FLAMING OIL BURNS MEN TO DEATH

INDIANS WHITEWASHED 3-0

BURLEIGH GRIMES' SPITTER TOO MUCH FOR SPEAKER'S CREW

Bagby Rapped in Pinches, With Griffith Leading Assault; Scintillating Fielding Brightens Game.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 6.—Burleigh Grimes pitched masterful ball today and shut out the Cleveland Indians in the second game of the series. His teammates got to Bagby for three runs in the early part of the game. Grimes' spitball was an unsolvable mystery to the Indians. Manager Speaker connected for two runs, one an extra base knock, but with the exception of the seventh, no safeties came in the same round. He was in trouble in the seventh and eighth when he walked three men, but the Indians' chances for scoring were slim at other times. Brooklyn hopped onto Bagby in the opening round, putting over a score on hits by Johnston and Wheat. They added another in the third when Bagby was lucky to escape with one run. Grimes opened with a hot drive through the box and when Bagby threw wild on Olson's bunt, both men were safe. Griffith, who was Brooklyn's hitting star for the day, drove Grimes across for the second tally. Wheat was purposely walked. Then with the bases full came the only misplay of the game, O'Neill hitting Myers in the back in an endeavor to make a double play. There was a dash for the ball by Clevelanders, and Johnston retrieved it in time to catch Griffith as he slid into the plate. This made a double killing for the catcher on one play. It was a wild inning. Brooklyn's last run was made in the fifth, but Grimes didn't need it. Both teams pulled some sensational fielding plays.

PLAY BY INNINGS.
FIRST INNING.
Cleveland—Jamieson out on a slow roller to Konechey. Grimes covering the bag. Wambsganss rolled to Johnston and was tossed out at first. With the count three and two, Speaker singled past Johnston for his first hit of the series. Smith fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Brooklyn—Olson popped to Wambsganss, hitting the first ball pitched. Johnston beat out a grounder to deep short and stole second. Griffith was out, Cleveland's Johnston to Bagby, Brooklyn's Johnston going to third. He scored on Wheat's double to center field. Myers rolled out to first. One run, two hits, no errors.
SECOND INNING.
Cleveland—Gardner doubled to left. Grimes took Johnston's roller and tossed to Olson, who reached out Gardner. Johnston reaching first. Sewell lifted a pop-up to Olson and with O'Neill at bat, Johnston died in an attempted steal.
Brooklyn—Konechey was a victim of Jamieson's nice catch of his drive. Kilduff lined out to Gardner. Miller popped to O'Neill. No hits, no runs, no errors.
THIRD INNING.
Cleveland—O'Neill went out, Grimes to Konechey. Bagby hit a fast one to Grimes, who knocked it down and tossed his rival twirler out at first. Jamieson drove a single over second but died on first when Wambsganss lifted a fly to Wheat. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Brooklyn—Grimes singled through the pitcher's box. Bagby took Olson's sacrifice and they wilt to second, both runners being safe. Grimes was walked as he slid into second. Olson was not allowed a sacrifice, the play being scored as a fielder's choice. Johnston fouled out to O'Neill. Grimes counted on Griffith's two-ply blow to right, on which Olson went to third. Wheat was purposely walked, filling the bases. The Cleveland infield drew in to cut the runner at the plate. Gardner took Myer's grounder and forced Olson. O'Neill's snap throw to first hit the racing Myers in the back and Griffith who had rounded third, tried to score. Johnston retrieved the rolling pellet and cut him at the plate on a close play. One run, two hits, one error.
FOURTH INNING.
Cleveland—Speaker walked, Smith grounded to Konechey unassisted, Speaker going to second. Gardner flied to Myers. Johnston flied to Wheat, who ran into the bleachers in making the catch. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Brooklyn—Konechey lifted a high fly to Wambsganss. Speaker dragged down Kilduff's fly after a long run. Bagby threw Miller out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.
FIFTH INNING.
Cleveland—Speaker's catch drew him a big hand as he came in from the field. Grimes threw out Sewell at first. Olson threw out O'Neill. Bagby sent a long fly to Myers. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Brooklyn—Sewell threw out Grimes. Olson singled through the pitcher's box. Johnston was out, Johnston to Bagby. Olson going to second, Olson scored when Griffith's grounder went through Sewell. Griffith was out stealing. One run, two hits, no errors.
SIXTH INNING.
Cleveland—Kilduff threw Jamieson out at first. Wambsganss lifted a high one to Griffith. Speaker doubled to left cen-

Baird Capitalists Develop Shallow Field in Callahan

Special to the Times.
BAIRD, Texas, Oct. 6.—Local capitalists are preparing to develop a shallow field on the Jess Hart tract, ten miles northeast of Baird. Three or four holes will be put down. Deep test wells on this tract, which have been abandoned, found good paying sand at 500 feet. The Gooch well, three miles east of Cross Plains, blew in this morning at 2,500 feet, making a big flow of gas, heavily charged with oil. The McGowan well, two miles northeast of Baird, which stopped drilling at 4,000 feet to put in a 5 1/2-inch casing, finished that work this evening and will begin drilling tomorrow. It is reported that the Pierce people will go 400 feet deeper if necessary, to strike the formation they expect to find.

Who Knows Oakey Henry?

The mother of Oakey Henry, who is supposed to be in Ranger, is anxious to hear from her son. In a letter she says he has not been heard from for more than a year and that his father is in failing health and that she needs help. Information concerning his movements should be forwarded to his mother, Mrs. Laura Henry, at Forest Grove, Mont., or given to The Times.

Wrangel General Hops to Bolsheviki, Fights Old Boss

LONDON, Oct. 6.—General Makno, a Ukrainian commander who has been operating under General Wrangel against the Bolsheviki, has joined the Bolsheviki and has been given command of the soviet administration against Wrangel, it is asserted in a wireless dispatch from Moscow.

GIRL OF FIFTEEN RABBI IN JEWISH CHURCH FOR DAY

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Miss Leona Hurwitz, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hurwitz, of 27 Lewis place, acted as rabbi in Temple Israel at a service Sunday night conducted entirely by the Sabbath school of this Jewish community. Miss Hurwitz enjoys the distinction of being the only girl in the world who ever officiated as minister in a Jewish pulpit. She delivered a 1,500-word sermon extemporaneously. This is the second time this young miss has acted in a rabbinical capacity, the first time having been last winter when the Feast of Chanukah or Lights was celebrated in Temple Israel. She then astonished the congregation by her remarkable talents and the total absence of stage fright. Miss Hurwitz composed her addresses without the assistance of her teachers and is able to commit them verbally to memory in a short time. She possesses remarkable dramatic talent and speaks in a clear voice that can be heard in every nook and corner of the sanctuary.

'Federal Agents' Seize $175,000 Whisky, Chicago

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Five federal agents are on their way here from Washington to assist Major Dalrymple, district prohibition officer, in an investigation of reports that $175,000 worth of whiskey has been stolen by men posing as federal officers. The whiskey was shipped here from Louisville, it being alleged that the consignees had sold it to saloonkeepers. The liquor was seized by the booze bandits after the retailers had received it. No trace of the vanished hoard has been discovered.

TECHNICALITIES DELAY PART OF LAMAR PAVING

Construction of sidewalks and paving on Lamar street from the Hamon-Kell station to Oak street will not begin for thirty days. This delay is because it will be necessary for the city commission to publish the assessments against property owners along the two blocks and have a hearing before which they may appear and say why the assessment should not be levied or make other complaint. Until this is done the contract awarded to the McKenzie Construction company at a commission meeting yesterday will not be valid, and until it is a legal contract the paving company will not proceed with the curb and gutter. Property holders who will build the sidewalks declare that the walks cannot be properly laid until the curb and gutter is in. This is necessary, they say, because until this work is done they cannot be sure of a proper grade for the walks.

Contract Faulty.

A previous contract was awarded the McKenzie Construction company for this work, several weeks ago, but the resolution passed by the commission contained a legal technicality according to the McKenzie people's attorneys. This necessitated that the whole process be gone over again. The two blocks are a new contract and were not contained in the major construction agreement upon which the remainder of Lamar street from Oak to Railroad avenue.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS EXPEND LARGE SUM ON CHURCH SCHOOLS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Eleven million dollars for new buildings and equipment will be spent on the educational institutions owned by the Southern Baptists during the next four years, it is announced at the headquarters of that organization here. Approximately the same amount will be spent during that period in lifting the debts upon those institutions and increasing their endowment funds. Of this building fund, $2,275,000 will go to what are known as the south-wide institutions, including the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth.

TOWN IN DARKNESS FOR MOVIE

LOVELOCK, Nev., Oct. 6.—Because a small auxiliary power plant which supplies this city with light since the big Nevada Valley's power plant was closed, is not sufficiently large to operate lights, this place is without lights, every night the "movie" is running. Candles and lanterns substitute for the electric illumination.

T. P. DECISION ON NEW DEPOT IN TEN DAYS

General Manager Lancaster Will Come to Ranger and Outline Plans.

Ranger will know in ten days just what action the Texas & Pacific railroad will take toward erecting a new depot. James L. Lancaster, general manager of the road, will be in the city within that time to bring the decision of the road before the Chamber of Commerce. This action was promised a committee composed of A. Davenport, P. N. Hopkins, C. C. Chenoweth and J. E. L. Peters, who visited Mr. Lancaster in his office in Dallas Monday, and while he made no definite promise, the committee believes that the station will be built at once. Mr. Davenport was spokesman for the committee and he asked the general manager whether he cared to take the matter up or have the Ranger body place it before the railroad commission at Austin. Mr. Lancaster declared that he did not want the request to be carried to the commission. During the interview he showed the Ranger men letters he had written to higher officials of the company recommending that a station to cost $80,000, be built. These recommendations were a year old, and he agreed with the committee that it would require an outlay of $150,000 at the present time to build a depot sufficient for Ranger's needs.

A new station has been one of the city improvements that the Chamber of Commerce has been working for, since its reorganization, and the men who were in Dallas feel that it is an assured fact.

OLD CONFEDS MEET AGAIN AT HOUSTON

By Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Oct. 6.—Southern melodies played by a band today carried the minds of the Confederate Veterans assembled here back more than fifty years.

The old tunes formed the first number on the program at the opening session today of the thirtieth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans. Governor Hobby and Mayor Ameron were the principal speakers on the morning program.

MS'WINEY PASSES HIS CUSTOMARY BAD NIGHT

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 6.—Terence MacSwiney passed a bad night in Brixton prison, according to the bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination league issued this morning. A physician is quoted as saying that MacSwiney's pulse has risen a little, but this might be due to some little excitement. This is the fifty-fifth day of his hunger strike.

FELIX DIAZ WILL BE SHIPPED BACK TO U. S.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 6.—Felix Diaz, revolutionary leader, who surrendered at Tapacoyan to General Guadalupe Sanchez, will be deported to the United States, according to reports received here.

THE WEATHER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Weather conditions this morning were favorable for the second game of the world's series at Ebbetts field, Brooklyn. The sun is shinny and the temperature is slightly higher than yesterday. The Indians are confident of making it two in a row but the Brooklyn players do not appear disheartened over the temporary advantage their opponents have attained.

For the first time in the history of American banking a bank has been examined by a stockholders committee made up of women. The institution was the Firststate bank of Lisbon, O., and the women reported it in "A-1 condition."

TWO EXPLOSIONS CAUSE BIG DAMAGE AT BRECKENRIDGE

Spark From Auto Truck Ignites Gas; Second Explosion Hour Later; Flames Threaten Entire Town; Man Blown 40 Feet, Unhurt.

Staff Correspondent.
BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 6.—Three men died early this morning from burns sustained last night when an open flow tank on blocks 15 and 16, in the Hanks addition, five blocks west of the courthouse, exploded on two separate occasions after being at first ignited by sparks from the exhaust of a motor truck driven by Everett Higgins of Shawnee, Okla., an employe of a local oil concern. Higgins, who was burned in the first explosion of casing head gas, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, died in the Breckenridge emergency hospital early this morning. Higgins was married. Two other men, F. A. Kell, a married man, of 1710 Weatherford street, Fort Worth, and Walter H. Perslow, also married, of Stockton, Ill., died this morning. They were burned in a second explosion.

Gordon Going to Argentina For Tee Pee Co.

W. K. Gordon, vice president and general manager of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, will go to South America this month. Mr. Gordon goes first to Buenos Aires, where he will make his headquarters for six months while investigating oil possibilities of the Argentine. Rumors have it that the T. P. company has an option on some big acreage in that country which has vast oil possibilities. Nothing official of the company's plans can be given out, but it is known that Mr. Gordon is packing up and arranging his office at Thurber for a long absence. Mrs. Gordon and their son will accompany him on the trip.

Basket Baby 6 Days Old, Seeks Home

A basket baby has come to Ranger and is seeking a home. A little miss six days old who through laughing eyes promises to love some good man and woman wants to be adopted. She is so new to the world that she hasn't even a name and her parents may have the sweetest pleasure of attending to that pleasant task. The baby is at the McCleskey hotel in charge of Captain J. T. Flynn, who with his wife goes over the country with homeless babies seeking their homes.

The only requirement for adoption is that the baby's foster parents be of good Christian character and in a position to care for the child. The first application under these conditions will be awarded the custody of the new baby. The work Captain Flynn and his wife are doing is supported by donations from those interested. No charge of any kind is made. What they do, they do for love of little children.

NEVADA SHOWS LOSS IN CENSUS POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The census bureau today announced the population of four states as follows: South Carolina—1,683,662, an increase of 168,249 or 11.1 per cent. Nevada—77,407, a decrease of 4,468, or 5 per cent. Alabama—2,347,295, an increase of 209,202, or 9.8 per cent. Wyoming—194,402, an increase of 48,437, or 33.2 per cent.

GYPSY LEADER RICH MAN.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 6.—A gang of Gypsy fortune tellers have bought three high-priced automobiles since they arrived in Topeka, paying coin and currency in each case, according to Sheriff Hugh Larimer. Their last purchase was a new Cadillac, which they bought yesterday afternoon from the Wood Motors Co. "George," as the leader of the band called himself, objected to a $10 item in the bill. Finally he offered to pay $5 if the sales manager would match him for the other $5. The manager agreed. George won. Then he drew out a roll of bills, "big enough to choke an elephant," according to Larimer, and stripped from the outer layer enough to pay in full for the new cars. In the meantime several gruffly dressed beauties of the band were busy telling fortunes among the office force of the company. It is estimated that they took enough money away to buy one or two more tires, at least.

BRECKENRIDGE FIRE WAS PLAINLY VISIBLE IN RANGER

All during last night the reflection of the Breckenridge fire could be plainly seen by citizens of Ranger as they lit up the northern sky, and it was plainly apparent that a disastrous fire was going on north of the city. Many believed, however, that the glare that could be seen was too far to the north to be at Breckenridge.

CAMEL LIKED SOFT DRINK.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—Fifty Indianapolis police officers on special duty at the Indiana state fair were called upon to quell a camel which apparently had not had its drink during the last eight days. It wandered from its own show grounds into a soft drink booth and drank 10 gallons of red lemonade before the police officers and the camel trainer could get it back into "The Garden of Allah."

LAMB

"Darling Mine" Tells Quaint Tale of Irish Fashions and Fancies.

It isn't necessary to put money in a shoe when you buy it today. The shoe itself is worth its weight in gold. This was Olive Thomas' comment when the script of her latest picture, "Darling Mine" was read to her. The picture has to do in part with an old Irish story to the effect that a girl who wants to know the man who really loves her has but to buy her shoe with some money in it and she will find out.

However, in the picture, Olive buries the shoe, and the money, too, as per script and almost immediately she found out who her real lover was. It took a police dog at that to help the matter along. This unusual canine led the true lover right to the tree where Kitty was hiding and then went to it and dug up the slipper. It didn't take the lover long to find the owner nor where she was since the canny canine had already tried to climb the tree—and the final close-up is taken among the branches, showing a lofty but none the less satisfactory love scene.

"Darling Mine" will be shown at the Lamb theatre for two days beginning today.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly, for the benefit of Times readers. If any of the articles described meets your needs, you may learn the shop where it may be purchased by calling the Times, telephone 224, and giving the shopping editor the number of the paragraph which tells of your particular bargain.

I. An excellent suit for general wear is fashioned from the softest of navy blue Ya Lama cloth. The jacket is fitted in a bit at the waistline while two box plaits in back and one on either side in front give it a slight flare below. These plaits are stitched crosswise in rows of black silk and over them hangs a narrow pointed panel. Small pockets are inserted in the front panels. The square collar of nutria fur may be fastened up close fitting and high. Underneath this collar is a plain one of the Ya Lama material which makes it possible for you to remove the fur for early spring wear.

II. Among the newest new things is a scarf of beige Angora lined with dark blue faille silk and the cleverest little turban hat to match. Embroidered on each end of the scarf and front of the hat is a basket design in cross-stitch of pink, blue green and beige silk thread.

III. A luxurious coat of Sealine bespeaks dignity and elegance in every line. Just the sort of wrap you would like to "huddle" into and hold on in the approved French way. The waist-deep collar and wide cuffs and imported buttons all are distinguished style. Skinners satin makes the full lining.

SOUVENIR CRAZE CLOSES FORT VAUX TO TOURISTS

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The famous fort of Vaux, situated north of Verdun, where a small French force held out for five days against the Germans during the Battle of Verdun in 1916, has been closed to tourists by order of the French ministry of war.

Such a step has been taken because tourists were removing various articles from the fort to be kept as souvenirs of their visit. The latest object to disappear, and which brought about the closing of the fort, is an electrical bulb used for lighting the inner casements.

Early Morning Blaze Causes Loss of $7,000

Fire of unknown origin broke out this morning at 5 o'clock and destroyed property to the amount of $7,000, all owned by W. J. Blair.

A grocery, a barber shop, tailor shop and meat market were practically consumed by flames. Insurance to the amount of $3,500 was carried on the loss.

The buildings were located on Black Hill road, near the camp of the Prairie Oil and Gas company and were all of same construction.

During the fire someone in an auto mobile ran into one of the fire department engines, badly damaging a fender. Charles L. Buttomer, fire chief, is investigating the matter.

Biggest Dog Dead

DENVER, Oct. 6.—Responding to what he thinks was a "psychic hunch," David M. Waldman suddenly awoke at 1 a. m. and found "Jumbo" his huge Dane dog, dead.

Waldman believes the dog was maliciously poisoned. "Jumbo" was thought by his owner to be the largest dog in the United States; he weighed 217 pounds and stood three feet ten inches in height. He was three years old.

FELT FAGGED, NO ACCOUNT

Result of Indigestion, Headache and Other Troubles—This Tennessee Lady Took Black-Draught and Found Relief.

Flintville, Tenn.—Mrs. Addie Sanders of this place says: "I suffered from constipation a long time. This, of course, brought on sour stomach, indigestion and headaches. I felt fagged and no account.

"I started in taking Black-Draught. I found it was helping me. I continue to use it, and have for years. I don't know how to start to praise Theford's Black-Draught.

"Today I am regular, no more constipation, headaches or indigestion. In fact, all I eat tastes sweet and good to me . . . since my liver is cleansed by the use of Black-Draught.

"I am well and proud to make this statement of what Black-Draught has done for me."

Constipation often leads to serious disorders among those who do not understand its dangers, or who neglect to treat it without delay.

Theford's Black-Draught is a medicine that every person should keep in the house, and use at the least sign of constipation or torpid liver.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is right.

First Day Leading Swatters

STEVE O'NEILL

People found out, Minoka, Pa., was on the map when Steve O'Neill began playing baseball. Steve is the backstop of the Cleveland American League baseball club, and that is all there is to the description. There are other catchers in Cleveland, but the Forest City fans are not well acquainted with them, for Steve is such a star that he works every day, while men like Les Nunamaker and Chester Thomas, good catchers, both of them, are holding down bench jobs and warming up pitchers in the bull pen.

O'Neill is rated by many as the best catcher in either big league. While he is hardly so good as that, there is no denying that he is a star of the first water and only slightly behind Ray Schalk in ability. As a hitter he tops Schalk.

Only two years in a minor league were O'Neill's lot. He did a term with Elmira in 1910, his first year, and then was sold to Philadelphia in the American League. He was transferred to Cleveland, which in turn sent him to Worcester and recalled him at the end of the season. His record from then on reads Cleveland—and a lot of ball games after the name of the city.

O'Neill is stockily built, a slow mover. He is wonderfully adept, however, at knocking down wide pitches and his arm is strong enough that basemen are prone to take many chances with it. He is a most dangerous pinch hitter.

IVAN OLSON

No player is more responsible for Brooklyn's entry into its second world's series than Ivan Olson, shortstop and field captain of the team.

Not a brilliant player by any means, Olson still is a hard worker and a smart, fast thinker. His hitting is most timely and he is a smart baserunner. Brooklyn fans never have looked kindly on this player's infield work, largely because of glaring errors to which he is addicted. On the whole, however, his work compares well with that of other National League shortstops.

Olson was born in Kansas City, Mo., in 1885, and became a professional baseball player in 1906 when he signed with the Webb City, Mo., team of the old Western association. His first position was third base, which he held down in forty-four games. His batting average that year was surprisingly slim, only .136.

Next year Ivan became a shortstop and played the full season for Webb City at that position. He was sold at the end of the year to Portland of the Pacific Coast League, a town which has turned out many good shortstops, and Portland loaned him to Hutchinson, of the Western association. Next year Olson went to Portland as a regular and, not two years later, he was claimed at the end of the 1910 season by Cleveland, of the American League, through a working agreement and reported to the old Blues in 1911. He was practically a regular for two years, alternating at third base and shortstop. Then he began to play the bench. He was waived out of the American League in 1915, Cincinnati claiming him and turning him over to Brooklyn, which club he helped to win a pennant in 1916.

BILLS DRAWN TO BUY 'JOB LOT' VANISH IN FOND EMBRACE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Police are searching for three young men who fled Max Beranbon, 1601 Carey street, a clothing jobber of $3,000 in a room in the Warwick hotel Saturday.

Beranbon had gone to the hotel at the invitation of a stranger whom he met at Thirteenth street and Franklin avenue. Two other friends of the stranger were already there.

The men told Beranbon they had a stock of clothing in a small town in Illinois and that they would let Beranbon have it for a "mere song," $3,000. They showed him a bill of lading and described the silk-lined suits in glowing terms.

Beranbon hurried to the bank and withdrew the $3,000. When he came back to the room the strangers congratulated him on his good business judgment.

"I have the money," Beranbon said. "It's in my inside pocket."

One of the men moved over to Beranbon's side and placed his arm around the jobber's neck and told him rather confidentially, "we're all going to make a lot of money out of this." The two other men nodded their heads in approval.

Two of the men then excused themselves and left the room. Beranbon and stranger No. 1 went downstairs to search for the two men, but they were gone. No. 1 then went in search of his missing companions and he likewise failed to return.

Beranbon became alarmed over the absence of the men and reached in his pocket for the money. It was gone. He reported the loss to the police.

JAP STEAMSHIPS TO SOUTH AMERICA GIVEN SUBSIDIES

TOKIO, Oct. 6.—The government bill for the granting of a state subsidy on steamer lines, introduced in the recent session of the Diet, has been approved.

The lines to receive a subsidy include the new line to the eastern coast of South America, the new line to Java and Bangkok, with Singapore as the center of the route, the new lines between Shanghai and South China, and the extension line of the South American western coast service.

The steamer service to the eastern coast of South America, which is at present maintained by both the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha, is to be extended after next October under the subsidiary aid of the state, the service to be increased to ten voyages a year. This will be maintained with six steamers, each of about 6,000 tons capacity.

The steamer service on the western coast of South America, run by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, is at present bi-monthly with three large steamers each of 9,000 tons capacity. The service is to be enlarged and made a monthly service with six steamers of the same capacity.

ZAMORA HAS ENOUGH

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6.—Pedro Zamora, the Jalisco bandit, has written the war department praying for amnesty. He promises to follow the example of Villa and live a peaceful life.

The amount necessary for the reconstruction of the devastated regions of France is figured at 152,000,000,000 francs.

THESE NEWCOMERS FILLED BIG GAP IN INDIAN TEAM WHEN RACE SEEMED LOST

All through the early and middle months of the American league campaign Tris Speaker's Indians were handicapped by the lack of a capable southpaw. This hit the team two ways. Tris had no good pitcher to mix up with Bagby, Coveleskie and Caldwell, his right-handers, and he thereby lacked a fourth pitcher to complete his regular squad. The acquisition of Walter Mills a few weeks ago gave him the needed party. When Ray Chapman was killed Spoke took a chance on Joe Sewall, New Orleans star, at short. Joe is filling the gap and hitting like a bear.

Border Dispute Won't Be Heard Until December

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Preliminary hearing in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary dispute, before the United States Supreme court, probably will not be held until some time in December, according to C. W. Taylor, assistant state attorney general who recently returned from Washington where he was engaged in preparing evidence for presentation to the supreme court.

Mr. Taylor said that Texas representatives have practically completed their case for presentation at the hearing, but that the printers in Washington were so busy that it was probable the record could not be printed before December. He estimated that evidence to be introduced by Texas alone at the preliminary hearing would fill 1,500 printed pages, and that the printing bill will approximate $10,000.

BEES FOR VINEYARD KEEPER OF GRAPE JUICE PROSPECT

Shortage of Jellies Like Also, but Bee Owners Have Surplus of Honey.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 6.—Owners of Crawford county vineyards are looking for the solution of the problem which has kept the fall harvest of grapes disappointed that most of the expected crop is lost. The cause was a loss to account for until a bee was sent and it was noticed that bees warped into the vineyards and settled on the grapes. Bee keepers soon discovered that they were getting more honey than usual. The result was that grape owners will have but little left with which to make jellies, and grape juice, while the bee owners will have a surplus of honey.

ASKS GOD TO SOFTEN HER LANDLORD'S HEART

International News Service.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—The aid of God in "softening the heart" of a landlord who had raised his rent beyond the means of a woman tenant was asked in a prayer at Christ Church cathedral here during a healing mission. The woman wrote a letter to the mission in which she declared she was about to be evicted because she was unable to meet the increased rent.

YOUTHS ARE CURED OF GOING TO SEA

International News Service.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—Life on the briny deep isn't all it's cracked up to be, according to five Greater Boston youths who have just returned to New Bedford after a three months' cruise on a whaling schooner, A. M. Nicholson. The boys were stricken with homesickness about two months ago, but their plea of "Oh, Mr. Captain, stop the ship; I want to get off and walk," was unavailing. The adventurous youths, however, returned with plenty of experience and full beards.

MAN ARRESTED AS HARDING HECKLER SUES FOR $100,000

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6.—Edward A. Ryan, a lawyer of Worcester, Mass., and Washington, who was arrested at the Fifth Regiment armory on the night of the Harding meeting after interrupting the Republican presidential nominee with questions about the League of Nations, today entered suit for $100,000 damages against Galen L. Tait, Republican state chairman; John A. Hudson, one of the officials of the meeting; Police Marshal Robert D. Carter, and two patrolmen, for alleged false arrest and malicious prosecution.

The charge of disorderly conduct against Ryan was dismissed in the police court the following day and Chairman Tait sent a letter to Marshal Carter saying that none of those in charge of the meeting had ordered the arrest.

Tris Speaker, Sensational Player, Manager of Indians

Baseball isn't a business of a pastime with Tris Speaker. It's a passion. He lives on it. That's why he almost copped the batting title while carrying the cares of the manager of a pennant contender. Tris was born in Hubbard, Tex., April 4, 1888. Played ball while at Fort Worth Polytech. Was with Huston when Red Sox paid $400 for him. Played with Little Rock in 1908. Then joined Red Sox. Became regular center fielder in 1909. Purchased by Indians April 12, 1916, for $55,000 and two players. He succeeded Fohl as manager July 19, 1919.

Poles and Russians Fought Only When Advance and Retreat Schedule Became Disarranged, Says Observer

By Associated Press

POSEN, Poland, Oct. 6.—The Polish army would have been conquered by the bolshevik armies of Russia if the French had not supported the Poles, an official of the French military commission in Poland has told the Associated Press correspondent. This, notwithstanding the fact that the Poles beat back the Russian drive on Warsaw.

The French official based his statement upon his belief that the Russian army was superior to the Polish army as an effective fighting machine, with the exception of the German-trained troops of Posen. The Frenchman said he believed the Russian organization has been, and still is, under estimated and because of this tendency to belittle the Russian armies the menace to Poland's existence, if not to all western Europe, remains imminent and real.

Officers Scarce at Front

The official said some Russian units were poorly equipped but it was not true the army was a "barefoot rabble." He was convinced the majority of the Russian divisions were "well-organized units of good fighting men, much better officered than the Poles." The Poles had 25,000 officers but only 5,000 of them ever went to the front although they were sorely needed there, he said. There was evidence that certain Polish companies had fought without officers, he asserted, and that during the retreat these were without commanders.

An American artillery officer who had spent a year in Russia and had been under fire at the Polish front told the correspondent he had seen the Poles "plant their artillery in the most ridiculous places, on the exposed sides of hills and right in the open, when they could have readily concealed it and made it effective."

Clashes Accidental

A neutral aviator who had flown over the front several times when "battles" were said to be in progress said what he saw of the fighting was "two armies keeping about three hours apart, the Poles retreating when the Russians advanced, and the Russians running when the Poles turned and advanced." He said this "schedule sometimes got disarranged and there was a collision between opposing detachments," but he had not witnessed any of these clashes.

A number of Polish officers with whom the correspondent talked said they were forced to admit the French saved the day but the weakness of their officers was explained by the fact that in former years Poles had not been permitted to hold commissions in the army, either in Russian, German or Austrian Poland, and that the time had been too short to develop a staff of highly trained officers.

PARLORS OF CHANCE MUST USE SHOVELS TO HANDLE THE DOUGH

By Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Millions of francs were won and lost across the baccarat tables and the roulette wheels in a frenzy of gambling for stakes hitherto unknown in France during the season which is drawing to a close at Deauville.

Foreigners have been conspicuous in keeping the croupiers busy passing stakes over the green carpets. Mr. Vaghianno, a Greek ship owner, according to L'Avantur, won 3,600,000 francs at baccarat in a sitting of three hours and a half at Deauville recently. On the other hand, an American, whom the newspapers refer to as the "Tobacco King" is said to have dropped 1,500,000 francs between midnight and daybreak one night during the past week.

"Oh, pshaw, it only means a little over $100,000," he is reported to have told a consoling piker.

But the most extraordinary player of them all is a young Cuban, a sugar grower of Havana, who is said to have won about 5,000,000 francs after losing 3,500,000 in August. "Whether winning or losing his face never gives him away to his opponents and his manner of dealing reminds one of a cat gently stretching out its paw," a French theatrical manager just returning from Deauville told journalists.

Great Britain is planning to spend nearly $600,000,000 on war veterans during the fiscal year, 1920-21.

THE LONGEST STEP FIRST

The continual sale of city improvement bonds is being reflected in the work now being pushed to make the east side streets permanent. When this work is completed, the last really vital gap in the city's avenues of communication will have been completed.

However, this accomplishment will by no means be a cause for relaxation and civic sloth. Whoever made the remark that "Cities are not built in a day," certainly spoke truth. His utterance antedated anger, but in his day there must have been cities arising overnight and the sage was very probably a pioneer in one of these.

Ranger, suddenly given the population of a city, necessarily lacked facilities. It will be some time before all facilities are founded, although the goal is ever being approached.

Step by step the unremitting work on the part of the city fathers has borne fruit in paved streets, sewers and other improvements, as well as in buildings built by private enterprise. Step by step the work must continue. Ranger cannot be built in a day but it can arrive at its goal just like the doughboy finished the hike—putting one foot before the other one more time—and then doing it again.

The steps to be taken are many and long and they should be kept steadfastly in mind. Among them are:

- Water supply. Telephone. New depot. Industries.

These are but a few. There are others correlated and interwoven with these. And one thing not to be overlooked in Ranger's plan of co-ordinating activities for the general good, is that the order in which these steps are taken is of vital importance. One certain step taken first may make the others easier.

Take that water question, for instance. Ranger recognizes this as the most important matter bearing upon the betterment of the town. But it is also the most expensive undertaking, and there is an innate desire in the human mind to put off the hard things till the last.

Water is the most important question facing the city of Ranger. Solving it will solve many of the others, or at any rate make the solution much easier. Regardless of the magnitude of expense and effort involved, Ranger should waste no time in providing an ample water supply. Thus will the principal obstacle to progress be surmounted at a bound. The way will be easier from then on out.

STATISTICS.

Statistics in general are the foundation rock upon which prosperity is built. They are also the announcement cards in the show windows of prosperity. But some statistics are hush. Some "propaganda" come into the Times office the other day telling of how many miles of rubber hose there are in the United States or how many pins it would take to cover Texas if it were a pin cushion, or some such matter. Such statements are uninteresting if true. They may mean something to a highly trained mind of one who is in a position to draw down a salary for figuring them out, but to the layman they tell nothing of either advantage or interest.

On the other hand there are the population statistics of Texas, announced yesterday. These are clearly outlined pen drawings of conditions in any given community. They show which places are progressive and growing, they show those which are peacefully sleeping upon the achievements of the past, and also those which by some misfortune or other have the man who is looking ahead, they tell him the place to go to advance himself. A town that is growing is one that not only has material advantages but is developing them. A town at a standstill is one that has either been developed to the full extent or its citizens are lacking in the enterprise that is necessary to progress. One that has backslid—and there are few in Texas—may be the victim of a temporary run of ill fortune. It may recover, and again it may not. That depends upon the natural resources that surround it and the enterprise of its citizens. If the disease is a wasting one, the cause of which can be removed, a town which has population will recover provided the citizens band together for that end.

Statistics reveal an actual condition. They do not reveal the cause of that condition, but they do open one's eyes as to the places of living worthy of investigation. They save time in eliminating the less worthy of consideration. And it is a safe bet that a community which is increasing in population steadily has a high quality of citizenship.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

The Blind Staggerers.

Art is the keynote of the Suburban Lady's summer abiding place. This year, however, the coming of many mere tourists was foretold and certain great spirits fled before the invasion to the wilds of the sand dunes, there to await the departure of the Philistines. Of course, the exiled ones did not forget to rent their artful dwellings to the invaders at a fair profit—in the cause of art.

Some rather amusing combinations resulted. For instance, a dear little old lady of eighty came with her children and grand-children to live in a cubistic dwelling where the dining room floor was done in a chessboard pattern of futuristic pinks, lavenders and yellows. Its kitchen, too, was a bright thing of yellow walls, blue wood work and salmon paneled doors.

The new occupant was a sturdy soul who had known Kansas in the pioneer days and had kept house calmly and with poise in a log cabin, but her new abode was too much for her. Like a housekeeper she made first for the kitchen. As she surveyed its yellow-blue-salmon color scheme she remarked reflectively, "In Kansas we'd call this a pretty poor job, but here you call it Art."

The dining room with its chess board pattern aroused emotion, not intellect, in the little lady. "This floor gives me the staggers," she declared wrathfully. "I know it must be the latest substitute for alcohol. I keep trying not to step on the pink squares and I can't make a straight line for the kitchen to save my life. At my time of life, too—it's indecent!"

Graved on Her Memory. When Lottie was thrust upon her the little teacher who guides a group of defective children, was depressed. Lottie was but dimly and heard with difficulty. She was thirteen in years, in mental powers three and a half, and so uncouth in personal appearance that even the others, vaguely conscious of their own "differentness," felt that Lottie was a being apart.

"We don't want her," whispered Annie, who was seventeen and found 3 times 3 taxing.

"No, let's not have her, Miss Patty," clamored the rest.

"But," Teacher had demonstrated gently, "if you had a little sister, would you like it if no, one was kind to her, if no one wanted her? Lottie is our baby and we must take care of her."

That put the matter on another footing and there was no more grumbling. A few days later, in the midst of a lesson, trusty Annie, who never broke a rule, made a dash for the door and rushed down the stairs into the street. Five minutes passed before she returned leading a disheveled Lottie.

"Why did you leave this room without permission, Annie?" asked the little teacher, trying to look serious. She had glanced out of the window and had seen Annie making an onslaught upon a group of boys encircling the bewildered Lottie.

"They were pickin' on her," explained Annie, indicating her charge. "We gotta take care of our baby, ain't we, Miss Patty?"

Her Fear. The Bronx Park express was crowded to capacity and the Business Girl did not have enough room even to turn the pages of her newspaper, so she took to scanning her fellow passengers and speculating as to their interests. The train halted at the Grand Central station and a few more passengers wedged in. This bit of conversation waited its way from the platform:

"What are you going to do up this way, Rose? I thought you lived on the west side?"

TINKER BOB

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

MAJOR POLE CAT APPEARS. Tinker Bob, King of the Forest, was very much afraid that Young Red Fox was going to follow in the footsteps of his father. If he did it meant that something terrible was going to happen to him some time.

"I'll never do such a thing again," said Red Fox in a trembling voice, as the spirit of Old Man Red Fox disappeared. "Oh, I'm so sorry that I ever saw Lady Duck, but really it was—" Red Fox was interrupted by the sound of cracking twigs in the underbrush. He was, so frightened that he crept behind the King.

"Who comes there?" called Tinker Bob, for he heard the sound also.

For a moment there was no answer—but whoever it was, they were coming closer. When the King called out again, "Who comes there, I say?"

Then a little pointed nose appeared from beneath a brush pile, then a pair of black eyes were seen, and then the whole head. It was black, all but a V-shaped mark of white which started at a point on top of the head and widened out toward the back. Tinker Bob knew who it was the moment he saw the little pink nose. It was Major Pole Cat. There was something very strange about his actions.

"Have you seen Old Man O. Possum?" asked Major in a low tone.

The King had seen him on his way to the river to give his foot a bath, but why should Major Pole Cat be looking for him? It might be that O. Possum was the guilty one, after all, but why should Red Fox be so much afraid? Tinker Bob knew that the one thing that made the Forest Creatures afraid was that they were guilty of doing something wrong. "What does all this mean?" asked Tinker Bob as Major came to him.

"Oh, King, O. Possum has caused a terrible thing to happen, but I must not tell you myself. Your next journey on till you meet the next creature who will tell you what to do to find out all about Lady Duck, for I do not know where the hole was dug, I am lookin' for O. Possum and when I find him I will bring him back to the Palace, then you will find out the kind of Creatures you have in the Forest."

Tinker Bob was a little surprised at the message of Major Pole Cat, but he knew that the Major was a loyal fellow and told the truth. But it did not seem possible that Lady Duck was dead, yet standing there listening to us, and I quick whispered to Puds, Shh, there they are, and I set out loud louder than usual. Well, I know who I'd rescue my mother that's who I'd rescue.

Me too, sed Puds even louder than me, I'd save my mother every time and leave my wife drowned if she wanted to.

With me and Mrs. Sinkins both clapped their hands like applause and we took advantage of the opportunity and asked them if we could go to the movies after supper, wich they sed we could.

"If you'll but cease your danglers, I'll have the lord high thingumbob call in the paperhangers." The honest British workmen came, prepared to paint and putty; they named the wages they would claim, and George said, "You are nutty; there is no sense in such a price as you are now demanding; to you a pitcher full of ice, with royal grace, I'm handing. Because some thrifless kings have flung the coin with zeal distressing, you think that George may be stung, but you are poor at guessing. I'll paint the palace all alone, with princely vim and vigor, before I'll pay you men a bone above a righteous figure." The royal shack is dank, in fact, offending all who scan it, and Mary reads the riot act, but George is firm as granite. He says to her, "Our dark abode will shabby be for ages, unless some lads come up the road who'll work for decent wages."

This George of England is a King whose ways are most endearing, for now he kicks like everything at greedy profiteering. Some time ago Queen Mary said, "I've through the palace capered, and certain rooms need painting red, the walls should be repapered. Most any time some royal jobs may come around week-ending, and they would think that shiftless swabs to housework were attending," said George, whose head began to throb.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

JOHN-A-DREAMS OF MATCHES The match in dream is always a messenger of surprises. The nature of the surprise depends naturally upon the incidents that enliven the vision.

Thus it happens that the range in importance varies between the most trivial of unexpected happenings to the most astounding events—from the visit of a friend or one's childhood to the proposal from a millionaire after a day's acquaintance.

If you merely see matches in a box, the surprise will consist of a letter, the contents of which will amuse but not greatly agitate you. If you see them strewn on the ground, the astonishing news will be brought to you by a visitor.

Lighting a match means that your charms will captivate some one of whom you never before thought in the role of an admirer. If the flame lasts, the feeling will become mutual and will extend over a long time.

If it is quickly extinguished, the fire of love will die out as quickly as it sprang up.

Burning your fingers with a match means that, in some very surprising and unusual manner, you will be drawn into an adventure which you will regret very much. It will be one of those experiences which happen to us now and then, though we seem to be unable to explain how they came about.

News of a nature to leave you speechless with amazement is sure to reach you when you dream that some one lights a match and threatens to burn you with it or passes the flaming stick close to your face.

To see burnt matches signifies that, to your bitter disappointment and unspeakable surprise, you will find coldness and indifference where you expected to find friendship or even love.

If you try to light matches and they refuse to catch fire you will be greatly surprised to learn that a most unexpected fate has come to people whom you believe to be peacefully and securely settled in an even routine.

To open a letter and find matches in it means that a very dear friend has gone abroad, not to return in years.

It is a sign of pleasant surprise if you find matches in your pocket, purse or handbag and do not seem to be able to explain how they got there.

SMART WRAP FOR FOOTBALL DAYS

By ELOISE.

With smart fur coats and fashion wraps the center of attraction, one is very likely to forget that winter has some attractive sport togs as well as summer. One does not need to wait for the skating season either to see smart clothes. There are autumn likes and piques, football games and motor trips, all of which demand sports clothes of some kind. Tweed suits and skirts with knitted sweaters and polo coats are very smart. Knitted scarfs and hats and tailored shirts also belong in the fall sports wardrobe.

Here is a very unusual coat which the college miss will "just love." It is just the thing for keeping out the chill breezes at football games this fall and will be smart for wear at the country club. It is a knitted wrap of orange and white block designs forming a border and a white stole collar striped in orange and cuffs to match as trimming—a loud and snappy combination which will appeal to youth. The coat is made on the fashionable new wrappy lines and is good for motoring wear as well as street wear.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried. All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and chil-

PEON ISN'T AMIABLE WHEN DRUNK, SO MEXICO TALKS PROHIBITION

By LOUIS P. KIRBY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6.—Liquor men in Mexico have become alarmed by the steps toward prohibition taken by the new government and are organizing to protect their interests. The drinking places are now closed on all holidays and from Saturday at noon until Monday morning. From this it would seem only a short step to complete prohibition.

Owing to the spread of Bolshevism among the peon classes, there are many who favor a ban to abolish the manufacture of the cheap alcoholic beverages made from the cactus as a means of preventing order, but those who want to keep the peons sober do not wish to be deprived of wine, beer and the finer liquors. They want strong drink confined to those who drink with moderation or at least with amiability, and the peon is by no means amiable, as a rule, when he is drunk.

The men who want a limited prohibition, however, will get little support from influential politicians. The politicians will either want complete prohibition or demand that the drinking places remain as they are, with regulations closing them on days when the masses are idle.

The peon has been the backbone of every revolution. The wild, reckless energy of these men, with nothing to lose, has been the strength of many leaders who have remained aloof when it seemed humanly impossible to avoid destruction or capture. When the peon engages in a cause he takes with him all of his worldly goods, including his wife and children. Bands of bandits are moving tribes with more women and children than fighting men. Even the military troop trains are moving families. The soldiers take their families with them, and also their dogs, chickens, pigs and fighting cocks.

It is because the peon is so essential to the success of any movement that all appeals are addressed to him. The sincerity of these appeals, however, is strongly questioned.

POSTAL CARD COMES TO MAN WHO MAILED IT IN 1903

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Seventeen years ago Frank O'Keefe was surveying the Harlem river front for the dock department. One evening he mailed a postcard to his superior, the superintendent, reporting on the day's work. Yesterday the card reached the superintendent of docks' office after traveling twelve miles in seventeen years' time.

In that time O'Keefe has made much more rapid progress. While his card spent seventeen years reaching pier A, O'Keefe went up steadily and occupied practically every position in the harbor engineering department.

When the card arrived yesterday O'Keefe, too, was at home. He is now superintendent of docks and duly received the card he mailed seventeen years ago.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

TWENTY THOUSAND LEGIONNAIRES MARCH IN PARADE

American Legionnaires in parade at Cleveland, O., during second annual convention.

War time memories were revived in Cleveland, Ohio, last Monday when twenty thousand Americans who fought in the World war marched in parade, while 300,000 spectators cheered. The parade was one of the features of the second annual convention of the American Legion. Every state in the union was represented.

Foreign officers, decorated with medals of honors, walked beside the American veterans, while men who were hurt in battle rode in automobiles.

GERMAN SUB MAY BE SUNK IN LAKE MICHIGAN

By Associated Press CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—If naval terms of the treaty of Versailles are carried out by the Allies, the U-97, a German submarine with a record of at least seven Allied ships sunk, will itself be sunk in 100 feet of water about twenty miles off Chicago harbor this fall.

Orders for the destruction of the U-97 were issued some time ago, but later were withdrawn pending the decision whether that part of the German peace treaty which provides for the destruction of all surrendered warcraft is to be put into execution. There is some difference of opinion among the Allies, France and Italy especially being anxious to keep some of the late German ships to bolster up their own navies.

In the meantime the U-97, which toured the Great Lakes in the interest of the Victory Loan campaign, following the armistice, is tied up alongside Perry's old flagship, the Commodore, here. Only the hulk of the old-time terror of the seas remains, practically all of her machinery and fittings having been removed, the majority to be sent to Annapolis naval academy. Her five-inch deck gun rests on the wharf beside the rust-eaten hulk.

LIKES HIS ORGAN MORE THAN MONEY

International News Service. NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Henry Bradford, who lives at Little Neck, L. I. and plays the organ daily and nightly at the Flushing theatre, has just been notified that he has inherited $75,000 from a wealthy uncle in London, Eng.

Henry is still on the job, and what's more he intends to stay on. "I'm going to buy a home out on Little Neck," says he, "and invest the rest of the money in some theatrical venture. But I'm not going to leave my job."

Henry has a wife and two children. He has been one of the chief attractions at the Flushing theatre for two years.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism. If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away. Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood. For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Nobody thinks anything now of going away on a trip. THE railroads were partly responsible. But it wasn't until the automobile reached its present state of development that the old barriers against travel were finally broken down. More people own automobiles today than ever thought of owning a horse and buggy in the old days. That's because the cost of motoring has been brought within reach of the average citizen's pocketbook. We look upon it as part of our job to keep it there. If it weren't for the trade of the man with the medium priced car there wouldn't be much in this tire business for us. The less a man has to spend on motoring, the more important it is that his tires should be of first quality. Any tire is not good enough for the small car owner. He wants a tire that will give him just as much for his money in the small size as the big car man gets for his money in the large size. In thinking over what kind of tires we would represent in this community we tried to put ourselves in the place of the car owner. And we believe we hit it exactly when we selected U. S. Tires. The officials say the man's name will be made public when the jury has finished that part of its probe.

It's Lots of Money, But Not Much Bread, Baggage Man's Plea

But a Bolshevick Commissar Soon Settled the Dispute; Everybody Arrested.

By Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 6.—The bearded baggage man on the platform of the Kazan railway station in Moscow demanded 100,000 rubles for unloading from a car the baggage of fifteen British officers and the Associated Press correspondent when they arrived in Moscow in July after a journey from Siberia across Russia. It had taken ten minutes for him and a dozen other men to do the work. The British officers were prisoners. They had been members of the allied railway organization in Siberia under John F. Stevens, the American engineer, and had been captured by the Reds at the same time as Colonel Blunt and his party of American engineers at Novo-Nikolaevsk, Siberia, in November, 1919. The Americans had been released and had left Russia through Vladivostok, but the British officers were sent to Moscow. "One hundred thousand rubles for unloading baggage?" exclaimed Major R. E. Vimy, R. E., ranking officer. "We can't pay it; we're prisoners; we haven't the money." And he appealed to his Bolshevick guard. "Who asks 100,000 rubles for unloading the baggage?" shouted the Bolshevick commissar in charge when informed of the situation. "Show me the man," he demanded. He was directed to the group of baggage men. "I'll pay you 100,000 rubles," he said sarcastically. "Yes, I'll pay you, search-ass," using the Russian word indicating time, present or future, usually some definite hour in the distant future. "Are your names?" The names were given. "And now you, Ivan Ivanovich, you Peter and Nicholas and your companions," said the commissar. "Your names had been written, 'you are under arrest. You are servants of state and you have no right to as-

There were violent exclamations; frenzied waving of hands; tearful exclamations that the daily ration of black bread wouldn't keep a mouse alive. "Bread is 1,000 rubles a pound," said one. "One hundred thousand rubles is ten pounds of bread for each of us. Long ago, before the war, ten pounds of bread cost only half a ruble and what is that for handling a foreigner's baggage?" But the baggage men went to jail for speculation; the British officers to prison for counter-revolutionary activity in Siberia, and the American reporter went into house arrest for being in Russia without permission. Only the Bolshevick commissar remained free.

BLAME MONKEY FOR THEFT OF DIAMONDS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Baffled by a wave of robberies and pocket pickings, the police have turned their attention to the Forest Park zoo in the hope of solving at least one light-fingered misappropriation.
The quest began with the search of the monkey cages on the theory that an $800 diamond pin was taken from Mrs. Clifford C. Fox as she strolled through the zoo on a Sunday afternoon. Park police believe one of the monkeys, attracted by the sparkler, reached through the bars of his cage and "lifted" the pin as Miss Fox strolled past.

STANDS OFF A LOT OF DOCTOR BILLS
Recommends Pe-ru-na for Catarrh of the Stomach, Colds and Grip
"I have used Pe-ru-na for several years and can heartily recommend for catarrh of the stomach or entire system. I always get benefit from it for colds and grip. It stands off lots of doctor bills and makes one feel like a new person."
R. F. SUTTLES,
R. F. D. No. 3, Box 31, Waynesburg, Kentucky.
It is wise to keep a bottle of Pe-ru-na in the house for emergencies. Coughs and colds may usually be relieved by few doses of Pe-ru-na taken in time. Nasal catarrh, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, rheumatism or other troubles due to a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane all call for Pe-ru-na as the successful treatment. The health building, strength restoring qualities of this well known remedy are especially marked after a protracted sickness, the grip or Spanish Flu.
PE-RU-NA is justly proud of its record of fifty years as health protector for the whole family.

SOCIETY

1920 Club Will Have University Lecturer.

The 1920 Club meets Thursday, Oct. 7, in the Elks' club rooms at 3:30 o'clock. One of the new tendencies noticeable among clubs is the decidedly increased interest in things political. Since the women of the United States have become national citizens, the progressive women evidence their appreciation of the opportunities and obligations by earnest plans for study of the art of citizenship, law and government.

The 1920 Club will study this year, "American Government," with a special feature program on "Home Economics and Topics of the Day," while the social and civic interest will be planned by able committees.

A special lecture is scheduled for the club during the winter months by a lecturer sent out by the extension department of the University of Texas. A specially selected library of books, furnished also by the extension department, is at the disposal of the members to use in the preparation of the program. These reference books will be found at the Elks' club rooms, where the regular meetings of the club will be held.

The following is the initial program: Topic, "Historical Setting of the American Government."—Mrs. R. N. Hodges, leader.

Paper, "American Institutions During the Colonial Period."—Mrs. C. D. Woods. Paper, "The Revolution and the Establishment of the American Government."—Mrs. S. D. Terrell.

Round-table topics. Discussion of the six different geographical areas of the United States and the particular advantages of each. Discussion of the conflict between the conservative and the radical elements in the formation of the American government.

Piano Selection—Mrs. F. D. Bostaph.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. R. Fleming and daughter Miss Ruth have returned home after a two months' trip through California, Utah and Colorado, having spent a most delightful summer.

Daylight Saving Law Is Hard to Repeal.

International News Service. BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The state department of agriculture, which has been seeking the repeal of daylight saving, has bumped up against the fact that daylight saving will doubtless be with us for two more years at least.

The act "to restore to the citizens of Massachusetts the benefits of daylight saving," provides in section 2:

"At 2 o'clock of the last Sunday of March of each year, beginning with the year 1921, the standard time in this commonwealth shall be advanced one hour."

The only way in which the law can be altered, or repealed is by act of legislature. If the legislature, either at the special session to be held in November or at the regular session in 1921, should repeal the law, the action of the legislature can be halted by recourse to the initiative and referendum.

A petition under the I. & R., supported by 15,000 signers, would submit the legislature's repeal act to the voters "at the next regular election," which will be held in 1922. Meanwhile the daylight saving law would continue in operation.

Anti-Peddling Ordinance Passed by Commissioners

An ordinance which prohibits peddling in the city was passed its final reading at a commission yesterday.

To become a law it now has to be published once a week for two weeks.

The ordinance does not affect the peddling of ice cream, fruits or vegetables. Neither does it affect farmers selling their products on the streets.

The city commission made the law at the request of the Retail Merchants' association.

It is modeled along the lines of a similar one now in effect at Weatherford, which has withstood the tests of the courts.

MAN CHARGED WITH HARDWARE PURCHASER CAUGHT IN RANGER

John McCarty, alias Joe McCarty, is being held by the police department in connection with the burglary of a hardware store in Eastland on Oct. 4, in which five new shotguns were stolen.

McCarty was picked up last night by members of the force and was identified this morning by Patrolmen John Moore and Jim Hunt as the man wanted by the sheriff's department, which has been notified of the arrest.

More than 500 young women who sought entrance to the Northwestern university have been forced to return to their homes owing to the lack of housing and dormitories in Evanston.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess calomel tablets are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.—(Adv.)

DON'T CUT DOWN ON BUTTER

Cheap cuts of meat are nutritious—clothing with less style is economical—but there is no substitute for genuine Mistletoe Butter.

It has food value not to be found in any artificial compound. Made of rich cream, pasteurized and triple wrapped, always sweet, clean, uniform and of fine texture. You don't have to apologize for it.

KNOT IN ROPE NOSED ARMY BALLOON OUT OF FIRST PLACE

Lieut. Thompson Tells How Indiana Man's Efforts to Assist Him Caused Delay in Effort to Rise.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—The efforts of a man in Indiana to assist in what he thought was an attempt to land their balloon were responsible for their craft being nosed out of first place in the elimination race starting from Birmingham last Saturday, according to Lieut. Richard E. Thompson of California, who reached here yesterday from Richmond, Ont., where they landed.

While traveling at a low altitude over Indiana a man noticed the drag rope trailing along the ground and tied a knot in it, believing it would catch in some obstruction and aid in what he took to be an attempt to land. Before they were able to rise to a higher altitude, the airman said, the knot caught in fences and trees, at times threatening to throw them from the basket and greatly slowed up their progress.

While crossing Lake Erie, Lieut. Thompson said, they were at a good height when they struck a down draft, before they could throw out ballast they had shot downward until the life preservers, dipped into the lake, but they managed to rise again and experienced no more trouble until they reached the Canadian side, where they were forced to rise to 30,000 feet to hold a storm.

The Thompson-Wicks balloon was unofficially placed second in the race, H. B. Honeywell outdistancing it by one and one-twelfth miles.

MR. HAZARD HAZARDED PILE ON HOOPING THE PEG; HE'S CITYSLICKED

By International News Service.
STERLING, Mass., Oct. 6.—They can have all the great Sterling cattle shows they want to—next year and the year after and the years after that—but by jinning crickets they won't get Phil Hazard to go to one of 'em.

Mr. Hazard told chief of police McDonald how a city slicker at this year's show gummed him out of eighty hard-earned dollars. The more Phil thinks about it the more he is convinced that he didn't have a chance.

There was a fellow down to the show had a pretty booth rigged up where if you threw a hoop over a peg you collected 50 cents. Phil begged away five dollars and failed to collect a nickel. Then, he says, the fellow put it up to him to try a $50 throw. "Be a sport," says he. "The money was put up" and vanished.

He had that life-preserver roll when something prompted him to lean over and secure one of the hoops against the peg. The gaudy thing couldn't be squeezed over the peg, let alone thrown over it, and Phil let a yell out of him that caused a bomb scare as far away as Worcester.

Well, sir, the police force came up on the double quick, but—believe it or not—the city slicker had disappeared with the booth, the peg, the rings and his entire get-up. What's the world a coming to!

ARMED GUARDS PROTECT VATICAN FOLLOWING RED RUMORS

Swiss guards in parade to pledge their allegiance to the papal flag before going on duty at the vatican.

Following recent reports that the Communists planned to occupy the Lateran palace, property of the Holy See, precautionary measures were taken by vatican officials to guard the vatican premises. Ball cartridges were issued to the gendarmes and famous Swiss guards. The photo shows part of the Swiss guard on parade to pledge their allegiance to the papal flag.

That Noise and Jollity Tonight Is Roaring Camp

Tonight the Elks' Roaring Camp celebration will be opened for four days. Everything is in readiness to entertain the big crowds who are expected. The shacks are all done, the lights are in, properties are placed and Ranger can go back to the days of '49.

Today in the daylight, in spite of their stark ugliness, there hangs over the hall an air of festiveness and abandon that speaks well for the real enjoyment of those who will attend the celebration tonight and the remaining three days.

NARROW ESCAPE.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Oct. 6.—J. F. Needham, a farmer, was driving to Pine Bluff in his buggy. As he was entering town along a wooded road he heard a cracking sound and saw a negro at the side of the road gesticulating and yelling at him to stop. He pulled in on the reins. An instant later a giant tree which the negro had been cutting crashed down upon him demolishing the buggy. Needham was badly bruised but escaped serious injury. A passing motorist brought him to a local hospital.
