County Commissioners Seeking To Abolish Pct. 5 Elected Officials

The Eastland County Commissioners Court is now in the process of trying to eliminate the Justice of the Peace and Constables of Precinct 4 (Rising Star) and Precinct 5 (Gorman). This action has, to say the least, angered the citizens of Precincts 4 and 5 and they are in the process of trying to let the County Commissioners and County Judge know they do not wish to do away with their elected Justice of the Peace and Constables.

NUMBER ELEVEN

On March 8th Constable Dewey Keesee and Justice of the Peace V. O. Huff presented a petition to the Commissioner's Court. The petition contained 190 signatures of the taxpaying voters, more than five percent of the qualified voters in Precinct 5. Precincts 1, 2, 3 and 4 Commissioners and the County Clerk were present at the meeting.

JP Huff and Constable Keesee told the Commissioners Court that if they wanted to abolish the office of Justice of the Peace and Constable of Precinct 5, they should put the matter on the ballot and let the voters have their say instead of denying the voters the right to vote on abolishment of these offices.

The citizens of Gorman and the entire Precinct 5 (and 4) area are strongly urged to be at the Commissioners Court meeting on Monday, April 12th to let these officials of the court know that we will not stand by and let them abolish these offices in the southern part of the county while the folks in the northern part of the county will continue to have the services of their duly-elected Justice of the Peace and Constable offices. The citizens of Precinct 4 and 5 pay taxes just like all the other citizens of Eastland County and should have the same recognition as the rest of the county. It seems as though every time something has to be trimmed for the sake of taxes and budget, it is always the citizens of the southern part of the county are the ones who have to suffer the consequences of the Commissioners Court's decision. This is unjust to the folks in Precinct 4 and 5, and folks you had better let the County Commissioners know that you will not stand for this type of treatment to the taxpaying citizens of Eastland County.

So, if you cannot attend the Commissioners Court meeting on Monday morning, April 12th at 10 a. m. in the courthouse, set down and write the Court a personal letter, or call them on the phone and let them know exactly how you feel about their plans to abolish the offices mentioned above. It would have the most impact on the situation if EVERY TAXPAYING CITIZEN of these precincts would gather at the courtroom where the Commissioners Court meets and show them your support to continue the services of the offices of JP and Constable.

Maybe it would be a good idea for the citizens of southern Eastland County to secede from Eastland County and form a new county that will recognize all its citizens and withdraw their taxes and put them in the new county. Why wouldn't this work? I know this sounds nutty, but if the County Commissioners and County Judge continue to penalize our part of the county for economic reasons, maybe we will have to try some measures that we wouldn't otherwise even think of doing!

So go to the meeting on Monday at 10 and let these officials know we won't stand for this injustice!

I want to wish everyone who reads this column a very "Happy Easter". Isn't it wonderful to know that our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ was victorious over death and arose from the grave, and that through Him we, too, can be victorious and have eternal life?

The welcome sign is out at the Kokomo Baptist Church, and we invite you to come anytime to worship with us. Easter is a special time at Kokomo - kind of a homecoming for many former members. Come and worship with us, and bring the children to Sunday school and to enjoy the egg hunt for the little ones following the morning services. Sunday school is at 10 a. m., worship service at 11 a. m. and the evening service will remain at 5 p. m. on Sunday and 6:30 on Wednesday at least for a while.

Bro. Dewey Lamb of Eastland will be the evangelist for the revival scheduled to begin April 25th at the Kokomo Baptist Church. We'll have more on this later.

Billy Bob Brown of Carbon was a visitor with his grandparents, Bill and Wynelle Brown, during the weekend and was also a visitor at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday.

Clifford and Doris Graham of Monahans spent several days here with Delmon and Joyce Eaves.

Nugent Calls On Texans To Oppose Energy Tax

Austin - April 1 — Texas Railroad Commission Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent today called on Texans to oppose the Clinton Administration's proposed energy tax.

"The Administration's proposed BTU tax would hit Texas like a ton of bricks," said Nugent. "It is an economic hit we simply cannot afford. Every Texas who fills up at the pump or pays a utility bill should oppose this tax."

Reports show the domestic energy industry has lost over 450,000 jobs in the last decade--more than the sutomobile and steel industries combined. Over 25 percent, or 125,000, of those who lost jobs were Texans.

Railroad Commission studies show that Texans would pay a disproportionate share of the new energy tax. Texas has 6.8 percent of the nation's population, but, under the Administration's proposal, Texas would pay 12.5 percent BTU tax. Texas would pay more on a per capita basis than California or New York.

"This tax is not broad based," Nugent said. "It discriminates against Texas, and I am opposed to it as it presently stands."

Estimates indicate the BTU tax would increase Texas' monthly gasoline bill at least $54 million per

"President Clinton is dead right to make deficit reduction his top priority," said Nugent. "But, balancing the budget on the backs of Texans is not fair.'

"I call on all Texans to write their Congressman, Treasury Secretary Bentsen and President Clinton in opposition to the present proposal," said Nugent. "It is a bad idea whose time has not come."

Single Family Housing Loans Available

Rural Housing Loans for very-low and low income applicants are available through County Offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Sidney D. Woods, FmHA County Supervisor for Comanche County, said recently.

Home ownership loans may be used to buy, build, improve, repair, rural homes and to provide adequate water and waste disposal systems. Home may be built on individual tracts or in subdivisions. Funds may also be used to modernize homes add improvements such as bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other improvements. Interest rates for this type of loan are presently 7.75 percent with 33 year terms. Monthly payments are subsidized with the amount of the payment dependent on the borrower's annual income. Homes will be modest in size, design, and cost but adequate to meet the family's needs. New homes average about 1,050 square feet of living area.

In addition, Farmers Home Administration guarantees home ownership loans made to applicants of low or moderate income. Guarantees offer opportunities to families who are unable to afford a commercial loan without a Guarantee. These loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the value of the property and are made for terms of 30 years. The interest rate is based on the Federal National Mortgage Association rate with maximum loan amount in most counties of $67,500.

The Farmers Home Administration assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing borrowers who have a reasonable opportunity for success, and whose current needs cannot be met at reasonable rates and terms by commercial sources. The agency is committeed to excellence in providing its serv-

MONEY TALK

By Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison

Editor's Note: Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison addresses various issues related to personal finance and state government. However, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. Our daughter is 17 and is planning to attend a state university next year. Although we have saved some money for her education it is not enough and she is in the process of applying for various scholarships. Can you suggest other ways to help us pay for her education? We are afraid that our combined incomes will disqualify her for financial aid.

A. Meeting the rising costs of a college education can be extremely difficult. Scholarships and government loans are two areas she should research.

When applying for scholarships be sure to check with the university's individual academic departments. For example, if your daughter plans to major in business, she should call or write the school's business department to determine if it awards grants to incoming freshmen. Some colleges and universities also have a uniform application that determines eligibility for all departmental schol-

Q. I've seen several commercials on television for "secured" credit cards. What are they and how do they differ from non-secured credit cards?

A. Secured credit cards are often used by people who have had credit problems or by people trying to establish a credit history. These cards, which are issued by a bank or financial institution, are secured by funds that the card holder deposits at the issuer's place of business. This deposit, in a sense, serves as collateral for the charges assessed on the card.

For example, if you are required to deposit $500 with the credit card issuer, that will be the maximum amount you may charge on that card. You will be billed on a monthly basis and you will be expected to make the minimum monthly payments. The $500 remains intact and is used only in the event that you default on your credit card charges.

In most instances, your secured card will be converted to an unsecured card after 18-24 months, provided you have made all your monthly payments on time. Once your card is converted, your security deposit is returned.

Just as you would do for other bank credit cards, shop around for the card that offers the most reasonable fees and the lowest interest rate.

Cavity Prevention Starts Early

Stephen K. Brandt, D.D.S.

Department Of Surgery at Scott & White Hospital and Clinic and Assistant Professor of Surgery at Texas A&M University College of Medicine

. I had a lot of cavities as a child and I want to make sure that my children don't get them. How can I make it easier for them to care for and protect their teeth?

A: The key to cavity prevention is good dental hygiene. Many parents do not realize that good dental hygiene can begin while their children are babies.

To prevent tooth decay we recommend a program which includes: cleaning of gums and teeth from babyhood; a balanced diet low in sugar; fluoridated water and tooth paste; and sealants applied to permanent teeth. All of these will help contribute to a cavity-free child

It is important that a baby's gums be cleaned with a soft wash cloth to get him used to routine dental hygiene. A soft toothbrush should be used when six to eight teeth have come in, and the child should have his first check-up at the age of two, unless a problem is noticed at a younger age. Early check-ups will allow the child to become familiar with going to the dentist under stress-free circumstances, before any treatment is necessary.

Common sense says that a good balanced diet goes into making a healthy child. Sugar intake should be controlled and monitored. Sending a baby to bed with a bottle of milk or juice can lead to cavities, as well as allowing your child to sip sweetened tea, soft drinks or even apple juice between meals.

Encourage your child to drink water, especially if it is fluoridated. Fluoridated water not only bathes the teeth with fluoride but itgoes into the system and is absorbed in developing bones and teeth. This along with toothpaste helps to protect the teeth from decay.

Finally, sealants and certain corrective devices can save children from treatment and parents from spending a lot of money in the future. Sealants, in combination with fluoridated water, routine dental check-ups, cleanings, and office applied fluoride treatments, can reduce tooth decay by twothirds. A sealant is a plastic coating placed on the biting surface of permanent teeth. The cost of placing a sealant on a tooth is less than half the cost of the least expensive kind of filling. In addition, a retainer used to correct a crowding problem or a device installed to discourage thumb sucking in a five-year-old may eliminate the need for costly braces when the child reaches his

"Better late than never" also applies to starting a good dental hygiene program. Even if problems in progress are discovered, proper cleaning and diet can often reverse certain kinds of dental disease.
