NO VERDICT REACHED IN ATWOOD CASE

JUDGE LOSES IN COURT FIGHT TO EVICT SHERIFF

Supreme Court Upholds Injunction Granted in Beaumont Case.

AUSTIN, June 21.—The motion of Judge E. A. McDowell of the Sixtieth district court at Beaumont for leave to file a petition for peremptory mandamus directing the Ninth court of civil appeals to vacate its order of an injunction against the appointment of a temporary sheriff for Jefferson county, in place of Sheriff Tom Garner, ordered removed, and whose appeal is pending in the appellate court, was today denied by the supreme court in an opinion by Associate Justice T. B. Greenwood.

The higher court held that it cannot be doubted that the Beaumont court of civil appeals was authorized to consider and determine the right of Garner to continue in office during pendency of his appeal and to protect and enforce this right, under article 1592 of Vernon-Sayles' Texas statutes, and is empowered to issue all writs necessary to enforce its jurisdiction.

EXPERT TARIFF BOARD IS ASKED IN RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Machinery for construction of what is termed a scientific tariff, based on the difference between cost here and abroad, would be provided under a resolution introduced today by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who helped prepare the measure.

Under this arrangement the tariff commission would be increased to ten men and required to report to congress by Dec. 1, 1923, and each succeeding six months thereafter, rates to offset differences in conversion costs.

The commission would be appointed by the President and appointed for life at an annual salary of $12,000 a year. Not more than five of the men could be of the same political party and none would be allowed to engage in any private business.

DUNN'S WILL ASKS WIFE TO RETAIN SPEAKER AS CLEVELAND MANAGER

CHICAGO, June 21.—The late Jas. C. Dunn, president and chief owner of the Cleveland American League baseball club, who died here a short time ago, left an estate of approximately $390,000, it became known today, when his will was filed for probate. His widow, Mrs. Edith R. Dunn, is sole beneficiary.

The will thus makes Mrs. Dunn principal owner of the Cleveland club and makes her the first woman to own an American League club. She is not the first woman club owner, however, for the St. Louis Cardinals formerly were owned by Mrs. Hathaway Britton.

The will requested that Mrs. Dunn retain Tris Speaker as manager of the team and that E. S. Barnard be elected president of the club. Mrs. Dunn, when asked if these requests would be carried out, told the Associated Press she was "not at liberty now to make any statement, explaining that she had been unable to give the will consideration thus far because of her grief at Mr. Dunn's death and because of the many affairs needing her attention now."

The will requests the widow to consult with Speaker, Walter H. McNichols and Barnard as she decided to dispose of the club. It was signed May 26, 1922.

MEN ARE SO SCARCE!

DALLAS, June 21.—It took a big policeman and half a dozen men to separate two girls when they staged a "knockdown and drag out" fight over a man on a busy street corner here Tuesday. The fight started in a store and was continued on the sidewalks and into the street. One of the girls was badly beaten up. She was taken to the police station and fined. The other, after being pulled off her opponent, escaped in a crowd of more than 100 spectators. The man in the case drew a fine.

NEW GLANDS GIVE HIM PEP

CHICAGO, June 21.—Harold F. McCormick already has shown renewed vigor as a result of the transfer of glands in an operation which he underwent a week ago Monday.

Hospital attendants stated that the millionaire harvester head has exhibited signs of renewed vigor. His cheeks are flushed and he is cheerful and vigorous.

McCormick's plans are being kept a close secret but it is believed he will leave for Europe with his daughter, Mathilde, at an early date. Some rumors are that they will sail Saturday.

INTERURBAN TO RUN CARS ON KATY TRACKS

Service Between Dallas and Denton Is Contemplated Under Contract.

DALLAS, June 21.—Power to operate the interurban traffic over the Katy railroad's line to Denton will be furnished by the Texas Power & Light company when arrangements for a contract between the road and the interurban are completed, D. E. Calder, vice president of the Texas Interurban railway, said today.

Husband Is Sent to Jail by Wife Acting as Judge

CHICAGO, June 21.—Mrs. Mildred Hauser was permitted to sit as judge and jury here to decide the fate of Lee Hauser, her husband, charged with passing worthless checks.

Hauser termed his pretty wife, a beauty specialist, a "gold digger" and said he had cashed worthless checks to buy her modish clothes to hold her love.

"She needed more pretty clothes than Zeigfeld's chorus," Hauser said, "so I had to get money to buy 'em, silk lingerie, cob web stockings and other 'thingsamajigs' because she's a regular 'gold digger'."

Judge Michael L. McKinley, who heard the case, asked to see Mrs. Hauser.

The husband's charges against his wife were read to Mrs. Hauser. "I spent $500 of my money trying to improve him after we were married. I also spent most of my energy and cosmetics. He's hopeless," Mrs. Hauser declared.

"One day he took out my diamonds to clean them. He did such a good job that when they came back they were glass."

Hauser's friends, Judge McKinley said, offered to make the checks, amounting to $187, good.

The court left the decision with the wife.

"Put him in jail," was Mrs. Hauser's verdict.

The verdict stood.

MRS. OLSEN FAR AHEAD IN MINNESOTA PRIMARY

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 21.—Returns from Minnesota's statewide primaries today were near enough completion to show that Mrs. Anna Dickey Olsen is far in the lead of Thomas Meighan, her nearest opponent, for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

Sentiment on the question of sending a woman to the United States senate will be an added feature to the party issues in the general election in Minnesota next November.

CONGRESSMEN PLAN RECESSES TO GET HOLIDAY

Nearby Members Could Meet Every Three Days and Declare Another.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—A series of three-day recesses, starting July 1 and continuing until the senate makes final disposition of the tariff bill, was planned by the house members today following President Harding's acceptance of the plan to postpone action on the ship subsidy bill for a month.

If everything goes smoothly and the house members are able to get away as soon as expected, politics will start humming shortly all over the country. The main reason 435 house members are eager for the recess is to go to their congressional districts and begin mending their political fences. Under the three-day recess plan, a few members—those who live close by—would have to meet in the house every three days and move a recess. The bulk of the congressmen could leave Washington and would not need to return until the tariff bill is ready for conference.

A.F.L. OBJECTS TO DISCRIMINATION AGAINST JEWS

CINCINNATI, June 21.—Harvard's reported ban on Jewish students is to be investigated by organized labor. The American Federation of Labor convention here today adopted without discussion a resolution directing the executive council to investigate the alleged discriminatory act which is said to be contemplated by Harvard university, and to take such action as it may deem feasible to remove the discrimination.

Another resolution asked congress to investigate parcel post rates, to determine a fair and reasonable rate of postage commensurate with the cost of service. Shorter hours for postal employees who work at night were recommended.

Establishment of labor colleges was recommended in a resolution reported by the educational committee and adopted.

FUNERAL IS OFF!

New York, June 21.—An hour after she had been prepared for burial today, Mrs. Rebecca Senz sat up in her coffin.

Physicians summoned the woman's children and relatives this afternoon, and at 5 o'clock, after she had suffered a paralytic stroke, she was pronounced to be dead.

Ice was packed about her body and candles were lighted.

Neighbors, who came in to console her children, were gathered about the coffin when Mrs. Senz sat up and asked for a drink.

Physicians said tonight that she would recover.

DEATH PENALTY AFFIRMED IN FORT WORTH MURDER CASE

AUSTIN, June 21.—The court of criminal appeals today overruled the motion for a rehearing in the case of Ernest Vickers, given the death penalty in Tarrant county for the murder of J. B. Loper in October, 1920. The case has been previously affirmed. The state's motion for a rehearing in the case of Fred Ritter, given ten years for murder in Collin county, and which was reversed, also was overruled.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DROWN AS BOAT CAPSIZES

BEAUMONT, June 21.—Mrs. Clara Simpson of Kountze and her daughter, Mary, 5 years old, were drowned when a row boat in which they and several others were riding on Village creek turned over yesterday. All others in the boat, including an infant of Mrs. Simpson, were rescued by boy swimmers.

When the boat was turned over Mrs. Simpson threw the baby on a nearby sand bar then gave her attention to the little girl. Both disappeared and their bodies were not recovered until early today.

WICHITA, Kan., June 21.—Without the formality of extradition papers, four men and women arrested at Slick, Okla., in connection with murder of Turner C. Tucker, Wichita taxi driver, were placed in an automobile today and brought back to this state for trial. John Doe warrants have been issued in the case.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 21.—Kansas authorities are guilty of kidnapping in the removal of four men and women from Oklahoma territory into Kansas without extradition papers, and if the Creek county authorities do not handle the matter, then the state will, Governor Robertson said today.

VALLEY FLOOD IS STILL RAGING IN SOME SECTIONS

Los Indios Threatened When Levee Gives Way; Water Receding at Mission.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, June 21.—The flood situation in the extreme lower Rio Grande valley appears more favorable this morning, with reports from Mission that at 7 o'clock the river there had fallen two feet below the record high mark. It is now twenty-five feet above normal but the flood which passed Laredo yesterday had not then reached Mission.

Train service between Harlingen and Sanfordyce was discontinued early today.

Four hundred feet of levee near San Benito has been washed away by the flood waters and workmen are now engaged in throwing up temporary levees to protect the little town of Los Indios, according to reports received here.

Reports from San Sebastian, forty-two miles north of here, state that high waters in the Mercedes section is threatening to cut off all rail connections within the next forty-eight hours.

CREST PASSES LAREDO LAREDO, Texas, June 21.—As flood waters recede in the upper part of the Rio Grande valley, reports here indicate that the towns in the lower section of the valley will suffer heaviest. Around 500 persons are reported marooned as the flood waters rush toward the gulf. Property damage is estimated at over $500,000. Most of those marooned are Mexicans living in Hidalgo and Cameron counties.

The first government aid to be extended the flood area was given today when three aviators from Kelly field hopped off to aid rescue workers.

Bags of food will be dropped near the homes of marooned farmers, it is announced.

At Mercedes, boats are being assembled to remove the population of Hidalgo to higher ground.

The crest of the flood is between here and Valley Point and will reach the lower valley towns some time today.

PHANTOM FLEET WILL BE SOUGHT AMID ARCTIC ICE

SEATTLE Wash., June 21.—As Capt. Roald Amundsen, in the ship Maud, drifts slowly with the sinister arctic ice pack across the vast unexplored region of the Polar Basin from which no white man has ever emerged alive, he will watch for signs of the "Phantom Fleet"—the frozen fleet of lost ships that according to Eskimo legends and reports swings around the north pole year in and year out.

Whether the fleet is legendary or really exists is one of the problems that has haunted the minds of arctic navigators for years, and any clue as to the truth of this phantom fleet will be investigated by Amundsen and his men.

Vessels have been disappearing into the unexplored Polar Basin ever since the beginning of arctic navigation. In one swoop the death-fanged ice pack in 1876 carried off 301 whaling ships from the waters north of the American continent. Most of the men fled to the ice and reached Point Barrow and other points on the coast, but 70 refused to desert the ships. The vast ice pack, holding ships and men in an unbreakable grip, carried them into the unexplored region of 1,000,000 square miles.

Esquimo who have escaped from the ice pack after being carried far north into the unexplored wastes have returned with stories of silent ships hard and fast in the great pack, white with frost and manned by frozen crews.

Stories of phantom ships held fast in the ice are brought from time to time that these vessels with the frozen forms of many men lying on their decks, still are floating at the mercy of the wind and tide in that circling ice field.

STANDING OF JURY REMAINS UNKNOWN

Case Completed Yesterday Afternoon at 6:30 O'Clock; Cleve Barnes Trial Continued Until July 7, Late Yesterday Afternoon

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, June 21.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the jury in the Harry Atwood liquor case had failed to reach a verdict, after nearly twenty-four hours' deliberation. It was officially stated that the jury had made no reports to Judge George L. Davenport, but courthouse rumors were to the effect that the jury had made several attempts to report to the judge.

Atwood's case went to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock, after the entire afternoon session had been used by the state and defense rebuttal testimony; by the court's charge, and the arguments of the four attorneys in the case.

Following the retirement of the jury and a conference of the attorneys with the court, the case of Cleve Barnes, indicted on a similar charge following the discovery of a fortune in booze at a garage alleged to belong to him, was postponed from Wednesday until July 7.

Barnes in his rebuttal testimony in Atwood's defense testified that he had control of the garage adjoining the hall since it was removed from Rusk street to the Hub and that he had had the trap door, concealing the liquor, built. He claimed that he did not know the liquor was there.

The Barnes case was postponed on motion of Joe Burkett, one of the counsel for the defense, after many of the witnesses who had been summoned in both cases by the defense from among the ranks of the law enforcement element of Ranger had departed for home. Burkett was unable to be present Wednesday.

Witnesses Protest Summons Before leaving, a number of the defense witnesses who had been summoned by the defense but not used and who had heard several reports that they had been summoned simply to inconvenience them, appealed directly to the court, but no evidence to substantiate this contention other than the action of the defense in not using a single one in the Atwood case was presented at the time.

A large number of the witnesses in question were Ranger women, whose husbands or fathers had been active in the raids that resulted in temporary victories over the lawless element here or who were known as staunch law enforcement advocates. They were confined to the court house or the immediate vicinity for two days.

The rebuttal testimony of the state, put on immediately after court reconvened at 1:30, included that of H. M. Holloway and H. S. Holloway of Ranger, who testified regarding the construction of the trap door in the garage in the rear of the Hub.

Both were notified that the state desired their testimony during the noon recess by Casey Agrelius, who made a record run to Ranger and back. E. A. Ringold, city tax assessor and collector testified for the state regarding a removal permit issued to Harry Atwood for the garage.

NO MAN'S ROAD.

Tiffin road, from Sinclair camp to the rock crusher, is a rather important thoroughfare. It serves several refineries, the Prairie pump station, the rock crusher and oil companies. Most of the workers in those enterprises make the trip twice a day. They are entitled to a good road and it is to Ranger's interest to see that they get it. At present, this road is in very bad shape. All the culverts were washed out during the rains several weeks ago. It is otherwise badly in need of repairs.

What is to be done under those conditions is a matter for thought. It is out of the city limits and the city cannot spend money on it. County Commissioner Webb says it has not been dedicated, and therefore the county cannot repair it. The county official suggests that it was built by private enterprise and that private enterprise must therefore do whatever work is necessary. City officials say that it is a highway in common use and does not necessarily have to be dedicated to be repaired by the county.

Now private enterprises pay taxes. They perhaps feel that they are justified in having some roads repaired with a portion of the taxes they pay. The road should be repaired with public moneys, just the same as others. If it must be dedicated, why shouldn't steps be taken to dedicate and erect a cornerstone or whatever else is necessary? If there are difficulties in the way of that, why shouldn't technicalities be waived and the road repaired, anyway. It is a public highway and should be treated as such.

It is true, the public doesn't know how taxes are to be reduced, but it doesn't alter its conviction that they've got to be.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FRENCH GIRL HAS EX-MAJOR PUT IN JAIL

NEW YORK, June 21.—John L. Feeny formerly a major in the army, has been arrested here on an order obtained by his former fiancée, Catherine De Cathelineau, a French girl of distinguished family, who charges breach of promise.

Mlle. Cathelineau met Major Feeny while she was on a visit from Nice, her home, to the home of an aunt in Vivy, France, in 1918. They became engaged, she alleges, and after Feeny's return to the United States he sent her money to come to this country.

Last May, Mlle. Cathelineau says, after he had introduced her to his relatives as his fiancée, Feeny told her he no longer loved her. Shortly afterward he married Miss Allison Frances McBain, described as an artist's model and actress.

Mlle. Cathelineau alleges that she has been humiliated and asks for $50,000. She has told her relatives of her coming marriage, she says. Feeny has told her to return to France, she states.

EXPLOSION WRECKS DALLAS BUILDING

DALLAS, June 21.—Police are investigating an explosion which wrecked the one-story brick building at 1905-7 Patterson avenue, late Tuesday afternoon and was followed by fire which destroyed what was left of the building and contents. Workmen had gone home and the building was closed when it occurred and no one was injured.

The Dallas Elevator & Electric company, W. O. Parker, owner, occupied the building. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

The explosion threw the rear wall across the street, breaking windows in the buildings on the opposite side. Parker said he had no idea of what could have caused the explosion, as he had nothing in his building that would blow up. The noise was heard for several blocks and Ned Flippin, negro, was knocked off his feet as he passed on the opposite side of the street.

PEGGY JOYCE ADVISES LOVELORN

Girl Should Kiss Whenever She Likes, Wives Should Forgive Husband Anything, She Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce gives her "advice to the lovelorn."

The conductor of the "free advice" column on a San Francisco newspaper submitted Peggy a series of questions taken from the morning mail.

"You answer them," the department conductor said.

Peggy did and here are her answers:

Question—Should a girl kiss a man before she is engaged to him?

Answer—Certainly. Absolutely. Why shouldn't a girl kiss a man if she feels like it?

Question—Should a wife forgive a husband for unfaithfulness?

Answer—If a woman loves a man she will forgive him for anything on earth.

Question—How about a woman? If she has been indiscreet in her girlhood should she tell the man she is to marry?

Answer—Yes, a woman should tell a man her past, if he asks her about it.

Question—Is there such a thing as love at first sight?

Answer—I should say so.

Question—Should young girls wear short skirts?

Answer—It depends upon the type of person wearing them. I wore them when they were in style.

Question—How old should a girl be before she accepts attentions from boys?

Answer—Not before she is 16, I should say, tho it depends upon the mentality of the girl.

Question—Is a woman happier in a home or following a career?

Answer—All depends upon the woman, but a woman can't do both things. She can't be a wife and mother and also have a career.

Poker Game Gives Clue to $2,000,000 P. O. Bond Robbery

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 21.—A poker game led indirectly to tracing a small block of bonds, part of the loot obtained in the $2,000,000 bond robbery at the New York postoffice, it is revealed here. Postal inspectors have been here for some time investigating the robbery.

One of the officers of a bond company here attended a card game recently, it was said, and lost a good-sized "pot." He was "short" in the pot and produced several bonds and clipped the coupons to make up the shortage. The winner took the coupons to a bank, which refused to cash them and informed the holder they were stolen bonds. Postal inspectors were notified.

Two men have been indicted, and a third is held for the federal grand jury in connection with the bond theft case.

Thousand Cases of Whisky Seized From Smugglers

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—The largest liquor seizure in the history of prohibition enforcement on the Pacific Coast was made early today at a lonely beach point near Point Lobos, following a gun battle with a band of smugglers, in which 100 shots were fired.

The prohibition enforcement agents seized 1,000 cases of imported whisky, ten automobiles and four trucks. A mystery ship which was unloading its cargo of smuggled booze, made off to sea. The estimates on the value of the seizure ran from $100,000 to $300,000. Ten men were arrested.

PRECISION plays an important part in the manufacture of the Special-Six. It is largely responsible for the dependable service that has singled out the Special-Six as an incomparable value.

Six hundred and eighty inspectors safeguard precision in the Studebaker factories. They literally inspect every part that goes into every car—and every operation on every part. Before cars are passed for delivery 9,500 inspections are made.

In the Special-Six there are 1,120 mechanical operations to the accuracy of one-thousandth of an inch, 360 to one-half-thousandth.

As to the car's performance, a brief experience will reveal its superiority far more convincingly than we could tell it.

Studebaker cars make friends quickly, because they give most for the money. And they invariably keep these friends, because of the universal satisfaction they give in fine performance, economy and service.

STAMFORD WINS ON FIVE RUNS IN RAGGED EIGHTH

Nitros Crippled With Flags Out of Game; Hoffman Hits Homer.

Special to the Times.

STAMFORD, June 21.—The Nitros blew up in the eighth inning yesterday, and Stamford, scoring five times, won 7 to 3. For seven innings the two teams waged a brilliant battle with the Nitros playing the cleaner game, although Flagg was out because of a bad charleyhorse. Craig took his place at short and Ammons, although crippled, played third. His inability to run handicapped both the offense and defense.

Zapalac, who pitched nice ball, yielded only two hits during the five-run rally in the eighth, but he walked two men and hit another, and this, with two leaks in his support, proved his undoing.

The Nitros counted twice in the ninth when Hoffman parked the ball with two out and Dockery on second.

BAMBINO TO BE OUT OF GAME UNTIL SUNDAY

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Babe Ruth's dispute with Umpire Deneen before the Cleveland-New York game will keep him out of the game two days in addition to the three-day suspension imposed yesterday. Ruth, under the decisions of President Johnson, will not be able to play before Sunday. His dispute with the umpire will cost him $1,500, or $300 a day, the amount of his salary.

"Babe Ruth is going to behave himself or I will keep him out of the game the rest of the season," President Johnson declared.

LADIES GET EYEFUL OF NEW STYLES AT FAT-LEAN GAME; SCORE A TIE!

Johnny Lander, clad in bluestriped rompers, with blue collar and red cuffs and buttons and the word "Phat" in large red letters across the chest, was the sartorial feature of the Fat-Lean ball game yesterday at Nitro park.

Johnny's ensemble, completed by white stockings and shoes, nosed in ahead of John Thurman's polka dot night gown, Chief Murphy's crepe de chine pants with rosette knee pads, Bob Hansford's red and yellow zouave kaleidoscope and George Hemmingson's blue denim garden suit for the best dressing prize among the fat gents, and took the sweepstakes for both classes.

E. L. Hursey, clad neatly in a scarecrow suit with large black patches, a tie front and rear, a false face to the rear and a sign inscribed, "We Ketch 'Em Coming and Going," was easily champion of the Leans, though Gus Coleman's pink silk Sundaygoteem shirt gives him honorable mention. As a whole, the Leans did not compete for the honor of being the best dressed ball player.

A Feminine Crowd. Nearly all the stores in town closed for the occasion, and the ladies flocked out to see their favorites in action, but the men appeared to like their baseball "straight." Judging from the number absent, there must have been a lot of gardens weeded.

Several near fights resulted during the matinee, especially over the elephantine bat brought out by Chief Murphy, which it was ruled that only the Fats had a right to use.

Poison Cry of Dry Agents Gets Laugh When Tank Car of Apple Wine Overturns

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., June 21.—An alarm broadcast by prohibition agents here was a vain attempt to save 50,000 gallons of apple wine which flowed from an overturned tank car and was ladeled and lapped up by hundreds of thirsting factory hands.

The car, labeled and consigned as "alcohol," was enroute from Virginia to Pier 1, New York City, for William Garrett & Co., Bush Terminal, Brooklyn. But it derailed at Gray's Ferry, rolled over on its side and automatically uncorked itself.

The tantalizing odor of released spirits was wafted into near-by factories. Men and women took one sniff and rushed toward the gushing refreshments.

When prohibition agents arrived they sought to halt the party, shouting that the car contained "wood alcohol—deadly poison." But the guests' noses knew and the party went merrily on until nothing was left of the 50,000 gallons of wine but a vanishing stain on the ties and a diminishing odor.

Investigation showed that a permit for shipment of the liquid, issued in legal form, had been signed by prohibition authorities.

Several thousand disabled emergency officers of the A. E. F. are to be retired on the same privileges as regular army officers. Disabled officers, to obtain the benefits, are required to have a disability of at least 30 per cent under the war risk law standards.

Atwood Trial

Barnes who testified that since the stucco garage had been moved from the "old place" at the corner of Rusk and Pine streets to the Hub, at the corner of Commerce and Walnut, that he owned it. The witness's testimony was offered to offset the testimony of state witnesses to the effect that Atwood had not only ordered its removal but had supervised the placing of the garage at the new location and the construction of the trap door.

In calling for the conviction of Atwood, W. J. Cunningham, district attorney of Taylor county, who halted his congressional campaign to assist in the prosecution at the request of the citizens' committee, stressed the state's testimony in connection with official corruption.

"We have been paying for protection and we thought they would block the game somewhere down the line," Cleve Barnes was quoted Tuesday as saying, by Roy Jameson, when he and Atwood were asked by Mr. Jameson why they had not heeded the committee's warning to move their liquor out of town.

"If such a thing is true the defendant is not only guilty of having liquor in his possession for the purpose of sale but he is guilty of corruption of legal authorities," Judge Cunningham declared. "If this is the case, then it was time for the good citizens to rise and enforce the law."

In reviewing the state's evidence, which he characterized as one of a strong and complete case, Judge Cunningham pointed out that the moving permits had been taken out in eta permits for the garage had been taken out in Atwood's name, according to the testimony and the permits themselves; that Atwood had directed the removal to the designated location and that witnesses had testified that Atwood directed the construction of the trap door opened by a secret lock. After disposing of the testimony regarding the ownership of the garage, the sales testimony introduced by the state was taken up and argued. Seven witnesses, he pointed out, had testified to purchasing liquor from the defendant at various times.

"I now come to a point that is almost too horrible to mention," Judge Cunningham declared, in reviewing the statement dealing with "paid protection as attributed to Barnes by a witness. It is not a question of convicting this defendant but a matter of giving him an adequate sentence."

People Prejudiced.
"I think the grand jury indicted him for the wrong offense," State Senator Joe Burgett, principal defense counsel, declared in his argument to the jury in referring to the testimony of a number of witnesses who swore they purchased intoxicating liquor from Atwood at various times. The defense counsel characterized the case of possession for the purpose of sale against the defendant as exceptionally weak and without the "connecting link," and stressed what he termed the prejudice that was being shown by the people of Ranger interested in the prosecution.

The defense counsel dwelt at length on the interest of the Ranger people in the case, the retention of W. J. Cunningham to assist in the prosecution and repeatedly ridiculed the evidence of the state's witness, who he said did not always give him a civil reply in his cross-examination.

The testimony of H. S. Cole, leader of the citizens' raids which resulted in the indictment of Barnes and Atwood, and the testimony of Lytton R. Taylor, Ranger attorney, were made the subjects of especial attack. Burgett declared that the liquor seized in the garage in the rear of the Hub had not been analyzed to determine if it was intoxicating but that the state had relied on Major Cole's smell and Mr. Taylor's taste.

Wrong Indictment.
In taking up the evidence of sales introduced, he said that one witness had testified to purchasing liquor last August, when it was a felony to buy it. "I think that the grand jury indicted Mr. Atwood for the wrong offense; they may have proved sales but the testimony does not show possession for the purpose of sale. It is one thing to think that he is guilty and another thing to prove it," Burgett declared that Atwood's ownership of the garage was not proven and that it had not been shown who put the liquor there.

"Some of those Jews may have put it there, he said, in reference to an establishment nearby. "The connecting link is missing and the state has relied on prejudice." He called attention to the court's charge that the testimony of sales could only be considered to prove that the defendant had liquor in his possession for sale, if it was proved that he had liquor in his possession.

Milburn McCarty of Eastland, associate counsel for the defense, also argued along the lines that the state had not proved the ownership of the garage to Harry Atwood and that the jury could not send the defendant to the penitentiary on Judge Cun-

SURPRISED IN BATH BY PROCESS SERVERS

Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, wife of the celebrated novelist.

Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, wife of the celebrated novelist, was surprised in her bath in her New York home by a process server, who brushed past her maid and threw papers in a civil suit at her feet. Shortly afterward she missed a $2,675 necklace and caused the arrest of David Hartman, the process server. She is being sued as the result of injuries sustained by a child said to have been struck by her automobile.

Cunningham's inspired address on morality. The defendant might have sold liquor, he said, but still would not be guilty under the indictment.

Denies Prejudice Charge.
County Attorney Overton in closing for the state, discredited the allegation that the state was moved by prejudice or that the county attorney's office bore any malice or ill feeling against the defendant. "I am only doing my sworn duty," he pointed out. In referring to the ridicule of the state's witnesses by the defense, the county attorney declared that such legal tactics were those of a weak defense. "If the facts do not show that the defendant is guilty then it is not the fault of the state but of the facts," he said.

He declared that possession of liquor under the law included joint ownership, and presented the building permit issued by the city to W. B. Poole for the construction of the garage in the names of Harry Atwood and the Farmers & Merchants bank. Other testimony relating to Atwood's alleged instructions on the trap door and location of the garage was reviewed. The absence of any bill of sale from Atwood to Barnes for the garage was pointed out. The location of the trap door in the garage, the fact that the garage was raised ten inches off the ground were pointed out as indication that the trap door was built for no legitimate purpose.

"Intoxicating" Is Questioned.
Replying to the contention that the liquor had not been proved intoxicating, the county attorney referred to the court's special charge that whisky was intoxicating and to the two bottles introduced as evidence and passed to the jury to smell.

If the manner of the testimony of the state's witness could be taken to show undue feeling in the case, then the defense in every case could purposely anger the state's witness to injure the case, the jury was told. Whether Atwood had sold liquor as the owner or while acting for someone else, he would be guilty of selling it, in any event, Mr. Overton declared, in answer to a question raised by the defense.

Conversation Ruled Out.
District Judge George Davenport in a special charge referring to the testimony of certain witnesses, declared that Mr. Cole's testimony of a conversation with the defendant after the raid in the justice of the peace office could not be used under the law and should not be considered by the jury, as it had not been clear whether the defendant was under arrest at the time.

Mr. Cole was then placed back on the stand by the defense and testified that the conversation was three hours after the raid.

In his other special instructions the court charged that whisky was intoxicating liquor and that the jury could not consider the testimony that Atwood made liquor sales except for the purpose of showing that he had liquor in his possession for the purpose of sale, if it was shown that he had liquor in his possession.

One to Five-year Penalty.
"The charge against the defendant," the court read in his main charge, "is possession for the purpose of sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquor, on or about May 21, 1922, carrying a penalty of from one to five years in the penitentiary on conviction."

To prove possession, the court charged, it must be shown that the party must have personal care, control and knowledge. "If you believe that the defendant, Harry Atwood, possessed liquor for the purpose of sale, either alone or possessed with some one else, you will find the defendant guilty and assess his sentence from one to five years in the penitentiary. If you find that the defendant was not guilty of possessing liquor for the purpose of sale, either alone or with some other person, you will acquit him," the court charged in part. "The burden of proof is on the state."

PROMINENT TEXAS EDITORS ENDORSE
BLANTON'S FIGHTS

EXCERPT OF EDITORIAL
FROM THE CONROE COURIER,
Issue of April 21, 1922:

"A bit dog always howls.
"Blanton was only attacking a grafting nuisance which is growing by leaps and bounds in Congress.
"Garner failed to prove that Blanton lied at all.
"Perhaps the shoe pinched Garner. For a two-year term he gets $15,000 salary, $2,553.60 mileage, $375 stationery, and his wife gets two separate salaries totalling $6,400."

EXCERPT OF LETTER
FROM EDITOR TRINITY COUNTY NEWS:

"Dear Mr. Blanton:
"Groveton, Texas, April 27, 1922.

"I want to congratulate you on your courageous fight. It takes a he-man with guts, and lots of 'em, to face the gang you have had to face.
"From exchange papers received at this office I believe the country press of East Texas is with you, and rightly so. You may count on my support.
F. B. Russell."

EXCERPT OF EDITORIAL
FROM HOUSTON POST,
Issue of April 27, 1922:

"THE SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT ANSWERS.

"When Representative Thomas L. Blanton arrived at Abilene, his neighbors accorded him an ovation.

"Mr. Garner had denounced Blanton * * * and Abilene responded with an ovation which must be considered somewhat as an answer to Mr. Garner and other Texas members.

"No South Carolina district can compare with the Seventeenth Texas District in point of wealth, population, or intelligence. It is the whitest district in Texas, color considered. The illiteracy there is the lowest of any district in Texas and confined almost exclusively to the less than 5,000 Mexican population. It contains 110,000 more people than Mr. Garner's district, which contains 65,000 Mexicans, in a population of 222,000.

"Now what do our Texas representatives make of it?
"The voters of the Seventeenth district are not uninformed as to the abuses Mr. Blanton exposed. Mr. Blanton misrepresented nothing by having the whiskey flask ordered. The flask had been kept on sale, and by ordering the flask, Blanton merely showed how the stationery account could be diverted.

"Since the official report of the Clerk shows that it is a common thing, and has been always, to draw the stationery account in cash and devote it to personal use, without accounting, the ordering of the flask wasn't needed to establish the charge of petty graft.

"The more the quarrel between Blanton and his colleagues is aired, the more it appears that the charge of petty graft is not what has given offense, but the Blanton campaign against appropriations not authorized by law. On the very day Mr. Garner stationed himself behind his constitutional immunity and broadsided Blanton, the Abilene man came back and raised points of order against numerous appropriations and sent them to the discard.

"The voters of the Seventeenth district are well acquainted with these facts, and, not being in the field for pork, are willing to keep the most unpopular Congressman there to clean the appropriation bills as far as the rules will permit.

"As for the petty graft, it is indefensible, of course, and the people do not approve it. The system could not stand if twenty members were to fight it.

"As unpopular as Mr. Blanton has become among his colleagues, he has reached the understanding of thousands of people in Texas who live beyond the confines of his district. The issue he has raised is not going to die, because it involves the integrity of the public service."

HOSPITAL INMATES ARE APPRECIATIVE
EXCERPTS FROM HOUSTON CHRONICLE, March 24, 1922.

"Congressman Blanton reached Houston at 6:10, jumped into an automobile, and at 6:30 was talking to 200 convalescents at Camp Logan. He was given an enthusiastic reception. A service man presented him with a memorial signed by 75 patients, reading:

"We, the boys of Camp Logan, are glad to have you with us. You have done wonderful things toward helping us secure our compensation from the Government. You have helped hundreds of patients. You have worked untiringly in our behalf. You have shown us by your loyal services to the ex-service men that you are ever willing to champion the cause of the world war veteran. We want you to know that we know that you have been our friend."

"Fifteen minutes later he was at the Rice Hotel dressing for his evening speech, and taking hurried bites at a frugal meal.

"TEXAS SOLID COMES BACK TO BIRTHPLACE

"A Houston audience filled the Main Street Auditorium. Several men of broad platform experience remarked that his speech was a masterpiece of satire, wit and facts. The audience seemed to be with the Congressman from the outset, and he received frequent and hearty applause."

THE PEOPLE ARE WAKING UP!

Chicago, Illinois, Jan. 15, 1922.

"My dear Mr. Blanton:

"You are a rabid Democrat. I am a rabid, orthodox Republican, yet I drop partisan politics and heartily endorse your work in Congress. I travel in 18 States, and I have not yet met a single business man who is against you. All commend you.

"The press that is under union domination seeks to make it appear that you must be wrong, since the 'gang' are against you. This would be logical, if the record of Congress were satisfactory, and the things for which the 'gang' stands and is directly responsible, were all right, and were what the people wanted.

"Every one who is posted knows that there is great waste, leakage, extravagance, graft and corruption in our Government. You have been fighting against these things. Instead of helping you the 'gang' has endorsed the evils and fought you. The people are waking up. Don't become discouraged. Keep up your splendid fight for the people, and they will not desert you in the time of need. I would vote for you even though you are a Democrat.

Robert Gordon Taylor."
