RANGERS ON TRAIL TO REPOSSESS RANGER

TRIPLE MURDER NEAR AUSTIN IS UNSOLVED

Two Negro Suspects Prove Alibi; Two White Suspects Being Held.

By United Press. AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—Evidence uncovered in the last 48 hours in connection with the slaying of three persons at Delvalle, Sunday, is not sufficient to warrant filing of charges. The sheriff's department admitted today. Two negroes who have been questioned furnished alibis and were released in the morning. Two white men, neighbors of the Engler family, and two Mexicans will be subjected to further questioning.

In an attempt to force a confession officers took the two white suspects to the morgue at midnight, Monday, and had them view the slain family.

The slaying of S. E. Engler, 60, prosperous farmer; his wife, 55, and their adopted daughter, Emma, 25, occurred at the Engler home at the little settlement of Mooreville, east of Austin, Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The theory first advanced that a negro had committed the slaying with criminal assault on Miss Engler as the motive, was abandoned Sunday night when physicians reported that an examination failed to show that an assault had been committed. That robbery was not the motive is shown by the fact that jewelry valued at approximately $1,000 was found undisturbed in the Engler home, and also the watch of Engler was found under the pillow upon which he slept, when the fatal shot was fired in his head.

Miss Engler's nude body was found on the floor of the bedroom with her feet lying in the doorway leading to the front room of the house. There was evidence that Miss Engler struggled desperately with the murderer before she was killed. She was shot twice, both wounds being in the head. Engler was also shot in the head and apparently was asleep when murdered. Mrs. Engler also died from a wound in the head.

A torn and bloody night garment of Miss Engler was found in the front room, a few feet from the body.

Summer and Fall Crops Along Ess Pee Lines in Texas Good

NEW YORK, August 11.—With the exception of the cotton crop in Texas, condition of the summer and fall crops along the Southern Pacific railway lines are good, H. G. DeForest announced today in his first public statement since becoming chairman of the Southern Pacific executive committee. DeForest said that along the Southern Pacific lines in Texas, the cotton would be about 50 per cent of normal. Lack of rain has affected the crop. "The rice crop in Texas will be about 90 per cent of normal," DeForest said.

Captive Bootlegger Prefers Death to the Ordeal He Saw Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—Choosing death to capture at the hands of federal authorities, an unidentified rum runner, hands tied behind his back, leaped into the waters of the Golden Gate this morning from the deck of a booze boat. The spectacular dive was made from the Cussie M., captured with 300 cases of liquor on board. The boat was being towed through the gate by a coast guard cutter. A strong ebb tide was running and the crew was unable to recover the body.

Denton Slayer May Be Indicted Tomorrow

DENTON, Aug. 11.—Indictment of W. A. Martin for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff R. B. Parsons here last week was forecast for Wednesday or Thursday, as selection of a special grand jury got under way here today. Selection of the special grand jury started with the opening of a special term of district court. Martin will probably not be given an examining trial, but summarily indicted. Whether trial will be held at this term of court has not been decided definitely, it was stated.

PRESIDENT HAS ANOTHER BOND ISSUE IN MIND

Believes Government Would Save Money by Building Instead of Renting.

By United Press. SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 11.—President Coolidge is seriously considering a government bond issue for the purpose of constructing much needed federal buildings in Washington and all parts of the country. The government is now spending between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 for rented buildings. Government statisticians have calculated that this amount would pay the interest on a bond issue of nearly half a billion dollars, with which the government could be furnished with adequate housing facilities. The rents now paid by the government are considered high. For instance, the president believes that in some cases a building on which the government is paying $100,000 rent could be duplicated by a loan on which the government would not pay more than $50,000 interest. The other $50,000, it was pointed out, could be devoted to retiring the principal.

GIANTS BURIED ALIVE BENEATH TOKIO FORT

TOKIO.—The gruesome myth of the "human pillar" has been verified by unearthing of skeletons in the grounds of the imperial palace in Tokio. Workmen repairing the ancient citadel in the Nijubashi were horrified to uncover the skeletons of a number of giant men standing guard, 12 feet below the surface of the earth, to protect the fortification.

The skeletons were taken as verification of the tradition of the "human pillar," a superstition of ancient Nippon. It was a custom, according to mythology, to sacrifice human beings upon beginning erection of fortresses. Living bodies of the strongest men of the nation were buried in the belief their strength would be imparted to the building. News of the discovery was kept secret by the government but leaked out when workmen who had found them repeated the tale. The skeletons were turned over to the Tokio Imperial university for examination and burial.

PRESIDENT OF LABOR UNIONS TAKES ACTION

Plans to Drive Out Alleged Communistic Influence; Parading Uplift Movement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—President William M. Green of the American Federation of Labor has undertaken to purge the American labor unions of alleged communistic influences, which he believes are masquerading as associations for the uplift for the workers. Green made public today the result of investigation by the Chicago Federation of Labor of eight of these associations, which he charges are run by interlocking directorates composed of communistic leaders. All of these it was shown, have their headquarters in Chicago and operate throughout the country.

Mrs. T. A. Jones and Two Children Hurt in Crash of Auto

Mrs. T. A. Jones of Eastland, mother of Mrs. T. B. Scott of Ranger, passed through Ranger today en route home. Mrs. Jones and three children drove into Fort Worth Thursday morning, a son, T. A. Jones Jr., doing the driving. In making a detour, the car, a special six Studebaker, slipped off the road and turned over. Mrs. Jones was quite badly hurt, remaining in a hospital in Fort Worth for over 24 hours and the little driver suffered from a hurt skull and other bruises.

One of the children, riding on the back seat, had recently had a leg broken and this child was not hurt at all, but the child with him, a little girl, sustained several severe bruises. T. A. Jr. is still in Fort Worth, in care of his sister, Mrs. Joe Driskell, formerly Miss Jewell Jones of Eastland. Some good Samaritans came to Mrs. Jones' rescue, helped her and her children to get in to Fort Worth. The car was brought in later, but a purse containing $50, left in the car, was missing.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—The Texas cotton growers, finance corporation, a subsidiary of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, amended its charter today, increasing capital stock from $100,000 to $200,000 so as to advance cotton farmers $85 per bale. C. K. Bullard, of Dallas, who filed the amendment, said banks are advancing only $70 per bale. Protest was filed with the railroad commission by Bullard against the petition of the railroads to advance domestic cotton rates in Texas to 3 1/2 cents per hundred pounds.

STATE SUES TO MAKE T. & P. RY. OPERATE BRANCH

Asks Court Order for Service Renewal on Midland and Northwestern.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—Suit was filed by Attorney General Dan Moody, on behalf of the state, Monday afternoon, in the Fifty-third district court of Travis county against the Texas & Pacific Railway company to require that company to maintain and operate the Midland & Northwestern railway which line was acquired by the Texas & Pacific at an auction sale.

The Midland & Northwestern runs from Midland to Seminole, 65 miles, but is now in operation. The road was subsequently sold to the Texas & Pacific for $42,706. Some time ago the Texas & Pacific filed an application with the interstate commerce commission for permission to abandon and junk the Midland & Northwestern, but the interstate body dismissed the application on the ground that it has no jurisdiction.

On Nov. 10, 1924, the railroad commission, after hearing, issued an order that the abandonment of operations on the Midland & Northwestern was in violation of law and directed that line be repaired and placed in operation. "That the time for performing said order has been extended from time to time," said the state's petition, "but has now expired, and such order is in full force and effect; that the Texas & Pacific has failed and refused to obey said order." The suit is to require compliance with the commission's order.

FOUR NARCOTIC AGENTS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Charged With Giving Drugs to Addicts in Return for Stolen Property.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Col. William Gray Beach, for the last four years chief agent of the federal narcotic division for northern Illinois and noted lecturer on the drug evil, and three of his quid were under arrest today on charges of trafficking in drugs. Patrick Roche, special intelligence agent, charged that the men gave narcotics to drug addicts in return for stolen property. Roche indicated three or four others would be arrested. Valuable jewelry and other articles, all of it stolen, were found in the homes of the prisoners. In Beach's home, Roche said he had found a green jade base of finest Chinese workmanship worth at least $5,000, a green jade opium smoking outfit and other articles. While the homes of the four men were being searched, scores of agents raided joints in Chinatown, smashed 20 opium dens, seizing all their equipment, and arrested the proprietors and several addicts.

Klan and Anti-Klan in Massachusetts Have Fierce Battle

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 11.—After a fierce battle near here last night, five anti-klansmen today were suffering from gunshot wounds, at least a dozen others were nursing stone and club bruises, and 75 alleged klansmen out of an original 80 were under arrest. None of the injured is thought fatally wounded. The rioting occurred at Sudbury shortly before midnight while a Klan meeting was in progress on a farm on the outskirts of the town. The arrests followed reports to police here and at Concord that local police were unable to handle the situation, in which desultory use of firearms figured with a free use of clubs and stones. Following use of firearms, the bulk of the anti dispersed. Several rifles, shotguns and considerable ammunition and about a score of wooden clubs and pipe slugs were seized.

Negroes Moving Into Restricted District Cause Near Riot

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11.—Police answered two riot calls here last night as the result of indignation shown by about 200 families who forced two negro families to move from apartments in the restricted district. A crowd gathered about the Garland apartments, into which the negroes had moved during the afternoon. When the police arrived the negroes had begun moving out. Handbills were distributed warning real estate agents and landlords that negro tenants would not be tolerated in the restricted district.

DOROTHY, NOW SANE, ENTERS SECOND TRIAL

Jazz Girl Will Plead She Did Not Kill Mother, But Companion Did.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—No moves for further delays in the trial of Dorothy Ellison, accused of matricide, will be made when the 17-year old girl enters superior court today, defense attorneys announced. A double defense will be offered as her second trial will begin. The first contention will be that Dorothy was temporarily insane when she made her first confession and this will be supplemented with the assertion that she had again gained mental poise at the time she repudiated her confession and accused Jim Lamar of doing the shooting. The state will claim that "Jimmie Lamar," whom Dorothy says is one of her boy friends, is a fictitious character. Ten pounds lighter in weight and showing the ravages of illness, the jazz girl entered the court to defend herself against the charge of killing her mother.

VANGUARD OF PIONEER ROUGH RANGERS COMES

Veterans of Indian Fights and Warfare on Border Ruffians To Meet in Ranger.

With the vanguard of the ex-Texas Rangers arriving in Ranger this morning, the arrangements committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced that final preparations for the entertainment of the old-timers were being completed and that they were marking time until Wednesday morning. Members of the "old guard" defenders of the Texas border during the hectic years of its early existence, when law and order was enforced in the border country by that fearless and able body of men known as "the Texas rangers," their name was synonymous with brave deeds and unceasing activity in ridding Texas of border bandits who preyed on the new settlers. Known far and wide as the most intrepid band of law enforcers, desperate outlaws thought twice before shooting a ranger, for their companions and buddies on the ranger force would never give up the trail of the fugitive and he was thenceforth a marked man to be hunted down mercilessly.

Three-Day Session. A majority of the members of the ex-Rangers' association will arrive in Ranger late this evening and early tomorrow morning for the three-day convention, lasting Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Although only a few of the members of the famous fighting organization that emblazoned the name of Texas in the history of the United States are alive, several hundred people are expected to be the guests of Ranger during the ensuing three days. The old-timers will be entertained in various ways by Ranger residents and all having cars are requested to call the Ranger Chamber of Commerce and notify the secretary, C. C. Patterson, if they will be at liberty long enough to take some of the visitors for a drive over the town and surrounding country. Many of the old-timers are familiar in a general way with the territory around Ranger, having been stationed here when Ranger was merely a post of the organization.

Guests of Rotarians. The program will open Wednesday morning, when the ex-rangers will register in the building at Austin and Pine streets, opposite the city hall, between 10 and 12 o'clock. Following registration they will be guests of the Ranger Rotarians at luncheon in the Gholson hotel. The first business session will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in the building where they registered. A watermelon feast and supper at Rotary park will be served for the old-timers by the Chamber of Commerce, following which a band concert will be given by Ranger's Texas Ranger band, in full uniform. Thursday will be occupied by business sessions to a great extent, the morning session to start at 10 o'clock and lasting till noon. At 12:15 o'clock they will be guests of the Ranger Lions at luncheon in the DeGroof hotel. The business session will be resumed at 2 o'clock. The ex-rangers will be the guests of the Lions club at the baseball game between the teams of Ranger and Eastland Lions clubs. Thursday afternoon and at night they will be guests of the Strand Amusement company, W. B. Palmer announced today, attending the picture show at the Liberty theatre. Friday morning will be occupied with the concluding business of the reunion, following which a barbecue will be served for the old-timers and their families at Shamrock park under the auspices of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. At 8:15 o'clock they will be entertained in the High school auditorium by the Little Theatre company, presenting the play, "The Suicide Specialist." Ranger will present a holiday aspect as business houses have been urged to display flags and bunting as much as possible to present a pleasing appearance to the city's guests. Entertainment Committee. The committee on entertainment, the Rev. W. H. Johnson, chairman; Mrs. R. B. Campbell and Mrs. W. N. McDonald, has been busy arranging for many of the veterans to be entertained in private homes. If any of the Ranger folks have friends among the visitors they wish especially to entertain, they are requested to let the committee know by writing the name of the guest they want and own name on a card and leaving it at the registration room, opposite the city hall at Austin and Pine streets.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
 A Much Needed Prayer: Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.—Psalm 51:10.
 Prayer: Come thyself, O Lord, into our hearts, and then they will be continually renewed.

ADVANTAGE OF SMALL NEWS-PAPERS.
 From an ethical standpoint it can fairly be claimed that the country press and small city dailies have a marked advantage over the big metropolitan newspapers.

The smaller papers are conducted by their owners who are personally known to the people and business men of the community and read in nearly every family.
 The owners, editors and publishers are freer to express their honest convictions than the highly commercialized city press, too often run by hired employees, principally to earn dividends.

The small daily or country weekly that lives up to its opportunities represents the stand of personal journalism in behalf of the community.
 As long as the small city dailies and country weeklies remain true to their best traditions, with their editorials devoted to constructive policies, their influence in journalism will increase.—Industrial News.

WOMEN'S WAGES.
 Of every 100 women and girls over 15 years in the United States 23 are earning their own living, and a majority of them work more than 48 hours per week for less money than is paid to men for similar work. Nine of these 23 are married. The total number of working women is more than 8,250,000. The "average" wages paid in some of the states are: Rhode Island, $16.25; New Jersey, $14.95; Ohio, $13.80; Georgia, $12.95; Missouri, 12.65; Kansas, $11.95; Arkansas, $11.60; Kentucky, $10.75; South Carolina, $9.50; Alabama, $8.80. Half of the women in these states get more than the sum mentioned, and half get less.
 This condition offers a field for women's club activities of value to civilization.

Mr. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, through his experts, has compiled figures that show the loss of 39,090,750 gallons of milk last year just because the cows kicked the bucket. This may have something to do with the high cost of beefsteak because the milk would have nourished another million of calves. Anyway it will probably be "investigated" by congress.

The treasury department has called a conference of experts to determine how to make the dollar bill last longer. Under present conditions the most practical plan would be to increase their frequency. The few it has been our good fortune to handle seem to disappear like the proverbial snow-ball under the equator.

Over in wicked London a questionable picture is preceded by a caption stating that it is unsuitable for children. Thereupon every self-respecting guardian makes an exit, and children follow as a matter of course. In America an announcement of this kind in the newspaper would probably pack the house.

Wisconsin constructs and maintains her state highways system by a "gas" tax which is collected from wholesalers. This tax is now yielding about $500,000 per month, and there will be no more necessity for road bond issues. It's a case of pay as you go.

WASKOM—Gas line to be extended from this place to Longview and Tyler, distance of 64 miles, at cost of $350,000.

HONORING DEPARTING FRIENDS.
 Mr. Walter Brahaney enacted the role of host, Monday evening, when he entertained with a dinner and cards in honor of his departing friends, Robert M. Coyle and R. A. Galloway, who are leaving Ranger at an early date, and also honored his friend, Charles N. Edwards. Mrs. Brahaney is sojourning in California, but her absence in no way interfered with the appointments of the dinner, for the menu was the kind that would appeal to the most fastidious. There were clever place cards, too, each lined with a verse that in some way described the traits of the one whose place it marked. For instance, Mr. Coyle's read "Now you are here in all of your glory, come on, let's have a good old story." After dinner tables were arranged for bridge which was played for several hours. Those indebted to Mr. Brahaney for this most unusual evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Coyle, Arthur Galloway, Charles N. Edwards, Fred Yonker, Jimmie Ed.

Ranger Boys Write Encouraging Letters From Training Camp

Reports from Ranger boys attending the citizens' military training camp at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, are that they are enjoying the camp immensely, according to Sam Wasaff, attorney and captain in the reserve officers corps, Eighth area. Several of the boys have communicated with Mr. Wasaff at times and all are agreed "that they are having a grand time, but working hard."

Before leaving for the camp the latter part of July, most of the Ranger boys underwent a short and intensive training period at the hands of Captain Wasaff, who knew what the boys would have to go through with when they first arrived. All report that they made excellent showings for the first two weeks of the camp and have hopes of being appointed corporals or sergeants before the camp is over.

One of the youngsters in writing to Captain Wasaff said, "If I can become an officer in the United States army, I think the acme of my ambition will have been reached."

WOMAN DENIES TESTIMONY GIVEN BY HER HUSBAND

By United Press.
 ALPINE, Mich., Aug. 11.—Depositions were filed here today to show that Mrs. Edna Scott, who is being sued for divorce by Congressman Frank D. Scott, was not unduly intimate with Capt. Wilbur "Jazzbo" Sumner, army officer, in Washington and Fort Myer, Va.
 A deposition by Mrs. Margaret Hamilton of San Diego, Calif., who was present at numerous meetings between the two, asserted that nothing illicit occurred at any of the meetings testified to by Scott and his secretary.

DEVELOPMENT OF LUSE TRACT NEAR CISCO GOES ON Special Correspondence.
 CISCO, Aug. 11.—Root et al., drilling east of Cisco, have just moved a rig on the Luse tract, section 14, to the northwest corner of this section, and spudded a new well, offsetting McCawley, Patterson and Alexander acreage. This new location is in the same vicinity of the Root No. 1 Lee, and the Nobles well.

Reports from that district this morning stated that the Nobles well was swabbing about 25 barrels, having overcome water trouble. Root's No. 1 Lee is said to be holding its own around 75 barrels. From the Girls, and boys, too, whose faces are "broken out," rough, pimply and blotches, imagine all sorts of weird things.

 The worst fault it leads to is using just anything which promises them relief from their condition, which oftener makes their trouble worse. Never put anything on your skin which has not been proven by the test of time and public opinion to be right. In this connection the phenomenal success, which is called Black and White Ointment, and the soap, too, offers sufferers from such skin diseases the one reliable and dependable means of relief and restoration of their skin to that clear, smooth and lovely condition it was in their youth.
 Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are economically priced, in liberal size packages. The 50c size of the ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv.

DRUGGISTS SAY THEY HAVE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE G. F. P.

Nothing But Appreciation and Gratitude Expressed by Women Who Use It.

In the south alone, it is safe to say that more than a hundred thousand girls and women are using and praising G. F. P. And at the rate the sale of this medicine is increasing every day, it won't be long before it will be known and used in every home, by rich and poor alike. Druggists say that where one bottle is sold in a neighborhood, it is not long before many more are sold there when the women learn about the wonderful things it does.

Many women who have used G. F. P. say that it keeps them free from colds, coughs and throat troubles, too. That is the best indication that the statement of the discoverers about its unusual merit in ridding the system of the dreaded malady—catarrh, is being borne out. Few women realize that catarrh is the thing which saps the vitality which their generative organs need to perform their normal functions. And when they cannot do this, pain, weakness, nervousness, loss of sleep, no appetite, irritability and despondency result.

G. F. P. should be used faithfully, and by doing this, many regrets and weeks of suffering and misery can be avoided.

Check up on your balloon tire pressures—you may find that you have been riding on "high-pressure balloons" and losing the advantages of true low air pressure.

THE whole purpose of low pressure cushioning is defeated if your balloon tires are pumped up too hard.

Of course, it may be that the kind of balloons you are using must be run hard in order to protect the tires themselves.

If you find this is true, you will be glad to know the facts about U. S. Royal Balloons.

These tires provide all the comfort that balloon tires are intended to give, and yet you need have no fear about the life of the tires when run at proper cushioning pressure.

U. S. Royal Balloons are built to be run at true low air pressures.

They have the new flat "Low-Pressure Tread."

This tread has far greater area of road contact than a round tread, and distributes the weight evenly over the entire tread surface.

That is why U. S. Royal Balloons wear slowly, evenly and gracefully.

They have the further advantage of Latex-treated Web Cord construction—a U. S. Rubber Company invention that gives the ideal combination of strength and flexibility essential to real balloon cushioning.

Ride on U. S. Royal Balloons and you will know what a world of comfort genuine low pressure can give.

The FLAPPER WIFE

THE STORY SO FAR
Gloria Gordon, beautiful flapper, marries Dick Gregory, a young law-

Gloria was sure that May was telling the truth. "I came in to ask you to go down town with me, but I can see you're too busy," May said naturally, after a minute or two. "Don't forget that I'm having the card-club Thursday, will you? It's the last time we'll all see our loving enemy, Myra Gail, before she goes away next week."

"I thought you liked Myra," Gloria said, surprised. "Yes, I love her the way you do!" May retorted, making the claws of her two hands. "But just the same I'd rather have her for a friend than an enemy—and she's a friend of all the club women who've iced me, besides!"

May picked up a hand mirror and studied her face. "Oh, gods, I believe I'm getting a line between my eyebrows!" she cried, "or is it just a shadow?—By the way, isn't this hat of mine the cat's kanittens! I spent all the money for the butcher's bill on it—There's one place where I can knock the rest of the women for a Chicago loop, anyway—in my clothes."

Gloria's smile pined May. She knew that May was far from being well-dressed. Her hat was too garish, her tan shoes too tan, her thin stockings too thin.

Myra Gail was the best-dressed woman in town, when it came to that. A pang, Gloria thought of Paris and the clothes Myra would bring home from Paris.

After May had gone, she went back unhappily to the job of unpacking the trunk that was destined not to cross the ocean in the hold of a French boat—How stingy Dick was not to let her go with Myra!

That afternoon a letter came—a large white envelope with handwriting that had a certain dash, a certain charm. Gloria knew, somehow, that it was from Stanley Wayburn before she looked at it. A thrill ran through her, she opened it.

"Russel, dear," it said. "There's so much I want to say to you. And yet when I come to write it, it isn't much—just this; I must see you! When? Where? Make it soon. Phone me."

No name was signed to the little note. Gloria didn't like that. It seemed cowardly not to sign one's name to a letter—She would have liked Stan to run chances for her.

But then, she knew he never would. He never had. "Safety First." That was his motto.

She tore the paper up and threw it into the waste basket. Then, fearful lest Ranghild might piece it together and read it, she took the torn pieces downstairs and burned them in the living room grate.

After that she ran upstairs to her room, bolted the door, and telephoned Stanley Wayburn.

An hour later, the two of them were together—speaking along the lonely country roads west of the town, in the car that had been Gloria's birthday gift from Dick.

Gloria's heart was like a wild bird, suddenly freed from the cage that had bruised its wings.

The eyes she turned to Wayburn were stary with happiness, and wet with tears of relief at seeing him again.

"I've missed you so!" she said. Wayburn's arms went around her like a vise. He kissed her hungrily. Gloria closed her eyes.

"Look out!" Stan yelled. He grabbed the steering wheel just in time to keep them from swerving off the road into the ditch that ran along it.

Gloria straightened her hat, and took a tighter hold on the wheel. "Well," she sighed, "if I have to die in an automobile accident, I'd rather be with you at the time than anyone else in the world!"

Stan smiled grimly. "I'm not so keen on dying just now, so keep your eyes on the road," he said—Under his harshness, Glory drooped like a flower.

It was blue dusk when they drove back into town. The street-lamps made golden pools in the wet streets.

Gloria drove the car into a dark and lonely side-street to let Wayburn out. A few days ago this precaution would never have occurred to her. But since May had been black-balled by the Home Women's club Gloria was afraid of people, and the things they might say—about her and Stan.

"Will you meet me day after tomorrow—same time and place?" Stan asked, opening the door of the machine.

Gloria shook her head. "Can't," she said. "That's Thursday. I promised May I'd go to the card-club that day."

She longed to ask him why he couldn't meet her the next afternoon. But she hadn't the courage—She had a miserable conviction that there was a woman mixed up in everything Stan did, every engagement he had.

"Search for the woman," and you often found Stan, at the same time! And Thursday afternoon when Gloria went up the front walk to May's house, she was still wondering with whom Stan's engagement on Wednesday had been.

Sonya Chotek had left town. That eliminated her. Perhaps it had been Myra Gail whom Stan had seen!

All her anger toward Stanley Wayburn and Myra gathered like a cyclone. In its path, Lola stood quite defenseless. "You poor simp!" Gloria flamed at her. "to make a bid like that when you had a bust hand! You must be crazy! I should think you'd learn a few rules of the game, if you're going to even make a stab at playing bridge!"

All the color drained out of Lola's cheeks. If Gloria had slapped her face she couldn't have hurt her more. She put one hand on the table and rose. Every woman in the room was looking at her.

"I'm sorry," she said. "Perhaps I shouldn't play cards with people like you, who never forget that there's a prize at the end of the game. I don't play a professional game like yours!"

May came across the room. "Please, girls, don't quarrel," she said, trying to push Lola down in her chair. "Do sit down, Lola, and go on with your game."

But Lola was firm. "No," she said with a breaking voice. "I'm going. There's no use in my trying to keep up with you girls—I don't have time to play often enough to keep my wits sharp. And I shouldn't have come today, at all. I left my ironing to come."

She went unsteadily upstairs to get her wraps. "Well, let's get on with our game," Gloria broke the cold silence Lola had left behind her. "She really hasn't any business to be playing bridge, anyway. She's the worst player!"

Suddenly Myra got up, too. "I think I'll go with Lola," she said quietly. (To be continued tomorrow.)
