

Bond Vote Expected On Freeway Proposal

An election probably will be called Monday to determine whether the county shall issue $225,000 in bonds to finance acquisition of freeway right-of-way from the Mitchell to Martin County lines, County Judge R. H. Weaver said Saturday.

Chairman Hall Praises GOP

RIPON, Wis., March 20 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said tonight the GOP is a "dynamic institution 100 years young" which stands at the forefront of the free world's struggle to overcome "the arch conspiracy of our time, communism."

In a speech prepared for the party's centennial celebration, Hall said the GOP's immediate goal is "prosperity produced in peace—something we have not seen for a generation."

Asserting "there never has been a political party which has exerted such a profound influence upon the world as the one established right here in Ripon," Hall said:

"We are living in a world of challenge. It will take challenged Americans to measure up to the work at hand, both at home and along the dangerous no man's land that lies between freedom and communism abroad."

"This much is terribly clear today: Our global adversaries live in the diabolic hope, perhaps even the expectation, that America will bleed itself to death economically during a protracted period of cold war, watchful waiting, or what have you."

"Overwhelming governmental expenses, whether they are caused by badly-planned defense outlays or by spendthrift paternalism, are the surest ways to start this fatal hemorrhage."

"Under an enlightened Republican policy, which significantly marks this centennial of our party of freedom, America has begun again to program wisely. . . ."

"It has summoned the best of America's specialists into the development of orderly defense and foreign policies. Starting with an inherited handicap caused by lagging diplomacy, the Republican administration under President Eisenhower has pursued and overtaken the enemy in the crucial matter of initiative."

"American policy at long last is being made ready, with our Allies, to withstand encroachment in ways of our own choosing. Above all, we observe this Republican anniversary in an atmosphere of peace."

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The fact that they had been able to "crack" a new jail structure here last week had some of five young felons regarding themselves as a heroes of sorts. The hard fact seemed to have escaped them that for all their pains, they were right back where they started and with every prospect of additional time to do.

We had more of that phew-if-it-wasn't-for-much-of-the-week. The pattern included another sharp thrust from Old Man Winter and a record March 14 low of 18 degrees. And, before moist air drawn into the area could be met by a cold front, west winds whisked it out. Then came the front with dismal dust for three days.

County commissioners are busy as beavers these days, and getting results. Last week they delivered all the Fourth Street right-of-way deeds outside the city limits to the state highway department. At the end of the week they were conferring with property owners in an effort to secure U. S. 80 freeway roadway west and stay up with department requests.

Oil continued to furnish some of the brighter news. Lone Star No. 1 J. O. Hanesy completed as a 1 1/2 miles southwest outpost to the Silt-Devenian play near Luther. The Oceanic pool west of Vealmore got north and south extenders. McGuire No. 1 Chandler promised more than 500 barrels per day on test as a reef discovery two miles west of Vincent.

Pelico Chief E. W. York is in Washington, D. C. now with three months of intensive schooling ahead. The city commission is sending him the widening of Highway 80 to 260 feet across the county.

The roadway now is 160 feet wide. An additional 160 feet of right-of-way must be secured to widen the highway to freeway status.

In addition, the county would have to pay for moving approximately 45 buildings, mostly in Sand Springs and Coahoma, and remunerate property owners for other damages, such as destruction of wells and stock tanks.

Total length of the highway in Howard County is some 33 miles, but about two miles of this is in the Big Spring city limits where additional right-of-way will be required at this time, due to the improvement of Fourth Street as a part of the highway.

Commissioner Arthur Stallings already has secured about three miles of the extra right-of-way in the western part of the county. The county has paid for this land at the rate of $100 per acre for farm land and $30 per acre for pasture.

The 160-foot strip of extra right-of-way amounts to about 19 acres to the mile, or 640 acres for the 33 miles.

County officials hope to secure right-of-way for the freeway from Big Spring to Martin County line in time for the State Highway Department to let contract for construction in May. Highway officials have said they will have deed forms for the eastern segment ready in the next few weeks.

They also have announced that construction from Big Spring east to the Mitchell line will probably be started as rapidly as work to the west and in Big Spring is completed.

Both city and county officials already have turned over to the Highway Department the title to the specially trained airmen were immediately assigned to the Air Force's big jet base at Hilling, west of the Rhine River, which can carry atomic cannon battalions already were stationed.

A second guided missile squadron and another atomic cannon battalion were expected to follow shortly.

The Air Force made it clear that none of the missiles was aboard the troop ship, the Gen. Taylor. It was believed that they would be shipped secretly and separately.

Since the rocket-launched missiles—B61 Matador bombers—are expendable it was possible that hundreds would be shipped to Western Europe stockpiles.

The squadron is composed of 550 officers and men who will operate, service and maintain the missiles, which can carry either a conventional or atomic warhead and fly 600 miles an hour.

CRMWD Planning Two Pumphouses

Plans for two pumphouses will be completed within two weeks and bids closed within 30 days, E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado Municipal Water District, said Saturday.

These structures will house the Permian Basin Waterworks and Spring-Odeasa main supply line at Lake J. B. Thomas and the booster station Morgan Creek, he said. Contract was let previously for pumps for these units.

During the past week negotiations were firm for operation of concessions business at the Lake, Spence reported. This is subject to confirmation by the board of directors.

Action will be taken soon on lining the terminal storage at Odeasa. Surfaces of the earthen storage will be stabilized and then lined with an asphalt material.

Last week Spence addressed the Permian Basin Waterworks and Spring-Odeasa Association in its meeting at Odeasa. Two years ago he was before the association with a sort of prospectus on the multi-city project; last week's talk was a sort of review of accomplishments to date.

Barbara Hutton Plans For Mexican Divorce

MEXICO CITY, March 20 (AP)—Barbara Hutton's Mexican lawyer said today he has been retained to handle a divorce action for the film star in Mexico state.

Miss Hutton, 41, and Porfirio Rubirosa, 45, Dominican diplomat, were married Dec. 30 in New York and separated last week in Florida. He was her fifth husband.

Sen. Symington Asks McCarthy To Leave Panel

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) suggested tonight that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) step off his investigations subcommittee temporarily, or let some other group determine the "questions of veracity" between McCarthy and the Army.

"The good name of the Senate is involved," Symington said.

Symington, one of three Democrats on McCarthy's subcommittee, said that if the Wisconsin senator and his three Republican colleagues insist that McCarthy appear in the "triple role of accusing witness, prosecutor and judge," then he will ask the Armed Services Committee to take over.

Symington's proposal appeared to take Sen. Mundt (R-SD) by surprise.

Lines Form AT AUTO TAG WINDOW HERE

Lines were lengthening in the county tax office Saturday as demand for auto licenses increased.

Approximately 5,000 Howard County vehicles had been licensed for 1954 at noon Saturday. Some 6,000 additional cars and trucks probably will be registered prior to the April 1 deadline.

The demand for licenses became steady for the first time during the past week. Substations were operated in Forsan and Coahoma during the week, and a substitution will be set up at the 18th and Main fire station Monday, Viola Robinson, tax assessor-collector, has announced.

The tax office in the courthouse also is staying open during the lunch hour for the convenience of motorists who haven't registered their vehicles for 1954.

Men Had 'Pull' At Wrong Locations

HIBBING, Minn., March 20 (AP)—Two men pulled the wrong wires yesterday, but they could have received a worse jolt than they did.

The two, who gave their names as Raymond Nelson, 50, Hibbing, and Malken Nelson, 57, Minneapolis, tied an old shoe to a piece of rope, tossed it over the wires and pulled them down to sell for copper scrap.

The wires happened to be part of the Hibbing police and fire alarm system.

Casper Perrell, system superintendent, drove to the spot and found the two men had jerked down about 400 feet of wire. They pleaded guilty today to destruction of public property and were fined $100 each, plus $40 damages.

Perrell had caught the pair before they had gone to work on a 2,300 volt electric wire.

TAP MISSOURI Mahon Urges Water Plan

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—An $8 million dollar engineering study to determine the feasibility of diverting flood waters of the Missouri River Basin down across prairie lands into West Texas was proposed today by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.).

He made public the draft of legislation he plans to introduce Monday to provide money for such a study by the Reclamation Bureau.

Mahon, second-ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations Committee, said no authorization legislation is necessary. He said a direct appropriation could be made under existing law authorizing the Reclamation Bureau engineers to conduct investigations.

Explaining his views in a press release, Mahon said the study would be to determine where the Missouri River waters best could be tapped, the most desirable route for a canal or conduit system and the costs of such a project.

"The Missouri River basin produces a vast surplus of water," Mahon said. "There is some surplus in the headwaters, but the surplus greatly increases as the waters move southward."

Presumably from Mahon's description the basin might be tapped somewhere in the Nebraska-Kansas area. The elevation there would permit somewhere near a gravity flow to the Panhandle and South Plains areas of Texas.

"The people of the Western Plains have been dreaming for years of the time when the surplus waters of other areas would be made available to the high plains for irrigation and for industrial and municipal development," Mahon continued.

Firebomb Barrage Laid Down Against Vietnamh

Seek To Drive Reds Toward Fortress Guns

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indochina, March 20 (AP)—Squadrons of French warplanes swooped incessantly over rebel positions around Dien Bien Phu today, showering thousands of firebombs in an effort to flush Vietnamh besiegers into the open so they could be mowed down by fortress guns.

Using all available aircraft called in from land and carrier bases, the French began laying down firebomb barrages in brilliant moonlight early this morning and kept hammering the Communist-led rebels throughout the day.

Circling the oval-shaped plain in northwest Indochina while French and Vietnamh artillery blasted away furiously at each other's key firing positions, the French fighters and bombers dropped 200- and 500-pound incendiary bombs and jelled gasoline into the heart of rebel masses and their hideouts in the surrounding hilly jungles.

American-supplied B26 bombers also reported scores of direct hits upon rebel artillery emplacements. Crews seriously damaged an estimated one-third of the Vietnamh's main firing positions.

While air and artillery barrages went on, Vietnamh troops were at points 200 to 500 yards from barbed wire barricades guarding the main points of entry into the heart of the fortress. They were digging foxholes and trenches despite bombardment by French planes.

The Vietnamh were particularly digging in east and south of the center of the fortress. Thus far, the heaviest rebel infantry assaults have been launched from the two northern outposts which rebels took in launching their big assault a week ago tonight.

There were strong indications that another attempt by the Vietnamh to overrun the fortress with masses of tons of thousands of troops was building up.

The French, steadily reinforced with fresh troops, ammunition and war supplies parachuted from planes, were ready.

The Vietnamh have only put in feyer attacks during the last four days. They have used the time to rush up more ammunition and supplies moving over roads into their hill positions from the northern Indochinese frontier.

Just about everything the French are using to defend the fortress bears the mark of the United States. That includes M24 tanks flown into Dien Bien Phu weeks ago along with armored cars, 160mm. artillery, heavy machine-guns and mortars from the northern Indochina headquarters city of Hanoi.

The tanks have been effective in smashing the rampaging masses of wildly screaming Vietnamh troops in their first series of assaults upon the fortress, and in spearheading French counterattacks.

General Sees Hope

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French armed forces, said today crushing Vietnamh losses in the crucial battle for Dien Bien Phu give hope of a major French victory in Indochina.

First Production Model Of Giant Bomber

The first production model of the Boeing B-52 jet bomber, described by an Air Force general as the "long rifle of the air age," is shown as it was rolled from the Boeing Airplane Co. plant in Seattle, Wash. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, told Boeing workers the B-engineered sweeping bomber is the weapon that is "going to keep the Red fellow in his place." An undisclosed number of the bombers will be built. Two experimental models were tested previously. The tail of the aircraft is folded to clear the hangar doors. (AP Wirephoto.)

Jail Escapees Scheduled To Go Before Grand Jury

Four of the five prisoners who broke out of Howard County jail Monday night are to go before the grand jury Tuesday for investigation of the escape.

Meanwhile, the county commissioners court is finding itself in the unique position of having complaints of jail inmates that the jail is not strong enough to hold them.

Two letters written by prisoners were delivered to Commissioner Arthur Stallings by Chief Deputy Sheriff Floyd Moore Saturday. Stallings said one of the letters stated it was written at the request of Sheriff Jess Slaughter.

In the letters the prisoners called the new jail "a crackerbox," Stallings said.

Several other cases "and other matters" are to be considered by the grand jury also, the district attorney said.

Three Held In Bank Holdup

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 20 (AP)—An ex-convict on parole, a jobless taxi driver and an unemployed college graduate, all in their 20's, were held today for Wednesday's carefully prepared $24,377 holdup of the Durham (N. H.) Trust Co. — the state's first bank robbery since 1928.

Robert E. Nelson, 28, the ex-convict, and Albert L. Lazzaro, 21, the taxi driver, were arrested at their Portsmouth homes late last night. George V. Rafferty, 27, also of Portsmouth, was arrested late today at Boston. He was identified as a former New Hampshire all-state high school basketball player and a University of New Hampshire graduate.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner John J. Broderick on charges of violation of the federal bank robbery law, Nelson and Lazzaro were held in jail of $25,000 each and when unable to post it were taken to Hillsborough County Jail in Manchester.

Rafferty was scheduled to be arraigned later on the same charge. See GRAND JURY, Pg. 6, Col. 2

Deadly Gas Being Made In Colorado

DENVER, March 20 (AP)—A new weapon in the horror class with atom and hydrogen bombs is being made and stored at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal near Denver.

Lt. Col. S. J. Etnor, deputy commanding officer at the arsenal, confirmed today that deadly GB gas, which can cause death in 30 seconds, is made behind the arsenal's windowless walls.

It is known that Russia has the gas, first developed by Hitler's Nazi scientists. The Red army took the German plant in its push across the German-Polish border in World War II.

Surrounded by elaborate safety precautions, the workers at the arsenal turn out the deadly chemicals in liquid form, packed in finished munitions casing ready for use.

Scotswoman Bears Siamese Twin Girls

GREENOCK, Scotland, March 20 (AP)—A 24-year-old Scotswoman, Mrs. Mary Mount, gave birth today to Siamese twins. Doctors said all three are doing well.

The twin girls are joined by an oval "bridge" uniting the lower parts of their chests and abdomens.

"They were born naturally, without an operation. In the Rankin Maternity Hospital, Doctors said an operation may be attempted later to separate them."

McCarthy Announces Probe Into Red Influence On News

By JOHN CHADWICK
OKLAHOMA CITY, March 20 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he has been working for months on a report "on the aims of the Communist party to infiltrate and control every media of information, such as radio, newspapers and television."

He said the report he has been "painstakingly preparing" would go into "the extent to which they have succeeded and how some politicians are in mortal fear of and therefore to some extent guided by them."

In notes prepared for an address here tonight before a dinner sponsored by the State Republican Central Committee, McCarthy said the report was an "individual project" and not a project of the Senate Investigations subcommittee which he heads.

"Some chameleon politicians of both parties make the grave mistake of thinking that the left wing elements of radio, television and press along the Potomac represent America," he said, adding: "Cheer Communists would attempt to use the fellow travelers, deluded egghead liberals, and fair weather or weathervane politicians to cut down the power of committees to dig out Communists."

The senator also urged the American people tonight to get copies of the subcommittee's forthcoming probe of his row with the Army and offered to foot the bill himself if demand exceeds the committee's limited supply.

He said he wanted the people to read the testimony so that they could determine for themselves that his fight is not against the Army but "against those who would destroy the Army."

He reserved the demand he made in a speech in Milwaukee last night that Adlai Stevenson plead either "guilty or not guilty" to a 20-count indictment which he made against the Democratic party.

McCarthy said Stevenson's "no comment" to his speech "was" satisfy the millions of loyal Democrats and Republicans.

At the time McCarthy was working on tonight's speech he was not aware that Stevenson had added, "I will not stoop to the senator's level."

McCarthy's speech tonight marked the wind-up of a four-day speaking tour that took him to Chicago and Milwaukee before he came on here still suffering from an attack of laryngitis that put him to bed for a while yesterday with a temperature of 103.

He has spoke aside temporarily as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee while it probes charges and counter charges between him and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, and top Army officials.

Riding The GRUB LINE
With Franklin Reynolds

While in Gall, the Grub Line Rider was shown a letter received by Sheriff Sid Reeder from some sort of public relations counselor in Dallas, asking for information on Borden County bootleggers, such as how many there were of them; the price per can, and the price per case of beer in Borden County, and a lot of other things. The writer said he was compiling statistics for a magazine article he planned to write about the illegal liquor industry in West Texas.

The chances are that the gentleman making the inquiry didn't get such a reply from many other sheriffs as he got from Sid Reeder if the others answered as honestly as Reeder.

Sid was able to tell him that he couldn't quote any Gall prices on beer because there is none sold there, and Sid was also able to add, quite proudly, that there isn't a bootlegger in Borden County, one of the few "dry" counties in Texas that can make such a claim.

But the Borden County sheriff was able to tell the man that some liquor is probably being "run" through Borden County on its way to dry points to the north. And in answering the Dallas letter, Sid was able to tell the writer that most of these liquor "runs" originate in Big Spring.

To Nail 'Em To The Road

Sheriff Sid Reeder of Borden County shows four nail-studded planks, each about five feet long, with which hijackers tried to stop a whisky runner's car in Borden County. The sheriff has made it plain that neither hijackers nor whisky runners are welcome to use Borden County roads.

Pacific Express Company was spent across Big Spring bars. There is no reason to think anything other than that it happened this way, but if it did it has certainly been a well kept secret.

Snow Fences Used As Curbs On Dust

PERRYTON, Tex., March 20 (AP)—Snow fences, the standard roll-type picket fences which the Midwest has used for years to keep snowdrifts off highways, are being put to a new use—to prevent dust-drifts.

Farm equipment houses in the Panhandle have been selling more and more of the "snow fence" to farmers who use it to control drifting sand.

School authorities here also installed a snow fence along the northeast corner of the school playground. Blowing dust and sand accumulate behind the fence instead of blowing across the playground.

Chicken Pox Shows Gain In Unit Report

Big Spring doctors for the second week reported a large number of chicken pox cases to the Howard County Health Unit. There were 51 cases of the disease listed last week.

Total number of communicable diseases reported during the week here was 183.

There were 37 cases of tonsillitis and 39 cases of diarrhea. Diseases with a lesser number of cases included gastroenteritis, 2; gonorrhea, 1; infectious hepatitis, 2; influenza, 12; measles, 2; mumps, 13; pneumonia, 8; strep throat, 6; and whooping cough, 10.

Pecos Segregation Charges Rejected

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—The State Board of Education today rejected the claim of Latin-American residents of Pecos that the Pecos school board is practicing unlawful segregation of Latin and Anglo-Americans.

Possible appeal to the federal courts was indicated.

By unanimous voice vote, the board sustained the decision of State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar that a "truly defensible zoning plan" has been followed in determining which schools the Pecos children attend.

Frank Pinedo, one of the three attorneys representing the petitioners, said similar situations exist in several cities despite a 1948 federal court decision invalidating segregation of Latin-American school children.

"Some of these cases are going to be appealed, and I think some eventually will wind up in federal court," Pinedo told The Associated Press later.

Ed Ildar, executive secretary of the American GI Forum of Texas, joined Pinedo in saying court appeal will be made. The Forum as well as the League of United Latin-American Citizens, investigated the charges of segregation in Pecos schools and backed the people who ation that existed before Dr. Woods' investigation," he said.

Board member Jack Binion of Houston asked if segregation in the schools paralleled segregation as to place of residence in the city. "Yes, sir," said Tomlin.

Commenting on this point, Pinedo told the board: "In too many communities of Texas there is a geographic factor. The very fact they are geographically isolated makes it easy to segregate."

The state education commissioner told the board that while he considered the Pecos school zoning plan satisfactory, he had "warned Supt. (Ray) Whitley and the trustees that any attempt to set up two junior highs would probably be considered by us as an attempt to establish segregation."

Edgar said he made that warning because he considered Pecos a town with a scholastic population that "normally would have only one senior and one junior high school."

The West Texas city's total population is approximately 10,000. Edgar said the labeling of Pecos upper elementary schools, those for grades five through eight, had been "pretty misleading" to him at first glance because "they are elementary schools in the truest sense of the word."

Summer Slump Fiction Hit By Business Head

NEW YORK — America's retailers can achieve in 1954 their greatest sales volume in many years, "if we recognize opportunities that have been waiting for us virtually untapped," Bernard Gimbel, chairman of the board of Gimbel Brothers Inc., declared here.

In a strongly worded statement to the press, backed with business figures, Gimbel deplored the "summer slump psychology" which he said clouds the American business mind. "It's the sheerest fiction," he declared, that selling opportunities disappear with the warm weather. "And this is no time for businessmen to deal in fiction."

"The trouble with all of us," the prominent business leader said, "has been our acceptance of an economic principle that's simply old hat. Our lazy summer minds have failed to recognize that times have changed, that consumers need and will buy as much of our merchandise in the summer months as they do in any other season—if we go after that business with strong promotion and selling."

Gimbel delivered his statement at a press conference called jointly with the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. The Bureau of Advertising announced at the conference that it is about to launch a large-scale program "to combat the summer slump state of mind"—a state of mind "completely unwarranted" by sales statistics. The drive will encompass a complete and detailed promotion program to be carried out in cooperation with the organization's more than 1,000 member daily newspapers.

"I have been asked by many," Gimbel said, "whether our economy is heading into a serious recession. In government, industry, labor and elsewhere, the opinions of leading spokesmen range all the way from an unqualified no to an equally positive yes.

"For myself, I can only say frankly that I don't know. I do know, however, that whether a recession does or does not come will depend very materially on what happens in the retail field. Retailing is one of the vital factors—perhaps the most vital—in our whole economy.

"We must not get into a negative frame of mind. Our economy is strong enough and resilient enough to take both the peaks and the valleys in stride.

"In my opinion, this talk of a decline may be traceable in great degree to the caution of businessmen—retailers and manufacturers alike—more than to any basic weakness in the economic structure of this country.

"Selling, I believe, will undoubtedly become increasingly competitive, but the level of employment, savings bank balances, life insurance purchases and the increasing demand for United States saving bonds, which are indicators of a strong economy, would seem to suggest that consumers will not shy away from the market place.

"What happens to our economy will be influenced directly by what retailers throughout the country accomplish this year. And what they accomplish will depend, in large part, on how actively they go after summer business, the most neglected, the most under-promoted area in our whole merchandising system.

Presenting U. S. Department of Commerce figures, Mr. Gimbel pointed out that many lines of business do as well in summer, or better, than in other seasons. And retail business as a whole, he added, holds up at a very high level. Only the months of May, October and December exceeded the summer months last year in retail dollar volume, he noted.

Letter Calling Italian Official's Son An Assassin Rocks Hearing

ROME, March 20 (AP)—A letter calling the son of Italy's foreign minister the "assassin" for a dope ring threw the sensational Wilma Montesi scandal trial into an uproar today.

The explosive letter, signed by pretty Anna Maria Montesi Caglio, rocked anew the hard-pressed government of Premier Mario Scelba.

National Police Chief Tommaso Pavone resigned recently after being mentioned in testimony in the case. Only last Tuesday Scelba and his Cabinet expressed their "solidarity" with Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, who reportedly had offered to resign. The Communist press has led the attack on Scelba's regime, saying the trial disclosed scandal in high government circles.

Mis Caglio's letter was produced at the trial of Silvano Muto, 25-year-old magazine editor accused of "false and alarmist" reporting of the death of party girl Wilma Montesi. While testimony has been sensational, Muto is the only one facing criminal charges.

The letter said: "I have known that Ugo Montagna is the chief of a dope ring with the consequent disappearance of many women. He is the brains of the ring while Piero Piccioni is the assassin."

Both Piero Piccioni, son of the foreign minister, and the self-styled Marquis Montagna were mentioned by Mis Caglio in direct testimony as "knowing too much" about Wilma's death. She alleged that they had sought out Pavone to "hush up" the case.

The shapely, 22-year-old Wilma was found dead on the black sands of Ostia Beach, 15 miles from Rome, last April. Police ruled she died of accidental drowning.

Muto wrote that she had been dumped on the beach and left to die after being given too much drugs at a wild party attended by social and political notables.

Muto gave Anna Maria, admitted one-time $800 a month mistress of Montagna, as one of his sources for his magazine article.

Anna Maria's letter was read by Court President Domenico Surdo. It was written last Oct. 20 to Mis Caglio's former landlady, Adelmina Marri of Rome. She was ordered to produce it at the request of Muto's lawyers.

When Mrs. Marri appeared in court she testified she no longer had the letter, but had mailed it this morning to a nun at a convent where Anna Maria now is living.

Delegations To Visit Highway Commission

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Delegations representing 15 Texas counties are expected to appear before the State Highway Commission Tuesday at a public hearing on highway needs.

On the hearing docket are requests for appearances from Val Verde, Rockwall, Palo Pinto, McLennan, Madison, Navarro, Freestone, Anderson, Henderson, Kendall, Hemphill, Taylor, Cass, Collin and Comanche counties.

Surdo adjourned court while the landlady and a police escort went to the postoffice to retrieve it.

The letter said: "I wish everyone to know that I was in the dark regarding the illegal activities of Ugo Montagna. I only liked him a great deal and I did not suspect him of a double life.

"I suspected only that he was mixed up with women and in casual debts. I write this letter so that other girls will not come to the same end as I.

"My Christian principles will not permit me to commit suicide, but knowing the nature of Ugo Montagna and Piero Piccioni I am afraid of disappearing without leaving any trace.

"I have known that Ugo Montagna is the chief of a dope ring with the consequent disappearance of many women. He is the brains of the ring while Piero Piccioni is the assassin. . . .

"I accompanied Montagna and Piccioni to the Chief of Police Pavone to hush up the Montesi case. If I cannot talk any more ask Mrs. Marri to talk for me. I hope that justice will be done with these criminals.

In testimony following the reading of the letter Mrs. Marri said she had been present when Anna Maria wrote it.

"When did the signorina write the letter?" the court president asked.

Mrs. Marri: "On her return from a dinner at a restaurant with Ugo Montagna, when she had severe pains in her stomach and feared she had been poisoned."

E. E. TOWNES

Noted Houston Lawyer To Be Tech Speaker

Edgar Eggleston Townes, Houston attorney and a native of San Saba, will be the March 24 lecturer in the series of special historical reviews being presented at Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

The public is invited to attend these discussions which are held at 2 p.m. in the auditorium of the Museum Building on Tech campus. The speakers are being brought to the college by the Institute of Americanism of which J. Evetts Haley, cowman and historian, is director, in cooperation with the Tech Department of History.

Townes, a 1900 graduate of the University of Texas, will speak on "The Progressive Movement and Constitutionalism."

Previous to his retirement in 1943, from which he has emerged to again engage actively in the practice of law, Townes assisted in the organization of the Humble Oil and Refining Company in 1917 and served until 1943 as general counsel for the firm. He became a Humble director in 1918 and a vice president in 1933.

An organizer, member and deacon of River Oaks Baptist Church at Houston, he also organized and for many years was president and teacher of that church's Townes Bible Class for Men. He has also been active in YMCA work; is a director of the Houston First Federal Savings and Loan Association; vice president and member of the Board of Directors of Baylor University, and a member of the Board of Directors and vice president of Memorial Hospital in Houston.

One of the principal reasons for this series of lectures, Haley explains, is to give Tech's history students and the public, an opportunity to become acquainted personally with men who have contributed so much themselves toward making history under the American system of free enterprise which permits the development and exercise of individual initiative.

Past lectures in the series have been well attended by the public, Haley said.

DO IT YOURSELF Television Cabinet Is Handsome Luxury

By BILL BAKER

One of the handsomest luxuries in the home of today is a custom-built television cabinet. But when you make it yourself, this luxury actually becomes an economy.

The television cabinet I have designed stresses simplicity, good taste and practicality.

Set on well proportioned frame legs, the body of the cabinet is high off the floor, making for easy cleaning underneath. The legs bring dials and knobs to a handy height for dial-twirling yet your screen remains at a perfect level for relaxed viewing.

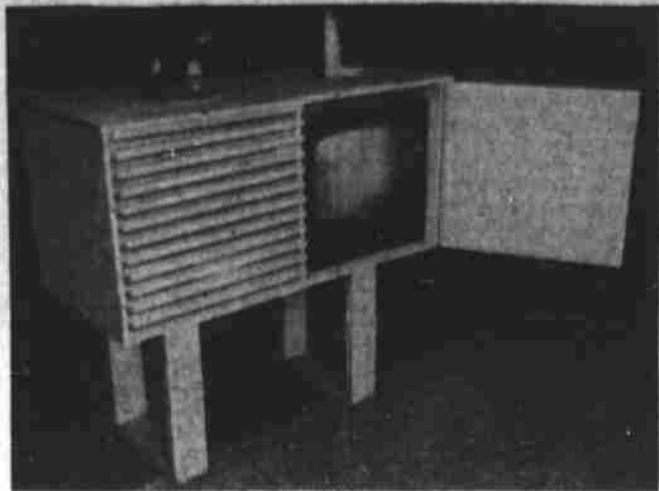

If you've never had a television set with a door on it, you'll be surprised to find how much it helps keep the screen clean to leave the door closed when the set is not in use. And for those who want small fry who are hard to discipline, the door can be equipped with a small lock.

The pattern is worked out to give you a cabinet that will accommodate anything up to a 21-inch screen table model without removing the set from its original casing.

The cabinet's simplicity provides an accent of smart contrast to period furnishings. Set in a modern interior, it emphasizes and highlights the contemporary note.

An unusual outside grille gives the television cabinet its single touch of decorative detail and serves also to break up the overall impression of size, making the piece as suitable for a small room as a large one.

Even if you're inexperienced,

THIS HANDSOME CUSTOM-BUILT TELEVISION CABINET can easily be built in your workshop with Bill Baker's do-it-yourself pattern. The cabinet's simplicity will add a modern accent to your den or living room.

you'll have no trouble making the cabinet in two or three weekends with BILL BAKER'S EXTRA-SIMPLE PATTERN No. 108. Exact-size, heavy-duty paper pattern pieces which can be pasted, taped or thumb-tacked to your wood, simply tracing and cutting.

The complete pattern package includes shop-tested, easy-to-follow directions in simple, clear language. A complete list of the required materials offers you a wide choice of woods to work with. And remember, neither power tools nor metal clamps are necessary in building furniture from Bill Baker patterns. The full pattern package comes to you complete for only $1.

Air Force Probers Seek Clues In Crash That Claimed 18 Lives

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 29 (AP)—Air Force investigators searched through wreckage and human remains scattered over Maryland farmland today for the cause of a plane crash that killed 18 men last night.

There was no immediate word from the investigating party and their headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington said no findings would be made known for at least several days.

However, Defense Department officials identified the 11 Air Force and five Navy men among the dead. Names of a Marine and a soldier who were the remaining victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

No Texans were included among the identified dead.

Horried farm families, startled by a noise one witness said was like a monster truck in low gear, saw the big twin-engine C119 career in flames over their heads last night. It grazed the edge of a wooded area 19 miles south of Annapolis, crashed and exploded, scattering wreckage, bodies and parts of bodies over portions of two farms.

A watch found at the scene had stopped at 10:29.

A brush and timber fire started, but heavy rain and the efforts of firemen from six nearby communities controlled it.

Sailors and Marines from the Naval Academy here established a guard over the scene as the fact-finding party went to work.

Officials said the plane belonged to the 774th Troop Carrier Squadron based at Ardmore, Okla., and was on a routine flight from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., to Mitchell Field, N. Y. It stopped to refuel at Bolling Field near Washington and took off from there, with no sign of trouble, just 17 minutes before the crash.

The plane was shattered by a tremendous explosion. The heavy motors came to earth 160 yards apart. Part of a tall section hung high in a tree. Mrs. Franklin Paddy of Lothian, a small community nearby, said it sounded to her as though the plane exploded while still in the air.

A trail of blood 20 feet long led from one of the bodies, indicating the victim may have lived long enough to try to crawl to safety. Among the debris were found an open Bible and an embroidered handkerchief.

Another plane crash occurred about the same time not far away, when a B29 from Vance Air Force Base, Okla., went down near Amelia, Va., killing four.

Delegation Going To WTCC Session

A delegation from Big Spring will attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in San Angelo on March 29-30 to hear talks by an expert in federal-state relations, a nationally-known economist, a railroad president and the Governor of Texas.

Those now planning to attend the San Angelo session include Homer McKinley, R. V. Middleton, Marvin Sewell, Cecil McDonald, K. H. McGibbon, E. V. Spence, Willard Sullivan, G. H. Hayward, Doug Orme, Champ Rainwater, and J. H. Greene.

Governor Allan Shivers will deliver the keynote address on March 29. Dr. Clarence Manion, former chairman of President Eisenhower's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, will speak following Shivers.

Fred G. Gurley, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway system, and Dr. Sidney L. Miller, economist at the University of Pittsburgh, will also speak.

Claims Here For Unemployment Gain

Claims for unemployment compensation have increased steadily since the first of the year at the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, Leon Kinney, manager, reported Friday.

There were 179 claims filed during the week ending Thursday. Kinney said. The previous week's total had been 165, and the number filed in the first week of January was 79.

Placement of workers increased slightly in February over January, but is running at a slower pace than far in March, according to Kinney.

There were 126 job placements made in February, compared to 101 in January. The TEC manager said the current rate will result in about 100 placements in March.

Kinney said he has on file 69 applications for work in the "skilled" category and 143 in the unskilled line. Employers are becoming more "selective" as a result of the labor surplus, and employees are being chosen on the basis of competitive tests in some fields, it was reported.

DWI Fine Levied Following Collision

A fine of $75 and costs was assessed in County Court Saturday against Nelson Allen Johnson who pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated.

Highway Patrol officers said Johnson's car was involved in a collision about 2.5 miles west of Big Spring on Highway 80 Friday night. Driver of the other car involved was Jimmy Fletcher of Knox City, officers reported.

Mrs. Fletcher, a passenger in her husband's car suffered a bruised knee in the collision but the injury did not require medical attention.

Both Parties' Strategists Say They're Making Tax Bill Gains

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON March 29 (AP)—Both Democratic and Republican strategists claimed gains today after a brisk series of encounters on politically potent tax legislation.

Democrats believe the fight they lost by a narrow margin in the House to cut income taxes by raising personal exemptions may pay off when voters elect a new Congress next November.

Republicans say their defeat of the Democratic move has put them in position to block the income tax slash—which President Eisenhower opposes—even though the Senate votes for it.

The attempt to boost exemptions by $100, at an annual cost of $2,400,000,000 in revenues, went down in the House on an almost straight party-line vote of 210-204.

The House then passed an omnibus tax revision bill, on which the Democrats made their move, and Senate, which may not vote on it for two or three months.

Democrats argued the income tax cut is needed as a shot in the arm to lagging business and employment.

Republicans countered that the proposed exemption boost was an election year political maneuver and an irresponsible gesture in view of continued federal deficits. They said the GOP has presented a balanced tax program aiding both consumers and business.

Democratic strategists say this is how they expect the House fight to react to their benefit in the coming congressional elections.

The all-out Democratic drive, which saw all but nine members of the minority party supporting the increase in exemptions, forced the Republicans to pull out all stops on their side.

The administration put on every bit of pressure it could exert and held Republican ranks so solid that only 10 GOP members voted with the Democrats.

The effect of this was that nearly all of the three-score Republicans from doubtful districts were forced to line up on what many consider the politically unpopular side of the tax-cutting issue.

These districts are ones in which year after year the issue usually is decided by less than 5 per cent of the total vote.

Holiday Preference Named By Members

STANTON — Chamber of Commerce members here have listed their preference for holidays to be observed during the next 12 months.

Balloting, which was completed recently, showed the following preferences: Monday, May 31 (Memorial Day); Monday, July 5 (Independence Day); Monday, Sept. 6 (Labor Day); Thursday, Nov. 25 (Christmas Day); Saturday, Jan. 1 (New Year's Day).

Democratic candidates in these districts this fall will have what they believe is a powerful argument, particularly among low income families, because of the Republican incumbents voted against a tax cut.

GOP congressional sources give this reasoning for their belief that the parliamentary situation now favors them in the personal exemption battle.

Even if the Senate should adopt an exemption increase, and there now appears to be a good chance it will, the whole issue will be thrown into conference.

In such a conference, the majority for both the House and Senate would be the top Republican members of the Ways and Means and the Finance Committees.

These leaders are opposed to an income tax cut and will have the votes in the conference to block one.

The GOP conferees probably would get support from Sen. Byrd (D-Va) who is the one Senate Democrat so far to come out against the exemption increase.

House Near Total Loss In Fire Here

A six-room house at 401 Lancaster was badly charred by fire Saturday morning, Mrs. J. L. Brown, one of the house occupants, suffered slight burns of the arm and face.

The fire report, made out by Capt. A. D. Meador, lists 75 per cent of the building and furniture as completely destroyed. J. D. Elliott, son-in-law of house owner J. E. Hardesty, estimated damage between $6,000 and $7,000.

Two families lived in the house—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brown and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown. Mrs. J. L. Brown was home at the time of the blaze using the vacuum cleaner in the front room.

"The first thing I knew fire was everywhere," she said. The blaze started in the front room, went through a small bedroom, into the kitchen and then spread into the entire house.

Mrs. Brown said there were no fires in the house, and Meador believes escaping gas came into contact with the flame on a water heater, causing the blaze.

It took firemen about an hour to get the fire under control and out. The front portion of the building is charred on the outside as well as inside.

Manager Of Store Is Being Sought

Police and sheriff's officers here have asked area officers to assist in locating James Wilson of Big Spring, manager of the Cannon Glass Store.

Wilson has been missing since Wednesday, officers said. The store was closed Thursday. District Attorney Elton Gilliland said no charges have been filed.

FB Insurance Pays Dividend

Elli Iden, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, said yesterday that Bureau members holding automobile insurance policies written by the Bureau will receive 50 per cent dividends effective April 1.

He cites as an example a Coahoma resident, whose premium is ordinarily $29. This policy holder is receiving a dividend of $14 which reduces the premium for the next insurance period to $15.

Iden says this automobile insurance dividend, made possible through the careful operation of automobiles by farm and ranch people, will amount to about $1,700,000 to Bureau members in Texas during the next 12 months.

"To our knowledge," Iden said, "no company in the history of legal reserve insurance has paid dividends as large as 50 per cent on automobile insurance, and we know this news will be welcomed by members of the Howard County Farm Bureau."

Iden said the Farm Bureau organization also operates capital stock legal reserve life and fire insurance companies, which are currently paying very good dividends to policy holders. The Farm Bureau Companies write fire, life, farmer's comprehensive personal liability, equipment floater, pelio and automobile insurance.

All of the fine revenue goes into the Howard County till.

Deaths Of Seven In Fire Top State Weekend Toll

Seven persons burned to death early Saturday in a farmhouse fire in South Central Texas.

The tragedy, coupled with the deaths of four persons Friday night in a far West Texas traffic accident, raised the weekend Texas violent death toll to a grim start—at least 13 persons killed.

Flames swept through the farmhouse in Cedar Creek, a community about 20 miles east of Austin, and trapped the Negro family.

The dead were identified as W. C. Wilson, 54; his wife Martha, 51; their son, Alvin, 18; their daughter-in-law, Shirley Walker Wilson, 23; and three children of the daughter-in-law, James Earl Wilson Jr., 5; and Charles Eugene Wilson, 3, and Eloise Ann Wilson, 2.

Four men were killed in a head-on collision Friday night west of Fabens in the El Paso area. The dead were identified as Floyd Curry, 60, Dallas and his chauffeur, Gus Jackson, 25, and two El Paso county farmhands, Manuel Ureno and Manuel Rocha.

A 21-year-old airman, Richard Cunningham of Brighton, Mass., was killed Friday night in an auto crash near Kyle in Central Texas. Two other airmen were injured in the collision.

Dale Phelps, 32, San Antonio truck driver, was killed Friday night when his tractor-truck collided with another truck on U.S. Highway 81 near Alvarado in North Texas. It was the second fatality in two days on this stretch of road.

James Tim Mason, 31, was killed Saturday in an auto crash on U.S. Highway 59 near Humble in Harris County. Mason was riding in a truck which collided with a second truck.

THE WEEK

as its first representative to this FBI institute on police organization and methods. It can well pay off in still better enforcement and service.

Something more definite on a $140,000 National Guard armory may be heard within another week. Indications that the project is about to be put in motion are that a local concern was due to draft plans and specifications, and that final approval of the armory was being sought in Washington.

The cattle market, which has been standing firm despite the discouraging drought, had a fluttery pulse last week. Butcher classes were firm but stockers tended to ease off. This also was true of cows and calves. If buyers exhibit that much faith on dust, what would they do on rain?

Big Spring had the honor to host two distinguished groups during the past week—several hundred Baptist W.M.U. members from all over West Texas, and more than 100 dentists here for the second VA-Perman Basin Dental Society seminar. If visitors deriving as much good from their meetings as we had in entertaining them, the week was a beneficial one indeed.

There will be a minimum amount of adjustment in names at the county attorney's office. The commission's court acted promptly to fill the vacancy occasioned by resignation of Hartman Hooser. The court named his brother, Harvey Hooser. Incidentally, that makes three members of the family who have served in this post. Their father, H. C. Hooser, served a term as county attorney here a decade ago.

If you want to peek ahead into this week there are two or three events which you should include on your calendar. On Tuesday evening the school bands will be in spring concert at the high school auditorium; on Thursday evening in the H.C.J.C. auditorium the Howard County T.E. Association is having its annual meeting; on Friday H.C.J.C. is conducting its annual Senior Day event which may attract 400 or more seniors in this immediate area. It's another busy week.

Glasscock Clerk Asks Re-Election

GARDEN CITY, March 20—Vena Lawson announced Saturday that she would seek re-election to the office of county and district clerk of Glasscock County.

She said she had filed with the county Democratic chairman subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

"I would like to continue to serve as your county and district clerk and I feel that my experience has contributed to the efficient handling of the duties and responsibilities of this important office and in rendering you the type of service which you as citizens have a right to expect.

"I want to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the people of Glasscock County for the many kindnesses and courtesies shown me in the past and for the confidence in entrusting me with the office I now hold.

"My pledge is a continuation of efficiency and service to you. I earnestly enlist your loyalty and support with the assurance I will endeavor, as in the past, to justify your faith in a quality of service which will not fall short of your trust."

THE SENIOR HIGH BAND

'Band Night' Is Set At School Tuesday

Tuesday will bring "band night" in Big Spring.

Three of the public school bands—the elementary or beginners band, the junior and senior high school units—will be presented in annual spring concert at the high school auditorium. Time is 8 o'clock.

The top two bands put in a busy day Saturday with Dr. D. O. Wiley, director of the famous Texas Tech band, as the instructor at the annual spring clinic.

Although Director Clyde Rowe has been out for several weeks while convalescing from a heart attack, the bands were declared in good shape for their big event. Welding the baton will be Earl Ray, who is substituting while Rowe is incapacitated.

An intensive ticket sale campaign is due to be concluded Tuesday in an effort to fill the auditorium for the concert. The band depends heavily upon it to help finance its trips to regional contests and other events. In addition, a 24-page souvenir program has been prepared for distribution to all who attend. The book is dedicated to Clyde McMahon, vice president and finance chairman of the band boosters club, and contains a message from Mrs. Subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

The next group includes a Yoder arrangement of "Colorama," Holst's "Suite in E Flat for Military Bands," and "Crusade for Freedom" by Richards.

The junior high program opens with "Alamo March" by King, followed by an overture, "The Golden Trophy" by Franz Kiser. Other numbers are "Blue Tango," by Anderson; the "King Midas" overture by Messing; and the "American Patrol" by Meeham. There are 73 playing members of the junior high band.

The elementary band—composed of the youngsters who are beginning their study of music and who are below the junior-high level—will open the program with two little marches—"Star March" and "Blue Eagle March." Frankie Marstrand has been directing these youngsters since Rowe became ill.

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—The University of Texas, strong in the sprints and middle distance races, won a decisive victory today over Howard Payne, Abilene Christian College and Southwest Texas State College in a quadrangular track and field meet.

The Longhorns scored 82 1/2 points to 37 1/2 for ACC, 26 for Southwest Texas and 26 for Howard Payne.

Texas swept the sprints with Dean Smith clicking off the 100 yard race in 9.8 seconds. Teammate Charles Thomas won the 220 in 21.8 and anchored the sprint relay team to a 41.5 victory.

Tommy Rogers of Texas ran his best race of the year to win the 880 in 1:54.5. Longhorn Dick Forster was second and Leon Leppard (Big Spring) of ACC third.

Texas also won the mile relay with an excellent time of 3:17.7.

PALM BEACH Fla., March 20 (AP)—Art Larsen of San Leandro Calif., beat Tony Trabert of Cincinnati 5-7, 8-6, 6-4 today to join Vic Seixas of Philadelphia in the finals of the Everglades Invitational Tennis Tournament tomorrow.

Seixas, the defending champion, scored an easy 6-0, 6-3 victory over Gardner Mulloy of Miami in the other semifinal match.

Doris Hart of Miami outlasted Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, 6-4, 3-6, 11-9 for the women's championship earlier in the day.

A native of Panama, Tex., the 24-year-old Mayer is a 6 foot 2, 195-pound speedster. He ran the 100 yards in 9.5 seconds while at Texas.

Angelo Man, 95, Dies Of Injury

SAN ANGELO, March 20 (AP)—A.R. Nisbet, 95, died today of a hip injury received last February 10.

The aged inventor of farm equipment slipped and broke his hip while showing a grandson how to skip stones on water. The accident happened the day after his 95th birthday.

Nisbet invented an insect catching machine, a grass seed combine harvester and a cotton picking machine. All of them are manufactured by a firm he headed here.

Four sons were associated with him in the business.

He made his home at Plainview for a number of years before moving to San Angelo.

Local Debaters Place Second

The Big Spring High School debating team returned Saturday from Levelland with a second place trophy won in an invitational debating meet.

The local team, which is coached by Del McComb, reached the finals with Odessa. Charles Saunders and Beulah Compton represented Big Spring.

McComb took three teams to Levelland and the other two reached the semifinals. Tom Guin and Gary Tidwell made up the "other boys" team while Ann Gray and Lemarr Bailey represented Big Spring as a mixed team in girls' competition.

The two boys' teams are composed almost entirely of sophomores. Bailey and Miss Gray are seniors.

Other teams competing in the meet, which used as its subject "Resolved that the president of the United States should be elected by direct vote of the people," were Lubbock, Levelland and Odessa.

The local debaters will go to Lubbock April 10 to take part in the Interscholastic League's district meet.

George B. Parr Faces Gun Case Trial On Monday

ALICE, March 20 (AP)—Unless there is a no other postponement George B. Parr will go on trial here Monday on charges of illegal pistol toting.

The trial originally was scheduled for March 15 but Defense Atty. Ed Lloyd won the week's postponement on grounds he was tied up with a civil damage suit.

The South Texas political boss already has pleaded innocent. He claims he was carrying binoculars, not a pistol, while observing a meeting of the opposition Freedom Party in San Diego last Jan. 16.

Manuel Marroquin, an ex-tortilla maker and Freedom Party member, claims Parr threatened him when he found the 52-year-old "Duke of Duval" parked near the meeting place. The incident occurred just on the Jim Wells-Duval county line.

Parr will be tried in county court before County Judge Wash Storm Jr.

Maximum penalty on conviction is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

Pro-Parr Women See Gov. Shivers

AUSTIN (AP)—The spokesman for the "Old Party" women of Duval County said they didn't like the governor's "attitude that he is the Savior of all us."

Approximately 300 women of Duval County jammed into the governor's office yesterday and presented their petition asking the state to stop interfering in local government in Duval County.

Gov. Allan Shivers told them that wrongs should be corrected and the truth known.

After that, said Mrs. Mary Joyce Mattson, a second grade teacher in Freer and chairman of the Old Party organization of women voters of Duval County, told reporters: "I don't believe a thing he says. "We didn't come here to be lectured."

Two groups of Duval women have come to see the governor.

Shivers Challenged At Special Session

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Opposition to administration proposals for new or increased taxes grew louder as the Legislature finished the first week of its special teachers pay session.

The sharpest challenge came from a member of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, Rep. Jack Fisk, Wharton, who will introduce a bill Monday to chop virtually all state taxes 10 per cent.

His proposal was a flat alternative to Gov. Allan Shivers' recommendations and will give the House a clear-cut opportunity to say what it wants to do as the 30-day session develops.

While members of the House and Senate were home for a long weekend, Fisk filed his tax cut bill with the clerk of the House. He is regarded as a close friend of House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt, who agrees with him that the special session should not have been called in the first place.

Despite the opposition, Shivers' program came through the first week of the session in very good shape.

In the Senate, committees recommended passage of these measures:

1. The teachers pay bill and the accompanying revision of the state-local ratio or public school financing.
2. A bill providing cost of living raises for state employes.

3. Appropriations for buildings at such institutions as the School for the Deaf and Eastham Prison Farm.

All three were recommended on the session's first day by Shivers. The building cost, 10 million dollars plus, could be handled without taxes from a general revenue fund surplus, Shivers said.

The committee-approved pay raise measures, to cost $25,000,000, would have to be financed from new taxes proposed by the governor.

Three of these revenue-raising measures have been set for hearing early next week. They are expected to meet stern opposition in the conservative House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Meanwhile, the appropriations bills approved in Senate committee will be in shape for early debate as the special session begins its second week. There's not much likelihood of a tax bill getting to the floor debate stage for at least two weeks.

Fisk's statement was the first open expression of considerable muttering that has been going on since the session started. On the Senate side, outspoken Jimmy Phillips of Angleton let fly at the governor's program in a committee meeting.

It was much too early to evaluate the strength of the opposition to the governor's program as the session neared its second week.

GRAND JURY

dall Hendrix, Johnny Edward Springer and Jack Thompson, said Gilliland.

They will be investigated for possible indictment under a new statute which makes jail breaching a felony in cases where escapees have previously been convicted on felony charges, according to the district attorney.

Thomas Ray Taylor, the fifth escapee from the local jail, has not been convicted of a felony in Texas and will not be investigated on a jailbreaking complaint, Gilliland said.

However, Taylor and Donald Eugene Robinson are charged with robbery with firearms and are to be investigated on that charge. They are accused of holding up a service station on the west side of Big Spring Mar. 12.

The Monday night escape was the second in four days for Taylor. He broke away from Stanton Police-man Walter Graves as he was being brought to Big Spring on the day of the service station robbery, but was recaptured a few hours later.

He was picked up again last Wednesday in Midland, following the jail break here. Hendrix and Thompson were caught in Big Spring shortly after the jail break and Springer was captured here Tuesday night. Leach was arrested in Colorado City Friday.

Others to be investigated by the grand jury this week are James H. Webb and Dale R. Hildebrand.

Sudan Grass Valuable To Cattlemen

COLLEGE STATION, (SC)—Staggered plantings of Sudan grass can go far toward stretching temporary summer grazing for livestock, says E. M. Trew, Extension Service pasture specialist.

"And now is the time to plant Sudan in most of Texas," he explains, "although in those parts where frost is likely to yet occur the planting should wait until the danger of a freeze has passed."

In addition to furnishing abundant grazing when moisture permits, Trew describes Sudan as an important "link" in any year-round grazing program, inasmuch as it enables livestock to lay off permanent pastures giving them time to rest and get a better foothold before the next grazing season.

Trew recommends planting one acre of temporary pasture for each animal unit. By commencing plantings when frost danger passes, he says, and by planting at three to four week intervals as long as moisture is available, Sudan grazing can be greatly extended.

"Some stockmen have been grazing from about six weeks after frost until frost in the fall by using this system," Trew says. Different plantings, however, must be fenced separately, he adds.

Ceballos asks the damages in connection with a highway accident which occurred west of Big Spring on May 18, 1932. Fidel and Marfita Ceballos and their three children, Della, Pablo and Fidel Ceballos Jr. died as a result of injuries received in the accident. The plaintiff says he is administrator of the estates of the deceased.

Plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of the defendants contributed to the accident. Defendants, in addition to Frozen Food Express Inc., are Lee Odell of Odessa and Zephyr Drilling Company of Midland.

said today that native troops were deserting the French Union forces and weakening the French position. The radio claimed 10,000 such troops deserted to the Communists during the last three months of 1953 and that a band of 200 braved French artillery fire this week to quit the French lines.

In Washington, Gen. Paul Ely, French armed forces chief of staff, arrived for talks with President Eisenhower, and others Monday about the Indochina fighting. The President, Secretary of State Dulles and defense chiefs discussed the situation for more than an hour today.

ABE L. WHIPKEY

Abe L. Whipkey Dies; Service Is Set Monday

COLORADO CITY, March 20—Abe L. Whipkey, 88, early-day printer and co-founder of the Colorado Record died quietly in his sleep here Saturday morning.

Mr. Whipkey's strength had failed him steadily in recent years. A funeral is to be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church, where he worshipped here for almost half a century. His pastor, The Rev. J. F. Selcraig, is to officiate. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery with Kiker & Son in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Whipkey is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nannie S. Whipkey; two sons, Robert W. Whipkey, Big Spring, and S. E. Whipkey, Houston; three daughters, Mrs. O. B. Price and Mrs. Irene Robertson, Colorado City, and Mrs. Ruth Moody, Houston. He also leaves seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Walter Whipkey, Colorado City, a nephew, also survives.

A career as a printer and newspaperman encompassed more than 65 years for Mr. Whipkey. He was born June 1, 1865 at Murphysboro, Ill., the youngest of 13 children, and at the age of 10 took up his apprenticeship in printing. So adept was he that in three years he had earned his journeyman's card. At the age of 15 he struck out for Texas to join two brothers who were then in Hill County.

Later, in 1896, he teamed with Fred B. Whipkey in establishing a paper at Granger. The two brothers also operated newspapers at Holland, Corsicana, Mart Temple and West before they settled down "for good" here in 1905.

Meanwhile, he had passed long enough in Dallas to do a bit of hand-spiking on the News. On one occasion during their careers in Central Texas, he and "Uncle" Fred were burned in effigy because they dared to support prohibition editorially.

It was on his birthday—June 1, 1932—that he was married to an Indiana miss, Nannie Smith, in the First Baptist Church at West, with another brother, the Rev. S. E. Whipkey, solemnizing the rites. Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Whipkey celebrated this long and happy union with a 60th anniversary open house at their home in Colorado City.

Many years ago Mr. Whipkey disposed of his interest in the Record and retired to his books and to a hobby that fascinated him—jig-saw puzzles. Ultimately, infirmities of age denied him these pleasures, and Saturday at dawn, he died in his sleep at home.

Midland Changes Its Traffic Group

Midland, following the plans mapped out by George Oldham of Big Spring, has reorganized its Citizens Traffic Safety Commission. The Midland organization was set in motion Wednesday night.

Oldham, executive secretary of the Big Spring Citizens Traffic Commission, met with citizens of Midland two weeks ago in order to outline the workings of the Big Spring committee and to present ideas for the organization of a similar committee there.

Oldham was again in Midland Friday to help in organizing safety councils in schools there. He reported that the Midland CTCSC has an ambitious program of work.

The school safety councils in Midland will sponsor a Youth for Traffic Safety Week much like that planned in Big Spring, complete with a road-race, he said.

WATER

such a project is entirely feasible and I am launching a campaign to see what can be done about it.

"This sort of a project would be unparalleled in our nation's history but we must take a bold new look at our national water policy if we are to meet the essential requirements of growth or even maintain over the long pull our present economy."

He said studies have shown that eleven cities in the South Plains-Panhandle area of Texas, growing at a rate which will give them a trebled population in 45 years, already are in need of additional water supplies.

Dental Seminar Set Again For Next Year

The second annual Big Spring Dental Seminar, sponsored by the Veterans Administration Hospital and the Permian Basin Dental Society, was termed a complete success here Saturday by those attending.

Some 120 dentists had been registered for the two-day seminar. Doctors James J. Vaughn and Stephen P. Forrest, nationally recognized speakers, lectured on the practical aspects of full and partial dentures.

The visiting dentists were free with their compliments concerning the seminar, and delegates from El Paso, Lubbock and San Angelo indicated they wish to join the society.

Plans were set up for a third seminar in 1955, and Dr. Calvin J. Guillemin, chief of the VA Hospital dental service, said speakers of international repute will be secured for the occasion.

Dr. James Beall of Odessa was elected president of the Permian Basin Dental Society for 1954. President-elect is Dr. George Ulvestad, and vice president is Dr. L. W. Tanner. Dr. William Shaw was named secretary-treasurer.

A Big Spring dentist, Dr. E. O. Ellington, was named parliamentarian, a newly created post. Dr.

Bruce Strahan was made delegate, and Dr. Neil Hayes was named alternate.

Dr. Forrest, professor of prosthetic dentistry at Baylor University, was the principal speaker Saturday. He discussed all phases of full denture work, dwelling at length on the modern developments. Title of his lecture series was "Full and Partial Denture Prosthesis for the General Practitioner."

The lecture was carefully designed to offer practicing dentists information that they can take to their individual offices and put to everyday use. It was particularly valuable, dentists pointed out, in bringing them up to date on new practices.

Dr. Vaughn, faculty member at Vanderbilt University College of Dentistry and Meharry Medical College, conducted a Saturday afternoon clinic for dental assistants.

There were 51 assistants in attendance at the meeting, and Dr. Vaughn spoke on "Helpful Hints for the Dental Assistant." The doctor had also conducted a lecture series Friday on modern fixed bridge work and partial dentures.

College Journalism Students To Fight Censorship Moves

STILLWATER, Okla., March 20 (AP)—Journalism students from 12 Southwestern colleges and universities today banded together against faculty censorship of their school newspapers.

The action came at the close of the two-day Southwest Journalism Congress attended by students and journalism faculty members.

The student editors brought up four cases of censorship by faculty and other groups at Tulane, Texas A&M, Texas University and Southern Methodist.

They voted to band together to give each other editorial support and to study and fight any instances of censorship of their papers.

Carlton Wilson, of Southern Methodist University, was named secretary of the student group to handle all complaints. Scott Burns, Tulane, was named president and George Manitzas, Texas A&M, was elected vice president.

At the faculty meeting, Prof. George Simmons, Tulane, was elected president of that group. Eugene Schooley, Hardin-Simmons, was named vice president, and Warren Agee, Texas Christian University, was made secretary.

The congress voted to hold its 1955 convention at Tulane.

United States Ups Limits On A-Test Area In Pacific

TOKYO, Sunday, March 21 (AP)—The United States, surprised by the devastating power of the hydrogen blast March 1, has more than tripled the distance ships must keep between them and the center of future mid-Pacific explosions.

Japan's Diet was informed yesterday that the danger zone has been increased in square miles by more than 20 times.

Japanese ships were told to stay out of an area with a radius of 450 miles during future tests in the Marshall Islands area. The previous barred-off zone was roughly 150 miles north-south by 200 east-west.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet that the greatly enlarged limit was set in a note handed to the Japanese ambassador in Washington.

The United States acted after 23 Japanese fishermen went to hospitals with radioactive burns suffered by a shower of ashes. The fishermen insisted that their boat, the Lucky Dragon, was outside the specified 150-by-200 zone and 80 miles from the blast's center.

U. S. officials also were prompted to enlarge the danger zone after determining that 28 American observers and more than 300 Marshallese 100 miles away were affected.

Japanese fishing boats even further away from the blast than the Lucky Dragon returned home with catches of tuna which were found to be radioactive although not dangerously so.

Dr. John Morton, director of the U. S. atomic bomb casualty commission at Hiroshima, yesterday examined 21 of the Lucky Dragon crewmen at Yaku port. He recommended their transfer to the Tokyo hospital where the other two are under treatment.

Two new drugs are to be used. One is Tokyo University's Irlloyin, which seeks to build up white corpuscles destroyed by radiation. In some cases yesterday, the white corpuscle count of victims was down to 4,500 from 6,000 earlier in the week. White corpuscles are vital in resisting disease.

The other drug is American-developed EDTA (ethylenediaminetetraacetic acid).

Stanton Plans Scout Campaign

STANTON (SC) — A "dawn to dusk" drive to obtain finances for operation of Boy Scout troops will be held here Thursday.

Ed Robnett, chairman of the Scout finance committee in Martin County will head up the drive. There will be five committees canvassing Stanton for contributions.

Robnett said there will be no fixed goal, but that Scout leaders hope to obtain enough money on which to operate during the coming year. The Thursday canvass will be the only drive held in 1954.

Operations will start at 7 a.m. at the Bel-Vue Motel, where members of the five committees will meet for breakfast. Each man present at the breakfast will be charged with contacting about six individuals.

James Eiland, Bob Davenport, Sam Houston, R. K. Rogers, and James Biggs are the five committee chairmen.

Eiland's committee consists of June Graham, Phillips White, A. C. Abernathy, E. W. McCain, Clark Hamilton and H. S. Blocker. Davenport's committee has the following men: Jack Treston, Side Supulber, Ed Edwards, D. E. Ory, Walt Dickinson, Arthur Wilson, and Jiggs Hall.

Those on Houston's committee include Charlie Cravens, Bland Cross, R. E. Walker, Leo Turner, Bob Whitaker, F. O. Rhodes, and Floyd Smith. On Rogers' committee are Ralph Caton, Yuell Winslow, S. W. Wheeler, Glen Brown, Cecil Bridges, J. C. Mott, and J. W. Sale.

Biggs heads up a committee of Billy Arvon, Elmer Long, Bob Latimer, Marion Gibson, Raymond Phillips, Dan Saunders, and Bill Rhodes.

Nine Mishaps Reported Here

Nine automobile accidents were reported on the streets of Big Spring Friday and Saturday, and a Latin-American youth was treated at Webb Air Force Base Hospital after being struck by a car Saturday afternoon.

The youth is Mack Parras, who lives at 809 NW 6th. Officers said he apparently suffered shock and a blow to the head. Injuries were not considered serious.

Parras was hit while crossing the street about 3 p.m. after emerging from a theater in the 300 block of Runnels. The pickup striking him was operated by Billy Joe Pederson, 502 Benton.

One of the Saturday afternoon accidents involved police officer Perry Chandler, who was driving the three-wheel police motorcycle. The vehicle was in collision with a car driven by Devo Porch, 405 Benton, about 12:20 p.m. in the 300 block of Main.

Two hit-and-run accidents were reported Friday. O. B. Wright, O. K. Traller Courts, told officers his car was hit by a pickup on the Piggy Wiggy parking lot off 11th Place about 5 p.m. Another minor hit-and-run collision was reported in the 200 block of North Benton at 8:15 p.m., and police failed to list the names of drivers on the daily record book.

The third Friday collision, which occurred about 3:45 p.m. in the 300 block of Main, involved drivers Mary Marie Martin, Forsan, and Christine Cook Hatch, 2106 Scurry.

There was a collision, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the 900 block of

AFL Scores Loyalty Plan

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—The Texas State Federation of Labor (AFL) today sent legislators a four-page bulletin setting forth its opposition to the proposed "Loyalty Review Board" for controlling Communism in Texas.

Two measures to create such a board and otherwise tighten Communist control laws are set for public hearing before the Senate's Civil Jurisprudence Committee Monday.

The measures were drawn up by the State Industrial Commission following its recent investigation of Communist activity in Texas. They were introduced in the Senate by Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Jerry R. Holleman, federation executive secretary, said in a statement appearing in the booklet that the federation yields to no one in its opposition to and abhorrence of Communism, its methods and its ideology.

"At the same time xxx it is our firm belief that such a 'Loyalty Review Board' would seriously endanger the rights of free citizens of Texas to freedom of thought," he said, adding:

"Furthermore, such a board could easily be used by unscrupulous people to destroy the legitimate, non-Communist, free and democratic organizations which happen to disagree politically with those in power."

Pilot Killed In Jet Crash In Indiana

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 20 (AP)—An Air Force F-84 jet trainer crashed today on the west edge of South Bend, killing the pilot who was alone in the plane.

Papers in the plane bore the name of Lt. William P. Kenyon but gave no home address. They also indicated he was on a flight from Des Moines to South Bend.

Witnesses said he apparently was attempting an emergency landing at St. Joseph County Airport, and that his plane was without power. The plane did not explode, and there was no fire.

The pilot was dead when help reached the plane.

Lt. Kenyon refueled at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha and took off for South Bend at 11:37 a.m. (EST) today in his 533 two-place jet trainer. He was attached to the 3645th Air Base Group, Laughlin AFB, Del Rio, Tex., a public information officer said.

Homegrown Ballet Sprouts In Abilene; Show Is Slated

ABILENE, March 20 (S)—Homegrown ballet is sprouting on the West Texas plains.

A group here is getting ready for an original ballet written by the Abilene musician, staged by Abilene people, played and sponsored by the Abilene symphony orchestra.

A few months ago some of the dancers didn't know a pas de deux from "Cotton Eye Joe."

The ballet—it's no dancing school recital piece, either, but serious music—is based on the old Edgar Allan Poe thriller, "The Masque of the Red Death." The music was composed by Macon Sumertin, McMurry College professor.

It will be given on a double-barreled program March 29 and 30 along with a performance by the Hardin-Simmons University capella choir of Arthur Honegger's dramatic psalm, "King David."

"Masquerade" tells the story of an Italian prince who sealed himself and his courtiers in his palace to keep out the plague which was killing his people.

About 30 minutes long, the ballet is written in "contemporary" style, and costumes and sets, both designed by local people, are in key with the music.

Mrs. Mildred Fender Deaton, Abilene artist, designed the costumes, and they were stitched up by volunteer seamstresses. Sets were done by Ernest Sublett, high school drama teacher.

All of the 150-odd people involved in the program, except for conductor Julius Hegyi and choir director Euell Porter, have donated their time on a strictly volunteer basis.

Choreography was by Dotty Botkin, local dance teacher, with an assist from Ted Priour, a professional ballet dancer, from Abilene just out of the Air Force. Both take leading parts.

But professionals, or even experienced ballet dancers, are strictly the exception.

The prince is danced by Delton Galloway from near Aspermont, horseback baton twirler with the H-SU Cowboy Band. He is donning ballet slippers for the first time in his life.

About a fifth of the women who reach age 65 this year in the United States will live to be 88.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

From Mrs. J. W. McCormick Jr., I have received these lines:
 "Before I was married, I belonged to the Wolf family. During my childhood my friends included members of the Koon and Chase family. When we played together, there were three Koons, one Wolf and two Chases."
 "Some years ago I belonged to a bird club, and three of the members were Miss Snow, Miss Hale and Mr. Frost. In a suburb of Boston there is a successful physician named Dr. Killam."
 A long and interesting letter, with more than 1,000 words, has come from Miss Mary E. Helmz. Here are some of the outstanding parts:
 "I am much interested in people's names, and have been writing down odd ones for quite a while. In my list of family names are Lark, Finch and Eagle. My tree list includes Oaks, Maples and Larch.
 "Another list includes Church, Bishop, Pope, Blessing, Chapel, Grace and Amen. My grandmother told me a story of the Stillman name. A boat containing early settlers was bringing a Mr. Pickard to the New World. Mr. Pickard talked so much that the other passengers seemed never to have a chance to say anything. The men got together and offered him a sum of money if he would stop speaking until the end of the voyage. He accepted, and his long silence, after that, led to the name of Stillman."
 "There were only a few persons with middle names two centuries ago. There were so many John Smiths, William Browns and so on that a custom grew to use middle names to set them apart."
 "In past centuries it was common to give to girls names which seem rather strange to most of us now. My list includes these: Delight, Burden, Desire, Freeborn, Love, Lament, Fruitful, Obey, Rest and Silence."

 Thursday they were entertained by the marionette show. Mr. Dixon presented imitations of Al Jolson and Jimmie Durante. Senior classes from Ackerly, Big Spring, Courtney, Colorado City, Coahoma, Forsan, Knott, Gall, Sterling City and Westbrook will meet here March 26 for Senior Day on the HCJC campus. Classes will register from 8 to 10 a.m. and tour the campus, stopping in the Sub for refreshments. Contests are slated to begin at 10:30, at which time other program details will be given. At noon a barbecue will be given at the city park and then following, Miss Senior of 1954 will be chosen from the beauty contestants. The contestants will appear both in street clothes and formal wear. Full scholarships will be given to the first place winners plus a 26-inch loving cup. Half scholarships and smaller loving cups will be presented to second and third place winners in both contests. Three smaller cups will go to the fourth, fifth and sixth place winners. Supervisor, George McAllister, said that there were already 25 entries in the contest and talent show. The Colorado City Chorale, composed of 23 young women under direction of Curtis Baker, will be heard. Three hundred seniors are expected here for this event. Let's everyone help make this a big success.

Bronc Lineup Not Set, But Pep Martin Makes Headway

Drills To Open On March 31

Of the 15 ball players now under contract to the Big Spring Broncs, five are hurlers, two are catchers, five are infielders and three are outfielders.

The hurlers are Larry Cummins and Mike Rainey, veterans; Martin Orlando, Jim Morehouse and Sam Dawson, all rookies. All are right-handers.

Manager Pepper Martin is far from satisfied with his hurling staff and says it will be strengthened, if he has to trade some of his veteran players to do it.

Two rookies will try for the catcher's job. They are Degberto Gutierrez and Ed Donovan. Martin has indicated the team will carry two receivers. He is still trying to acquire either a veteran or a limited service player with at least two years' experience for the job.

Infielders with the team are Juan Mejido, veteran first sacker; Floyd Martin, limited service second baseman; Julio De La Torre, classman third baseman; and two rookies, Tony Martinez, a first baseman; and George Becca, shortstop.

Martin himself is the only outfielder with any experience. Gilberto Rojas and Johnny O'Neil are rookies under contract.

Pepper doesn't expect to 'go' with the lineup he now has but says he's farther along in acquiring players than several clubs in the league, among them Odessa and Wichita Falls.

Some of his players are due here as early as Wednesday. Three of the Cuban players accompanying Pat Stacey from Havana are assigned here and Stacey is due back on March 24.

The Broncs launch spring drills a week from Wednesday. They play their first home exhibition game Tuesday night, April 8, at which time they test Pat Stacey's Roswell club.

In all, they have three local exhibition games booked. They host Midland April 11 and San Angelo April 18.

They also go to Wichita Falls for two games on April 8-9, to Midland on April 13 and San Angelo April 18.

Martin said he could have obtained Roman Loyko, veteran outfielder who was with Odessa last year, but passed up the opportunity.

With the season just ahead, Martin hopes to get as many book tickets for Bronc home games as possible, before he has to turn his attention to other things.

The books sell for $7 and contain ten tickets, good for all games save the opener.

The money he realizes from the sale of the books, which offer a savings of 40 cents to the customer, will help tide him over until the season actually gets under way on April 22.

The books are sold locally at Dibrell's Sporting Goods, Settles Barber Shop and Gound's Pharmacy.

Rex Baxter Will Enter Colonial

FORT WORTH, March 20 (AP)—Three more entries were announced today for Fort Worth's $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament, golf's richest regulation PGA event.

This leaves only 11 spots open in the May 26-30 tournament, the field for which is limited to 48.

Accepting invitations today were Stewart (Skip) Alexander, St. Petersburg, Fla., a pro; Rex Baxter Jr., Amarillo, national junior amateur champion, and Charles Coe, Oklahoma City, 1948 amateur champion and a member of last year's Walker Cup team.

BOLT AND MAYER CLING TO LEAD IN FLORIDA

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer clung grimly to their one stroke lead in the $15,000 International Four-Ball Golf Tournament today, fighting off a spirited bid for first place by two young Californians, Bud Holscher and Bob Rosburg.

Holscher, the 23-year-old Santa Monica sharpshooter, and his San Francisco partner, Rosburg, matched the lead temporarily on today's front nine as Bolt, the stormy Texan, and Mayer, the St. Petersburg, Fla., star, skidded to sixth place.

But Mayer splashed the hottest golfing streak of the tournament on the homestretch and lifted him and his partner back up to the top of the standings.

Mayer and Bolt managed only a single birdie between them as they took 35 strokes on the first nine, but Mayer's brilliance on the tough back nine gave them a 5-under-par 20 for a 54-hole best-ball total of 138.

With one round to go, they were 30 strokes under par for the Normandy Shores course.

On one string of four holes starting at the 12th, the slender Mayer was five strokes under par, his

Top End Of Batting Order

Long Set To Take Mound Against Snyder Tuesday

Cocher Roy Baird is fairly well set on the Big Spring Steer baseball lineup he'll send against Snyder in Snyder Tuesday afternoon.

The game opens the season for the Longhorns. A seven-inning game, it begins at 4 p.m.

The Steers will play their first home game at 4 p.m. Friday, at which time they play the same club. The Tigers are masterminded by Milton (Speedy) Moffett, one-time Big Spring.

Frank (Red) Long, three-year letterman, will probably toe the slab for the Big Spring club. His slants will be caught by Jimmy Hollis, another veteran.

Ralph Murphy will be at first base, Jerry Barron at second, Tommy McAdams at third and possibly Melvin Murphy at shortstop. Freddie Blalack could be inserted into the lineup as the shortstop, in which case Melvin Murphy will go to the outfield.

Morrison Winner Over Central

Kate Morrison, a perennial toughie in Ward School Softball League play, won its second straight game Friday by beating Central Ward at Tiger Park, 8-0.

David Abreo buried the shutout, scattering eight hits and issuing only one walk.

His mates got to J. B. Davis for 14 blows.

In other games, West Ward buried North Ward under a 29-8 score in a game played at North Ward. Den Hayworth went all the way on the mound for the Cowboys. He also hit a home run.

Park Hill vanquished East Ward, 12-1, in another game.

Jackie Richburg buried for the winners, Rex Appleton for the losers, Appleton scored East's lone run.

Spudders To Hold Baseball School

WICHITA FALLS, March 20 (SC)—A baseball tryout will be conducted here by the Wichita Falls Spudders of the Longhorn League, starting Tuesday morning.

The Spudders open formal workouts on Thursday.

left field, Ronnie Wooten in center and Ralph Broughton in right field for Big Spring.

Sidney Butler and Carlisle (Frosty) Robinson are ready for relief mound duty. Long is not due to work over four or five innings at the most, since this is the first game of the campaign. Baird had his charges out Saturday morning for a four-hour drill.

The Longhorns open their District 3-AAA season Saturday, April 10, at which time they tangle with the powerful San Angelo Bobcats here.

Rose Mary Morris composed the Sweetwater team.

In the finals, Faulkner and Rome shaded Lindsey and Morris, 6-2, 6-1.

Faulkner and Rome have each competed in six doubles and singles matches this year and have yet to lose. They are coached by Billie Clyburn.

Big Spring did not enter a senior team in the San Angelo meet.

Miss Clyburn will send her Steerettes against Andrews in Big Spring Tuesday afternoon. Present plans call for seven girls to see action.

COLORADO CITY, March 20 (SC)—The annual Colorado City Invitational Golf Tournament will be held April 29 through May 2. Herzie Carson, San Angelo, is the defending champion.

Longhorn Linksters Finish Fourth In Meet At Midland

MIDLAND, March 20 (SC)—San Angelo's Bobcats won a five-way high school golf meet played at the long North Course here Saturday.

The Cats' total score was 319. Amarillo was second, Lubbock third, Big Spring fourth (with a 240) and Midland fifth (at 241).

Jay McIntosh, San Angelo, was medalist with a two-over-par 74. Bobby Blumh paced the Big Spring delegation with a 38-41-79. James Lee Underwood of the Steers registered a 43-39-82. Eddie Harris, Big Spring, had 43-44-87 and teammate Wilbur Cunningham came in with a 45-41-92.

The Steers had returned early Saturday morning from Fort Worth, where they had finished among the first 20 teams in the one-day Southwestern Recreation Meet held Friday at Meadowbrook course.

Big Spring had a total score of 228, which left it 28 strokes back of first place Duncan, Okla. Seventy-five teams were entered.

At Fort Worth, Underwood shot a 39-37-76. Medalist was Bunky

Sooner Aggies Win S'western Track Circus

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, March 20 (AP)—Oklahoma A&M's mighty distance running brigade won the closest and most thrilling of all Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meets today, coming from behind on the flying feet of stubby, fighting Bill Heard to capture the mile relay and score 39 points to 38 1/2 for University of Houston.

In the stretch on this dusty, windy, cold day that held everybody down, thundered Heard. He overtook Bobby Crooks, the last Southern Methodist relay runner, in the final 10 yards and won by a yard to give Oklahoma A&M the championship by one-half point.

Houston, which could have won the meet had it placed second in the mile relay, wound up third. Southern Methodist was third in the meet with 32 1/2 points.

It was a team victory for Oklahoma A&M as the Aggies didn't have a man to win more than one first place. On the other hand, Houston's Kirby Jett and Nick Spilloe, each took two firsts.

Lanky Sture Landqvist, the Oklahoma Aggie sophomore distance ace, whipped up a 1:55 6 half-mile to set a record to go with the record his mile relay team hung up—3:17.2.

Seven records were broken and two tied in this gigantic meet that attracted 1372 athletes in five classes as North Texas State won the college division title. Oklahoma A&M also took the college freshman class championship, Victoria won the Junior College title and Sunset of Dallas repeated with the championship of the high school class.

The high school division produced the most records and the most thrills with James Weaver of North Side (Fort Worth) being acclaimed outstanding athlete of the meet and receiving the R. D. Evans Trophy. This trophy was presented the first time this year in memory of the founder of the meet, who died last winter.

Weaver won the 100 and 440-yard dashes, tying the meet record in the latter with a 50.0 time and he ran the first lap on a record-setting mile relay team, gaining a long lead.

North Texas State won the college class going away. East Texas State was second with 40, Kansas State Teachers of Pittsburg, Kansas, third with 21.

Victoria again won the junior college division title with 40 points. Tarleton State was second with 34 1/2 and Paris was third with 27.

Oklahoma A&M won the college freshman title with 35 1/2 points to 24 for Kansas State Teachers and 20 for University of Houston.

Sunset made 20 points to win the high school title with North Side second with 18 and Andrews third with 15.

Porkers Show Fine Progress

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 20 (AP)—Coach Bowden Wyatt says his Arkansas Razorbacks are showing exceptional progress in spring football training.

"Despite the number of sophomores out for the team this spring," Wyatt commented, "the condition of the players and our knowledge of the personnel has made for a rapidly-moving program that should be of great benefit to us."

Wyatt listed two major goals—one immediate, the other in the future.

"The first is our glaring weakness at center and at both ends," Wyatt said. The Razorbacks don't have a single returning letterman at any of the three positions.

"We've got to concentrate our entire efforts toward finding men for these three spots plus finding two tailbacks that can do the job handed by one man last year."

Wyatt's future plans are summarized in his declaration: "We hope to be in business by 1955."

Some 56 of the 62 men now taking part in spring practice will be back for the spring program in 1955.

Forsan Bisons Capture Meet

FORSAN, March 20 (SC)—Albert Oglesby led the Forsan Bisons to victory in a triangular track and field meet here Friday, scoring 19 1/2 points.

The Bisons accumulated 66 1/2 points to 54 1/2 for Sterling City and 9 for Garden City, the only other team in the meet.

Other schools comprising the six-man conference, District Seven, were invited to the invitational meet but did not show up, probably because of the weather.

The meet's high point man was

LaSalle Wins NCAA Crown

KANSAS CITY, March 20 (AP)—All-America Tom Gola led LaSalle to a convincing 92-76 victory over Bradley University in the finals of the 1954 NCAA basketball tournament before 10,500 fans here Saturday night.

Bradley led throughout the first half but the Explorers tied the score early in the third period and enjoyed a 30-point quarter to win going away.

Gola scored 19 points and played a great floor game before fouling out late in the game. LaSalle was safely in command when he left.

Charles Singley and Frank Blacher each scored 25 points for the Explorers from Philadelphia. Dick Esterger and Bob Carney paced the Peoria, Ill., club, each with 17.

Bradley led at the end of the first quarter, 22-19; and at half time, 43-42; but LaSalle was out front after three periods of play, 72-57.

Penn State, ahead from start to finish, staved off a desperate last-quarter rally by Southern California to win third place tonight in the National Collegiate Basketball championships, 70-61.

The contest was played under the suggested new foul rule which reverses the one-and-one shooting procedure and it almost cost Penn State the game.

Southern California made the first free throw 12 times and converted the bonus toss on 10 of its chances.

The recommended rule change would give a bonus shot after each successful free throw on all common fouls. If the first shot is missed the ball is in play.

Penn State had seven chances for the extra shot and sank six of them.

Gross Factor In A&M Win

HOUSTON, March 20 (AP)—Bobby Jack Gross of Big Spring contributed 10 points, as expected, as Texas A. & M. placed in every event today to win a triangular track meet from Rice and Louisiana State.

The Aggies scored 71 1/2 points. LSU had 51, with 11 1-2 of them by a former Rice freshman, Bobby Dean of Corpus Christi. Rice had 47 1/2 points.

A&M won seven firsts, LSU 5 1/2, Rice 3 1/2.

Gross took first in the shot put with a distance of 31 feet 10 inches and led in the discus with a mark of 151 feet 10 inches.

Dean won the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds and captured the 220 around a turn, in 22.1. He also was on the LSU mile relay team that placed second behind the Aggies.

The A&M mile relay team of Jerry Stull, Frank Norris, Wallace Klein and Jess Libby won with a time of 3:17.5. Rice, which finished third, challenged briefly in the opening quarter, but Norris opened a 20-yard lead and the Aggies never were headed, winning by 20 yards.

The closest race of the day was the 880, in which LSU's Charles Hennigan edged out Rice's Dale Spence.

Spence had trailed Hennigan all the way but made his bid in the home stretch. He pulled even with the LSU runner with five yards remaining but Hennigan won by a foot or so in 1:55.

Furillo Paces Bums To Win

MIAMI, March 20 (AP)—Carl Furillo, the defending National League batting champion, cracked a homer and three doubles for a perfect day as the Dodgers scored their 11th straight exhibition victory by defeating the New York Yankees 5-0 before 6,730 fans today.

It was the seventh straight loss for the world champions.

Gil Hodges also added a homer to the Dodgers' 12-hit attack on Steve Kraly and rookie Al Cloutte.

The Dodgers' Russ Meyer was touched off for two runs in the first. Veteran Preacher Roe was hit for a total of three runs in the sixth and seventh before going out with one out and the bases loaded in the eighth.

Rookie right-handed pitcher Ed Roebuck relieved Roe and threw a called third strike past Andy Carey and made Willie Miranda miss a cross-fire third strike to preserve the Dodgers' advantage. Roebuck also got the Yankees out easily in the ninth as the Dodgers made it three in a row this spring over their October nemesis.

Singles by Gil McDougald, Irv Noren and Gene Woodling sandwiched around a sacrifice fly by Yogi Berra produced the Yankees' two runs in the first off Meyer, who allowed only one more single through the fifth inning. The Yankees collected 13 hits in all.

Invade Lamesa Monday Night

The Big Spring High School girls' volleyball team (above) goes to Lamesa Monday night for its most important test of the season. Both Lamesa and the Steerettes are unbeaten in conference play and the winning team becomes the favorite to cop district title honors. Left to right, they are Bernice Bice, Louise Burchett, Nell Glover, Jan Burns, Ellouise Carroll, Anna Mae Thorpe and Coach Arsh Phillips.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It has been known for some time the young man was contemplating the move but Coach Carl Coleman of Big Spring High School learned only the middle of the past week that Buddy Ray Cosby had definitely decided to forego his last year of football here in favor of a tour of duty in the Army... Coleman and friends of the schools tried to talk Buddy out of the move, not because of selfish reasons but due to the fact that they had his interests at heart... Buddy remained adamant and now is wearing a service uniform... The loss of the boy will hurt the team but it need not be a death blow... The Steers' defense will suffer more than the offense but such fine line-backers as Frosty Robison, Brick Johnson, Jerry Graves and Tommy McAdams return, so the other teams won't find it too easy to advance the ball... The Steers last fall prided themselves in playing as a unit... If they do the same this fall, the loss of no one player is going to ruin them... Buddy, incidentally, enlisted for three years for duty with an Ordnance outfit and was sent to Fort Bliss for training... Leon Lepard, the Big Spring product now in his last season at ACC, gets a big sendoff in the press and radio booklet published recently by the school... A picture of the good-looking trackster adorns the pamphlet's cover... Leon is now 23 years of age (he spent two years in the Armed Forces) and, if he's not running as good as he ever did he probably will be before the season becomes history... He and other members of the ACC team can be seen in action in the West Texas Relays in Odessa next Saturday... Virgil Bennett is another Howard County boy (Forsan) on the Wildcat track squad... Virgil has won three letters in basketball, one in football and two in track in college... He's done 130 feet in the discus throw.

Gunder Hagg Lauds British Miler

Paul Dean, who can't get accustomed to the fact that he's not still in the big leagues and who has had a run-in with many minor league people for that reason, almost pulled out of Hot Springs, Arkansas, recently... He insisted the support there wasn't what it should be and expressed a desire to take his baseball show to Texas... Gunder Hagg, the famous miler, says Great Britain's Roger Bannister will be the first to run the four-minute mile "because he has brains"... To run the four-minute mile, Gunder says, one needs a small stadium ("to help block the wind and get the audience above you. When they cheer, you feel it sweeps you on") and in a four-man race ("where there is not too much passing, slowing, speeding and stride breaking")... Al Monchak's new team, Portsmouth of the Piedmont League, is used to winning... It's finished in the first division for the past 13 straight years... Al guided the Lexington (Tar Heel) club to a playoff victory last year... Penn State's basketball team, which sprang one surprise after another in the NCAA playoffs, uses a full court press, much tighter than most zones you'll see... Frank Leahy, the former Notre Dame football coach, said it: "All jobs have tensions. But coaching eats out a man's insides. At Notre Dame, the pressure is worst. Not from within the school. My bosses were always telling me not to worry if we lost some games. But Notre Dame's millions of followers expect us to win. Anyhow, I hate to lose"... Don Maynard, Colorado City's fine trackster, is now in Texas Western... He didn't like Rice institute, after attending there several months... Billy Martin, the local footballer, is undecided about playing football in college.

George Thomas Back In League

Midland will probably hold an invitational track and field meet in 1955, in place of the quadrangular meet it staged yesterday... The Big Spring team would have liked to have competed against the four AAAA schools there yesterday, but wasn't issued the invitation... Paul Richards, manager of the Chicago White Sox, insists that all umpires—yes, even in the major leagues—are "bitter's umpires," that is, they favor the batter in their calls... "If the ump calls a strike on a ball that's in the dirt or up around the batter's chin, or is a foot wide of the plate, everyone in the park knows he missed it," explains Richards. "If he calls a ball on a pitch that catches the corner of the plate no one knows for sure he missed it except three people—the pitcher, the catcher and the batter—and the batter will swear it was a foot outside. So the umpires make sure that a pitch is in the strike zone, and good, before they call it a strike"... Speaking of umpires, Happy Sykes says he'll sit out this season here in favor of keeping a full time job... Sykes has long been a fixture in the Longhorn League... George Thomas, the writer who wrestles during the winter, is returning to the Longhorn League, by the way... He tried to hire out in the circuit again last year but there wasn't an opening at the time... Merv Connors will be back with Carlshad this season... He drove out 34 home runs and collected 107 RBI's in 127 games for the Potashers last season... His batting average was a rather ordinary (by Longhorn League standards) .308... Connors winters in San Francisco, where he is connected with a trucking concern.

14-Year-Old Laredo Girl Hails As Links 'Comer'

LAREDO, March 20 (AP)—The sensation of Texas golf these days is a 14-year-old beauty, Joanne Brunl, who has won six championships in nine tries in the first year of tournament play... Joanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brunl, Laredo cattle ranchers. She apparently inherits much of her ability from her golfing parents. Fred is a steady mid-70 shooter and Mrs. Brunl twice won the Laredo City championship... The demure lass, called "Mighty Miss" of the fairways, does such things as play in pro-amateur events with the men golfers and place high. For instance, she teamed with Ed Oliver, the noted professional, to win second in the pro-am at the Laredo $3,000 Open Tournament in February. She also holds the women's record for the Laredo course with a four-under-par 73... Joanne has won the Laredo City Championship, the Rio Grande Valley Women's Amateur Championship twice, the Women's International at Laredo, the Monterey, Mexico, Women's Invitational and the Del Rio Invitational. In the latter she defeated Houston's young star, Diane Garrett... In addition, she was medalist two years in a row at the Valley Tournament in Harlingen, medalist of the Laredo City tournament, medalist in the Mexican National Women's Amateur at Mexico City in 1953, and medalist of the Monterey tournament. She lost to San Antonio's great young golfer, Leola Lobo, in the quarter-finals of the Texas Women's Public Links Tournament at Fort Worth.

Hoot Gibson Is Named Manager Of Artesians

DALLAS, March 20 (AP)—The Dallas Eagles of the Texas League and the Galveston White Caps of the Evangeline League today announced assignment of 12 baseball players to Artesia, N.M., of the Longhorn League... They include right hand pitcher Homer (Hoot) Gibson, 35-year-old veteran who won 7 and lost 7 for Dallas last year and will be playing-manager for Artesia. It will be Gibson's debut as a manager.

The others: Jodie Phipps, 33, right hand pitcher, who won 18 and lost 8 for Bryan of the Big State League last season; right hand pitcher Lee Starr, 24; right hand pitcher Gilbert Johnson, 20, a rookie; catcher Don Herb, 26, who hit .258 with Fort Arthur last year; infielder John Goodell, 23, who hit .301 with Bryan last year; infielder Rubeen Smartt, 25, who hit .260 for Bryan; infielder Paul Dobikowski, just back from military service; outfielder Bob Heron, 26, a husky Negro who played briefly at Clovis and then the Canadian semi-pro league last season; outfielder Lewis Hull, back from military service after hitting .284 for McAllen in 1949, and rookie infielder Dean Smith.

The Eagles also assigned pitchers Harry Young and Joe Pipak to Wichita, Kans., of the Western League. Both played at Bryan last year, Pipak making a 9-18 and Young a 9-12 record. The Eagles also returned right hand pitcher Jake Henson to the Pampa club of the West Texas-New Mexico League, where he had a 13-7 record last year, and said that pitcher-outfielder Eddie Locke is being returned to the Amarillo club of West Texas-New Mexico. The Eagles also gave their 1953 first-string catcher, Phil Masl, his unconditional release after being unable to come to terms with him.

Relays To Attract Six High Schools

DENTON, March 20 (AP)—Six high school track teams have entered the annual North Texas Relays here March 21. NTSC track coach Winton (Pop) Noak said he expects quite a few more... Already signed in are Amarillo, Ennis, North Dallas, Paschal of Fort Worth, North Side of Fort Worth and Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth... Already entered in the college and university division are NTSC, SMU, TCU, Hardin-Summons, Kansas State Teachers from Pittsburg, Abilene Christian, Southwest Texas State, Texas Tech, Howard Payne, Stephen F. Austin and Midwestern.

Arah Phillips' Big Spring Steerettes won their 17th volleyball ball decision in 18 starts by turning back the Abilene girls, 45-16, here Friday night... The victory set the stage for Big Spring's important league contest with Lamesa Monday night. Both teams are unbeaten in conference competition... Big Spring led Abilene, 30-5, at half time... Ellouise Carroll and Louise Burchett paced the Steerettes with 12 and 11 points, respectively... The Big Spring B team also won 5-27, doing most of the damage in the last half. Their half time advantage was only 20-16... Jane Watson and Alice Ann Martin each scored eight points for the Big Springers... In 18 games, the Steerettes have scored 634 points to 240 for the opposition... Burchett is the leading scorer with 133 points, followed by Anna Mae Thorpe with 118 and Jan Burns with 103... The B team has registered ten victories in 12 starts while scoring 466 to 216 for the opposition... Martin is the top point-getter with 98 points, followed by Carolyn Miller with 96 and Watson with 57.

Most Wild Turkeys Gone At Refuge

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Apparently drought is to blame for the near wiping out of a wild turkey population transplanted to Anderson and Henderson counties... The State Game and Fish Commission said today only about a dozen wild turkeys remain of the hundred that ranged the refuge two winters ago... Biologist E. G. Marsh said no young turkeys have been raised for two years in the East Texas area known as the Gus Engeling wildlife management area... "We are inclined to blame the drought, since it upsets so many conditions, including the food supply," he said... Marsh discounted predation or illegal harvest of the big game birds as primary factors... The remaining turkeys now are being given extra protection and special rations.

Trabert To Play In River Oaks

HOUSTON, March 20 (AP)—Tony Trabert, the top-ranked player in the United States, has accepted an invitation to compete at the 20th Annual River Oaks Invitational Tennis Tournament here April 19-25... Ernest Langston, tournament chairman, said today other early entries include Gardner Mulloy, the defending champion... There was indication the 1954 entry list may be the best in the tournament's history, with at least eight of the nation's top 10 players. Last year's tournament included six of the top 10 with Mulloy defeating Vic Seixas in the finals... Mulloy and Bryan (Bitty) Grant are the only three-time winners of the River Oaks clay court title: Grant won in 1935-36-37, Mulloy in 1946, 1952 and 1953.

HUNTING AND FISHING

Buchanan Trip Was Worth A Return

As more and more lakes are being created to provide water for West Texas cities, fishing opportunities grow and grow... That being the case, the Herald is adding a column on fishing and, come that time of year, hunting... Now the reason that I'm writing this column is not because I'm an expert on either subject. What happened was that Joe Pickle, managing editor of this paper, looked around the office for someone who looked like he had some time on his hands. His eyes came to rest upon me, and, ergo, I became the hunting and fishing columnist of the Herald.

Naturally that means that this column will not be loaded down with technical advice. It's to be more of a news column about various people's luck at various different fishing spots. Sometimes we'll have more general information about one of the lakes, and, occasionally we might have a tall tale or two from an oldtimer. (Who knows, some of the reports we carry of more recent fishing expeditions might stretch the truth a bit.)... A little far away from Big Spring (about 230 miles) but still of interest to some fishermen around here is Lake Buchanan near Marble Falls in central Texas... Lee Porter and a son and Judge Charlie Sullivan and A. J. Stallings all went there last week... Porter reported that as far as fishing went the trip was not a success. The winds that stir the dust up also stir the water up in a lake when they get the chance. But the lake looked good enough to Porter that he plans to go back there for a weekend trip in a

Steer Tracksters Point For West Texas Relays

The Big Spring Steers will forego a dual track and field meet with Midland Tuesday to concentrate on drills for the West Texas Relays, which take place in Odessa next Saturday... Given a reasonably good break in the weather and barring a new outbreak of virus, which has been making the rounds, Coach Harold Bentley expects to have his thinly clad in fairly good physical trim for the Odessa meet... On Saturday, April 3, the Steers will be the host team in the annual American Business Club Relays, considering the time of year, when he made the two laps in 2:11.0. Coach Bentley expects Kirk to do even better against competition... Don Swinney, quarter-miler, is getting in good shape after missing drills week before last due to illness... Coach Bentley says Billy Martin, sprinter, needs to lose some weight before running his best and Carlisle (Frosty) Robison isn't working enough at his specialty, the discus. Robison is dividing time between the track field and the baseball diamond... Bobby Fuller, who has been out with a virus infection, Kenny Dufvidson and Darrell Saunders are all concentrating on the half-mile and showing to advantage. The three are sophomores... Lamar Bailey, a senior sprinter, will help the team if he can get in top shape. He'd probably run on the mile relay team, if Bentley gets one together, and will broad jump, in addition to running the century... Rennie Compton is one of the team's best bets to pick up some points although he is only a sophomore. Compton has shown more speed than anyone on the team in the short races. He's been bothered by a charley horse but has been undergoing effective treatment... Ernie Kennedy has been concentrating on the hurdles and Bentley says he shows much promise. He displays ample speed and goes over the hurdles nicely. Coach Bentley has been teaching him how to hold his hands while gliding over the hurdles. Ernie has been having trouble with the third hurdle but Bentley is sure he can work out that problem... Tiny Ellison has put the shot as far as 42' 8" in practice and is due to improve... Bentley has indicated he will take a team of about 20 to Odessa.

IN SPRING GAMES

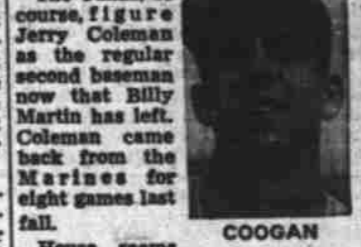

Former GI's Rate Extra Attention

By JACK HAND ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The return of the ex-GI is an annual spring training story but the current crop rates extra attention because it contains such big names as Don Newcombe, Willie Mays, Chet Nichols and Frank ($75,000 bonus) House... The usual number of "sleepers" are throwing their weight around the camps on their return from service. Bob Grim, New York Yankee righthanded pitcher, is one of the most attractive. Grim, an ex-Marine, was a pitcher on the Birmingham, B. Y., farm in the Eastern when he went away. He was the Yanks' most effective new pitcher in the early games... Paul Penson, a boy out of the Air Force where he struck out over 700 in two years at Pensacola, dazzled the Yanks in his first appearance in pro ball with the Phillies. He was wild the next time out and undoubtedly will be sent out for seasoning by manager Steve O'Neill... Bob Skinner, a lanky first baseman just out of the Marines, showed in the new-arrival fight for first base at Pittsburgh's Fort Pierce, Fla. camp... Newcombe was wild in his first appearance against Cincinnati but he impressed Brooklyn's new pitching coach, Ted Lyons, by the way he cut loose with the ball. Big Newk, a 29-game winner when he went away, looked much better in his next workout... The New York Giants count on Mays to lift the club out of the second division almost single handedly. In his first week of play he did all he could, hitting four home runs... Milwaukee's Nichols, the National League earner run leader in 1951, his last year, was fairly effective in his first two workouts, throwing easily... Cincinnati's hopes that Rudy Minarcin would come back to give them a much-needed righthanded starter seem to be on the way to fulfillment. Minarcin retired the first six Chicago White Sox batters he faced in his first trial... Dale Coogan returned to find himself in a wild scrap for first base at Pittsburgh. Verna Law, however, already is rated a sure bet to stay with the Pirates pitching staff... Tom Poholsky underwent an operation last year but is expected to be a starter for the St. Louis Cardinals. His first outing against the Yankees was not impressive, however. He did better the next time out against Chicago's Cubs... The Yanks, of course, figure Jerry Coleman as the regular second baseman now that Billy Martin has left. Coleman came back from the Marines for eight games last fall... House seems to have won the No. 1 catching job with Detroit. He is more serious and mature after his stay in the Army... The biggest name of all, Ted Williams, will have to wait for six weeks or so to start his first full season since '51 because of a broken collar bone. Karl Olson, who got out last July, is getting a good shot at the left field job in Williams' absence.

New Debutanizer Unit At Reef Fields Plant Nears Completion

Construction on a new debutanizer tower at the Reef Fields Gasoline Company plant in the East Vealmoor Field is nearing completion.

It has been estimated by Kenneth Huff, the company's office manager, that construction will be complete by April 1. Work on the project began last December.

The new tower will enable Reef Fields to extract isobutane from the natural gas which is gathered from area oil fields. Up until now the plant has been equipped to extract only propane, butane and natural gasoline.

This does not include the residue gas which is sweetened and sold to El Paso Natural Gas Company.

The isobutane which is produced at the Reef Fields Gasoline Plant will be sold to Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Huff said. It will be used in Cosden's new alkylation unit (now under construction) for the production of 115-145 aviation gasoline.

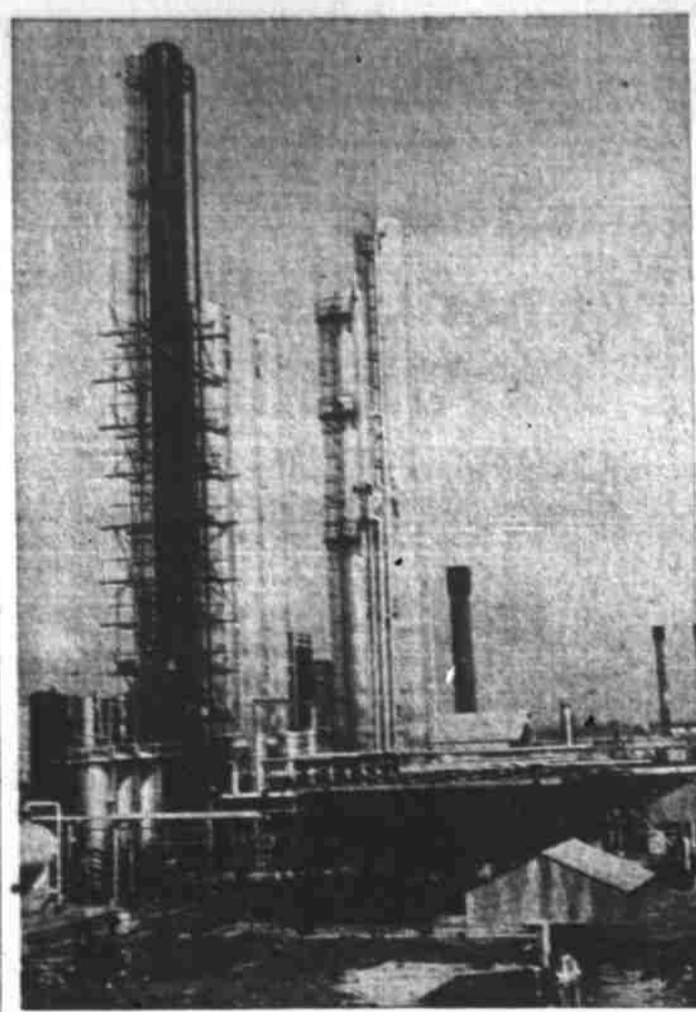

Work on Cosden's alkylation unit is well under way and nearing completion. Huff said his company will be ready to supply Cosden with isobutane whenever it is ready.

Approximately 20,000 gallons of isobutane will be produced at the East Vealmoor plant daily. This will mean that the 55,000 gallons of butane now produced each day will be cut to around 35,000 gallons daily.

Huff said the production of propane and gasoline will not be affected by the extraction of isobutane from the natural gases.

Casinghead gas, from which the products are processed, is gathered from the following fields: Good, Vealmoor, East Vealmoor, Reincke, Hobo, South Von Roeder, and Oceanic.

Huff said the line to the newly discovered Oceanic field has just recently been completed. Actually Reef Fields started taking gas from the new field on the 11th of this month. The gas is running through the Vealmoor field booster station.

The plant's gathering system covers some 30 miles, and there are about 180 miles of field and transfer lines. These lines all lead to the main plant in East Vealmoor, about 25 miles northeast of Big Spring. Extension of gathering lines to the North Luther (Canyon) Reef Field is now under consideration. Huff said the extension of lines to the Luther Southeast Field was considered, but that the gas there is not of the right quality.

Papers Advance Both Sides Of Imports Before Policy Group

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, March 20 (U.S.)—A strong case can be made for continuing oil imports at recent or even higher levels, says a paper prepared by staff economists of the Foreign Economic Policy Commission.

On the other hand, the same paper calls attention to arguments for limiting oil imports, saying at one point:

"The long-range arguments against excessive imports are given added support by the current tendency of crude supplies, including imports, to outrun domestic demand." Other papers, just made public by the commission, were used in preparation of the commission's recent report to Congress and President Eisenhower on foreign trade. In releasing the papers, the commission chairman, Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the board of Inland Steel Co., said they should be considered as staff documents, not as the thinking or conclusion of members of the commission.

The petroleum paper said that probably the strongest argument for maintaining imports is one of long-range conservation of this country's resources and preparation for the time "when our current supplies may be inadequate."

On the other side of the question, the paper cites arguments of independent producers that the real strength of the domestic industry lies in active production and conservation of reserves for the future, that only high levels of production will assure adequate reserves and that heavy import might destroy the domestic industry's incentives.

At another point the paper said: "While our military authorities have been reasonably clear in placing first reliance on oil sources in the continental United States, second on other Western Hemisphere sources, notably Canada and Venezuela, and third on the Eastern Hemisphere, it is not clear how this policy of geographic priority for oil should be implemented in times of comparative peace."

Seaboard Spots Location In Southeastern Dawson

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware spotted a new location in the Spraberry "Deep" West area of Dawson County. It is the No. 7 M. J. Peterson.

Location is about a half mile south of Midway on a 423.67 acre lease. It will be drilled by rotary to 7,500 feet, starting at once. Drillsite is 2,156 from south and 1,193 from east lines, 40-34-5n, T&P survey.

Other Dawson County ventures were reportedly drilling ahead this weekend with no unusual developments.

Cascade Petroleum Company's No. 1 J. S. King, a wildcat in North Dawson, had bit turning at 8,201 feet in lime and shale on last report. Drillsite, which is four miles south of O'Donnell is 1,960 from northwest and northeast lines, 105-34-7n, D&SE survey.

Humphrey No. 1 J. L. Billingsley, C NW NW, 12-34-3n, T&P survey, is making hole below 7,563 feet in lime. This wildcat is about one and three quarters of a mile east of Ackery and is slated to test the Pennsylvanian.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil and Rowan Drilling Company No. 1 Otto Dunlap, C SE SE, 46-35-6n, T&P survey, reached 5,423 feet in lime. Another wildcat location is about three miles north of Lamesa.

Martin Explorer Drills On After Good Oil Shows

Bit was turning at 9,656 feet in lime and shale at Fran Drilling Company's No. 1-D G. W. Glass, Martin County wildcat, this weekend.

The No. 1-D Glass had good oil shows in the Spraberry, but operator is drilling to 10,500-foot contract depth. The project is in the southwest part of the county about eight miles north of Midland. Drillsite is C SE SE, 23-38-1n, T&P survey.

A stepout to the Block 7 (Devonian) Field of northwest Martin County, G. E. Hall No. 1-A University, got down to 9,076 feet in lime. It is 1,960 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines, 16-7-University survey.

Moore Area Has Stepout

Another stepout to the Moore pool southwest of Big Spring has been staked.

The latest explorer to the southeast will be Oil Well Remedial Service of Odessa No. 1 Edith K. Fisher. Location is 660 from the north and west lines of section 40-33-1s, T&P survey, a mile south and west of Elbow community and about six miles southwest of Big Spring. The test will be one mile south and a quarter of a mile east of the Turner No. 1 Cable, C NE NE NE, 31-33-1s, T&P, which was temporarily abandoned due to intrusion of water while testing from 3,149-3,193. This venture, however, did make a substantial amount of oil.

Meanwhile another producer was added to the Moore pool. It is Cosden Petroleum Corp. No. 5 T. H. Dunagan, 330 from the north and east lines of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 19-33-1s, T&P survey, completed for a potential of 91 barrels per day. This well was bottomed at 3,198 and had been treated with 4,000 gallons of hydrafrac.

Cosden No. 6 Dunagan, 330 from the west and 991.3 from the north lines of the southeast quarter of section 19-33-1s, T&P, drilled out surface plug and was below 1,500 feet Saturday morning. The surface string had been set at 137 feet. Dunagan Oil No. 2 Cowden, in the northeast quarter of section 19-33-1s, T&P, was preparing to make completion tests this week. The oil string was set at 3,136 on a total depth of 3,232. Top of pay had been 3,190.

J. K. Hamon, et al No. 1 Mable Quinn, 660 from the north and east lines of section 35-34-1s, T&P, was rigging up rotary Saturday. This outpost is about a mile southwest of nearest production in the Moore pool.

Cosden No. 1 H. O. Phillips, 330 from the north and west lines of section 42-32-1s, T&P, near the Lomax community in southwest Howard County, was preparing to move in rig.

In the south edge of Howard County, Duncan Drilling Co. No. 5 Currie, in the Settles pool, was preparing to complete over the weekend. This shallow test is 330 from the south and 1,638 from the west lines of section 12-33-2s, T&P, 12 miles south of Big Spring.

Discovery Test Indicates For Over 300 Bbls.

Production tests are due this week on a wildcat reef discovery two miles west of Vincent.

Saturday Russell Maguire No. 1 Chandler (Carpenter) had indicated for more than 300 barrels per day in the reef.

This important test, which is being drilled by Long Drilling Company of Big Spring, had plugged back from a total depth of 8,325 to 7,728. The casing was perforated from 7,580-80 and a tubing test was run on that section. Flow was reported at the rate of about 320 barrels per day through half inch choke. However, there was a slight amount of water showing, and operator planned to run a squeeze job and then to re-test.

Top of the Canyon reef was called at 7,536 on an elevation of 2,409 or a datum minus of 5,127. Operator ran a drillstem test from 7,541-66 with the flow to pits estimated variously at 25 to 50 barrels per hour. On another test from 7,566-86, the tool plugged when gas came to surface in 2 1/2 minutes, but when operator pulled the tool 27 barrels of oil were recovered from the drillpipe.

This wildcat is about three miles northeast of the recent reef discovery T&P (Trans-Text) No. 1 Read, southeast of the E. Vealmoor pool. It is about five miles southwest of the nearest reef production in the small Vincent pool.

Two Spraberry Wells Final

Two completions were logged in the Spraberry Trend area of Glasscock and Midland counties Saturday.

Magnolia No. 4 Sam Preston "C", 1,960 from west and 1,320 from south lines, 30-37-4s, T&P survey, made 240.12 barrels of oil on initial flowing production. It is in Midland County.

Flow was through a 24-64th inch choke, gravity measured 38 degrees, gas-oil ratio was 705-1, and tubing pressure was from 240 to 300 pounds. Pay top is 7,175 feet, depth is 7,275 feet, and 5/8-inch casing goes to 7,145 feet.

McElroy Ranch Company No. 1 W. H. Lane, Spraberry project in Glasscock, flowed 287.48 barrels on potential through a 24-64th inch choke. Gravity of oil is 38 degrees, and gas-oil ratio is 350.

Production is from perforations between 7,673 to 7,708 feet, between pay top and total depth. Perforations were fractured with 4,500 gallons. The elevation is 2,720 feet. Location is C SW NW, 40-36-4s, T&P survey.

Westbrook Pool Adds Producer

A producer was added to the Westbrook Field of Mitchell County this weekend, and a new stepout location was spotted slightly west of field production.

Completed was Humble Oil and Refining Company's No. 2 Oren B. Trulock, which had an initial pumping potential of 115.29 barrels of oil per day. There was also some water.

Gravity of oil measured 26.4 degrees, and the gas-oil ratio was 55-1. Production is from open hole between 3,028 (pay top) and 3,123 (total depth). The seven inch casing goes to 3,027 feet. Elevation is listed at 2,199 feet.

Humble No. 2 Trulock is 660 from south and east lines, 43-28-1n, T&P survey.

The new location was staked by Ibe and P. R. Windfohr. It is their No. 1 Morrison-Jones, 660 from north and east lines, 35-29-1n, T&P survey.

The No. 1 Morrison-Jones is about two miles west of production in the field and some two miles north and east of Itan. It is on a 160 acre lease, and it will be drilled to 3,000 feet by rotary.

Mitchell Test

McAlester Fuel Company No. 1 A Roy Largent, southwest Mitchell County reef prospector, drilled below 4,775 in lime and dolomite at last report. This exploration is 660 from the south and east lines of section 8-17, SPRR and is 1/2 of a mile north of the Ray Although No. 1 Whittington, a small reef discovery.

MURRAY PICKED FOR TIPRO AWARD

AUSTIN, March 20 (U.S.)—Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray Jr. will receive a special award at the 8th annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association April 4-6.

Announcing the selection of Murray, convention chairman Alwyn P. King Jr. of Houston said, "If men like Bill Murray can make the considerable sacrifice of rendering this genuine public service, we of the industry can take time out for an occasional tribute." The award will cite Murray as an outstanding engineer, conservationist and statesman.

Reef Offset Is Underway

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 2 N. H. Read (Account No. 1), west offset to a recent reef discovery southeast of the East Vealmoor Field, spudded this weekend and has total depth of 269 feet.

Operator is now waiting on cement to dry on 13 1/2 inch casing set at total depth. The plug will be drilled for continued drilling, projected depth being 8,000 feet.

The venture is one location west of Trans-Text No. 1 Read Ranch, discovery which made initial flowing potential of 504 barrels of oil from the Pennsylvanian. Flow was through an 18-64th inch choke, pay top being 7,710 and total depth being 7,723 feet.

Drillsite for T&P No. 2 N. H. Read is C SW NE, 25-35-H&TC survey, actual location is about 10 miles north of Coahoma and some 27 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Glasscock Venture Making Progress

Strawn Drilling Company's No. 1 Harvey Keyes, wildcat in Glasscock County some 15 miles northeast of Garden City, got down to 1,566 feet in redbeds this weekend.

Operator is planning to drill to 3,600 feet, and operations are by cable tools. Location, on a 160 acre lease, is 336 from south and west lines, 56-30-W&NW survey.

Hutto At 5,295

Ray Although No. 1 Hutto, central eastern Howard County wildcat, was drilling at 5,295 in lime and shale on Saturday morning. This venture is two miles southwest of Coahoma and is a north-east stepout from the Stanolind No. 1 Hutto, the sole producer in the Hutto (Wolfcamp) pool. Contract depth is to 8,000 feet. Location is 330 from the south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 4-31-1s, T&P survey.

Legislators Plan Minimum Price Bill

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, March 20 (U.S.)—The lawmakers of Kansas and Oklahoma natural gas may provide the answer to the Texas Legislature's search for a way to finance higher salaries for teachers.

Why? Because three lawmakers from the Texas Panhandle think the gas producers and royalty owners in their territory deserve as high a price as their Oklahoma and Kansas competitors get for gas from the same reservoir.

The lawmakers, Reps. Sam Wohlford of Stratford, Guy Haslett of Berger, and Leroy Saul of Kress, plan to introduce a bill Monday setting a minimum price on natural gas.

Wohlford, himself a royalty owner, says the Panhandle gas owners can't help comparing their prices with the 10 and 11-cent minimums of Oklahoma and Kansas, respectively.

Panhandle producers and royalty owners have seen their gas go to pipelines for as little as 3 or 4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet while they looked longingly across the border toward minimum price levels established five years ago.

They compare the difference in prices because gas drawn from the giant Hugoton and Panhandle fields in Texas comes from the same reservoir as the higher-priced gas of Oklahoma and Kansas.

Competition normally equalizes prices on identical commodities, but Wohlford says the marketing of Panhandle gas presents a "special problem which the normal competitive forces of our dynamic economy cannot touch."

"Like other old gas fields in the state this gas was tied up by the pipeline companies years ago when they were in a position to dictate whose gas they would buy and the prices they would pay," Wohlford said recently in an open letter to his fellow House members.

"Unlike other commodities, our natural gas is 'dedicated' under Federal Power Commission regulations; consequently, these gas prices are not allowed to adjust to demand conditions as are prices of all other commodities," Wohlford's letter continued.

"In a free market, natural gas is worth several times the price prevailing in these fields. But we are denied the right to sell to the highest bidder because the pipelines servicing a given area have a virtual monopoly and therefore are not affected by competition."

Because of this peculiar situation, Wohlford does not view his minimum price proposal as a "price fixing" plan in the sense that it would seek to raise the price of gas above the level that would prevail in a free market. The bill which he will introduce will declare a minimum price essential to the prevention of waste.

Gov. Allan Shivers encouraged supporters of minimum gas price legislation although he did not advocate such a measure in his opening message to the Legislature this week.

Nolan Wildcat

A new wildcat location has been spotted in Nolan County about four miles west of Sweetwater. It is Cameron No. 1 Kathleen Baker, which will be drilled to 6,700 feet by rotary, starting at once. Operator has an 80 acre lease, and elevation is listed at 2,392 feet. Drillsite is 660 from north and 467 from west lines, 49-23-T&P survey.

Wolfcamp Yields Barrel An Hour

Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 T. L. Griffin, northwest outpost to the Reincke pool in southeastern Borden County, continued testing in the Wolfcamp Saturday.

This venture was swabbing at the rate of one barrel per hour after rehydraulic fracturing the section through perforations from 6,905-20. This resulted in no appreciable increase in the amount of oil being recovered. Location is 1,342 from the north and 1,303 from west lines of section 60-25, H&TC, eight miles northwest of Vincent.

Pan-American No. 1 H. C. Wolf Estate, 660 from the north and west lines of section 41-25-H&TC, four miles northwest of Vincent and on the south edge of the Reincke pool, drilled at 7,025 in shale and sand. No shows had been reported and the water table was indicated somewhere near this level.

Last week the test failed to pick up shows in the Wolfcamp, topped at 8,295 on an elevation of 2,337.

Pair Of Sterling Tests Reaming Out

Reaming at 1,350 feet was the report issued this weekend for J. L. Damron No. 1 H. F. McEntire, wildcat in Sterling County some six miles west of Sterling City.

Projected depth of the wildcat is 2,300 feet. Salt water was uncovered at 1,000 feet, and 8 1/2 inch casing was set at 1,140 feet. Drillsite is 2,315 from south and east lines, 23-14-SPR survey. The venture is some four miles northwest of the Brown Field, separated from production by dry holes.

Boyer Bros., et al No. 3 Bado, 330 from the south and 2,196 from the east lines of the southwest 300 acres of 23-21, H&TC survey, reamed out to bottom of hole at 1,053, after finding the Queen Sand horizon, and will seek the San Anax to about 1,700.

Judge Named In Duval District Is Man Of Old-Fashioned School

BONHAM, March 20 (U)—The folks down in Duval County will have a plain man, a judge of the old school, on their district court bench.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Courthouse Handling Censured

To the Editor: I find many citizens favor change in the Howard County executive branch.

I wish to ask you with whom did the voters of Howard County place their trust when they voted bonds to build our so-called modern million dollar courthouse and tool proof jail?

I believe the executive board consists of four county commissioners and a county judge, who are the ones in whom we placed our trust.

This executive board had absolute control over the million dollar project and were liable for the plans, specifications, letting contract, accepting the building and authorizing the payment for same.

Now let us face the facts and let the chips fall where they may. It is absolutely a fact that on March 18, 1934, the new million dollar courthouse became the laughing stock of the whole state of Texas.

Five prisoners, barely over the teen age, took a small light fixture frame and a wooden block and broke through the so-called break proof wall.

The citizens of Howard County should be reminded that our county commissioners turned the courthouse over to the public guaranteeing that it was breakout proof.

We accepted this in good faith and proceeded to act on that assumption. I believe in as much local self government as is practicable and our county commissioners should have the responsibility of handling the county affairs, provided they do not attempt this under an antiquated, politics-ridden, headless system.

There isn't any reason for the people of our county to permit these tragic mistakes. The voters should elect men who are competent to handle the county business.

NENA SMITH
1106 East 15th St.

of Alice. The district covers not only Duval County, which is home base for politico George B. Parr, but also Jim Wells, Brooks and Starr counties.

Farmer, lawyer, soldier, school teacher, legislator, county attorney (in prohibition days) and 6th District Judge, Broadfoot has been there all, and changed little in the process.

Until this special appointment came along he had been building quite a reputation as a wolf killer, and soil-builder. He's been strictly a farmer since his retirement, and the wolves were making inroads on his farm near Salls. So he led a county-wide campaign against them.

He also made his farm somewhat of a model for soil conservation and building practices.

In his 12 years as 6th District Judge, Broadfoot had only five criminal cases reversed by higher courts. In civil cases he made unusual efforts for out-of-court settlements.

Broadfoot smokes a big, curved-stem pipe almost constantly. As soon as he finishes lighting it with a match, he sets to work whittling the match, so fancy dress, he wears high-top shoes, and if he's just come from his farm—often the case during his tenure as district judge—there might be some reminders of the farm clinging to the shoes.

Broadfoot was born on a Fannin County farm. He studied law at the University of Texas, University of Chicago and University of Colorado after graduation from East Texas Normal at Commerce.

For four years he was a school teacher. Two of those years were spent as superintendent of Leonard schools.

In 1914 he was elected county attorney of Fannin County. He won re-election in 1918 but resigned to enter the U.S. Army. On discharge as a lieutenant he began the practice of law in Dallas, where he married Miss Jessie Butler of Sulphur Springs. She has been a driving force in his career.

Broadfoot returned to Fannin County in 1930 and was re-elected county attorney for two terms. Then came two and a half terms in the Texas Legislature, followed by three terms as judge of the 6th Judicial District.

The Broadfoots' only son was killed in a plane crash in England during World War II. First Lt. A.S. Broadfoot Jr., had completed the number of flights entitling him to return to the United States and was giving newcomers to the area special instruction when the plane fell.

The Broadfoots have three daughters. Mrs. Winston Chance of Bonham, Mrs. Bill Freeman of Dallas and Mrs. Earl Garrett of Ingram, Kerr County. The judge was visiting Mrs. Garrett today.

Preparations were being made this weekend to test the Canyon Reef at Texas Company's No. 2-B A. M. Clayton, a northeast slant-out to production in the Good Field of Borden County.

The 5 1/2-inch casing has been set and cemented at 8,032 feet, and perforations were made opposite the reef formation. Drillsite is 2,902 from west and 1,980 from south lines, 29-32-4n, T&P survey.

Great Western Drilling Company's No. 1 H. D. Beal, wildcat some 14 miles south of Gall, was reportedly drilling ahead this weekend at 4,235 feet in lime and shale. This project is slated for a test of the Pennsylvanian, and drillsite is C SE SE, 23-31-3n, T&P survey.

Another Borden wildcat about seven miles northeast of Ackerly, Texas Crude No. 1-44 Brown, is making hole at 7,520 feet. It too will be drilled to about 9,000 feet for a test of the Pennsylvanian lime. Location is C NW NE, 44-33-4n, T&P survey.

Mr. Greg died in Sweetwater Saturday morning after a long illness. He formerly lived near Colorado City, moving to Sweetwater 12 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Morley Green of Houston, Ray Green of Abilene and Boley Green of Sweetwater; a daughter, Mrs. Sidney Wagner of Sweetwater; and three sisters, Mrs. S. J. Harding of Vincent, Mrs. Ruby Smith of Odessa, and Mrs. Burt Smith of Colorado City.

Conflicts can possibly arise if the meetings are not scheduled, she said, such as two groups holding sessions at the same time. She pointed out that the room is available to anyone sponsoring a program, and meetings can even be set at night.

It is also asked that any activity scheduled for the city be listed with the Chamber. A list of all public activities is kept so that functions will not be set on the same date as some other.

The Oceanic and Luther Southeast fields of North Howard County were quiet this weekend, with only one new location reported.

The new venture, in the Oceanic area, is Pan American Production company No. 3 M. M. Jones. It will be on the south side of the field production and is slated for depth of 8,500 feet.

Drillsite of the No. 3 Jones is 1,258 from north and 2,498 from east lines, 36-33-3n, T&P survey. This is on a 422 acre lease.

The Texas Pacific Coal and Oil projects near Luther were making hole Saturday, and no ventful occurrences were reported. The No. 1 Boyles, C NE NE, 15-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 3,800. No. 1-B Philipp, C NE SE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey, hit depth of 4,510 feet. The No. 1-D Spencer, C NW NE, 11-32-2n, T&P survey, has bit turning at 4,085 feet.

An appeal was voiced Saturday for clothing and furnishings to replace that destroyed for two families in a fire at 401 Lancaster.

The Salvation Army asked that it be called if residents had items of clothing for four adults or three children, a boy 5, and two girls 4 and 3.

Replacement aid is available at the Red Cross, said chapter chairman Douglas Orme. It is not generally understood, he said, that such incidents are classed as disasters and where less than five families are involved the local chapter takes care of it. If more than five families are involved, the national organization handles the rehabilitation.

Freddie requested "a copy of all the bad men's finger prints you have."

Thurston said he plans to send the young detective all available "wanted" bulletins.

E. Mendoza suffered a broken brain concussion when a falling wall knocked him into the stairwell of the old courthouse Friday afternoon.

Mendoza, whose home is on Northeast Sixth Street, was reported in an improved but still critical condition at Malone and Hogan Hospital Saturday.

The accident in which he was injured occurred about 1:30 p.m. Friday. He was standing next to the stairwell at the second floor level of the old courthouse which is being demolished. A partition which was being torn down struck Mendoza and toppled him into the stairway, some of the debris falling on him.

It is also asked that any activity scheduled for the city be listed with the Chamber. A list of all public activities is kept so that functions will not be set on the same date as some other.

The Oceanic and Luther Southeast fields of North Howard County were quiet this weekend, with only one new location reported.

The new venture, in the Oceanic area, is Pan American Production company No. 3 M. M. Jones. It will be on the south side of the field production and is slated for depth of 8,500 feet.

Drillsite of the No. 3 Jones is 1,258 from north and 2,498 from east lines, 36-33-3n, T&P survey. This is on a 422 acre lease.

The Texas Pacific Coal and Oil projects near Luther were making hole Saturday, and no ventful occurrences were reported. The No. 1 Boyles, C NE NE, 15-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 3,800. No. 1-B Philipp, C NE SE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey, hit depth of 4,510 feet. The No. 1-D Spencer, C NW NE, 11-32-2n, T&P survey, has bit turning at 4,085 feet.

An appeal was voiced Saturday for clothing and furnishings to replace that destroyed for two families in a fire at 401 Lancaster.

The Salvation Army asked that it be called if residents had items of clothing for four adults or three children, a boy 5, and two girls 4 and 3.

Replacement aid is available at the Red Cross, said chapter chairman Douglas Orme. It is not generally understood, he said, that such incidents are classed as disasters and where less than five families are involved the local chapter takes care of it. If more than five families are involved, the national organization handles the rehabilitation.

Freddie requested "a copy of all the bad men's finger prints you have."

Thurston said he plans to send the young detective all available "wanted" bulletins.

E. Mendoza suffered a broken brain concussion when a falling wall knocked him into the stairwell of the old courthouse Friday afternoon.

Mendoza, whose home is on Northeast Sixth Street, was reported in an improved but still critical condition at Malone and Hogan Hospital Saturday.

The accident in which he was injured occurred about 1:30 p.m. Friday. He was standing next to the stairwell at the second floor level of the old courthouse which is being demolished. A partition which was being torn down struck Mendoza and toppled him into the stairway, some of the debris falling on him.

Fellow workmen pulled the injured man out of the debris and took him to the hospital.

Completions Ease Off, But Pace Is Ahead Of Year Ago

AUSTIN, March 20 (U)—Texas oil operators completed 168 oil wells and 20 gas wells this week, plugging 119 other tries as dry holes, the Railroad Commission reported today.

Of the 302 total contracts completed, only 13 were wildcats, which resulted in two others and 11 dusters.

The 163 oil completions, sharply under last week's 282, raised the year's total to 2,550, leading last year's figure for the comparable period by 255.

The 20 gas completions boosted the year's total to 298, well ahead of last year's 122 for the period. Operators also plugged 36 depleted oil wells along with the new dry holes, raising the total wells plugged during the week to 155.

The total average calendar day allowable as of today was 3,039,641 barrels, up 8,278 barrels from a week ago.

IT HAPPENED

First Things Last

ATHENS, Tex. (U)—The 5-year-old girl who called the city hall didn't speak very plainly.

Her mother was about to present her with a little brother or sister, she explained, and needed an ambulance. She also asked if someone would get her father, who works at the Horn ranch out in the country.

Somehow, things got mixed up in the excitement. An ambulance rushed to the ranch and got the father, then the sister, and sadly—the mother was taken care of.

The Hard Way

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (U)—An unhappy citizen whose income tax amounted to just 11 cents is paying it the hard way.

He sent the state revenue department a check for 3 cents, the first quarterly installment. It cost him another 3 cents to mail the letter. His name was withheld.

Mixed Up Plea

OLYMPIA, Wash. (U)—Small-fry cowboys will probably never believe it, but a lad in Texas wrote Washington's Gov. Arthur B. Langley asking for a horse!

The boy didn't explain why he couldn't get a horse in a state famous as one of the last stands of the old West.

"I am a little boy 10 years old," wrote Tommy Lyster to Hughes Springs, Tex.

"I wanted a horse for so long. I want a horse two years old so I can go after the cows. Every

Fingerprints Galore

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—MaJ. Frank Thurston of the Oklahoma City Police Department received a determined note from a budding criminologist, Freddie Tucker, 9-year-old Boise City, Okla., third grader.

Freddie requested "a copy of all the bad men's finger prints you have."

Thurston said he plans to send the young detective all available "wanted" bulletins.

Wiley Points Up Need For Peace In Age Of Atoms

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today Russia has the potential power to "rack up a terrible toll on our country" and there is "little consolation in our powers of retaliation."

Mentioning the controversy over the "massive retaliation" program outlined by Secretary of State Dulles, Wiley said he was not going to attempt to spell out its effects.

But the Wisconsin Senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a speech prepared for the Military Government Assn., that America cannot afford "amnesia and self-satisfaction" because its scientists have perfected the hydrogen bomb.

"Of course," he said, "we feel somewhat more secure, knowing that we are proceeding, all-out as we must, in order to equip ourselves with the most vital means of offense and defense."

"But we know full well that the Soviet Union is doing likewise. It is concentrating the energies of its slave empire on this highest priority task. Its scientific progress in weapons of destruction is proceeding, apparently at an accelerating pace."

Wiley said that the highest sort of leadership is needed now to avoid war and to attempt to bring world peace.

He praised the leadership of President Eisenhower and Dulles while saying that the problems involved in the "massive retaliation" theory are "inevitable but by no means insuperable."

Dulles told the Foreign Relations Committee yesterday that selectivity—in terms of time, place and weapons—is the key to the program built around a strengthened Air Force and the use of new weapons.

The secretary of state said the United States retains the choice of how it will fight back against small or large Communist aggression and where it will do it.

Ex-FCC Official Attempts To Fight Anti-Red Witness

NEW ORLEANS, March 20 (AP)—Clifford J. Durr of Montgomery, Ala., a former federal communications commissioner, tried to attack ex-Communist Paul Crouch today at a Senate subcommittee hearing on possible Communist activities.

The attempt came after Crouch testified Mrs. Durr, sister-in-law of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, knew of a Communist conspiracy in this country.

Durr, attorney who served on the FCC from 1941 to 1948, said as Crouch left the witness stand. "He can't talk that way about my wife. I'll kill the..."

Durr, who testified at length yesterday, was restrained by friends when he tried to reach Crouch.

A few minutes later Durr became obviously ill. He was taken to Touro Infirmary, where attendants said he would be kept overnight for observation of a "heart condition."

"I'm okay," the attendants quoted Durr as saying.

Crouch testified a spy ring operated in this country before World War II and that Mrs. Durr had used her influence among high government officials to try to foster communism.

Durr, accused by Crouch of being a Communist, represented Myles Horton, a witness ejected by the committee earlier today when he refused to answer a question about a former instructor at Highlander Folk school in Monteagle, Tenn.

Horton answered several questions about the school, saying it was not a Communist school and had never accepted Communist students. Horton, director of the school, said he had founded it in 1932 to educate "rural and industrial leaders for democratic living and activities."

Highlander is an interracial school for adults.

Eisenhower Gives Support To Big Western Dam Plans

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved a $830,343,000 power and irrigation development for the Upper Colorado River basin and recommended early congressional consideration.

He thus got firmly behind his administration's first major dam and power project, a vast undertaking designed to improve the water supply for farms and provide economic and industrial expansion for 3 1/2 million people in these five western states.

Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming.

A House Interior subcommittee is expected to vote on the project early next week. It has had it under consideration for some time.

The President announced his approval of recommendations made by Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay after review by the budget bureau.

He called the project a "comprehensive, well-planned development of a river basin." He said it also carries out the administration's "approach to water resource development."

The administration last August unveiled a new federal power policy. It placed less emphasis on public power than did the preceding Democratic regimes, but called for continued federal construction of multipurpose projects with hydroelectric features which because of size or complexity were "beyond the means of local, public or private enterprise."

Before the President's action was announced at the White House, the CIO said in its publication "Economic Outlook" that the federal power program which "broke the bottleneck of scarce and costly electric power" under Roosevelt and Truman administrations is "in the process of liquidation."

Eisenhower specifically included the controversial Echo Park Dam on the Colorado-Utah border in his recommendations. This is a $176,400,000 structure which conservation groups had opposed on the ground it would flood out portions of the Dinosaur National Monument Park and destroy much of the area's scenic beauty.

The park is a graveyard of dinosaurs, prehistoric monsters. Their skeletons can be seen imbedded in cliffs in the region.

The President included in the proposed project a 21-million-dollar fund for recreational development of the park, which Secretary McKay said "now is inaccessible to all but a small group of people."

In a separate statement, McKay said the Echo Park site was chosen because no other could be found which would provide water storage facilities to meet the region's needs.

He said the 21 million dollars would be used to build roads and facilities to convert this wilderness into "one of the great recreational areas of the nation."

Echo Park is one of two major power and storage dams approved. The other, Glen Canyon, would be built at a cost of $421,300,000 about 13 miles upstream from Lee's Ferry on the Colorado River in Arizona. Echo Park would dam a deep gorge of the Green River, a tributary of the Colorado.

LEARNING TO CRUTCH-WALK—Sammie Marquez, shown below, an eight-year-old cerebral palsy patient, learns how to use his crutches with Jewell Barton, city-county public health nurse giving instruction. Through the aid of the National Society for Crippled Children, Sammie is receiving treatment from Dr. E. T. Driscoll, orthopedist in Midland. Besides using crutches Sammie has to wear a long brace on his right leg. Miss Barton says she hopes Sammie will be ready for school next fall.

SEALED, STUFFED AND ALMOST DELIVERED — Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Easter Seal Campaign chairman, center, and her assistants, Mrs. Elton Gilliland, left, and Mrs. J. W. Purser, right, in picture above, refresh themselves with coffee after having stuffed hundreds of envelopes with Easter Seals to be mailed to contributors.

AN EASTER BUNNY FOR RICHARD — In the picture below little Richard Nixon of Coalboma is definitely attracted by the big bunny his mother, Mrs. J. D. Nixon, is holding in one hand. Richard is 18 months old and has had one operation for a hair lip and cleft palate arranged for him by the local chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children. Little tykes like Richard will be aided by the seals you buy.

Who Will Succeed Her?

That is the question this week as plans are made for Senior Day at Howard County Junior College. Friday hundreds of high school seniors from area schools will convene at the college and Miss Senior of 1954 will be named. Besides a full year's scholarship to H.C.J.C., Miss Senior will receive this 26-inch trophy that is shown here by Dene Choate, last year's winner. Miss Choate is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Choate, 2001 Gregg.

'Cress Delahanty' To Be Reviewed Thursday

Not since Fenrod—that classic by another Indiana writer, Booth Tarkington—has the magic, the humor and the serious side of being an adolescent been so delightfully portrayed, as it is in the book, "Cress Delahanty" by Jessamyn West. This is the book which will be reviewed by Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan on Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of Howard County Junior College for the Thursday Review Club.

Charles Parker Is Birthday Honoree

GARDEN CITY — Favors were watched for the girls and cowboy on horseback for the boys when Mrs. D. W. Parker entertained for her son, Charles, on his fourth birthday. Watching television was the diversion for the afternoon. Guests were Billy Cook, Paula Hardy, Johnny Ray McMullen, Susan Cox, Andy Wilson, Targe and Tommy Lindsay and Dana Worst.

In the Amateur Talent Show, which is being sponsored by the 4-H Club, first prize will be $5.00; second prize $3.00 and third prize, $2.00. The contest is open to anyone who wishes to enter. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Mrs. Ira L. Watkins won high score when the Afternoon Bridge Club met in the home of Mrs. James Currie. Mrs. Ross Foster, of Sterling City, won guest high and Mrs. Claude Winans won the consolation prize. Mrs. Dick Mitchell won in the bingo game.

with amusement. There will also be memories of their own "growing pains."

Boys were only a part of Cress's education, but they were an important part, and it looked as if Edwin might become permanent. Mrs. Delahanty was astonished to find her daughter making a list of "Useful Traits for School," and she was even more astonished when the girl started out to acquire some of these traits.

Mrs. Sullivan, who is an instructor at Howard County Junior College, is a well-known reviewer in Big Spring. She has appeared in several reviews for the Thursday Review Club and for other clubs.

Burnams Return From Assembly

STANTON — Mrs. Clayton Burnam has returned from the Rebekah Assembly of Texas at San Antonio, where she went as representative, from the Stanton Rebekah Lodge 287. Her husband accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Louder have returned from San Antonio where they attended the Rebekah Assembly of Texas. Alton Turner is recovering from an operation he underwent at a Dallas hospital recently.

Mrs. Ell McComb Is Honored At Showers

Silver and crystal appointments were used for a shower given Friday evening in the Hayes Strippling home for Mrs. Ell McComb, a recent bride. Mrs. McComb is the former Ann Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Currie. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harold Parks, Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, Mrs. Amabel Lovelace and Mrs. Shirley Robbins of Midland.

The table was laid with a white satin cloth under net and centered with an arrangement of pink snapdragons. White tapers in crystal candelabra were at each side of the flowers, and white ribbon bows were placed around the edge of the table.

Mrs. Harrol Jones greeted guests and presented the honoree and Mrs. R. W. Currie and Mrs. S. A. McComb, mothers of the bridal couple.

Mrs. W. E. Swan, of Dallas, Mrs. Kimball Guthrie and Mary Robbins of Midland alternated at the punch bowl. Mrs. John Currie presided at the guest register.

Gifts were displayed in the sun room by Mrs. Parks.

Friends of Mrs. Ell McComb were guests at a shower given in her honor by Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Mrs. Charles Buckner, Mrs. John L. Taylor and Mrs. M. C. Stulting in the home of Mrs. Stulting. Fancies and daffodils were used in the entertaining rooms, where refreshments were served to guests from a tea-cart. About 20 guests called.

Tallulah, Dahling, Puts Stress On Individuality

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — I had never met Tallulah Bankhead until she came to Hollywood recently to appear in a "Comedy Hour" for NBC. She met me at the door of her hotel bungalow in Beverly Hills wearing black slacks and a beautiful pink satin blouse. I was surprised how short she was. "Everyone tells me that," Miss Bankhead remarked.

"How do you give the illusion of height?" I asked.
 "I project it," was her answer. "I think myself tall, because people expect me to be tall for a sophisticated part."
 We talked about her night club debut in Las Vegas. "That was the first time I'd appeared before the public of the stage and I was so nervous," Tallulah said. "But it was the first time I'd never gotten any bad notices."

Miss Bankhead was excited about her return engagement to Las Vegas and told me about the beautiful gowns. She modeled a white satin coat trimmed with glitter and white fox. "You should hear them gasp when I drop this on the floor and kick it away with my foot," she laughed.

"I used to be on the best dressed lists," Miss Bankhead continued. "Molyneux, Chanel, Worth and Schapirelli have dressed me. The eight years I was in London almost everything I wore was copied. But most of the time now I wear slacks," she added in an "I've-had-it" manner.
 Miss Bankhead, never sitting still very long at a time, began to pace. As she walked up and down I admired her figure, asking if she had a hard time staying thin.
 "Darling, I've either stuffed or starved all my life. Even when I was in school I was overweight. I remember very distinctly hearing my grandmother say to my father: 'we'll never get this child married.' And, Miss Bankhead explained, "that was the worst thing that could happen to a Southern belle."

 "I started to diet then," she added. "Thank God one thing I have in strength of character. I don't know which is worse—dying to eat and you can't because you're starving yourself to get thin, or needing to eat and not wanting it. When I'm rehearsing I get so nervous I lose pounds, and the very sight of food makes me ill."
 "What is your favorite diet?" I asked.
 "None of them is my favorite, but I've had very good success with a diet Carole Lombard gave me. God bless her," Tallulah said. "I know there are millions of things you can eat and lose weight, but what are you to do if you like lots of mayonnaise on your salads, and can't abide meat without bread and butter? And I can't eat anything without salt—I even put it on my peaches. Yet I know salt, which causes water retention, is the worst thing for you if you're trying to reduce."

"Tell me about Carole Lombard's diet," I reminded.
 "You can eat anything you want but you can have only one thing," Miss Bankhead explained. "For example, I decided on bread and butter. It fills you up and by the end of the day you are awfully tired of it."

I told Miss Bankhead that a network executive had said that her voice and that of the late President Roosevelt's had more individuality than most voices.
 "How I was kidded about this voice as a child. I'd knock on a door, give my name, and would then watch for their astonishment to see that I was not grown up."
 Miss Bankhead has been a star for a long time and I asked her what has helped her to stay on top.
 "Knowing my job of course. But coming from a political family and not wanting to lose votes

It's The Fabulous Tallulah

In an exclusive interview, Tallulah Bankhead tells Lydia Lane some of her ideas of beauty. The popular motion picture, stage and television star places a high value on individuality as an important part of charm.

for my father, I grew up being taciturn. I've antagonyed people, I know, but I've never willfully done so."

Tallulah's hair is short now and falls in a soft wave around her face.

"You held out for so long," I commented. "What made you finally cut it?"
 "I was watching a kinnie of an old television show and saw myself from the back," Tallulah said. "I thought the long hair made my neck look short so off it went."
 Miss Bankhead confided that her hair is naturally thick and that she must have it thinned often. It looked very nice and I asked if she used anything special on it.

 "Every once in a while I clean it with cleaning fluid," Tallulah said. "I've even used gasoline. It doesn't disturb the wave, it cleans and, obviously, it hasn't hurt my hair."

Mrs. Prather Is Hostess To HD Club

Mrs. C. E. Prather was hostess to the Center Point HD Club when Mrs. H. S. Hanson gave a demonstration of the preparation of a stew using ground meat. Mrs. Hanson showed how the addition of vegetables made a meal-in-one and suggested a salad and dessert to be used.
 Mrs. Prather read the devotion from Acts. Recreation was led by Mrs. Don McKinney with Mrs. Albert Davis winning the prize. Fourteen members attended. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. L. J. Davidson on April 1.

Fireman's Auxiliary

Plans were made to take an Easter basket to a needy family when the City Fireman's Auxiliary met Friday in the home of Mrs. Hubert Clawson with Mrs. Howard Dodd as co-hostess. Eight members were present. Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. W. F. Stewart and Mrs. R. T. Hale.

Melodyaires At Lomax

The Community Center at Lomax was the scene of a program given by the Melodyaires recently, for the purpose of raising money for the center. The quartet sang a group of spirituals, hymns and classics. The next meeting to be held at the Center on March 27 will be concerning business and school matters.

Mrs. W. G. Wilson Jr. has returned from a visit with Mr. Wilson's mother, Mrs. W. G. Wilson Sr., in Texarkana. She also visited her sister, Mrs. Hartwell L. Stacks.

They were the Rev. David Zacharias of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lubbock, the Rev. W. J. McCoy of the Sacred Heart Church in Abilene and Rabbi Adolph Phillipsborn of the Congregational Shaareth Israel in Lubbock. The Rev. Zacharias dismissed the assembly with prayer. The Student Council held a poster party in the cafeteria Tuesday night for the purpose of making posters to take to the TASC convention in Laredo next week. The council is planning on running for vice president at this meeting, and plenty of publicity and campaigning will be needed. One of the most beloved characters around school is Anna Mae Thorp, who, when she graduates, will leave a long record of honors behind her. Anna Mae has served the school as cheerleader for three years; she was elected sophomore favorite, and this year the student body chose her as best-all-around-girl. She is a three-year letterman in volleyball and served on the student council during her junior year. This year, Anna Mae is an officer in the Tri-Hi-Y and Shortland clubs. When next fall rolls around, she will be headed for the TCU campus where she plans on majoring in business. Best of luck to an outstanding senior.

How 'Bout Just One Taste?

The Modisets are so glad to be back in a western atmosphere that they could hardly wait to start barbecue activities. The lieutenant is the "man of the hour" when it comes to outdoor cookery, but Mrs. Modisett takes charge in the kitchen.

Former College Rodeo Roper Now At Webb

Coming from rain and snow directly into a terrific sandstorm was the experience of Lt. and Mrs. P. E. Modisett, who arrived in Big Spring about three weeks ago, during the duster that covered this city at that time. They now live at 1605 Pennsylvania.

They are both originally from Gilbert, Ariz., and were schoolmates there before their wedding almost a year ago. Then Lt. Modisett was transferred to Spence Field at Moultrie, Ga. There they saw more snow and rain than they had ever seen in their lives—as Mrs. Modisett expressed it, "We were such desert rats that we weren't accustomed to that much moisture—eleven inches of rain at one time!" (Wonderful thought!)

Both agreed that they would rather have the sand than the tornadoes that they had been through.

The lieutenant told of having to bury the wheels of planes two feet in the ground when they were warned of the approaching tornado that struck in Georgia not long ago.

The couple had a wonderful trip around to several scenic points before they left Georgia, among them, Cypress Gardens; now they are looking for a projector to buy, borrow or rent so that they can view the four reels of films that they took—some of them in the place where Esther Williams' latest picture was made.

Both of them enjoy swimming and dancing. She is doing textile painting now, and he is looking forward to rodeo season. He has done roping in college and university rodeos and has roped with some of our local sopers.

Mrs. Byrd Westbrook P-TA Head

WESTBROOK — Mrs. Alvin Byrd was elected president of Westbrook P-TA when the group met recently. Other officers named were Mrs. Leroy Gressett, vice president; and Mrs. S. A. Walker, secretary and treasurer. Committees were appointed by the president to entertain the basketball girls and boys with a "hobo" party Thursday in the gym. The group voted to send $5 as a founders' gift and to serve the Junior-Senior banquet.

A-2C Royce Moore has been home on leave before reporting to his new assignment in Japan with the 91st Reconnaissance Flight as a munitions specialist. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie R. Moore of Westbrook. His wife, Julia, and three months-old daughter, Roxanne, will be at home in Westbrook.

Brownies Plan To Have A Cook-Out

STANTON — The leader, Mrs. O. E. Cleaver, met with Brownie Troop 1, in her home recently. Plans were made to have a cook-out next week. The Brownie song was sung and the Brownie promise was repeated. Eleven attended. Martha Cathey served refreshments.

Brownie Troop 3 practiced folk dances at their regular meeting recently. The program will be given for the mothers at a later date. The leaders, Mrs. O. B. Bryan and Mrs. Sid Johnson, meet with the troop. Nancy Robnett served refreshments to 11 members and one new member. Brownie Troop 2 met in the home of their leader, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler. Mrs. Preston Morrison, another leader, passed out pamphlets on "Well Groomed Hair," and she gave a talk on it. The troop reported having sold 24 boxes of Girl Scout cookies. Mrs. Morrison served refreshments to nine members. Intermediate Scout Troop 3 met for roll call recently and immediately left to go on a tour over town to sell Girl Scout cookies. Mrs. Claude Nowlin and Mrs. Marlon Gibson drove their cars and carried the girls from door to door. Twelve girls attended.

Three Are Hostesses For Dance

Guests entered the ballroom through an arched trellis covered with vines and roses when Sallie Cowper, Ginger Hatch and Kenda McGibbon entertained friends with a dance at the Country Club on Friday evening. Before the fireplace and at various points in the room were trellises wound with flowers.

An arrangement of redbud was on the mantel, and a garden scene had been arranged in the orchestra pit. Guests danced under a false ceiling made of vari-colored strips of crepe paper.

The refreshment table was covered with a heavy lace cloth over green satin. A pastel green organza hat held an arrangement of flowering peach. Punch was served from a crystal bowl, and other appointments were of crystal.

Chaperones for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. K. E. McGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hatch and Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper. Assisting with the entertaining were Jane and Brenda Cowper, Kay and Karen McGibbon and Jay and Dickie Hatch.

The Music Stopped

Is Your Name A Fad? Most Of Them Are

It has been said that you can tell a person's approximate age by his or her name, and a bit of research in the county birth records will convince you that is true.

Howard County birth records begin with the year 1887, and from that time until the turn of the century, some of the more popular names for boys were the Biblical-sounding names, such as John, James, Joseph, David, Thomas with William added. There was a trend toward names of a more worldly type for girls. Gertrude, Lillian, Louise and Vivian were quite popular then.

After 1900, and up to about 1920, the name, Walter, came into favor, especially in combination with another name. William, James and John began to be used in combinations, too, although double names were not used very extensively up to this time, at least not in this county.

Charles sprang into popularity, and Francis for boys and Frances for girls both became quite the thing for the period of the next twenty years. How many Mary Elizabeths or Mary Louises do you know? Louise continued to be popular more in combination, but Elizabeth was used alone and in various combinations, as with Sarah, Anne and Sue.

"Annie" and "Anna" were almost as common as the name Brenda became in later years, and it seems that about a third of all girls born during this period were named Dorothy. Often this name was in combination with May or Mae, Frances, Sue or Jean.

From 1920 until 1940, double names began to be more common. Now, the name Robert was shortened to Bobby and William to Billy. Billy Bob was used quite extensively. Another combination was Billy Gene. Delbert, Donald and Louis made a wider choice for naming boys at this time, and Walter continued to be popular. Richard was added to the list, and there was even one W. Lee O'Daniel in the county!

With the 1920s girls names began to be doubled, and Mary was used in combination with one-syllable names, while Ann was used with every name from Alice to Zelda. Barbara combined well with this name and also quite a few others.

After ten years, Bobbie was used for girls, along with Billie, Peggy, Jean, Wanda Kay was making a first appearance. This gave rise to the separation of these two names for them to be added to all the others of this period, such as Wanda Jean and Billie Kay.

From 1940 up to the present time, Dean, Gene, Don and Ray have led the field combined with Larry, Jerry, Bobby, Jimmy and Tommy. After 1945, Gary was especially popular with these as middle names, and after 1947 Michael became a standby. After 1950, Ricky has been running the latter a close race.

For girls, Linda led the parade immediately following 1940, but for the last three years, Deborah or Debra has held the lead. Barbara is still quite good, and Jean, Kay and Lou are being used with it. During the last of the '40s, Brenda was quite the thing to name a girl, and Judy, Sandra and Jo began to claim their share of the limelight.

The quotation from Shakespeare "What's in a name?" is so obviously appropriate to be asked in this article that I shan't ask it. Rather, I'll answer it with "FADS!"

Comes Spring And A New Hat

Mrs. Allen R. Hamilton tries on a new spring bonnet in a local store. With Easter just a month away the hat business is due for a boost. Mrs. Hamilton's choice is a delicate ice blue novelty straw in the "flat and forward" style. Dainty white pussy willows with rhinestones trim the tiny brim and a pink rosebud is perked on the front. The breath of a veil is ice blue. Not seen, but definitely a unique feature of the hat, is a small white flower centered with a rhinestone embroidered inside.

DRESS PARADE

Scarlet linen was the spring costume worn by Mrs. Roscoe Cowper at a study club. The dress was fashioned with a wide scoop neckline and straight skirt. Her spring hat was a natural straw bonnet style with tiny beads and shells trimming the front. The brim was lined with red. Natural mesh sling pumps and bag and pearl choker and earrings were her accessories.

Mrs. El McComb looked smart at a party in her honor in a navy suit of Italian silk with an interesting white blouse with collar extending on the outside. Navy silk shoes exactly matched her ensemble. Her jewelry was pearl and crystal earrings and matching pin.

Among the well-dressed women attending the W.M.U. convention was Mrs. W. J. Goodson in a charcoal silk shantung suit sparkled with a sheer white blouse. Combining well with the dark gray was a navy spring hat with brim lined with white and a froth of a veil. Other accessories were also navy.

A fresh green and white checked tissue gingham was the appropriate outfit worn by Mrs. Pete Fields when she was a hostess to her bridge club on St. Patrick's Day. The dress featured a V-neck and full skirt. Lace trimmed the pocket and sleeves. A soft accent was her white stole shot through with silver.

At a recent supper Mrs. K. H. McGibbon was spotted in a light aqua wool suit flecked with black. Her hat was black shiny straw which called for black patent pumps and bag. Her off-white blouse with beading at the neck was an excellent choice.

Double Six '42' Club

High score winners were Mrs. John E. Brown and Floyd Smart when the Double Six "42" Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smart Friday evening. Low scores went to Mrs. Smart and Charles Neefe. The next meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neefe on April 18.

Lemays Are Initiated Into OES

GARDEN CITY — At a regular meeting of Garden City Chapter No. 143, O. E. S. recently, with Mrs. Eva Parker, Worthy Matron presiding and B. L. Murphy acting Worthy Patron; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lemay were initiated into the Order.

The officers were in formal for the occasion, which was the observance of the 43rd birthday of the chapter. After chapter closed, an impressive candle lighting ceremony was given in which 15 officers took part.

The Worthy Matron gave the history of the chapter from the time it was organized up to the present time. Mrs. Jimmie Cook was presented a lovely corsage honoring her as the oldest member. She has been a member for 43 years. Mrs. Eva Cunningham, the only charter member in the chapter now was out of town.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth over green and was decorated with golden horseshoes and green shamrocks. The St. Patrick motif was also repeated in other table appointments.

IN THE LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE

Suppose we were all wealthy... and all healthy. And suppose we had to work only one day a week, and could devote the others to recreation and rest. And suppose we had no worries, no problems, no responsibilities.

Would we all be happy... really happy?

Of course not! For a week or two we might revel in our good fortune, and enjoy our freedom from care. And then suddenly life would become colorless and empty. For where would we find incentive? How would we recapture ambition? What would we substitute for perseverance and fortitude and hope: the qualities that crown existence with achievements?

And what would happen to FAITH—the true foundation of happiness?

In this work-a-day world, with all its turmoil and care, the man who depends on God lives with a smile in his heart. And week after week his shoes wear smooth the threshold of his Church as he rejoices in the love of His Saviour. He doesn't dream of happiness in a land of make-believe! He has found happiness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FOR PARTY-GOING

Use Of Bands Works Magic In This Graceful Design

Mollie Parnis lives and breathes an atmosphere that is a combination of big business, first nights, gay society and beautiful surroundings—all reflected in her fashion designing.

Today's design fits into the gay society aspect for it is intended to go to parties and a prettier way to go would be hard to find. She has effectively incorporated the princess look into a standard waist-line model by widely banding the neckline and continuing the band well below the waist in front.

This same band also works a considerable bit of magic with the bustline for the bodice is softly gathered into it, giving graceful form. Made originally in taffeta, it is a dress that will have great charm in shantung, alpaca or any of the new 40 or 50" cottons. The gored skirt with a back pleat boasts a pair of interesting pockets. This pattern is cut in Designer sizes.

Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36; size 14, bust 36½, waist 26½, hips 37½; size 16, bust 38, waist 28, hips 39; size 18, bust 40, waist 30, hips 41.

Size 12 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material for short-sleeve dress, and ¾ yard of 39-inch material for interfacing. To order pattern 1178, address Spadesa Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. B-5, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. Pattern Booklet 10, 108 pages, available at 25 cents.

The devotion was read from Acts 28: 1-32 by Mrs. Lealie Barr. Members repeated the club prayer. Mrs. Arnett gave the council report to the ten members present.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Pat Harding.

Most Businessmen Aware Of Recession, But Realize It Isn't Gaining Momentum

Clerk in a corner grocery store: "I don't get all the stuff you guys put in the newspaper—all the stuff about a business decline. I've been in this business for 18 years. Every year sales fall off at this time. I expect it. Then along comes April and business picks up. What gets me is the fuss this year."

Optimists point to the 7,000 jump in new housing starts from 66,000 in January to 73,000 in February. At the same time, new contract awards reported by both Engineering News-Record and F. W. Dodge indicate that construction plans have not been affected by the business slowdown.

And prices have been hardening. Zinc, lead and copper have been strong, as noted here last week. And Cannon Mills, Peppercorn Manufacturing, Springs Mills, and Pequot Mills have raised sheet prices by an average of 3 per cent, reversing a downward trend.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

Philip Nolan got all the publicity when Spanish forces put an end to his "horse-trading" activities in Texas, but his partner, seized by the Spanish on this day in 1801, also deserves some mention in stories of early-day Texas.

That sounds bullish. But is it? In 1953, the auto industry produced 8,150,000 cars. So Colbert is forecasting a drop of 20 per cent in production. That implies a draggy year, and warrants some hope for a big upturn in steel, now at 68 per cent of capacity.

Further, expenditures on new plant and equipment in 1954 are expected to be 4 per cent lower than in 1953, according to a survey just completed by the Securities & Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce.

A Limit Should Be Established On Criticism From Outsiders

I happened to see a report of a meeting at the YMCA in Yonkers, New York, which puzzles me no end. Dr. Ernest Kalibala of Uganda, who, the report says, was a former army specialist, whatever that may be, for the United Nations trusteeship department, had been invited by the YMCA to make a speech. According to the newspaper account, he literally bawled out everybody, including the United States and the audience.

praise to show that anyone rose to criticize this foreigner's bad manners in attacking a country which offered him its unrestricted hospitality. Those who continue to say that our freedoms are being restricted have here an excellent example of a foreigner attacking our country, our President and an audience in utter freedom, without either official restraint or the inhibitions of good manners. And some in the audience expressed penitence!

The President's serious purpose is manifest, among other ways, in the complete support he announced at his mid-week news conference for Secretary of Army Stevens in the latter's newest challenge of the Senator. This contrasts with the unfortunate sequence of events of two weeks ago. Then Secretary Stevens, after his blunt challenge of Senator McCarthy for the latter's treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph C. Ready For Anything

Tense Moment

Tony Curtis, Frank Lovejoy Star In 'Beachhead' At Ritz

Tony Curtis and Frank Lovejoy star in "Beachhead," United Artists film, to show today through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. The film, in Pathe Color with print by Technicolor, deals with a diversionary attack on one of the Solomon Islands, back in 1942-43. Purpose of the diversionary attack, made by four Marines, is to obtain plans locating the Jap minefields from a French planter, played by Eduard Franz.

Two of the Marines die early in the film, leaving Lovejoy, who plays a sergeant, and Curtis to carry on alone. The two men are antagonistic since Curtis blames Lovejoy for the heavy losses suffered by the unit on Guadalcanal.

These hard looks are multiplied when Mary Murphy enters the scene. She has the role of the planter's daughter. As she leads the men toward her father, both men show their attachment for her, but she shows preference for Curtis.

Strained is the constant danger from snipers as the little group moves forward and then tries to find its way back to American-held land. The film was shot on location in the Hawaiian Islands.

Gun Feud Is State Film

"Jesse James vs. the Daltons," Technicolor Western action film, shows today through Tuesday at the State Theatre.

The story deals with the efforts of a man believed to be the son of Jesse James to find out the truth about his parentage and clear his name. The man, played by Brett King, gets mixed up with the Dalton brothers while trying to complete his search.

Barbara Lawrence plays the chief feminine interest in the film, that of the girl who leads King to the Daltons. Soon follows an attempt to combine business with pleasure.

King redeems himself by warning the townspeople of Coffeyville, Kansas, that an attempt will be made by the Daltons to loot the town's two banks. Thus warned, the townspeople are able to wipe out the entire bandit gang and then King and Miss Lawrence are able to pursue their romance.

The picture is a release from Columbia Pictures.

Marilyn Monroe Is Terrace Film Star

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," Twentieth Century-Fox Technicolor adaptation of the Broadway show of the same name, shows Thursday and Friday nights at the Terrace Drive-In.

Starred are Marilyn Monroe as Lorelei Lee, the blond, and Jane Russell, Lorelei's girl friend, Dorothy.

Most of the action takes place on board ship and features Jane trying to keep Marilyn out of trouble.

Songs include "Bye Bye Baby," "A Little Girl From Little Rock," "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend," "Ain't There Anyone Here For Love?" and "When Love Goes Wrong."

'Dragonfly Squadron' Will Show At State

Barbara Britton, Bruce Bennett and John Hodiak star in "Dragonfly Squadron," a tale of the training of Korean pilots just before and after the invasion of South Korea in 1950.

Hodiak is a hard-bitten Air Force major ordered to supervise the training. At the base he finds Miss Britton, who plays the wife of an Army surgeon thought dead, and Bennett, the husband, who had been captured and had made good his escape.

This is all complicated by the fact that the wife, while she had been thought a widow, and the major had had a brief romance back in Hawaii. The Allied Artists film shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre.

When Girls Go Wrong

"Man Crazy," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre, deals with the troubles of three teen-aged girls who try some fast living on money that's not their own. Shown above is a scene in which one man comes between two girls and fireworks result.

'Man Crazy' Tale Of Wayward Girls, To Show At State
"Man Crazy" is a tale of wayward youth, this time of the feminine sex. This film, told in a documentary style, tells of three girls who steal funds from a druggist in their home town and head for Hollywood and a gay old time. The druggist can't report the loss since the money was his profits from a bootlegging business he conducted on the sly.

The druggist plans to recover the cash himself and follows the girls' trail. In the meantime the girls have all kinds of trouble about love. In the end, all end up paying for their sins.

The picture, which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the State Theatre, is a Twentieth Century-Fox release.

The girls are played by three newcomers to the screen, Christine White, Irene Anders and Colleen Miller. Neville Brand has the role of a bitter ex-football player one of the girls takes a shine to, and John Brown plays the druggist.

'12-Mile Reef' Uses CinemaScope At Sea

With "Beneath the 12-Mile Reef" CinemaScope takes a gander at the deep blue sea. For this film, starring Robert Wagner, Terry Moore and Gilbert Roland, deals with a feud between sponge divers in Florida.

That provides the opportunity for a Technicolor, wide screen view of marine life as Wagner goes down after sponges. Wagner has the role of Tony, son of Mike Petrakis, played by Roland. The family has its own boat but owes a good bit on it still, and their last month at sea was far from successful.

In the hope to better their luck the Greeks head for the waters of the rival "Concha," sponge gatherers of English descent who operate from Key West. They are sighted and their haul of sponges commandeered for sale at the Conch bazaar.

Angered by the Coch action, the Petrakis family goes to Key West, determined to recover the sponges they had gathered. While there Tony meets Gwyneth Rhys, played by Miss Moore, daughter of the Conch captain who had commandeered the cargo. He makes a play for her and she responds, much to the displeasure of her relatives and friends.

This incident leads to a desire on Tony's part to marry Gwyneth, but he is refused by her father. The picture then builds toward a climax.

Special scenes include danger from octopi and tiger sharks, as well as beds of strangling kelp. Another scene is the diving for a gold cross, one of the Greek customs surviving at Tarpon Springs, headquarters for Greek sponge divers near St. Petersburg.

In addition to the stars the film features the appearance of J. Carroll Nash, returning to the screen after four years of sticking to radio and TV appearances as "Luigi."

The film is produced by Twentieth Century-Fox Studios, originators of the CinemaScope process, which features a special lens and a stereophonic sound.

The film shows Wednesday through Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

'So This Is Love'

Currenty At Jet
A girl's ambition to be an opera star and her work to achieve it are retold in "So This Is Love," with Kathryn Grayson and Walter Abel. The film shows tonight and Monday at the Jet Drive-In.

Miss Grayson plays the late Grace Moore in the film. The picture takes her from the time she sang in the Methodist Choir in her little Tennessee home town to the time she sang her first role on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

The music is far from all being highbrow, even including the number "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate," demonstrated by Miss Grayson. That was one stage in Miss Moore's career for she was a star on Broadway before she was a star in opera. The picture tells how she never lost sight of her goal even in her paint-stained days as a queen of the Great White Way.

It's a Warner Bros. film and it's in Technicolor.

Special scenes include danger from octopi and tiger sharks, as well as beds of strangling kelp. Another scene is the diving for a gold cross, one of the Greek customs surviving at Tarpon Springs, headquarters for Greek sponge divers near St. Petersburg.

In addition to the stars the film features the appearance of J. Carroll Nash, returning to the screen after four years of sticking to radio and TV appearances as "Luigi."

REPORT TO PARENTS

Advantages Of County Health Department Seen

By DR. MARTHA M. ELIOT
Chief, Children's Bureau
A county health department "costs about as much a year per person as a dozen eggs."
The county health department will cooperate with but not replace private physicians and voluntary health agencies.
Statements such as these helped to convince the residents of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, that they should vote "Yes" last November when a public referendum on the issue was held.

Their two-to-one support of a county health department made Bucks County the first in the state to approve such a program by referendum.
Residents were given some concrete examples of how their public health needed improvement. Two members of one family died from, and ten others were stricken with, typhoid fever because of inadequate community sanitation. A man lost his job because he drank from a contaminated well and developed hepatitis.

Those who favored the establishment of a county health department worked for 14 months to get the story across to the people before the referendum was held. They enlisted the support of doctors in private practice in the county, and every doctor's office displayed a poster "I favor a county health department for Bucks County."
They approached the county commissioners, who decided to leave the choice to the people. This information was relayed to county residents.

Residents were assured that a county health department would supplement, not replace the service they got from voluntary health agencies and private doctors.

The campaign to get a local health department was supported by parent-teacher groups, the Woman's Club, the League of Women Voters, the County Tuberculosis and Health Society, service clubs and various civic and professional organizations.

None of those who began the campaign had official status, none stood to gain by the establishment of a county health department except as it benefited the community's health.

The Bucks County story seems to be an outstanding example of how a community can help itself, by recognizing a need, and by making sure that the voters understand not only that need, but that a way of meeting it is available if they would use it.

Grey Strikes New Note In Footwear Fashion For Girls

Grey is particularly good with the grey costume, which is putting up a good fight to maintain its prestige against the great wave of fashion publicity for beiges and browns.

After all, grey means spring, and this year there are three good greys. The dark oxford persists, after a winter of fashion success. The pale grey is again a basic Easter color. And the medium grey is the spring fashion that goes on forever.

Women who like the extreme will try the effect of the pale tan and lines with these grey costumes. But after all, there's nothing like a shoe and bag of polished red leather to give that spring feeling to a grey costume suit, with the added advantage that the red shoe is today a year-around basic fashion.

Red Remains Tried And True Favorite

Smart Women have discovered to their satisfaction that red is the tried and true color that goes with everything, and does a lot to pep up a tired outfit.

There are two reds for spring and summer. The brilliant Basque red in kidkin, the sharp accent for summer cottons, linens and prints. And the deeper, richer, cherry red in polished calf or reptile which is smart with classic blacks, browns and navies and with the new pale tones and more subtle tweeds.

The polished leathers have it in red, for it is the glow that makes the shoe.

Navy plus White

Spring's favorite color Navy, takes to white accents like spring takes to flowers . . .

Chic Ambassador's Wife Is Busier Than Ever In Capital

By JANE E. OS

WASHINGTON — Since her return last fall from Belgium, where her husband served as U. S. ambassador, chic and energetic Mrs. Myron Cowen has become one of the busiest women in capitol society.

"I'm used to being active and am not happy unless I'm busy from morning until night," Mrs. Cowen told me. Sandra, 18, who was introduced to Washington society last Christmas eve, is now a student at Sweetbriar College and interested in drama. She attended school in Canberra, Australia, in Manila and more recently in Brussels during her father's diplomatic service abroad.

In addition to maintaining an apartment in Washington, where they have been widely feted since their return, the Cowens keep a small apartment on Park Avenue in New York. Their apartment here is filled with fine paintings, old silver, English furniture and many interesting objects picked up in their extensive traveling.

This winter Mrs. Cowen has been working to organize the National Symphony Orchestra's "International nights," each concert dedicated to a different country.

standing for its cultural development and achievements, and we should all cooperate toward achieving that end," she said. The international flavor of Washington is being promoted still further with the proposed house and embassy tour set for April for the benefit of the Washington Home for Incurables. Mrs. Cowen is chairman of the committee arranging the tour of 10 of the capital's famous residences and embassies, which will be open to the tourists flocking here for the Cherry Blossom Festival at that time.
