Temperatures Drop From 100 Into The 70's

Cooler Weather Promised That Section For The Next Few Days

GRAIN PRICES DROP ON NEWS OF RAINS

Rainfall Brings Welcome Cut In Mortality Rate After 4,500 Deaths

CHICAGO, July 18. (AP)—Cool showers killed the heat wave today in the land where it killed the most people.

After 15 days around the 100 degree mark, temperatures slid to the 70's in sections of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin—states where 1,500 lives were lost—and promised to remain more bearable for three or four days while much of the farm belt was cooled.

Grain prices slumped with the mercury in response to the rains' reviving effect on the corn crop. Corn went down four cents on the board of trade after booming 20 cents in a month long drought market.

Death Rate Slackens The widespread showers, which fell as far south as Central Illinois, brought a welcome cut in the heat's mortality rate, which had accounted for almost 4,500 deaths.

The rains came as a surprise to Weatherman J. R. Lloyd, who explained: "Weather signs yesterday pointed to a hot week end, but a low pressure area from the Dakotas moved in unexpectedly."

Not only was the heat spell broken in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin—but Lloyd said the "worst probably was over" in North Dakota, where human

by Joe Pickle

While the middle west sweltered under an unbroken heat wave last week, this immediate area was warming under a hot political campaign which today has only five more working days before the first democratic primary.

Biggest political show of the current season occurred here Friday evening when the veteran Senator Sheppard brought his campaign for re-election to voters of this section.

Financial reports from county and city showed both of those local governmental units to be in sound condition. The city's general fund had a cash balance of $88,000 while the total balance for the county was $23,000, something like $7,000 above the figure for the same time a year ago.

When the city commission voted to table the ordinance licensing automobile wrecking yards up for a third reading, there was a very good reason. They were advised by good legal minds that the law would not stand a court test, and probably would be thrown out as discriminatory legislation.

Senator Reviews His Record; Praises The New Deal

Morris Sheppard, dean of both houses of congress and senior senator from Texas, brought his campaign for re-election to the United States senate to a large crowd of West Texans assembled here from 14 counties Friday evening.

Although the veteran senator reviewed his record and called attention to his position of influence in the halls of congress by virtue of his seniority and outlined his six-point program for re-election, he concerned himself largely with a staunch, analytical defense of the new deal.

Senator Sheppard brought cheers from the crowd at the very outset when he declared that "I have given steadfast support to Franklin Delano Roosevelt and the new deal." Throughout his hour and a half address, there was never a time when he mentioned the name of the president that he did not provoke applause.

Introduced by Rountree E. Reagan, life-long friend of the senator, and who was in charge of arrangements for the rally, introduced Carl Rountree, Lamesa attorney, who in turn presented Senator Sheppard. Rountree lauded the work of the senator, said that he had been voting for him since he attained majority, and predicted his nomination by an overwhelming majority in the first democratic primary July 25.

Committee Assignments Drawn by the senator are a number vitally affecting the interest of Texas, including: Commerce committee, dealing with foreign trade and merchant marine as well as many domestic products, including cotton, cattle, corn, wheat, citrus fruits, and poultry; chairman of the flood control and bridge subcommittees of the commerce committee; member of the rivers and harbors subcommittee; ranking democratic member of the senate military affairs committee, taking a leading part in developing the national defense; ranking majority member of the committee on irrigation and reclamation; ranking member of the committee on manufacture.

His seniority has earned him a place on the democratic steering committee in the upper house, he pointed out, and gives him a place of high counsel in the congress of the nation.

He mentioned a few measures which he piloted through to enactment and which have proven of benefit to Texas, among them these: A measure which resulted in the West Point of the air being located in Texas, addition of 20 chaplains to the U. S. army, an act establishing a cattle marketing news agency, an act permitting the diversion of care to other than original points of destination when changes in market conditions show such diversion to be desirable, an act extending the redemptive privilege by the federal reserve banks to shippers of non-perishable staples of both farm and factory to domestic and foreign markets, a measure which resulted in the exploration of potash beds in West Texas and New Mexico, an act providing for permanent federal aid for extermination of predatory animals in the sheep and goat regions of Texas, an act promoting cottonseed breeding, investigation of Texas forest conditions, a measure for

Fee Revenue Is Far Below Salary Cost

Collections For Six Months Over $10,000, Against $17,000 Outgo

COMPARISONS WITH LAST YEAR DIFFICULT

No State Fees Coming In Under Present Plan Of Paying Officials

Fee collections by county officers, on a straight salary this year for the first time, are running far behind expenditures for salary purposes.

During the first six months of the year, six county officials contributed a total of $10,861.48 to the officers salary fund. For the same period, they drew out $17,807.81 in salaries. The latter figure does not include salaries paid to any county employes other than officials and their associates.

Outgo Twice Income

While it is difficult to arrive at any fair basis of comparison with last year when officers derived their pay from the fee system plus ex officio allowances, it is very evident at the end of the six months period that the outgo is likely to almost double the income for the salary fund from the various offices.

Under the fee system, the offices were benefitted by state fees. This year, under the salary system, state fees are no more and in their stead is a possible state payment in any amount up to 14 cents per capita for the county. However, the state has sent only one warrant for that purpose and it has not yet become payable.

Added Expenses

Fee reports were made last year on an annual basis and afford little accurate basis for comparison on a six-month period. Nevertheless, last year two offices had to return sizeable excess fees above their incomes. Nothing like that could happen with collections as they have been thus far during 1936.

Beside salary requirements, the top seven county offices incurred an added expense of $2,400 for the half year period as shown by their monthly expense accounts. Largest single item by far is jail expense.

Comparative figures on amounts paid into the salary fund by officers and salaries paid out for the first half of the year follow:

Oil Taxes At Record High

State's Revenue On Production For May Over 774 Thousand

AUSTIN, July 18. (UP)—Taxes paid for May production of crude oil exceeded all previous monthly records, State Comptroller George Sheppard announced here today. Total was $774,496.02. It exceeded April by $18,537.48.

Tax was paid on 35,972,223 barrels produced in May and also on 23,279 barrels of previous production. Payment was on 14,518 barrels more than the production reported to the state railroad commission, Sheppard said. He considered the variance of less than a third of a barrel per well for a month an indication of close approach to accurate accounting.

Higher price as well as increased production boosted the tax payment. The minimum tax of two cents a barrel was paid on 12,513,593 barrels. The minimum is payable on oil selling at 11 or less. Operators obtained an average price of $1.13 a barrel on 23,445,240 barrels.

On oil sold above a dollar the tax is two per cent rather than two cents.

Mrs. Arthur Woodall and daughter, Miss Wynell, left Saturday evening for Marfa where they will spend three weeks with Mrs. Woodall's sister.

Candidates Head Down Home Stretch In Races To Be Decided Saturday

Abilene Man To Speak Thursday At Alred Rally; Local Aspirants Talk Friday

With more than six months of spasmodic campaigning behind them, 54 candidates for county office were pointing today for a feverish race down the home stretch in a desperate effort to ease under the wire ahead of the field Saturday when the first democratic primary will be held.

In every race where more than two candidates are listed, run-off contests were predicted by political observers, and in three races where there are only two opposing candidates, slight margins of difference are anticipated.

King Will Be Asked To Give Up Strolls Through Streets

LONDON, July 18. (AP)—Scotland Yard officials torn between a desire to please their sovereign and their duty to protect him, decided today King Edward would have to be induced to change his habits.

An authoritative source, reflecting public anxiety over the attempt to assassinate the king Thursday, indicated pressure would be brought to induce the king to give up his strolls on the streets.

Instead of being able to mingle with his subjects, Edward probably will be forced to travel about London in an automobile as his father, the late King George, always did.

George Andrew McMahon who disturbed the empire with his attempt against the king on Constitution Hill, was questioned again.

It is understood he stuck to his story that he never intended to shoot the king but that he threw his revolver at "a protest."

Fort Worth Centennial Show Opens

5,000 On Hand For Ceremonies; Old West Is Brought To Life

FORT WORTH, July 18. (AP)—Shrieking Indians and yipping cowboys blazed away with their "shootin' irons" today as President Roosevelt pushed a button aboard his fishing vessel off the coast of Nova Scotia and threw open Texas Frontier Centennial.

The impetus set in motion by the president and transmitted by wireless and telegraph to the exposition gates clipped a lariat-ribbon to let in the crowd of about 5,000 early arrivals.

Down the "Sunset Trail" the pioneer cowtown street lined with raw, unpainted buildings the crowd drifted to the array of shows conceived by Billy Rose—Casa Mana, Jumbo, and the Last Frontier.

Sally Rand's "made ranch" and several other attractions swelled the assortment of amusement features.

A battered stagecoach, one of the original Wells-Fargo coaches used in journeys across the Plains, was rushed down the Sunset Trail with the notables present for the opening.

Gov. Jas. V. Allred, Amos G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher and principal supporter of the show, Senator Tom Connally, Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, William McCraw, attorney-general, and others rode the stage as it careened through the twisting thoroughfare.

Mrs. Riggie received a fractured wrist and shoulder, while Mr. Riggie received several facial lacerations. They were confined at the hospital late Saturday.

STIRRING SPEECHES MADE BY LEADERS

Norman Thomas Says He Cannot Support $200 Payment Scheme

CLEVELAND, July 18. (AP)—In a Townsend convention that already had pledged itself not to endorse any party or candidates, Norman Thomas late today brought an appeal for the principles of the socialist party which he heads.

Thomas appeared before thousands of delegates who were still in the midst of a camp meeting enthusiasm to which they had been stirred by calls to rally round their leader—Dr. Francis E. Townsend—in a fight against a suit that seeks an accounting of the organization's funds and ousting of Townsend.

Smiths "Make Up" By the hundreds, they steamed to the platform to offer contributions to a defense fund after Gerald and Gomer Smith—two of the leaders who have been at odds—had staged a reconciliation hand shaking on the platform and made stirring appeals for funds.

Thomas began by saying he thought it proper that the convention not endorse any candidate for president or vice-president. He pointed to a banner in the back.

"The Townsend goal, training for youth, work for maturity, security for age, it reads," he said. "That is our program 100 per cent."

"I'd like to ask Mr. Gerald L. K. Smith how he expects his candidate, Mr. Lemke (Representative Lemke, of North Dakota), to get on the ballot in his own state of Louisiana, with the election laws that were set up by that state's boss, the late Huey Long."

Continuing he said the state's weren't big enough to handle social legislation, but that it had to be achieved through a constitutional amendment.

"You and I both know that we live in a country where it is unnecessary to live in poverty," he continued.

"Yet, even as I stand here, I can see the hovels of the cotton land share croppers, those in the slums

Nine Die In Grade Crash

Bodies Of Victims Hurdled Into Water After Car Struck By Train

DUNDEE, Mich., July 18. (AP)—Nine members of two Pennsylvania families were killed today when their sedan was struck by an Ann Arbor passenger train shortly after they left the home where they had been visiting here.

The locomotive smashed into the automobile, dragged it 75 feet to a high trestle, and hurled the bodies of the victims 30 feet into the shallow water of the Raisin river. Wreckage of the automobile burst into flames, and ignited ties of the bridge, but the fire was quickly extinguished.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schuster, and their daughters, Vina, 19, Ann, 12, and Sandra Jean, 6 months old; and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pisano, and their daughters, Betty, 9, and Mary.

The Schusters lived in Farrell, Pa., and the Pisano family in Wheatland.

The two families had stayed overnight with Schuster's brother, Carl, who collapsed on learning of the tragedy. Mrs. Pisano and Mrs. Harry Schuster were sisters.

EFFORT TO GET OKLA. LIQUOR VOTE FAILS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 18. (AP)—The latest effort to get a prohibition repeal bill before the people of Oklahoma had failed today—with the drys disappointed.

Wets, along with the united drys organization, gave up hope for a quick vote after the state supreme court ruled 5-4 yesterday that the Henshaw initiated repeal-liquor control measure could not be submitted at the July 26 runoff preliminary election without the proclamation of Governor E. W. Marland—and he has declined to issue one.

The drys had asked for the vote, expressing confidence they could defeat the measure.

Man Is Held After Wife And Baby Are Beaten To Death

ERIE, Pa., July 18. (AP)—The wife of a Sunday school teacher and her two-year-old baby were found beaten to death today in their home and a second child was badly injured but not life.

Police detained Samuel C. Weed, the 40-year-old father and husband who was found two squares from his house, where the driver of an automobile said the man had attempted to jump in front of his car.

The dead are Mrs. Irene Weed, 33, and David Charles Weed, 4, in the hospital where Weed also was taken for treatment of injuries.

Patrolman Carl Malinowski said Weed told him he struck his wife and children. He quoted Weed as saying: "Have they gone to heaven yet. That's where I wanted to send them."

Neighbors said Weed enjoyed an excellent reputation in the neighborhood, and was a Sunday school teacher at the Nazarene mission church in Wesleyville, a suburb.

Large Crowd At Ackerly's Celebration

Barbecue Attracts 3,000; 2,000 More Attend Rodeo Program

ACKERLY, July 18. (Sp.)—The fifth annual Ackerly rodeo was concluded Friday night with a record attendance.

Saturday those in charge said they were confident that the two day affair would prove to be a financial as well as a popular success.

More than 3,000 people were given a barbecue meal Friday noon and by rodeo time at 1 p. m., approximately 2,000 additional people were on hand.

Ackerly had better luck at baseball following the rodeo and turned back Coahoma by a score of 9 to 4. Miller Harris, Big Spring, playing for Ackerly, suffered a broken ankle while sliding into second base.

Candidates Speak A large crowd attended the Friday evening dance, concluding feature of the affair.

Both days the program was opened by a candidate rally in the school house. Candidates from Dawson, Borden, Martin and Howard counties spoke briefly. Friday morning Carl Rountree, Lamesa, delivered a feature address in the interest of Jimmy Allred's candidacy for governor.

Horse races livened the rodeo show Thursday and Friday. Barbecue luncheons were served free, the rodeo association using proceeds from the rodeo and ball game to finance the gigantic meal.

Winners in rodeo competition the first day were: Calf bell—L. Davis, 18 seconds; S. G. Russell, 20.3; and Raymond Cathey, 28.2.

Cow milking—Wayne Burroughs, 22; S. G. Russell, 25.2; Bill Nix, 28. Calf roping—N. H. Pittcock, 24.2; Vic Davis, 23.2; Bill McIlvain, 22.4.

Second day results follow: Calf roping—Brown Todd, 20.2; L. Davis, 21.3; and Wayne Boyd, 23. Cow milking—Joe York, 18.3; V. Davis, 19.3; and Wayne Burroughs, 23.2.

Ships, Planes Are Rushed To Trouble Area

2 Towns Reported Bombed, Spanish Generals Are Killed

REVOLUTIONISTS CALL FOR GENERAL STRIKES

Strict Censorship Clamped Down By Government On All Sources

(By the Associated Press) Military rebels were reported in complete control of Spanish Morocco Saturday night. The leftist government in Madrid rushed naval vessels and airplanes to Spanish territory to fight for their control.

A government radio announced Ceuta and Melilla Morocco were bombed. Two generals were killed, Algerian report said, in the battle of Tetuan, capital of Spanish Morocco.

Order Strikes Monarchists were identified with the revolt as all labor groups stood solidly behind Santiago Casares Quiroga and ordered general strikes wherever the opposition attempted to seize power.

One report from Oran Algeria, said General Francisco Franco, military governor of the Canary Islands and the leader of the revolt, was captured near Tetuan.

But in Madrid where a strict censorship was clamped down it was admitted the civil governors of the Canary Islands was surrounded in his palace by rebel troops.

Travelers from the cities of Melilla, Arzila, Elkar and Larache in Morocco were the principal sources of information as strict censorship was declared on cables, telegraph and telephone lines.

Rebels Bombed Military planes bombed the rebels in their newly-won positions, the ministry of the interior at Madrid announced.

The revolt, officials at the Spanish capital asserted, was crushed shortly after its inception although conflicting reports later told of French insurrection in the North African territory.

A general strike at Larache added to the unsettled situation, travelers arriving in French Morocco from the Spanish area said. French sources gave unconfirmed reports the rebellion was spreading to Spain itself with fighting at Cadiz, Seville, Burgos and Barcelona.

Facist Movement The rebellion was characterized as a "facist movement" inspired by the kidnap-murder early this week in Madrid of Jose Calvo Sotelo, monarchist critic of the Spanish leftist government and asserted facist leader.

First reports of the revolt described the location of the outbreak as near the international bridge, 15 miles from Tangier.

Fleeing from the disorders, residents of Melilla and other towns crowded into buses en route for the French territory. Military escorts, they said, were provided by authorities in the Spanish territory but their statements did not make clear whether civilian or military officials held control.

Girl Injured In Car Mishap

Suffers Fractured Skull When Car Overturs East Of Here

Miss Mildred Beck of Marshall, remained unconscious at Big Spring hospital late Saturday after an automobile wreck sixteen miles east of Big Spring on Highway 1.

Miss Beck, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Finis Bugg, was accompanying a party of five friends to Colorado, where they planned to skate at a skating rink.

Others in the party were Pierce Humble of near Big Spring; Estelle Moore, Dorothy Bugg and Alvin Williams. None other was seriously injured, though Henry Bugg, Humble, and Miss Moore were slightly bruised and scratched.

The accident occurred on a curve just north of the overpass east of Coahoma when the car got out of control when it struck a soft shoulder, overturning several times. The injured were brought to Big Spring hospital. All were dismissed except Miss Beck, who remained in a critical condition late Saturday with a fractured skull.

Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald Teamed In Film Now At The Ritz, 'San Francisco'

Earthquake Sequence Outstanding In Dramatic Story

A new romantic team is brought to the screen in M-G-M's "San Francisco," the Ritz theater's attraction for the first of the week. The week's schedule is being changed to permit a three-day showing of the drama, hailed as one of the season's best, and it will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

For the first time, Clark Gable, in one of his two-fisted roles, and lovely Jeanette MacDonald are brought together, with Spencer Tracy sharing stellar honors.

"San Francisco" has drama, love interest and spectacle, with emphasis on the latter, since the film climaxes with scenes of the great San Francisco fire and earthquake—scenes that have been universally described by reviewers as the best ever made in the movies.

The story of the Barbary Coast of 30 years ago, opening with New Year's Eve, 1906, and continuing through the great catastrophe. Gable is the boss of one of the most popular resorts on the Barbary Coast. Miss MacDonald is the small-town girl who wanders into his dance hall, filled with ambition to become a great singer. Beginning her career in Gable's place, she succeeds in rising to operatic heights, but returns to Gable when the two realize their love for each other.

Gable is seen in the burly type characterization with which he first won popularity. Miss MacDonald, singing songs that range from simple ballads to operatic arias again demonstrates she is one of the screen's top ranking vocal artists.

The real surprise of the picture, however, is the strikingly different portrayal of Tracy, who abandons his usual tough roles to contribute a portrait of a priest. As a cleric, his befriended Miss MacDonald, helps her to gain a place in opera, and contributes to the eventual happiness she finds with Gable.

Jack Holt has an important part in the cast, and other players are Jesse Ralph, Ted Healy, Shirley Ross, Margaret Irving, Harold Huber, and others.

Said to be outstanding are the sequences in which the fire and earthquake are shown. Stark horror of the catastrophe is presented with realism never before attained in film production. The picture was directed by W. S. Van Dyke, recognized as one of Hollywood's ablest film supervisors.

Will Rogers Comedy Plays At The Lyric

'Steamboat Round The Bend' Here 3 Days For Return Showing

Laughter and tears, comedy and near-tragedy follow each other in quick succession and bring drama and suspense to a rousing picture of Mississippi river life, "Steamboat Round the Bend," which is at the Lyric Sunday, Monday and Tuesday for a return showing in Big Spring.

Starring the late Will Rogers, the picture, as most theatergoers know, was one of the last made by that great American humorist. It also serves to introduce on the screen Irvin S. Cobb, who now is appearing in roles similar to those with which Rogers gained fame.

There are two entertainment elements in the story. One is the laugh-filled rivalry of Rogers and Cobb, as crusty captains of competing boats, the other is the romance of Anna Shirley and John McGuire.

McGuire is a river pilot, nephew of Rogers who owns the "Claremore Queen." In a quarrel over Anna Shirley, he kills another man in self-defense. Rogers is hostile to the girl because of the trouble she has brought McGuire; but when the boy is condemned to hang, their love for him draws them together in a fight to save him.

They join in the struggle to get money for McGuire's appeal and find a missing witness who can save him. Their adventures with a wax museum are among the high points of the picture's comedy, their narrow escapes from antagonistic river folk among its thrills.

But the big thrill is saved for the last, when Rogers' boat is involved in a great race down to New Or-

Czech Official Is Centennial Guest

DALLAS, July 18. (AP)—Dr. P Soukup, president of the Czechoslovakian senate, arrived here today to head 15,000 Czechs expected to converge on the Texas Centennial central exposition tomorrow.

Dr. Soukup was an honor guest at a luncheon on the exposition grounds at noon. Two special trains were expected to bring 2,000 Czechs from Chicago, and the midwest, and 1,000 from the vicinity of West, Tex.

Employees of the Gulf Oil corporation from the entire southwest streamed through the exposition's gates today. The corporation bought 25,000 general admission tickets for the day.

Officials of the exposition looked at attendance figures and expressed hope the 2,000,000 mark would be passed during the weekend.

Capping tonight's program was the marriage of Violet Hilton, smaller half of the Siamese twins, and a dancer-musician, James Moore.

Tomorrow Clyde Engstrom will take off on the first leg of his projected Dallas-to-Paris flight.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Compton were business visitors here Friday. They are connected with the Coo Manufacturing company.

Jones Family Shown In New Adventures WITH ROGERS

"Educating Father" Title Of Domestic Comedy Billed At The Queen

The Jones family, a happy and scrappy bunch and Hollywood's hilarious incarnation of the average American family, will be seen at the Queen theater in new adventures Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"Educating Father" is the title of the film, another in a series about the Joneses; and Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Dixie Dunbar, Spring Byington, Kenneth Howell, June Carlson, George Earnest, Florence Roberts and William Mahan enact the featured roles.

As the title indicates, the picture deals with the efforts of the children to bring Dad up to date. Prouty, as Father Jones, is a well-meaning, small-town druggist who lives only to bring happiness to his wife and children—and enjoy an occasional trip for himself. Kenneth Howell, the eldest Jones boy, wants to become an aviator, but Dad insists that he become a druggist, so he can eventually take over the store.

The old man goes away on a fishing trip and the Jones lease on their store is imperiled by a chain organization. With Dad 50 miles in the woods, it seems impossible to reach him in time to handle the situation, but Kenneth commandeers a plane, flies to Dad and brings him back just in time.

The plot itself, however, isn't the chief attraction of the picture. The Jones family is a funny bunch, and represents a 60 per cent increase in air express revenue over the combined express revenue of the division's contract air lines for May, 1935, according to a report issued by the agency today. Railway Express agency's consolidation by contract of almost all of the country's air lines, in a vast air express system covering North, Central and South America, and the Philippine Islands, was effective Feb. 1, 1936.

Anne Shirley is given her first grown-up role in a romance which figures in "Steamboat Round the Bend," one of the late Will Rogers' last comedy successes, which is brought to the Lyric for a return showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

SEARCH IS PRESSED FOR MISSING VESSEL

TAMPA, Fla., July 18 (AP)—Anxious owners asked additional aid today in a search for the British motorship Nunoa, ten days overdue on a voyage from the West Indies to Tampa with 31 aboard. The 110-foot vessel left Georgetown, Grand Cayman, on July 4 and should have reached here four days later. Only enough provisions for the regular trip were carried. Coast guard amphibians flew along the southwestern Florida coast yesterday. Coast guard boats joined the search today.

R. B. Kirkconnell, one of the owners, reported from Sagua La Grande, Cuba, that he had asked the Cuban government to patrol the Yucatan channel and the Caribbean sea south of Cuba to Grand Cayman.

Captain M. I. Kirkconnell was in command with a crew of eight, and the owners said 12 passengers were aboard. Identity of the passengers was unknown here.

THIRD VICTIM OF EXPLOSION SUCCUMBS

TULSA, Okla., July 18 (AP)—A third victim died today as fire department officials and city chemists renewed their investigation of an explosion last week in the basement of a home that was being sprayed for termites.

Robert Smith, 22, was the third fatality. He was aiding Raymond Ward at the home of J. E. Thornton, who was watching the work. Both Ward and Thornton died of injuries.

Fire department officials said they had not determined cause of the explosion.

BEN DANIELS, who manages the two local junior softball leagues, is well supplied with Andersons. An Anderson is listed on the roster of every team in the circuit. He also has four Bostick boys playing in the league. On the Colorado junior team are three Grubbs and four Manns.

OLIE CORDELL and Sam Flowers say they have finally made up their minds to try Rice institute. If our information is correct they're taking everything on the strength of promises made by Coach Jimmy Kitts. Those offers quite frequently turn out to be bad. As a rule the coaches are not authorized to make deals with players, and the boys are often disappointed. Kitts may lose his job next year, and then Olie and Sam would be in a bad way unless other officials followed Kitts' program.

CITY PARK tennis players are required to put up a 25-cent deposit for the net, which is kept at the Munny golf shop.

PLAYING AT Ackerly Thursday in the first game of a series, Earl Cramer's Cochons Bulldogs defeated Andy Brown's team, 6-4.

WESTLING PROMOTERS are giving whole-hearted approval to Dutch Mantel's rating sheet on the bone-benders. It enables them to make better matches.

NOTE TO Floyd Wright, manager of the local Woolworth store, who is a great admirer of Heavyweight Wrestler Everett Marshall: The 225-pound Coloradan defeated Ernie Hefner of Sherman, 235 pounds, in 25 minutes of a one-fall match Friday night in Cincinnati.

SPIKE HENNINGER got a bad set-back Friday in his drive to build up a formidable Coden baseball team. With Harris out of the lineup for the rest of the season because of a broken ankle, Henninger has lost one of his leading sluggers.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES GET IN PRACTICE SESSIONS

BOXERS AND WRESTLERS ARE BUSIEST ATHLETES ON BOARD MANHATTAN

400-Meter Relay Team Line-Up Is Selected; Harold Smallwood, Crack Quartermiller, Shows Improvement

Associated Press Sports Editor ABOARD S.S. MANHATTAN ENROUTE TO BERLIN July 18. (AP)—Slowly but steadily the conglomeration of 382 Berlin-bound American athletes is taking on the aspect of a real Olympic team.

Aided by good weather the athletes are getting in their practice sessions. They have needed the admonitions of officials to keep the rigid training schedules laid out for them and discipline and organization in making itself felt.

Busiest of the athletes on board are the boxers and wrestlers who still have to decide two or more places on each team. Alternates can still win the regular berths in any cases it's still considered a toss-up which of two men will be the actual contestant.

The shipboard workouts are expected to settle the disputes between Heavyweights Howell Sobell of Lehigh and Roy Dunn of Oklahoma A. & M. on the mat team and between Ray Clemons of Oklahoma Central Teachers and Charles McDaniell of Indiana University in the light heavyweight division.

On the boxing team the heavyweights and middleweights may not settle their ranking until they reach Berlin.

By HENRY McLEMORE United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1938, by United Press) ABOARD THE S.S. MANHATTAN, WITH THE U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM EN ROUTE TO GERMANY, July 18 (AP)—President Avery Brundage of the American Olympic committee today called a meeting of all athletes on the American Olympic squad to plan their march past Olympic stadium August 1, before Chancellor Adolf Hitler and other high German officials.

Brundage favored something typically American, such as doffing hats and placing them over the heart.

The line-up for the 400-meter relay team was announced as follows: Frank Wykoff, Glendale, Cal.; Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette club, San Stoller, University of Michigan; and Foy Draper, University of Southern California.

They were selected on the basis of experience. Wykoff was a member of the 1928 and 1932 teams and was anchor man on the record-breaking squad at Los Angeles four years ago.

Robert Harold Smallwood, crack quarter-backer from the University of Southern California who was stricken with an attack of appendicitis on the eve of sailing, was rapidly recovering and will be retained for the 400-meter race. His condition was not serious, Dr. Graeme Hammond said, and exercise will not cause a recurrence of the attack.

Richard H. Hanna of San Francisco, member of the exhibition baseball team, was still in his cabin suffering from "flu" which was the rash will not prevent him from playing, however. Other members of the team held a brisk workout on deck.

Members of the sky-scraping basketball team were forced to shift their training quarters from the sun deck to more spacious sections when several players barely escaped head injuries on the lower hanging beams. Joe Fortenberry of Oklahoma and Frank Lubin of Hollywood, two tallest men on the team, led the movement for bigger and better basketball courts.

The Washington crew men who suffered seasickness the "day out, took up their chores after a calm night.

Unless the Manhattan docks at Hamburg early enough next Thursday to allow the team to reach Berlin before dark, the athletes will remain in Hamburg overnight and leave for Berlin on Friday.

PITTSBURGH, July 18 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the steady pitching of Watson Clark, jumped on Red Lucas, Mace Brown and Bill Swift to edge out the Pittsburgh Pirates here Saturday, 6-5.

The Dodgers combed the offerings of the trio for 17 safe hits, but a three-run rally in the ninth frame had to pull the game from the fire.

Youngsters In Western Golf Tourney Final

Paul Leslie, Of Louisiana State, To Play Bob Fraser Of Omaha

OMAHA, July 18 (AP)—Two members of a rising generation of tournament golfers, Paul Leslie, 20-year-old Louisiana state university student from Jefferson City, Mo., and 21-year-old Bob Fraser of Omaha will battle it out Sunday over the Happy Hollow club course for the Western Amateur championship.

Leslie, winner of the Southern Intercollegiate title in 1935 and runner-up to Chuck Cokals of Michigan for the National college crown at Chicago last month, and making his third quest for western honors, reaches the final round by defeating 5 and 4 triumph over Chicago's Johnny Lehman.

Fraser, the giant-killer of the tourney, had no such easy task in conquering Grable Duvall of Kansas City, 2 and 1.

Robert Riggs Beats McNeill

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Robert Riggs, national clay court titleholder from Los Angeles, made short work of Don McNeill, Kenyon college freshman from Oklahoma City, to gain the final round of the eastern men's clay court championship today. The scores were 6-4, 6-4.

Riggs, who almost lost his semifinal game with Leonard Hartman yesterday, played a steady, fast game that had his 18-year-old opponent on the run in the first two sets. McNeill, who already has qualified for the finals of the eastern junior championships at Forest Hills, rallied in the third set, however, pulling up from 5-1 to 5-4 before Riggs took the deciding game.

Summaries: Singles, semi-final round—Robert Riggs, Los Angeles, defeated Don McNeill, Kenyon college, O., 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles, third round—Don McNeill and Morey Lewis, Kenyon college, O., won from Jack Behr, Scarborough, N. Y., and Modesto Aho, University of California, by 6-4, 6-4.

Quarter final round—Ernest Sutter, New Orleans, and Ramsay Potts, Memphis, defeated McNeill and Lewis, 6-6, 7-5.

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The final match for the eastern junior tennis championship at Forest Hills involving two Kenyon college freshmen, Morey Lewis of Texas, Ark., and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, was postponed today until tomorrow because the latter also is playing in the eastern clay court title event.

Indians Win 8th Straight

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won their eighth game in a row to keep a step ahead of Detroit in the fight for second place in the American league, defeating Washington here Saturday, 10-3.

While Lloyd Brown was pitching steadily, his mates treated Buck Newson a bit rough, getting to the big right-hander for a total of 16 base hits, including two home runs by Hal Troutak.

A five-run attack in the ninth frame on the part of the Indians clinched matters for the Ohioans.

Australia And Germany Win Cup Matches

Henkel Of Germany Defeats To Jack Crawford To Save Strength

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 18 (AP)—Australia and Germany each won one match today as the interzone final of the Davis cup eliminations opened on the Wimbledon center court.

Henkel quit to save his strength for Monday's doubles match and another singles Tuesday. During the two sets, the star obviously showed he was in bad condition.

Realizing he would have to play at a terrific pace to capture the match, Henkel decided the cause was hopeless and walked off the court to the amazement of 5,000 spectators.

DALLAS, July 18 (UP)—Operation of dog racing tracks near Dallas remained blocked today by legal action similar to that District Attorney Will Parker of Fort Worth announced today he would oppose.

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—Charging their characters had been defamed by statements that Joe Louis, negro boxer, had been "doped" prior to his fight with Max Schmeling in New York last month, Julian A. Black, Louis' manager, and John W. Roxborough, Black's agent, filed suit for $100,000 damages each today against Sheridan A. Brusseau, a negro private detective.

A story which gave Brusseau as authority for the charge Louis was "doped," printed this week in the Chicago Evening American, was the basis of the suit, Irving C. Madison, attorney for Black and Roxborough, said.

In it Brusseau was quoted as saying that a sister of Louis, Mrs. Eulalia Gaines, of Detroit, Mich., charged Louis was given a hypodermic injection in his arm before the fight.

Mrs. Gaines later denied the statement credited to her.

Week Brings Shakeup In Major Batting Turnover

Lou Gehrig and Paul Waner, The Leaders, Escape Turnover

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Another shakeup featured the major league batting races this week with only the leaders, Lou Gehrig of the Yanks and Paul Waner of the Pirates, escaping the turnover in both loops.

Gehrig found his American league lead endangered for the first time in weeks. He was unable to get more than five safe blows in 23 times at bat, to lose 13 percentage points and drop to .377, while Rip Radcliff of the White Sox came up from fourth with .375.

Waner hit at a near 500 pace, getting a dozen safeties in 28 times up to increase his lead with a .364 average. Ducky Medwick, Cardinal catcher, came back and took second place with .358.

Sarron Rules Favorite In Title Fight

Petty Must Give Away Five Years To Youthful Manuel

By FELIX E. McKNIGHT (Associated Press Sports Writer) DALLAS, July 18 (AP)—Petty Sarron, little busy-body featherweight champion who scrapped on Uncle Sam's Olympic boxing team 12 years ago, has youth and a stinging left hand to overcome in his 15-round title bout here next Wednesday night with Baby Manuel, Cuban challenger.

Now past 28 but still a human windmill in the ring, Sarron must give away five years to the youthful Manuel, a veteran of seven years in the ring himself.

Sarron ruled a favorite with the fans today, for all of his years, after wide-eyed fight faithful watched him breeze through gym workouts with the agility of a 'teen age youngster.

The champion, who lifted the crown from Freddie Miller a few months ago, showed his disrespect for underpaws three weeks back by punching Bobby Deak, hard-hitting left hander, to the floor.

Manuel, however, says he has fathomed Sarron's wild, windmill tactics since he dropped a decision to him 18 months ago at Miami and unshakingly predicts the featherweight diadom will be his after Texas' first 15-round title fight.

Sarron's professional career includes 68 fights, 14 of which he won by knockouts, 36 by decisions and seven went to his foe. He fought four draws and one no-decision bout. Manuel claims 32 knockouts, 52 decisions, nine losses and 10 draws out of 99 fights.

The Cuban, a hot Texas favorite, has a clean cut victory over Howard Scott, San Angelo youth who has burned up the east recently.

Ackerly Players Give Back Heaton Strong Support

ACKERLY, July 18 (AP)—The Ackerly Eagles gave Buck Heaton strong support and the right-hander set the Loraine Independents down with six hits to win, 10-4, Friday in a feature of the Ackerly celebrations.

The Eagles hopped on Preacher Munns' for four runs in the initial stanza when the Loraine manager gave up two hits and hit Moffett with a fast one that was all the Ackerly moundsman needed.

The visitors got to him for a run in the fifth and the final two in the ninth, but he was never in serious trouble.

Pepper Martin led the victor's batting attack with three singles.

Wealth Of Sports Styles Offered For Summer Vacationer

The sports minded ladies have a wealth of new styles to choose from for their vacation trip this year. Here are shown some of the most popular styles shown for this season's vacationer. At the upper left white suits of spun rayon suiting, tailored on trim lines are worn with colored Ascot scarfs and panamas. The bags were both inspired by the Centennial. One is of linen, printed in cattle brand design; the other is "saddle brown" patent leather. Center left is a smart summer sea suit of cotton material. The top and shorts are combined and it is made of red, white and blue printed cotton broadcloth lined with light weight wool jersey. The short beach coat is made of the same material and is lined with white toweling. Culottes, right center, have certainly come to their place in the sun. This one-piece frock is of soft gray silk shantung, designed for vacation wear. The handbags in tones of green, gray and orange is worn with it. Sun glasses, white sport shoes and socks complete the costume.

Seashore visitors will want a white sports coat much like the one shown upper right. The material is novelty basket weave. It is cut on straight and easy-fitting silhouette and finished with big patch pockets and a "post" collar. Here it is shown being worn with a blue and white striped silk sports dress and white felt hat.

WONDER OF THE WEST

(Banks, Ushaw and Co.) Owen Arnold shows Westerners how little they know about the West and makes this section of the United States one of the most intriguing of them all. Born in Henderson, Tex., Arnold is an East Texas product who went further West for his health and was so engrossed in it that material received from his traveling and study has filled four books before this issue. He is residing at present at Phoenix, Ariz., and from his glowing enthusiasm for his present surroundings one gets the impression that he is likely to stay there.

This latest edition is written primarily for children, but the style is not so simple that grownups will be unable to enjoy it.

Particularly interesting is his description of the Grand Canyon in Arizona. This amazingly beautiful canyon is vividly described and a good history of its discovery by white man is interesting. Also, colorful accounts are given of New Mexico, Montana, California, Oregon, Washington and all western states which he says are some where, or anywhere between a line, not very straightly drawn, from Minneapolis, Minn., and Fort Arthur, Tex., and the Pacific ocean.

The author is loyal to his West without belittling the East. He implies that one simply has more room to live in, in this, the over-crowded country.

Touching on every part of the West, Arnold gives glowing accounts of this territory which includes the great desert lands, the forests, the towering mountains and the large rivers. Beautiful pictures, some in natural colors, illustrate the text along with clever cartooning.

Because it is so completely natural and so full of real human feeling we are reproducing this verse from the book. It was found written on the door of an old cabin in Nevada. It typifies the sort of rhyme by many of the homesteaders, trappers, and "squatters":

Mornin' On the Desert
Mornin' on the desert and the wind is blowin' free;
And it's ours, jest for the breathin', so let's fill up you and me.

No more stuffy cities, where you have to pay to breathe,
Where the helpless human creatures move and throng and strive and seethe.

Mornin' on the desert and the air is like a wine,
It seems like all creation has been made for me and mine.
No hoarse to stop my vision, save a neighbor's far away,
And the little dove shanty that belongs to me and May.

Lonesome? Not a minute! Why I've got these mountains here,
That was put here just to please me, with their blush and frown and cheer,
They're waiting when the summer sun gets too sizzling hot,
And we just go campin' in 'em with a pan and coffee pot.

Mornin' on the desert—I can smell the sagebrush smokes, L.R.

"Sagebrush ain't so pretty?" Well, all eyes don't see the same,
Have you ever saw the moonlight turn it to a silvery flame?
And that greasewood thicket yonder—well, it smells just sweet.

When the night wind has been shakin' it, for its smell is hard to beat.
Lonesome? Well, I guess not! I've been lonesome in a town,
But I sure do love the desert with its stretches wide and brown.

All day through the sagebrush here the wind is blowin' free.
And it's ours jest for the breathin', so let's fill up you and me.

THE NEW DEAL ON CARTWHEELS

(Banks, Ushaw and Co.) James O. Cade, a lawyer, has written an account of the New Deal and its weak points and failures. He offers remedy for its cure and is in a good position to know where the administration needs remodeling. He has served as assistant counsel to the farm credit administration, sponsored by Senator Morris Sheppard and Chairman Marvin Jones, and his background is authoritative, first hand information.

The book represents the considered judgment of a man who still proclaims himself a Roosevelt democrat. He is unafraid of the epithet "socialistic" and has no quarrel with the president's ideal of a more abundant national life. In truth he largely exonerates the president personally, but believes he has been misled by his advisors and his program perverted by those to whom the program has been entrusted.

Having been published in this election year, the book should be widely read and discussed mainly for the treatment that Cade would administer. L.R.

Program For Legislature Is Discussed

Pension Revenues, Security And Agricultural Acts Probable Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, July 18—Those expecting the 81 Texas senators and 100 house members to be called to Austin in September can visualize the first five items of Governor Allred's proclamation governing the session:

- 1. Revenues to pay old-age pensions under the present assistance law.
2. Enabling act for federal benefits for dependent children.
3. Act for federal security benefits to the blind.
4. A bill to permit Texas to share in unemployment insurance.
5. Enabling statute for agricultural benefits.

The last clause will also list "and such other subjects of legislation as may be submitted to the legislature by message."
The first item on this bill unquestionably opens the entire field of taxation, whether all or any of the money is directed to pensions, because the subject of taxation can not be half-opened and restricted.

May Seek Changes
But it seems to be a close question whether, in providing for a change in the method of raising money, and in the amount of money available, whether the legislature will have opened the subject of changing terms of the act authorizing and regulating the payment of pensions.

Mexican Road Yet Lacks In Tour Comfort

Highway Rated Excellent But Lodging Facilities Inadequate Now

By WILLIAM H. LANDER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MEXICO CITY, July 18. (UP)—Motorists in the United States or Canada today can start for Mexico City, and get there in due time. Many people are doing it every day. Some start in Laredo, Tex., and cover the 763 miles to Mexico City in one long stretch of 20 to 24 hours driving. Others do it in two days and one night and some come at an even slower pace.

Before making the trip myself I'd heard scores of different versions about the road. Some who drove down were scared to drive back; others said it was just as easy as driving from New York to Miami. I started out from Laredo the day the highway was inaugurated—and I found that the Mexican government had been true to its word in every respect.

Mexican officials had said that they would refuse officially to open the road until it could be traveled without difficulty. That is exactly what has happened. For months they were besieged with suggestions that they go ahead and open it—but they awaited the smoothing out of the last difficult curve, the termination of the last bridge, and then inaugurated it on July 1.

Some Undergoes Change
The thousands who traversed it before July 1 today will find that their description of the road may be as honest as can be, but is just out of date.

I came over the road in a small car, and it climbed from sea-level to above 8,000 feet in high gear. machinery has not been submitted, the legislative month of work will be greatly simplified, because at this stage there will be efforts to liberalize the act; and there also will be efforts to restrict it still more.

Especially will there be a fight to turn over the relief program to local political units—county governments—and to abolish the state case-workers, reviewers and direct administration of the pension act. The new session will seat two incoming senators: E. Harold Beck of Texas and R. C. Welner of Seguin, who were named in special elections to succeed Sen. Will Beck of the Texas and Sen. W. K. Hopkins of the Guadalupe district, both resigned.

On some stretches a speed of 80 miles an hour was attained. However, the speed limit is 80 kilometers (50 miles).
Despite the wonderful road Mexico is not yet shouting "Motor down to Mexico." On the other hand, it does not say, "Don't come."

High Mexican officials have explained their position like this: "We opened the road, because it was completed. We know that there are not adequate lodging facilities en route for big caravans to find room for everybody. But we do expect that the construction of hotels, tourist-courts and camps will be hastened when people in that line of business see how many motorists are driving down. We're going to do our best to make every one comfortable."

Formerly, the question of the condition of the road was paramount in planning an auto tour to Mexico City. That no longer is a problem. Today a motorist does, however, still have to think about lodging, food, the climate and the altitude.
Chance Plays Part
As for the trip from Laredo to Mexico City, the element of chance plays a big part.

A motorist might encounter unusually hot weather in the low stretches, find all the lodging places full, run into rain or fog in the mountain section and not see the views, and have a miserable time generally.
On the other hand, a person might run into good weather, clear horizons, enjoy the food, and have a trip such as would be hard to find anywhere in America.

I found the stretch from Laredo to Monterrey (145 miles) hot and monotonous. There's one stretch of 47 miles that's a straight line. The road is perfect. The city of Monterrey is a gem. It is beautiful, has interesting sights. It's the cleanest city in Mexico. It has much better hotel accommodations than Mexico City.

Between Monterrey and Mexico City there is not a city. The railroad between these two points passes through Saltillo, San Luis Potosi, and Queretaro—but the highway was built through virgin country. In some villages near the road the Indians are beginning to learn to speak Spanish.

There are many little places where lodging may be obtained. At Valles there are some big tourist courts under construction. Villa Juarez is a big boom town. There is a hotel with 40 rooms and 40 shower baths and other small ones. This town grew due to the building of a big sugar mill and the completion of an irrigation project.
When I made the trip, I found comfortable beds and good food, but slept little because of the heat. After leaving Tamauchale however, the heat no longer is a problem. The ascent is fast although the grades are so well compensated that a car can do it all in high gear.

Probably no road in the world of this length has so few cross-roads, so few grade crossings. Half of it is in low, hot country; half in beautiful mountains, some above 8,000 feet.
The road is as safe as any. Careless drivers here, as anywhere else, may run into trouble. The road is wide enough to keep to the right at all times, and not run the risk of bumping into somebody coming the other way on the curves.

Contrary to what has been published, there are no detours, no rivers to be ferried, no sections blocked by landslides.

Nebraska Has Fund Surplus Of 21 Million

State Boasts Lowest Tax Levy; No Sales Or Income Assessment

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18. (UP)—Debtless Nebraska offers an example of thrift to the nation. The state closed books at the end of the fiscal year with $21,621,980 in cash and gilt-edged investments, an increase of $93,273 over the previous year. The increase in the cash account was more than $1,000,000.

Treasurer George Hall attributed this showing to better collections of taxes, particularly among farmers who have been benefiting from a rising market.
Facts already widely known about Nebraska's state government are:
No bonded indebtedness or any other kind of indebtedness.
No income tax and no general sales tax. There is a five-cent gasoline tax.

The lowest tax levy for state purposes in America.
Lower general property taxes for all purposes, state, county, municipal and schools, than neighboring states that have many of the newer forms of taxes.
A new capital, built at a cost of $10,000,000 and paid for when completed.

The fourth largest state university in point of enrollment.
Better tax collections, coupled with reduced appropriations by the last legislature, enabled Nebraska to increase its cash balance during the past year. Reason for the state's debtless status is its constitution which limits the amount of bonded indebtedness to $90,000.

Tax Increase Fought
Taxpayers' leagues, newspapers, farm organizations and other groups successfully have resisted attempts to introduce a general sales tax or an income tax. The result is that both major parties are committed to a policy of "no new taxes."

The only alternative is rigid economy. The appropriation for maintenance of Gov. R. L. Cochran's office is a little more than half of that set aside by the Kansas legislature for Gov. Alf M. Landon's staff.

Nebraska's state institutions are not supported as well as those of neighboring states. Certain it is that when the unicameral legislature, a Nebraska innovation in government, convenes in January, 1927, there will be movement to boost appropriations for the state university with an enrollment of more than 10,000.

FULL STEAM AHEAD

The Texas Centennial celebrations are more completely rounded out now, after the Saturday opening of the Frontier attractions at Fort Worth with suitable fanfare.

Fort Worth's million-and-a-half dollar pageant is, in its own fashion, the equal of the spectacle at Dallas.

There are entertainment features at the central exposition, too, but admittedly none on the giant scale of those offered by the New York showman, Billy Rose, and his associates who are staging the Frontier Centennial.

It will be possible for Texans, and residents of other states to "do" both shows without missing a thing.

As the Dallas News pointed out the other day, the trumped-up rivalry between the two cities is largely a press agent's dream.

The additional publicity gained by Texas through the Frontier show should serve to stimulate the travel trend toward Texas.

WASHINGTON—A New York columnist in Washington: Mary Dougherty, Guy Tugwell's secretary, is an Ohio girl who used to write sob stuff for the New York papers.

A favorite gathering place after dark for columnists is the promenade lobby of the Mayflower, which is the recognized stamping ground of both parties.

The Catfish Row of the town is Haynes Point on the Potomac. On almost any afternoon you'll find dozens of Negroes fishing there.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The treasury is not shouting it from the house tops, but the corporation surplus tax law recently passed by congress already is causing a lot of headaches.

Every new tax measure invariably produces a flood of controversial cases and appeals.

One of the main preoccupations of Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering has been to reduce the number of cases taken to the appeals board.

As a result of heroic efforts he has succeeded, during his three years in office, in settling 21,457 cases pending before the board.

Government experts once recommended that tax appeals be required to post heavy bonds.

The Bar: Morris Ernst, prominent New York attorney, was putting on a skit at the annual dinner of the New York Bar association.

Disagreement: Some of the senate progressives are grouching behind the scenes about the national conference of liberals recently announced by Sen. Bob La Follette.

It was also pointed out that neither Senators Borah nor Hiram Johnson could be counted on to be present, and this too would discount the importance of the meeting.

He offered to assume personal responsibility for issuing the call, and on that basis did so.

Walsh-Healey Act: Hundreds of firms doing business with Uncle Sam are due for a rude shock October when Secretary Frances Perkins begins enforcement of the Walsh-Healey act.

President Roosevelt recommended the legislation immediately after the supreme court wiped out the NIRA, but it languished in the house judiciary committee until the closing hours of the recent session.

At that time, opinions varied widely on the effects of the bill. Even its sponsors were in the dark regarding its results.

Potent Medicine: But now a confidential check has been made by the labor department, and it reveals that the new law is very potent medicine, indeed.

The labor department estimates that government contracts now number around 500,000 annually, involving the huge total of $2,000,000,000.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

Chapter Seven

"RIGHT OF THE BITE—" "On the night of the eighteenth I was doing a round over Nycton way. I got back here about half past eight I should think, with nothing to report. After about an hour there was a knock at the door, like somebody in a hurry. When I opened it there was Mr. Lumsdale (here the sergeant consulted his note book more exactly) "Come up to the Court quick," he said, "somebody's done the old man in."

"I put my helmet on and went along with him to Erdertown Court and there I found the body of the dead man. I—"

"Half a minute, half a minute, time miser?" "Pretty genuine sir. He had his two dogs destroyed a few years back because he wouldn't go on paying the license; and he was always the last man in the village to pay his taxes though they aren't hard to summons him because he was a J. P., though he never sat on the bench."

"Was he popular?" "Very much the reverse sir. Very few people had a good word for him. He never spent a penny more than he could help, didn't drink or smoke and never known to give anything away in his life."

"Why are we worrying about the death of this unsavory human?" the Inspector asked.

"I found the body of the dead man."

Cut out the story for a bit and let's get some of the people straightened out. Who is the dead man?" "Mr. Arthur Burdett sir, he is, or was perhaps I should say."

"Maybe he still is. What about Arthur Burdett?" "He was what you may call the squire of the village sir."

"Lived in style?" "No. Lived in misery sir, with just one man servant to do everything for him, and more than half of the big house shut up."

"No money I suppose?" "Plenty from all accounts, but Arthur Burdett was a miser."

"That's interesting. A real gen-

James White laughed. "Well, sir, I don't know about you," he answered. "I'm concerned in it because it's my duty and that's all."

Kingsley Hyton sighed. "A miser of the old school, loved by none, disliked by all, in murdered? Who did it? Is that the problem?"

"That's about it sir."

"Was Burdett married?" "No."

"Nobody else in the house but this one man servant?" "Andrew Lumsdale."

"What sort is Mr. Andrew Lumsdale?" "Rum sort of chap sir. Very reserved. Difficult to get to the bottom of him. About forty I should say, and very powerful by the look of him. He's a foreigner in these parts, comes from Cheshire or some such place, and I don't think people here have taken so kindly to him."

"Um. Did Burdett have any relatives round about?" "The only one I've ever heard of, sir, is young Mr. Shipley; he would be a sort of nephew; well, he is the son of the dead man's half-brother."

"What about Mr. Shipley?" "A bit of a wild young chap sir. In and out of the pubs a good deal and so forth, but no real harm in him that I know of."

"Was he friendly with old Burdett?" "Very seldom went near him as far as I know."

"What sort of terms were they on? Did you ever hear Shipley talking about him?" "Yes sir, once, in the bar of the Hoops."

"What did he say?" "As near as I can remember he said that of all the farthing-fumbling old fools he'd ever known his Uncle was the worst."

"Bad to worse. Did Burdett keep any money in the house with him? Was he a real, genuine miser who sat up at night letting the yellow gold trickle through his fingers?" "I couldn't say about what he did at night; Inspector; nor for that matter about the amount of money he kept with him. People used to say there was thousands of pounds there, but somehow I doubt it."

"Was any stolen?" "We don't know, sir. There was a small wall safe open in the room where he was murdered, and there was a considerable sum of money in there."

"How much?" "Just over three hundred pounds."

"Notes?" "All sorts, sir. Gold, silver and notes."

"So whoever did the murder left that behind anyway?" "Of course he might have taken some and left some as a blind."

"True. Did you find anything at all to give you any sort of clue?" "Well, sir, to be quite candid I didn't. Not a thing. Maybe I'm slow-witted, and in any case, of course, I'm not used to this sort of thing. When I got there I didn't find a thing—as far as I can see it might have been anyone. Of course there may be some fingerprints—"

"Leave fingerprints for fiction," Hyton urged, "look for motive. The heart gives more people away than the hand. White, believe me. Who gets anything out of it? That's the unfulfilling fingerprint. People very seldom murder without motive."

"Quite so, sir."

"Well, come on, let's go and view

High Markers In Gaines And Yoakum Tests

Wildcatting Activity Picks Up In Territory North Of Here

SAN ANGELO, July 18.—High markers in wildcatting in Yoakum county, farthest north producing county in the West Texas Permian Basin, and in Gaines county, bordering Yoakum on the south furnished some of the most interesting developments this week. The Texas Co. moved in a rotary for a wildcat in the southwestern corner of the northeast corner of Yoakum. This increased the number of wildcats active or soon to be started far north in the district to five in four counties, the others being in Cochran and Terry.

Navarro Oil Co.'s No. 1 J. A. Drane, trustee, opened a new producing area in Winkler county south of the Keyes pool and west of the Hendrick field and the Henderson pool in Winkler gained its fifth well in Atlantic and Wahlenmaier No. 1-B Leck.

2,516-Barrel Flow

The largest natural producer was Phillips No. 5 Pure-Cowden on the corpse in its natural surroundings, shall we?"

"Have you a car sir?" "No. Two long legs. Encase the feet in regulation foot gear—by the way, are you married?"

Sergeant White stared at his somewhat disconcerted visitor.

"Yes, I'm married, sir," he answered slowly.

"Your wife?" Hyton picked up a photograph from a side table.

"That's my wife."

Hyton studied a picture that might have taken and held any man's eye—that of a finely-made woman, clad in the most abbreviated of bathing costumes, posed on a rock, a streaming mass of hair blown away from her by the wind.

"A fine looking woman if I may say so," he said.

8 Howard Locations

Locations exceeded completions 42 to 35, the reverse of the preceding week. Winkler county gained 13 locations, Ward county 10, Howard county eight, Crane county four, Ector county three and Pecos and Upton counties two each. Ward county led in completions with 12. There were nine in Winkler, three each in Crane, Howard and Jones, two in Pecos and one each in Fisher, Loving and Upton counties.

Humble No. 1 C. H. Eubanks, southwestern Gaines county wildcat, topped the brown lime at 3,920 feet, 555 feet below sea level and 195 feet higher than in Landreth No. 1 W. H. Kirk, the county's only producer seven miles to the southeast. Drilling continued below 4,145 feet in lime and anhydrite. It is in the southwest corner of section 6-A-X-pal. No. 1 Kirk, recently completed temporarily at 4,820 feet, swabbing 107 barrels of 27 gravity oil in 24 hours, in time to fulfill contracts with contributors of bottom hole money, was scheduled to deepen as the week closed. It headed twice when bottomed at 4,820 feet, 505 feet in the lime and 1,549

Another Pool Is Opened In Jones County

Martin-Spurrier Well Completed Southwest Of Lueders Field

ABILENE, July 18.—Addition of another pool for eastern Jones county featured the week's developments for this area. Resumption of activity on a wildcat test between the Hawley and Condor fields in southern Jones also attracted attention of operators.

N. H. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls No. 1 Mary and E. E. Spurrier, pool opener for eastern Jones, gauged 72 barrels on railroad commission potential test this week showing 12 barrels of water, from seven feet of Hope sand drilled from 1,921 to 1,928 feet. Located five miles southwest of the Lueders field, where the only other Jones production from Hope sand is obtained, it is in the south center of section 1, Wm. C. Walker survey No. 6, three miles north of Nugent.

Mental Examination Ordered For Woman Who Shot Husband

ORANGE, July 17. (UP)—County Judge R. Lee Davis said Mrs. H. W. Sarver, 39, who shot her husband to death at Vidor Monday, would be sent to Galveston for mental observation and treatment. The judge and Sheriff K. A. Mitchell returned from Galveston last night after arranging for Mrs. Sarver's admission to the state psychopathic hospital.

Another Pool Is Opened In Jones County

Martin-Spurrier Well Completed Southwest Of Lueders Field

Operators indicated a second test would be drilled either to the northeast or northwest. The Spurrier well is believed to be an edge producer. Empire Oil & Gas company, with more than 200 acres on a south offset, was considering drilling soon. Only one other test in the vicinity, the Owens-Snebold Oil corporation No. 1 S. Gorman, two miles north, was drilling. It is at 1,640 feet. It is located in the southeast corner of section 5, same survey.

Second Test

Mrs. Sarver, held in jail here on a murder charge, still refused to eat. She made no pretense toward a hunger strike, but insisted she has no desire for food.

The woman shot her husband, a constable, but her intentions to kill four other members of her family and herself were thwarted by her 14-year-old son, Henry, who wrested a gun from her.

Preliminary hearing on the murder charge will be delayed. County Attorney James N. Neff said.

hours following a 30-quart shot in 22 feet of Bluff Creek sand, from 1,938 feet. It is being cleaned out for tubing. It is in section 5, block 15, T&P survey.

Half a mile south of Hawley, approximately four miles southeast of the field, the Gist & Graddy No. 1 G. H. Hinson was drilling in gray shale at 1,855 feet. The test resumed drilling operations this week after a three-month shutdown, and will be carried through the Hawley being exactly midway between the Condor and Hawley fields.

It was begun last year by Richards, et al, of Graham, and later carried as the Anderson, et al, No. 1 Ranson, until the block was re-assembled and taken over by East Texas operators, Gist & Graddy. Two sands containing water in the Martin No. 1 Triplet, a mile west, were found dry in the Ranson test, very producing horizons; it is looked upon as an important marker. It is located in the north end of section 1, B. M. Cloyd survey No. 624.

In the Hawley field, the N. H. Martin & Son No. 4-C Henry Dorsey estate was drilling to the Hope sand after missing the Bluff Creek sand horizon completely and obtaining only a slight showing of oil in the Cook at 2,047 feet. It is between Bluff Creek producers, in the north center of the Hawley area, being in the west half of section 5, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 King—discovery well of the field drilled by F. E. Blalock, et al, eight years ago—lower Hope sand after deepening from the Bluff Creek at 2,000 to the 2,200-foot horizon. It will probably be drilled in this week-end. It is in southeast corner of section 7, Bueno survey No. 197.

For one thing, it may show that the city's underground water supply is not only subject to depletion, but that right now more is being pumped from the deep wells than is coming in. If this is true, then the city must plan to seek other sources of supply such as the lake project
