

WALL STREET ROCKED BY TERRIFIC EXPLOSION; SCORES ARE KILLED

OBSTRUCTIONS ORDERED MOVED FROM CREEK BED

City Tax Rate May Be Raised to Provide Improvement Fund.

Drastic measures will be used, if necessary by the city commission to have all obstructions removed from the creek that flows through the city. This action was decided upon at a meeting yesterday afternoon and the city secretary instructed to notify all persons who were obstructing its flow by fences, footbridges, accumulated rubbish, or otherwise to have such obstructions removed in ten days or fines would be imposed.

The commission also decided to meet next Friday morning and prepare a budget for the coming year and set the tax rate on the city's assessed valuation. It is expected that this work will consume an entire day and that the tax rate will be raised from the present rate, $1.50 on the $100 valuation. While only estimates can be made the commission is of the opinion that the rate for the coming year will be between $2 and $2.25 on the $100 valuation. This will not include the school tax, which is 50 cents.

Provide Ample Funds.
It is the intention of the commission to formulate a budget that will provide the city with ample funds for the upkeep of the administration. It is thought it will be much better to add a few cents to the tax rate than to have the city constantly cramped for funds as it has been during the past few months.

The commission also voiced itself yesterday as being of the opinion that the people had rather have their taxes raised a few cents and keep improvements constantly under way than to have civic improvements cease.

As quickly as money is made available plans will be considered for the betterment of streets and alleys over the city as well as many other needs.

The resolution prohibiting the obstruction of the creek, was adopted because when heavy rains come and it is swollen the obstructions force the stream to spread until it does much damage to adjacent property owners and to streets. With the obstructions removed it is believed that only the very heaviest floods will provide enough storm water to cause the stream overflow as it has in the past. The eastside has been waterbound by several rains recently.

TWO NEW BUILDINGS AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—It is probable that bids for the erection of the two permanent buildings at the University of Texas for which plans are now being drawn by George A. Endress, resident architect, will be called for the next meeting of the board of regents, to be held Oct. 26. No estimate of the cost of the proposed buildings has as yet been made. They will be of a type of architecture and construction in full keeping with the general plan for the erection of new buildings upon the campus of the University.

One of the buildings will be occupied by the department of biology and the other by the department of chemistry. They will each be about 200x70 feet in dimensions, consisting of three stories and basement and following the Italian Renaissance style of architecture.

The skeletons of the buildings will be reinforced concrete. Each building will contain an elevator for general service. The chemistry building will be located east of "K Hall" on the north side of the campus and will front north. It is to be the first unit of a larger chemical building which is planned for the future. The biology building will also be located on the north side of the campus and will face north.

EXCHANGE RATE FORCES AUSTRIAN DIPLOMAT TO LIVE ON MODEST SCALE
LONDON, Sept. 16.—Baron Frankenstein, a former attaché of the Austrian embassy in London, has arrived here as the first representative of the republican Austrian government after the war, and has taken up his quarters at the beautiful mansion in Belgrave Square, where successive Austrian ambassadors entertained sumptuously before the war.

The requirements of the Austrian diplomatic representation are on a much more modest scale now, and as the former embassy is extremely expensive to maintain, the new minister is looking for smaller quarters. The German legation is also anxious to find less expensive premises than the palatial mansion in Carlton House Terrace which it now occupies.

One of the things that struck Baron Frankenstein most on his arrival was, so he said, that for a penny he could have quite a long bus ride, which in Vienna would cost 30 times as much, at the normal rate of exchange.

JUSTICE COURT NO. 2 CREATED FOR RANGER

Roger Fenlaw Appointed to Head New Tribunal Here.

A second justice court has been created by the county commissioners for Ranger. Roger Fenlaw, democratic nominee for justice court No. 1, has been appointed to sit on the bench of the new court until November general elections, when he will, if elected, preside over court No. 1, relieving the present incumbent, J. N. McFatter.

Judge Fenlaw will establish a temporary court room in the Marston building.

The law of Texas, together with a petition to the commissioners' court, is responsible for the second court. The law provides that in cities of over 10,000 population two such courts will be established and it is mandatory on the commissioners to carry out its provisions when petitioned by the citizens.

Such a petition was sent to the county commissioners signed by many Ranger citizens asking that the law be carried out.

At present it is not known whether the vacancy caused by Judge Fenlaw relieving Judge McFatter will be filled by appointment or by ballot at the general election held in November.

FEZ, MOSLEM HEAD DRESS, PASSING INTO DISCARD

By Associated Press
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.—With the crumbling of Turkish authority and influence, the fez, the badge which all Turkish subjects, Christians, Jews and Turks alike, are supposed to wear, is rapidly disappearing. Although the Moslems still wear their fezzes in the streets, they no longer cling to them slavishly indoors. Soon the Turks may be wearing hats with rims in Constantinople. Moslems in other parts of Turkey insist the Mohammedans in the capital lost their religion long ago through their desire to imitate the infidels.

DR. DIAZ URGES OIL COMPACT FOR AMERICANS ONLY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A mutually satisfactory settlement of the petroleum controversy between Mexico and the United States is expected by Dr. A. Torre Diaz, recently appointed Mexican minister to Brazil, now in Washington on his way to his new post.

Dr. Diaz was confidential agent at Washington of the anti-Carranza revolution.

NATIONAL RENT STRIKE PLANNED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The movement to organize a rent strike as a protest against high prices arranged by the National Union of Ex-Soldiers is stated to be making progress since the Times. The union is at present engaged in getting people to sign pledge forms that they will cease to pay rent on the issue of the strike proclamation until prices are down by four shillings in the pound. The number of pledges required has been provisionally fixed at 2,000, 000.

WOMAN CLAIMS SHE WAS SCALDED WHILE IN HOTEL BATH TUB

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Husie Bennett of Dallas, Texas, filed suit for $15,000 damages today against the Statler hotel, alleging that she was badly burned from hot water while taking a bath at the hotel.

WHISKEY STILL CAUSES FIRE

AKRON, Sept. 16.—Although a fire broke out in her cellar, Mrs. Anna Bolagan, thirty-eight, did not welcome the firemen. A neighbor, who discovered the blaze, called the fire ladders. The fire was soon put out. Then the firemen started an investigation to learn what caused the fire. When the firemen left the police arrived. Mrs. Bolagan was arrested and fined $200 and costs. The fire was due, it is claimed, to an over-heated whiskey still.

ANSON, Texas, Sept. 16.—The first bale of cotton was marketed here Monday, grown by J. F. Woodard, two miles west of here. A premium of $65 was presented to Woodard by the business men here. Cotton picking is just beginning and all indications are that cotton-pickers will be plentiful.

EASTLAND MEN FIGHT CHANGE IN ROAD PLANS

EASTLAND, Sept. 16.—The Eastland delegation was belligerent here today in opposing the suggestion of Ranger men that the county commissioners combine the roads from Eastland and Ranger to Staff, whence a joint road leads to Desdemona. Ranger suggested that instead of two roads, one road be built from Staff to a point midway between Ranger and Eastland, which would increase the distance to each town about a mile. This would save considerable expense, Ranger men contended, and serve the district just as well.

CAT, MAROONED ON HIGH POLE WALKS WIRE AND IS SAVED

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 16.—Tommy, a large Maltese cat owned by Peter Rogers of East Columbus, became marooned on top of a telephone pole which was surrounded by the waters of Haw creek, swollen by recent rains. Its cries attracted a large crowd, but did not bring relief. The owner of the cat went to the next pole, which the water had not reached, and called to the cat. The animal at last started on the cable between the poles, and after slipping several times, but holding to the wire, descended to safety.

MORGAN'S OFFICE AND SUB-TREASURY FACED DISASTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A terrific explosion which rocked all lower Manhattan occurred at noon today outside the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., on Wall street. A score or more of persons were killed and many injured. Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, and a member of the firm, was badly cut by flying glass. Company officials denied the explosion had occurred in the Morgan offices, as at first thought. . . . Glass from the shattered windows of hundreds of skyscrapers plunged down into the crowded streets and many were cut. Many of the injured were g.i.s at work in the shaken office buildings. Immediately after the explosion all stock exchanges were closed for the day and street traffic in the neighborhood suspended. The police promptly threw a cordon around the shaken area and business ceased while the dead and injured were taken from the wreckage and attended to. The fire companies were called out to aid the police and the clang of ambulances resounded throughout the district.

GUARD SUB-TREASURY

One of the first acts of the police was to throw a strong cordon around the government sub-treasury opposite the scene of the explosion, and later Governor's Island was notified and a strong detachment of soldiers was sent to aid the police.

At 1:30 o'clock fifteen bodies were lying on the sidewalk and it was said that ten had been removed by friends. Unofficial reports place the number of killed at thirty and the seriously injured at more than 200.

The cause of the explosion is yet undetermined, though it is believed to have been a bomb. All persons in the immediate vicinity are dead or injured. It is reported, however, that an automobile containing two men drove up to the Morgan & Co. entrance and when Morgan detectives approached the car, one man alighted with a package in his hand. It is thought he either dropped or threw a bomb. Another version, given by occupants of a nearby office building who were looking out, is that the man placed the bomb, which evidently had a time fuse, next to the curb, and then drove hurriedly away.

Still another version is that an automobile collided with a dynamite-laden truck.

'CHOC' BEER SEIZED IN EAST SIDE RAID

Several hundred bottles of "choc" beer were taken in a raid last night by members of the police force. The beer was discovered by Patrolman Herd, whose beat is on the east side of the city, in a house near the rear of the Busy Bee cafe. He notified the department and the raid followed. No one was in the house when the officers arrived and no arrest has been made.

Germans in Africa to Get Money Back ---in Thirty Years

By Associated Press
CAPETOWN, Sept. 16.—Property of Germans to the value of 9,000,000 pounds is to be retained by the South African government as a loan repayable in thirty years. This intention of the government was announced in the South African house of assembly by the premier, General Smuts.

He explained that enemy assets held by the custodian of enemy property in South Africa totalled 13,000,000 pounds, of which 3,000,000 pounds had already been paid out to Germans domiciled in South Africa. Of the remaining 10,000,000, one million pounds would be temporarily employed applied in satisfaction of South African claims on Germans for debts or for property in Germany sequestered by that government.

On the balance of 9,000,000 pounds, the government of South Africa has decided to pay interest at 4 per cent, raising the total to 10,000,000, which will then be held by South Africa as a loan from the German owners for a term of 30 years, the government paying owners 4 per cent interest.

Unusual Story With A Most Unusual Cast.

"The Hushed Hour," latest of the Harry Garson productions, starring Blanche Sweet, is being offered as "a most unusual cast"—and those who have been permitted to view the big photoplay privately say that the descriptions is apt. The picture is founded on a short story by the same title which was written in one of the leading national magazines some months ago. It is "unusual" in that it covers in the minimum of time practically every phase of life. Through the use of a clever conceit which makes every situation in the story and the picture entirely reasonable there is called to pass in review intensely human experience which typify all of the common faults which prevent the realization of complete happiness.

To prove that the cast is "most unusual," it is only necessary to list the players. Blanche Sweet, who is starred, is the great popular favorite of the earlier days of the moving picture industry who made such a triumphant return to the screen in "The Unpardonable Sin" in this city not long ago. In her support are Wilfred Lucas, Milton Sills, Mary Hall, Lydia Knott, Gloria Hope, Harry Northrup, Wyndham Stranding, Edward Kimball, L. T. Steers, and Master Bennie Carpenter.

The engagement of "The Hushed Hour" at the Opera House in this city, is of particular interest in that it will be one of the first public showings of the big photoplay.

JACK HOLT CLAIMS HE CAN FIGHT AND NOT MUSS HIS HAIR

Player in Ethel Clayton Film, "Crooked Streets," Says He Can Prove It.

Jack Holt, who, among other screen achievements, fights a slashing battle at fist cuffs in Ethel Clayton's new picture, "Crooked Streets," has a grievance against movie-goers who insist that pictures be even more realistic than life itself. "For instance," said Mr. Holt recently at the end of the first round of my fight in "Crooked Streets" as a spectator snickered, "Why, his hair ain't even mussed. You'd think he'd been sipping tea, instead of fightin'." Mind you, it was the first round—not the fortieth. Why, they say Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, has had his hair mussed only once or twice in his whole career. "Moreover, in that 'Crooked Streets' fight—and I'll rise to remark it was a real battle—I still had a neat part in

At this point the interviewer to whom Jack addressed his lament, was observed to smile. He was looking at Mr. Holt's head, which is rather sparsely covered with the kind of hair that you couldn't possibly disshelve, unless you ran a rake over it.

"Crooked Streets" is an adventure-romance of China, in which Jack Holt figures as the mysterious rescuer of Ethel Clayton, when she is beset by rival gangs of toughs. Paul Powell directed. The picture is a Paramount Artercraft.

BRITISHERS CRITICIZE WAR ADMINISTRATION

LONDON, Sept. 16.—British papers are printing almost daily examples of what they term the waste of public funds. A report just issued by the committee of public accounts sheds fresh light on the subject. Nearly $8,500,000 was involved, it appears, in the government's plan to finance the Russian General Alexieff just before the Bolshevik revolution brought about his collapse. Part of the plan was to set up a Cossack state bank in Siberia, and for that purpose $2,500,000 was loaned to a Russian financier. But the bank was never set up and the committee wants to know what became of the money.

The ministry of munitions paid $12,250,000 for a plant begun in 1917 and which, when the war ended, was only half finished. For this outlay, the committee points out, the country received no benefit whatever except through the "stimulus to the steel trade."

Waste of nearly $500,000 is charged by the committee to the admiralty on a scheme for establishing schools to train boys in pneumatic riveting.

Cases are referred to by the committee where government officers holding responsible positions allotted contracts either to themselves or to firms in which they were interested. Such cases, the committee asserts, "are especially liable to become an occasion for scandals."

LABOR EXCHANGE TO SOLVE PICKING PROBLEM

By Associated Press

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 16.—The success this year of a plan of labor exchange proposed by the Rural Land Owners association, an organization the membership of which covers twenty counties in the Gulf Coast district of Texas, has caused the directors of the association to consider expansion of the plan next year.

More cotton pickers than ever before were brought to the district this year through the efforts of the organization, which advertised extensively in newspapers of Texas and adjoining states for the labor needed.

While only in its infancy, the plan as proposed would provide for small armies of cotton pickers who would move in bodies from one district to another as the cotton crop matures in the different districts.

According to Roy Miller, secretary of the Land Owners' association, the plan can be made feasible by close co-operation between the various cotton growing districts. The Gulf Coast crop, it was pointed out, matures fully six weeks to two months ahead of that in most other districts of the state, which would allow a large force of pickers to complete picking in the coast district in ample time to move to other sections.

BURIED TREASURE TALE PROVED FALSE AT BELTON

By Associated Press

BELTON, Texas, Sept. 16.—A perfectly good legend, told and re-told for forty years, came to a sad ending here with the razing of an old building in the business section.

According to the story, which incidentally lost none of its savor in the retelling, the corner stone of the building contained a goodly supply of rare old whiskey. As it went the rounds for years, he tale had it that one of the party attending the corner-stone laying ceremony, suggested:

"Let's give this building some good liquor to live on as long as it stands."

Fortwith, the legend said, a barrel of whiskey was placed inside the hollowed-out corner-stone.

When the building was condemned recently by the authorities and ordered torn down, interest among old timers reached fever heat. It was not necessary to employ a house-wrecking concern for the job; more citizens volunteered than could be accommodated with work.

Rapidly the superstructure was torn away until it was possible to pry loose the huge corner-stone. A crowd gathered while half a dozen of the volunteers loosened the stone with crow bars. The crowd stood breathless while a barrel was rolled out and a workman tore away the head of the barrel and explored inside. His expression changed from one of expectation to disgust as he dragged forth—not whisky, but a huge parcel of documents.

Averages Indicate Series Was Decided by Pitchers' Prowess

It was a series of pitcher's duels, the figures show, which is no news to the fans, with the work of Nick Carter and his one hit game, Dash Phillips with his tie in and Gomez Hill with his two hit contest fresh in their minds. Neither the Eagles or the Nitros have anything to brag about in their hitting, with Kal Segrist the real leader, with 230, Joe Tate is runner up with 220. Neither of these marks is anything to write home to the folks about, but neither is cause for shame.

But when you've told those two, you've about said it all. Allison has the next best mark for the Champs, with 256 and this figure, when it is considered that Frank's blows came in the pinch, is better than fair. From there to Miami, who thumped 250 and from that to Boggs and White, with marks of 231 and 277 respectively, if not respectfully.

But when you've told those two, you've about said it all. Allison has the next best mark for the Champs, with 256 and this figure, when it is considered that Frank's blows came in the pinch, is better than fair. From there to Miami, who thumped 250 and from that to Boggs and White, with marks of 231 and 277 respectively, if not respectfully.

Manager Galloway, who failed to hit his weight, had it on Manager Kizziar at that. Kizziar has no lame back keeping him down. Jim hit 186 and Kizziar 136. None of the winning hitting was done by the managers, it would seem.

John Bechtel, though he got in five games, got only seven times at bat and moved out three hits, for an average of .429 which is the only fat figure in the lot.

It was a series for pitcher, no foolin'. The only free hitting games which figured in the series was the Sunday match at Ranger, which went to the Galloways 4 to 1, with the Nitro hits 10 and the Eagles 9.

Bill Medina, the shortstopper of the Eagles, had the lowest mark of any regular player, with .107, though Tommy Lovelace was only an edge above him, with .111.

None of the pitchers, with the exception of Dash Phillips, broke the tradition about hurlers and hitting. Dash was the lone curver to dent the hit column and he got his in a game which he lost.

All in all, the Eagles hit 28 points heavier than the Nitros, with five more hits in six less times at bat. The club averages of .200 and .172 show how light the tapping was on the whole.

In fielding too, the Eagles had a little edge, with .955, against .953 for the Nitros. The Athletics had 286 total chances and 13 errors, which was the same number of kicks that the Galloways had in 275 chances.

There are points in the Nitro line-up which were stronger, as the average show. The Nitros had nine men with perfect fielding averages, three being the perfecters, Clopp, Mooney and Lovelace, one being old Bugs Young and all of the five pitchers.

Three Eagle outfielders had perfect marks—Bechtel, Milan and Robinson, but Boggs, who played in every game, in right and center thereafter, had one boot. Dash Phillips, Gomez Hill, Pat Crowson and Joe Gaines had perfect fielding marks among the pitchers for the opposition, but Carl Hill had one kick.

Bugs Best Catcher. It is plain that the Nitros out-caught the Eagles, both using players who are not regulars behind the bat. Bugs Young, though a first baseman, fitted in there better than either Frank Allison or Grady White, as the record for stolen bases show, as well as fielding. Bugs accepted 45 chances without a slip. White and Allison had marks of 380 and 351, respectively. Grady's work behind the bat was without a slip, his single bobble coming at second base. At that, he took only four more total chances than Young.

The Nitros swiped fifteen bases on the Eagle catchers, Bugs himself leading with five thefts and Tate following with four. Bugs claimed he could run bases as fast as any youngster in the circuit except Homer Ezell and his mark seems to prove it. Buzz only stole a pair.

The Eagles stole ten on Bugs and Pemberton. Kizziar and Segrist tie for first honors with a pair apiece.

At first base the Nitros had a little edge, Jack York and Manager Kizziar having one miscue apiece, but Jack having 76 total chances to Eddie's 72. At second, they seemed to have us shaded, Allison and White both compiling better marks than Jim's .918. Homer Ezell made five slips at short, for .844, the lowest mark of any infielder on either club, Medina covering more ground with 37 chances and four errors.

Kal Better at Third. At third, Kal Segrist went over nearly a half more ground, going after twenty-nine chances to Joe Tate's twenty, while Segrist had three kicks and Tate three. In the outfield the three Nitros took more chances than any of the Eagles, Tommy Lovelace and Charlie Clopp having sixteen and Mooney fifteen, against Boggs's high mark of fourteen for the Eagles' outposts. Boggs missed one of those.

It was a pitchers' series, everything indicates and the Eagles won on the work of Carl Hill, Gomez Hill and Dash Phillips. Every one of those boys turned in a game he deserved to win and Gomez returned two.

Shriners Doubt Deitrich's Faithfulness to Elks, But Rely on Imported Talent

On which team will C. J. Dietrich, peerless leader of the Elks' nine, lay his wagers Sunday when the Elks battle the Shriners in nine innings of baseball at Municipal park? In both camps the question is gravely discussed, and both have "shadows" constantly on his heels, for it is believed that where Mr. Dietrich places his money there the victory will also lie.

Many Shriners contend that before becoming an Elk "Dutch" was a member of the Shrine and when the test comes he will stand by his first love. The Elks will not altogether accept this. Some of them are convinced that he will lead them, a la Jim Galloway, to a thrilling victory. However no chances are being taken. Mr. Dietrich's bets are being watched closely because they say where his pocketbook is there also is his heart.

MASSACHUSETTS BOXERS "CAN'T JUMP" MANAGERS

By International News Service. BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The boxing commission will deal a solar plexus blow to the boxers who jump their managers. Under legalized boxing it will be possible for a manager to have a contract with a ring star. And if the boxer tries to jump his manager, the manager can go into court and prevent him from appearing at any Massachusetts club.

MADE CHIEF OF STAFF.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Colonel H. G. Leonard has assumed his duties as chief of staff of the first army corps relieving Lieutenant-Colonel S. G. Shartie, who is assigned to Governors Island.

Domestic servants in London now have an up to date social club.

Women employed in British government offices now number nearly 120,000.

SHAMROCK'S MEN SQUABBLE OVER WHO LOST RACES

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 16.—When Mr. Nicholson, the designer of the Shamrock IV, arrived in England, he placed the superior seamanship of the Resolutes' captain and crew among the reasons for the challenger's failure to lift the American cup.

Members of the Shamrock's crew who have returned to England, resent the slur which they consider Mr. Nicholson has thrown upon their efficiency as yachtsmen and declare that the Shamrock's faulty handling was largely due to the interference of Mr. Nicholson.

Burton's Hands Tied

Arthur Diaper, one of the crew, said in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent it was a case of too many cooks and he pointed to the fact that on the only occasion Captain Burton was free from interruption and advice the Shamrock won. Diaper said all of the crew felt convinced that had a professional skipper been in full command the Shamrock would have won the first three races.

He claimed that she could point as close into the wind as the Resolute but the latter was superior in reaching.

He declared that the work of the men was made extremely difficult. What could be done by ten men on the 23 meter Shamrock required 30 to do on Shamrock IV. In one occasion in setting the mainsail they had thirty-six men on the haliards and could not move the sail.

"In fact," said Diaper, "I have never before seen such heavy canvas on racing yachts." And then, on the return of yacht to city Island, after the races, they found a complete set of light racing canvas for Shamrock IV, stored in Jacob's yard.

BABE POLES OUT TWO BUT THEY DON'T COUNT

TOLEDO, Sept. 16.—Babe Ruth knocked out two home runs in the first part of the game here yesterday between the local American Association team and the Yankees. Babe homered in the first and fourth innings.

WEINHART BEATS MEEHAN.

CHAMPION TENNIS PLAYER.

Mary Miles Minter, who is very happy in the role of Julia Deep, in the American Film Company's five-reel comedy drama production, "The Eyes of Julia Deep," which the manager of the Temple theatre announces for showing today, is one of the champion players of tennis on the Pacific coast.

Despite her hard work as a movie star, Miss Minter finds time daily to engage in a favorite pastime. Not only is Miss Minter a champion tennis player, but she is also a champion knitter of sweaters for boys "over there," having delivered a number of woolen sweaters to the Red Cross organization.

BY NORMAN E. BROWN. The Brooklyn Dodgers recently paid Birmingham in the Southern League a fat price for one Bert Griffith. The fact alone didn't cause any great force, but behind the deal is an interesting story which makes his rise worth mentioning.

Griffith hails from St. Louis. He broke into the pro games as a pitcher with Alton in the Three-I League. The war came along and Griffith quit the game to join the navy. From the navy he went to the Little Rock team. That club tried him out in about every position in the field and then named him, Chattanooga called him a hopeless case and he next caught on with the Birmingham club. Carlton Moleworth, the pilot, saw a real ball player in him and made him one of the best outfielders in the league. He's fast, fields brilliantly and bats around .300.

He's a youngster yet—24—. He's husky and has lots of ambish. According to the Birmingham fans, big league bugs will fly from this lad.

UTILIZING MISFORTUNE.

The value of brick and concrete buildings was conclusively demonstrated to Ranger Tuesday night. Fire swept more than a block of temporary structures. A broken plug, bursting hose and tin roofs handicapped the efforts of the local fire department, but it would have been a creditable performance for a much larger force to have stopped the flames in lesser limits. Only one brick building was burned. It was a service station, with combustible liquids about in plenty.

The flames leaped the street and burned wooden houses on the opposite side, but it will be noticed that the brick and concrete buildings at either end of the block and across the alley to the rear resisted and stopped the onrush of the flames. At least they gave the fire boys a "line of resistance" beyond which they did not need to budge.

This one fire is ample demonstration of the comparative immunity of so-called permanent construction. The loss of so much of the city's business district is deplorable. It is largely a permanent loss and subtracts that much from the wealth of the community. However, the elimination of this block may eventually be a blessing in disguise. The boom-day structures which fringe that portion of Pine street have long been a menace to themselves and to the rest of the city. Now that menace is removed. It was a painful operation, and it would have been better to have them eliminated otherwise than by conflagration, but the fact remains that the fire opens the road to further substantial growth.

Pine street will be rebuilt. One of the liveliest sections of the city will not remain idle. But it will be rebuilt with brick and concrete. The construction will assure the confinement of a blaze to small quarters just as it has in other sections of the city. The result will be that safety will reduce the need for quick turns. The owner of "risky" property must have large returns. He may lose it all any day and he is merely gambling with time. The same is true of the merchant who occupies these buildings. Furthermore, the fire hazard not only practically prohibits insurance in such quarters, but raises the rates for the entire city.

Transparency of property is the biggest reason for high prices in the oil fields. The fire hazard is the nightmare that keeps boom towns night and day. To "get money back" is the great concern of every building owner and business man. Permanent construction will eliminate the hazard of loss. It will enable business to be done at a moderate profit which will attract trade.

The first town to put the fire menace within bounds will be the chief city of the oil fields. Ranger has had this leadership thrust upon it.

IMPEDED FIREMEN.

Chief Buttmore and his firefighters seek no alibi in regard to the extent of Ranger's greatest fire. None is needed. They did the best they could under adverse circumstances. To begin with, the fire plug on Rusk street at which connection was first made was broken, underneath the ground. This entailed moving hose two blocks before the lines could be strung. Chief Buttmore says the setting of the plug must have been broken by some heavy object, probably an automobile backing into it. After connection had been made at the second plug, several curiosity seekers ran their cars over the hose. The chief does not charge that this had anything to do with the hose bursting. He does admit, however, that it might have been a contributing factor.

Whether or not the automobiles weakened the hose is somewhat beside the point, anyway. The point is, that a fire is serious business, and not a spectacle to awe the eyes of the curious. Automobiles have no business being inside the fire lines. Neither have pedestrians, for that matter. The department has not sufficient men to keep spectators away, and they have formed the habit of crowding to the front seats, and getting very much in the way.

Ranger citizenry should restrain curiosity to some extent. They should keep back and let the firemen have plenty of room for work. If their assistance is needed it will be called for. But few crowd close with the idea of rendering assistance. Their mission is to get their eyes full of what is going on.

Not alone should they keep back, but automobile drivers in particular, should avoid assisting the spread of fires. Bumping fire hydrants may result in losses running into thousands, as in this instance. Parking cars so as to block quick connections may be only slightly less serious. Running down streets where the firemen are at work is altogether reprehensible. Fire fighters have something to do besides dodging death under the wheels of joy riders.

We nominate the first huskies to arrive as special police officers to keep spectators from under firemen's feet.

RED FOX APPEARS.

Tinker Bob, King of the Forest, was having as much fun as any one else over the capture of Bobby Owl. It was getting dark in the Forest but smiles of the Forest Dwellers' friend, Mr. Moon, began to brighten things up a bit. And Tinker could see little Willie Shrew dancing about Bobby Owl with the greatest of joy.

"Ah, Ha," said Willie, "You have tried to catch me a good many times but you are now my prisoner. I'll teach you a lesson. Wait till Red Fox gets a taste of your blood and there will be one less creature in the Forest that's always trying to catch a poor little fellow like me." Then Willie danced some more for joy.

"Oh, don't let Red Fox take me away, for if he does, Willie Shrew, I'll never speak to you again," Bobby struggled to get away.

"You make me laugh," said Willie, "I know you will never speak to me again if Red Fox gets a good hold on you, for he'll choke you to death and that will be the end of you in the Forest."

"Have You Tried to Catch Me a Good Many Times But You Are Now My Prisoner."

"Please have him kill me right here, don't let him take me away," Bobby had a reason for asking this request, for he felt sure that Willie would do the very opposite, and have Red Fox take him away in the Forest. If Willie did this thing that would be the very thing that Bobby wanted.

"Have him kill you here?" repeated Willie. "I should say not. I'll have him take you into the midst of the Forest where he can kill you alone and then no one can say that I had anything to do with it."

Now this was the thing that Bobby wanted him to say, for he had a reason. Tinker Bob knew Bobby's reason and that is what made him smile.

"Chuck, Chuck, Chuck," from the darkness of the Forest came these clear notes. "Chuck, Chuck, Chuck," they sounded closer this time. Yes, it was Mr. Flying Squirrel returning from his search for Red Fox. "Chuck, Chuck, Chuck," said he, "I found him and he'll be here soon."

Bobby Owl began to plead for mercy, but Mr. Flying Squirrel only laughed at him and said: "You will get only half of what you need when Red Fox comes. He will break you in two, and he ought to break you in four. Can't you remember how you took Mrs. Flying Squirrel away to your nest and I never saw her again? Then you ask me for mercy. Red Fox will give you all of that you want."

There came the sound of snapping twigs, which meant that Red Fox was near. "Chuck, Chuck, Chuck, here's the fellow, Red Fox. Come and take him away." Red Fox came shyly up to Bobby without a word, grabbed the young Mr. Owl and ran away. Then what do you suppose happened?

Tomorrow—A Ghost! A Ghost!

ORGANIZATION

The marching princess, nowadays, keeps tab on all the N. G. jays. There comes to Pruneville-on-the-Vale a stranger, J. Adolphus Kale. He's no apologetic runt; he puts up quite a gorgeous front; he talks as though he owned a mine that turned out gold or rubies fine. In olden times this sort of bluff was really quite artistic stuff. But now when J. Adolphus goes to stores that deal in fireworks, and says, "I've come to settle down in this, your enterprising town, and need three miles of barb wire fence, which I will pay for three weeks hence," the dealer sighs and says, "By Jones, I fear you'll have to show the bones before you pack that wire away—you're not renowned as first-class pay." Then J. Adolphus leaves the store and kicks himself until he is sore. The Pruneville merchants when they found the gay Adolphus on the ground, inquired of Mudtown-on-the-Pike, what this Adolphus gent was like, and Mudtown said: "If he's your guest, nail down all things and guard the rest." Thus, nowadays, our records go from town to town, and all men know if we are classed as "good as wheat" or listed "neath the head of 'Beat."

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK By Lee Papp

I came in yesterday afternoon and walked back in the dining room just out of habit, and wat was on the side-board but a plate full of cookies, cookies being some of my favorite cakes, and I tasted one to see how good they was, and then I tasted another one to see if it was as good as the first one, and so on like that till I had ate 6, and then I went up stairs and ma was in brooding in her room, me saying, Wats you making, ma?

A doily, sed ma, and I sed, Wat kind of a doily? and she sed, O jest a doily, and I sed, Can I take a cookie, ma?

Yes, sed ma.

Can I take 2, ma? I sed,

O I suppose so, sed ma. Meaning yes, and I sed, Well can I take 3?

I suppose you would keep that up all taffnoon if I'd only keep on saying yes, wouldn't you? sed ma. Not saying weather I could take 3 or not, and I sed, Well all I want to know is, ma, can I take several?

If several means 2, you can take several, sed ma.

Well, G, ma, suppose several means 6, wat then? I sed,

Then you cant have several, cant you ask me something harder? sed ma.

Well Gosh, B, ma, jimminek crickets, I've already took several, I sed,

O is that so, well put them rite back agen, sed ma, and I sd, How can I ma, there all ate. I'll tell you how I happened to take them.

I dont wish to know, and if you ask for a single cookie at supper your father shall hear all about it, sed ma.

Bring wy I didnt ask for eny at supper.

PORTUGUESE PRETENDER COMING TO AMERICA TO JOIN HIS WIFE

Prince Miguel de Braganza and the Duchess de Vizeu.

Prince Miguel de Braganza, the pretender to the throne of Portugal, is expected to arrive in America very soon to join his wife, the Duchess de Vizeu. The duchess, who was formerly Miss Anita Stewart, an American girl, has been in this country for several months.

room, a real stage whisper, loud enough for all to hear: "Her costume's coming off!" There was an ill-suppressed ripple of laughter and one of the few Latin quotations the Woman still remembers came to her mind: "Sic transit gloria."

In spite of incidents such as this, the performance was a complete success and the fact that the actors were enjoying themselves even more than the audience unusual in theatrical annals—lent novelty to the occasion. The King's charcoal moustache perspired slowly down his chin in a southeasterly direction, but His Highness was none the less happy as he joined an informal war dance at the close of the proceedings, raising his voice in that old and honorable chant, "No more lessons, no more books, no more teacher's angry looks!"

Lovers, Take Warning! Alas for Romance! The newly engaged "I," who has a sense of humor and doesn't mind telling a story on herself, appeared with a rueful countenance the other day.

"I was really dreadfully embarrassed last evening," she confessed to the Woman, "Bobbie and I went for a stroll in the park. It was awfully warm, and there was a simply gorgeous new moon rising over the park. We sat down under a tree near the path.

"Bobbie kissed me. Why not? There was a moon! And just then a very tall, serious policeman came into view. He looked sternly at us and said: 'It's a good thing one of 'em woman coppers didn't see yuh—she'd a run yuh in fer that. I'm telling yuh this fer your own good!"

"Having issued this warning he passed stiffly down the path. Of course, we were mortified, but just the same we were mighty glad it wasn't a 'woman copper.'"

Asphyxiation Welcomed.

The Lady from the Suburbs had run into town for a combination day of business and pleasure, and took the last port first. The lure of one of the big shops, with its beguiling advertisement of "20 per cent off on everything," had been too much for her to resist—too much in fact, for several other thousand others of the shopping fraternity to resist. When after a strenuous morning; she at length began the real business of the day and met the expert tooth extractor in his relentless chair, she sank comfortably back and took her portion of gas almost eagerly. When returning consciousness she gasped "Oh, doctor, isn't it a grand and glorious feeling to take gas after a morning at Wanamaker's where everything is twenty per cent off!"

Tout a Fall.

For Mid-Victorian Lady has been back to a class re-union at college, one feature of which was a motor trip, in several cars, through picturesque little New England towns. Let no one say that the vicinity of Boston is always erudite (in spite of the haughty prep-school cars) in place of our "pay as you enter" for in one town she pointed out a sign which all noted and heeled with smiles: "Hospital here, Toot easy."

JOHN-A-DREAMS CXLII. DREAMS OF BEDS (1). In seeking for the meaning of dreams of beds, you must be very careful not to confound the vision with some action or incident. In this case, as in so many others, the dream is a bed-dream only when the bed becomes the predominating object. If some important incident or action rivets your attention more than the bed itself, then that incident or action, and not the bed, determines the meaning of the dream. In this chapter I shall tell you of dreams in which the bed plays the principal role. The rule is this:

Whom Does Advertising Pay? Advertising first of all pays you. There are many, many items bound up in your daily life—that go to make your way more comfortable, safe and convenient—which advertising has made easily available at moderate cost. Because thousands on thousands of housewives ask for a certain article by the same name, which they have read in the same advertisements, it is possible for the advertiser to sell this item at a minimum of effort. Many things you now enjoy as a matter of course would never have been available for your comfort at reasonable prices had not advertising made it possible to distribute them economically. When you figure the number of these items in your daily life built by advertising, you can appreciate that advertising does pay you. It is therefore possible to distribute it at a saving in which the buyer shares with the advertiser.

America has no monopoly on movie thrill artists, as the photo helps to prove. Harry Piel, Germany's daredevil film actor, is shown performing a stunt that has rarely been equalled in American film history. The photograph was taken at the moment when his automobile plunged successfully over the open space of a destroyed bridge.

SINN FEINERS IN BELFAST HANG LLOYD GEORGE IN EFFIGY

Effigies hung by Sinn Feiners on Newtownards road, Belfast.

In no other Irish city has the spirit of riot and rebellion flared so fiercely as in Belfast. Here many have been killed in riots, and scores of homes and public buildings have been burned. Here also Lloyd George has been hung in effigy. The photo shows a typical Belfast street. Note that the store fronts have been partly boarded up to save the windows when rioting occurs. That ice cream, the distinctly American dish, has invaded Ireland, is shown by one of the signs.

One of the most interesting features of the coming football season, from the human interest standpoint, will be the playing of the Callahan brothers, who are captaining the Yale and Princeton teams. BRYAN HAS PLAN TO 'SAVE' LIBERTY BONDS; WOULD KEEP THEM AT PAR BY FLUCTUATING INTEREST RATES

WINFIELD, Kan., Sept. 14.—William J. Bryan plans to enter the field of finance in behalf of persons who have small incomes. The Congressman made this announcement while here on a chautauqua tour. He plans to try to get Congress to enact a law for the equalization of the small and the large income by keeping Liberty Bonds constantly at par with interest flexible and fluctuating with movements of the market price of money in commercial lines. Bryan bought Liberty Bonds as did thousands of his fellow countrymen. The depreciation in their value was what first caused him to work out his scheme which, he says, is nearly perfected. He laments the present low price of the bonds which has caused loss of patriotic investors when circumstances forced them to sell.

The below-par condition makes it possible for speculators to buy up bonds at good reductions, Bryan points out. They receive a good rate of interest on the actual investment, he says, and later, when the bonds go to par as it is believed they will, the speculators will receive a substantial "unearned increment."

The rise and fall of liberty bond prices, Bryan asserts, is due to the fluctuations of interest rates in financial circles. A stiffening of rates by the reserve banks sends the low-interest liberty bonds down in the market. When money gets easy and rates go down, liberty bonds probably will go up again, he says.

It is upon these principles that Bryan bases his plan to place liberty bonds at par and keep them there. Under his plan, liberty bonds never would be sold either at a premium or discount. The margin of discount or of premium always makes unearned increment for someone, and the unearned increment is wrong, he declares.

Refunding Interest Proposed.

"It is proposed in some circles to refund all the liberty bonds at a higher rate of interest," said Bryan, "as a means of bringing the bonds to par. No doubt the bonds will advance to par if the interest rate is made high enough. But a sufficiently high rate at this time, when money rates are stiff, will be so high that the bonds will go to a premium when the general rates get easier. My plan of a flexible interest rate on the bonds will prevent such fluctuations.

"The plan is this: The treasury department would take the prevailing interest rates at the time the interest on the Liberty bonds is due and would make the income on the bonds at that interest installment equal to what the net income would be on the same amount of commercial paper in the ordinary channels of trade. Under this plan, the income would fluctuate, but the bonds would remain constantly at par.

"It unquestionably would be fair for the investor as the purchasing power of his income, however it might fluctuate in amount, would remain practically the same for it would be determined by the fluctuations of the actual value of money in the markets.

"I expect to be able with little trouble to get this provision put in the refunding bill."

Would Equalize Incomes.

Bryan has worked out the question thoroughly and has allowed for the secretary of the treasury to meet this fluctuating and uncertain interest rate. He said he would prove to the Ways and Means committee of the senate that a small income can buy as much at high prices as a large one at low prices. His suggestion is that the smaller income under this fluctuating interest rate would have purchasing power equal to the higher income because the changing purchasing power of money would be the basis for the fluctuating rate.

Bryan pointed out that when money is "cheap" and "easy" as to commercial rates of interest, it is plentiful and prices of all commodities are relatively high. As a consequence, the purchasing power of an income of stated amount is greatly reduced. When the money is "tight" or "stiff" as to rates, money is scarce and prices are low. With low interest and easy money, the liberty bond rate would be low, to keep the bonds from going above par. The low rate would reduce the actual amount of income. With tight money and high interest, the liberty bond rate would be high, to keep the bonds from going above par. The high rate would increase the actual amount of income under Bryan's plan.

DUVETYN FROCK IN LEAF BROWN SHADE

By ELOISE

"Oh, for a frock that I can wear anywhere," with much emphasis on the anywhere, is the cry of every woman today. It is that between season time when summer frocks are usually out of place and winter ones are often too warm. The simple short-sleeved duvetyns and tricoots are just the thing for general utility wear now. They are appropriate for almost every occasion of the daylight hours and are quite comfortable for traveling without the bother of an extra wrap.

This smart frock, which will just fill the needs of the woman wanting something to wear "anywhere," is made of leaf brown duvetyne. It is fashioned on excellent lines for general wear and is becoming to most figures. Novel pleating at the hips gives the skirt a somewhat egg-shaped silhouette. A narrow, crossed belt marks the waistline. Short sleeves, a tiny gilet of self material and a collar which may be fastened up under the chin are the distinguishing features, while a narrow black ribbon tie is the finishing touch.

for New Mexico. They will make the trip by automobile.

A. Joseph, of the Boston Store, returned yesterday from a business trip to Cisco.

WOMEN MUST TELL AGES IN OREGON

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 14.—Oregon women, who have been permitted to participate in the privileges of suffrage and matrimony, without divulging that secret of secrets—their age—must now prepare to face the world with the truth. The Motor Vehicle Drivers' license law, which includes within its provisions the members of the fair sex, requires among other things, that the applicant shall state his or her age and give the date of birth, as well.

City Schools

The Ranger public schools will open Monday and every parent and guardian in the district should see to it that he is represented on opening day. Ranger is to have a good school notwithstanding the fact that a few parents seem skeptical about the general outlook. To be sure all the conditions this year are not ideal, yet there are many parents in Ranger whose school advantages were far inferior to those now being offered here, and who still maintain that their school advantages were wonderful blessings to them. After all is said about schools, there remains always this outstanding fact: The chief factors in any school are the pupils and the teacher. If the former are ambitious and the latter trained and energetic, the school will be a successful one.

Half-Day Sessions.

The new buildings are not ready for occupancy and, therefore, half-day sessions will have to be maintained in some of the ward schools. Parents may rest assured, however, that the management will do the very best thing possible for the children under existing circumstances. Possibly by Thanksgiving day all the new buildings will be ready for use. If such is the case, the children of Ranger shall have double reason for thankfulness on that occasion.

Eight grades will be taught in the ward schools of Cooper and Tiffin, but in as much as there are but four available school rooms at the Young school, it is deemed unwise to organize there an eighth grade until the new building can be occupied.

Sinclair School.

A one-teacher school for the accommodation of children below the sixth grade has been organized in the Sinclair district. This school will, perhaps, be delayed in opening for about a week pending the repairing of the proposed school building. It will be ready to open not later than Sept. 27.

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN CADDO CREEK BURIED IN EVERGREEN CEMETERY

A. B. Roberts, who was found drowned in Caddo creek, fifteen miles north of Ranger, several days ago, was buried late yesterday afternoon by the Milford Undertaking company, in Evergreen cemetery.

No definite information could be obtained as to how Roberts met his death, but it is supposed that while walking a pipe line for the Sinclair company he fell from a dam which spans the creek near where he was found.

Teachers' Meeting.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock a general teachers' meeting will be held at the high school building. Every teacher of the district is expected to be present at that meeting. Plans for the opening and the general management of the schools will be discussed. Prospective teachers are also invited to be present.

Commercial Department.

A complete commercial department is one of the late acquisitions of the high school. Any young man or young woman who desires to prepare himself or herself for a business career would do well to investigate the course offered in the Ranger high school. The course comprises the following: Spelling, business English, commercial geography, commercial law, typewriting, shorthand, business arithmetic and bookkeeping.

Domestic Training.

The domestic economy equipment will be fully installed this week. This department is now better prepared than ever before to offer courses worth while. Perhaps no other course in the schools will prove so much worth to the girls as that of domestic economy, for within a few short years these school girls will be the housekeepers and the mothers in our country. Why, then, should they not be trained for their life's vocation?

E. O. McNEW, Superintendent.

THIEF MAKES GOOD FORGED CHECK WITH LIBERTY BOND

International News Service
BOSTON, Sept. 13.—A forged check for $400 plus a stolen liberty bond equalled six months in the house of correction. That was the sentence Judge Day imposed on Albert L. Andrews, who was technically charged with violating his probation. A month ago he was in court charged with forging and uttering a check for $400. He got a suspended sentence on condition that he make restitution. As partial restitution he presented a liberty bond that had been stolen.

WYOMING TO HAVE NEW CONCRETE ROAD

International News Service
CASPER, Sept. 16—Plans for the construction of a concrete road, four and one-half miles in length, between Casper and Salt Creek are under way. According to announcement by the state highway commission, the road will establish a new high mark in the cost of road building, estimates placing it at a total of $308,597.17 or nearly $80,000 per mile. The road will be only nine feet wide and will be used for the accommodation of heavy trucks.

FORCE OF WILL KEPT HER FROM GIVING UP

"Tanlac Keeps Me Feeling Well and Strong All the Time and I wouldn't Think of Being Without It," She Says.

"Tanlac has been my favorite medicine now for four years," said Mrs. Amelia Solari of 346 Washington avenue, Memphis, Tenn., in an interview, a few days ago.

"Before I took Tanlac there was never a day in ten years that my stomach did not give me trouble. I don't believe anyone could suffer much worse from indigestion than I did and live. The gas on my stomach would crowd my heart with such a pressure that it would almost stop beating. I simply had to gasp for breath and at times it seemed like I was actually afraid to eat because of the awful suffering I knew so well I would have to undergo. Many a day I was so weak and felt so tired I could hardly get about, and it was just by force of will that I kept from giving up entirely.

"Well, I have felt thankful a thousand times that Tanlac was put on sale in Memphis, for it proved to be just what I had been needing so long. Almost immediately after I began taking I commenced to feel better. I was soon able to eat most anything I wanted, and am still able to do so without feeling a touch of indigestion. Since then I have made it a rule to take a few bottles each year. It keeps me with a good appetite and feeling strong and well all the time. I think so much of Tanlac that I wouldn't think of being without it."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

DRILLING ACTIVITIES IN THE PECOS DISTRICT

The Trans-Pecos Oil company has finally succeeded in locating the casing that had been caught in the quicksands for several weeks, and hopes to resume drilling operations late this week.

L. M. White, treasurer of the Toyah Bend oil companies, announced today that work would be resumed on the No. 2 well in southern Loving county late this week, probably Friday. He has completed arrangements that call for the drilling of the well to 2,000 feet. It is now down 1,050 feet after passing through 250 feet of salt rock. Local men will have charge of the arrangements that will assure the completion of the well.

The tools have arrived for the Pecos Angeles well on the Scarp section three miles south of the Bell, and local officers of the company state that the rigging up of the derrick is being completed, and that they hoped to start operations within a week or ten days.

GAMBLING ORGY IN PROCESS AT FRENCH RESORT

BY NEWTON C. PARKE,
 International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The season just closing at Deauville, the world's greatest money-spending summer resort, has seen the wildest, most reckless game of gold squandering in the history of the gay little town by the sea.

"No wonder they pronounce it 'Doughville,'" Mortimer Schiff is credited with saying, as he watched the croupiers pulling in great flocks of thousand-franc notes at the Casino.

On the banner day of the season, the 1000 of the Grand Prix, more than $110,000 passed over the baccarat tables alone, and the croupiers and money changers received more than $20,000 in tips. No figures were available for the rooms where "la boule" and other games of chance were played, but it is estimated that for the entire season only a little less than $10,000,000 was played.

Thousands of Americans and Englishmen left their tributes at the Casino tables, but this year French multimillionaires were some of the heaviest players. M. Vagliano, a French shipbuilder, is credited with winning over $200,000, and James Hennesy, the French cognac king and racehorse owner, is said to have come away about $150,000 "ahead of the game." An unknown Syrian and a quaint old Englishwoman, who always wore a handkerchief around her left wrist for luck, were also big winners.

There was little publicity for the losers. Sacha Guitry, well known on the French stage, was said to have lost steadily at "la boule," and an English major who arrived with his fortune to play at baccarat, went home penniless. The Casino authorities quickly hushed up a story that one man who had lost all his lifetime savings had committed suicide by denying that he had ever played at the tables and attributing his death to a fit of melancholy.

"The trouble about Deauville," says Les Copeland, former New York song writer, "is that they take all your money and send you off with an empty stomach. Did you ever see a New York gambling joint without a stack of free sandwiches right near the door where you go out?"

FINDS HIS 'BABY' BROTHER AFTER A FIFTY-YEAR HUNT

International News Service.
 RIFLE, Colo., Sept. 16.—The truth is often stranger than fiction is again exemplified in the story of Arthur A. Watts, well-to-do rancher of Rifle, who has just returned here after a ten days' visit with his brother, Warren S. Clark, of Des Moines, following a separation of over half a century during which the older brother, Warren, had continued a fruitless search for his "baby" brother.

In 1832 the mother of the Clark brothers died at the family home in Bureau county, Ill., when Arthur was 6 years old and Warren 12. At about the same time a Mrs. Watts, living in a nearby village, lost her infant son in

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger sh-us and department stores are here presented briefly, for the benefit of Times readers. If any of the articles described meets your needs, you may learn the shop where it may be purchased by calling the Times, telephone 224, and giving the shopping editor the number of the paragraph which tells of your particular bargain.

I. Very well dressed woman needs at least one smart blouse to complete her suit, in fact if the blouse is visible the suit is hardly noticed. For a smart simple blouse two of the season's recognized fabrics are combined—kitten's ear crepe and georgette. The crepe, which forms the upper part of the blouse, is a deep rich brown while the georgette, forming the panel front, is beige, girde, beautifully embroidered with brown silk and dull gold threads. One of the newest forms of dress ornamentation.

II. As the days grow cooler the well-groomed woman adds at least one wool dress to her wardrobe. For street wear there is nothing in better taste, and in a navy tricotine several distinctive features have been added. The frock is cut altogether from neck to hem and the skirt slit to the waistline, making four panels which are fastened at the hem to the underneath skirt of black charmeuse. The charmeuse skirt is embroidered in rich colors of silk thread. The loose overdress is confined by a fancy metal girde, adding a length of line that is almost universally becoming.

III. In a remnant sale tomorrow and Saturday silks, georgettes and crepes will sell for $1 per yard. There are about one hundred of these remnants containing from one to five yards and in some cases the regular price a yard was as much as $4.00 and $5.00. At this price think of the pretty blouses and underthings you can have at a very small cost.

Texas Only State to Exceed Billion in Crop Values

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—Texas is the only state in the union which produced a billion dollar crop in 1919, according to a statement from the Texas Department of Agriculture. Texas embraces 167,834,720 acres, according to the statement, of which 112,000,000 are available for cultivation, but of which only 30,000,000 acres are under the plow this year.

The statement continued that the average size of the Texas farm is 253 acres, with a tendency toward smaller farms over great areas of the state. Estimates of the department are that 30 farms are opened in Texas daily.

Estimates of the acreage, average yield and value of the principal Texas crops in 1919 were given as follows:

- Cotton—10,340,000 acres; 2,700,000 bales; value $472,500,000.
- Wheat—1,800,000 acres; 31,350,000 bushels; value $63,700.
- Corn—6,700,000 acres; 202,800,000 bushels; $249,304,000.

- Cabbage—4,430 acres; 22,150 tons; $1,801,000.
- Apples—624,000 bushels; $1,286,000.
- Horses—1,164,000 head; average value per head, $78.
- Mules—792,000 head; average value $114.
- Dairy Cows—1,960,000; average value $63.
- Other Cattle—3,961,000 head; average value $36.
- Sheep—2,232,000 head; average value $9.40.
- Swine—2,240,000 head; average value $17.

CARELESS BARBER LOPS OFF COPPER'S G-R-AND MUSTACHE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Detective Sergeant George Collins is having a hard time establishing his identity to the satisfaction of his friends, and particularly Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, his chief, as the result of a misunderstanding by an over-obliging barber. When Sergeant Collins appeared for roll call in the detective bureau today, Captain Matheson looked at him and then turned to one of his Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months.

With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work.

I was induced by a brother brakeman to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your friend, Chas. J. Heyser, Battle Creek, Mich., 42 Glenwood Avenue, January 12, 1916.

"I know and dozens of people write me," says Peterson of Buffalo, "that Peterson's Ointment also cures scrofula, old sores, salt rheum, piles and all skin diseases, and all druggists sell a big box for 60 cents." Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

men and said: "What's that stranger doing in here?" "That's no stranger," said the detective; "it's George Collins."

It appears that Collins, who always wears a large and prominent moustache, went into a barber shop last night and asked for a shave. He then told the barber to "trim his moustache a little." As the barber started to work Collins dozed off for a nap. When he awoke he took a look at himself in the mirror and then began to yell.

"What in blankety blank have you done to me?" he demanded. Where Collins' once prominent moustache had been now appeared two tiny bits of fuzz, one on each side of his nostrils.

"You said to trim it," replied the barber, "and I did. That's the latest style. I've just come from New York and that's the way they're wearing 'em there."

"To h— with New York," shouted Collins as he stormed out of the barber shop, muttering maledictions upon the tribe of tonsorial artists.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the Spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, some of them 70 to 80 years old, and results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

GIRL PEDALS WATERCYCLE ALMOST ACROSS CHANNEL

By Associated Press

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 16.—An attempt to cross the English channel on a so-called "water cycle" has just been made by Miss Zetta Hill, a young Englishwoman. She started at 7 a. m. from Calais for Folkestone, about 30 miles. The currents prevented a direct course being followed and at first Miss Hill was taken down channel along the French coast until a few miles from Boulogne. Then the tide turned and she was swept up channel until east of Goodwin lightship. Once more the tide changed and the cycle made a westerly course.

After covering about forty-eight miles in twelve hours, the machine broke down owing, it is supposed to the backwash of a passing steamer, and Miss Hill was taken off by a row boat, only three and one-half miles from the English shore.

Her food and drink was milk, fruit and boiled ham. She intends to try the trip again.
