The Stroke Support Group met Thursday, June 16, at six in the evening. We met for a covered dish support instead of our regular meeting time. The meal and fellowship was enjoyed by the support group, family members and friends. Approximately twenty were in attendance.

John Glover, marketing director for Heritage Manor offered thanks before the meal. A delicious meal consisting of chicken and dressing, beans, new potatoes cooked with green beans, cornbread salad, broccoli casserole, fruit salad, strawberry salad, meal loaf, a relish dish and several different cakes and pies was enjoyed by all.

After everyone finished with the meal, Dane Gressett sang old gospels and ended with a sermon on the prodigal son. He pointed out things I had had thought about before. Thank you, Dane for singing, playing your guitar and most of all sharing our Savior.

Stenholm Introduces Rule To Improve AtoZ

Washington, D.C. — Congressman Charles Stenholm on May 27th introduced the A Plus Spending Cut Process, an improved version of a rule to discharge the A-to-Z spending cut bill from committee and bring it before the full House of Representatives for consideration.

"As a co-sponsor and strong supporter of the A-to-Z legislation, I am concerned that the current rule for the discharge petition does not lay out the process for a logical and top-to-bottom review of the budget, which I believe we should have," said Stenholm in introducing his plan. "The A Plus Spending Cut Process, or Real A-to-Z, will guarantee a full examination of the budget, and enable us to make informed decisions about cutting spending." Real A-to-Z differs from the original rule in several respects:

Taylor of Pampa; Anna Laura Clearman of Kokomo; Lynette and Sam McWhorter of Colorado City; Wardine Moore of Seminole; Wesley and Ella Clearman of Carleton; Gladys Perkins of Big Spring; Nancy Hendricks of Kokomo; Caye and Russ Felton and Christine of Arlington; Blanton and Ella Clearman of Lamesa; Cindy and Shawne Enriquez of Waxahachie; Ken and Linda Clearman of Arlington; Jamie and Ann Clearman of Ovalo; Kay Clearman of Dimmitt; Robin and Carole Langner, Katy and Madisen of Abilene; Dianne Morgan of Friona and Delmon and Joyce Eaves of Kokomo.

- 1) Real A-to-Z examines the entire budget function by function.
- 2) The ability to offer a range of amendments and the possibility of debate are not denied under Real A-to-Z.
- 3) Real A-to-Z requires amendments be submitted 5 days before debate, instead of only 24 hours, therefore, allowing time for public review and comment.
- 4) The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) is required to do an objective estimate of savings under Real A-to-Z.
- 5) Procedural amendments and motions, which can prevent straight up-or-down votes, would be prohibited under Real A-to-Z.

"With our introduction of the A-to-Z Spending Cut Process, my colleagues and I have developed a rule which meets the goals of up-or-down votes on every budget-cutting amendment which is offered, without forcing Members to vote on 100 or 200 amendments which they have not had adequate time to study, and which have not received full public debate," said Stenholm.

"My commitment to the A-to-Z spending cut bill is as strong as ever, and I will work with those who have already signed the discharge petition to ensure that the House of Representatives will carefully consider serious cuts in spending."

Chamber Of Commerce Business Spotlight of Month Clark Construction Co., Inc.

Tommy and Michaelyn Clark have operated T. J. Clark Construction Co., Inc., with Gorman as its home base, since 1980. In addition to eight persons currently on the company payroll, Clark Construction employs numerous local and area sub-contractors.

Tommy is a graduate of Gorman High School and Tarleton State University. Prior to founding Clark Construction, he spent eight years managing federally funded neighborhood reconstruction programs in Austin and Fort Worth.

Clark Construction operates as a general building contractor and offers complete "turn-key" construction services, including project design, engineering and blue-print services. They even arrange project financing for individual clients on request. Past projects have included the construction of custom homes as well as residential and commercial remodeling. The company also has an extensive background in the design and construction of new school buildings, church buildings and commercial/industrial buildings. In addition, "T. J. Clark Building Consultants", (a subsidiary of Clark Construction), offers technical assistance in the form of inspections, design and project management. Past and present clients include individuals, area cities, architects, national insurance companies, medical investment groups, schools, churches, and federally funded projects.

Tommy & Michaylyn thanks the Chamber of Commerce for this honor. We also thank all of our customers for their business. We live in Gorman not by accident, but by choice. We are proud to be a part of this community.
