TEAM WORK SUCCESS OF TRADE DRIVE

Speakers at Banquet Hammer at Need of Aggressive Co-operation.

Teamwork and co-operation in carrying on the working scheme of the Trade Carnival and fostering a friendly feeling toward Ranger among the out-of-town patrons who in the future will be the chief factors in the city's growth and expansion, was the central theme of all speakers at the banquet given at Cole's cafeteria last night to members of the Ranger Retail Merchants association to signalize the opening of the carnival.

Little time was spent in detailing the carnival activities. The necessity for aggressive work on the part of all Ranger merchants to carry through the carnival plan already begun was emphasized above all other things.

J. F. Castellaw presided at the banquet. W. I. Burt, secretary of the association, told of the laxity on the part of some of the members in the matter of carrying out the association work in the past. He told of the files in the office of the association kept for the benefit of members to save them from loss from bad checks.

M. Alexander was one of the speakers at the banquet. He urged his fellow merchants to tell their customers that every other business man in town gives the coupons with purchases.

Irvine Swartz, J. D. T. Peters, Maj. H. S. Cole, Mayor Hagaman and Lytton Taylor also spoke.

Salvation Army Workers Hope to End Task Today

Fourteen team captains and a number of workers in the Salvation army drive being staged today, met last night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The plans for the drive were discussed, and it was determined to raise the remainder of the $10,000 needed for the Salvation Army to carry on its relief work in Ranger.

No report had been made as to the success of the workers at noon, but enough encouragement had been received to forecast the probability of the amount being obtained. However, if it is not, no blame can be attached to the captains and their workers, for they are thoroughly covering their districts and no man is allowed to escape.

In a recent effort made to raise the $10,000 only $2,000 of the amount was obtained.

This near-failure, it was thought, was caused by lack of workers and not through a desire of residents not to give to charity.

New York Custom House Under Extra Heavy Guard

Police Confess Failure to Get Line on Perpetrators of Explosion.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The New York customs house is today under the heaviest guard in its history because of the warning received yesterday that an attempt would be made today to blow up the great government structure. Although both federal and local authorities are inclined to regard the letter received by Collector Edwards as a hoax, they are taking no chances.

The police admitted today that they are as far as ever from a solution of the mystery surrounding the explosion which last Thursday spread death and destruction in Wall street.

Three men last night described the "death wagon" which is believed to have carried the explosive, but none of the clues furnished has been traced.

One of the three new witnesses was Joseph Meade, an agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Meade said that at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning he was walking up Broad street, and noticed an old red delivery wagon in front of the assay office around the corner. The horse appeared broken down, he said, and he went over to examine it, finding a bad sore under the collar.

He looked at his watch and noticed it was 10:30 o'clock, he told the police, and waited beside the wagon until 11:30 o'clock, intending to serve a summons on the driver. He did not examine the contents of the wagon, which he described as an "ordinary, dilapidated express wagon."

Information that three suspicious-looking men were seen running from the scene was furnished by Samuel B. Wel-

STREET EVIL TO COME TO END SHORTLY

Work Begun by Graders to Eliminate Bad Spot at Creek.

The grading is being done today by the McKenzie Construction company for the paved dip that will be built across the creek where it intersects Oak street. With the creek bed paved, traffic will be diverted from the Texas & Pacific crossing south to Houston street, then east to Oak street while the blocks on Front and Lamar street from the railroad to Oak street are being paved.

As pointed out by the city commission, this diversion will in no way hinder traffic. After reaching Oak it will have open passage in any direction.

The concrete bridge on Lamar street will also be constructed while the paving is being done. It is the wish of both the commission and the construction company that work east of the railroad tracks be begun at once. They realize that the present condition of the streets is a burden on traffic, but, as pointed out by the commission, even a temporary improvement would involve a heavy expense to the city because it would have to pay to have the work done, and they later have to reimburse the construction company for cutting down the grade and removing surplus dirt. With city finances at low ebb, the commission does not feel justified in taking this action, since within a short time paving will cover the bad streets at this point.

TROPICAL STORM NOT CONSIDERED SERIOUS

International News Service. GALVESTON, Sept. 21.—Local weather conditions this morning gave indications that the tropical weather disturbance reported last night in latitude 25, longitude 90 is of only moderate intensity. The barometer stood at 29.9 and was rising slightly. The tide was seven-tenths of a foot above normal.

As an extreme precaution outliners on Galveston Island were advised to have their livestock ready to move to places of safety. All shipping interests have been advised of warnings issued by the weather bureau. Railways, warehouses and merchants are prepared to put their freight and merchandise in places of safety if developments of the next few days should warrant such action.

MISSING SOLDIER IS SOUGHT IN RANGER

The district chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking the whereabouts of Clyde Cogburn, who disappeared from his home at Dewar, Okla., December 4, 1919.

Cogburn is an ex-soldier, five feet eight and one-half inches tall and weighs 130 pounds. Any trace of his whereabouts should be given to the local chapter of the Red Cross.

ington, president of the West Indies Trading company. He declared he heard voices calling:

"Hurry."
"Get out of this."

He looked across the street and saw two middle-aged men, who looked like "East Side peddlers," beckoning and calling to a third man, who was on the other side of the street. The third man, believed to be about 60 years old, and described as "greasy looking," was poring into the ramshackle wagon at the curb.

In response to the call of the others, the third man, Wellington said, started to run after them toward William street. He took them for bond thieves, he added, and expected to see them chased by a policeman.

Fischer Is Examined. At the conclusion of Edwin Fischer's examination last night he was sent to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital for observation.

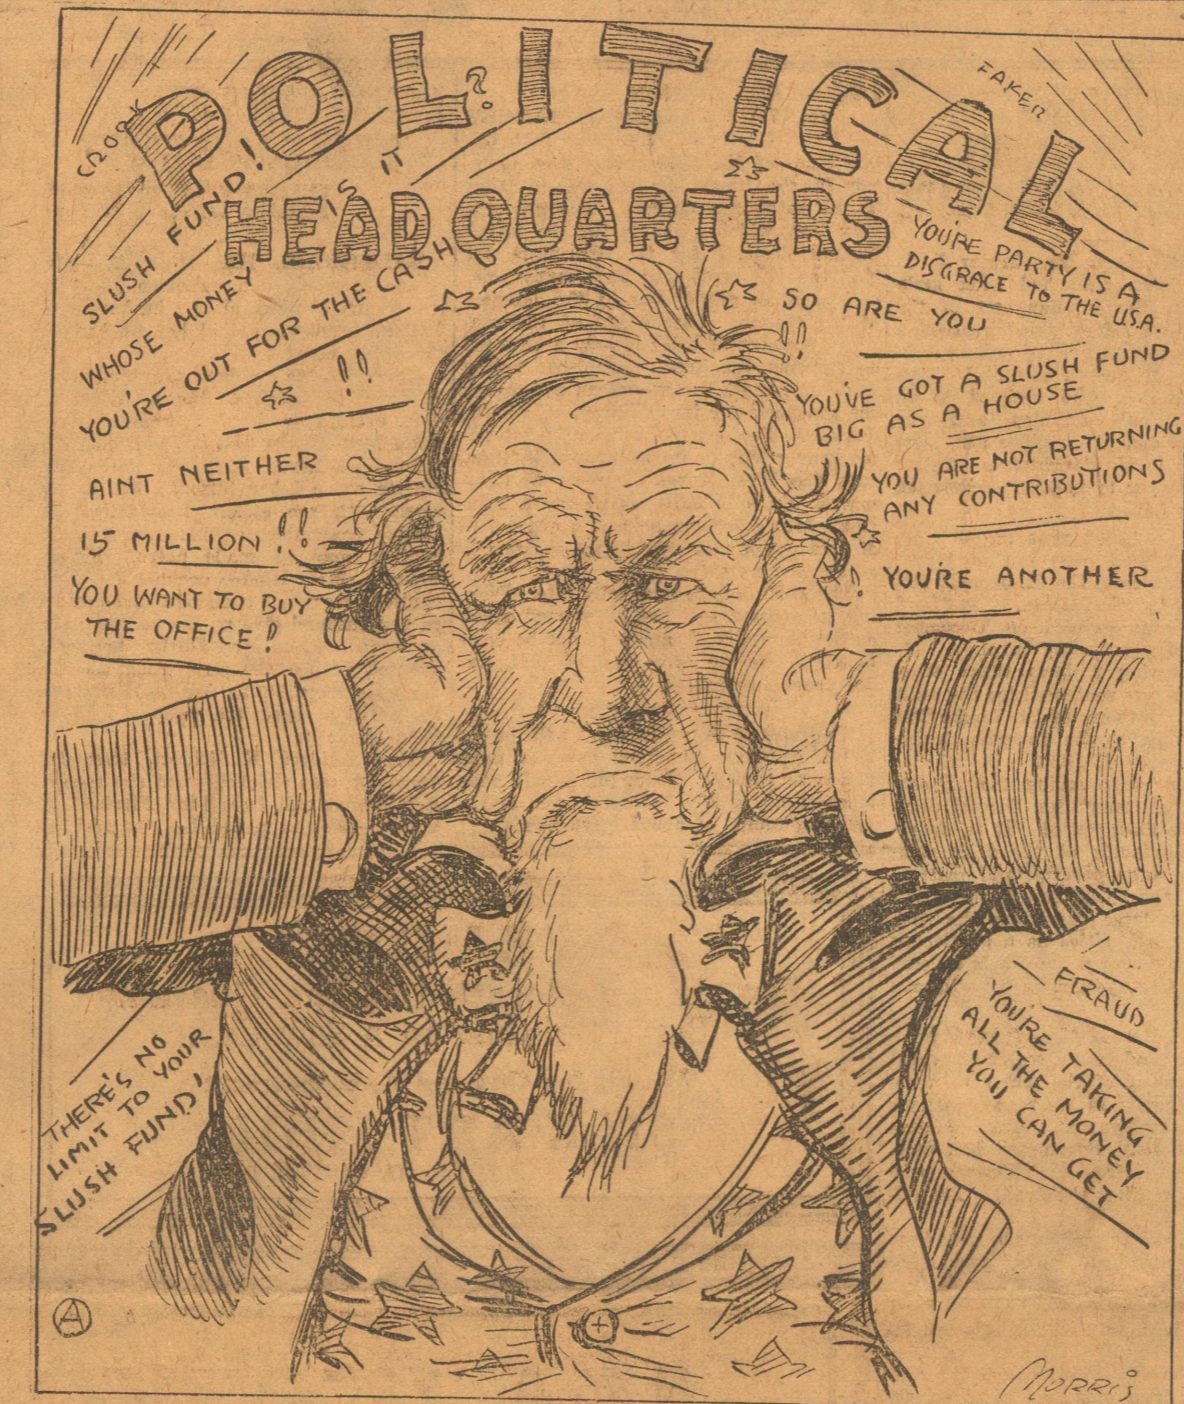

Secret service operatives declared that Fischer had been investigated four years ago and found a "harmless letter writer." He is alleged to have sent President Wilson several "crank letters" in 1916, calling upon the President to stop the war.

Testimony tending to contradict that of Mead later was furnished by Oscar Sawyer, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, who said an automobile truck drove up in front of the assay office to carry away ashes at 11:45 a. m., and that no other vehicle was parked there at the time. This was confirmed by the men who took away the ashes.

Frederick M. Carpenter, 32, a bank clerk, suffering from a shattered nerves as a result of his experience in the explosion, jumped to his death yesterday from the roof of the National City bank, near the scene of the blast.

JUDGE SCATHES DIVORCE EVIL, COMMENDS LAW

Right of Remarriage After Divorce Should Be Denied.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Prohibition of remarriage of divorcees during the life of either party is the only effective way to cure the divorce evil, declares Supreme Court Justice Russell Benedict, in an opinion handed down today after criticizing 1919 legislation for shortening from five to three years the period after which an application for permission to remarry might be made.

Justice Benedict asserted that "lawmakers might as well authorize the consent of the injured spouse before granting such an application."

"Many years of experience on the bench has proven to me that a large proportion of divorce actions would never have been brought into court if the plaintiff were prohibited from contracting new alliances, arrangements for which frequently are made prior to the inception of the suit," Justice Benedict declared.

FORT WORTH BUSINESS MEN SEEK MEXICAN TRADE

By Associated Press. FORT WORTH, Sept. 21.—Arrangements for a trip through Mexico in a special Pullman car by Fort Worth business men are practically complete, according to Milton Everett, who recently made a trip to Laredo to arrange an itinerary with Mexican railroad officials. The excursion will start some time between Oct. 3 and Oct. 10, the exact date to be decided later.

The party will go from Fort Worth to Mexico City by way of Laredo, Monterrey, Tampico and San Luis Potosi. It will make a side trip from Mexico City to Vera Cruz, and return by way of Aguascalientes, Torreón and Saltillo. Two days will be spent at Tampico, three days at Mexico City and two days at Vera Cruz. The trip will be made entirely in daylight through Mexico in order that the visitors may see all of the country to be traversed. The trip will consume twenty-two days and cover 3,645 miles.

MAKE RICH HAUL.

International News Service. BOSTON, Sept. 21.—It was pay day on the fishing schooner Ethel Merriam at the fish pier, south Boston. Each of the seven members of the little Edgarton fishing crew received $805 for two weeks' work. The schooner arrived at the pier with eighty-nine swordfish, which sold in the market for $5,770.

The share which each man received was the largest ever made by a swordfisher's crew, considering the time spent on the fishing grounds.

RED CROSS TO LAUNCH DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Additions to Local Staff to Be Made if Fund Forthcomes.

A nurse has been secured by the Red Cross to do county work. She will be furnished a car and will visit as many of the rural districts as possible. Close attention will be given the health of the rural schools. On Jan. 1, after the membership drive is over, the county organization hopes to add four additional nurses to its staff. Miss Minnie Sattel, a nurse of wide experience of Waukesha, Wis., has been secured for the present and will begin active duty at once. Her headquarters will be at Cisco.

From Nov. 11 to Thanksgiving day the membership drive of the Red Cross will be staged over the United States. By this means the county organization hopes to secure enough funds to maintain a crop of five nurses.

Membership in the organization is $1 a year, 50 per cent of which goes to national headquarters. However, donations of any amount may be accepted, none of which goes out of the county.

It is during the drive also that funds are secured to maintain local nurses. Ranger is the only city in Eastland county that has been so fortunate.

Mrs. Grace Herrington has been stationed here and has done untold good both among civilians and ex-soldiers. Many cases have been cared for through her efforts that did not come under the head of the duties for which she has been employed.

FUEL OIL SHORTAGE CHARGED TO BOLSHIEVISM

By Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—Bolshevism in Russia has very materially diminished the world's supply of fuel oil, according to delegates to the conference of the petroleum section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, which opened here today.

A paper prepared by a prominent London geologist declared that Russia contains a vast oil wealth, but development has been prevented by industrial conditions there.

Willard Cutler of Washington said that high prices of oil have a tendency to extend the life of wells, as the return gives money with which to keep the wells in operation.

HOBBY LISTS MEASURES HE WILL SUBMIT

New Laws Arising Out of Women's Suffrage, Chief Object.

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—Governor Hobby will submit only three subjects to the special session of the legislature, if he adheres to assurances given Senator Bledsoe today.

One subject will be the providing of regulations for voters in the November election, the only one mentioned by the governor in his message calling the extra session. He recommended enactment of a law qualifying all those who had paid poll taxes prior to February 1, 1920, and giving all those who have not paid poll taxes fifteen days in which to record their names in county collectors' offices and pay an amount equal to what those now holding poll tax receipts have paid.

The governor's reason for calling the session was that confusion now exists and that if the electoral situation is not clarified election officers might discriminate in a way that would result in disorder. The entire electoral vote of the state might be placed in jeopardy by a display of inequality, the governor said.

RACE TROUBLE AT CHICAGO NOW UNDER CONTROL, IS REPORT

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Quiet prevailed this morning in the stock yards district, where last night one white man was killed by three negroes and the killing was followed by disturbances which required police reinforcements to quell. Chief of Police Garrity has established deadlines in the district and it is reported that the situation is under control. The disturbances ended when police hurried negroes from a church while Father Thomas Burke talked to a crowd estimated at 5,000 persons and urged them not to resort to acts of violence.

EDINBURG FARMERS TO STANDARDIZE COTTON

By Associated Press. EDINBURG, Texas, Sept. 21.—Farmers of this vicinity plan to take extensive tests next season to determine what type of long staple cotton is best suited to the soil and climate. Isolated patches of practically every variety are to be planted and that which makes the best crop will be adopted as a standard. By standardization, it is said, farmers can obtain a far higher price than otherwise would be bid by buyers.

Story of High-Jacking of Local 'Rush Rubin' Game Over Ranger Garage Told

Thompson, Companion of Bandit Mims, 'Squeals' On Witness Stand During Trial For Robberies

BULLETIN.

The death penalty will not be asked in Thompson's case, it was announced at Eastland today when the jury hearing the case was charged.

EASTLAND, Sept. 21.—For the first time a detailed narrative of the high-jacking of an alleged gambling game over a Ranger garage by the bandit, Charles Mims, and four companions, was told on the witness stand here late yesterday afternoon by R. F. Thompson, arrested simultaneously with Mims after a gun fight in Ranger. It is expected that the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

Thompson willingly told of his complicity in the robbery of the gambling house, but contended that Mims was the leader. That the robbery had been planned for some time was made evident when the prisoner told of first hearing of the contemplated hold-up in Fort Worth some time previous to the time it was effected.

It was also learned that Thompson and Mims had contemplated leaving Ranger with the loot taken from the gambling house hold-up on the day following the date of their capture here. Mims' share of the stick-up was augmented by a considerable sum of money constituting his "split" after the robbery of a bank at Graham. Thompson denied all knowledge of the Graham robbery and declared that the only one of the five men who participated in the robbery here that he knew was Mims.

Thompson maintained composure during the trial. His parents came to Eastland from Mexia, Texas, and the prisoner spent the time off the witness stand playing with his baby sister, one year old.

The gist of his testimony follows: "The first I knew of the proposed hold-up of the game at Ranger was Monday or Tuesday at a 'Jake' joint down on Fifteenth street in Fort Worth. There were three or four talking about robbing a gambling house at Ranger. There was no time proposed for this while I was present. I came out to Ranger either Monday or Tuesday. I went to Mrs. Etta Moore's place and took a room.

About 2 o'clock that night, just after I had gone to bed two of the boys came to my room and asked me if I wanted to go up to the gambling house. I told them I did. There were five of us who went up there immediately, Charles Mims being the only one of the others whom I knew. We went directly to the place where the game was running and went up to the gambling room. Two of the boys went into the room first and drew their guns and the crowd put their hands up and lined them up against the wall with their faces to the wall. I and three of the boys held our guns on the crowd while the other two searched them. I never put my hands on a single person after we had completed the search. We walked back out the door and ran to the Moore rooming house."

It was heaps and heaps of fun.

Charles L. Buttmer, chief of the fire department, left last night for Dallas to try and secure a part for one of the fire engines. The part became broken while the engine was in use yesterday and until it can be replaced the apparatus cannot be used.

LAMB.

"White Lie" Is Never Justifiable, She Finds.

Is a "white lie" justifiable? Becky Warner (Madge Kennedy) thought so. She wanted to bring Fred and Eve Linden together again, and in her quixotic efforts she placed herself in ambiguous situations with the profligate husband of her best friend. Also, she lied continuously to her own husband, Becky tangled herself in a net of deceptions, and when she was finally driven to "The Truth," her husband, his faith gone, refused to believe her.

It is this situation which furnishes the great climax to Clyde Fitch's masterpiece which Goldwyn has pictured with Miss Kennedy as Becky. The young matron learns in a bitter hour that a "white lie" is little different from the other kind.

TEMPLE.

Katherine MacDonald, famous for her remarkable interpretations, and well known as the Most Beautiful Woman in America, will appear at the Temple theatre today in the star role of the picture "The Notorious Miss Lisle."

This latest First National Attraction is the story of Gaenor Lisle, beautiful young English girl who is annoyed by the publicity given her participation in a popular scandal affair and leaves England, embarking on a series of romantic incidents culminating in a breathless climax where Gaenor, married to a man who knows nothing of her past, is requested by her husband to acknowledge or refute the charges that have been made against her.

Under the capable direction of James Young, the story does not lag nor fail to keep the interest of spectators at the highest pitch.

OPERA HOUSE.

Escaped Lusitania Disaster.

Booked to sail on the Lusitania on her fateful trip, Tilyou and Rodgers, who are playing at the Opera House, read the notices posted in the newspapers by the German embassy warning Americans to keep off the ship under penalty of an named danger. They were due to open a vaudeville engagement in London. The discovered that the American line steamer was to sail the same day as the Lusitania and so changed their bookings. The two steamers sailed down the bay together—the majestic-funneled Cunarder the graceful New York—the one lies of St. Georges Head and the other arrives safely in Southampton. Returning, the boys took the Cymric and the ship was chased by a submarine, but upon the Cymric's return to England she was torpedoed. Tilyou and Rodgers both felt that they had had more than their share of good fortune, but went again on an army transport to entertain the American soldiers in France, without seeing a submarine.

MAN WHO HUNTED SCION OF BOGUS LORD DISAPPEARS

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Major J. E. Hastings-Seymour, who had been seeking Elaine E. Barton, daughter of the notorious "Lord Barrington," gentleman criminal, was reported to have disappeared yesterday. In answer to an advertisement of the major, who claimed to be "Lord Barrington's attorney, and who said the latter died seven years ago, leaving an estate to his daughter, a relative sought the lawyer to impart information regarding the girl.

Following the word that Major Hastings-Seymour "had gone out of town" came a dispatch from the St. Joseph, Mo. prison that George F. Barton, alias "Lord Barrington," was paroled on December 24, 1918, and presumably is alive. He had been serving a term there since 1905, when he was sentenced for the murder of James McCann, of St. Louis. The parole, according to the dispatch, terminated on January 1, 1920.

The mystery surrounding the appearance of the "attorney" for Barton deepened when he disappeared. It is understood that the family of "Lord Barrington" plunged into poverty and distress through his appropriation of his wife's money and his later disastrous tilts with officials of various cities as a gentleman crook, fear the bogus nobleman is endeavoring to wreak vengeance on his wife and daughter.

A close relative of Mrs. Barton, holding the latter's address a secret answered the advertisement of the major to question several points in his representations that seemed ambiguous. The relative doubted that Lord Barrington had died, and the dispatch from the Western prison tended to confirm the doubt. The relative said:

"I am inclined to prevent the wife from meeting this attorney, for her nerves are on edge. Should she identify Major Hastings-Seymour as Lord Barrington, it would be a shock that might prove fatal."

The Manhattan hotel, where the "attorney" had been stopping, could supply no forwarding address for Major Hastings-Seymour yesterday.

LOW GRADE COTTON HELD IN WEST TEXAS; NO MARKET

ARILENE, Sept. 21.—More than 65,000 bales of the 1919 cotton crop is lying in the hands of farmers of West Texas without a market. The grade is very low, which accounts for the infinitesimal demand for it. Prospects are that the 1920 crop will have many bales of the same grade, due to the lateness of the season. Disposition of this immense number of bales is now a question confronting the West. Unless cotton mills utilizing a low grade can be created, the prospects for its consumption will be dubious. The scarcity of news print paper may result in its utilization in time, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which is daily asked for a solution. Many farmers holding a great deal of this cotton are willing to sacrifice it at the picking price.

The 1920 crop is unusually late. Picking in earnest will not be started much earlier than Oct. 1, and will not be completed before the early part of 1921, under present prospects.

The new army airplanes will be of metal, carrying numerous machine guns and small cannon. These planes will have a speed up to 200 miles an hour and a cruising radius of about seven hours.

WOMAN SAVES HER MIDDLE-AGED HUSBY FROM GIRL'S WILES

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 21.—Mrs. Bessie Hartzel's determination that no pretty girl shall steal her husband's affections landed her and her husband in the police court.

Harry Hartzel has been for thirty years employed at Lerch Brothers. When the firm decided to employ women in the office Mrs. Hartzel became worried. Employees at Lerch Brothers said Mrs. Hartzel ordered her husband not to converse with the girls. Thereafter Mr. Hartzel communicated his inquiries thru another man or made notes. Finally, however, Mrs. Hartzel decided these precautions were not sufficient and demanded her husband give up his position. Harry obeyed. Then Mrs. Hartzel, her wrath aroused against the girls whom she considered responsible for her husband losing his position, used the telephone to tell them about it.

Miss Mildred K. Elliott, twenty-one years old, was shocked when she received a telephone call from Mrs. Hartzel. She said the woman called her "names" and talked "something awful." Certainly she had never tried to "vamp" Mr. Hartzel, who was twenty-four years her senior. Then she called other girls in the office.

Finally the girls had Mr. and Mrs. Hartzel arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct. Magistrate Stanford was anxious to know if the girls had really done anything to cause Mrs. Hartzel to believe her husband unsafe in their presence, but all admitted, even the Hartzel couple, that the girls had always acted like "perfect ladies." The magistrate severely reprimanded Mrs. Hartzel for her meddling in the company affairs, and warned her against continuing that course.

PRODUCERS OF BRAZIL BACKED BY GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press
RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 21.—Under a measure just introduced in the Chamber of Deputies, the Brazilian government would be given the power to intervene as buyer or seller in commercial markets, to acquire national products and hold them for sale at an opportune time, to make loans to producers on such and to organize special credits for this purpose.

The objects of the proposed measure are stated to be the defense of Brazilian production, and the avoidance of the consequences of speculation, lack of transport and other causes which are keeping back the progress of national production.

To carry out the provisions of the law the measure proposes that the government be authorized to make emissions of money and conduct internal and foreign credit operations, up to $250,000,000. Gains accruing from such operations are to be employed in the purchase for deposit in the national treasury of all gold from Brazilian mines, the exportation of which will continue to be prohibited; in the purchase of mink and hare, and of whatever origin, for the same purpose, and in the amortization of the domestic and foreign debt by securing bonds at a lower quotation.

The ball-murdering Yanks have hit the bumps on their last swing around the western end of the American circuit. Chicago, Cleveland and St. Louis have driven them into a hopeless third place. The Yanks were pennant contenders all season.

RACE HORSE GRIEVES FOR AMERICAN SPORTSMAN

LONDON, Sept. 21.—"The Elf," favorite trotting mare of Walter Winas, the American sportsman who died while driving a horse in a race here recently, is said by Winas's stablemen to have grieved so much since her master's death that she became almost unmanageable. "Mr. Winas always used to visit her first and feed her with sugar and talk to her and she was always the first to be harnessed for a run round the track," said W. Mills, who has been the dead man's room-mate for 29 years. "Mr. Winas bred the mare himself." Mills continued, "On the day of the death I think the mare must have seen her master carried in after the accident. That afternoon the men could do nothing with her. "She refused food, and kept on kicking at the door of her box. The next day when I took her out for exercise she neighed the whole time. "Finally we had to shut her up for a day or two in the dark and now she has become a little quieter."

GUARANTY BANK AND FIRST NATIONAL TANGLE IN BASEBALL DUEL

Wednesday afternoon at Municipal park the Guaranty State bank proposes to wrest baseball supremacy from the First National boys. The gate will be wide open and those who have borrowed money from other institution and feel impelled to back it up are welcome to attend the festivities. Whether attendance and enthusiasm will help in putting over future loans is unstated. Reasons for the athletic duel are un-stated, but it is said the challengers are confident and are doing that kind of waving of hands which indicates knowledge of a sure thing. "Champs" of the First National promise that there will be no compromise.

Wilbert Robinson, round well-liked leader of the Brooklyn Dodgers, apparently has led his outfit to another pennant, the second one he has copped in a span of five stizzling campaigns.

ARGENTINA SEEKS CHANGE IN PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION LAWS

By Associated Press. BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 21.—In case of the death, incapacity or absence from the federal capital of the president of Argentina and, subsequently, of the vice president, the executive functions would be performed by a member of the cabinet in fixed order of precedence, according to a bill just passed by the Chamber of Deputies, called the "vacancy law." This amends the previous law whereby the succession fell to the president of the senate. The minister of interior takes first precedence. The law would thus assure that whoever succeeds as president would be a member of the administration, whereas under the existing procedure, it is possible for the succession to fall to a member of the opposition party. Such a possibility, at present, is held to be responsible for the introduction of the law into the chamber of deputies by the radical party, which is president Irigoyen's. The death last year of vice-president Luna left the presidency of the senate vacant and a conservative majority in the senate elected Dr. Benito Villanueva to preside over that body. Thus, if President Irigoyen should die, Dr. Villanueva would automatically become president. Under the Argentine law, the president cannot leave the capital without the permission of congress, in which case his functions devolve upon the vice-president until his return. At present, permission was granted, they would be performed by Dr. Villanueva. Critics of the president say that this is the reason he has never asked for a vacation since the death of the vice-president. Most of the newspapers doubt that the new law will be sanctioned by the senate, pointing out that the conservative majority will hardly be willing to surrender the potential advantages which the situation gives them.

"WRECKED" SOX, MINUS RUTH AND MAYS, BECOME WINNING, PEACEFUL BALL CLUB

When Owner Frazee of the Red Sox said Babe Ruth and Carl Mays to the Yanks and allowed Roth, slugging outfielder, to go to the Washington club, the Boston fans threw up their hands in despair. "Good-bye, ball club," said most folk. But it is evident now that Manager Barrow knew what he was doing when he sanctioned those deals. With those stars his team was not a winning outfit. It was torn by strife. This season it has been a harmonious outfit and is having considerable to say in the pennant race.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY IN SIGN LANGUAGE

International News Service. FORT COLLINS, Colo., Sept. 21.—The full Presbyterian marriage service was "spelled" out on the fingers of an interpreter here when James H. Tuskey of Fort Morgan, and Elsie Webster, of this city, both mutes, were wedded. Rev. Charles D. Darling, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. Miss Margaret Webster, sister of the bride, translating the clergyman's rendition of the ritual into the sign language for the bridal couple.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

An ultimatum from the city health officer to the Texas & Pacific railway in regard to sanitary conditions has finally brought results. That is, it has brought a promise to begin work on remedying the condition. Whether the promise will be fulfilled remains to be seen. Even if it is, that will be a small part of what should be done.

Oil has made the Texas & Pacific prosperous within the past few years. Oil has made Ranger the focal point of the T. & P.'s vast oil supplies transportation. Judging from its actions and not its promises, the T. & P. is anxious to do the business, provided no additional equipment outlay is involved. It is willing to have the Ranger office handle millions of dollars annually with an equipment sufficient for one-twentieth of the business done. Therein it is trying a system which would bankrupt any private enterprise. No business can hold custom which it is not equipped to handle; this is true of public servants as well as individual undertakings.

In the case of private concerns, the business goes elsewhere; it is taken to competitors, perhaps, but to other communities where the arteries of trade are not paralyzed and deadened.

The Texas & Pacific's business in Ranger has been enormous. It will continue to do this business for years to come if it will only open the channels of transportation so that the lifeblood of commerce can flow in and out of the city.

Take this matter of passenger facilities alone. Overlook for the moment the violation of the city sanitary ordinances. Overlook mere matters of inconvenience to travelers. Overlook the open violation of the state law requiring separate waiting rooms for whites and negroes. Just remember that with the help of these legal shortcomings and makeshift arrangements there is not room to handle the traffic.

The waiting room will not seat more than forty persons, at a liberal estimate. All other patrons must wait on the platform, regardless of the weather. Consider this platform. Sliny with mud when it rains, with ankle deep holes of water dotted about. Pitch darkness after nightfall. A greater portion of its length not more than ten feet wide, with incoming and outgoing passengers jammed in an almost hopeless muddle between box cars and the passenger coaches. Movement in this jam is oftentimes impossible for minutes.

These are a few of the conditions under which the largest business on the Texas & Pacific's 1,500 miles of line is handled.

Consider the accommodations at Temple, Taylor, Corsicana and other towns of Texas, not nearly so large as Ranger, and these stations built when the towns mentioned were of 5,000 or so inhabitants. If the railroads could build for the future in those towns, why cannot the Texas & Pacific build for the present as well as the future in Ranger? Why condemn the future to the facilities of the past?

Judging by its acts, the T. & P. is an apostle of retrogression. It should awake from its dream of big business without commensurate outlay.

ANTICIPATE THE CALL.

Directors of the Salvation Army drive for $10,000 say getting the money is easy if they can get workers. The people of Ranger are anxious to give to the worthy cause but they want somebody to come around and ask them for it. According to plans formulated last night and promises obtained, the workers will be out today and will cover the town.

If they have not been around to your place of business or employment yet, they are coming. If not today, then tomorrow. Ranger is going to raise that $10, 000 if it takes all summer, the campaign managers say.

The thing for the individual citizens to do is to anticipate the campaigners. Only a small sum from each person will be required to raise this fund. Let someone in every store, office or shop solicit his fellow workers and have the total contribution ready when it is called for. This will enable much more ground to be covered quickly. If it is not called for, then phone the campaign headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce and they will send some one to relieve you of it.

Remember, $10,000 is less than $1 from each person in Ranger. Five thousand persons can do it with $2 each. Two thousand persons giving $5 each will make it and so on. The larger the individual response, the fewer contributors will be necessary. However, the fact that a few persons may feel able to contribute large sums does not relieve any person of his individual responsibility. Individual contributions need not be large, but the response should be unanimous. Contribute yourself, and see that your co-workers have the opportunity.

STEREOTYPED CAMPAIGNS

Some political expert said a few weeks ago that political campaigns pursue a regular order each election. They start with a flourish of trumpets and a blare of oratory in August, lasting until the latter part of September. Then interest dies down and issues are moribund until the final two weeks before the convention, when the developments of the campaign bring excitement to the fever pitch again.

So far the prediction has been borne out. There was much interest when the candidates first began speaking. Everyone wanted to know how they interpreted various issues. Now their curiosity has been satisfied. Everyone knows, maybe not what the nominees really think, but what political exigencies cause them to profess to think, on the questions of the day. They have committed themselves and the die is cast. They cannot change their respective stands and public interest falls when the same sentiments are poured into their ears every day.

Governor Cox is still speaking in the West, but no one cares to read his remarks as their essentials are known in advance. The same is true of the front porch campaign Senator Harding is waging.

But watch the prediction: New and startling issues will be brought forward to enliven the closing days of the campaign.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Sensational!
 The Woman had a two hours' wait before her in the station of a small country town pending the arrival of the train that would carry her farther on toward her destination.

Pouring rain. Nothing to do. No new postcards on exhibition since her last visit nearly ten years before. She was not hungry, but eating lunch would serve to use up a little of her time. So she made her way to the dining room and chose a small table in the rear, feeling dirty, damp, disgusted.

"Anything you want?" piped the shrill voice of the buxom young waitress. A clatter of tarnished silverware, dumped in handfuls about her, the energetic filling of glass with water and the thrusting of a tried and trusty menu card before her stirred the Woman to action. She ordered two lettuce sandwiches and a cup of coffee.

"You don't eat real hearty, do you?" observed the waitress, visions of a pot roast with vegetables and an equivalent perquisite fading before her eyes. "Sit right here," she added cordially to an approaching gentleman, indicating a vacant seat on a cushioned towel a vacant chair at the Woman's table. The gentleman brought with him a large appetite and an overwhelming odor of the stable. He promptly ordered a substantial meal. The waitress switched off the rear view of her apron strings facing the Woman defiantly as their owner retreated toward the kitchen. Soon she returned, bearing a finger bowl held high. This she placed in front of the Woman with something of a splash.

"Maybe you'll wash your hands, anyway," she remarked in withering tones.

What Side Are You On?
 Riding downtown on a No. 5 the Woman read with interest and approval the coach company's request that its patrons express themselves in regard to smoking on tops of buses. She determined to write at once, and at the same time recount for her readers an experience of her own that has clung for all time her objection to the practice.

Let us hasten to say, lest the Women be classed with those prunes and prisms who object to smoking in general, but she regards the habit with toleration bordering on approval, and doesn't even frown when her own sex, provided they are mature enough, indulge. She does not object strenuously to being asked to swallow the smoke of fellow travelers, whether this be on the top of a bus or in the rear of an open car, where the habit flourishes like a green bay tree. And she rejoices at every mention of men lined for making the subway a smoking parlor, but the subway is another story, which she will tell another day.

Not less than a month ago she sat in the rear of a St. Nicholas avenue bus, when suddenly, from above, descended a half-smoked cigarette, still glowing, which was blown into the open window and deposited on the lap of the Woman's neighbor, who had the window seat. Fortunately, the Woman saw it coming and flicked it to the floor before it had left a permanent reminder of its intrusion. But she scored another mark against the practice of smoking where such indulgence can annoy or imperil those who do not smoke. And she means to write that letter.

Brave bathing girls who took advantage of a summer snow storm in mountains near Los Angeles.

A novel snow storm broke suddenly near Los Angeles, recently "traced" for a while in the foothills. A bevy of young women were taking a plunge in the surf, without changing their bathing suits, rushed into autos and speeded to the hills for a snow bath. Regardless of their airy costumes, there was snow balling, face washing and all of the delights of a real New England winter. Reports say it was a nice, warm, gentle snow storm, for none of the bathers caught cold.

He Lost His Balance and Fell On His Nose.

OFF TO SEE CHIEF PORRY
 Jack the Wood Rat felt very bad. He was not used to going without his dinner. And as soon as Tinker Bob was off for a visit to the midst of the Forest with Major Joe-Cat, Jack thought he would help himself. The King knew he would try something like that, so he put food in a basket and hung it in the middle of the room. Of course Jack was angry and after trying to reach the basket a time or two, he lost his balance and fell on his nose.

The Little Tailor laughed when Mr. Wood Rat bumped his nose, and at once there was trouble. Jack came up and showed his teeth and said: "I'll show you if it's a laughing matter when I bump my nose," and he curled Mr. Grass-hopper Mouse till he squeaked for mercy. "Now that's just enough. I'm going to show you that when I come here to make a suit of pajamas for you that you can't cuff me around like that," and Mr. G. Mouse dropped his work and ran for the door.

"Oh don't tell the King, please don't tell the King," cried the Wood Rat. "Come back, come back. I'll stand up and let you fit them to me, if you will not tell the King."

"I don't intend to tell the King," said Mr. G. Mouse. "I'll fix you without teasing anyone." Then he ran away into the Forest. Jack felt relieved when he thought the King would not know anything about it. "I wonder what the Tailor is going to do," said he to himself. "He thinks he's very strong for such a little fellow."

Mr. G. Mouse, the little tailor, went out into the Forest to find Chief Porry. As usual, he found him asleep in the old Elm Tree. "I wonder when he'll wake up," said he to himself. Just then he heard a sound of voices closer and closer till right in front of him stood Sammy Squirrel and Minnie Chipmunk.

They were saying very sweet things to each other, and they didn't think there was anyone around that could hear. But Mr. G. Mouse heard all that was said, and it was indeed a great surprise to him. Suddenly a thought came to him about how he could arouse Chief Porry. He would ask Sammy Squirrel to climb the tree and speak to the Chief.

"Wait," said he as he came from behind the tree. "Will you climb up there and tell Chief Porry that I want to see a lesson on "The Correct Uses of Ain't." But the other day she was reminded that there are those who will war on that particular error to the exclusion of other violations of taste or language. Caught in a subway jam she heard a small boy remark, "Ge, mom! This is a hell of a crowd, ain't it?" and the up-to-date young mother answered in despairing tones, "Himie, haven't I told you never to say ain't?"

JAW SHOT OFF, HE WILL SOON CHEW BEEFSTEAK AGAIN

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21.—A "new face" is a constant reminder that Sergeant Russell S. Rankin, Cincinnati's first hero of the recent World's war experienced the horrors of the terrible conflict.

It was while fighting near Soissons in the great Aisne-Marne drive that a stream of German machine gun bullets tore a hole in Rankin's right shoulder, nearly tearing the arm off. Some of the enemy's bullets cut his neck, narrowly missing the jugular vein, ripped out seven teeth and cut off his lower jaw and half of his tongue. Another stream of bullets went through his left hand.

He received first aid only after walking across three miles and a half. Nearly dying from thirst and loss of blood, Rankin could not swallow food nor drink for five days. After being fed fluids thru his nose, he miraculously recovered.

The remains of his shattered jaw were sewed back in place, pieces of bone were removed from his leg and transplanted in his jaw, strips of skin and flesh were cut off his chest, turned up and without being completely severed from his chest, were grown onto the lower part of his face, forming a new jaw.

Rankin's "new face" has been more than a year in the making. Dr. William T. Coughlin, St. John's Hospital, St. Louis did the work.

Spending over two years in hospitals in France, New York and St. Louis, Rankin underwent twenty-two important operations in addition to much dental work. Dr. Coughlin is yet to perform three major operations on Rankin, who expects to return to St. Louis after visiting his mother at Cynthia, Ky.

"I have not chewed a bite of food for more than two years—living on fluids, but Dr. Coughlin is going to implant more bone in my jaw, adjust a set of false teeth, and then will be able to hit into a steak once more" said Rankin. "That will be grand."

PROHIBITION FUSS SPREADS TO CHILE

SANTIAGO, Sept. 21.—Agitation in favor of rigorous enforcement of regulations governing the sale of intoxicants and for additional measures of control has been growing recently in Chile.

A campaign has been started to make the Araucanian Indian reserve of Cholchol "dry" following a petition to the government from residents in the district alleging violations of the existing laws which prohibit the sale of alcoholic drinks on Sundays and feast days and by persons without license. The petitioners declare peddlers visit the Indians on holidays and during their traditional fiestas, trade liquor for blankets, fowls and cereals with the result that the feasts "degenerate in drunken brawls and much disorder."

Movements also have been started by workers in the nitrate and coal fields in favor of prohibiting the sale of liquor on pay days.

FARMERS BUY GIN.

MILES, Sept. 21.—One hundred and fifty farmers of the Miles community have organized the Farmers Gin company with a capital stock of $20,000 and purchased the Red gin here. Lee Evans, a competent gin man, has been put in charge. The purpose was to provide a market for the farmers' seed and stabilize the price of ginning. It is one of the several instances where West Texas farmers have possessed themselves of their own gins. Farmers recently set the price of cottonseed at $50 a ton, to which price they expect to tenaciously adhere. Details of the farmers' proceedings have been imparted to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

HOW MANY?
 The panic men forecast has not yet centered by; our flag is not half masted, and we are living high. What though the prophets rages throughout the heedless land? We're drawing princely wages, our work is in demand; We find the money growing upon the evergreens, when we are blithely going to work in limousines. Where once the guilders trickled, they now in rivers shine; how many have you pickled, how many are in the brine? The times, so brisk and breezy, have lasted until now; and money's been so easy we fed it to the cows; and I am not predicting a dreadful time to come, or drearily inflicting a preachment out of plumb. But if you wake tomorrow and find the boom is dead, will you be forced to borrow before the week is ended? For months you have been tickled, the dollars came swift; how many have you pickled, because of inborn thrift? How many have you carried to some safe banker's vault,

Miss Rotta Pam boarding the plane.

The latest novel idea of society is to go a-golfing by seaplane. Rotta Pam of New York, started the fad when she flew from New York of Sixty-ninth-st. on the North river to the Sleepy Hollow Country club. The plane alighted in the Hudson near Tarrytown. Capt. Tibbs of the Tibbs Aero Service, piloted the plane.

FOREST FIRES EASILY FOUND BY AIRPLANES

By International News Service
DENVER, Sept. 21.—That forest fires which have taken a terrible toll of human life and caused many millions of dollars' damage in this state have been conquered, is the belief of national forest officials in Colorado, following a successful experiment in detecting a "dummy" fire in the thickly wooded country of the San Isabel forest by aeroplane scouts.

A plane piloted by Jack Atkinson, of this city, and carrying Forest Ranger Charles W. Clover and another observer, swept through the swirling air currents over the reaches of the San Isabel forest in Southern Colorado, and demonstrated that the aeroplane forest fire patrol is far more efficient than was believed possible.

The trip was made as a test upon which may depend adoption by the government of a permanent aerial fire patrol in the forests of Colorado.

The plane was flown from Denver, south to Pueblo, and within twenty minutes after the "fire lookout" had left that city in a southward direction the observers had located accurately from the thousands of acres of forest beneath them the tiny wisp of smoke which represented an incipient forest fire, previously set by the other rangers concealed in the rugged fastnesses of the San Isabel. One of the most secluded spots in the forest had been chosen by the rangers who set the test fire, but the plane circled about the tiny dot of smoke that had been "spotted" unerringly from the dense forest area of hundreds of square miles.

"Successful? The trip couldn't possibly have been a greater success," declared Ranger Clover upon landing from the plane. "From the earth it would have been hours before the smoke from such a fire would have been discerned against the sky. Looking down, with the dense black forest as a background, the thin wisp of smoke could be seen miles away."

'A QUIVER A DAY KEEPS BIG EARTHQUAKE AWAY'—CHILEAN SCIENTIST

By Associated Press
SANTIAGO, Sept. 21.—The seismic disturbance which visited central Chile and a part of western Argentina in the latter part of last month—the most violent since the 1906 earthquake when Valparaiso was partly destroyed with great loss of life—was a "happy event" from a scientific point of view, according to Count Montessus de Ballore, director of the Chilean Seismological observatory, located near here. "Explaining this," he says:

"For the last 18 months there has been complete seismic tranquility and we know that an undisturbed condition prepares disasters in countries subject to such phenomena. The frequent rumblings correspond to what may be called 'small coin' earthquakes. When no quakes are produced for a long period the effort is accumulated until it breaks out violently as the forces succeed in crushing the elastic resistance of the terrestrial strata."

The Count says if the "quiet condition" had continued much longer—one or two years—the danger would have been far greater, but now "according to all probabilities, we will return to a state of normal seismic activity instead of a menacing calm." Faint shocks are felt here frequently. There was no loss of life and the material damage in Santiago and Valparaiso was confined largely to cracked walls and skylights, destruction of glassware in some of the stores and cracking of a glass dome on the palace of fine arts in Santiago.

MIDNIGHT FILM SHOWS

International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—After the dances are over in San Francisco and the wee sma' hours of the morning roll in, local movie fans tie themselves to their favorite screen palaces and watch their favorite stars—until 4 o'clock in the morning.

This is because the public welfare and censorship committee of the board of supervisors is having the ordinance amended so that the screen houses may be kept running until the early hour, at the request of the local patrons.

Out of the total strength of 208,870 units in contingents of the United States army, 153,000 are in training in this country; in the Philippines, roughly 20,000; Germany, 15,600; Hawaii, 4,600; Panama, 4,350; Porto Rico, 1,500; China, 1,500; Alaska, 800; France, 138, and England, 13.

TAKES A WELL-BRED DAIRY COW TO JUMP OVER THE MOON

It takes a well-bred, well-fed dairy cow to jump over the moon, according to experts in the department of agriculture, who have illustrated the well known fable in a graphic way. Her sister, the scrub, fails utterly to produce enough butter fat to justify her keep in these days of high costs. This device was inspired by the record of Tilly Alcartra, a California Holstein-Friesian animal which achieved a world's record in producing 33,425.3 pounds of milk in a year.

Showing how the well-bred cow jumps over the moon of her upkeep while the scrub falls short.

H. C. L. AND MOTHERS-IN-LAW PUT THE THREE-PLY KIBOSH ON CUPID—DIVORCES INCREASING

Written for the International News Service
By MARGERY REX
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—High rents are indicated on new charges.

Vast monthly and yearly tolls raze our purses to a miserable flatness. People who used to save in order to buy homes, automobiles, life insurance, clothes and education for the children, now find everything has become—for the average man or woman—subservient to the problem of paying the rent.

High rents and the flat shortage break homes, charge Mrs. Julia Guire, arbitrator of the court of domestic relations in Chicago, who has arrived at this alarming conclusion after "listening in" on the woes of the wedded.

But large rentals and scarcity of dwellings alone cannot separate man from his brand-new wife. The newlyweds' new obstacle to happiness, according to Mrs. McGuire, is one of the oldest excuses in the world for marital troubles. It is the standby of cartoonist and "colymunist." It is an immortal joke and theme of comic song, the mother-in-law.

Not mother-in-law in the newlywed's home taking sides and bickering, as popularly supposed, but ensconced with her own household goods, reigning and wrangling, as unwilling hostess to the homeless lovers.

Mrs. McGuire's Observations.
Mrs. McGuire says:
"Discord breaks the harmony of their new happiness almost immediately. These couples are coming to court daily in increasing numbers. These newlyweds own nothing, neither have they anything to lose, and little differences are soon magnified into consequential in such environment. The mother-in-law refuses to let them adjust their differences once they come into court. They place every obstacle in their way."

Another black mark against the woman who, by the marriage of her son or daughter, becomes the supposedly hated in-law.

Rents, of course, are high in Chicago, greatest city of the Middle West. But what of New York, where land values are so great in all parts of the city that the poorest tenement dares to ask a good round, but by no means square, sum for the privilege of its shelter.

Huge rents do not deter matrimony, at least says Michael J. Cruise, deputy clerk in the marriage license bureau, in commenting on the fearsome news from the West. Mr. Cruise believes that owing to the general state of high wages people are now marrying who, so to speak, have never married before.

License Clerk's Views.
"High salaries at present make young men feel that they can support a wife," says Mr. Cruise. "The responsibility of marriage is not put off indefinitely by means of a long engagement."

More money means more spunk. Nearly all working classes make good money now. I know in several cases of young women who work in garment trades making as high as $90 a week. Such a girl in marrying a man who may make as much sometimes continues to work for a while. At least a period which is characterized by such pay for labor is not one in which men are loath to care for their wives. They don't need to live with mother-in-law.

"So many very young people come in here for licenses. In order to get the license they must show birth certificates or have their mothers come in to testify to their ages."

"We like to see the mothers with the youngsters. If they are the right sort of people they want to see the newly married get along peacefully and happily. I believe parents should be notified, especially in these civil marriages which are contracted in this bureau.

No Homes in Sight.
"I have often wondered myself about the housing situation. Some of the applicants here have been questioned by us and they say they will go on a honeymoon but don't know where they will live later. That means, I suppose, the parents of one or the other will have to put them up till a permanent home can be found."

"At a time when the type of man who once was forced to wait and save for his bride-to-be can marry now while quite young, and at a time when we issue more marriage licenses than ever before I cannot say that the 'bogy' of the mother-in-law is apt to wreck many homes."

But rare landlords and mothers-in-law and grooms really conniving to destroy romance and young love and marital bliss?

The mother-in-law of the colored supplement is a somewhat different individual from the real type from which she is crudely, for the purposes of humor, drawn.

We know a mother-in-law who helped her son-in-law pay up his business losses who clothes her daughter and her daughter's children in order that the little group may appear before their small and critical circle without loss of pride. She has helped them to save money, and her excellent advice and help during a period of strain will be remembered the next time they are tempted to outshine their neighbors.

Many mothers-in-law are truly "angels in disguise."

We also venture the banality that many more are angles in disgust who must endure the heartlessness of the newlyweds engrossed in love, fearing any alien presence may disturb their new-found happiness.

As to mother-in-law and her rights—"Long may she wave."

During the war 1,400 officers in the United States supervised the work of the construction division, and employed under them were 140,000 laborers and thousands of sailors and civilian employees.

MRS. WM. F. SMITH, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says Tanlac completely restored her health when no one believed she would ever be well again. Has gained thirteen pounds.

"I will never stop praising Tanlac, for it has restored my health when everyone who knew of my dreadful condition had no idea I would ever get well."

"Two years ago, following an accident, I began suffering from indigestion and severe stomach trouble. I grew worse so rapidly that my health soon became perfectly wretched. My stomach became so weak I couldn't eat the simplest food or even drink a glass of milk without suffering for hours afterward. I was extremely nervous, and would have palpitation of the heart so badly at times I would almost faint. My circulation was very poor, I had no color, and weighed only eighty-one pounds. It seemed I was just gradually starving by degrees, and I had almost given up hope."

"After the best medical treatment failed to help me, travel and a change of surroundings was advised, so I traveled nearly all over the United States and had treatment every place I went, but always with the same disappointing results. How I stood my suffering is more than I can tell, and I became so despondent that life seemed hardly worth living."

"That is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. When my husband first suggested Tanlac I told him I had no faith in it, but the next day he bought me a bottle, and to my great surprise it seemed to agree with me, so I kept on taking it. The results speak for themselves."

"I have gained thirteen pounds in weight, and I feel perfectly well in every way. My appetite is splendid and I eat just anything I want and never have the slightest symptom of indigestion. I am so happy over the recovery of my health that I feel just like telling everybody about this wonderful medicine."

The above remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. William P. Smith, a well known and highly respected resident of Los Angeles, Calif., residing at 139 East Avenue 36.

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

RIVER GIVES UP $2,000 DIAMOND LOST TWO YEARS

YANKTON, S. D., Sept. 21.—Two years ago Otto Huber, young real estate dealer here, and his fiancée, Miss Ruby Parr, went boat riding on the James river. A diamond engagement ring which had cost Huber $2,000 was lost in the water.

He and friends searched for the gem constantly during the next two days but it was not found and he was called away to war. Recently he returned. Last Sunday he resumed the hunt, using a fine sand screen. After working about four hours he was rewarded by finding the ring. It has been returned to the young woman and a wedding is expected before the week's end.

OH, YOU PETE!

Remember Ratty Waters who tied the dishpan under Prof. Bunn's car at Princeton? He's more seriously inclined now—sells high grade bonds! Ran smack into Ratty as he was hustling for his a. m. fodder with a Camel cigarette perched between his lips and looking as happy as a turtle on a log! It's a pretty art—this opening up the morning with a Camel!

Well, sir, Pete, what Ratty rattled into my rafters would supply Camel selling stuff for a year! "There's nothing to this cigarette game but Camels," said Ratty. "Their mellowness is a revelation and I never did run into such mildness in my life! And, when you figure that Camels have ALL the 'body' any smoker wants—well, I just marvel that such a cigarette could be made! Ever get such refreshing flavor?"

For instance, Ratty spread this:—"Shorty, I can't stand the usual unpleasant cigarette aftertaste and unpleasant cigarette odor! Camels are free from both! (100 per cent. O. K., Pete!) And, they never tire my taste! When you pass by Camels you have slipped by your smoke signals!"

Tried to get Ratty to put some of that sales talk on paper, but he came back:—"You tell 'em, old kettle—you've got the spout!"

Pete, Camels won Ratty's favor like they've won thousands of others! They'll win any man who gives them a chance!

RANGER MEN SIGN UP FOR ARMY SERVICE

Sergeant McQueen, in charge of the army recruiting station at the postoffice, reports that four men have signed up for three-year terms within the last ten days. They are: Edwin F. Baer, Ranger; Claude Smith, Ranger; A. Ellis, Caruthersville, Ark.; Robert J. Taylor, Louisiana.

of the Breckenridge district and it is likely that the Magnolia Petroleum company will follow suit in this move, according to reports reaching Ranger. Northeast of Breckenridge the S. R. Hill well No. 4 of the Mid-Kansas company came in the other day with 1,000 barrels. Increasing optimism in this part of the field is augmented by this well and the activity grows more intense in that section each day. The fact that the two companies have even considered locating camps has encouraged this optimism greatly.

ROXANA WELL AT ELIASVILLE WILL OPEN NEW AREA

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 21.—Another big well in the Eliasville district that is expected to prove up considerable territory was reported in today, it being a 3,000-barrel gusher on the Roxana property four miles north of Black brothers' No. 4 well which is also a good producer. The oil is reported coming from a 3,200-foot sand, which is the usual depth in the Eliasville district. Another big producer has also been added to the local townsite pool, this being the Dex No. 2 on the Becke lease, which is reported as doing 2,000 barrels. The No. 1 well on the same tract has also been a consistent producer since coming in several months ago at 1,600 barrels. The Rosenquist No. 1 of the Desher Oil and Gas company is making 6,000,000 feet of gas at 2,600 feet.

SUPPLY HOUSES TO HAVE BRANCHES AT NEW TOWN, JIMKURN

JIMKURN, Sept. 21.—Owing to the close proximity of the Breckenridge and South Bend oil fields in Stephens and Young counties and the active drilling campaign now being waged adjacent to the town, it is expected that the leading oil well supply houses will establish branches at Jimkurn as soon as the townsite has been formally opened on Oct. 4. Not only are the roads leading from here in better shape than most oil field roads, but living conditions in Jimkurn will be a great improvement over Breckenridge and other towns in the Breckenridge field, which is rapidly being extended northward to this town and beyond. The perfect natural drainage of the new townsite is a distinct advantage over many other towns and many persons are preparing to move bodily from Breckenridge to Jimkurn soon after Oct. 4.

The Prairie Oil and Gas company is establishing a camp three miles northeast of here and will at once begin active drilling adjacent to the townsite. The Gulf Pipe Line company is also putting in a camp a short distance south of town and it is rumored that the Magnolia Petroleum company will follow suit. With abundant creek alive with fish and providing ample facilities for swimming, flowing at the edge of the townsite and the Clear Fork of the Brazos less than a mile away, Jimkurn should not lack for water and plenty of it.

CISCO TO DRIVE THE DEVIL OUT ON SABBATH DAY

Cisco has a theater that insists on the naughty practice of wanting to operate on Sunday. Various times the operator of the show house has been pinched by the constable of the bailwick and haled into court. Sunday a week ago this happened and the show owner let everybody in without charge.

"Persistance has its own reward." Last Sunday night Cisco held a mass meeting at the church and resolved against the picture show. Those who are interested are waiting until next Sunday to see what will happen. Will this sinful man amuse several thousand people at his own expense of will he in a spirit of revenge let them sit at home in the heat at home mourning for the coolness of the theater, and the soul-satisfying laugh of a custard comedy?

SOME FOREIGNERS PAY DOUBLE INCOME TAX

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON Sept. 21.—Five foreign countries come within the "credit requirements" of section 222 of the revenue act of 1918 which will permit their nationals to be credited with the amount of income tax paid to their own governments in the computation of American income tax, the treasury department has just announced. These countries are Bulgaria, Canada, Italy, Newfoundland and Salvador. The "requirement" is simply that such countries shall credit Americans resident there with the amount of income taxes they have paid to the United States government.

Similar credit requirements of the United States, however, are not satisfied by Argentine, Bahama, Belgium, Bermuda, Bolivia, Bosnia, Brazil, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Egypt, Finland, France, Great Britain and Ireland, Guatemala, Herzegovina, India, Jamaica, Japan, Montenegro, Morocco, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Persia, Peru, Portugal, Rumania, Santo Domingo, Serbia, Siam, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela. Citizens of these countries in the United States are required to pay the full amount of their taxes here.

A citizen of a country not listed by the bureau is compelled by the regulations to prove that his country satisfies the similar credit requirements in order to escape payment.

POLICE RAID ROUNDS UP NINE WOMEN, TWO MEN

The nests of the "cooing doves" were raided last night by members of the police department and nine of those of the gilded plumage were carried to the police station on vagrancy charges. Two "males of the species" were also caught in the raid.

Fines of $15.70 against the eleven were assessed and paid.

To complete the night two arrests for drunkenness were made. The total of fines enriched the city to the amount of $204.10.

CONNECTICUT WOMAN HELPED LOVER KILL HER HUSBAND, STATE CHARGES

Mrs. Ethel Hutchins Nott.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 21.—Special—Charged with helping an infatuated youth, Elwood B. Wade, murder her husband on Aug. 29, last, Mrs. Ethel Hutchins Nott will go to trial here soon together with Wade. Both must answer charges of first degree murder. Wade admits the killing, but says he committed the act in self-defense. Mrs. Nott refuses to talk, being guided by the advice of a lawyer she had retained to bring divorce proceedings before her husband's death.

Mrs. Nott, who is thirty-two, is accused by her pretty thirteen-year-old daughter; Ruth, of assisting in the murder of her father, George B. Nott, 42, formerly superintendent of the United Metallic Cartridge company plant here.

Ruth told Coroner John J. Phelan that on the morning of Aug. 29 her father, covered with blood, staggered down the stairs; that as his wife smiled at him her lover, Wade, closed in on the wounded man; despite his wounds, Nott was getting the upper hand when Mrs. Nott thrust into Wade's hands a long carving knife, which Wade used in completing the murder.

At the time of the tragedy both Nott and his wife were seeking evidence for a divorce against the other. Neighbors had told Nott that Wade had been coming to his home frequently and taking his wife for rides in a seven-passenger touring car. The two men were not on friendly terms.

Wade admits that he stabbed Nott, but claims he did so in self-defense. In his confession he said he had come to the house to talk over with Nott the latter's threats to punish him for infidelity with Mrs. Nott. He accused the latter of shooting her husband.

SOCIETY

The Times will be glad to print any stories of the social activities in Ranger which will interest its readers. If you or your friends entertain or have visitors or go away, phone No. 224 or write the Times about it. Clubs, church societies and similar organizations are requested to elect a reporter who will send the Times accounts of their activities.

1920 Club Meeting.
The 1920 Club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. M. H. Haganman, at Haganman Place, on Thursday afternoon, from 2:30 to 5:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Hume Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hume entertained with a dinner Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. C. Q. Rogers, after which the party attended the Elks-Shriners' ball game.

Box Party.
Messrs. and Misses, E. M. Hume, F. W. Huffley, Ray Showe, William Morgan, C. Q. Rogers and Newson were members of a box party at the Majestic opening Sunday night.

J. P. C. Entertains.
The J. P. C. were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ellis Wednesday evening.

At the end of a three-course dinner game were played, the most interesting one being called "proposal practice" in which every young man proposed to each young lady, the best proposals and answers were awarded prizes. Prize winners were Edlele Baxter and Willie Brooks. A. J. Hunt received the prize for the worst proposal.

Guests were Misses Carrie Brown, Vevie Shell, Edlele Baxter, Hazel Harrington, Beatrice Greenfield, Ethel Goush and Willie Brooks; Messrs. Jack Keatby, Jinks Hunt, Gene Head, Harry Becker and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hunt.

DANCING SCHOOL OPENS TO PUPILS

Fancy and ball room dancing will be taught at the Summer garden during the coming season, Mrs. E. N. Jonas, its manager, announces.

The services of Wyndham Redford, member of the American National Association of Master Dancers of New York, has been secured as instructor.

Mr. Wyndham has just closed a successful school at Mineral Wells and before that was in Fort Worth for five years as a dancing master. Mrs. Jonas is receiving applications from those who desire to improve as well as from beginners. The course their knowledge of this social nights which will be set aside for dancing lessons at the Summer garden has not been announced.

MRS. McADOO IS SNAPPED AT FAIR

Mrs. W. G. McAdoo at the fair. Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, President Wilson's daughter, was an interested visitor at the recent Syracuse State fair. McAdoo accompanied Mrs. McAdoo.

Presbytery Opens Three-Day Session at Ranger Church

Forty delegates of the Abilene district Presbytery are in Ranger today for the opening of the three-day session which will be held in this city. The Rev. J. A. Owens of Albany delivered the opening address this morning at the beginning of the first day's program.

Many questions of interest to the Presbyterian church will come up for discussion. Among these is the rebuilding of the Reynolds orphanage which burned several weeks ago at Albany.

The delegates are being cared for in the homes of the members of the local church.

England now has women naval architects.

City Schools

The opening day enrollment of Ranger schools was 1,468, divided as follows: High school, 140; Central ward, 702; Young, 320; Cooper, 226; Tiffin, 72. Superintendent McNew expects a substantial increase in enrollment in the next few days as many pupils came too late Monday to be enrolled.

Superintendent McNew has been enabled to arrange all-day sessions of school for the Cooper by transferring the ten enrolled eighth-grade pupils from Cooper to the High school. The Cooper school has about 100 pupils fewer than has the Young school. Each of these schools has eight teachers.

Because of the crowded conditions in the primary grades at Central school, it becomes necessary to put on half-day sessions for the first and low second grades. Two additional teachers have been provided for in Central primary.

The compulsory attendance period of the schools will begin on Monday following the Thanksgiving holidays. By this date the new buildings will doubtless be ready for use.

By an oversight the name of Miss Perry, the music teacher, was omitted from the list of teachers. Miss Perry was duly elected by the Ranger trustees Aug. 19 and is therefore a member of the corps of public school teachers. Miss Perry will announce within the next few days the location of her studio. It is noted that the school has not a studio at present for the use of the music department.

The sidewalk now under construction along the south side of the school property at Central school is welcomed by both teachers and pupils. Immediately after rains, the passage from the teacherage to the school buildings has been fraught with much inconvenience. Most likely the citizens residing in the southwest side of the city will rejoice with the pupils and teachers because of this new walk.

METAL PRODUCERS WILL BUILD SMELTER AT ALPINE

STAFFORD, Sept. 21.—Alpine has been selected as the smelter center for the activities of the Metal Producers association of Texas, according to advices received by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. It is proposed to erect the first unit at once. The extension of the Orient railroad across the border into Mexico will bring additional smelting material and cheap fuel, it is said.

F. W. Galbraith, Ohio; Milton J. Foreman, Illinois; Emmett O'Neill, Kentucky, and Hanford MacNider, Iowa, have gained considerable prominence in connection with the discussion of next year's commander of the American Legion. The elections for the presidency will be held at the second national convention in Cleveland, Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

All Jewry Seeks Atonement Today in Solemn Humility

Services in Ranger to Be Held at Moose Hall; Ceremonies Ages Old to Be Observed by Local Orthodox Jews.

Tonight at sunset begins the most solemn day in the Jewish year. It is a day of reconciliation of man with his fellowman and God, and comes as a climax to the Jewish holiday season which began with their New Year, Sept. 12.

It is the custom of those celebrating the day to spend the time at services. In Ranger the services will be held in the Moose hall with Rabbi Scholman officiating. From the setting of the sun tonight until the appearance of the stars Wednesday no food is taken by members of the Jewish faith.

Wednesday will be spent in prayer and repenting.

refers to the day: "On this day He will atone you, to purify you from all of your sins." The day is, therefore, a day of reconciliation of man with his fellowman and with God, and is intended not only to bring peace between man and God, but to bring peace between neighbor and neighbor.

The services begin with the chanting of the Kol Nidre, followed by the Mussaf which commences with a description of the atonement rites as practiced in the days of the temple at Jerusalem. The Ueilah service is next held and is understood to be the hour when decision is made as to man's fate. According to the Jewish belief, those who earnestly take part in the services will bring pardon for sins committed.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered on trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly, for the benefit of Times readers. If any of the articles described meets your needs, you may learn the shop where it may be purchased by calling the Times, telephone 224, and giving the shopping editor the number of the paragraph which tells of your particular bargain.

I. A good bargain for the young lady who goes to school is middy blouses for $2.25. These may be had in all styles and sizes. The original prices were $3.50 and $4.

II. Pin tucks have returned to fashion, not only for the costume but for the hat and one tucks any fabric that may be desired. A big drop hat of down gray velvet has its top brim and side crown pin tuck while the under side is laid in, soft plaits. Two mother of pearl pins add the only extra trimming and color.

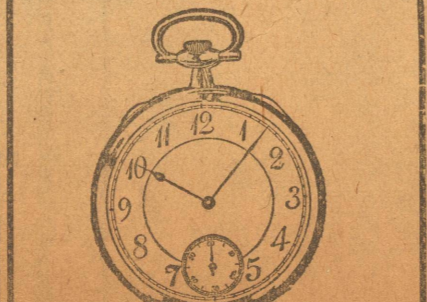

III. Lace is the last word in fashion for both afternoon and evening. For charming afternoon dress black chambrase is combined with black lace embroidered in self color silk thread and silver, the lace being used in the French apron effect and extra long cuffs. The back is a bustle grape and the girdle a narrow ribbon of American Beauty velvet.

IV. Jersey petticoats in all the leading colors, plaited flounces, well made, good quality for $4.95. Petticoats of the same materials and colors for $5.95. A good sale to take advantage of.
