Activities Continue At Senior Citizens Center

Despite rumors to the contrary, the Senior Citizens Center in Gorman is not closed.

It's true that the meals from the Ranger Junior College unit are no longer served on Tuesdays and Thursdays, due to the cuts in funding for the food program.

The City owns the building and will permit the senior citizens to use the building for games of dominoes and bridge, etc. and for the ladies quilting group. A covered dish luncheon will be held, as usual, each Wednesday. This is not only for senior citizens, but for anyone who wishes to come and bring a covered dish and join in the fellowship.

It is possible the food program may be reinstated at a later date.

Government surplus commodities will also be distributed, as usual, at the center.

Panthers Defeated by Bears; Travel to Cross Plains Friday

The Panthers were really overwhelmed in their District 13A game with the Baird Bears on Friday night. It was thought the winner of this game had the inside track on the district title. The Bears came out with a lop-sided score of 43 to 6 as the Panthers just couldn't get anything going and could not stop the Bears, especially their fine passing game.

The Bears got on the board first with Calvin Joy racing into the end zone from 21 yards out with 1:20 left in the first period. Joy added the point after and Baird was on their way.

The Bears scored again with 2:35 left in the half with Brad Johnson going the final 5 yards for the score to cap a 79 yard drive in 7 plays. Joy added the point after and the Bears were out front 14-0 at the halftime intermission.

The Panther Marching Band performed prior to the game and brought the fans to their feet with a wonderful performance.

The Bears scored on their first possession of the second half, getting the ball on the Gorman 16 after a fumble recovery, and scoring in just two plays with Brad Johnson getting the final 2 yards for the score with 10:36 left in the period. The drive featured a 28 yard pass to set the Bears up at the Gorman 2. Joy added the point after and the Bears led 21-0.

The Bears then took the ball on their next possession at their own 40 and scored in just 6 plays with Joy hitting Gary Shelnut with a 38 yard touchdown pass with 4:24 left in the period. Joy again booted the point after and the Bears led 28-0.

On the next possession by the Panthers the Bear defense caused a Gorman fumble and took over at the Gorman 26. They scored in only two plays. After being thrown for a loss of 8 yards on the first play, Joy threw a touchdown pass to Matt Rodgers for the score from 34 yards out with 3:28 left. A pass try for two points was made when Joy hit Wyatt Watson for the two points to make the score 36-0.

The final Bear touchdown came on a 26 yard running play by Brad Johnson with just 34 seconds left on the clock. Joy added the point after and the Bears were blanking the Panthers 43 to 0.

The Panthers finally hit the scoreboard with 29 seconds left in the game when they took the ball on their own 20 and moved the distance in 20 plays with Rajee Patel hitting Flavio Herrera for a 10 yard touchdown pass. The try for extra points failed and the final score was 43 to 6.

The Big Red defense seemed unable to get a tackle on the Bear runners and could not stop the passing of the Bears, and it really cost them the game.

Jade Warren led the Panthers with 43 yards on 13 carries. Tony Forbus had 38 on 10 trips. Rajee Patel got 19 on 6 keepers. Kris Scitern had only 3 yards on 6 tries.

Plains to take on the Buffaloes in an important District 13A game Friday night at 7:30. This will be a must game for the Panthers if they have any hopes of making the playoffs this season, as another loss will really be hard to overcome.

The Panthers will travel to Cross

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
OCTOBER 14, 1992

SENATORIAL DISTRICT 22 ADVISORY NOTICE

ON OCTOBER 1, 1992, JANE NELSON RAN A NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENT REGARDING TEXAS SENATOR BOB GLASGOW.

SHE ACCUSED BOB GLASGOW OF "REPRESENTING RECENTLY PAROLED RAPIST/MURDERER JAMES CROSS."

THAT ACCUSATION IS NOT JUST A POLITICAL DISTORTION. IT IS A LIE.

THE YEAR JAMES CROSS WAS CONVICTED OF HIS HORRIBLE CRIME, BOB GLASGOW WAS A JUNIOR AT TARLETON STATE UNIVERSITY.

BOB GLASGOW DID NOT "REPRESENT CROSS BEFORE THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PARDONS AND PAROLE." THAT IS ANOTHER LIE.

BOB GLASGOW DID NOT "SINGLE-HANDEDLY KILL ETHICS LEGISLATION LAST SESSION." BOB GLASGOW SPONSORED GOVERNOR ANN RICHARDS' ETHICS REFORM LEGISLATION.

POLITICS IS ONE THING. OUTRIGHT LYING IS ANOTHER.

IF CANDIDATE JANE NELSON WON'T TELL THE TRUTH IN THIS CAMPAIGN, WHAT DO YOU THINK SHE'LL DO IF ELECTED?

LET'S KEEP AN HONEST, DECENT MAN IN THE TEXAS SENATE.

Yarbrough retires after 33 years

When Arthur Yarbrough came to work at Tarleton State College back in the summer of 1959, the campus enrollment was just over 1000, one-sixth of what it is today.

The campus has changed its name and physical appearance but the economic times are similar to what they were back then. There weren't many jobs and Yarbrough signed up with Tarleton because there weren't any other options. "I was only going to stay until something better came along," said Yarbrough, but on September 30, 1992 he retired from the University after 33 years and three months of service.

"I went to work for 91-cents an hour," recalls Yarbrough, "but that was pretty good back in '59." During his three decades at the University, he has done just about everything from yard work to hauling trash, custodial duty in every building on campus to some memorable time spent at the University's farm facilities.

Yarbrough says the work he liked best was maintenance and supervision of the indoor pool located in the Health and Physical Education Complex. "It was the biggest headache and the biggest challenge, but I thought I was pretty good at it," he says. He doesn't claim to be a chemist but says developing a formula for keeping the water just right for swimming takes a lot of practice. A licensed part-time Evangelistic minister, Yarbrough says he won't have any problem finding things to keep him busy. He likes to draw and paint and do a little fishing. Best of all, after years of arriving at work by 5 a.m., he can trash his alarm clock.

Yarbrough was honored on his retirement with a reception hosted by his co-workers in the Division of Environmental Services. TSU President Dr. Dennis McCabe presented him with a Tarleton watch and Vice President for Finance and Administration Larry Bicket praised the longtime employee for his service to the University.

Internal Parasites Problem For Sheep and Goats

By Davy Vestal
Eastland County Ag Agent
Abundant rains in oarts of Texas have led to generous helpings of internal parasites for sheep and goats.

"Internal parasites are terrible this year," said Dr. Frank Craddock of San Angelo, sheep and goat specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"There's been a lot of (death) losses, but there's no way to assess the damage completely."

A mild winter and above-average rainfall in many areas has promoted the regeneration of internal parasites. Parasites such as stomach worms can eventually kill an animal if left unchecked, he said. The primary victims are young kids and lambs.

"Sheep and goats should have been dewormed in January," said Dr. Tom Craig, professor of veterinary medicine at Texas A&M.

Producers should not have to undergo a deworming program to salvage animals, he said. "The only one who benefits from that is the banker who loans money to buy the dewormer."

Under a good management program, sheep and goats should be dewormed in January or February before lambing or kidding; in March before warm season forage begins growing; and before breeding season. This keeps parasites from getting the upper hand, he said.

"If producers don't, they get into trouble when it rains and internal parasites are acquired in the pasture."

Eggs are passed in the feces of the host. The larvae hatching from the eggs feed on bacteria within the feces. As they develop, the larvae become infective and move on to forage in a film of moisture such as dew and consumed by animals.

Desiccation, or extreme heat or cold, is detrimental to the developing egg or larva. The stomach worm, Haemonchus contortus, has way to escape adverse winter weather. Called hypobiosis, it is a cessation of development of the worm within the host, Craig said.

Animals may appear fine, and producers tend to get lax about deworming programs. The hypobiotic larvae resume development in the late winter so their offspring are in the pasture when the new crop of kids or lambs begins to nibble grass, Craig said.

"Haemonchus is a tremendous blood-sucker. It must lay 6,000 eggs each day," Craig said. When conditions are right for its transmission, the massive numbers of worms present in a pasture may overwhelm even animals that are in excellent condition.

Internal parasites can build up resistance to dewormers, and the producer may not know it until populations get out of control. Producers must first decide what dewormer works on their ranch, not a neighbor's, he said. Each ranch is an ecosystem unto itself.

Fecal samples should be taken from 10 animals from the same flock before and after treatment. These should be tested by a veterinarian. If

Annual Stockholders Meeting Set For Stephenville PCA

The 58th Annual Stockholders Meeting of Stephenville Production Credit Association will be Saturday, October 17 at the Stephenville High School. The meeting will begin at 6 p. m. with a barbecue meal.

According to Mitchell Harris, the dewormer is not 90 to 95 percent efficient in lowering egg counts 7 to 14 days after treatment, is is not working satisfactorily, he said.

Some areas of the state are not getting very much rain now, but if they do get a heavy thundershower (such as two inches of rainfall), animals should be drenched and moved to another pasture.

If producers are lambing now, adults that have not been treated should be dewormed immediately afterwards. Ewes and does can build up resistance, as long as parasite numbers are not too high, but they lose that resistance during late gestation and lactation, he said.

Kids and lambs do not develop resistance to internal parasites until they are about six months of age, and are very susceptible until then, he said.

"Many producers don't realize they have a problem. The animals have so much to eat (in the pastures) they look all right," Craddock said.

"As long as the pastures stay lush, the animals may get by. But as soon as it dries up and the nutritive value of forage goes down, the worm burden inside the animals will be too much. They'll be in serious trouble."

Promotes Use Of Direct Deposits

"Research conducted for the Social Security Administration indicates that Social Security beneficiaries who use direct deposit are 16 times less likely to report problems with benefit receipts than those who are receiving paper checks. One of our responsibilities," said Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene, "is to help ensure receipt of benefits and direct deposit is just such a method."

With direct deposit, beneficiaries have their monthly benefit checks deposited directly into their bank accounts. Hammons pointed out that when you use direct deposit:

- * You won't need to worry about your checks being lost, stolen, or misplaced;

- * You can be away from home without the worry of a check sitting unprotected in your mailbox; and

- * You won't have to make a special trip to your bank or stand in line to deposit your checks.

Social Security hopes to increase the ranks of the more than 20 million beneficiaries who now have their monthly benefit checks deposited directly into their bank accounts rather than having them mailed. While this number is certainly impressive, it represents only about half of all current Social Security beneficiaries.

For more information about how to begin direct deposit of your monthly Social Security check, call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, any business day between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. When you call, have your Social Security number and your checkbook, bank statement or any papers that show your bank account number handy. Or, ask about direct deposit where you bank. The bank's service rep can help you enroll on the spot.

Abilene will provide entertainment prior to the business session with the meeting to conclude with a drawing for various door prizes.

Lake Worth Woman is Big Winner At Speedway Saturday

Alicia Masterson took home the money in the feature race for the "Big Iron" Pro-Stock class at 281 Speedway Saturday, beating all of the local favorites and many other racers from all over Texas.

This Saturday's event contained some of the best racing seen at Stephenville's 281 Speedway since it opened 3 years ago.

Masterson, along with her husband, Charles, brought their No. 89 Chevy Monte Carlo to town just to compete with the local favorites who had invaded their territory earlier in the year at Boyd Raceway. They said they both would like to take home a win at Rusty Owens' home track.

Alicia worked her way into the feature race by virtue of a third place finish in her heat race and jumped into the lead at the start of the feature and held off the challenges of Rusty Owens most of the race. Rusty did slip by once, but was sidelined with mechanical problems.

Masterson showed again that motor racing is not just a man's sport anymore, making it two weeks in a row that a woman driver has captured a feature race win at this speedway. Tina Woods won in Mini Stock last week and won her heat race this week, but was left with an 11th place feature finish after various maladies struck her during the race. Alicia Masterson is a resident of Lake Worth and manages a TCBY Yogurt store in Fort Worth when she is not driving her thundering Chevy race car.

Brad Bleeker worked through a tough field of cars and came from the back row to take a well deserved second place. "Bad Brad" from Morgan Mill drove a clean race and used his considerable experience and knowledge of the track to stay out of trouble and constantly move up. In third place was Larry Simpson all the way from Ponder. Simpson drove his No. 25 Chevy to a win in the trophy dash. The red No. 636 Chevy with Joe McCann aboard took the feature, but Ford fans take heart, Alan Sloan of Granbury put his potent Thunderbird in front for the trophy dash.

This new competition for the pure stock regulars was a welcome sight and quite a crowd pleaser as the big No. 28 Ford led parts of or challenged for the lead in every event it competed in. Sloan said he finally got the car geared right for this track and his 351 Cleveland motor had plenty of get up and go.

The usual battle between Joe McCann and Lee Wartes in the No. 636 and the No. 5 Nova, respectively, took on a different twist as this weekend it was obvious McCann had done his homework. McCann had to come from behind and pass Wartes, but also had the Ford of Sloan to contend with and that really made him earn his wins this time. The battle between Wartes and McCann is usually very close; this time a blanket could just about cover all 3 cars throughout the race. These three drivers put on a tremendous show of skill, ran door handle to door handler, without trading any paint.

The spectators know they witnessed stock car racing at its finest when these three drivers took the green flag together. Everyone who saw this event is eagerly awaiting the rematch next Saturday.

The Mini Stock race was one of the best this season, with John Stevens driving his new No. 49 Pinto to a second place in his heat and come back in the feature. The old No. 49 car was destroyed a few weeks back, but this new car looks even better. Points leader David Lane finished second in the feature, but won his heat over the No. 49 car, driving his venerable old No. 30 Pinto third in the feature and winner of the trophy dash was newcomer Heath Barton, driving his No. 33 Mustang II, from Krum. Heath and wife, Allison, are expecting a new little racer in early January.

Other mini stocks in the exciting race were Ron Skiles, who took second in his heat but could only manage a close fourth in the feature. Skiles was strong and luck played as much a part as skill this weekend with the whole group of cars so closely bunched that virtually every lap saw many places changing hands. No. 29, the pink Pinto of beginner, Jeannie Parris, saw its highest feature finish so far taking a solid and well deserved fifth, ahead of No. 32 Mark Henson in his Nissan and No. 66 Jim Wilcher of Santo.

281 Speedway is located 3 miles north of Stephenville on Hwy. 281 and the action begins at 3 p. m. Saturdays.
