

Ickes Takes Over Sinclair Plant As Strike Voted

Truman Directs Seizure In Executive Order, Declares Emergency

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—President Truman today directed Petroleum Administrator Ickes to take over and operate the Sinclair Rubber company plant at Houston where workers have voted to strike.

In an executive order directing the seizure, the president said that as a result of labor disturbances at the plant there is a "real, substantial and immediate emergency in the form of a threatened interruption" in the production of butadiene used in making synthetic rubber required for the war effort.

The president said "the immediate and extent of the emergency will not permit a further delay without irreparable damage to the war effort."

Members of the CIO Oil Workers International union local at the Sinclair plant voted Monday 361 to 129 to strike. The union had sought to reopen its contract with the company and to obtain a union shop in place of a union-security clause.

The eighth regional War Labor Board at Dallas ruled in a four-to-two decision last night that the union had no good cause to strike. Labor members dissented.

'Amnesia' Victim Said Nazi Agent

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—When "Pvt. William Walker" arrived in the United States as a battle casualty—feigning amnesia—he accepted press and radio publicity as a hero in the hopes, he said, some one might clear up his identity. All he could remember of his life before D-day was his name, he said, and that he probably was from New York.

The FBI said last night it had solved the mystery. "Walker's true name, agents said, was Karl Horst Max Wacker, 20, a trained Nazi espionage agent, and his 'amnesia' was a fraud."

In newspaper interviews in New York and Paris, the youth was quoted as saying he had been liberated by the Russians and identified in the capture of Berlin—"I shot three Krauts in a cemetery."

The FBI said Wacker was arrested Monday at Camp Upton, N. Y., where he had been hospitalized as a battle-shocked veteran. He had been flown to Boston from Berlin June 16.

Aussies Take Miri Oil Center Easily

MANILA, July 19 (AP)—Australian infantry advances on both sides of the vital oil island of Borneo were reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

In western Borneo the Aussies occupied Marudi south of the Miri oil center without opposition. Gains around Balikpapan Bay on the east coast tightened their grip on that important refinery and oil shipping harbor.

While one group extended control six miles along the south coast of Balikpapan Bay another advanced seven miles up the Riko river across the bay from Balikpapan town. Monday night the Aussies caught a 50-foot Japanese launch towing five small craft on the river and destroyed the launch with an unknown number of enemy casualties.

U. S. 7th Fleet units, whose return to the battle of eastern Borneo was announced this morning, swung into action with a destroyer and smaller units shelling Tempadoeng Point a dozen miles up the narrow twisting bay from Balikpapan port. They destroyed three gun positions and three barges.

In a pre-dawn strike against North Borneo on Monday P-51s strafed Telur Island north-east of Jesselton after lighting up the area with flares.

Large Number Sugar Stamps Counterfeit

SAN ANTONIO, July 19 (AP)—At least five per cent or more of 13,000 sugar stamps in various merchants accounts in San Antonio banks have been found to be counterfeit, William F. Dobbins, law enforcement attorney of the San Antonio district of the OPA, disclosed today.

The counterfeit sugar stamps, which are of a crude workmanship, are indistinguishable from valid stamps because each triangle in the counterfeit stamp contains 15 or a smaller number of blocks and non-perforated and non-squared corners. Valid sugar stamps are perforated and contain 16 blocks in each triangle.

President Believed To Favor Quick Jap Defeat

Plans State Dinner For Generalissimo, Prime Minister

ERNEST B. VACCARO
POTSDAM, July 19 (AP)—President Truman was believed emphasizing to his Russian and British Allies today the necessity of winning a quick victory in the Pacific in order to speed the reconstruction of Europe and allow the world economy the benefit of global peace.

The third meeting of the Big Three presumably was scheduled for this afternoon. The president will give a state dinner tonight at the Little White House for Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill and five other representatives of each government.

An official announcement said the Big Three were meeting regularly with an agenda prepared each morning at 11 o'clock by the three foreign secretaries. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes presided at the first foreign secretaries' meeting Monday, with Anthony Eden and V. M. Molotov rotating the chairmanship on succeeding days. The agenda they prepared was a top secret.

Russian and British proposals at Potsdam were believed to be much more numerous than those offered by the United States, in view of the more detailed policies of the two countries, regarding Europe.

President Truman summoned Gen. Omar N. Bradley for a conference tomorrow regarding his new duties as head of the Veterans Administration.

Soviet-controlled Berlin newspapers gave front page prominence to a dispatch in Red Star of Moscow on the urgency of clinching postwar interallied cooperation.

WESTERN RAILROADS PETITION TO RECONSIDER RATE REDUCTION

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—The western railroads announced today they had filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington asking reconsideration of a recent class rate decision. The decision would substantially reduce rates on manufactured products in the west and south and increase similar rates in the east.

William H. Dana, chairman of the western traffic executive committee, in announcing filing of the petition, declared the west "faces the alternatives of bankrupt railroads or higher rates on agricultural products, livestock, and raw materials" if the decision is allowed to stand.

The petition of the western railroads asserts that "for the sake of what might be deemed appeasement, the commission has dealt a blow to the western railroads the effect of which it is difficult to determine at this time."

The commission's decision, the petition claims, disregards the fact that the eastern states comprise primarily a manufacturing region, while the west is an agricultural area. Transportation conditions are so different in the east and west that "what is proper for one is not necessarily proper for the other," the railroads contend.

The petition said a preponderance of manufactured and miscellaneous commodities transported by the eastern lines affords them substantially greater revenues than the western lines get from the products of agriculture and other raw materials.

RELENTLESS THIRD FLEET SAILS INTO TOKYO BAY TO FIRE SHELLS

GUAM, July 19 (AP)—The relentless U. S. Third fleet pounded the entrance to Tokyo bay today to carry the air and sea battering of the Mikado's capital into its third straight day.

(Japanese broadcasts said the great Allied fleet "is believed to be still roaming off our Pacific coast" hunting for potential invasion beaches, but it sent no carrier planes over Nippon today.)

American cruisers and destroyers went within less than five miles of shore to bombard coastal installations on jutting Chiba peninsula—eastern entrance to Tokyo bay.

One large explosion was seen, but Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said full reports were still lacking. He revealed that the cruisers Topeka, Oklahoma City, Atlanta and Dayton and the destroyers Ault and John W. Weeks were among the ships that struck the blow.

For more than an hour, beginning late last night and continuing today, their guns blasted shore defenses around Nojima point. Nojima is 50 miles south of Tokyo and 55 miles from the imperial palace.

The shelling followed by a few hours an attack by Third fleet carrier planes on the Yokosuka naval base, just inside Tokyo bay on its west shore and only 18 miles south of Tokyo.

American pilots braved extremely bad weather to catch Nipponese men-of-war in hiding. The enemy warships were believed to range in size up to cruisers but there was no report on how many were hit.

(Radio Tokyo quoted the naval station as estimating that 250 carrier aircraft made the attack and that 40 were shot down and 38 damaged.)

Greene Appointed Rodeo Chairman

The general committee of the Rodeo association met Thursday at the chamber of commerce, and J. H. Greene was appointed general chairman and director of publicity.

Jack Smith was named as chairman of the advance sale of tickets and Darrell Douglas will head a committee for window card display. Charles Creighton and Ira Driver are working with Ray Lackland, representative of rodeo producers, Earl and Jack Sellers.

SIX CHECKS FORGED ON DEAD MAN HERE

At least six checks, forged on a man who succumbed more than two years ago, in 1943, have been cashed here, Sheriff R. L. Wolf said Thursday.

The checks bore the name of the late Pat Sullivan, farmer-stockman, who died in 1943.

Another check, in the amount of $50 and bearing the same forged signature, was passed in Sweetwater, said Sheriff Wolf.

While no pick-up in the case has been made, Sheriff Wolf said he was confident he knew the identity of a suspect.

OPA Reports Of Inspecting Food Lockers Slows Meat Slaughtering

Continuing announcements from regional OPA offices to the effect that food lockers will be inspected to check legality of meat supplies has slowed custom slaughtering at the Big Spring Locker company slightly.

With producers becoming somewhat clearer on regulations, the decline is much less noticeable than when the inspection promise was first made.

A few persons wanted to take their meat out of lockers for fear of confiscation, a fear which was ungrounded; What most producers did not understand was that if they raised the meat, they could kill without restriction for their own use.

Locker officials said Thursday that more producers—farmers, ranchers, etc.—are now clear on this point and the inspection notices have less tendency to affect the volume of custom slaughtering.

The big business now is in putting up frying size chickens.

Slaughtering Quotas

Slaughtering on an unrestricted basis is still in the offing, a survey showed here Thursday.

Announcement from Washington over the weekend indicated that the lifting of slaughtering quotas is contingent upon inspection of plants. The district OPA office as yet has no information as to procedure and date of these inspections, and until they are effected, the meat supply will be restricted to current quotas so far as now known.

One concern already has exhausted its quota for the month and another has used most of its quota. The greatest pinch is on AA and A grades of beef and on pork.

Local slaughterers were hopeful that new regulations, when they take effect, will offer substantial relief. They warned, however, against premature hopes of unlimited supplies of meat. Changes may be gradual rather than immediate.

APPLYING FOR SUGAR

Housewives applying for canning sugar were reminded that all applications must be signed, not printed. Ration board clerks urged that the number 13 sugar stamp be attached before the application is turned in, thus speeding action on the application.

Greatest Superfort Fleet Hits Nippon

Planes Sweep Skies

First European Fliers Join Vets Of Pacific Area

MANILA, July 19 (AP)—American airpower, reinforced by units from Europe, is sweeping Pacific skies from Paramushiro to Borneo and from Yap in the Carolines to the China coast.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today that on Monday the first airmen from the European theater joined Far Eastern air forces in attacking the Japanese homeland.

Monday's sweep crisscrossed the important southern island of Kyushu as more than 350 planes attacked without encountering any interception or losing a single plane to anti-aircraft fire.

Airstrips, warehouses, locomotives, power plants, factories, bridges and coastal shipping were among the targets of 5th and 7th AAF units which roared in to strike the coast cities of Miyazaki and Nabsoka; Fukushima and Tomitaki on the west, and the Kagoshima Bay area on the south.

Among the 7th AAF planes in the Kyushu strike was a unit manned by veterans of the Mediterranean theater and led by Col. Joseph R. Holzapple of Peoria, Ill. They flew new Douglas-built A-26 attack bombers in the first introduction of this plane into major action in this theater.

Holzapple predicted that the A-26, which he said has the best features of the A-20, B-25 and B-26, would be "one of the most effective airplanes of the war if properly employed, and we are working on that little problem."

Meanwhile other American planes kept up the steady pounding of Formosa and the nearby Pescadore. They hit ammunition dumps at Mako and factories near Tainan.

Liberators of the 5th AAF scored hits on factories at Canton, China. Other Liberators bombed railways in French Indo-China.

Halifax Rocked In Munitions Blasts

HALIFAX, N. S., July 19 (AP)—Canadian navy munitions set off by a jetty fire rocked the Halifax area overnight with four huge explosions and a series of lesser discharges which ended only after dawn today.

Damaging and crippling blasts persisted for more than 13 hours at the depot, in nearby Dartmouth. One was felt in Saint John, N. B., 125 miles away.

War had been expressed that the main magazine, containing 50,000 depth charges, would go up but the explosions dwindled and the flames died down this morning. A dull thud about 8 a. m. (Eastern War Time) appeared to be the last of the series.

There were 13 known casualties, twelve persons were injured and one was missing.

The whole civilian population of Dartmouth, approximately 17,000 persons, and others living in the north end of Halifax were evacuated on official orders.

Fireworks dotted the sky. Window glass was shattered. Buildings were rocked on their foundations. A veteran naval officer said the intensity of the explosion was worse than anything he had ever seen in battle.

The great blaze, sending awesome pillars of fire 150 feet into the air and spraying rockets and brilliant flares over the Bedford base, threatened momentarily to touch off the main magazine in the naval armament depot.

The fire raged beyond control as the blasts strewed wreckage over Halifax and Dartmouth and shook buildings miles away.

The total number of casualties still was uncertain. A Canadian naval officer said he believed none in the immediate vicinity of the first terrific detonation could have survived.

About 10,000 persons had been evacuated from the danger area after the first of the major detonations at 6:35 p. m. (5:35 p. m. Eastern War Time).

From that time until after midnight blasts of varying degrees of intensity continued to rock the area of the naval depot.

There was no immediate official explanation of the cause of the initial explosion. One unconfirmed report said it was touched off when a barge caught fire while unloading.

Snowflake rockets, used for illuminating targets during the war at sea, flowered over the scene with weird brilliancy.

Virtually every store window in Halifax and Dartmouth was believed to have been smashed by the series of detonations.

PAW PLACES FILLED
WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Appointment of James H. Grahag of Tulsa as director of the Petroleum Administration for War's natural gas and natural gasoline division in the southwestern area of Louis I. Mistrot, formerly of Louisiana, as his assistant, was announced today.

Four More Cities Put To Torch In Raid At Dawn

GUAM, Friday, July 20 (AP)—A force of more than 600 B-29s, the greatest Superfort fleet ever sent out against Japan, put the torch early today to four more Nipponese cities.

The targets included Hitachi, shelled recently by American and British warships, and an oil refinery, the latter blasted with demolition bombs.

Striking in the morning darkness, the giant bombers carried a load of nearly 4,000 tons of explosives in the 57th of their incendiary attacks, which have charred 46 cities to date on the Japanese mainland.

Most of the Marianas-based planes pounced on the Honshu island cities of Choshi, a primary source of protein for Tokyo, Yokohama and other large population centers; Fukui, one of the most important industrial cities on the west side of Honshu; Okazaki, which took the industrial overflow from nearby Nagoya, and Hitachi.

A smaller force hit the Amagasaki branch of the Nippon oil company just north of Osaka. It was the tenth oil target singled out for destruction by the 20th Air Force.

Flames licked Shoshi, second largest city in the China prefecture and most important fishing harbor on the east coast of Honshu, and undoubtedly affected its output of food for the great cities of the south.

Situated on the prominent Choshi peninsula 60 miles north of Tokyo, Choshi is jammed with industries associated with the fishing fleet—boat building, canneries and net factories.

Vital food is carried to Tokyo and points north and west by the Sobu main line. Choshi's population totals 61,000.

Flames flared at Fukui, Honshu west side city of 100,000 persons and its concentration of war factories.

Chinese Drive Japs Back Across Border

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, July 19 (AP)—In a new outbreak of fighting along the Indo-China frontier, Japanese and puppet Indo-Chinese troops who launched attacks against three points inside China have been driven back across the border, the Chinese high command reported today.

About 1,300 Japanese, aided by puppet forces, launched the attacks July 14 from Tra Linh, some 13 miles northeast of Cao Bang. On July 16 the enemy troops were driven out of China, the high command said.

To the east, other Chinese forces continued a multi-pronged drive on the former U. S. 14th air base city of Kweilin.

A Chinese column pressing down toward Kweilin from the northwest captured a point 14 miles from the former American base and pushed on toward the city.

Meanwhile, to the far northeast, Chinese communist forces have driven the Japanese from two towns and are advancing on another, according to a communist Yenian radio broadcast heard by the FCC.

The broadcast said the Eighth route army had captured Chanhua, some 75 miles northeast of Tsinan in the northern province of Shantung, and the town of Shansheng south of Tsinan is 180 miles south of Tientsin.

Juveniles Held For Theft Investigation

Two juveniles were picked up Wednesday by local police for investigations of thefts. One was in connection with the theft of money from baskets at the municipal swimming pool, and the other was the theft of a bicycle. Both were turned over to the county juvenile officer.

Four drunks appeared in city court and three vagrants were picked up. One woman was held for VD check up. Eleven drivers have paid off traffic fines thus far this week.

ENEMY SHIPS SUNK

OKINAWA, July 19 (AP)—Navy patrol planes penetrating deep into the Sea of Japan and into the Yellow Sea west of Korea today sank two medium freighters and 13 small craft. Two others were damaged near southern Japan.

Sergeant From Maine Gives Family Account Of Buddy's Last Moments

COLORADO CITY, July 19 (SpI)—To keep faith with a Colorado City "flier" who died as a result of wounds received on a mission over Sarlinia, June 18, 1943, a young staff sergeant from Presque Isle, Maine, 23-year-old George O. McGuire, is a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mohler here.

Sergeant McGuire, tall gunner and engineer on the B-26 Marauder medium bomber crew with the Mohlers' only son, T/Sgt. William A. (Archie) Mohler, was turret gunner and crew member, started for Texas immediately after he saw his own family in Maine.

A prisoner of war for 23 months, himself, Sgt. McGuire spent nine months in a German hospital, after being sent there from Sarlinia.

The mission which cost Mohler's life cost his best buddy, McGuire, severe burns to the ankles. From German prison camp he wrote the Mohlers as much as he knew of what happened to their son.

Riddled with bullets and on fire, the bomber they helped man was coming down fast. The order for bailing out came. Mohler, seriously wounded and bleeding from a wound in his neck, was pushed by McGuire from the plane. As tall gunner McGuire received leg burns getting his best pal bailed out.

how "God made this place from odds and ends and didn't really mean for people to live here," while he grimly impudently and watches to see if he has scored a hit on local feelings.

He will not discuss his imprisonment experiences other than to admit, "They could have treated us much worse; but then, they could have treated us much better, too Ma'am," in a mock deeper-Texas draw. He was liberated on May 2 in Breaunau Woods, Austria, after having been on the march since April 26.

He has a way of trying to play up the amusing angles of his unfortunate experiences. Actually, he lost 32 pounds while a prisoner.

The yankee visitor refuses to talk like a hero. He disregards serious questions. He much prefers to heckle Texan and tell

Cotton, So Long Associated With Youth, Reaches Maturity In Styles

If you're one of those women who have wanted to wear cotton and hesitated to buy it, look into the new styles in the stores. Cotton, so long associated with the far and figure of youth, has matured at last into fashions appropriate for the older woman. The Cotton - Textile Institute and the National Cotton Council give credit for this "growing-up" of cotton to the increased output of dark colors, and more worldly-wise prints and woven designs in cotton fabrics and to more sophisticated styling by the better women's and misses' manufacturers.

Fabrics in grayed tones, for instance, do not highlight the contours; small prints on subdued colors minimize large proportions; balloon cloth, chambray, and gingham flatten to the figure; eyelet batiste and fine cotton laces follow the lines of the body without giving it bulk; and cottons like pique and Wonderweave are perfect for suits and tailored dresses in dark colors or for white jackets with dark skirts.

For office, classroom, clubroom and city street wear there are black poplin suits and bright touches of embroidery casting color into the face. Tailored ensembles concentrate vivid color in bodice or jacket, using dark skirts to slenderize the hipline where "middle-age spread" so often begins. Gingham plaids and checks in subtle colors are youthful and gay in themselves and have been cleverly styled by designers to whittle down with. Plaid cotton tunics over black slips flatter the mature figure as well as dramatize it. Stripes are summer perennials and if you buy those worked on the diagonal you're doing your figure a favor.

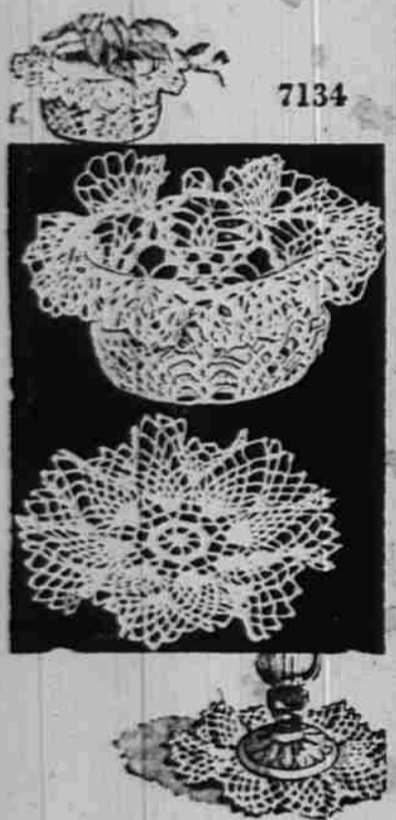

A basic costume can do round-the-clock duty for a busy career woman by being varied with a myriad of lovely blouses. Rayon and cotton bengaline in navy or black makes a suit that is proper for the office or public meeting when worn with tailored cotton blouses such as a striped chambray, a multicolored block print, plaid gingham, or a soft-toned chambray, a multi-colored block print, plaid gingham, or a soft-toned chambray, dress it up for dinner or the theatre with a ruffled batiste or embroidered organdie blouse, or a peplum overblouse of eyelet pique. The same blouse variation can, of course, be applied to a black or navy skirt.

If you're one of the "past thirties" who leave active sports for the "under twenties," rediscover how to play! Bicycling, hiking, swimming and other sports work wonders for your waistline, thighs and general health as well as figure. The cotton costumes for these activities will lure you right out into the open. Bareback dress with matching long jackets - or long boleros if you're not too heavy - can be had in striped broadcloth or printed balloon cloth and both can be worn for work as well.

Navy, black or brown eyelet batiste in soft styles are true date winners. Dining and dancing dress of this fabric come with cut-out necklines and cap sleeves. These sleeves, usually considered only for the very young, can also be worn by the older woman whose arms are not too heavy. Because they're loose and therefore do not create bulges in the fleshy part of the upper arm.

And because so many career women find themselves invited to "formal" evening gowns in simple, more adult styles have blossomed. Eyelet batiste in lovely colors with paillettes and sequins providing brilliance makes some of the most flattering gowns mature women can wear.

Double Ring Wedding Vows Read For Rowell, Neely

Miss Beatrice Rowell of Big Spring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rowell, Forsan, became the bride of S. I. C. R. E. Neely, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Neely, also of Forsan, in a double ring ceremony Tuesday evening in the parlor of the First Methodist church parsonage. Rev. H. Clyde Smith officiated.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. For the traditional something old she wore an old ribbon in her hair, something new was her suit, which was also something blue, something borrowed was a white handkerchief, and she had a penny in her shoe.

Attending the couple were Cpl. and Mrs. G. E. Neely. Mrs. Neely wore a black and white taffeta ensemble with patent accessories.

Mother of the bride wore an aqua crepe dress with black accessories, and mother of the bridegroom wore a gold linen suit.

Others present were Mr. Neely, Mary Ruth Rowell, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilkerson and daughter, Sue Carrol, Mrs. Carl Merritt and Barbara Jean, Velma Rowell, Ruby Turnage and D. V. Rowell.

S. I. C. and Mrs. Neely both attended the Forsan high school. Neely has just returned from 21 months in England, and is now stationed at Rhode Island, where he will return following his leave. Mrs. Neely plans to stay here until he returns.

Sergeant

He went for days without treatment for his burned legs when he was first picked up. And he has written countless letters to other crew members, ground crew members, and members of his unit trying to ascertain what happened to Sgt. Mohler after he pushed him from the plane.

Official confirmation of Mohler's death came to his family here early in March, 1944. Wednesday of this week a wire to Sgt. McGuire from Master Sergeant N. A. Baker of Louisiana, gave the place of the Mohler boy's burial—National cemetery, Cagliari, Sardinia.

An enlistee in the air corps on Oct. 6, 1939, Mohler spent a year at March field, and was trained at Boeing school, Calif. and at mechanics school in Spokane, Wash. He went overseas to England in September, 1942, and later went to North Africa where he took part in the early part of that campaign. At the time of his death he held the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters. His parents have since received the Purple Heart and the Distinguished Service Cross posthumously awarded him.

Sergeant McGuire, holder of the Air Medal with two clusters, the ETO ribbon with three battle stars, the Silver star with one cluster, the Presidential Unit Citation with cluster, the Purple Heart, and the Good Conduct medal, prefers the unadorned T-shirt for his Texas visit.

It took an inquiry to his sister, Mabel McGuire, who accompanied him to Colorado City, to acquire the list. But he has his serious moments when he is alone with the Mohlers and their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Seward. He has told them what he came to tell—how it was with "Bill" at the end, what took place in those split seconds at nine o'clock on a June morning over enemy territory.

Some of it is mixed up in Sgt. McGuire's mind. Still he remembers that Mohler grinned and nodded his head and said two words as McGuire released his safety belt: "School's out."

Sergeant McGuire will report to Atlantic City, N. J., August 14, for further assignment with the AAF or for a possible discharge.

Army, Navy Leaders Plan For Long War

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Army and navy leaders are planning for the war against Japan to run at least until the last months of 1946.

This is the blunt truth, as of today, despite a flood of rumors in Washington that some significant development is imminent in the Pacific conflict.

Military leaders, assuming the Japanese will fight to the bitter end, also are planning clean-up campaigns in China, although what happens there specifically depends on Russia.

If Russia comes into the war fairly soon—a development the chiefs of staff at Berlin could

Red Cross Slates Swimming Classes

Authorized Red Cross swimming and life saving classes for young people will be offered at the municipal swimming pool starting Monday July 23.

Arrangements were made through Burl Haynie, water and safety chairman of the Howard-Glasscock chapter of the Red Cross. Harold Holmes will be instructor for the boy's class and Seth Garrison instructor for the girls.

First meeting of the boy's division will be Monday at 9 a. m. and instruction continues on Monday Wednesday and Friday of each week until the 20-hour course is completed. Girls meet first Tuesday at 9 a. m. and will have their classes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Both swimming and life saving courses will be taught, and the Girl Scout association has urged Girl Scouts to participate because credit in swimming and life saving badges will be offered.

tion at the Potsdam conference.

The momentous conference swung into its third day with all appearances on a note of harmony. Chief American interest centered in what steps the three statesmen might take to expedite the unconditional surrender of Japan, and if the report of the president's offer is true, much has been accomplished to speed the work of the conference.

The president was reported to have told Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin that the U. S. government would give full support to any reasonable settlement of boundary disputes, stabilization and rehabilitation.

In London, well-informed diplomatic sources expected the "Big Three" to amputate a huge slice of eastern Germany for the benefit of Poland.

There is speculation here on Russia's possible participation in the war on the Asiatic mainland. The Soviet far eastern army has been strengthened continually since last fall.

POOL CLOSED

City Manager B. J. McDaniel said Thursday that the municipal swimming pool was to be closed beginning Thursday for an indefinite time. Harold Holmes resigned his position as manager of the pool, and Hugh Cochran left this week for the army. The city manager added that the pool will be closed until a manager and other employees are found to fill the vacancies.

plan—the western allies may have very little fighting to do on the Asiatic mainland. Dispatches from Berlin continue to emphasize the part the war with Japan may be playing in the Big Three talks.

The state department reaffirmed yesterday that it still has no peace offers from Tokyo.

Plans Completed For Housing Unit

Plans are now complete for the farm labor housing unit to be located on an existing site on N. San Antonio and NW 10th street.

Bids likely will be accepted within a week for the project, which will cost approximately $6,000 with city and county each standing half the amount.

Plans call for 10 rooms, useable as family units for brief stops. Construction is of tile with galvanized iron roof and the building is designed in an L shape along the north and east lines of the tract. Rooms open on the west and south where parking space is available. The corner space will be developed as a combination bath and rest room.

At the south east edge of the tract a 20 x 20 efficiency type apartment will be raised for the caretaker. Laborer rooms will be 12 x 14 feet. Interior will be roughed in for the present. The existing building will be demolished and materials utilized in the new construction.

Cowper Speaks At Kiwanis Luncheon

Dr. R. B. G. Cowper was guest speaker Thursday at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon in the Settles hotel. His topic was socialized medicine.

Also present were John Simons, district field man for the Continental Oil Co., who led the group in singing, and Helon Blount, who sang special numbers with Mrs. L. R. Mundt playing piano accompaniment. Other guests were Lt. Jack McFarland and Sgt. Granville Dawson.

John Coffey discussed the proposed Big Spring junior college, and gave petitions to four members to obtain signers. The four include Clyde Waits, Shirley Robbins, Jack Roden, and Joy Stripling.

Clyde Waits was in charge of the program. Program chairman appointed for next month was Shirley Robbins.

Thirty-five members were present.

Kimrough Charged With Burglary

Charges have been filed at Big Lake and Odessa against Jim Coy Kimrough for burglaries at those points, Sheriff Bob Wolf reported Thursday.

Kimrough is in the Howard county jail after Wolf obtained a statement from him at Big Lake, where the pick up was made. He is being held in lieu of $2,000 bond of a charge of burglarizing a liquor store north of the city of whiskey and other goods valued at $1,354. The Odessa case involved loss of 29 cases of whiskey valued at $2,186, and the Big Lake case tires, wheels and tubes valued at $588.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a youngster—Now her Backache is better. Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Washington. Collapses In "Crooshul" Series

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's pennant boom collapsed like a house of cards today as the Senators picked themselves up off the floor and tried to dust off the humiliation of losing two straight doubleheaders.

Detroit came into town last night for the opening battles of the year's first "crooshul" series and dropped the Nats to their knees on a pair of superior pitching jobs by Hal Newhouser and Al Benton. St. Louis had flattened Deste Bluege's men twice Monday night.

Newhouser copped No. 14 of the season in a 6-4 opener despite a streak of wildness and Benton evaded his only defeat by earning his eighth victory at Marino Pieretti's expense, 5-0.

The double knockout dropped Washington from second to fourth and boosted Detroit's first place margin to 4 1/2 games, the same lead they brought east despite a rocky sub-500 road jaunt. While the Tigers have been playing in-and-out ball, only Boston of the three eastern contenders has been able to do anything about it.

Joe Cronin brought the Red Sox home in fifth place but they proceeded to take three from the Tigers and pull up into the race. Trouble against Cleveland which took two of three was corrected when Dave Ferriss went out to face Chicago in the series opener yesterday afternoon.

Ferriss, beaten only by the Yankees, who did the job twice, rocketed to his 16th pitching triumph and his seventh in succession by trimming Chicago, 6-2. Two freaky breaks when a pop fly dropped into short right and a grounder hit a pebble and bounced over an infielder's head cost the discharged serviceman a sixth shutout.

All-Stars Suffer Severest Defeat

The worst shellacking the Bombardier school All-Stars have suffered this season was handed to them last night in the city park by the Roswell post team—a 7-0 shut-out.

Roswell's ace pitcher, 1st Lt. William Matthie, whose 14 years of softball pitching includes four years semi-pro, allowed no hits, and no walks, and scored 13 strikeouts.

Cpl. Leon Bredemeyer, the All Stars hurler who had scored 15 wins in 19 tries, last night was off his form, and even at his best would be a doubtful match for Matthie. Bredemeyer whiffed three, while the opponents got 11 hits off of him and three walks.

Among the disappointed supporters in the well-filled bleachers was Col. John K. Nissley, the base commander, who was watching his post team in their first game since he assumed command Sunday.

The trampling started in the opening stanza, with Roswell's first batter getting to first on a bunt, and the second batter sending the first baseman home on another bunt and an error by Bredemeyer. Roswell scored again in the third, fifth and sixth innings.

Laurels go to Lt. Robert Smith, left field; Sgt. Al Capasso, third and Lovett's short field, for some of the home team's outstanding defensive play.

Errors chalked against the two squads were four for Big Spring and three for Roswell.

Pair Sentenced To Prison For Murder

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Frances Brown, 40, and Gene Johnson, 42, accused of slaying the former's husband by setting fire to his clothing, were convicted of murder and given life prison terms by a trial jury last night.

Tried jointly, both defendants went to the witness stand and each denied participation in the slaying. Before the state rested yesterday, Circuit Judge Eugene Carter admitted as evidence the purported confession by Mrs. Brown.

Her husband, Henry E. Brown, about 50, died in a hospital last Feb. 11 a few hours after he was found in a muddy pool near his burning home.

City Detective Ed. Y. Lacey identified the statement for the jurors. It quoted Mrs. Brown as relating that Johnson knocked her husband down, and then forced her to pour oil over him and set his clothing afire.

Lacey testified, however, that she later repudiated the statement. An insurance company representative told the jury that Brown had taken out a $276 life insurance policy and named Mrs. Brown as the beneficiary.

City Blames Open Mailbox For Loss

City officials Thursday blamed an open mail box for a clamor arising from mailing of an abnormally large number of delinquent notices to water consumers.

When the mail was secured July 8, the city's postoffice box was ajar. Only one opened letter, containing a government check, was in the box, said B. J. McDaniel, city manager. On the heels of this, the city sent out notices to water consumers whose accounts had not been paid, and immediately calls began to come in. Many told of having mailed checks or cash on July 7.

Subsequently to this, a boy found one of the checks reported missing and turned it over to police. He had found it blowing on a street. Checks, said the manager, would be useless to anyone taking them for they may be deposited to the city's account only for credit, according to McDaniel.

Bombardier Softball Playoffs Open This Evening At City Park

Softball playoffs for the Bombardier school's intramural championship will begin today with two games at 7 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. in the city park.

The Guards team will take on Squadron C's Second platoon in the opener, followed by a contest between Group 1 and Squadron F. At the post tonight, Squadron C's Third and Fifth platoons will play off their second-place tie in the "National" league to determine which squad qualifies for the finals.

The winner will play the league's first place team, Transition, in the city park Sunday at 7:30 p. m. to complete the first round of the 30-game championship tourney. Competing teams are the two top squads in each of the three leagues.

All tournament games will be scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights, with two games at the city park and one at the post, Captain George D. Allen, athletic director, announced. However, if the Third qualifies, additional Sunday games will be listed to avoid duty conflicts.

On the basis of their records, the teams that seem to have the advantage tonight are the Second platoon over the Guards, and Squadron F over Group 1.

The Second platoon has lost only to Squadron F and will have a hot hurler, Cpl. Leon Bredemeyer, who has pitched a succession of victories for both the All-Stars and his platoon. Squadron F has won every game for seven weeks and will have its regular pitcher, Cpl. Leroy Mullins. Opposing pitchers will be Lt. Hoyt Edwards for Group 1 and Pfc. Gregg Vore for the Guards.

Southwest Conference To Select Secretary

DALLAS, July 19 (AP)—A special meeting of the Southwest conference to hear committee recommendations on naming an executive secretary will be held here probably July 28 and 29, Dr. H. E. Bray of Rice Institute, conference president, said today.

The secretary is to be selected to succeed the late James W. St. Clair. James H. Stewart of Southern Methodist University has been filling this position since the death of St. Clair and is regarded as likely to be offered the post permanently.

Dr. Gray said transportation problems facing the schools in the coming football campaign also would be discussed.

Juniors Playing Off Regional Champions

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—Regional play-offs in the American Legion's junior baseball tournament are being arranged as rapidly as district winners are decided, legion officials said today.

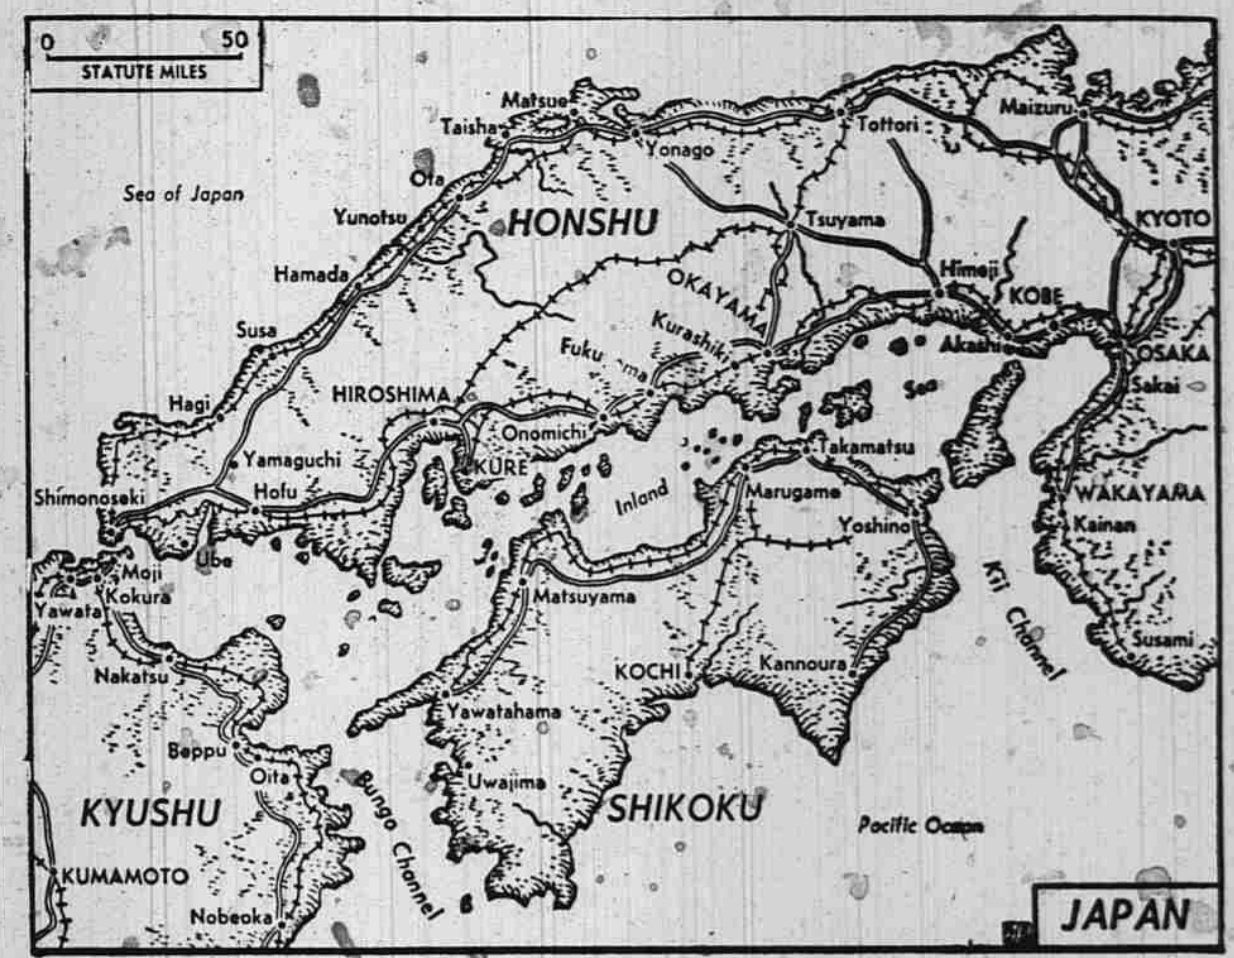

Some districts have not yet reported their winners. The regional winners must be decided by July 30, and the state playoff has been tentatively set for Austin Aug. 2-5, said J. E. McClain, state director.

Cavaretta Enjoying His Best Ball Season

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Phil Cavaretta, who has been around the National league long enough to be ranked a veteran, was 29 years old today, in his 11th season with the Chicago Cubs, and he was enjoying the best season of his baseball career.

The fast running, hard playing first baseman, who came to the Cubs at the tail end of the 1934 season and succeeded in beating Manager Charlie Grimm out of his infield job, is credited by many with having much to do with the Cubs being in first place.

C-C Directors Vote Appreciation Resolutions; Study Building Idea

Chamber of commerce directors, informed officially of the Veterans Hospital designation for Big Spring, Tuesday acted to send resolutions of appreciation to Washington agencies and officials. W. C. Blankenship, Merle Stewart and Cecil Collins were named to draft resolutions of appreciation to the Veterans Administration, the Federal Hospitalization Board and Rep. George Mahon.

Otis Graf reported that 42 petitions for calling the election for a junior college for Big Spring will be presented for signing immediately. He appointed Mrs. J. E. Brigham to be in charge of circulation of the petition to the women through the P-T. A., Jack Smith for the business men, and Walker Bailey for the rural areas. Each will select assistants for distribution.

Directors discussed the purchasing of a lot for building an office for the chamber of commerce. A quarters committee was appointed composed of Marvin Miller, B. J. McDaniel and Dave Duncan, which will study the possibility of enlarging present offices at the Settles hotel or erecting a building for the office.

Matt Harrington reported that six new members have been added to the chamber of commerce rolls, including Shirley Robbins, Terrell Radio Repair Shop, J. M. Skaggs, E. G. Patton, Wayne O. Pierce and Matt Harrington.

A barbecue for members of the chamber of commerce was set for Aug. 14, the first time an entertainment of that type has been held for members. Darrell Douglas was appointed chairman of the barbecue committee and will appoint others to assist him.

Due to OPA regulations each person attending must pay for his meal, and it was decided that Aug. 10 would be the deadline for purchase of the tickets. The beef will be purchased according to OPA regulations from farmers, thus taking none from local butcher shops.

A general discussion of the highway situation in Howard county was held, but the question was referred to the highway committee for further action.

Darrell Douglas, V. A. Merrick, Charles Creighton, Tom Roden and J. H. Greene will act as a committee for increasing the size of the rodeo grounds and fair grounds.

Herald Route Boys Sell $40,191 Bonds, Enough For 8 Weasels

Herald route boys were credited with bond sales of $40,191.80 through June 30, Harry W. Cullis, chief of the newspaper boys section said today.

The carrier boys accepted the responsibility during the Seventh War Loan of canvassing the residential district for bond sales. In addition, many of the boys made contacts which resulted in several thousand dollars of sales elsewhere.

During the campaign they earned some 300 shoulder patches and 12 silver pins for the sale of bonds equivalent to the price of six Water Weasels. This makes eight Weasels made possible by bond sales by the paper boys.

Blood Plasma Fails To Rally Corporal Newman

FORT WORTH, July 19 (AP)—Blood plasma administered to Cpl. James E. Newman failed to rally him and his condition today was still "very grave," his physician, Dr. Jack Daly, reported.

The plasma was given Newman last night, as the youth, who came home after three wretched years in a Japanese prison camp, lost ground in his fight for life.

But his mother kept unwavering faith. "We have turned him over to the Lord," Mrs. Newman said.

At New Guinea, where Newman was brought after liberation, doctors said he would die. He was suffering from malnutrition, beriberi and tuberculosis of the lungs and throat and stomach.

His parents asked that he be brought home.

"They told me his case was absolutely hopeless," Mrs. Newman recounted. "They said he couldn't live through any sort of trip. I told them at least he could die happy—on his way home."

Since July 2, Newman has been home.

Although too weak to talk, he still has "that smile on his face," a sister, Mrs. C. L. Brown, said.

What We Need— Reagan Wants Ideal Place For Family

A resident of Big Spring since June, 1898, is B. Reagan, rancher, who has seen his "home town" change considerably from when he first came here as a teacher.

Finding this a good place to live, he stayed to become superintendent of schools and then for 19 years was in the drug business. Later he was appointed postmaster by President Woodrow Wilson and afterwards became a banker.

Speaking of the future of Big Spring, Mr. Reagan thinks the first consideration in post war planning should be to make the town an ideal place for a man to raise his family. To do this, he thinks the residents should give wholehearted support to schools and churches in order to create a splendid moral atmosphere. In addition, the citizenry should do all possible to remove the pitfalls where a youth's life might be wrecked. Full employment should be made possible for everyone in order that all can provide themselves with the necessities of life. With these for starters Big Spring could not help but progress, he believes.

Postmaster Names Sent To Washington

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Nominations of 43 persons to be postmasters in Texas have been sent to the senate by the president.

Tough Assignment, Walking Beside Tank To Protect If From Enemy

By RICHARD BERGHOLZ ... WITH THE 24TH DIVISION ON MINDANAO, Philippines (AP) Albert H. Parent, a Pfc from Niagara Falls, N. Y., walked alongside a Sherman tank protecting it. That's right, protecting it!

The assignment was tough, even for the efficient Doughboy who has fought in two major campaigns in 15 months overseas.

Parent was with an outfit spearheading a drive into Japanese positions northwest of Davao.

He walked beside the tank to protect it from explosive-carrying Nipponese, who sometimes dash from the jungle in a suicidal attempt to blow up Shermans along with themselves.

Suddenly Japanese machine-guns roared into action at point-blank range.

"Every inch of the road was covered by their fire," Parent said. "They were looking right down our throats."

At the first burst, Parent rolled into a ditch and under an overturned cart. Two other soldiers crowded in.

Then there was the nearby stutter of a Japanese machinegun and Parent could hear the thud of hot lead tearing into the flesh of the Doughboy lying next to him.

Good American soldiers were dying every minute. They were strewn all over the road.

Parent saw a bullet hit the officer near him. Blood gushed from his neck. But the officer crawled out of the ditch to drag a wounded man back. Medics arrived and had to struggle to keep the officer from going back out there again.

"I saw my company commander struggling along on his knees and elbows, blood running from his side," Parent said. "He was trying to get to the radio to call for help. I don't know how he made it alive but he did. He collapsed as he was sending the message."

With another soldier, Parent crawled to the officer, pulled him on a litter and dragged him behind the tank.

Parent by now was badly dazed and near collapse from exhaustion. But there was one more man to bring out. The rugged rifleman went out alone. There were no more litters. So he half dragged, half carried the man back behind the tank.

"Later I heard that only 10 men were left in my platoon. But by God our old company pushed through."

Parent's eyes glistened with pride.

"Our boys have a lot of guts."

Six Respond To Call To Baptism At Revival

Six for baptism were among the 10 additional persons responding to the call of the Gospel as preached by Raymond Keley, evangelist for the Church of Christ in its summer revival meeting now in progress at 14th and Main.

Keley Wednesday evening raised the question of "Where Art Thou?" "What shall it profit a man, if he gains the world and loses his soul?" he asked. "What shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel, and how shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?"

Stanton Dealer Enjoined By OPA

W. M. Hittson, doing business as the Hittson Meat Company, Stanton, was stopped from handling rationed meat until he has filed required reports with the Office of Price Administration. This was the decision given by Judge Charles A. Boynton in El Paso during the weekend in the preliminary hearing of a case in which OPA is asking treble damage of $3,590.55 for overcharges.

The defendant was enjoined from selling and buying at above-ceiling prices.

The injunction granted by Judge Boynton also required Hittson to keep accurate records of slaughtering activities, to furnish each of his purchasers with re-

Texas Today— TAIL LIGHT FOR EVERY PURPOSE

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff.

Like they say in novels, the characters here are fictitious and any resemblance to persons living or dead is purely coincidental. We go further. Any resemblance to fact is purely accidental.

The only real life character is Judge Robert E. Sparkman, the Baron Munchausen of Italy, Texas. Judge Sparkman comes up with this tall tale of lightning bugs with technicolor tails. He says they will save the cotton industry.

With a perfectly straight face Judge Sparkman says a former cotton planter named P. C. Rollins from Alabama moved to Texas and settled near Lightning Bug Hollow on Chamber's creek.

Now, Lightning Bug Hollow is famous, naturally, for lightning bugs. Rollins noticed that the bugs attracted boll weevil. But he also noticed, to his sorrow, that they had no attraction for boll worms or cotton leaf worms.

So he abandoned the growing of cotton, and began a scientific study of the effect of light on insect life. He experimented with lightning bugs, and somehow turned out bugs which threw off red light, green light, blue light—in short, six delicious shades.

"He found," says Judge Sparkman, "that a red light was absolutely irresistible to the cotton flea, and that a green light lured the leaf worm."

It took Rollins two years to do it, but Judge Sparkman says that he now has lightning bugs which can out-pure the Pied Piper of Hamelin. They have a fatal attraction for boll weevil, cotton fleas, leaf worms, boll worms and other pests which threaten the cotton

US To Assist In Holding Elections

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Assurance that the United States will insist on equal participation in any big power supervision of the proposed elections in Poland was received by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) today from the state department.

The senator made public a letter from Undersecretary Joseph C. Grew saying this government does not consider its responsibility, under the Yalta agreement, to have been discharged by creation of the provisional Polish government.

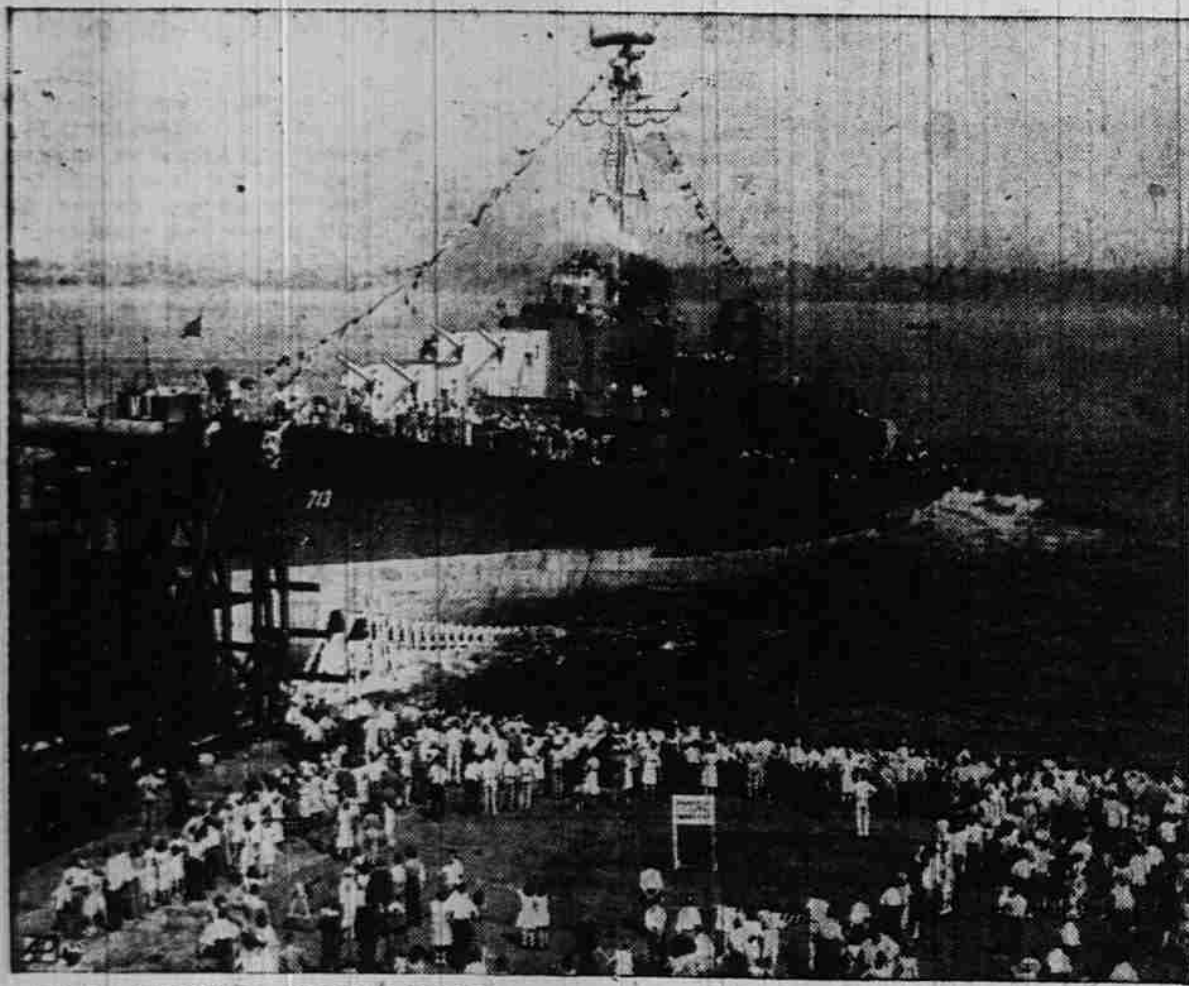

Grew said President Truman had established diplomatic relations with the provisional government and chosen Arthur B'iss Lane as ambassador.

Belgian Neutrality And Poland's Fall Forced Winter's Phoney War

(This is a fourth of a series of articles by the former commander of the French armies.)
By Gen. Maurice-Gustave Gamelin (Copyright, 1945, By The A P)
PARIS, July 19 — Many people wonder why the French and British armies remained inactive during the first months in that period known as "the phoney war."
My answer is simple and it is an old French military axiom: "You never have a good reason for a blunder."
But consider the situation that had been created for us at the end of September of 1939.
If Belgium had been allied with us; if she had let us pass through her territory during the time while the Germans were tied up in Poland, we could, in the first onslaught, have turned the Siegfried line which stopped at that time in front of Luxembourg and only extended in a thin row of pillboxes into the plains of Aix La Chapelle (Aachen).
It was rapidly becoming obvious that Poland would soon be pros-

San Angelo Boy In Junior Tennis Finals

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Bernard Bartzon of San Angelo, Tex., defending junior boys' champion and Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., who is booming along in big-time tennis, clash today in the finals of the River Forest club's junior open tennis tournament.
Bartzon yesterday advanced to within one match of successfully defending the crown he won last year by defeating Tom Malloy of Panama City, Fla., 6-1, 6-0. Flam, ranked third nationally in the junior boys' listings, lost only three games in eliminating fourth seeded Bobby Doll of Tampa, Fla., 6-2, 6-1.

Researchers Find Cure For Darkening In Thawing Peaches

Homemakers who plan to freeze their share of the big peach crop this summer will welcome the news that research scientists have solved the problem of darkening. Peaches darken rapidly after peeling and slicing, and frozen peaches exposed to air during thawing often turn brown. This darkening does not indicate spoilage, but it gives the peaches an unattractive color and sometimes develops off-flavors.

Laboratory tests on various anti-darkening agents have been made by home freezing specialists. They find that careful handling during freezing and thawing helps to prevent darkening, but for the best results, they recommend using either citric acid or ascorbic acid (vitamin C) as follows:

Immediately after peaches are peeled and sliced, dip them for one minute into a solution of citric acid, made by dissolving 1-4 teaspoon citric acid crystals in one quart of water. Or, slice directly into a syrup to which 1-4 teaspoon ascorbic acid has been added per cup syrup. Citric and ascorbic acids may be bought at most drug stores.

Not all varieties of peaches are suitable for freezing. It is wise to write to the state college of agriculture or experiment station, asking for a list of the local varieties which give the highest quality when frozen. Only firm, well-ripened peaches rate freezing.

Sort and wash peaches; then peel. Well-ripened peaches usually peel more easily if skins are loosened by scalding 15 to 30 seconds in boiling water. Cut in sections, and then use the citric acid dip, if desired. (If ascorbic acid treatment is to be used, add the ascorbic acid to the syrup.) Pack peaches in chilled syrup of 3 cups sugar and 4 cups water; or, pack in 1 part by weight sugar to 3 or 4 parts by weight of fruit. Seal package tightly, label, and freeze as rapidly as possible.

The home economists advise freezing peaches in containers the right size for one family meal, and thawing only as much fruit as will be eaten at one time. Always thaw peaches in the sealed container to keep best flavor and color, and serve promptly while a few ice crystals remain in the center of the slices.

Fruit, Honey Cakes Satisfy For Dessert

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Dem. Agent

The sugar shortage is a fact of which all homemakers are definitely aware these days, but when we stop to consider that our present sugar allotment actually amounts to only 1-1/3 tablespoon of sugar per person each day, we realize the homemaker faces a real problem when the family continues to demand dessert.

In fresh fruit season, it is easier to solve the dessert problem, since fruit salad topped by does double duty, as a refreshing double duty, as a refreshing salad and a dessert.

The familiar 1-2-3-4 Butter Cake can be made by using part corn syrup or honey. Although it is usually made by the conventional method, it can also be made by the quicker muffin method. The texture will be different, but still desirable. If honey is used for part of the sugar, a lower baking temperature is necessary, and a more moist product is obtained.

The recipe includes:
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup corn syrup
3 cups flour
4 eggs
3-4 cup milk
3 t. baking powder
1-8 tsp. salt
1 t. vanilla
1 t. lemon flavoring

Mix and sift dry ingredients together. Beat eggs and add syrup, milk, extracts and melted butter. Mix well. Add liquids to dry ingredients and beat until well blended. Bake in loaf pans in moderate oven (about 350 degrees) approximately 35-40 minutes.

You can save sugar too, by not frosting your cakes, or frosting just the top. Honey may replace sugar cup for cup, but use half the quantity of other liquid called for in original recipe, and keeping baking temperature moderate. Best results come in substituting only a part of the sugar with honey or syrup.

CHOSEN—Lynne Baggett (above), film actress, was chosen "Miss Maritime" by the editors of Maritime Murmurs, Merchant Marine publication at Catalina Island.

Construction Starts On Bus Terminal

Preliminary work on construction of a union bus terminal is now underway at 315 Runnels street where work of demolishing parking sheds is about complete.

In order to secure materials, laborers will be pulled off the job and sent to a brickyard to load brick for the building, said Clarence Fox, who holds a 10-year lease on the building, being erected by J. C. Davis of Lubbock.

All materials have been ordered and pouring of foundations is to start soon. E. B. Ribble, Odessa, formerly of Big Spring, is architect and contractor for the building which will cost approximately $50,000.

R. D. Couch, Fort Worth, district passenger agent for Southwestern Greyhound Lines, Inc., was here Monday to check into progress. His company will be among those using the new terminal.

Daily Average Crude Oil Production Set

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—Production of crude oil in Texas will average 2,195,012 barrels daily beginning Aug. 1.

A railroad commission proration order fixed daily average allowable at 2,347,606 barrels of crude but engineers calculate that actual production will be 6.50 per cent less than allowable, or 2,195,012 barrels. This is 5,012 barrels a day more than certified by the Petroleum Administration for War.

Total production in Texas, including 165,759 barrels of distillates and natural gasoline, will average 2,360,771 barrels daily beginning Aug. 1, or 4,771 more than certified by PAW for production of all petroleum liquids.

"A GI? Who, Me?"

By HAL R. COOPER
AP Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—The first time two MPs came into a cocktail bar and I didn't reach for my pass I knew the Army was out of my system.

I'm glad to be able to say that a week after I got my discharge I could hardly tell an MP from a squadron barber without a program. I was also completely free round when his turn comes. They introduce him around with embarrassing accounts of his prowess in battle when he'd a lot rather tell his own lies. They imagine war is what veterans want to talk about. Most veterans would be happier arguing politics, whether the Giants can stay up there in the National League or what will happen when Joe Louis and Billy Conn get into a ring of that impulse to salute second lieutenants—one way or another. The discharged soldiers I know just want to go back quietly to a job. In two weeks you'd never know they had been soldiers and to tell the truth they never were—just civilians in uniform.

I have noticed that discharged soldiers adjust more easily to civilian life than civilians adjust to discharged soldiers. The civilians seem to feel that the man coming out of the Army needs special attention. It makes him feel conscious and uncomfortable.

They press drinks on him in bars. He'd rather they wouldn't. Maybe he can't afford to buy a again. Above all, civilians keep asking discharged soldiers how it feels to be out of the Army. All we ever can think of to say is "good" or "fine" or something equally inarticulate. It makes us feel stupid. It makes it hard to concentrate on being a civilian.

Yesterday a friend of mine got his discharge and came home. He was a tech sergeant top turret gunner on B-17's. He did 50 missions in the Mediterranean and then out of curiosity went up and did 25 more over Germany. His curiosity is now satisfied.

I called him up to welcome him back. Of course the first thing I asked him was, "How does it feel to be out of the Army?"

"Listen, Cooper," he said, "Did you ever know I came from Texas? Well, the reason you didn't was because I am the only living Texan who never bragged about Texas. I don't think the part of Texas where I come from is fit to live in. That's how much of an individualist I am.

"Well, for four years that individualist was told what clothes to wear, when to get his hair cut, when to get his pants pressed, when to shine his shoes, when to shave, when to eat, where to eat, what to eat.

More Wounded Vets Come To McCloskey

TEMPLE, July 19 (AP)—McCloskey General hospital looked good to 59 veterans from the Philippines, Okinawa, France and Germany, who arrived here last night. Thirty-one were on litters.

Lt. Robert Lockhart of Conroe, hit by mortar fragments on Mindanao, said "the fighting's not all over there by a long shot and it'll take a long time to finish it."

Cpl. Arthur M. Hare of Hereford, wounded in the leg April 24 by a Jap sniper on Okinawa, commented "I saw a lot of action on Saipan but Okinawa was the roughest."

A veteran of 38 months overseas, T/Sgt. W. D. Horn of Wichita Falls, returned after duty in the Aleutians, Philippines and Okinawa with sharp respect for Japanese shooting. Horn was wounded as he replaced his platoon leader June 2 while serving with the 96th. He said the "Nips are bloody good with their weapons, all of them."

No Rationing On 'Gas' In Tyler Countryside

TYLER, July 19 (AP)—An oil well near Quitman, running wild and spraying the countryside with oil yesterday, was expected to be brought under control by today.

The well, No. 1-A C. L. Shamburger in the Merigale field of Wood county broke loose yesterday morning while operators were preparing to run tubing. It was making 31 gravity, asphalt base oil, in a quantity estimated as high as 10,000 barrels daily on open flow. Gas pressure was estimated at 2,500 pounds.

When to leave camp, when to get back, where to sleep, what style to make his bed, when to mop the floor, what side of his head to wear his flight cap on, what to say in his letters, when he could get his mail, what saloons to stay out of, when to line up for pay, when to get shots in the arm, sometimes even when to take a shower—and you ask me how does it feel to get out of the Army.

"Before I became a soldier I was a civilian for 28 years. I had learned how to do my own thinking. It will be a pleasure to do my own thinking again.

"Furthermore I am glad to be out of airplanes. I don't think they're practical and I doubt they're here to stay. Nobody is ever going to make me trust a method of transportation where you can't get out and walk if it stops running.

"If that answers your question come on over to my place and I'll brief you for a low level attack on the Pimlico race track next Saturday. I feel like I could pick seven straight winners and I won't need any handicapper telling me how to do it."

My friend is a lot more eloquent than I am.

Audie Says He And Others Will Vote To Keep Another War From Beginning

(Editor's note: Lt. Audie Leon Murphy of Farmersville, Tex., just back from Europe, is one of the most heavily decorated U.S. soldiers.)

By LT. AUDIE L. MURPHY as told to WILLIAM C. BARNARD

AP Newsfeatures FARMERSVILLE —You hear all sorts of things about how returning doughfoots have changed and should be pampered. That is mostly malarkey. There is nothing wrong with the average U.S. fighting man that six months of home cooking won't cure.

But you can write this down with your red pencil. Your soldier has learned to think and when he gets home he will be thinking things over.

He knows what he wants. The other day I turned 21 and now I have a vote. I'll sure use it. I don't want to see this country caught asleep at the switch again.

Maybe all these peace conferences will turn out to mean something. If they don't, we ought to be ready. As far as real brotherly love between nations is concerned, I don't think I'll live to see it. I can't picture myself or any other soldier who fought over there going back to Germany as a tourist. The guys who fought the krauts will always hate the krauts. If they don't, then they didn't know what they were fighting for.

I say we ought to stay in Germany a long, long time. We ought to take democracy over there. It will work on Germans the same as it will work on anyone else.

I fought in the same foxhole with a German-American boy and I went on many a patrol with him. You couldn't ask for a better fighter. If he had been born in Germany, I'd have been shooting at him instead of with him. It's all in where you were born and how you were raised.

Now I don't think the fellows I fought against could ever become law-abiding citizens. We shouldn't worry about those guys now; they are hopeless. What we should worry about are the ones 20 years old up to 17. They weren't old enough to take a beating in the army but they were old enough to absorb Nazi teachings. They'll give us trouble.

We ought to reform German schools and homes and politics. The devils have to be taught to respect other peoples' rights. Right now, all they know is force, and we ought to apply it, plenty. And we shouldn't ease up—it makes me sick to hear what clean people the Germans are and what tidy homes they have. Well, I know of a mother and daughter over there who were clean people and had a tidy home. They also had lampshades made out of human

Two More Arrested For Windowpeeping

Two more young men have been arrested by city police in connection with complaints about windowpeepers.

One was a 19-year old former inmate of a Florida state institution, the other a soldier who was turned over to MPs at the post for action.

The latter was captured after a wild quarter-mile foot race between the suspect, Policeman Jack Harrison, and Police Chief A. G. Mitchell, who fired intermittently to halt his quarry. Instead, it seemed to add speed and not until he laid one in close did the man hit the dust and submit to arrest. Officers had shadowed the man for a time before he was flushed.

Less trouble was experienced in taking the younger suspect, who told officers he was afflicted with spells in which he said he lost control of his faculties. He said he could have been the man who bolted, sans clothing, in front of women on several evenings.

The arrests brought the total to three for window peeping within a month. The first, an army lieutenant returned from combat, was turned over to post authorities for observation.

Women's Clubs To Provide Memorial To Clara Driscoll

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP) — Mrs. Florence Scott of Rio Grande City, state president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, advised today that a memorial to the late Mrs. Clara Driscoll will be built upon the grounds of the headquarters building in Austin.

Mrs. Scott said funds have been available for some time for this purpose but war shortages have prevented its realization.

Present plan is to build an ever-flowing fountain in the main patio or to the entrance of the building in memorium of Mrs. Driscoll who paid off almost $100,000 indebtedness on the building as a gift to the clubwomen.

Past presidents of the federation and state board members who live in San Antonio formed an honor group at the funeral service held today from St. Mark's Episcopal church in San Antonio.

Austin paid tribute to Mrs. Driscoll by flying flags at half mast in state buildings and memorials were received from officials and the city council.

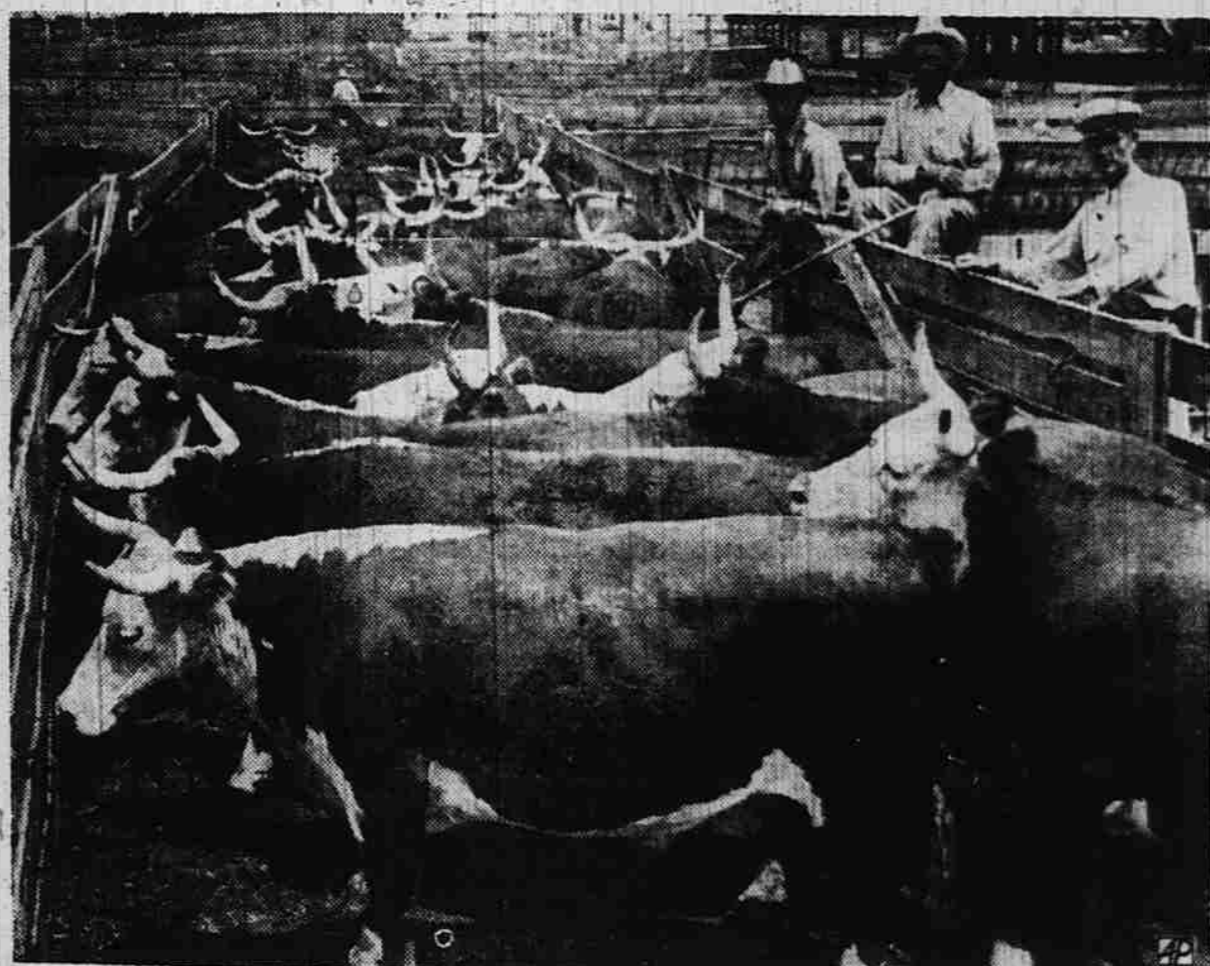

Funeral Services Set In Episcopal Church

SAN ANTONIO, July 19 (AP) — Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Driscoll, Texas political leader and financier, were to be held at the St. Mark's Episcopal church here at 2 p. m. today.

Her body was to lie in state at the Alamo from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. today. Burial will be in the Alamo Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Driscoll, 64, died in Corpus Christi Tuesday night, at Penthouse apartment atop the Driscoll hotel, which she owned.

154,000 RED POINTS—The San Antonio union stockyards market was topped for 1945 by these 38 steers. They were grown by J. L. Hiler of Frio county, averaged 1,389 pounds, and were sold to C. B. McCall, order buyer at $15.65 a hundred, believed to be the highest price ever paid for grass steers in Texas. A. W. Grant, managing editor of the San Antonio Express and president of the Texas statistical council, figured the steers represented 154,000 in red points. In the picture, left to right are L. R. Two Airline Strikes Lasting Hour Each MIAMI, Fla., July 19 (AP)—Radio flight officers of Pan American Airways Latin American division went on strike twice yesterday but neither walkout lasted longer than an hour.

Meanwhile, a member of the National Mediation Board in Washington is expected here soon to participate in the dispute. The officers, members of an independent union, are seeking a contract giving them a higher wage scale.

There are more than 150 radio officers in PAA's Latin American division, stationed in Miami, Brownsville, Texas; New Orleans, Guatemala and Rio de Janeiro.

Simple, Powerful Words

Not long ago the United Press undertook a survey to determine the readability of its dispatches. Its findings are interesting, particularly because that news gathering agency has taken pride in simplifying leads and general writing.

For purposes of evaluation, the news reports were graded as to grade level. Half of the items came back with a college level rating. There might have been a time when this would have been considered an achievement, but not in this day of practical living.

The simple truth is that when stories are pitched on such a plane, it is difficult for the majority of readers to grasp the meaning. There is the added danger that if they fail to comprehend, they also may lose interest.

Failure to comprehend words of many syllables as well as inability to readily follow complex sentences is no reflection on the average reader. This is a day of hurry, one which does not permit a great deal of reflection. In time the general level may come up, but at the moment, it must be accepted that it is generally below the so-called college stage.

The UP resolved to do something about its findings. The answer was clear: writing with simpler words. It is a lesson that most newspapers can well absorb, and any who deal with words—over the radio or in addresses or in ordinary business talk or letters.

Contrary to popular notions, it takes a real craftsman to work with everyday words in such a way as to be concise, clear and powerful. It is well to have a vocabulary big enough to understand men who lack the ability or understanding to work with little words; but it is even better to write or speak so people understand us.

What Opposition Will Be

Is it possible that this is all the opposition there is to American participation in collective security measures? Does the debate over the United Nations Charter present an accurate picture? Have friends of international cooperation nothing more to deal with than the opposition witnesses before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee?

In each case the answer is, No. There is much more opposition and we should not be misled by this picture. Outright opposition to the Charter has been made politically hazardous because opponents can offer no alternative to satisfy the people's desire for measures to keep the peace.

Meet Six Shooter Sis, A Pistol Packin' Mama

By JACK BUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

You can have your pistol packin' mamas. Gregg county will take Six-Shooter Sis.

They've elected her constable of Precinct 4 twice, and she says frankly she's going to run again and again. She likes it.

Six-Shooter Sis is Addie Louise Dickerson, 31, 192 pounds and five feet six. Everyone calls her Sis, and she even gets her mail that way.

Her halliwick is no pushover. Precinct 4 is in the East Texas oil field. It includes Liberty City and ten nearby oil company camps.

She says there is little "what you might call crime" and no gambling. But there are at least ten honky tonks scattered around "and the boys like to get out and kick up their heels a bit."

Sis says the boys usually come along quietly when she says so. For one thing, they know she packs a .38-caliber Colt and knows how to use it.

On duty she wears slacks and a jacket and her snub-nosed revolver swings in plain sight in a holster on her hip. She wears an outsize badge, to save argument.

She hasn't shot a man yet, but had a close call with a former Texas ranger last Thanksgiving. He finally backed down.

Then there was the time she chased a speeder and found herself looking down the muzzle of a sawed-off shotgun. She talked herself out of that one, and turned the man over to the fed-erals. A sawed-off shotgun is illegal.

On trips, she carries what she calls her "Sunday badge"—smaller and neater. And wears a dress.

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie AP Foreign News Analyst

How far should we go in trying to interpret our terms of "unconditional surrender" with the idea of encouraging the Japanese to cry quits?

We can say at once, it strikes me, that an interpretation, no matter how innocuous, would be getting one's fingers very close to the buzz-saw. Any injudicious suggestion by the Allies at this time most certainly would be taken by the enemy as an indication of weakness—of war-weakness. It might prolong the conflict, for the Japs are following Hitler's strategy of fighting for time in hope that some fortuitous circumstance—such as a quarrel among the Big Three—may save their hides.

Of course, a general statement such as already has been made to the effect that we don't intend to destroy the Japanese nation, may do good. Possibly, too, there's another useful point we might make, and this is that we don't intend to hang the mikado, who not only is temporal ruler but is a divine being in the eyes of his people.

Whatever line the Allies may take as regards further explanation of "unconditional surrender," they certainly aren't going to start coddling a nation which already is beaten to its knees. Unconditional surrender means exactly what it says—that the Allies keep a free hand to do whatever they see fit after Japan capitulates.

Japanese militarism is older and even more deep-seated than the German brand. If any vestige of it is allowed to survive, it will mean another war. The Japanese public must be prepared to see General Togo and the rest go by the board. It can rest assured, however, that the Allies aren't going to rape all the women and kill all the men of Nippon.

than direct the cooperation already developed in the war.

More serious questioning and some opposition will appear when Congress takes up the matter of the functions and authority of the American delegate. The real attack on American cooperation . . . will take the form of distrust and hatred of other members of the team. The opposition to cooperation will be expressed in harping on the mote in our neighbor's eye—Christian Science Monitor.

How To Torture Your Husband

With The AEF: Fisca, Diamond Insignia Obscure In Origin

By GEORGE TUCKER (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

WIESBADEN, Germany, (AP) — Officers in the fiscal section of the U. S. army wear diamond-shaped insignia of such obscure origin that apparently no one knows what it means.

Infantrymen wear the familiar crossed rifles, military police crossed pistols—insignia whose meaning and origin are perfectly clear—but I have asked scores of officers over the European theater about the fiscal diamond and none has been able to provide the answer.

Capt. Ernest E. Brown of Oklahoma City, Okla., said he believed the diamond was chosen because the diamond represented a former infantry officer who fought in Italy.

"I used to wonder about it in Washington and I asked several people in the treasury what it meant but none of them knew," Brown said.

This conversation took place in a transient officers' mess in Verdun recently where we shared a small table for a night meal. Brown had been to Paris from his headquarters near Heidelberg, Germany, and was pushing straight through on the return trip.

"It was a pretty hard trip," he said. "I just took two tons of money to Paris. All kinds of money—South African, Palestinian, Egyptian, Italian. The last time I took eight tons. I had to overload a five-ton truck to do it."

The army handles money like that, in bales of paper currency.

Sometimes money is lost, such as the millions destroyed during Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's Ardennes offensive last December. That money had to be destroyed to prevent it from falling into German hands.

Now, since the overall picture of the AEF is breaking up due to redeployment, much money assembled in central points is withdrawn to headquarters in Paris.

OUTSTANDING LEGIONNAIRE DALLAS, July 19 (AP) — Ernest L. Tuft, manager of the U. S. Social Security board here, has been selected the outstanding legionnaire of Texas for 1945. L. A. Stewart, 5th district commander of the American Legion, announced yesterday.

Lana Has Ambitions To Win Oscar

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — No longer a Sweater Girl, Lana Turner has ambitions of becoming an Oscar Girl.

When I saw her at MGM she was raving about her role in "The Postman Always Rings Twice." "It is absolutely the first acting role they have ever given me," she said. "The story is wonderful, the director, Tay Garnett, is a master, and John Garfield is marvelous."

When I suggested an Academy Award might be in the offing, she remarked, "Stranger things have happened. Heaven knows this will be the only chance I will have to come close to it."

Lana was wearing a white dress. I was informed she wears white clothes throughout the picture to attempt a note of purity, inasmuch as she portrays a woman who connives with another man to kill her husband. I asked if she was going to wear any sweaters in the picture.

"No, I haven't worn a sweater in a picture for a long, long time, she assured. "And I'm not going to either."

"Don't you ever wear sweaters?" "Oh sure, but only to keep warm."

I asked if she objected to the Sweater Girl buildup she got as a starlet.

"Oh, I guess it was helpful while I was getting started. But it's just like the Oomph Girl, or anything like that—you grow out of it."

"And besides, I am a little bit . . ."

Washington—

Jim Farley Not Out Of Politics

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — A few weeks ago I wrote about the importance of the 1946 candidacies of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Democratic Sen. James M. Mead and the bearing they will have on 1948 presidential nominations.

Another factor soon will become known generally: that long-time friends of James A. Farley are putting all kinds of pressure on "Genial Jim" to get him into the race for governor, presumably against Dewey.

Farley, who has been as high in both state and national Democratic party councils as is possible without holding a top elective office (President, Vice-President or New York Governor) is supposed to have turned his back on any active participation in politics. It would be easier for a fish to turn tall on the water.

A friend of Farley's in Washington asked him not long ago if he still thought of politics or if he was devoting all his thoughts to the soft drink business. "Big Jim" grinned and answered honestly "Oh, about 50-50."

Farley was at the San Francisco conference "just to look on and see how it goes." At the insistence of newsmen he finally agreed to hold an off-the-record press conference—a chatty affair with no important disclosures. But the newsmen came away with two definite impressions: (1) Farley isn't through with politics, and (2) he considers the governorship of New York second only in importance to being President of the United States.

Friends here say the only thing that would keep Farley from agreeing to accept the nomination would be the personal feeling that he might not be able to assure the party victory in the general election.

The bait, however, is one that few men could resist. In the arguments put up to him is the repeated assurance that his victory at the polls in New York in '48 would lead inevitably to his being the party's choice as vice presidential nominee on a Truman-Farley ticket in 1948.

"Inevitably" is a strong word, but it doesn't take much political foresight to see that if President Truman and the party want to win another term, they will have to pick a favorite from the Empire state for second place on the ticket.

What party fence-mending President Truman has done so far has been in the middle-west, the west and the south. The electoral votes of all the states in any one of these sections that have wavered or gone over to the Republicans in recent national elections won't add up to the New York electoral vote. The fence mending there is yet to be done and you can be certain it's going to be done.

A vice presidential nominee, popular in the party grass roots and with proved vote-getting power in New York, would do it. Farley already fits the first requirement and his chances of filling the second aren't remote.

US-Appointed Germans Go High-Hat

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Army officers recently returned from Germany are telling this story to illustrate the difficulty of selecting Germans with whom they can cooperate.

When the psychological warfare branch of SHAEF established the first Allied newspaper for German readers in Aachen last winter, it was decided to use German personnel wherever possible. Editorial control, however, was to be strictly Allied.

A type-setter who seemed to have the respect of his fellow-workers in the printshop of the existing Aachen newspaper was selected to serve as plant superintendent. He had come to the shop with a worker's cap, overalls, and mixed well with the other printers.

Next morning a man in a top hat, winged collar, frock coat and neatly pressed striped trousers appeared in the front office and asked where his desk was to be. The Americans at first did not recognize him, finally realized that he was the worker chosen the day before to be plant superintendent. After some hesitation, he was given a small private office.

About noon an American officer passed by this new office of the superintendent and found the words "eintritt verboten" (entrance forbidden) written on the door.

Franco Gets Sugar No matter how many high U. S. officials may oppose Dictator Franco of Spain inside the government, he always seems to come up with a staunch defender in the state department. This was illustrated recently during off-the-record debates on the highly delicate question of sugar.

Though the American public has been getting more and more pinched for sugar, the state department has always insisted that Spain be cut in for its quota. The state department has issued carefully-worded denials saying that the sugar does not come from the United States—which, of course, is true. It comes from British colonies in the Caribbean area. But so does most sugar consumed by the American public come from the Caribbean, and during the war it has been tightly controlled by the combined food board. Thus, whatever is sent to Spain, in the end, comes out of the sugar bowls of the American government table.

The combined food board allocates sugar to all our Allies, and several weeks ago UNRRA placed before it an estimate that Poland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, Greece and Albania, all of them victims of Nazi aggression, should get a combined total of 140,000 tons of sugar.

The combined food board thereupon agreed to let UNRRA have 40,000 tons to meet this need. This was considered a definite promise, and UNRRA then began searching to find an additional 100,000 tons.

Allies Get No Sugar Just a few days ago, however, something happened. The combined food board reversed itself. It notified UNRRA that the promised 40,000 tons of sugar would not be available for Poland, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Jugoslavia and Albania. In fact, none would be available.

Instead, 60,000 tons of sugar has been allocated by the combined food board to Franco's Spain.

Odyssey Of A Bottle:

To Ireland And Back

DENVER, Colo., July 19 (AP) — Another of Ray Shackley's old bottles has made its way half way around the world and found its way back to his cellar.

Shackley dropped this last one into the Atlantic ocean September 7, 1941, while he was piloting an excursion steamer up the east coast. Inside the bottle he put his picture, on the back of which he had written his name and address.

Yesterday the bottle arrived at Shackley's house, along with a letter from a Patrick Barrett, of County Mayo, Ire., who said he found it last June 11 on a beach.

Today On The Home Front—
International Bank Will Provide Money To Put World On Its Feet

(Editor's Note: This is the last of three stories on the Bretton Woods monetary agreements worked out by 44 nations, including our own.)

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Money in the form of loans will be needed to get the world back on its feet.

Bretton Woods experts decided the 44 nations should establish an international bank. The bank wouldn't deal with private individuals. But this it would do:

1. It would help governments, cities and private corporations get loans by guaranteeing—in whole or part—whatever loans they sought from private bankers.
2. In some cases the bank itself would make loans.

The experts called the bank the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. They decided it should have a capital of $9,100,000,000.

Under the agreement worked out among the 44 nations the bank could make or guarantee loans up to that amount.

Each of the 44 nations, of course, would have to put up its assigned share of the total.

Actually all that money would not be put up. Each nation would put up only 20 per cent of its share. It would shell out the 80 per cent if needed some time in the future to cover losses suffered by the international bank.

This country's share of the $9,100,000,000 is $3,175,000,000. But, since we have to plank down only 20 per cent of that, we'd put into the bank only $635,000,000.

Our share is the largest of all. But we'd have more voting power in the operations of the bank than any other single country.

We'd put the $635,000,000 in the Federal Reserve Bank in New York to the credit of the international bank. Other nations likewise put their share in their own central banks to the credit of the international bank.

Before a government, city or private corporation could ask the international bank it would first have to seek a loan in the usual commercial way: from private bankers.

If that failed, then it could turn to the international bank. If a city or private corporation wanted to go to the international bank for help, it first would have to obtain the approval of its own government.

Try and Stop Me

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK

By BENNETT CERF

An intrepid anthropologist made his way, with one faithful assistant, to the darkest jungles of Africa. There they incurred the blind hatred of a tribe of blood-thirsty savages.

One day the scientists were caught off guard and marched to the tribe's encampment. The doctor's assistant was murdered diabolically, after prolonged and ingenious torture. The chief then informed the doctor that beginning the following morning, he would suffer the same fate. It would take a week, said the chief, to finish him off.

The next morning, when the ordeal was about to begin, the doctor asked for a last word with the chief. It was too bad, he said, that they were going to kill him before he could tell about his discovery of a miraculous herb. One bite of it made a man immune to death. The chief registered disbelief but decided to let the doctor prove his statement.

After poking around bushes, the doctor announced he had found what he was seeking. In front of the tribe, he swallowed two herbs and cried, "Now I am immune to death! Strike with your sword. You can never kill me!"

He knelt in the clearing. The headman brought his sword down with all his strength. The doctor's head, severed cleanly, rolled crazily onto the ground.

Average Borrower Of Free Library Reads Eight Books In Six Months

Registered borrowers of the Howard County Free Library have averaged eight books during the first six months of the year, reports from Librarian Doris Nesbitt disclose.

During the first six months of the year there were 347 adult and 463 juvenile registrants, a total of 750, which boosted the total registered borrowers as of June to 1,390.

For the first six months, continued Miss Nesbitt's report, total circulation amounted to 11,955. Of these, adults checked out 6,524 books and juveniles 5,431. The average was eight per borrower, or one and a third per month. Not is this an accurate check on the number of readings given books, for some were checked to classrooms and read several times and others were read by family groups.

In addition to Big Spring and immediate surrounding area, registrations came from Ackerly, Coahoma, Forsan, Garden City, Knott, Luther, Otischalk, Sand Springs, Vincent and Westbrook. Teachers at Vincent, Vealbrook and Knott and at College Heights school in Big Spring were sent collections for their classes. The Boy Scout camp was supplied with books by the library.

Miss Nesbitt showed 3,721 books recorded including 362 by purchase and 289 by gift, the latter embracing old and new titles and paid for by the ABC, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary and Child Study club.

One of the most tedious tasks, that of cataloging, is now getting underway, said the librarian.

Already pasted, lettered, stamped, and given classification numbers and subjects for the catalogue are 158 columns on adult fiction, 147 non-fiction, 36 young people fiction, 16 non-fiction; 75 juvenile fiction, 30 non-fiction; and 41 easy books for pre-school to third grade children—a total of 513.

The musk ox produces, per head, about double the meat of a reindeer, and at least double the milk.

East Winds Helping Oregon Forest Fire Released For Cars

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19 (AP)—East winds are driving two Oregon forest fires out of control into virgin timber tracts today and patrols struggling in the fire zones eyed cloudy skies and storm forecasts as the only chance of slowing them.

Headquarters of the Wilson river patrols report flames are nearing a coastal region where there are no roads of any kind on which to move equipment.

Refrigerator Cars Released For Crop

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine has been informed that the Interstate Commerce Commission has released 60 refrigerator cars to help move the East Texas watermelon crop.

Pickett received appeals from watermelon growers at Nayasota and Grapeland who reported the largest crop in history was rotting in the fields for lack of cars to move them to northern and eastern markets.

AMERICANS KILLED

ROME, July 19 (AP)—Nine United States enlisted men and one civilian were killed at Viareggio yesterday by an explosion of German mines stored in a building. Thirty others were injured.

SHELLED BY JAPS

CALCUTTA, July 19 (AP)—Gurkha troops who occupied Laya railway station 26 miles northeast of Pegu have been shelled by Japanese artillery massed in the lower Sittang river bend area for what Allied officers said might be the showdown battle of that area, southeast Asia command headquarters announced today.

POLIO CASES RISE TO 109

HOUSTON, July 18 (AP)—Polio cases in Houston this year rose to 109 when four new cases were brought in yesterday. In addition, 32 area victims have been brought to the Jefferson Davis Hospital polio ward.

What To Do While You Wait? Just Wait!

COLUMBIA S. C., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Heintish, deputy court clerk, knew the answer when a prospective bridegroom telephoned from Columbus, O., and was advised of the state's law requiring a 24-hour waiting period for a marriage license.

"And what do you do while waiting?" he asked.

"Just wait," Mrs. Heintish responded.
