Shades Of Goldsmith! Big Spring People Evacuate For July Fourth, Seeking Entertainment, Recreation

By JOE PICKLE
Shades of Goldsmith! Big Spring was certainly a "deserted village" on the Fourth. With no celebration here on Independence Day the population shifted scenes and spent the day in places where some sort of revelry or recreation was in vogue. All Saturday morning carload after carload poured through the streets leading to other towns where attractions were to be had.

Will Ponders Over Pilosopher's Letter—"Only Egotists Believe Our Civilization Is Advanced"

By WILL ROGERS

I guess I just get the usual amount of mail of anyone that writes junk for the papers, mostly people that don't agree with anything you said in the papers, and showing you where you ought to be calling Hogs somewhere. But this week I got some interesting letters. One I sure was surprised to get was from Will Durant, a man that has studied philosophy like Mr. Coolidge has politics, and both have reached the height in their chosen professions. I met this Durant one time. He is an awful nice fellow. I don't know much about what his "Racket" is, this Philosophy Gag.

He wanted me to write him and give him my version of "What Your Philosophy of Life Is." I who have lived philosophy for many years turn now from it back to life itself, and ask you, as one who has lived, to give me your version. Perhaps the only thing that you have lived is different from those who have merely thought. What keeps you going? What are the sources of your inspiration and your energy? What is the goal or motive force of your life? Where do you find your consolation and our happiness? Where is the last resort of your treasure lies?

A copy of this letter is being sent to Hoover, McDonald, Lloyd George, Mussolini, Marconi, Gandhi, Stalin, Trotsky, Tagore, Einstein, Edison, Ford, Eugene O'Neill, and Bernard Shaw, and three or four others that I had never seen in the weekly. Now I don't know if this guy Durant is kidding me or not. If I got this kind of a letter from some body less I would say it's a lot of "Hoosey" and would never finish reading it. But putting men there with that class. Why I figured I better start looking into this Philosophy thing. I think what he is trying to get at in plain words, leaving all the Philosophy out is just how much better off after all is an highly educated man, than a dumb one. So that's how I figure is the way I got in that. He knew that I was just as happy and contented as if I knew something and he wanted to get the "Dumb" angle, as well as the "high brow."

No Stopping At a Goal That Education is better like a growing town. They get all excited when they start to get an increase, and set a civic slogan of "Fifty Thousand by the end of next year." Well that the Guy that sees a college education as his goal. Then when they get the fifty thousand they want to go on to make it a hundred, and the Ambitious College graduate wants to go on and make it a Foot Graduate in some line, figuring he will be about as smart as anyone if he can just get that under his belt, and the Town thinking that the hundred thousand will just put them by all the other competing towns, not figuring that while they are growing that all the rest are doing likewise and maybe faster. When they get to a half million New York will be twenty million, as they are no higher in the ladder comparatively than they were.

And the Educated Guy, he is the same. He finds when he gets his post graduate course that all the other Professors have got one too, and lots of em a half dozen. He begins to wonder if he hasn't spent all this time wondering if he knows anything or not. He wishes he had took up some other line. He talks with an old broad minded man of the world of experience, and he feels lost. So I guess he gets to wondering what education really is after all. For there is nothing as stupid as an educated man if you get off the thing that he was educated in.

Now here is a funny coincidence in the same mail I got a letter from Old Man W. T. Waggoner. I expect the biggest Cattleman in Texas and also the biggest oil man. What a pleasure to read it, the real Philosophy of that old Cowman, two pages of life on a ranch. He was just rambling along, but every line full of pleasure and satisfaction. No learning in the world could have made him as smart as his life has made him.

Lesson In Everything

Then right the same week come one from Bill Hanley of Oregon. You don't have to tell the Northwest who Hanley is, any more than you do the southwest who Waggoner is. I had? As most wonderful book of H. G. Wells called, "Feeling Fine." It got more real Philosophy in it than any book today. I am going to send out to Will Durant, and I want him to get this old Bird's idea on a few things. It's the story of his life not as he has lived, but as he has observed. He shows you a lesson of every day life in every little animal or Bird we have. Lord, what a wonder he would be to lecture in a College to Boys. What confidence they would have in his knowledge. They would know that it come from a prairie and not from under a lamp.

An educated man just teaches the things that he has been taught, and the same that everyone else has been taught that has read and studied the same books that he has. But if these old fellows know anything, it comes direct to them by experience, and not by way of someone else. If I had Hanley's knowledge I wouldn't give it for even Secretary Hughes' and Nicholas Murray Butler's combined, (and I like em both personally and think they are great men). But I would know I knew something if I knew what one of these old Cattleman know, and if I was as smart as Hughes and Butler I would still be in doubt, because

I would be educated so high that I would know that I only had a smattering of what I did have.

Can't Abolish Ignorance So I can't tell this diabolical Durant anything. What all of us know put together don't mean anything. Nothing don't mean anything. We are just here for a spell and pass on. Any man that thinks that Civilization has advanced is an egotist. Fords and bathtubs have moved you and cleaned you, but you was just as ignorant when you got there. We know lots of things we used to don't know but we don't know any way to prevent em happening. Confucious peered out more knowledge than the U. S. senate has vocalized out in the last 75 years.

but Satisfaction. If you want to ship off fat beef cattle at the end of their existence, you got to have em satisfied on the range. Indians and primitive folks were the highest civilized, because they were more satisfied, and they depended less on each other, and took less from each other. We culdent live a day without depending on everybody. So our civilization has given us no Liberty or Independence.

Suppose the other Guy quits feeding us. The whole thing is a "Racket," so get a few laughs, do the best you can, take nothing serious, for nothing is certainly depending on this generation. Each one lives in spite of the previous one and not because of it. And don't starve "seeking knowledge" for the more you seek the nearer the "Booby Hatch" you get. And not have an ideal to work for. That's like riding towards a Mirage of a lake. When you get there it ain't there. Believe in something for another World, but don't be too set on what it is, and then you want start out that life with a disappointment. Live your life as that whenever you lose, you are ahead.

Consolidate Southwestern cases as evidence of the great desire of Fort Worth and Dallas to be big brothers to the rest of Texas.

Having placed that obstacle in our path in one instance, it isn't much wonder that the Horatios of Texas wonder hesitantly at another opportunity fostered by two of Texas' major cities to make peddlers of the rest of us.

The Patient Grocer Stronger

(Dallas News)

The echoes of President Hoover's suggestion respecting reparation of the grocer reverberating throughout the business world. This is a general renewal of confidence and a little more optimism in respect to a revival of prosperity.

It would be a mistake to assume that conditions would change with a rush. There are other troubles besides Germany's and haste right should be made slowly. It would be a great hindrance if money, stored in banks for safety, were drawn for speculative purposes.

The wild cry of speculation has reached its climax in 1929 should have taught its lesson. "Get rich quick" schemes should yield to the determination to let stock gambling alone and to use savings and human sagacity for the strengthening of business and for sound investments.

What the United States now needs is careful planning—abound. The Nation, the States, counties and cities should study carefully the conditions of the times, budget their expenditures, and spend below rather than over estimated receipts.

Clayton K. Lutz, a Dallas business leader, says that the world is going to recover from its depression but it would not rashly assume that it is already as strong as ever.

We still have to live the drab, ordinary, unexciting life. We must practice the virtues of frugality, thrift, and industry in our daily lives.

It is a fact that the world is going to recover from its depression but it would not rashly assume that it is already as strong as ever.

Wheeler-Woolsey Appear In Hilarious Comedy At Ritz

Dorothy Lee Stars With Comedy Team

Ludicrous Situations Paramount In Latest Laugh Release

No comedy of recent times can boast of as distinguished a list of humorists as collaborated in the making of Radio Pictures' "Cracked Nuts" which opens today at the Ritz Theater for a three-day run with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey as featured stars.

The story of this infectious comedy comedy came from the inspired pen of Douglas MacLean, who is still one of the screen's greatest comedians, and Al Hirschfeld, a Hollywood comedy writer of great wit and wit.

Blasphemy, incidentally, is the man who furnishes most of the nation's radio entertainment with his own jokes and comedy sketches.

The baby, which Wheeler and Woolsey use to such effect in the picture, was written by Robert Berg and Ralph Spence. It is the highest priced comedy picture for the week in the city.

He also is a playwright of the tinclan.

All-Star Comedy Cast
After it had assembled for story and rehearsal, the cast of "Cracked Nuts" was further strengthened. Al Hirschfeld, with the addition of three nationally known writers, Robert Lee, Ben Turpin and Edm. May Oliver.

And last but not least, Edward G. Robinson was chosen to direct the picture because of his tremendous success and experience in comedy. One of the Mack Sennett directors of the time of Charlie Chaplin and Adria Skoury, Robinson has been responsible for more than 40 feature films. His five-year record as an active screen writer.

In the picture of "Cracked Nuts" is an excellent example of a story. It follows the hilarious antics of two American boys who find themselves in a foreign land. The picture is a comedy of situations, which is promptly associated with the army of comedians may have something to say about the picture.

Thrills Via With Laughs
The picture abounds in genuine laughs as the two comedians try to outwit themselves and their audience. The picture is a comedy of situations, which is promptly associated with the army of comedians may have something to say about the picture.

"Cracked Nuts" was produced on a lavish scale, which is in line with the best of the picture.

In "Cracked Nuts" Jean Harlow Steals Show In "Goldie"

Dorothy Lee, distinctive but beautiful, and one of the "crack" ladies on the screen, will take a leading part in the rollicking comedy now on at the Ritz.

Edmund Lowe In Lead In Ritz Show

"Don't Bet On Women" a story of a woman who is loved by two men, is the lead in the picture. The picture is a comedy of situations, which is promptly associated with the army of comedians may have something to say about the picture.

Chuck Klein Proves Point

Philadelphia Outfielder Leading National Hitters

NEW YORK, July 4.—Chuck Klein, second Philadelphia outfielder who contained 100, springing his batting was worth a big bet. Klein has taken first place in the National League in the batting averages with a .373 mark, as well as the top rank in getting hitting, batting in runs and hitting homers.

Ruth Holds League Lead

Eddie Morgan But Seven Points Behind; Goslin Jumps To Third

CHICAGO, July 4.—Babe Ruth's bat continues to make the pace for American League hitters. The New York Yankee slugger dropped two points in the previous week but was still leading the field with a rating of 357 on the basis of semi-official averages including Thursday's games.

Hard on his heels came Eddie Morgan, Cleveland's sensational first baseman, whom Ruth displaced as leader a week ago. Morgan improved his batting eight points in 250 at-bats the past week, reducing Ruth's margin to seven points. George Goslin, St. Louis outfielder and champion batsman several years ago, added 19 points and jumped from eighth to third place among the leaders at 375.

Other of the hottest hitters were Simmons, Philadelphia, 369; Walsh, Boston, 367; Cochran, Philadelphia, 362; Averill, Cleveland, 358; West, Washington, 348; Gehrig, New York, 346; Fonseca, Chicago, 338.

Gehrig Gains

Big Lou Gehrig added only six points to his average but retained his monopoly of other batting honors. He scored ten runs during the week, making a total of 67 in that department. He ran his list of total bases from 158 to 180 and his number of runs batted in from 66 to 74. Two home runs against three for Babe placed them in a tie at 19.

Al Simmons broke out of a three-way race for total hits by slapping out ten, leaving Combs of Washington behind with 103. Wells of Boston continued to lead with 32 doubles while Cronin, Joe Vukob of Cleveland and Lon Lyle of New York were knocked at eight trips. Chapman of New York had 29 stolen bases, adding three during the week.

Bob Groves, Philadelphia fire baller, hurled two more victories, raising his count to 15 victories and two defeats. Charlie Fischer, Washington, dropped one and two at nine and two. Earle Chase of Philadelphia had 13 victories and three defeats, and he retained his lead in strikeouts with 87, three more than Groves.

Cleveland added two points in team batting and broke the tie with Washington, having a seven-point edge at 304. Philadelphia's fielding continued best at 977, a one-point drop, while Washington improved a point and stopped at 975. St. Louis completed 15 more-two killings and led with 78.

'Vice Squad' Has Galaxy of Stars

"The Vice Squad" has three main features in its cast—a sure-to-please dish for film audiences. It will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ritz.

It has Paul Lukas and Kay Francis. It has John Cromwell. It has Oliver H. P. Garrett. Lukas and Kay Francis are here cast for the first time together in leading romantic roles. Lukas' majestic manner, his handsome gracefulness, his intriguing good looks, made him a favorite in silent films some years prior to the advent of the talkies. When the voice came to the screen he was faced with the difficult task of schooling himself in the tricky pronunciations of the English language. (He is a Hungarian). He set himself nobly to the task with the result that his speech now contains merely an enchanting trace of the foreign accent. His acting has always been flawless, and critics universally have written his praises; picture after picture, "The Vice Squad" is his 15th film for Paramount.

Kay Francis has also made a remarkable record. She too has won ranks of grade "A" notices from the scribes in the daily press and the trade sheets. Made her debut in "Gentlemen of the Press" and there has been a great string of film appearances ever since. Women like her too—the way she wears clothes and hats. This is her 14th picture for Paramount.

John Cromwell is a director who knows his talkie-craft and with that goes knowledge of audience appetites. He came to the talkies at the Paramount studio from a youthful career packed with rich experience on the Broadway stage. "The Vice Squad" is another sign for the collection he has been compiling. Look at these titles and their stars—"Unfaithful" (Chatterton), "Tom Sawyer" (Cogan), "The Mighty" (Hameroff), "Scandal Sheet" (Blanchard), "Street of Chance" (Powell) and "For the Defense" (Powell). What a line-up!

Oliver H. P. Garrett wrote the story of "The Vice Squad"—based it upon current front-page accounts of vice investigations in various cities, and applying his own knowledge of conditions as they exist in the urban centers. He worked on papers in several cities as a reporter. His filmable ability is evident in the success of this two William Powell smash—"For the Defense" and "Street of Chance."

Thus "The Vice Squad" is STRONG—it has strength in its three cardinal departments. The talent. The director? The author.

Another Philadelphia, Dick Bartell, leads in doubles with 24. He led of his teammate, Vasil Cavar. Three players, Terry of New York, Ed Washington of Boston and George Watkins of St. Louis, have hit eight triples to have the lead. Adam Comoroski, of Pittsburgh still holds the base-stealing lead with eleven thefts, two more than Caylor. Roger Conner of Chicago is second in runs in two departments with 11 homers in 60 runs batted in.

Philadelphia figures largely on the list of individual batting leaders with four of the first ten. Dick, with .362 average, is second in Klein. Then come Hendrick, Cincinnati, .359; Caylor, Chicago, .351; Scofield, St. Louis, .349; Grimm, Chicago, .345; Terry, New York, .347; Morgan, New York, .346; Arant, Philadelphia, .345 and Whitney, Philadelphia, .337.

Chicago's Cubs have the best team average, .300 in batting and .977 in fielding.

The Cubs also can boast the league-leading pitcher, Guy Bush, who has won six and lost one for

Main Street Bowlers Beat Colorado Team

Main Street club administered a sound drubbing to Colorado All Star bowlers Friday evening by completely whitewashing the visitors in every contest of a three game series. Morgan grabbed off high point honors, both in the single game and for the entire night. He had a successful run of 202 for one contest and totaled 507 for the night.

The State National Bank OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS JUNE 30, 1931

ROUND ONE
Stribling danced in his corner and raced out, sniping a left to the face as he shot over the first punch. Schmeling grinned, backed the challenger to the ropes and hooked his left and right to the chin. Schmeling lunged in with a left hook that missed and he laughed. Stribling came in close, clinched and rapped three short rights on the champion's head.

ROUND TWO
The champion crouched but Stribling straightened him up with a left hook to the head. In close the tall challenger belted the champion about the body. Schmeling whipped a hard left hook to the head but Stribling crossed the chin with two straight lefts. The champion crowded the challenger and grazed his eye with a hard right. He hooked a hard left to the chin. Stribling drove the champion into the ropes with two stinging left hooks to the head and whipped both hands to the body. They wrestled their way clear and Schmeling landed a left hook to the chin before they fell in close to tug and haul in a clinch. Stribling clipped the champion on the chin with a hard uppercut as the bell sounded.

ROUND THREE
Stribling boxed carefully. He stabbed Max's nose with a straight left and then found an opening for a whistling right square to the chin. Schmeling smiled but he was stung and he backed carefully away. Stribling stepped into him with a smashing right uppercut to the chin and dropped another hard right as they wrestled in a clinch. The challenger drove his right to the champion's mouth, but Max beat a tattoo on the challenger's body at close range. With his back to the ropes Schmeling bounded at Bill's body and the challenger held him. Schmeling took another hard right to the head just before the bell.

ROUND FOUR
Stribling's nose bled a little in his corner as he stepped forward collision on his nostrils. The challenger tore into Schmeling with two left hooks and a crackling right to the jaw. He drove the champion backward with another right to the head and Schmeling seemed confused. Max's left eye began to swell as the challenger nailed him again with a left and right to the face. Max slugged at the southerner's body, forced him to the ropes, and beat him about the head with both hands. They were in close-cloutting steadily to the head at the gong and Stribling's left nostril again was bleeding.

ROUND SIX
They started clinching but Schmeling stepped back when Stribling asked him to and came right back with a short left hook to the jaw. Stribling missed a right uppercut and seemed to be getting careless and tired. The champion nailed him with a hard right to the jaw, but the southerner hooked a nice left to the head. Stribling jabbed the champion's face hooked him once with a left, and then crossed his right full to the jaw. The champion grunted but never flinched. He tore right back at Stribling, smashed over two rights to the southerner's head and though Stribling laughed, he held on desperately and seemed hurt. Schmeling tore after the challenger, but Bill crossed a hard right to the head as the bell rang.

ROUND SEVEN
Apparently growing stronger as the fight went on, Schmeling ripped from his corner and was on top of the Georgian almost before Stribling was off his stool. He did no damage, and they wrestled in the challenger's corner. Stribling shot two straight lefts to the champion's face, made Max miss with a left hook and dropped a short right. Schmeling drove his right to Stribling's head but the Georgian rallied fiercely and smashed his left and right to the champion's head on the ropes. As the champion shot two straight lefts to the champion's face, made Max miss with a left hook and dropped a short right. Schmeling drove his right to Stribling's head but the Georgian rallied fiercely and smashed his left and right to the champion's head on the ropes. As the champion shot two straight lefts to the champion's face, made Max miss with a left hook and dropped a short right. Schmeling drove his right to Stribling's head but the Georgian rallied fiercely and smashed his left and right to the champion's head on the ropes.

ROUND EIGHT
Schmeling charged out coolly and confidently, mercilessly smashing at Stribling's body. In a clinch Schmeling whipped both hands to the head but Stribling cut loose in a desperate rally. He bounced both hands weakly off Schmeling's head but the champion battered his body. A right caught Stribling on the chin and he wobbled. He staggered under another right to the chin as Schmeling followed him. Stribling's face was a mass of blood. Two right uppercuts smashed Stribling's head back but he had enough left to drive an uppercut to the champion's head.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty spent the day yesterday, July 4, in dependence on their own resources. They were accompanied by their wives and C. Hall, Oklahoma oil man, who backed their flight.

In view of national condition of the oil market and especially depressed state of the industry, practically no public notice was taken when oil was struck.

Roosevelt Field was for storage. The "Winnie Mae" was on her way when she came to Redwood. Field and that impressed the first change here that the first globe had been circled in less than ten days.

Wiley's "postgraduate" course in mechanics came in a series of tube with walking parachute jumping in garages in the oil fields and in anything you want from a helper-machine shops over Oklahoma One. He got the job. On his second of these jobs was in Chickasha, Okla., and there he became acquainted with Powell Brown, who trips when were to follow Lewis.

later became associated with F. C. Hall, an oil man. It was Hall who ultimately gave Post his big chance by backing the round-the-world flight, but none of them knew the turn events would take them. As a matter of fact, Wiley couldn't fly at that time, but his eyes were in the sky.

Finally, there came a day when Wiley had his first opportunity, to be around aircraft. The Post was flying near New Orleans, and Wiley got a chance to work at odd jobs around the aviation field at Fort Sill, where men were being trained for the World War.

He was only 19 years old and when there was longer was a job for him at the field he took a job operating a service car between the army post and Lawton in order to keep within sight of the field. When the armistice was signed, he was studying radio with the intention of joining two of his brothers in the service, the army and James' service overseas in the 44th division.

Misfortune Then, came misfortune. While working at a machine shop at Holdenville he lost the sight of one eye. This would have been enough to knock him out of the aviation field, but it seemed to Wiley an and it was with the 22nd he received as damages in this accident that he bought his first airplane.

Before this, together, Wiley had been a wing walker and pilot to assist on motor. A plane landed near where eyes run up by distance. Post Roosevelt Field was for storage. The "Winnie Mae" was on her way when she came to Redwood. Field and that impressed the first change here that the first globe had been circled in less than ten days.

Buck Stanton Still On Top

Wichita Falls Star Has .368 Average; Krauss Second

DALLAS, July 4 (AP)—Buck Stanton's mighty bat continues to deal misery to Texas league hitters. Facing the heavy clouters in the first half, Stanton has started the second half with the same consistent hitting, and the Wichita Falls star again heads the Texas league swing race as his immediate challenger drop back.

Stanton's average of .368 is three points higher than that of Krauss of Fort Worth. Borja of Beaumont, who recently tied Stanton for the lead, sloughed off 13 points to his rival within a week.

Bud Hunsinger, Wichita Falls catcher who has been in the league only a few weeks, continues to hit everything pitchers throw him, and ranks third with a .362 average.

The Texas league's ten leading hitters: Stanton, Wichita Falls, .368; Krauss, Fort Worth, .365; Hunsinger, Wichita Falls, .362; Borja, Beaumont, .355; Post, Houston, .344; Fuss, Wichita Falls, .341; Radloff, Shawport, .335; Brown, Fort Worth, .331; Perry, Shreveport, .318; Gullie, Wichita Falls, .315.

Jerome "Dizzy" Dean of Houston is the league's winning pitcher with fourteen victories and five defeats. Dean also leads in strikeouts with 150. Tex. Colleton of Houston is second to Dean with 104.

Fuck Stanton, who is out to break Rhome Williams' Texas league two bases hitting record, brought his total up to 32 through game last week. Williams' record is 34.

is 70 made while playing outfield for Dallas several years ago. Other Texas league leaders: Runs: Schulte, Beaumont, and White, Beaumont, 62 each. Hits: Stanton, Wichita Falls, 123; Brown, Fort Worth, 104.

Triples: White, Wichita Falls, 12. Home Runs: Gullie, Wichita Falls, 12; Loopp, Dallas, 9. Runs Batted In: Gullie, Wichita Falls, 62. Stolen Bases: White, Beaumont, 23.

Pitching Percentage: McCabe, Fort Worth, and Cooney, Wichita Falls, each have a percentage of .786. Games Pitched: Murray, Dallas, 23. Innings Pitched: Harris, Galveston, 158.

ELIZABETH ARDEN'S PREPARATIONS ARE OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO FASHION

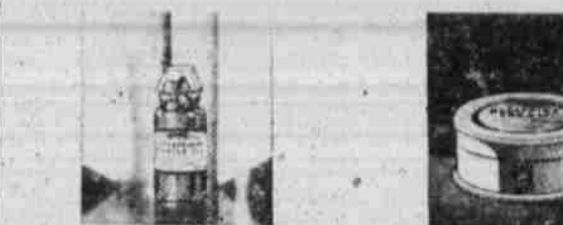

OPEN SEASON on ELBOWS

SLEEVES are slipping shoulderwards. Three-quarter length, half way up... mere shoulder caps! The elbow is emerging into a daytime existence. Alas, that most elbows should be so unluckily, so rough and wrinkly, so dingy! Their dire situation demands immediate attention. Elizabeth Arden, from her rich experience, tells you exactly what to do. You should attack the roughened surfaces with Anti-Brown Spot and Special Bleach Cream. After this whitening treatment, use quantities of Orange Skin Food to enrich the skin and soothe it. Apply Muscle Oil liberally to the arms, using a rotary motion to stimulate circulation.

Wash your hands and arms only with the finest soap. Acquaint them with the supreme luxury of Elizabeth Arden's Bath Mts, rich with almond-scented lather. Afterwards, out of simple courtesy, accord them a delicate application of Hand Cream or Velve Liquid, to maintain their softness.

Make your hands and arms and elbows an asset to your new short-sleeved frock... not a menace!
