It's rapidly approaching now, Saturday, September 25th, Homecoming Weekend with many plans made for the day and a large crowd of exes expected to attend.

This is the 37th annual such event - the time when all former students and teachers of Gorman Schools are invited to Homecoming for a day of reminiscing - the day when all former students living here are urged to be present to welcome homecomers. (If you are a Gorman ex-student this is your homecoming).

Let's all attend and welcome those coming to homecoming.

Registration will be at 10 a. m. at the high school, with coffee, juices and doughnuts served during a visit with friends and classmates.

A complimentary lunch will be served at noon in the school gym.

The business meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. at which time a Coming Home Queen will be elected and will be presented at the 7 p. m. program.

Superintendent Gene Shackelford will give the welcome address.

Class role call and other business will be disposed of.

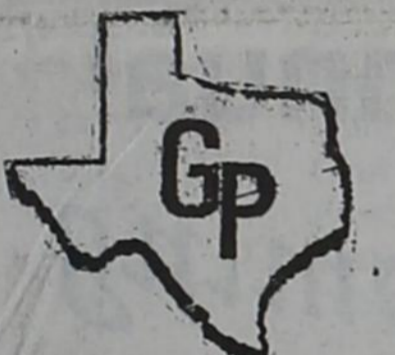

At 5:30 p. m. the seniors will serve a dinner in the gym. The menu includes spaghetti, salad, toast, dessert and drink for $5 per person. Call 734-3171 for reservations.

Raymond Hattox, Class of '74, will be guest speaker at the evening program.

Several classes are planning class reunions and will be meeting in private meetings between the business meeting and the evening program.

John Paul Bolt had made some video tapes from pictures, class photos and school annuals and will be showing them throughout the day. Better come and see if you are on the tapes. A lot of surprises.

See you Saturday, September 25th at Homecoming!

PRESS POINTS
JOE BENNETT - PUBLISHER

The weather has turned to summertime again following the good rain we received recently. The farmers and ranchers were very happy with the moisture we received. Most reported from a little over 2 inches to just on 4 inches, depending on where you were. It may have come a little too late as far as the peanut crop is concerned. There is a possibility that it may help some if the cold freeze doesn't come for a couple of months or so. The pastures are looking a lot better and are greening up a great deal. That will sure help with the feeding of the cattle as the year goes along. There wasn't too much run-off water for the stock tanks, but some reported that they caught a good bit of water. Anyway, it was great!

Thanks to the advertisers again this week we are publishing a "Welcome Home Exes" issue for the Homecoming activities this week end. The Panthers will host the Hico Tigers in the Homecoming Game on Friday night at 8 p. m. The Homecoming activities will be held on Saturday with the homecoming meeting being held Saturday night following the homecoming dinner.

We welcome all the Exes, along with all the good wishes from the advertisers. Have a Great Homecoming, and we are so glad you are here!

We received a few notes recently:
Dear Editor:
When my Hamilton Herald-News arrives each week, I stop everything and read "News from the Lamkin community", written by Mrs. Freddie Sills. I grew up in Lamkin.

Mrs. Sills has an aunt that lives in Gorman, Mrs. Bertha Gregory. She relates that Mrs. Gregory won a blue ribbon for her "Peanut Butter Brownies" recently during your Peanut Festival. After reading the recipe, I went to the kitchen and made a "batch". They are great!

Each year with my Christmas cards I enclose a bit of personal news; something funny; and a recipe. This year I'll have Mrs. Bertha's Peanut Butter Brownies

Georgie Fay Skaggs Honored On 80th Birthday

On Saturday, September 18th, Mrs. Georgie Fay Skaggs of Gorman was surprised when friends and family gathered at her home to give her a surprise birthday party in celebration of her 80th birthday.

Hosting the party were Mr. A. E. Skaggs, Jerry and Virginia Skaggs of Hereford, Wallace and Julia Beth Cook of De Leon, and Emma Jane Larch of Irving.

Mrs. Skaggs was given a beautiful three-layer cake decorated and shaped as a flower basket. The birthday cake table also included sausage balls, cheese balls, vegetable and fruit platters, pigs in a blanket, and fruit punch.

Those in attendance included Mrs. Skaggs' sister, Bobbie Joe Barnett and her husband, Arvil Barnett; sister-in-laws, Marie White, Elsie Robinett and Bernice Farley, and all six of Mrs. Skaggs' granddaughters with their families: Susan, Jim, Jacob and Jordan Bodkin of Hereford; Kaycee and Kurt Richard of Colleyville; Sharon, Randy, Conner and Molly Ellis of Pleasanton; Kendria, Mike, Michael and Ashley Hendricks of Irving; Kelli and Kent Styron of Waco; and Karla Cook of Stephenville.

After an afternoon of visiting and opening ards and gifts, the family enjoyed a dinner at Par Country Club.

GAME AT A GLANCE

3/12/12	Passes/Yds.	14/19/280
1	Interceptions	2
4	Fumbles Lost	1
4 for 33	Punts, Avg.	1 for 30
8 for 60	Penalties/Yds.	10 for 110

The Gorman Panthers traveled to Ranger on Friday night to meet the Bulldogs in their homecoming game and came away with an overwhelming defeat 48 to 8. The Panthers just were not really ever in the game.

The Panthers received the opening kickoff, only to lose the ball on a fumble at the Gorman 35. And from there it took only one big bomb for the Bulldogs to score as J. D. Johnson caught a pass about fifteen yards deep in the secondary and raced the distance with 12 second off the clock. Sognnes added the PAT and Ranger led 7-0.

On the next possession the Panthers moved the ball 36 yards before being stopped by the Bulldogs.

Taking the ball on their own 38, the Bulldogs moved the distance in 10 plays with Mark Lucky catching a pass for the final 10 yards with 2:42 left in the period. Sognnes added the point after and Ranger led 14-0.

The two teams exchanged possessions before the Bulldogs got the ball on the Gorman 43. And again the big bomb caught the Panther defense as J. D. Johnson caught a pass about twelve yards deep in the Panther secondary and ran the rest of the way for the score with 10:57 left in the second period. Sognnes booted the PAT and Ranger was out front 21-0.

The Bulldogs scored again with 2:57 left in the first half when Pattenaude caught a 10 yard pass for the score to cap a 65 yard drive in just four plays. Sognnes added the PAT and the Bulldogs were up 28-0.

Just prior to halftime the Bulldogs took the ball on an interception on the Gorman 24 and scored in just one play with Blaine Huston running for the score with 2:30 left in the first half. Sognnes added the point after and the score was 35 to 0.

The Panther Marching Band did a superb job as they thrilled the audience with their new routine and the performance was great.

Following the intermission, the Panthers kicked off to the Bulldogs, and the scoreboard lit up again as Matthew Perkins took the kick on his own 15 and raced the distance for the score with just 18 ticks off the clock. The kick failed and the Bulldogs led 41 to 0.

THANK YOU

The Gorman Peanut Festival Committee would like to thank everyone who helped make this year's festival a great success.

We are not going to try to name everyone who helped for fear of leaving someone out. We would like to thank some businesses for going the extra mile: Gorman Milling for sponsoring the Antique Tractor Show; Birdsong Peanuts, Texas Peanut Producers Board, Golden Peanut Co. and Smith Warehouse and Dryers for the peanuts for the judges and others; The City of Gorman for all its help; Joe Bennett for use of his building; Wesley Warren for working our peanut crop; D. B. Warren for watermelons; and all the businesses who bought an ad on our billboard.

Ranger scored again after getting a fumble recovery on their own 40. J. D. Johnson caught a 32 yard pass for the score with 1:23 left in the third. Songess added the PAT and the score was 48 to 0.

The Panthers got their first touchdown of the season with 7:32 left in the game. After recovering a Bulldog fumble on the Ranger 25 the Panthers scored in 4 plays with Jeremy Sanders getting the score from 1 yard out. Scotty Walton carried for 7 yards. Then Jeremy Sanders got 8 for a first down at the Ranger 10. From there Nick Guthery ran to the Ranger 1 before being stopped. Then Sanders got the score. Scotty Walton added the two pointer on a run and the score stood at 48 to 8.

The Panthers got another short drive going just before time ran out, but did not score.

The Panthers were led by Jeremy Sanders, who carried 28 times for 105 yards. Scotty Walton got 30 yards on 7 carries. Eric Monk carried three times for 16, and Nick Guthery had 9 on three keepers.

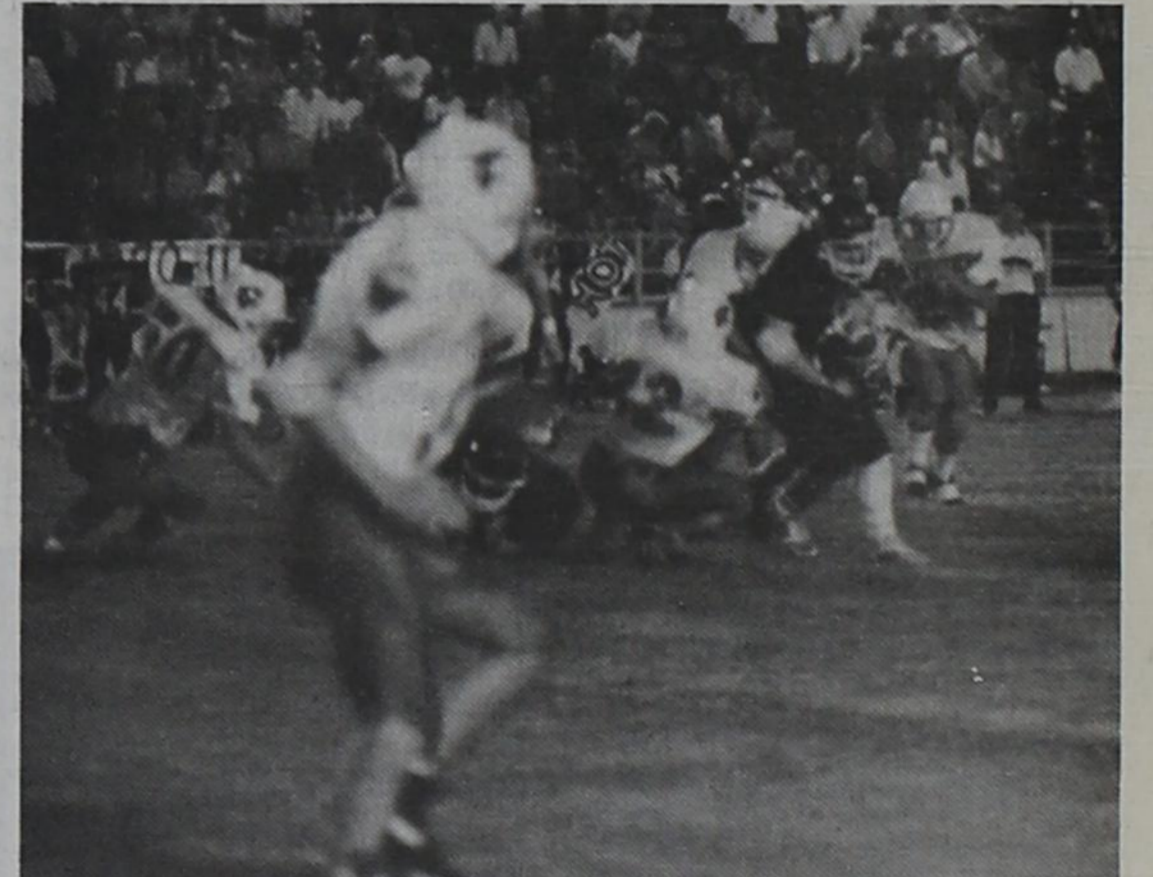

The Panthers were led on the offensive and defensive line by Noah Landa, who had a very fine performance and was named as The Panther of The Week.

This Friday night the Panthers host the Hico Tigers in the Homecoming Game at 8 p. m. before an anticipated large crowd of Homecoming fans. The Hico Tigers have a very fine ball club this year and the Panthers and Tigers always have a great battle on the gridiron. So be here for the big Homecoming Game on Friday night and back the Panthers with your presence.

Go Get 'Em Big Red!

Good News For Old Problems

By Rev. Jerry A. Davis

PROVERBS

A proverb is a short, popular saying that communicates a familiar truth or observation in an expressive and easily remembered form (p. 831, Harpers Bible Dictionary, Harper and Row, publishers). The Old Testament book of PROVERBS is a collection of what is commonly known in theological circles as "wisdom literature". It consists of different topics like: 1. the value of wisdom; 2. evils that wise people should stay away from; and 3. personal wisdom.

I have just taken my last exam in a course in the theologies that man has come up with since the beginning of time to the present. In review, I think most of these guys should have stuck to reading only the book of PROVERBS in the Bible and they would have exhibited a whole lot more wisdom than the weird ideas that they eventually came up with. Of course you know that by me writing these weekly articles, I am setting myself up for some "dude" to come along some day and file me under some theological category that already exists. Or maybe I could come up with my own weird "wisdom" and they would have to name a new theology after me... Seriously, wisdom does come from reading, learning and experiences. Each of us probably has a list of proverbs that have come from our own life experiences. As a matter of fact, one of my boys that is in college is always telling me or showing me the latest "wisdom literature" that is on the shelves at the bookstores. He really enjoys these books that contain proverbial statements. I have looked over a few of them and many of the statements come very close to duplicating those found in the book of PROVERBS in the Bible. You don't think there is some plagiarism going on do you? I wonder if any of the descendents of Solomon might get wind of this and file a few law suits... Boy, I can't seem to stay on a serious note today, must be all that theology bouncing around in my feeble brain!

Bear with me, I do want to get

Texas Extension Homemakers Convention

Gerry Zummer, District 8 Director and members and delegates of the Eastland County Extension Homemakers Club, Wynelle Brown, delegate, and Frances Bishop, member from the Kokomo Club, Betty Nichols, delegate and Tammie Belyeu, some good thoughts for all of us to meditate on. Let's start with "For learning about wisdom and instruction, for understanding words, of insight, for gaining instruction in wise dealing, righteousness, justice, and equity; to teach shrewdness to the simple, knowledge and prudence to the young-Let the wise also hear and gain in learning..." (Proverbs 1:2-5a). Or how about "Happy are those who find wisdom, and those who get understanding..." (Proverbs 3:13). Or how about this one for the teenagers we know... "A wise child makes a glad father, but a foolish child is a mother's grief" (Proverbs 10:1). I could go on and on with all this wisdom, but while we are teenagers, children in general, and even young adults; this is a very good place for them to start reading the Bible. The knowledge they can gain from this one book in the Bible when put to practical use will make them search even more in the scriptures. And before you know it, they will be teaching us a few things. PROVERBS is a great book in the book that has topped the best seller lists for years. Try it, you might just find that wisdom you have been looking for lately.

Until next week, God bless you and have a great week!

NOTICE TO CLASS OF 1973

On the 25th of September there will be a 20th Anniversary held at the Senior Center beginning at 1:00 p.m. till?? All classmates from First Grade to Senior Class and their family are invited and urged to bring old pictures and other school items.

our winner of the Young Families Issues Scholarship from Morton Valley Club, Dois Hodges, delegate from the Olden Club, and Arleta Shirey, member from the Pleasant Hill Club, along with Janet Thomas, the Eastland County Extension Agent, joined other District 8 members from 17 counties in the central Texas area in Waco on September 14, 1993 to host the 67th Annual TEHA State Convention.

The planning for this event began a year ago under the direction of Gerry Zummer and culminated with over 1,000 members and guests from all 14 districts across the state of Texas arriving in Waco on Tuesday.

Upon arrival, they were greeted in the hospitality area by TEHA Board Members and members of the host District, District 8.

Tuesday afternoon members were treated to a "first". They were able to attend an Early Bird Conference of heritage skills and home arts demonstration in addition to the convention Trade Shows and Education Exhibits.

Another "first" was a TEHA Roundup on Tuesday evening after registration where members donned western attire and enjoyed barbecue with all the trimmings catered by Michna's Barbecue of Waco.

Opening ceremonies on Tuesday night had dignitaries from the Waco area welcoming those in attendance. Special awards to individuals and awards to outstanding counties were presented for total volunteer hours, 50 and 60 year membership certificates, Adult Career Scholarships, 4-H Scholarships, and 100% Messenger Subscription Clubs.

A reception catered by Dr. Pepper Bottling and Blue Bell Ice Cream, both from District 8, gave members the opportunity to meet the candidates for office, the board members and friends from across the state.

Delegates from each district were briefed in their duties at the convention and on their return trip home, at a Wednesday morning session. Afterwards the general session featured Joyce Landorf Heatherly, a nationally known author, public speaker and recording artist as our keynote speaker for the day.

The election was held and Martha Crawford was elected President Elect, Joan Frost, 2nd Vice President, and Johnnie Messer, Treasurer.

At noon a Legislative Luncheon was also hosted by District 8. Elected officials from District 8, Extension Personnel, Board Members and guests enjoyed a delicious meal and fellowship. Plaques were presented to the officials in appreciation for their support of families.

Wednesday night we were entertained by Toody Byrd, a Texas treasure who shared the life experiences with, "We're All in this Together".

On Thursday morning, workshops were conducted by state education committees dealing with important issues facing families and communities across the state and nation. Thursday evening, by-law amendments were voted on and as a result of the passing of the by-law concerning a name change for the organization, members who arrived at the convention as Texas Homemakers returned to their homes as members of the Texas Association for Family and Community Education, which more accurately describes the mission of this organization.

The convention closed with a banquet on Thursday evening, the installation of officers and entertainment by the "Chisholm Trail Chorus of the Sewwt Adelines".

Roaring Ranger Days Festival Set September 25th

In 1917 Ranger, Texas, a small rural community west of Fort Worth, roared into prominence when the oil well named McClesky #1 roared in, opening one of the largest oil discoveries to that date. In just two years, Ranger grew from a small town of 750 residents to one of more than thirty thousand. Ranger really roared.

In 1981, the Texas and Pacific Railroad donated the old train station to the Chamber of Commerce to house a museum reflecting the town's lustrous past. At that time the directors of the chamber decided to dedicate the museum in a proper manner and invented the festival called Roaring Ranger Days. This was so popular that it has been continued each year since.

In the past, Main Street in downtown Ranger was blocked off for the day, routing traffic around the area used for the activities and then returning it to, but this year, because of construction work on that part of Main Street, the festival has been moved to the campus of Ranger Junior College.

The relocation, while not popular with some of the locals, opened the door for additional activities. The move placed the celebration in the area of the air port and the local chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association will be hosting a Fly-In and will have a number of aircraft on display; Roger Huffaker, Regional Marketing Manager for Bell Helicopter, will be bringing one of his company's Jett Rangers or Long Rangers in to the airport for display. Members of the EAA will be using their aircraft to give rides for anyone who will make a five dollar contribution to their club.

Additional activities for the weekend have been planned for the visitors.

Desdemona Received It's Name From White Child

This very interesting article was printed in the Desdemona Gusher newspaper on August 5, 1939.

It was approximately 1882 when the town of Desdemona was named for one of the early white girl settlers Miss Desdemona Wynn. The town had been called "Hogtown" for many years, but when the post office was started then the name of the town was changed.

Miss Desdemona Wynn was the daughter of Squire Wynn, who was the first Justice of Peace at Desdemona. Her mother was a cultured Southern woman, though she was an invalid. Miss Desdemona, as the legend has it, also was a well educated and a very lovely girl. She taught one of the first schools in Desdemona.

It is probable, though not for certain, that a town meeting was called to select the name of the town. At any rate, R. H. Pierce, one of the leading merchants of the town, sent in the name "Desdemona" and it was selected.

Miss Desdemona Wynn was a sister of the late Mrs. Tom Henry and aunt of Tip Henry and Mrs. Eula Jones of Desdemona. She taught for a time in Fort Worth, but the name Desdemona for the town still goes on. A mighty fine town it is. Located in the Southeastern part of Eastland County, Desdemona has an annual Homecoming and School Reunion on the second Saturday in August. The exact year that the Homecoming began is a question. Some old timers say as far back as 1922 - others say early 30's. If anyone knows this year, please contact Vonnie Guthery, P. O. Box 187, Desdemona, TX 76445.

This article was presented by Vonnie Guthery for re-print. Hope you enjoyed it.

Local Students Given Opportunity To Study Abroad

"Qualified high school students are offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or summer holiday in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Britain, Holland, Spain, Portugal, Czech Republic, Poland, Malta, Thailand, Mexico, Japan, Australia, New Zealand or Canada (French or English speaking) as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program," announced Jodi Schmidt, Southern Director of ASSE.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year or summer abroad. Now, ASSE has changed all that," continued Schmidt. Students, 15 to 18 years old, qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer host family.

"ASSE families abroad are carefully screened to provide a caring environment in which students can learn the language and culture of their host country," Schmidt explained. Summer exchange students live with a family abroad who usually speaks some English. Year students need not have learned a foreign language as they receive language and cultural instruction as part of the ASSE program. ASSE students attend regular high school classes along with their new teenage friends. "ASSE exchange students learn by living the language and culture of their new host country," added Schmidt.

The nonprofit, public benefit ASSE International Student Exchange Program is affiliated with the national Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education.

ASSE also provides international opportunities for families to host students from the above named countries.

Students or families interested in more information about the ASSE program should contact Eula Miers at 817-734-2517 or call 1-800-473-0696.

Tips On Getting Early Benefits From Your Life Insurance Policy

Accelerated Benefits

(NAPS)—Many life insurance companies now offer life insurance policies that let a policyholder collect all or part of the death benefit while still living. This feature can help relieve some of the financial burden of a serious illness.

Accelerated benefits can usually be added to a whole life policy.

Known as accelerated benefits, or as living benefits, this feature may be provided for in the policies themselves, but more often they're added by riders or attachments to new or existing policies.

How do they work? The accelerated benefits option or rider in a life insurance policy provides that all—or a portion of—the policy's proceeds may be paid to the insured on the occurrence of specified events such as diagnosis of a terminal illness or onset of a medically incapacitating condition.

Today, more than 150 companies offer some form of accelerated benefits and nearly three million policyholders have these options in their policies.

Producers May Apply For Disaster Relief Thru March

Washington, Sept. 15 — Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy today announced that producers whose 1993 crops sustained losses in quantity and/or quality due to weather related disasters may apply for assistance through March 4, 1994.

The 1993 crop loss benefits will be paid to eligible producers no later than June 1994, he said. Payments in an amount to 100 percent of each eligible claim are authorized by emergency disaster legislation signed recently by President Clinton.

Producers eligible for benefits are those who produce commercially grown 1993 program and non-program crops.

Producers whose 1993 crops are insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will be eligible for payments for losses exceeding 35 percent. Producers without such insurance will be eligible for payments for losses greater than 40 percent.

The deadline for all producers participating in the 1993 farm programs to utilize the so-called "0/92" provisions has been extended to Sept. 17. Producers may modify any previously made decision regarding use of these provisions. The deadline was extended at the request of many producers who notified the USDA that for reasons beyond their control they were prevented from meeting the earlier announced deadline.

Disaster aid applications may be made at the producers' local ASCA county office.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The CITY OF GORMAN will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in CITY OF GORMAN by 6.97 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on SEPTEMBER 30, 1993 at CITY HALL at 6:00 P.M.

FOR the proposal: JACK SIMPSON, JOHN RICE, JOHNNY SMITH, ROBERT ERVIN, HOWARD HAGOOD

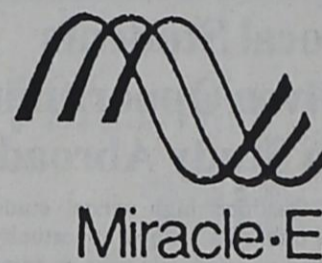

AGAINST the proposal: 0
PRESENT and not voting: 0
ABSENT: 0

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective rate tax rate that the unit published on AUGUST 25, 1993. The following table compares taxes on a average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$16,563.00	$16,622.00
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	0	0
Average taxable value	$16,563.00	$16,622.00
Tax rate	.48	.53
Tax	$79.50	$88.09

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $8.59 or 10.8 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.05 per $100 of taxable value or 10.4 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

News USA

(NU) - It would be easy for Lisa Smith, a teen-ager living in one of West Virginia's most remote areas, to lose hope. Her community, after all, has more than its share of teen tragedy, from suicide to alcoholism. But thanks to a promising new program with nationwide implications, Lisa is brightening her own life by helping her troubled classmates find hope.

"I'm less selfish," says the 17-year-old. "Instead of just thinking about myself and my problems, I see what I can do for someone else. Plus being a part of the program makes me feel better about myself." The program trained Lisa as an "adolescent peer helper" — an advisor to troubled classmates. The sponsor, Project HOPE, a global health organization best-known for the world's first peacetime hospital ship, plans to extend the program to other depressed areas around the nation. Lisa and classmate Lyle Jones were among 28 students selected for the program after classmates identified them as easy to talk to and worth approaching for advice. Lyle thinks the idea is working. "Because other students know who's in the program, we get approached in hallways and sports activities," he said. "Some kids don't want to talk to teachers so it's easier to talk to us. It's not gossip, but listening and helping others."

Stacy Krahn, a nurse practitioner with the West Virginia school and a local health clinic, explains that "because the peer helpers' friends trust them, they're able to share in confidence things they might be dealing with, such as alcoholic parents, thoughts of running away or suicide. Plus the program has helped students to define and label things such as 'date rape'."

The youthful advisors have their work cut out for them in sparsely populated rural Pendleton County. Rates are increasing for teen depression and suicide, as well as eating disorders. West Virginia has the nation's highest white-teen pregnancy rate and ranks seventh in teen births.

Teen-age drinking and smoking are big problems, too. Eighteen percent of high school seniors report getting drunk at least once a month.

To deal with these problems, "peer helpers" learn better listening skills. They study health issues, are taught to recognize serious problems and learn about guidance services available in their community. Marjorie McChesney, Project HOPE's director of U.S. programs, said data from the promising West Virginia program will help when replicating it in other areas. "As the program expands, we will offer our expertise to local health and school officials," she said. "We hope that teens in many other areas can have this fine experience."

More information on the Adolescent Peer Helper training program is available by writing Project HOPE, Millwood, VA 22646. (For privacy, the youths' names in this article were changed.)

Chocolate Milk Gets Good Marks As Snack

(NU) - Chocolate milk is not only making waves with young consumers as a tasty snack, but is also winning support from pediatric dentists as a nutritional snack. According to the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry, chocolate milk is healthier — for teeth and the entire body — than many other snacks.

"As pediatric dentists, we have a strong interest in the overall good nutrition of children," said Dr. John Bogert, executive director of the AAPD. "Many dairy products have nutritional benefits that help not only oral health, but the total body as well."

Chocolate milk is healthy because it is a source of nutrients and is usually low in fat. Chocolate milk provides kids with protein, calcium, riboflavin, vitamins A and C, iron, and other nutrients. And 64 percent of ready-to-serve chocolate milk is made from low-fat or skim milk.

"There are ways to grow up cavity-free when snacking in moderation," says Dr. Stephen Moss, chairman of the department of pediatric dentistry at NYU College of Dentistry. "With chocolate milk, we have something that's nutritious and our children like as well."

Chocolate milk has experienced a strong growth in sales over the past year, according to a recent study. During the second half of 1992, chocolate milk sales jumped 17.4 percent in the top 68 media markets that were the targets of a chocolate milk promotion campaign sponsored by America's dairy farmers. A similar promotion is being prepared for later this year.

AGRICULTURE VIEWPOINT

By M. Davy Vestal

BEEF INDUSTRY MISSING CHANCE AT MAKING $200 MORE PER CALF

The beef industry's missing a chance at more than $200 more per calf by not being the best managers they can be, according to a professor at Texas A&M University.

"The slack's not out of the rope yet," said Dr. Bill Mies, who teaches feedlot management and marketing.

"The role of a quality assurance program in cattle production has been in the news for the past two years. The central issue has been the injection site problem and the steps needed to cure that problem," he told the 500 participants at the annual Beef Cattle Short Course in College Station.

The Beef Quality Assurance programs implemented in each state by the National Cattlemen's Association are more than just trying to cure an injection site problem.

The production of calves during their stay on the ranch and the feedyard must be managed with the final consumer in mind, he said.

Reproduction rates, implants, injections, brands, death losses, and body composition are all keys to producing a high quality product.

Using data from the Ranch to Rail program administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for two years, Mies showed the audience how they could make as much as $206.60 per head by increasing efficiency and quality control.

Higher reproductive rates would translate into 52 million more calves. Nationally, the reproduction average is 80 percent, but with a rate of 95 percent of calves living until weaning time, the return would be $100 more per head.

If death loss at the ranch or feedyard were reduced, that would mean $35.77 per head in the industry's pocket.

By raising weaning weights by 50 pounds, that would translate into $14.15 more per head.

The average calf receives either full or partial "processing", including vaccinations, an average of three times. Usually, overhandling occurs when the owner doesn't know what happened to that calf before he purchased it. If that number was cut to one handling, that would save $4.15 per head.

Increasing feed efficiency by one pound of feed per pound of gain, that would save $24.53 per head.

Reducing decreased performance due to feedyard disease would save $8 per head. Not having to administer feedyard medications would return $20 per calf.

"Is total quality management needed?" he asked. "I think so."

SHOP SMARTERQuest for Consumer Info Alters Buying Habits

(NU) - Faced with a vast selection of foods — approximately 257,000 — today's consumers may be confused. Many don't understand labels or ingredient meanings.

Yolanda Bergman, author of "Food Cop: Yolanda, Tell Us What to Eat," offers help in selecting healthy foods and beverages. "I encourage people to buy products that work for their dietary needs rather than what 'sounds' healthy," Yolanda says. "It amazes me that people think a granola bar or diet soda is better because it sounds healthier. Remember you're not eating one healthy claim; you're digesting the entire ingredient list."

To lessen shopping confusion, Yolanda suggests these guidelines:

- Beware of foods and beverages that don't list calorie content. They have something to hide.

- Select products with simple ingredient lists. Paragraphs of unpronounceable words signal danger — the products are overprocessed and contain too many chemicals.

- Buy products that contain natural flavoring.

- To avoid calories, avoid products containing sucrose, malt, maltose, lactose, fructose, corn syrup, honey, maple syrup, molasses, dextrose or dextrin.

Using beverages as an example, Bergman demonstrates how her list helps consumers. "Think about the diet sodas you drink for thirst or to avoid calories. They may temporarily quench your thirst, but they don't satisfy the body's need for water. They may contain caffeine, which isn't healthful, and most diet sodas have an ingredient list full of additives the body can't utilize."

Compare this to a full-flavored, pure sparkling spring water, such as new 2 Calorie Quest from the Seagram Beverage Company. It has the replenishing benefits of water, is sugar and caffeine-free, and has low sodium, just seven ingredients and natural flavors. As Yolanda says, "Buy smart, don't just choose what looks good on the outside."
