There's A New Industry In Town

Comanche and Eastland Counties now have a locally owned long-distance network that can transmit long-distance calls around the world and provide long-distance services to area residents.

This new network, Comanche County Long Distance, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Comanche County Telephone Company and will begin full operation October 1, 1993.

"We decided to form our own long-distance company because we think we can provide the same state-of-the-art long-distance service area residents expect with a local touch," said Toney Prather, General Manager of Comanche County Long Distance. "At Comanche County Long Distance you will be dealing with hometown folks you know and trust."

Comanche County Telephone Co. will do the billing and collection for Comanche County Long Distance, allowing customers to receive one bill for both long-distance and local service.

The new long-distance company will offer such services as a Travel Card, a fully mechanical calling card which can be used from any touch-tone phone without extra charges for operators, and an 800 network, which will allow business and residential customers to have an 800 number for long-distance business customers and personal friends.

This new long-distance company also intends to compete with other long-distance companies by matching the lowest rates any major long-distance carrier offers for that

Special Awards Given At School Awards Assemblies

At the Awards assemblies at school this past week, some very special awards were given in addition to the UIL Academic and Athletic Awards, and the Attendance and Honor Roll Awards.

For the first time two students received State Recognition for Academic Recognition on the TAAS. This meant that each had a 4 on their composition, and had scored at least 95% accuracy on all three sections of the test. Plaques were presented to Krissy Roberts and Mark Glover. They are both in the fourth grade. Their teachers are Shirley Good and Martha Harrington.

The school also recognized students for Academic Excellence in their performance on the TAAS test. This is achieved by passing all objectives on the TAAS and making a 3 or 4 on the composition. These students all scored Academic Excellence on all three parts of the test: Grade 11 - Shane Caraway; Grade 10 - Diana Glover, Missy Jobe, Linda Swanner; Grade 9 - Marla Smith; Grade 7 - Sarah Reeves; Grade 3 - Cody Simpson. They each received a certificate of excellence from G. W. Maxfield, Superintendent of Gorman ISD.

The Presidential Academic Fitness Awards were presented to those sixth graders who had scored high on achievement tests and had high grade averages. These students also received a letter from President Bill Clinton and a pin. They were Freddie Escalante, Francisco Madera, Sonya Reagan, Ruth Reeves, Belinda Snider and Leslie Wood.

Citizenship Awards were given to three students in each high school class. These awards were given by the high school faculty to those students the faculty felt were outstanding in their attitudes, manners, courtesy, consistency, friendliness, and discipline. Certificates and pins were given to Neely Carter, Jonray Childers, and Angela Treadway in Grade 12; Shane Caraway, Noah Landa and John Stephens in Grade 11; Diana Glover, Melissa Clark and Don Mauney in Grade 10; and Nic Burleson, Justin Snider and Lacy Pack in Grade 9.

1993 Support Levels Set For Peanuts

Peanut farmers can expect an time slot.

"The biggest advantage of Comanche County Long Distance is that it will provide the same reliable service you expect from larger companies while at the same time keeping the money here in the local economy," Prather said. "Instead of sending your money to some far away company, you can now keep the money where it belongs -- in the local economy helping community businesses and families."

Area residents will be able to choose this new network on their Equal Access ballots, which allow customers to select a long-distance company for handling "1 Plus" direct-dialed calls. Each Comanche County Telephone customer will receive an official ballot on July 1 asking them to select a long-distance carrier from a variety of long-distance networks. Upon the company's debut on October 1, 1993, these customers will automatically begin using this new network.

average federal support price for 1993-crop quota peanuts of $373.87 per ton for Virginia peanuts and for Valencia peanuts produced in the Southwest that are suitable for cleaning and roasting; $678.37 per ton for Runner peanuts; and $629.98 per ton for Spanish peanuts and all other Valencia peanuts.

"The price support for 1993-crop additional peanuts will be 19.42 percent of the applicable quota rate," David Martin, County Executive Director of the Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said. He said that this factor represents the ratio of the $131.09 per ton national support level for additional peanuts to the $674.93 per ton national support level for quota peanuts.

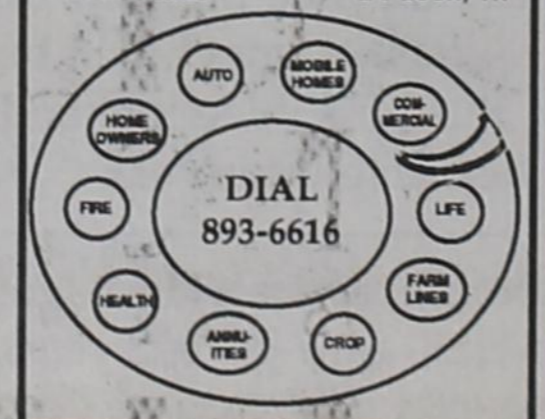

David said the method of computing the different price support levels is the same as for the 1992 crop. The actual support level for an individual lot of peanuts depends on the percent of the various sizes or kernels in each ton and on other factors, he explained.

For each percent of sound mature and sound split kernels, the support level per ton for quota peanuts is: Virginia, $9,740; Runner, $9,549; Spanish, $9,501; Valencia in the Southwest suitable for cleaning and roasting, $10,133; and all other Valencias, $9,501.

Peanut growers produced about 2.14 million tons of peanuts last year. Approximately 71.0 tons went under quota price support loan and 147.1 tons under additional price support loan. Generally, quota peanuts are those peanuts within the farm's poundage quota that are mandated for domestic edible use or retained for use on the farm, Martin explained. Additional peanuts are peanuts that are placed under price support loan at the price support rate for additional peanuts or are marketed through an approved contract for exporting or crushing. "Generally, additional peanuts are peanuts that are produced in excess of a farm's poundage quota, the ASCS official said.

RECEIVING THE TRUE KINGDOM

Today, there is much false teaching concerning the kingdom of God. Perhaps someone has come to your door recently trying to explain how to be in God's kingdom, possibly giving you some literature. Even though the people were well meaning, your were probably just a little confused about how one is to become a part of this "kingdom of God". The best person to seek when inquiring about a kingdom is the king himself! Jesus Christ, the King of kings, never made it complicated!

One day while people were bringing their children to Jesus to have him touch them, his disciples rebuked them. Jesus was angered by his disciple's misunderstanding concerning his kingdom. Jesus told them, "I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it." (Mark 10:15) In this, he brought out two very important keys. First, his kingdom is to be received. Second, one must become like a child to receive it.

For thousands of years most of mankind has been struggling to secure a place in the age to come. The question of eternity haunts the human race, especially those close to death! This explains the existence of most religions. Most religions teach that people who live the most holy and legalistically righteous lives will have the greatest likelihood of entering God's kingdom. This was not the "good news" that Jesus preached! Jesus said we must "receive" the kingdom. You don't have to wait to experience the reality of God's kingdom. You can enter today by receiving it as a free gift of God's love. "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23) Men work to secure wages. Gifts however, can only be "received".

Jesus also said we should be like children. While most of the world's religions make it complicated to enter the kingdom, Christ calls us to simplicity! Little children can't read, so forget giving them religious literature. Small children aren't too concerned about death, so don't try using talk about some far off kingdom. What is it about children that so captivates Jesus' heart? "And he took the children in his arms, put his hands on them and blessed them." (Mark 10:16) Children aren't afraid to come to Jesus! Proud people run from the love of God, it uncovers their true emptiness. They would rather try to earn God's love. However, children are eager to receive his love.

The story of a friend summarizes these truths. Steve Phillips is a mountain of a man who grew up in the hills of Tennessee. Early in life he got involved in drugs, alcohol, and night life. He was known to single handedly turn over pool tables in bars. Steve used to try to figure out how he could murder his enemies and not get caught. Fortunately for him he never devised the perfect plan. However, all during his years of rebellion, there was a gently tugging in his heart that he knew was God's Spirit. Steve continued to put God off until he no longer sensed the gently conviction in his heart. This scared him, for he thought God may have finally given up on him. This set in motion the process of Steve's becoming like a child. Steve prayed the "sinners prayer" many times without effect. He read the Bible some and even let his wife go to church. Finally, one night Steve mysteriously awakened. He was very aware of the real emptiness of his life. He had become very desperate so he got out of bed and got on his knees. From that posture Steve surrendered. His pride was finally broken. The angels in heaven rejoiced. One very close to hell's fire had come home. Steve says that once he quit trying and called on the name of Jesus, that it was as if he was wrapped in God's arms. That night, Steve experienced the reality of God's love for the first time and was filled with the Holy Spirit.

How about you dear reader? Are you letting sin, pride, or empty religion keep you from the awesome, life-changing love of God? Simple faith and honest surrender to the King will secure a place for you in God's kingdom. King Jesus told Nicodemus, "No one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again." (John 3:3) You don't have to wait. Today is the day of salvation. (Send correspondence to Dane Gressett, Box 344, Gorman, Texas 76454)

Three Mile Test Well To Be Drilled At La Mancha

It is reported that a deep test rig moved on June 2nd to the La Mancha Ranch on the north side of Lake Leon.

Drilling is expected to begin soon. The test is permitted by Fina Oil and Chemical Company of Dallas.

It will be a big investment, and undoubtedly the deepest well ever drilled in Eastland County.

This current wildcat test is hopefully tied in with the well known well of the Ora B. Jones, south of Ranger, that roared in several years ago. The Jones well is considered the largest well discovered in North America in 20 years. The well was out of control and was plugged.

Geologists speculate that in the Ora B. Jones drilling project the drillers hit a "Chimney" reaching from a reservoir of deep oil.

If the drill test is successful it could set a whole new oil boom in Eastland County.

Extinct? Not Childhood Diseases

Childhood diseases are alive and well in Texas! Retrospective surveys of kindergarten records revealed that, on an average, only 42 percent of preschool children in North Central Texas are properly immunized. The Texas Department of Health (TDH) is encouraging parents of preschool children to get their children immunized. TDH's Eastland County Public Health Clinic staff will hold a special immunization clinic at the Senior Citizens Center in Gorman on June 17th fro. 2 to 4 p. m.

Susie Thomas with the Texas Department of Public Health in Eastland said, "One of the reasons for the low levels of immunizations among preschoolers is that many parents only immunize their children as required by law, before they start to school. The recurring measles outbreaks in the state since 1988 just underscore the tragic consequences of incomplete vaccinations. We now have numerous insufficiently immunized or non-immunized children—all of whom are now vulnerable to infection."

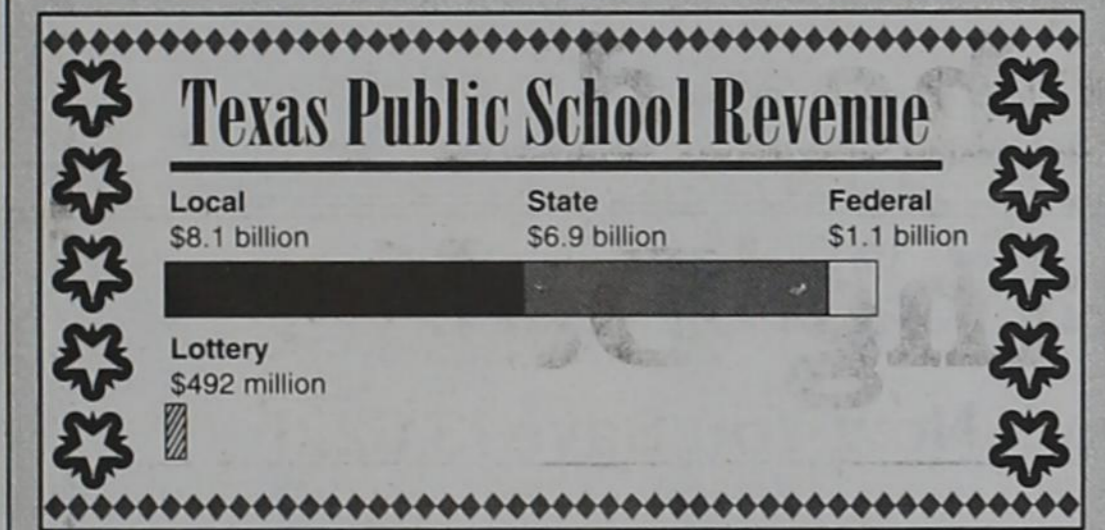

Local physicians or the Texas Department of Health's Public Health Clinic in Eastland County are ideal sources of information and guidance on recommended immunizations for any age group. For more information, drop by the Eastland County Public Health Clinic at 203 S. Daugherty in Eastland or call the clinic at 817-629-1788.

Keeping an eye on Texas

The Lottery's contribution

Most money raised for Texas' schools comes from local sources, with state and federal support providing the rest—a total of an estimated $16.1 billion for the 1992-93 school year. In comparison, revenue from the Texas Lottery was estimated to be $492 million for the same period.
