BLOWS FOLLOW KLAN DEBATE AT CARBON

FOUR BAD TEXAS MEN CAUGHT IN TRAIN ROBBERY

Former Eastland County Boys Alleged Implicated in Mail Hold-Up.

Four of the men who a few days ago are alleged to have held up a mail train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and took from it more than $2,000 in cash and more than $2,000,000 in securities, were former Eastland county boys, according to old timers and former officials of this county.

The Newton brothers, according to former Sheriff Pack Kilborn, were reared south of Cisco in the Scranton community and were last in this section about five or six years ago. Sam Grant, who is said by officers to have been one of the main leaders in the big holdup, grew to manhood in the country south of Carbon.

Have Criminal Records
All four of the Eastland county men had criminal records. The Newton boys are wanted for a number of daring bank robberies in Texas, while Grant is an escaped convict from the Texas penitentiary, where he was serving a life sentence for murder, having been convicted in the district court here for killing an old man by the name of Oats.

On or about the 18th day of February, an old, decrepit man and a stranger in the county, who was traveling in an old rickshaw cart pulled by a burro, was shot from ambush on a road a few miles south of Carbon. The weapon used was a shotgun and the old man's body was badly mangled. A report of the killing was sent to Eastland to Sheriff Kilborn and Deputy H. E. Lawrence went to the scene and spent several days working on the case, but were unable to find little evidence as to who the guilty parties were. A few weeks later, however, the sheriff's department found some clues which led to the arrest of Grant and Bert Carter, young married men living in that section. They were arrested and placed in the county jail at Eastland. Carter turned state's evidence. Grant was tried on a charge of first degree murder, was convicted and his punishment assessed at death.

New Trial Obtained
A new trial was refused by Thomas L. Blanton, then judge of the Forty-second judicial district, and the case was appealed. The appeal court again, this time resulting in a reversed case and it was tried victoriously, but the man had been sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary from which he escaped shortly after entering, and has never been apprehended. He escaped in 1911.

After Grant escaped from the penitentiary at Huntsville it was frequently rumored that he had been seen in Eastland county and there is reason to believe that he did, at various times, pay visits to his family here. Four or five years ago an Eastland county man saw Grant in a Mexico border town and talked to him. Grant was at that time, according to the Eastland county citizen, captain in the Villa Mexican army. He is quoted by the Eastland county citizen as saying that being in Villa's army was not a very good job, but that it beat being in the penitentiary.

BATTLE ROYAL BREAKS PEACE ON MAIN STREET

Deputy Constable Would Be a Policeman and Finds He Lacks Authority.

Despite notice served on Deputy Constable John E. Boyd two weeks ago by L. E. Davenport, assistant police chief of Ranger, that the constable's office was not expected to enforce city ordinances, he attempted to do so last night with results that were satisfactory to none. The fight in which Boyd and his wife were opposed by J. I. Costin, who is connected with the Hicks Drug store, and Mrs. Costin, attracted an audience that was variously estimated at between 500 and 3,000. It was not a very gory affair, but it was exciting while it lasted, and especially so because two of the gentler sex, now having the right to vote, demonstrated they could fight, too.

Boyd, who is a deputy under Constable Whitehall, complained that an automobile in which Mrs. Costin and Mrs. J. L. Hicks were seated, conversing, was parked too near the corner of Main and Antsin streets. He threatened to arrest Mrs. Costin and she told him, according to J. I. Costin, who was standing alongside the car talking to the two ladies, to bring a policeman. Boyd then went away.

In a little while, however, according to Hicks, Boyd returned and was accompanied by Mrs. Boyd, who engaged in an argument with Mrs. Costin over what would happen if the deputy constable should arrest her for alleged violation of a city ordinance. The words led to action and the women fought while the crowd gathered. Boyd attempted to separate them, when Costin stepped into the fray and would have won the decision if he had been aided by a referee. Police came up and separated the men and by-standers separated the women.

Mrs. Boyd needed some medical attention. Dr. Holland said her nose might have been slightly fractured, but he thought her injuries not serious. Her nose had profusely bled. Mrs. Costin's hair was rumpled, but she showed no other marks of battle. Boyd said later his wife was not hurt. Boyd went to the police station, and said he would prefer charges against Costin, but later charges were preferred against all participants in the affray except Boyd by Officers Ingram and Daniels.

Constable Whitehall said after the battle that he did not see why his deputy should seek to enforce a city ordinance, which was going outside the scope of his duties and probably he would not try it again.

WELL TO BE DRILLED ON LEASE NORTH OF GRAY-HIGHTOWER TRACT

Dr. R. C. Ferguson and Earl Hamilton of Eastland have perfected arrangements with A. J. Bartrug, an experienced driller, to put a well down on the J. W. Fox 100-acre lease lying north of the Gray-Hightower property.

The contract provides that the drilling of the first well shall be commenced this week, and it is expected that these developments will open up some new oil territory in that section. The contract provides for a hole 1,500 feet deep unless oil is found at a lesser depth. M. McCullough is also interested in the lease, along with Dr. Ferguson and Mr. Hamilton.

"RED TAPE" KEEPS VETERAN FROM GETTING EMPLOYMENT

FORT WORTH, June 21.—"Red tape," the familiar decoration of government circles, has kept John Taylor, one armed veteran of the Philippines campaign, out of work for two years. Recently Taylor grew hot under the collar and wrote President Coolidge, telling him what he thought of the government's delay.

The other day this letter topped a sheaf of correspondence covering two years, was received by the U. S. farm labor bureau here. Taylor is right where he started.

DALLAS, June 21.—A general rain, ranging from showers in some sections to heavy downpours in others, fell in Texas Friday night and Saturday, breaking up what was expected to be a protracted drouth. The rain came just in time to save the corn crop in north, east and south Texas.

The heaviest rains occurred about Houston, Corpus Christi and other Gulf towns. Thirteen inches of rain fell at Kingsville this afternoon and the cotton fields and roads were flooded.

DEMOCRATS MAY ENDORSE THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

NEW YORK, June 21.—A determined effort to write into the democratic platform an endorsement of the league of nations policy of the late Woodrow Wilson was made certain today. Leaders of the Ohio delegation this morning agreed upon Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, as Ohio's representative on the resolutions committee. Baker is a strong league of nations advocate. He has stressed the importance of America joining the league in all his recent speeches.

DEMOCRATS SEND NO CONTESTING DELEGATIONS

NEW YORK, June 21.—No contests are on file with the national committee, so that the work of the credentials committee will be confined to merely approving the original list of delegates as presented by each state.

An open meeting of the national committee was held today and the temporary roll for the convention accepted. Approval was given Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi as temporary chairman and also to the officers named for the convention. It was decided that an assistant secretary of the convention shall be named from each state.

HE MAKES A LIVING WHEN RHEUMATISM PERMITS

FORT WORTH, June 21.—Thomas Carrington, inmate of the county home is out again. Thomas always comes out each year when hot weather starts to set papers. He is unable to do anything in the interim because of rheumatism. "I'm making a living," Thomas replied to the usual question, "how's business."

COOLIDGE AND BUTLER PLANNING THE CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, June 21.—President Coolidge and William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, were in conference tonight on board the Mayflower, to smooth out party friction that developed at the convention.

Reaching Washington today with a statement "we are ready to go forward with our campaign," Butler at once got into touch with the president. He was silent regarding the friction at Cleveland with C. Bascom Slemm, the president's secretary, which almost resulted in Slemm's resignation, it was believed. He said that he would have a statement later.

FOG PREVENTS MAUGHAN HOP OFF ON LONG FLIGHT

MITCHELL FIELD, L. I., June 21. A heavy fog hanging over New York today prevented Lieut. Russell L. Maughan taking off in his dawn-to-darkness flight to San Francisco. The trip was called off for today shortly after midnight. It was said that Maughan might attempt the flight tomorrow morning.

WOMAN ACTING GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO

Mrs. Soledad Chabon State's Chief Executive While Governor Hinkle Is Away.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 21. A new era in American politics was marked today when Mrs. Soledad Chabon became acting governor of New Mexico as the Santa Fe passenger train crossed the Colorado boundary, carrying Governor James Hinkle to New York to attend the democratic convention. She is the first woman to act as chief executive of the state. She will occupy the governor's chair in the state house until Governor Hinkle returns from the convention.

For two weeks New Mexico will be ruled by a direct descendent of the Spanish adventurers who first set foot in this territory, and claimed it in the name of Spain, for Mrs. Chabon belongs to one of the families of the conquistadors. A gorgeous bouquet of flowers diffused their scent over the sanctum of the governor's office and took the place of the cigars that were usually placed on the governor's desk when Mrs. Chabon entered upon her duties as the first woman governor in the union. Public officials gathered around and curiously watched her as she took over the reins of the government. Her first official act was recognition of the press. Without ceremony, she took over duties which the death of Lieutenant Governor Baker thrust upon her.

Three Issues Must Be Met In Platform Of the Democrats

NEW YORK, June 21.—The two main issues in the democratic convention, McAdoo and Smith, will have a good chance to watch each other. In the seating arrangements of Madison Square Garden, where the convention will be held, California, which will nominate McAdoo, has been allotted seats across the aisle from New York, which will nominate Smith. Alabama, which will nominate Underwood, will be directly behind New York, and Ohio, which will attend to the Cox boom, is directly in front.

While the rival factions "whoop it up" for their favorites, a group of the democratic chiefs will be hammering into shape the platform on which the nominee must stand. On the main plank clean government—there is no division among the leaders and will be none among the delegates, but the lines are being tightly drawn on three big issues. They are: the Ku Klux Klan, the League of Nations and prohibition.

All concede that these questions must be met in the platform, but the main plank clean government is as popular as to satisfy all elements of the party is perplexing the best minds of democracy. By all odds the most vexatious and the most likely to lead to discord, according to some leaders, is the Ku Klux Klan question.

MERGER OF FIVE GRAIN HOUSES WITH ELEVATORS OF FARMERS PROPOSED

CHICAGO, June 21.—The merger of five nationally known grain houses of Chicago with five grain elevators, farmer owned, is under consideration today. The plan includes the acquisition by the farmers of the facilities of the Armour Grain Co., Rosenbaum Grain Corp., Bartlett, Frazier and Co., Rosenbaum Bros., and J. C. Shaffer & Co.

"This plan proposes that the international grain marketing sales agency resulting from the merger becomes grower owner, financially controlled, the farm bureau stated.

France Wants U. S. To Join With Her In Recognizing Russia

WASHINGTON, June 21.—France and the United States are exchanging views on the recognition of Russia, it was officially learned here today. ### GOV. BRYAN OF NEBRASKA TO BE CANDIDATE Brother of Commoner Will Be Proposed for Presidential Nomination.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The name of Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, a brother of the commoner, will be presented to the democratic national convention as a candidate for the presidency. This was decided by the Nebraska delegation, which will vote as a unit for him and will continue to give him support so long as a chance remains for his nomination.

STANDING OF LEADING CANDIDATES ON EVE OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

NEW YORK, June 21.—As the candidates for the democratic presidential nomination went through their paces today preliminary to the opening of the convention Tuesday here is how they looked: McAdoo still numerically in the lead but is now on the defensive. Smith entrenched in second position but showing no net gain except as reflected by some weakening of McAdoo's position. James M. Cox uncertain quantity and busily seeking votes outside his own delegation. Senator Samuel M. Ralston not running as yet but being kept saddled in the dark horses' stable by Indiana. Underwood gaining no ground whatever. Former Governor Gardner of Missouri another favorable son who might gain some strength in event of an early deadlock.

DEMOCRATIC GUESTS INVADE METROPOLIS

City Decked in Babylonian Splendor With Flower and Host for Each Delegate.

By MILTON MAC KAYE (United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, June 21.—New York, decked out in raiment of Babylonian splendor, today welcomed the "hosts of democracy." Everywhere there was the push and clamor of crowds; the feverish haste of worried officials and the cheerful bewilderment of home folks on a holiday.

It was a reborn New York that the day's sun saw—a different city than that whose imperviousness to sensation has been traditional. All day the railroad stations roared with the storm of incoming trains from the west and south. Taxicabs ran helter skelter form hotel to hotel.

The vanguard of the oncoming thousands is here and the impressive march of the big pack is almost without hearing. Delegates will continue to come Sunday and Monday.

By Tuesday morning, when the convention is called to order in Madison Square Garden, anywhere from 15,000 and more visitors and political delegates will be here.

If this overgrown party caucus fails to be the greatest convention held—from any standpoint—it will not be the fault of New York City or its civic leaders. They have spared neither money nor labor to make it the absolute "none-such" of all political gatherings.

Host for Each Delegation
Every state delegation is being met at the hotel by one member of the general entertainment committee, who makes members of that delegation his guests for the entire tenure of the fracas here.

Each man has volunteered to pay the entertainment costs of the delegation awarded him. The list is absolutely non-partisan and includes the city's most prominent republicans, as well as democrats.

The list of the New York hosts reads like a directory of New York's wealthiest men. It includes: Col. William B. Thompson, former Governor Whitman, Percy S. Straus, William Church Osborn, Charles C. Pettijohn, Charles H. Sabin, H. K. McCann, Gen. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, James W. Gerard, Norman H. Davis, George Gordon Battle, Norborn P. Gatling, U. S. District Attorney Hayward, C. H. Pforzheimer and others equally well known.

M'CARTY PICKS OUT FLAWS IN KLAN DOCTRINE

Stubblefield Replies, Attacking Highway Building and Bank Failures.

Heated expressions were voiced at Carbon yesterday afternoon and several parties came to blows, following a discussion of the Ku Klux Klan and its policies by Milburn McCarty of Eastland, speaking for and as a member of the County Constitutional club, and Judge J. R. Stubblefield of Eastland, who, while claiming he was not a klanman, denounced the activity of the Constitutional club in the present campaign. One of the encounters after the speaking was the outcome of an argument whether or not Judge Stubblefield was a member of the klan. No arrests were made.

The anti-klan forces had advertised the meeting at Carbon with McCarty scheduled to speak. The hour was 3:30 o'clock. It became evident very early that the klan had not overlooked the event and that it would not be strictly an anti-klan event. Many men from Eastland and other points in the county believed to be klanmen were present and, although no previous announcement had been made that Judge Stubblefield would speak, it was rumored around that he had come prepared to make a reply to the Constitution club's speaker.

It was an open-air affair, a large dray being used for a platform. J. S. Davis, editor of the Carbon Messenger, was master of ceremonies and introduced Judge Earl Conner of Eastland, chairman of the executive committee of the Constitutional club, who stated why it had come into existence, told who composed the executive committee, and named the candidates for county officers who had received the club's endorsement. He said all these candidates were known to be opposed to the klan.

McCarty Condemns Klan
Milburn launched an attack on the Klan in no uncertain terms. He outlined the fundamental principles on which this government is founded, the constitution declaring every citizen to be free and equal. "Under our system of government every citizen is entitled to a voice in public affairs regardless of his religious beliefs," said McCarty, who insisted that the klan, in direct opposition to the constitution, was founded on religious and racial lines and violated the fundamental principles of free government, having capitalized and thriving upon religious and racial prejudices and hatreds. He declared it un-American and un-democratic for any secret organization to attempt to control affairs of government by electing its members to office, and said that the officers now before the people of Eastland county was whether the klan should be allowed to continue its domination of the affairs of the county and retain members of the order in office.

McCarty paid his respects to the Eastland Daily Op. Bell News, the klan organ of Eastland county, and said that any paper, which habitually made the practice of defaming in its editorial columns, as good and upright men as there are in Eastland county, was not entitled to the support and respect of the decent citizenship of the county.

McCarty appealed to the voters of Carbon to go to the polls in the July primary and vote for anti-klanmen and thus return to the people of Eastland county the control of public affairs. He also stated that the anti-klan candidates were men of honor and integrity and qualified for the positions which they were seeking, and he predicted that the anti-klan candidates would all be successful and that the affairs of Eastland county would no longer be in the hands of the Ku Klux organization.

Stubblefield Replies.
Judge Stubblefield was called for. He made a lengthy address and reviewed his participation as an attorney in the law suits involving the construction of Eastland county's highway system. He denied being a klanman, but insisted that the klan was not the issue. He took up the failure of banks in Eastland county and severely criticized Joe Burkett, Allen Dabney, M. H. Smith and other well known citizens of the county who were connected with banks that failed. He said that the election of the anti-klan candidates meant that the affairs of the county would be turned over to the old gang. He asked who the Constitutional club had endorsed for state offices and, being told that no recommendations were made except as to Eastland county, he launched into a bitter personal attack upon Joe Burkett, candidate for governor.

Mr. McCarty was called upon for a rejoinder and responded with a brief and spirited talk. He said it was the first time that he had ever listened (Continued on page six)

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES FOR R. E. MITCHELL

Masons and Boy Scouts Have Part: Rev W. C. Kunze Officiates.

Attended by a large congregation of sorrowing and sympathizing friends, the body of R. E. Mitchell, who was killed in a railroad crossing accident last Wednesday, was laid to rest Friday afternoon in the Eastland cemetery.

After a brief prayer at the home, the Masonic fraternity and a special guard of honor composed of 10 Boy Scouts who had attained the degree of the mystic circle, marched with the body to the Methodist tabernacle, of which Mr. Mitchell was a member. His pastor, the Rev. Mr. Munger, was out of the city, and the Rev. W. C. Kunze, pastor of the Methodist church, who had been closely associated with Mr. Mitchell in scout work, conducted the service. Scoutmaster A. J. Clark occupied a seat on the platform.

Taking as his text a portion of the third verse of Samuel 20:3, "Truly as Jehovah liveth, and as thy soul liveth, there is but a step between me and death," the minister reminded his hearers that death is a certain step, that all must take it, regardless of circumstances in life; that death is also an uncertain step, for no one can answer, in his own case as to when, where, or how, the step must be taken; that death is a parting step, parting us from the world of matter, from our long-cherished bodies, parting us from our friends and loved ones; that death is a solitary step, for it must be taken, finally, alone, without loved ones, friends, physician, even though all these may be tenderly at our side until the last, and, tragedy of all tragedies, many take it without God, through failure to accept Him through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ; that death is a final step, in the sense that it puts an end to earthly distinctions.

The minister summed up the lesson of the text, by warning his hearers to prepare for this final step, as Mr. Mitchell had long since done, by accepting the Lord Jesus Christ as Saviour, and to redeem the time between now and that of taking the step in faithful, loyal, unassuming service to his fellow man.

Perhaps Mr. Mitchell was best known, and most widely loved, by reason of his untiring activity in behalf of the boys of Eastland, this activity being especially expressed in Boy Scout work, in which he was an expert. He was scoutmaster of Troop No. 2, with headquarters at the Methodist tabernacle. In connection with this work he had instituted the Order of the Mystic Circle. Briefly explained, this order is symbolized by a circle, the first three quadrants of which may be won and awarded the scout on a basis of efficiency in his scout work. The fourth quadrant, completing the circle, can be given the scout only on recommendation of some one outside the scout organization, and the term "mystic" is explained by the fact that the boy to whom it is awarded never knows just why it had been given him, nor does the boy who has not been awarded it know why it has been withheld.

Scoutmaster Clark, after the minister had read the short passage of Scripture from Matthew 25:31-40, placed the completed quadrant in the casket, as fitting symbolization of a life rounded out in service without thought of reward, and as speaking of the high esteem in which Mr. Mitchell was held by his associates in business life, in scout work and in personal relationships more than any number of words could have done.

Further testimony to the place he held in Eastland, was expressed in the unusually beautiful floral emblems, nearly 30 in number, with which the casket was surrounded. Among these were emblems from the Prairie Pipe Line company, of which he was an employee; the Masons, the Eastern Star; the missionary society of his church; the Boy Scouts of Troops 1 and 2.

After the close of the services at the tabernacle, the Masonic fraternity took charge, and at the cemetery, laid him to his final rest with beautiful and impressive ritual service, at the close of which, just as he would have wished it, two scouts blew "taps."

Thus has closed the life of one of Eastland's most useful men, in church, community, and in scout work.

This is an annual affair in Eastland and is looked forward to by practically the entire citizenship as one of the best days of the year. COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 21.—Cooling winds reaching cyclonic proportions in some sections and bringing rain to others broke the heat wave in Ohio after 17 deaths, attributed to the first high temperature of the season. Seven dead in Cleveland, two in Columbus, two in East Liverpool, two in Zanesville, and one each in Middletown, Gallipolis, Toledo and Cincinnati.

The health department here is busy giving out remedies for mosquitoes. Hordes of insects were brought out by the stifling humidity after the heavy rains and have swarmed over the city adding to the discomfort of the heat wave. The highest temperature of the season was 100 degrees at Ashtabula.

AMUSEMENTS AND RELIGION.

In voting to make the matter engaging in "popular amusements" one of individual decision, and removing the existing "ban" the general conference of the Methodist church was undoubtedly prompted by the wisdom of experience. It must be admitted that for several years a great many communicants of that faith have assumed this right, perhaps regretting meanwhile that the claimed freedom of conscience has often failed to bring anticipated pleasure. Thus remorse, not the result of engaging in diversions which are themselves harmless, but of conscious obduracy and a premeditated defiance of recognized authority, has followed where there might otherwise have been happiness.

Within the last half century the thought of the people as a whole regarding amusements has undergone mighty changes. Many can remember the time when the use of a piano or organ in the home on Sunday, except for the playing of accompanied to sacred hymns, was strictly forbidden by religious parents. Cards and similar games were taboo at all times, and dancing was frowned upon as a manifestation of evil in its most virulent form, a greased toboggan to Hades.

There remain among the membership of the Methodist Episcopal church, no doubt, many who will regard the action of the conference as ill-advised, if not actually revolutionary. But, after all in its strictest sense, the matter of indulgence, whether liquor drinking, cigarette smoking, dancing, card playing or joy riding on the Sabbath day, must finally be settled by the individual. In all ages man-made ukase or decree has utterly failed to control the individual—even committing murder.

PLIGHT OF THE FARMERS

As a result of the study of the price trends of 10 crops and five classes of livestock and livestock products for the last five years, the national industrial conference board has come to the conclusion that while those things which the farmer buys has increased more than 100 per cent in price in 1920 over 1914 and stood about 86 per cent higher in 1923, the value of an acre of his crops stood only 31 per cent higher than in 1914. Furthermore, the purchasing value was only 71 per cent of the 1914 value. These figures are not quite accurate but have been compiled on very conservative data, and not designed to "fool" oneself.

For several years the view has been widespread that the farmer has not been bearing his share of the burden of contributing toward the support of the federal, state and local governments. It will doubtless come as a surprise to many economists, as well as authorities on agriculture, to learn that as a matter of fact the farmer appears to be over-taxed rather than undertaxed. The conference board in its exhaustive analysis on tax burdens and exemptions, finds that as a matter of fact the American farmer is paying more than his share of the nation's tax bill, and has been for some time.

Some people are so ingenious that they don't try to avoid making mistakes.

When you need more room—it is there!

The World's Largest Producer of Quality Automobiles

THE Big-Six Touring is a seven-passenger car—not merely a seven-passenger body mounted on a five-passenger chassis.

It was designed and built for seven-passenger service—with a motor of ample power and stamina for seven-passenger satisfaction.

Then, too, with the auxiliary seats folded away, the Big-Six becomes the most desirable five-passenger car in which you have ridden, with room enough for all the luggage you will ever need.

Big-Six appearance is attractive, distinctive, and in good taste. Its performance, acceleration, flexibility and dependability are known and respected the world over.

No car, regardless of price, surpasses it in quality or completeness of equipment.

If a smaller manufacturer or assembler were to build the Big-Six—of equal quality and workmanship—his price would be $3,500—perhaps more.

But Big-Six overhead is distributed over six times as many units as are built by any Big-Six competitor, hence Big-Six cost and selling price are surprisingly low.

Don't buy blindfolded. Examine, ride in and drive the Big-Six before you buy any other car.

BURKETT TALKS IN OPEN AIR AT BRECKENRIDGE

Has Large Audience to Whom He Expounds Gubernatorial Campaign Issues.

BRECKENRIDGE, June 21.—Senator Joe Burkett of Eastland spoke to a large crowd of Stephens county citizens here Friday night in the interest of his candidacy for governor. He spoke from the steps of the courthouse and was introduced by Judge C. J. O'Conner.

Mr. Burkett told his hearers that he had no campaign headquarters and no campaign manager and that, if elected governor, he would be under obligations to no man nor any set of men. He discussed at length the financial problems of the state, the educational system, the penitentiary system and said that the interest rate should be reduced to 8 per cent. Texas should have a central state bank, he said, so as to be able to protect the people against the monied interests of the east.

Mr. Burkett said that some of his opponents were the candidates of special interests. Lynch Davidson, he charged, was the candidate of the lumber interests and of other big business, while T. W. Davidson was being run by the leaders of the labor organizations. He said that he had always been a friend to labor, both organized and unorganized, and that his record as a public official would reveal that fact. "If Mr. Robertson should be elected governor he would have to wait until he heard from the emperor of the invisible empire before he would know what he could do, as he is being run by that bunch of rian leaders," Mr. Burkett said. Mr. Burkett said he believed he could cut $4,000,000 from the state appropriations and save at least that amount to the state, but that it would be impossible to save $10,000,000, as Lynch Davidson claims he could do. He challenged Mr. Davidson to show where he could effect the saving of $10,000,000. He also declared that Davidson did not save the state any money in connection with the state railroad as is being claimed by Davidson.

"Our farmers and stockmen can never prosper so long as they have to pay the high interest rates they are now compelled to pay and we should have a system of long time rural credits so as to enable the farmer and stockman to finance himself," Mr. Burkett said. He declared in favor of strict law enforcement by the duly constituted authorities and not by mobs. He said that if he were elected governor he would be the servant of all the people and would endeavor to see that each and everyone was given a fair and square deal.

ANOTHER DEATH IN THE "ARMY OF LITTLE BOYS"

KINSTON, N. C., June 21.—The death of Chief Justice Walter Clark of North Carolina, just recorded, recalled the "Army of Little Boys," the proudest page in the history of the Lost Cause.

In 1864, the man-power of the rebellion was exhausted. North Carolina had already given more men to the Confederacy than any other state. Still the cry for soldiers came from the fast fading lines of gray. Whole battalions, then regiments, of lads still in their teens were called to the colors. They included boys from the cadet and grammar schools. Many still in knee pants and hardly able to hold the heavy musket of that day. An old chronicler says: "The mothers of the state wept with one accord."

In the Halifax county contingent of the junior reserves was Walter Clark, 17 years of age. Clark was commissioned a major in the 70th infantry regiment, June 3, 1864. Shortly afterward he became a lieutenant-colonel, the youngest officer to hold such rank in either army in the civil war. He fought in the battle of Southwest, which culminated in the last important Confederate victory in North Carolina.

GARWOOD ON CONCIL OF AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF LAW

HOUSTON, June 21.—Judge H. M. Garwood of Houston has been named as a member of the council of the American Institute of Law, to serve for a period of six years.

The institute was created by an endowment of $1,000,000 made by Andrew Carnegie, and has $100,000 yearly for ten years, given by the Carnegie corporation. The council is engaged in checking a restatement of the common law of the country as made up by innumerable decisions.

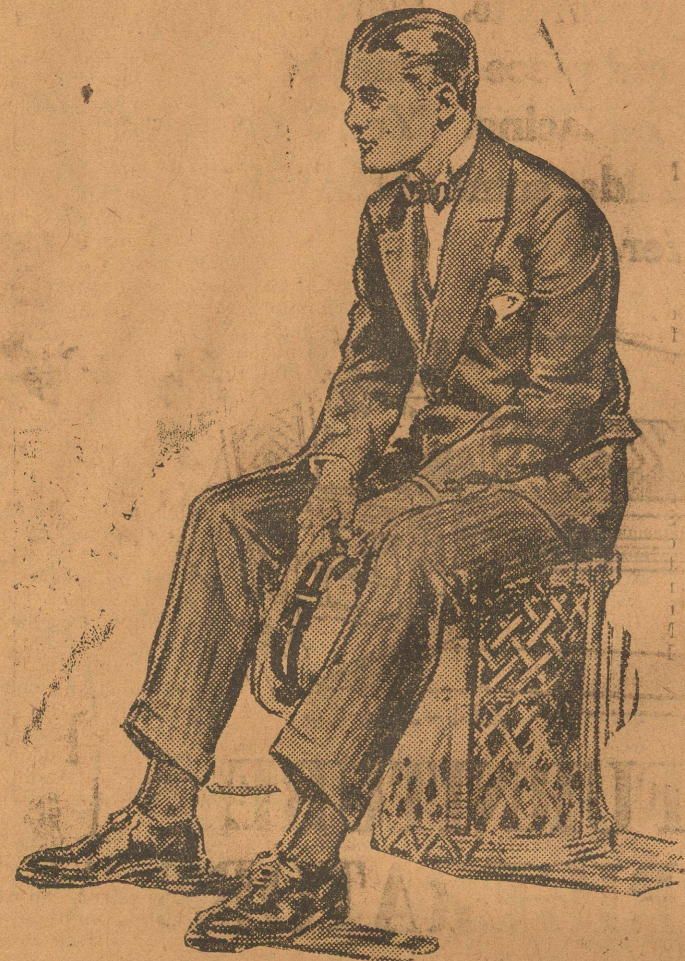

JITNEY LINES IN HOUSTON SUBURB GET EXTENSION

HOUSTON, June 21.—There will be jitney lines in Magnolia park here for at least three months more, Mayor Fred A. Baldwin has announced. There has been considerable opposition to the jitney lines in Magnolia park, and many people there have been trying to get the city to stop issuing licenses. The mayor said he didn't know what action would be taken on Oct. 1, but that the jitneys were sure to continue until that date.

NEGRO TRUSTY CHARGED WITH STRIKING INSANE PRISONER

Ben Hill, a negro trusty at the county jail Saturday had a run-in with "Uncle" John Byrd, who was adjudged insane recently and is now in the county jail. A number of people from the Flatwoods community where "Uncle" John lives, went to the jail to see the officers and were much worked up about the matter.

According to reports, the negro says that "Uncle" John, who is 72 years old, attacked him and that he struck him several times with his fist. "Uncle" John is said by those who saw him to have been badly bruised about the face and head.

Both "Uncle" John and the negro were in the run-around on the second floor of the jail when the trouble started. It is understood that the jailer has placed the negro in a cell and locked him up.

Miss Eva Leveridge Announces In Race For District Clerk

Miss Eva Leveridge announces today as a candidate for the democratic nomination for district clerk in Eastland county. Her presentation to the voters follows:

Owing to the fact that my friends have solicited me to announce for the office of district clerk, I have finally decided to do so, and I am taking this method of asking for your support and your influence in my behalf.

I have lived in Eastland county all my life. My people lived in this county for many years before I was born, and I feel that they have always merited the respect of all the citizens in the county. None of them has ever asked for an office before, and they are all with me in asking for your support.

The office of district clerk is a clerical one, and one which a lady can easily hold if she is qualified, as you well know. I believe I am well qualified for the work as I have had experience in the office. In fact the first work I ever did was in the office of the district clerk. Since that time I have worked in the county clerk's office and have worked in the office of the county superintendent of schools for the past four years, where I tried my best to serve the public efficiently.

If the people of Eastland county feel like I have done my duty along this line, then I hope I can count on a majority of votes in the coming primary election.

I assure you that if elected I will never give the people any cause to regret placing me in this office, for I shall be at my post of duty at all times and will serve the public to the very best of my ability. EVA LEVERIDGE.

TEXT-BOOK CONTROVERSY APPEARS TO BE AT END

AUSTIN, July 21.—All warrants on requisitions by the superintendent of public instruction in payment for school text-books, contracted for by the commission will be issued, Comptroller Lon Smith said today. Issuance of vouchers have been ordered through mandamus proceedings and Smith said he would do the rest. Thus the last obstacle to recognition of the contracts was removed, after months of litigation.

Newton D. Baker Of Ohio Ranks As Dark Horse

By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Among the dark horses before the democratic national convention, June 24, will be found Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, O., secretary of war in the Wilson war cabinet.

Baker was born in Martinsburg, W. Va., Dec. 3, 1871, and was graduated from Johns Hopkins university with an A.B. degree in 1892. Two years later he received his LL.B. from Washington and Lee university.

One of his first official positions was when he became secretary to Postmaster General Wilson, under the administration of Grover Cleveland, from 1896 to 1897. In the latter year he retired to practice law in Martinsburg.

In 1902 he became the first assistant city solicitor of Cleveland, O., and was director of law in 1903, becoming city solicitor in 1903 and serving until 1909.

He was mayor of Cleveland from 1912 to 1916 and resumed the practice of law in Cleveland Jan. 1, 1916.

He was appointed secretary of war under the administration of Woodrow Wilson on March 9, 1916. Upon retirement as secretary of war he returned to Cleveland and engaged in the practice of law.

Baker is physically undersized and free mixing in city politics made him careless of conventions. He is an eloquent and convincing public speaker.

As secretary of war in years of great stress, Baker unflinchingly carried out Wilson policies. He was under constant and bitter fire, but even his enemies admitted that he "got things done."

Former President Wilson said of him: "My association and constant conference with the secretary of war have taught me to regard him as one of the ablest public officials I ever knew."

BAIRD.—The new water system of this city will be completed and in use by the first week in July.

able, drinkables, and souvenirs are on hand in force.

Vendors line the streets and the bootleggers, so the report goes, may be found in other places.

For, although R. Q. Merrick, in charge of federal prohibition enforcement, has announced the city will be very, very dry during the convention, those on the "inside" predict there will be plenty of fire-water secretly on tap.

In Madison Square Garden

Madison Square Garden, site of the convention proper has been ready for several days to receive the delegates following an extensive remodeling.

Delegates will be seated in the center of the big building. Alternates will be at one side of them. Members of the New York national convention committee and guests who obtain seats through the democratic national committee also will be seated on the main floor. The rest of the crowd must use the balconies.

For each $100 subscribed by New Yorkers for convention entertainment, one seat is given. Allotment of them, however, will not take place until tomorrow.

Hanging from beneath the balconies will be little platforms from which the photographers and moving picture men do their work.

In the basement will be telegraph instruments, telephones and all the conveniences of their own "city room for newspaper men.

The radio is to be extensively used at this convention. Two companies will do all the broadcasting—the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the New York Telephone company, the latter a subsidiary of the former. They will send the program to 12 stations scattered about the country. They are: WEAF and WJZ, New York; WCAP and WRG, Washington; WGY, Schenectady; WGR, Buffalo; KDKA, Pittsburgh; WGN, WMAQ and WLS, Chicago; KSD, St. Louis, and WDAF, Kansas City.

The hotel association committee today announced that there still are rooms available at prices varying from $2 to $8. New York hotel men say they won't profiteer.

DEMOCRATS WILL NOT LACK FOR HOT DOGS

By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Delegates to the democratic national convention in New York, June 24, will consume 64,000 "hot dogs" a day, sandwiched in between that many rolls, and washed down with about a thousand gallons of coffee.

This, at least, is the estimate of Mrs. Mary Lantingberg, wife of the official caterer to the convention, who has already contracted for the above daily amount of "eats."

In addition to the coffee and frankfurters, Mrs. Lantingberg's daily menu calls for 100 gallons of mustard, 5,000 pies, and 24,000 bottles of assorted soft drinks.

"Then, you know," said Mrs. Lantingberg, "most of these delegates will be from the west, where sea food is almost a novelty, so I have contracted for 50 barrels of lobsters, besides other miscellaneous sea food."

There will be no "hi-jacking" the democratic "president makers," for the Lantingbergs are under contract to charge only the usual prices for the food.

Mrs. Lantingberg figured out the daily consumption of "hot dawgs," by allowing two to every person who will be able to crowd into Madison Square Garden, where the convention will hold forth.

"Yes, but there are some people who don't like their 'dogs,'" Mrs. Lantingberg was reminded.

"Oh, yes," she smiled, "I know there are such persons, queer as it may seem, but there'll be those who'll shout for more, after devouring half a dozen."

"And," she added, "those will more than make up for the non-indulgents."

FLOWERS FOR DELEGATES.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Democratic delegates' first glimpse of New York today was a pleasant one.

They saw first a pretty girl, second a flower, and third an outstretched hand. The Women's Democratic club of New York, has arranged that each delegate will receive flowers from a girl immediately he or she steps from the train.

For men there will be boutonniere and for women corsage bouquets. Flower booths will be maintained in each railroad terminal.

Score the Klan and Its Mouth-piece for Seeking to Stir Up Strife.

The Ku Klux Klan and its political activities in Eastland county were scored by candidates in speeches in a meeting in Cisco. The Oil Belt News, as the mouthpiece and organ of the Klan in Eastland county, also came in for a number of hot shots. The records made by present officers of the county, who are klansmen, were also attacked. The County Constitutional club was praised by speakers as a necessary organization, because of the efforts being made by the Klan to dominate the politics and business affairs of the county. The audience, estimated at 750 people, was composed largely of voters among whom were many women. It was called to order by R. Q. Lee, of Cisco, who acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers.

Davenport Presents Case
Judge George L. Davenport, candidate for re-election as judge of the Ninety-first district court, was the first speaker introduced, it being his speaking date to which he had invited the other candidates, including his opponent, Judge Joe Jones, who could not be present.

After a few preliminary remarks, in which he expressed his appreciation for the many courtesies shown him by the people of Cisco in the past and for the interest manifested by them in arranging for the speaking, Mr. Davenport launched into his speech, beginning by giving his hearers a brief history of his life and activities as a lawyer and as a public official of the county. He said that in 1900 he was elected county attorney of Eastland county and served four years in that capacity. He had practiced law for 20 years and the most of that time in this county, he said.

In 1920, when the Ninety-first district court was created by an act of the Texas legislature, he was appointed by the governor to preside over that court. When he learned that he was to occupy that responsible position, he at once began to study to better prepare himself for the place, he said, and declared that he had continued to work at the job until the present time and would continue to do so so long as he was on the bench. Following his appointment by the governor, he was elected to the office by the voters, he said. Judge Davenport then took up the record he had made in the trial and disposition of cases, and, without any semblance of boasting, declared that he had tried more cases and more important cases, had had more cases appealed with fewer reversals since he had been on the bench than any other district judge in Texas. "My opponent seems to pay very little attention to qualifications, but I believe you people want a man who is qualified and I believe I am qualified," he said.

Campaign Blasts
Mr. Davenport then took up the matter of the campaign being waged against him at this time. He was sorry that his opponent, in connection with the Oil Belt News, had made charges that Eastland county had lost huge sums because of the courts permitting grafters, law violators, crooks and bank wreckers to operate in the county, could not be present to prosecute the charges that had been made. "None of these charges are being taken seriously, though," he said. "After making these charges from the stump all over the county, my opponent could find no one to agree with him and be his witness, so he sent to Parker county and secured one J. L. Tullis whom he brought to Eastland and made editor of the Oil Belt News that he might have a witness and supporter of the unreasonable, absurd and false charges he is making. Neither my opponent nor the editor of the Oil Belt News has any evidence that the charges they make are true and they care for none, simply they admit it is true and let it go at that."

Calling the attention of his hearers to what is known in this county as the Starnes ouster suit, of which Judge Jones is having much to say, Mr. Davenport went into the matter in detail and explained its every act in connection with the matter. He was criticized by his opponent and the Oil Belt News because he did not order a citation issued against Starnes when the case was filed, he said. He then explained the duties of the court in such matters, pointed out where the petition in the case was insufficient in that it sought to hold Starnes for the acts of the entire commissioners' court, and ordered the grand jury to assist him in his investigation of the facts in the only sufficient charge in the petition that was lodged against Starnes. The attorneys for the plaintiff, acting on his suggestion, amended their petition and refiled the case, which was transferred to Parker county by agreement of all parties and there tried with the result that the court, after hearing all of the testimony, gave instructions to the jury to return a verdict in favor of Starnes and other members of the commissioners' court because of the lack of evidence to support the charges, he said.

Jones Asks About Law
"Judge Jones has said that if I would show any law for having the grand jury investigate the charges made in the petition filed in the Starnes ouster suit or show where any other district judge in Texas had had a grand jury investigate such matters, he would withdraw from the race," Mr. Davenport said. "I do not want him to withdraw from the race, but you all know that it is the custom and the law for grand juries to investigate violations of the law and certainly these charges made against Starnes, if true, were violations of the law and could properly be investigated by the grand jury," he said.

Why are these charges of road graft, bank wrecking, etc., being made at this time, Mr. Davenport asked. "It is because it was a popular issue and properly so two years ago, and one on which my opponent rode into office and he thinks he can do it again," he added. "You will remember that in the last campaign they told you to give them a new county judge and new county commissioners and that if there was anything wrong it would be ferreted out and those guilty prosecuted. You gave them a new judge and three new members of the commissioners court, all of whom are honorable, upright and honest men, but I tell you that not one of these men have filed any charges against anyone in connection with the roadbuilding nor the failing of the many banks of the county nor have they asked this court to investigate them," Mr. Davenport said.

Again referring to the Oil Belt News, Judge Davenport said that a short while ago after the suit brought by Eastland county against G. A. Davison had been tried in his court, that paper published the statement that Judge Davenport had allowed more challenges of jurors to the defendants than to the plaintiff, Eastland county, which was favorable to the defendant. This, he said, was untrue and explained the facts and the law governing in such matters. The audience gave Mr. Davenport close attention and gave prolonged applause at the conclusion of his address.

Sewell and Been
Following Judge Davenport's address Judge W. H. Sewell and Judge Elzo Been, opposing candidates for judge of the 88th district court, spoke for fifteen minutes each. Judge Sewell speaking first. He stated that he was 47 years old and that he had been practicing law, both civil and criminal, for twenty years, that he had served as prosecuting attorney and had tried many important cases. He said that he was not a member of the Ku Klux Klan and believed that such an organization had no place in this country. He said that he was a prohibitionist and had always fought whiskey.

Mr. Been said that he had been elected district clerk of Eastland county and has also served as assistant county attorney. While he was clerk he handled many and varied cases, he said, which experience he believed fitted him for the position of district judge. He said that he believed that if a man's heart was right that it didn't make so much difference as to other qualifications that a man would not go very far wrong. He said he was not a klansman, had never been and never expected to be.

Barnes and Judkins.
W. J. Barnes, present county attorney, and Frank Judkins, opposing him for re-election, followed the speakers for the 88th district court. They became rather heated in their remarks about each other and created much applause. Mr. Barnes spoke first and then had a few minutes rejoinder after Mr. Judkins had spoken.

Mr. Barnes told of his having come to Cisco from the army about five years ago and of the conditions with reference to law violation he found here. He at once took steps to assist to enforce the laws and by doing so acquired the opposition of a certain bunch in the county and that the bunch was still opposing him. He told of his record as county attorney and of the notorious bootleggers he had secured sentences in the penitentiary for. He said that he was a klansman, but that he did not believe the Klan should be in politics. He referred to Judkins' record as chairman of the county democratic executive committee and criticized his actions in appointing many of the men he did to fill vacancies on the committee. He also stated that Judkins was a re-constructed Ku Klux, that he had joined and quit, but that he was blackballed four times before he got in.

When Mr. Judkins came on the stand following Mr. Barnes, he said, "Ladies and gentlemen, there is going to be a hot time in the old town tonight." He then launched into a scathing denunciation of Barnes and his records as a prosecuting attorney and of the Ku Klux Klan. He admitted that he had been a member of the Klan, but said that God had forgiven him for joining and he would never be guilty of such a thing again. "Barnes has told you that I was blackballed four times before I got into the Klan," he said. "I don't know about that, for I was not there, but I do know this that I never made application to join the thing. A preacher and a banker took me up in the Masonic hall and took me through," he said. "I attended three meetings of the Klan and then quit for I saw what I had gotten into and when Barnes tells you that I was blackballed by the Klan, he is either violating a solemn oath he took when he joined to keep such things secret or he is falsifying."

"Barnes is asking you people for a second term, but his hair will be as white as the driven snow before he is even county attorney or any other officer in this county again," Judkins said. "He got his first office by fraud for if he had not gone about the county telling people that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan when he was, he would never have been elected county attorney. There are fifty people here tonight who voted for you last time that would not have done so had you told them the truth," he said.

PRICE CUTTING SEEN AS EVIL TO BE ABOLISHED

A joke that was an old standby in vaudeville some years ago had it that a customer breezed into a store and inquired absent mindedly, "How much are your five-cent cigars?" But that was in the days before price-cutting became so universal, or it wouldn't have seemed like a joke at all.

Today, however, the retail prices on standard articles vary so widely that it is regarded by many economists as an evil in business which must be eliminated. Of the proposed legislation to remedy the situation, the Merritt bill, under consideration by congress, is widely regarded as a step in the right direction, reports a writer in Good Hardware.

Some of the features of the bill, as mentioned in this article are:

1. The bill would allow the manufacturer to establish a fair retail price for his article, to be observed by all retailers handling it.
2. The manufacturer could establish a price for each class of distributor. If he should want to set one retail price for the merchant who gives his customers delivery, and another price for the retailer who does not provide service, that would be left with the manufacturer to decide and announce.
3. He could refuse to take orders from any retailer who would not abide by the fair retail price at which the manufacturer wished his goods to be sold.

4. No manufacturer who did not want to establish a retail price for his article would have to. The bill makes it optional, a privilege to be used by those manufacturers who might want to avail themselves of it.

Supporters of the bill feel that the Merritt bill, if passed, would work out for the good of the merchant, the wholesaler and the customer.

Olden Victor Over Breckenridge, 2 to 0; Play Again Today

BRECKENRIDGE, June 21.—Olden playing at Breckenridge, scratched, clawed and fought their way to a 2 to 0 victory over Breckenridge yesterday. The game was fast and hard fought all the way through, with Koch having the edge in the pitchers' battle over Blankenship. "Red" Posefson of Olden went on the war path and cracked out four hits in as many trips to the plate. White's bat spelled misery for the Dynamos when he slammed out a home run.

The two teams will mix it again today and Olden will try to make it two straight, according to reports from their headquarters. Breckenridge men think that today will tell a different tale in the score.

RANGER CATCHES UP WITH AND GOES AHEAD OF CISCO IN THE EIGHTH INNING, WINNING GAME

The eighth inning spelled misery for Cisco when Ranger got her wrecking crew started and made the score 7 to 5, which meant another game lost for the Ciscoites. The game was a toss-up until the eighth, the score being 4 and 4. In the eighth Hensley started the fireworks with a three-bagger to left field, Scroggins and McCasland singled and Ridings sacrificed bringing in three runs and making Cisco the goats once more.

Cisco fought all the way and did not give up until the last man was out. Henson, pitching good ball until the eighth, held the Nitros to four runs but could not stand the pace.

Ridings, while rather wild at times, had only one bad inning, striking out 12 men. The Nitro infield put up a stone wall of defense despite the handicap of having a changed crew. G. Ridings on first, Lory on second and McCasland on third, with Dinsmore in his regular place at short held the Ciscoites.

The two teams will play again today at 3:30 at Nitro park with Weatherford starting the game and Hensley on the receiving end. Cisco is out for blood and the game today promises to be a tight affair.

Thurber Wins From Parks Camp, 7 to 5; Play Again Today

THURBER, June 21.—Thurber stopped the fast moving Parks Camp aggregation Saturday at Thurber, giving them the short end of a 7 to 5 score. The game was fast and hard fought all the way through, with Thurber pounding Steadman steadily all the way. Steadman was chased to the showers in the eighth but Purvis who attempted to stop the Miners was out of luck. Hudspeth held the Texaco Stars down, but a ninth inning rally netting two runs came near putting him under.

Thurber again ties up with Parks Camp today at 3:30 and reports from the Miner camp are that they will make it a pair from Parks.

ed to an hour's talk without being able to tell what the speaker was driving at. He said that he did not believe that the people of Eastland county were especially interested in lawsuits which Stubblefield had tried in the past and was not able to get to the jury with, and in which the judgments were sustained by all of the higher courts.

He said he was not familiar with all of the details of the suits which Stubblefield had related, but he knew that in one of the cases Stubblefield had insisted upon 120 assignments of error and that the higher courts said that not one of them was good. He said that if he ever made 120 assignments of error in any lawsuit and the higher courts should hold that not one of them was good he would quit the practice of law.

McCarthy referred to Stubblefield's denial that he was a clansman and said that when one publicly announced he was neither a clansman nor an anti-clansman, it was safe to conclude that his heart was with the clan, for that one who did not believe in and approve of the clan and its practices was bound to be against the clan. He asked why, if the clan was not the issue in this campaign, it was that so many of the leading clansmen of Eastland were present, and called upon Mr. Stubblefield to tell at whose instance he came there to reply to an anti-klan speech.

Defends Joe Burkett.
McCarthy criticized Stubblefield for what he termed his unwarranted attack upon Senator Burkett and said that he had been associated with Mr. Burkett as a law partner for more than two years and knew him to be a man of honor and integrity and said he believed the people of Eastland county, who had known Senator Burkett so long, believed in him. He referred to the fact that Senator Burkett was making a wonderful campaign for the gubernatorial nomination and said, if elected governor, he would perform the duties of the office honestly and fearlessly and that his administration would reflect credit upon himself and the people who elected him.

COUNTIES CANNOT ASSESS STATE OFFICE CANDIDATES

WACO, June 21.—No county democratic executive has the right to levy assessments on any candidate for state office, Joe W. Hale, secretary of the state democratic executive committee said here tonight.

"In my opinion any county committee that refuses or fails to put on the official ballot the name of any candidate certified to them by the state chairman, would invalidate the election in that county in so far as the candidates for that particular office are concerned."

Patterson Visits Ranger Which Soon Is To Be His Home

C. C. Patterson, recently elected secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, was in Ranger for a little while yesterday. He is closing up his work in Strawn, his home for the last several years, and expected to come to Ranger to take hold of his duties here about July 1.

Mr. Patterson has the reputation of being a hard worker. He has pleasing manner, is thoroughly posted on chamber of commerce work, knows this territory, both within and outside of Eastland county, and is expected to prove a great asset for Ranger. He is now looking for a suitable home here to which to move his family.

MAROONED IN DESERT.
EL PASO, June 21.—With only a few biscuits between them and no bedding, Rev. Fr. O'Leary and 35 altar boys of St. Patrick's cathedral spent the night on the desert sands near Orogrande when their five automobiles were disabled because of punctures. Orogrande with only two houses, could not accommodate the party.

EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION COMMITTEE VOICES THANKS

Appreciation "to our white friends" is voiced by the Ranger "June-teenth" committee, J. H. Warmisley, J. W. Smith, Grant Wyatt and T. W. Williams, in a statement in which it is said:

"We the committee for the June-teenth emancipation celebration of Ranger take this method of showing our appreciation and thanks to our white friends for their assistance in helping us to put over the biggest program that has ever been put on by the colored citizens of Eastland county."

WANDERER DISAPPOINTED BECAUSE HIS WIFE HAS GONE

PORT ARTHUR, June 21.—After 18 years wandering in vain in search of the fortune he felt he must surely win some day, John Newton returned to Port Arthur to find the wife and daughter he left when he started on his wanderings, gone.

No one was able to tell where the young wife and baby of nearly 20 years ago had gone. Mrs. Newton, with money earned over the wash-board, left several years ago with her child.

Broken-hearted and disappointed, Newton told friends he intended to continue his search—not now for the fortune of gold but for the wife and daughter he left behind.

VISITOR FINDS MUCH IN RANGER TO ADMIRE AND SPEAKS HIS MIND

J. P. Hodge, Texas representative of a map company, visiting Ranger yesterday, said it was the coolest city he had found anywhere in Texas, and also one of the most delightful. "You have splendid streets here," he said,

"most attractive business houses and delightful dwelling houses and home places. I like the people here and in every way have found Ranger most charming."

Mr. Hodge said the only comment he had to make on Ranger that might be taken as a criticism was the pond of stagnant water near the railroad station, water that collected after a rainfall and for which the only outlet appeared to be upward as the sun was inclined to draw it. "It looks like a good breeding place for mos-the venture was started, and the Logan was bought and brought here.

Nothing remains of it now but the hull. The wreckers have stripped everything else from it. And though Candler at the time he sold the ship declared he had not abandoned his idea, what is left of the Logan seems to ponder forlornly on the brilliant history it just missed making when it went to the junk pile.

Plans Are Elaborate.

The teaching staff was to be drawn from the foremost universities of the country. A powerful radio was to keep the ship in constant communication with land. A daily paper was to be printed. Candler planned to send his own son on the first trip.

The Logan was sent to the Bethlehem shipyards for reconditioning. Candler, with Prof. Zebulon Judd, dean of the school, came here to look at the work early last year.

But then it was found that the work was going to cost a great deal of money. Then some troubles developed for Candler and finally the ship which was to house the floating college was sold last spring for junk.

FOREST FIRES CLAIM VALUABLE TIMBER IN TWO WESTERN STATES

By United Press.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 21.

Forest fires in the Indian reservation in the Sitzeras region, have laid bare about 1,000 acres of pine timber and were still beyond control early today. The finest white pine timber in Arizona is threatened with destruction. Other forest fires in widely scattered areas of New Mexico and Arizona are now under control and have done little damage.

High winds continue and the absence of rain leaves the timber in condition to fall an easy prey to flames. Every forest ranger is being worked double time to prevent fires.

Dismantled Hull Marks the End Of Two Men's Dreams

By United Press.

BALTIMORE, June 21.—The dismantled hull of the old army transport Logan lies on the beach at the H. C. Cook Shipbuilding company, at Fairfield, the last tangible evidence of the dream of two men.

The beached skeleton of any ship symbolizes the end of the dream of some man. But the hull of the Logan is a graveyard of a more grandiose dream than those that are buried in most ships. It was to be the first of a fleet of palatial floating colleges in which the sons of wealthy men would travel as they studied.

Had the dream of Asa G. Candler Jr., son of the "coca-cola king" of Atlanta, Ga., and Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlantic schools, not gone the way of so many others, the Logan would be now steaming towards port, with the first term of the college almost over.

Candler Buys Ship.
It was almost two years ago that Candler bought the ship for $180,000 and had her brought here for refitting. With the millions which the popularity of his soft drink had brought to his father, young Candler planned to finance the first of a number of "floating colleges."

The idea was originally that of Sutton. As a boy, Mr. Sutton had studied geography with the aid of a globe on which the countries of the world were only queer patches of different colors. But this method of study was not satisfactory to him and gradually the idea of a floating college which would touch at all points on the globe grew in his mind.

It was his belief that a good education could be combined with travel to the great benefit of the student, and he convinced Candler that his plan was practical.

NEW OPEN GOLF CHAMPION WINS DESPITE STRAIN

Cyril Walker Lacks Physique, but Makes It Up in Brains and Gameness.

By FRANK GETTY
NEW YORK, June 18.—A hip-pocket size "pro" is our new open golf champ.
But what little Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., lacks in physique he makes up in gameness.
New golfers ever achieved the open title under a mental handicap such as the diminutive star overcame.
One of a field of 84 crack professionals and amateurs who met in championship play over the long and difficult course at Oakland Hills in June, Walker drew a late starting time for the closing day's play.
As a result, throughout the entire nine holes of his final round, he was subjected to a handicap which has beaten many a famous golfer. He knew just what he had to beat.
Every time Walker was in trouble he had to figure.
"Jones is in with 300 and I've played so and so and if I miss this and take a par four on the next, etc., etc."

The gallery was counting, too, with every stroke.
But little Walker plugged right ahead. A day before the tournament started, few had figured him as a strong contender. At the end of the first day's play he was up with the leaders, but it wasn't until the end of his morning round on the closing day that the New Jersey "pro" loomed up as the darkest of dark horses, threatening Bobby Jones' title.
Walker's last nine holes were played with consummate courage, but there was one shot that sticks out, and which will go down in golfing history.
The sixteenth hole at Oakland Hills is a terror. It was the bane of existence to a majority of the field this year, and at the bottom of the water hazard which traps many a second shot, lies a ball of Walker Hagen's, marking the spot where Hagen cracked and threw away his chances.
No. 16 is a nasty water hole, the hazard coming on the second shot. A long drive and a second shot equally long are necessary to effect a par four.
Walker had an advantage of one stroke over Jones at this point. Par golf would bring him in victor.
His drive was off to the right, badly placed. There was the green, with the treacherous water hazard intervening, a high wind whistling across the fairway. To the right of the green were some bunkers, to which Walker could play, chancing a five and making of his stroke advantage, rather than risk six or seven from a sunken ball.
The new champion hesitated, fiddled with a mid-iron, then with a driving iron. Finally he set himself and played his shot straight for the pin. It soared over the yawning water and rolled and rolled, right up to the cup, stopping just eight feet short. Walker said never a word, sank the putt for a three and put the title in his pocket right then and there.
It is always a source of satisfaction to professionals when a "pro" takes the open title. It means so much money to him, a year's occupation as an exhibition player and other material advantages, whereas to an amateur it brings a little glory.
However, no amateur ever won the title twice in succession. Quimet tried, Travers tried, Chick Evans tried. Jones, finishing second, came closer than any of them.
This was Walker's first title. He was twenty-third in last year's open with a card of 314. In the professional golfers' championship that year he was eliminated by Jim Barnes, 8 to 6, in the third round.

LIONS TO OPEN CONVENTION IN OMAHA, MONDAY

Dr. H. A. Logsdon and Robert Bates Representing Ranger and Eastland.

Dr. H. A. Logsdon and family left Ranger last week, driving through to Omaha, Nebraska, to attend the International Association of Lions clubs annual convention, which opens tomorrow. Dr. Logsdon will represent the Ranger Lions club, as F. A. Brown, city water commissioner was unable to attend.
Robert Bates, now of Eastland, will represent the Eastland club and passed through here Friday enroute for Omaha.
Every one of nearly 800 Lions clubs of the United States and Canada is entitled to send delegates to take part in the deliberations and plan the work of all Lions for the next year. Omaha expects between 3,000 and 4,000 delegates and visitors.
This is only the eighth annual convention of the Lions international, for it is the youngest of all the service clubs; yet Lions have won a high reputation everywhere for their good work. Their purpose is to build better citizens. They attain this in various ways, but their methods always include such fundamentals as co-operation with the local chamber of commerce, the city and county officers, churches, school boards, and especially by helping such organizations of youth as Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.
Each Lions club is a highly important factor in its own community, partly because it is made up of the best men, working with no selfish end for the good of the whole community, and partly because it is an integral part of the great Lions international, made up of 40,000 such men, all giving their prestige, their time, their energy, to back up the work of each individual club.
For this reason the deliberations of the delegates at Omaha this week are of deep interest not only to this city, but to every community in the United States and Canada—for the good influence of the Lions club extends far beyond the confines of its home town.

Price Of Gasoline Down In Georgia To 24 Cents a Gallon
By United Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The retail price of gasoline at service stations of the five largest companies dropped 2 cents a gallon this morning. The cut was first put into effect by the Standard Oil company and was followed quickly by others, with indications that it would be general before night. The price is now 24 cents a gallon here.
A further reduction of 2 cents a gallon might be made soon, officials of some of the companies said.

AUSTRALIAN PASTOR URGES INTERNATIONALISM
NEW YORK, June 21.—"You can't be a 100 per cent American unless you are a good internationalist," is the assertion of the Rev. Dr. J. E. James, pastor of a Congregational church in Melbourne, Australia, who is visiting here.
"Dr. James said Australia's impression of America is all wrong because: The only news they get concerns the more artificial side. They hear of Jack Dempsey and Mary Pickford, of divorce scandals and our fondness for bananas as told in a certain song. He said cablegrams were called "fablegrams" in Australia.
Dr. James said the next war would be in the Pacific with Australia as the conqueror's objective.

HAGAMAN LAKE WATERSHED DUE FOR CLEAN-UP

Area of 25 Square Miles Drained and Part of It Needs Attention.

The Hagaman lake watershed from which the town of Ranger gets its water supply is due for a clean-up, the city board of commissioners decided at a recent meeting. F. A. Brown, city water commissioner, informed the commission that E. V. Ehlers, state sanitary engineer, told him Ranger had a dirty watershed, and something should be done.
The watershed takes in a portion of Ranger and extends south of the town to the edge of Cooper addition, east of town to the first range of hills, about three miles from town, west to Eastland hill and Ranger heights, and north to Bullock. This is approximately 25 square miles.
This is one of the largest watersheds in this part of the state, it is claimed, and there is no reason why, with the proper filtration of the water and sanitary methods used in watershed district, Ranger should not have sufficient water pure enough for all purposes, including drinking.
Wade Swift was instructed to make an inspection of the watershed district controlled by the city authorities and to take whatever action was necessary to make it sanitary. Mr. Brown told the city commissioner that if the city did not put the watershed in a sanitary condition the state would do it for them and that would mean considerable financial outlay as it would cost the city a great deal more money if the state did the work than if it was done by the city.

IMPROMPTU AID FOR GERMANY'S BABES
BERLIN, June 21.—George Meade an American, with the aid of two American girls, stepped into the breach and succeeded in raising $1,250 with a concert aboard the steamer "Reliance," after three German singers, of the Metropolitan opera, Sigrid Onegin, Maria Roguen and Kurt Tauscher had refused to give a benefit performance for starving German children. The proceeds of the concert were turned over to Jules Dalber, who is now seeking a worthy charity where he can deposit the money without part of it being wasted for expenses of charity workers.
