Robert Lee Stubblefield

Services for Robert Lee Stubblefield, former psychiatry department chairman at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas and chief of psychiatry at Parkland Hospital, was Tuesday, January 22, 2002 at Christ Church Cathedral, 1117 Texas Ave. in Houston.

Dr. Stubblefield, 82, died on Friday (January 18, 2002) at Memorial Hermann Hospital in Houston.

Dr. Stubblefield was brought to UT Southwestern in 1957 as its first full-time professor to expand psychiatry at the school and its then partner hospitals, Parkland Memorial Hospital and Woodlawn Memorial Hospital. He spent 14 years building the department.

"He was an articulate speaker and a fine scholar," said Maurice Korman, a psychiatry professor at UT Southwestern.

Dr. Stubblefield also had a passion for educating and training other doctors.

"His favorite thing to do was educating," said his wife, Alice Ostermayer Stubblefield of Houston.

Dr. Stubblefield was a volunteer clinical professor at schools including the University of Colorado School of Medicine, Louisiana State University, Tulane University School of Medicine, University of Texas Medical School at Houston, Yale School of Medicine, University of Texas Medical School at Galveston, and Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

He was among those appointed to work on several high-profile law cases. He examined Edwin A. Walker, a retired army major general who was one of the leading spokesmen for conservative causes in the 1960s.

He also worked on the cases of Charles Whitman, the man who killed 16 people from the University of Texas tower in 1966—a 17th died last year—and of Jack Ruby, who shot Lee Harvey Oswald.

Born January 17, 1920, in Gorman, Texas, he graduated from Gorman High School in 1936. He attended John Tarleton College, now Tarleton State University, before graduating from the University of Texas with a bachelor's degree in 1939. He earned his medical degree from the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston in 1942. He served in the Navy Reserves from 1942 to 1944.

After leaving UT Southwestern, he served for three years as an associate director of Western Interstate Commission of Higher Education, as a medical director in Connecticut. He became medical di-

Desdemona News

By Vonnie Guthery

First Baptist Church of Desdemona had very good attendance last Sunday for the morning service. Special music was presented by Wayne Eaves, Josh Eaves, Helen Collum, Wilma Iley with Karen Eaves at the piano. Several visitors attended. The church organist, Mildred Million and the church pianist, Karen Eaves was presented a nice framed plaque and a lovely vase of flowers during the morning service to show how much everyone appreciates them for being so faithful and dedicated. They use their God given talents so others can enjoy.

Barbara Bush as they celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, February 2, 2002, at the First Baptist Annex, 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Friends and family are invited to attend this reception hosted by their children. No gifts please—your presence is their gift.

Lelan Pack of Lubbock visited the past weekend with his mother, Dixie. They spent Saturday in Austin taking care of business and sightseeing.

Thanks to all the musicians, singers and visitors who attended the Desdemona Monthly Musical last Saturday night. We do appreciate them and appreciate all the ladies who donate food and drinks each time. This musical is on the 4th Saturday each month, so mark your calendar.

Jr. and Nell Moore of Benbrook spent the past weekend in Desdemona to visit her mother, Benton Echols in the Canterbury Villa in DeLeon. They attended the musical on Saturday night.

"Congratulations" to Max and rector at Silver Spring Shadows Glen Hospital in Houston in 1980 and retired as senior psychiatrist there in 1999.

He was a psychiatric consultant for the Army, Air Force, Navy, Department of Defense, and the Veterans Administration. He was appointed by then Surgeon General William H. Stewart to the National Advisory Mental Health Council in 1966 after serving with the National Institute of Mental Health from 1952 to 1954.

Dr. Stubblefield served on several editorial boards, published about 35 professional articles and contributed to five textbooks on psychiatry.

In 1965, the Timberlawn Foundation recognized Dr. Stubblefield for his contributions to the fields of research and education in psychiatry.

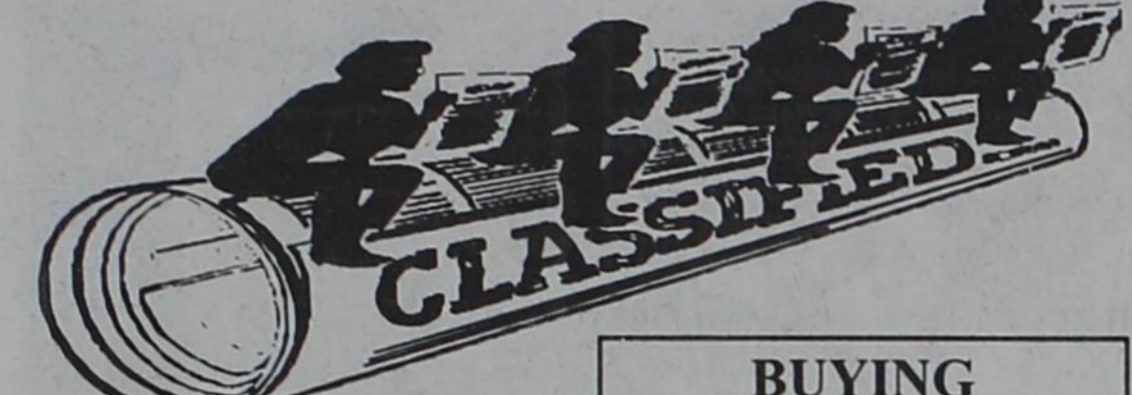

In addition to his wife, Dr. Stubblefield is survived by daughters Carol Rowley of Denton and Susan Fisk of Dallas, sister Frances Bishop of Eastland, and four grandsons.

Memorials may be made to Christ Church Cathedral, 1117 Texas Ave., Houston, TX 77003, or to the University of Texas Medical Branch Department of Psychiatry, 301 University Blvd., Galveston, TX 77555.

TXU Creates Oncor to Take the Lead in Regulated Energy Delivery in Texas

DALLAS (January 17, 2002)—In the world of electric competition in Texas, Oncor delivers—but you'll have to buy your power elsewhere. TXU (NYSE:TXU) announced today that its energy delivery business is taking the new name as it focuses on its responsibilities as the regulated energy delivery company within TXU Corporation. Oncor was created to separate the delivery of electric energy from the retail sales of electricity in the newly deregulated Texas electricity market.

TXU now has two separate electric power businesses. TXU Energy is the unregulated Retail Electric Provider (REP) competing with other REPs to sell electricity to homes and businesses. Oncor, whose energy delivery responsibilities remain regulated, is the company that will construct, operate and maintain the wires infrastructure that moves electricity around its service area on behalf of the REPs that sell it. The network of transmission and distribution lines operated by Oncor can be compared to a system of "highways" on which electricity travels from its source to its destination. Oncor is totally separate from TXU's unregulated business (TXU Energy)—in name, staffing and assets.

The Oncor service area stretches across North Central, East and West Texas and included about one-third of the state's geographic area and population—the same area served by TXU Electric & Gas and its predecessor companies for more than 100 years.

"We're looking forward to building on our expertise as one of the most reliable electric distribution businesses in the nation, as we serve all Retail Electric Providers in the service area," said Emmett Lasater, Oncor Manager. "With our new names comes a new independence, which we happily accept as a challenge. We'll be putting our creativity to the test and continually looking for improvements in energy delivery equipment and procedures. When it comes to introducing new and better ways of providing reliable energy supplies in Texas and the nation, we intend to be in the forefront."

Lasater emphasized that Oncor's nationally recognized economic development staff will continue to work with community leaders to bring new businesses and jobs to Texas. The company also will work closely with land developers to provide their energy delivery needs.

For people who live and work in the service area, the only noticeable changes will be the name "Oncor" on vehicles and meter reader uniforms.

"No matter which electric provider you choose in the new competitive market, you can expect the same reliable service to continue," Lasater said. "You should notice no change in energy delivery. We're still the neighbors you know, with a new name, a new look and an exciting future to build."

In addition to TXU's electric transmission and distribution, pipeline services and gas delivery, Oncor will include Oncor Utility Solutions, which offers unregulated management and operating services to electric cooperative, municipal and investor-owned utilities, and other organizations with energy distribution.

More information is available at www.oncorgroup.com

Oncor is part of TXU, a global leader in electric and natural gas services, merchant energy trading, energy marketing, energy delivery, telecommunications and energy-related services. With $43 billion in assets and $28 billion in annual revenue, TXU is one of the most influential energy services companies in the world. TXU is the No. 1 competitive energy retailer in the United States, owns or controls extensive competitive generation around the world, and ranks among the top five energy traders globally. TXU, which sells 330 million megawatts of electricity and 2.8 trillion cubic feet of natural gas annually, serves 11 million customers worldwide, primarily in the United States, Europe and Australia.

Kokomo News

By Zelda Jordan

What beautiful weather we are having. Seems more like April or May than it does January. But it is due to change in the next few days and be colder with a possibility of some rain. Sure hope the rain comes. We really need it.

Woodrow and Helen Browning rendered the special music at the Sunday morning service at the Kokomo Baptist Church. Karen Patterson of Eastland was a visitor.

Karen Patterson was visiting with her parents, Earl and Betty Little. J.W. and Glenna Davis of Dublin visited with Johnnie B. Griffith on Thursday. Zelda Jordan visited with Johnnie B. on Saturday.

Visitors with Nancy Hendricks were Johnnie B. Griffith, Doris Bradshaw and Zelda Jordan.

We extend sincere sympathy to the family of Pete Huddleston of Lake Leon who passed away on Thursday, January 24 at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene. Funeral services were Saturday, January 26 at the Higginbotham Funeral Chapel in Gorman with burial in Murray Cemetery at Carbon. His wife, Maxine Rogers Huddleston grew up in this area and attended school at Carbon.

Jimmy and Maggie Nelson of Ft. Worth spent the weekend here at the Nelson farm and also visited with Cassie and David Brasher.

We extend sincere sympathy to the family of Pleas Reneau of Ranger who died on Sunday. His services are pending at this writing. He was the step-father of David Brasher.

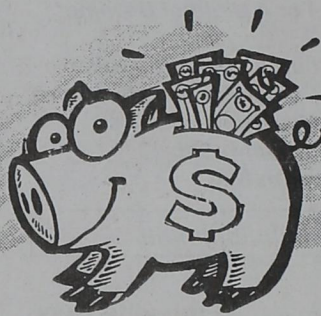

On Saturday, LaVon Snider ate lunch with Ted and Charlotte Snider and visited with them and Jamie, Stephanie, Kael, Craig, Matthew, Anna and Andrew Snider and Robert and Jan Slampa of Hollis, OK.

Those eating lunch with LaVon Snider on Sunday were Ted and Charlotte Snider, Gene and Kay Snider, Dwayne and Connie Snider and Dan, Dianne and Sandra Snider.

A Note from the Administrator

1/28/2002

Hi folks,

It is certainly good to be back to work this week. This past week several of my staff and I were in Ft. Worth at our Winter Summit. Our Winter Summit gives us an opportunity to visit with peers and to be updated on policy changes and new information from our corporate office. Homes are also recognized at this meeting each year for their accomplishments over the past year. Heritage Manor of Gorman was well represented with the following awards:

- Facility of The Year Heritage Manor of Gorman
- Deficiency Free Survey Heritage Manor of Gorman
- Deficiency Free Dietary Dept. Heritage Manor of Gorman
- Administrator of the Year Brent Hagood
- Director of Nurses of the Year Peggy Hardin
- Business Office Manager of the Year Janet Sanders
- Dietary Manager of the Year Kathy Torres
- Spirit of Pyramid Award Brent Hagood
- Spirit of Pyramid Award Peggy Hardin
- Spirit of Pyramid Award Janet Sanders
- Excellent Tile Review Heritage Manor of Gorman
- Years of Service Award Ray Blevins

We were very proud of these awards and we are proud to work for Pyramid HealthCare. It is so nice to work for a company who recognizes your efforts and who has such a great reputation for quality nursing home care. Heritage Manor is certainly proud to be on the Pyramid Team. Please congratulate our staff on these awards the next time your in the facility.

Sincerely, Brent

On Saturday morning Bro. Lonnie and Edith Grumbles brought Bible Study for Inez Rogers, A.V. Seay, Dorothy Beaty, Ava Rodgers, Margaret Helms, Veno Hale, Jewel snider, Glenn Lasater, Clifton Jarrett, Hallie
