

Britain Takes Note Of Nazi Military Moves In Danzig

Maintaining Contact With Polish And French Governments, Chamberlain Tells House Of Commons

LONDON, July 3 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain informed the house of commons today that the British government had received reliable reports "intensive measures of a military character" were taking place in Danzig.

His statement marked the first time a British cabinet minister had mentioned publicly reports of Danzig activity.

In response to a question, the prime minister said: "A large and increasing number of German nationals have recently arrived in the free city, ostensibly as 'tourists' and a local defense corps is being formed under the name of 'Heimwehr'."

"The government are maintaining contact with the Polish and French governments regarding developments in Danzig."

(In Danzig, officials acknowledged Saturday "precautionary measures" had been taken and black-uniformed Danzig S. S. men were in complete charge of one hill and had partial control of another.

The police force had been augmented and men appeared wearing on their sleeves little bands with the legend "Heimwehr," which official quarters said indicated they were Danzig S. S. men who had volunteered for police service. Danzig officials insisted not a single German "with or without a uniform" was on duty in the free city.

(An Associated Press dispatch from the free city today said there were no signs of new developments of a military nature.)

Laborite Frederick Cocks then asked whether the governor proposed to take steps to inform Herr Hitler personally any attempt to change the status of Danzig by force will be instantly resisted by the British government."

Shouts of "That has been done" came from the conservative benches before the prime minister could reply. He said:

"The position has been made perfectly clear by the foreign secretary—an apparent reference to the speech by Lord Halifax last Thursday.

(Halifax then said "What is now See DANZIG, Pg. 5, Cl. 3

At the same time some sections of the press attributed strong rumors of a projected naval coup in the free city during the past weekend to a German attempt to test British and French firmness in what was called "a war of nerves."

There was speculation whether the British-French barrage of warnings had any effect in postponing or averting a crisis over Danzig.

But memory of the situation in May, 1938, four months before the Czecho-Slovak crisis, dampened any feeling of optimism in British circles.

About this time rumors swept Europe Germany planned a swift coup to bring the Sudetenland to the reich. Britain and France responded with military precautions and warnings. The result encouraged feeling in some quarters that Hitler had been "frightened off."

Yet the crisis came later, in September, and the Munich conference enabled Hitler to achieve dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia.

This dismemberment formed the keynote of today's explanations of why Danzig is so vital alike to Poland and Britain.

Similarity of all these explanations indicated they were a part of a British preparedness campaign.

The public was told Hitler was not interested in Danzig merely because it was a German city but for strategic reasons. He wants it, the British press said with one voice, because it would give him a stronghold on Poland and enable him to dismember that country the same way he broke up Czecho-Slovakia.

5 Negroes Die In A Smashup Near Midland

13 Others Hurt In One Mishap; State's Week-end Toll Up To 23

By The Associated Press

Deaths of five Midland negroes in a four-vehicle smashup near that West Texas city brought the toll of violent deaths in Texas over the week-end to 23.

Six Persons Shot

Six persons were shot; 11 were killed in automobile accidents; four drowned and two were killed by trains.

Thirteen persons, including six white persons, were injured in the Midland crash. Most seriously hurt was R. C. Knight, a Fort Worth watchmaker. His condition was fair today.

The negroes were reported moving side-by-side in two cars eight miles west of here when they met Knight's car. Each negro machine struck Knight's automobile, then careened down the road into a truck driven by Clint Williams of Breckenridge.

Williams was not hurt. In Knight's car were his wife and son, and his brother, E. N. Knight and Mrs. E. N. Knight.

The negroes killed were Fred Bass, 26; Alphonso Washington, 22; Altha Marshall, 26; Jessie Mae Masingill and Willie Lewis, 25.

Sam Houston, driver of one of the negro cars, was charged with negligent homicide by County Attorney M. F. Hines. Houston is in a hospital here.

Elsewhere over the state: Dr. D. L. Dodd was wounded fatally at Asperment; at Houston Policeman George E. Edwards and a man identified from fingerprints as Carl Adams of El Camp, were killed in a gun battle; Mrs. Johnnie Erwin, 25, was shot fatally at Austin; at Saratoga Deputy Sheriff James D. Reddick was shot fatally; at Dallas a man identified as L. J. Hollis was shot to death.

Alton Wilson, 28, of Newton, Tex., and three negroes, Kidy Lewis, 40; Roy Lewis, Jr., 3 and Edwain Jackson, 37, were killed in an auto collision a mile from Anahuac on Turtle Bayou road.

Newton M. Jones, 60, Pampa employe of the Santa Fe, was killed when his auto crashed into a bridge six miles south of Childress, and Mrs. Alice Southern, 54, was killed when an automobile overturned between Luling and Kingsbury.

John Brown, Jr., drowned at Dallas. Two Hemphill brothers, Jimmie Charles, 19, and James Lawrence Hammock, 12, drowned when they plunged into a bayou in an effort to rescue another boy, who reached safely.

Sergeant J. C. Rounds of headquarters, Eighth Corps area, Fort Sam Houston, drowned when a motor boat capsized off shore in Aransas bay at Rockport.

A man identified from papers on his person as Willis Britton Sweatman, 45, had his head severed by a train at Canadian, and J. F. Wyle, 55, was killed when a train struck an auto four miles south of Abernathy.

HELD IN JAIL Pat Duncan was held in the county jail Monday on a fugitive warrant from Weatherford officers.

FIVE-MONTH-OLD BADGETT QUADRUPLETS ARE LEARNING TO PLAY

The Badgett quadruplets—youngest in the country, and now five months old—are shown frolicking at their Galveston, Texas, home. They were born February 1, 1938, the heavyweight, now weighs 14 pounds. The others weigh 10. They are able to keep their heads up, coo, laugh, and even fight with each other. Train Hit By Landslide; 3 Killed

MOUNT VERNON, Ky., July 3 (AP)—Three trainmen were killed early today when a heavily loaded freight train was struck by a mountain landslide which hurled the locomotive into a creek and derailed ten cars.

The dead: E. J. Weaver, 58, engineer, Spring Lake, Ky.

William Goebel, 50, fireman, Covington, Ky.

Sam Long, 45, brakeman, Winchester, Ky.

The train was a Louisville and Nashville freight known as Number 46 on the main line between Knoxville, Tenn., and Cincinnati, O.

The accident occurred as the northbound train approached the village of Sinks, seven miles southeast of here. Mount Vernon is about 70 miles southeast of Lexington.

J. C. Nickerson, L. and N. division engineer from Cincinnati who came here to superintend the clearing of the double track, both covered by the slide, said he believed one track would be cleared by 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Nickerson said about 6,000 tons of rock, the largest slide in many years along the line, fell on the train as it passed.

Bodies of the three men were crushed beneath the overturned locomotive.

Traffic Toll At 211 Before The Holiday Starts

By The Associated Press

The nation's celebration of Independence Day, a holiday interval which began Saturday in many localities, already has cost at least 211 lives with more than half of them taken in traffic accidents.

Last year the total reported for the three day weekend was 556 and the year before that, 563. Automobile and motorcycle accidents claimed 119 lives, and 64 persons were drowned. Eight were fatally wounded and 11 killed in train accidents and three in plane mishaps. Other causes of death included falls, fire, stabbing, explosion, lightning, and a cave-in.

SHAW-WILKINSON TEST IS PLUGGED

Another wildcat test in western Howard county met with failure Monday as the T. G. Shaw No. 1-B Wilkinson, 800 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east line of section 19-34-1n, T&P, was ordered plugged at 4,704 feet.

It encountered a hole full of water below 4,678 feet. The test was the third to be abandoned in the area, and it was around 1,000 feet deeper than others.

KILLED BY HORSE

Mrs. W. D. McDonald and niece, Frances Tingle, received word today of the accidental death of Slim Robinson, their nephew and brother-in-law, in a rodeo at Flagstaff, Ariz. Robinson, who was serving as pick up man, was killed instantly when a bronco, whose rider he was relieving, tripped his own horse, pinning him underneath.

Congress Facing Bitter Disputes

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—This is the status of major legislation before congress at the start of its seventh month:

LENDING—President's $3,000,000,000 lending program for self-liquidating projects before committees.

NEUTRALITY—House passed measure containing arms embargo which administration opposes; senate still to act.

MONETARY—House approved continuation of president's emergency powers; senate votes Wednesday.

SOCIAL SECURITY—Extension of system awaits senate action after house passage.

FOURTHS—Hatch bill to curb political activity by federal workers passed by senate; house acts soon.

LABOR RELATIONS—House votes soon on proposal to investigate labor board; action on amendments to Wagner act in doubt.

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—The administration's neutrality and lending programs held the key today to congressional adjournment, with every indication of fresh rebellions over both issues.

Most legislators are out of the capital over the Independence Day recess, but those still at their desks predicted President Roosevelt would tell his lieutenants this week whether they should try to force through those two controversial measures or let the session end in mid-July. Leaders were reconsidering their strategy in view of house refusal to repeal the existing arms embargo and the Republican speech-making coup in the senate, which prevented immediate extension of the president's monetary powers. The senate will vote Wednesday on the monetary bill.

Japs Capture Record Money Soviet Hill

HSINKING, Manchoukuo, July 3 (AP)—Japanese army communiques today reported capture of a strongly fortified Soviet-Outer Mongolian position atop a strategic hill along the Khalka river after a heavy battle on the Manchoukuo-Mongolian frontier.

Reports from the Kwantung army, Japan's Manchoukuo garrison, said the attackers battled to the summit of the hill in the face of raking machine-gun fire, then locked in hand-to-hand fighting until the position was cleared.

They said airplanes were active on both sides.

The report of the offensive along the Khalka river southeast of Lake For, in a region where sporadic frontier warfare between Outer Mongolia and Manchoukuo has been waged since May 11, was the first to disclose infantry fighting.

Seek To Widen Farm Markets

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Administration farm officials expect to start a campaign soon to broaden markets at home and abroad for farm products.

The problem of crop surpluses and resulting grower dissatisfaction with prices and income will be considered.

To enlarge shrinking sales abroad, Secretary Wallace proposes in effect to buy back markets which, he declares, rightfully belong to Americans. He would offer exporters a bounty on cotton, wheat and possibly lard shipped abroad.

The decision to embark on this policy followed a sharp decline in exports of these products during the last several years.

Officials estimated about $130,000,000 will be spent this fiscal year in expanding home markets. Surpluses will be purchased and distributed among needy families and relief families in chosen cities will be given purchasing power, in the form of food stamps, with which to buy such commodities.

Officials said the stamp plan, now being tried experimentally in Rochester, N. Y., Dayton, O., and Seattle, Wash., may be extended to several score cities. Elsewhere surplus commodities would be distributed by welfare agencies.

While concentrating on efforts to enlarge farm markets, the agriculture department will continue present crop control programs.

Existence of an unwieldy surplus in cotton and smaller surpluses of most other crops make them necessary, officials said, if prices are to be maintained. Subsidies totaling $775,000,000 will be available to farmers restricting their planting in line with department programs.

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Setting a peacetime record, congress has authorized federal expenditures of $18,110,000,000 for the new fiscal year—$1,749,000,000 above last session's aggregate.

Legislative leaders pointed out a substantial part of the increase was due to factors over which congress had little direct control. These included such things as the mounting reserve funds for old-age pensions and the railroad retirement program.

So-called permanent appropriations—such as interest on the national debt—for which congress must provide stipulated amounts annually, amounted to $3,534,812,085 this year.

President Roosevelt criticized some of the increases, notably $338,000,000 which the senate tacked onto the agriculture department appropriation bill for parity payments to farmers and for disposal of surplus commodities. He held congress should provide taxes to raise the money.

Expansion of the army and navy in the face of troubled world conditions accounted for $1,783,187,847.

Well-informed legislators told the house the military forces would require $2,000,000,000 next year when the peak of the navy's construction program would be reached.

The appropriation for relief during the fiscal year, which started July 1 was $1,755,600,000, in contrast to $2,915,805,000 voted last session. One reason for the decrease was that funds for the Public Works Administration, rural electrification and parity payments to farmers, all of which were included in last year's relief bill, were provided separately this year.

KILLED IN CRASH

MIDLAND, July 3 (AP)—Bill Price of Andrews was killed today when his automobile was in collision with a truck 20 miles northwest of here.

FORT WORTH, July 3 (AP)—Sam H. Bothwell was named city manager of Fort Worth at a recessed meeting of city council here today.

Bothwell, city manager at Sweetwater for the past 12 years, succeeds Dudley L. Lewis, who was discharged last week.

Big Spring's city manager, E. V. Spence, was one of those appearing before the Fort Worth city council, on invitation of the councilmen, last week, after the dismissal of Lewis.

Spence was not an applicant for the Fort Worth post, but conferred with Fort Worth officials at the request, as did Bothwell, and one or two other men who were given preliminary consideration for the managership there.

GOVERNOR SEES NO NEED FOR A SPECIAL SESSION

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—Based on Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's opinion, there will be no need to dust off the chairs of senators and representatives in the Texas capitol until shortly before 1941.

In his radio broadcast yesterday the chief executive reinforced previous indications he would not order a special session for solving the social security financing problem.

He put it this way: "In my opinion the only way this social security program will ever be solved satisfactorily will be at the regular session, 15 months away, and the members here then to do the voting who are sincere and actually want to solve the problem and not merely

City Is Ready To Celebrate The Fourth

Big Spring people, along with the millions of others over the nation, were set today to observe the 163rd anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence with a round of festivities, visitation and rest.

Only semblance of a formal celebration here was the beauty revue scheduled at 8 p. m. at the city swimming pool when a representative will be chosen to compete in the Casa Manana sweetheart contest at Fort Worth. Dan Conley, director of the municipal high school band, was lining up his musicians for a brief concert preceding the revue. Twenty-two girls were entered in the event.

Otherwise, it looked like a restful day with picnicking, golfing, swimming, riding and other activities furnishing the day's diversion.

Preceding the holiday celebration, Ray Hummel's orchestra was to play Monday evening for a dance at the Settles hotel.

In this particular area, the rodeo minded had western shows at Stamford and Pecos to choose from. At the former, Jess Slaughter, Howard county sheriff, was to serve as a judge.

Followers of the fortunes of the Big Spring Barons were prepared to motor to Midland to witness a holiday double-header between the two teams.

Business in general was to be suspended here over the Fourth.

THREE BOYS SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL

Three lads, adjudged juvenile delinquents, were assigned two year terms in the state reform school at Gatesville by County Judge Charles Sullivan Monday.

Two of the boys were under parole to local club members for previous offenses. The other was held under two theft charges. A fourth boy was paroled to his father since his was a first offense.

One of the youths under parole was billed for stealing a bicycle from the man to whom he was paroled. The boys ranged in ages from 12 to 15 years.

Another Resignation

EATON ROUGE, La., July 3 (AP)—Acting President Paul Herbert of Louisiana State University said today he had accepted the resignation of George M. Caldwell, building superintendent of the school "for the best interests of the university."

Herbert said the top two percent reduction which Governor Earl K. Long had disclosed as being granted Caldwell on university construction projects, a procedure unauthorized by the university, was believed by Caldwell to have been entirely regular.

"Mr. Caldwell has stated," Herbert said, "that a fee of this character is usual on large construction projects and that he did not know that the payment was unauthorized."

"After serious consideration in view of the fact that the university building program is practically completed, Vice-President (Troy H.) Middleton and I decided that the best interests of the university would be served by requesting Mr. Caldwell's resignation, which resignation was tendered and accepted."

HENCKELLS' INFANT DAUGHTER SUCCUMBS

Word has been received here of the death of the daughter born to Rev. and Mrs. P. Walter Henckell at Baytown. The baby, born prematurely, lived but an hour.

It was reported Monday that Mrs. Henckell, who had been gravely ill, was doing as well as could be expected. The Henckells formerly lived here, he having served as rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church.

CORRIAN ENGAGED

SAN ANTONIO, July 3 (AP)—Biggest reason Douglas "Wrong Way" Corrigan refused to permit any romantic interest in his motion picture career came to light today with the announcement of the engagement to Miss Elisabeth Marvin of San Antonio.

Sam Bothwell To Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, July 3 (AP)—Sam H. Bothwell was named city manager of Fort Worth at a recessed meeting of city council here today.

Bothwell, city manager at Sweetwater for the past 12 years, succeeds Dudley L. Lewis, who was discharged last week.

Big Spring's city manager, E. V. Spence, was one of those appearing before the Fort Worth city council, on invitation of the councilmen, last week, after the dismissal of Lewis.

Spence was not an applicant for the Fort Worth post, but conferred with Fort Worth officials at the request, as did Bothwell, and one or two other men who were given preliminary consideration for the managership there.

PART OF PHILLIPS ESTATE TO BAPTIST INSTITUTIONS

WHERE? OH, WHERE, NEXT?

Relative and Baptist institutions shared in the division of the $100,000 estate of Mrs. M. L. Phillips, late widow of Hart Phillips, pioneer Howard and Glascock county rancher, it was disclosed today when her will was admitted to probate before Judge Charles Sullivan.

Bulk of the real property went to relatives, while the royalties from mineral rights on the Glascock land, which yielded oil and made Mr. and Mrs. Phillips comfortably wealthy, were applied to bequests to Baptist institutions including the East Fourth Baptist Church in Big Spring, the Bible department of Hardie, Simmons University; the Baptist mission in Curitiba, Brazil; Mexican Baptist church in Big Spring, Hendrick Memorial for crippled children, Abilene, and Buckner Orphans home, Dallas.

Glascock county lands, exclusive of mineral rights, were disposed of as follows: Section 14-32-2s, T&P, to Zinn, Katie and Nellie Phillips, children of J. C. Phillips; accounts owed by Emma Phillips, Alma Gordon and Stella Starke, cancelled; section 23 (240 acres) to O. O. Barons Set Up Double In Spitting Twin Bill

Tillinghast Is Tennis Victor

George Tillinghast pulled the major upset of the summer tennis season here Sunday afternoon when he defeated Harry Jordan, 6-3, 6-3, to take over the No. one ranking on the ladder of the Big Spring Tennis association.

Jordan had defeated Tillinghast in tournament play two weeks ago and had been heavily favored to turn the trick again but Tillinghast had all the shots necessary to win.

In another major shuffle J. H. Brown edged past Harold Harvey in the fight for the fourth spot by winning over the veteran, 6-0, 6-2. Harvey dropped to No. 5. Brown Friday had defeated Jack Penrose, 6-4, 6-3, dropping Penrose to the sixth seeded post.

Avery Paulkner gained the eighth ranking post by gaining a default from Lewis Coffey. Coffey was dropped to No. 11.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRETT

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Tag Boston College (along with Fordham, Cornell and Brown) as the football teams to watch in the next season... All reserved pews for "Lou Gehrig Day" at the stadium tomorrow were sold out a week ago... Jack Dempsey was put in Max Schmeling's old room at Polyclinic hospital because it overlooks Madison Square Garden where both are pretty well known.

Ain't it the truth?
Willard Mulling sums it up nicely in the World-Telegram... He says the guy who beats Louis must have the punch of a young Beau, the speed of a Frazier, the youth of a Nova, the confidence of a Galante, the coolness of a Schmeling, the durability of a Farr and the heart of a Braddock.

Note to seven American League clubs: The Tanks are aiming to win their fourth straight pennant by 25 games... Maxie Rosenbloom heads a group of Hollywood fans which proposes to pay the $200 fine the Coast League slapped on Bill Cissell... Bill, you know, had an idea free speech was standard equipment in this country.

One minute interview:
Maxie: "I've equalled Lou Gehrig's record — backwards... I've missed the most consecutive games."
Herbert Hickman, line coach at N. C. State, is about to weaken and go back to Tennessee and his old boss, Maj. Bob Neyland... George Preston Marshall says the only thing wrong with baseball is too many air conditioned rooms... (Being a football magnate, he should know)... Those all-star teams just won't look right minus the Messrs. Hubbell, Gehrig and Gehring.

Today's guest star:
Jim Schlemmer, Akron (O.) Heacon-Journal: "Last night's ruckus probably was the first heavyweight title fight in which the Women's Christian Temperance Union backed one of the gladiators... The W. C. T. U. was in Louis' corner and naturally should feel quite elated over having picked a winner."

Jamicek Gains 7th Victory In Opener

Midland Here Again Tonight In Ladies Night Fracas

By HANK HART

Shifting the responsibility to his shoulders after relieving a trying situation in the fourth round, Art Gigli lost his effectiveness with experience and pitched just long enough to be charged with his fourth loss of the campaign as the Midland Cowboys decided the Big Spring Barons in the tag end of a twin bill here Sunday afternoon, 13-8.

The Barons had captured the initial fray, 5-3, behind the smooth elbowing of Louis "Lefty" Janicek, who coasted to his seventh triumph in eight starts.

The Barons showed little respect for Tex Nugent, mound veteran of the season.

INSETT JANICEK WINS

One of the games of the scheduled double header between the Big Spring Barons and the Midland Cowboys Tuesday will be played at night, according to Bob Cook, president of the local club. The first game will begin at 8 o'clock, the other at 8:30.

many baseball wars. In the opener, making most of their eight hits count. They put together triples by Tex Walton and Pat Stacey, a single by Billy Capps and Rudy Beban's home run to count four runs their first time out. That was all the working margin Janicek needed.

New Record

He did something work in scattering seven Midland blows and eased through crisis after crisis with the help of some of the greatest fielding ever seen in the local plant. With Don Wolin as the keyman, the Barons pulled no less than six double plays in the lone inning affair to set up a new record in WT-NM league play. Previous standard was five.

A walk to Petzold, Cox's two base blow and Everson's single gave the invaders their two runs in the fourth chapter.

Billy Capps clipped Nugent for a mighty circuit smash in the sixth inning, the blow clearing the left field yard with yards to spare. It was Capps' 14th circuit smash of the season.

Gigli succeeded Edson Bahr on the hill for the Barons, coming in as the Barons trailed, 5-3. He appeared to be very much in the running as the Big Spring attack shelled Joe Piet, Midland twirler, with a fourth stanza outbreak that deadlocked the tally but the Killer lasted just two rounds. A four hit, three-run outbreak in the sixth routed him in favor of Jodie Marek who finished up.

The Cowhands showed little respect for Marek, bombarding him for four additional runs in the seventh.

Plenty of Hits

The Barons rocked Piet's defense with an 11-hit assault but the Cincinnati right-hander held them in check most of the distance.

Of the 18 hits the Waddies garnered, Jim Kerr had a double and three singles to set the pace with Cox, Petzold and Hale getting three each.

Marek was scheduled to go back to the mound this evening for the Big Springers as the two teams open the first game of the local series, Ladies Night in the feature.

Either Tom Vickers or Bill Brown, a former Baron, are slated to toe the slab for the visitors.

The two teams move to Midland Tuesday for an Independence Day double header, play a single game there Wednesday.

Dempsey Better

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—There's no need to worry any more about Jack Dempsey. He'll lick Kid Aepic just as surely as Tony Galento kayped "dat bum amonnia."

The former heavyweight champion practically had his rival, who gave him a worse scare than Luis Angel Firpo did 16 years ago, down for the count today. He passed the "crisis" without incident in his recovery after an emergency appendicitis operation Thursday night. And the main problem the doctors and nurses at Polytechnic hospital were having was keeping the old man mauler in bed.

Yesterday afternoon he had recovered sufficiently to ask if he couldn't call up some friends and talk about his operation, but he admitted that after the operation he had thought he "was a loser."

He dictated a note of appreciation to the thousands who had sent messages of cheer.

An estimated 10,000 telephone calls had been received at the hospital and at Dempsey's two restaurants. Newspaper switchboards were swamped with calls of inquiry. Dempsey expects to remain in the hospital about ten days.

Elwood Cooke Upsets Briton

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, America's top player, and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., reached the semi-finals of the all England men's tennis championship today, while the United States' female contingent of three swept intact into the women's quarterfinals.

Riggs, playing better than at any time since he began his invasion of Europe, breezed through Chaus Mohammed of India 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. After a four-hour battle, Cooke, a walk to Petzold, Cox's two base blow and Everson's single gave the invaders their two runs in the fourth chapter.

Billy Capps clipped Nugent for a mighty circuit smash in the sixth inning, the blow clearing the left field yard with yards to spare. It was Capps' 14th circuit smash of the season.

Gigli succeeded Edson Bahr on the hill for the Barons, coming in as the Barons trailed, 5-3. He appeared to be very much in the running as the Big Spring attack shelled Joe Piet, Midland twirler, with a fourth stanza outbreak that deadlocked the tally but the Killer lasted just two rounds. A four hit, three-run outbreak in the sixth routed him in favor of Jodie Marek who finished up.

The Cowhands showed little respect for Marek, bombarding him for four additional runs in the seventh.

PAUL WANER SUES RADIO COMMENTATOR

DEDHAM, Mass., July 3 (AP)—Paul G. Waner, Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder, filed suit through counsel today in Norfolk county superior court, seeking damages of $50,000 from John J. Stevens, a commentator, for alleged slander May 1 in a broadcast over a chain of New England radio stations.

The suit was based on the allegation the broadcast falsely implied he was playing as a member of the Pittsburgh baseball team and had injured his reputation and had exposed him to "public hatred, contempt and ridicule."

Contracts On Planes Soon To Be Let

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Economies through mass production have raised hopes of some army officials for an air corps of 6,000 planes within two years.

Congress authorized such a trebled force as a maximum in the $300,000,000 air corps expansion now in full swing, but funds it made available were officially estimated to be sufficient for only 5,500.

Whether the additional aircraft can be acquired with available money is expected to be determined through contracts to be let this week for more than 2,500 planes of ten types.

The contracts to follow, possibly by end of the month, will represent by far the largest orders the aviation industry ever has received. In 1938, when congress heard Germany was turning out 1,500 war planes a month, American manufacturers delivered only 100.

Officials are enjoined to silence by a new policy of safeguarding military information but it has been recorded that 768 planes ordered up to June 1 included 527 single-engine pursuit craft and about 190 attack bombers. Both are credited unofficially with speeds at least approaching 400 miles an hour.

The ten types to be ordered next are: Light primary, basic and advanced training planes; two and four-engine bombers, one and two-engine interceptor pursuit planes, murtiple fighters, and observation craft.

On the basis of recent orders, the costs will range upwards from $5,000 to $10,000 for training planes to $250,000 for the heavy bombers such as the present 17-ton "Flying fortresses."

Training of men to fly and service the new craft started Saturday at nine scattered civilian schools where primary instruction is to be given to 296 cadets. They will be transferred to Randolph and Kelly fields, Tex., for their advanced training.

Some 2,124 additional fliers and about 18,000 mechanics and other specialists must be training within the next two years.

It May Be The Heat But Some Of Stars In Major Leagues Refuse To Get Along

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

All that most major league players want is a fighting chance and they'll keep baseball safe from classification as a parlor sport. That was demonstrated yesterday in a rough-house 15-game program for 126,333 patrons at eight parks.

Three contests were punctuated by fighting, firecrackers and pop bottles and in another three players were injured. But with there was considerable good baseball and a realignment of standings in both leagues.

In the National the leading Cincinnati Reds divided a double bill with the Chicago Cubs, winning the first, 11-4, and booting the second, 9-8, to enable the Cubs to climb into third place ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who were beaten twice by Pittsburgh, 8-5 and 6-3.

In the American old Moses Grove of the Boston Red Sox handcuffed the New York Yankees in one half of the doubleheader, 7-3, but the champions broke loose to win the nightcap, 9-3. The Washington Senators took care of shuffling the standings by whipping the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-3 and 13-2.

Greenberg Fined

Detroit had only one game, but put on the best show even aside from the fact Tommy Bridges pitched a four-hitter against the Chicago White Sox to win his 11th of the season, 5-1.

As an aftermath to Saturday's slugging of Joe Kuhel by Hank Greenberg, which brought a fine of $50 for Greenberg and an admonition from President William Harbridge to the White Sox for "insulting and abusive language," Manager Jimmy Dykes emptied his dugout yesterday.

He sent all the Sox players who weren't actually in the game out to the centerfield bull pen where they couldn't see the Tigers. Then in the fourth inning Umpire Ed Moller called a disagreeable third strike on Eric McNair, who threw his bat high into the air and was quickly banished. This caused Dykes to forget about the chastening of his team's language and he and Pitcher Ted Lyons were soon flagged off the field, too.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Boston Bees and Merrill May of the Phillies punched each other and were expelled at Philadelphia after May had collided with Shortstop Ed Miller of the Bees in trying to prevent a double play. Boston won both games—the first 9-7 when Al Lopes hit a homer with the bases loaded and the second 4-3 as Miller homered with two on.

Foot Race

Fire-crackers popped and pop-bottles were fired from the rafters of the Polo Grounds as Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and big Zeke Bonura, the usually amiable first baseman of the Giants, fought for the mixed-weight championship of New York.

The Dodgers won the first game, 3-2, on Luke Hamlin's six-hit pitching but lost the second, 6-4, to a home run barrage in which Bonura participated. Durocher stepped on Zeke's ankle in a play at first base in the nightcap and Bonura went berserk, throwing the ball and his glove at Durocher, then chasing him to the outfield to get a punch.

Like most baseball fights, nobody got hurt in these goings on. But at Boston they had real injuries. First, catcher Gene Desautels of the Red Sox was bowled over tagging Tommy Henrich at the plate and had to retire for the day with a cut mouth. Then, young Bobby Doer was struck on the elbow by one of Lefty Gomez's pitches and taken to a hospital. Finally Henrich smashed into the bleacher wall and cut a gash in his head trying to field Ted Williams' home run.

Four stitches were required to close the wound, but the hospital said neither he nor Doer were seriously hurt.

Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns split a bargain bill, each game being won by five-hit pitching. Howard Mills got his performance down first as the Browns won 4-3, while Mel Harder took the nightcap, 8-2.

In sweeping their St. Louis series the Pirates moved into a fifth-place tie with the Dodgers.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

If there ever was any doubt about Don Wolin's fielding ability, the young Baron shortstop erased it Sunday as he developed as the key man in the Big Springers' assault on the WT-NM league's double play record.

Given amazing cooperation by Bobby Decker and, of course Curdie Loyd, the Hollywood youngster supplied the throng of 1200 who looked on a succession of major thrills as he figured in on less than six of the twin killings, which better by one the previous mark established by Lubbock last year. Wolin took occasion on the last play of the game to shatter the mark, taking L. Parma's ground ball to force Joe Saporito at second base with Bobby Decker taking the throw. Robin in turn whirled and tossed to Loyd at first in plenty of time to effect the second out.

Decker started double plays in the first and fifth innings, Wolin began his in the second and seventh while Lefty Janicek, twirler, opened one in the third.

Wolin selected the initial frame of the aftermath to pull his most amazing play of the game, however. He went far to the right to take Lynn Everson's line drive, making the catch completely off balance, then straightened to double Jim Kerr off first base.

The Californian has been the life of the party since he's been around. The Barons have pulled no less than 15 double killings in the last four games which should set some sort of a record.

Bating and fielding averages of first half play of the WT-NM loop will appear in an edition of The Daily Herald later this week.

Little Shoots 69 To Lead In Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 3 (AP)—Husky Lawson Little, former U. S. and British amateur champion, tamed the unruly old course of St. Andrews by shooting a first-round 69, four under par, today to tie Jim Bruen of Ireland and Percy Allis, former British Ryder cupper, for the lead in the first qualifying round of the British open golf championship.

Meanwhile Reginald Whitcombe, the defending champion, played smoothly in touring the new course in 72, even par, and seemed sure of a place in the championship proper unless he should blow up completely tomorrow.

Despite ideal conditions, most of the scores continued to range in the middle seventies.

Mack Winning Illness Fight

PHILADELPHIA, July 3 (AP)—Although still in serious condition, Connie Mack, beloved dean of baseball, appeared today to be winning his fight against the illness which forced his return home from Boston on a stretcher.

Roy Mack, son of the veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, reported last night his father showed "marked improvement" since he returned home and even had asked outcome and attendance of the two games the Athletics lost to Washington yesterday.

The younger Mack, vice president of the Athletics, blamed recurrence of his 76-year-old father's gall bladder ailment on excitement caused by the 15-home run double header drubbing inflicted on the Athletics by New York last Wednesday, a heavy meal he bolted afterward and listening to the Louis Galante fight that night.

Physicians have diagnosed the ailment which felled Mack Thursday as the same that nearly caused his death late in 1937.

BUFFS STILL AT CIRCUIT'S TOP

By the Associated Press

San Antonio's Missions beat Beaumont Exporters 6-4 last night to strain past Houston in the Texas league race, then fell back again into second position as the Exporters retallied 13-5 in winning the second game of a doubleheader.

Shreveport's Sports had made the occasion opportune for the Missions by beating Houston 8-2 in a game called after the sixth because of rain.

Tulsa's Oilers, downing Dallas Rebels 6-5 and 3-1 kept the Rebels in third place, only one game ahead of Shreveport and Fort Worth, tied for fourth through the latter's 6-0 and 3-2 wins from Oklahoma City.

Calvin Dorsett of Fort Worth was kept from pitching a no-hitter in the first game by Second Baseman Don Kolloway's opening inning double.

BALLOTING FOR ALL-STAR GAME TO START SOON

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Football fans throughout the country will begin selection of the college all-star squad Saturday for the annual game with the national pro league champions in Soldier Field the night of Aug. 30.

Only college seniors of last season are eligible for participation. Proceeds go to charity. Their opponent this year will be the New York Giants.

The Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the contest, will be affiliated with 326 other newspapers and radio stations in selection of the collegians in the poll.

87 YEARS AT HOME

MT. VERNON, Ill., July 3 (AP)—After 87 years in the same log cabin, John Mills thinks there's no place like home. Mills admitted to 102 years on his birthday anniversary today.

His children are George, 71, who never has been away from home more than a week, and Julie, 65, a retired school teacher.

In the 96 years he has held the title to his 155-acre farm it never has been mortgaged nor tax delinquent.

TEXANS DEFEAT AKNUSTI 13-6

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Cecil Smith, riding in his hell-bent-for-leather style, led a team of Texans to the Meadowbrook club 20-goal polo tournament yesterday.

The undefeated Lone Star state team rallied to rack up seven goals in the late minutes of their game with the Aknusti quartet and come away with a 13-6 victory.

BS GOLFERS ROUT ODESSANS

The Big Spring Sand Belt golf team's drive toward a league championship gained momentum Sunday with a 25-13 victory over the strong Odessa team in matches played at the local course.

Led by Shirley Robbins, who defeated Eddie Morgan, 3 and 2, the locals swept all but two individual duels.

Robbins fired a 76 at Morgan while his partner, Guy Rainey, had a 71 in disposing of Al Strawn, 6 and 6. The Big Spring pair won low ball laurels, 5 and 4.

J. Sikes, Odessa, defeated D. F. Walk, 3 and 1, but Jim Beigler, Big Spring, edged Percy Williams, Odessa, 4 and 3, and Big Spring won low ball honors, 6 and 5.

Sammy Behm and Bill Barker, parts of the Polo Grounds as Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and big Zeke Bonura, the usually amiable first baseman of the Giants, fought for the mixed-weight championship of New York.

The Dodgers won the first game, 3-2, on Luke Hamlin's six-hit pitching but lost the second, 6-4, to a home run barrage in which Bonura participated. Durocher stepped on Zeke's ankle in a play at first base in the nightcap and Bonura went berserk, throwing the ball and his glove at Durocher, then chasing him to the outfield to get a punch.

RETAINS TITLE

TOPEKA, Kas., July 3 (AP)—Bobby Curtis, Rice Institute freshman, finished this year's Jayhawk tennis tournament just as he did the 1938 event—on top.

He whipped Lindsay Franklin, Topeka, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1 in yesterday's finals.

The junior singles title also went to Texas. Ben Nixon, University of Texas sophomore, defeating his twin brother, Tom, 6-2, 7-5, 2-6, 6-2. Ben also won the men's singles contest, downing Tom Chittenden, Topeka, 6-2, 8-8.

Words Get Nothing

As the one hundred and sixty-third anniversary of the Declaration of Independence draws near, England seems in greater difficulties than when George III and Frederick, Lord North, thought to crush the American Colonies as they had theretofore overcome every individual and nation that had opposed their course.

No one can blame Britain for not wanting to fight. No one knows better than Britain, nor has learned at greater cost, that war is terrible. But in this day nations that make claim to leadership, to independence, must be prepared to fight and must fight at the right time.

Today's situation was plainly forecast when Mussolini began his raid on Ethiopia. That was the time to have stopped him and to have given Hitler cause to think. It would have meant war, but a war so brief and so inexpensive in blood and money that it would have seemed a dress parade beside the one that now appears imminent.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The clearance of slums on Manhattan's east side is getting the acclaim of everyone except the people who live there. They themselves cheered the idea while it was still an idea. But when it came right down to moving their families and belongings from those ancient firetraps, the people balked.

They all had plenty of reasons—but when they were boiled down they amounted practically to this: why be in a hurry? Why move now? Where will we find new lodgings with patient landlords? Our children will have to change schools. And many of us were born here. We've lived here for generations. It's home. No matter where we go we shall in all likelihood have to pay more than we are paying now.

One of the districts now being razed is Corlears Hook Park. Everybody welcomed the idea until a date for abandonment was fixed. They began moaning. They signed petitions, made entreaties to the Mayor, but it was no soap. Those vile old rat holes will have to come down. In their place will rise new and modern apartment houses. It will mean a cleaner and more wholesome environment for children. Meanwhile, the moaning and groaning continues. So does the process of rehabilitation.

Don't try to call upon Mayor LaGuardia at his home unless you're armed with a personal invitation. You won't get in. And you'll find a cop at the door to see to it that you don't get in.

As a matter of fact, there's a cop there 24 hours a day. You may not see him at first. He may be standing around the corner, or in a nearby doorway. But as soon as you head toward the street entrance of Hizonor's apartment building, the bluecoat will challenge your presence.

However, should you be so fortunate as to get yourself an invitation to call at the LaGuardia domicile, we'll tell you that it's on the top floor of a 10-story apartment house at Fifth avenue and 104th street. It's on the edge of Fifth avenue's aristocratic section. Just one block north of the Mayor's address lies one of the roughest, toughest neighborhoods in all Manhattan. For, like Park avenue, the upper section of Fifth avenue is no bargain.

Mayor LaGuardia, however, says he's lived in this same neighborhood for years and he doesn't want to move. Of course there were no badlands near when Mr. LaGuardia first took up a residence in the territory.

Anyway the Mayor spends a lot of his time in various summer homes, traveling and, in general, staying away from home.

Have you ever noticed those three flanges, or ridges, along the rounded steel bumpers of every subway and elevated railroad car in New York? Well, they're not there as mere trimmings. In case of an collision, the flanges of one car interlock with the flanges of the next and the cars can't telescope. It's a simple idea, but an effective one. It has doubtless saved many lives.

It was thought up some 30 years ago by a young car designer who is still collecting royalties from the patent.

The department of agriculture was formed in 1849 under President Grover Cleveland and its secretary was given a place in the cabinet.

The Timid Soul

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

Chapter 24 REVIEWING THE TROOPS The Saturday slated to end the game of North, South, East and West was a blue and gold arrangement notable for cloudless skies and a horrible exodus of citizenry from New York. Over the spectacle of these steaming millions embarking for the country to participate joyously in sunburn and mosquito bites, the perpetrator of this chronicle proposes to draw a merciful veil. It is his intention, rather, to leap chamois-like over the intervening hours and arrive at eight o'clock in the evening.

Pausing at this witching hour to review the troops, as it were, we first find that classy and dilettante-ish gentleman, Mr. Van Rypper Harkness, parking his snooty Isotta-Franchini before the apartment house of Miss Dorothy South. The appearance and mien of Mr. Harkness were of the lightest. A flower flowered in his buttonhole and a song trembled on his lips. In fact, though Mr. Harkness was not aware of it, his demeanor was comparable to that of a lamb frisking on the fringes of a wolf-haunted forest.

The reason such a comparison is tenable was the presence of an unobtrusive sedan parked across the street from Miss South's apartment house. Occupying the front seat of this vehicle were two gentlemen who had been watching the progress of Mr. Harkness with considerable interest. As he disappeared into the house the man behind the wheel, a short, powerfully-built individual, spat professionally out of the window of the car, took off his gray felt hat and fanned himself with it.

"Well, dere he goes," observed Mr. Ape Coletti. "Wot's next, guv'nor?" In the seat beside him Chiseler Jennings made a gesture of annoyance.

"You have your orders, Coletti," he said testily. "Wait till they plumb the ABCs. 'Dat hoty-toty joy-wagon over dere at de colb S'posin'..."

The Chiseler flung an irritated arm heavenward—"Why is it," he moaned, "that I have to undertake a mission like this accompanied by a spay-footed Wop with a head full of saw-dust? You're a fool, Coletti. Now stop supposing and shut up. As for the car, don't lose it."

At this point the figures of Miss Dorothy South and Mr. Van Harkness appeared in the lighted entrance of the apartment house. The Chiseler's left hand gripped Coletti's knee hard. In silence, they gazed across the street.

So far as could be seen over the width of the thoroughfare, Miss South was garbed with a view to participation in gala proceedings. A black evening gown of the clinging variety enveloped her svelte figure. The upper portion of this garment was concealed by a white coat of operatic aspect. Miss South clutched its folds about her as she elbowed daintily into the Isotta. Her mood, too, appeared to be in keeping with the scene. A trill of silvery laughter reached the ears of Coletti and the Chiseler. Then Harkness was up beside her and the Isotta glided off in the direction of the East River.

The Chiseler nodded approvingly. "Smart girl, Dorothy," he stated. "A consummate actress. She has brains, Coletti. Which is more than I can say for one of the sons of your old man." He broke off and glared at Coletti who, as yet, had done nothing constructive toward keeping the Isotta in view. Well, come on, you dumb ginney, get going. What are you, planted here?"

Thus admonished the Ape made a wild dive for mechanisms. His feet trod on starter and clutch almost simultaneously and his right hand shot toward the gear shift. The sedan bounced away from the curb with a banshee-like screech.

Before setting back in his seat, the Chiseler permitted himself one more comment. "That's right, dear," he said acidly. "Strip the gears! All we need now is for you to put the car on the blink."

Jumbo, The Weight Maker It now falls to the unhappy lot of this chronicler to report a perfectly sickening conversation that took place between two moon-struck members of the younger generation on that popular Long Island highway known as the Jericho Turnpike.

Jumbo: Darling? Luella: Yes, Angel-Pie. Jumbo: I can hardly believe it, sweetness. I think I must be dreaming. Luella: You're not dreaming, lambie. It's true. Love your Luella? Jumbo: Boy, do I? Luella: How much? Jumbo: This much. (Business of stopping car. Business of monkey business. Pause. Discreet Pause.) Luella (finally): Oughtn't we be getting on, sweetheart? Jumbo: I don't want to go any place. I'm in Heaven right now. Luella: But—the party? Jumbo: Oh, yes—the party. I forgot about the party. Love me, honey? Luella: Uh-huh. Jumbo: Just one more, then. Just one. Luella: Mmph—mmp! Gweedy! I'll piggie can't have any more. Jumbo: Aw, pweas. Jes one! Luella (a wondrous weakening): Wee—ll—

(More monkey business.) Jumbo (softly): Who's my baby? Luella: It better be me. Or manna spank. Jumbo Darlingest. Luella: Honeybunch. Jumbo: Sugarplum. Luella: Lambikins. (And so on ad nauseam.)

And this was the low estate to which Jumbo Cutler, even afterwards to be known as Jumbo the Weight-Maker, had fallen. For, despite his pitiful digressions at the bar of one, Monyban; despite the fact that, shortly before the weighing-in, he had eaten a bullock (whole) with side dishes; and despite the fact that Tacks Adams had heavily deserted him at the weigh-in with the job half-finished, Jumbo had passed the acid test of the drugstore scales cum laude. By what miracle this had come to pass Jumbo himself was unprepared to say. But come to pass it had, and he was wholly satisfied. It was not for such a he, he reasoned, to probe the mysteries of the gods. And the gods had given him a fifteen pound weight reduction, according to the drugstore scales, and Luella West Wherefore Jumbo had bestowed a fond, if dazed, look upon the drugstore scales and a fonder one upon Miss Luella West. How it had ever come about, he didn't know. But he supposed that, if truth were told, the Cutlers were just born to win, that was all.

My Hero Thinking back now upon his triumph in the pharmacy, Jumbo was minded to indulge in a little discreet boasting. "I'll bet, sweetheart," he said, starting the car, "that you never thought I'd get that poundage off! Luella's eyes shone brightly through the gloom. "Why, darling," she said softly, "I never doubted it for a moment."

Jumbo laughed, a conqueror's laugh. "That's the spirit," he said. "At the old fight. Never doubt me. When I set out to do a thing I do it up brown!"

"Yes, dear," said Luella dutifully. "For instance," Jumbo continued, "you stipulated that I take off ten pounds. Well, just to show you, I chucked off fifteen, didn't I?"

"Yes, dear," said Luella. "Why, do you know?" went on Jumbo, "that I spent half of yesterday afternoon sitting in a sweater—a baking box just to play it safe? A pal of mine—you'll meet him tonight—was running the box. And what does the ape-face do but run off right in the middle of everything and leave me cooking there. But for one of the club's bell-hops who heard me hollering, I'd have been in there for hours!"

Donlevy—that frequent bad man of the movies—has worked out his own system for coping with the evil, and he claims it works. He settles the matter, before the waiter appears, by suggesting a friendly wager. You know, a little fun just between us, and the loser—heh, heh!—pays.

Simple wagers, too. "Bet you the check you can't strike 20 paper matches—and get a light in one strike each." Simple, sure. (But watch out. After a dozen perfect strikes, the striker gets nervous—and the check.)

Or "Bet you I can cut a hole in a paper napkin and walk through it." Aw, you're kiddin'. No! I'm not. Well, show me, O.K., then. Waiter, a pair of scissors, please, with the check. Aw, you're still kiddin'. Snip, snip, snip. "Well, ps!, thanks for the lunch."

It's unfair, it's demoralizing, it's mortifying. But he has other angles. Such as mental tests. Name the 48 states—in ten minutes. "Now which three did I leave out? Oh, yes—Texas, Idaho, California, dammit!" And memory tests: whose picture is on the blue tax stamp on your cigarette package? Which President's faces are on your $5, $10, and $20 bills? (WHOSE bills?) And whose face is on what postage stamp, and so on.

(Friendly tip: Take your problems to Donlevy—but not at lunchtime!) The Appalachian trail for hikers extends for 2,000 miles along the crest of the Appalachian range from Mount Katahdin in Maine to Mount Oglethorpe in Georgia. Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Every once in a while a wrathful Congress cracks down on one of those pleasant ways of making money in this racket-gorged city and so it did to the profitable business of peddling lists of big salary names.

After all, Barnum made a good living for a long time exploiting suckers. He played for the low priced variety with his dime-a-throw sideshow. In Washington the best money is to be had from wealthier contributors, although a long list of dollar-a-year contributors is not to be sniffed at.

The latest racket to be knocked off was the distribution of lists of people earning high salaries in industry. In a way, the present administration was responsible for the evil. Three years ago, in an energetic hunt for tax dodgers and in an effort to show that big money continued to go to executive help while labor was being exploited or something, there was enacted a law requiring publication of names of people with salaries of $15,000 a year or more.

Lists published Newspapers published the lists as they were released but that wasn't the end of it. An enterprising Washington agency compiled them again and offered them to magazine circulation agencies and other potential buyers. A nicely tabulated list of people earning $15,000 a year, a valuable "sucker list," could be had for $50. The trifling Arizona list could be had for 50 cents while the New York list cost $17.50.

The publication of such lists always has been a pain to the upper salary brackets. It is embarrassing back home to be marked up that way and senators and representatives have been hearing much about it in the mail.

Senator Danaher, of Connecticut, took the case to the Senate and without much opposition attached an amendment to the tax bill prohibiting circulation "for sale" of such lists. He specifically exempted newspapers, which was a safe enough bet of course, as they would not re-publish the lists since they already had published them.

It is always a source of surprise to this city's innocent bystanders when it hears of some new revenue raiser suffering from exposure. Only recently the Associated Gas and Electric paid $55,000 to a Washington representative for services so intangible that the Securities and Exchange Commission held an hilarious hearing to learn about it.

SOME HONEST SERVICES People claiming, honestly or otherwise, to have close acquaintance with high public figures can make jack out of their connections. Some of them supply an honest service by steering troubled people out of blind alleys in dealing with the Government but others operate just plain rackets.

When we were a comparatively fresh arrival on the Washington scene we had our eyes opened by disclosures of the sums which reputable industrial barons paid for ally services during the boom days of NRA and the early alphabet agencies. An illustrative story told then stands good now, of a manufacturer of building materials who paid $5,000 to a Washington stickler for a list of contractors on public works projects. He could have had the list for the price of a telephone call to the PWA, which published it.

However, it seems somebody has to keep the money in circulation.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Mariens Dietrich walks out of a New York club in a huff because another woman is wearing an identical costume. She's done it here too—once it was out of a night spot because Claire Dodd had a similar hat. At least, when Dodd walked in, Dietrich and entourage of devoted males walked out, and within three minutes.

It looks, to this corner, like part of Mar-lay-nah's constant effort to preserve her individuality. Her individuality, along with those famous gams, is all she has to sell to the screen. She'll never take a cademy award for acting, although some noted that toward the end of her Von Sternberg tutelage she was becoming a "two eyebrow actress" which was definitely progress.

It's almost easy to predict her future, too. She'll make that French picture, and she'll come back to Hollywood and be "big" again—because, actress or not, the lady has as authentic a brand of glamor as is available in these synthetic times.

We'll miss Sam Pokrass around here. The fat little song-writer was a town character, incessantly talking, incessantly playing the piano—and cleverly and beautifully. He was a roly-poly in the theatre game. They could push him down and he'd roll right up again. He took plenty of beatings before he landed in the movie chips. And for all his success, he always seemed pathetic, because physically he was a gnomish creature from a nightmare—and we thought he was conscious of it, and found his escape in constant music.

If you're troubled with alleged friends who consistently outfigure you when the lunch check shows up, Brian Donlevy can be your good friend and adviser. Donlevy—that frequent bad man of the movies—has worked out his own system for coping with the evil, and he claims it works. He settles the matter, before the waiter appears, by suggesting a friendly wager. You know, a little fun just between us, and the loser—heh, heh!—pays.

Business Of Land Office These Days Is Map Making

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—A survey showed today the old American expression—"doing land office business"—isn't what most folks think it is.

But things are not so brisk at the federal land office, whence the expression comes. In fact, it's going to take the workers 50 years more to complete the map of the United States begun in 1882.

This doesn't mean the land office is slow, but merely that the nation is big—roughly 3,000 miles by 2,000 miles.

The expression came into the vernacular back in the days of westward-ho when Americans were stampeding to homesteads. In those days the land office was busy.

Now the map work has slowed down to tedious calculation. Every year the land office makes between 50 and 100 corrections in the map of the United States. It even worries over such things as a minute touch of coloring in a river.

Some features of the map have a human factor. The blank space that used to exist in the eastern section of Arkansas is one. Contemporary land office officials discovered the early surveyors—who worked in summer—left it blank because of mosquitoes.

DRIVER FATALLY HURT

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 3 (AP)—Wilson W. Holmes, 25, of Paris, Tex., died in a hospital here last night after an accident during a "tin lizzie" derby on the country fair grounds track.

Holmes held the lead until his car careened out of control on the south turn. He was crushed internally, the hospital reported.

EDUCATORS MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3 (AP)—Some 15,000 teachers from 47 parts of the United States put the needs and technique of their profession under the microscope as the 77th annual convention of the National Education Association opened here today.

Indications that fireworks would highlight some of the sessions were seen in reports to be submitted to the teachers before their convention closes Thursday.

There is, for instance, the report of the committee on academic freedom which found teachers "deal carefully with controversial subjects because of fear of punishment."

And that of the committee on tenure, which, after a year's probing of certain instances, wants authority to investigate all cases of unfair treatment and unjust discharges of teachers, and will seek an appropriation of $10,000 to execute this work.

The committee of academic freedom, in its report to be submitted to the convention by Chairman Henry Lester Smith, dean of the Indiana University School of Education, said few teachers were dismissed, demoted or otherwise disciplined for exercising academic freedom, but indicated potent forces were at work causing the teachers to "deal carefully" with certain matters.

"The subjects which are most dangerous to teach," the report said, "include religion, sex, politics and economics."

WORKERS MOBILIZED

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, July 3 (AP)—Danzig took measures today for mobilization of its workers for labor "vital to the state" in case of emergency growing out of the sharpened Polish-German differences over the free city and the Polish corridor.

An order to be published by the senate this afternoon provided workers may be recruited for industries which the senate holds essential for welfare of the community.

It explained that such industries as ship building which faced a shortage of labor, might benefit by the order.

In Danzig's political and governmental services there was a new note of nervousness, reflecting uncertainty and lack of information, but there were no signs of new developments of a military nature.

Congress

contended it would be futile for their chamber to take up the neutrality question. The house bill, rewritten to retain most of the present embargo provision, aroused far greater opposition than leaders expected.

They agreed senate debate not only would extend into August but would be the most fiery of any since the League of Nations fight after the World war.

Legislation to provide for the president's $3,850,000,000 lending program probably will not be ready for another week, but Republicans already have indicated they will fight its enactment as strongly as they opposed continuation of his power to devalue the dollar.

WITNESS FINDS SON IN AIRPLANE WRECK

ALBERT LEA, Minn., July 3 (AP)—Hurrying to the spot where an airplane crashed, about half a mile from his country store, S. A. Watney was horrified last night to find the body of his son in the tangled wreckage.

Kermit J. Watney, 21, the son, was the first of two fatalities of the accident, which occurred in a field near here.

Clarence Webber, about 22, of London Township, was taken from the wreckage alive but died en route to a hospital.

The pilot of the three-seater plane, Irving Engen, about 37, of Glenville, Minn., is in a hospital here with two broken legs and internal injuries. His condition was critical.

MRS. WEALEY ILL Mrs. Margaret Wealey, assistant to the county commissioners here, was confined to her home Monday due to illness.

"You poor darling," said Luella tremulously, as becomes a bride-to-be.

"Point I'm trying to make is," said Jumbo. "I'd go through fire for you." He paused, remembering. "I've already done it."

"Dearest," breathed Luella in a my-hero voice.

"Of course," Jumbo regained his spirit of devil-may-care, "a little thing like lopping off fifteen pounds of weight was just a breeze. I knew it would be from the first. I—er—I rather dabbled with the assignment just to make it look hard." He suddenly became a one-arm driver. "But I played it right down the alley at the finish, didn't I?"

"Sweetheart," sighed Luella, "you're wonderful."

"But, under cover of the darkness, she smiled. There was not the slightest reason, she perceived, for enlightening her prospective illegals lord of the fact that she had visited the drugstore two hours before the appointed time for the weighing-in. Neither was there occasion to explain that she had waved a five-dollar bill before the eyes of a commercially-minded drug clerk. The combination of the five-dollar bill and Luella's forceful personality had done the trick.

With characteristic clerkish scrupulousness, the clerk had tampered with the mechanism of the scales and achieved a condition whereby a bull walrus, leaping from the contrivance, would have felt justified in attempting to imitate a springbok. As a matter of scales to weigh light, this clerk had suited her wildest expectations. It was a shame that such ability and resourcefulness should go forever unpublished. But for more politics, thought Luella, for Jumbo to think that he had striven and conquered to win her. Of such stuff is made the woman who sees to it that she gets her man.

Continued tomorrow.

Take It Easy On The Fourth And Avoid Accidents, Is Admonition

It seems as if the majority of Big Spring people are planning on spending a safe and sane Fourth of July holiday. To the question, "What would you advocate for a safe and sane Fourth?", the answers followed the "take it easy" theme. In half-minute interviews some of the answers were:

Prentiss Bass: Drive carefully and stay sober.

Carl Blomshield: Stay at home and rest.

Joe Lassiter: Be temperate in all your activities.

Dan Hudson: I'd like to be out on some olive bank with a cane.

MEXICAN LEADERS TELL LOCAL GROUP OF ADVANTAGES BEING OFFERED BY NATIVE LAND

By JOHN R. HUTTO The local Mexican colony was favored by a visit of prominent Mexican officials Sunday afternoon in the Kate Morrison school of this city where a meeting had been called. Mexicans from Loreto, Colorado City and other nearby towns were present for the meeting.

The audience was told of opportunities the Mexican government is offering under the new regime. They were reminded that the Mexico that their fathers had left half a century ago is not the Mexico of today. Speakers pictured the unbounded resources of the country in mineral products, tropical forests and tropical fruits. Moreover, it was pointed out, the spirit of the people is no longer that of servitude but, rather, of hope and buoyancy.

The meeting was presided over by Col. Manuel Esparran, Mexican consul-general at El Paso. Other speakers who appeared on the program or contributed to the meeting were: Fernando Rueda, vice-consul at El Paso; Getulio Escobar, mayor of the city of Juarez, Mexico; German L. Arzuave, prominent lawyer and writer of Mexico City; Prof. Ramon Espinosa Villanueva, superintendent of the public school of Federal District No. 18 of Chihuahua; Heron Rodriguez, federal irrigation engineer of Juarez; Miss Virginia Rodriguez, secretary to the consul general; and Mrs. Anna Olivia de Rueda, wife of the vice-consul.

The principal purpose of the meeting was to explain what the Mexican government has to offer to the Texas-Mexican for his return to his native land. Homes are offered on easy payment plans, speakers said, and they assured their hearers that no part of the republic was being neglected. The interest of every citizen, be he an Indian, a man of mixed blood, or the descendant of foreign extraction, was being provided for. The government has for its goal 10,000 new public schools where the pupils are not only taught the usual course found in school curriculums, but are taught the art of living.

The speeches were rendered in Latin American enthusiasm and were received by the people in the same spirit. The officials held an after session which was attended by many interested in the propositions offered.

KILLS MOTHER AND TAKES OWN LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3 (AP)—Apparent fear of confinement in an institution prompted Leo G. Gianini, 49, noted illumination engineer, to slay his 62-year-old mother and send a bullet into his own heart, Police Inspector Frank Ahearn said today.

Bodies of the Stanford University lecturer and his mother, Mrs. Elvira Gianini, were found in their apartment here yesterday, slain with a target pistol.

Besides per capita apportionment, the board was slated to elect a new state textbook committee.

PARISHIONERS FIGHT TO PREVENT OUSTING OF PASTOR'S FAMILY

BERLIN, July 3 (AP)—Parishioners of imprisoned confessional church Pastor Martin Niemoller have started action to prevent the state from ousting his wife and seven children from the rectory of the church in suburban Dahlen where Niemoller defied state authorities before he was jailed two years ago.

His successor, Rev. Friedrich Mueller, started the fight to keep the roof over their heads of his predecessor's family by writing Dr. Friedrich Werner, president of the evangelical church council.

In this letter Rev. Mueller denounced proceedings under way to put Rev. Niemoller off the retired pastor's list which automatically would mean his wife and children would have to leave the rectory. Rev. Mueller asserted there was "no ground" for proceedings against Rev. Niemoller as his congregation was satisfied with him. The only difficulty, he said, was the congregation had not been able to have access to the spiritual guidance of his pastor.

ACTION DELAYED ON SCHOOL PER CAPITA

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Some parliamentarians believe powers of the treasury's $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund died Friday night, but the clatter of the tickers was the only sound heard in the department today.

A curious reporter, who had work on this government employ holiday, surprised fund officials who thought they were alone at had left open their usually tight closed doors.

His word of greeting brought swift shutting of doors, closing of the window blinds, and the muffled of the money markets of the world.

These men were among the 300 who kept watch with Secretaries Morgenthau until 2 a. m. Saturday morning, hoping for passage of the monetary bill extending the life of the fund beyond its midnight deadline.

The senate adjourned its marathon discussion of the measure until Wednesday, although most of the publicans argued congress could extend something they said no longer existed.

Throughout the world, international money traders were buying and selling dollars, pounds, francs and other currencies. Fund officials watched the market for any serious changes in the value of the dollar in terms of the other currencies and stood ready to buy or sell a few million dollars in ounces of gold.

MARKETS

Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—A haul of stocks, led by American Telephone, got ahead today in one of the quietest markets of the post-war years.

Brokers' boardrooms, thinly attended in recent sessions, were further depopulated by the vacante exodus. Many had departed to stay away from the financial district until after the Fourth of July recess.

The approaching holiday added to the suspense of waiting outcome of the Danzig situation and financial congressional action on monetary and other pending legislation.

Manufacturers Are Opposed To Special Session

SAN ANTONIO, July 3 (AP)—Some 100 members of the Texas State Manufacturers Association were asked today by their officers to write Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel urging him not to call a special session of the legislature.

The letters were addressed to members of 121 Texas counties and said:

"The officers of this association do not believe there should be a special session of the Texas legislature for the purpose of further discussion of the old age pension, or any other question.

"At the same time there are numerous pressure groups in Texas which are demanding a special session. God only knows how sick and tired the average business man is today of legislative matters, both in Austin and Washington. He is busy enough attending various meetings before the wage-hour reduction trials, the national labor relations board and whatnot. . . . Because to a very large extent these various boards, committees, bureaus, etc. . . . in a sense keep the legislature out of business in its own session. . . . We are in favor of a special session now. We ask our members to please write Gov. O'Daniel now that they do not have a special session."

Cardenas Carries His Program To Lower California

CUERNVOS, Baja California, July 3 (AP)—The sixth and last year of the revolutionary term of Lazaro Cardenas as Mexico's president began as he passed in the center of a burning desert. Cardenas once named Call Fornax—"oven heat."

The sun sizzled as Cardenas walked with his people, having sent a dry wave forty miles ahead bannering liquor in the border town of Mexicali.

Mexicali, adjoining Calexico, California, was the thirteenth oasis while prohibition was in effect in the United States. Now the role is reversed.

The 44-year-old revolutionary party president reached the 6,000-mile mark in his trip through his country to talk with his people about progress on his six-year program. He has been on the way two and a half months.

The president will be close to the American border in Mexicali and Tijuana during the next ten days, but will be unable to cross to greet Americans since the Mexican law prevents a president who leaves the soil of Mexico, even for an instant.

Three Sisters Leap From Sinking Boat, Are Drowned

WEST NEWTON, Pa., July 3 (AP)—Linked arm in arm, three young sisters who couldn't swim leaped from a sinking skiff and drowned in the treacherous, rain-swollen Koughlopheny river Sunday.

A companion, 20-year-old Margaret Skrzanc, swept toward shore by the turbulent current, grasped a branch of an overhanging tree and pulled herself to safety.

Under glare of powerful searchlights firemen equipped with long grappling hooks dragged the muddied waters throughout the night without finding trace of the pretty victims Elenore Mirella, 18, Ann, 20, and Louise, 22, of nearby Collinsburg.

The girls had borrowed the boat from a neighbor for an outing. As it neared midstream in the 200-yard wide river, the current caught it, whirled and rocked it.

Waves began to slap over the sides. The girls stopped rowing, cupped their hands and desperately tried to bail out the water. As the boat began to go down, the Mirella girls joined hands and jumped. Margaret followed.

The Skrzanc girl said they had been warned by the owner of the boat that it was leaky and not to venture far in it.

Exploding Meteor Shakes Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., July 3 (AP)—Portland, jolted and terrified by an apparent exploding meteor, joined science in a search for fragments of the celestial visitor today.

The Portland area and southwestern Washington were rocked at 7:58 a. m. yesterday by the mammoth explosion and blinded by flames flashing from the sky. Reports of the blast came in from as far away as Arlington, 125 miles up the Columbia river.

J. Hugh Pruett, University of Oregon astronomer and Oregon representative of the American Meteorological Association, sifted reports of the object's trajectory as hundreds of amateurs took to the field in efforts to find meteorites.

Pruett said it probably would be two weeks before he could determine just where the explosion occurred.

Portland residents however, will swear it was right over the city. A stone wall was toppled, windows were broken, a store wall cracked and a rural mail box knocked loose from its post by the force of the blast.

Witnesses said the object flashed across the sky from the southward, trailing a tail of fire, just before the explosion. Hundreds of persons verified that the burst of smoke and flames appeared to be over the northern section of the city or the Columbia river at a height of about 5,000 feet.
