WILD PARTIES STAGED BY BOYS AND GIRLS

BARNEY CARTER DEEP WELL HAS SPLENDID FLOW

Present 400-Barrel Daily Production May Go to 1,000 or 2,000 Barrels.

Barney Carter's W. J. Langford No. 1, a wildcat well located about seven miles south of Ranger, which came in the first part of the week, is now flowing approximately 400 barrels with 1,000,000 feet of gas in an eight-inch hole.

Mr. Carter is now preparing to run six-inch pipe down the hole and will the well in. Oil men around Ranger predict that the well will make somewhere between one and two thousand barrels.

Pay was struck at 3,750 feet and as they are only about a foot through the indications are very favorable for a good well. Carter apparently missed the shallow sand and went on through to the deep sand. The opinion is that the sand is the old Ranger sand, which is about 18 feet thick.

Mr. Carter's well is about three and one-half miles from shallow production and about seven miles from the deep area. The well being purely a wildcat well has opened up considerably new territory and leasing activities have taken a decided increase.

Country Fiddler Premier Feature Of Ranger Chautauqua

Gilbert's All-American band will be the headliner for the Ranger Chautauqua program this afternoon and tonight. Gilbert's band is recognized as being one of the best organizations on the road. The band is American throughout and each member has spent years of study on his instrument and the result is an instrument of the finest musical talent obtainable. Band music is always stirring and combined with the scenic and lighting effects that will be on the program the result will be rather startling for the audience and highly appreciated.

The concert-entertainment of Terwilliger-Harper and Charles Ross Taggart. "The Country Fiddler," was enjoyed by the large audience last night.

The Terwilliger-Harper concert was arranged with a sufficient variety to charm the audience and was thoroughly appreciated.

Charles Ross Taggart, "The Country Fiddler," aroused much enthusiasm in the audience with his playing and ventriloquist tricks. His program was one of the best put on this week by the Chautauqua and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Mr. Taggart's program was versatile in every way. On moment he would be playing on the violin, the next giving a reading and jumping from that to playing the piano and poking fun at the audience with his ventriloquist tricks. To obtain a correct mind picture as to how he looked out on a gramophone record of the "Country fiddler" and follow his piece in your mind's eye.

TOKIO, June 5.—Japan gave United States Ambassador Cyrus Wood an impressive greeting as he bade the city farewell at the railroad station, where he took train for Yokohama, from where he will sail for the United States, having resigned his post here. Despite popular irritation at the Japanese exclusion provision in the immigration bill, more than 10,000 persons crowded the plaza and cheered the ambassador, who personally is very popular.

SHANGHAI, June 5.—Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commanding the American round-the-world flight, arrived here early this morning, having made a successful flight from Kogoshima, Japan, which he was unable to leave yesterday with his two companion planes piloted by Lieutenants Wade and Nelson because engine trouble developed that prevented his plane from rising off the water.

BOK PEACE PLAN STIRRING UP NO PRESENT ACTION

The senate committee named to investigate alleged propaganda without motive.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Dr. Charles Levermore of Brooklyn, N. Y., winner of the Bok peace award, probably will have to forego that extra $50,000 he was to get if the senate approved his plan. Of course, the senate may approve his plan at some future date, but not at this session; not even a bill in support of it has been introduced by a sympathetic senator.

Dr. Levermore has another chance to get the $50,000 by popular endorsement of the plan in the nationwide referendum, which was provided for in the rules of the contest. The senate investigation of the alleged propaganda for the Bok peace plan has completely fizzled out. No meeting of the committee has been held since the initial session, and Senator Moses, chairman of the committee, when asked today about it, said: "Senator Reed of Missouri had the most interest."

TIDAL WAVE SWEEPS ALONG PERUVIAN COAST DOING MUCH DAMAGE

LIMA, Peru, June 5.—Ships were sunk and towns flooded and several lives are believed lost as a result of a tidal wave which swept Peruvian littoral today. WALSH MAKES HIS REPORT ON NAVAL LEASES

Scores Fall, Sinclair and Doheny and Charges Corruption in Transactions.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Leases of three naval oil reserves made by Albert B. Fall when secretary of the interior are denounced as illegal and corrupt in a report made by Senator Thomas J. Walsh to the senate oil committee today. The report brings to an end the long and sensational "scandal" hearings, which involved scores of men high in public life and resulted in the resignation of a cabinet officer.

Indictments are now being sought against the principals and suits have been instituted in the federal courts for cancellation of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hill naval oil reserve leases. Recommendation is made in the report for the tightening of existing governmental regulations so that the possibility of similar leases being made on other public domains will be diminished.

The report was written by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, who has been the leading figure in the investigation of the naval oil reserve leases, begun nine months ago, by the senate public lands committee. The salient features of the report are: Denunciation of the leases made by Albert B. Fall to Harry Sinclair and E. L. Doheny as having been made in absolute disregard of the law.

A severe arraignment of Fall for accepting loans of $25,000 from Sinclair and $100,000 from Doheny, with an attack on former Secretary of the Navy Denby, charging him with dereliction of duty in failing to investigate the leases before signing them.

Suggestion that hereafter no leases of government oil lands should be made without competitive bidding and then only if the lands are sold by competent evidence to be suffering by drainage from adjoining property.

A positive charge that the leases are corrupt without naming those against whom corruption is charged, but aiming clearly at a half-dozen principals.

The report denies that the leases could be justified on the ground that there was a heavy drainage from the property which diminished the supply of oil in the ground, and it also contains a denunciation of Harry Sinclair for paying millions of dollars to irresponsible claimants with more or less shabby claims.

BY POPULAR VOTE 'RINGOLD' WOULD BE NAME OF NEW STATION

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Walsh report denouncing the naval oil leases as corrupt and illegal was accepted by the senate investigating committee today. Senator Thomas J. Walsh, leading figure in the long and sensational "scandal inquiry," was instructed to submit to the report to the senate as expressing the views of the committee. Only a few changes were made in the original, as composed by Walsh, who submitted it to the committee after making it public. The recommendations to tighten restrictions of leases were struck out. The committee decided to make no recommendations along this line until the final report is made after pending court actions have been disposed of.

RED RIVER BOUNDARY CASE ORDER EXPECTED SOON

AUSTIN, June 5.—Returning today from Washington, Attorney General W. A. Keeling said that the final order is expected next Monday by the United States supreme court in the Red River boundary case, just before the court adjourns for the summer.

The fixing of the remainder of the boundary outside the big bend will come later. Texas is claiming 30,000 acres of agriculture land which it alleges is wrongfully held by Oklahoma. Keeling has filed a counter claim.

NUCES COUNTY BALLOTS IN APPELLATE COURT'S CARE

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 5.—Nueces county is in line to win the record for "safely keeping" election ballots. Owing to alleged election frauds at the last general election in 1922, all ballots and ballot boxes have been held in the hands of the court of civil appeals since that time. When the grand jury sitting at the last term of court was empaneled, they were instructed to investigate the alleged frauds but it was found the ballots could not be released from the court of civil appeals because of a writ of error having been filed with the state court and the "battle of the ballots" was continued.

The investigation revolves around the office of sheriff of the county, W. F. Johnson claiming he was legally elected to the office.

Mayfield's Credentials "Stained With Blood," Counsel for Peddy

NICKELS WANTS SENATE PROBE OF THE KLAN

Attorney for Peddy Offers Brief in Support of Request for Big Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Declaring that the credentials of Senator Earle B. Mayfield are "stained with the blood of helpless victims," Luther Nickels, chief counsel for George E. B. Peddy, who is contesting for the senate seat occupied by the junior senator from Texas, besought the senate committee investigating Mayfield's election to investigate the integrity of the Ku Klux Klan.

In a 90-page brief filed with the committee today, Nickels asked that the senate investigate the acts of the Klan on a nation-wide scale, mentioning famous crimes like those of Mer Rouge, La., and Ingwood, Calif., and other places, where he placed blame for outrages on the Klan.

Narrowing down to his charge that the Klan practiced intimidation in Texas, Nickels cited in his brief 11 specific acts, with names and dates, that he alleges were perpetrated by the Klan in Texas in July, 1921. The brief says:

"Such an inquiry will show desperate efforts at each place to suppress facts in important testimony. It will show also that the imperial palace spent many thousands of dollars protecting and defending Dr. McKoin and other klansmen although denying McKoin was a member of the organization."

In support of the claim that the Klan controlled juries and worked in other ways, matters of secret correspondence are mentioned in the brief. In furtherance of the schemes, the brief claims, more than $30,000 was spent to get control of the American Unity society in Chicago, a bitter anti-Klan organization, and put it out of business. The Klan is charged with practicing boycott and pledging its members to trade only with klansmen.

JUDGES DECIDE, HOWEVER, ON 'CENTRAL SERVICE STATION;' RINGOLD ENTERTAINS

The "Central Service Station" in Ranger, E. A. Ringold, proprietor, was the name decided upon by the judging committee, for the contest to name the modern filling station, opened in Ranger last night at Pine and Austin streets. The first prize, a round trip to Denver or Galveston was won by A. E. Worley of the telephone company. Twelve persons suggested this name, but Mr. Worley was the first to do so.

This was seen today in a report which said the former attorney general would combine forces with Senator Frank Willis in an effort to force the selection of Louis Brush of Salem, Ohio, party owner of the Marion Star, formerly the newspaper of the late President Harding, to succeed Rud K. Hynicks of Cincinnati as the Ohio republican national committeeman.

LITTLE GIRL IN FATHER'S ARMS SHOT TO DEATH

Same Bullet Also Wounds Him; Landlord Arrested on Charge of Murder.

DALLAS, June 5.—Charges of murder and assault to murder were made today against L. B. Shelton, following the death of Helen Ross, 11, who was shot through the abdomen as she stood with her arms about her father, T. J. Ross, in the latter's apartment last night. Ross was wounded by the same bullet that killed the little girl.

Shelton, who surrendered immediately after the shooting, owns the apartment house where Ross lives. He told officers he went down to the apartment to quiet a noisy demonstration there and found Ross standing in the room with a knife in his hand. He said he did not see the little girl when he fired.

BUSY COUNTY CONSTITUTIONAL CLUB PROMISED

Meetings to Be Held at Various Places to Combat Klan Activities.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the County Constitutional club held in Eastland, it was decided to increase the club's activities in the county and, beginning at once, weekly meetings are to be held at various places in the county. A number of county-wide meetings will likely be held also.

The recent attempt by Klan organizers to get people out to hear them by sending out invitations and literature of such a nature announcing meetings at such places as to lead many people to believe that they were attending entertainments of old established fraternal orders, has aroused a storm of protest in the county, as in other sections of the state, according to some of the leading anti-klansmen in this county.

The County Constitutional club was organized for the purpose of exposing the deceitful practices of the Klan, such as the meeting held at the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows hall here Saturday night, anti-klansmen say, and it is the intention of the organization that none of these practices escape the attention of the people.

The County Constitutional club is a purely political organization. Its meetings are open and everyone, klansmen and all, are invited to attend. Of course members of the Klan are not admitted to membership unless they first renounce their allegiance to that organization. There are no dues and no initiation fees in the Constitutional club.

LAKES THAT COME AND GO IN CYCLES IN NEBRASKA

MORRILL, Neb., June 5.—Every 20 years a cycle of lakes appears in the "Sand Hills" region of Nebraska, according to John Hartman, county assessor of Garden county, who finds that tillable land a few years ago is now under 14 feet of water.

Records of the county assessor's office show that certain areas have periods when they are lakes and the records as taxable farm lands in the county. Old residents told Hartman that the same hay pastures now inundated were lakes about 30 years ago. During that time the lakes dried up and once again raised crops. Then in the past few years they have once more become buried in water.

They told stories that involved both students at the high school and young men of the town between 16 and 21 years of age.

Millerand Will Not Supinely Resign the French Presidency

PARIS, June 5.—The crisis brought about by the socialist demand that President Millerand resign was still acute today and there was indication what course the events will take before nightfall. Paul Painleve, former premier and now president of the chamber of deputies, following the opening session yesterday made a visit to President Millerand this morning and will receive a return call from the executive. It is considered certain the president will ask Painleve's advice about the demand that he resign the presidency. He will not resign if it can be avoided.

Later Millerand will call into conference Gaston Domergue, president of the senate, who will lay before him the exact situation regarding the demand for his resignation. After discussing party alignments with Painleve and Domergue, he will probably summon Edouard Herriot, leader of the radicals, the left wing group, to whom he is expected to offer the premiership, succeeding Raymond Poincare.

William Jennings Bryan is still leading the ticket as a candidate for delegate at large to the democratic national convention. Bryan probably will poll one of the largest votes ever given any candidate in Florida, returns indicate.

Few people realize how dangerous is constipation until this dread disease tears down their health. Did you know that more than forty serious diseases can be traced to constipation?
 Keep your health, or restore it, with Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. It brings relief in mild and chronic cases of constipation. It is effective because it is ALL bran.  Because it is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. Like nature, it acts naturally. It makes the intestine function regularly.

 The flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious. It is crisp, nut-like. Quite different from ordinary bran, which are so unpalatable. Kellogg's Bran is made in Battle Creek and served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Sold by all grocers.

The Studebaker Light-Six!

More are sold than of any other six in the thousand-dollar price class!

The World's Largest Producer of Quality Automobiles

More because—it is the sweetest, smoothest-running Six you ever drove. Its specially designed offset valve motor, its machined crankshaft, its four big crankshaft bearings, its perfectly precisioned cylinders, pistons and reciprocating parts are the reason.

More because—no other car in its price class shows such obvious indications of quality—genuine leather upholstery, a hand-tailored top and curtains, carefully selected details of equipment, lustrous baked enamel finish.

More because—its 40-horsepower motor, its correct gear ratio, its beautiful balance and low center of gravity, make it like lightning in the "get-away," never failing on a hill, and effortless under a full load on any reasonable road.

More because—it is backed by a great service organization, immediately and willingly accessible.

More because—its recognized used car value protects you with the lowest possible depreciation when you come to trade it in.

To prove its goodness by performance we will lend you a Light-Six any day this week—come in and ask for it.

mendous purses, but they want to meet opponents that will not place them in peril of losing their titles.

One of the "naturals" in prospect is a welterweight championship bout between Mickey Walker, the titleholder, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion. So many difficulties have been encountered in the making of this match that it is probable it never will be staged.

Leonard wants $150,000 for his end, and he also wants a look at Walker's contract to see that the welterweight champion does not get any more than he does. Leonard, like several other champions, is not content to get all he can from the promoters, but he does not want his opponents to make any real money off him.

GRISHAM WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Judge R. N. Grisham of Eastland will not be a candidate for attorney general. A list of those filed for state offices included that of Mr. Grisham, but he stated to a representative of this newspaper that his application was filed through the activity of some of his friends, and that he had withdrawn it and did not intend to make the race.

Mr. Grisham has been one of the leading citizens of Eastland for a number of years, having moved here from further west in Texas, where he served as district attorney. Mr. Grisham polled a good vote in two different campaigns for congressman from this district.

BIG DEMANDS OF FIGHTERS STOPS MATCHES

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Great difficulty being experienced by the promoters in getting champion boxers and outstanding title contenders to accept matches that would make it possible to meet their exorbitant purse demands, leads to the conviction that the 1924 outdoor season will be as drab as last year's was sparkling.

At this time last year the milk fund heavyweight show had been staged in New York, and Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, the survivors had been matched to meet in Jersey City on July 12.

Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons had been matched to meet in Shelby on July 4. Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde had been matched for the flyweight championship. Kilbane had lost his title to Eugene Criqui, and the Frenchman had been matched with Johnny Dundee for the title. Benny Leonard had been matched with Lew Tendler for the lightweight championship, and the Harry Greb-Johnny Wilson middleweight championship was in the making.

This year the only outstanding match that has been even suggested up to this time has been the Dempsey-Willis heavyweight championship bout for September, and Dempsey had not accepted terms.

Promoters blame the slump in business on the boxers, and the promoters are held to be responsible by the boxers. Politics and petty fighting between the promoters also has discouraged the game in New York. Tex Rickard's rival succeeded in driving him out of New York by beating him to the privilege at the two ball parks. Rickard, however, has an ace in the hole in the possession of the Jersey City stadium and in an understanding with most of the boxers that are needed to make the big matches.

Rickard, for instance, has the heavyweight situation "sewed" up through a contract with Harry Willis and first call upon the services of Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and Jack Renaut. Firpo, of course, has pulled away from Rickard, but if Firpo fights he will have to fight for Rickard as he couldn't get a match with any heavyweight who is not under actual obligations to Rickard.

To get a big shot, heavyweights have to accept the opponents that promoters pick for them, but the champions and the headliners in the lighter classes not only want tre-

FIRST BOTTLE OF TANLAC BROUGHT HER RELIEF

Austin Lady Says She Noticed Improvement From Very First.

"After all Tanlac has done for me I could not do otherwise than praise it," is the appreciative statement of Mrs. R. R. Slack, highly esteemed resident of 305 East 3rd st., Austin, Texas.

"My experience with Tanlac began four years ago. At that time I was suffering from indigestion so bad I could hardly endure it. I was troubled with gas, heartburn, dizzy spells and, in fact, about all the disagreeable symptoms that come from a disordered stomach. I only weighed 97 pounds, and was so thin, weak and nervous that life was miserable. "My very first bottle of Tanlac brought good results and six or seven bottles corrected all my troubles and left me feeling fine. Again, following an attack of the flu, in March of this year, I resorted to Tanlac and the Tanlac Pills and they soon had me feeling all right again. Tanlac gives me a good appetite, steadies my nerves, brings refreshing sleep, and keeps my whole system in fine condition. Tanlac and the Tanlac Pills have done for me what nothing else would and my gratitude is unbounded."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for constipation, made and recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac.—Adv.

In the Light of our Knowledge-

Cavemen's Dread of Darkness Gives Way at Last Before Inventive Genius—Search for Portable Light Rewarded in the End.

THERE was once a time when strong men were as terrified by darkness as the most timid of Nineteenth Century spinsters. Brawny savages went scurrying for home like so many children at the first cool breath of evening.

"Be sure, George," said the wife of these days, "be sure to get home before dark." Reason enough for that advice. If George didn't arrive by dark, the chances were whenever would at all.

For these were the boisterous days of the cavemen, when descending darkness cloaked the creeping out of more wild animals to the square mile than there are today in the Zoo. And such animals! No wonder George came home before dark. All the common bears, lions, catamounts, laughing hyenas, wild horses and wolves were there, and in addition, woolly mammoths, sabre-tooth tigers, giant horned lizards and snakes as big around as a trunk line sewer.

The foolhardy caveman who stayed out after dark became just so much fresh meat the moment he stepped forth into the night.

All this inconvenience was caused by the fact that man had been trifling away his time through the earlier ages without ever thinking how comfortable it would be to have a fire and a light. The building of a fire was just as much of a mystery to these early men as to the average wife of today when the furnace goes out.

Home Run Every Night
Of late afternoons the vaunted caveman was accustomed to calculate, as best he could with his four-year-old mind, the distance back to the old cave. With the lengthening shadows his courage slowly oozed away, while in the adjacent thicket, as he well knew, the woolly mammoths were wondering whether they would have Homo Sapiens for dinner.

After some thousands of years, Homo Sapiens discovered that he could build a fire. For widespread consequences this outranks any of mankind's later achievements. These early fires, however, were not the simple, push-button affairs of the present day.

Caveman Builds a Fire
First of all, your pioneer heating engineer made a trip to the flint mine and brought back a fresh flint. Then away he went in another direction and returned with a chunk of iron pyrites. Thus equipped, he was ready to begin work in a serious way. This consisted in hitting the block of pyrites with the flint and waiting for a spark. It was not unlike the modern sport of hand-cranking a motor on a zero morning. The more expert in the art sometimes struck a spark at the ninety-first try. In theory the spark should at once ignite the dry leaves which were packed about the pyrites. Eventually a hesitant flame did appear among the leaves.

Mammoths Fear the Light
It can be readily seen that once such a fire was set going no one would lightly let it die from neglect.

Not for its heat was the fire valued, but because men early made the discovery that the wild animals were afraid of the light. The value of his discovery can hardly be exaggerated. It was now possible to build a cozy fire by the cave entrance and go to bed in safety. Hungry animals might gather outside the cave and gnash brightly even in a strong wind, and with an armful of fresh knots for re-lighting on the way, a man might travel several miles through the darkness. The distance, of course, was strictly limited by the size of the bearer and the number of knots he could carry.

First "Link Boys" Appear
Tribal warriors found their newly discovered ability to illuminate the darkness a great help in stalking animals for food. However, since the hunter could not well spear his quarry with one hand while holding a light in the other, he usually took along a companion or two who walked beside him carrying the torches.

This originated the "link boys" who for thousands of years thereafter walked beside the traveler lighting his way at night. The name, of course, was not applied until many centuries later, during the Middle Ages, when the work of the link boys had become an important industry.

For as civilization developed, man's need of a portable light increased steadily. Nevertheless, for thousands of years there was almost no improvement in the implements of night travel. Pine knots and oiled rushes held the honors up through the ages until relatively recent times.

Then Colonel Drake struck oil near Olean, N. Y., and the kerosene lantern, of current memory, made its appearance. It was odorous and required frequent refilling, but for exploring the barnyard or lighting a path at night it was miles ahead of pitch flares and candle lanterns.

Electricity Opens New Era
The harnessing of electrical energy for lighting literally opened up new vistas in mankind's way of living after dark. Yet for many years after electricity was put to work an incandescent bulb was useless unless attached to a wire from the generating station. The problem of storing electricity for use as needed finally found practical solution in the invention of the dry battery, which had been developing gradually since the experiments of Volta in the Eighteenth Century.

Dry Cell Starts Career
During the first years of its life the dry cell gave promise of a great future by ringing doorbells and performing other useful tasks, which it still continues to do. Finally an engineer in New York conceived the idea of using it to make a portable light.

Up to that time the dry batteries were all of the large size in use today for ignition and bell wiring. One of the first problems was to devise a battery which would be small enough to carry conveniently while delivering the considerable current required by the incandescent bulb. When this space and weight problem was finally solved, the engineers approached lamp manufacturers and asked for a small bulb which would fit the new battery.

But the manufacturers threw up their hands. They declared such a bulb was impossible to build. It would not throw enough light. Manufacturing difficulties stood in the way. Finally they flatly refused to have anything to do with it.

Age Long Search Rewarded
But the inventor and his associates persisted. They themselves designed the lamp they needed. One memorable day they attached the new lamp to the recently completed portable battery. The bulb glowed and shone in the darkness. Mankind was now released from the immemorial burdens of pine knot, torch, candle and lantern.

For from the days when the savages first roamed at night on the hills of Europe, lighting their way with flaming torches, mankind had striven always to find a reliable means of portable illumination during the hours of darkness. With the invention of the electric flashlight the yearnings of centuries were ended. An eight-ounce cylinder, stowed away in a convenient pocket, at the touch of a finger shoots a beam of white light through the deepest gloom. Carrying the flashlight man walks in safety through the night, warding off, not the wild animals of ancestral dread, but the thousand inconveniences and modern dangers of darkness.

WALTER P. CHRYSALIS TRAFFIC TALKS

ADAPT THE CITY TO MOTOR VEHICLES
Those who planned our great cities where traffic problems are most perplexing today, knew nothing about automobiles and trucks. They thought in terms of horse-drawn vehicles which are slow moving. Today street traffic is entirely changed and yet the same streets are being used. It follows then that one of the first things cities should plan to do is to widen streets, provide for motor vehicle arteries, confine certain streets to fast-moving motor cars—in a word, adapt the city to motor vehicles.

The small city which has not yet felt any need for traffic relief will wisely look into the future and prepare now for the day when cars will be used to a greater extent than they are today. After all an automobile is simply an investment in transportation.

EARTHWAIVE WON'T COME AGAIN IN 8,800 YEARS; IT'S ON NOW

By C. T. HALLINAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
GLASGOW, Scotland.—That a large and disturbing wave is moving around within our earth is the view advanced by Ludovic McClellan Mann in a paper read here before the Royal Philosophical society.

This wave, which rears up continents and sinks oceans is, fortunately, not capricious or frisky. It is satisfied to move around the earth once in 8,800 years, from east to west, obliquely to the plane of the earth's ecliptic.

But it upsets the earth's axis and wobbles the poles and plays sad havoc, according to Mann, with old astronomical calculations.

That's the part about it that releases Mann. He has been studying the astronomical errors of Ptolemy & Co. for twenty years. He feels that now he has them figured out.

Fortunately, this disturbing motion is slowing down. Broadly speaking, it is nearly extinct. In about 400,000 years the flighty earth will be as solid as Gibraltar.

And even the climate will show improvement in the direction of sobriety and regularity and forecastability.

"This internal motion, by causing the earth's crust to pulsate, would account for those raised continents in non-earthquake regions, for those sunken continents, those submerged forests, and for the rise and fall of coral reefs and islands.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready to use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Advertisement.
