

PRESS POINTS

JOE BENNETT, Publisher

We did find out that it could rain here this week as the clouds rolled in and we had a very, very light shower for only a few minutes. But at least, we do know that it can rain and that the possibility still exists of getting rain in this country. For while most folks were doubting if it could ever rain again. One thing is certain, if we don't get some good rain before long you can just about mark off the crop this year as far as the dry land peanuts are concerned. They can survive the hot dry weather just so long and then that is it.

So lets all turn in our requests for some rain and in your quiet time with the Lord, seek his blessings in bringing the rain that is so badly needed.

I was asked the other day to please put something in the paper about the rabies situation in our community. Recently some children in the Summers family were scratched or bitten by a cat. The family is now taking rabies shots due to not knowing whether the cat was rabid or not. The children are about half way through taking the shots to combat the rabies in case the cat was rabid. We were asked to please urge all pet owners to have their pets vaccinated for rabies so that this will not happen again. We seem to have a large number of stray dogs around at different times but it has been a good while since we have had a rabies scare in the community. So folks are urged to please make sure their pets are vaccinated against rabies.

We congratulate Larry Keith on being selected to play in the All Star basketball game in Houston this week. Larry has been an outstanding athlete at Gorman High and has participated in all sports and has excelled in all of them. This is even more an accomplishment when you consider his size. He is not the large hefty size that you usually associate with an outstanding athlete, but what he lacks in size he more than makes up for in intestinal fortitude. There have been few who have participated in sports at GHS who have had more fortitude and heart than Larry has exemplified. And for his outstanding performance he was selected to play in the All Star Basketball Game at the state coaches gathering in Houston. This is a great honor and we congratulate Larry on this reward for the hard work he has put forth. We hope you do well.

The oil activity continues in the area with several more wells being drilled. Some have been pretty good while some have been "dry holes" or not good enough to mess with. But the activity seems to be continuing and as long as it does the prospects seem to brighten hopes for the area.

The growth of our community continues with new construction and remodeling underway. There are a few homes for sale here and most of them are advertised in this weeks paper. There are several remodeling projects underway and all help the looks of things in our community.

This is a fine place to live and raise children and we are always happy to hear of new folks moving into our community or of former residents returning home. So if you know of anyone wanting to get out of the "rat race" and move to a quieter place tell them about Gorman. There is no better place in the world.

And remember to smile - because God Loves You!

Billie and Fred Lightfoot and W. K. and Lou Lightfoot have returned from a two weeks vacation in several states and Canada.

The convention was held at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers. While in St. Louis, Kristy attended the Municipal Opera, visited the Gateway Arch, and both the Old and New Cathedrals and rode on the Mississippi riverboat "Tom Sawyer." The highlight of the Convention was a banquet featuring the installation of the 1980-81 National Officers. Approximately 2,000 delegates and advisors from all 50 states and the Province of Puerto Rico attended this convention and workshops.

Kristy will be sharing the knowledge that she has gained with Area Four FHA members through various workshops and speaking engagements.

The next area activity that Kristy is to attend will be the Leadership Workshop at the 7 A Resort Ranch in Wimberly, Texas. She will be accompanied by her advisor, Mrs. Ruby Lee Kinser. She will also speak at the Area Four Young Homemakers of Texas Convention at Granbury on September, 19.

Kristy is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barnett of Gorman, and grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John West of Gorman, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnett of Eastland.

HOUSING AUTHORITY TO RECEIVE $250,000.00 GRANT

James W. Mears President of The Gorman Housing Authority Board announced today that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has informed Mrs. Patsy Ingram, Executive Director of the Housing Authority that $250,000.00 in Modernization funds has been approved for general modernization work, and some structural failure. The two projects that will be affected will be Brandon Place #1 Project TEX 192-1 (The first group of apartments built) and The Hotel Apartments. Project TEX 192-3 (The third unit built). The reason Project TEX 192-2 was passed over was because the Hotel Apartments needed some structural work done at once. A project must be ten years old before modernization funds are available unless there is an emergency.

The entire Board consisting of Brent Lasater, Dorothy Hatcher, D.R. "Speck" Clark, and Wayne Eaves deserves a big thanks for a job well done.

The Board is also real proud of Pat and Johnny Ingram, Pat as Executive Director and Johnny is in charge of maintenance. Both started as a team back on September 1, 1979, and have done an excellent job of keeping the apartments rented, and all those things that it takes to make a housing unit work. The Board realizes that not all the ills have been cured, but progress is being made towards a housing development that all can be proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Townley, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Stewart vacated last week in El Paso and attended the Dog Races in Jaruez and visited the big markets and sites of the area.

KOKOMO NEWS by Zelda Jordan

We didn't get any of the shower that popped up around Gorman on Monday. Only a sprinkle here at our house. Maybe we just aren't saying enough prayers.

Attendance was good at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buchanan, Kelly and Yancy of Clyde; Kyla and Kendi Clearman of Port Neches; Cathy and Jo Beth Thompson of Kress; and Mary Lewter of Whitewright.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hendricks and gransons, Kelly and Yancy Buchanan of Clyde, were in San Angelo on Wednesday night and Thursday for a check up on Albert's eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nelson vacationed in Cloud-croft, Almagordo, White Sands and Ruidosa, N.M. last week. They visited enroute with Mr. R. A. Nelson at Lamesa and with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rasco and Mrs. Edward Nelson at Andrews. Mrs. Ollie Nelson of Gorman accompanied them to Lamesa for a visit with her son, R. A. and he took her to Odessa for a check-up on her eyes. She also visited in Andrews with the Nelsons and Rascos.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jordan visited in Brownwood on Friday with an aunt, Mrs. Clara Morrow of Coleman, who underwent surgery on Thursday in the Brownwood Community Hospital. They also enjoyed visiting with other relatives who were visiting at the hospital.

Americans drink an astounding 140 billion cups of coffee a year, making it unquestionably our most popular beverage.

According to legend, coffee was discovered by shepherds in the ancient Ethiopian village of Kaffa around 600 A.D. Whether this is true or not, coffee was being enjoyed by Arab traders by the mid-1500s.

Modern coffee-making technology has transformed brewing into a science—with delicious results. One electric drip filter coffeemaker, the Norelco Dial-A-Brew 12 Cupper, works by regulating the flow of heated water through the coffee so it isn't too fast or too slow. It makes from 6 to 12 cups and satisfies individual wants for dark, medium or light coffee.

This is quite an advance from Revolutionary times when coffee beans were freshened with egg shells!

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Browning, Donna and Gary spent the weekend in Fort Worth and Six Flags Over Texas.

Vacation Bible School is being planned for August 11-15 at the Kokomo Baptist Church. Keep this date in mind and make plans for the youngsters to attend.

What Texas Electric says about setting your central air to save money.

At Texas Electric we are often asked about the cheapest way to operate a central air conditioning unit and still be comfortable.

- Here's what we recommend.
- Keep the temperature at 78° or higher. Each degree below that causes the unit to use more energy.
 - Leave your air conditioner's fan switch in the "auto" position. This way the fan only comes on when it's needed.
 - Finally, before you leave the house, turn your air conditioner switch to "off". Even though your house may be warmer when you return, you won't be paying to air condition an empty house while you were gone.

For more energy-saving ideas and answers to your questions, call Texas Electric and arrange to attend an Operation Tighten-Up workshop in your neighborhood.

July 25-31 Proclaimed County Farm, Ranch Safety Week

County Judge Scott Bailey has proclaimed July 25-31, 1980 as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY WEEK in Eastland County, at the request of Ernest Reich, Eastland County Farm Bureau president. This marks the 37th annual National Farm Safety Week, Co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The theme for the week is "Personal Protective Equipment - Protects."

In his proclamation, Judge Bailey said accidents involving Texas farm and ranch residents at work, in the home, at play, and on roads and highways accounted for over 300 fatalities, thousands of painful injuries, costing millions of dollars in 1979.

The 1979 Texas Farm Bureau Accidental Death Program records show that 322 death claims were paid in 141 different counties. Eastland County Recorded one death claim under the program. Traffic related incidents caused the most death claims, state-wide, with 189 - (Auto/truck...174; Motorcycle/minibikes...5; Bicycle...1; and Pedestrians...9). Other high-ranking causes for accidental deaths were drownings, firearms, falls, aircraft crashes, and tractors, all with 20 or less claims.

The latest National Safety Council Agricultural accident surveys indicate that nearly half of the reported injuries involved the head, eyes, hands or feet - part of the body for which a good measure of protection is available. Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) such as hard hats, safety eyewear, gloves and safety shoes could have prevented or reduced the severity of a large percentage of these injuries. In addition, many work-related illnesses and chronic health problems could be mitigated by use of the appropriate respirators, impervious garments and hearing protectors when such protection is needed.

Concluding his proclamation, the Judge urged all farm and ranch families and those who serve agricultural producers to: ready safety articles, items in magazines and newspapers which feature safety; read and heed instruction manuals and product labels; be informed on what to do in case of emergencies such as severe weather, fire, poisoning, bleeding, drowning, etc.; Take the Defensive Driving Course; Hunter & Home Firearm Safety Courses; Take the Basic First Aid Course. He then emphasized the need for taking the CPR Course which is special instruction on external cardiac compressions administered manually, alternating with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in order to stimulate the natural functions of the heart and lungs to save the life of a heart attack or accident victim.

The Accidental Death Program, underwritten by the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company, is an optional service offered to county Farm Bureaus and their members. Currently, 197 county Farm Bureaus are participating in this program. Less than a dozen counties have not had a claim.

Under this program, members may receive benefits to $1,000 for each member and spouse, plus $500 for each member's unmarried child under age 25 living in the insured's household, attending school, or in the armed forces.

There is no exclusion with this insurance, provided the accident occurs while membership is effect, and the death occurs within 90 days after the accident. Claims must be reported to the home office in Waco or to an authorized agent within 20 days after the accidental death of the person covered.

Since the Accidental Death Program began on November 1, 1971, thru October, 31, 1979, TFB has paid 1,801 claims totaling $1,538,500.

According to the TFB Safety Department seven-year (1973-80) study of FB accidental deaths; the public streets and highways have been the "big grim reaper" - with auto-truck causing 834 deaths; motorcycle/minibikes - 45 deaths; bicycles - 6 deaths; and pedestrians - 33 deaths, for a total of 918 traffic related causes.

Other causes and numbers of deaths of FB members for the recent seven-year study are as follows: Firearms - 144; Drownings - 100; Falls - 99; Tractor - 67; Aircraft Crash - 61; Fires and Burns - 47; Electrocutions - 29;

Machinery - 27; Explosions - 20; Poisonings - 18; Animal - 17; and choke/strangle - 7. Lesser causes of accidental death among FB members have been: lightning, snake bite, bee sting, spider, tick or other insect bites.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It is difficult to conceive of a situation when the U.S. could be served by a Democratic President and a Republican Vice President, but just such a possibility — albeit a slim one — exists during this election year.

Such a stunning scenario centers around the candidacy of independent presidential candidate John Anderson and whether or not he might be able to carry enough states to prevent a majority of electoral votes from going to either the Democratic or Republican candidate.

Should no one person win a majority of the electoral votes, the House of Representatives would be called upon by the Constitution to elect the president among the three highest electoral vote recipients in the general election. On the other side of the Hill, the Senate would then select the Vice President. Therefore, if one political party controlled the House and another party the Senate, we could wind up with a President and Vice President of different parties. Highly unlikely, but possible.

The constitution is rather hazy and does not spell out all of the actual procedures involved, but each state's delegation in the House is given one vote in such an election. No mention is made of what happens if a state's House delegation divides evenly. While unlikely in Texas' delegation, with 20 Democrats and four Republicans, there are eight states having an equal number of congressmen from each party.

In the case of tie votes within a state's House delegation, no one would receive that state's one vote until the tie was broken. This could prevent any candidate from receiving the necessary 26 votes for a majority in the House.

Taylor, Miss Ina Mae Tarance and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Butler and grand daughter all of Gorman, and her sister Mrs. Lillie Prentice and her friend Mrs. Mae Priddy both of Whitney.

We welcome the three new

A number of unresolved matters would have to be decided by the House Rules Committee before the House would ever vote, including whether the election would be open to the press and the public or be conducted behind closed doors. The 1825 rules, the last time such a situation occurred, provided that the election was conducted in a closed session of Congress.

Decisions would also have to be made on: Whether Members would vote by secret ballot or have their votes made public; whether the vote of each state would be by secret ballot or be made public; and whether a plurality or a majority is required within a state caucus to determine that state's one vote. A majority is more than half, whereas a plurality simply means the vote would be determined by whoever receives the most votes, even if he received less than a majority.

In all likelihood, these speculations will remain just that — speculations, although interesting ones. Any such situation would rely on the success of an independent candidate and independents have rarely done well in our history.

The complicated electoral system has been questioned in the past, as many feel that the presidency should be by majority vote, period. If the presidential election should be left to the House this year, we would almost surely be forced to face this issue squarely, to prevent the possibility of a President of the United States being elected who was not the choice of the majority of the voters in this country.

Hints For The Aged & Handicapped

By PATRICIA GALBREATH

DEAR PAT—Two years ago my husband had surgery and as a result of this is unable to lie down. He sleeps in a recliner chair. Now he is ready to go back to work, but do to the type of work he does he is required to spend about three nights per week in a motel.

I have never seen a chair in a motel room that would be comfortable enough for a good night's sleep. He has tried foam bed wedges and other types of back rests but has a tendency to slide down in bed and eventually is lying almost flat and then chokes. Would you or any of your readers have a solution? Surely he is not the only person with this problem. Perhaps motels should have recliners available that would be moved into the room when necessary.—E.F., Indiana

DEAR MS. F.—If your husband hasn't already tried sleeping on a chaise lounge he might find it helpful. The outdoor, light-weight, aluminum type with plastic weaving is inexpensive and is adjustable to the sitting height he would find most comfortable. It also folds to a compact size which would make it easy for your husband to carry with him on his business trips.

For more comfort, a foam mattress can also be carried very easily.

I would like to hear from any of my readers who have overcome this problem so I can pass the suggestions on to others.—PAT

DEAR PAT—If any of your readers are interested in photography, they should contact Mr. J.D. Weaver, a disabled veteran and photographic artist. He has published a free pamphlet entitled, "Photo Hints For The Handicapped", in which he shares some hints, thoughts, and goals with the reader. He also has a slide presentation that is available to community organizations. Write: Mr. J.D. Weaver, 2506 Rochelle Dr., Fallston, MD 21784.—Ms. L.J., New Jersey

DEAR PAT—I know it must be as difficult for many elderly persons to open doors as it is for my mother. Because of arthritis she could not "grasp" and "turn" a regular doorknob. Quite by accident my husband came across a "door handle" that simply slips over the existing doorknob. If you know anything about this type handle and where elderly or disabled people can get them, I think it would be so helpful to so many.—Mrs. K.L.M., Oklahoma

DEAR MS. M—I am aware of the type door handles you refer to and they are extremely helpful not only in aiding the elderly but for anyone who has limited use of their hands.

By slipping a door handle over an existing knob, the door opens easily by "lever" action instead of "grasping." Even those who are severely limited can open a door by pressing the side of your hand, palm, wrist, or even elbow against the lever.

Dow-Knob, Inc., Box 721, Bloomington, Illinois 61701 offers an attractive antique bronze. Write for more information and prices.—PAT

PAT'S NOTE: Address any questions you may have or hints you want to share to: HANDICAPPED, P.O. Box 368, Weatherford, Texas 76086

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free..." The United States is a nation of immigrants and those lines engraved on the Statue of Liberty fail to stir only a few of us whose forebears came to this Country looking for personal freedom and economic advancement.

But, the argument that "as immigrants ourselves, we cannot restrict the flow of other immigrants to this country" just does not realistically apply today. Refuge laws enacted in the past did not — could not — foresee the massive influx of immigrants possible during this period of our history. A land that once cried out for people has rapidly become populated to the point that we can foresee the possibility of our borders bursting at the seams. We are no longer an adolescent nation straining to grow, but one that has grown to maturity and as an adult, must balance our emotions with realism.

The chaos created by the Cuban influx has been an emotional one. And one which we must now, painfully, face with realism. If we were to react emotionally, we would throw our borders and shores open to all. To react with maturity requires much more careful thought.

The President has ordered an immediate halt to the small boat sealift from Cuba and has announced that the U.S. is prepared to start an airlift or sealift if Castro would accept the plan. Castro, however, rejected the proposal and seems determined to create more problems. As a nation, in control of its own destiny, we cannot allow these actions by a foreign dictator to return us to policy dictated solely by emotionalism.

We must (by fair and reasonable means) limit the number of refugees from Cuba entering our Country. While I am very sympathetic to their needs, I believe that our nation cannot afford to allow a free flow of refugees in the country. We cannot forget that at present there are over 1 million other would-be refugees who are on waiting lists to enter this country legally. And all who enter must be absorbed into the economy in a manner which will not cause further domestic economic problems nor add to the already overburdened taxpayers' responsibilities.

Some mechanism must be devised within our immigration laws to see that this is accomplished in a fair and equitable manner for those wishing to immigrate from all areas, not just Cuba. As a state sharing a border with Mexico, for instance, we are perhaps more aware than most of the needs for a controlled policy allowing immigration. Efforts to improve and revise our immigration laws have been undertaken in Congress several times in the past few years. Each time the House approved a new proposal, however, the Senate Judiciary Committee rejected it. In my view, Congress must accept its share of the blame for the situation at hand.

Hopefully, we can begin to strengthen our immigration and refugee laws to prevent another situation like this from occurring again.

It is important to remember, especially at a time when U.S. citizens are becoming increasingly critical of the way this country is run, that there are countless numbers in less fortunate countries who are willing to risk their lives just to reach our shores. That realization should be humbling to every American.

CAMPING ALL YEAR ROUND

BY BOB NESOFF

FIRST-YEAR CAMPERS HAVE LOTS TO LEARN

Dear Bob: We bought a camper-trailer and enjoyed ourselves this summer. One major problem we have is that there are so many things yet to learn.

I tried cooking while camping much the same way as I did at home and found that I never got out of the kitchen. We always seemed to have either too many clothes or not enough. And we always seemed to get bogged down in details. Bob, what do we do?

Bogged Dear Bogged: What you are facing is not uncommon among first-year campers. I'm also assuming that you are a new reader of this column as well. Over the past years I have covered most of the subjects you mentioned. From time to time I print recipes designed especially for camping families. There are also several excellent books on the market covering this subject. The idea behind camp cooking is to make a meal as filling and hearty as possible while at the same time keeping your preparation and clean-up time to a bare minimum.

As far as clothes go, most people have a tendency to overpack. What I recommend is that after each trip you take inventory of what you brought along, what was worn and what remained in the closet.

Compare this to the kind of weather you ran into and the type of activities you participated in. Thereafter, you should have a pretty good idea of what to take along.

As far as getting bogged down in details, one of the fun things I find about camping is that there are no telephones at the campsite. We always let the family know where we expect to be in the event of an emergency, but strict orders are given about disclosing our schedule.

Plan in advance so that you have an idea of where you are going and make reservations in those areas that look as though they may be crowded.

If any of you other readers has a camping tip to share, write me in care of this publication. Those whose suggestions are printed will receive a pass good for a free weekend of camping at the KOA of their choice.

CALORIE COUNTDOWN

BY SUSAN DUFF MASTRO

FAT-FIGHTING FACTS
* The "satiety value" of food refers to the stick-to-your-ribs quality that some foods have more than others. Certain foods that we eat have staying power because they take longer to digest and thus keep us feeling full or satisfied for a longer period of time. We don't feel hungry for some time after we've eaten them. Foods containing fats have the highest satiety value because fat remains in the stomach longer than protein or carbohydrate, the other two categories of food. Protein is next in staying power and high-protein foods, being lower in calories than fats, are good choices for dieters who find they get hungry too soon after eating. Carbohydrates digest the quickest and this has given them the reputation as quick-energy boosters. Consider the satiety value of foods when you plan diet menus. A small amount of butter or margarine on cooked vegetables can help them keep you full longer. High protein foods can also keep you feeling full. Raw vegetables and fruits are great for pick-me-ups and you'll find they stimulate your energy as well if not better than the sugary foods people often eat to get a fast energy lift.

* How should you distribute calories throughout the day's eating plan? If you're eating 1,000 to 1,500 calories a day, as good dieters do, the temptation would be to divide these calories up evenly among the three meals and possibly snacks. Actually, that doesn't make much sense. Dieters should think of the food they eat as a source of energy for them and they should distribute calories wisely according to the amount of energy they need at different phases of the day. Most people are most active in the period from breakfast to dinner; after dinner, activities are more leisurely and less strenuous. Therefore, it would seem wisest to eat the most calories earlier in the day since that's when most of us need the energy food gives us. Problem is, lots of people claim that supper time is when they're hungriest. The best way to fit energy and hunger needs into wise meal planning is to eat more calories for breakfast and lunch, and more bulk at dinner time. This means you can get the calories you need early in the day when energy requirements are higher, then later in the day, at dinner, you can fill up on low-calorie bulk foods like fruits and vegetables which give you more food to eat but less calories to burn off before you go to bed.

Royal British lion and unicorn adorn Boston's Old State House. Built in 1713, while the colonies were still under the rule of an English king, its graceful and unusual architecture, actually of Dutch derivation, influenced construction of that period.

Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness. Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; and quicken me in thy way. Psalms 119: 36-37

Sometimes we are inclined to envy a neighbor, friend or business acquaintance who achieves a high social or financial position.

Oftimes, we comment to ourselves, if to no one else, "I can't understand how it happened!"

Nothing just happens, of course. Success doesn't merely come, nor does it go searching. One who succeeds does so through a measurable effort...and fails many times unknown to others.

Do not envy. Channel your thoughts and energies toward the purpose of developing your individual potential. Work and strive, with pleasure in any job well done. Pursue this course and recognition will come in due time.

Fashion 'n Fabrics

By FANNIE GLEESON

PRESSING FINESSE WITH WOOL FABRIC
This is the year for coordinated outfits and here's another charmer: pants, vest and jacket, plus full skirt, day or evening length. It's super in lightweight wool flannel, gabardine, doubleknit and wool crepe.

Pressing as you sew is particularly important with wool. It builds in the professional look and shape of the garment. First of all, pressing is not like ironing. While pressing, keep the weight of the iron in your hand and use a lower-and-lift motion without bearing down. Let the steam do the work.

Use a medium-to-low heat. The iron should never be in contact with the fashion fabric, but should be used with a press cloth of fine textured wool or lintless cheesecloth.

The exception is a pressing technique used for pressing curved seams over a tailor's ham or top pressing finishing touches. Leave fabric uncovered and hold steam iron over area until steam has penetrated thoroughly. Don't let the iron touch the fabric. Use a pounding block to hold steam in the fabric. As with all wool pressing, set garment aside to dry naturally.

With normal method, press each seam before crossing it with another. And press each garment section before joining it with another.

Seams should be pressed open. Open seam with finger tips or with dart opener, a three-inch long piece of thin hardwood pointed at one end and curved at the other. Follow the center line with the point of the iron — just the point and a light touch. Press the armhole with the seams together, but not turned inside the bodice or sleeve. After pressing the seam, turn it into the sleeve, where it will fall naturally, when you put your arm into the jacket.

When pressing lightweight wool, use less steam than usual. When pressing stretchy fabric such as crepe, also use a minimum of steam and set iron for synthetics and avoid excessive stretching. Be sure you are pressing, not ironing.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Hi! To all. Well I noticed where a weatherman predicted snow later this year. Doesn't that sound good? I say let it snow, let it snow, let it snow. That would beat these hot burning days we are having just now.

Some 14 1/2 years ago when I moved to Gorman I had to sell my car on account of eye sight. I shed tears then and I said I would not do that again. Tho I am about to start again. As I try to scribble these few words I cannot see the lines on this paper at times. I know that Joe has a hard time trying to interpret this.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the families of Mrs. Ester Browning, Lofton Frasier. As I looked at the body of Lofton with tears in my eyes my mind drifted back some half century when he was a pupil of mine at Lone Star. He was always alert in school and on the school ground. He always tried to excell in class and in games. Then I touched "Old parents of McClainville Illinois and other relatives. They also visited in Ledbetter Kentucky and Nashville, Tennessee.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grissom and family on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie F. Grissom and Chet, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Grissom and boys of Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Morris of De Leon visited Mr. and Mrs. Truett Spruill and boys on Sunday.

Sunday evening visitors enjoying an ice cream supper with Mr. and Mrs. Buck Weston were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lightfoot and Dorothy McCrum of De Leon; Jackie Brooks of Eastland; Mrs. Sherry Daskovick and children of Ranger.

Also visiting in the Weston home on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. John McKeehan of Sipe Springs.

Glory". I said to myself that I knew he did his best in his defense. That was for his loved ones and also you and me.

What a coincidence that Morgan Bennett and Lofton both from here died in V.A. at Waco within a space of 3 weeks. You know that what they went through in the Service helped cause them not to be able to fight those infections.

Lofton put in bath and sewer system for me on the farm. When I moved to town Lofton and Clifton Jarrett put in shower stall and plumbing for washer. He was always ready and could crawl thru any hole that a cat could go through. I also met Preston and talked to him for a few minutes.

The gardens are all about gone. Tho some peaches are on the market. They are like apples. You may get two for a George Washington Bill. So high you eat the peeling and the kernel in the seed. Then put the rest of the seed in you shoes. Too hig to waste.

Tomorrow, Monday will be three months since I have played Dominoes in town. So Jack has taken on my Old pal Luke. Stay in there Luke. Jack said you were wonderful the other day. Tho that was not right for you to beat Floyd in his own home.

Last Sunday when I sang that solo at church, I forgot to thank those that helped me to the podium etc. I sure appreciated it. As I could not see those steps. You were all so nice to me.

My great grand children, Sandy and Clay Patterson, Muleshoe, visited me on Saturday. My wife's sister Mr. and Mrs. Jay Reed, from Hico visited on Thursday. My wife's nephew, Roger and wife, a dentist, visited me.

Last Sunday evening at 4 p.m. Elbert came and I went there for home made ice cream and cake. I ate my share of the three gallons. I received birthday presents. Jessie Lee and Purnee Fae were there.

Well the convention is over. Some are complaining about E.R.A. there is no way that they can be made equal. Law or no law. Because a law will not make them equal. We see busing for integration stopped. Let the trustees of each District run the school.

I notice where two Federal Judges ruled that the Draft Law was illegal. The first thing to be done is to pass a Law that a Federal Judge cannot serve over three yrs. Let them pay Social Security on their salary.

The president appoint U.N. Ambassador Young (colored), he said the ruler of Iran should be made a Saint. He fired him and appointed another one (colored). The first vote he cast was for Communist.

Look up. Hope for a change in that pocket over us will change. Smile. It is contagious. Try it.
