

LOEB TELLS OF AMBITIONS AS BURGLAR

KLAN DECLARED BY JED ADAMS TO BE MENACE

Texas Fighting Battle of Freedom, He Declares, Speaking at Cisco.

Addressing a crowd of 400 or 500 people at St. John Park, in Cisco, last night, Jed Adams of Dallas defended the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor and denounced in severest terms the political activities of the Ku Klux Klan. "As at the battle of San Jacinto, Texans are fighting a battle for freedom that will end on August 23, when the candidate of the Ku Klux Klan for governor is defeated," Mr. Adams stated.

The official record of Felix D. Robertson, klan candidate for governor, was discussed by Mr. Adams, who said that it did not show him to be big enough to be governor of Texas. "If you elect him governor then you can boast that the biggest state in all the world has the 'fittest' man in all the world for governor," the speaker said.

No Right to Sell Vote.

Mr. Adams in the outset of his speech took up and discussed the history of the original Ku Klux Klan and compared the klan of the old days, with the present organization. The old klan, he said, was organized to frighten ignorant negroes and was a necessity, while the present klan was organized for the purpose of making money and giving power to its leaders. "You have a right to have a klan and to belong to it and to pay the initiation fees, but if you sell your vote to it, which you do if you obey orders, you are no longer a freeman but a slave," the speaker said.

Mr. Adams declared that those who said that they were not klansmen but at the same time were voting with them and supporting klan candidates for office, were as great a menace to the country as the klan or greater.

Klan to Be Deserted.

"The time has come when the lines are to be drawn," Adams said, "and when the fight is over there are going to be a lot of politicians, who, like the Mexicans after the battle of San Jacinto, pleaded 'Me no Alamo, me no Goliath,' are going to cry, 'Me no Ku Klux,' he added.

Mr. Adams declared that the only issue in the governor's race now was the klan issue, and that it was going to be fought on that issue. Robertson sought to raise the prohibition issue, but he has been unable to do it, but even at that Mrs. Ferguson is a better prohibitionist than Robertson, he said.

Mr. Adams was introduced by Senator H. P. Briscoe of Eastland, and made a short but very eloquent speech.

The audience, which was seated in cars and on benches about the band stand, was very attentive and frequently applauded the speaker.

EDWARDS DECLARES MILLER NEEDS SMOKE SCREEN TO HIDE RECORD

GRANBURY, Tex., Aug. 12.—Speaking here Monday afternoon, Will C. Edwards of Denton county, candidate in the run-off primary for the democratic nomination as lieutenant governor, assailed Barry Miller of Dallas for his advocacy of the farmer-labor bloc taxation platform, declaring this included advocacy of the income tax franchise, intangible assets and other taxes, and abolition of the poll tax.

"All property in Texas," said Edwards, "should be made to contribute its proportion of governmental costs. The cost of government in Texas has too long been borne by only the visible property, farms, homes, stores and the like," he declared.

Mr. Edwards reiterated that he was running simply as a democrat and a business man, one who does not belong to the ku klux klan, the farmer-labor union or to any other organized bloc," he declared. Continuing, he said:

"Miller is the farm-labor nominee who gumshoed around in the first campaign making farm-labor speeches at farm-labor picnics and ignoring the klan issue. Now he hopes by causing the klan to build a smoke screen behind which he can hide his political record, make democrats forget that he is a bolter, and obscure the radical ideas to which he is committed in return for the farm-labor endorsement."

CALDWELL.—The high tension electric transmission line of the Western Public Service company between Somerville and Caldwell through Lyons is nearing completion. The distribution system at Caldwell is being rebuilt.

Mr. Maddox, who lives near Frankell. Masses of beautiful flowers were sent by sorrowing friends, for both of the young men were well known in and about Frankell. FATHER AND SON ARE HELD IN CONNECTION WITH SHERIFF'S DEATH

DODGE CITY, Tex., Aug. 12.—W. S. Watt and his 18-year-old son, Merton, were held on first degree murder charges today following the stabbing to death of John S. King, brother of Sheriff T. E. King of Walker county.

King and Watts and his son met near the railroad station yesterday. An argument followed and the boy, evidently fearing for his father, snatched King with a knife. King at first refused to name his assailants, but just before he died he whispered "Merton Watts did it." No reason for the stabbing is known. Both father and son refuse to talk.

EVACUATION OF RUHR ARRANGED FOR NEXT YEAR

French, Belgians and Germans Confer on Date for Ending Military Occupancy.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The French and Belgians will not withdraw their troops from the Ruhr this year and probably not until next summer, according to a decision reached at a direct conference between Premier Herriot of France and members of the German delegation. The international conference has left the field clear for their negotiations, which are believed to be proceeding satisfactorily. Well informed observers expect word as to the date of evacuation by tonight. The final protocol, incorporating all agreements reached at the conference, may be signed Friday.

Meanwhile the Germans have begun to put out feelers to establish contact with the Anglo-American banking group regarding underwriting the $250,000,000 proposed loan. The council of the big 14, composed of two representatives of each country, has approved the reports of the various committees with only a few comparatively minor reservations.

When the French, the Belgians and the Germans got together on the subject of military evacuation of the occupied areas, the former proposed two years as the limit within which withdrawal should be completed. Germany suggested six months. It is believed the time finally decided upon will be between nine months and one year.

D. E. DANIEL, LOCAL TELEPHONE MANAGER, TO GO TO MINERAL WELLS

D. E. Daniel, who for the past 18 months has been manager for the Southwestern Telephone company in Eastland and at Ranger for a longer time, is going to Mineral Wells, where he will have charge of the telephone company's business there and at Weatherford.

E. Hooks of Canadian, Texas, will succeed Mr. Daniel as manager in Eastland. There will also be a change in the management at Ranger, but just what the change will be has not been announced.

Mr. Hooks and his wife are already in Eastland. He has been with the company since 1909 and will devote all of his time to the Eastland office where Mr. Daniel has been dividing his time between Eastland and Ranger.

Eastland has one of the best telephone buildings in the state, which was built especially for the telephone company. The equipment is also second to none in Texas. The service is of the very best.

Under the management of Mr. Daniel, the company's new plant was installed in Eastland and the service has been good.

DAVIS OUTLINES BIG ISSUES OF HIS CAMPAIGN

Stands Squarely on Democratic Platform and Appeals for Party Unity.

By FRASER EDWARDS, United Press Staff Correspondent. CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 12. Having outlined the issues in the presidential campaign in his declaration of faith, John W. Davis, the democratic standard bearer, set out today to follow up his scathing indictment of the republican administration.

Surrounding the friends and neighbors of his native West Virginia hills and the leaders of his party last night Davis, in his speech accepting the nomination, took the stand squarely on the democratic platform and appealed for party unity to bring success in November and insure performance of its pledges.

He declared that the "supreme need of the hour" is to restore the confidence of the people in their government. From President Coolidge down, none was spared from his lash for alleged contribution to this loss of faith through the gross misdeeds of republican office holders.

Davis struck boldly at "the allied forces of greed and dishonesty," condemned the dreamy radical and smug conservative alike, called for the rigid enforcement of laws against monopolies, urged higher taxes on "swollen incomes" and demanded full due for labor and farmers. While reserving the details for carrying out pledges in the democratic platform, he freely expressed his views on all important issues. They are in brief as follows:

Labor.—The right of labor to an adequate wage, earned under healthful conditions, the right to organize in order to obtain it and the right to bargain through the democratic platform, he freely expressed his views on all important issues. They are in brief as follows:

Farmers.—"Remove tariff discrimination against the farmers. The government by doing its share towards a European settlement shall help to revive and enlarge his foreign markets. Provide active government work in assisting in the co-operative marketing movements. Supply the farmers with information to aid in marketing crops. Every power of government must be exerted in time of distress."

Railroads.—"Adequate service of transportation at reasonable rates. It is quite as important to the railroads that the farmers should prosper as it is to the farmer that the railroads should be adequately paid for service rendered."

Taxes.—"A pledge of tax reduction and reform. The rates of the income tax should be further lowered in keeping the rule that those who derive from the common society a greater share of its earnings than their fellows, must contribute to the support of the state proportionately larger share. A distinction will be drawn between earned and unearned incomes."

Discrimination.—"The exorbitant rates and discrimination provisions of the present tariff law must be wiped out and in their place must be written, with fairness to all and favors to none, a tariff designed primarily to raise revenue for the support of the government and framed on a truly competitive basis."

Government's Economy.—"Economy in every part of the government and strengthening of the budget system."

Prohibition.—"Why the question is it not the law? I would hold in contempt any public official who took an oath to support the constitution, making at the same time a mental reservation whereby a single word of that great document is excluded from his vow."

Foreign Relations.—"A pledge in the name of the democratic party to co-operate in every peace move. A flat endorsement of the world court and the League of Nations. A referendum and reservations would be left to public judgment."

National Defense.—"To maintain an adequate national defense until reason takes the place of force."

Religious Toleration.—"While no organization, Davis denounced bigotry, intolerance and race prejudice as alien to the spirit of America and declared it the solemn duty of Americans to oppose any challenge of this doctrine, organized or unorganized, under whatever name or in whatever character it may appear. If elected, he said he would set up no standard of religious faith or racial origin as a qualification to hold office."

THE WEATHER—West Texas—Tonight and Wednesday, partly cloudy, warmer in north portion, Wednesday.

DAVIS DRENCHED BY RAIN WHILE MAKING SPEECH

Democratic Presidential Nominee Accepts Leadership, Defying Wet Attack.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 12. With coat and collar curled closely about his neck, his face dripping, his white hair dewy with glistening rain drops, a white tarpaulin held over him by a young soldier and wearing an overseas cap over his left ear. This is the picture of John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, that Clarksburg has today, for he had all the appearance of a sea captain directing his ship in a driving gale as he stood in the little speaker's booth and accepted the democratic nomination for the presidency.

Boys around the initial Davis-for-president club were complaining today that Providence had been unkind to Clarksburg, but Davis had no complaint. He didn't even have a sore throat from the wetting. But he had a new knowledge of his standing with his own homefolks. Friends and neighbors gave him a demonstration of their affection and admiration that was unmistakable. They stood in the driving rain for two and one-half hours to hear what he had to say in his speech of acceptance. Rain beat down on the thousands massed on the bare, unprotected heights of Goss Place. They were drenched to the skin, but stayed to the last word.

Every point that Davis made was re-echoed through the rain in cheers that brought smiles of appreciation to the handsome democratic nominee, as he stood contesting adverse conditions. At one time the rain poured so hard that even Davis apparently was ready to leave his speech unfinished rather than submit to further soaking. He turned to Clem Shaver, the new chairman of the democratic national executive committee, and suggested they call it off. But the crowd sensed the situation; it and not Davis or Shaver was to make the decision. "Go on, John," Davis said, "I'll be right here."

NEW INSECT CAPTURED IN DALLAS, NAME UNKNOWN

DALLAS, Aug. 12.—Municipal and federal authorities here have been called upon to identify an insect captured on a Dallas lawn. Governor Neff Is Expected To Favor Defense Day Plan

AUSTIN, Aug. 12.—Governor Neff will decide today or tomorrow what part if any Texas will take in the celebration of Defense Day, September 12. In a conversation today with the commanding officer at Fort Sam Houston, the latter asked for prompt action by the Texas executive in order that the eighth corps area might complete its plans. Neff said that he would take the matter under serious consideration.

Mobilization of the Texas national guard is desired. Neff is believed to favor the plan to have a parade program and may issue a proclamation calling on the citizens to observe the day.

Until today Governor Neff has declined to discuss the national defense day celebration.

FLYERS LIKELY TO HOP ON TO CAPE FAREWELL

Base May Be Established for Them to Land at Ukaluit, South Greenland.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, OFF ICELAND, Aug. 12.—The American round-the-world flyers hope to hop off Thursday for Angmagssalik on the next leg of the world flight. A wireless today from the Gertrude Rask said she had broken through the ice at the bay of Angmagssalik today and the waters of the bay are now open.

Lieutenants Lowell Smith and Erik Nelson were jubilant when word was received. They have been here about a week.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 12.—A slight improvement in the weather conditions was reported from the west coast of Greenland and gave rise today to the hope that the American world flight soon would be under way once more. However, the cruiser Raleigh, having slightly damaged its starboard propeller in the ice during a dense fog about 90 miles southeast of Angmagssalik, was last reported proceeding cautiously through the ice floes, awaiting clear weather.

It was said that while the Gertrude Rask, the Danish supply ship, might make Angmagssalik today. That is the port the flyers had planned to visit next, but it is now considered doubtful if the icebound harbor would be suitable as a base for the cruisers Raleigh and Richmond and the airplanes.

TROUBLE BREAKS OUT BETWEEN NON-UNION AND UNION MINERS ONCE MORE

WILBURTON, Okla., Aug. 12.—A second war between non-union and union miners threatened Wilburton today as a result of five non-union miners being shot from ambush early today. Feeling is tense among the citizens.

A hearing is being held today of 36 miners charged with complicity in the shooting between the union and non-union miners a month ago. The five miners were walking along the road when fired upon with buckshot. They received flesh wounds and none was seriously hurt. They told Sheriff Austin Parks that they saw three men run away and disappear in the woods. Parks tried to pick up the trail with bloodhounds, but failed. He said the situation was well in hand and there was no need for state troops.

FORD WON'T TALK, BUT MAY REMAIN IN THE SENATE RACE

SOUTH SUDBURY, Mass., Aug. 12.—Henry Ford, through his secretary, today refused to comment on the dispatch from Lansing, Michigan, that he must order his name withdrawn from the ballot or automatically become a candidate for the United States senate from that state. The secretary said that Ford had nothing to say, but that he had refused to enter politics on any ticket. "Anyone is free to interpret the situation as he sees fit," said the secretary.

ALIENIST GETS CONFIDENTIALLY INTO SECRET

Defendant in Murder Trial Had Great Ambitions; Leopold Merely an Imitator.

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—If Richard Loeb had escaped arrest for the killing of Robert Franks, the 14-year-old school boy slain by Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr., he would have settled down to the life of a gentleman burglar. Dr. H. S. Hulbert, alienist, testified today at the judicial hearing of Loeb and Leopold.

State's Attorney Crowe drew out this fact when he asked the witness for some reasons why he insisted the defendant showed defective judgment. The witness cited Loeb's plans to become a gentleman burglar and told how he had planned to begin in small ways about home and gradually extend his operations over the country. Loeb had told him of his elaborate scheme.

Crowe asked then about Leopold's lack of judgment. The witness cited Leopold's failure to make and maintain friends and his lack of judgment in religious matters. "You are referring to the fact that he claims to be an atheist?" asked Crowe.

"Partly that," said the witness. "Would you say that Bob Ingersoll, a distinguished atheist, showed lack of judgment?" asked the state's attorney.

"Not necessary," said the witness. "Ingersoll was an original thinker and Leopold is not." "Didn't Ingersoll merely repeat the original thoughts of Paine and Voltaire?" asked the attorney.

The defense attorneys objected to this question because the witness had never examined Voltaire, who lived in the latter part of the 18th century. The court ruled, however, the witness might answer. The witness said he was not informed. He said he was the son of a minister and naturally was disposed to regard atheism as akin to a mental inefficiency.

Crowe finished with the witness after asking a few more questions relative to mental capacity of the defendants.

Old-Line Women Of Democratic Party Win In Committee

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Missouri again has been chosen vice chairman of the democratic national committee, a signal victory for the old-line women of the party. During the national convention in New York two drives were started having for their objectives the defeat of Mrs. Blair. One drive was for Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank of Chicago and the other was for Miss Bernice Pike, national committeewoman from Ohio. But such leaders as Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and Tonnette Pank, Genevieve Clark Thomson and Margaret Woodrow Wilson protested against the new move. They told the national committee that Mrs. Blair was the choice of the women over the country. Their pleas were heard and Mrs. Blair elected.

"Another matter to come up for action is that of the petition of certain candidates asking that the ballots cast at the first primary be re-counted."

"All precinct chairmen should be present on this occasion."

BIBLE THOUGHT.

The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. And ye people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places.—Isaiah 32:17, 18.

DEFENSE DAY TO BE QUIET.

A controversy has arisen over National Defense day, planned for Sept. 12, the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel. Peace organizations everywhere have protested against the plan. Originally it was planned that every available move in the land should be summoned to the colors, but because of the opposition, the war department has so modified its plans that present indications are it will be a very quiet affair.

Although the military equipment will probably be duly inspected and a parade or patriotic meeting conducted here and there, it appears that civilians may go their respective ways, pursuing their peace-time industries without being marked for either the slacker or patriotic lists. The general feeling in Washington is that there is no ground for calling upon the entire nation in time of peace to depart from its regular program and initiate itself into any branch of war service. It is felt that the views of even the higher officers are tending toward this conviction.

The administration is desirous that the matter of Defense day shall be kept out of politics and deprecates the publication of letters and opinions and protests by various state governors. For the same reason the war department refuses to make public its communications.

RADIO AND THE CHURCH.

Now that a considerable section of every congregation in the country has a radio set, the question of the effect on the church commands the attention of religious leaders all over the country.

For the Catholic church the question has no immediate importance because church discipline compels physical attendance at mass. But for the Protestant denominations it has become an outstanding issue. The radio has forced religion upon the attention of many who never go to church, both those who could not and those who would not. In the latter case, it has been largely a matter of the line of least resistance. In this latter case it has sometimes made a revolutionary change in the immediate background of the theme. As Heywood Brown expressed it once, it was the "first time in his life that he had been able to go to church, smoke a cigarette while listening to the sermon, and throw in an occasional curse word when the minister said something he didn't like."

If the congregations of the future can get a sermon, music, in fact all the audible part of the whole religious service—simply by turning a button in their own homes, will they make the physical exertion of going to church any more?

That small oval, perched on a pulpit like a darkened reading lamp, which has brought hundreds of thousands of listeners into the range of the speaker's voice might reduce church ritual to a mere talking into an instrument in a church full of empty pews, or even talking into a radio disk among the upholsterings of some broadcasting studio.

Furthermore, what effect might radio have on the rural chapel if all the facilities of the powerful metropolitan church were thus placed at the easy disposal of people in the outlying parish?

Fully 8,000 miles of concrete pavement will be added to the permanent road program of the United States in 1924, according to Portland Cement association records.

Rent Houses Very Scarce In Ranger, Demand Increasing

The sign "For Rent" is getting to be a rare sight in Ranger. There are fewer rent houses in Ranger today than in any time in the town's history since the boom, old residents and real estate men claim.

With the influx of new families for new companies that have located in Ranger recently, and families returning from summer vacations to permit the children to attend school desirable rent houses are at a premium.

Several new houses have been added to the list of homes in Ranger within the last week. Mrs. Emma Terrell has moved two of the six-room modern houses from the Vulcan camp, northeast of Ranger, to the corner of Mesquite and So. Hodges streets. Chester A. Jones has moved one of the Vulcan houses to 435 W. Main street and A. F. Hartman is moving a large double house to the corner of Elm and Rusk streets.

Hot Embers From Burned Grass Start Early Morning Fire

Five dismantled storage tanks, located on the Sinclair camp road, near Ranger, and belonging to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, were destroyed by fire this morning between 1 o'clock and 4 o'clock.

The fire originated from burning grass, which had been left unwatched by employees of the Prairie company, who had been burning the dry grass on a nearby lot. Lines of hose were laid from the Sinclair camp plugs, a distance of approximately 1600 feet.

No extensive damage was done by the fire but four hours of hard work was required to extinguish the blaze because of the piled lumber of the storage tanks. These tanks had to be moved and the burning wood put out piece by piece to prevent it smoldering and blazing up later on.

BULLETIN WILL TELL OF RANGER CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RECENT WORK

Patterson, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, will be ready within the next few days and will be mailed out to the various business firms of the town. All individuals wishing copies of this bulletin should notify the Chamber of Commerce.

LONG NON-STOP FLIGHT OF PLANE IS ATTEMPTED

By United Press.
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 12.—Lieutenant James S. Doolittle, flying a de Havilland plane with Lieutenant Plant as observer took off at 4:45 a. m. today in an attempt to make a non-stop flight to Denver, Colo., a distance of 850 miles. He will try an average 120 miles per hour.

If Lieut. Doolittle is successful, he plans next May to fly from San Francisco to Honolulu. In this flight he will be accompanied by Lieutenant McReady of non-stop flight fame. A sister ship to the one used in the transcontinental flight will probably be used.

Doolittle first gained fame in December, 1922, when he flew from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Francisco, in 21 hours and 19 minutes, stopping at Kelley field, Texas, only. This record was recently broken by Lieutenant Russell Maughan.

GRASS FIRE PUT OUT BEFORE DAMAGE IS DONE

A grass fire in the 400 block on Altus street, Ranger, which threatened to become dangerous was extinguished by the Ranger fire department at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Making the run in record time, the department was on the scene of the blaze and at work before any damage was done by the flames which were spreading with great rapidity due to a slight breeze and dry grass. A number of houses were threatened but no damage was done.

POLICE FIND ABANDONED CAR, LOOKING FOR DRIVER

Assistant Chief of Police Leonard Davenport picked up a 1924 Ford touring car that had been abandoned near the top of the Thurber hill on the Strawn highway and held it for investigation, Monday evening. The car had a Tennessee license plate, 195-236 with a name plate of R. H. Rust, dealer, Union City, Tenn.

A wire was received today from R. H. Rust asking that a certain man be held in connection with the theft of the car. Rust holds a $250 mortgage on the car.

No arrests have been made as yet in connection with the case.

ANOTHER CANNY SCOT.
A Scot went to a lawyer, laid before him a question and asked whether he would undertake the case. "Certainly," said the latter. "I will readily undertake the case. We are sure to win."
"So ye really think it's a good case?"
"Most decidedly, my dear sir. I am prepared to guarantee that you will secure a favorable verdict."
"Ah, weel, I'm much obliged to ye, but I dinna think I'll go tae law this time, for, ye see, the case I've just laid before ye is my opponent's."—From Everybody's Magazine for September.

Texas Republicans Talking Softly To Texas Democrats

FORT WORTH, Aug. 12.—Open overtures to the democrats of Texas to vote the republican ticket regardless of who is selected for the democratic ticket were made here today by speakers at the republican convention session.

Roville Bullington of Wichita Falls was elected temporary chairman of the convention shortly before the noon recess. Clinton Bailey of Dallas was elected temporary secretary of the convention, with Carl Beck of Hillsboro as sergeant at arms. Perfection of the republican plans was taken up at the noon session but nothing will be accomplished towards the selection of permanent officials.

The convention is scheduled to close Wednesday night with the selection of a full ticket and a candidate for the United States senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—E. L. Doheny and his son, E. L. Jr., today filed a motion in the District of Columbia supreme court asking that their indictments in the oil cases be quashed on the ground that Senator Walsh, prosecutor in the case, in a senate investigation, made an address on the radio relative to the senate oil investigation with the intent that the grand jury should hear his statements.

Walsh reviewed the oil lease cases and mentioned the Doheny's by name, following which the Doheny's were indicted, says the motion to quash.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?
By
E. R. WAITE
Secretary Shawnee (Okla.) Board of Commerce.

THAT nobody loves the poor taxpayer.

THAT every corporation requires an annual or semi-annual audit of its books.

THAT every well-managed city should have an audit of its books made every year.

THAT a statement of the condition of the city's finances, showing receipts and disbursements and amount on hand should be published in the local newspapers annually.

THAT is what the taxpayers should know, that is the way to inform them.

THAT the government of a city is never better than the people of that city want it to be.

THAT if the people are satisfied, they pay their taxes and go on.

THAT when they can see no statement of the condition of their city, they are not satisfied.

THAT laws are made for both the public officials and the private citizens to obey.

THAT when the private citizens alone obey the laws a city is in a sorry way indeed.

THAT often public officials violate the laws.

RANGER'S OWN TALENT TO GET INTO ACTION

Four Local Ball Teams Proposed for Sport and to Aid High School Athletics

With fall rapidly approaching and football season nearing, fans of the national sport are looking forward to the welfare of the Ranger High school football team. Ranger had an excellent team last year and with the addition of new material and the nucleus of last year's team back, should have a much better team this year.

The treasury of the high school athletic association is practically empty and fans suggested to C. C. Patterson, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, that a series of baseball games be held between the Lions club, Rotary club, Elks and American legion teams. The proceeds from the games will go to the high school football team for the purchase of new equipment which the team is very much in need of.

A letter was sent out by Mr. Paterson to the four organizations suggesting that two teams play one week, two the next week and the winners of the two to play for the city championship the following week. This suggestion has been received with much favor so far by the heads of the different organizations, although no concerted action has been started. A meeting will be held next Saturday afternoon, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, of the directors of the local organizations and representatives from the different clubs to perfect plans.

What the World Is Doing

(As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine)

Dog Travels Three Thousand Miles to Home and Gets Medal

Bob, a Scotch collie, recently traveled approximately 3,000 miles to return to his home in Oregon after having been lost in the middle west. Its owners had taken it with them on an automobile trip, and while they were crossing Iowa, Bob strayed away. After an unsuccessful search, they went on to Indiana and then drove back to the Pacific coast, never expecting to see their pet again. Six months after their return, Bob came trotting home, weak from fatigue, foot sore and with claws worn short. It developed that the animal had trailed the automobile from Iowa to Indiana and then had started back on the long trip to Oregon. The state humane society, after investigation, presented the dog with a medal and school children petitioned the village council to give it the freedom of the streets for the rest of its life.

Weather Superstitions Are Disproved by Science

Several common superstitions concerning the weather have been dispelled by the weather bureau at Washington. In both Europe and America there is an old belief that a severe storm—the so-called "equinoctial gale"—is due about the date of either equinox, that is, March 21 or Sept. 22.

According to scientists there is no maximum of storm frequency either in this country or abroad close to the date of either equinox. Of course, in the long run, storms do occur about these dates, just as they occur at all other times in the year, but there is no reason why they should be especially frequent at the equinoxes.

Commenting on the moon's influence on the weather, the bureau says: "Modern science is unable to find any evidence that the moon affects the weather to an appreciable extent, and is unable to conceive of any reason why it should." The belief in "dry" and "wet" moons, indicated by the position of the lunar crescent in the evening sky, and a host of other notions are denounced as merely idle superstitions.

Pruning and fruit picking can be accomplished in a shorter time and with less damage to the trees with the specially devised ladder shown in the illustration, than is possible with the use of an old-style ladder. Upon the upper end of a common ladder a forked extension, made from a length of 2 by 2-in. oak and two lengths of tire iron, is hinged to swing up and down. It is controlled from below by a lever and ratchet fastened to the side of the ladder, about 4 ft. from the lower end, a discarded cultivator lever being used for the purpose. The lever is connected to the extension by means of a 1/2-in. steel rod, so that the movement of the lever causes a corresponding movement of the extension. The object of the extension is to hold the ladder at convenient distances from the trunk so that any part of the branches can be reached. The extension, being inserted in a crotch, will form a safe support and prevent such damage to the tree and fruit as might result from forcing an ordinary ladder between the branches.

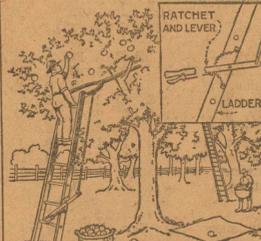

Eliminating Jacks in Receiving Sets

When tuning in stations most people use the amplifiers from the start, turning the filaments down low while using the phones and turning them up while using the loud speaker. Therefore, the use of a separate jack for the detector and first-stage amplifier is often unnecessary and a useless expense. Besides this, the use of two or more jacks adds to the complication of the construction and requires much more soldering than if only one jack were used.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR ENTERPRISING YOUNG MEN AWAIT IN ALASKA

A young man who is footloose, possesses ordinary health and strength, and has the character and determination to keep straight, work, and stay with it for an indeterminate number of years, ordinarily will do better in Alaska than here in the United States because it is a new country of vast resources, growing slowly but steadily. He must not expect to "strike it rich." Even in bonanza days of placer-mining few made good compared to the mobs that stormed the gold camps. Farming, stock-raising, windmills, herding, mining in many forms—gold, copper, oil, coal and the like—and general business industry in connection with the mines and towns afford chances for solid success. Hunting and trapping are alluring to many who write me, but except those few who are experienced and clever and willing to isolate themselves in distant wilds, there isn't much in it, since the natives get a great deal, and the country has been a fur country for more than a hundred and fifty years.

It is foolish to plan too definitely on either a particular place or a particular occupation and take a big outfit to the place. No pen picture of the country or the life will suffice to enable an intending settler to make such a choice wisely—to fit his own special tastes and needs.

I always advise going up there with no outfit except a few personal necessities or a favorite gun—if hunting is a part of the plan—and then looking around. Work here and there, see the country, absorb its peculiar features, and then make a sensible choice—or go out again.

Keep what money you bring in your pocket, in the form of exchange if possible. Use it later—when you won't lose it. Opportunities come up constantly where the employment of a little cash may mean everything to a young man's future—a good "prospect" or lease on a mine, a store business, a lot, a boat—many things. The tenderfoot, investing rashly, is soon stripped.

It costs all the way from 30 to 150 dollars to get into Alaska from Seattle, according to where one goes. Work may usually be obtained by waiting one's chance.

The one best piece of advice I can give with regard to acquiring information is to obtain—mostly for nothing—all information issued by the department of agriculture and the interior, Washington, D. C., on the subject of Alaska for the settler, miner, etc., and if you have any certain district particularly in mind, the pamphlets relating to that district issued by the geological survey (part of the department of the interior). You will be sent an index of all publications first if you wish it, and may then make selection. Library books on Alaska, while interesting, have not kept pace with conditions, and are usually more picturesque than reliable.—By Theodor S. Solomons, in Adventure Magazine for August.

HOWARD WANTS RECOUNT OF VOTE IN OKLAHOMA

By United Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12.—Congressman E. B. Howard, klan endorsed candidate defeated by former Governor Jack Walton for the democratic senatorial nomination, arrived here late last night to ask the state election board for a recount of the returns. Walton has a lead of about 7,700 votes. Howard declared a recount would cut the impeached governor's lead to about 5,000 votes.

You can't stand still. You either go forward or backward.—The Progressive Grocer.
