GIRL, FURNACE VICTIM, DIES OF BURNS

Trial Of Toral, Assassin Of Obregon, Begins In Mexico 4,000 EXPECTED AT TOMORROW'S GAME HERE

INJURIES HANDICAP BULLDOGS

Bobcats, Fast and Smart, Set to Hand District Another Surprise.

The team that tied the Cisco Lobos and the team that tied the Abilene Eagles will clash Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Ranger gridiron in a game that should abound in action and thrills—a game that may produce the outstanding team in the race for the Oil Belt district championship. Neither team has been defeated and the result of Saturday's game will have a far-reaching effect on the ultimate winning of the district title.

San Angelo's battling Bobcats—on the basis of their moral victory and actual tie over Cisco—today rate as the most dangerous team in the district. If you say that 13-13 draw with the Lobos was a fluke, how do you explain that the Bobcats gained 50 yards more from scrimmage than the Big Dam team did? How do you explain that second touchdown the Bobcats put over—when they were trailing and gamely came from behind to knot the count? If that kind of playing is a fluke, then the Battle of Waterloo was a Mardi Gras and the Revolutionary War was a circus parade.

The team that outgamed the Cisco Lobos—with their reputation that has been State-wide for the past five seasons—is not going to be a bit daunted at meeting the Ranger Bulldogs.

And those same Bulldogs are in none too good condition to face the fast and tricky attack of the Angelo. Garland Hinman, the 195-pound captain, was out on his feet in the Abilene game and he is still badly crippled. He may not start. Hammett, whose passing turned the tide last Friday, is in battered shape and will be seriously handicapped. Arkansas McLaughlin, who tore through the Eagle line, is another casualty and Bohannon is another.

On the other hand, the Bobcats have had two weeks' rest since their hard game with Cisco and every man is in splendid condition, with the possible exception of Jones, guard.

And the fact that Mollie Crawford, Angelo's assistant coach, scouted Ranger in the Abilene game while Ranger has not scouted the Bobcats will give the invaders a big advantage. Crawford so thoroughly analyzed Ranger's plays that the Bobcats have worked a week in perfecting a defense and so confident are the Angelenos that the San Angelo Standard announced a day or two ago that the Bobcats would break up Ranger's passing attack.

News dispatches from San Angelo refer repeatedly to the Bobcats' aerial game. That may be a smoke-screen. That may be a type of attack that will be sprung in this game. It would not be surprising to see San Angelo flash a series of off-tackle plays and end runs—for with their speedy backfield these should prove effective, especially if the Bulldogs are set to try to stop passes.

Who is going to win? If the Bulldogs play as hard as they did against Abilene, they stand a good chance. But, brother, any team that tied Cisco had better be considered seriously before the game and during the game—otherwise, you'll be considering them seriously after the game, when it will be too late.

A great flock of fans from Eastland, Cisco, Breckenridge, Strawn and other towns will be on hand for the game Saturday and an attendance of 4,000 is in prospect.

BIG FIRE IN CLARKSVILLE

CLARKSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 2.—Fire starting at 2 a. m. today completely destroyed five buildings in the business district. After fire companies from nearby towns had been called to extinguish the blaze, the fire was put out at 5 a. m. Twelve other buildings were slightly damaged by fire and water.

Damage was estimated at $150,000. No one was injured in the blaze.

Boy Stowaway

Clarence Terhune, 19-year-old New York caddy, will have plenty to tell about when he next appears at the Rye (N. Y.) Country Club, where he has been employed. He stowed away in the big dirigible Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst, and made the trip across the Atlantic to Germany as an uninvited passenger. With him he took all his savings—$50.

COUNTY'S COTTON IS INCREASED

Double the Ginnings of Year Ago in Eastland County.

More than twice as much cotton has been ginned in Eastland county up to the present as was ginned at the same date a year ago.

Total bales are 4,606 as compared to only 2,173 bales in 1927. The figures are up to Oct. 18, and are announced by the United States Department of Commerce.

Several important cotton counties however, register a decline. Taylor county has ginned 10,098 as compared to 31,033 on the same date a year ago and Jones has ginned 13,235 as against 32,180 for the same date in 1927.

Total for the state shows a gain of nearly half a million bales—3,340,596 compared to 2,886,897.

Chief Leads With Pistol and Rifle

Scores of Ranger Pistol and Rifle teams follow:

Pistol: Jim Ingram 96, J. T. Hughes 95, F. P. Brashier 92, G. J. Moore 86, Joe Dennis 81, Pearl Cox 83, Ernest Brumlow 72, B. E. Dighy 68, Jene Wagner 60, J. L. Chance 40, W. A. Hammett 39, D. A. Harkrider 25, J. C. Smith 22, Raymond Garza 18.

Rifle: Jim Ingram 96, J. T. Hughes 95, F. J. Moore 90, W. A. Hammett 85, J. C. Smith 84, Pearl Cox 83, D. A. Harkrider 77, Joe Dennis 73, Ernest Brumlow 73, F. P. Brashier 64, J. L. Chance 57, Raymond Garza 57, B. E. Dighy 49.

The Bermuda onion crop of Texas is valued at almost $4,000,000 a year.

NUN ALSO WILL GO ON TRIAL

Picture of Slain President Hangs on the Court-room Wall.

SAN ANGELO, Mex., Nov. 2.—The trial of Jose DeLeon Toral, assassin of President-elect Obregon, began today. Selection of a jury of 9 to try Toral and Mother Superior Concepcion, accused of being the "moral instigator" of the crime, started at 9:30 a. m. in a heavily-guarded district courtroom here.

All spectators were searched for arms as they entered the building. A great throng gathered for the trial, which has aroused more interest than any court proceeding since court martial of the Emperor Maximilian.

The courtroom, which was designed to seat 100, was jammed. Two hundred persons slept outside the building all night in an effort to be the first to enter. Thousands will hear the trial broadcast by radio. Toral and the nun sat in the front row closely watched by guards as the proceedings began. A picture of Obregon in full dress uniform looked down at them from the wall.

A jury of 9 was obtained an hour after the start of the proceedings.

Bobcats Bubble With Confidence

While dispatches from San Angelo picture the Bobcats as having about one chance in a hundred to win tomorrow, a far stronger tone of optimism appears in the write-ups in the San Angelo newspapers. In the last day or two, such gleams of sunshine as the following can be gleaned from the sport pages of the San Angelo newspapers:

"Deep down in our heart we have a feeling that the Bobcats will out-fight the cocky Ranger team and win that game."

"Yet we feel that if the Bobcats again can reach that fighting pitch they reached in the Cisco game and can grab a fair share of luck in the use of their overhead weapon, the Bobcats will turn back this big, strong and veteran Ranger machine."

The Ranger team probably is quite cocky over its brilliant showing against the Abilene team and it probably feels that San Angelo team was playing high over its heads in the Cisco game and never will wage as great a brand of ball again."

Thursday's San Angelo Times appears this confident declaration: "But it won't be long now. Just a couple of afternoons hence, the lads over there on the other side of the circuit will be introduced to the spectacle of a cluster of mauling midgets rearing up and punching the ears down on giants. Why, certainly, we believe Bill's brigade of mauling boys will mount those husky Ranger boys and ride them down to their size."

As a basis for this belief, the San Angelo sports writer tells of viewing the Bobcats in their workouts and "they had the spirit! They've got that old spirit again, that spirit they had on the eve of the Cisco struggle."

Besides San Angelo's "race horse backfield," the Bobcats have a splendid pair of ends, the Angelo newspaper declares. Haley will be on one wing and either Smith or Roberts on the other.

"Roberts is the better defensive man while Smith is the better offensive. We believe Smith is even a better offensive man than Red Haley, the other wing who so far rates a berth as one of the two greatest terminals in the Oil Belt."

HOLD FUNERAL OF F. J. HUEY

The funeral of Frank J. Huey, who died in Breckenridge following a paralytic stroke, was held in Cisco. Mr. Huey was business manager of the Cisco Daily News for several years and recently became vice president and secretary of the Burch Hotel company of Breckenridge. He is survived by his widow, a son and a brother, B. S. Huey of Cisco.

AL GREETED BY NEW YORK AS PRESIDENT

Hundreds of Thousands Cheer Smith—"President Al" Is Shouted

NEW YORK Nov. 2.—New York fought today over the man that has made its sidewalks a legend in a presidential campaign. It turned out by hundreds of thousands, frenzied and milling, to greet—as only New York can—Alfred Smith in a noon-day parade up Broadway and Fifth avenue.

Men, women and children forgot lunch. They crammed the sidewalks. They hailed the governor as they battered a little group that "President Al" they sang. And was sent out by the National Woman's party to talk anti-Smith talk in the midst of the Smith delirium. Through it all from the Battery to city hall and thence to Fifth Avenue, Smith rode, sitting on the folded-back top of a handsome car, smiling and waving his brown derby. He was preceded by a band and mounted police. He was followed by other cars, bearing notables and by thousands that broke through police lines to cheer him on. The Democratic nominee will speak tonight in Brooklyn, N. Y.

FRITZ SEEKS CONTINUANCE OF HIS CASE

Man Accused of Murdering Boy Does Not Enter A Plea.

HASKELL, Nov. 2.—The case of Will Fritz charged with murder in the death of Earl Hamilton, 17-year old farmer boy, who—with his father, D. W. Hamilton—met death at their home near Rochester, on Oct. 24, was called to trial in the 39th district court at 9:30 this morning.

Fritz, freshly shaven and clad in a pair of blue overalls and brown sweater, was brought into the courtroom by Sheriff Al Cousins and was accompanied by a brother and his father.

The defendant was somewhat nervous when brought into the courtroom and as soon as he was seated, he picked up a daily paper and scanned the front page to read about himself in the glaring headlines.

Court was called to order and Fritz was asked to stand while District Attorney Clyde Grissom read the indictment.

The defendant was then asked by the court "Guilty or not guilty?" To this he could not answer so the court answered for him "not guilty." No counsel in the case having been obtained by the defendant, the court appointed Judge Jas. P. Kinnard as counsel for him. Judge Kinnard asked for time to file motion for continuance of the case and court was recessed until this afternoon.

A special venire of more than 100 men has been called for the case.

More than 25 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the state. One of the largest crowds ever in attendance at a case was present for the morning session.

Road Department Wins Long Scrap

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—In a stormy session at which disagreeing statements of members were contradicted and called "false," the state board of control this morning by a 2-to-1 vote ordered its purchasing division to buy the remainder of machinery recently requisitioned for the state highway commission.

The purchasing division was ordered to follow absolute specifications of the highway department in making purchases but the board voted down a substitute offered by Dr. H. H. Harrington that the purchases be made "as selected and recommended by the highway department." Machinery was recommended by name and brand in the highway department recommendation.

Commander

B. H. MURPHY
New Commander, American Legion

IMPORTANT SESSION OF THE LEGION

Report on Convention, Airport Work, Post Elects Officers.

B. H. Murphy was elected post commander of Carl Barnes Post No. 69 of the American Legion last night at the annual election of officers by the Ranger post.

The new post commander is manager of the Gholson hotel, has taken an active part in legion activities and has been an ardent worker in chamber of commerce and other civic organizations.

Other officers elected were: Harry Henry, first vice commander; W. W. Carlin, second vice commander; B. F. Davenport, adjutant; A. L. Larson, finance officer; Dr. C. C. Craig, service officer; Otis Brody, sergeant at arms; Earl Trammell, chaplain, and H. O. Pope, historian.

Dr. W. C. Palmer, chairman of the committee on the district convention which will be held here Saturday and Sunday of next week, reported that plans were going forward satisfactorily.

Announcement was made of a contribution of $25 by Col. Robert D. Gordon toward aiding in the expense of holding the convention.

B. H. Murphy will donate a silver loving cup to be awarded to the delegation staging the outstanding parade on the Saturday evening parade, during the convention.

"Chatting" the runways at the airport was given impetus through a contribution by Bill's Tailoring shop to pay for transporting five loads of material; Mr. Clark, hauling contractor in the city paving, donated the use of four big trucks for one day, and Chestnut & Smith offered four men for one day's work.

FINE ANIMAL IS PURCHASED

A registered Jersey bull—great grandson of the world's champion long distance dairy cow—has been purchased by S. O. Montgomery, it is announced by Ben Whitehouse, federal agriculturist. The animal was purchased from Ed C. Lasater of Falfurias, one of the most famous Jersey cattle owners in the United States.

Mr. Montgomery lives two miles south of Ranger where he operates the Oakwood dairy. He owns 29 registered Jersey cows and his herd is state-accredited.

The purchase of the fine animal was an event that pleased Mr. Whitehouse greatly as the advancement of the dairy industry in the Ranger territory is one of his major projects and the securing of this fine bull is an important step.

Auto Is Stolen On Main Street

The first car theft in Ranger recently occurred last night when a five-passenger Chevrolet, 1927 model, was stolen on Main street. Raymond Rogers, owner, 918 Desdemona boulevard, reported his loss to the police.

POLICE SHOOT STRIKERS IN HARBOR RIOT

Officers Clubs Useless, They Fire On Australian Waterfront Workers.

SIDNEY, Australia, Nov. 2.—Police and union dock laborers fought for half an hour in the streets today. The police confronted by 1,000 workmen were outnumbered and fired on the crowd. Three men were wounded, one seriously.

It was the most serious disorder growing out of the waterfront strike. The union men angered at the protection given to volunteer workers who took their places during the strike, attacked a group of volunteers in the street. Police tried to stand between the two factions but were stoned by the rioters. Finding their clubs useless, the police fired over the heads of the crowd as a warning. A concerted charge was made by the mob and the police fired into the crowd. During the struggle dozens of men were pushed into the harbor but all were pulled out.

Burglar Tries To Sell Watch to The Owner, Pawnbroker

Special to The Times.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2.—An ex-convict, 25, is in the city jail all the wiser for his experience in which he is charged with trying to pawn two watches to Robert R. Brodkey at the latter's store within three hours after he had burglarized Brodkey's home and stole the watches.

He learned at the police station of his ridiculous attempt to sell the stolen watches to their owner. The Brodkey home, 1400 West Rosedale street, was looted between noon and 2 p. m. while Mrs. Brodkey sat on the front porch. When she went into the home and found her purse looted of a lady's wrist watch and a man's watch she notified her husband.

Brodkey went to the City Hall and reported the loss to City Detective Lewis. Fifteen minutes after he returned to his store a young man walked in and laid a watch upon the counter. Brodkey personally waited on him.

"That's the watch I've been looking for," Brodkey said. "Where did you get it? Looks like it has been stolen."

Brodkey reached into the man's pocket before he had time to answer and pulled out his wife's wrist watch. A struggle ensued and the man was subdued with a pistol.

En route to police station the man jumped from the emergency car and was chased several blocks up Main street before he was recaptured.

KILLS WIFE, SHOOT'S WOMAN, ENDS OWN LIFE

Man Orders Two Women to Pray, Then He Begins Shooting; Kills Wife.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 2.—Aur in Busbee went to the apartment of his estranged wife here today, commanded her and a woman friend to "get out of bed and pray," and then opened fire with a revolver. Mrs. Busbee was instantly killed and Mrs. Cora Heckman, the friend, was seriously wounded. Busbee then committed suicide.

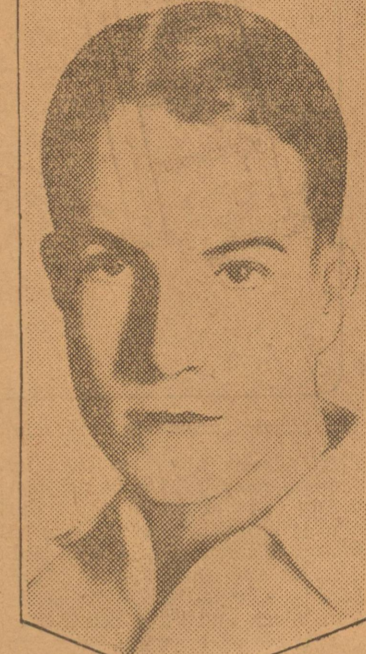

Oil Man Dies Of a Heart Attack

BIG SPRING, Tex., Nov. 2.—An hour after he had asked his wife to hand him a cigarette, B. H. Bowry, an employee of the Magnolia Petroleum company, died in bed from an attack of heart trouble. The body will be taken to Electra for funeral services and burial will be in Altus, Okla. Bowry is survived by his widow and several children.

Quake Damages a High School

LOMPHOC, Calif., Nov. 2.—An earthquake at 7:05 last night caused damage of $10,000 to the high school gymnasium here. The tremor caused the explosion of a gas tank which demolished the building. No other damage was reported.

Thrill Slayers

MISS KNAAK, 29-year-old Sunday school teacher, died in a hospital here today and with her last words increased the mystery surrounding the manner in which she received the burns that caused her death.

Miss Knaak died at 3:55 a. m., and her last words uttered a few hours before were:

"I wonder if they did it and why? I did not do it, I did not do it. They did it."

"I have made my peace with God," she had sighed a few moments before. She died with a smile on her parched burned lips, maintaining the air of peace she had kept during the hours she was in the hospital.

Her body was found Tuesday morning in the basement of the city hall, her limbs burned almost to the bone and her face seared with fire.

On regaining consciousness she declared that she had tortured herself in the furnace of the building to purify her soul of a love for Charles Hitchcock, handsome night policeman and her instructor in elocution.

Because of her last statement, however, Miss Knaak's family are convinced that she did not inflict the burns on herself but that some one attempted to murder her.

Airport Is Aided By the Work of Cooper Students

Twenty-nine Cooper school boys along with their principal, H. L. Baskin and H. L. Baker, a high school boy, gave an atmosphere of enthusiasm in the cold wind, Monday when they piled all the pebbles and boulders that were in the runways at the airport field. Again Friday this troop of workers went back and cleared several acres of pebbles.

A list of the boys follows: Marshall Landroop, Darrel Tully, Wayne Mitchell, J. W. Blackwell, Frances Holder, Sammy Guck Matthews, Jesse Millburn, Gordon Moore, Earl Reeves, Ivan Todd, Frank Aggers, Raymond Stallings, T. C. Weaver, R. V. Robinson, Mace, Joe Weeks, John Bray, Clayton Blankenship, John Williams, Raymond Lott, Lawrence Munnerling, Francis Davenport, Dwight Middle Brooks, Elvin Ingram, Roy Britton, Woodrow Weck, Floyd Randolph, Limmie Bray, Harold Feasel, H. L. Baker of the high school.

Daily Passenger Air Line, El Paso To Ft. Worth, Plan

Daily airplane passenger service between Fort Worth and El Paso is to be inaugurated by the Texas Air Transport Inc., which was purchased recently by A. P. Farver, who is also chairman of the board of directors of the Texas Louisiana Power Company and chairman of the board of directors of the General Waterworks & Electric Corporation of New York.

Route that the planes will cover has not been announced. It is hoped that the company will parallel the Broadway of American (State Highway No. 1) and the Texas & Pacific railroad, which would include a greater population than any other course.

Another project of the company is daily passenger service from Fort Worth to Mexico City. The company plans to establish a training school for pilots, the commercial sale of planes through subsidiary concerns and a central repair depot in Fort Worth.

SAN ANGELO.—Highway No. 99 will be improved in areas traversing oil fields west of here.

HER FINAL WORDS ADD TO PUZZLE

"I Did Not Do It," She Murmurs Near Life's Close.

Letters From Our Readers

November 1st, 1928
 The Times:
 May I utter just a last word before election day? There is one thing that has been puzzling me, and that is why a confirmed Prohibitionist does not vote for the candidate of the amply discredited Republican party. As a Democrat of the moss-back variety my personal ballot will, of course, be cast for Gov. Smith; but, if I were to follow Gov. O. P. Colquhoun and Hon. C. Robinson in their opposition of democracy by reason of sudden attack of conscience too great for me to vote for Mr. Smith for the reasons they give, my esteemed friends of the Prohibition party would acquire one more vote.
 But as justice demands candor, let me candidly say, with Mr. Hoover, that the 18th amendment is a "noble experiment," then add that I entirely agree with Mr. Blanton and M. Sheppard that under Republican rule it has been the source of graft and corruption unlimited and has never been given a chance to prove either its beneficial possibilities or its serious defects, and that I could not vote for the candidate of the party of the executive to endeavor to enforce the law as it stands so far as its enforcement is humanly possible. And again remark that if I felt as Tom Love, et al., they do, that prohibition is the only issue, I would not desert the Democracy for a party that acknowledges its inability to suppress the party that controls Chicago, Detroit, and Philadelphia three of the worst governed cities in the nation. If the record of fidelity to the South and its ideals of Tammany Hall did not appeal to me, it would be impossible for me to endure the idea of turning to the Republican organization as the embodiment of those ideals. If, as the exponent of a great moral reform, I wanted aid, it would never occur to me to turn to Mr. Coolidge's cabinet to find assistance after the record that cabinet during the past nearly eight years.
 And in saying this is not "hear me witness against my neighbor." As a citizen, although not believing in prohibition in theory I have obeyed the law to the letter ever since its passage. In no respect or particular can it be said that I have ever treated the "noble experiment" with contempt or contempt. I have therefore, the reasonable right to comment on the conditions as they are. The Democracy of Texas has adopted a law more liberal in its allowance of alcoholic content than the federal law, with punishment more drastic than those of the federal law; and our statute is the one under which Texas officers the more nearly secure enforcement. This being true, the federal law needs less complexities and more honesty in official life, for, with reasonable effort, the less severe law is naturally the one most generally approved by the people, and the more easily a law is understood the greater is its efficiency. The more complex the law, the greater the likelihood of its breach. Complexities and dishonesty are a dangerous combination in any legislation.
 Hence, to repeat, if I were a radical prohibitionist it would not depend on Secretary Mellon and Mrs. Willebrandt, who could not clean up the hotel she stayed at, for enforcement; and, being dissatisfied with Gov. Smith's assurance of genuine effort toward enforcement, I would turn to that party's nominee to whom prohibition on the supreme issue of the times.
 Many years ago Hon. David M. Prendergrast, of Mexico, now deceased, took this position, ran as a prohibitionist for Governor of Texas, and voted a straight Democratic ticket otherwise, and secured my lasting admiration in his sacrifice although I did not agree with his views. But how can any mar admire a course that leads from a party whose principles he pretends to subscribe to, a purist who is too nice to accept the leadership of Sheppard, Moody, Cullen Thomas and M. M. Crane but prefers to associate with Borah, Melton, Work and "Big Bill"? I confess I reluctantly, but my brain is too feeble to understand such means of obtaining political morality, or of demonstrating my sublime sanctity.

"If You Don't See What You Want Ask For It"

CAMPAIGN JOTTINGS

Senator Borah, who invaded Texas recently on behalf of Mr. Hoover's candidacy, thus expressed himself concerning Hoover in 1919: "I say here upon this floor and I challenge successful tradition, that three of the vast monopolies, which control food in this country, have, with relation to their commodities, directed and controlled the Food Administration since its organization. . . . He (Hoover) permits these people to, in effect, fix their own prices. . . . I have been utterly amazed at the facts which show how these combines have influenced and controlled the situation." Senator Borah further declared that Mr. Hoover had "violated the most fundamental principles of the constitution of this country." Senator Borah still further declared that the combined profits of the five packing companies jumped from $22,105,000 in 1914 to $95,639,000 in 1917.

Concerning Senator Borah's record, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, of Texas, who was secretary of the national Congressional suffrage committee in the campaign for the adoption of the 19th amendment, declared that Borah "has no right to appeal to the women because he never stood by the women in the legislation they wanted. Senator Borah, known as a woman suffrage, having accepted fees for making speeches for that cause, voted against the 19th amendment."

Senator Goff, Republican of West Virginia, said—in an interview wired from Kansas City in June, to the Washington Post: "No man who lived 20 years under the Union Jack can love the Stars and Stripes. Hoover spent $380,000 in his campaign and $4,600 was used to buy the delegates in Mississippi, $3,000 in Georgia, $2,100 in Florida and $1,000 in Alabama."

A news article, in the New York World states, concerning a speech by a Republican leader: "An open appeal for wet Republicans in New York, without whom party leaders have admitted they cannot carry the State, was made last night by Former Senator James W. Wadsworth, who voted against the 18th amendment. The former Senator told his audience that the Republicans cannot be considered in favor of national prohibition as a party. Nothing in the Kansas City platform obligates the Republicans to prohibition as a fundamental question. Senator Wadsworth insisted. He held that the party is only pledged to law enforcement. The former Senator attacked Gov. Smith's remedial prohibition measures and said the 'best relief from the problem would be to obtain from the Republican nominee, who he said, 'has promised to investigate the whole prohibition subject.'"

In New York newspapers a few days ago an advertisement signed by the Hoover and Curtis Liberal League appeared. It stated: "We intend to vote for Hoover and Curtis. We do not agree with their attitude on prohibition. We believe other issues predominate. The Democratic candidate for president cannot change the prohibition law" since a majority of his supporters in Congress are pledged to its continuance.

Lansing Dies

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State under President Wilson, during the World War, died at his home in Washington, D. C. He was 64 years old and after retiring from the cabinet had been practicing international law.

Dispatches from Chicago tell of alleged law violations among negro leaders of the Republican party. Oscar De Priest, Republican candidate for Congress, and Daniel Jackson, a recent appointee of Gov. Small as a member of the Illinois Commerce Commission, have been indicated. "Both men are negro political leaders," says the dispatch. "Both have been active workers for Mayor Thompson. De Priest also is a member of the Illinois Commerce Commission. This commission is the one of which Frank L. Smith was chairman when he accepted money from power companies for his primary campaign, resulting in his rejection by the United States Senate."

Cotton farmers who remember the bearish predictions last year from the United States Department of Agriculture that caused cotton prices to tumble, will read with interest that Jardine, secretary of agriculture, can predict higher prices—for the wheat farmers in this campaign year. Says a dispatch from Washington a few days ago: "Secretary Jardine Saturday reiterated his opinion that farmers should hold their wheat in anticipation of a rising market."

A candidate for Congress in New Jersey made short speeches and sang during the greater part of his meetings. The very man to have on hand during one of those filibusters.

NATIVE REBELS AGAINST FRANCE RECEIVE LUXURY

By J. MacGREGOR-MORRISON,
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 PARIS, Oct. 27—(U.P.)—From the tempestuous days of the capture of Abdel-Kader, just 80 years ago, to the dashing of the imperialistic hopes of Abd-el-Krim, the long line of Sultan and others vanquished in establishing French influence in Africa reveals one striking characteristic—none of the vanquished leaders has been treated with brutality or consideration beneath that of his class.
 Mos have spent the final days of their lives under sunny skies, with a regular pension from the French government and surrounded by a little court of their own selection.
 Abd-el-Kader's submission at Lamorciere in 1847 gave the French its first experience in the handling of chieftains whose word when from a prison cell, might throw the world into a Holy War. He was interned first at Toulon, then at Pau, and finally offered the Chateau d'Amboise, where he spent his time watching the slow-flowing Loire. Comparing its melancholy to his own, Abd-el-Kader asked and obtained permission to retire to Syria; where he died in 1883, a firm friend of France.
 The next "captured guest" was that of General Doud's in 1892—King Behanzin of Dahomey, whose name was all-powerful and whose army was composed partly of fierce Amazons. He was exiled with his daughters and one son, who died recently at Dakar, to Madagascar; his daughters married soldiers of the French colonial army and Behanzin was happy. His one complaint was that he had not killed King Toffa, who he said was the cause of all his misfortunes.

Queen Exiled
 Three years later after a difficult march, General Duchesne reached Tenorive and the first shell on the castle of Queen Ranzavalo brought a huge white flag to the roof. The campaign ended there, and in order to put an end to court intrigues the Queen was exiled to the northern shores of Africa, with frequent visits "in-cognito" to Paris, Aix-les-Bains and other resorts.
 About the same time, King Samoury in the Sudan was raising trouble and making peace alternatively with such frequency that the French decided to step in. Chief of a small tribe, he had the soul of a conqueror, says one writer, but he was brought down by a small column of French infantry and sent to the Congo. His last days were spent in misery, but it was his own fault, for he rejected all proffers of assistance.
 Even Niebe, the ferocious Christian-hating son of the heroic Sultan Rabah who died at the head of his forces at the battle of Kousseri, could have lived a life of easy exile but his temperament and habits were those of "black sheep." Instead of quiet submission to the official life of the fort at Brazzaville, he elected the worst natives of the region as his closest friends. He was sent to the Gabon district, with a pension of a hundred francs per month—considerable in those days, and his household of three wives, three children and two servants.

Accepted Captivity
 Half blind Omar and stuttering Sandia, two Bornu Sultans, accepted captivity and exile with the true spirit of fatalists, except when they served with tainted pork when they prayed thrice and then told the official in charge of Port Sibut, "That meat's not good for Sultans". It was the only instance of dissatisfaction shown throughout their exile. One of their companions Aey led an even more exemplary exile and was allowed in 1903 to take the throne of the Ouadal a Sultan.

Equally fortunate was Said-Ali, Sultan of the Comores. Accused of murder and worse, he was sent to Madagascar. He did not complain of injustice but when the time came asked to be restored to his Sultanate, he obtained a reopening and revision of the case against him, and even received the chief officer of the Legion of Honor. His little realm having been annexed meanwhile, Said-Ali accepted the inevitable once more, with a pension, and went his way in peace.

And what is more fascinating than the story of the beautiful little Sultaness of Moheli? Her pension reduced, she married the gentleman who was appointed to see that she did not attempt to regain her former authority. Together they lived happily in a little villa on the west coast of France, said to have been bought from the proceeds of a rare Isle of Mauritius postage stamp which the Sultaness had in a collection of her school-days without knowing its value. The French government denies the story but history will continue to tell it.

Krim Lives In Ease
 As for Abd-el-Krim, his is a life of unbelievable ease. Virtually proprietor of the Chateau Morange at Madagascar, his family life not troubled by wars or the receiving of emissaries from this or that country seeking concessions as the price of their making him the real Master of Africa, he spends most of his time in automobile rides and along rambles in the gardens allotted as part of his "heritage." He is treated with extreme courtesy, received at many of the official functions, and his one ambition is to prove to France his gratitude for her generosity.
 "But I should like to go to Paris and tell M. le President himself," confided the ex-Sultan of Morocco to one of the recent visitors to the Chateau Morange. And there are rumors that he may be allowed a brief vacation in France early next spring.

SEGRAVE AFTER SPEED RECORDS WITH BOAT, CAR

Will Try For Two New Marks Next Year At Daytona Beach

By United Press. LONDON—Although a fortune-teller informed Major H. O. D. Seagrave he would come to an untimely end in February, 1929, the major's preparations for his dual attempt on the world's automobile and motorboat speed records are in full swing.

During the past few months a model of Seagrave's automobile has been undergoing scientific tests at the National Physical Laboratory, Teddington, Middlesex, for wind and resistance pressure, which is one of the biggest problems connected with the land attempt.

In a recent press interview Seagrave stated "I am told I may expect a minimum speed of 240 miles an hour, or four miles a minute, with a possible 260 miles an hour.

"I am using a British engine similar to the one in the plane in which Flight Lieutenant Webster won the Schneider cup, but of later date. It is rated at 450 horsepower, but it is tuned up to give nearly 1,000 horsepower.

Shaped Like Cigar. "Scientific methods of streamlining have saved hundreds of horsepower. The car is shaped like a cigar or an immense shell. Its streamlining follows closely that of the Schneider cup plane.

"At first it was considered that no tire could be built to withstand the heat created at a speed of 240 to 260 miles an hour. The tire makers, however, carried out tests on a special apparatus where tires could be subjected to stresses similar to those to be imposed on the real thing.

"Fifteen seconds will be required to cover the mile at 240 miles an hour, and I shall probably want another 15 seconds at maximum speed for approaching the electrical timing tape, and after passing the finishing tape, before I begin to brake. This gives me 30 seconds at maximum speed. In other words, I have a safety factor of 30 seconds.

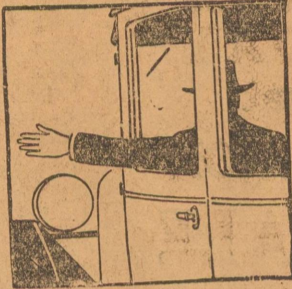

"It is clear from the report of the tire makers that we have nearly reached the limit of the speed of pneumatics."

The motorboat to be used in the sea attempt is also equipped with a Schneider cup engine, and will be ready for trials in November. It is 30 feet in length, with a beam of seven feet. Two propellers will be used to overcome torque difficulties, the engineers stated that if one propeller were used the vessel would twist over sideways.

Proper Observance Of Signals Will Reduce Accidents

An average of 2,360 persons were killed or seriously injured every twenty-four hours during the first six months of this year, says a safety report of the American Road Builders' Association.

The Association's report said it had been found that the chief causes of this alarming number of accidents were carelessness and carelessness on the part of both motorists and pedestrians. In accidents where drivers have been principally at fault the causes were: Inattention, Speeding, Traffic Law Violation and Intoxication, it was found.

The most important causes of accidents where motorists were not principally to blame, were: Children playing in the street, adult jay-walking, inattention and confusion. The report indicates that the above causes resulted in more accidents than did wet streets, poor roads, defective lights and narrow streets.

It has been found in Chicago and other cities that the greatest number of automobile accidents and fatalities occur between 5 and 6 p. m. The conclusion is that fatigue from the day's work causes a let-down in carefulness and watchfulness during the later hours of the day.

and its feet, E. P. Angus, General Sales manager of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, said: "Every automobile driver should make every week safety week. Accidents can be reduced only by constant carefulness of both driver and pedestrian."

To make this signal, extend arm nearly upward, as if pointing to sky. See illustration above. Quick right turns cause many accidents. Always give signal well in advance. Protect yourself.

"The driver can do much to reduce highway accidents and make traffic safer by using the correct arm signals in stopping or turning. We consider these signals so important to safety that we are running a large advertisement in newspapers, covering the entire Southwest, illustrating and describing the signals and their use.

"The proper signal to use when making a left turn is the arm extended straight out from the body, with the finger pointing to the left. When the driver sees this signal he knows you are going to turn left. He doesn't have to guess.

"When turning to the right, the arm should be held upward as near an angle of 90 degrees as possible. The other driver knows what you are going to do and that leaves his mind free to operate his own car. "If you are preparing to stop or slow down in traffic, extend your arm downward at an angle of about 45 degrees. This signal puts the man behind you on his guard.

COMING TO A STOP

To make this signal, extend arm downward, at an angle shown in the above picture. Nearly all rear end smashes are caused by not signaling or by signaling too late. "The Magnolia Petroleum Company, with its thousands of employees, hundreds of trucks and automobiles, is vitally interested in reducing automobile accidents and making traffic safer. And to that end our drivers are cautioned to practice every aid to safety, including the arm signals," Mr. Angus said.

More than $25,000,000 worth of matches were sold last year, according to statistics. These must be wrong, though, or they do not include those borrowed by people with cigaret lighters.

POINCARÉ USES FORCE TO HALT RED OUTBREAKS

Communist Strength In France Slumps To Half Million Members

By RALPH HEINZEN United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS, France.—By the tactics of employing violence to meet violence, Premier Poincaré has crushed almost beyond recognition bolshevism in France.

Three recent set-backs suffered by the French communists show that the "red" danger which supposedly was at its greatest two years ago during the sensational slump of the franc is now really non-existent.

The inability of the communist leaders to organize the monster demonstration against the Kellogg peace pact signing, timed for the Sunday preceding the signature, when Stresemann, Kellogg, Cushing and other plenipotentiaries were gathered in Paris, was the climax of the party's failing power.

Several weeks before 5,000 armed republican guards rode through crowds of communists and their friends, at Ivry, arresting 660 "reds" and breaking up a meeting planned as a protest against the imprisonment of various communists.

Just a few days ago the "Communist Youths" field day at Saint Denis turned out to be as tame as a garden party under the eyes of 5,000 more mounted and armed troops. Each setback has seen the party abandoned by thousands of its members and it is doubtful if there are a half million avowed Communists in France today, although two years ago their leaders claimed two millions.

The change appears to be due entirely to the Poincaré policy of force. During the Herriot ministry which preceded the Poincaré cabinet of National Union, a series of successful coups encouraged the Communist leaders and they grew bolder. On the night of August 23, 1926, when, in guise of a protest against the imprisonment and execution of Sacco and Vanzetti Massachusetts, the bolsheviks ran riot in Paris, they were at the height of their power.

That night they ripped up paving stones and battled the police without giving ground. Hundreds of shots were fired by both sides and a lawless mob following the communists down the boulevards of Paris started pillaging stores along the way.

Another mob ran towards the fashionable Champs Elysees, the most aristocratic shopping and residence district, and profaned the tomb of the Unknown Soldier by spitting on the marble slab which covers the grave. That act turned public hostility against the Communists and from then on their strength grew weaker.

Poincaré ordered a pitiless campaign, sending out masses of mounted and foot troops and police every time the "reds" scheduled an open air meeting, field meet or parade. In the Prefect of Police the Corsican, Jean Chiappe, he found an able lieutenant. Chiappe, a man of Napoleon's build and facial resemblance, is a man of action. He organized a fleet of fast automobile buses to carry his mobile forces anywhere in Paris or the suburbs and was always able to outguess the "red" leaders.

He wanted His Old Number Back Again But Luck Was Bad

By United Press. LEWISBURG, Pa.—Ol' Lady Luck, after favoring Mose Quinn, Bucknell university quarterback and all-around athlete, for more than seven years, demonstrated her fickleness in the most ironical manner.

Eight years ago Quinn tried out for the Memphis, Tenn., high school football team, and selected the numeral "11" because of a hunch.

Quinn acquitted himself well in the opening game and regarded the figure 11 as a charm. He wore it in each game during the first season and came out at the end of the season unscathed.

From that time on, Quinn, like most athletes, was a devotee to the great god of superstition. He would not play without the charmed 11, and with it played four years of high grade scholastic football.

Upon matriculating to Bucknell university he expressed a desire to continue wearing number 11. He was granted his wish and for three years 11 has been poison to Bucknell's foes.

Penn State followers recall seeing 11 weave through the Nittany Lion's entire team last year to cross 45 yards of sod for a touchdown and Bucknell's first victory over Penn State in 30 years.

Such was the reaction of the number upon Mose Quinn. This season, however, Coach Shively decided to number his varsity from 40 up and Quinn was not to be excepted. He started against Schuykill with 43 upon the back of his jersey and played one of the worst games of his career.

He laid the blame to the absence of 11, and Coach Shively immediately gave him back his charmed number. Quinn's playing improved immediately. But here is where Luck intervened, for Mose Quinn, after getting back the mystic number that had brought him success for seven years, broke his leg in the Geneva game and will never play football again.

Quinn is also the senior class president, and will probably not be graduated in June, because of

Love Says He Will Vote For Hoover As He Did For Butte

Special to The Times.

CLEBURNE, Nov. 2.—The Democrats of Texas have a great opportunity, unexampled in the history of the state, at the election next Tuesday, a noted American woman, Mrs. Will Irwin, is right in declaring that "Herbert Hoover is not a candidate; he is an opportunity," declared Thomas B. Love in a speech here last night. "For more than fifty years Texas democrats have been anti-Tammany Democrats. They were Cleveland democrats and Bryan democrats, and helped Bryan, indispensably, to make Woodrow Wilson president of the United States. A New York magazine zealously supporting Al Smith, in an editorial recently said:

"Aided by the circumstances of Bryan's death, he (Al Smith) has managed to purge the party of Bryanism that crippled it for thirty years."

"Texas was a great agency in promoting that thirty years of Bryanism. It was crippling to Tammany Hall, and when Tammany Hall hears the returns from Texas next Tuesday it will find that Bryan still lives in the hearts of the men and women of Texas."

"In his Dallas speech for Al Smith last Saturday the Governor of Texas said:

"I am going to say this to the prohibitionists—that if you quit the democratic party in Texas you turn the party and administration of affairs in this state to Jim Ferguson, and I never intend to do that."

"Four years ago the governor was on the stump urging the democrats of Texas to turn over our government to Jim Ferguson while some of us were on the stump pleading with the democratic voters not to follow his advice. Today as loyal democrats and as loyal friends and supporters of Governor Moody, we urge you not to follow his advice in this campaign to turn the government of the United States over to Tammany Hall."

"I have fought Fergusonism from the beginning to the limit of my poor abilities. In 1924 I fought to keep Fergusonism out of power when the governor was fighting to put it in, and in 1926 I fought with him to put it out of power after he had helped to put it in. But on what ground would any friend of good government rather have the democratic party in Texas turned over to Tammany Hall than to James E. Ferguson. Why should any citizen strain at the gnat of Fergusonism than swallow the camel of Tammany Hall?"

Will Stay In Party. "But we are not going to quit the democratic party. We are going to stay in the democratic party and vote for Dan Moody and the other nominees for state and local offices and for Herbert Hoover. We will all show up in the democratic primaries of 1930—about 500,000 strong, and it will be our votes and our power in the democratic primary of 1930 that will save Texas from Fergusonism and from Tammanyism which is worse as we saved it by electing Dan Moody governor in 1926."

"History will repeat itself. Four years ago when Governor Moody was on the stump urging the Texas voters to turn the government and the democratic party over to Jim Ferguson, in the sacred name of party loyalty and party regularity, just as today he urges Texas democrats to help turn the government of the United States over to Tammany Hall, there were 250,000 of us loyal Texas democrats who voted for George C. Butte for governor. We did not quit the democratic party. We simply stayed in the democratic party and voted against Fergusonism just as this year we are going to stay in the democratic party and vote against Tammany Hall. It is a mere matter of arithmetic to demonstrate that if we had quit the democratic party and had not voted for Governor Moody in the 1926 primaries, he would not have been elected governor. "No Texas democrat has to quit the democratic party in order to vote for Herbert Hoover next Tuesday. The present legislature fixed that by passing a special statute on the subject last year, recommended and approved by Governor Moody, which solemnly and conclusively declared "that no person shall ever be denied the right to participate in a primary in this state because of former political views or affiliations."

KHALIFAT MAY ARISE TO RULE ISLAMIC REALM

Epidemic Of "King-Making" In Old World Indicates Possibility

By United Press. LONDON.—Will the "epidemic" of king-making in the old world lead to the re-establishment of the Khalifat, head of the Islamic realm? Observers of foreign affairs see a trend in this direction in the increasing power of several monarchs, some of whom have taken their thrones since the world war.

A possible Khalif must be selected from four century kings, Amanullah of Afghanistan, Riza Khan of Persia, Zogu of Albania, and Ibn Saud of Arabia. These rulers alone meet the qualifications set down by the law of Islam, that the Khalif shall be an independent Moslem monarch. Of the four eligible kings, Amanullah is nearer the orthodox Sunni, Riza Khan is a Shiaah, and Ibn Saud a Wahabi. Europe's latest king, Zogu of Albania, is a Mohammedan ruling over a nation originally Christian but now probably three-fifths Mohammedan. Many Albanians are said to observe secretly the rites of their original religion. Zogu's subjects include the wildest tribesmen of the Balkans. Parts of his small kingdom are practically unexplored.

Christian Rules Abyssinia. In Abyssinia, a dusky Christian ruler over Mohammedan subjects, Ras Tafari is a descendant of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Many of his subjects are uncivilized. Although as a Christian he is not among the possibilities for a new Khalif, his accent as co-monarch with his aged aunt, the empress, was an important step in the monarchical movement. Politically and geographically, his country is considered "the Afghanistan of Africa."

Amanullah stands out among his fellow monarchs as a possible successor to the Khalifat, held for centuries by the Sultans of Turkey and abolished when the Sultan was deposed. His succession to the highest position in Islam would present an interesting situation with regard to the program of westernization he is now carrying out in Afghanistan. Turkey abolished the Khalifat and instituted western civilization; can Amanullah become the Khalif of Islam and continue his western reforms? It is understood in London that Amanullah discussed the possibility of his election as Khalif with various government heads during his recent European tour. It would seem from such reports that he was not too busy acquiring western civilization to prepare the way for the return of the most powerful of eastern rulers, the Khalif. Amanullah has encountered religious opposition to his program of reform at home. Obviously the position of Khalif would be particularly advantageous, if a Khalif can be a reformer.

What Will the Other Driver Do? If the driver behind knew what the driver ahead was going to do, automobile accidents would greatly decrease in number. A set of "Driver's Signals", standard the country over, is doing much to prevent accidents on city streets and country highways. The use of these hand signals, as illustrated below, promotes safety and adds to the pleasures of motoring. Make Every Week Safety Week Every 24 hours, automobile accidents in the United States claim an estimated average of 2,360 persons killed or seriously injured, an astounding total of 850,000 casualties a year. Enough people to populate a city of metropolitan size! A loss of economic wealth—exclusive of property damage and insurance—of $700,000,000! Care in driving and walking, as suggested in the annual observation of "National Safety Week", must be observed at all times, if this huge loss of life, limb and wealth is to be reduced. Most accidents are caused by discourtesy, carelessness, inattention and violation of traffic laws. The peak hour for accidents is between 5 and 6 p. m. daily. The Magnolia Petroleum Company, with its 15,000 employees and hundreds of trucks and automobiles, is vitally interested in reducing the number of accidents. Every Magnolia employee and driver, to this end, makes it a practice to observe every week as "Safety Week."

$100 REWARD REWARD FOR EVIDENCE OF VIOLATION OF ELECTION LAWS I have received reports from some counties that officials are threatening not to count the split ballots marked for the Hoover Electors and the Democratic State and Local Candidates in next Tuesday's election. The Attorney General has held that this is a violation of the law. The Federal Courts have held that any threat or intimidation intended to prevent a lawful voter from casting his ballot at such an election is a crime under the Federal Laws. Out of funds contributed for that purpose, I hereby offer a reward of $100 for evidence resulting in the conviction of any election officers or other persons, violating the Federal or State Laws protecting the Presidential Election to be held in Texas on next Tuesday, November 6th, 1928. In an authorized interview before he went to the Philippines, General Douglas MacArthur, president of the American Olympic committee, expressed confidence in the success of the 1932 games which are to be held at Los Angeles on the occasion of the Tenth Olympiad.

There have been suggestions from various less informed sources that the games at Los Angeles would not be well attended, as far as competitors were concerned, the popular theory being that the site is extravagantly remote for many nations.

In advancing this theory, one overlooks the fact that the earth is round, except for a certain flatness at the poles and just before pay day, and that the farther one moves away from one place the nearer one gets to somewhere else.

It was General MacArthur's suggestion, based upon his contact with the heads of other Olympic delegations at Amsterdam, that competitors from the Orient, the Antipodes and the Americas would greatly outnumber any previous Olympic representation from those regions. While it may prove a long expensive journey for the Estonians, the trip to Los Angeles will be just a hop, step and jump for the Japanese.

As a matter of fact, the 1932 Olympic games in California should be the greatest on record. Interest in athletic competition is increasing each year. The only drawback to the games at Amsterdam was that city's inadequacy to hold, harbor and house the competitors.

Naturally, there will be no such difficulty at Los Angeles four years hence. The climatic difficulties complained of in Holland should be improved upon in 1932, if one can credit the reports from California.

The South Americans and Canadians, not to mention the Japanese, Filipinos, Australians and Canadians, will be at Los Angeles in greater numbers than at Amsterdam. The Germans will not count the cost if there is athletic glory to be won at the Tenth Olympiad. The Italians are making a new, if occasionally too fervent interest in athletics. So if some of the other nations decide against sending a team to the 1932 games, there still will be adequate representation to make them a success.

Real Competition
It will be interesting to see what becomes of the previous Olympic records under California conditions. It will be a relief, also, to have Americans closely acquainted with what is going on. Ever since returning from Amsterdam, the invariable question I hear is: What was the matter with our boys over there?

The answer is that the other boys were too good. There was no Olympic scandal, no undue dissipation, no collapse of morale. Williams, Lowe, Nunnally, Ritola, El Omfi these were some of the reasons why the United States only won the games by a satisfactory margin.

Canada, figuring prominently in the 1928 games, will be a real power in 1932, if the present development of athletics in the Dominion is maintained. The Germans will be stronger than ever. So will the South American and the Japanese.

Internal Health
by Nature's Own Methods

If you are sick inside you are sick all over. When the stomach fails to digest its food, you are standing at the threshold of a series of ailments that may end in a complete physical wreck. Internal health means health throughout the body. Keep your stomach and other digestive organs clean and vigorous by giving them the natural stimulation of the roots, barks and herbs contained in Tanlac.

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight.

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. For over 10 years it has been recommended by druggists who have watched its marvelous results. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle of Tanlac from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

BALLOTS READY FOR DELIVERY TO VARIOUS BOXES

Election Officials Ready For Predicted Heavy Vote.

Final arrangements for holding the general election next Tuesday in Eastland county are being made. Walter Gray, assistant county clerk, this morning placed the ballots, all necessary blanks, instructions, etc., in the boxes for delivery by Sheriff John S. Hart and his deputies to the various voting precinct judges of the county. With these instructions is being sent to each judge, blanks for reporting the election returns to F. A. Jones at Eastland who in turn will make reports to the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas for publication in Texas newspapers. This report of course is not official, but the election judge are requested to make the report as soon as possible in order that the news of the election may be given the people as quickly as possible.

TEAMS READY TO DECIDE WHICH LANDS IN BOTTOM

Large Crowd Expected to See Cellar Candidates Fight It Out.

It will be decided finally Friday afternoon, whether the black and red of the Eastland Mavericks shall fly with the breeze while lashed to a pole in sixth position, or whether the shadow of a Brownwood high school standard shall fall upon the Mavericks, as they gaze from the cellar.

Beginning at 3:15 o'clock, the same fighting bunch of "little fellows" that have gone into every battle this year with a large grin—and have tried to come out with it—will settle the controversy between the Brownwood aggregation, as to which of the two teams shall sing, "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight," from the cellar stoop.

The hoarse cries of the Oilbel will be for the Mavericks. Ranger followers of the district games, learned last year to respect an Eastland aggregation. They were almost compelled to witness a second lesson this year on Maverick field.

The Breckenridge fans saw a plucky bunch of youngsters fight the Bucaroos for four quarters and take a drubbing every minute they want to see the Mavericks take a district game.

Cisco adherents of the game, when they take time out from bemoaning over the act of 1928 which allowed San Angelo to rip through their Lobos for a 13 to 13 tie, hope that the Eastland aggregation will crash through with a victory.

The Mavericks will resort to the style of game which they have played all the year—take it to the ozone. Connie Smith's accurate passing is expected to send end and backs deep into the Brownwood territory.

Smith can heave, heave straight, far and hard, and he has men in his backfield and at the wing positions, that can catch them, hold on to them, and get away with them.

On the dope sheet, the teams are about even. Brownwood held the Bucaroos to 19 to 0. Fans who witnessed the game, however, were of the opinion that Breckenridge was holding the score down intentionally. The Bucaroos smothered the Mavericks beneath a 56 to 0 score.

On the other hand, the Mavericks and the Abilene Eagles fought possibility of determining the strength of the wet vote and the dry vote and counting in the effect of religion is the principal reason why political experts are all puzzled about Massachusetts.

The Bay State in 1924 gave Coolidge a majority of 280,000 over the combined Davis and LaFollette vote. Since that time conditions affecting a presidential election have changed, so that no majority of anywhere near such proportions is in sight this year. Among the factors encouraging Democrats are the continued depression in the textile industry; the strength of Senator David I. Walsh who is up again for re-election.

The Democrats were careful to nominate a Protestant for governor, inasmuch as Smith and Walsh are both Catholics. The population of the state is more than a third Catholic and the Democrats claim that they will have this year their normally Republican vote of the Italian, French and Portuguese elements, because the religious issue was promoted against Smith.

Forty Harvard professors, including Felix Frankfurter and F. W. Taussig, have declared for Smith. It does not appear that President Coolidge's influence in his own state will have any great effect on the result.

Such factors as these, favoring Smith, must be cited in order to show how he can hope to overturn normally large Republican majorities. The Republicans reply that many wets will vote for Hoover, that the G. O. P. is experienced in holding the foreign vote in line and that the women and the WASHINGTON—Maine has six electoral votes, New Hampshire 4, Vermont 4, Massachusetts 18, Rhode Island 5 and Connecticut 7. Herbert Hoover will carry Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. But Alfred E. Smith is giving him a hard fight for New England's remaining 30 votes, hoping to beat down Hoover's victories in the townships with heavy city majorities. On the eve of Smith's personal visit to this battleground it appeared that the Democratic candidates had a slight edge in Rhode Island, that Hoover had the better chance in Connecticut, and that Massachusetts was a horse race.

If Smith has any chance at all in the first three states mentioned it lies in New Hampshire. But it is not a bright chance and the Democrats will be surprised if they win the state of Senator George Moses.

Massachusetts is one of those states which Smith is almost compelled to win if he is to be elected. It is much easier to imagine Hoover winning without it, although his managers have done plenty of worrying there.

The Republicans count on the villages and small towns to vote more heavily than ever for their candidate, spurred by the issues of religion and prohibition. The im-

THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN AND CONSTIPATION

Thousands of people eat bran regularly for the healthful roughage it provides. It is a splendid practice. But be sure you are really getting all the roughage you need when you eat bran. Doctors say it takes 100% bran to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only accomplish part-way results. That is why they fail!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. Just two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

You'll like the flavor and crispness of ALL-BRAN. Serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Mix with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Alarmed at Health?

ASPIRIN

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in a Bayer Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Are all the members of your family as well as they should be? Chocks ruddy? Eyes sparkling? Bodies vigorous? Do you yourself feel tired, listless, draggy? If so, you need the health vitamins that have given renewed vigor and strength to thousands.

Waterbury's Compound contains the vitamins A and D, that nature demands for the health and growth of children and adults, too.

It causes the body to be more highly resistant to colds and diseases. Tends toward rebuilding tissue. Enables the whole system to function better.

Doctors everywhere prescribe Waterbury's Compound to persons of weak run-down condition. Thousands are praising this famous medicine.

Nicknames Better Known Than Real Names of Players

Special to The Times. COLLEGE STATION—By their nicknames ye shall know them— if they are members of the Texas Aggie gridiron squad, for virtually every one of Coach Dana X. Bible's gridsters bears at least one name by which he is far better known among sport fans than by the one which he was given in infancy.

Some of the players brought their nicknames with them when they entered A. & M., fresh from high school or junior college. Others have earned their names on the football field since joining the Aggies. Some of the names indicate physical characteristics or nationalities and others are abbreviations of the gridsters' true names while others are inexplicable and not even their bearers know the origins.

When one considers that Captain "Wee Willie" Bartlett weighs 192 pounds and is one of the most powerful pivot men in the conference he can easily understand the title of opposites is responsible for the name his team mates use. Where "Red" Petty, veteran Aggie end, got his name is obvious when he removed his helmet and exposes his hair to view. The same is true for the name of "Red" Delery, sophomore tackle who is becoming well-known among fans because of his powerful playing in the Aggie line.

"Connie" Conover, "Zary" Zarafonotis, "Walt" Ewell and "Hod" Bible all bear names which are shortened forms of either their given or surnames. Burgess and Davis are known by either of two nicknames "Hershey" and "Burger" and "Dave" and "Sheik" "Rube" Tracy also answers to two nicknames, his other being "Abe." Zarafonotis' name proved too big a mouthful for his team mates from the outset of training and was shortened to "Zary." "Walt" is a shorter form of Walter, Ewell's first name, and "Hod" comes from Hollis, Bible's given name.

Few Southwest Conference grid fans know that "Pinky" Alsabrook's given name is Oda Dee, for since he first began playing football with Cisco, high school several years ago he has been known as "Pinky." Richter has been known as "Dutch" during the three years he has been playing with the Aggies and Northcutt has been called "Mose" since his high school days.

"Bull" Floyd, "Big John" Cuthrell and "Firpo" Mortellera all earned their names because of their stature and powerful builds. "Jelly" Woodman was given the name of his stellar player who played with the Aggies several years ago. J. D. Harris, a lanky end playing his first year with the Aggies, is also known as "Jelly." Dorsey is familiarly known as "Heebie" for some unknown reason and there are "Happy" Colgin and "Zek" Sneed.

Even the Aggie coaches come in for their share of the nicknames. Coach Bible is called D. X. and Coach Bassett came to the Aggies with the name of "Chuck" well established. Among the freshman coaches, "Little Hig" Higginbotham, "Fucker" Lister and "Kewpie" Rektovik are names which every follower of the Aggie teams will easily recall. C. T. Sprague, another former Aggie gridster and now trainer in the A. & M. athletic department, is called "Doc" by the athletes and others associated with him in the training room.

Whoofus Whiffletree's Woozy Wonderings

This being the day before the game with San Angelo, we'll let Blondy Cross, sports writer of the San Angelo Morning Times and Standard, fill our column. He doesn't know he is going to do this as we merely reproduce quotations from his writings recently in the Standard and Morning Times.

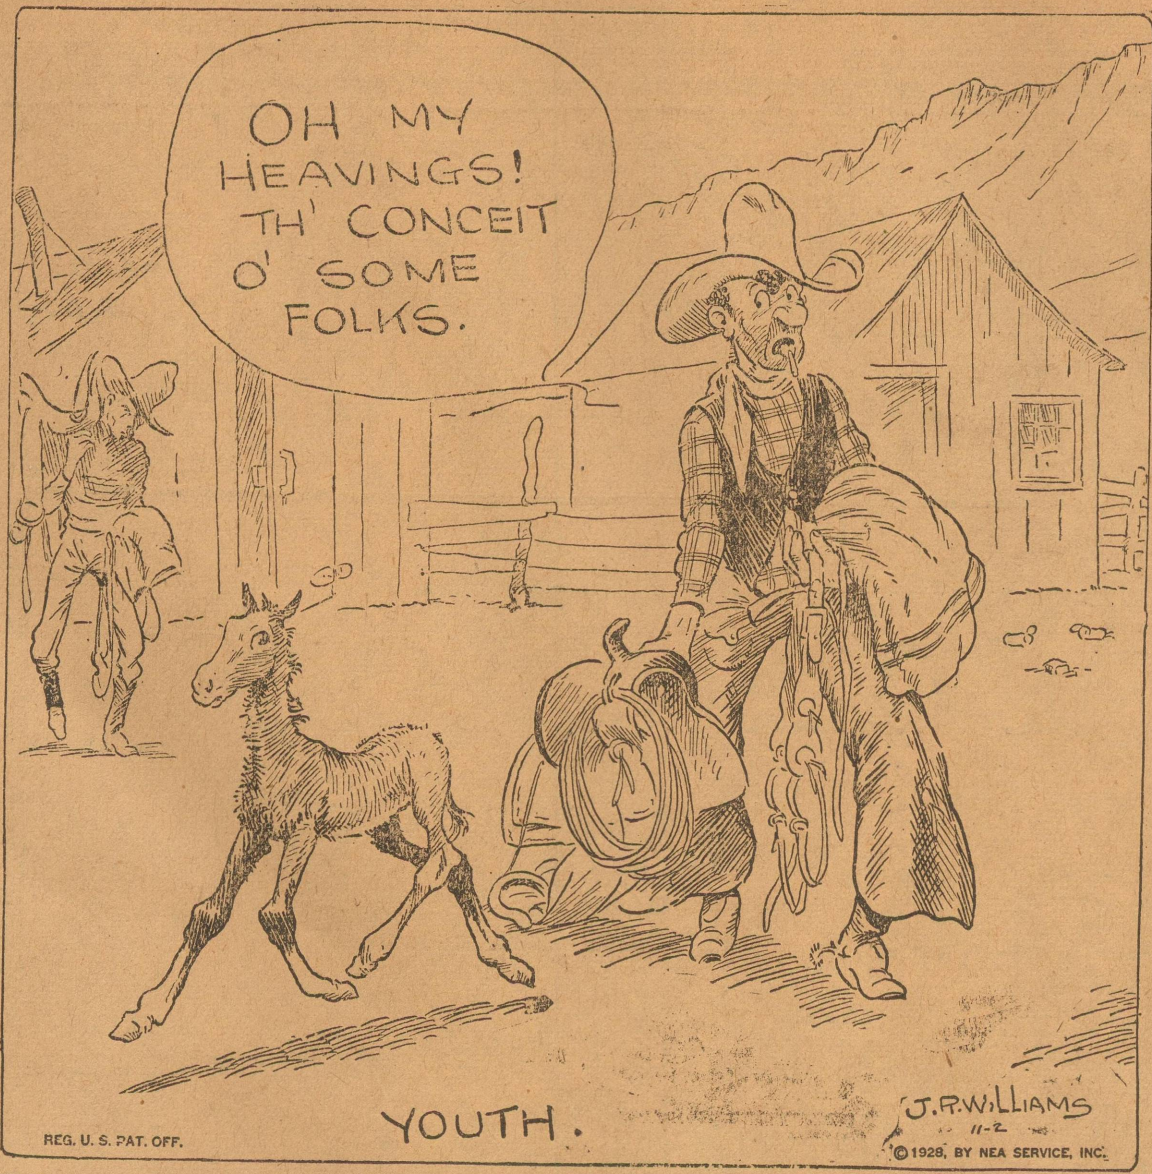

Says he: "The more we look at this Baker boy, the wilder we get about him. If he improves as much in the next two weeks as he has in the past two weeks, he will be almost a whole backfield in himself. There's nothing flashy about this youngster but somehow or other, he's there with the mail when called on to deliver."

Then he says further: "If that light line of ours manages to give our backs a few breaks down at Ranger Saturday, the natives are going to be astonished by the brilliance of this Baker, this Massey, this Hamberlin and this McCamey. On all-around ability, Ham and McCamey have not flashed quite as brightly as Baker and Massey. However, McCamey on performances to date has proved himself the greatest interference runner and the greatest defensive half-back in the Oil Belt. Hamberlin still is a green young athlete but we looked in vain to find a better tackler in the Ranger, Abilene, Cisco and Breckenridge backfields. Hamberlin, we believe, with a bit more grooming, will prove as hardy a line-smasher as Eddleman of Cisco."

You will notice that he says Ranger fans are due for a big surprise if San Angelo's "light line" gives the Bobcat backfield a chance. That "light line" averages 155 pounds—which is heavy enough to make things interesting.

Some Ranger fan crippled an ardent Bobcat booster last week unintentionally of course, at the Abilene game. Blondy thus tells about it: "The other day at Ranger when the Bulldogs scored the touchdown that knotted the count at 19-19, a burly gent of some 200-odd pounds standing next to Lowrie, let out a hideous yell, leaping six feet into the air and came down squarely on Gene's right little toe, splintering the pedal digit all over the floor. That toe looks worse than one of Jack Gorman's cauliflower ears."

Here's a suggestion: "A movement has been started in the Morning Times to re-name four of the Oil Belt teams. We do not expect much success at re-naming three of these teams but we do hope to change the moniker of the Bobcats. It has been suggested that the giant Abilene team be named Elephants instead of Eagles, that the giant Breckenridge team be named Hippos instead of Buckaroos, and the giant Cisco team be named Percherons instead of Lobos. We hope to put a bill through the legislature to get the Bobcats called Goats. It is a name representative of this sheep and goat country. It is a good old solid name and it is appropriate. There are too many Bobcat teams already in this world. When a bunch of fans can't think of anything else to call their team, they name it Bobcat, Tiger, Wildcat, Panther or something similar."

Baylor Campaign Gains Momentum

Special to The Times. WACO, Nov. 2.—"One Hundred Hours of Speaking for Baylor" will be a reality Sunday morning, November 4 at 11 a. m. when more than 100 Baptist congregations of Texas will hear addresses by Greater Baylor campaign speakers. Rev. C. R. Shirar of Breckenridge will speak in the Albany Baptist church at Albany on that day. He will tell the story of Baylor and the present state-wide enterprise. He is a member of the State Speakers' bureau and is working toward reaching the $2,000,000 campaign goal.

His address Sunday is a preliminary step in the state-wide speaking program before "Baylor Day" on Sunday, Nov. 25 when 1500 churches of Baptist faith will devote their morning services to the Baylor campaign. On that day, an interchange of pastors will be conducted over the state so that every full-time pastor will preach in a nearby pastor's church.

Activity at state office here is increasing daily, according to D. K. Hartin, state chairman. Before Nov. 23, when the popular campaign begins, the executive committee expects to have listed every adult Baptist in the state of Texas. Each will be interviewed for supporting the campaign. Money raised in the enterprise will be used to retire indebtedness and to create additional endowment.

Baptists Seek Million In Day

In connection with the efforts of Southern Baptists to raise $950,000 in cash on Baptist Honor Day, Sunday, November 11, with which to restore in full the loss sustained by the Home Mission Board, through the defalcation of its recent treasurer, local Baptists in particular will be interested to know that a special program in the interest of this effort will be broadcast from the First Baptist Church, Shreveport, Sunday night, Nov. 4, from 9 to 10 o'clock, Central Standard time.

Appearing on this program in brief addresses will be Dr. Arch C. Cree, acting executive secretary of the Home Board; Dr. Frank Tripp, Louisiana member of the board; Ben Johnson, president of the Commercial National Bank of Shreveport, and Dr. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Shreveport, and president of the Louisiana Baptist convention. The program will be broadcast over station KWKH, 10,000 watts, 760 kilocycles, 394.5 meters.

Plan a City On Banks of River

By United Press. ABBEVILLE, S. C.—A model city on the banks of the beautiful Savannah river is expected to rise soon, due to the materialization of the dreams of a group of St. Louis, Cleveland and New York business men under the leadership of S. S. McClure, publisher.

The ground, already purchased for the industrial enterprise is 12,000 acres of the Calhoun estate, owned for years by descendants of that famous family of which John C. Calhoun was the most distinguished member. It lies for the most part along the South Carolina side of the river, near here in the famous Piedmont belt—a stretch of high plateau land beginning to boom with southward moving industrial enterprises. Designed as an industrial city, announcement of the construction says "it will combine practicability with beauty of environment, with every wage earner's home facing a boulevard and backing upon a handsomely landscaped golf fairway without expense to himself in the section east of the Savannah river on the South Carolina side, while the opposite acreage in Georgia, will be devoted to a summer and winter resort and homes of a dignity that will justify reference to them as estates." The name of the proposed city is Calhoun Falls. The announcement goes on, "The new Calhoun Falls will rise with its mills and factories relegated to the railroad frontage and its residence section laid out on the Home-links plan. Under this plan all homesteads face winding boulevards and have as their back yards beautifully landscaped golf fairways. The plan will be inaugurated at Calhoun Falls on the theory that beauty and serenity of surroundings will exert a psychological influence upon workers which will increase their contentment and their efficiency during the hours of employment.

"All homes and business buildings in turn will be constructed in accordance with restrictions which will make beauty, utility
