OL INTEREST REVIVING IN RANGER AREA

LECTURES ON COOKING ARE VERY POPULAR

Mrs. Chitwood Opens Daily Telegram's Cooking School in Eastland.

BY ELVIE H. JACKSON.
The Eastland Daily Telegram's Cooking School opened with a large attendance yesterday afternoon, in the American Legion banquet room, tastefully furnished with the attractive white paneled kitchen cabinets, electric ice box, electric Hot-Point stove and table for the demonstrators and lecturers, Mrs. Ida Chitwood.

A dozen or more electric fans maintained a delightful coolness, appreciated by the class, seated in a hollow square about the large hall, brightened with bouquets of roses, and comfortably appointed.

Mrs. Chitwood was introduced by Mrs. W. K. Jackson of the Eastland Daily Telegram staff; Editor Frank Jones, and business manager Walter K. Murray.

Ice water was provided and everything conducive to comfort employed by Messrs. Jones and Murray.
Mrs. Chitwood was introduced by Mrs. Jackson, in a pithy and snappy talk. The reception accorded Mrs. Chitwood was enthusiastic, and proved deservedly so. She is a woman of poise, good breeding and charming attainments, and her introductory remarks developed the fact that she was not demonstrating or selling anything, but was putting on the school for the Eastland Telegram just as she had engaged in this work for papers all over the country.

Purpose Explained.
Giving these lectures for the sake of home making and building, not to teach altogether, but to give of her experiences of 15 years in this work, and the benefit she had received in university studies, to others, that the world might be happier.

She spoke with humor of her university stay in New York, and declared she wouldn't tell you about studies of dresses there, but would tell you about cookery, of which she had been very fond since her "mad pie" days.

Mrs. Chitwood pithily remarked that home making is a position, and advised no woman to marry until she could fill the position she was taking as perfectly as though it were one in a store, office or school. That when a man and woman marries, they form a united co-operative position.

Value of Foods.
Mrs. Chitwood touched lightly and humorously on several points of the haphazard home, ill selected food, and the fact that badness is due to lack of proper physical nourishment. She recommended cabbage highly as a necessary food, owing to the iron contents, and spoke of the 29 ways in which cabbage can be prepared for consumption.

Onions, the next topic, and its food value was illustrated by the story of the child given up by doctors, and taken in hand by Christian Scientists, who put the child on an onion juice diet and brought her safely to health.

The initial demonstration of cabbage was prepared with bread crumbs, grated meat, and grated cheese with cream sauce, and proved a delectable dish when passed by those assisting Mrs. Chitwood.

Stuffed onions, the next demonstration, was succeeded by a deliciously prepared asparagus dish.

A combination of peas, with other vegetables and meats, was served to be served as a cold loaf.

Mrs. Chitwood asks that each one attending bring her own spoon. The lecture was rapid, and drew many interested inquiries, which Mrs. Chitwood gladly answered.

At conclusion of demonstration handsome premiums were distributed among them, a 50-pound sack of flour, a dozen bottles of salad dressing, baking powder, coffee, etc. are denying themselves a real treat.

Those who miss these lectures are not likely to come this way again soon.

Man may do without pictures; he may do without books.
But never, oh never, can he do without cooks.

Ranger, Desdemona and Cisco were well represented by visitors to the school.

Burkett Divorce Case To Come Up Within Next Thirty Days

The rift in the marital life of Joe Burkett, state highway commissioner, will be aired in the district court here sometime within the next 30 days, it was said in Eastland today. A formal petition for divorce was filed by Mrs. Burkett, Sept. 12. Burkett waived citation service in the suit and filed his answer denying Mrs. Burkett's allegations.

Mrs. Burkett's petition is in the hands of her counsel, who could not be located today.

Mayfield Guest of Rotarians and Lions in Eastland Monday

United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield is to be the guest of the Eastland Rotarians and Eastland Lions at a joint session to be held at the Eastland Golf and Country Club next Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The senator will make an address.

MEXICAN RESORT SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

TIA JUANA, Mexico, Sept. 22.—Fire starting in a kitchen of the Vernon club, a local resort, today swept an entire block and caused damage estimated at more than $1,000,000. The blaze, one of the most disastrous ever occurring here, destroyed four bars, one cantina, two cafes and one curio store. After about an hour the wind died down and the flames were got under control, but the entire town might have been destroyed.

ON THE RANGE AT RANGER

By THE FENCE RIDER.
(Items for this department must be phoned in to the Fence Rider, by 12 o'clock daily in order to insure their inclusion. Don't be haphazard. Jingle the telephone bell.)

Why is a pike tail? Why is a fish wiggle? And what?
A pike is something long and smooth. It may be fish. It may be road. But at the end of it, whether fish or road, is a tail—usually all fluted, notched, rough and wriggly—and that doesn't mean chewing gum.

You feel all along a pike and think how nice and gooey it is. When flap goes its tail. You go all along a turn pike (which got its name from its fish forerunner, because it is so nice and smooth) when Chug! Bam! Bang! Dang! You are bumped right off the pike into some town or city.

Of all stretches of road, the one which should be smoothest and most delightful, is that last little stretch leading right up to a city's gates. Nine times in 10, it's a regular pike tail. And to add to the irony of the situation, just as you enter the city, in many instances, the old fish of road begins traveling from a N. W. to a S. E. course and you don't enter the city. You are just spilled in! The old boat with fish on its brain (if old boats have brains) turns turtle or nearly so. And all the time you are in that city, you nurse your sore spots and have as sweet and tranquil meditations about that city as a canny has about a cat. And you dream of the New Jerusalem with its streets paved with gold and wonder why in this good land, they put all the gold on the road midway to Jericho and give you corduroy, pox marks, fish wriggles and bumpy-bumps combined just before they dump you into Main street.

You go miles and miles over a dream of a road and all of a sudden you begin traveling a mile and a half up and down for every mile horizontal and you find yourself unconsciously saying:

"We're getting close to town now. I can feel it just as plain!"

Speaking of which, reminds us that the new road out of Weatherford is going to be completed sometime before July 31, 1929. Of this the Fence Rider had full assurance last night. It came as a glad surprise to know that road will be done in time for our great grand children's great grand-children to read about in their grandfather's diary. It sort of made up for the fact that the old brone lost shoe and half his religion coming over that "outour."

Ranger has no pike trails or fish wriggles. All her roads are ways of pleasantness and paths of peace.

Of all the radio fans who listened in on the Dallas-Fort Worth series and will have as their guests some friends to listen in on the Dixie series tomorrow, the fireboys are among the most enthusiastic. They claim that their set doesn't give out more than the ordinary number of spooky sounds when getting ready to talk and when it does talk, it speaks it as plainly as the best of them.

REPUBLICANS OF TEXAS PLANNING FOR PRIMARY
Special Correspondence.

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—Members of the republican state executive committee will gather in an important session during the latter part of October, probably at Fort Worth, state headquarters, announces, following receipt of information from R. B. Creager of Brownsville, national committeeman, and Eugene Nolte of Seguin, state chairman. It is expected that many leading republicans, other than committee members, will attend and that the gathering will take the form of an informal state conference looking toward the primary next year.

PRESIDENT EXPRESSES VIEW ON DEPORTING COMMUNISTS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Coolidge is unwilling to let commercial expediency influence enforcement of the immigration law, excluding aliens holding subversive opinions, it was said at the White House today. The president's view were given in reply to a question on making mandatory the deportation of communistic Russians from this country.

Getting Ready for the Debt Paying Party.

Purchase of Gas Plant Not Yet Up Before Commission

The Eastland Gas & Electric company, distributors of natural gas to gas users in Eastland, in a letter to the Eastland city commission, stated that they did not care to sell their plant. The latter was received Monday morning by City Manager J. H. Cheatham and was in answer to one written the gas company by Mr. Chentham in which he advised them of the commission's desire for lower gas rates and asked them, if, in case an agreement on price could not be reached, would the gas company sell their plant to the city.

In some manner the impression got out about town yesterday that the city commission expected to take up and discuss the proposal to buy the gas company's plant at the meeting held last night, and a large number of citizens were on hand early to attend the meeting. Members of the commission, however, had not planned to discuss the matter and had a lot of routine business on and had to dispose of. City Manager Cheatham informed those present that the commission would be glad to set a time at some future date for a hearing and that when this was done the public would be advised and would be invited to attend the meeting.

CORN WHISKY AND BEER SEIZED BY OFFICERS

Members of the Eastland county sheriff's department secured a quantity of corn whisky and beer in a raid on the premises of J. Campbell, who lives about midway between Eastland and Ranger, yesterday. A complaint, charging him with possessing whisky for the purpose of sale were filed against Campbell, who made bond in the sum of $750 to await the action of the grand jury.

But all is not gold that glitters, even in Ranger. What's the good of having the best town on earth just to tantalize folks and not having any nous for them to live in when they come down the pike to dwell in Ranger? Got to build some, fellows. That's all there is to it.

ANGRY WOODER THRUSTS WOMAN INTO FURNACE

Strikes and Gags Her, Then Feeds Her Body to the Flames.

By United Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—An aboriginal murder as this city has known in years was committed today, police say, when Mrs. Sophie Polekie, 28, was thrust alive into a burning furnace by a clandestine wooder.

George Symuk, a fireman employed at a lumber yard, is alleged by police to have gagged Mrs. Polekie, carried her to the furnace, pushed her in feet first and clamped the heavy door shut. Police who heard the woman scream pursued Symuk and caught him. He is a Rumanian, 44 years old, and told the police she was going to poison him.

The police took Symuk, gay and smiling, back to the furnace room. "There she is," he is alleged to have said, pointing to a furnace door. Police found the body in a mass of flames, her features yet recognizable, but the lower part of her body horribly burned.

Symuk is said to have confessed he struck Mrs. Polekie on the side of her head with a bottle. When she screamed he struck her again. Then he gagged her and thrust her into the furnace.

SHENANDOAH INQUIRY BEGINS
LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 22.—With two freight cars loaded with exhibits on a railroad track within hearing of the court, the second day of the naval investigation of the Shenandoah disaster started today. The exhibits consisted of wreckage of the dirigible, including one of the ship's gondolas, motor parts, instruments from the control car and other parts. Richardson Wilson, yeoman of the Shenandoah, was called as the day's first witness.

Quick Thinking of Telephone Operator Saves Human Life

Special Correspondence.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 22.—You have heard it said, "Perhaps you have said it yourself. It is one of the supposedly smart things that people say—the smart alucky remark about the telephone operator when you don't get quickly the number you want."

In Columbus, Mr. Harry Gunnert was working on a car in his garage, the doors being closed. He was overcome by carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust. Monoxide poison acts quickly. The victim felt himself fainting but stumbled to the telephone and removed the receiver. As he did so he collapsed with a moan and was unconscious.

Miss Kuhlwein was the telephone operator who answered "Number please." When the light appeared on her board, it was one light among hundreds, in the course of a hard day's work. But the operator heard the groans just as she answered the signal, and she received no other response to her repeated calls. She knew that something was wrong.

Miss Kuhlwein called the assistant chief operator and presently the chief operator joined the consultation. The three could have said: "Well, it's none of our business. Let's keep the traffic moving and let that one light burn." But they didn't. One of them called the police department while the other two checked over the numbers and located the address. The police emergency car was ready to start when the address was flashed, and Mr. Gunnert's life was saved.

Telephone company records are full of such incidents.

In all fairness, don't use that smart quip again about the telephone operator. It is not true, and it is rather cruel.

HOLLYWOOD NUDE DANCERS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—Fifteen persons were arrested at the North Studio Club here when officers raided an alleged nude dancing orgie. Those taken included three professional girl dancers and 12 guests. Some of the party went down a fire escape when the raiders broke into the house.

Shallow Production in Olney Townsite Awakening Interest

Special Correspondence.
OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 22.—Much interest has been awakened in oil possibilities in the Olney townsite, North Young county, where J. C. Allen et al are swabbing their No. 1 Dyer, which is producing about 100 barrels of high grade oil daily from sand at a depth of 1,019 to 1,036 feet. Prices running as high as $2,000 are being paid for city blocks 300 feet square adjacent to the well and one block some distances away brought $1,200. Seven derricks are now being built in the pool, which is about two miles of the Litchfield pool and a little more than two miles south of the Ragle and Carey pools.

MITCHELL IS SUMMONED TO VOICE CHARGES

Denies Can Be Influenced to Cease His Fight for Better Air Service.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22.—Col. William Mitchell plans to leave San Antonio this afternoon by automobile for Washington, where he has been ordered to appear next Monday as a witness in the aircraft investigation. Replying to a report that he might be offered some high office or emolument if he would cease his fight for a better air service, Colonel Mitchell today made public a telegram he had sent to Kenneth Clark in reply to a message.

"Set at rest for good and all any report that I can be bought or influenced by any government agency, private interest or hap of personal gain," said the colonel in his wire. "My greatest pride would be in giving my best efforts to aid in the development of the air service to its greatest efficiency, contributing my part as an American citizen to carry out that purpose."

Lightfoot et al are building a rig on the B. B. Hodges lease, near where the T. P. got their well some four weeks ago. Incidentally the T. P. well was making 400 barrels a day this morning, a report from there said.

Johnson et al are moving their tools onto the J. T. Long lease near Hand well.

Coselins Brothers and Tagger, on the Brushier, five miles south of Ranger, are down 2800 feet. They are down 1200 feet in their Dan Wagner well three miles northwest of Ranger. They got small production in that territory a year ago and hope to make this a commercial well.

Lightfoot et al have a new rig on the Goswick near the Frankell townsite.

Prairie Oil and Gas Company are said to have missed the Moorman sand in their Ware No. 3 and are drilling on to the Ranger deep pay.

Moorman the J. T. McClesky is reported dry at 3618 feet. They may drill deeper.

Wilbur Contends Aircraft Must Be Navy's Integral Part

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—A flat denial of Colonel Mitchell's charges of mal-administration of the navy air service was made today by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur before the special aircraft board.

"The United States navy," Wilbur declared, "is at present organized to handle its air arm. The system is working smoothly, efficiently and economically."

Wilbur did not mention Mitchell's name, but reiterated his previous objection to the establishment of a separate air service, contending it is an integral part of the fleet.

"Aviation can best accomplish its tactical and strategic mission by operating as an integral part of the navy and not as an independent arm," Wilbur said. "Naval aviation today is organized as an integral part of the navy and constitutes an arm thereof, in the same manner as do battle ships, cruisers, destroyers, submarines and mine layers."

"The mistake of establishing a separate department or corps would be well nigh irreparable. Air forces form an essential part of the fabric of the navy and its administration and organization, like all other problems internal to the navy, if unmolested by outside influences, be solved with the same efficiency and the same happy result as obtained in the solution of similar problems in the past."

Wilbur said the agitation in regard to the air forces in the navy was similar to that occurring in connection with the development of destroyers, submarines and gunnery.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The president's air inquiry desires the personal testimony of Commander John Rodgers of the PN-9 No. 1, lost about ten days on the Pacific ocean. Chairman Morrow of the board today informed Secretary of the Navy Wilbur. He said the airboard wanted Rodgers here before September 30. "We will see that he comes," Secretary Wilbur said.

RANGER SAND IS APPARENT OIL OBJECTIVE

Recent Activities Show Tendency to Drill Deeper and Procure Larger Production

The oil operators are making the deep pay Ranger sand their objective, is indicated in recent operations and developments. This is true in the several Ranger fields.

The Hagaman well being drilled by Pat O'Donnell, which got a good commercial gas showing is going down to black lime or Ranger sand, it is reported. This well, 2 1/2 miles north-east of Ranger, although in a proven field with several good producers all around it, is being watched with interest in its reach for deeper stuff.

Jerome McLester et al on the Kline offsetting their 30 million foot gasser on the Morton lease, drilled in some three months ago, are on top of the sand and are said to have a good oil showing, at 1965 feet.

The States have two new rigs up on the Copper in the deep well territory.

Lightfoot et al are building a rig on the B. B. Hodges lease, near where the T. P. got their well some four weeks ago. Incidentally the T. P. well was making 400 barrels a day this morning, a report from there said.

Johnson et al are moving their tools onto the J. T. Long lease near Hand well.

Coselins Brothers and Tagger, on the Brushier, five miles south of Ranger, are down 2800 feet. They are down 1200 feet in their Dan Wagner well three miles northwest of Ranger. They got small production in that territory a year ago and hope to make this a commercial well.

ROTARIANS OF EASTLAND WILL HEAR SENATOR

The entertainment committee of the Eastland Rotary club presented Miss Wilda Drago, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. B. A. Butler at the piano, in two numbers at the regular weekly luncheon of the club Monday at noon. Miss Laura Hope Smalley, President of the program for a reading and Mrs. Ida Chitwood, who is conducting a free cooking school in the city under the auspice of the Eastland Daily Telegram, gave a brief address on the subject of scientific selection and preparation of foods. Those present gave the ladies on the program a rising vote of thanks for the splendid program rendered.

President Bradford complimented Eastland on having such accomplished young ladies as citizens.

United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield will be a guest of the club at its next regular meeting, Monday, September 28, and will deliver an address, according to the announcement made by the entertainment committee.

PRESIDENT READY TO SUPPORT KELLOGG'S VIEWS

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Coolidge favors enforcement of laws which prevent an American citizen serving with foreign armies, which have been cited by Secretary of State Kellogg as a warning to the American aviators' fight with the French against the Riffians in Morocco. It was said at the White House today the secretary had not taken up the question with the president, who has no personal opinion to express on any specific case.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
 Power of the Word: For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of the soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
 —Hebrews 4:12.

COL. MITCHELL TALKS PLAINLY
 In addition to publishing a book alleged to reflect on the war and navy management of airplane service, Col. William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air service, is believed to face court-martial for his fiery statement at San Antonio, in which he charges the war and navy departments with "criminal negligence" and general incompetency in its administration of aircraft.
 Concluding his direct criticisms
 Colonel Mitchell, after due deliberation, said: "The bodies of my former companions in the air mouler
 under the soil in America and Asia, Europe and Africa, many, yes, a great many, sent there directly by official stupidity. We all may make mistakes, but the criminal mistakes made by armies and navies whenever they have been allowed to handle aeronautics, show their incompetence. We would not be keeping our trust with our departed comrades were we longer to conceal these facts."
 Coming from a man who knows his business, who has already felt the heavy hand of government red tape, these charges of misleading and false information to congress, the "bulldozing" of practical airmen, etc., etc., will not only result in some improvement in the service, but may mean the crucifixion of the man possessing the courage to state them.
 Colonel Mitchell, however, will not be the first man to be crucified for telling the truth—but the truth will prevail.

WEST INDIES FOR FRENCH DEBT.
 There is every reason to believe that France is now prepared to offer the French West Indies as part payment of its war debt to the United States. It is not generally known that an offer was made by France
 for the surrender of these West Indian possessions and of her colony of Guiana to the United States on the eve of the disarmament conference. But warnings received from England indicated that such action would be very unsatisfactory to that nation, and the offer was turned down by Washington.
 Now England needs the co-operation of France and has evidently withdrawn all objections to the proposition and it is believed something along this line will be proposed on the arrival of Joseph Caillaux in this country.
 It is no secret that there are in this country quite a number of people who since the opening of the Panama canal have been imbued with the desirability of securing possession of all of the West Indian islands for the defense of the eastern approaches to that great American waterway.

Almost everybody who owns property complains of higher taxes.
 Municipal, state and county taxes have been increased about 10 per cent but property values have increased 100 per cent. Pretty good investment. During the past 10 years the wealth of the nation has increased 200 per cent more than all the costs of government. You can't have your cake and eat it, too.

New York capital is to help build $160,000,000 worth of subways in London. All materials and labor will be furnished there.

 be present at this, the first meeting
 of the year.

REPORT OF CIRCLE MEETINGS.
 Circle one of the Central Baptist Church met with Mrs. Roy Wilkes, Monday afternoon, with an attendance of some 12 members. Devotional service was conducted by Mrs.
 Clark. Mrs. J. M. White had charge of the program and conducted a round-table discussion on "How Can We Make Our Circles the Best in Texas." A social session was followed by a business hour, during which time the hostess favored her guests with some delightful refreshments.
 At the same time as the above meeting, Circles two and three were meeting with Mrs. Haden. There were 20 members present and Mrs.
 C. V. Wheeler directed the roundtable discussion on the same subject used by Circle One. This meeting also finished with a social hour and dainty refreshments.

PERSONALS.
 Miss Oreta Smith will leave today for Denton to resume her studies at C. T. A. Mrs. Smith will accompany her to Denton, where she will visit for a while, and will also visit relatives in Fort Worth before returning home.

W. L. Barrett, accompanied by his daughters, Misses Marie and Eliza-both, and Miss Lucile Buchanan, and her guest of the past 10 days, Miss Margaret Hopple of Big Springs, left for Denton this morning, where the young ladies will all enter C.
 T. A. Mr. Barrett will return home in a few days.

Mrs. J. Mell Smith of Corsicana is the guest of her daughter, Mrs.
 John Remonte.

GORMAN TERRAPINS ARE TRAINED TO GO FAST
 The terrapin entered by T. L.
 Overbey, Eastland banker, in the terrapin race at the Gorman free fall fair Monday, won third place. Those entered by Miss Eppie Jean Grove of Gorman won first and second places.
 Eastland parties entered eight out of the 12 terrapins that took part in the races at Gorman.

Tia Juana, Mexico, Sept. 22.—Fire
 starting in a kitchen of the Vernon Club, a local resort, today swept an entire block and caused damage estimated at more than $1,000,000. The blaze, one of the most disastrous ever occurring here, destroyed four bars, one cantina, two cafes and one curio store. After about an hour the wind died down and the flames were gotten under control, else the entire town might have been destroyed.

ROBEY REPLIES TO BRELSFORD ON GAS MATTER

Eastland Daily Telegram:
 Referring to the article in the Daily Telegram of September 21st, by Senator Brelsford, opposing the city taking over and operating the gas plant, and his statement: "This presents a vital question to every citizen and taxpayer of Eastland and our people should have all the information possible." I agree with his statement above quoted and here submit the following in favor of our city taking over the gas plant, body and soul, and operating it as our own, which we can do under the law, and without voting any more bonds or increasing the tax rate.
 He says he will not discuss the question whether the city can legally take over the property of the company and "put it out of business." He well knows the laws of our country, together with the very franchise granted the gas company, gives the city the right to take over its properties by paying the gas company their reasonable valuation, and not "put it out of business," but continue said business at the same old stand. This is a vested right that no one can question.

Texas Company Interest.
 But when the time comes, we will see Senator Brelsford, together with Mr. H. S. Garrett, attorney for the Texas Company, very active in fighting every inch of the ground to prevent the city from taking the gas plant and paying its holders every dollar it is worth. What interest has the Texas Company in this local gas company? It is because of the 20-year contract between the Texas Company and the "alleged" local gas company that was disclosed on the night of February 9, 1923, at a hearing in the city hall. This contract provides that the Texas Company shall receive two-thirds of the total revenues collected by the "alleged" local gas company within the city limits. The Texas Company pays an average of from 3 to 6 cents per 1,000 cubic feet at the wells, then pipes it to the city limits and receives two-thirds of 75 cents or two-thirds of 67 1/2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, which ever the local distributing company collects.

I have reliable information that the "alleged" local gas company last year sold in the city limits approximately ninety million ($90,000,000) cubic feet of gas to consumers. This amounts, at 45 cents, less 10 per cent discount on 100 per cent collection, aggregates $60,750, of which the Texas Company gets two-thirds, aggregating $40,250, leaving a net
 revenue to the "alleged" local company of $20,250. The above figures are only approximate and may vary some, which will only vary the proportionate amounts. Now, I challenge Senator Brelsford, the "alleged" gas company, and the whole kit and pile of this outfit, to truthfully show that it did not make a reasonable return on the investment.

 The only way to get out from under this 20-year contract with the Texas Company and supervision of the railroad commission in this state is for the city to take over the gas plant. It will then be an easy matter for the city to make connection with any number of gas wells in the fields nearby and get as good, adequate and regular supply of gas as we now have or will ever have in the future. In this connection I call attention to the fact that Eastland County has the largest and longeslived gas field in the United States today. All this talk about the city not being able to get an adequate supply of gas is pure bunk. There has been enough residue gas going to waste, burning all day and all night long, on the Martin lease ever since the first well came in 1921,
 to have furnished Eastland.

Then the city could sell gas to consumers at 50 cents per 1,000 feet and make enough profit in two or three years to pay the purchase price from the present owners, take care of the upkeep and all other necessary expenses. But Senator Brelsford, who has the welfare of the dear people so at heart, raises the question of voting bonds and additional tax rate, etc. My dear Senator, none of this will be necessary.
 I have just gone into detail and discussed the present plan of purchase
 by our city manager, Mr. Cheatham, and the city has a plan whereby one plant can be purchased without any additional bonded indebtedness or raising the tax rate one mill.
 Yes, it can be done, and the Chamber of Commerce ought to get behind the city and help put this over,
 or else hands off and let the people who really have the interest of Eastland at heart settle the question.

By the way, Mr. Cheatham happens to be one of the organizers of the old gas company that sold out to the present "alleged" gas company, and Mr. Cheatham finally took 50 cents on the dollar for his stock.
 I understand he has some issue open on this outfit and really has the interest of Eastland at heart. Let everybody get behind him and help.

Electrical Operation.
 What has been said about the gas company is also true of the electric light company. The Oil Cities Electric company operates in the city limits and the Oil Belt Power company operates outside. They are one and the same outfit, but have separate corporate names and interlocking directors and stockholders, for the purpose of charging a higher rate for electric current, making more money and evading income and other taxation. The Oil Belt Power company runs the current to the city limits and the Oil Cities Electric company takes it off the meter there at a high rate so as to keep the net earnings in the city limits down.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE INC.

THE STORY SO FAR:
Gloria Gordon, beautiful flapper, marries Dick Gregory, a struggling lawyer. Her idea of marriage is fun and fine clothes, but no work or children. She refuses to do her own housework and hires a maid. But Dick has to let the maid go. Gloria has swamped him with debts for her extravagances. She becomes infatuated with an actor, Stanley Wayburn. When he leaves town she follows him to New York. But he spurns her. Then she tries to get a job as a chorus girl and fails. Finally she comes home to Dick. He takes her back, but refuses to live with her as his wife. Gloria begins to suspect that he is in love with his secretary, Susan Briggs. Dick stays out late one night, and Gloria is sure he spent the evening with Miss Briggs. But next day she learns that he was at the home of Dr. John Seymour, who had shot himself because of a love affair between his wife, May, and Jim Carver.

The breach between Dick and Gloria widens. Gloria packs up and leaves him, finally. One afternoon, filled with homesickness, she breaks into the house she has left. While she is there, May Seymour telephones and says she wants to see Gloria.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:
Gloria stood at the window watching for May to drive up in her little crimson car. But she came in a taxicab. And the driver followed her up the front walk, carrying two large traveling bags.

The instant she set foot in the house, Gloria saw that there was some subtle change in her. She was not the crushed and tearful May of a week ago. The air of dash and impudence that had been her chief charm had returned to her. She had reddened her lips, and around the collar of her soft black dress was a row of little pearls.

"Don't look so surprised," she said to Gloria as she sank into Dick's chair. "I told you last week that I was going to shake the dust of this town from my shoes, didn't I?"

"Yes," Gloria nodded, "but I had no idea that you were going so soon."
"Why should I stay here?" May asked. "There's nothing for me in this burg that I can see! Nothing but a lot of friends who've stopped speaking to me, and a story that I'll never be able to live down."

"Where are you going?" Gloria asked.
"May threw out her hands with a vague gesture. 'New York, London—Paris—Bombay. Who knows?' she asked. 'Thank heaven, I have enough money to keep me going! Going, going—that's the only way for me to keep from losing my mind, I guess.'"

She stopped speaking, and stared out of the window, as if her eyes were filled with long distances already.

"Why don't you go with me, Gloria?" she asked suddenly. "That's what I came here to ask you. You know, you'll never go back to Dick now that you've actually left him, don't you?"

Gloria nodded, without a word.
"Well, then," May went on, "tell him you want some money and come along with me. I'm going to stay at a hotel tonight, and take an early train in the morning. You could get ready to go by then, couldn't you?"

Gloria looked at her thoughtfully. The idea tempted her. What was this dull town to her, now that she had lost Dick?

"For two pins—I'd go with you, May," she said slowly. "But, somehow or other, I just can't do it. As long as Dick's here—I've got to stay, I guess."

"What I can't understand," May answered, with a little frown on her face, "is how Dick ever happened to let you pick up and leave him."

Her eyes questioned Gloria.
"Oh, I guess he just got tired of me," Gloria said with a break in her voice. "He wanted a home-keeping wife. And I wasn't one. I bored him."

"Bored him? Never! Not with that face of yours!" May exclaimed. "Oh, blah! Men get tired of nothing but a woman's looks," Gloria

"I mean . . . get a divorce," May answered.

told her. "You can get them with your beauty. But you've got to hold them with something else. Brains, for one thing. And love and care."

"Love and care! You talk about them as if they were babies!" May laughed.

"Well, and so they are! They're only grown-up children," Gloria went on, with that new wisdom of hers. "When life bangs them on the head, they want someone to rub the bump, and tell them not to mind. And they want their food right on the dot, poor things, just as baby does!"

She stopped and shook a solemn forefinger at May.
"And you flip it from the Flapper, that the wife who wins is the one who mothers her man," she said. "I used to think that what Dick wanted was a playmate. And all of the time he wanted someone to take his troubles to—someone to mother him!"

May's red lip curled. "Don't kid yourself that you were ever Dick's playmate, dearie," she said sarcastically. "All the playing around you did was with Stan Wayburn, it seemed to me."

Gloria flushed. "I know it," she admitted. "I know I wasn't—anything to Dick. I just fell down on my job. No wonder he doesn't want me any more." She burst into tears.

May looked at her thoughtfully. "Well, if you're sure—Dick's through with you, what are you sticking around here for?" she asked. "Believe me, I'd go to see a lawyer so fast it would make your head swim!"

"Go to see a lawyer?" Gloria echoed faintly. "What you you mean?"

"I mean—get a divorce," May answered. "What's the use of being tied to a man who doesn't care a snap of his fingers about you? You said Dick doesn't."

Gloria put her head on one side like a wise robin.
"Well, I don't know, May," she mused. "Divorce has always seemed a terrible thing to me."

"No more terrible than the way you're living now!" May answered briskly. "You're neither married nor single!"

Gloria sighed. "I'm awfully lonely," she said sadly.

"May got up to go. 'Oh, you make me sick!' she exclaimed. 'If I cared about a man I'll bet I'd make him care about me—of course the reason why! Why don't you go to Dick and tell him you're going to divorce him? That'll bring him around, fast enough!'"

"Nothing will do that," Gloria answered. "I tell you he's through with me! I know Dick—when he says he's through he means it!"

She sat staring into space while May telephoned for a taxicab to take herself and her bags down to the hotel.

She drew a long breath of pure relief when May had gone, and she stood alone in the house once more—the dear, familiar house.

Gloria hated to leave it. She had told May it was "spooky." It was not "spooky"—except that it was haunted with memory. Gloria could almost feel Dick with her in the empty room.

She ran out into the back yard and picked a bouquet of roses. She put them in a vase on the table beside Dick's chair. She drew his little smoking stand up beside it. There was dust on it.

Gloria wiped it off with her clean handkerchief.

"Where have you been all day?" her mother asked her when she walked into the hot little kitchen at 6 o'clock that night.

"Oh, I don't know. Gadding around town," Gloria answered. "I know I'm dead tired." She dropped down on a chair beside the kitchen table.

Her mother was bent above the gas stove. She was frying veal birds for supper.

Her face was flushed. Her hair curled in little damp wisps around her ears. There was a weary droop at the corners of her mouth.

Gloria jumped up. "I'm going to get supper tonight," she cried, "just to show you that I can do it! I'll be down in a jiffy!"

She hurried upstairs to the little bedroom under the eaves. It was close and stuffy, although the one window was opened wide, and the muslin curtains looped back.

Gloria ripped off her silk dress, and put on her new bungalow apron—the apron in which she had planned to look so pretty for Dick!

She ran down to the kitchen. Her father had come in. He was sitting in his shirtsleeves beside the door that led to the back porch.

"Today's been a corker, hasn't it?" he asked. "I tell you, I thought I was going to drop dead as I walked across the street this noon. The paper said some fellow died of sunstroke."

"You and mother go out on the porch while I slap this meal together, dad," Gloria said. "Now, come on—you make mother go! You know she thinks no one but herself knows how to do anything."

Mrs. Gordon hung back. "I know you don't know how to cook a meal," she said. "It seems a shame to spoil good food!"

"It would be a good thing if I did spoil it tonight," Gloria answered. "People shouldn't eat anything but salad and green vegetables in westher like this!"

Alone in the kitchen, the set to work. The lettuce was lying in a bowl of water. Gloria cut it up and made a French dressing for it. Mother Gregory had shown her how to mix the oil and lemon juice to silken smoothness.

Gloria wondered what Mother Gregory had ordered for dinner at their house tonight. Would Dick be there with his father and mother? Or would he be dining somewhere or other with Susan Briggs?

Gloria wrinkled her forehead. "Well, I can't live like this—worrying myself to death about him all the time. Wondering where he is, and what he's doing," she told herself. "Perhaps May's right. Perhaps I'd be happier if I divorced Dick."

She debated the question with herself as she set the meal on the table. With unseeing eyes she smiled at her mother and father when they praised it.

She was looking far away into the hidden future. What did it hold for a woman who had separated from the only man in the world for whom she cared?

Her mother's voice roused her from her dream. "Oh, I forgot," she said in her slow, soft voice. "A letter came for you this afternoon while you were out. I guess it's from Dick."

The HOT-POINT RANGE is not a mere assemblage of miscellaneous parts. It is a finished product built to a standard, the result of years of development in electric range construction. So modern a product is the HOT-POINT RANGE that it could not be built by ordinary machinery. Special machinery had to be built and hundreds of thousands of dollars invested.

Today our factories, where HOT-POINT RANGES are built, command the respect of the most modern industrial engineer. Throughout the entire plant is evidence of the carefully studied plans for standardization and quantity production. It is because of this careful study that the HOT-POINT RANGE justly commands the title of the Best Electric Range in the World.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Billy Evans Says

VETERANS PASS MANAGER MILLER HUGGINS of the New York Americans recently gave more evidence of his intention to rebuild when he passed along two of his veterans to Washington.

The players who went to the world champs over the waiver route were Outfielder Bob Veach and Pitcher Alex Ferguson. No doubt Manager Harris of Washington figures these players may help in the pennant drive by strengthening the club in batting and pitching. The defense of the Nationals is all that could be desired. An added punch at the bat could be used. The hard hitting Veach may help here. Since the opening of the season the Washington pitching has been a question mark. Ferguson has always been a tough nut for the Nationals to crack. Undoubtedly that influenced Harris in signing him. Both Philadelphia and Washington claimed Jack Quinn when Boston asked for waivers. The Athletics got him. At the present writing, the two-game lead enjoyed by the Mackmen might be credited to the four out of five wins registered by Quinn.

It is apparent in the drive down the home stretch, neither Washington nor Philadelphia is going to overlook a single bat that might enhance pennant chances.

VEACH'S JINX

THE case of Outfielder Bob Veach is a most peculiar one. It would be a most unusual happening if he finally landed with a pennant winner at the big end of his career. Five or six years ago the New York Americans made many overtures for Veach's services. It was generally known that he was not in favor in Detroit and that a trade for him was possible.

At that time Veach was one of the outstanding sluggers of the league and it was believed that he would not only add a batting punch but prove a big gate attraction for New York. For some reason the two clubs could never agree on the deal and Veach lingered with the Tigers until sold to the Boston Red Sox two years ago. Had Veach landed with the Yanks when that club was hot after him, he would have had the good fortune to share in three world series. Instead he got nothing. Last winter the Yankees finally secured him and it seemed Veach was about to get a good break financially. Then New York proceeded to collapse and pick a spot in the second division.

Going to Washington at this time insures Veach of a piece of change, as the Nationals are certain to be either one-two.

It is just possible that base hits from the bat of Bobby Veach may have something to do with the final result in the American League.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—But for the fact that transportation facilities are ample in the United States, a considerable part of the south would be on the eve of a genuine famine as ever gripped China, according to arrivals in Washington from the drought belt, described as extending roughly from the southern Virginia and North and South Carolina coasts through most of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and into Texas.

That it has been a dry season in this region is no news, but if reliable eye witnesses' stories are to be believed the situation's real seriousness is only just beginning to be revealed.

NOT only have crops suffered heavily, but in some sections it is declared that good trees are dying to such a depth is the earth completely dried out.

Small lakes and numerous fairly large streams have disappeared so completely that their beds are deep in dust and buzzards are eating dead fish from them.

References are made to Texas ranchmen who are shooting their livestock, too enamored to sell and doomed otherwise to a slower death from lack of food and water.

Many Georgia farmers are feeding ragweed to their swine and cutting small bushes for their other stock. Towns are mentioned which are bringing in their water supplies in tank cars.

THE situation has one recompense. The boll weevil can't stand such dry weather much better than the cotton can. The boll weevil distinctly is a wet. Without moisture he dies.

That's what he's been doing lately, at a prodigious rate. Indications are that next year he'll be scarce.

Later on he may increase and multiply again, but his absence even for a single season will be a blessing. It will mean, given an adequate rainfall, a good 1926 cotton crop, at any rate.

THE southeastern states, with the exception of Florida, are suffering appreciably also from the rush to the latter state.

In Georgia, particularly, just across the state line, the southward movement is spoken of as having assumed almost the proportions of a gold stampede.

The Georgians, with less faith in the Florida boom than the Floridians, have, expect to see the tide turn, and sweep back, in due course.

It shows no signs of doing so as yet, however, and in the meantime its effect on Georgia business is the reverse of satisfactory to residents there.

Italian Hat Shop Girl of Dago Hill Returns Home a Famous Opera Star

By United Press.

ST. LOUIS.—Dago Hill here isn't the sort of place one would imagine art blooming.

The houses are small. The residents are hard working people of the poorer class, most of the immigrants who have been lured to America by promises of "high pay."

Yet Dago Hill was where the voice of Elda Vettori—now claimed in Mid-Western music circles to be one of the greatest Santuzza in the opera Cavalleria Rusticana—was first heard in snatches of Italian street songs.

Some 20 odd years ago little Elda came to America with her parents from Italy. They came out to St. Louis and as was the habit in those days, went to Dago Hill to live. It was an all-Italian colony.

Shortly after arriving here her father and two brothers died. It was up to Elda and a brother to support the mother.

By day Elda worked in a hat shop down town. It was trying work for the girl with operatic ambitions. By night she sat around with other Italians of the district singing favorite Italian songs and listening phrases from operas.

Hers was the outstanding voice of the group—but it was used for street singing only.

She saved what money she could in order to take vocal lessons and then by chance was favored with a ticket to grand opera—Cavalleria Rusticana. For several months the girl, then in her teens, dramatized the roles and re-enacted the opera in her own home.

After a time she obtained sufficient money to study under a downtown St. Louis vocalist, and then came to New York and several years study there.

Two years ago she made her debut and has been a decided success since that time.

This year Elda came back to St. Louis to sing the Santuzza role in Cavalleria Rusticana at the summer opera season. She was immediately claimed by LCR former friends of Dago Hill and she visited the place where she first sang.

Local musicians point out that Vettori is one of the few grand opera stars of the present day who has reversed the order of things by coming to America from Italy to study and become a great singer.

RADIO CRAZED MAN CUTS UP IN DALLAS

By United Press.

DALLAS, Sept. 21.—Psychologists, psychiatrists, and other experts on mental afflictions who have come into being in the last few years, could find another specimen for examination if they had been in Dallas the other day. A man admitted that he was "radio" crazy, and some of those who saw him believed it.

He rushed into the Municipal building, wild-eyed and breathless. He was running after something, but didn't know what it was.

After he was backed up in a corner to be questioned he told his misadventure in the city hall.

"It's radio," he said. "I'm tired of hearing radios. Where's the mayor? I want him to stop all the radio stations."

And then, without any further hesitation, he rushed out of the building and down the street, and hasn't been seen or found since.

WOMEN ARE SPARED MUCH SUFFERING AND EXPENSE BY G. F. P.

Women Are Saved From Operations—G. F. P. Relieves Quickly Where Other Methods Which Promise Relief Fail.

The popularity of St. Joseph's G. F. P. here and throughout the country seems to know no bounds because of the remarkable success it is having in overcoming and stamping out the dreaded disease—Catarrh—which has been proven to be the direct cause of most of women's ailments.

"I am not surprised at the rapid growth in popularity of G. F. P. in this territory," says the representative of the discoverers of this medicine, "because it has been received liberally with open arms by thousands of girls and women wherever it has been introduced.

"I attribute this popularity to the quick way in which it acts on those women who are using it," she continued, "because when they see the amazing way in which it restores their vitality and strength and the speed with which it enables them to pick up in weight, nothing can keep them from praising it and telling their friends about this wonderful medicine."

Judging from the many statements being made public here endorsing G. F. P., it is a fact that hundreds of dollars are being saved by the women who are taking St. Joseph's G. F. P. Many cases are known where suggested operations have been found unnecessary and continued bills for medical services have been entirely done away with by the timely use of this wonderful medicine, which seems to invariably succeed in restoring health and vitality to those women who are using it consistently.

BECAUSE all Studebaker cars are manufactured on the one-profit basis, we have been able to reduce the price of the Standard Six Coach without sacrificing any of the equipment or quality which made it a big seller at a higher price.

Scientific design, better materials, and finer workmanship distinguish it. And the following self evident superiorities make it more up-to-date than the newest "yearly models":

Excess Power—According to the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce this is the most powerful car of its size and weight.

Abundant Room—Room to stretch your legs—room to enter or leave without disturbing occupant of folding seat.

Sturdy Body Construction—Fine northern ash and hard maple are used. We pay a premium to get the best quality steel.

Automatic Spark Control—eliminating the usual spark lever on steering wheel.

Safety Lighting Control—on the steering wheel.

There are only two cars manufactured on the one-profit basis—the Studebaker in the fine-car field, and the Ford in the low-price field. Only in these two cases does one company in its own plants and with its own centralized organization make all bodies, all engines, all clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings, and drop forgings.

Studebaker has no "yearly models" but instead keeps its cars constantly up to date. Therefore this Standard Six Coach is ahead of the newest "yearly model," yet owners are protected from the artificial depreciation which has cut millions of dollars from the resale value of many makes during the past 30 days.

An easier way to make tempting cookies

BY MRS. IDA CHITWOOD

Mrs. Chitwood is now conducting the popular Cooking School classes in Eastland. Below she gives four recipes for cookies that will delight the heart of any child.

Isn't one of the fondest memories of your childhood your visits to Grandmother's old stone cookie jar? Grandmother had to stand and roll and cut out cookies, but she always seemed to find time to do it.

But today we have an easier, quicker way to make cookies than Grandmother had. The cookies for which I give recipes below call for no rolling or cutting. I'm sure that they will gladden the heart of any child or grown-up.

Save these recipes. When you see how quick and easy it is to make them you will not let your children grow up without the memories of Mother's wholesome Crisco cookies, to tell their children about.

Nut Wafer COOKIES

Sliced instead of rolled and cut. Use Crisco and see how easy it is to cream with sugar. Crisco keeps so long you can double this recipe and keep the rolls in the ice box a long time, slicing and baking as you need them.

All measurements level 1 cup brown sugar 2 teaspoons soda 1 cup white sugar or other spices 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 1/2 cups melted Crisco 1 cup molasses 5 cups pastry flour, sifted twice 1 cup chopped nuts (blanched almonds are best) 8 eggs, well beaten 1 teaspoon salt

Cream Crisco with sugar. Add eggs slowly mixing thoroughly. Add nuts. Then dry ingredients sifted together twice. Shape into roll about 2 1/2 to 3 inches in diameter. Put in Criscoed pan in ice box overnight. When ready to bake, slice and bake in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit). Makes about 75 cookies.

Chocolate Drop COOKIES

Grandmother's sugar cookies with chocolate, nuts and raisins added. Try them with afternoon tea, and iced tea in summer. Of course, make these with Crisco. Grease your pans with Crisco, too, and see your cookies come out whole.

All measurements level 1 cup sugar 1/2 cup Crisco 2 eggs, well beaten 3 squares chocolate from 1/2-lb. cake 1 1/2 cups pastry flour 1/2 cup sweet milk 1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup nuts 1/2 cup raisins 2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream Crisco, add sugar. Add eggs and melted chocolate. Then add milk, vanilla, nuts, raisins, mix well; then add baking powder and flour. Drop by teaspoons on hot Criscoed pan and bake in a medium oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit). Makes about 25 cookies.

Grandmother's Old Fashioned Ginger COOKIES

Made the new easy way—no limesone rolling or cutting. Crisco is always ready for instant use and is easy to cream with the brown sugar. Grease your pans with Crisco and drop the cookies far enough apart to keep them round.

All measurements level 1 cup brown sugar 1 teaspoon ginger 1 cup molasses 1 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup Crisco 1 teaspoon soda 1 egg, beaten 4 1/2 cups pastry flour

Cream Crisco, sugar and salt together. Add molasses and ginger, then egg. Dissolve soda in sour milk. Add, mix thoroughly. Last add flour. Drop teaspoonfuls of batter on a Criscoed baking pan and bake in a medium oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit). Makes about 50 cookies.

Caramel or Butterscotch COOKIES

Another sliced cookie—without nuts. Crisco will keep these cookies fresh, too, both before and after baking. The flavor improves if they are kept in an air-tight container. Try empty Crisco tins and send a Crisco can of Crisco Cookies to the boy or girl away at school. Grease your pans with Crisco to keep every cookie whole.

All measurements level 4 cups dark brown sugar 1 teaspoon salt 7 cups pastry flour 1 cup melted Crisco 3 teaspoons baking powder 4 beaten eggs

Follow the method for Nut Wafer Cookies. Makes about 125 cookies.

How to make COOKIES in half the time

1 Lay out on your work table and measure accurately all the ingredients the recipe calls for. Get out all utensils needed.

2 To measure Crisco accurately, if one-half cup is needed fill cup one-half full of water, add enough Crisco to bring water to the top, drain water off. Then follow method given in the recipe you are using.

3 Grease pans with Crisco and stack on the table. Drop spoonfuls of the batter far enough apart to prevent running together.

4 When baked, remove to board to cool. Use the same pans over and over without washing. Simply shake out possible crumbs and brush over with Crisco.

Crisco is the trade-mark for a superior shortening manufactured and guaranteed purely vegetable by The Procter & Gamble Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, U. S. A.

Startle Army

Charges that jarred army circles severely were laid bare when Major General Harry L. Rodgers, retired (above), filed an accusation against Major General William H. Hart (below), declaring that General Hart while a colonel under him at the Brooklyn army base in 1921, had conspired to prevent his reappointment and to gain his place for himself.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

DRIVE IN A STRAIGHT LINE. The careful driver drives in a straight line and never goes to the left or right without allowing the car following to know exactly what is going to happen. The foolish driver is the one who darts first to the left and then to the right, ever trying to get ahead six to ten feet. Did you ever watch such a driver? He never gets very far. And did you ever notice that the fenders of that driver's car are usually pretty well bent up? One of the most annoying of all individuals is the man who is always cutting around at reckless speed. Often he misjudges the speed at which approaching cars are coming, frequently he finds he hasn't nearly the room he thought he had, usually he is in trouble. In cutting around he often finds his progress impeded by an approaching car. Then he must force other cars back. All of which is irritating. The "mope," the man who drives along at 15 miles an hour and holds up cars is often just as irritating. He is often the man who compels "cutting around." With more cars on our streets and highways every day it becomes more and more necessary for careful and thoughtful driving. Modern civilization is literally on wheels and carefulness and thoughtfulness will add much to make this a safe age in which to live. The number of motor vehicular accidents is increasing but the number of accidents per car is decreasing. Safety education campaigns are effective. But such education should start at home. Parents and teachers must teach safety to the children. Which is being done. Always be careful.

Negro Pastors and Lay Leaders Stand For Law Enforcement

Pastors and lay leaders of two negro churches in Eastland take exception to a statement by some negro women at the time of a raid by the police which resulted in one arrest that "members of their Sunday school class had organized" a beer club. Although the women referred to only one class, the protesting pastors and lay leaders ask publication of the following: "We, the pastors, officers and members of the colored churches of this city, beg space in your paper to refute the statement that appeared in your paper in a news item of Sept. 4 that the various Sunday schools of the colored churches of the city had organized a club, and each member promised to pay 35 cents for ingredients to make beer of which offense Will Lee, colored, was arrested. We want our many white friends to know that we stand for law enforcement. And we teach in our pulpits that only those who obey the laws of the state and God can be respected citizens. Therefore, we, the undersigned, beg to have this article published where by we may be clear of said charge. Rev. J. W. Phelps, Pastor. Deacons: Dunn, Williams, Roberts, Howard. Rev. T. W. Daniels, Pastor. Stewards: Sve Tarver, Rev. Geo. Eason and Deacon Lyge Nixon.

YOU HATE TO LOOK AT A PIMPLY FACE

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them, and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurers. But now that Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them, and making them who refused to consider the Demoselves attractive to others instead of operative nomination for the presidency, is reported to be in a serious condition from Bright's disease at his Ointment, and Soap, in the convention in Indianapolis.
