—we usually have it to begin or end any family party meal in which she has a hand. When we are not looking she shakes a little sugar over the grapefruit—and I have to admit it tastes delicious! But since I belong to the less-sugar-is-good-for-you school I recommend the cup I am giving here.

Pineapple and Grapefruit Cup
1 large seedless grapefruit
1 No. 1 flat can (4 slices and juice) pineapple
Red grapes or maraschino cherries

Cut peel from grapefruit with a sharp paring knife, removing all white membrane with peel. Go over grapefruit again and cut away any remaining white membrane. Now insert knife alongside of membrane attached to a grapefruit section. Without lifting knife slide it up other side of membrane so fruit section is freed. Continue to cut all sections in this way. Cut each large section into 2 or 3 pieces. Cut pineapple rings into small pieces and add to grapefruit with juice. Mix and chill. Serve in sherbet glasses, topping fruit with a seeded red grape cut in half or a maraschino cherry.

Macaroni Casserole

1-8 ounce package macaroni
6 tablespoons bacon drippings
6 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon paprika
3 bouillon cubes
1 large can evaporated milk
1/2 pound mushrooms
2 cups cooked peas
1/2 cup buttered crumbs

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 12 minutes. Drain, rinse with hot water. Melt bacon drippings, blend in flour and paprika. Add bouillon cubes and stir until softened. Dilute evaporated milk with an equal amount of cold water. Add gradually. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add macaroni. Slice and saute mushrooms for five minutes in butter or margarine. Add mushrooms and cooked peas. Mix well. Place in casserole. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Flaky Tart Shells

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1-1 1/4 cups shortening
1-3 cup cold water (about)

Mix and sift flour and salt together. Cut one-half cup shortening into flour. Add water in small amounts, stirring lightly and tossing until dough holds together. Roll dough in rectangular shape one-quarter inch thick. Cut remaining shortening in small pieces and spread half over half of the dough, leaving a narrow margin. Fold in half to cover shortening and press edges together; then fold opposite sides to make three folds, one over the other and the other underneath. Roll pastry 1 quarter inch thick, spread with remaining shortening and fold as before. Chill thoroughly. Then roll out and cut tart shells of desired size. Bake in 450 degree oven for 15 minutes.

Creamed flaked fish spooned into individual baking shells and sprinkled with cheese before going under the broiler is a good dish to serve for Sunday night supper. Accompany the fish with a green salad and a hearty dessert of hot apple pie and cheese.

Moving On An Economic Plateau

Fairly indicative of general reaction to the economic situation is that of the nation's dealers in furniture. At Chicago and Grand Rapids, they browsed extensively and bought—but for six months. These gentlemen are fair barometers of what the little man is thinking. Evidently, he is playing stocks fairly close to his vest. He is buying for a market only as far as he can see a reasonably hope for return. He conceives, as one expert put it, that we are currently on a plateau, and may stay there for at least several months. Whether we slide off or begin another ascendancy is yet to be determined, but the average man in business feels conditions will be fairly static for at least half a year.

This is particularly true in the heavier lines of consumer goods. Food costs, however, may not be reckoned with such assurance. Where furniture manufacturers advanced prices only as they represented increased costs, food items are vastly more sensitive to scarcity in their price reactions. However, there is some ground for encouragement in that while cautious, businessmen anticipate no sharp break in the price situation, one way or the other. The longer that prices are held static, the greater the chance for an orderly reversal.

Designers Mightier Than Moralists

We've had a glimpse of what may be expected this year in fashions for millady—and it's one look too much at the "new look" which, by and by, begins to shape up as the "new look."

Just what the designers have in mind is fit material for mystery, although there are some rather pointed and positive possibilities. For instance, the trend represents reckless satisfaction for the innate demand for change. In this connection, it should be noted that if change is drastic enough, women will be compelled to buy new outfits whether or no.

The trend may represent an exploration in curiosity on the part of designers. Perhaps they want to see just how far they can go and find their creations accepted by the female of the specie.

So much for speculation. Let us look at at least two imminent accomplishments.

The first is that the designers are succeeding, in their most advanced and daring frocks, in making the feminine form resemble a picnic ham with opposing hocks.

This sets the stage for the next portending achievement, namely de-emphasis of sex. Moralists have spoken sharply in the past about accentuation of curves, calves, etc., but without avail. Now designers, with this new look, have condemned the 1948 form to be about as sexy as a sad-debag.

GOP Tax Cut Due For Rough Time

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Republicans start trying to ram through Congress a 1948 income tax cut for you.

Don't get excited. This is just the start. The road is full of bumps before you get a tax cut, if you get one.

This is the Republican plan, starting out:

1. Cut taxes in such a way that 7,000,000 people who have had to pay 1947 taxes won't have to pay any in 1948. They're the lowest income people.
2. Do this by cutting taxes from 100 percent for the lowest income group to 10 percent for the richest people.
3. Do it by cutting taxes a total of $8,300,000,000.

That's a lot of money to take away from the government when it has big expenses to pay. So any tax cut that finally comes through Congress probably will be less than $6,300,000,000.

And President Truman is pretty sure to try to kill with a veto the Republicans' kind of tax-cut bill.

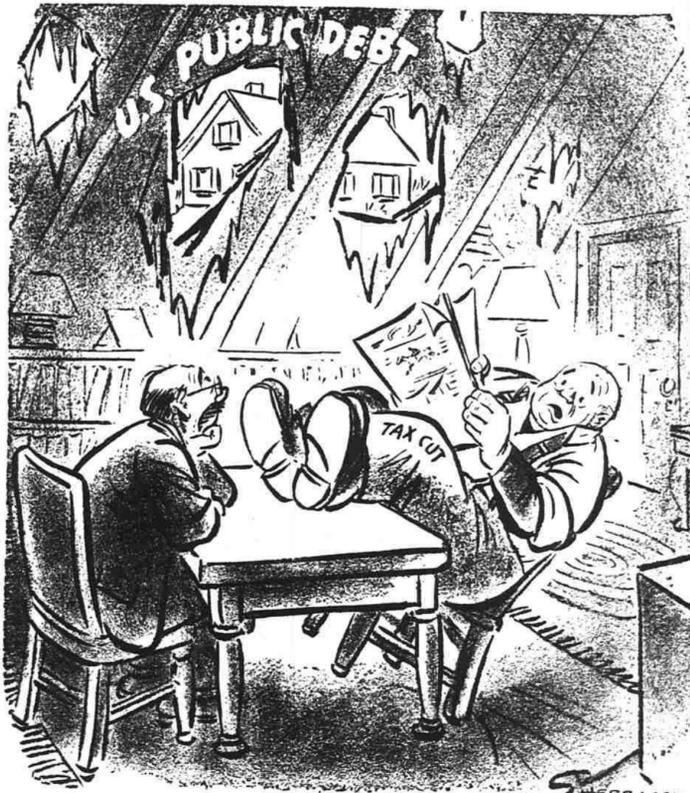

And it will stay killed unless the Republicans in Congress can get a bunch of Democrats to vote with them to override the veto.

Why is Mr. Truman against the Republicans' idea of a tax cut?

Because any bill they put through will mean that much money lost to the government.

Mr. Truman, too, wants income taxes cut. But he wants any money lost to the government that way made up by raising corporation taxes.

Truman Favors Army Over Navy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—For thirteen long years under Franklin Roosevelt the Navy had the inner track at the White House. Now, under ex-captain Harry Truman, former commander of Battery D, 129th field artillery, the situation is reversed.

Political reports from various parts of the country indicate that Truman's loyalty to his personal doctor, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, will cost him perhaps a million votes. The public seems to resent the fact that Graham, sitting at the right hand of the President, speculated in the grain market, even more than they resent the speculation of Ed Pauley, who wasn't so close to the President. Nevertheless, Truman remains loyal to the Army doctor.

Meanwhile, almost unnoticed by the public is the fact that Rear Adm. James Foskett has left the White House for "sea duty." Admiral Foskett is the President's former naval aide. Actually the reason for his exit is not necessarily for going to sea, but the fact that he had a row with the Army—the Army in this case represented by Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan.

General Vaughan, a former manufacturer's representative in St. Louis, who used to train with Truman in the Missouri National Guard, has got the President into all sorts of personal pickles. But despite that fact, he continues to be one of the most influential White House hangers-on.

EX-CONGRESSMAN JONES

It looks as if Ex-Congressman Robert Jones of Ohio wanted to have his cake and eat it too. Though now a member of the highly important Federal Communications Commission, Jones went back to Congress last week to help lobby through a piece of legislation which is God's gift to the power companies and also strikes a body blow at western irrigation.

When Jones was first appointed to the FCC last summer, he continued to sit in Congress in order to finish his work on the appropriations for western irrigation, power and reclamation. One of Jones' pet schemes was to juggle interest repayments on western reclamation so as to help the private power companies.

Last week this same issue came up for debate in the House of Representatives after a compromise had been worked out by GOP Congressman Dick Welch of San Francisco and unanimously approved by the Public Lands and Surveys committee.

But old guard Republicans, backed by a powerful private-utilities lobby, opposed the compromise. For some time the debate seasawed back and forth. On every vote the power lobby lost. Finally, Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana, sympathetic to the power lobby, moved adjournment.

That night, the power-lobby boys took advantage of the lull. They rallied their forces and had all their congressmen on deck when debate opened next day. Also on deck was Ex-Congressman Robert Jones of Ohio who for years had fought the power-lobby battle on the appropriations committee, but now is supposed to be spending all his time on the Federal Communications Commission.

Jones appeared on the floor of the House and held whispered consultations with key congressmen.

In the end, he got his way. The power lobby, defeated the day before, rallied enough votes to send the compromise reclamation bill back to committee.

Jones and his power-lobby friends were so strong that the reclamation program was set back even to the year 1902, at which time Teddy Roosevelt first started in earnest the water development of the West.

Palestine's Future—Max Harrelson

Arabs Prepare To Resist Partition

(This is the second article in a series of five on the Palestine problem—Ed.)

As the United Nations starts to oversee the partition of Palestine, the Arabs are prepared to resist with every weapon they have.

This has been made clear by numerous recent developments such as the Arab country leaders calling on all Arabs "to be prepared for the struggle." It is safe to assume that Arab leaders will not hesitate to increase the spilling of blood to prevent carving up of the Holy Land.

A prominent part was played in the Arab deliberations by Haj Amin El Husseini, exiled mufti of Jerusalem who is noted as an advocate of extreme means to attain his objectives.

The mufti and his followers not only hold complete control of the Arab higher committee, principal Arab organization inside Palestine; they also have the firm backing of the Arab country governments which surround the Holy Land.

Only a few days ago, one high Arab leader in Palestine warned that the U. N.'s newly created five-member Palestine commission faced the possibility of assassination if they entered Arab-controlled areas of the Holy Land.

Any physical harm to a member of the commission or even to a member of the U. N. staff, which will accompany this body, would undoubtedly confront the U. N. with one of the gravest problems in its history.

No provisions have been made, however, to provide protection of any kind for the commission after the withdrawal of British troops, now scheduled to be completed by Aug. 1.

It will be difficult for the commission to fulfill its obligations under these conditions, but it may find that a more serious problem than the threat of violence is the threat of non-cooperation.

It has been pointed out that the U. N. has enough potential strength to overcome violence eventually. But Arab non-cooperation might even jeopardize the success of the proposed Jewish government by making it economically unsound. Most of the U. N. delegates who supported the formation of an economic union between the two projected countries was one of the prerequisites for success of the plan, since neither would be economically self-sufficient.

If the Jewish country is established without the economic union, the U. N. might have to provide for continuous economic assistance from outside the Holy Land to maintain the new government.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Chance For U. N. To Show Strength

It's mighty fortunate for the world that the dominions of India and Pakistan have been trying to arbitrate the bitter quarrel over the princely state of Kashmir in the United Nations for without the peace organization this controversy might explode into a frightful fratricidal war which would encompass all the 400 millions of the Indian sub-continent—and it's doubtful if such a conflict could be prevented from becoming global.

If this case can be kept within the framework of the United Nations, it is likely to give a fine test of the efficacy of that organization. Thus far India and Pakistan have displayed good faith and wisdom in working through the U. N. and tacitly recognizing that the controversy is so complicated and full of dynamite that they could scarcely be expected to settle it between themselves.

The trouble grew out of the formation of the independent dominions last summer.

At that time Kashmir, and the other hundreds of native states, were given the privilege of joining either dominion or being independent. The Hindu Maharajah of Kashmir, Hari Singh, decided to remain free, but he didn't reckon with the fact that 77 per cent of his subjects were Moslems. From the neighboring territory of Pakistan, Pathan tribesmen, who also are Moslems, swarmed into the state with the idea of joining it to Pakistan. There was savage bloodshed and destruction. The maharajah promptly cast his lot with Hindu India and asked for protective troops, which were sent. That's where the matter stands now, with constant danger of open warfare breaking out between Pakistan and India.

The U. N. security council has created a three-nation commission to study the whole situation and mediate the quarrel. Judging by the discussions already held, this mediation would involve a stoppage of the fighting in Kashmir, withdrawal of all troops, and establishment of an impartial interim administration after which a plebiscite would be held to let the people decide Kashmir's future status.

Your correspondent believes that the U. N. will find that it cannot depend on any plebiscite for a decision but that disposition of the case will have to be made by the two dominions and the Kashmir government, acting within the framework of the peace organization.

Only 6.6 per cent of the people are literate, and that right now they would be wholly incapable of rendering a verdict regarding their country in a plebiscite.

Much of his life he has been giving away his vast fortune. He has suggested that giving it away effectively may be harder than making it. An ardent Baptist, he has urged liberal Christian unity.

Greatest Vegetarian

NEW YORK (AP)—A genie is a big-muscled spook who steps out of a smoke cloud and says, "Did you call room service?"

He will then grant you any wish. Suppose one of these fugitives from Aladdin's lamp came to you some moonlit midnight and said:

"I give you the power to confer eternal life on any one person in the world."

Who would you choose? I'd pick the greatest vegetarian of them all—George Bernard Shaw, the red-haired Irishman who began his career looking like a carrot and has been whitened by the years to the semblance of a streamlined cauldron.

Why? Well, to begin with I wouldn't want it myself. The average man's yearning for earthly immortality wears out as his experience with the world increases, monkey glands and social security benefits notwithstanding.

For that reason I wouldn't wish it on Professor Einstein or some other great human landmark. Not unless I was sure he wanted it. Nor would I have the heart to inflict it as a curse on my worst enemy. Who's that mad at anybody?

Although Shaw is a self-professed physical coward, his life had been one of endless battles, most of which he picked himself—and he still has a lance for every windmill, whether it's steak-eating or vivisection, both of which he's agin.

A Barnum of the highbrows, no man ever praised himself harder and few ever lived up to their own estimate more. He did not actually say he was a better dramatist than Shakespeare—He just rewrote Shakespeare to show how he could be improved.

Puckish—and Elfin as even this acidulous Santa Claus, having outlived two generations of critics, is composing another drama in his ninety-second year.

He is currently Broadway's highest paid dramatist. His "man and Superman" revival is out-drawing that upstart Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra" by $7,000 a week—and Shakespeare is being upheld by Katherine Cornell.

He has another old play on the boards in London, and a second production in rehearsal here.

Time, misfortune, ignominy and fame, hatred and acclaim—all have failed to dent the splendid armor of this emperor of jesters. Who else alive has entertained the world more, enjoyed living better, or kept his faith—for all his idiosyncrasies—unshaken for so long?

Who else could get more fun out of eternal life and teach us more, than Bernie?—He who once said with a profundity above the implied egotism:

"You should live so that when you die God is in your debt."

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Henreid Taking Chance

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—At a time when most film stars are hunting for social and career security, Paul Henreid is climbing out on a limb with his own production.

The actor is producing "Hollow Triumph" at Eagle-Lion, and I mean producing. He is not the swivel-headed type of producer-star who assumes the post for reasons other than artistic. A serious-minded gent, he is making his own decisions. When I found him in his office, he was up to his thighs in problems.

One of his main concerns is protecting the script from attacks by the Johnston office and Eagle-Lion higher-ups.

"This is the story of an outlaw who commits a series of crimes because he is naturally bad," Henreid related. "They want us to include some justification for his actions, but there can be none. He is driven to crime by his warped personality."

The actor is aiming to turn out an adult drama, he declared.

"The tendency today is to cut or dilute a strong story to make it suitable for both adults and children. Producers are forced by censors to omit or water down episodes in which sex, crime or unhealthy emotions are strongly portrayed. Thus, the public has to go to books and plays for realistic drama."

Bogart and Bacall plan to race their boat from San Pedro to Ensenada, Mexico, in March. . . Jim Davis, Betty Davis' new costar, nixed Warners and strangely enough, wasn't put on suspension. Maybe it was his attitude: "If they don't like it, I can always go back to the all business."

"To the Ends of the Earth" (Col) carries the semi-documentary technique of adventure yarn to a world-wide stage. A believable cast headed by Dick Powell makes the story (an international chase after a narcotics ring) a thrilling event.

Plan Is Completed For Findley Farm

A complete coordinated conservation plan was completed on Mrs. R. I. Findley's farm, located one mile west and three miles north from Elbow, last week.

The plan will include a three year crop rotation of cotton, grain sorghum, and a legume which will take nitrogen from the air and fix it in the soil as well as adding needed organic matter to the soil. Terracing and contour farming will be included in the plan. The Soil Conservation Service personnel assisted Mrs. Findley with completing her plan.

A. M. Anderson started construction of 6 miles of terraces on his farm two miles south and four miles east of Vealmoor last week as a part of his complete conservation program.

To aid in carrying out his range conservation plan, W. L. Wilson is planning to construct a stock pond on his ranch located in the County Line Ranch conservation group. The pond will provide better distribution of water and grazing for his livestock.

Terrace lines were run last week on Alice McGregor's farm, located 1/2 mile south of Coahoma. Terrace construction, a part of her soil and water program, will begin as soon as heavy equipment is available.

Gordon Stone, a district supervisor in Zone 5, is grubbing about 250 acres of heavy mesquite to put into cultivation on his ranch west of Lomax. Stone is also interested in developing small fields in each pasture to provide temporary pastures of sudan and small grain for use in connection with his livestock management plans.

W. L. Wilson, district cooperater in the County Line Ranch conservation group, is planning to seed two acres of Madrid clover. Wilson will inoculate the seed with "Nitrogen A" to insure bacterial action on the roots of the clover. Royce Johnson, H. G. Talbot, W. H. Haney and Mrs. R. I. Findley are other district cooperators who plan to seed sweet clover this spring.

Clearing of 375 acres of heavy mesquite has been completed on Nell E. Frazier's land west of Big Spring. The land will be put into cropland.

"Since moisture conditions are good for plowing, now is the time for farmers to maintain their terraces," says Willis Winters, district cooperater with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District. Winters is maintaining his terraces with a whirlwind. This will keep the terraces the proper height and add width which will make them easier to farm. The terraces can be maintained by plowing to them with a breaking plow, disc, or blade, but it is necessary that terraces be maintained," Winters added.

Mrs. Tucker's HOME MAKING HELPS

We've been asked to eat a slice of bread less each day, but the program is defeated if we throw away the last of the loaf or biscuits. Here are a few suggestions for utilizing every precious crumb.

BREAD SLICE PUDDING
Here's an unusual bread pudding we think you'll like!

6 slices stale bread
3 tablespoons MEADOLAKE MARGARINE
2 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Spread bread with softened MEADOLAKE MARGARINE. Place in lightly oiled baking dish. Make custard by beating sugar into eggs, adding sugar, then scalded milk gradually. Add vanilla and pour over bread. Bake in a pan of water in a moderate oven (325 degrees) about 35 to 40 minutes or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean.
