

REPUBLICAN PARTY SPLIT DRAWS NEARER

DEMOCRATS WIN WITH HELP OF PROGRESSIVES

Working in Interest of People And May Merge Forces in General Election.

By United Press. By WALLACE BASSFORD. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.—Last December, when the democrats started their work of making a Mellon Plan, President Coolidge sent forth the edict that he would never consent to any changes in that plan. Mr. Mellon's work, designed to be a "scientific" relief for those who could thereafter contribute heavily to the republican campaign fund, was so thoroughly democratized by John Garner, Senator Simmons, and their democratic cohorts that Brother Mellon would not recognize his "Plan" if he met it out in the middle of Pennsylvania avenue—and yet the president signed it. He didn't dare veto it and then face the voters.

Whereas the Mellon plan would have cut deeply into the millionaire's taxes, it would barely have shaved a bit off the average man's tax, but the democratic tax reduction bill, which the president was forced to sign, cuts 25 per cent off the taxes of everyone for the year 1923 (payable this year) and 50 per cent off of all 1924 taxes on incomes up to $8,000, with an additional 25 per cent cut where the income is "earned." The head of a family with income over $5,000 gets an increased exemption, it being $2,500.

And it should be remembered that these heavy reductions for six millions of taxpayers are due to the persistent fight of the democrats in the face of the constant misrepresentation of the true situation by hundreds of the largest publications in the land. For a time the house democrats had the aid of the house progressives, but at last these deserted to the reactionaries, as usual. Under the bill as signed by the president, the payers of the big surtaxes get a reduction of 20 per cent; under the Mellon plan their reduction would have been 30 per cent. His plan would have benefited most some 6,000 men who can best afford to support the government from which they receive protection for their holdings; the democratic bill which became a law gives the greater benefits to 6,000,000 taxpayers, most of whom have to work hard for their income and carefully take count of its expenditure.

The democratic contention has constantly been that these were the persons to whom first relief should be given. It is merely the doctrine of common sense; if it is "playing politics," then it is that magnificent sort of politics of those who believe that they serve their party best who serve their country well. The democrats served the country well in holding out to the end and a real relief for the ones who really need it.

Republicans at Odds.

There is today another sort of split in the republican party. We have been familiar for many months with the split between the reactionaries and the progressives; now we have the peculiar cleavage over the question of the president's veto of the Bonus bill. Most of the republicans in house and senate voted to pass it over Coolidge's veto, and their constituents are now in the position of having to endorse either one side or the other. It is difficult to see how the voters can enthusiastically support Coolidge for his veto and as earnestly praise a senator or representative of the president's own party who did all he could to hamstring his party leader. It is amusing to note in this connection that those who led the fight against the bonus tried to frighten the people with the statement that it was impossible to have the Bonus bill and tax reduction at the same time. Now we have the spectacle of the president and Secretary Mellon both publicly acknowledging that the people will be able to pay the bonus expenses this year and have some $400,000,000 reduction in direct taxes at the same time. Next year the saving will be as large, with a surplus in the treasury for other purposes.

It is unfortunate that the occupant of the white house finds it utterly impossible to work in harmony with his party in congress. In the last few weeks they have clashed on five large questions—the bonus, tax reduction, the Bursum pension bill, the World court and Japanese exclusion. On four of these questions he was defeated; on the Bursum bill he managed by one vote to save himself from the two-thirds adverse majority which would have passed the bill over his veto. Figured on the system used in baseball his batting average would be but .200 out of a possible 1000. And yet he is a new president with much power and patronage at his disposal.

No Personal Triumph. Of course the president is in the act of being nominated to succeed himself—any other course would be

Dance Next Week At Country Club Barbecue Follows

The first clubhouse dance of the Ranger Country club has been arranged for Thursday, June 19, when Dick Gaines' orchestra from T. C. U. will play for the dancers. Only those receiving invitations are expected to attend. HARBORD URGED AS PRESIDENT'S RUNNING MATE

Five Candidates Running Close, Dark Horse May Take Lead in Stretch.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 11.—Backed by militant American Legion men, a boom for Major General James G. Harbord as running mate for President Coolidge shook the second session of the republican national convention here today. Urged in a conference of ex-service delegates by such administration spokesmen as Secretary of War Weeks and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, the conference lasted until early this morning, the Harbord boom was given added impetus by the Kansas delegation, which brought the contest alongside the Herbert Hoover boom for a finish fight that is expected to have all the dramatic features of the fight for the presidential nomination four years ago.

A final wired refusal of Frank O. Lowden to consider the honor, which led his home delegation and others to abandon their efforts for the former Illinois governor, narrowed the field of vice presidential possibilities last evening to Hoover, Works, Kenyon, Curtis and Harbord. Delegates from all the wheat growing states west of the Mississippi river, with exception of Wisconsin, are banded together in an effort to agree on a middle-west candidate. The initial meeting to this end was held this morning and conferences will be resumed this afternoon. It is understood that at the outset the delegates favored Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa or Senator Curtis of Kansas.

KENTUCKY MAN KILLED BY BANDITS, BUT HE THWARTS THEIR PLANS

CLINTONVILLE, Ky., June 11.—Frank Duckhamon, 60, was shot and killed today when, without a weapon, he tackled one of four bandits thwarting their attempt to rob the Farmers Bank of Clintonville. Duckhamon and his son-in-law, Walter Gibson, cashier were alone in the bank when the robbers entered.

a complete acknowledgement of the failure of the administration. He has been practically without opposition; but just suppose a case—suppose Coolidge were on the outside contending with some prominent republican governor, with ability as a handshaker, an orator, an organizer—would Coolidge win a nomination under such conditions? It can scarcely be believed, for Coolidge has none of those qualities which attract men or win their enthusiasm. He has been forced to accept a democratic tax measure and to accept defeat in everything else. Political Washington believes he is being accorded an empty honor, to be followed by a sacrifice which big leaders in the party do not care to make—that he is marching to certain defeat in November.

A question agitating many minds is as to LaFollette—what will he do? In seeking the answer, this writer has consulted some of those very close to "Little Bob." They say that the senator is in no condition to make a race and will not do so if the democrats will name a progressive democrat satisfactory to him, but that in such an event he will throw his strength to the democrats. When the names of McAdoo, Glass, Copeland, and Ralston were mentioned, it developed that all of these had sounded pleasantly to the senator's ears, but that he had grown cold toward one of them.

MILLERAND CAN NO LONGER KEEP UP HIS FIGHT

Resigns As President of France, Following Victory of Socialists in Election.

By United Press. PARIS, June 11.—Alexander Millerand, who became president of the Republic of France in September 1920, handed his resignation to a meeting of the cabinet ministers today, following a vote of censure by deputies of the left who won over Millerand's supporters in the recent election. His resignation was to be read in the chamber of deputies at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Millerand's passing marks the climax of one of the stormiest periods in modern French history. His downfall is due to his own efforts to make the presidency the active leadership in the country. He formed the black nationalists, which kept Poincare in power. The socialists defeated the black nationalists at the polls and demanded Millerand's head.

THREE HURT IN DALLAS FIRE; STORE BURNS

Fireman Injured and Two Women Employes Overcome By Heat.

DALLAS, Texas, June 11.—One fireman injured, two firemen overcome by heat and damage estimated at $300,000 was caused by a fire which swept a three story building occupied by I. Rude's clothing store here today. The fire is said to have originated among the clothes stored on the third floor. Captain J. W. King in charge of the power squad, suffered a broken arm. Two women, Mrs. Dillie Belcher and Mattie Townsley, saleswomen, were overcome by the heat, but later revived at the hospital. The same store was damaged by fire some time ago.

Indians Demonstrate Difference Between Old and New Ways

TULSA, Okla., June 11.—Indians representing all tribes of North America now in convention here have decided to continue their organization for the present under the name of the Society of Oklahoma Indians, and later to form other state societies which are then to be merged into a national organization.

At the session in Sand Springs park today the 1925 meeting place will be chosen. Today will wind up the three-day meet of the Indians' convention. The final session at Sand Springs park will be followed by a gigantic barbecue at noon and two dances at night.

A great regatta parade was held yesterday led by big chiefs on calico ponies amid a riot of colored beads. Following the Indians representative of the historic past were Indians in luxurious automobiles, portraying the difference between the old and the new. A conspicuous figure among the Indians was Chief Standing Bear, a South Dakota Sioux from Los Angeles, resplendent in a white buckskin suit, shining beads, painted face and brilliant eagle feathers in his head dress, shouting his tribal song of victory. The queen of the Indians will be crowned at a big ball tonight.

IS SUED FOR MAKING ALLEGED FALSE ARREST

DALLAS, Texas, June 11.—Damages totaling $18,000 is asked in a suit brought by J. H. Rice, of Detroit, Michigan, and Miss Grace Sneed, Dallas, against C. C. Lowery, constable at Lancaster. The petition alleges that Lowery arrested them as they were sitting in an automobile on the Lancaster pike, May 28, and accused them of spooning. He then forced them to drive seven miles to Lancaster, where they were released by the justice of the peace. The petition alleges that they were conducting themselves properly.

LODGE MAY BE FEELING LIKE BEATEN FIGHTER

Coolidge Party Managers See He Is Properly Squelched; Tariff Ahead.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—One of the interesting and significant incidents of politics just now is the active hostility to Senator Lodge of Massachusetts among republicans, including many in his own state. From the high place which he occupied among the reactionary leaders of his party, Senator Lodge has fallen into the category of "use prophets." He appears to be a minor factor in the republican national convention this week, whereas in the past his influence in councils of his party has been paramount.

The republican organization in New England, Massachusetts included, is under the command of William M. Butler, President Coolidge's general manager. The latter speaks for the interests which opposed the soldier bonus, which Lodge supported. Butler is not regarded as an enthusiastic protagonist of the World court, but he is said to have resented Senator Lodge's part in reporting a plan which not only projected the issue into the campaign on the eve of the convention but also sought to deprive President Coolidge of the credit of sponsorship for the original Hughes proposal.

Two Never Friends. There has never been any intimacy or cordiality in the relations between Senator Lodge and President Coolidge. The former is said to have had little admiration for the latter when he was governor of Massachusetts and subsequently president of the United States. President Coolidge has not turned to Lodge for advice and assistance as President Roosevelt and President Taft did, and as the republican national committee has been accustomed to consult him. President Coolidge has sought new advisers, most of them outside of the senate and the republican national committee.

Republican women in Massachusetts and in newspapers which heretofore have paraded Senator Lodge as one of the elder statesmen of his party are now attacking him. The Women's Republican club of Massachusetts only a few days ago rebuked Senator Lodge by description, though not by name, in a set of resolutions adopted at its second annual meeting. The Boston Herald on the same page with editorial encomiums of President Coolidge, has been publishing letters of criticism of Senator Lodge.

Although a delegate to the Cleveland convention, Senator Lodge has occupied none of the posts of power or prestige. It is the consensus in Washington that this is in keeping with President Coolidge's wishes if not in fulfillment of his explicit instructions.

There is promised now a test of the constitutionality of the "flexible" provision of the Fordney-McCumber law authorizing and empowering the president to increase or decrease import duties 50 per cent above or below the rates fixed in the act. Several increases have already been made under the authority of this provision, known as section 315. The outstanding instance of presidential action under this provision was the addition of 12 cents a bushel to the original tariff of 30 cents a bushel on wheat. Many other applications for increases in present duties are pending and several others are contemplated. No tariff rates have been lowered under this provision.

The first test of this section of the Fordney-McCumber law, it is announced, will be undertaken by the national council of American importers and traders. This will take the form of an application to the federal courts for an injunction to restrain the collection of the additional taxes approved by the president. It is declared by the importers' organization that the proceedings will be carried to the United States supreme court.

In the main the case will hinge on the question whether Section 315 infringes the constitutional provision which reserves to congress sole power to levy duties and taxes. This is the objection made against the section when the Fordney-McCumber bill was pending in the senate. Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, delivered a powerful speech against the provision.

It is believed that if the republicans elect the next president, this "flexible" provision will be invoked frequently by special interests and that the cost of living will be further enhanced. Fear of political consequences of using the provision more fully while a presidential campaign was impending has thus far, it is felt, prevented the increase of a large number of duties.

MRS. BURLESON DIES. WACO, Texas, June 11.—Mrs. Geola K. Burleson, 91, widow of the late Dr. Rufus Burleson, formerly heady Baylor, died at the home of her son here today. Mrs. Burleson suffered a paralytic stroke.

Coolidge Forces Build Platform To President's Liking

CLEVELAND, June 11.—After a bitter fight lasting throughout the night, the drafting committee of the republican national convention finally agreed upon the new Coolidge platform at 5:20 o'clock this morning. In a smoke-filled room of a Cleveland hotel the planks were hewn, one by one, with many a stormy struggle. The farm bloc representatives on the committee staged a long attack on the agricultural relief provisions, but just before dawn were compelled to accept what they termed a "lukewarm" compromise. Spirited clashes were also fought on the Ku Klux Klan and world court issues. The rest of the Coolidge proposals went through with minor changes.

TEXAN POINTS OUT HOW JAPAN IS OVERRATED

W. D. Hornaday Says Nipon Protest Against Exclusion Not Justified.

AUSTIN, June 11.—"Recent Japanese demonstrations in Tokyo, protesting against the action of the United States congress in enacting a law excluding Japanese from this country should not be taken too seriously by Americans," suggested W. D. Hornaday of Austin, who has just returned from a year's stay in the Orient and Hawaiian Islands. "The masses of Japanese are living in filth, poverty and ignorance and know nothing and care less about what the United States has done or may do in the matter of keeping them out of this country. In such a city as Tokyo it is easy to arouse the mob spirit on almost any question and it is done frequently when only domestic matters are involved. "The ruling element of Japan must know that the United States was amply justified, from economic and racial considerations, in putting up the bars against their nationals. Japan in itself excludes the Chinese and no foreigner can own land in that country. For twenty years or more Australia has enforced exclusion regulations, by means of the literacy test, against the Japanese and I understand the same is true as to South Africa. Still, strange to say, Japan, so far as I know never made any protest to Great Britain against such action of these colonies. Japan Much Overrated.

"Except in her navy, Japan has nothing to qualify her for classification as a first class power. Many well informed people think the efficiency of that country's navy is greatly overrated in the eyes of the world. Economically Japan is in desperate condition before the disastrous earthquake and her industrial and business interests are now facing a crisis. The country is largely dependent upon foreign trade for prosperity at home, and during the last two years much of this trade has for various reasons been lost to her. A deluge of bank and business failures occurred last year and business embarrassments are still taking place with much frequency. "Japan is the greatest present-day country in the world. Even the so-called beauties of the islands are not what they are pictured. The winter and summer climates are miserable and almost unbearable. Mr. Hornaday described China and the Chinese in a favorable light. He asserted that despite the lack of a real central government of China and the general unsettled conditions, due to revolution and banditry, business everywhere was going on about as usual when he was there. The Chinese are a great and likable people, he declared. With thousands of years of history behind them, the Chinese view with complacency the present period of political chaos. They take the view that everything will be righted in time. What are a few years of trouble in the thousands of years that make up the life of the nation? So the average Chinese smiles and goes on about his business. They are worried more about the eternal mixing in of their affairs by Americans and other foreigners than about their own domestic difficulties.

Mr. Hornaday spent the winter and spring in Honolulu. He was joined there by his family last January and they returned with him to Austin. Hawaii Is Delight. "The Hawaiian Islands are very properly called the Paradise of the Pacific," he said. "In no part of the world is there to be found a more delightful all-the-year-around climate than that of Honolulu. It is never too warm or too cool there. The beauties of the city and islands are indescribable. Flowering trees, shrubs, and plants abound everywhere. The city of Honolulu, with its 100,000 population, is modern in every respect. Some idea of the beauties of the islands are given in the following: (Continued on page three.)

TWO PLANKS IN PLATFORM ARE CONTESTED

Blow At LaFollette and Conspicuous Finger of Coolidge Equally Resented.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 11.—The storm that has been threatening to descend on the republican national convention and which the leaders have sought to avoid by steering out of the way of lightning bolts that were hammering on the outside, broke in full force late today. "Wisconsin has broken loose," was the word that swept among the delegates as Representative Henry Allen Cooper of Wisconsin, staged a dramatic fight in the resolutions committee. Cooper attacked the entire platform as drafted in bitter style, submitted the Wisconsin platform as a substitute and then turned his fire on the "party regularity" plank of the platform as drafted by the subcommittee.

Cooper demanded to know by what authority Senator Robert M. LaFollette and other progressive republicans had been read out of the republican party under the terms of this plank. Rumors over an impending storm over the world court plank as drawn by the subcommittee had reached the floor of the convention hall early today. Although it was known to the hand of Mr. Coolidge was clearly moving to direct the committee report, there were many not certain that the president's wishes would carry great weight with many of the delegates, although it was recognized that the president had control of the party organization.

Cooper's outbreak followed the tilt that developed over the world court plan, and it was to head off possible trouble along both these lines, and especially a threatened outbreak by Senator Beveridge on the convention floor over the world court plank, that Chairman Mendell gathered the convention into a recess shortly after 12:30 o'clock. The delegates were told to reconvene at 8:30 o'clock, by which time it was hoped the platform committee would be able to iron out its differences to the satisfaction of the leaders of the conflicting interests. Senator Beveridge, and it was understood he had the support of his colleague, Senator Watson, let it be known that he would not stand for any unequivocal acceptance of the Coolidge proposal for a world court plank, and that if it was embodied in the platform presented to the convention he proposed to make an open fight against it from his seat as a delegate. Desiring to avoid any trouble, in what otherwise might prove to be a peaceful convention, an effort is being made to keep back any report on platform until differences have been ironed out.

Women Get Equal Place. So the business of the convention today was simply routine. Approval was given to reports of various committees, the most important of these being to give the women 50-50 representation with the men on the national executive committee. But while rumblings of trouble emanated from the resolutions committee quarters, there were evidences of a fight, too, over the vice presidential nomination. Delegates from the wheat growing states, exclusive of Wisconsin, decided to band together and insist on a middle western state for vice-president. These delegates claimed that if they failed to get from the convention what they demanded from the resolutions and platform committees, they could not go back to their homes and expect to carry their states against the dissatisfaction that would follow, and especially against the friends of LaFollette, unless they had a strong western man, representative of the western states, as candidate for vice-president. Senator Curtis of Kansas was being urged as a good compromise candidate for Coolidge's running mate.

BATHING PERMIT HAGAMAN LAKE DEEMED UNWISE

State Sanitary Engineer Says Swimming Licenses There Should Be Denied.

Bathing in Hagaman lake would be unwise in view of the fact that the water supply of the City of Ranger is obtained from there, and bathing privileges in the lake should therefore be refused, in the opinion of V. M. Ehlers, state sanitary engineer.
 Mr. Ehlers said in a letter to F. A. Brown, city water commissioner, that in view of past instances of contaminated water resulting from following such a practice that the State Health Department feels that it would be very unsafe and dangerous to encourage such a policy in regards to the water supply of Ranger.

Hellman Rosenthal, Director of Dallas Laboratories, who has charge of the water supply of Breckenridge, Cisco and Eastland, said that the current and other conditions of the lake would determine the advisability of allowing bathing in the lake. Mr. Rosenthal will be in Ranger Thursday to make a test of the water and investigate the matter fully.

MILLERAND SENDS MESSAGE TO THE FRENCH PEOPLE

 The president reaffirmed his convictions that great dangers were involved in such a precedent. "I would have believed myself committing a felony even in becoming an accomplice to a change so full of perils. I have given in only after exhausting all legal means."

Linked Together In Service

The purpose of education is service, and we require an education in order to be able to render higher service. The great educational factors are:
 THE CHURCH—Through its ministers.
 THE SCHOOL—Through its teachers.
 THE NEWSPAPER—Through its editors.
 These are not all the educational mediums, but they are the most unselfish, for the men and women engaged in these pursuits get their greatest reward through service.
 In a modest way the telephone is an educational factor, and it is our greatest pleasure to serve adequately.

Ranger Commission Accepts Offer For Offset On Taxes

"You Pay Me and I Will Pay You." is the apparent slogan of Charles S. Heffern, building manager for the Marston building, who submitted a letter to the city commission in which he claimed that the Ranger library owed the building rent from May 1 to June 30 at the rate of $25 per month and aggregating a total sum of $350. As the Marston building owes the city $500 for their balance on 1923 taxes he requested the city to pay him for the library rent and he would pay up the balance of the Marston properties tax account.

The city commission agreed to accept the proposition and directed city secretary C. A. Love to fill out the check and get in touch with Mr. Heffern.

TEXAN POINTS OUT JAPAN IS OVERRATED

agricultural wealth of the islands may be had when it is stated that the 250,000 acres in cultivation produce, on an average, cane and other crops to the value of $160,000 to every 640 acres each year.

"There are many Texans in Hawaii. They are found scattered all through the 15,000 soldiers and several thousand marines stationed there, as well as among the civilian population."

"About 45 per cent of the population of the islands are Japanese," Mr. Hornaday said. "There are also thousands of Chinese, Filipinos, Koreans, Porto Ricans, Portuguese, and native Hawaiians there. They all get along harmoniously together," he declared.

Mr. Hornaday is director of publicity of the University of Texas. He was actively employed in newspaper work in the state for many years before he became connected with that institution. On his recent trip to the Orient and Hawaii he represented as correspondent a syndicate of northern and eastern newspapers for which he wrote a series of about one hundred articles.

PHYSICIAN WANTS DRY LAWS, BUT LIBERALIZED FOR THE MEDICAL MEN

CHICAGO, June 11.—Dr. Charles Chalmers of West Hill, author of a resolution calling for liberalization of the Volstead act in so far as it affects physicians, adopted by the American Medical association, in convention here, insists that drunkenness is more prevalent now than before prohibition.

"From my observation, I am convinced there are more cases of drunkenness now than before prohibition," he said. "After prohibition went into effect there was a change for the better, but the pendulum now has swung the other way."

However, Dr. Chalmers is not advocating repeal of the prohibition law or return to saloons. He merely demands more freedom for the physicians in the issuance of liquor prescriptions.

HILDRETH PICKS GRAY LAG AND ZEV FOR RACE

Veteran Trainer Believes Them Best American Horses To Meet Epinar.

By FRANK GETTY, United Press Staff Correspondent.
 NEW YORK, June 11.—Sam C. Hildreth, veteran trainer for the rancocas stables, whose entries have been sweeping eastern tracks this year, picks Gray Lag and Zev as for best American horses to meet Epinar, if the French champion comes for a series of match races this fall.

Recommendation of Gray Lag may occasion some surprise among turf followers who have missed the Sinclair six-year-old from the track this season.

But there will be no surprise among those who know Hildreth and know that the taciturn trainer is secretly "pointing" Gray Lag for just a come-back.

Gray Lag was ever Hildreth's first love. Zev his second.

Hildreth and the United Press correspondent were sitting on the little porch outside Colonel Matt Winn's offices at Latonia last November, looking out across the track to the blue, smoke-hung Kentucky hills beyond.

He had been talking of Zev, which was to face My Own and in Memoriam on the morrow, and of Men o' War and equine giants of the past.

"What, in your opinion, is the greatest horse ever trained?" Hildreth was asked.

He had been talking of Zev, which was to face My Own and in Memoriam on the morrow, and of Men o' War and equine giants of the past.

"What, in your opinion, is the greatest horse ever trained?" Hildreth was asked.

For a moment the white-haired trainer permitted a wisp of smoke from his cigar to curl upward in the evening stillness. Then he answered uncompromisingly:
 "Gray Lag."
 "Greater than Zev?"
 "Yes, sir!"
 "Greater than Man o' War?"
 "Gray Lag had foot trouble, and started only five times in 1923. The colt's average was as good as any save those of Zev and My Own, however. Sinclair's horse won five races and finished second the other time, contributing $26,900 to the stable's purse winnings.

Jointly with Goaler, Grey Lag holds the American track record for a mile and an eighth. As a three-year-old it carried 133 pounds to victory in a race at Aqueduct in 1:49, equaling the mark established by Goaler a month previous, when the latter had only 94 1/2 pounds up.

Last year Grey Lag won the Metropolitan Handicap and the Suburban. It has won the Belmont Stakes and the Brooklyn Handicap on previous occasions.

Bad feet kept Grey Lag from greatness and Hildreth from achieving his greatest ambition as a trainer. Now it is being whispered about the stables that he is going to bring Grey Lag back.

Zev, Hildreth's second choice, needs no recommendation to the American racing public. The dusky son of the Finn won $235,248 in 1923, besides defeating Papyrus in the international stake race.

This year Zev has been beaten, but the Rancocas trainers still are confident that by "pointing" him for a match race he can be brought along to meet anything on four feet on equal terms.

There are a couple of good three-year-olds under Sinclair's eye. Bracade is in good shape, or was at last reports, and much is expected from Mad Play.

But when it came to picking for the United Press correspondent a horse to meet Epinar, the Rancocas trainer turned to his old favorites.

"I recommend Grey Lag and Zev," Hildreth said. And that's quite a long speech for him.

Tomorrow, Maxey Hirsch, another of the country's foremost trainers, will make his selections for a horse to race Epinar.

Instead of sending a committee "junketing" around the country to inspect electric street lighting systems, Columbus, Ohio, recently decided to install 44 different makes of street lamps, ranging from 500 to 1,500 candlepower each, so that all of the citizens could see and judge these various kinds of street lighting installations for themselves.

A penstock a mile long and four feet in diameter, made of California redwood and supported on concrete cradles, conveys water from ponds covering 1,500 acres to a hydro-electric generating plant at Marlboro, N. H. This station supplies electricity to Keene, N. H., and 11 surrounding towns.

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN
 Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms but harmless to the child. Price 35c. Sold by Phillips Drug Store and Texas Drug Store.—Advertisement.

PAINS IN BACK

Arkansas Lady Says Mother Gave Her Cardui and She Had No More Trouble of This Kind.

Lamar, Ark.—Mrs. Edith Seeman, here, recently made the following statement describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this... I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a weak, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

The foregoing is one out of thousands of statements which have been received from users of Cardui, the woman's tonic. If you are a sufferer from womanly ailments, try Cardui. It may be just what you need. At your dealer's.

ROY ADAMS FOUND GUILTY BY JURY OF POSSESSING LIQUOR

The jury in the case of Roy Adams, charged with unlawfully possessing liquor, returned a verdict of guilty in the 88th district court last night at 10 o'clock, and assessed his punishment at a term of one year in the penitentiary. They did not recommend a suspension of the sentence, as had been asked for by the defendant in the event that he was found guilty. Adams, who lives at or near Dehan, in the western portion of the county, was arrested by Eastland county officers some weeks ago and indicted by the recent Eastland county grand jury. It is understood that he will appeal his case if a new hearing should not be granted. He is a young man, about twenty-three years old.

What the World Is Doing

(As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine)

Glider Boat Skims on Water, Ice or Snow

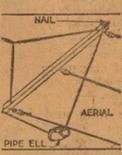

Designed to skim over the surface of the water or across ice or snow, a seagoing "glider," equipped with an airplane engine and propeller, is being tested. The inventor has planned the craft as an aid to police and government officials in chasing lawbreakers and as a torpedo carrier for battleships. Six of the boats, he declares, each with space for four torpedo tubes, can be kept on one warship. The boat is thirty-two feet long, has a seven-foot beam and runs in shallow water.

Ducks and Loons Use Wings to Swim under Water

Do ducks use their wings while swimming under water? The question is discussed frequently among sportsmen and nature students, and opinions sometimes differ. Testimony of reliable authorities, however, supports the belief that various species of ducks and grebes, loons and other diving birds do use their wings when swimming beneath the surface for food or in trying to escape capture. A ruddy duck was observed in Lake Michigan not long ago, feeding in fifteen or twenty feet of clear water. As it got well started on its downward plunge, the wings, about two-thirds extended, were used in quick, short strokes at the rate of about one a second to assist in propelling it and in rising to the top as well.

Preventing Aerial from Rolling

One of the most common troubles experienced with multi-conductor aerials is that the spreader turns around in a wind storm and the wires cross, making it necessary to climb up on the roof to disentangle them again. A simple and effective method of preventing this trouble is to suspend a weight, which may range from a heavy pipe elbow, from each spreader as shown in the illustration. The weight is tied to the center of a rope and the ends of the rope fastened to the ends of the spreaders as shown.

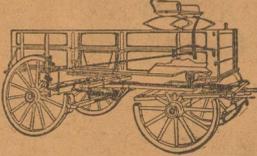

Autos Worth Ten Billions Cost Billions to Run

Official estimates place the number of motor vehicles owned and operated in the United States at 14,000,000, the investment represented being about $10,000,000,000 and the total cost of maintenance close to $5,000,000,000 a year. This amount is said to equal more than half of all taxes. It is contended that payments made by owners of motor vehicles for highway service should be in proportion to the benefits received; that taxation should not be uniform but should correspond to the highway facilities of the different states.

Spring Brake on Farm Wagon Saves Horses and Driver

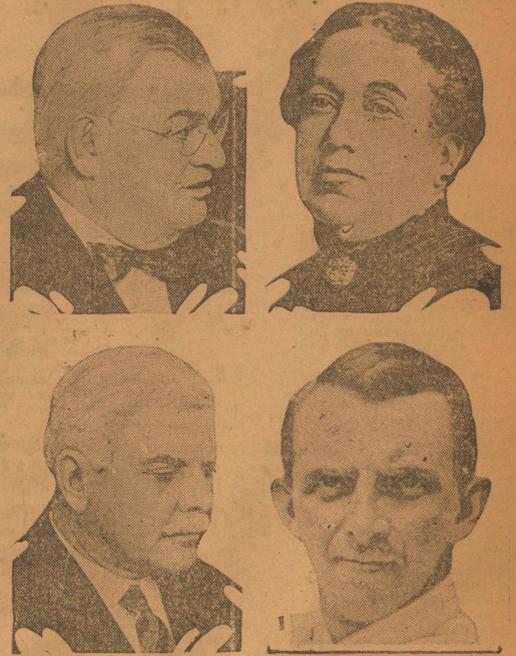

Wagon brakes are automatically set when the horses stop, thus keeping the weight of the load from the holdback straps and collars, by a patented spring arrangement designed so that it can be attached to an ordinary farm vehicle. It is connected directly with the doubletrees. As the horses start, the pull is exerted on the spring in front, thus making the load easier to start, as the force reaches the wagon gradually. This forward movement also releases the rear spring pressure on the brakes. In going down hills, the hand brake is available. The device saves the labor of locking the handle in the matchet each time the wagon is stopped, eases the work of the horses and of the driver, and saves wear on the harness.

The evangelist stated that he would hold his next meeting in Arkansas and from there would go to Slaton, Texas. ANDRE TELLS HOW TO REGAIN HEALTH

Set Natural Forces to Work, Says Noted Scientist. Chronic Cases Are Not Hopeless.

NATURE IS WORKING WITH YOU, AND NOT AGAINST YOU, AND IF YOU GIVE HER THE PROPER ASSISTANCE SHE WILL RESTORE YOU.

Millions of people drag through life in a weakened anaemic condition subject to all the distressing ailments that afflict the weak and unhealthy when health, strength and happiness might be theirs for the asking. They are weak and head-achy, constantly bothered with indigestion and lack of appetite; they are nervous, irritable and discouraged, with barely enough strength to perform their daily tasks. They get little satisfaction out of life because they have not the physical or mental energy to enjoy the company of others or make others enjoy them. Their work is a burden and their daily life a monotonous grind. To all such people I would give a message of hope and cheer. You can again enjoy the blessings of health, strength and happiness.

Your condition may be chronic, but it is by no means hopeless. Start all the forces of nature to working properly and watch the barometer of health climb upward. Karnak is designed to help and co-operate with Nature in this task of restoration. It works naturally and thoroughly to set the stomach right, increase the appetite for wholesome food, help the digestive system turn this food into strengthening nourishment, throw off impurities and put the whole system back into a healthy, resilient, vigorous condition. People frequently report that Karnak has relieved them of troubles that had defied other treatments for years. That is because a strong, healthy body naturally throws off disease and Karnak helps Nature restore the strength to where these troubles are naturally thrown off and the damage repaired. Karnak is sold in Ranger by the Rexall Drug Store and Texas Drug Store.—Adv.

E. H. & A. DAVIS OPEN NEW STORE IN CORSICANA

The well known gents furnishing house of E. H. & A. Davis, one of the most progressive business firms in Ranger, of which Abe Davis is local manager, opened a new store today in Corsicana. The Corsicana Sun of Monday contained the following story, which shows the prominence and esteem accorded this firm in other cities beside Ranger.

"According to announcement today the formal opening of the E. H. and A. Davis, men's furnishings and clothing store, 110 South Beaton street, will take place Wednesday between the hours of 10 a. m. and 9:30 p. m. The management of the store takes this method of extending a cordial invitation to the general public to attend the opening and inspect one of the most modern and up-to-date men's furnishing stores in the southwest. There will be cigars for the men and flowers for the ladies. The State Orphans' Home band will furnish the music for the occasion.

"The Messrs. Davis have spared no expense in placing in their store the most modern equipment throughout. All articles of merchandise will be enclosed in glass cases of the latest design and everything in the store will be new. The firm will feature the Hart, Schaffner and Marx line of clothing.

Messrs. Davis have been in business in Corsicana since July 12, 1923, and have been in business in Texas for the past five years. Since their arrival in Corsicana they have made many personal and business friends. Their policy is satisfaction or money back and by this policy they have gained the confidence of the people. They are ever alert to the wants of their customers and extend every courtesy to those entering their place of business. The firm is progressive and the fact that they have made this large investment in Corsicana is evidence of their faith in the future development of the city.

"The opening of this store will be quite an addition to the business section of Corsicana and the citizenship will join in extending to Messrs. Davis congratulations upon their spirit which prompted them to open this new place of business.

Lockwood, of Indiana, secretary of the Republican National Committee; Mrs. John Gordon Battles, of Columbus, O., associate member of the Republican National Committee; Lafayette B. DEATH FROM COSMETICS; NEITHER IS THERE ANY HELP FOR HUMANS BY BORROWING MONKEY GLANDS

CHICAGO, June 11.—If American girls want to be pretty and healthy they must shun rouge, lip-sticks and mascara on their eye-lashes, declares Dr. H. N. Cole, Cleveland, to the American Medical association here today.

"That bit of advice was not the only woe-filled matter discussed at the radical convention today. 'Monkey Gland' rejuvenation is a myth, like the fairy tale fountain of youth, according to Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, prominent New York surgeon. 'The use of cosmetics has become, unfortunately, more and more common,' Dr. Cole said. 'What was once considered poor form has now become the mode for women. Most women paint, all women use powders of different types. The average woman uses at least some of the long list of cosmetics. Yet many of these women are unaware of the danger they are running by such habits.'

Dr. Cole outlined the dangers. "In the first place there is the pure mechanical obstruction by creams, powders and rouges used on the face. The pores in our skin were intended by nature to serve as lubricating and excretory ducts. If these are constantly closed off, it will injure any skin."

The danger of harmful chemical action from cosmetics is great, Dr. Cole continued. Lead in Cosmetics. "The most common offender in cosmetics is lead," he said. "It causes the well-known lead poisoning. This disease results in swelling and inflammation of the affected parts. It brings severe internal pains, intoxication, and sometimes death. And there are many more harmful materials in the various popular cosmetics."

Not even the husband who dutifully rubs tonic into his hair to please his wife is safe, according to the doctor. The tonic may contain carbolic acid, he said, citing a case in which hair tonic containing carbolic acid caused a long illness.

"The American Medical association reports that in their analysis of bleaches and freckle lotions they have found bichloride of mercury in solution as high as 1 to 200 and 28.2 to 1,000," he said.

The amounts of money American women spend on cosmetics are enormous, according to the doctor.

"In 1919 American women spent $205,000,000 in the useless and often harmful quest for beauty via the cosmetic path," he pointed out. "In 1921 manufacturers put out $75,000,000 more of cosmetics than they did in 1919."

And grandpas are likely to get in trouble if they dye their whiskers, he added.

Deeries Monkey Glands. Rejuvenation by monkey glands, or by any other kind of glands was officially branded as a myth by Dr. McWilliams.

He cited numerous instances in which such operations were tried and declared that the uniform result was disappearance of the grafted tissues. "With all these isolated, multiple failures, a surgeon should not waste time or energy with organ grafts taken from another individual. Even between animals of the same species there are unknown differences that prevent the survival of the transplanted arteries."

Reported successes were ascribed to the fact that often the grafted organs "seemed to take." But they suddenly disappear, in a few weeks at most, he said.

But Dr. Cole held out some hope along with his "crepe-hanging." The hope is "plastic surgery."

"With it a hideous deformity may be transformed into a scarcely noticeable disfigurement," he declared.

The "secrets" of school girls and the wrestling bouts of little boys cause the spread of serious epidemics. Dr. William F. Resner, assistant commissioner of public health, Minneapolis, told the physicians.

"If two boys want to talk, they run to each other, and when only a foot apart, shout into each other's faces," he explained. "Girls of grammar school age have their arms around each other and their faces in close contact more often than otherwise. The girls tell their secrets in close-up whispers. And so the germs spread. Parents should teach their children at an early age to avoid the breath of others, as they would avoid a hot stove, or anything else that might kill them."

Work Saves Life. Discussing methods of resuscitating persons seriously shocked by electricity, Willis MacLachlan, of the National Electric Light association, Toronto, Ont., told the physicians of lives saved after three and one-half hours of artificial respiration.

"A rescuer shouldn't give up in such a case until he's worked at least four hours," he advised. How ethylene gas, the new anaesthetic "which surpasses both ether and 'laughing gas' for surgical use" was found to be practical for man was told by Dr. Arno B. Luckhardt, Rush Medical college, Chicago. Dr. Luckhardt is credited with the research which led fifteen months ago to the use of ethylene in leading American and foreign hospitals.
