BRECKENRIDGE GOLFERS PLAY RANGER TODAY

Team of 25 to Uphold Stephens County. First Tee Off at 8 A. M.

Breckenridge will play the Ranger Country club golf team here this morning at 8 o'clock. The Breckenridge team will come 25 strong and every member of the Ranger Country club who may swing a club is required to be present on the course by 8 o'clock this morning.

The Ranger golf team has shown remarkable improvement in their game during the past few weeks and are apt to give the Breckenridge team a surprise. With the past two matches in the percentage column to their credit the Ranger team will endeavor to make it three straight.

The course is reported to be in excellent condition and the team members have been practicing steadily every day for the past week. H. Mendenhall, captain of the team, issued an urgent appeal for every member of the country club who can hold a club in their hands and swing it to be present not later than 8 o'clock Sunday morning, as Breckenridge reports that they will have 25 men ready to play.

Coal Mine Troubles In Oklahoma Appear To Have Subsided

WILBURTON, Okla., July 19.—Danger of further outbreaks by striking union miners seeking to force suspension of work in non-union mines apparently had passed today, when rumored agitation against the Hailey-Ola and Eastern Coal and Mining company mines near here failed to materialize.

The Hailey-Ola mines, two miles east, were operating normally, and the other mines, west of town, were closed down for shortage of coal cars. Work will be continued without curtailment, coal company officials said. The Kala-Inla mine near Harts-horne, which was shut down forcibly yesterday when 200 armed union men forced a handful of non-union men to leave, remained closed today.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 19.—“Watchful waiting” will be the position of the state in connection with the mine wage dispute in the southeast Oklahoma coal fields, and state aid will not be sent to disaffected sections until the situation gets beyond control of the local officers, it was said today at the governor's office. Latimer county officials advised the governor's office that all precautions against trouble had been taken and further outbreaks were not anticipated.

HOUSTON LUMBER YARD DESTROYED BY FIRE WITH HEAVY LOSS

HOUSTON, July 19.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Temple Lumber company yards here at 11 o'clock last night. The damage was estimated at $200,000 by W. S. Black, local manager of the company.

Fanned by a steady breeze, the flames leaped to spectacular proportions and for a time threatened dozens of houses and several other lumber yards as showers of sparks fell from the thousands of feet of seasoned lumber, shingles, doors and frames consumed in the blaze. The firemen battled hard to save surrounding property and all the fire fighting apparatus of the city was brought into service.

COFFEE SUPPLY IS DEPLETED BY BRAZIL REVOLT

Sao Paulo, Where Insurrection Rages, One of Biggest Production Centers.

NEW YORK, July 19.—America's breakfast cup is directly menaced by the revolution in Sao Paulo, Brazil. With the rebels in control over one-half the world's supply and prices in New York already increasing, there seems a possibility the world may face a serious coffee shortage if peace is not soon established.

Coffee movements from Santos, the port of Sao Paulo, have virtually stopped, and a number of steamers have discontinued making that great coffee center a port of call until conditions through Santos, its shipments to the United States alone running into millions of bags each year. With Santos cut off from communication, the world's coffee supply suffers a serious diminution, for the state of Sao Paulo raises upwards of 75 per cent of the world's coffee crop.

SOUTH AMERICAN SITUATION REGARDED VERY SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The most serious situation in South America for years faces the American government in the Brazilian revolt. While latest dispatches to the state department say that the revolt in Sao Paulo is doomed, it was noted that no such prediction has come direct from Sao Paulo, seat of the rebellion. So long as the revolution continues a dangerous situation will exist in Sao Paulo.

FOREIGN POWERS MAY TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT INTERESTS IN BRAZIL

BUENOS AIRES, July 19.—The intervention of foreign powers in Brazil to protect the rights of their nationals was discussed by the Argentine press today. Italian and other European nations are expected to make a gesture of protest at Rio Janeiro against the continuance of the rebellion and require the government to give assurance that the rights of foreigners will be maintained.

The request that a warship of the United States be sent to Santos to protect American property and the nationals and maintain American rights may lead, it is anticipated, to similar action by other nations.

WEALTHY CLUBMAN IS KILLED BY BANDITS IN HOLD-UP OF HIS CLUB

FEAR LOSS OF CHILDREN IN LONG ISLAND SOUND

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 19.—Seaplanes and other crafts today were patrolling the waters of Long Island Sound in an attempt to find seven children last seen yesterday paddling a canoe near the beach not far from here. The canoe was found late yesterday, bottom up, near Middlebrook Lights, 12 miles from shore. None of the children could swim.

MOB IN MISSISSIPPI HANGS NEGRO TO TREE

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 19.—Harry Shelton, a young negro, was taken from jail at Scooba, 45 miles from here, early today, by a mob of about 50 unidentified men and swung to a tree. The body was riddled with bullets.

The lynching followed an alleged attempted assault on a white woman some distance from Scooba.

Open-Air Speaking At Courthouse Lawn On Campaign Issue

Earl Conner, chairman of the executive committee of the Eastland County Constitutional Club, has announced that a county wide meeting will be held in Eastland Monday night. W. J. Rodgers of McKinney, senator from the 10th district which composes Collin, Rockwall, Hunt and Rains counties, and Judge O. F. Chastain of Eastland, will be the principal speakers. “The Ku Klux Klan and its activities in the Present Political Campaign in Eastland County,” will be discussed by both speakers.

“The Ku Klux Klan is the dominant issue in the present campaign in this county and the people are coming to fully realize it,” Mr. Conner stated. “Both Senator Rodgers and Judge Chastain are forceful and eloquent speakers, thoroughly familiar with the subject and well qualified to discuss it and what they have to say will be well worth hearing.” Mr. Conner said in making the announcement of the meeting.

The meeting, which will open at 8:30, will be held on the courthouse lawn. Comfortable seats will be placed on the ground for the audience.

GREEK CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES IS BATTLE GROUND

Three Men Carried to Hospital and Score Badly Beaten In Settling Argument.

ATHENS, Greece, July 19.—Ambulances today were summoned to the chamber of deputies, where an all-night session broke up at 7 o'clock this morning with a pitched battle in which an ex-minister, an admiral and a deputy were seriously wounded and a score of deputies badly beaten. The chamber of deputies was expected to reconvene later today to vote an extension of confidence in the cabinet.

M. Hadjikyracus, former minister of marines, and Admiral Caculides were set upon and beaten to unconsciousness by a group of deputies and the Cretean deputy, M. Gregoriou, also was wounded. Denunciations by M. Nichalicholous started most of the rioting.

Attorney General Plans to Prosecute Dry Law Violations

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Appointment of Arthur W. Henderson of Pittsburgh as special assistant to the attorney general in handling prohibition cases was announced today by Attorney General Stone. Coincident with the appointment it was announced that the government intends to take vigorous steps to stop rum-running by vessels known to be engaged in that violation of the law and to prosecute all persons having any connection with them.

BIG PACIFIC LINER, 'PRESIDENT LINCOLN,' IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 19.—Fire in the staterooms and cabins of the Pacific liner, President Lincoln, today threatened the big ship with destruction and caused damage of about $12,000 before city firemen and bluejackets from the U. S. destroyer Tennessee, extinguished the flames.

The Tennessee was in dock at Hunter's Point, where both vessels were lying, and also was threatened with fire for a time.

BRITISH AIR TRAVELER IS DELAYED BY BAD WEATHER

TOKIO, July 19.—Unfavorable weather over the Kuriles islands has forced Major Stuart MacLaren, British round-the-world flyer, to postpone the resumption of his flight. If the weather clears sufficiently, it is stated he will try to go to Paramashiru early Sunday.

DEMOCRAT WILL BE NOMINEE OF INDEPENDENTS

Senator From Montana to Be Candidate for Vice President of U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, of Montana, today formally announced his acceptance of the independent nomination for vice president to run with Robert M. LaFollette. He made this announcement in a letter presented to the committee of inquiry from the national committee of the progressive political action, which called at his office to give him formal notification of his selection. He is understood to have accepted at the urgent solicitation of Senator LaFollette.

The committee calling on Wheeler was composed of William H. Johnston, chairman of the national committee; Representative John M. Nelson, Wisconsin, campaign manager for LaFollette; Morris Hillquit, prominent socialist of New York; and Basil Manley and Mrs. Mabel C. Costigan, both of Washington, D. C. “After careful consideration, I have concluded to accept the honor conferred on me by tendering me the nomination for vice president as the running mate for the Hon. Robert M. LaFollette, your candidate for president of the United States,” said Wheeler in his letter. “I have no desire, as you know, to become a candidate for any office in the approaching election, but I have decided that by doing so I can best serve the highest interests of the American people.”

In accepting the call, Wheeler reaffirmed his belief in the doctrine of Thomas Jefferson. “I am a democrat, but not a Wall street democrat,” he said. “I shall give my support and what influence I possess to those candidates who have proved their fidelity to the interests of the people, but I shall oppose every man on any ticket who bears the marks of the dollar sign.”

This is generally accepted as an endorsement by Wheeler that he intends to support his colleague, Thomas J. Walsh, who is running for re-election, and that he will not oppose and probably will aid other democrats in the November election. Wheeler denounced the democratic convention, declaring it has lost sight of the fundamental principles of democracy and had ignored the great issues of the hour.

Defense Raises the Question, Where Did Robert Franks Die?

CHICAGO, July 19.—“Where was Robert Franks, the 14-year-old school boy killed? In Illinois or Indiana? Nobody knows, not even Nathan Leopold or Robert Loeb, the youthful millionaires who confessed to the killing, the defense holds.

And this is the reason for the belief that the two boys will never be hanged for the crime, it was exclusively revealed to the United Press today. To convict the youthful university graduates and send them to the gallows, the state must prove that they killed the Franks boy within the limits of Cook county, the defense points out. This it is claimed cannot be proved.

Although making a full confession of the crime, at no time have the two young men told where their victim died, Clarence Darrow, leading attorney for the defense, told the United Press. “As a matter of fact,” he said, “the defendants do not know when or where the Franks boy died.”

FORMER PRESIDENT OF WISCONSIN BANK ARRESTED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19.—Henry E. Rohlf, former president of the First National bank of Heywood, Wis., surrendered today at the office of United States marshal, and Monday will leave with an officer for Heywood to answer a complaint charging embezzlement of $300,000. Rohlf denied that he had taken a dollar of the money, explaining that the institution had failed March 1 for about $250,000. The cashier defaulted a year ago and died soon afterwards. The large loss from defalcation was not revealed until spring.

Rohlf came here from Los Angeles, where he had gone after a stay in Louisiana.

HUGHES TAKING QUIET PART IN ALLIED PARLEY

American Secretary of State Looks On, But Dominates Behind the Scenes.

LONDON, July 19.—Taking no part in the reparations conference, near at hand were American Ambassador Kellogg and members of his staff, but Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes was looked upon today by European statesmen as possibly the of this, the fifteenth inter-allied conferring figure behind the scenes for since the Versailles treaty was signed to make Germany pay her reparations debt.

Secretary Hughes arrived to find the conference still deadlocked in the committee stage, the French and British disputing as to the right of a free hand in Germany in the event of defaults in payments. The committee considering this matter met today and reported progress, but efforts of the Italian, Belgian and American representatives failed to reconstruct the British and French viewpoint.

In an interview today, Secretary Hughes reiterated that he would take no part in the inter-allied conference, but he is making no attempt to conceal the American interest in the experts' plan. Secretary Hughes will meet Premiers Macdonald and Herriot personally but informally while here.

Anti-Klan Speakers Have Chief Say in Meeting at Gorman

Speaking to a crowd of approximately 500 people, candidates for county office spoke at Gorman Saturday night on Main street in front of the Gorman hotel.

Judge Allen Dabney delivered an address on the principles of the County Constitutional club and its candidates. Judge O. C. Funderburk made a talk on the Ku Klux Klan and pointed out the fact that it was unconstitutional and unconstitutional which was well received from all reports.

L. H. Flewellen, candidate for county judge, opened the debate with Judge Pritchard, candidate for reelection as county judge. He charged Pritchard with extravagant expenditures of county funds and pointed out the fact that Pritchard's administration was doing the same thing that the Ku Klux Klan ticket candidates were accusing the Starnes regime of doing.

Judge Pritchard defended his administration and his acts as county judge.

BAILEY SEES DANGER IN PROHIBITION AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE ACTS

DALLAS, Texas, July 19.—Pleas for a united Democracy and cessation of strife over petty questions were made by speakers at a meeting of the Dallas County Democratic executive committee today.

Former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, the principal speaker, said the Democratic party would be completely disrupted if the radical actions of the prohibitionists or woman's suffrage leaders were to be continued.

A resolution endorsing John W. Davis as the Democratic presidential candidate was adopted at the meeting.

DARROW PREPARED TO MAKE HARD FIGHT TO CHEAT THE GALLOWS

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—Clarence Darrow, dean of Chicago's criminal lawyers who has been retained by the Leopold and Loeb families to save their sons from the gallows, is ready for the preliminary skirmishes in the criminal court Monday, in what is regarded as the most fantastic case in modern history of crime. Darrow, on whom the burden of the defense rests, has a full deck up his sleeves. From these he will choose some to play now and the remainder will be used from time to time as he thinks they may be needed to save the two youths from the gallows for the slaying of the 14-year-old Robert Franks.

The court will hear motions by the defense on Monday. While maintaining secrecy concerning his motions, it is considered probable that Darrow will move to quash the indictments, and then will probably ask for a postponement of the trial, now scheduled for August 4.

Higher Prices for Oil Expected and Drilling Going On

Notwithstanding the recent reduction in the price of crude oil for this section, oil operators in the Eastland field are optimistic and believe that the price will soon be up again. From the various fields in the county comes the report of continued activities and a number of new wells have recently been drilled in.

Perhaps the most sensational strike of the past week, was the bringing in of the Col. Robert Gordon's Sneed well, north of Eastland about five miles. The pay in this well, according to drillers, was found in a stray sand and may open up considerable new territory for tests at the depth of the new sand.

The gas industry is greater than the oil industry in Eastland county, according to operators, and has every indication of a still greater growth.

WHEELER GIVES PARTY LEADERS SEVERE SHOCK

Possibility of President Election Being Thrown Into House or Senate Is Considered.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—Political confusion was converted into chaos tonight by the action of Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, in accepting the nomination for vice-president on the independent ticket with Senator Robert M. La Follette, Wheeler's action coming in the midst of a complicated political situation has upset the plans of the Democratic party managers.

Privately, leaders admitted that they were at sea. No unbiased political observer was willing to hazard a prediction on the outcome of the November elections. That Wheeler will add much strength to the independent ticket was conceded. Neither Republican or Democratic leaders have yet been able to determine which party will suffer more from the third ticket in the field, but Wheeler's unexpected step has increased their worries.

The party leaders are giving more and more thought to the possibility of the election being thrown into the house and even going to the senate and the possibility of one of the candidates for vice-president being selected for president.

Plans for the independent campaign were virtually completed tonight by the national committee. Representative John M. Nelson, Wisconsin, independent campaign manager, said that La Follette will wage a constructive campaign while Wheeler carries on the crusade for clean government.

PROPOSED NEW RAILWAY IN TEXAS WILL SERVE FAST GROWING SECTION

FORT WORTH, July 19.—Providing a railroad outlet for a big territory in northwest Texas is the object of the proposed Texas Panhandle & Gulf railroad, which is to be constructed, the interstate commerce commission willing, from Tucuman, N. M., to Fort Worth. The road will serve a large section which, at present, has no close railway facilities.

Hearing on application for permission to build the road will be held before the commission in October. Actual construction will be necessary between Seymour, about 150 miles northwest of Fort Worth, to Tucuman. The plan for financing this work calls for $3,000,000 worth of preferred stock to be subscribed by land owners along the proposed route, which a bond issue is to be floated to raise the remaining $5,000,000 required.

The territory which the proposed railroad will penetrate is one of the richest parts of Texas and is developing with a rapidity that resembles a land boom. Homesteaders are flocking to West Texas, and new towns are springing up all over the section.

Col. C. H. Powell, of Chicago, is president of the proposed rail line.

ASHLAND, Ky., July 19.—Black Gold, winner of 1924 Kentucky and Ohio derbies, and owned by Mrs. R. M. Hoots, disappointed many admirers Saturday afternoon when she finished third in the $5,000 Raceland derby at a mile and a quarter distance. Col. E. R. Bradley's Bob Tail was the winner by two lengths, with C. B. Head's Altawood in second place.

MAJOR IMBRIE BEATEN BY MOB AT TEHERAN

Resent His Attempt to Photograph So-Called Magic Fountain. Dies From Injuries.

TEHERAN, Persia, July 19.—Major Robert Whitney Imbrie, American vice-consul, was beaten to death by a native mob here Thursday. The Persians resented an attempt by Major Imbrie to photograph a so-called magic fountain of which the natives stand in awe.

Another American who was with the vice-consul at the time, was wounded and is in a hospital.

Robert Whitney Imbrie was born in Washington, D. C., April 23, 1884, and graduated from George Washington university in 1905. He was engaged in the practice of law from 1909 to 1915, volunteered to fight in the French army in 1915 and served until 1917. He was appointed vice-consul at Petrograd August 24, 1917, and vice-consul at Viborg, Finland, Dec. 22, 1919. He was sent to Constantinople as vice-consul October 13, 1920.

Foreign Colonies At Persian Capital Horrified by Act

LONDON, July 19.—The American and European colonies are in a state of consternation at Teheran, the Persian capital, following the death of Major Robert W. Imbrie, American vice-consul, as the result of wounds inflicted by a mob. Another American, seriously wounded, is in a hospital, according to a brief report received by the London News.

U. S. WILL DEMAND MURDERERS OF MAJOR IMBRIE BE PUNISHED

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—Upon receiving official confirmation today of the killing of Major Robert W. Imbrie, American vice-consul at Teheran, Persia, the American state department began vigorous action to press a demand for the murderers. Confirmation of the killing of Major Imbrie arrived from the American legation at Teheran.

Helen Wills Wins Notable Victory at Tennis for the U. S.

PARIS, July 19.—Almost single-handed little Helen Wills of California won the Olympic tennis championship for the United States today. Paired with Mrs. Wightman in the women's doubles, the American champion outfoiled and out-stroked the British team of Miss Kittle McKane and Miss Covell amid the Yankee players won in two desperately fought sets, 7-5 and 8-6.

Those who have been awaiting the thrill of a next duel between Miss Wills and Miss McKane made impossible in the women's singles by the defeat of the world's title holder by Madame Velasco of France, had the thrill in plenty today. The contest dissolved into a smashing battle of the champions of two worlds and the American girl triumphed.

SOLDIERS ORDERED TO FIRE FATROL DUTY IN PACIFIC COAST FORESTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 19.—Some 250 soldiers from Presidio of San Francisco, were ordered to take to the forest today and begin fire patrol duty. Twelve airplanes were also made available for patrol work should they become necessary.

The forest fire situation is serious, but is not out of control, was District Forester Reddington's characterization of conditions. Reports showed that in virtually all the coast forests such fires as were burning today were of minor importance compared to the conflagration of last week. Troops will be used to relieve the rangers and assistants whose time is now largely occupied with patrol and lookout work, and permit them to become regiment commanders of the actual fire fighters.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
Love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: Against such there is no law.—Gal. 5:22, 23.

APOSTLE OF HATE.
After enumerating several desirable virtues in the human complex, the Holy Scriptures says that the "greatest of these is love." The editor of the Oil Belt News occupied recently a prominent seat in the "Amen corner" of a revival meeting in Eastland and must have received some benefit, for the able and earnest evangelist won a large number of converts and some of them said they were hardened sinners, but it is evident that he failed to learn the lesson of love the evangelist sought to teach. Take, for instance, a recent issue of the Oil Belt News, in which nearly two columns are devoted to spreading hatred and not one word to charity. Here is the enumeration: Leading the editorial pills is a reference to the chairman of the Eastland County Democratic executive committee, indicating a wish that he was buried. Then a mild "fling" at the oil companies which carries the sting of innuendo. The next, a reference to the County Constitutional club, might be excused as political, but following that is a "dig" at the official character of District Judge George L. Davenport. Which is untrue, unjustified and despicable to the extent that it could be only the product of a diseased mental digestion.

It appears that the editor of the Oil Belt News has a special grudge against Judge Davenport, for he makes five "low-brow" references to him in the two columns of drivel (a most appropriate word, as one may see by reference to a dictionary), feeling himself safe in his rantings because the protection which the Indians always gave to a sad affliction is, given also by the white people. The former chairman of the Eastland County Democratic executive committee is the next object of attack, inferring he is untrustworthy, according to the standard of the Oil Belt News. This should make the former chairman proud of himself, although he yet does not rank with the honorable judge of the 91st district court in the hatred of the Oil Belt News.

The Democratic leaders of the county have not pleased the editor of the Oil Belt News, so he tells them so by calling them "narrow and prejudiced," but that is such a mild term for him to use that the leaders may really considered themselves slighted—that is, if they should ever hear of it, as they may through this newspaper. The editor of the Oil Belt News would not consider his editorial column complete without some slighting reference to Eastland merchants who do not advertise in that newspaper, and, as these include most of the Eastland merchants the indictment of his business associates is far-reaching. His reference to them is mild, merely that they are simple and always seeking something for nothing. What the merchants would resent in another newspaper does not even interest them when published in the Oil Belt News.

As an apostle of hate the editor of the Oil Belt News must certainly be considered one of the elect. Just yesterday the horse trader bragged about his steed; today the auto dealers brag about it. Yesterday the horse's teeth told his age and condition; today the teeth of the gear wheels must be scrutinized closely.

The interest on $70 will amount to $14,000,000 if you can afford to wait 300 years for it. Wouldn't it be a good plan to park a few millions of government money on this basis to relieve future generations of a burdensome public debt?

MRS. FOX GIVES NOVEL CHURCH BENEFIT SOCIAL.
Mrs. Perry Fox entertained at her home on Brown street Thursday with a benefit social. Quantities of flowers added a delightful touch of color to the attractive reception rooms.

Mrs. Fox had provided for this occasion a full day of genuine wholesome pleasure, and the immense spider web covering one entire room, the mysterious bundles and homely articles found hanging in conspicuous places only heightened the thrill of joyous anticipation guests always experience when this gracious hostess entertains. From the time the guests arrived in the early morning until 4 p. m., there was a continuous sound of mirth, provoking stunts, contests and games.

At high noon a beautifully appointed luncheon consisting of fried fish, fried chicken, salads, stuffed eggs, tomatoes, celery, iced bread and butter, iced tea and iced melon was served, after which the games and contests were again taken up with renewed vigor.

Mrs. J. A. Pitcock having unraveled the spider web was presented with a handsome bottle of toilet water. Dolls were given as favors and each guest was provided with needles, thread and material and asked to dress their doll—one finishing first was given toilet soap, which went to Mrs. Hunt. The prize in the missing word contest, a can of sunbrite, went to Mrs. Wheeler. Mrs. Morris won the bobbin contest and received a set of salt and pepper shakers.

Hunt won in the flower contest and was presented with a pretty water bottle.

Prizes in different guessing contests were: Mrs. Carwile, card cover; Mrs. Johnson, home-made jelly; Mrs. Lewis, egg beater; Mrs. Pond, mustard set; Mrs. Adamson, cooking spoon; Mrs. Wheeler, cake pan; Mrs. Longley, cake tin.

Prizes in hunting games went to: Mrs. Green, frying pan; Mrs. Pond, clothes pins; Mrs. McGee, tea apron. Mrs. Fox was assisted by Mrs. Albert Longley and Mrs. Bob Hunt had charge of the register.

The nice sum of money realized was presented by Mrs. Fox to her church, the First Baptist. Those registering were: Mmes. W. E. Hunt, Homer B. Green, J. A. Pitcock, W. L. Morris, C. V. Wheeler, G. W. Wheeler, H. U. Pond, W. S. Adamson, A. Lewis, W. L. Jackson, Walter Murray, B. C. Garwile, E. L. Ross, Jay McGee, N. L. Jackson, W. M. Webber and Rev. W. H. Johnson; Juniors: Louise Pitcock, Nona Hunt, Lahoma Barnes, Mildred Wheeler, C. D. Wheeler, Doris Murray, Mavis Murray, Joe Green, Lillian Green, Mary Ruth Pond; Mrs. Albert Longley and the hostess.

Jamison Tells Ranger Audience of Barton's Eggnog Party at Jail

Addressing a large and interested audience in Ranger Friday night, C. S. Jamison, candidate for sheriff, told of an eggnog party at the Eastland county jail on last Christmas eve and said the whisky which was used for the "kick" was bootleg liquor that had been seized by the sheriff and should have been destroyed. He said he resigned as deputy sheriff because of this eggnog party.

Mr. Jamison spoke for about 20 minutes and made an entertaining speech. When he finished there were cries for him to continue.

Sheriff Barton, who is seeking reelection, was not on hand to reply to Jamison. Another candidate, Bob Edwards, made a brief address. Several candidates for other offices made announcements of their candidacy.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. WAITE
Secretary Shawnee (Okla.) Board of Commerce.

That there is two sides to most questions, especially so in regard to the railroad question. That the politicians tell their side, while the railroads use the "thunder of silence," and the long-suffering public "stays up in the air."

That some politicians seem to think that the railroads shouldn't say a word in their own defense, while the public wonders "what it is all about anyway."

That nobody is hampering the railroads in any efforts they may want to make to tell the people the railroads' side of the question. Railroad officials can't act like clams and expect the people to know—American people are not mind-readers.

That railroad officials are not tied and gagged. They are free to argue their side before the Court of Public Opinion.

That when they have any troubles and they are sure that they are right, they have the same opportunity of using the advertising columns as any honest business concern.

The success of railroads depends a great deal upon the good will of the people. Advertising privileges are not denied the railroads, they should go before the people through the printed page giving the facts about their business.

ALBRIGHT WITHDRAWS FROM RACE AGAINST T. L. BLANTON FOR CONGRESS

FORT WORTH, July 19.—Ernest G. Albright announced yesterday that he had withdrawn from the race for representative in the United States congress to represent the 17th district of Texas. Albright gave as his reason that his name had been left off the ballot in a number of counties, due to a technical claim that he had been too late in filing his notice of candidacy, and said that while many of his friends would write in his name the odds against his election appeared too great to warrant his continuing in the race.

This leaves the field open to Representative Thomas L. Blanton, who now has no opponent for re-election.

JUDGES KLAN BY ITS NEWS-PAPER.

To the Editor:
There is a paper published in this county whose arguments seem to me to be rather vituperative than persuasive, as well as being amusing in their vindictiveness. My personal views are not of any special interest to anybody, so far as I know, but I love to express them sometimes. They may help in achieving better government, and at least have for their aim the advancement of the individual rights of citizens.

For instance: It has always been my idea that the casting of a ballot was a duty to be performed, and not a privilege to be exercised. To cast it properly, one must remember that he has a God to serve, a soul to save and the liberty of his fellowman to preserve. Hence my opposition to the Ku Klux Klan. I cannot get it through my head how one can serve God in a mask and a cloak, with malice toward any of His creatures who see fit to worship Him in a manner different to my own, or with race prejudice and hatred for any of His children whom He has seen fit to make of different origin with myself. With Malachi I cry, "have we not one Father? Did not one God create us?" Upon this fundamental thought our government in the United States, as well as in the separate sovereignties, was founded and has prospered beyond all the peoples of earth; and upon it I have ever stood and now fully intend to stand to the end. It seems to me that when I seek to deny, upon any pretense, however specious, the right of my fellow-citizens to worship God as they see fit, or seek to hold them beneath me in their civil rights, because Jehovah saw fit to give them differing parentage, I am denying them the sacred rights vouchsafed them by Him, and in doing so I risk my own soul.

I have the right to question the policy of equal suffrage, as expressed in the fifteenth amendment, as I have the right to question the policy of the eighteenth amendment; but I am equally bound to recognize and to enforce both, until they are changed; for both are expressive of policies, not of inherent liberty of thought, action and protection of the law. Until changed, I am bound to their enforcement as a supreme duty, however. When, by my ballot, I depose or elevate my fellow-citizen as my officer, it must be done in view of these principles, and must be done openly, candidly, fearlessly and in view of the right to enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness of every man beneath the flag. To them and that I permit myself to be dictated to by a hidden force, a concealed power, arrogating to itself the right to order me to cast my vote at its command, I answer with the question of St. Paul, "why should my liberty be judged by another man's conscience?" Secret orders from secret officers of a secret society are repugnant to every thought of a free people and of free men. Public safety demands that they be condemned by the spoken word of every good citizen, as I see it, or the third element of the franchises of right-minded men is forgotten. The freedom of men cannot be assured by absurdly named masqueraders being permitted to exercise unconscionable authority in respect to the casting of a ballot, the exercise of the supreme duty of the enlightened and patriotic manhood of the state. To tolerate such a suggestion is to insult the man to whom it is made and is subversive of all proper control of public affairs and of public safety. There is a far different view when men, in the light, after open consultation recommend to a community, or to a state, the names of candidates already offering themselves for official life, functions and duties, and whose claims to recognition are affirmed after due consideration. Upon the first theory, is based the autocratic control of fascism, unreliable and irresponsible. Upon the other, is based ordinary party action, having for its object selection after discussion, or to put the matter even more clearly, control by consent of all equally exercised. To me, the Cross of Christ never blazed with fire; but its whole brilliance is the reflection of a supreme love for the sons of men, the affirmation that all men stood equal before Jehovah and were equally entitled to His mercies. The paper I refer to seems to have lost its bearings in the respects this letter is intended to emphasize. To me the Cross is not in harmony with the lash of a hidden political master or any other character of force; it is rather the symbol of gentleness and fraternal affection.

J. WARREN KERRIGAN

And so believing, it would be impossible for me to affiliate with the Klan, and peculiarly so if the paper referred to is indicative, as it seems to be, of the true Klan spirit.

A. E. FIRMIN.
Eastland, Texas.
July 19, 1924.

As I was driving with my family below Cisco last night, was told there was public speaking at Word school house. I drove down there, and there was open air speaking. Mr. C. L. Garrett was making his announcement, asking the people to vote for him because they should select honest men, and saying in substance, as follows:

"You cannot trust the newcomers. Mr. Cunningham has been here 5 1/2 years. Says he is a lawyer, but he has no cases on the dockets at Eastland, and doesn't carry his card on his stationery showing that he is a lawyer."

When he had finished, I asked permission to speak. I told the people I have filed 15 or 20 suits in the Eastland courts in the past month, and to ask the district clerk about it, that have always carried my card on my stationery, as a lawyer, and gave the names of the parties who printed the stationery am now using. Mr. Garrett wasn't expecting me, as I had an appointment to speak at Pleasant Hill last night, but didn't do so. After I made my speech, Mr. Garrett got up and publicly apologized for the statements he had made. What do you think of that? If you believe in honesty, I want your vote.

POP CORN WAGON NOW LANDMARK IN RANGER, WHEN MOVED IS MISSED

With the return of Mrs. B. A. Judd to her pop corn stand Friday afternoon, the public's unanswered questions as to what had become of the machine were answered. The machine was merely being repaired. Mrs. Judd is a pioneer resident of Ranger, coming here with her husband in the early part of the boom days with their pop corn machine and locating on the exact spot where it now stands. Mr. Judd was a far-seeking business man, although he had lost both legs above the knees. He leased the entire half block on Pine street between Rusk and Marston, subletting it to tenants for good rentals. The owner of land, deciding that his lessee was deriving too much benefit from his lease, made arrangements with Mr. Judd whereby he was to have a clear title to the half block of land on which the Hagaman Refining corporation is now operating and running back to the alley on Marston and a hundred feet deep. Soon afterwards Mr. Judd had brick buildings erected on the lot and turned the property in good rental value. When Mr. Judd died, about two and one-half years ago, Mrs. Judd took over the management of the pop corn wagon and the property that had accumulated. She attends to the wagon from 11 o'clock a. m. until 11 o'clock at night and numbers her customers from many towns far distant from Ranger. When her wagon was missed from its accustomed place on the street a few days ago many inquiries were made about it, for it has become a landmark in Ranger and it seems that the pop corn dispensed by Mrs. Judd has a peculiar quality that people like and do not find in other pop corn.

VOTERS MAY SCRATCH BALLOT AND WRITE NAME ON TICKET
The question was raised a short time ago whether or not a voter is allowed to scratch the name of a candidate printed on the ballot and substitute the name of another person eligible for the office. Milburn McCarty, chairman of the Eastland county Democratic executive committee, wired the attorney general's office and received the following wire:
Austin, Texas, July 18, 1924.—Milburn McCarty, county chairman of Eastland county: Voters may scratch the name of candidate printed on ballot and write in name of any eligible person and such ballots should be counted.
(Signed) L. C. SUTTON, Assistant Attorney General.
While the law is clear and known to Chairman McCarty, he wished to have an opinion from the attorney general's office to back him.

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:
In my race for state senator, I have not campaigned your county. This was not due to any lack of interest on my part and certainly not that I would not appreciate the votes you may see proper to give me. My work has been confined to those counties where I was least acquainted, there being 12 counties composing the district. I felt like you knew me, having lived in your county when a young man and your neighbor for the past 35 years, and having represented you in the special session of the thirty-seventh and all through the thirty-eighth legislature. While acting as your representative, I voted in every instance for rigid economy in all matters coming before the legislature involving the expenditure of funds. I voted against all new tax measures; this included a state income tax bill, which we had trouble in defeating; a state board of equalization, which authorized said board to pass upon and equalize all tax renditions of the several counties. These two measures will undoubtedly be presented to the next legislature, and I elected, I will oppose them.
In local matters affecting Eastland county, I secured the passage over the governor's veto of the bill making permanent your Ninety-first district court. I voted and worked faithfully for the location of a court of civil appeals at Eastland, and when Senator Burkett and the Taylor county representative could not agree as between Eastland and Abilene, we tried to compromise on the location at Cisco. In every effort to secure this court, I remained loyal to Eastland county, which I had the honor to represent.
In conclusion, I am profoundly grateful for your political preference in the past, and shall ever hold sacred the trust you reposed in me, and assure you the commission you placed in my hands is returned unstained. I am proud of the fact I started my career in your county when a young man. For more than 30 years, I have and the people of my county have unselfishly and loyally supported many of your own aspirants for office and your political fortunes. If my record as a private citizen and public servant is such as to commend me, then I shall indeed be very thankful for your support.
Cordially Yours,

GENERAL WEYLER, OF CUBAN FAME, IS RISING TO POWER IN SPAIN

By J. W. T. MASON.
(Written for United Press)
NEW YORK, July 19.—General Valerian Weyler, the Spanish governor-general of Cuba, whose regime at Havana was immediately responsible for the Spanish-American war, has become the central figure of an army camarilla in Spain, which wants to overthrow the dictatorship of Primo de Rivera. The former autocrat of Cuba is declared to be the only man who can save Spain from the destructive fascism of the de Rivera absolutists.

The loss of Cuba is not remembered against Weyler. Since the Spanish-American war he has engaged in politics to such advantage that he is now the real political leader of the old-time army chiefs. He is the only man in Spain who dares face Primo de Rivera. Last March Weyler was appointed president of the supreme war council, where he stands, in reality, between de Rivera and the dictator's possible use of the army to overthrow the monarchy.

When Primo de Rivera made himself Spanish dictator last September, he was hailed as a national saviour, largely because he promised to give the Spaniards a victory in Morocco. The conflicts with the Moorish tribesmen have been proceeding for many years without advantage to Spain and at enormous cost. Nothing has come of de Rivera's promise. Large sums of money have continued to be wasted in inconclusive fighting.

Defied the Dictator.
De Rivera has wanted to imprison Spanish commanders for defeat in battle; but he has been defied successfully by military opinion which has felt such a course would be ruinous to Spain's honor. Spanish officers in Morocco, in addition, have become increasingly defiant of orders from Madrid. Colonel Franco, commander of the Foreign Legion in Morocco, recently refused to follow instructions to abandon his position. General Sanjuo, who was ordered to arrest him, refused to do so, believing Franco to be right.

The contempt of de Rivera's authority abroad has been supplemented by increasing restlessness at home. The promised revival of Spanish prosperity has not been brought about. Spanish bankers are uneasy when requested to loan money to the government, because the de Rivera ministry has no legal authority to act for Spain. If it were overthrown and parliament were to reassemble in an antagonistic mood, a bill might be passed outlawing all decrees of the dictatorship, including financial transactions.

King Alfonso is known to have accepted de Rivera as dictator only because he did not care to risk his throne by a revolutionary defiance. The king has never been wholeheartedly in support of the new regime. Rather, his attitude has been that of a ruler holding aloof, but willing to allow any plan to be tried which might help his country out of a critical situation. Several times Alfonso has been urged to give the world for de Rivera's overthrow. But the king wants to keep his throne, whichever party is in power. Therefore, he has backed away from overt condemnation of the dictatorship, taking refuge in the fact that he is a constitutional monarch.

Faith in Weyler.
Alfonso has personal faith in General Weyler, and the aged commander is noted for his loyalty to the royal family. Nevertheless, if Alfonso were to order General Weyler to arrest de Rivera, and assume the presidency, the nation might rise against a constitutional king who had himself assumed dictatorial powers. Therefore, Alfonso must wait for a spontaneous outburst of public feeling against the de Rivera government.

General Weyler, who is 85 years of age, is too old to take the field in person in event of civil war. Furthermore, he wants to save Spain from internal strife and is biding his time. Many youthful army officers have urged him to overthrow de Rivera on his own authority. But this is apparently far from the old man's thoughts. His army reorganization plans have been opposed by de Rivera, and Weyler is playing a waiting game of showing the dictator up as an incompetent, hoping to compel his voluntary retirement. If, after repeated urgings to resign peacefully, de Rivera still refuses to go, then may come the moment for decisive action.

BURKETT URGES CENTRAL STATE BANK IN TEXAS

Points Out Fallacies In V. A. Collins' Opposing Arguments.

Special.

TAYLOR, Texas, July 19.—Joe Burkett of Eastland spoke here Friday night in the interest of his candidacy for governor. He took V. A. Collins to task for some things he has been saying in his speeches about the country. In speaking of Mr. Collins, Senator Burkett said:

"V. A. Collins is going about the country criticizing me for advocating a central state bank. In a recent speech at Abilene, Senator Collins said: 'And what has Joe Burkett done? Nothing, but he is going to do something—he is going to establish a central state bank and break the state, that's what he's going to do.'"

"Now I want Mr. Collins to tell us why Texas cannot operate a central state bank patterned after the federal reserve bank and the Bank of England and make the same beneficial terms to the people of Texas. In condemning this bank plan which I advocate, he is condemning himself, the legislature, the present state banking system and, in fact, the entire citizenship of Texas as being dishonest, incapable and untrustworthy. I want to tell you now that it will be a sad day for Texas and her citizenship when men cannot be found who are big enough and honest enough to operate such an institution."

Would Benefit State.
"The Bank of England has not ruined England. The federal reserve bank has not ruined the United States. Both have been of untold benefit to these nations. If we could establish a central state bank, as I advocate, far from bankrupting Texas, it will cut us loose from the hold that the moneyed powers of Wall street has on us."

"Senator Collins has not attacked me on any other principle of my platform. He offers no logical argument against a central state bank—merely condemning it as a criticism to me. As a matter of fact, Senator Collins is using as his own several planks of my platform as published in June of 1923. Why, early in the campaign, Mr. Collins admitted privately to a man who happens to be a personal friend of mine that if he were elected governor he would have to beat Joe Burkett. And being unable to find any other point upon which to attack me, either in my private or public life, he hurled a broadside condemnation, inspired by jealousy and envy and unsupported by any logical conclusions, at my central state bank plan, and in the same breath he is condemning as dishonest and incapable every man in Texas. You are perhaps aware of the fact that Mr. Collins started out as a klansman and they banished him, and now he is running as an anti-klansman."

Why Be Governor?
"In his speech at Abilene, Texas, Senator Collins said that the governor has no power—that the legislative body has all the power. If this is true, and Mr. Collins has such a sincere desire to serve the people as he claims, why then does he not remain in the legislative body rather than seek the governor's chair? He says that as governor he can do nothing and he claims a magnificent legislative record. This being true, as Mr. Collins himself says, it seems that he only wants to retire to the governor's office where he will have nothing to do but wear the name—seemingly unwilling or admittedly incapable of bearing the many burdens that the office carries."

GERMAN POLITICIANS FIND WOMEN HARD TO HANDLE

By United Press.

BERLIN, July 19.—Youth is coming into its own in German politics. The new reichstag has considerably more young deputies than any preceding legislature. As far as can be ascertained—many of the communists have refused to give any data—the number of deputies between 25 and 30 of age is 14 against four in the previous reichstag and three in the national assembly established immediately after the revolution.

The communists are quite youthful. Their juvenile make-up is especially noticeable in the organized obstruction recently practiced in the house.

The nationalists and folkists also furnish a share of the youth. On the other hand there are 14 deputies between 70 and 80 years of age.

The women deputies of reichstag are much more valiant than the men who, after all, are brought up in that atmosphere of discipline which the education of women has always lacked—much to the grief of militarily-minded people.

Vice President Riesser, a venerable old gentleman who held the chair in the latest riotous sessions, implored the women delegates to obey the orders of the house. The failure of this appeal led Riesser, resigned to his fate, to remark that the improvements for manners, expected from the incorporation of women into the legislature, is not noticeable yet. They have made manners worse, if any, he opined.

When a man-deputy is called to order he will obey, though doggedly. The women-deputies, if called to order, repeat the slanderous remarks for which they have been reprimanded, heedless of the consequences of a second or third order.

He saw active service in the Indian wars with the 7th, which was formerly commanded by General Custer.

LEST WE FORGET

On the twenty-sixth day of this month the people of Eastland county will go to the polls to make their choice of District Judge and upon their decision rests the welfare and progress of Eastland county.

Judge Geo. L. Davenport

has served the people of this county with impartiality, not being governed by any klan or clique and has upheld the honor of his office by competency and fairness. Hence he seeks re-election as Judge of the 91st District Court of Eastland county and points with pride to the services rendered the people during his judgeship. He has tried more important cases, with fewer reversals, than any other district judge in Texas.

Hon. Geo. L. Davenport

has been a resident of Eastland county since 1880, excepting a few years' residence in Jones county. He was admitted to the bar in 1898, and served Eastland county as County Attorney for four years, from 1900 to 1904. His record as County Attorney was excellent, and his record as District Judge is beyond reproach. He comes from a family of lawyers and leaders in the government of Texas, and the name Davenport, of which family he's from, stands out in the history of our state, and they have been instrumental in the molding of the future of the grand old State of Texas.

Judge Davenport is fair and impartial in the performance of his duties as Judge. His honesty, integrity, knowledge and clear thinking vouches for his ability as an able judge and lawyer to serve the people of Eastland county.

We, therefore, prompt you, lest we forget, to use your vote and influence for the re-election of the Hon. George L. Davenport.

OLDEN DEFEATS CISCO BY SCORE EIGHT TO ONE

Magnolias Win First Game of Second Half of Season. Play Again Tomorrow.

The Magnolias started the second half of the Oil Belt association split season by trimming Cisco 8 to 1 at Olden Saturday afternoon. The Humblers could do nothing with the offerings of Lefty Coop, who let them down with four hits. Coop struck out nine men, five in a row in the seventh and eighth innings.

Browning, attempting to southpaw the Cisco aggregation to a win was effective for five innings but weakened in the latter part of the game. Cisco scored in the first on a walk and Boston Campbell's double down the left field foul line. All of Olden's runs were earned by consistent mauling of the apple. White, Rainey and Supinia contributed long hits. White's homer inside the park was one of the longest ever seen at Magnolia Park.

Pete Supinia nipped a Cisco rally when he threw out Lane at first on a clean bingle to right.

The same clubs will play at Olden this afternoon. Henson, who let Olden down with two hits for a 1 to 0 win over the Magnolias two weeks ago will pitch for Cisco and Charley Koch who lost that game will try to reverse the decision.

THURBER WINS EXCITING GAME FROM RANGER

Nitro Hit Ball as Well as Miners, But latter Punch in the Pinches.

Thurber outlucked and outfought the Ranger team at Thurber Saturday to the tune of 11 to 7. The Nitro crew went to sleep and muffed the ball when errors meant runs for Thurber. The Miners were on their toes from the start of the game and took advantage of the breaks whenever they came their way.

Ridings pitched good ball but was touched for seven hits which with errors meant runs for the Thurber team and was chased to the showers in the third inning. Harvey, who relieved him of the unpleasant task of stopping the rampaging Miners, allowed five hits and five runs, although a bad decision by the base umpire accounted for four of the runs which Thurber garnered during the fifth inning off of Harvey.

Appleton was touched for eleven hits but the Nitro crew could not deliver when necessary until the seventh and eighth innings, when they landed on Appleton for a rally that was good for six runs. Another was added in the ninth, but the last effort of the Ranger team was stopped before it got started good.

Ranger and Thurber will play again today at Thurber at 3:30 o'clock.

The work of Flynn and Lynch, two newcomers to the Nitro uniform was especially pleasing to the fans, Flynn getting two two-base hits and a single and Lynch slamming out a home run and a two-base hit also.

American Athletes Defeat Track Team Of British Stars

LONDON, July 19.—Breaking the world record in the 400-yard relay, an American track team composed of Olympic stars defeated a British team at Stamford Bridge today, 11 to 3. The best of sportsmanship prevailed and most of the running events were hotly contested, while in the field the Yanks had things all their own way.

Announcement

New rates City County Hospital—$2.50, $3.00, $4.00 per day, room, board, nursing included. Fire-proof building; light, airy cool rooms, new furniture, linens, mattresses, etc. Well trained corps nurses. Open to all doctors of Eastland county. CITY-COUNTY HOSPITAL.

To the music of bagpipes, the contestants marched into the stadium for a rather formal opening of the games. The Americans in track suits contrasted with the Britishers who wore blazers and straw hats. The spectators commented on the heartier appearance of the visitors. On the British team were the Olympic team stars, Cooratt, the New Zealander, Carr of Australia and Erick Liddell, the flying Scotch divinity student, and 400-meter champion. The first event of the afternoon produced the new world's record in the 400-yard relay race. The American team composed of Charley Paddock, Jackson Scholz, Chester Bowman and Al Leconey, running on the inside of the track negotiated the 400 yards in 37 4-5 seconds. Paddock got away to a flying start which Britain cut down until it was nip and tuck as

Bowman and Carr got away in the third lap.
