

No Korea Action Expected In UN

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—World diplomats today ruled out chances for any new action on Korea in the current U. N. session after hearing the unpropitious stands pronounced by both the Soviet Union and the United States.

That the U. N. Allies would not budge from their demands for an "honorable settlement" in Korea—indicated a continuing deadlock on the question during the rest of this seventh Assembly session.

Soil conservation district supervisors from over this West Texas area are giving their unqualified support to a widespread Guar planting program in 1953.

L. D. Howard, secretary of the Lynn County SCD, farms 320 acres. He says he is planning on putting 80 acres of this in Guar this year, and another 80 each of the next three years until the entire farm has produced a crop of this summer legume.

Supervisors of the Martin-Howard SCD in giving their support to the Guar planting point out that it puts abundant residue and nitrogen into the soil for a new soil life; it greatly increases the water intake and water-holding capacity of the soil; gives increased yields on following crops for a substantially greater profit per acre; reduces the effect of rootrot and insect damage on cotton; requires no special equipment, no hard labor; there is a market for the beans, and Guar is tops for drought resistance and it thrives in hot weather.

Guar planting time is about the same as cotton planting, in the spring when the soil is warm. The seed should be inoculated and planted in rows and it does much better where phosphated at the rate of 200 pounds of 20 per cent super-phosphate to the acre.

Any office of the Soil Conservation Service will be able to supply additional information on both the crop and sources of seed.

V. J. Coleman of Ackerly has bought four long-yearling Major Mischieff bulls from Charlie Creighton's purebred Hereford herd.

Coleman will send these four bulls to his Colorado ranch. Bennie Jo Blissard, Howard County 4-H Club member, living in the Lomax Community has taken delivery of a Major Mischieff calf from Creighton which he will feed out as a 1953 club project.

Seven cars of the drought disaster were received here yesterday (Monday) morning, and up until noon yesterday orders from an additional $8 tons had been placed.

The closing of the PMA office yesterday afternoon was the deadline for the filing of hay orders under the renewed program. As rains in some sections have decreased the size of the drought disaster area, hay shipments are expected to probably be a little more prompt.

Cotton from the 1953 crop placed in the loan program through the Big Spring office of the PMA totals 1,325 bales and a loan value of $175,322.61 has been placed on it, according to the records.

The county's spring estimate was set at 1,400 bales and production was variously estimated at from 700 to approximately 1,400 bales.

W. S. Goodlett, SCS area conservationist, says H. M. Glendenning of Martin County has some of the best Hubam and Madrid clover in the area. It is on irrigated land and is mixed. Goodlett says the Madrid has put down one of the very best root systems he has ever seen, and that this is a root system that can be calculated to break right on through the hardpan. Thus, the hardpan has been both broken up and well filled with organic matter which will also increase its capacity to absorb and hold moisture for future crop production.

Indications are that South Plains farmers will plant 3,867,000 acres of cotton in 1953 which is 157,000 acres more than the 3,710,000 acres planted in 1952.

Obviously they are going to ignore the suggestion of Secretary of Agriculture Benson that a voluntary 18 per cent reduction be put into effect.

Acreages for the various counties with the proposed 1953 acreage given first and then last year's acreages for comparison follow:

Bailey County 225,000 and 190,000; Briscoe 40,000 and 40,000; Castro 100,000 and 75,000; Cochran 175,000 and 150,000; Crosby 270,000 and 250,000; Dawson 400,000 and 400,000; Floyd 220,000 and 200,000; Gaines 135,000 and 135,000; Garza 70,000 and 70,000; Hale 250,000 and 250,000; Hockley 350,000 and 375,000; Lamb 350,000 and 325,000; Lubbock 385,000 and 375,000; Lynn 335,000 and 325,000; Farmer 70,000 and 45,000; Swisher 165,000 and 125,000; Terry 225,000 and 275,000; Borden 30,000 and 30,000; Deaf Smith 12,000 and 15,000; and Yoakum 60,000 and 60,000.

Men In Service

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holley, 1001 Wood Street, talked over the telephone Sunday to their son James W. Holley, who is stationed in Germany.

R. L. Holley Jr. also got to talk to his brother. The Holleys said the only trouble is that the six-minute conversation wasn't long enough.

James called his parents at 9 a. m. Sunday from Wasserfutte Mountain, Germany. He said there was eight feet of snow on the ground there, but that the weather was beautiful.

James is now an airman second class, the promotion coming only five days ago. He has been in Germany since June 21, 1951. He told his parents he didn't know when he would be shipped home. James is a mechanic with the Air Force.

Second Lieutenant George H. O'Brien Jr. has been awarded a Gold Star in lieu of a second Purple Heart, as a result of wounds received in the Korean action.

Lt. O'Brien, with the First Marine Division, was struck in the right hand by a mortar fragment, while in action Jan. 23. He has advised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien, and his wife, Mrs. Janet O'Brien, that he has recovered from the wound.

Lt. O'Brien suffered more serious wounds last October 27, and was hospitalized for some time before returning to combat. He went overseas last September.

Cool Front Hits State, But No Moisture Seen

By The Associated Press

A gusty cool front with moderate temperatures blew thunderstorms and showers across drought-ravaged Texas Tuesday but promised no great amount of moisture.

Elsewhere in the nation, the late-winter storm that disrupted Texas Independence Day ceremonies in Washington and sprinkled snow, drizzle and freezing rain in its path was disappearing.

Freezing rain and packed snow still hampered transportation over a wide area from Eastern Montana and Northern Nevada through the Great Plains and the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys.

But the cold front plodding across Texas had no such bothersome features. Only thunderstorms, gusty but almost dry, stretched along the line of the front early Tuesday from Wichita Falls to Mineral Wells and Wichita. The thunderstorms dotted the Pecos River Valley but little rain fell.

Precipitation was disappointingly light. Rainfall totals for 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday included Abilene 15 inch, Austin .02, Waco .06, Corpus Christi .02, Fort Worth .07, Victoria .06, Wichita Falls .32, Texaskana .13, San Angelo .10 and Childress .09. Amarillo, Big Spring and Dallas each recorded a trace.

At mid-morning, light drizzle fell at College Station, Waco and Austin. Great banks of heavy clouds shrouded most of the state except in the extreme Northwest, where skies had cleared somewhat.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 31 at Dalhart to 70 degrees at Brownsville, San Angelo, Alice and Cotulla.

Britons Publish 'Memorial Book'

A 67-page "Memorial Book" has been published as a part of England's recognition of Americans who died in World War II, and next-of-kin of deceased U.S. servicemen who were in England during the war may secure copies.

The book will be distributed only to those who apply for copies, according to Robert L. Kennedy, Austin, commander of AMVETS, Department of Texas.

Applications should include full name of the deceased, name of military unit in which he served, and name and address of person requesting the book. Inquiries should be addressed to Col. J. J. Aston: The Times, London, 45 E. 51st Street, New York 22, N. Y.

The Times, London, is publisher of the memorial book which was prepared in connection with dedication of a memorial chapel for American war dead.

Next-of-kin of servicemen who were stationed in England at any time during the war may secure the book.

Wording Sought On Secret Pacts Memo

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported trying today to bring the State Department and Congress together on the wording of a resolution to condemn Russian enslavement of Iron Curtain peoples.

The President was said to have overruled the contention of Secretary of State Dulles that a pending resolution to do that is satisfactory just as it stands.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, has said he wants the measure revised to make it clear that Congress, in criticizing what Eisenhower has called Kremlin perversion of World War II Big Three agreements, is not affirming the understandings.

The President is said to have directed Dulles at a White House conference with legislative leaders to get together with the chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Affairs Committees on new wording.

The Senate committee scheduled a session today to consider proposed amendments. The House committee already has approved the proposed resolution in the form in which Dulles submitted it, so any changes there probably would have to come through amendments from the floor.

Democrats generally had indicated they would protest against any effort by the Republicans to repudiate the Big Three agreements.

The Senate committee's inquiry into the agreements themselves produced closed-door testimony yesterday from Charles (Chip) Bohlen, nominated as ambassador to Russia, generally defending the action of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in reaching understandings with Russia's Premier Stalin.

Bohlen charged the Soviets with treaty violations — an accusation some thought the Russians might seize upon to withdraw their tentative welcome to him as U. S. representative to Moscow.

As reported by Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.), Bohlen testified the map of Europe would be the same even if the agreements hadn't been reached. Bohlen served as Roosevelt's interpreter at Yalta and Tehran.

Wiley gave this version of Bohlen's testimony: Poland was in the hands of Russia at the time of the Yalta conference and the question then was "Whether we should recognize the control or try to mitigate it in some way."

At Yalta the Russians agreed to free elections in Poland and other countries.

Bohlen reportedly said it was not the language of the agreements, that has caused trouble.

Cerebral Palsy Clinic Slated For Midland

A clinic for cerebral palsied children of this area will be held next Monday in Midland.

The Children's Service League of Midland is sponsoring the clinic and plans also to establish a physiotherapy treatment center if it is more convenient than the services they now receive, and Martha P. Douglas, Midland, officer of the Children's Service League.

The clinic Monday will be for examination and prescription of treatment.

It will be best, said Miss Douglas, if children are taken to the clinic between 8:30 and 10 a. m. Monday. However, if it is more convenient a later appointment may be arranged.

Big Spring and area residents who have children suffering cerebral palsy, or persons knowing of palsied children, are advised to contact Jewel Barton, public health nurse at the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, for additional information and assistance in arranging appointments.

There will be no charges for the examination Monday, or for any subsequent treatment which may be received from the Midland Treatment Center.

The clinic will be held in the Midland City-County Auditorium, 301 W. Missouri Street.

Members of the Medical Advisory Committee for the Children's Service League and the treatment center are Dr. E. T. Driscoll, Dr. R. Q. Lewis and Dr. Myron M. Nichols.

Fog Halts Transport Facilities In England

LONDON (AP)—Dense fog halted air and sea transport early today in Southern England and the English Channel.

The liner Queen Mary, due at Southampton last midnight with 643 passengers from New York, had to anchor off the Isle of Wight.

Shipping on the Thames River came to a standstill and the French channel steamer Cote d'Azur was fogbound off Calais with London-to-Paris train passengers.

All airlines at London airports were grounded as visibility dropped to as little as 30 yards. Cars and buses in the blotted-out area proceeded at a crawl and trains were delayed.

France Won't Back Down On Demands For Europe Army

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault says France is not backing down on her demands for a special position in the projected six-nation European army.

In a communique, Bidault last night denied reports that France had agreed at the foreign ministers' meeting in Rome last week to either withdraw her proposed protocols to the European Defense Community (EDC) Treaty or substitute new proposals.

These demands include provisions giving France the right to withdraw troops from the proposed unified army for defense of her overseas possessions and the right to manufacture armaments for her overseas forces. Under the treaty, the six nations would pool their arms production for the common defense force.

Bidault said the French proposals "are and remain in the eyes of the French government a fundamental necessity. There is not and never has been any question of dropping them nor of changing their effect."

Former Pastor Returns Here For A Visit With VA Chaplain

More amazing to Dr. Dow H. Heard than changes which have occurred in the past score years is that people still remember specific sermons or stories used when he was pastor of the First Baptist Church here.

Dr. Heard, who is now one of the three supervisors for the Veterans Administration hospital chaplains, arrived here Monday for a two-day visit with the Rev. C. O. Hitt, chaplain of the VA hospital in Big Spring.

It was the first time he had really had time to ask about old friends and the third time he had been in Big Spring since he left here in 1930. Dr. Heard came here as pastor of the Baptist church in 1924, two years after he had completed his ministerial studies. Within another two years an oil boom was underway and busy times were ahead. In 1928 the old church building was destroyed by fire and the present plant was built and put into service before Dr. Heard left in 1930.

For the past 12 years he has been in the chaplain's service, five and a half years of it with the Army. After World War II he joined the VA chaplains organization. In supervising the work of 538 chaplains in 160 hospitals across the nation, he has visited all 48 states. Whenever it is possible, he finds himself bending back to the South and Southwest.

He still finds time to fill a pulpit now and then. In Washington, D. C., where he spends about half of his time, he occasionally supplies the pulpit of the First Baptist Church. He also divides time as teacher of a Sunday School class with Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma.

His contact here with Chaplain Hitt was more than a routine one, for they have known each other for more than three decades. In fact, they were in Marshall (now East Texas) Baptist College together, and then at Baylor.

"In the case of a chaplain like Hitt," said Dr. Heard, "I don't attempt very much to help him—rather I ask him to help me in preparing material that will help our young and inexperienced chaplains."

"I know you. I heard you preach incidents of his ministry here. One included a celebrated 'bear' hunt with the late Frank King and Fred Hopkins (now of Houston). Dr. Heard killed a bear but Hopkins framed an 'arrest' for the pastor in Pecos on some fictitious charge. Then he and King trumped up a special story to tell the Rotary Club, but by this time the preacher had sized up the situation. He got Dr. G. T. Hill to bandage his arm extensively. When he finally got the floor he had an impressive arm to vouch for the authenticity of his wild story about hand-to-hand combat with the bruin.

Two of Dr. and Mrs. Heard's four sons were born here. Dow Jr., the eldest, and John, who were toddlers when they moved here, are both attorneys—Dow with the attorney general's department in Austin and John with Vincent, Elkins & Weems in Houston. Wyatt is with the FBI and Robert, a strapping six-foot-plus man has just returned from Korea.

So when Dr. Heard pointed South this time, it was the occasion for a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Heard Jr. in Austin. Wyatt brought his mother down from Washington, D. C. John came over from Houston and Robert had just come back.

Not long ago Dr. Heard—who had the doctorate conferred on him by Baylor a couple of seasons back for distinguished service—was visiting with Hopkins in Houston. He reminded him of a particular illustration that brought him into the church. One of his many friends here reminded him of a story which had impressed him through the years.

"That's funny," said Dr. Heard. "Several years ago in Washington, a man looked at me oddly, then pointed his finger and said:

"Dr. Heard remembered many at prayer meeting in Jonesboro, Ark. 20 years ago. You spoke on three marked men in the Bible. And he quoted the text, too."

UN Bombers Drop Loads Near Yalu

By FORREST EDWARDS

REOLU UN-Allied fighter-bombers roared almost to the Yalu River today and dropped their destructive bomb loads right on the doorstep of Manchuria.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its warplanes laid waste to a Red communications center just south of the Yalu and flattened 17 buildings of a training center in the heart of MIG Alley.

F-84 Thunderjets swept far to the east and knocked out a rail bridge and destroyed seven buildings near Tanchon on the east coast.

Swift U. S. Sabre jets, flying protective cover for the slower fighter-bombers, probably destroyed one Communist MIG15 and damaged five others, the Air Force said.

Scrambling Sabre jets damaged three Communist MIGs in air battles, the Air Force said.

The U. S. battleship Missouri steamed 140 miles north of the 38th Parallel on the east coast and blasted Red coastal targets with its 16-inch guns. The Navy called the attack "heavy" and said the Mighty Mo concentrated on Communist bridges and tunnels.

There was only a brief flurry of ground action along the front. U. N. troops threw back three small Red probes before dawn and killed an estimated 20 Reds.

One group of Thunderjets smashed a Red military communication headquarters south of Kohandong, the 1st Force said. Kohandong is only three miles from the Yalu River boundary between Red Korea and Manchuria.

The fighter-bombers leveled 12 buildings, including one more than 400 feet long, and damaged at least three others.

Other Thunderjets destroyed 17 buildings of a Communist training center northwest of Chusan, which is only 30 miles from the big MIG base at Antung, Manchuria.

AREA OIL Drillstem Test Is Underway On Borden County Wildcat

A drillstem test was underway today on a south Borden County wildcat, Green No. 1 Wolf, which blew out several days ago sending mud, oil and gas over the derrick. A full string of oil has since been forced out by pump. The well is 1/4 mile east of Hobo production.

Sun No. 1 McCabe, wildcat in Mitchell, flowed 156 barrels of oil with no water in the last 24 hours.

Also Couden No. 1 Hanson, Spraberry venture in Glasscock County, completed for 281 barrels of 37.8 gravity oil.

Eight new locations have been staked in the Howard-Glasscock field by Continental Oil Company, and Magnolia has a new venture in the Spraberry Trend Area of Midland County.

Borden

Green No. 1 Wolf, C NE SW, 40-25-H&T survey, is now drilling soft in unidentified formation from 6,470 to 6,474 feet. When the drilling reached 6,474 feet the well blew out and blew mud, oil and gas over the derrick. After the operator got the well shut in, a lot of mud was pumped into the hole and a full string of oil, with no water, was forced out. Operator is now continuing to mix mud and a drillstem test is planned at total depth. The blow out was a couple of days ago. This well was taken over by Green and others and is being drilled by C. W. Guthrie. It was temporarily abandoned in 1950 at 4,267 feet. It is 1/4 mile east of Hobo production.

Cuperior No. 9-280 Jones, C NE SE, 50-07-H&T survey, has reached 3,600 feet in lime.

Dawson

Sun No. 1 Dean, C SW SW, 22-1-Potter survey, is drilling at 7,766 feet in lime and shale.

Texas Crude No. 1-109 Lindsey, 660 from north and 2,310 from east of lines, 109-M-EL&R survey, hit 5,343 feet in lime and shale.

Cyprus and Union No. 1 Goodson, C SE SE, 44-33-5-T&P survey, is at total depth of 5,330 feet in Pennsylvania in Red, where operator is planning to plug and abandon. A drillstem test was taken from 4,891 to 5,330 feet with the tool open 45 minutes. Recovery was 3,950 feet of salt water and 50 feet of drilling mud. Top of Pennsylvania was 8,498 feet. Elevation is 2,878.

46 Cases Are Called From Court Docket

Only one case was declared ready for trial this morning when Howard County Court session opened. Some 46 cases were called from the docket.

A jury was being selected shortly before noon to hear evidence in the case of Jenny J. Miller vs. L. W. Butler. Attorney for the plaintiff is Gil Jones, and John Hall is lawyer for the defense.

Practically half of the 46 cases called this morning resulted in default judgments or dismissals. County Judge R. H. Weaver called the cases to clear up the backlog of cases which had been entered on the docket.

Other cases were postponed to later dates. Criminal cases have been tentatively set for the week beginning Tuesday, March 17. County Attorney Hartman Hooser states that most cases concern charges of driving while intoxicated.

Fined $50 And Costs

G. J. Stewart was fined $50 and court costs in County Court today after he pleaded guilty to charges of passing a worthless check.

Stewart was arrested in Midland by sheriff's order Monday night. He said he gave a $10 check to Roy Bruce Service Station here.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet newspapers announced today the death of Alexander Alexeevich Ostuzhev, a famous Russian actor and leading member of Moscow's Maly Theatre company. The announcement said he died Feb. 28.

Visitors To Ike Birthplace Increase

DENISON (AP)—The birthplace of President Eisenhower is drawing more than twice as many visitors as the birthplace of General Eisenhower.

You can prove it by figures from Mrs. Monie Jones, head of the Gold Star Mothers of Denison. The Gold Star Mothers act as Eisenhower birthplace guardians.

Mrs. Jones reported today that 2,153 persons have visited the home since Eisenhower was elected President. That's more than twice the total for any seven-month period before the election four months ago.

The home is kept open only on Sundays from 2 until 5 p. m. on a regular basis. However, Mrs. Jones lives just a couple of houses away from the Ike birthplace and she is quick to spot a tourist driving up during the week.

When she sees a car stop at the home, she gets her keys and asks the visitors if they would like to see the inside of the house.

"They usually are quite eager to get inside," said Mrs. Jones. She described the average tourist group as "about four people equipped with cameras and eager to take pictures and ask questions."

"They want to know about the various articles in the house," said Mrs. Jones. "I explain that the quilt made by the President's mother is the only item that was

Social Security Aide To Be Here Every Wednesday Morning

A representative of the Odessa office of the Social Security Administration will be in Big Spring at the Texas Employment Commission Office, 213 W. 3rd on Wednesday from 10:00 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. He will be on hand every Wednesday to assist local residents in filling their applications for retirement and family insurance payments.

Regular trips are made through the 18-county area of West Texas which is served by the Odessa office, according to Jack Calvert, manager.

The traveling service is planned to give first-hand information to employers, employees, and others on Social Security matters which cannot be satisfactorily handled by mail, Calvert said.

Applications for social security account number cards can be secured from the local post office or the Texas Employment Commission office. These applications, as well as requests for information about the family insurance, should be sent to the Social Security Administration, Odessa. Replies will be made by mail or arrangements will be made to meet inquirers the next time the representative is in this vicinity.

Stripper No-Billed On Murder Charge

DALLAS (AP)—A grand jury today no-billed two well known Dallas night club performers — Strip Teaser Billie Shonnax and Comedian Roscoe Ails — on murder charges.

The sultry 23-year-old Billie, known professionally as "The Flame of New Orleans," and the balding Ails, 54, were charged in the Dec. 21 pistol slaying of Alfred Rosenfield, 37.

Rosenfield's bullet-riddled body was found in an apartment here. Ails, arrested shortly afterward, said he shot Rosenfield in self-defense. Miss Shonnax was arrested the next day in Oklahoma.

The defendants appeared voluntarily before the grand jury last week. They had been free on bonds.

Two Stolen Autos Recovered Here

Two stolen automobiles have been recovered in Big Spring. A 1947 Buick stolen from Harold Pitcock, Forsan, Saturday was found abandoned this morning near Airport School. Police were checking the vehicle for fingerprints and other evidence this morning, but no leads had developed at noon.

The other automobile recovered was involved in a traffic mishap here early Sunday. It had been stolen from an Ira man Saturday night, police said.

The mishap occurred at Third and Galveston. The car struck a telephone pole and was abandoned about 1:45 a. m.

Police had report of an automobile being stolen in Snyder Saturday night, but were not furnished with license number or other information to identify it as the one wrecked here until Monday.

$1,500 Bond Set In Justice Court

Salvador Montez waived examining trial in justice court today and received a bond of $1,500 on charges of intent to murder.

Montez was arrested by city police as a result of a shooting in the 500 block of Lamesa Drive at 1:30 a. m. Sunday.

Joe Gonzales was sent to a local hospital for treatment of gunshot wound as a result of the fracas.

Another Latin-American is charged with the same offense. Officers say that Gonzales was shot twice by two different guns. The second man charged is not yet in custody.

Corporation court docket lists three other men as being held for investigation in the incident.

Two Men In Jail On Disturbance Charge

Two men arrested by city police over the week end as a result of a scuffle were in county jail today on disturbance charges.

One was fined $1 and costs in justice court, but is laying out of the scuffle. Arrest was made in northwest Big Spring.

Auto Accessories Reported Stolen

Two additional instances of theft of auto accessories were reported to police Monday.

Ben House of the Parish-Hamilton Used Car Lot, 417 Main, reported the knobs taken from instruments in a 1951 Oldsmobile. George Armstrong, WAFB, said a pair of fender skirts were stolen from his 1950 Oldsmobile.

Charged In Teacher Slaying

Jack Killingsworth (left), 25-year-old school teacher of Sundown, Tex., is shown in Hockley County jail at Levelland, Tex. Sheriff Weir Clem said, Killingsworth signed a statement admitting he pumped 12 rifle bullets into Richard McChristal, right, a fellow school teacher after his wife said the man had forced his attention on her. Killingsworth has been released in $2,500 bail. The slaying interrupted the rehearsal of a faculty murder play last Friday night in which McChristal had the role of a police sergeant. Senate Okays Bill For Girls At A&M

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN (AP)—Girls at Texas A&M it's all right with us, the Senate said today.

Without a word of objection, it passed a resolution to make the boys' school co-educational. The measure goes to the House.

Sen. William T. Moore, Bryan, introduced his measure and said, "I move its adoption." Senators started saying "Aye, aye, aye" over the floor.

"Bang" went Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's gavel, and the Senate started knocking down 75 years of tradition.

And over in the House a bill was making the rounds to change the law to read that A&M shall be open to students of both sexes. So far it's just a feeler.

"When I went to A&M, it was a military school with a great reputation," said Moore, who graduated from there in 1940. "It was sort of the West Point of Texas. But now all the schools teach military science. A&M is no longer the military school. Why kid ourselves?"

Moore's legislation is a concurrent resolution that must be passed on by both the House and Senate. It directs the A&M board to admit "female students."

Moore said as far as he could determine the board could make it co-educational, but that's such a drastic step nobody has dared try it without directing legislation. Let girls sing "We Are the Aggies!"

The student newspaper, The Battalion, came out last week with an editorial saying something had to be done.

"Military academy, co-education, or mediocrity—which will it be for A&M?" read the editorial.

"This college is suffering from acute aging disorders which are gradually ruling out its ability to attract new students and hold those who do come here."

The editorial said A&M's enrollment is not dangerously dropping "but it is common knowledge this school is losing more and more students each year."

"Why? The editorial asks, and answers: 'A&M has lost the great distinction that has brought thousands of students for more than 75 years. No longer are we highly recognized for our military training.'

"The people are tired of uniforms, the editorial says and adds: "The Cadet Corps has deteriorated until it has become so lax on discipline that a senior is given only eight demerits for being seen out of uniform by a counselor or officer."

"The men in the Legislature are waiting for an avalanche-word from the thousands of Texas Aggies who have gone out from the school. Once an Aggie—always an Aggie, they know. Do they want to share that tradition with a girl?"

Tickets Continue To Be Sold For 'The Fledermaus'

Tickets for "The Fledermaus," comedy stage hit, will continue until certain time Wednesday night at the city auditorium, officials of the sponsoring Kiwanis Club reported this morning.

"The Fledermaus" is the second in a series of three Broadway plays being staged here this season by the Civic Drama Guild under local Kiwanis sponsorship. An all-professional Civic Drama cast will appear in the showing here.

Persons who purchased season tickets for the series last fall will have their same reserved seats for "The Fledermaus." However, single tickets for Wednesday night's play are being sold for a substantial group of good seats which still remain.

Single tickets for "The Fledermaus" may be purchased from any member of the Kiwanis Club at $2.75 each, including tax.

religious director, was an unbeliever. Lyons flew to Washington from New York to testify. He said: "I am not an atheist, I am not an agnostic, I believe in God. He testified he was not a church-goer."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), the subcommittee chairman, promptly sprang two surprise rebuttal witnesses, one of the Mrs. Alice Patricia Sheppard, pretty red-haired former girl friend of the balding Lyons. She said:

"I cannot tell you if he believes in God now—but at the time I was going with him... he had no belief in God."

That was in 1945 or 1946, she said.

Allan Strong, also employed by the Voice in New York, told the subcommittee Lyons had denounced as "drivel" a religious line in an overseas broadcast sponsored by the American Legion, entitled "Back to God."

Strong said Lyons balked at a reference to "a divine force, greater than man, better than man, wiser than man" and refused to read it for recording last Feb. 1. It was read by someone else at the last minute, Strong said, and added:

"I don't think he's very religious."

Edwin M. J. Kretzman, chief policy director of the Voice, praised Lyons as a man "of deep religious convictions." He said he has no doubt the religious director does believe in God, although he had been quoted in earlier testimony as expressing the opposite opinion about Lyons.

Keeping 25 boys and girls busy for four hours a day ordinarily by a man sized job, but Mrs. Margaret Armstrong went at the task as if it were nothing.

Mrs. Armstrong teaches the "singing shift," a class which meets at 1 p. m. and continues through 5 p. m. This reporter sat in between 2 and 3 p. m.

Reading was underway for part of the pupils, but most were doing writing exercises. Mrs. Armstrong works with about eight at a time on the reading to insure better instruction.

While she is going over the reading with the eight, she had the rest writing in work books. When the work books were completed, the pupils picked up books from the library shelves to read.

Some of them drew pictures, others copied numerals from the black boards, a few moulded clay, and some just talked. The different types of work didn't bother Mrs. Armstrong.

While she was going over work drills with the eight, others ran up and showed her the drawings they had made. She would occasionally look up right in the middle of her work and direct the others. Different disturbances didn't bother her at all.

Although the children are too young to keep absolutely quiet, there was an order to the confusion. They all seemed eager to learn, and Mrs. Armstrong teaches in such a way that it is competitive with the children.

On word drills, Mrs. Armstrong holds up the card containing the word. If the pupil named the word, he gets the card. At the end of the drill each pupil counts his cards to see who has the most.

Recitations were eagerly accepted by the pupils. Practically all the boys and greater consumption of goods and materials than are now programmed."

Plans called for Van Fleet to be whisked from National Airport to the White House for a 30-minute talk with Eisenhower—alone—in President's office. Then was to follow a whirl of lunches, dinners, and meetings with members of Congress.

Reports have been circulating that Van Fleet can be expected to talk frankly to members of Congress in secret sessions while giving his views on the Korean War.

He is known to be bitterly disappointed that the Korean truce talks resulted in a virtual ceasefire at a time when he felt he had the Communists on the run, and that he had to leave Korea before a victory was achieved.

But there were no signs that he was at odds with Eisenhower. He told a meeting in San Francisco last Wednesday: "All of us can safely leave the decisions on Korea to the great wisdom, the unflinching courage, and the world-wide knowledge of our new and greatest President — Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower."

After meeting with Eisenhower, Van Fleet was to be the guest of honor at a White House luncheon to which top-ranking officers and civilians in the armed services and some members of Congress were invited.

Tonight he will meet the President again at a dinner party at the Ft. Myer, Va., home of Gen. and Mrs. J. Lawton Collins. Collins is Army chief of staff.

He is due to meet with the House Armed Services Committee tomorrow, the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday, and possibly the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday.

CONCRETE Poured For Second Floor

Concrete was poured Monday for first-floor canopy, supporting columns and cross-members for second floor of the Permian Building, Second and Scurry.

Work is to start this week on erection of reinforcing steel and forms for columns to the third floor of the six-story office building. Construction officials expect the structural members to go up at the rate of a floor every two or three weeks as long as weather is favorable.

Brick and other exterior wall work probably will be started in a few weeks.

a means of providing adequate business property without the necessity of creating numerous smaller districts.

There was no pronounced opposition to the proposed change. Several persons expressed themselves in favor of the commercial zoning "if everyone else is."

The Zoning and Planning Commission recommendation will be submitted to the City Commission, probably today, for possible action. If commissioners follow the recommendation, zoning will be changed from "A" to "E" on property facing 11th Place from the south between Young and Settles, and that facing the same street from the north between Maple and Rosemont.

Neighboring towns sent groups of school children at appointed hours to go through the birthplace of the President of the United States, Mrs. Jones said.

"We are constantly getting calls from schools and also from youth groups like the Camp Fire Girls and the Boy Scouts," Mrs. Jones explained.

Although the Gold Star Mothers occasionally hire someone to give the home a thorough going-over, the Gold Star Mothers assume most of the responsibility of keeping the place spot and span.

"When it needs a cleaning, usually we just roll up our sleeves and go to work," Mrs. Jones said.

Army Brushes Aside New Submachinegun

By TOM STONE
HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army in Washington has brushed aside, on the ground that the armed forces do not need it, a new light submachinegun which field tests in Europe have showed will—

1. Fire 700 rounds a minute—almost twice as fast as the Army's present standard model, the M3 "Greasegun."
2. Shoot farther and straighter.
3. Weigh four pounds—half as much as the M3.
4. Cost approximately $10 to manufacture on a mass production scale compared to $45 for the M3.
5. Have a muzzle velocity of

1,800 feet per second—against 750 to 800 f.p.s. for the M3.

The new gun, which fires .45-caliber cartridges, or can be converted to use the standard 9-mm. European cartridge, was developed by Warrant Officer Loren C. Cook, stationed at Coleman Barracks near here. He is a machine-tool specialist assigned to the 784th Ordnance Stock Control Center.

After field tests in Germany, a description of Cook's gun was sent to the chief of ordnance in Washington with a recommendation that "the weapon is of extremely simple and of rugged construction, easily adaptable to inexpensive mass production fabrication."

The gun was especially designed for tank crewmen, paratroopers and military police. Tests have shown it can be stripped down, in the field and without tools, in seven seconds compared to five minutes for the standard M3.

In reply, the chief of ordnance's office wrote:

"There is at the present time no U. S. user requirement for a new weapon of the machine pistol, submachine-gun or carbine class. This situation has existed over a period of some years, and it is believed unlikely that the using arms will give serious consideration to the adoption of the type proposed by Warrant Officer Cook."

The letter added, however, that "we will be pleased to receive a model of the Cook machine-pistol, which we will examine and bring to the attention" of the chief of Army field forces.

Local Recruiter Has Top Record In The District

Sfc. A. M. Burt, local Army and Air Force recruiter, tied for top position in enlistment records of the Abilene District during February.

He was responsible for recruiting 20 men. Eleven went to the Air Force, and nine joined the Army through his office. The Abilene district covers 53 West Texas Counties.

Burt's enlistment record received a boost in the closing days of February when four men signed up for the services. The men were from Big Spring, Lamesa, Colorado City and Odessa.

Daniel R. Sparks of Big Spring enlisted in the Air Force. He is 24 years old and had served a six-year hitch in the Army previously. He is now at Goodfellow Air Force Base in San Angelo.

Rogerio Trevino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose D. Trevino of Lamesa, is at Lackland Air Force Base now, where he is taking basic training. He enlisted for four years.

Lloyd B. Nall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nall of Colorado City, is at Fort Sill, Okla. to take Army basic. He was a member of the Colorado City National Guard unit.

Joseph Powers, Odessa, was the fourth enlistment. He went into the Army and is now at Fort Sill to take basic training.

TEXANS NOTE INDEPENDENCE DAY OF STATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas here celebrated yesterday the 17th anniversary of their state's declaration of independence from Mexico.

Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) laid a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier as a tribute to Texans who died in both World Wars and in Korea.

Two University of Texas ex-students high in the Eisenhower administration, Oveta Culp Hobby, Federal Security Administrator, and Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson, were honored at the annual banquet of ex-students here.

Chosen by the Texas-exes nominating committee as officers were Leslie Carpenter, Austin, Tex., newspaper correspondent, president; Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, McAllen, vice-president, and Mrs. Price Daniel, wife of Texas' junior senator, secretary-treasurer.

Furor Continues In El Paso Over Union-Sponsored Movie

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The leading lady is under arrest.

Angry citizens chase their cameras from the street.

Heated attacks are made from the floor of Congress.

The House Un-American Activities Committee and the FBI are watching.

And steps are already being taken to prevent showing of the film.

But a group of moviemakers who have been accused of Communist connections are still grinding away, trying to finish before anything else happens.

Rosaura Revueltas, 42-year-old Mexican actress playing the female lead, is held by the immigration service on a charge of illegal entry into the country. Immigration service hearings have been postponed until Saturday to allow her attorney to seek a writ of habeas corpus from a federal judge.

Some 40 citizens of Central were planned for shooting, yesterday ran out of a town a camera crew preparing to take street scenes. They were told to "get out now or get out later without your cameras. We mean business."

In Hollywood, the Screen Actors Guild turned down a request for support in the case from the Mexican Actors Guild.

A mass demonstration of members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers was narrowly averted here last night.

Ben Margolis, attorney for Miss Revueltas, addressed a union meeting after close of the deportation hearings. He said his client would be unable to make a scheduled talk "because the U. S. immigration service has threatened to throw her in jail if she does."

Joseph Minton, district immigration director, angrily confirmed the statement.

"This woman is under arrest," Minton said. "I've shown her every consideration in the world in light of her cultural background and accomplishments. She has been free to eat and shop anywhere in the city.

"Anyone else facing the charge she does would be in one of two places—jail or detention quarters. She's not going to make any propaganda speeches."

All of those so far named in connection with the picture have been linked with left-wing activities.

Miss Revueltas last summer attended the Soviet-sponsored International Film Festival in East Berlin.

Producer of the film is the Mine-Mill-union, which lost its CIO affiliation because its leaders refused to say they weren't Communists.

Sewage Disposal Plant Is Toured By JC Students

Members of James Bruce Frazier's microbiology class Monday were conducted on a tour of the city sewage disposal plant.

The inspection was part of a series of field trips being taken this semester by the Howard County Junior College class. Jones Lamar, sewage disposal superintendent, explained operation of the plant.

Aerobic and anaerobic bacteria processes were studied. The students also learned the disposal plant is one of the most efficient in the country, having received bronze plaques for every phase of sewage disposal for which the State Health Department presents efficiency awards.

Sale of effluent and other by-products accounts for about 90 percent of the expense of operations, Lamar told the class.

The microbiology class composed of attendants at the Big Spring State Hospital, will visit the municipal water treatment plant in the next few days and will make other field trips this spring.

Milk Price Is Cut Again By Dairies

A third price cut in a little over a month went into effect today on Tennessee Dairies milk. Selling price is now 23 cents per quart.

Ray Weir, manager, said today's cut follows a one-cent slash on Feb. 1 and another one-cent drop in mid-February. Today's cut was also one cent. Price in January was 28 cents per quart.

Clothing Appeal Response Is Good

An appeal made by the Salvation Army for clothing last Thursday has received top-flight response, according to Lt. Robert Hall, commander.

Hall said the people of Big Spring had brought more than enough clothing for the family to his headquarters the day after the appeal was made. He expressed appreciation to the contributors.

Contributions included pants, shirts, underclothing, jackets, and shoes, he said. The appeal was made to clothe a family of four.

In ancient times men believed in the divine right of kings. Modern men venerate no office that is dishonored by cruel and unjust acts. It is not enough to overthrow weak, inadequate rulers, their successors can also win contempt. "He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the strength of the mighty." - Job 12:21.

Having Tax Horse Is Handy, But Problems Result As He Falters

Black gold is a juicy and easily-collected source of tax revenues in Texas, and the taxgatherers have worked that gold mine to a fare-you-well, but it does have its little drawbacks. When oil production and/or price goes into a tailspin, there goes your little oil revenue.

In January State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert handed in his estimate of what would be the income of tax moneys and other sources of state revenue for the ensuing biennium.

Now the comptroller warns that unless about $60 million is deleted from the estimate, the state will find itself with a deficit of around $7 million at the end of the biennium. Principal reason will be reduced income from oil production. If the Railroad Commission at its March 18 meeting further pinches in oil production, Mr. Calvert's direst prophecy might come true. It had ordered the March allowable cut 118,000 barrels, and Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson has warned another 100,000 slash may be necessary on top of that. He blamed rising imports from abroad as chiefly responsible.

The March reduction will cost the state's tax coffers about $600,000 a month, and another 100,000 would add to the debacle.

Meantime, prospect of holding expenditures down aren't bright. The Legislature has already indicated it will provide $3,225,000 for emergency tuberculosis hospital construction, and $3,500,000 for urgent prison improvements. On top of that school teachers have set their sights on salary increases that would run to $33,000,000, and state employees are expecting long-deferred wage increases.

So, the legislators face the difficult choice of trimming down expenditures or levying another round of tax increases. Any new taxes would be about as popular as a skunk at a perfumers' convention.

There is one possible reprieve for the law-makers' headache: If Congress passes the tidelands bill and the impounded revenue therefrom is handed over to the state, it would help a lot. Latest guess we have seen at the size of this frozen hoard was about $12 million.

Support Red Cross Promptly To Supply For Its Interim Needs

This is time for annual Red Cross roll call. Because of the probability that Red Cross will join with other agencies in a new United Fund appeal here, the campaign is being conducted on a limited basis.

Whether this works will determine if we must return to the former plan of being obliged to organize for personal solicitation.

Appeals are being voiced for voluntary contributions largely through the mail. The amount to be raised for an interim budget is not great—roughly $5,000. Any sort of representative response to the informal appeal should obviate the necessity of having to double back for private calls.

So don't wait for someone to come, and ask for your contribution. Mail it in now. Our chapter here has been doing a good work. It has had some heavy demands upon it, and these will continue. The fact that we have been chosen to be the home for the Veterans Administration Hospital and for Webb Air Force Base has confronted the chapter with some extraordinary responsibilities, but these are the kind that, out of gratitude and pride, we should be happy to meet. In addition, we must carry on the regular program of home service after the satisfying prime requirement of taking care of servicemen and their dependents under certain circumstances.

This work must go on. Even though the Red Cross may be covered in another campaign later, operating money is still imperative until that time. Remember the Red Cross generously and promptly—please.

Today And Tomorrow - Walter Lippman It Is Impossible Now For Ike To Make Any Firm Commitments

Mr. Eden and Mr. Butler are arriving at a time when the Eisenhower administration is quite obviously still in the opening phase of getting itself organized. After twenty years in opposition while the government has grown enormously in size and complexity, the transition is a very difficult one. The President and his appointees are between the departments they must administer and their own party in Congress. They have made progress but they have not yet achieved what they cannot do without: a sufficient confidence by their own party in Congress which will give them enough freedom to administer the government justly and conscientiously and wisely.

Until the President has mastered this paramount problem of confidence between his party and his administration, he will be unable to be firm and flexible, consistent and far-ranging in the conduct of foreign affairs. He will be a man driving a car who cannot keep his eyes fixed on the road ahead because he must keep turning around to the people in the back seat.

On the main question which concerns Mr. Butler—the economic relations of the sterling and the dollar areas—it would therefore be quite impossible as yet for the Administration to make firm commitments. This is well understood by the informed and responsible men not only in London and Washington, but also in Paris, Bonn and elsewhere. What needs to be said to avoid public misunderstanding is not only that no important commitments could be made now but also that, as a matter of fact, the situation is not yet such that large international measures are even feasible.

There is, in other words, no crisis demanding emergency action. There is, on the other hand, a very serious problem of the economic relationships within the free world which must be dealt with. This means that a great many things have to be done separately but simultaneously in many countries before the conditions will exist for the big international agreements involving the big commitments. The control of inflation, and one should say also the control of deflation, is one of the necessary conditions. But in the fiscal system of managed currencies of the twentieth century the control of inflation and deflation is within the separate national sovereign power of each country.

There is no longer, as there was in the nineteenth century, a world economy of private interests. The great depression of 1929 marked the failure to restore that world economy after the devastation and dislocations of the first World War. Since then, we have lived in a system of national economies. At the best they are loosely coordinated. At the worst, as with the totalitarian states, there are violent antagonisms.

Even in the countries which are the least socialist, where the administration of business is still in private hands, the freedom of enterprise is not what it was in the nineteenth century. It is sharply limited by the national policies of the government which control so many essential elements of economic life. Each sovereign nation treats the volume and the price of its money, the nature, the volume, the origin and the destination of its imports and its exports, as subject to its own unchallengeable sovereign discretion. The relationship between each national economy and the rest of the world is now within the jealously guarded prerogative of each democratically elected parliament.

Even outside the totalitarian orbit the international economic system depends in a critical degree upon whether the sovereign legislatures are reasonably coordinate or are at cross purposes. They cannot be ordered to march in step. Everything depends on whether they can at least be persuaded to march in the same general direction.

As between the present British government and the new Administration there is a broad ground of fundamental agreement on the lines along which it would be desirable for each country to proceed in order to strengthen and stabilize the world economy.

But in order to translate general ideas into the hard, often unpopular and politically difficult, measures they call for, the British government has to carry with it not only the Parliament of the United Kingdom but the governments and the parliaments of the Commonwealth. To do that with hope of success they must have the assurance that the Administration in Washington agrees that these are the right lines of action, and is intending in the American interest to follow a line which is consistent with theirs.

This kind of understanding, rather than concrete financial commitments, is what, we might suppose, Mr. Butler has come to Washington to discuss.

Fat Strutting Pigeons In The Park Insist That Spring Time Is Now Here

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to tell when spring really gets to Manhattan.

But its heralds are already here . . . the crocus lights a yellow fire in every florist shop window. . . Three suburbanites, their noses still running, are galloping about the office, baying, "I saw the first robin!" . . . You put your hand against Rockefeller Center and it feels a little warmer. . . The breezes blow skirts a bit higher, and the drug-gist says, "Well, spring's about here. . . more and more people are coming in asking me to help comes over him. . . He alternately feels like a million dollars—and two cents. . . His mind turns to faroff places. . . Who wants to live in dreary here? . . . Wouldn't it be nice to be sitting on top of Capri, sipping wine and watching the Bay of Naples? . . . Or strolling somewhere at peace on the island of Bali, where dwell fair women? . . . This is the way spring comes to the big city. . . an ache in the night. . . an invisible wind that turns every heart to a yearning violin. . . but the surest sign of all is when you come home and find your wife looking like a Gypsy-cowboy, a rag around her head, a dust-cloth in her hands and that now-don't-give-me-any-argument - just - go - ahead - and start - moving - in - the - furniture look in her eyes. . . When a pigeon starts making her nest and a housewife starts up-setting-her, never mind what the calendar says or the weather is up to. . . spring has arrived.

The Story Of The Alamo Last Message Leaves The Battered Texas Fortress

Today marks the anniversary of the Battle of the Alamo, one of the most pathetic days in the history of Texas. It was the tenth day of the battle; the last messenger was sent from the fortress; the last loyal Texan dashed through Mexican lines to join his fellow defenders; and with hope waning, Travis drew the historic line with his sword. Still, not a Texan had fallen during the siege.

The last message went out from the Alamo on the night of March 3—17 years ago today. Ironically, the day likewise marked the last arrival, when loyal James Bonham raced his horse through Mexican lines to enter the fort, determined to die with his friend Travis.

It was the faithful scout John W. Smith who left the fortress, to carry Travis' last appeal—"God and Texas—Victory or Death!"—to the Texas Convention that day of receiving the republic's independence.

"From the 25th to the present date," Travis advised, "the enemy have kept up a bombardment from two howitzers, one a five and a half inch, and the other an eight inch — and a heavy cannonade from two long nine-pounders mounted on a battery on the opposite side of the river, at a distance of 400 yards from our wall. . . . A company of 32 men from Gonzales made their way to us on the morning of the first inst, at 3 o'clock, and Col. J. B. Bonham (a courier from Gonzales) got in this morning at eleven o'clock without molestation. . . . At least 200 shells have fallen inside of our works without having injured a single man; indeed we have been so fortunate as not to lose a single man from any cause, and we have killed many of the enemy. . . . I look to the colonies along for aid; unless it arrives soon, I shall have to fight the enemy on his own terms. . . . Our supply of ammunition is limited. At least five hundred pounds of cannon powder, and two hundred rounds of six, nine, twelve, and eighteen pound balls, ten kegs of rifle powder and a supply of lead should be sent to this place without delay. . . . A blood red banner waves from the church of Bexar and in the camp above us, in token that the war is one of vengeance against rebels; they have declared us as such; demanded that we should surrender at discretion, or that this garrison should be put to the sword. . . . God and Texas—Victory or Death," the appeal, signed "Your Obedient servant," concluded.

This Day In Texas By CURTIS BISHOP

A 25-hour power airplane took off from San Antonio on this day in 1911 — the first reconnaissance flight ever flown by the United States Air Force.

Lashed to their seats with four-foot trunk straps were Philip Parmelee and B. D. Foullos, both of all the Air Force's pilots at the time.

Their orders were to reconnoiter along the Rio Grande from Laredo to Eagle Pass, a cross-country flight of 196 miles. The two pioneer aviators accomplished this mission in 2 hours and 10 minutes and without landing. Foullos' recollections state that he and his co-pilot experienced a "few bad moments due to several engine misfires."

Foullos arrived at Fort Sam Houston in February, 1910 with a dismembered airplane and an appropriation of $150 to repair it. He had received some three hours of instruction from Wilbur Wright in the autumn of 1909 and had also flown in dirigibles and free balloons.

Congressman James Luther Slayden, then chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, was responsible for locating the first "air base" in Texas. Two other pilots sent with Foullos were relieved of flying duty in 1909.

Parmelee was an exhibition flyer for the Wright Brothers before joining Foullos.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post is going to publish, in 10 installments starting April 11, the autobiography of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The Lindbergh story, covering the famous flier's life up to June, 1927 — right after he flew the Atlantic ocean from New York to Paris — will be published in book form by Scribners in the fall.

People Are Not Showing Genuine Interest In Law Enforcement

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

A couple of young printers are being returned to Van Horn from Florida for the murder of an elderly man not so long ago.

He was parked beside the road resting. The two men walked up and asked if they might borrow a fire foot. He reached into the car to get one for them. One of the men shot him twice through the head. They took his car and hid his body. He had never seen them before. They had never seen him before. They didn't even know his name. That happened between Big Spring and El Paso. They probably passed through Big Spring going out that way. Maybe they even stopped here for coffee and sat next to you while you also had a cup.

Sunday the murdered body of a young Sonora filling station attendant was found not far from a little-used road a mile and half from the Sonora station where he had worked. About a week before two men came to the station, said they had run out of gasoline out on the highway, and wanted somebody to take some gasoline out to their car. This young fellow, 17-year-old, anxious to render them the service, got into a pickup with the gasoline—and the men, to make the run. He probably had a few dollars they wanted. They got it.

All of which adds up the conviction that early-day travelers through this country in pioneer wagon trains probably ran less risk of being murdered and scalped by Indians, than the risk run today by the average motorist on Highway 80 between Fort Worth, through Big Spring and into El Paso. Today's risk is the outlaw that some stupid jury or parole board or state executive has turned back to prey upon society.

I believe statistics will bear out the assertion that most of these major highway crimes of violence are committed by men with records of previous crimes of violence. And, the people alone are responsible for the situation that permits these men to run at large. They are responsible because they are too tolerant of juries that do not convict or inflict maximum penalties for such crimes; they are too tolerant of judges who do not "let the hammer down" on such characters; and they are too tolerant of parole boards and governors who too frequently override jury verdicts and judicial decrees. The people, on the whole, do not show enough genuine and determined interest in law enforcement. The natural and inevitable result is that crimes of violence are on the increase throughout the country—and you may be next.

Take a particularly vicious and brutal murderer, for example. He may be sentenced to death and yet thousands of people who did not hear any of the evidence, and who know absolutely nothing more than rumor about the case, will vigorously sign a petition to the governor asking that the sentence be lessened by executive decree.

How many people do you know, otherwise good citizens, who will sign a petition to the governor asking that a jury's verdict of death and the court's judgment of death be allowed to stand?

The peace officers, on the whole, are doing the best job they can, and yet major crime is gaining on them, because of the apathy of the public, any member of which, even you, may be the next victim. If you have as much as one dollar there's somebody loose somewhere who will kill you for it.

We hear it said: "Even though they're criminals and prisoners, they're still humans."

That's a mighty poor excuse to offer up to the spirits of that elderly man who was murdered near Van Horn, and to that young filling station attendant from Sonora, and it will still be a mighty poor excuse for society to offer up to your departed soul once one of these pardoned or paroled or even unconvicted hoodlums leaves your bloody body under a mesquite.

No matter how good the peace officers are, the district attorney, the judge or the jury, law enforcement on the whole isn't going to be any better than the attitude of the general public toward it.

FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

These Days - George Sokolsky Taft View On Probe Of Reds In Schools Was Not A Studied One

The use of the term "witch-hunt" is unjustified in relation to a Congressional committee, unless such a committee seeks to find vulnerable individuals with the object of destroying their careers. I know of no Congressional committee that operates on that basis.

Three committees are now engaged, from different standpoints, in seeking to discover the pattern of Russian and Communist infiltration into the affairs of this country, as a weapon of war, with the aim of destroying American resistance to conquest. Communists are guided by the Stalinist blueprint, "Foundations of Leninism," by party directives, and by similar activities in other countries.

The individuals involved in the Russian effort are really not too important, and were it that only a few men and women were to be examined, the committees could drop their investigations with no great loss. What they need to do, however, is to find the process by which, since 1934, the Russians, with great skill and cunning, succeeded not only in their work of infiltration and propaganda, but also in developing a large element of reputable Americans who will defend Communist infiltration under any circumstances.

In Russia's war for world conquest, the use of non-conventional weapons is even more important than conventional military means.

The most successful non-conventional methods are infiltration and propaganda. These have already been investigated with a large measure of success by Congressional committees, with resultant convictions in the courts. (It need only be noted that Alger Hiss was exposed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities after the Department of Justice had permitted his treason to lie fallow for almost a decade.

The investigation of those who teach in schools and colleges will disclose a major infiltration with the object of corrupting our sons and daughters. The McCarran Committee, now presided over by Senator William Jenner, has already established considerable data that such an infiltration occurred in the interest of Soviet Russia

Uncle Ray's Corner Thinker Figured Size Of Earth

Today I wish to tell the story of a man who performed one of the great deeds of all time. Without the help of modern knowledge, he measured the size of the earth!

That man was Eratosthenes (pronounced "AIR-uh-TOS-the-ness"). He was a Greek, but spent most of his life in Egypt. Using his clever brain, he found a way to estimate the circumference of the earth—that is, the distance around it.

Other men had learned, and taught, the science of geometry, which deals with circles, triangles and so on. Eratosthenes used this science to develop a fact which never had been known up to his time.

During many years of his life, this Greek earned his living by taking care of a library in the city of Alexandria, in northern Egypt. That was interesting work, but he wanted to add to the knowledge of mankind.

Far to the south of Alexandria was the little city of Syene (modern Assuan). Either by a personal visit to Syene, or through the report of a traveler, he learned that sunshine reached the bottom of a deep well in Syene on the date of the summer solstice.

The next thing he did was to learn about the angle of the sun when noon came to Alexandria on the day of the summer solstice. He may have done this by pointing a long stick toward the sun, or else by measuring a shadow cast by a stick. In either way, he could have found and measured the angle.

After learning the angle, he estimated that the distance between Alexandria and Syene must be one fifth of part of a mighty circle, or seven and one-fifth degrees out of the 360 degrees in a circle.

Figuring the distance to Syene as 5,000 stadia (or about 500 miles), he calculated the distance around the earth to be 25,000 stadia, or about 25,000 miles! That was amazingly close to the truth, as we know it today.

Although I admire Senator Taft greatly, I need to note, from my own close experience with such investigations, that his recent comments on the subject indicate a hurried rather than a studied view. He would permit a Communist to teach in the classroom as long as he did not teach Communism or influence the minds of the young. How can he or anyone else prove what influences any human mind? Such a limitation would destroy the work of every investigator into the process of infiltration.

The Taft formula could serve as an umbrella over the most effective supporters of Stalin's work in this country. The proof of a man's gullibility and culpability rests in the record of activity which he himself has made over the years. He made that record; he must, as all the rest of us, live by what he has himself done.

It is very much like the motion pictures, whose content may be perfectly all right, but whose participants built an enormous treasury for the Communist Party. It is that treasury, not the contents of the pictures, that must be the target of any investigation.

So, in the study of infiltration into our universities, the extra-mural work of the teachers and professors is even of greater importance than what they teach in classrooms. It is reasonable to expect, and it would be harmful if it were not so, that, in classes in economics, sociology, history and philosophy, Marxism in its various forms should be taught.

Marxism is a widespread and influential movement in our era. It is impossible to fight and defeat the unknown and therefore Marxism should be taught and studied and researched in our universities. The pursuit of knowledge in all its forms is the function of the university and freedom of inquiry is an inalienable American right.

But the good name of universities should not be permitted to serve as a protector of Russian agents and sympathizers, who, because of their connection with an institution of learning, are assumed to be objective scholars when actually they are Russian propagandists.

Baptist Circles Have Prayer Week Programs

The Mary Hatch Circle was in charge of the First Baptist Week of Prayer program Monday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. C. O. Hill served as program leader and the topic was "Purple Mountain Majesties."

Others on the program were Mrs. Gaylon Colburn, Mrs. Ross Bartlett, Mrs. D. D. Dyer, Mrs. H. B. Reagan and Mrs. W. B. Younger.

Prayers were offered by Mrs. B. T. Faulkner, Mrs. C. F. Clay and Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Hill also gave the closing meditations from Malachi 3:8-10.

"Finding His Own," a movie explaining how money is spent when given to Home Missions, was shown to the group.

"Purple Mountain Majesties" was the program topic Monday afternoon when the circles of the E. 4th Baptist Church met at the church for a Week of Prayer program.

The Willing Workers Circle was in charge of the program. Mrs. T. B. Clifton spoke on "Purple Mountain Majesties" in Washington and Oregon.

Others giving topics were Mrs. Arthur Leonard, "A WMU That Prayed A Church Into Existence," Mrs. G. C. Ragsdale, "Iams in California," Mrs. Billy Rudd, "For Amber Waves of Grain," Mrs. O. R. Smith, "A Mission Opportunity for Southern Baptists," Mrs. R. C. Stocks, "Thank You WMU," Mrs. W. E. Mann, "May God Our God Refine."

Prayers were offered by Mrs. Ed Stringfellow, Mrs. Earnest Rainey, Mrs. J. C. Harmon, Mrs. Mann and Mrs. Leonard.

Members of the Airport Baptist WMS held an all-day meeting for their first Week of Prayer observance Monday.

Mrs. Warren Stows gave the devotional during the morning session and Mrs. Neal Bryant presided in the absence of the president.

A luncheon was served at noon and in the afternoon a Royal Service program was held.

Participating on the program were Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. James Findley, Mrs. Leeman Harrington, Mrs. Sam Wells, Mrs. W. O. Wason, Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Douglas Myers.

Mrs. Pershing Morton gave a short talk on the "Life of Annie Armstrong." Prayers were offered by Mrs. Findley and Mrs. Morton.

Attending were 15 including two new members, Mrs. Tom Gill and Mrs. Homer Haygood.

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow gave the devotional and read "The Easter Story," a dramatic version of the last days of Jesus, when St. Mary's Episcopal Auxiliary met Monday afternoon in the parish house.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. David Snelling spoke on the "Work of the Episcopal Church in Africa." Fourteen attended.

Feature Egg And Cheese Dishes In Lenten Meals

Peck up Lenten meals with hearty, appetizing egg and cheese dishes. From a nutritional standpoint, as well as for economy and flavor, they're hard to beat.

High quality proteins of the same type found in meat are also present in eggs. For this reason they make satisfying main dishes for luncheons and dinners.

In buying cheese and eggs, as in buying meat, a well known brand is your guide to quality and freshness. In better stores, these products are kept in refrigerators of chilled display cases. At home they should be kept in the refrigerator until just before using. The quality of eggs especially will deteriorate very fast if left in a warm room.

In cooking eggs and cheese, just as meat, low temperatures help retain the tenderness, flavor and attractiveness of the product.

Cheese and eggs are versatile, too. The flavors blend well in many satisfying, easy to prepare dishes. One such combination is the Dairy Crisp Casserole, a flavor treat that's hearty enough for the most rugged masculine appetites. It combines tangy, ripe-flavored cheese and cream of mushroom soup. Buttery, crisp to eat cubes lend a crunchy texture. Arrange halves of hard-cooked eggs on top for a crowning touch. Keep the simple ingredients on hand for the perfect answer for appetizing hurry-up meals.

DAIRY CRISP CASSEROLE
Yield: 6 servings
6 hard cooked eggs
1 can (1 1/4 cups) cream of mushroom soup
1-3 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon paprika
3/4 cup cubed Process Cheese Food or Aged Cheese
2 tablespoons green pepper
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
1-3 cup butter

Heat mushroom soup and milk. Add cheese, paprika, green pepper and 2 cups toasted bread cubes which have been tossed in melted butter. Pour into buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Arrange egg halves on top. Top with remaining bread cubes. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) for twenty minutes.

EGG QUICKIES
Yield: 4 servings
1/4 cup diced onion
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup milk
4 hard cooked eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon minced celery

Brown onion in blended shortening. Add bread crumbs and milk. Stir, cook slowly until thick. Add chopped eggs, seasonings. Spread on a plate to cool. Shape into 4 large or 8 small patties. Pan-fry in melted butter until browned on both sides. Or dip in egg and bread crumbs and deep-fat fry.

Delicious Frosting
A delicious frosting for angel food or sponge cake is refreshing crushed pineapple. It saves precious kitchen minutes too, because you just spoon the pineapple over each serving just as it comes from the can. If the cake is several days old and needs a little freshening, cut it into even slices, toast lightly under the broiler. Then spoon the luscious tasting pineapple over each slightly warm slice.

Want a new luncheon dish? Then serve sliced hard-cooked eggs in a curry sauce on fluffy rice. Serve with a tray of chutney, salted pecan nutmeats and crisp crumbled bacon.

THIS IS GOOD EATING

ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons fat, 1 cup minced onion, 1 No. 2 can red kidney beans, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 3 cups hot cooked rice, 4 sandwich-size slices processed American cheese, shredded lettuce, sliced fresh or canned drained tomatoes.

Method: Melt fat in skillet; add onion and cook over moderate heat for 5 minutes, stirring often. Meanwhile put beans (including liquid in can) through sieve or food mill, or blend to smooth consistency in electric blender. Mix the bean puree with salt, chili powder, kitchen bouquet and catsup. Place rice in bottoms of 4 individual shallow baking dishes or 1 large one. Spread onion evenly over rice, then top with bean mixture. Place a slice of cheese on each portion. Bake in moderate (375 F.) oven until thoroughly hot and cheese is melted and browned—about 20 to 30 minutes. Serve at once with shredded lettuce and fresh or canned tomatoes. Makes 4 servings. This is good with the following:

Enchilada Casserole
Cruddy Bread
Red Apples
Beverage

Variation Of Popular Trend Is Banana Cake

We all know the great big, wheel-like upside down cakes that began the topsy turvy trend. Now here is the diminutive of the theme. Delightful little individual Banana Upside Down Cakes. They're so good and so attractive-looking, with their arrangement of sliced bananas on top, which is really the bottom, and a bright red cherry for the center. There's a brown sugar and butter mixture baked with the fruit to give the topping a rich, old-fashioned flavor. These little cakes are served warm from the oven, and what a wonderful dessert they are for a winter's eve!

Banana Upside Down Cakes
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 egg, unbeaten
2-3 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
8 maraschino cherries
2 firm bananas

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add shortening, egg and 1-3 cup milk. Beat 1 minute.

at medium speed with electric mixer, or 1 minute by hand. Scrape down bowl and beat frequently during mixing. Add remaining 1-3 cup milk and vanilla. Beat 1 minute longer. Melt butter or margarine in saucepan, over low heat. Add brown sugar and water, stirring until sugar is melted and syrup is formed. Pour about 2 teaspoons syrup into bottoms of 8 (4-ounce) custard cups. Place a cherry in the center of each cup. Peel and slice bananas and arrange in pattern, around each cherry. Fill custard cups with batter, about 2-3 full. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) about 35 minutes, or until done. Loosen cakes at sides with knife or spatula. Turn out immediately onto serving plate, with bananas on top. Serve warm, with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 8 individual upside down cakes.

BRIDAL PICTURES DEADLINE FRIDAY

Planning a wedding sometime next month? Then you will want to know how to facilitate publication of the news of this important event.

Brides-to-be should request a wedding information blank at The Herald. Bridal pictures should be arranged in advance with your photographer, but in no case will a picture or story be printed later than seven days after the date of the wedding. Unscheduled pictures seldom can be printed.

Because of the volume of weddings requested for Sunday publication, all wedding accounts and pictures for Sunday's paper must be in the office not later than noon Friday.

Tea Cakes

1/2 cup butter
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons whiskey
3 cups flour or enough flour to roll 3 eggs
3 teaspoons baking powder.
Cream butter, sugar, and eggs. Add remaining ingredients and roll thin. Cut with cookie cutter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake 350 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Held in the home of Mrs. J. J. Overton, the meeting included a demonstration on color harmony, matching materials and putting zippers in clothes.

Refreshments were served to nine members and one guest, Mrs. Glen Overton. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. J. Overton.

Which Is Important, Taste Or The Smell?

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

When you cut into a juicy sirloin steak, which is the most important, taste or smell?

When you eat a ripe, red raspberry, what does it taste like?

When you whiff the scent of an exotic perfume, why do you like it, and how would you describe its fragrance?

These are questions, which engage the attention of Dr. Max Stoll, internationally known Swiss chemist. He has just arrived in the United States to receive the 1953 Frische Award from the American Chemical Society for his work in the field of essential oils and related chemicals.

The ruddy, silver-haired scientist, chief of the research department of Firmenich & Cie, Swiss aromatic chemical firm, has spent most of his adult years analyzing what makes a certain taste and what are the essential ingredients of a certain scent—then reproducing them synthetically.

His two most recent triumphs are production of synthetic ambergris, one of the essential ingredients in perfume, and the essence of fresh raspberry flavor, for use in the food industry. He says:

"Any natural flavor can be reproduced synthetically, if first the natural product is analyzed and broken down into its component parts, and then these are reproduced scientifically.

"It is important, of course, to decide which components are essential to the flavor, and which may be eliminated. The object is to achieve a synthetic product which is better than the original, because it retains the best qualities and characteristic flavor of the natural food but does not vary in quality or strength."

Dr. Stoll worked 26 years—from 1924 to 1950, to produce synthetic ambergris. It took 11 years to create the essence of the raspberry.

The Swiss firm, with offices also in New York, manufactures the essential oils for many of the world's great perfume and cosmetics houses, and the flavor essences used in thousands of processed foods.

If a certain canned or bottled sauce has a particularly distinctive flavor, it probably is because Dr. Stoll and his staff have isolated and intensified the essential flavor of a certain spice or extract used in its manufacture.

He makes a synthetic pepper, for instance, which has 30,000 times the strength of the natural product. A pinch of it in its pure state would paralyze the taste buds.

This super-cilicite of scents incidentally, doesn't like his own wife to wear perfume. He says:

"I have to work with perfumes all day, so when I come home it's no treat to me."

Hawks Take Opener In Tourney, 104-98

By TOMMY HART
 DENTON — Howard County Junior College moved into the second round of the Texas Junior College Basketball Championship here Monday night, defeating San Antonio, 104-98.

The Jayhawks were to meet Panola JC at 10:30 a. m. today. Another victory would put them in the final; a defeat would send the HCJC troupe into play for third place.

Howard County led all the way against San Antonio, a hard-fighting team which started closing fast as the game faded. At one point the Jayhawks led by 20 points.

Bobby (Dallas) Williams, who scored 22 points for the Hawks, left minutes of the fourth quarter, and San Antonio started cutting the Hawk lead.

Exceptionally fine play of Tommy Smith and Roy Middleton kept the SA Rangers in the game. Smith tallied 32 points and Middleton scored 24.

High scorer for HCJC was Bobby Meines, who counted 23 in an outstanding performance. Casey Jones accounted for 19 of the Jayhawks points, Charley Warren netted 16, and Dick Gilmore was responsible for 17 of the HCJC counters.

The 98 points scored by the Rangers was the greatest number for that team in any single game this year. The San Antonio quintet is coached by Bill Chandler, a North Texas State graduate. All members of the squad are from San Antonio. The Rangers' season record is 14 wins and 11 losses.

It was the fifth time the Jayhawks have broken 100 with a game score. Their victory was their 27th win, against three losses.

Panola qualified to meet HCJC in the semi-finals with a 82-79 victory over Allen Military Academy last night.

South Texas of Houston advanced by defeating Amarillo JC, 54-53. A free throw by P. McGowan sewed up the game for the South Texans. Tom Boyd of Amarillo scored 30 points but lacked the support to win.

In the other first round game, Lon Morris defeated Navarro, 96-63. In the other semifinal game this morning, Lon Morris was to meet South Texas. Winner of that game will meet victor in the HCJC-Panola tussle for the Texas JC title.

Hoosiers Take No. 1 Spot In Cage Survey

NEW YORK (AP) — Indiana's smashing Big Ten championship, coupled with the end of Seton Hall's long winning streak, made the Hoosiers the top basketball team in the land today.

The convincing manner in which Indiana sewed up the Big Ten title by whaling Illinois, 91-79, persuaded the nation's sports writers and broadcasters that the Indiana boys should replace Seton Hall as No. 1 in the Associated Press poll after six straight weeks.

With the best winning skid of 17 now that Seton Hall and Washington have had their streaks snapped, Indiana received 25 first-place votes and a total of 639 points. Balloting was on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

Seton Hall, beaten by Dayton Sunday night before the ballots were counted and again by Louisville last night after the polls closed, fell to third place, one behind La Salle. This represented a gain of two places for La Salle, the early-season poll leader. Washington, fell two places to fourth.

Louisiana State advanced from sixth to fifth after winning the Southeastern Conference diadem. Oklahoma A&M, lowered one notch to seventh, went out after the halting and clinched the Missouri Valley crown by edging St. Louis, 51-50, last night.

Kansas, which moved up to fifth, is leading in the Big Seven conference.

Kansas State, trailing Kansas by one game in the conference race, is two places behind in the poll at eighth, after swapping spots with Western Kentucky. Illinois once again is 10th.

High Schools To Ballot On Gridiron Rules

AUSTIN (AP) — A referendum to decide under which rules Texas high school football will be conducted next fall will be held March 23.

The question will be whether the 1952 rules that allowed the two-planet system or the 1953 rules that banned it are to be used.

It will require two weeks to hold the referendum, thus Texas high school coaches don't know whether they should conduct spring training under the liberal substitution rule (1952) of the restricted substitution rule (1953).

The Texas Interscholastic League was forced to hold a referendum because of a permissive note inserted by the National Rules Committee in the NCAA rules that said high schools could by mutual agreement, adopt more liberal substitution regulations.

Texas high schools play under the NCAA rules.

The rules committee said it intended that interscholastic leagues could "by mutual agreement" adopt more liberal substitution regulations. But Texas Interscholastic League officials interpreted it differently. By the wording, the league said, any substitution rule they passed, and confusion would result in district play and chaos in inter-district play.

The Texas High School Coaches Association favors using the 1952 rules. President Abe Houston of the association said the 1953 rule was in direct conflict with the philosophy that football should reach as many boys as possible, that high schools did not have recruiting problems—or scholarships—and that the two-planet system was for the physical benefit of high school football players—it permitted substitutions that would allow boys to recover from fatigue that leads to injury.

The NCAA abolished the two-planet system in order to cut down the expense of football—having to carry so many boys on athletic scholarships.

Cleveland Faces Majors' Biggest Holdout Problem

By ED CORRIGAN
 AP Sports Editor

Four of baseball's top stars still were among the missing in spring training today and the prospects of their signing in the immediate future appeared slim.

The Cleveland Indians are faced with the biggest problem. Both outfielder Larry Doby and pitcher Early Wynn have yet to come to terms, and they have been served with ultimatum by General Manager Hank Greenberg.

It will require two weeks to hold the referendum, thus Texas high school coaches don't know whether they should conduct spring training under the liberal substitution rule (1952) of the restricted substitution rule (1953).

The New York Giants' captain, Alvin Dark, said at his Lake Charles, La., home that the front office was being "unfair," and that he intends to sit still.

And Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates and General Manager Branch Rickey (apparently have reached an impasse in their battle of words that has covered thousands of miles from Havana to Palm Springs, Calif.

Greenberg apparently won't be troubled with second baseman Bobby Avila, who is listed among the holdouts, much longer. For one thing, he didn't include Bobby in his warning to Doby and Wynn, and for another, Avila announced in his Vera Cruz, Mexico, home that he would join the Indians later this week.

Greenberg had this to say via refusal to Doby and Wynn: "Your failure to report to camp today makes you an official holdout. Considering generous treatment you have had from Cleveland baseball club over the years, your refusal to accept terms leaves me no alternative but to withdraw my last offer. Unless I hear from you within 24 hours all contractual negotiations will commence with last year's salary figures."

Wynn said he would talk to Greenberg, probably today, and Doby said he would request Greenberg's permission to join the Indians in Tucson, Ariz.

"It looks like Hank is threatening us to take his terms or else," Doby observed in his Paterson, N.J., home.

Dark said his dispute with the Giants doesn't have anything to do with talk of Manager Leo Durocher shifting him from shortstop to second base.

"The Giants don't want to pay me what I think I'm worth," he said. "But whoever got the idea I'm asking $40,000? The Giants have offered me one contract so far. That was back in December. It wasn't enough. I told them what I thought I was worth. Later, I offered to do a compromise. They haven't given in an inch and I do not think it's fair."

"There's no sense in my going to Phoenix and causing hard feelings. I haven't changed my mind about the whole thing."

"We haven't changed our attitude either," snapped Giant Vice President Charley Feeney.

Both Rickey and Kiner are waiting for the other to make a move in their dispute. Rickey had little to say in Havana, where the Pirates opened training yesterday.

"I believe it's up to him to contact me. I'm eager to get to spring training. The only thing holding me up is a contract and a salary."

Meanwhile, virtually all the clubs got down to serious training on the unofficial opening of the limbering up season.

Rice Seeking To Clinch Tie For Cage Title

By The Associated Press

Champion or co-champions of Southwest Conference basketball will be determined Tuesday night in games at Dallas and Fort Worth as Rice seeks a clinch tie for the lead against Southern Methodist and Texas and Texas Christian fight each other to see which ties Rice.

The three teams are deadlocked for the lead with 8-3 records and these two games are the last of the regular season.

If there is a tie for the championship, there will be a playoff to determine which goes to the NCAA Regional Tournament at Manhattan, Kans., March 13-14.

A crowd of more than 5,000 is expected at Fort Worth while Dallas is looking for more than 2,000 as SMU makes its bid to finish out of the conference cellar.

Middlecoff To Baton Rouge As Second Money Winner

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, $4,000 richer, headed for the Baton Rouge Open today as the second leading money winner of golf's winter tour.

The tall Tennessee won the tour's biggest prize yesterday with the biggest margin. Both Middlecoff and Mangrum among 1953's money winners. Mangrum has won $6,730, including $170 for a 23rd place tie here. Middlecoff has collected $6,271.66.

In winning his first tournament of the year, Middlecoff finished the playoff two strokes ahead of Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, and Young Shelby Mayfield, Cedarhurst, N. Y. Placing fourth was Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, who had a par 72. Fifth place went to Bill Nary, Los Angeles, with a 75.

Ferrier and Mayfield each received $1,950. Stewart took $1,200. Nary $1,100. Like Middlecoff, each indicated he will take part in the Baton Rouge Open this week.

The five had bent forward into the playoff after completing four tournament rounds over the 7,150-yard, par-72 Memorial Park course with five-under 293 scores. The players' share of the playoff gate receipts totaled $1,350, with each receiving $270.

It was obvious from the time he scored a one-under 4 on the 538-yard first that Middlecoff held the upper hand in the playoff. His only challenge came from Ferrier, who drew into a three-under, 33 deadlock with the Memphis dentist at the end of nine holes. Mayfield was even, Stewart and Nary one-over.

Middlecoff played each of the last nine holes at par. He saw three one-under putts miss by inches and got a break when his best shot on the 413-yard 14th struck a tree and bounced back into the fairway.

Other leading money winners for PGA-sponsored tournaments: Tommy Bolt, $5,375; Doug Ford, $3,834.17; Ted Kroll, $3,715; Chandler Harper, $3,655; Jack Burke, $3,559.29; Tony Holguin, $3,126.67; Johnny Bulla, $2,790.42; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, $2,735; Al Brosch, $2,694.29; Jerry Barber, $2,502; Ferrier, $2,342.15; Mayfield, $2,165; and Lew Worsham, $2,162.

All Places On SMU Team Are Wide Open

DALLAS (AP) — All places on the team were open, the head coach said, as Southern Methodist's Mustangs went through their second day of spring training today.

The new coach, Woody Woodard, was still learning the players' names as he sent 80 stalwarts through their first T-formations workouts.

Woodard, fresh from McPherson College, Kas., replaced H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who quit under fire from alumni Feb. 1.

Hatton Expects To Get Another Chance

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Grady Hatton, considered for months as one of the Cincinnati Reds' "expendables," in any trade, may get a chance to try and win his old third base job back again.

That was the hint yesterday as Manager Rogers Hornsby named Hatton to play third base for the "B" team in tomorrow's intrasquad game.

Eagles, Wesleyan In Playoff For NAIA

DALLAS (AP) — North Texas State meets Texas Wesleyan here tonight in the first round of a playoff to determine a Texas representative in the NAIA Basketball Tournament at Kansas City next week.

The winner of this game will meet East Texas State Thursday night to decide the issue.

Midwestern and Abilene Christian College will play at Stamford tonight to determine Texas' other representative in the NAIA Midwestern heat wayland College, 65-62, last night at Childress to eliminate that team.

Tiremen Take City Cage Title

The Phillips Tire Company quintet won the City Independent Basketball Championship last night with a 79-73 overtime victory over Webb Cadets.

The score was knotted at 64-all at the end of the regular on period. The Tiremen surged ahead in a free-scoring five-minute overtime.

Don Eesenwein meshed 35 of the Phillips points and was high-point man of the game. Lilly of the Cadets scored 24 points to lead his team.

Three Tiremen and two Cadets were named to an all-tournament team selected by officials. The squad includes Lilly and Johnson of the Cadets and Eesenwein, Parkins and Baker of Phillips.

Sooner Negro Star Is Now In Army

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The first Negro to play in the Sooner State Baseball League now is Army Private Napoleon Daniels.

Art Willingham, owner of the Class D Sherman-Denison Twins, thought he was getting a signed contract when he opened Daniels' letter yesterday.

Instead, the ace righthander started his letter "greetings" and told Willingham his new address is Fort Sill, Okla.

Daniels joined the Twins at mid-season last year and finished with a 13-win, 6-loss record.

St. Louis Takes Bid To NIT Tournament

NEW YORK (AP) — St. Louis University entered the National Invitation Basketball Tournament today free of any strings and Brigham Young, another tentative acceptor, appeared virtually certain to show up.

A closing-seconds field goal by Bob Hendrick of Oklahoma A&M last night simultaneously put the Aggies into the NCAA playoffs and St. Louis into the NIT. The goal gave the Aggies a 51-50 victory over St. Louis and their seventh Missouri Valley championship in 10 years.

Until its defeat, St. Louis had a chance to share the title and conference rules call for a playoff which would have kept the Billikins out of NIT competition. The Bills accepted an NIT bid Saturday with the privilege of backing out if they became involved in a conference playoff.

Meanwhile, Eddie Kimball, director of athletics at Brigham Young, said he hoped a possible Skyline Conference tie with Wyoming could be settled either by a flip of a coin or by a conference action. The champion is obligated to play in the NCAA Tournament. BYU, which holds a mathematical chance to tie with Wyoming, was invited to the NIT yesterday, completing the 12-team field.

Two more NCAA entries may be determined tonight from the Southwest and Border Conferences. Texas and Texas Christian, which are in a three-way tie for the lead with Rice, play each other while Rice meets Southern Methodist. The two games are the last on the conference schedule.

Hardin-Simmons meets Texas Tech tonight needing a victory to tie with Arizona for the Border crown. Arizona finished its schedule last night with a 65-51 decision over West Texas.

Trinity Golfers Win

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Trinity University golfers defeated Texas A&M, 4 and 2, yesterday. Ken Hulen of Trinity won medal honors with a 4-under-par 67. The match was the first of the season for both squads.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Manager Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox is getting a big lift out of the batting power shown so far by veteran catcher Del Wilber.

Class 'A' Cage Race Still Called Toss-Up

By The Associated Press

Favorites stand out in four of the classes—Poly (Fort Worth) in AAAA, South Park (Beaumont) in AAA, Bow in AA and Big Sandy in B—but Class A is considered a tossup in the Texas Schoolboy Basketball Tournament that opens in Austin Thursday morning.

The four teams in Class A—Denver City, White Oak, Troup and Deer Park—were considered so close together no one was seeded in this division.

Poly is defending champion of Class AAAA and returns to the state tournament with a gaudy 28-1 record. Pampa, however, has the top record—24 victories and no losses—and is considered Poly's toughest foe.

Poly plays Austin in the first round of the tournament while Pampa engages Austin of Houston. Austin has a 24-3 mark and Austin (Houston) 26-5.

In Class AAA, South Park comes to the big tournament with a 29-0 mark. Paris, however, has the best record, showing 24-2. Edison of San Antonio has 22-4 and the other team in the tournament—Vernon—has 25-8.

Edison plays Vernon and South Park meets Paris in the opening round.

Bowie is defending champion in Class AA. It is an overwhelming favorite over Dumas, San Marcos and Alvin, the other teams in this division. Bowie is unbeaten in 32 games.

Big Sandy is defending champion of Class B and it brings a 44-3 record to the state tournament. Cayuga is expected to be the team to meet Big Sandy in the final.

Teams in this class are Stinnett, Lipan, Blum, Cayuga, Big Sandy, Hutto, Pettus and Rankin.

The tournament schedule:

Thursday—8:45 a. m., Blum vs Pettus (Class B); 10:10 a. m., Cayuga vs Rankin (Class B); 11:30 a. m., Hutto vs Stinnett (Class B); 1:45 p. m., Big Sandy vs Lipan (Class B); 3:10 p. m., Deer Park vs White Oak (Class A); 4:35 p. m., Denver City vs Troup (Class A); 7:30 p. m., San Marcos vs Dumas (Class AA); 8:50 p. m., Bowie vs Alvin (Class AA).

Friday—8:45 a. m., Blum-Pettus winner vs Cayuga-Rankin winner (Class B); 10:10 a. m., Hutto-Stinnett winner vs Big Sandy-Lipan winner (Class B); 11:35 a. m., Consolation Class A; 1:45 p. m., Consolation Class AA; 3:10 p. m., South Park (Beaumont) vs Paris (Class AAA); 4:35 p. m., Edison (San Antonio) vs Vernon (Class AAA); 7:30 p. m., Pampa vs Austin (Houston) (Class AAAA); 8:50 p. m., Poly (Fort Worth) vs Austin (Class AAAA).

Saturday—8:30 a. m., Class B consolation; 9:50 a. m., Class AAA consolation; 11:10 a. m., Class AAAA consolation; 1:20 p. m., Class B championship; 2:40 p. m., Class AA championship; 4 p. m., Class AAA championship; 6:30 p. m., Class AAAA championship.

Fight Follows Seton Hall Loss

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A fist-swinging melee that sent two players to hospitals after Louisville's 73-67 basketball victory over Seton Hall last night was credited today to "a mistake among a couple of the players."

The "mistake," observers agreed, came dangerously close to touching off a bad riot. This was averted when an alert University of Louisville band struck up the Star-Spangled Banner.

Several players already had been drawn into the fist-swinging at the end of a closely-contested and roughly-played game that saw Seton Hall absorb its second straight loss after a record string of 27 victories.

Harry Brooks, Seton Hall guard who needed several stitches to close a lacerated lip, said the mistake partly was his.

He said Chet Beam of Louisville came rushing at him after the game "with his hands outstretched and hit me on the shoulder."

"I thought he was trying to hit me so I swung," Brooks related later. "But then Beam said, 'Hell, I don't want to fight. I just want to shake hands.'"

Brooks said he then suffered the stinging lick that tore open his lip and "it seemed everybody was fighting."

Also taken to the hospital was Louisville's Billy Sullivan, who was knocked down and suffered a big bump on the head. Mike Hanson of Seton Hall was knocked unconscious but didn't require hospital care.

Players mixed with spectators out of the crowd of more than 8,000 that turned out for the game and fired-up tempers were cooled off only when the strains of the National Anthem broke through the din.

Quarterback Club To Meet Thursday

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the high school study hall.

The regular meeting probably will include discussion of membership and other routine matters, officers have announced. All members and others interested in supporting public school athletic programs are urged to attend.

Lamesa Volleyball Team Here Today

Big Spring and Lamesa volleyball teams clash in three games at the high school gymnasium here this evening.

First game, between Big Spring Junior High and the Lamesa C team, is set for 6 p. m. B-team girls from the two schools will play at 7 and varsity squads will get their contest underway at 8 p. m.

The Big Spring girls will be out to avenge a defeat suffered earlier this year at the hands of the Lamesans. One ticket is good for all three of tonight's games.

C-C Directors Talk Variety Of Matters

Executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce Monday was empowered to make a decision on adaptation of rental space agreement made in planning construction of the Permian Building.

Directors took that action at the board meeting at noon. When the C-C made available its lot at Second and Scurry for the office building, an agreement was made with the Cooley interests, builders, to arrange for payment of this lot in rent. The chamber also agreed to assist in renting other space in the building. A decision on this matter will be handled by the executive committee.

The directors Monday also approved appointment of a committee, headed by John Coffee, to try to correlate a program between city, schools and the YMCA for summer recreation for youngsters. Emphasis will be placed on the needs of the North Side.

The board voted its support to a campaign to sell block-ticket books for Big Spring Bronco baseball games, and a special committee will handle this activity. This proposal was submitted by the executive committee, whose report said advance sales should be advocated this year to help stabilize professional baseball in Big Spring.

The Chamber agriculture committee, headed by R. V. Middleton, was instructed to make a thorough examination of the feasibility of helping inaugurate a caged-hen experimental battery here for the encouragement of increased egg production. Manager Jimmy Greene gave statistics on the need for more local eggs for local consumption, said the caged-laying battery idea might prove profitably adaptable.

A strong appeal for support of the public school program was delivered to the board by Supt. W. C. Blankenship, who urged visitations in classrooms during Public School Week. Announcement was made that the C-C had enrolled 18 new members during February.

Commissioners To Study Paving Warrant Proposals

Proposals for marketing of $100,000 worth of paving warrants will be studied by city commissioners this afternoon.

Opening of bids on the proposed warrants issue is scheduled for 5 p.m. The warrants are to be issued to finance the city's share in the cost of a big street-paving program planned for spring and summer months.

Commissioners authorized acceptance of bids on the warrants a week ago. All principal bond companies in the Southwest have been notified of plans for issuing the warrants and several proposals are expected.

The commission also may consider plans for the city-wide paving program which tentatively provides for the surfacing of 183 blocks of city streets. Meeting today is set for 5 p.m. at City Hall.

Murderer Now On FBI Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP)—David Dallas Taylor, a convicted murderer who has figured in four spectacular escapes from custody, today was put on the FBI's list of "10 Most Wanted Men."

Taylor, 28, is under a 20-year sentence in Alabama for the killing of a prison guard in a getaway from Walker County Jail at Jasper, Ala., in 1948. He was serving a grand larceny sentence at the time.

Caught shortly after this escape, he and another prisoner made a dash for liberty from the Atmore, Ala., prison camp in a stump truck in late 1950.

The FBI said he went to Memphis, Tenn., and although already married and the father of two children, got married again there and later showed up in Louisville, Ky., where he stole a number of payroll checks and a check-writing device from a construction company and started floating some $1,100 in rubber checks in various Southern cities, using the names Johnnie Cole and Charles J. Raymond.

The FBI caught him in Indianapolis in June, 1951, and he was sent to Draper Prison at Spelzner, Ala. There he joined 18 other prisoners in a mass break which involved the theft of all guns and ammunition in the prison vault. A year later, he was caught in Chicago while trying to sell a stolen car. Alabama authorities started him back to prison again in September, 1952, but in Birmingham he leaped from the train, handcuffed, and disappeared.

Taylor, tall and slender, is reported to carry constantly a gun and switch-blade knife. He is fair and blue-eyed, likes "Western" clothes, and has a 1 1/4-inch scar on the inside of his right forearm, the FBI said.

Oldest Civil War Veteran Still Alive After Surgery

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—James A. Hard, at 111 the oldest veteran of the Civil War, clung tenaciously to life today after losing his right leg in surgery.

Hard, who fought with the Union infantry at Bull Run, Chancellorsville and Antietam.

After discharge, he worked as a building contractor and veterans' pension attorney.

He is one of five living veterans of the Civil War. The other Union man is Albert Woolson of Duluth, Minn. Three served in the Confederate forces.

General Hospital early today reported his condition as "good" and said he had a "good chance of recovery." A surgeon called the amputation "very satisfactory."

The operation was Hard's second in 13 days. He was admitted to the Hospital Feb. 13, and surgeons cut a spinal nerve Feb. 18 in an effort to ease the foot ailment.

The cigar-smoking veteran, vigorous and alert despite his years, has a habit of pulling through. He survived a siege of pneumonia in each of the last two years.

Hard, one of two living Union veterans, enlisted at 19, four days after the attack on Ft. Sumter began the war. A private, he
