Oil Man Gives Viewpoint On Road Problem

Says Many Feel District Not Given Full Share of Improvement

Talks by Ben LeFever, superintendent for the American-Matagorda company in Texas and Oklahoma; R. L. Cook, chairman of the Chamber's highway committee; Ray Wilcox, highway committee member, and B. Teagan, long a proponent of good roads, were heard Monday evening in the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

TO SEND DELEGATIONS

Big Spring, through the Chamber of Commerce, will join as proponents of the Weatherford-Kanger cut-off of the Bankhead highway (Broadway of America, Texas No. 1) at Austin March 2 before the state highway commission.

On recommendation of the standing committee on highways headed by R. L. Cook the directors Monday evening appropriated a small amount to be placed with funds being provided by other interested towns to pay for expenses of carrying on the fight of the cut-off, under direction of Judge Milburn McCarty of Eastland.

The cut-off, long favored by highway department officials, would reduce driving distance between Big Spring and Fort Worth 14.5 miles.

Mr. LeFever, who is a member of the local highway committee, had just driven more than an hour through mud to come from his home, 13 miles south, said, in part: "We must overcome obstacles such as bad roads, in the oil field. We can't stop our work. We feel out in the field that the properties we

Chapter 1 BEAUTIFUL YOUNG PROBLEM

Hope Fairfield Ross was the prettiest, richest and most envied girl in town.

None of which was to Hope's credit. God gave her her looks, her parents supplied the money, and the other girls of the distinguished Westchester settlement gave her the doubtful compliment of genuine envy.

Hair the color of buttercups is seldom a drawback to any girl. Hope had hair like that, and knew how to cut it so that it formed a tumbled, rippling halo for her impudent, if somewhat wistful, little face. She knew how to brush that hair until it gleamed like glossed silk. And best of all, she knew what hats to buy and at just what angle to wear them—the better to disconcert you with, my dear.

Hear hair being the greatest of Hope's natural resources, it took time before she noticed other attractions about the sophisticated young upstart. The sassy mouth, for example; or the sprinkle of grubby little freckles, which, having been acquired in the days when Hope was a tomboy, uninitiated to the wiles of lipstick and Orchidee Bleue, had valiantly and resolutely clung to her cheeks and her abbreviated nose, becoming vulgarly vivid whenever Hope cried.

Not that Hope cried very often. Were sorrow and tears made for one whose fair skin (in spite of the freckles) reminded folks of clove-freckles and scented linen and good fresh soap? Or whose cuddly little figure thoroughly disguised the endurance of an athlete and the nervous strength of a lady tiger? A nice lady tiger, it's true, but a lady tiger just the same.

Up to the age of seventeen, Hope had the grandest and best parents in the world. What they did to their precious offspring at that tender age is the cause of this story. But prior to that time they adored, petted, spoiled, admired and exclaimed with delight and approval. Ever when Hope was naughty, the good Mama and Papa Ross were secretly proud and amused.

They remembered how at fourteen, Hope had suddenly turned right-about-face, and resolutely concentrated upon becoming grown-up. The tomboy was locked in some dark cell of Hope's skip-jack wisdom; and one observed clean finger-nails with a haremish henna polish, a sultry, restless questioning in the blithely unafraid and challenging blue eyes, and an affected husky drawl in the erstwhile hoydenish voice.

By the end of one year of high school, Hope invested in her first floppy picture hat, its back brim weighted with a huge pink satin bow. The effect quite completely disarmed Papa Ross, whose hearty grin turned into a blissful and shy ownership of this amazingly beautiful young problem.

She had suddenly realized her true mission in life, and was just as suddenly altering her entire mode and manner of behavior.

Garner Cause Carried Into Georgia Race

Will Present Opposition In Roosevelt's Adopted State

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic presidential race gathered force today as the boom for Speaker Garner was carried into Governor Roosevelt's adopted state of Georgia in opposition to the New York executive.

At the same time Governor Murray of Oklahoma was ruled out of the March 23 primary. His signed statement of candidacy failed to arrive in time, but the aggressive Oklahoman immediately announced he would campaign the state for a "Sticker" vote.

Blanton Reads Messages Down near the Alamo in Texas, Garner's friends staged a rally for "Chapparral Jack" which echoed in the house here with Representative Blanton, (D, Texas) reading telegrams from the San Antonio meeting. After President Hoover finished his address to the joint session of congress and departed a noisy demonstration was given Garner in the house.

Determined to stick to his job of presiding over the house, Garner said he knew nothing about the last move in Georgia in which Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta entered the primary in opposition to Governor Roosevelt as a "proxy" for the speaker.

Governor Roosevelt has many warm friends in Georgia, the result of frequent visits to warm springs in his battle against the aftermaths of infantile paralysis. This has led him to refer to it as his adopted state.

Roosevelt's friends in Pennsylvania formed a statewide campaign program at Harrisburg today, working for an instructed delegation to the Chicago convention. They received a message from the governor urging a "united and militant democracy."

Out in Kansas, some of the democratic leaders meeting for the state convention today expressed themselves in favor of an uninstructed delegation and spoke of both Roosevelt and Garner as possibilities.

Meanwhile, the republicans marked time. President Hoover has let the Illinois primary go by, refusing for a second time to enter into contest with Joseph I. France, of Maryland, who is the only candidate entered in that state. Hoover likewise stayed out of the North Dakota preferential primary.

Unemployment Relief Planned Here

American Legion Agreed To Lead Campaign Provided Citizenship Will Extend Active Cooperation

Now, here is a job that MUST be done at once!

While we may not be feeling effects of economic conditions as acutely as many communities in other states, the weather is cold and wet, the amount of construction going on is practically entirely represented by one job—the city hall—and there are hundreds of families whose providers cannot find work.

There is a great difference between administering charity and relieving unemployment. To give a man a job that he may provide food for his family is worth far more to that man, his family, the person who provides the work, and the entire community than merely to hand a man cash with which to go and buy that food.

Charity is needed, too. In cases where there is no man, no father or brother or other person able or qualified to work for meat and bread, where there is illness that must be treated—in cases of this kind charity is the only way by which relief may be provided.

The Community Chest organization here is prepared to take care of needs for charity. But it is not, and never was intended to be, an unemployment relief organization.

That is a distinction that we all should bear in mind.

The American Legion, one of the best-organized and most dependable groups in American life, has offered to sponsor the organization of an unemployment relief campaign.

The Legion, all of its 10,800 posts in the United States, has inaugurated a national campaign to relieve unemployment, to lessen want and suffering, to restore buying power and thus chase away fear that paralyzes economic and social life.

This does not mean that members of the Big Spring Post of the American Legion are going to go out and find jobs for all, and then take full care of sending men out on those jobs. It means that legion members are going to lead the way—plan the campaign to provide employment.

But that campaign cannot be made to do any good unless the entire town joins in it. The Legion must have support of everyone. A

Situation Now Acute City Manager Says At Meeting

In line with a nation-wide effort by the 10,800 local posts in the American Legion the Big Spring post, one of the largest in West Texas, Monday night agreed to take the lead in a strenuous campaign to relieve unemployment in Big Spring.

Commander Dallas F. Whaley of the post was asked Monday afternoon in a meeting at the Crawford hotel, called at the instance of City Manager E. V. Spence, to determine whether his organization would take the lead provided the citizenship at large pledged its support.

The legion men unanimously voted to do this but stressed that they would expect all clubs, civic organizations, churches and other groups to take very active parts as co-operators.

Mr. Spence, who has provided work for many unemployed and needy fathers for several months, by hiring them to do varied work for the city, said that the city had extended funds for this purpose as far as possible and that it could not go further without endangering the financial position of the city government.

He stressed that the unemployment problem here is right now approaching a maximum—a crisis, pointing to a list of 456 men, with dependents, who are out of jobs.

"Charity can be taken care of by the Community Chest. We must have an organization, at once, to relieve unemployment. The two problems are separate and different," he declared.

Mr. Spence reviewed methods being employed by other legion posts in forming local unemployment relief organizations.

G. A. Woodward, recently returned from Washington, said that principal topic there is not the sino-Japanese trouble or the presidential race, but unemployment.

Those attending the meeting, included E. V. Spence, temporary chairman, Wendell Hedelbeck, temporary secretary, Postmaster E. E. Fahrkamp, Dallas F. Whaley of the Legion, George Gentry and W. C. Blankenship of the city schools, W. G. Hayden of the Weekly News, Bruce Frazier of the Rotary club, George White of the Community Chest and the county commissioners' court, Garland Woodward, Carl Blomfield of the Community Chest board, C. T. Watson and Tom Ashley of the chamber of commerce, R. W. Henry of the Lions club.

Allred Wins First Round In Oil Suits

AUSTIN (AP)—Judge J. D. Moore held that the state has jurisdiction over the three major oil companies who failed to answer Attorney General Allred's anti-trust order suit. Judge Moore upheld writs of attachment that Allred obtained against stock of Texas companies owned by the Standard of California, the Standard of New Jersey, and Socony-Vacuum.

Allred is suing each for $1,074,000. Shell Union Oil company also failed to answer. Judge Moore gave the four until 2 p. m. to answer. If they fail to answer by that time default judgment will be entered.

Militaristic Party Is Heavy Winner In General Election

TOKYO (AP)—The government decided tonight to double the Japanese forces at Shanghai. Officials were informed that the Chinese, after three days of fighting, were holding their own.

General Uyeda, commander-in-chief at Shanghai, refused to ask reinforcements, following the traditional Samurai code, but naval and civil authorities asked for more men.

Authorities said reports were that General Chiang Kai Shek's army, China's best, was reaching Shanghai. They considered this even more alarming than the stout resistance offered by the nineteenth Chinese route army.

Final returns from the Japanese general election showed the Seikai party, more militaristic than the Minseito party, had won a majority of approximately two-thirds of the Diet.

TOKYO (AP)—The government's reply to the League of Nations' council note of February 18 was telegraphed to Geneva today. It said Japan refused to consider China an organized people within the meaning of the League covenant and that fiction cannot last forever or be tolerated when it becomes a source of practical danger, and that Japan must protect her interests. It denies Japan desires war. It protested the league's sending the note to Japan alone, instead of to both Japan and China.

Baseless Charges

EVERY president since Washington has been the victim of the poisoned pen and the lying lips. No one has escaped. Those who have held the office in time of great national crises have suffered most.

Collier's has seen fit to publish an article by Arthur Train, noted lawyer and writer, in which the author exposes and excoriates certain baseless and shameless charges against the president's past activities.

BOY CRAZY by GRACE PERKINS

Papa Ross's charge accounts suffered painfully as a result. With the avid curiosity of a catstaway exploring the wonders of a strange and lonely island, Hope nosed through the mazes of New York City shops.

By the end of her sophomore year Hope had achieved the dignities of an evening wrap, a make-up box, a date book, a monogrammed stationery, and a feminine boudoir, be-tasteful and mirrored, with every drawer and every closet lined with quilted blue satin.

Like many a queen before her, Hope became heady with her prowess. Her days were rounded on the north by notes and telephone calls, on the south by exciting and intriguing romantic quaffs, and on the east and west with the growing vision of newer and more daring male conquests.

"It's," said Mama Ross whitey to her husband, "nothing short of disgraceful. Hope is boy crazy." "Now, Mother!" Papa Ross chucked on his after-dinner cigar and used his most mollifying tone.

"Oh, you do suppose that," echoed Mrs. Ross with neat sarcasm. "Well, you don't see Goody making a fool of herself, do you?"

Goody Ross (whose nickname Hope had chosen and consistently used until the fine old name of Sarah was almost forgotten), was a model daughter; poised, intelligent, a tribute to her parents, to her mother, to her friends, yet a daughter whose twenty-year-old eyes were a bit clouded with longing.

Living in the shadow of Hope's endless parade of admirers made it doubly difficult for the older girl. For all that Goody pretended to be engrossed in her literary pursuits (producing whole volumes of free-verse verse, into which she poured her hungry soul), the girl was human. A little too human, to suit Papa Ross.

"I didn't believe that way when I was Hope's age," she announced with a wave of her jeweled hand that seemed to settle the argument. "Believe me I didn't. Of course, I was very different from me, in many ways."

"A querulous note crept into her voice. "She doesn't begin to be the girl you were, Molly darling!" Mr. Ross hadn't become vice-president of two banks without a goodly share of success. "But really, Mother, there's no harm in her gushing about a bit. In a few years she'll settle down."

"Yes! If she hasn't made a little fool of herself before then! I never heard of such tonfoolery as Hope goes on with."

Mr. Ross let his tongue play with his teeth in an effort to hide another smile. "All men, no they say, have some particular and pet insanity; and Mr. Ross had been simple-minded over Hope from the day she would quip her infant walls in his arms when nobody else could quiet her. He did not know it, but he was right."

BUILD UP TO PREVENT PAINS

How a Missouri woman was benefited by taking Cardui is described below by Mrs. Joe Schumer, of Cape Girardeau: "I suffered with irregularity. For weeks at a time I was so weak I could not work. I had aches in my back and head and legs—I ached all over. I would get dizzy and feel faint. I had read about Cardui, so I got some and took it. I improved a great deal. After I had taken four bottles, I felt like a different person."

keeper? I am. As a lawyer, K. R. Craig knows that there are many laws on the statute books concerning both food and drink. A butcher has no right to sell tainted meat; a cafe owner has no right to cook and dispense poison foods.

The Eighteenth Amendment provides a method of police regulation, and thus far its effects have been beneficial and wholesome. The law has been especially helpful to the laboring classes and now many a laborer who formerly spent his money for booze has paid for his home.

There are laws against contagion and the importation of such fell destroyers of the human race as cholera, yellow fever, bubonic plague and the rest. It is thus that it is everybody's business how foods and drinks are dispensed.

Radford House Managers Expect Better Business

Definite signs that business in their territory is swinging upward and that conditions through 1932 will show continued improvement are seen by managers of 21 houses in West Texas and eastern New Mexico of the J. M. Radford Grocery company, Joe E. Kuykendall, Big Spring manager, reported on returning from Abilene where the annual intra-company conference was held Saturday.

General business policies were discussed and the interhouse plans for the year outlined. The house managers met with O. E. Radford, vice president of the company; C. O. Savage, sales manager; C. W. Wilson, buyer; Rupert Harlicker, credit manager; H. W. Rucker, claims manager, and H. M. Harrison, treasurer.

Those at the conference included: Oscar Clett, Cisco; G. G. Gaines, Graham; R. E. McDonald, Stamford; John Freely, Wichita Falls; D. D. Mendall, Quanah; E. W. Gilman, Water; F. H. McKim, Pampa; L. W. McCarty, Amarillo; G. D. Hair, Plainview; Ralph Parks, Clovis; R. H. Murphy, Roswell; J. H. Barrow, Lubbock; L. W. Lacey, Pecos; G. C. Stanley, Sweetwater; F. H. Jones, San Angelo; T. SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

Then One Lucky Day She Used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is great news for sufferers from constipation. Read Mrs. Kendig's voluntary letter:

"For about forty years I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its attending evils. To make it short, I ate nothing but ALL-BRAN and a little broth. Since that time (about ten years ago) I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN furnishes both. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy ALL-BRAN than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonsful daily will overcome most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. It is not habit-forming. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Baptists And Methodists In New Victories

First Baptists, First Christians Lose Contests Monday

The Fourth street Baptists and the Methodists continued their winning tactics in city league basketball play Monday night as the former club won over the First Baptists 26 to 11 and Leroy Merrick's crew nosed out the Christians in the nightcap 35 to 25.

Stembridge, Wilson, and Robinson led the Fourth Baptists to a clean cut victory over the Main street team, holding the losers to four field goals, three of them from far back on the court. Stembridge went wild in the first quarter to amass eight points, and Wilson staged a similar scoring spree in the final period. Smith, guard for the First Baptists, was high for his club with two long shots and a free try.

Reverend Lindley's Christian church squad, led by the parson himself, almost did the comeback stunt against the Methodists in the second game, but a late rally availed them nothing against the huge lead the Methodists had run up in the first three periods. Dabney and Loper were high for the victors with eight men breaking into the scoring column, and Lindley and Hudson did the scoring for the Christians.

Purl Charges Lobby Fights Abolition Of State Fee System

DALLAS (UP)—State Senator George Purl today charged Texas county officials with maintaining a paid lobby at Austin in favor of the fee system. His statement followed one by County Auditor Charles E. Gross who had said only the legislature could do anything about the fee system. "If the county officials will join hands with the legislators we can abolish the system in three days," said Purl.

More Horned Toads Ready For Big Derby

Legion's Friday Program Expected To Draw Many More

More entries in the Horned Frog Derby, to be staged under sponsorship of the American Legion Friday evening at the Settles Hotel Derby and a dance will be given at that time. Additional entries include: Hot Biscuit This fastidious racer is the property of the Crawford Hotel Coffee Shop. It was announced definitely Saturday that he would enter the race and since the announcement cold chills have been running up and down several trainers' backs. Bob Allen is training "Hot Biscuit" as he is known. The toad is rather temperamental and unless his food is prepared just so he refuses to eat. Only when his food is carefully prepared at the Coffee Shop and served with the delicious hot biscuits served there is he satisfied. You can learn more about this temperamental racer by calling 1147, or better still, drop in at the Crawford Hotel Coffee Shop and let Bob explain his finer points to you.

Oil Man

operate are of some value to Howard county. The most important thing that could be done now would be to pave the highways. From the oil field's viewpoint the road southward is the only one of direct benefit. However, the oil field voters polled 176 to 2 in favor of the county-wide bond issue more than a year ago. We are willing to share in the cost of paving roads other than the one that would help us directly. "The companies operating in the field would be absolutely in favor of a bond issue to pave the road. The wear and tear on our equipment in the past few months has cost us more than added taxes to pay off bonds would amount to—and the field represents one-third of the taxable valuations of Howard county.

Home Town

lot of people, who really could get along all right without having yards dug up, gardens prepared, weeds cut, fences fixed and a lot of other things done, are going to have to spend a few dollars to provide such work. The property owner will benefit in more ways than one by so doing.

City League

For many men who in normal times are slow to become angry toward fellow citizens, men who in no sense of the word could be classed as "radical" (whatever that means) are not so deliberate in their thoughts and action when stark hunger scratches at the door. Genuine pride is indispensable to every community, but false pride oftentimes wrecks havoc. Before some of our readers finish this column they are going to begin wondering why that editor wants to publish things so unfavorable to "the town." They're going to forget conditions as they now exist and revert to that period of publicity-hunger of a few years ago when every West Texas town, large and small, fought more strongly for datelines in newspapers than for smokestacks, churches, schools, payrolls and whatnot.

Home Town

The newspaper's mission is, first to print the news, to publish news as it occurs and not as we would like for things to happen. Once more, we remind you, that all news is not "good news." It is our mission to print what happens—not to determine what shall happen. The newspaper's mission, next is to throw all its energy into every movement it deems of benefit to the community. Whether publicity connected with any such movement satisfies false pride should not be considered. Pride, indeed! When hundreds of families are clamoring for work to do that they may remain in the ranks of self-supporting citizens of this city, rather than be relegated to the ranks of those who must beg or steal for food. This is no light matter. It is the most serious thing that has confronted not only Big Spring but the entire nation in many, many years.

Home Town

The Legion has announced in today's Herald relative to plans for relief of unemployment. More announcements will be published from day to day. Our city manager and city commission are to be congratulated for the work they already have done along this line. They are responsible for bringing to a head this campaign. The problem has grown to such proportions now, however, that funds that safely may be used by the city to provide employment, are about gone. The entire citizenship must join the Legion to make this campaign a success.

The only way to prevent what some may term "unfavorable publicity" because of unemployment is to eliminate unemployment!

Watch the paper every day! Be ready to do everything that can be done to help the cause along!

Oil Man

(Continued from Page One) Curtail Field "An indirect way failure to have good roads has curtailed development of the field. We have more hope for the future in the field than in most others. We believe it will be a very long life field. We have two, three and four producing horizons, something that, very very few fields have. On one side of the Henshaw area, where production had been partially depleted from the 2200-foot pay we have drilled 200 feet further and found better production than we had in the upper pay to begin with.

Home Town

"No business can right itself more quickly than the oil business. More people would come into town if they had a better road to drive over. There is going to be a lot of business go to San Angelo because of this lack of good roads. And, if you do go to San Angelo and let merchants know you're from the Howard county field they almost overdo themselves to make you feel your patronage is appreciated.

Home Town

"We feel, also, that we are entitled to a better road through the field. We believe we are entitled to more consideration both from the state and the county. "At the present time the field is prorated to production of 28,000 barrels per day. A meeting is called in Fort Worth for tomorrow, I fear, is for the purpose of attempting to get us to agree to further curtailment. No field in the state that has been curtailed has shown any cooperation that this field has. Royalty owners, land owners, here and throughout this section are entitled to drilling that hasn't been done because we have tried to do our part "for the good of the cause" if proration were the best remedy for the industry's ills.

Home Town

"We are producing 28,000 barrels daily. An accurate estimate is that 15 cents per barrel is spent by producers in salaries and materials. Every dollar rightly should come to Big Spring. We'd be in favor of a district road bond issue if a county-wide issue cannot be voted. "Things are pretty quiet in the oil business all right. But right now, without any new drilling, our company is spending $1,500 monthly in excess of the normal payroll. We believe the production end of the oil business in Howard county has been of more value that it has been recognized for. Without the field there would have been no royalties here, no pipeline, the power company could not have built up the payroll it has in Big Spring, nor would the Texas & Pacific have been willing to spend so much on shops here, & other improvements, if it had not been for oil development in West Texas.

Could Hike Output All these things dovetail to build a town. We very easily could run this field in a short time to a potential of 150,000 barrels per day, instead of the present potential of 73,000 barrels. Provision of proper transportation facilities through better roads would very greatly benefit Big Spring. Ray Wilcox reviewed conferences between local committees and the state highway commission. He said the county had been offered a paved road from the Sterling county line into Big Spring, with overpasses of highway 1 east and west of Big Spring, for approximately $35,000 including right-of-way. He expressed the opinion that the people would be willing to vote a bond issue of this amount, adding that he felt it would be best to pave No. 9 entirely across the county, north and south, but that he did not believe the people would approve a bond issue of an amount necessary to do that.

Is Your Gasoline Tax Money BUILDING GOOD ROADS OR ENRICHING RACKETEERS? You pay a tax on every gallon of gasoline you buy. Your state levies this tax to pay for building good roads. But your state is not getting all the money paid as a gasoline tax. RACKETEERS ARE TAKING AN ALARMING AMOUNT OF IT! They are selling bootlegged gasoline on which they pay the state no tax—but they make motorists pay all or a part of the tax. The racketeer keeps this tax money himself! You get your tax back in the form of good roads when the state collects the tax. You get nothing when racketeers get your money. And remember—if your state got all the money paid as tax, it could well afford to lower its gasoline tax! If you want your money to go into road building instead of into the racketeers' pockets, make sure the gasoline you buy is not bootlegged. Buy gasoline made by a reliable, law-abiding company and sold under a dependable, well-known brand name, and be certain that your tax money goes to your state and not to the racketeers. That's the only way to beat the racketeers. CONOCO Gasoline is a branded gasoline you can buy with safety at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle. CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY CONOCO
