Motorists Cautioned On School Safety

With tomorrow, Monday, being the first day of the 1970-71 session of school in Muleshoe, Superintendent of the Muleshoe School System Neal Dillman and local law enforcement officers stress the importance of safety.

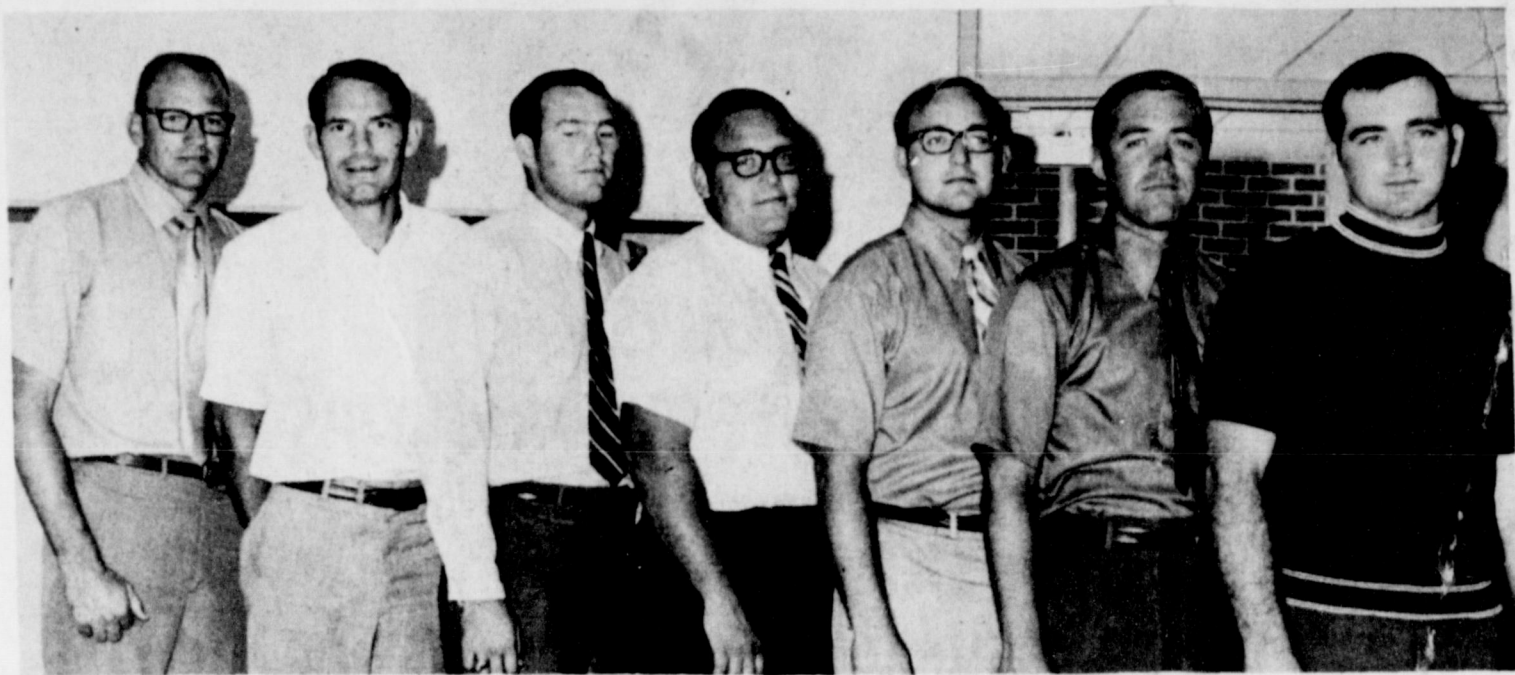

They remind that due to the large number of students who will be on the streets and sidewalks on their way to school between 8 and 8:45 a.m.; on their way to lunch or returning from lunch between 11:30 and 1 p.m., and following school in the afternoon from 3 to 4 p.m., extra precaution should be taken by area motorists.

Many of the students will be youngsters who will be turned loose to walk to school for the first time without adult supervision, added the officials, and they may not be as careful as they perhaps could be as they cross streets and play on the way to and from school.

City Manager Albert Field said a crossing guard will be on duty during peak school hours at the Fourth Street and Highway 84 crossing and the crossing lights at Highway 84 and West Eighteenth Street will be working.

Motorists are also cautioned to watch for school buses loading and unloading on the streets, roads and highways. Some 15 buses will be on three roads five days a week, and several hundred students use this mode of transportation to and from school each day. There are stringent laws for violations of school bus regulations. All motorists are cautioned to watch for the red flashing lights of stopped buses and to observe the laws. All vehicles are required, by law, to stop when a bus is loading and unloading. After stopping, the vehicle may proceed slowly using due caution, said local officers.

School bus drivers have been instructed to take the license number of vehicles violating the school bus regulations. Violators will be filed on in the justice of the peace court and

Sam Payton and Sharon Wittner. The coaches were on hand Friday night at Benny Douglass for a Muleshoe Mule-Morton Indian scrimmage. The Mules have problems to work out, but they looked good in the scrimmage. They will scrimmage with Littlefield Friday, September 4 at 7 p.m. at Littlefield.

Season Tickets Still On Sale Through Week

The sale of the 1970 football season tickets for the five home games is still underway at this time, said Merl Brown of the school business administration office.

Persons who would like to pick up their options for their last years reserved seat tickets may do so at Western Drug before September 7 when the remaining tickets will be available on a first come-first served basis.

The cost of season tickets for the five home games will be $10 and reserve seats will be $2.50 each after the football season begins.

Brown said he may be contacted at the school business office for further information concerning the reserved seat tickets.

U of T Group Gives Program On Integration

'Mesa Verde '70' was the theme of a most unusual program presented by several faculty members from the University of Texas at Austin. The group was from the Texas Educational Desegregation Technical Assistance Center at the University, and provided a day and a half training at the teacher in-service workshops being held in Muleshoe.

They began the discussion by showing a film, then presented a mythical skit, depicting some of the problems encountered by teachers when they have mixed ethnic groups in their classes. Following the presentation, the discussion groups, with a group leader, attempted to pin point the mistakes made by the teacher in the skit.

Lack of communication and understanding was stressed during the sessions, with the teacher being shown the method of coping with the various problems which arise when more than one ethnic group is involved.

The U of T group covered various phases and problems which arise and presented workable solutions.

Burel Block Shows Chile Tour Slides

In a backyard installation service, Burel Block became the newest member of the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday evening. The installation followed a covered dish dinner at the Harvey Bass home. Both Rotary members and Rotary-Anns attended the dinner and program that followed.

Installing officer Olan Burrows told the group present that the Rotary Club is the original civic club in America. He commented that other service clubs followed Rotary, often patterned after the Rotary.

Following the installation, and before Burel Block spoke to the group about his summer tour in Chile, South America, Burrows introduced Jesse Clemmons, who will be attending James Connally Tech at Waco on a Rotary scholarship presented by the Muleshoe Rotarians. Jesse said he plans to study electronics.

Block began his program by explaining how the trip was sponsored by Rotary International and said that more than 140 countries have Rotary Clubs. He added that the purpose of the tour was to create better understanding between Chilean and American people.

Interspersing slides and colorful, descriptive comments Block told and showed Chile -- the country -- the people -- the industry -- the agriculture -- and inter-relating events.

Beginning with the capitol building in Chile, he depicted the changing of the guard, impressive and colorful. From the capitol building, he moved to a Chilean rodeo, then to a massive shoe factory. Block said Chile was probably more industrialized than we realize, as he next showed a large textile mill.

In the textile mills, Block said he watched as Texas cotton was woven into shirts and other materials. In a fiber-board mill, Block saw fiber-board being produced which he commented cost more to make than it was worth.

One slide showed profiles of Lenin (who is called Christ of Communism) depicted on campus at the University of Concepcion. Concepcion is a Chilean city of some 40,000 people which was the largest city he visited while on the tour. Although the largest city in Chile is Santiago with two to three million people, Block did not visit that city, as it was out of the district he toured.

At the University of Concepcion, Block commented that several departments in the university teach nothing but communism. Communism has been recognized and legalized. Along the tour, Block took a picture of a communist flag on display in a large department store in Concepcion.

Referring to Chile as the second Switzerland of the World, he told of the mountain area, where the Andes Mountains extend down the back of Chile. Cont'd. on Page 3, Col. 3

Streets Blocked In School Hours

Beginning Monday, streets between two school locations will be blocked during school hours.

West Avenue G, between Muleshoe High School and Muleshoe Junior High School, will be blocked during school hours on a two block area. On the north side of Mary DeShazo Elementary School, a half area block of West Avenue C will be blocked from the alley to West Fourth Street.

The Muleshoe school superintendent, Neal Dillman, said the streets are blocked as a precautionary measure for school children traversing between buildings and playgrounds.

Spider Mites Attack Plains Area Sorghum

Spider mites are attacking sorghum over the High Plains, according to a survey conducted by the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers. Heavy concentrations are found in some fields north and west of Lubbock. Mites cause leaf deterioration, yield reductions and lodging.

They appear to build up faster on plants in the milk stage to maturity, according to the report. Mites are small insects which are difficult to see with the naked eye. Their presence can be detected by a webbing on the underside of the leaf. However, this is the advanced stage of infestation and control becomes more difficult. They are sucking insects and release a toxin material into the leaf as they suck the plant fluids.

Little information is known as to what control measures are available and the chemical procedure which will produce the best results. In some areas, chemicals have made spraying useless. Based on field observations, it appears that chemicals are giving initial control, said a spokesman for TGSPB, but the chemicals may have little control over new hatches. As a result, he added, more than one spraying will be required in order to break the cycle.

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers' Board is conducting trials in cooperation with aerial applicators, chemical companies and Texas Tech University to help find the best control methods for the present time.

TGSPB said they cannot make any definite recommendations except that keeping fields adequately irrigated will help and some commercial chemicals and sprays will aid the control of the insects.

Drugs Not Problem Here, Say Officers

Massive Drug Raid Held In Plainview

Members of the school board of the Muleshoe Independent School District held a special meeting on Friday, August 28, at 6:30 a.m. in the Corral Restaurant.

During the two hour meeting, the board studied and approved the amended budget for 1969-70 and approved a contract with McCreey & Huey, attorneys at law, of Austin to collect delinquent taxes due the district.

In other action, they approved the employment of four new members to the teaching staff.

They included Mrs. Raymond (Janet) Schroeder. She will be teaching second grade at Mary DeShazo Elementary School. She has previously taught in Muleshoe; Michael Pollard, girl's basketball coach, science and history teacher at high school. He has a year teaching experience and has served with the U.S. Armed forces. Pollard is married; Samuel Payton, junior high coach and physical education teacher in junior high. He is from Oklahoma and is married and has one child; Donn Exline, for special education at Richland Hills Elementary School. He has a master's degree and has 19 years teaching experience. He is moving to Muleshoe From Elkhart, Kan.

Boating scenes and mountain scenes with snow, ice, waterfalls and lakes figured prominently in the slides presented by the Muleshoe High School Language teacher. Along the coast, his word pictures, and slides, projected to the listener and watcher typical Chilean scenes, including the sometimes comical expressions as the touring group from the United States encountered raw fish and seafood. Many seafoods are eaten raw, as a delicacy, he explained, although he and his group did not particularly care for the raw delicacies.

Showing vineyards, some with massive grapevines which he said were many years old, he said grapes for wine are Chile's principal crop. Red and white wines are served at the four daily meals in Chile and the wine produced by Chileans is consumed, for the most part, by the Chileans themselves. According to Block, the general consensus is that the large amount of wine consumption is a contributing factor to the lack of production in the country. He said that where the United States has only four percent of the population producing agricultural products, which by far exceeds the market demands, 28 percent of the Chileans cannot produce enough for their country. Meat can only be bought in the stores three days

Monday Dinner Will Honor Football Boys

Highlights of the Friday night Muleshoe Mule-Morton Indian scrimmage will be shown a group of parents, football players and fans at a covered dish dinner Monday night. The scrimmage in Benny Douglass stadium was taped for showing.

The first meeting for the 1970-71 school year Athletic Booster Club will be a covered-dish dinner meeting Monday night, August 31, at 8 p.m. at the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria.

All parents and sports fans have been urged to attend the dinner and meet the 1970 freshmen, sophomore and varsity football players and discuss the coming year with the coaching staff.

Members of the coaching staff will answer all questions concerning the athletic program. A reminder was issued that all high school football teams are to be introduced, and parents of all team members are asked to be present for the meeting.

Projects for the new school year will be discussed at the dinner.

On the heels of the massive drugnet at Plainview last weekend, many parents became concerned about the possibility of drug use in the Muleshoe, Bailey County area.

Upon questioning, Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements said he felt there was no abuse of narcotics or any great narcotics use in this area. Occasionally, according to Sheriff Clements, there are reports of the use of marijuana, but these reports are rather scattered, and scanty enough to form no pattern of use locally.

He noted that although he has received reports 'two or three' times of pill usage and sales in the area, investigation failed to turn up concrete evidence of such sales and use here.

No more than two or three persons have been treated locally, as far as the Journal has been able to determine, for drug abuse, and these have been adults rather than teenagers.

Because of the growing concern about drugs, the school faculty is planning a study of drugs, how to recognize the drugs, symptoms in users and identify as far as possible, all phases of drug use. One of the local teachers explained that although they did not feel there was a drug problem here, they would have a background to perhaps immediately stop any drug abuse which should get started around the schools.

In Plainview, residents were rocked back on their heels when an 18-month investigation by undercover narcotics agents was culminated by grand jury indictments and numerous arrests in the night on Friday and early Saturday morning.

Following the long investigation, intensive investigation began some eight months ago by officers from Texas and undercover officers from New Mexico.

The officers cited numerous instances of purchasing marijuana and pills from several Plainview residents.

According to the officers, there was no 'typical' person arrested. They said the arrested persons ranged from a street corner to a service station and from all walks of life. Most of the persons charged and jailed were teenagers and young adults.

The grand jurors in Plainview returned a total of 91 indictments against 34 persons and bonds were set in excess of one million dollars.

Indictments returned by the Grand Jury Friday night and early Saturday morning were: Linda Shepard, selling marijuana, two cases; possession of marijuana, two cases; Charles Lynn Hackler, selling marijuana, seven cases; selling LSD, one case; possession of marijuana, seven cases; Tommy Dalton, possession of marijuana, two cases; sale of marijuana, two cases; Nicanor Vallaneda, 23, 311 W. 8th, possession of marijuana, three cases; sale of marijuana, two cases; Valentin Basaldua, 28, Lockney, possession of marijuana four cases; selling marijuana, four cases;

Richard Leslie Bond, selling marijuana, one case; possession of marijuana, one case; Joe Luit Carrasco Jr., 26, Lubbock, selling marijuana, one case; possession of marijuana, two cases; Nieves Flores Diaz, selling marijuana, five cases; possession of marijuana, five cases;

Allan Warren, possession of marijuana, one case; sale of marijuana, one case; Johnny Jimenez, 18, 208 W. 3rd, possession of marijuana, one case; sale of marijuana, one case; Billy Wayne Massey, 18, 1401 Independence, possession of marijuana two cases; sale of marijuana, two cases; Manuel Flores Jr., 19, Brady, Tex., sale of marijuana, three cases; possession of marijuana, three cases; Jesse Torres, sale of marijuana, one case; possession of marijuana, one case; Roy Trevino, 19, 804 W. 6th, possession of marijuana, one case;

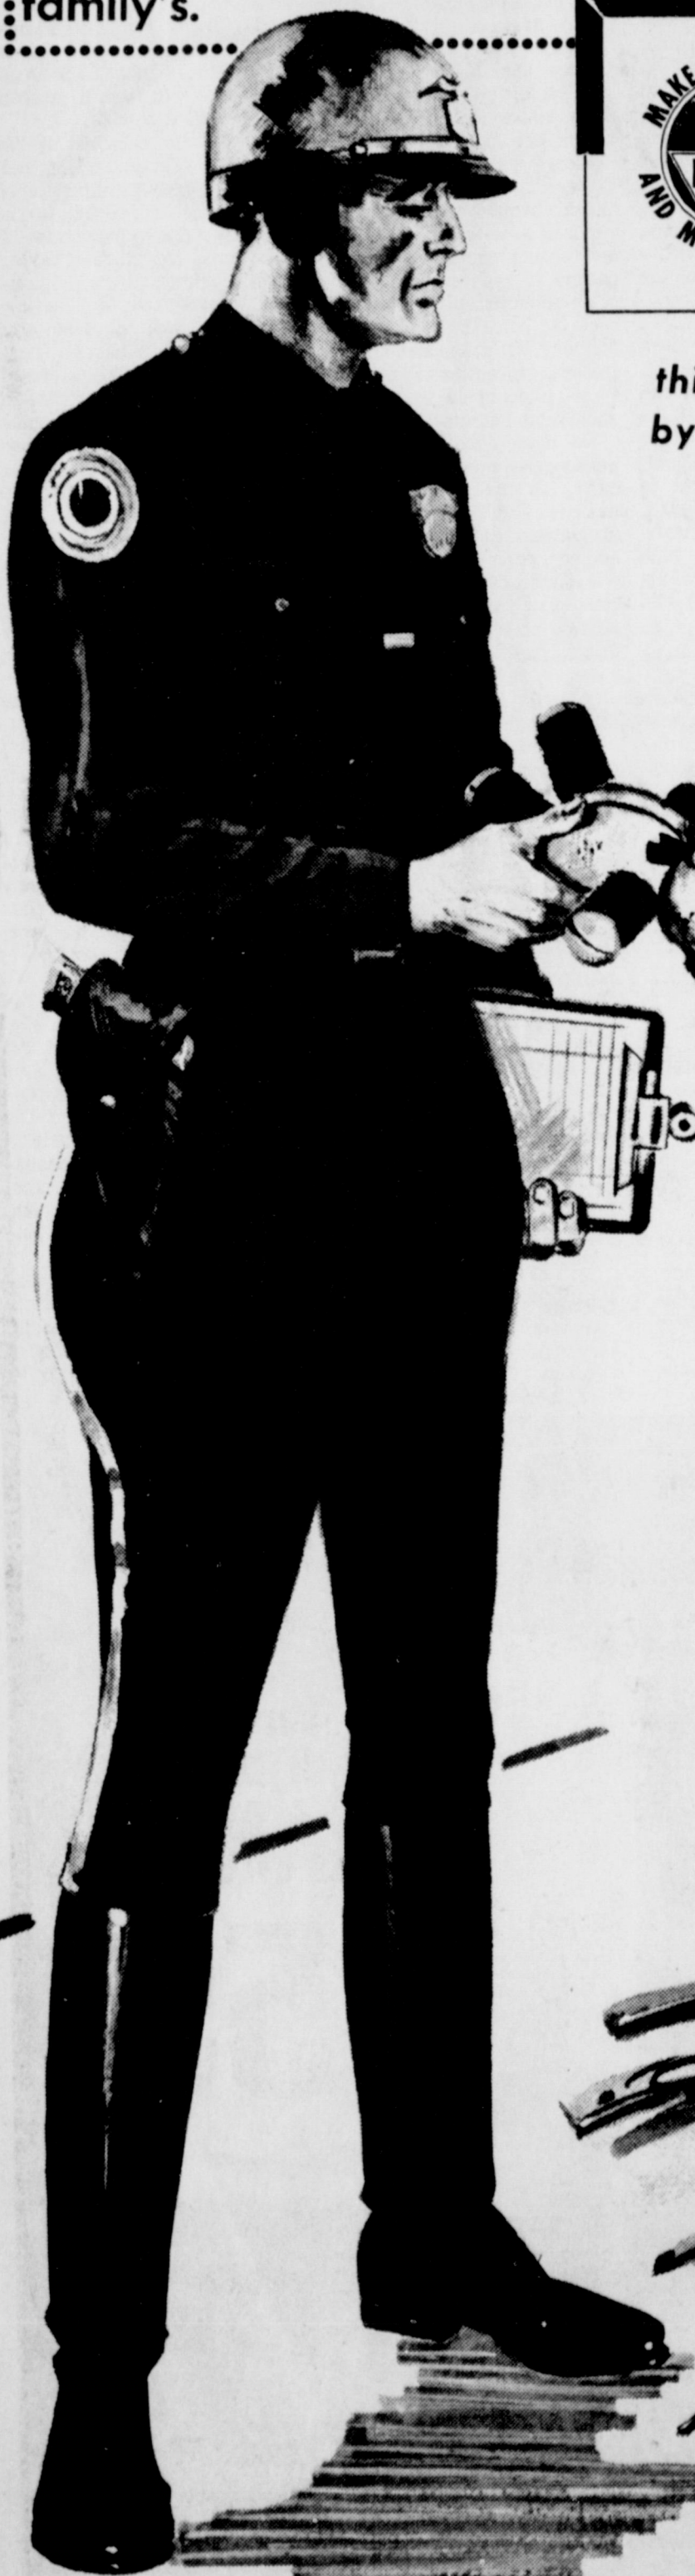

Paul Garvin 20, 2406 Galveston, possession of marijuana, one case; John Leon Dayton, 18, 1211 Kokomo, possession of marijuana, one case; Jim V. Cont'd. on Page 3, Col. 4

BLOCK TELLS OF SOUTH AMERICA'S CHILE--Burel Block, right, was special speaker at a Rotary meeting at the Harvey Bass home Tuesday night. Following a backyard dinner, he was installed as a Rotary member, then spoke on his summer tour of Chile in South America. He used slides and narrative to show the country, the people, the industry and other aspects of Chilean life. Standing at his left is his wife, Patsy.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to sincerely express my appreciation for all the kind and thoughtful expressions extended my family and myself following our recent automobile accident.

Words cannot adequately express how much we appreciated all the calls, cards, flowers, assistance and hands of friendship extended during that difficult time.

Adding that the people were courteous and friendly, he said that in one instance, after staying for four days with a family, the women of the house cried when he left.

He concluded by thanking the Muleshoe Rotary Club for making the tour possible.

Nickel seems to have magical properties when it is joined with other metals. Both nickel and low-carbon steel have tensile strengths of about 50,000 pounds per square inch. However, when nickel is added to steel in amounts ranging to 20 per cent, the result is an alloy with strengths to 350,000 psi after proper alloying and heat treatment.

"It was one place (southern part) where I felt as if I could just put on a shawl and feel right at home", she stated. "We had a wonderful time, but I am so glad to be home. Big cities are not for me."

The two were with a tourist group in Ireland when they kissed the Blarney Stone at Blarney Castle. In another Ireland Castle, they were served a medieval dinner but Mrs. Hay admits to not having thrown bones on the floor to be gnawed upon by hunting hounds as in "Merrie Old England".

In Dublin, they saw the Abbey, but were unable to make the scene at Belfast bus-wise, due to the recent friction between the Catholics and Protestants.

Since Mrs. Hay was there, things have quietened down somewhat as the two sects had to join forces in overcoming the flood damage to parts of the city. It was near Belfast that they stayed at the most beautiful castles she saw while in the Isles. Mrs. Hays said that castles and cathedrals were the order of the day for summer tourists this year; while last year the travel agency placed accent on museums and scenic sights in France and other continental countries when touring the continent. It was somewhat like overeating at Thanksgiving to have to digest the sight of many old castles and she declared that there was one on every hill. They even toured a cathedral which was being renovated, all they actually saw was the windows.

Perhaps the late president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, had the same feeling about castles as he returned the castle, given to him to make his home while in the Isles, to the Crown.

Another highlight was visiting Lock Ness and Mrs. Hay declared they didn't see the monster, but improvised one for the sake of an eight year old who had looked forward to seeing the monster.

In Scotland, they stayed at the Green Eagle and while in Edinburgh, were feted to a Scottish Banquet featuring haggish, a dish the Scots lived on during the great famine. The main ingredients were rice and ground animal entrails. "I liked it", said Mrs. Hay, "But there were some in the group who wouldn't touch it."

Highlights of their stay in England included visiting the schools of Oxford University; a visit to Liverpool; seeing the burial place of Winston Churchill and that of Cardinal Woollsey, who lost his head during the reign of King Henry VIII.

Of course, no one when in London, misses the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, just as no one while in Washington, D.C. misses the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Because her granddaughter, Laurie, is majoring in drama, they attended the theatre and saw the productions of "Charley Girl", "Fiddler on the Roof" and also the vaudeville show at the Palladium.

As to the hippie situation in London, Mrs. Hay commented: "As the English men have always worn their hair longer than the American; it was a little hard to tell one from the other. However I believe their hippies were much more uncouth than our American ones."

He said he understood it is the only deal of its kind in the state. The customer inserts the coins calling for the amount of ice he wants, waits a few seconds, and the ice rolls out in front of him with a string attached for toting. Dear Editor:

For sometime I have been casting about for a parallel that would accurately express the feelings that we have concerning the Hospital Bond Election. I found it in an article in the U.S. News & World Report, August 31, 1970 which tells about the staging of a rock festival in Wadena, Iowa (no connection with a Hospital District at all).

The promoter of the festival bought a small farm near Wadena and told the owner that it was to be converted into a dude ranch. After the festival was over the promoter was asked about deception in buying the Smith farm. He replied, "Sure, it wasn't nice, but it wasn't illegal. You know what would have happened if we had told them outright why we wanted it."

We feel that even if the election should be finally judged legal that it sure "wasn't nice" and if all the facts had been known before the election, and there had been seven boxes instead of two, the results would have been very different.

By the way, have you read the latest on the man from McCamey? In an article in the Lubbock Avalanche, Wednesday, August 9, 1970, page 5-A is a paragraph that I would like to quote.

Confusion erupted over Dalglish when it was learned he needed a kidney machine, County Attorney John Menefee said, "it isn't up to the county, it's up to the McCamey Hospital District" to see that Dalglish got proper care."

Then the final paragraph: Dalglish was finally transferred to Odessa Medical Center Hospital, but never placed on a kidney machine. (s) Richard E. Black

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
