NEW ISSUE ENTERS CAMPAIGN

Question of Military Defense Test and Effect on Preparedness vs. Militarism Arouses Leaders of Major Parties; LaFollette Silent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—There was no doubt in the minds of party leaders today that the military defense test proposed for September 12 has assumed startling political significance.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLANS TO MAKE 1924-1925 "DISARMAMENT YEAR" MEMORABLE IN HISTORY

GENEVA, Aug. 1.—With the meeting on Sept. 1 of the fifth annual assembly of the League of Nations, the latter counts on being able to whip definitely into shape the great fundamental basis for a worldwide reduction in disarmament.

In fact, the league intends that 1924-1925 shall pass down in history as "disarmament year."

The projects which the league expects to have adopted in September are the result of five years' study under the auspices of the league of the whole problem of disarmament by the leading military, naval and aerial experts, economists, financiers, governmental experts, industrialists and workmen.

In the minds of those who have handled the subject for the league the projects constitute the only practical basis on which a beginning in the reduction of armaments can be attained.

Down to Business The disarmament program, as it has now been prepared after five years of effort, and as it will be presented to the September assembly of the League of Nations, will be embodied largely in the four following projects:

- 1—The launching of an international treaty of mutual defense, conditional upon a reduction in armaments by all the signatories.
2—The summoning of an international conference for establishing a basis and limits of naval disarmament.
3—The launching of a new international treaty regulating traffic in arms and munitions and which will replace the St. Germain treaty that never became effective.
4—The launching of an international treaty placing the private manufacture of war material under the control of the government of each country.

Of the four projects, the first one constitutes the great fundamental basis for beginning the reduction of armaments. The idea which was originated by Lord Robert Cecil, based on the conviction that no state could be induced to reduce its armaments unless there was some other guarantee for its national security and that this other guarantee could only be provided through treaties of mutual defense, was drafted into the form of an international convention and adopted by the league assembly last year.

In order, however, that the whole plan might be launched upon the most practical basis possible, final action was delayed until this year's assembly, in order to give all of the governments a chance to study the project and send in their observations on the subject, as well as a declaration of just how far they are disposed to go with such a treaty.

Virtually all of these replies are now in, even non-league states like the United States, having submitted a declaration of their opinion and position on the subject. These replies will be submitted to the September assembly and will enable the latter to complete the final draft of the treaty of mutual guarantee on a basis acceptable to the largest number of nations possible, and to launch it before the assembly adjourns. Replies received to date from the various governments indicate that various aspects of the treaty will be severely attacked by various groups of states or by single governments.

For example, there will be division of opinion on whether in addition to a general international treaty of mutual defense, there may also be negotiated group, and regional agreements, such as the Little Entente and the Franco-Belgian-Polish-Slovakian defensive agreements. The French insist absolutely upon the inclusion of these group agreements in the scheme and they will certainly have the support of all other nations who have negotiated defensive alliances since the end of the war. As a consequence, the adoption of this principle of group agreements as well as a general defensive treaty, will prevail but it will be subordinated by the league to the provision that every such agreement brings with it a reduction in armaments corresponding to the amount of security and guarantee offered by the alliance.

NEGRO SERVANT OF KLAN CHIEF COMPLAINED OF Passengers In Pullman Car Object to His Presence in Berth and Say So.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 1.—Railroad officials were today investigating reports of threatened mob action on the Texas & Pacific train near the Louisiana line during the night against the occupancy of a berth in the Pullman section by the negro servant of Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan.

According to reports, the Pullman passengers advised the train conductor that the passengers were complaining of the negro in the car. At Marshall two policemen were called. Under the law, the negro is permitted in the car as a personal servant of a passenger, but not a berth. Male passengers on the train notified the negro that they would give him five minutes to leave the car or he would be thrown out.

The conductor's report showed that the upper berth was not occupied. FORT WORTH, Aug. 1.—Dr. H. W. Evans said here today that he had no knowledge of the reported objections of the passengers to the presence of the negro servant in the car.

Evans said, "I know nothing of his occupying a berth in the car. He was supposed to be traveling in the car reserved for negroes. If there was any disturbance I never knew it."

Evans is to speak here tonight at the Klan Klavern, located on North Main street.

DREAM LAND OF CRIME DIFFERS FROM REALITY

Alienist Testifies Relative to Mental Vagaries of Would-Be Master Mind.

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The object of Leopold and Loeb in killing Robert Franks was to commit the "perfect crime," Dr. Wm. A. White, Washington, D. C., alienist, testified today at the judicial hearing of Leopold and Loeb for the murder of young Franks.

Dr. White said that Loeb told him that he and Leopold had discussed committing a murder long before Franks was killed and had considered various persons, including their parents. But they decided not to kill a member of the immediate family as that would hamper their movements. The real object was to commit the "perfect crime," Dr. White said.

"The idea was for the master criminal to do a good job. It was to be thoroughly planned. There was to be no clew. An intellectual feat was to be accomplished."

The court recessed for lunch at this time. Dr. White had previously sketched the dream life of Loeb. He described the dreams he said existed in the mind of the boy. He looked upon himself as a master mind, directing great bands of criminals in an underworld. He also imagined himself a great detective and would create mind criminals to be sought out and apprehended.

Fearing that the "perfect hanging" case against Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks had been undermined by the masterly plea for mercy made late yesterday by Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, State's Attorney Crowe today completed his plans to attempt to force the youths into an asylum for the criminal insane. Crowe is determined that Leopold and Loeb shall not escape with life imprisonment, which is the aim of the defense.

Chief Justice Caverly today made his final ruling for the admissibility of medical testimony by the defense, as he did in his earlier tentative ruling. This permits Darrow to place alienists on the witness stand to show the boys were not wholly responsible for the crime, and thus convince the court the punishment should be mitigated.

Mitigation of the punishment, in the opinion of Darrow, should take the form of a sentence to life imprisonment.

Returns for State Office Nominations Not Quite All In

DALLAS, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, wife of a former governor of Texas, held her lead today over Lynch Davidson in the race to oppose Felix D. Robertson, the klan candidate for governor, in the runoff primary to be held August 23.

Mrs. Ferguson picked up 50 votes during the night and is now 6,088 votes in the lead over Lynch Davidson. The Texas election bureau announced at 10:30 o'clock this morning that 677,216 ballots out of an estimated 700,000 had been accounted for and the outstanding vote is not expected to make any material change in the returns received.

Robertson now is credited with 186, 139 votes, Mrs. Ferguson with 141,044 votes, Lynch Davidson 134,956, T. W. Davidson 118,104, Barton 28,483, Collins 25,316, Burkett 24,873, Price 16,976, Dixon 4,191.

For lieutenant governor the vote is announced: Edwards 190,820, Malone 59,521, McCall 97,227, Miller 20,263.

For attorney general, Melson 87,821, Moody 278,422, Wall 108,264, Ward 103,006.

CAR GOES INTO DITCH GETTING TORN UP AND DRIVER SUSTAINS CUTS

A Ford coupe, said to belong to Clay Daniels of Eastland, ran off the highway into the ditch between Olden and Eastland late yesterday afternoon turning a complete flip and righting itself. The car was badly torn up and wrecked.

Daniels is said to have sustained a bad cut on the head caused probably from flying glass out of the windshield and was taken to Eastland for treatment. It was thought that the driver of the car may have been dreaming and ran off into the ditch unconsciously.

LA FOLLETTE'S LIBERALISM.

Senator Robert La Follette is a curiously successful politician in more than one particular. During the past 20 years he has "fathered" some 36 important federal laws, 28 of which have been put on the statute books by either Democratic or Republican congresses. This, too, in face of the fact that every means known to man have been used to kill him off.

As an illustration of his political sagacity he has demanded equal support for every liberal running for congress or for state offices to that given his own candidacy. In every conference he has had with the men and women who have embarked upon his campaign, he has insisted that he wanted them to work just as hard for the election of candidates for other offices, who can qualify as liberals as they do for his election, as the President of the United States. That applies to the South as well as the North, to candidates running under the insignia of the Elephant or the Donkey as well as to the un-horsed independents who are now or may later come into the field.

The constant iteration of his wishes by Mr. La Follette had much to do with promoting harmony among some 26 divergent elements which hitherto have been more engrossed in dogmas than in possible success and makes it now appear that there will be a united front of all the liberal forces in the coming campaign.

PAID MEN DO OUR THINKING.

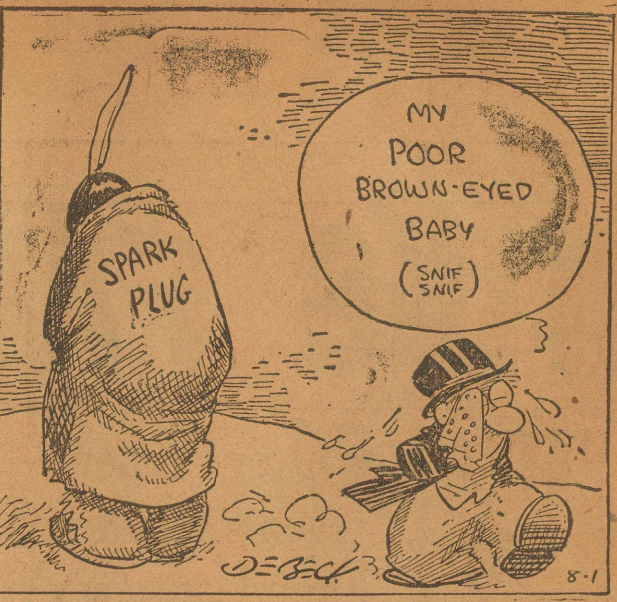

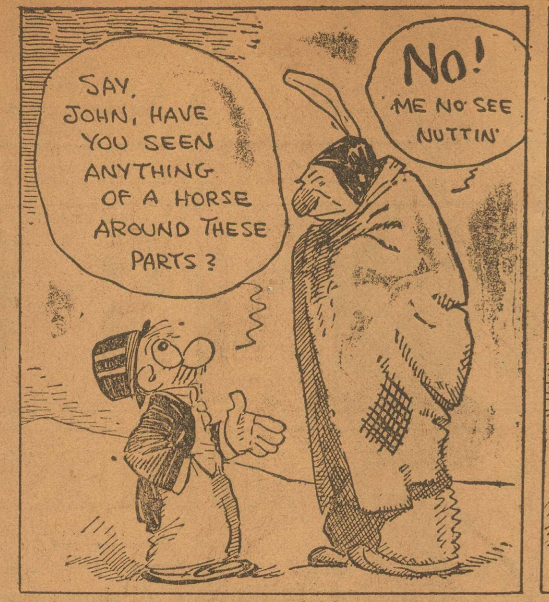

The bankers always did know all about manufacturing; now the farmers claim to know all about banking and the bankers insist that they know all about farming also; if manufacturers and retailers know half as much about politics as the average laboring man seems to know, then there ought to be no trouble anywhere.

But almost every line is invaded by "penny-a-liners," and the pity of it is that otherwise intelligent men and women swallow the nauseating effusions as a positive cure-all. Our thinking apparatus is limited to a very small personal cycle. Its too hard work and said to be dangerous—hence let the penny-a-liner do it—he gets paid for his work.

Recognizing that a warless world cannot be brought about by wishing, the Federal Council of Churches has issued a call for "practical action" an appeal to churchmen to insist on congress adopting constructive international policies, an appeal which through local congregations, reaches more than 20,000,000 church members, who are asked to express their convictions by their votes.

PICKERING LUMBER CO. IMPROVES OFFICES AND YARDS IN EASTLAND

The Pickering Lumber company, which recently purchased the lumber business in Eastland owned by the Clem Lumber company, has just completed the erection of new offices and yards on North Lamar street to which place they moved from their former location on North Seamon street.

The Pickering Lumber company has a number of yards in this section of the state, but nowhere do they carry a more complete line than at Eastland, where they have just spent more than $3,000 in remodeling and improving their office and yards.

Frank T. Crowell, local manager of the company, is one of the most popular young business men in the city and is a valuable asset to his company. F. E. Maxedon, former local manager and present district manager with headquarters at Fort Worth, is also an enthusiastic booster for this city and has many business and social friends in the city. Both Crowell and Maxedon are firm believers in Eastland's future, as is evidenced by their company spending the money they have spent in permanent improvements here.

VOTERS THANKED.

I am profoundly grateful to the voters of Eastland county for the cordial support given me in the primary last Saturday. From the best information available I came within about 125 votes of the highest man, there being three in the race, which is a much larger vote than I expected in the first primary, especially in view of the fact that many opponents had been actively campaigning several months when I entered the race.

To each and every one who so loyally supported me, I extend to you my sincere and heartfelt thanks and respectfully ask for a continuation of your valued support in the run-off primary, August 23, 1924, and to those who for any reason did not support me, I respectfully solicit your support in the next primary.

Respectfully,
 C. L. (CLYDE) GARRETT,
 Candidate for Judge, County Court-at-Law.

EASTLAND CITY MANAGER TO BE WATER SUPERINTENDENT

At a meeting of the city commission Thursday night an order was passed for an election to be held August 23 to select a member of the commission to succeed V. T. Seaberry, who resigned some weeks ago.

An order was also passed abolishing the office of water superintendent, which position was held by J. N. Corley. The duties of this office will now be performed by the city manager. This will effect a saving of $1,800 or more per year to the city, it is stated.

Jack Williamson, John Knox, Sr., and Eugene Day were appointed as a board of equalization for the city.

Men and Boys Find Ability to Cook Is Frequently Useful

By MARY I. BARBER
 Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
 Why should boys know how to cook? From the practical point of view there are many times when the ability to get a meal will be most welcome. In the daughterless family, when mother is ill or away, why should not father and the boys be able to prepare breakfast, at least—and to leave the kitchen in good order afterwards?

From an educational point of view, learning to cook develops certain powers of observation, the senses of taste and smell, and an appreciation of the ingenuity and skill it takes to turn out a finished meal at the right time.

Many men take pride in the way they can manage a camping party—building and keeping the fires, frying the bacon, boiling the coffee and even flapping the flapjacks or baking biscuits. But this efficiency is often lost when they enter the doors of their homes.

Meal preparation has been made easy for us by the food manufacturers. If our emergency shelf is well stocked, a balanced meal can be achieved with a can opener and some sauce pans.

For breakfast, prunes from the can, corn flakes from the package, codfish balls from the can, toast, and coffee will form a satisfying meal; for lunch, canned vegetable soup, canned Welsh rabbit on crackers, tea, and crisp cookies from a tin box. For dinner, open a can of assorted hors d'oeuvres if you wish to stimulate the appetite. The main course may be creamed chicken, macaroni with cheese, baked beans, kippered herring, or cold tongue—all of which comes canned. Round this out with a can of lime beans (to take the place of potatoes) and a can of spinach. For dessert there is nothing better than a can of mixed fruit which has been thoroughly chilled.

Knowledge of right combination of foods is important. A rule to follow for each meal is:

One food for heat (starches, fats, and sugars)
 One food for meat (meat, eggs, cheese, fish, milk or legumes).
 Some foods to keep us feeling fit

In camp or at home, you can't beat Kellogg's Corn Flakes for a breakfast treat. Only the genuine have that flavor. Get Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

OLDEN AND THURBER WILL PLAY AT THURBER SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

THURBER, Aug. 1.—Olden will play the local club of the Oil Belt league here Saturday and Sunday. Olden has one of the strongest teams in the Oil Belt league, and is now leading the second half of the schedule. Olden also finished at the top in the first half. The Thurber baseball club recently strengthened its line-up and is confident of winning one or both of these games. At present, Thurber occupies third place in the percentage column, but is putting forth every effort to win the second half in order to play Olden for the league pennant at the end of the season.

OLGA PETROVA & ADA G. CANLER. JOHN D. STEWART & J. P. MORGAN

Before sailing for a vacation in Europe, J. P. Morgan denied that the American bankers are attempting to dictate to the Allies regarding the settlement of the Dawes plan for securing reparations from Germany. John D. Stewart, of New York City, has announced his candidacy for governor of New York, if the people "demand" that he run. Ada G. Canler, multi-millionaire Coca-Cola king of Atlanta, Ga., who is suing her second wife for divorce, is said to have settled $50,000 on her in lieu of alimony, and she is reported to have agreed not to fight his divorce suit in which he charges cruelty. In deference to the wishes of her husband, Dr. John D. Stewart, of New York, Olga Petrova, motion picture actress, who has just returned from a tour of Europe, has refused to have her hair bobbed.

CHILD CRIMINALS MADE BY PRACTICE OF CRUELTY

"Teach kindness and practice kindness," says a writer on "Humane Education" in the Journal of Education, continuing: "Stories of children even committing murder are reported in the newspapers. A casual reader and a teacher were discussing child criminals. Finally the teacher said: 'The one thing most needed today is real humane education in all schools and families. Kindness to animals is the first lesson for the very youngest, and afterwards kindness to playmates, parents, teachers, and to all people. It would pay society well.' More than twenty years ago, an English writer, Honor Morton, wrote: 'The cure for the child criminal is to cease training him up in the belief in violence and the right of the stronger to assault the weaker. You may be sure that the child who has often been whipped, will later in life naturally apply the only argument taught him practically, and may in due course assault both people and animals, and be hauled up in the police court and swell the list of crimes. If we could once recognize the folly of teaching violence, and the de-stability of keeping a child from taking the first downward step, the monstrosity of the child criminal might vanish. Abolish all whipping. Institute child's courts. Teach temperance. Do not congregate criminals together, for moral disease is as contagious as physical disease. The barracks system is to be deprecated. People were meant to live in families not herds. In Australia the child criminal is boarded out on a farm; it is cheap, and it has exterminated 'hooligans.'

PEOPLE WHO WERE ONCE GOOD LOOKING A heartrending and yet interesting thing happened in a downtown store when a middle-aged lady got into a loud argument with a clerk. "I know what I want," she kept saying. "I have tried all those other things, but I know from what I saw it do for some friends of mine that it is Black and White Ointment which gets rid of these pimples and blotches. I was just as pretty as any girl when I was young, but I got careless and now I am in the fix you see." So many people are now insisting on Black and White Ointment, and Black and White Soap, to get rid of pimples, blotches, eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm, "breaking out," etc., because they see and hear of the thousands of others who now know they can depend upon it. And they are more economical, too. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and Soap.—Advertisement.

A GOOD LAXATIVE Black-Draught Recommended by an Illinois Lady, Who Says It Helps Her.—"Fine for the Liver." St. Elmo, Ill.—"I have used Black-Draught for three years," says Mrs. J. W. Boyd, a well-known member of this community. "I was visiting a friend who had used it for some time. I was in need of a laxative and I had a burning in my stomach. I was constipated. She gave me a dose of Black-Draught and it helped me, so I used it from then on. It certainly benefited me. I think it is fine for the liver, too. I am glad to recommend it. "One day our pastor was visiting us, and he said his system seemed clogged and asked me to give him something to take. I gave him Black-Draught. He was much pleased with the results and bought a package, himself." Constipation forces the system to absorb poisons that should be thrown out, causing pain, discomfort and tending to undermine your health. Black-Draught helps to relieve this condition by acting on the bowels, and by regulating the liver when it is torpid, thus helping to drive out many poisons in an easy, natural way. Don't take chances! At the first indication of constipation, take Black-Draught. Costs only a cent a dose. Your local druggist, or dealer, sells Black-Draught. NC-158

Moderate Eating Aid in Summer Time To Bodily Health DENTON, Texas, Aug. 1.—The bodily health of the average individual can be maintained to far better advantage during hot weather by lessened indulgence at the dinner table, according to a statement made by Miss Margaret Gleason, director of the household arts department at the College of Industrial Arts. Abstinence from fatty foods is especially recommended for summer months. One of the functions of food, Miss Gleason points out, is to maintain the bodily temperature. This office, she said, is obviously largely superfluous during hot weather, and as a result the body is clogged with useless food that it cannot assimilate. Vegetables and fruit are especially advocated for the summer dining table. Each adult, further, should have a pint of milk each day, either in his food or "au naturel." Potatoes and bread, it is pointed out, are the bane of the individual inclined toward "stoutness." Either one can be served at the meal, but if both are present, they should be taken in limited quantities. The average stomach will be benefited more by indulging in water that is moderately cold than in that which is completely chilled, according to the C. I. A. expert. Hot coffee or tea have no harmful effects in the summer, and when taken with meals serve to warm the stomach and make the digestive juices more active.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF EASTLAND. I wish to state that I have decided to make the race for City Commissioner, to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Seaberry (who recently resigned from that office. I have been residing in Eastland for a number of years, and have the business affairs of the town at heart, and if elected expect to employ all of the time needed in the service of this office, and do everything in my power that can be done through the City Commission for the upbuilding and growth and prosperity of our town. I have heretofore served as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; also alderman and city secretary under the old form of government. I also assisted in the organization of the Rotary Club and served as its first president, which is a business men's organization, that co-operates with the city in its business affairs. With this experience I am sure that I will be in a position to serve in the capacity as commissioner, for the welfare and good of the town. TOM W. CRUTCHER. Advertisement.

BASEBALL VS. GOLF, TENNIS AND THE AUTO

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if." That is the saving grace in baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again. But a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks stub their toes, all seven of their competitors will "put the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The poor, old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brains and a band of "has-beens" and never-wases, "fitted only for the old folks' home." They turned the Giants loose in the cellar and invited seven other clubs to go eat them up.

Well, the Giants are breezing along in front and look certain to cop. Cincinnati, picked by many to beat the Giants and be in the series, has failed. When Grover Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blow. The Pirates pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Giants. On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled: "Play ball!" in April. Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When Fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is armor-plate. If there was any bad luck that "Jack" Hendricks, Reds manager, didn't get, it was being saved up for the presidential race. Pitchers were wrong, infielders cracked bones, a black cat attended every game and sat on the Reds' bench.

The fact is that golf and the motor car is increasingly threatening the so-called "national" game. On a recent Sunday, with the Browns as

PARKS AND RANGER TO PLAY IN RANGER SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Parks and Ranger will again endeavor to settle the question of supremacy on the baseball diamond, when Parks plays Ranger here Saturday and Sunday afternoon at Nitro park, 4 o'clock Saturday and 3:30 o'clock Sunday.

The two teams have always played fast ball and two exciting games are expected Saturday and Sunday. A number of new players are on their way to Ranger and word was received from Brady and McElreath that they would in all probability be here for Saturday's game and for certain in time for the Sunday game. The Nitros have a good shot for the second half of the Oil Belt association providing jobs can be found for the ball players. Up to the present time only four of the team are working and jobs must be forthcoming to hold the men who are now on the roster.

A hydro-electric generating station that works automatically has been built on Sprite Creek, near the mouth of Canada Lake, in the heart of the Adirondacks. The plant, which has a capacity of close to 10,000 horsepower of electrical energy, supplies electricity at 6,000 volts to the system of the electric power and light company operating in that part of New York state.

Making Up In The Right Light

Most women have had the experience of having carefully powdered, rouged, lip-sticked, and dressed to their satisfaction at home,—only to discover that the crystal lights of the restaurant, or where ever they found themselves later in the evening have given them a ghastly and unbecoming hue.

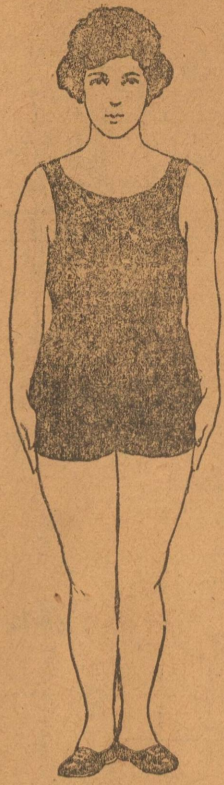

Such an occurrence as this can nearly always be averted. If you are going out into the daylight, it is a simple matter to make up by the window,—and then there will be no guess work as to how you will look when you get outside.

your rouge will depend largely on your costume, but it is surprising the various effects that may be obtained from one rouge when used with different shades of powder.

In New York now the new Mandarin rouge with its orange tone is equally popular for day and night wear. It is very saucy, very intriguing, and offers a chance for daring evening effects, when the eyebrow pencil and lipstick are skillfully applied.

In the daytime, however, a very different effect of natural glow can be given with this same rouge toned down with rachel or a tannish powder like Peaches to harmonize with the skin.

Abandoned Her Children to Death in Woods.

MRS. CHARLOTTE DANA.

Mrs. Charlotte Dana, 23, is under arrest in Rochester, N. Y., after confessing that she abandoned her two children to death in the woods near Wolcott. The babies, a boy of three and a half and an infant, were in a serious condition when found and were taken to a hospital in Oswego.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture. Includes a small portrait of Bernarr Macfadden.

There is nothing that strikes quite so much terror to the soul of a young mother as to see her baby go into convulsions. The condition is generally due to overfeeding, although a very small percentage of cases may, perhaps, be due to improper feeding, underfeeding, constipation, impure air or water, or lack of exercise.

Whatever the cause, the first thing to be done is to put the child in a hot tub. Then try to induce vomiting. Hold the child face downward. Put your finger down its throat, and thus force the stomach to empty itself.

The hot abdominal pack should next be used. Hold an ordinary bath-towel by its two ends. Immerse as much of the towel as possible in boiling water. Wring it as dry as you can, and then, after folding it into the proper size and shape, wrap it, hot and moist, all the way around the child's little body from hips to armpits, next the skin.

Be careful not to burn the child, but apply the towel as hot as can be borne. In case of fever, a cold towel way around the child's little body from hips to armpits will usually induce such profuse perspiration that the body temperature will be quickly reduced.

A hot-water bottle to the back will increase or prolong the efficiency of either a hot abdominal or spinal pack. If a small amount of hot water is put into a hot-water bag, the child can lie on it advantageously.

Proceeding the hot pack a high enema should be given, using the smallest size of rectal tube, which should be freely oiled or greased. This will be found valuable in helping to cleanse the lower bowel. Then let the child rest. Too much treatment, or incessant coddling or handling by interfering with rest, may cause death.

When the doctor comes your efforts in meeting the emergencies will usually be commended. If he understands that you prefer to avoid medicines in treating your child.

THE YOUNGEST SET SETS ITS OWN FASHION

EVEN childhood's happy hours might be made happier by the engaging sauciness of this Paris model of pink and white printed voile, trimmed with a lingerie collar and plisses of the plain voile in pink.

It is quite dressy enough for any party occasion in the simple life of the sub-sub-sub-deb, and yet its material will take quite kindly to laundering.

In fact, fashions for children have never been so charming and sensible as to-day when a variety of silks exquisite in design and color and of a quality that survives any number of social events, are available.

MAKING GAS SAFER AND MORE EFFICIENT BY TESTS

Next to poor connections, such as rubber tubing, for gas appliances the greatest danger to users is in poor appliances themselves. When gas is used with reasonable care it is not dangerous; but when it is allowed to leak into closed rooms it becomes a menace to life and property.

The object in addition to assuring safe appliances, is to increase the efficiency of gas through the best possible appliances for using it. Gas companies will sell only such appliances as bear the approval of the laboratory.
