Viennese Think They Notice A Deep Change In His Character

VIENNA, Jan. 30 (AP)—Viennese noted today that a more serious mood—possibly a fundamental change in character—has settled down on the Duke of Windsor.

Vienna first became acquainted with him as the Prince of Wales. When he was heir to the British throne he came to Austria for light-hearted vacations.

The Viennese now are observing him as the Duke of Windsor, the man who preferred to be beside the woman he loved than on the throne. Austrian people, who know a thing or two about love, welcomed him sympathetically.

Paducah And Cairo Yet To Bear Brunt

Death, Disease In Wake Of Waters Throughout Ohio Valley

PROPERTY DAMAGE CONTINUES TO CLIMB

Workmen Busy On Dikes On Mississippi, Hoping To Curb Losses

(By the Associated Press)—Sixty billion tons of water—too great an enemy for human mind to measure, too mighty a force for man to conquer—rolled slowly, relentlessly on today, toward Cairo, crouched behind his fortifications, toward proud Paducah, already fleeing the river's wrath; toward the whole rich lower Mississippi valley.

Ahead, from Pittsburgh on down through Wheeling, Portsmouth, Huntington, Cincinnati, Louisville, lay death, destruction, disease.

For two weeks the Ohio has been on its orgy, its ruthlessness, increased by the many lesser streams that feed it. The coast to Ohio valley dwellers was:

An estimated 500 dead.
An estimated property damage of $400,000,000.
800,000 homes flooded.
257,510 persons homeless.
232,007 persons unroofed.

At Cincinnati, rehabilitation has begun. Most employers handed out the usual Saturday pay advance yesterday, even though few workmen were able to be on the job during the flood days.

Louisville Rebuilding

Louisville, struck the heaviest blow of all, as the waters receded, began rebuilding what its mayor said would be a "bigger, better Louisville."

Evansville, Ind., was half under water to a depth of as much as 12 feet. The river continued to rise. Drinking water was being rationed. Thousands of relief workers were enlisted for the struggle to checkmate disease.

Cairo, preparing to meet the crest of the flood Wednesday, lies between a sort of aquatic pinhead, with the Ohio on one side, the Mississippi on the other. It was the Ohio today that held the major menace. The Mississippi, with "fuse plug" levees dynamited to lift the pressure, behaved exemplarily.

The waters of the Ohio at Cairo, last night were rising toward a 58-foot stage. The crest, it is predicted, will be 61 feet—a record high.

Evacuation by Force

North of Cairo, in "Little Egypt," smaller communities were evacuated as flood waters backed up, inundating them. Mound City was one of the towns where the people were forced to leave.

Benefit Show This Evening

Proceeds From Ritz Program Will Go For Flood Relief

A first run production, one that has not been exhibited in Big Spring, will be the feature attraction at tonight's Ritz theatre program for the benefit of the Red Cross flood relief fund.

The picture is "Easy To Take," a comedy romance featuring Marsha Hunt and John Howard, both youthful newcomers to the cinema. The story concerns the adventures of a young man who appears on the radio as "Uncle Rodney" and his experiences with not only thousands of "nephews" and "nieces" but with a lovely young girl, Eugene Pallette, an able comedian, heads the supporting cast.

The show will start at 8:30. Admission price will be 25 cents, and the entire proceeds will be turned over to the Howard county Red Cross chapter for transmission to flood relief headquarters. The Ritz management is contributing all film and incidental costs, and employees are donating their time and work.

G-Men's Work Is Shown In Feature Scheduled At Ritz

An "inside" view of the workings of the federal bureau of investigation, better known as the division of the "G-Men," will be presented at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday in a novel short feature called "You Can't Get Away With It." The picture which was made with the official permission of U. S. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and with the co-operation of Bureau Chief J. Edgar Hoover, is an added feature of the program.

Hoover himself appears in the film, and the narrator is Lowell Thomas.

"You Can't Get Away With It" concerns principally the methods of training G-Men. The picture tells of the career of a federal agent from the time he presents his credentials to Hoover until he becomes a full-fledged operative. The many rigid tests and examinations which agents must face are screened.

ONE REWARD PAID FOR CONVICTION IN THEFT OF CATTLE

The tri-county livestock theft association, organized a year ago, has had to pay only one reward pool for the sentencing of any cattle thief in Howard, Glasscock and Borden counties.

The association has paid out about $300, about $50 of that amount going for prosecution and investigation. The remaining $250 was posted as a reward.

There was one other cattle theft conviction on record during the year, but terms of the association's reward offer stipulate a prison sentence, and not a mere conviction.

New Drama Plays Here Sunday, Monday

The great romantic tragedy of "Camille" starring vehicle for most of the greatest names in drama, is made a play for Garbo in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's newest presentation of the glamorous lady—and with Garbo, Metro has teamed the brightest name among male players of the films today that of Robert Taylor, currently the No. 1 "heart throb."

"Camille" with these two stars plays Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

In the title role, Garbo follows such players as Rose Coghlan, Helena Modjeska, Nancy O'Neill, Sarah Bernhardt and Mme. Duse. The novel by Alexandre Dumas written in 1848, has been presented as a play on numerous occasions through the years, the plot being that of a woman seduced by a young man of high birth who falls in love with an impoverished young man, and forsakes all social standing, wealth and even health for the romance. The story ends tragically, the love of Camille—so-called because she was the "lady of the camellias"—and Armand broken off by her death.

J. W. Wooten Named County's 'Master Farmer' For 1936; Record Of Diversification Revealed In His Report

Howard county's master farmer for 1936 is J. W. Wooten, who farms 120 acres in the Fairview community. The honor, accorded him by the joint agricultural council of the county, is shared by Mrs. Wooten, who is equally as active in the farm-home program as her husband.

On a total investment of $8,265, Mr. and Mrs. Wooten realized an income, in addition to products used at home, of $2,500. Products raised for home consumption amounted to well over $500 and came nearer approximating the $1,000 mark.

Wooten planted 80 acres to cotton, 25 to sudan, six to peas, nine to feed. A half acre was carved from tracks near the house to make room for half an acre garden patch. He diversified, so far as possible, with cotton as the money crop.

Terraces Built
To protect his land, he built terraces on 35 per cent of his property and made plans for terracing 25 per cent more. He used contour rows in his fields and ran contour rows on his pasture. After using peas and beans for food, he plowed under stalks while cowpeas were plowed under. He cleans his lots annually, spreading manure on the land. Cotton burs were hauled from the gin and spread on the land. Cotton stalks were plowed under.

Wooten's farm produced 125 pounds of lint per acre in 1936 as compared to a five year average of 137 pounds. He got a yield of 1,500 pounds of milo per acre as compared with a five-year average of 2,000 pounds. Bundle feed amounted to 500 bundles an acre in 1936 as compared to a 350 average for five years.

Select Seed
Cotton and grain seed are select varieties. He buys his cotton seed each year, but saves his choice feed seed annually. He buys sudan and garden seed annually.

All livestock is maintained on home grown feed except for cotton seed meal and poultry mash. Skimmed milk is used as a protein supplement for hogs and chickens.

His livestock, coming from good females and purebred sires, consists of two mules, two mares, eight cows, 10 calves and yearlings, and 20 hogs. He raised 23 pigs during the year, selling 10 and butchering and selling seven others. He has 150 hens which produced 1,050 dozen eggs during the year.

Other Products
Milk production amounted to 4,380 gallons. From this they sold $300 of cream and used $146 of it at home; sold 1,540 pounds of butter and used 150 pounds at home. Home consumption exacted 150 dozen eggs leaving total sales amounting to $390. Two beehives were sold for $50 and 45 quarts were canned for the home. Ten pigs sold for $20 and seven hogs for $100. Six hundred pounds of pork were put up for the home and 23 gallons of lard rendered for home use. Forty pounds of honey produced on the place and the output from 15 grape vines, three peach trees, one apricot tree, and six fig bushes were used largely for home consumption.

Products put up from the garden include such items as leafy vegetables, green beans and peas, yellow vegetables, corn, many of the green vegetables, and sweet potatoes.

The buildings on the farm, with the possible exception of the barn, were kept in good repair. Tools and machinery are sheltered most of the time, when not in use, and are kept in a good state of repair. Total indebtedness of the farm, for a car and tractor, is about $450 and is being easily amortized.

The home contains such labor saving equipment as running water, carbide lights, carbide iron, a motorized washing machine, cream separator, refrigerator, sewage disposal, and others. Mr. and Mrs. Wooten have six children, four of whom are married. Five are away from home. The couple is active in community life, being leaders in church circles. Wooten has served as a trustee of the Fairview school for 28 years. He and his wife have never missed voting in primary and general elections.

Busy Week Is In Prospect For Solons

Committee Hearings Slated On Many Important Measures

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—The legislature took it easy in Houston today, but looming ahead was a full program of work next week. Committee will begin hearings on many important bills and floor action on some will be in order.

Among the more important hearings will be one Monday on a proposed increase in franchise taxes of corporations, expected to be attended largely not only by legislators but also by business men. It will be held by the house committee on revenue and taxation. Hearings have been set for Tuesday on resolutions proposing to congratulate the University of Texas on hiring Dana X. Bible as head football coach and to investigate expenditures by sulphur interests for public relations. Also on Tuesday is a scheduled hearing on a bill which would make mandatory the death penalty for kidnapers of children.

The house education committee Wednesday will consider a bill to concentrate graduate work at the University of Texas, while the oil and gas committee on the same day will take up a proposition to extend the market demand proration law for four years.

Many other committees likewise will meet in both house and senate and the flood of bills headed for the floors will reach a high tide. Several hundred bills have been referred to committees. They will continue to be introduced in the house during the first 45 days of the session and in the senate for 30 days.

After a slow start due to necessary organization, the legislative tempo stepped up last week, high spots including submission of two messages from Governor James V. Allred, a flareup in the house over delays in acting on applications for old age pensions and in the senate over oil taxes and a report by a senate investigating committee on operations of the hot oil confiscation law, insurance company practices and other matters. Both houses adjourned Friday and many members went to Houston to survey a flood control plan and attend a gridiron dinner. Governor Allred also made the trip with a number of other state officials.

Mr. Short came to Big Spring from Whitewright, Tex., and has been continuously connected with the C&P stores in Big Spring the past ten years.

'That Milk Is Good, Give Me Some More'

Apparently the spoken, or unspoken thought of these children flood refugees of southeast Missouri is—"that milk is good, give me some more." The girl smiles, the lad next to her smacks his lips, the older boy is eager for his share, and the baby eagerly awaits a drink from the tin cup. (Associated Press Photo)

To Die For Slaying Of Girl

Railroader Unsuccessful In His Long Search To Find Damaging Button

BELLEFOUNTE, Pa., Jan. 30 (AP)—Robert Dreamer, 40-year-old railroader, who walked many miles in a 10-year search for a button he lost at the scene of a murder, will walk the "last mile" to the electric chair Monday. Someone else found the button. With a cigar in his mouth and trying to appear nonchalant, Dreamer stumbled up the winding stairs of the death house today after a long motor ride to prison, insisting: "I'm game—I haven't given up hope." In 1927, pretty Thelma Young, 17, was found slain in a field near her home in Washington, Pa. There were many suspects. Dreamer was not among them. One man confessed later he admitted he "killed" in the hope that he would be transferred from a Pittsburgh jail to the Washington prison for Christmas. He had a friend there. A large brown button was found in the grass near Thelma's body. Late last year another girl was attacked in an open lot. This time police had reason for suspecting Dreamer. He was "about Dreamer's build," the girl told them. He was arrested. The almost forgotten button was brought out, on a "hunch." Dreamer was shown the button. He collapsed. Detectives said he confessed. At his trial he repudiated the statement, but he was convicted. Witnesses said Dreamer returned many times, walking miles to the scene of the crime. He seemed to be hunting for something. It was the button, state's attorney contended.

INSURGENT ATTACK ON SPANISH GOVT. LINES IS FAILURE

MADRID, Jan. 30 (AP)—Cain settled on Madrid's fronts today after a furious insurgent night attempt to crack government lines had failed. Cannon boomed and machine gun fire sounded incessantly until early hours of the morning, but the government defenders clinched victory after three hours fighting. Reports from Malaga stated government planes bombed nearby Marbella and the trenches around the town. Arrival of twelve members of an American medical unit, with hospital supplies and four ambulances, was reported from Barcelona. An official communique announced four insurgent war planes were forced down in government territory, and the pilots and crews, all Italians, were taken prisoners.

ATTENDS RITES FOR BROTHER-IN-LAW, A VICTIM OF BURNS

Alvin Wood was in Nolan county Saturday to attend funeral rites for a brother-in-law, Stratton Heller, 27-year-old Taylor county farmer who died Friday afternoon of burns suffered earlier that day when kerosene exploded. The blast occurred as Heller used the kerosene to start a fire in the fireplace of his home, 12 miles south of Abilene. His clothing was saturated with the blazing liquid. He was taken to an Abilene hospital, where he succumbed. Wood went to Abilene Friday evening when notified of his kinsman's death.

PAIN DIMINISHING IN POPE'S LIMBS

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 30 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, his pain gradually diminishing, decided today to give his apostolic blessing to all throughout the world who have sent him messages of sympathy and devotion during his illness. Vatican sources said they expected the Pope never will regain use of his legs, but that he might live for many months as long as the pain abates.

Criminal Action Threatened Unless Utilities Register Under New Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—James M. Landis, securities commission chairman, threatened today to take "criminal action" against public utility holding companies which refuse to register with the commission as required by the new dealer's holding company act. He warned the companies to ignore the advice of "their Liberty League lawyers," among whom he named John W. Davis. By their "spurious advice," he said, these lawyers were doing great injury to the companies' stockholders, because the concerns can not sell securities in interstate commerce unless they register. (The act of which he spoke calls for regulation of the holding companies and the elimination of those deemed "unnecessary.") Landis' remarks today were occasioned by a victory the SEC won in New York federal court yesterday. Judge Julian W. Mack ordered the Electric Bond & Share company to register. The SEC chairman declared that "we will proceed with criminal action against unregistered companies once the supreme court concurs in Judge Mack's decision."

No Demand For Tattoos Of Social Security Numbers

SEATTLE, Jan. 30 (AP)—Since nobody hereabouts has ordered his social security number etched on his epidermis, Professor Foadick, otherwise Sailor George, the tattoo artist, thinks the new law isn't going to amount to much. The professor seldom holds discourse on politico-social-economic problems but he laid aside his needles and spoke freely today when an interviewer asked about the number situation. "Well, chief," (he calls everyone "chief") he said, "I don't think this social security act is going to be much of a law. How do I know? "Well, chief, people don't seem to care if they remember their social security numbers or not. "When people really want to remember something they get it tattooed on 'em somewhere. Take the N.R.A. A lot of people got Blue Eagles and 'N.R.A.' designs worked on. It was kind of a dirty trick the supreme court played on them when it repealed

Kinsman Of Missing Pair Gets Threat

New And Mysterious Angle Develops In The Blanton Case

Raymondville, Jan. 30 (AP)—A new and surprising angle of the baffling disappearance of John and Luther Blanton on ranchlands near their San Felita home in November, developed today when Frank Blanton, son and brother of the pair, revealed he received a note threatening his life two weeks ago.

Blanton said the penciled scrawl was sent to Washington offices of the federal bureau of investigation. FBI officials would neither confirm nor deny possession of the threat note.

Blanton said Constable Ernest Oakes of Sebastian, who has been active in investigation of the disappearance, had also been threatened, but warnings came to him verbally.

The Valley Morning Star of Harrison reported yesterday the note warned Blanton: "There is plenty of room for you where your dad and brother are."

Citizens of this county, who once served notice on officers they would conduct an armed invasion of ranching property if the mystery was not cleared, took the federal agency's refusal to deny possession of the note as admission that the department of justice was working on the case.

John and Luther Blanton started on a duck hunt near their home. They never returned and the sand hills of the region have yet to divulge the secret of their fate.

UPSURGE OF STEEL SHARES FACTOR IN FIRMER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Another sharp forward thrust of the steel industry was a certain extent of the climbing process displayed by U. S. Steel. This leader crossed 97 to a new post-depression top and finished at 96 3/4, up 2 1/4 points net.

Gains of fractions to 4 were scored by Bethlehem at 83, National 80 1/2, Wheeling 46 1/2, Republic 34 1/2, Allegheny 40 1/4, Otis 18 3/4, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 33 1/2 and Gulf States 72 1/2. Most of these established new 6-year highs.

The darker outlook in the General Motors strike found buying sentiment for automotive leaders rather cool. With no signs of an immediate break in this deadlock, despite feverish activities of governmental authorities, General Motors was off 1-4 at 67 7/8 and Chrysler was up a small fraction at 123 1/4.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, principally with the aid of the steel, managed to emerge with a gain of 3 of a point at 71.6. Sales, closing price and net change of the 15 most active stocks today:

NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Opening higher on better foreign markets, cotton held small gains through the two hours of trading today and finished 2 to 8 points up.

Several favorable factors induced speculative interests and the trade to come into the ring on the buying side.

March finished at 12.80; May at 12.64, July at 12.47 and Oct. at 11.82. Gains were held to smaller proportions in the new crop division and most of the activity centered in the near months.

Spot cotton continued to be actively higher, with middling at New Orleans moving up 50 cents a bale. The inherent tightness in the spot division was a contributing factor on the advance for futures.

The market opened unchanged.

ZOG GETS WIFE?

Reports Say Albania's King Has Found A Queen

ZABOLA, Rumania, Jan. 30 (AP)—The long search of Albania's handsome bachelor king for a queen appeared today to residents of this territory to have ended successfully—despite denials.

At the castle near here of the Mikes family, a "tut tut" attitude greeted questions whether the young and beautiful daughter, Countess Hanna Von Mikes, will marry 41-year-old King Zog I, who two years ago sought vainly a willing and wealthy American for wife.

Early in 1934, Zog confided to friends that he would like to marry an American girl who possessed, besides a minimum yearly income of $1,000,000, beauty, charm and dignity.

At least one candidate was proposed, but rejected because she didn't have enough money.

MAKE DEPOSIT OF FUNDS FOR JOBLESS

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Texas unemployment compensation commission today transferred $2,000,000 to the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank as its second general deposit. Earlier in the week $1,500,000 had been forwarded.

The money will be held in trust in the United States treasury until payment of benefits to jobless workers starts in 1938.

Kelton Wells, staff member in charge of field men, said many employers paid the full one per cent tax on their 1936 payroll to the federal government instead of nine-tenths of one per cent to the state commission and one-tenth to the internal revenue bureau.

"These employers," Wells declared, "must send the Texas commission its share of the tax before Feb. 25 if they wish to escape penalties for delinquency. Then they may apply to the federal government for a 90 per cent refund."

FARLEY TO WACO

WACO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Postmaster J. M. Pittillo said today he had received definite word that Postmaster General James Farley will be here March 8 to formally dedicate the new postoffice building.

Around And About

By Tom Beasley

DESPITE THE loss of the coach who led them to three successive state schoolboy titles, the Amarillo Sandies will still have a good chance for another state title this fall.

PAT CAGLE, Brownwood football coach who attended the committee meeting Saturday in Abilene, voted in favor of splitting the district with Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo, Breckenridge and Brownwood in one group.

GEORGE GENTRY, who led the horse-play division at the Abilene parlay, came out of the fracas with a good schedule for the Steers. The Longhorns have four good home games—with Abilene, Breckenridge, San Angelo and Brownwood.

George Gentry, W. C. Blankenship and Coach George Brown, who returned from Abilene late Saturday night, said the football committee meeting was a hectic affair. It seemed that six schools, Breckenridge, Brownwood, Eastland, Ranger and Stephenville had already planned to vote for a split with a Thanksgiving day playoff, and it was several hours before their way.

One committee member wanted to call Roy Henderson, inter-scholastic league official, and request that Stephenville be listed out. However, he got no support.

Mineral Wells representatives were on hand and asked for permission to get in the Oil Belt. Gentry made a motion Mineral Wells be made a member of the circuit and it carried.

Johnny Kitchens, the contrary Eastland coach, caused some confusion when he refused to play a Thursday day game, and said he wouldn't play the day before or the day after. The matter may have to be settled by the committee at a later date.

SCRIBE CONFERENCE TEMPLE, Jan. 30 (AP)—Arrangements were completed today for a meeting in Temple Tuesday of sports writers of newspapers that are members of the Associated Press.

Special guests will be Dana X. Bible, recently appointed football coach at the University of Texas; his assistant Blair Cherry, Coach "Dutch" Meyer of Texas Christian University and Coach Boyce Koch of George Washington University.

Lloyd Gregory of the Houston Post will preside at the conference meetings.

BAYLOR BEARS NOSE TO FROGS, 21 TO 19

TCU LEFT IN LEAGUE BASEMENT

WACO, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Baylor Bears unleashed a sensational last half rally tonight to nose out the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, 21 to 19, in a closely-fought Southwest Conference basketball game.

The result gave the Frogs sole possession of the league basement and sent the Bears into a tie for third place.

Texas Christian got off to a flying start and was in front 11 to 5 at the intermission. The Frogs stretched their lead to eight points shortly after the start of the second period but the Bears began to find the basket from all parts of the floor and scored 13 points and forged ahead 18 to 13 before the Frogs found their scoring range again.

Mabby, rangy Frog center, grabbed individual scoring honors with five field goals and one toss for a total of 11 points. His one-handed shots were a highlight of the contest.

Jelly Sorelle, Baylor guard, took time off from his defensive chores to find the hoop for seven points and share honors with Bubba Gernand for the Bears.

Sam Baugh, Texas Christian football ace, turned in a fine job of guarding Wilson White, Baylor sharp-shooter, before he was forced out of the game on fouls in the second half.

The Baylor Cubs drubbed the Texas Christian Polliwogs 29 to 20 in a curtain raiser.

Scoreboard for TCU game: Gernand, f. 1 5 7; White, f. 1 1 3; Kirkpatrick, c. 1 1 3; Sorelle, g. 3 1 7; Clark, g. 0 0 0. Totals: 29 to 20.

TYLER INVITES RUSTY RUSSELL FORT WORTH, Jan. 30 (AP)—It was learned here today overtures have been made by Tyler high school officials to H. N. Russell, Masonic home football coach and principal.

Russell admitted a conference with Tyler authorities but said nothing had developed. The Fort Worth mentor has made a great record with his little band of Masonic home warriors in the last half dozen years.

Oregon May Not Extend Trip To Baton Rouge EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 30 (AP)—Whether the University of Oregon grid team will extend its Arizona trip to Baton Rouge for a game with Louisiana State remained in doubt today, following a special meeting of the athletic board.

The Webfoots will play the University of Arizona at Tucson Dec. 4. The grid contest with Fordham university at New York, first listed for next fall, is scheduled for Oct. 22, 1935.

HIGH HURDLES CHAMP EQUALS WORLD RECORD

BOSTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Johnny Donovan, Dartmouth's intercollegiate high hurdles champion, equalled the world record of 5.8 seconds twice tonight while winning the 45-yard high hurdles event that opened the Prout Memorial games before a 12,000 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Donovan broke the tape about a foot ahead of Ray McLaughlin of Boston, the former Bowdoin star, but the other two finalists, Bill Schmidt, of Harvard, and Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist university, the national A.A.U. tilist, tripped clearing the second and third hurdles and were hopelessly outdistanced.

Forsan Favored In County Play

The Forsan high school Buffaloes will be heavy favorites when senior boys' basketball teams take the hardwood in Coahoma Monday for the county playoff.

Hartie Optioned To N'York Yankees KANSAS CITY, Jan. 30 (AP)—Johnny Kling, owner of the Kansas City Blues, said tonight Christian Henry Hartie, catcher with the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league last year, has been optioned to the Blues by the New York Yankees, who recently arranged a working agreement with the Kansas City club.

Lewis In Position For Shot At Pastor Or Brown Bomber NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden fight promoter, announced tonight that he had agreed to permit John Henry Lewis, the light heavyweight champion, to fight in Chicago in a bout proposed by promoter Mike Malloy.

FORSEAN DEFEATS GARDEN CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

BOB JUMPS OFF REVERSE GEARED BICYCLE AND CHASES LOUIS FOR A RETURN MATCH

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Joe Louis, the bewildered pursuer, today found himself the pursued as Bob Jacobs jumped off his reverse geared bicycle and began chasing the Brown Bomber for a return match.

Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden, who has been living the life of a retired business man since Louis came along to fight under promoter Mike Jacobs' banner, led the chase that promised to be a much longer one than Pastor escaped from last night.

Nothing can stop Pastor from winning the heavyweight title now, shouted Johnston as he mounted on his dust covered soap box. "Louis has to fight Pastor again, this time over 15 rounds, and Bob will knock him out. Max Schmeling will knock out Braddock and repeat against Louis. Pastor can lick all three of 'em."

Need Smaller Rings "We're tired of chasing Pastor and who can tell if we could catch him anyway?" chuckled Jacobs. "We'll have to get a smaller ring if they fight again. No, there's no chance for a rematch until June at the earliest, if then."

"If Jacobs says the word, we're ready, any time," commented Julian Black, co-manager of the Bomber. Sure, 15 rounds would be just what we'd like. We'll build a trap for Pastor so he'll have to fight next time."

Although Louis looked bad and lost prestige as he chased the former New York university football player before that howling crowd at Madison Square Garden, his bankroll scored another knockout.

Gross receipts for the show totaled $111,750.00 with a net of $94,536. Louis' cut was $37,514.60; Pastor's $18,917.20, more money than he earned probably in all his previous fights.

Torrence May Be 'White Hope'

Joe Louis goes merrily along picking off young heavyweights before they have time to develop. One of these days the field will be depleted. Then promoters are going to comb the country for a "White Hope."

Jack Torrance may eventually develop into a threat, despite the fact that many fistic experts believe the idea that the former Louisiana State shot-put star will ever amount to anything in the ring. He has knocked out a few hand-picked heavyweights in his time, but, to date, he has not really been tested.

Not Good-Natured "Jack handed me a great surprise when I saw him in the ring," said Hardin. "He's as fast as any 180-pounder. Once the bell rang he was like a man possessed, determined to batter his foe to the canvas in a hurry. When he knocks his opponent down, Jack can hardly wait for him to get back on his feet before attacking again."

"All this chatter about Torrance being a big, good-natured boy makes me smile," Glenn continued. "He's good-natured all right, but only as long as no one crosses him. Once he gets his dander up things begin to fly. I know—didn't I travel around with him for five or six years?"

"His condition, when I saw him fight, was a revelation to me. He was fat and flabby when we were abroad with the Olympic team. But now that he has trained down to about 265 pounds he looks great. You should see those muscles in his back ripple when he starts throwing punches. In all the time we competed at Louisiana State I never knew that his back was lined with such powerful muscles."

BUFFALOES RALLY IN LAST HALF

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 30—The Buffaloes of Forsan high school broke tonight in the second half here tonight in their game with Garner to win the annual Garden City Invitational basketball tournament, 33-13.

The Garner lads pushed their favored opponents throughout the first half but the Buffaloes came to life after the intermission and took the lead.

The Elbow girls won their divisional play by defeating Courtney, 35-31, in a seaway affair.

Forsan went into the second round when Water Valley failed to appear and went into the final round with victories over Elbow and Coahoma.

The boys' all-tournament team was selected with Burns, Garner and Bell, Garden City, forwards; Chambers, Forsan, center; and Forsan, Garner, and Scudday, Forsan, guards.

E. Springer, Courtney, N. Gregory, Elbow, McWilliams, Garden City, were placed at forwards on the girls' team with C. Springer, Courtney, Love, Elbow, and McWhorter, Garden City, guards.

POP KITCHENS TO MANAGE PENSCOLA CLUB

TYLER, Jan. 30 (AP)—Frank "Pop" Kitchens, a veteran of 31 years in organized baseball as player and manager, announced here today that he had signed to manage the Pensacola club in the re-organized Southeastern league.

The terms of the contract were not announced.

Kitchens said the Pensacola club would have a working agreement with the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association, with whom he was coach last year.

Kitchens will leave for Pensacola next week.

HAYES NAMED RELAY REFEREE

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—Clyde Littlefield, University of Texas track coach, announced today the athletic council had approved E. C. "Bill" Hayes of the University of Indiana as referee for the Texas Relays, April 3.

Hayes, who coached Indiana to the Big Ten track championship last year, developed such stars as Don Lash, two-mile world record holder, and Chuck Hornbostel, famed half-mile.

Hayes informed Littlefield Lash probably would participate in the 10th renewal of the relays. The Indiana mentor coached the distance performers in the 1936 Olympics.

Other schools which have filed entries for the relays include Chicago, Nebraska, Louisiana State, Kansas, Michigan State and Kansas State.

Mrs. Charles Dublin, accompanied by Mrs. John Dublin of Midland left Saturday night for Marlin, where they will spend several weeks.

Houston Gets All-Star Game

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 30 (AP)—The Texas league adopted late today a 1937 schedule of 161 games, opening April 14 and closing Sept. 12.

It was agreed by the league representatives at the annual schedule meeting that the opening day games would be played in Tulsa, Dallas, Galveston and Houston on April 14.

Beaumont, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City will have their openings on April 16.

Last year the championship schedule consisted of 154 games. Nine doubleheaders necessitated the greater number for 1937.

The schedule for April 14 and 15. Oklahoma City at Tulsa, Fort Worth at Dallas, Beaumont at Galveston, San Antonio at Houston.

Adoption of the schedule and awarding of the second annual all-star game to Houston, with the date tentatively set for Saturday, July 17, kept the Texas League clubowners busy most of the day. In the event of rain the all-star game would be played July 21.

After three hours of discussion the magnates shelved the broad-casting question temporarily. They decided to go ahead with other business, sleep on it, and then take up the puzzle at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Representatives of General Mills submitted two propositions to the clubowners. One was for broadcast privileges on all games, both on the road and at home. The other was for the broadcast of road games only.

Sam Willing Wins First Prize At Kingsville

KINGSVILLE, Jan. 30 (AP)—Sam Willing, owned by A. L. Hubert of San Antonio, won the $500 first prize in the open stake of the Texas Associated Field Trial Club today on the King Ranch south of here.

Second prize went to Tips Bend, owned by R. A. Johns of Austinit and Tenbrook Bonnet, owned by Bill Bowles of Houston was third.

Eligibility Of Homer Tippen Is Questioned

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Pot-pouri of Texas sports: Investigation of Captain-Elect Homer Tippen's eligibility started after sleuthing revealed the husky University of Texas end's name appeared among the list of substitutes for the Texas-Oklahoma game of '34.

Texas officials, exhibiting signed statements from the team manager and coach, declared Tippen, although a sophomore and eligible, did not play during '34.

One minute of play in the Oklahoma or any other game would have lopped a year off his allotted three-year span.

Nimble Morris Sands, rabbit University of Texas football and baseball star, has signed with Pittsburgh's Pirates and will not return to school next year.

Only the work of Joe Routt, Charlie Deware and other Texas Aggie footballers quieted a crowd demonstration after the Rice-Aggie game of a week ago. They stopped in and escorted the Owls to the dressing room as the crowd surged on the floor.

Wayne and Blaine Rideout, North Texas Teacher's college foot racing twins, will meet Don Lash of Indiana and Archie San Romani of Kansas in a special mile and half event at the Drake relays.

One of the four stands a chance of bettering Paavo Nurmi's world record time of six minutes, 42.5 seconds.

Ed Oile, University of Texas business manager of athletics, says the Rideouts will tangle with Lash at the Texas relays on the first Friday in April.

One hundred of the state's classic amateur fighters will sling Golden Gloves in the state finals at Fort Worth Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Winners go to the Chicago national meet. Handsome Jack Groat, for years junior professional at Fort Worth's Glen Garden Country club, has accepted a post as Henry Pjcard's assistant at Hershey, Pa. county club.

Bufs Beat Out Off-Key Steer Team

With a 10-8 lead at halftime, Brady Nix's Forsan Buffaloes found the hoop in the third quarter and filed up an advantage a badly off key Steer team was unable to overcome.

The Forsanites won the game, 22 to 16, played here Friday night.

Playing too fast, the Steers missed countless opportunities to tally. Weldon Elyson, ordinarily a crash shot, failed to make a field goal and had only five free throws to show for his evening's work.

As the third quarter got underway the visitors pulled into a comfortable lead as Parker, Scudday, Chambers and McKinnon each managed a field goal in quick succession.

Parker and Scudday stood out for Forsan.

MIGHTY GLENN RACES AHEAD OF DON LASH

Cunningham Sets Indoor Mile Record At Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Mighty Glenn Cunningham, the maker of the world's indoor and outdoor mile records, came thundering around the last back turn tonight to overtake and gain a five-yard victory over Indiana's Don Lash in the 15th running of the K. of C. mile feature event at the Froat Memorial games at the Boston Garden.

The packed crowd of 12,000 gave the winner an ovation as he broke the tape in 4 minutes 11.8 seconds, the fastest mile ever run indoors in Boston.

Gene Venasek of the New York A.C. whose 4:14.4 made last year was the Boston record, finished third, a stride behind the laboring Lash. Archie Ryan, Roman of Kansas State Teachers was fourth and Charlie Venasek of Wisconsin, racing on boards for the first time in his career was fifth and last.

Cunningham, running his first mile of the season, was content to trail for three-quarters of the race. He pulled into second place, about 10 yards behind Lash, who led from the gun, and then started to cut down Don's wide margin. Another turn around the rebuilt track placed him only eight yards behind Lash, who began to tire from his terrific pace at this point.

The Indiana, however, had the stamina to remain in front for another three quarters of a lap. Just as he reached the final turn, Cunningham's mighty finishing spurt shot him into the lead and he picked up ground during the final 30 yards on the flat to the tape.

JONES TO REPORT FEB. 19

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 30 (AP)—Major Lawrence "Biff" Jones, new University of Nebraska football coach, returned here tonight from Washington, D. C., and announced he would depart Feb. 19 to take over his assignment at Lincoln.

Major Jones surprised the grid-iron world this week by announcing his retirement from the army and signing a five-year contract to succeed Dana X. Bible, new University of Texas mentor, as head coach and athletic director at Nebraska.

Motions to split the district into two sections with a Thanksgiving Day playoff was rejected, as was a movement to protest admission of Stephenville. Both these actions and all other official business was accompanied by much debate and horse play.

Little Enters San Francisco Semi-Finals

Horton Smith, Henry Picard And Neil Christian Advance

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Laydon Little in two crushing victories today moved into the semi-finals of the 72-hole $5,000 San Francisco match play open golf tournament.

Enjoying only average success in medal play since he turned professional, Little sent Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N. J., down 3 and 2 in his second match play round after smearing Orville White, Chicago, 3 and 4, in the morning 18.

Into the semi-finals with Little marched Horton Smith, Chicago, Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Neil Christian, Yakima, Wash. Smith had the toughest of the second round assignments. He noed out Sam Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh on the 19th after the 1935 national open champion had held a 3 up lead with five holes to play. A 12-foot putt drilled straight into the cup won the match for Smith.

Picard defeated Byron Nelson, Ridgewood, N. J., 3 and 2, while Christian took the measure of Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., by an identical score.

In tomorrow's 18-hole semi-finals Smith will pair off with Little while Picard will meet Christian.

POWERFUL 5'S CLASH TUESDAY

In a flood benefit performance, Big Spring's talented representatives in the independent basketball wars—"Mileway" Baker's Dukes and the McMurry college Indians, Abilene, will tangle here Tuesday night in the high school gym. All proceeds other than expenses of the visiting team will be donated to the Red Cross flood relief fund.

To the winner of the Tuesday game should rightfully go the title of "Kingspins" of West Texas basketball. The only other team capable of holding either of the participants is Hardin-Stimmons, and the highly touted Cowboys have refused to consider a game with either team despite the fact that the Cowhands played only six games this month and have only a dozen scheduled during February.

R. M. Medley, who tutors the Abilene Methodists, has one of his best teams in several years, according to reports from Taylor county. Led by the veteran Max Arrants, the rangy McMurry quintet twice swamped the Southwestern Pirates and are leading the pack in the race for Texas conference honors.

On two occasions the Dukes have triumphed over the ACC Wildcats, another Abilene college crew, and are going to be hard to stop on their own court. Showing both times in the Bennett fieldhouse, Abilene, the locals declanned the collegians by scores of 46-31 and 39-26.

Lindstrom Is Dropped From Brooklyn List

Arm Mended, Freddie Believes He's Good For Four Or Five Years

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Freddie Lindstrom, "boy wonder" of baseball in 1924, restored to the active playing list after eight months of voluntary retirement, had received no word as to his baseball future from the Brooklyn club he deserted last May because he said he no longer was able to earn his salary.

As Lindstrom sizes up the situation, he is without a job, although he is burning with ambition to return to the game. Unless he receives a contract from the Dodgers, he will become a free agent March 1.

At the age of 31, Lindstrom does not believe he is washed up as a ball player and that he still has four or five years of major competition left. His right arm, broken at the wrist last November in an automobile smash-up, has entirely mended, Lindstrom says, and is as good as ever.

Moore Back To Cards

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Outfielder Terry Moore returned to the Cardinals roster for 1937 today.

The front office announced he signed contract had been received. Terms were not disclosed. A signed contract from Mike Ryba, a pitcher, also was announced.

Schaefer Beats Hoppe

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Jake Schaefer of Chicago won the world's 28.2 ball line billiards championship tonight, 2,500 to 2,162, defeating Willie Hoppe of New York 200 to 183 in the tenth and final block of their 2,500-point duel for the title and a $1,000 side wager.

Offer Made S. W. Conference Grid Champs

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—J. Curtis Sanford, president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association, said today he had made propositions to the Southwest and Southeastern conferences which he hoped would make the Cotton Bowl football game a permanent classic.

Sanford said he had offered to enter into a 10-year contract with each organization under which each would designate its football champion at the close of the regular season and deliver the team selected to participate in a New Year's day encounter in Dallas.

Sanford said he had offered to guarantee each team $10,000, or 25 and one-third per cent of the gross gate in the event that figured more than $10,000.

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—Capt. Jack Collins scored 15 points and Phil Baxter tallied 12 here tonight as the University of Texas Longhorn cagers defeated Olson's Terrible Swedes, a touring professional team, 35 to 29.

Gehrig Aims For Record 2,500 Games

Must Play Four And Half More Years Without Missing Game

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Lou Gehrig threw a party today for the baseball writers, not to reveal any particular developments in his current contract differences with the Yankees, but to disclose his ambition to stretch his "iron man" playing record to 2,500 consecutive games.

"Already holder of the all-time record of an unbroken string of 1,808 games, covering a dozen seasons, Gehrig's announced goal means that, to achieve it, he must play four and a half more years without missing a ball game.

"Maybe I'm optimistic," grinned Lou, as the boys pinned him down to facts and figures, "but I'm only 35 now and I don't see why I can't aim at 2,500 games in a row and leave 'em something to remember me by.

"I may need the breaks to do it, but so far as I'm concerned, there's no special strain to playing every day."

Thereby, in effect, Gehrig gave emphasis to his rebuttal to Babe Ruth's suggestion it would take the strain off Lou and lengthen his baseball playing career if he broke his consecutive-game string.

When somebody charged the subject to ask Gehrig who he rated the greatest all-around player of all time, Lou replied: "Honus Wagner—because he was not only a wonderful shortstop, but a great team man—the best I ever saw."

Gehrig bracketed Ruth with Ty Cobb as his second choice for all-time playing honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Max S. Jacobs and daughters left Sunday morning for Dallas and Greenville, where they will spend several days the guests of relatives and friends.

MAN INDICTED IN SLAYING AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Dallas county grand jury today indicted Jimmy Ragdale, 37, for the pistol slaying yesterday in a downtown drug store of F. W. Isom, 36, deputy game warden of Hebron.

Four bullets struck Isom. Jerry Hardin, attendant, told police the shooting followed an argument precipitated by Isom's attacker.

Ragdale surrendered several hours after the shooting.

Floods

Refugees In Memphis

Memphis, in the path of rolling flood tides (but confident that her situation on higher ground will save her) is a city of refugees. They have come by thousands from Arkansas' flooded lowlands, from Tennessee river points, and from as far south as Mississippi.

More than 115,000 men are at work on the dikes in the Memphis area. Five hundred flood sufferers are in Memphis hospitals under treatment for influenza, pneumonia, typhoid fever and even smallpox.

An earth tremor early Saturday morning was so slight that few persons knew of it, but it sent engineers hurriedly to check the dikes for fear that some of them may have been undermined.

Sixty thousand persons have been evacuated to higher ground in Arkansas, more than 20,000 in Missouri.

"River rats are looting homes and barns in the lowlands," the sheriff of Cross county in Arkansas said. In some places river patrols are on regular duty with orders to "shoot to kill."

Rain was predicted for today over the Ohio river valley, and occasional rains over the lower Mississippi.

Cripple Held In Shooting

Deputy Killed, U. S. Officer Wounded In Okla. Gun Battle

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Jan. 30 (AP)—A crippled youth who said he was an expert marksman was held for questioning here tonight in the fatal shooting of an Ada deputy and the wounding of a deputy U. S. marshal.

Castured without resistance on a hilltop near Stringtown not far from a bullet-riddled automobile the youth told Sheriff Tom Kilmer of Atoka county he was Jack Scott, 17, St. Louis, Mo.

The bullet-scared car was taken to Ada, and when a crowd of curious gathered, Sheriff Clyde Kizer and Police Chief Roy Keller, both of Ada, brought the youth here.

Alvis Jones, Ada deputy sheriff was killed and Allen Stanfield, deputy U. S. marshal, was wounded in an exchange of shots at Ada last night after they attempted to question a suspect in a McAlester holdup.

Officer Tom Helaman of McAlester was wounded shortly after a "gun held up a drug store there."

"I wanted some excitement," officers here quoted the youth as saying. "I took my mother to an Eastern Star meeting in St. Louis and after I left her there I just kept on driving."

Asked by Holdenville officers if he had robbed the McAlester drug store, the youth smiled wryly and said, "I'm afraid so."

"I don't know why I did it," Kilmer quoted the prisoner as saying. "I never had been in trouble before in my life," the boy said.

The Week

this is the season of the year to get trees in the ground, and certainly Big Spring needs to put more and more trees in the ground every year. Nothing so beautifully breaks the monotony of the West Texas barrenness as a tree, and nothing will do as much for beautifying the home and city as trees.

Ollie Williams, leader in the motor transport association of Howard county, submitted a list of 10 commandments for safer and saner driving, including such pertinent advice as not passing a car while going up a hill, not passing while going around a curve, staying out from under a wheel while or after drinking, and cutting down on speed. Summing up the fine advice, they might all be included under one "great commandment"—don't be a fool.

Insurance racketeers have been active in this area, preying upon applicants for old age assistance applicants. They have represented to applicants that taking out a policy would clinch or increase a grant. It is bad enough for these leeches to prey upon anyone through hope of mere sustenance, but to prey upon oldsters who have passed the comeback age is one of the most despicable bits of pirating.

People still have heart strings. They may not give for this or that, but when a real need arises, they will give until it hurts. When first reports of the Ohio valley flood came over wires and a small quota was fixed for the county, it appeared that even that amount would be difficult to raise. However, with news of the mounting disaster and human suffering, people opened up their purses and gave liberally. By the end of the week, Howard county people had contributed an amount unofficially estimated to be in excess of $1,000.

Oble Bristol, who maintains a residence here, was alleged by his friends to have spent as long as 30 minutes here on a "visit" one day last week. Luster Grissam set a new record for courage or embarrassment when he was forced by friends to cart his bride down Third street one night last week, only to be picked up by a policeman for his trouble. Joe Faurett, justice of peace, had to draw a once-married couple for his first marriage ceremony, thus making him the only one greatly ill at ease.

San Angelo singers staged a great performance before an appreciative audience, which was noticeably devoid of youthful hecklers. And that's something, for youngsters have a shameful record here of marrying performances. Monday evening Snyder brings a troupe here for another of the free community entertainment series. Judging from some of the acts Snyder artists staged on the first of the programs here, the show will be plenty good.

TEMPLE, Jan. 30 (AP)—L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, was released from a hospital here today fully recovered from injuries suffered in an automobile accident January 21. Accompanied by his wife, he returned to Austin.

TERRACING WORK IN COUNTY SPEEDED UP

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Santa Fe railroad announced today service would be inaugurated Monday over its 112-mile line between Las Animas, Colo., and Boise City, Okla. The road termed it the "only railway construction of consequence in the United States last year."

Warn Floods To Last 'A Long, Long Time'

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 30 (AP)—Men skilled in taming the Mississippi river coupled a determined fight against its rising waters today with a prediction "this flood is going to last a long, long time."

Even as the ominous warning was sounded, a slight earth tremor, described as local in nature, caused concern at one point where 2,000 men worked with shovels and sandbags to prevent levee breaks.

Work-weary laborers piled tons of dirt and sandbags along every main line levee on the river from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans. Others evacuated threatened lowlands and aided thousands of refugees at ready in concentration camps.

"The worst is yet to come," said Lieut. Col. Eugene Reybold, directing levee strengthening operations. Asked what was needed most, sandbags or men, Reybold replied: "The help of God."

The board decreed absolute quarantine, effective Monday, for the deeply flooded west end residential sections, the district to be in control of the United States army and city police. It ordered also a limited quarantine in an area extending for five miles beyond the city limits on every highway entering the city.

Large Crowd Is Expected For Review

Popularity of the reviewers and interest in her subject matter are expected to prove a combination attracting a large crowd at the Settles hotel Tuesday evening, when Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas gives a criticism of Vera Brittain's "Honorable Estate."

"Honorable Estate," a potent story of social changes in the last 40 years, as revealed through the experience of married life, is one primarily of interest to adults. The evening hour was selected by the Hyperion club for the convenience of men who wish to hear Miss Oppenheimer.

The novel is a companion piece to Miss Brittain's famed autobiography, "Testament of Youth." It treats of the transitions of the period from 1890 to 1930. These transitions are dealt with through the story of three marriages and one love affair without benefit of clergy. The British author seeks to give dramatic life to the struggles, doubts, fears, misgivings and experiments of men and women passing through a period of rapid and momentous change in manners and morals—that period preceding, during and following the World War.

Particularly is emphasized the part women have played in the changing scene. Miss Brittain's title refers not only to "holy matrimony," but also to the changing status of women, and to the spiritual dignity achieved through suffering and experience.

Many who heard Miss Oppenheimer in her earlier appearance here, when she reviewed Sackville-West's "St. Joan of Arc," are looking forward to her interpretation of the British work. Miss Oppenheimer, a professional reviewer of Dallas, has made many appearances throughout the state and the mid-west. She holds a Ph. D. degree and has served as literary critic for major daily newspapers.

The gentle art of dining has a number of fine points you really ought to clear up before you're invited out again.

About the elbows... You may put them on the table for a moment or so—if you're leaning forward to speak to someone. But don't use them as a substitute for your spinal column.

Wait until your hostess starts eating before you do. As the various dishes are passed—unless there are so many you can't sample them all—you should take a bit of each. You don't have to eat everything on your plate.

Attractive Scenery Adds Beauty To Stage Play, 'Turn To The Right'

Special sets are being built for the stage production of "Turn to the Right" slated to be staged at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Municipal Auditorium under the sponsorship of the St. Cecilia Dramatic Club with a cast of 14 home talent players.

About the Cast

Mrs. Ray Lawrence, who plays a leading character role, recounts an interesting experience in the first days of her stage work. She also stated that in the earlier days women had no place in the business or professional world but by forceful action and determination have gradually come to take a place by the man in business and professional activities.

spoken well and stage appearance is splendid. Lawrence Liberty is showing well as the juvenile heavy and C. M. Garnes, portraying the detective is well suited for his selection and has unusual qualifications for the speaking stage.

Joe Pickle's first stage work is receiving much praise in his rendition of Deacon Tillingier, a difficult character part of an elderly man. His lines are well spoken and appears well on the stage. Herman Fuhrer is filling a part for which he is well suited, that of a Jewish pawnbroker. Simmons, said Fuhrer filled the role better than could a number of actors from the legitimate stage.

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

The public now may witness a resurrection conducted by Hesketh Pearson. The subject is Thomas Paine, a gentleman Mr. Pearson credits with nearly miraculous potency and prescience. The title of the book in which Paine returns to us almost in the flesh is "Tom Paine: Friend of Mankind."

Mr. Pearson is a man of enthusiasm, as readers of his recent "Gilbert and Sullivan" already know. He has been so carried away with Paine that he all but credits him with winning the American Revolution single-handed; later exploits almost as marvelous are recounted with the same eagerness and generous unbalance.

Nobody would deny that the pamphleteer who produced "Common Sense" and the numerous broadsides called "The Crisis" had a lot to do with crystallizing American patriotism. Paine had the gift of the journalist in those matters—he was always ready with a column or two of print at the psychological moment. He did not sell his abilities, and as a result was poor most of the time.

But it requires a man of unusual single-mindedness to insist that "the War of Independence was fought as a direct result of his pamphlet 'Common Sense,' or to announce as a serious opinion that the same war was won with the pen of Paine and the sword of Washington (in that order). One need read very little history to realize that there would have been a revolution without Paine, and that, however helpful Paine's pen was, it killed few Britishers.

This is not said in disparagement of Paine. He was a remarkable thinker, obviously far ahead of his time. When he wrote in the service of the American cause he sounded rather like the paid propagandists in our late war. But he wrote more soundly on religious, financial and social questions, and he was a mechanic and inventor of ability. He was always in hot water, which is a testimony to his courage if not to his common sense. He refused payment for political writing when he wrote—this, of course, seems a little less heroic when after a few years we find him petitioning payment from congress for services rendered.

Just the same, he was a great man, one with the courage necessary to die in his belief. They called him an "infidel," but they knew he was a docty one. "Tom Paine: Friend of Mankind," by Hesketh Pearson (Harper).

David Merkin has returned from Dallas and Fort Worth, where he went on a buying tour for his store.

Unable To Perfect Japanese Cabinet

TOKYO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Kushige Ugaki, his determined efforts to form a cabinet blocked by the army, informed Emperor Hirohito today he was unable to form a government and resigned the premiership.

As the retired general officer left the imperial palace, he scathingly denounced the army for having brought the nation to the crossroads of fascism or constitutionalism.

Ugaki, hailed as one of Japan's most brilliant administrators, apologized to the emperor for his long association with the army and dramatically announced resignation of his title of general "as an expression of my sorrow and disappointment at these conditions."

Informed quarters considered however, the sudden development in Japan's week-old constitutional crisis might be preliminary to Ugaki's formation of an anti-military cabinet to purge the army of its extremist elements.

Authoritative sources understood the emperor would give the former vegetable peddler a new mandate to form a government, this time as a civilian.

THE "MASTER FARMER"

Elsewhere in this issue of The Herald there appears an account of the selection, by agricultural councils of the county, of J. W. Wooten of the Fairview community, as Howard county's "master farmer" of 1936.

The designation means that Wooten—with the aid of his wife—did an outstanding job of farming during the past year, achieving good financial returns and living adequately, as well as contributing something to the great industry he represents and improving the value of his own property.

A glance at the record of Wooten's farm year reveals some of the reasons for the council's choice:

Wooten diversified. On a 120-acre farm, he planted 80 acres to cotton, making that his "money crop." He also planted, however, 25 acres to sudan, six acres to peas, nine acres to feed and maintained a half-acre garden. He thus had a product to yield him cash, had other commodities to meet needs on his own farm. His diversification was not limited to crops. He had cattle, hogs and poultry. He killed and canned a part of the beaves, sold some; he slaughtered part of the pigs, sold some; he had poultry and eggs for his own use and sold some. Further, he had some honey production and some fruit from his own trees and vines.

Wooten conserved his soil. Thirty-five percent of his land was terraced, and he is planning to terrace that much more. Much of the soil was contoured. Cotton stalks were plowed under as were other plants. His fields and his garden were fertilized regularly. He obtained a good yield on all his products and yet was not draining his soil.

Wooten chose quality seed. Select varieties only—of cotton and of feed—were planted. The planting of good seed meant an improved quality cotton and feed, and improved quality meant higher returns.

Wooten was a good economist. Council representatives found his property and buildings in good repair; his machinery and implements protected from the weather and in good order. That is applying good business sense to farming.

This Fairview farmer probably would not term himself a "master" in its true sense. He probably would say that what he has done any other farmer can do. And that is true. The soil conservation work, the methods of diversification, the planting of quality seed—these all are common sense policies that every farmer must eventually develop if he is to make his business any sort of success.

It is to be hoped that the "master farmer" procedure means the establishment of patterns for other agriculturists to follow. And for the setting of an example in Howard county, congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wooten on an honor well deserved.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — A bit of a story here, a trifle of story there, and you have New York. To wit—this conversation overheard on a commuter's train:

The man in question sat next to an acquaintance of about 40. After the preliminary greetings they began to talk, and suddenly the elder one said:

"I saw the Duke today."
The listener's eyes and ears became avid with interest. "He came up to me in Houston street and said hello, but I walked on past him. Then he fell alongside of me and asked me to help him. He said, 'I'm not drinking now. Jack, I won't let you down as I did the last time — as I have so often before.' I didn't answer or look at him. I think he realizes how disgusted I am."
And that was all—for then they began to speak of other matters. An O. Henry or a Richard Sherman could twist this into gaudy fiction. But in a column it can only be set down as a fragment of fact—an unfinished episode in the life of "The Duke."

Then, these notes anonymously set down on an envelope, I picked them up on the subway this morning, dropped by some person who may have been you, or you.

"My father never forced me to practice," those notes said. "He must have been disappointed in me, but he never said so. I must see Grainger and get those dimensions." With this there was a line of figures, as if someone had been figuring finances. Probably some clerk who has a habit of writing down his thoughts. Still, it is interesting to speculate.

At the very bottom of the envelope was a last line. It said simply, "Now I am finished with experimenting, and I am definitely ready to go ahead."

Here is a story that describes, I think, a bit of the unpredictable aspect of New York. A printer tells of a pamphlet author who writes one scried after another on how to make money. . . . But the author never has enough money to pay his printing bills.

Too, there is a writer who authorized a book on the beauties of Babylon. It was lyric prose of high excellence, extolling the glory of that ancient city. This tome made him considerable money, and now he is accepted as an authority on the subject. An amusing commentary on the author is that all of his information came from reference books. He has never been to the East. Indeed, he has never been out of the United States.

Then there is that new comedy, "Howdy Stranger," which depicts life on dude ranches out west. The critics sharpened their barbs, one appraiser signifying thumbs down with "So, long, Stranger."

BEHIND THE NEWS

Harm of strikes and floods held exaggerated.
Huge unfilled auto demand piles up.
General Motors tie-up fails to aid competitors.
Flood setback viewed as temporary.

Strike Effects

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Strikes and floods have disrupted the nation's business progress. The figures in the month's business chart show that. But they also show the effect is probably exaggerated in the public mind.

Take the auto strike. No official figures on the effectiveness of the strike are being published. There are none. But there are two excellent private estimates which are dependable. You may accept them as semi-official.

These fix the car output of the big three in the pre-strike week of December 19 and the strike week of January 23 as follows:

Table comparing Pre-Strike and Strike production for General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler.

Deficiency

It shows John L. Lewis has tied up General Motors rather effectively. But more interesting is the point that Ford and Chrysler have not picked up the business General Motors lost. Ford gained only 2,000 cars, while Chrysler actually lost business when the glass strike began to affect him.

What has happened is the creation of a deficiency of about 45,000 cars in weekly production. The market is not being filled. If the strike is settled within a reasonable time, it is quite possible that accelerated production later will fill the deficiency, very little change in total output may be noticeable on the year as a whole.

At least, it is an economic fact that very few people want new cars this year if they can get them. The only net loss in purchasing power is in the automobile industry. The only net loss among the strikers themselves. Even they may be able to buy their new cars later by working overtime in accelerated production to meet the deficiency after the strike is over.

Flood Effects

Take the floods. The best advance indication of January strike output indicates that the mills as a whole will turn out about as much this month as they did in the recent months of December. When water flooded the Pittsburgh and Wheeling area, all mills were operating at top speed on backlogs and January orders exceeding those of last year. They were hitting about 80 per cent capacity. The flood dropped them to about 75 per cent for the past week. They expect to make it up shortly.

Floods likewise have made about a five per cent dent in weekly freight traffic, but this may be offset by rebuilding activities when the water subsides. So will activities in most other affected lines.

The main economic effect of floods is the destruction of wealth. Buildings and factories being ruined. But as far as the national business activity and national income are concerned, the flood influence may not be as far-reaching as it seems.

Consensus

Substantially the same thing is true of strikes, if they are not general and not prolonged, and there is a virtually unanimous opinion on the inside here that the restricted auto strike will not be prolonged. Three well informed government economists were guessing about it the other day. They agreed in the opinion it would not last six months or a year. One guessed a settlement would come "within a month," another "six weeks," and the third "two months." They just differed in estimating how long the men and labor leaders would piddle around in negotiations.

Chart

Table showing percentage of business normally existing at times stated, from 1929 to 1937, with indices for Prod. Emp. and Pay-Rolls.

Price Droppy

More important than the strike and floods in the national business picture at the moment is the change in price trend noted in the third week of January. For 12 consecutive weeks before that, prices had been rising. Sensitive price charts for the period are almost perpendicular. The more heavily weighted government chart rose from 81.3 at the first of December to a peak of 83.7 the second week in January. The third week showed a small drop to 83.3.

Auto Caravan Group Fined

Men Convicted For Travel Without Proper Registration

LUFKIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—Six drivers and an official of an Indiana auto towing concern were convicted in justice court here today of transporting a caravan of new cars without proper registration. The trial, held 24 hours after a first trial had resulted in a hung jury, was prosecuted by County Attorney W. J. Townsend as a test of the Texas automobile registration law. The case brought two towing company officials here by plane from South Bend, Ind. F. E. Walker, head of the towing concern involved, was convicted jointly with his drivers and fined $200. The drivers were fined $1 each. Leonard J. Schrader, vice-president of the American Drive-Away association, was served with a complaint charging him with operating cars with an illegal license. He posted bond and said he would sue the county for false arrest.

694 Births In County During '36

Stork Climaxes Year's Work With Delivery Of The Shaw Triplets

Approximately 500 new residents made their appearance in Howard county during 1936, thanks to the stork who worked overtime and climaxed his year's task with triplets.

The total births registered in the county during the year amounted to 694. But death claimed 216 people, leaving a net gain of 478. Virtually all the births occurred in families of bonafide Howard county residents, while many of the deaths were out-county people.

Boys, in the minority for many years, rallied during 1936 to hold the edge over girls by a count of 374 to 290, or 54 per cent of the total.

The triplets were the sons born to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shaw at Knott on September 30. All survived. Principal cause of death was heart involvement. Stillborn babies were second with tuberculosis of all types ranking third. Fourth in cause of death was pneumonia of all kinds. Maternity claims three lives, all babies, one a white, one a negro, and one a Mexican. Typhoid resulted fatally in three cases while measles was responsible for an equal number of deaths. Influenza was the cause of four deaths, diphtheria one, and bronchitis one. There were a dozen suicides.

TO ASK DISMISSAL OF TAX INJUNCTION

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Government attorneys said today that dismissal of the windfall tax injunction suit of the Pineskey Packing company, Amarillo, will be asked when the case is called Monday before U. S. Judge W. H. Atwell. Assistant U. S. District Attorney John Richard said the suit seeks to restrain the government from collecting about $42,000 of processing taxes that were assessed under provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

This Associated Press aerial photograph illustrates graphically the precarious location, during high water, of Cairo, a city of 15,000, as flood waters crept near the top of a 60-foot seawall protecting the city. On the left is the Mississippi, not flooded at the time the picture was taken. Women and children were being hastily evacuated when this view was taken from the air.

A man booked as Finley Jackson Graves, 24, Kansas City, Mo., (above), was held by Atlanta federal agents accused of trying to slip out of the Citizens and Southern bank, Atlanta, with $11,000 cash taken from a temporarily unoccupied teller's cage. Refugees by the thousands fled flood-beleaguered Paducah, Ky., as water covered both industrial and residential sections, the extent of which is shown in this Associated Press aerial photograph. # Wings for Sally

by SAILEY WOLFE

Chapter 45
 ACCUSATIONS
 As Sally entered the hall with dragging steps, her father rose from his armchair stiffly.
 "Sally!" She ran to him and hugged him tightly. He patted her head. "My dear, if you only knew what hours of suffering you've caused me, you'd never do this again."
 "I promise never to be kidnapped again," said Sally tremulously. Then, at the sight of his amazed expression, Sally drew him down in the chair again and sat on his knee while she told him her adventures.
 It was nearly daylight when they went to bed. Sally set her alarm for eight, and fell into the deep sleep of complete exhaustion. Next morning she scarcely paused for breakfast, leaving her father to make the explanation they had agreed upon to her stepmother. One thing she did pause for—a look at the morning paper.
 Phillip had spread his news in big type across the front page: McDONALD INNOCENT OF ARSON—CONFESSION OF SAM WELLS SHOWS McDONALD VICTIM OF FRAME-UP—MORRIS HIRED DETECTIVE WHO FRAMED McDONALD.
 There was no mention of the blackmail charge. Sally guessed that Phillip would try to hush that part of the affair for Mary's sake. At the office, the McDonald case had the spotlight. Telephone calls poured in all day. Phillip Page had one visitor after another.
 Not until she had read the paper thoroughly, did Sally learn of Mr. Morris' illness. She called Mary immediately, but Dennis said Mary had given orders not to disturb her.
Mary Fours Out Her Rage
 That evening, after supper, Mary visited Sally. She came in wearing a simple dark blue lace frock. There were dark circles under her eyes, and she wore little make-up.
 "Mother and Joe, Jr., are getting in tonight," Mary told Mrs. Warren, in answer to her inquiries. "Dad's worlds better, but he'll have to be careful—the rest of his life." Mary's lips quivered. "I want to talk to Sally," she added. "Do you mind if we go out in the garden—alone?"
 When the two girls were established under the apple tree, Mary sat silent a moment. Her face hardened and her eyes grew hostile.
 "I know where you were, Sally, yesterday when Dad was taken ill. I know who I have to thank for the shock that brought on his stroke—and for that story spread across the paper today—that story that attacks Dad when he's ill and can't defend himself."
 "What on earth are you saying Mary?" cried Sally. "I didn't do anything to your father. Phillip Page wrote the story, but it's all true—every word of it. Phillip doesn't want to hurt your father. He only wants to clear McDonald." "You don't need to defend Phillip to me!" cried Mary. "Phillip and I understand each other. We leave for a long time—ever since you got our house. I was a fool not to realize that you were standing between Phillip and me."
 "I stand between Phillip and you," Sally was so bewildered at the array of accusations Mary had flung at her that she could not think clearly enough to defend herself against any of them.
 "I can forgive you for that," said Mary in a softer voice. "After all, we've been friends for a long, long time. I understand that you love Phillip and I don't blame you for trying to get him. I did the same thing. But I can't forgive you for bringing your wretched McDonald case to Dad, threatening him with telling what you knew, and making him ill."
 "Who told you I did that?" asked Sally quietly.
 "Weren't you there just before he had the stroke? Didn't you make him angry, so that the servants heard you quarrel?"
 "We did get angry with each other," said Sally. "But not because I threatened him."
 "I don't believe you," said Mary stubbornly.
 "It was Giles Benton who threatened him," Sally went on. "The last people he saw before he became ill were Giles Benton and a woman, who had come to extort money for some letters of his she had."
 "Giles was his friend. Perhaps Giles did wrong, as Phillip says, while he was working for Dad. But it wasn't Dad's fault. And Giles was his friend."
 "I heard the whole quarrel between Giles and your father," said Sally. "Your father was terribly upset."
 "There is only your word for that," persisted Mary. "Poor Giles is gone and there is no one to defend him."
 "Let him come back and defend himself," cried Sally hotly. "He's wanted by the police now."
 "Thanks to you," answered Mary. "You uncovered the whole terrible case. But for you, it would never have got to Phillip, even. And you did it for a man you didn't even know. What! McDonald told you that you sacrifice your old friends for him?"
 "I didn't think of it that way," said Sally in a low voice. She lifted her head. "I believe McDonald was innocent, and I wanted to get justice for him."
 "And to get justice, or what you think is justice, you've stooped to spying on your friends. You've never once looked at it from Dad's side."
 "Stop!" cried Sally. "You have no right to come here and accuse me like this. If you and Phillip understand each other so well, go to him and ask him to tell you everything. He'll tell you exactly what I did and why. Perhaps you'll believe him."
 "I'd certainly never trust you again," said Mary.
 She got up, adjusted her hat and went down the walk toward the garden gate. Sally did not try to say goodby. She was too stunned by Mary's attack—too angry for deliberate twisting of facts.
 The longer Sally thought about the whole visit of Mary, the angrier she became. She was also puzzled. Mary was far too intelligent to believe that half the things she said were true. Apparently she had come simply to make Sally angry with her.
 Sally choked back tears of anger and humiliation. She heard the gale click and sit upright in the hammock, for fear it should be Mary returning. But it was plump old Aunt Dora, the colored woman who looked after Phillip Page's house across the way. Aunt Dora held a plate covered with a snowy napkin, and she was coming toward Sally.

 "A Wife and Child" Sally saluted at her eyes with a handkerchief. Aunt Dora was such an old friend it was hard to hide secrets from her.
 "How you, Miss Sally!" Aunt Dora called out. "Glad to see you takin' a little rest. You been lookin' mighty thin and peaked lately."
 "I'm all right," said Sally.
 "Here's a little somethin' for you, honey," said Aunt Dora, offering the plate. "When I was bakin' this evenin' seem like I got to thinkin' about you. Put me in mind of when you was a little feller and I was cookin' for your Ma. You used to pull at my skirt-tail and beg for a little pie."
 "Why, it's chess pie!" Sally uncovered the plate and revealed the little golden brown tarts. "I haven't seen one in years!"
 "Folks don't bake like they used to," sighed Aunt Dora. "Always buyin' their somethin' to eat at the stores, ready-made."
 "You can't get pie like this at the bakery," said Sally. "You were sweet to think about me, Aunt Dora."
 "A body likes to cook for them that appreciates good eatings," said Aunt Dora. "Mr. Phillip, though seem like he don't relish his victuals any more. House is too lonesome, I reckon." Aunt Dora sighed. "Needs a woman and children to fill it up."
 "Mr. Phillip's pretty busy these days," said Sally, keeping her eyes on the plate. "He doesn't want to be bothered by—a family."
 "Huh!" sniffed Aunt Dora. "He do a heap more work did he have him a wife and children. Wouldn't have womenfolk calling him on the phone all day long." Aunt Dora got up to go. "You come across to see me, child. You ain't set foot in our house for a many a day."
 "I'll run over one of these days," promised Sally.
 She watched Aunt Dora go down the path and across the street. If her own conjectures were right Aunt Dora would have a new mistress soon. She wondered how Mary Morris would get along with Aunt Dora. Certainly she would never be content to let the old colored woman rule the kitchen. There would be many servants in the old Page house if Mary took charge.
 "Hey, Sis! You're wanted on the phone!" Ray called from the house. She hoped it was Phillip. "How's your evening, Sally—filled up?" It was Bob Davies, Mary Morris' most persistent admirer. Sally concealed her disappointment.
 "I'm just being lazy. Doing nothing at all."
 "Then how about going over to the roof garden to dance?"
 "I'd like to. Give me half an hour or so to improve myself and I'll be ready."
 Sally knew that Bob had probably been to see Mary and that she had refused to go with him. That was natural enough. Mary's father was ill and Mary was certainly in no mood for dancing. At any rate, Sally was free to go. She had no further responsibilities toward Mary. Dancing the evening away with Bob was certainly better than moping about the house waiting for Phillip to call her. (Copyright, 1936, Bailey Wolfe) A sudden meeting with Phillip sets Sally's blood racing tomorrow.

See End Of Ship Strike

Tentative Agreement Reached; Some May Go To Work Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Tentative agreement between longshoremen and ship-owners was interpreted today by observers as the virtual end of the 92-day Pacific coast maritime strike.
 "It is possible the men will go back to work Monday," said Henry Schmidt, president of the San Francisco local of the International Longshoremen's association. He predicted other necessary agreements would be quickly reached and the records promptly submitted to 38,000 striking maritime workers for approval.
 The accord between shipowners and longshoremen came after a conference at which similar tentative agreement was reached between the shipowners and clerks and checkers, who are affiliated with the I. L. A.
 Under it, longshoremen will receive the pre-strike wage scale of 35 cents an hour for six hours work between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., and $1.40 hourly for overtime. Employers agreed they would not insist upon relief gangs before 5 p. m., permitting the original gang to work two hours overtime if that amount of work remained between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. The matter of when relief gangs would be supplied was one of the questions blocking accord.
 The other, involving where a seaman's work ends and that of a stevedore begins on coastal vessels, was settled in a "mutually satisfactory manner," the spokesman said.

PLAN BUILDING OF A NEWSPRINT MILL IN EAST TEXAS

DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Dallas and East Texas capitalists, bankers, lumbermen and timberland owners meeting here yesterday, mapped plans for the construction of the first newsprint mill in the south. Wirt Davis, Dallas banker, was authorized to appoint a committee to organize plans for a $5,000,000 plant to use East Texas pine. Texas Mill No. 1 of the Southern Paper Mills, Inc., would be located at a site selected by engineers now at work in East Texas. The mill would have an initial capacity of 150 tons of newsprint daily. Ted Dealey, president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers' association, announced Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana publishers had agreed to purchase a substan-

YOAKUM WELL'S PRODUCTION BOOSTED BY ACID TREATMENT

61 Locations Made During Week In 12 Counties As Crude Prices Hiked

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 30.—Marked production increases by Yoakum county's second well, No. 1, the fourth producer in the four mile gap between the Goldsmith and Cummins pools in northwestern Ector county as the result of acidizing, sustained yield of 316 barrels daily by the opener of Loving county's second pool while cleaning out following a shut and a reported high lime top in a southern Terry county wildcat were among principal West Texas oil developments this week.

The making of locations for 61 tests in 12 counties, equaling the number the preceding week which set an all-time high, was accompanied by the posting by Humble of an advance in crude prices which other purchasers were meeting. Proclaimed an increase averaging 12 cents per barrel, the new schedule was declared by operators here to amount to practically nothing. They pointed out that Texas crude of 29-30 gravity for example, formerly worth 85 cents, had been posted at only 86 to 88 cents.

School Fund Suffers It was held that unless West Texas was given the full benefit of the raises posted generally, the University of Texas and the public school fund would be among the greater sufferers. The attorney general's attention was called to the fact that state leases are written so that the state can demand the "true value of the oil."

Emphasizing again he Yates field's enormous reserve in its eleventh year, Ohio No. 14-D Yates flowed 4,786 barrels of oil in one at 4,790 feet for the running of 6 3/4-inch casing. Amersda No. 1 Robbins, Gaines county wildcat in the northwest corner of section 9-A-32-pal, encountered a small amount of sulphur water at 4,891 feet and drilled ahead below 4,914 feet, showing 20 gallons of fluid hourly, half oil and half water. The water appeared to be exhausting. It was struck 1,636 feet below sea level. The test in one mile plus one location south of Landreth No. 1 W. H. Kirk, first well in the county. Stansford No. 1 Morrow, four miles west and slightly north of Landreth No. 1 Kirk and in the southwest quarter of section 30-A-24-pal, was drilling plugs from 7-inch casing cemented at 4,538 feet, total depth being 4,806 feet.

Lucan and Illinois No. 1 Brownfield, Terry county wildcat, in the center of the north half of section 34-15-pal, was abandoned a failure at 5,997 feet in hard brown lime, 167 feet past contract depth. It had no shows.

Crane Co. Leases Sold For $125,000

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 30.—Transactions in the oil area during the week included the sale by R. H. Henderson and associates, L. M. Choate and Fred T. Hogan of Midland, of their lease of 88 acres, E lease of 80 acres and C lease of 195 acres in section 4-R-GC&SF and section 6-35-H&TC in producing territory in southeastern Crane county to the Enniscarna Oil Corp. The purchasing company recently was formed by Elmer E. Bosenke, Los Angeles oil man and polo player, and associates. The consideration was understood to be around $125,000.

Wm. H. Dunning, Jr., of Fort Worth sold to Ben F. Nyswander of Santa Barbara, Calif., the lease on the west half of the northwest quarter of section 34-44-1n-T&P, in the northwest extension to the Goldsmith pool that was effected by Dunning No. 1 Schaefer. The consideration was reported the drilling of one free well, the cost of development thereafter to be borne equally.

LIVESTOCK MAN OF FORT WORTH DEAD

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30 (AP)—E. Spiller, prominent in the livestock industry for many years, died in a hospital here today of meningitis and influenza. He was 61 years old.

He devoted his entire career to the livestock business. For many years he served as secretary-manager of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, being one of the youngest men ever appointed to this position. Survivors included his widow, a daughter, Miss Frances Berkeley Spiller, six brothers and a sister. Funeral services will be held in Fort Worth at 2 p. m. tomorrow with burial at Mansfield, the birthplace of Mrs. Spiller.

H. C. Stipp, division engineer for the railroad commission, is confined to his home due to illness.

Cairo Flood Refugees Flee Town on Freight Train

This dramatic scene from the flood zone shows men, women and children whose homes and farms have been engulfed by disastrous floods, embarking aboard one of the last freight trains to leave Cairo, Ill., before high water cut off rail transportation. An improvised gangplank is being used by the refugees, many loaded down with meagre possessions. Cold weather added to their already sad plight. (Associated Press Photo)

Local Fields Get Increase In Allowable

Glasscock Quota Up 238 Barrels Daily, East Field Gains 116

Oil production for fields in the Big Spring area was boosted 407 barrels daily to a total of 34,247 under the state allowable for February set Friday by the Texas railroad commission.

Test Spudded 4 Miles East Of Big Spring

Graham No. 1 Great West To Explore Area Heretofore Unproductive

Spudding of the Dick Graham No. 1 Great West, wildcat test four miles east of Big Spring, developments in Garza county, and new postings for crude prices stood out in all news here last week.

The Great West test, located in the 80 acres where the Great West refinery was once located, was spudded Thursday night. Operators are using standard rig for the 3,500-foot test.

The test is located 330 feet from the west line of section 48-32-1n, T&P, and 297 feet south of the T&P tracks, property line for the 80-acre tract upon which it is being drilled. Tests were drilled to the north in section 35-32-1n, T&P, about two miles away, and in section 20-32-1n, five miles distant. To the east one was drilled in section 42-31-1n, T&P, two miles away, and in section 34-31-1n, six miles away. To the south, a test was drilled in section 12-32-1s, T&P, two and a half miles distant, and in section 24-32-1s, T&P, five miles away. On the west tests were tried in section 41-32-1n, T&P, section 24-33-1n, T&P, and in section 4, Baur and Cockrell survey. All were abandoned, some with slight shows.

To Second Pay Level In Garza county, the Gartz No. 3 Post estate, 900 feet from the east line of the section and 900 feet from the north line of the company's 80-acre block, which is the south half of the northeast quarter of section 6-5, K. Aycock survey, was drilling ahead toward the second pay horizon after topping the first and advising it encountered the top pay at 2,717-28 feet, acidized with 3,000 gallons Thursday, and was swabbing five barrels an hour. Friday it was drilling at 2,850 feet in lime, only four feet short of where operators expected to pick up the beginning of a saturated lime column where heaviest production in the area is found. On the No. 2 Post estate, completed last year by the company for 137 barrels on spudder test, the saturated lime extended to 2,920 feet. Operators considered the showing in the upper pay strata superior to those of the No. 2 test.

2,800 Feet Of Hole Lost The Grisham and Hunter No. 1 Post estate, four locations to the north of the No. 3 Gartz, was encountering trouble again Friday at 1,000 feet after skidding 40 feet west of its original location where 2,800 feet of hole were lost.

S. Caprito is reported planning a test about a mile west of the No. 3 Gartz, either in the southwest quarter of section 12-30, K. Aycock survey, section 9-5, K. Aycock survey. Contract also is reported made for a wildcat test about five or six miles to the southwest of the Gartz well, probably on the Slaughter property. A $1,000 forfeit has been posted for drilling to start in 90 days.

New Wildcat Locations In Jones County 4th Producer In N'western Ector County

Gauges Completed On Other Wells In That Area During Week Completion Is Between The Goldsmith And Cummins Pools

ABILENE, Jan. 30.—Spudding of two new Jones county wildcats and completion of gauges on two wells featured a wide variety of interests during the week for this area. The two spuddings were the T. K. Simmons of Tulsa No. 1 E. A. Hicks, five miles west of Lueders for a King sand test; and the Fain-McTeaha Oil corporation No. 1 T. J. Lotzpeich, about five miles northeast of Hawley.

The No. 1 Hicks is on a block of about 800 acres west of the King sand pool three miles northwest of Lueders, and is located 450 feet from the north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 5, O'Phelan Asylum lands survey. Contract is for 2,275 feet. Fain-McTeaha No. 1 Lotzpeich is the second of four Jones county tests to be spudded on their 8,000-acre spreads. It is located 220 feet from the north and east lines of the northeast corner of section 40, block 15, T&P survey.

Fourth Producer Completion of the fourth producer in the Galt pool and limiting of the same area a quarter mile southeast was featured in the new Jones sector. The Farris Fikes and Uppren & Frazier No. 3 Guitlar trust estate, a north offset to the Humphrey No. 1 Guitlar, pumped 302 barrels in 24 hours after acidization with 2,000 gallons in lime from 1,991 to 2,015 feet. It is in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 44-15-T&P.

A diagonal southwest offset to the well, the Daniger Oil & Refineries No. 1 Guitlar, was also acidized, and was awaiting gauges this week-end. Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1-A Guitlar, in the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 44, was reported abandoned after drilling past 2,400 feet, below all known producing horizons for the area. Only one slight showing of oil was obtained.

Farris, Fikes and Uppren & Frazier No. 4 Guitlar, north offset to the Daniger test, had progressed past 1,500 feet. It is in the northwest quarter of section 44.

Field Extended Completion of the Uppren & Frazier No. 2-D Dorsey gave another 400-foot north extension to the Hawley field. The well was completed for 789 barrels on a 15-hour railroad commission gauge flowing natural from the Lower Hope lime at 2,229-32 feet. South offset to the test had been acidized. It is in the northeast corner of section 8, Bueno survey No. 197.

West of the No. 2-D, the same operators were attempting a west extension to the northern area in deepening a hole abandoned about 1923 at a total depth of 2,106 feet. Martin & Sea of Wichita Falls contracted to rotary-drill the test. Late this week it had taken two cores of slight saturation in lime from the Upper Hope and was coring ahead for the Lower Hope zone at 2,250 feet. It is also in section 8.

Twin Wells Uppren & Frazier staked locations for two twin wells in the Hawley field: The No. 15-C to be 59 feet west of the No. 9-C Dorsey, and the No. 14-C to be 50 feet east of the No. 8-C Dorsey. Both will seek Lower Hope production as twins to Upper Hope producers. Texas Inland Oil company No. 1 J. K. Pittard, five miles east of Anson, was reported abandoned and plugging after operators had treated it with 1,000 gallons of acid in approximately 50 feet of slightly saturated lime breaks from 2,357 to 2,350 feet, plugged back depth. No free oil had been obtained by drilling to the total depth of 2,293 feet, part water sand. Location of the test is in the northwest corner of section 27, OAL survey.

Stanolind No. 2-B Clay, section 12-29, W&NW, was shot with 200 quarts from 2,470-520 feet and had 1,500 feet of fluid in the hole Friday as it started to clean out. Ward Oil No. 6 Roberts, section 37-29, W&NW, was drilling at 2,320 feet in lime.

Continental No. 2-D Chalk, section 124-29, W&NW, was drilling at 1,600 feet in shell and shale. Cecil B. Rain, section 140-29, W&NW, was showing 20 barrels a day at 3,227 feet.

In the east Howard area Ambassador No. 5 Read, section 46-30-1n, T&P, was preparing to shoot with 500 quarts at 2,765 feet. The company's No. 4 Read in section 48 was at 1,120 feet.
