HARDING MAJORITY IS DECISIVE

Republican Nominee Sweeps Country by Overwhelming Vote; 14 States for Cox, Three Doubtful, All Others for Harding

Earliest returns from the far eastern states in Tuesday's election gave evidence of a trend toward Senator Harding, which became a veritable landslide as fuller reports came in. It was soon apparent that Governor Cox had been buried under an avalanche of votes in that section. The Middle West chimed in with the same verdict and the indorsement of Harding swept all the way across the continent without a single reverse. From all indications at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, with the vote of the entire nation probably one-fourth counted, the Harding majorities are so tremendous that it would take a reversal much more phenomenal than the one which returned Woodrow Wilson to office in 1916 to in any way affect the result.

ELECTORAL VOTES

Looks Like Harding

Table listing electoral votes for states like Harding: Arizona 3, California 13, Colorado 6, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Idaho 4, Illinois 29, Iowa 13, Indiana 15, Kansas 10, Maine 6, Maryland 8, Massachusetts 18, Michigan 15, Minnesota 12, Missouri 12, Montana 4, Nebraska 4, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 14, New York 45, Nevada 3, North Dakota 5, Ohio 24, Oregon 5, Pennsylvania 38, Rhode Island 5, South Dakota 5, Utah 4, Vermont 4, Washington 7, West Virginia 8, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3. Total 379.

Looks Like Cox

Table listing electoral votes for states like Cox: Alabama 12, Arkansas 12, Florida 9, Georgia 16, Kentucky 13, Louisiana 10, Mississippi 10, North Carolina 12, Oklahoma 10, South Carolina 9, Texas 20, Virginia 12, New Mexico 3, Tennessee 12. Total 152.

Returns from every state in the union show that Harding has carried practically all except the southern tier of commonwealths, by majorities of at least 2 to 1. Wisconsin furnished the high water mark of approval by rolling up a vote of 9 to 1 in favor of the league opponent. California's support went to Harding 4 to 1. In the East, where the handwriting first appeared upon the wall, the Republican majority continues to grow as the vote is tabulated. It is estimated that at the present rate of progress the Republican plurality in New York will total 1,000,000. New York City, which is always considered Democratic, goes to Harding by at least 500,000. Massachusetts promises to give its governor and his running mate the largest majority ever cast for a presidential candidate. Governor Coughlin estimates that the Republican ticket will have a margin of 400,000 votes. Of all Massachusetts, only in Boston did Cox make a good race. Even there he was beaten by 30,000 out of approximately 155,000 votes. Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine united in giving the Republican ticket their indorsement by an overwhelming vote. Pennsylvania is 3 to 1 for Harding, New Jersey 2 to 1. Ohio, the home state of both candidates, is nearly 2 to 1. Indiana shows the smallest Harding majority of any principal state east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, but it appears safe for Harding. In the West, only New Mexico and Arizona appear to have any chance of going Democratic. Cox has a lead of about 800 in New Mexico, with about 6,000 votes cast. Harding has a slight lead in Arizona. He carried Utah and Nevada by about 3 to 2, and all other states of the West by still larger ratios. The landslide for Harding was early apparent and soon became so pronounced that it was seen the result could be no longer in doubt. At 11:15, with the Middle West still practically unheard from and extreme western vote an unknown quantity, Governor Cox's own newspaper issued an extra conceding the election to Senator Harding. Chairman White of the Democratic national committee soon followed with a similar statement, in which he said, "In the solemn referendum which President Wilson declared would decide the League of Nations question, American voters have expressed their preference for Harding, who favored staying out, to Cox, who favored going in." Of all the forty-eight states, only Missouri, Maryland and Arizona seem close enough to be doubtful. Harding is leading by 5,000 in Maryland, with 80,000 votes, or about one-fourth, reported. He is leading Missouri by 600 votes, with 188,000 reported. He also leads in Arizona by about 100 votes, with only 800 reported. New Mexico, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, in addition to the states that ring the coast from Virginia to Texas, are all that appear certain for Cox. East, West and North climbed onto the Harding band wagon.

CONSTRUCTION IN CITY TO TAKE UPWARD BOUND

Four Projects Alone Mean Expenditure of Half Million Dollars. In the later months of the current year and the first months of 1921 the building program of Chicago will be in excess of half a million dollars for buildings that are now being planned. The largest single item is a new high school building. Before many weeks an election will be called to vote $250,000 in bonds for this purpose. It is admitted that there is a slight possibility that this issue will fail, but it is so slight as to be almost negligible. The Texas & Pacific railroad has agreed to build a new station that will cost possibly $100,000; a county and municipal hospital is to be erected that calls for an outlay of $60,000, and Ranger's new steel plant will add another $100,000 to the building program. These four projects will total a cost of $510,000. While they are all now in the formative stage they are so nearly assured that it is safe to say that they will be completed.

Ranger School Children Parade for Amendment

Placards Carried Present an Appeal for Favorable Votes on Education. Marching in a column of fours and carrying placards, Ranger school children, headed by the American Legion band, yesterday paraded the business section of the city and the scene of the Trade Carnival drawing, in an appeal to voters for support of the educational amendment and in protest to the state of Texas remaining thirty-ninth in the matter of educational advantages. Some of the placards, describing the national rating, read: "Shall Texas remain thirty-ninth?" "Better buildings, better schools." "Hey, Mister, give us a chance—vote for the amendment!" "Don't forget us at the polls," and many others whose phraseology was singularly apt. The slogan "Vote for us," carried by little children was oftenest seen. The Young Cooper and High school marched in mass formation. The Tiffin school for some reason did not arrive in time for the grand parade. However, it came to match and die Armed with horns and bells none could fail to understand what it was asking for. While probably many of the little boys did not thoroughly understand the issue, what they lacked in knowledge they made up in noise.

NIGHT RIDERS IN ALABAMA DISAPPEAR

Killing of Negro Ring-Leader is Believed to Have Put Quietus on Move. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.—No disorder occurred last night in the section of Montgomery county where plantation property valued at approximately $100,000 was burned Saturday and Sunday nights. Officials today expressed the opinion that with the killing of Warren Taylor, negro ring-leader, the alleged band which is claimed responsible for the destruction of the plantation buildings has been scattered. Taylor was killed after he had fired upon officers who had arrested him. PARIS Nov. 2.—Whether you want your head washed or not in Paris you almost have to have it. The congress of barbers has just decreed that gentlemen who have their hair cut without demanding a shampoo as well, must pay 50 centimes more. The barbers say they are acting in the interest of personal cleanliness. KENTVILLE, N. S. Nov. 1.—A record of continuous egg laying, said to be hitherto unbroken, has been made by a Barred Rock pullet at the experimental farm here. This bird has laid 104 eggs in 104 days. It is usual to find a break of from one to three or four days in laying records, and the Dominion poultry department believed this achievement is without precedent.

50-GALLON STILL AND 13 BARRELS OF MASH SEIZED

Three Men Held Following Police Raid on Largest Outfit Yet Found. Openly apparent and untraced of the law, a complete fifty-gallon whiskey still was taken last night by the police in fifty feet of Hunt street, where thousands of people pass daily. With the still, which was found in the upper story of the old Ideal Vulcanizing Works on Hunt street, where thirteen full barrels of sour mash ready to run, and fifty-one cases of corn syrup. No whiskey was found, but the lower floor of the building was so equipped that an automobile could be run inside and loaded without being noticed. Three men were placed under arrest. They gave their names as T. W. Patterson, Frank L. Anderson and L. A. Burger. No arrests were made in the building at the time of the raid. Patterson was taken later. The building was searched several weeks ago, it is said, and no still was there at that time. Patterson said that they were preparing to open a vulcanizing shop in the lower story of the building. It has been vacated by a sheet metal company. The still was of copper and was equipped with the usual supply of accessories. Police Captain Tom Weeks and Patrolmen Herd and Ingram made the raid.

Chinese Mutiny When Shore Leave Is Denied at N. O.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Eleven Chinese members of the crew of the British steamship Elmleaf were wounded early today when guards resorted to pistol fire to quell a mutiny aboard the vessel. Twenty-four Chinese participated in the riot when the ship's officers announced that in compliance with the federal regulations, no shore leave would be granted. According to reports, the Chinese armed themselves with knives and pieces of scrap iron and rushed from the fore-castle in an effort to overwhelm the guards. DALLAS, Nov. 2.—With generally fair but cold weather predicted, an unusually large vote is expected today. Democrats are confident that success will be accorded the entire state ticket. The Republicans claim victory in the Ninth and Fourteenth congressional districts. They say that the Sixth district is doubtful. The Democrats, however, maintained that the customary solid Democratic congressional delegation will be returned.

'BLACK CAT' BALL WAS MAZE OF KALEIDOSCOPIC COLORS AND COSTUMES

In stately grandeur the "Devil" relentlessly stalked the "Highland Lassie" and the sweet-faced "Kavarpie" and they swayed to the dance through the maze of Gypsy, Chinese, Japanese, Turkish and American maidens at the "Black Cat" Halloween ball at the Summer Garden last night.

Almost every nationality was represented by a costume at the dance. More ingenuity of dress was displayed than at any costume ball ever held in Ranger.

The first prize was won by Miss Willa McNat. The second prize was awarded Miss Stella Parker.

One young man garbed in the guise of a woman came near to causing a riot by doing the "shimmy" until his identity was discovered and his exuberance restrained.

Conway Tearle, now a star in his own right instead of being leading man for some feminine stellar player, was presented last night in his feature photoplay at the Lamb theatre. The production was "Marooned Hearts," a National picture and Tearle plays the role of a young physician whose career is wrecked by a whim of his sweetheart.

The physician breaks the engagement and goes to the South Seas to pursue scientific research and forget. But he cannot escape his fate, for a shipwreck washes upon the beach of his island the one woman in the world whom he hates cordially.

He wants nothing to do with her, but as it happens there also comes ashore a human brute who wants to make the woman his by main force, and much against his will the doctor feels obliged to intervene.

Capacity audiences at the Temple theatre yesterday derived great enjoyment from the second showing of the Maurice Tourneur super production of "The Great Redeemer," interpreted by an all-star cast including House Peters and Marjorie Daw.

Certainly Maurice Tourneur has outdone himself in putting on this super-special. With all the sweep and power of the rugged West, it was also a tender story, plenty of points to make a moral lesson that none can disregard.

"The Great Redeemer" narrates the high lights in the career of Dan Malloy, a train bandit. Pursued by a sheriff's posse, he takes refuge in the mountain cabin of a beautiful young girl. She comes to love him and he her, when a pal induces him to have another try at holding up the mail train. This he does, but is captured and sent to prison. There the work of reform begun by the girl is completed when a miracle happens in the grim cell when Dan Malloy finds his soul.

House Peters is excellent as Dan, and Miss Daw gives a sweetly sympathetic impersonation of the girl in the story. Others in the all-star cast are Jack McDonald and Joseph Singleton. H. H. Van Loan wrote the original story, basing part of it on a happening in real life that transpired in a California prison.

SHRINE CLUB SMOKER WEDNESDAY EVENING TO EASTLAND TONIGHT

The Shrine club smoker will be held tomorrow evening at the Masonic hall at Rusk and Elm streets. Elaborate plans have been made for the affair, which is the beginning of a series of entertainments that have been planned for the winter months. The big event of the evening will be the official visit of Potentate John A. Waldrop, Chief Rabbah W. S. Cook and Recorder C. B. Brown of Moslah Temple, Fort Worth; Post Potentates Mike H. Thomas and James E. Forrest of Hella Temple, Dallas. Nobles, this is indeed a rare treat and on this account an urgent request is made for your attendance. Be there, bring your fez and do your part in making the evening a success.

J. H. MEAD COMPANY TO ENLARGE BUSINESS

The J. H. Mead Paint & Wall Paper company has moved from its old location on Austin street to 112 Main street. In its new quarters they have more room for the large stock they carry, and are more centrally located. They will in a few days place traveling representatives on the road to cover all territory surrounding Ranger.

'Pussyfoot' Johnson no Longer Regarded as Joke in Great Britain

LONDON, Nov. 2.—While each side interprets the results of the prohibition election in Scotland to its own advantage as much as is possible, one striking thing stands out in the minds of Englishmen: W. E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, is something to worry about. The sentence is written so, without prejudice to the general issue of prohibition, but because, taken in the large, England looks upon anybody or anything that tends toward drought as a "sorrow." England tried to laugh Johnson out of court a year ago. And in so doing gave him and his cause millions of dollars worth of free advertising. Johnson was literally "put on the map" by his enemies. Many warnings have been sounded since. And the newspapers have ceased to consider any kind of "pussyfoot" joke as propaganda against the cause. For they have learned the dictum of Joe Cannon that it is better to be attacked than ignored. Sound Warning Note. The warning note sounded in display type by the Globe easily outranks all others, and is here given in exact form. "It is time to issue a warning to the nation not to take this man's campaign too lightly. "Mr. 'Pussyfoot' Johnson has methods of waging his war against 'the Trade' which the people of England do not yet understand. It is a mistake to smile and call him 'Pussyfoot.' He is much more than that. He is one of the greatest psychological experts in the world. "He beat the United States public on the question of prohibition, not because they really wanted prohibition, but because they did not know that he was so far advanced in his methods. He beat them because he had them beaten before they knew. That is his method. "Therefore, it is time England knew what to expect. "In the American trade boom and the Pussyfoot campaign it is easy to discern that working of that psychological force which is relied upon by the average American to drive home his point. "He works behind the scenes, smiling, always smiling. That smile has pulled many votes to his party. He never starts a campaign without first setting his plans in working order and his workers bring his reports on which his plans are set. "This is not a question of whether prohibition is a good thing or a bad thing. The point I am trying to make is that unless England 'sits up,' Mr. Johnson will 'bring home the bacon' in England also. "It's England's turn next!" There are in London 400 prominent women of American birth either married to Englishmen or the wives of Americans whose business keeps them abroad. Your school taxes must be paid. They need it now.—211 Marston Bldg.—Adv.

RODEO PARADE WILL FEATURE OLD-TIME 'CHUCK WAGON,' ROACH WORLD'S BEST RIDER, COMING

Telegrams received almost hourly announce new entrants in Ranger's Annual Rodeo to be staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Forty high hopping horses, the pick of a bunch of 150 which L. P. Fletcher purchased on account of their bad dispositions and cantankerous ways, and ten wild steers from the McDowell ranch, who know little of man and that little not to his credit, will furnish the modus operandi for feats of western skill and daring. The best riders of the country, topped by Ben Roach, who recently won the riding championship of the world at Chicago, will compete for premier honors in the riding events. Roach will not have it all his own way, however, as a score or so of toptoten riders of nationwide reputation will be here to compete with him. Many of these men are wealthy in their own name and will compete merely for the love of the game and because of long-time friendship for the promoters, Messrs. Emerson, Kelly and Fletcher.

The same is true of the goat roping, which requires a high order of skill on the part of both man and his mount. It is said to be a revelation at the way trained cow ponies out-guess the quarry, and anticipate every dodge and turn, without direction from his rider. Both Mr. Kelly and Mr. Emerson will take a hand in the roping contests.

Specialty Thrillers.
In addition to the conventional riding and roping events there will be thrillers in the way of specialty stunts. "Oklahoma Ben" every day will perform the feat of vaulting

BEST FISHING SCHOONERS OF U. S. AND CANADA TO RACE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

"Esperanto," above, under full sail (eight sails), and "Delawana."

These two fleet fishing schooners are ready for their race October 30 off the harbor of Halifax for the title of fastest schooner of the Atlantic fishing fleets. The "Esperanto" from Gloucester, Mass., is the U. S. entry. She carries eight sails in full rig. The "Delawana" is the Canadian entry. The race is expected to be the biggest ocean schooner race in years.

BELGIAN BALLOON WINS BLUE RIBBON EVENT

The start of the race at Birmingham, Ala. The "Trionfale IV," in the foreground, was one of the Italian entries.

from the back of a horse to that of a wild steer, both at full speed, without touching the ground. This is a feat that no other man has ever performed.

"Shorty" Ricker of Ranger will throw a steer with his teeth at every performance.

"Montana Boy" will trick ride the wildest steer of the lot.

There will be music by a jazz orchestra, and Broadway Jones will sing the latest popular songs, including one of his own composition, just published, "Rose of the U. S. A."

Boiler Loading Contest.

On Saturday morning there will be a boiler loading contest, which will be of especial interest to field workers.

There will be a parade each day, featuring an old-fashioned "chuck wagon," with full range paraphernalia, ready for the roundup, and including the horses and steers and the contestants; both men and women.

The afternoon performance will begin at 2 o'clock and last until 5. Riding and roping and specialty events will be so arranged that constant action will be furnished, and there will be no waiting between events, either from refractory animals or other causes.

Night Performances, Too.

The grounds are now being wired for lights and the night performances, beginning at 8 o'clock, will be of the same general nature as the day.

Loading Contest Saturday.

The boiler loading performance will be staged Saturday morning and every spectator will be given a ticket admitting him to the afternoon performance without further charge.

Prizes in this event aggregate $215, to be given to the four quickest contestants. They are: $50 cash given by the Rodeo association; $50 in trade by the local hardware store, and the same amount by a harness company, and last, but not least, an $85 watch and chain by a prominent jeweler.

Rules for this contest provide that only one man and one team may be used. A thirty-five horsepower boiler will be placed on in front of the grandstand, and the contestants will bring their wagons up within twenty feet and unhitch. Time starts when the team has been unhitched. Then the boiler must be loaded, the team reharnessed and the wagon driven twenty feet, when the stop watch clicks finis. The record for this contest is said to be five minutes, made at Dewey, Okla. Local loading phenoms are practicing and some say they intend to beat this record. Contestants may enter for this competition up until Friday night.

Annual Attraction.

It is the promoters' purpose to make the Ranger Rodeo an annual attraction. To make the first one a success they have spared no plans or expense, it being their intention to make the spectacle so pleasing that there will be no question of a popular demand for its repetition yearly. Fifteen per cent of the receipts goes to the baseball association, also, with the idea of paying off the outstanding indebtedness on the park.

MONTANA MAKES RULING IN CHILDREN IN DIVORCE CASES

International News Service.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 2.—That parties to divorce actions may not remove children from the state during the time the case is pending was the decision handed down here by the Montana supreme court.

The decision was rendered in the case of William A. Cash, who is suing his wife for divorce. The couple have three children who have been the object at various times of sensational kidnappings.

While living in Los Angeles with her three children Mrs. Cash permitted the father to take them to a "movie." The next news from them that the mother received was the information that the father was speeding to Montana with his three offsprings. Later Mrs. Cash attempted to escape from the state with a daughter. She was apprehended in Salt Lake City and returned to Helena.

After a legal battle fraught with circumstances and recriminations on both sides, the supreme court decided that offspring of couples seeking separation must remain within the state boundaries until a final decree had been rendered in divorce proceedings.

BURGLAR SWALLOWS LOOTED TABLEWARE

International News Service.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Arrested Here Willi Pansin, a burglar who formerly drove the Berlin police chief's motor car, was found to have swallowed the proceeds of his latest robbery.

It was noticed after his arrest that he walked with difficulty and that his stomach appeared abnormally large.

The prison doctor advised him to undergo an operation, but Pansin refused, saying that he would rather be operated on at his own expense. Next day he was found in his cell with a deep knife wound in his side.

An X-Ray examination, says the Berlin Post revealed "a mountain of foreign bodies" in Pansin's stomach, including silver spoons, small forks, a number of screws, and a silver nail file.

CAN'T STOP NOW.

The agreement of the Texas & Pacific company to build the long-sought passenger station here marks a long forward step in the history of Ranger. It is in many respects the most significant action that has been taken since the city was founded.

The goal toward being a city, in all that the true meaning of the term implies, is still far off, but a few more achievements as the securing of a new depot will place the goal that Ranger has set appreciably nearer.

But the paved area is rapidly assuming respectable proportions. Buildings in the business district have become permanent. Permanent school buildings have been erected in the pastureslands of yesterday. Imposing church edifices have arisen and now comes the promise of immediate work on a new and creditable passenger station—a promise which, judging by the manner of its giving, will be kept without delay or quibbling.

These are steps in the right direction. Others yet to be taken include the extension of the telephone service to such an extent that at least reasonable communication about town can be established, obtaining of a water supply satisfactory both as to quantity and quality, and a resumption of the better homes campaign.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

On Her Way Up. The Woman was homesick. Two or three times a year this malady inflicts itself upon her—when the buds begin to burst in spring, at Christmas time and in mid-summer when the town is empty of her best pals.

The only remedy the Woman had ever found is a visit to one of the few home-town folk living in the big city. Today she wandered far from her beaten track where little Ruth Powell, the drab wren in days gone by, now earned enough to support herself in a third story room and send a few dollars each month to those at home.

Ruth had been a typist—one of the many who toil in city offices for little more than a living wage. That day, however, Ruth greeted her from the chair of the executive head of a newly installed filing department. She was blushing conscious of her changed appearance as the Woman gave a quick glance at the smart waist and skirt, the well set shoulders and the dainty little shoes which show she has become prosperous.

"How did you do it?" asked the Woman. In her surprise she forgot about her homesickness. "Oh, it is a filing system, my dear," came the reply. "A new occupation for women. I learned it at a school of filing right here in the city. I'm getting twice my old salary. Isn't it fine after all these years of struggle, for me and for Dad and Mother?"

The Woman looked over the up-to-the-minute filing department and listened wonderingly as Ruth explained how it was really a library of information for the firm how the Boss had become convinced that the filing departments were an asset and not an overhead expense; how American business is clamoring for professionally trained women able to take hold of an antiquated filing department and revamp it into a modern one; how the demand for these women is so much greater than the supply. She was made to visualize the opening of a distinct profession for her sex with comparatively few recruits so far.

Needed in Antwerp. Four-fifteen, and the messenger had not yet come. At the Grand Central the Big Boss waited, hot and impatient, wondering where the important papers were that he needed on his important trip. So at last the Sales Manager asked the Business Girl to rush off and deliver the papers herself.

The surface car was her best bet, she knew, unless she could commandeer a passing taxi. None appeared, and she hastened breathlessly, despite the humid day, to the corner of Fifty-eighth street just in time to see her car fly by, in spite of her frantic signals. Determined not to miss it, she ran after it at top speed, hoping that it might stop at the next corner.

For once in her life luck was with her. The car halted to let off a woman with a small boy, and the Business Girl swung up the step just as the conductor was about to pull the bell cord. He was a good natured chap who had watched her mad scramble with amusement mixed with sympathy. As she fumbled for her nickel he grinned and said, "Gee, if I could run like you, Miss, I'd never take a trolley. How'd they happen to leave you behind when they sent the athletes over to Belgium?"

Physician, Heal Thyself. It was a hot evening and the band was rustling to its place upon the stand up on the Columbia Campus. A stout man with a little girl of eight who looked tired and who should have been in bed, sat down beside the Woman. The child was evidently his daughter and he was trying to improve her mind after the modern method, for he admonished her to keep awake and to see if she could name the compositions that were played.

TINKER BOB

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

TINKER BOB HAS TWO VISITORS.

Tinker Bob had been King of the Forest long enough to learn the rap of nearly every creature of the Forest. And the minute he heard this "tap, tap, tap, tap," he knew it was none other than Jerry, the Jay Bird.

"What's the matter now?" asked Tinker as he went to answer the rap. "Oh, I want to tell you something quick. I can hardly wait," said Jerry as the King opened the door. He had been flying so fast that he could scarcely get his breath. "Oh, King, do you know what has happened in the Forest? It is the most terrible thing that I ever heard of. Don't be surprised, oh, King, because this fellow has been acting strangely for some time. And don't let it worry you, oh, King, for he is not worth worrying about, and I hope he will never come back. It is just like this—Old Man O Possum has run away with the Moon."

Jerry thought the King of the Forest did not know anything about it. "I am so sorry Jerry, that you used up all your breath in coming to tell me of O Possum's flight," said Tinker Bob. "For I knew he was going before he went. I saw him climb the Magic Cornstalk."

Jerry's feathers fell. He didn't know what to do at first for he thought he was telling the King something he did not know. But that was no more than what ought to come to Jerry for telling a secret. He could say nothing more, for he was ashamed of himself, so he flew away in a hurry. Tinker Bob laughed to think Jerry, the saucy Jay, would not try to think before he journeyed so far to tell the King something he already knew. Jerry had been gone only a moment when the King looked into the Forest from his doorstep and saw the tops of the small bushes moving—which was really a message to him that some creature was coming. He watched carefully and now and then all movements stopped, then they would start again just as though the creature, whoever it was, thought it wise to stop and listen a bit before going forward.

"Those actions are a little like Chief Porky's," said Tinker to himself, but he would wait longer between times, and perhaps fall asleep. Then he heard the cracking of twigs, which was a message telling him that this creature was not small, and that he was very fast on foot if he wanted to be. The fast creature is not careful about breaking twigs. "He must be watching something," said Tinker. Then suddenly there came into view

PROHIBITION LOSSES TO FORCE HOTEL MEN TO RAISE PRICE, SAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—"The hotel men will never be able to sell their goods proportionally lower, the same as other lines of business not affected by the Eighteenth amendment," says E. M. Statler, hotel owner, in an article in the Hotel Pennsylvania register.

"The public bought rooms and food in hotels in the past at or below cost, because hotel men were satisfied with profits most of which came from liquor sales. There being no more profit from this source, rooms and food will have to be priced at a figure that will enable a hotel to pay overhead maintenance, depreciation, operating expenses and leave a margin of profit sufficiently large enough to hold the organization together, so that service may be rendered to the public during the dull as well as the busy period."

Armin W. Riley, chief of the "flying squadrons," which is fighting the profiteer, threatened last night to subpoena hotel men who obstruct his efforts to investigate food costs. He intimated the belief that some members of the Hotel Men's association are in a conspiracy to defeat his efforts.

He sent out agents last night to get evidence of refusal by hotels to work with him in the drive against excessive food costs. If unable otherwise to get the facts he desires, Mr. Riley says he will seize the books of the hotels under subpoena.

Mexico Strike Threat.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—There are threats of two more strikes. Coal miners in Coahuila are talking of enforcing demands by a walkout and spinners in Orizaba are preparing to quit work for the same purpose.

RIPLING RHYMES

THE DRIVE IDEA.

All our lives will be more sunny and we'll chirp a gladder song, when they quit the "drives" for money, which have bothered us too long. All such schemes were gladly pardoned when the kaiser danced his jig, and the heart was cold and hardened that neglected to dig. I am always prompt and willing to help out a worthy cause, but I will not place a shilling in the drivesmith's eager paws. For I'm sick of people telling what I ought to give and where, tired of always digging, shelling, for some scheme that makes me swear. I will give to help the living and I'll give to plant the dead, but I won't be bossed in giving, and I won't be chased or led. In the war-time drives were splendid, and they helped to can our foes, but the war is done and ended, and the people need repose. Do not bother friends or neighbors with requests for honest dimes; leave them to their quiet labors, as we did in older times. Do not think up worthy causes that require financial aid, for we've all been Santa Clauses till our nerves are tired and frayed.

NEW PARIS HATS SHOW DROOPING FEATHER TRIMS

Feathers on hats this year, and they all seem to have them, act as if they were unruly locks. They either fall down into the eyes, tickle the ears, or curl about one's neck like little false curls. This is quite true of most of the new French hats which have arrived recently. Here is a stunning velvet turban of burnt orange with a tuft of paradise dropping in a very sophisticated manner over milady's right cheek.

THERE IS A HEREAFTER, SAYS BISHOP BURCH IN DISCUSSING THOMAS EDISON'S NEW THEORY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Thomas A. Edison has now evolved a new theory concerning the human personality and its chance of existence after the death of the body in which it dwells. In an interview recently published in a scientific magazine the inventor expresses doubt that there is any hereafter awaiting personality, or soul, as we may wish to call that part of our mental and spiritual composition.

Our bodies are made up of countless small cells which Mr. Edison calls entities. These cells never die, but at the time of death pass from the body to take other form "thus giving the eternal life which many of us hope for. This means little to you and me," Mr. Edison is quoted as saying, "for when we come to that stage known as death our personality breaks up into small separate units which combine with others to make new structures."

Mr. Edison is at present constructing an instrument with which he expects to determine whether or not it is possible to communicate with departed spirits. Dreary and hopeless as the scientist's belief may make the future for those who agree with him or are influenced by his statements, the opposite side of his argument is here given by Bishop Charles Sumner Burch of the Episcopal diocese of New York.

Views of Bishop Burch
"This is a very interesting contribution by Mr. Edison to the discussion of a subject which is before the people of today more insistently than it has been in a long time," said Bishop Burch. "I do not like to reply without giving this my long and earnest attention, but I will say this much:
"In regard to a hereafter, there would be no Christian belief that could be bulwarked by logic or by hope if personality ended with this life.

"I believe in the Christian idea of the immortality of the soul, and that would include the continuance of personality after death. This is our reverent belief, yet we must depend on revelations, on our trust and belief in the past of the Christian religion and on what conclusions great philosophers have reached favorable to our faith. Take, for instance, Plato and Socrates and others, not Christians at all. They did not believe that life ended at death.

"Without such belief we have nothing by which to justify life, our efforts, our sufferings, our inequalities that are almost unbearable, are without reason if we cannot look forward to the immortal life of personality.

"There is no question but that every day there are great injustices suffered by men, women and children through no fault of their own, and if we believe in a personal God we know that somewhere these things are regulated and recompensed.

"Mr. Edison likes to theorize, imagine, discuss his likes, thoughts and tendencies—but this article of his wherein he states his theory of life is a contradiction, in itself, of the very essence of life.

"If Mr. Edison is to be believed, then our world is not worth the trouble of living in it."

Must Be Hereafter.
"To right wrongs we have suffered, the wrongs we have inflicted on others, to justify balance this world of ours, there must be a hereafter. Everything leads up to it, but we can't prove it."

Bishop Burch was asked his belief in the possibility of communication with the departed. He replied that the consideration he had given the subject had afforded him no satisfaction.

"At the Lambeth conference, which I attended in London, that topic was gone into thoroughly and the mass of evidence and studies on the subject were very unsatisfactory. We discussed it at length but we got nothing out of it worth while.

"Remember, not only Christians believe in a future life. The hope is the foundation of every religious belief from the early ages. However, what I have said is only comment on the bare synopsis of Mr. Edison's article as contained in the clipping you have shown me. I wish I could take longer to consider the matter in order to give you an answer that thoroughly satisfies me."

Mr. Edison's Statements.
In order to give the reader a clearer idea of what Mr. Edison has said regarding life and its destination the following excerpts from his interview are given here.

"I believe that life, like matter, is indestructible," began Mr. Edison in outlining his theory of life and death. There has always been a certain amount of life on this world and there will always be the same amount. You cannot create life, you cannot destroy it, you cannot multiply life.

"The entities are life. I again repeat they are steady workers. In our bodies those entities constantly rebuild our tissues to replace those which are constantly wearing out. They watch after the functioning of the various organs, just as the engineers in the power house see that the machinery is in perfect order.

"Once conditions become unsatisfactory in the body, either through a fatal sickness, fatal accident or old age, the entities simply depart from the body and leave little more than an empty structure behind. Being indefatigable workers they naturally seek something else to do.

"They either enter into the body of another man, or even start on some other form of life.

"Those entities live forever; you cannot destroy them, just the same as you cannot destroy matter."

FACTS ABOUT TANLAC ARE GIVEN TO PUBLIC

Special Representative Tells Why It Has Become Most Talked of Medicine in the World Today.

NO GREAT MYSTERY ABOUT IT, HE SAYS

Merit Alone Has Confirmed It in the Minds of the People All Over American Continent.

W. B. Logan, special representative in the state of Texas for Tanlac, the medicine that has created such a sensation all over the United States and Canada, gives some highly interesting facts about Tanlac and the remarkable results achieved by it.

"Contrary to popular opinion," he stated, "there is no great mystery about Tanlac, except in so far as the chemistry of the human body itself and what it does with substances taken into it, is a mystery. Some of the ingredients of Tanlac have been known and used as medicines for centuries, but everyone of them is of recognized therapeutic value and used by the medical profession everywhere. Tanlac is simply a co-mingling of these medicinal elements in a way hitherto unknown and which brings out their curative and reconstructive powers to a most remarkable degree. Briefly, it allays irritation of the stomach, strengthens the digestive and assimilative organs, builds up and revitalizes the whole system and gives the body new powers of resistance and strength. Gratifying gains in weight are not uncommon, especially where a person has suffered from under-nourishment brought on by dyspepsia, indigestion, illness, operation or other causes.

"It is a demonstrated fact in medical science that the stomach is the starting point of most of the ills that afflict the human body, and many of the so-called diseases are not diseases at all, but reflex symptoms of the stomach derangements of the weakened condition of the body that naturally follows. Some kinds of rheumatism, gastritis, palpitation, nervousness, kidney disorders and liver complaints are among the more common troubles developed through the stomach. Scores of other diseases have been traced to the same source.

"Tanlac was made especially to overcome these stomach complaints and the various so-called disease and symptoms that follow them, but the astonishing reconstructive powers revealed by it have not only astonished the general public, but have somewhat surprised even the originators of the medicine themselves. Thousands of letters reach the Tanlac offices from all parts of North America telling of remarkable results derived by people who have suffered for years without being able heretofore to find relief.

"Naturally, these remarkable achievements have spread the fame of Tanlac to all quarters of the continent, and the demand for it has necessitated working the laboratories night and day.

"The tremendous popularity of Tanlac grows steadily instead of diminishing and can be explained in only one way—merit. This remarkable restorative effects seem to be more permanent than hitherto believed possible. Thousands of persons who took it when it was first introduced five years ago report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after having first tried it out thoroughly."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillip Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

DESIGN FOR RAY CHAPMAN MEMORIAL

This is the design for the tablet to be erected to honor the memory of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop killed by a pitched ball August 17. The tablet has been approved by the members of the committee chosen to decide on the memorial. This design is a combination of two submitted and selected by the committee from a group of fifty submitted by artists and bronze manufacturers throughout the country. The tablet is to be approximately four feet wide and three feet high and will be cast in one piece of pure standard monumental bronze, with the portrait, ornamentation and inscription in low relief. It will be mounted on a slab of verde antique marble and secured in a manner to make its removal impossible. The memorial is to be placed just inside the Lexington avenue entrance of League Park, Cleveland, and will be illuminated by lights placed immediately above.

'Junk Men' Make Money From Old Wells at Hogtown

Reports from Desdemona indicate that there is renewed activity there along the line of drilling wells deeper and increasing production, and in many cases re-establishing remunerative production in wells that were thought worthless except for junk. Most of these wells have been bought up from small operators by the larger companies and by "junkers." Some of them were originally barely drilled into the sand, and deeper drilling and a small shot produce very satisfactory results in the 2,700 foot sand. Others are wells bought at salvage values, whose buyers, experienced in the ways of oil and the art of coaxing it from the ground, secure enough production to repay their initial investment, leaving the tank-ages, casing and other equipment as pure "velvet."

There are also a fair number of new holes in the field, especially the northwest extension.

BLACK BROS. SET CASING ON WEIR WELL

Black Bros. are setting casing on their Weir No. 1 well, northeast of Desdemona, at 3,100 feet, with a good show of oil and gas. This well is about a mile north of the Magnolia's Carruth well, which came in nearly a year ago for 5,000 barrels and is still producing. It is in partially proven territory, as another well still further north has shown oil despite a faulty hole.

KICK BY BUCKING HORSE BROKE HORSESHOER'S LEG

C. Wakeham, the horseshoer whose leg was broken three weeks ago while shoeing Gray Eagle, famous bucking horse, was cut Monday visiting friends. Both bones were broken below the knee by the horse's hoof, and the leg is still in a plaster cast, but Wakeham was able to maneuver on crutches.

NEW CIGARETTE TUBE FOR LONDON GIRLS IS COLLAPSIBLE

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 2.—Collapsible cigarette tubes of gold which fold into a tiny case smaller than lady's thimble and slung on her neck chain when not in use are the latest additions to the ever-growing list of feminine novelties to be seen in the shops nowadays.

Tortoiseshell and gold cigarettes cases, less than two inches square, and stocked with Hilliputian cigarettes, are another temptation to the woman with plentiful pocket money. At the same shops are sold cigarettes as large as cigars.

Slave bangles are now square in section, and square also are the slender walk-in sticks of ivory, headed and tipped with ebony, which are considered the fitting accompaniment to the autumn "tailormade."

The shopkeeper is daily extending his provision of articles which form the perfect match for one another. Witness of this is a display of severely plain garters in sober colors made in unfilled silk elastic, fashioned by a mannish buckle and labelled "For wear with tailored suit."

Setas of silken harness for pet dogs are also to be obtained in regimental or racing colors, and the collars of colored leather are also to be seen edged with fur.

Altogether the craze for novelties is amazing, and however extravagant or useless a novelty may be, women will be seen displaying it within a few hours of its arrival in the shops. Women know that to get any pleasure from the new craze one must be among the first to exploit it.

BOY WILL RETURN THIS FAMILY TO GREEK ROYAL PALACE

Prince Paul, third son of ex-King Constantine, undoubtedly will be the next king of Greece, dispatches state. Admiral P. Couzlowriotis has been named regent to direct the nation until a successor to King Alexander is named. Negotiations for the placing of Prince Paul on the throne have been opened with the family of ex-King Constantine. Certain conditions are imposed.

Two of these are that Constantine and Prince George, Duke of Sparta, the other son, formally abdicate the throne. To restore the family to its place it is believed these conditions will be met.

PRETTY ACTRESS STARTS FASHION FAD

Miss Ada Mae Weeks.

Why be an actress if you can't start a fad once in a while, is the opinion of Ada Mae Weeks, the pretty actress now pleasing Broadway audiences in "Jim Jam Jems." Miss Weeks starts a new fad weekly, it seems. Her latest is a beautiful mole scarf lined with brocade. The brocade is brilliantly colored and has a poppy design with huge flowers. Already "everybody" is getting out their old scarfs and lining them with flowered brocade a la Ada Mae.

Germans Swamp English Markets With Leather

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 2.—Buyers from Paris who wish to attend the International Shoe and Leather fair which is being held here are accommodated with a special service of aeroplanes from the French capital to this city.

The present fair, which is the twenty-first, is the biggest yet held. There are over 400 exhibitors—but none from Germany, and the department of overseas trade is actively co-operating with the British manufacturers in their endeavors to find overseas markets.

In view of the recent "slump" in the leather industry, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London, commenting on the fair, much dissatisfaction is being expressed at the imports of German upper leather, which is reported to be arriving in large quantities.

Before the British war factories only produced roughly 40 per cent of the grade kid used in Britain and 50 per cent of the box calf. During the war the industry was urged by the government to extend its plants so that in the future Britain would be independent of foreign supplies.

In consequence, factories and plants were extended so that more than 75 per cent of the requirements can be met from home manufacturers, and the dumping of German leather is therefore hitting the British tanning trade very hard.

Despite the fact that she is armless being born that way, Mrs. J. C. Teagarden of Denver, Col. made dainty baby garments for her daughter which was born a few days ago. She made all the clothes for the expected baby by guiding the cloth under the sewing machine needle with her chin, stitched, cut out patterns and threaded the needle with her feet.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER OF WEALTHY MINER

Mrs. Richard Peete has pleaded not guilty to a charge of murdering Jacob C. Denton, wealthy Los Angeles mining man. He disappeared June 3. His body was found buried in the basement of his home late in September. Mrs. Peete has stated that a woman caller at the Denton home departed in anger, returned later with a man and that the pair murdered Denton.

EXACT HOUR MEANS NOTHING TO SPANIARDS

By Associated Press. MADRID, Nov. 2.—Foreign visitors after a short stay in Madrid begin to doubt whether Spaniards are able to tell the time. There are scores of public clocks in government buildings and on church towers and nearly every Spaniard carries a watch, which he often looks at, but apparently these do not mean anything to the average citizen.

An invitation to a meal at a certain hour means that the host or the guest will appear half an hour or more late. An appointment for a fixed time and place nearly always finds both parties absent at the hour named. An interview arranged with an official involves usually a wait of an hour in the ante-room. The tailor will not be ready to try on your suit until at least two days after he has promised to do so. Trains rarely start and never arrive at the scheduled hour. These are some few indications of the little interest Spaniards show in the time.

It is either morning, noon, evening or night with Spaniards generally—and of course the eternal mañana which never comes. The exact hour is nothing to them; yet thousands of them will assemble on the Puerta del Sol to watch the fall of the globe on the ministry of the interior at noon every day.

Times Want Ads Pay

Winston-Salem, N. C. Monday

DEAR PETEY:

Bet you a house and lot you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eyefull of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow! Never saw such a cigarette firing-up time in my life!

Peter, everytime you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for mellow mild body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! Camels are simply a revelation! You know that.

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours

Shorty.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger show our department stores are here presented briefly for the benefit of Times readers.

Novely arrived at the Boston store, direct from New York, are lots of new things. A one-piece dress of black velvet was fitted way out of the ordinary by three bands of Roman striped ribbon, over which hangs a row of black fringe, stitched diagonally around the skirt. This unique trimming also borders the three-quarter sleeves. Valdivieva, a soft material with a silk bloom, and which drapes enchantingly, was chosen in a rich shade of tan for a lovely little blouse frock. Dark navy lines the reversible collar and makes the pipings for pockets, cuffs and girdle. Pockets are inserted in the six-inch panels on each side which are caught under at the hem. A stylish dress of brown broadcloth has its skirts all-over embroidered in gold and blending shades of green, blue and brown. The latest agony in the high neck is also featured. A row of brass buttons trims the front.

Some very special values in shoes are offered at Baum's this week in both low and high shoes. Satin bouddoir slippers for $2.95. Not a bad idea for Xmas presents.

All that is new and stylish in coats, both fur and cloth, may be found at Weiss Brothers. Hudson seal coats with beaver or gray squirrel big collars and deep cuffs, and all squirrel coats are being sold at specially reduced prices this week. A lovely big wrap coat of dark blue evora has its collar of Australian opossum fastened on a larger one of the material, giving a double collar effect which is new and pretty. This popular fur is extensively used for coat collars this season, but in such a variety of shades that it never looks the same. A full line of leather coats with seal collars and satin linings has recently been received at this shop.

If you want good schools you must do your part. Pay your taxes.—211 Marston Bldg.—Adv.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—You see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

"S-o-m-e Biscuit!"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all-satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

Found can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a real 16 when you want it.

Calumet Eiscut's Recipe
4 cups of sifted pastry flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoon of salt, 2 rounding table-spoons of butter or lard, 1/2 cup of milk, 3/4 cup of water. Then mix in the regular way.

CIGARETTES MUST GO, HOME BREW DOOMED. DECLARES W. C. T. U.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Home brew and cigarettes, also hard cider and wine are next to go into the grave with John Barleycorn, is the resolve of the Women's Christian Temperance union, which in state convention has been in annual session here. Resolutions to that effect were adopted just before the convention came to a close Tuesday. The resolution said that "home brew" is in violation of the eighteenth amendment.

SENTENCED TO SHAVE FOR SIX MONTH TERM

SANTA ANNA, Cal., Nov. 2.—A sentence that he be clean-shaven for six months that he must pass in jail was imposed by Justice J. B. Cox here today on James Furry, convicted of vagrancy. Furry's beard, Justice Cox held, was the "chief reason for his orneryness and shiftlessness."

CELL MATRON'S DAYS OF HUNGER STRIKE RECORD

VISALIA, Nov. 2.—Miss Florence M. Longland of Willits, in jail here awaiting sentence following her conviction on a charge of arson, ended a three-day "hunger strike" last night.

The jail matron placed the regular evening meal before the fasting prisoner. Miss Longland ate a soft-boiled egg, a hot biscuit and drank a cup of tea. "My, that was good," she said.

If Columbus Had Carried a Columbia Grafonola

If he had, it would have helped him to cheer his sailors "Westward Ho!" You have to own one to realize all that it would have done for him.

The Columbia Grafonola is scientifically designed to give you exact reproductions of the music the artists themselves produced on the original wax. Its exclusive tone leaves give you complete and accurate control over tone volume. Its straight metal one-piece tone arm insures that the sound waves will develop fully and naturally.

Come in and see the Columbia Grafonola. Ask us to demonstrate for you its exclusive Non Set Automatic Stop. Never stops before it should. Always stops at the very end. Nothing to move or set or measure. It is the last touch of comfort and convenience added to the world's greatest music-reproducing instrument.

Our Liberal credit policy makes it easy for you to buy the Grafonola you want. Merely make your selection and pay a small amount down. We will deliver immediately. Pay the balance in small convenient payments. Come in today and let's get acquainted.

DEMOCRATS BURIED UNDER AVALANCHE OF REPUBLICAN VOTES; WOMEN FOR HARDING

Certainty of Republican Congress Shown in Reports; Biggest Vote for Candidate in Three Decades Polled

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—One of the most sweeping victories in the party history of the nation stood recorded today for Senator Harding for president and for a Republican congress. In the absence of final figures a swelling tide and indications of a huge plurality early today gave him assurance of 329 votes in the electoral college as against 127 for Cox, with 75 doubtful, inclusive of the states where the Republican tide is running strong.

Unofficial results indicate that the Republican candidate will run up a larger majority in the presidential race than any since 1888, excepting only the one for Wilson in 1912 during the time of the Republican party split. The first trial of woman suffrage this year contributed largely to the Republican majorities.

Less than 500 votes had been counted in the city election by the election judges at noon today, of a total of 1020 cast. Such returns as are in show that in Ranger the three constitutional amendments will carry with few dissenting votes.

The Republicans registered a rather heavy vote but the box will go more than two to one for the Democrats. In the race for justice of the peace, for place No. 2, J. N. McFatter is leading.

The vote yesterday is eighty-six in excess of those cast in the July primaries and can all be traced to the women participating in the election. Less than one hundred appeared at the polls. Those who did vote, however, showed their ability to understand the ballot at least.

RETURNS PLEASE DRY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The election of Senator Harding is more pleasing to prohibitionists than the election of Governor Cox would have been, Virgil Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition party national committee, said here this morning in his first statement on the election.

"This is because of his recent public statement which was made to the national temperance council that he would do whatever was in his power to prevent the re-establishment of intoxicating liquors. He also made a statement that the future action on prohibition should be interpreted by a vote upon the eighteenth amendment and Volstead law," Hinshaw said.

DEBS VOTE BIG.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Returns early today show that Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, now in Atlantic prison, received 131,856 votes in New York city. This is more than a third as many votes as Governor Cox received here.

HARDING GAINS IN OHIO.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3.—Ohio, home of both the Republican and Democratic candidates for president, cast a vote decisively in favor of Senator Harding, late reports show. On returns from 4,128 out of 7,145 precincts in the state early today, Harding was leading by 96,070 votes. If this ratio continues Harding will carry his home state with the greatest plurality ever given by the Buckeye state for any office.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Armin W. Riley, chief of the U. S. "flying squadron" of profiteer hunters, says a start has been made in slashing reductions in the prices charged at several New York hotels and restaurants which have "quit" the Hotel Men's association of New York.

Reduction of prices for first class hotel "special" table d'hôte dinners from $4.50 to $2.50 are already in effect, according to Riley, who exhibited menus sent him.

Substantial cuts in breakfast and luncheon prices also have been put into effect, Riley said, adding that the hotel and restaurant operators had assured him that no reduction in food portions or service had been made to accomplish the price slashes.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Gould Memorial church of the Holy Trinity at Maisons-Lafitte, the gift of Frank Jay Gould, and erected in memory of his parents, has just been dedicated and given into the care of the American and British colonies there.

Determined to Make Ranger Queen City of North Central Texas Is Retailers Plan

By ERNEST W. SPARKS

The spirit which has, since the day of the Mayflower anchored off Plymouth Rock, characterized the American people in their determination to do things and do big things was manifest last night when more than 200 persons, both men and women, were the guests of the Retail Merchants' association at a banquet given at the Baptist tabernacle. This spirit has been developing in the ranks of the association since its organization several months ago, and last night it crystallized into a single opinion of all the business people assembled to make of this the greatest city in this section.

The banquet was given to celebrate the closing of the first trade carnival, which has been successful even beyond the hopes of those who sponsored the move. It was this success which encouraged and fostered the determination of the merchants to leave nothing undone that could be done to make "Ranger" the Hub of the Oil Fields.

Spirit to Win An Internal.

The spirit that dominated the banquet and which is a part of the association itself, was likened by one speaker to the spirit that pervaded America during the war and which was the deciding factor that turned the invading armies of the Germans back upon their native soil. The spirit of everybody giving their best thought and putting their best efforts to the single task of placing Ranger far and above the average town, even as America was made ready for war.

Women Folk Hostesses.

The banquet began promptly at 7:45 and for an hour the assembled merchants and their wives and friends gave their attention to the matter of their

RUSSELL DAM MAY FURNISH RANGER WATER

Engineer in Thurber to Confer With Company in Van of the Movement.

John B. Hawley, expert water engineer, with a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce, is in Thurber holding a conference with the officials of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company concerning the site for the Russell creek dam project nine miles east of Ranger. Mr. Hawley will examine the surveys made by the oil company and probably look over the site and give his opinion as to whether the site would be suitable for a water supply for Ranger.

It is expected that an endorsement from the engineer will bring about plans to finance the project.

FIRE BELLS RING AS BOY IN BLUE WEDS LOCAL LASS

The ringing of the bells on the fire engines last night was not for a fire. They were wedding bells, celebrating the marriage of E. E. Elliot, fireman No. 7, and Miss L. E. Griffith, Judge Roger Fenlaw, in his best judicial manner, performed the ceremony.

It might also be said that the experience was as new to the judge as it was to the contracting parties, it being the first wedding the judge has performed, also being the first wedding wherein the bride and groom were married to each other or anybody else.

GOOD GRASS FOLLOWS RAINS IN BASIN OF TOYAH IS ASSERTION

TOYAH, Nov. 3.—The Toyah basin range is in better shape possibly than any other range in the United States, says a field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Probably never in the history of this section has there been such an abundance of precipitation during the summer and fall and the growing of so much grass. Ranchers with thousands of acres of grass on their places and without a sufficient number of cattle to graze it, are urgently seeking cattle for wintering. All ranches who are short of grass this year can obtain splendid facilities in the Toyah county. The Chamber of Commerce here will undertake to get cattle brought to this section, it was asserted.

FLORIDA NEGRO IS LYNCHED BECAUSE HE REFUSED TO VOTE

By Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 3.—A negro named Perry was shot and killed by two men at Ocoee, Fla., yesterday after he had refused to vote. He was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets, according to reports reaching here. Election officials said Perry had refused to vote because he had not paid his poll tax.

GENERAL OBREGON WILL STUDY ENGLISH

International News Service.

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 3.—General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, is studying English, according to his private secretary, F. Torreblanca. Most of his textbooks are American magazines which Obregon says he reads to familiarize himself with English as it is used and not as it is set down in academic form.

Mr. Obregon has said that his immediate object is not to speak the language, but to understand English when he hears it spoken. He is able, he thinks, to understand about 70 per cent of what is said to him in English, if the speaker is distinct and unhurried.

In reading magazines for their English, Mr. Obregon says, he finds valuable data and information regarding current events which cannot be found in book form. Secretary Torreblanca states the president-elect keeps him busy filing data gathered from magazines.

Mrs. Obregon was educated at St. Mary's university in Los Angeles, Cal., and speaks English with no accent, only a soft hesitancy, and once in a great while a slight fumbling of a word. She, too, is trying to teach her husband English.

"He has so little time and so much to do," she said, "but he would like so much to know it. It would be a wonderful help for him in his work. The children? I shall teach it to them."

PROPER RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION FOR UNIVERSITY PUPILS

AUSTIN, Nov. 3.—Increased interest is being manifested this year in the courses offered by the Association of Religious teachers in the University of Texas. Over 600 students are enrolled for the courses, representing a large increase over last year.

The object of the association is to present suitable religious instruction to students of the University of Texas for credit in that institution. One of the features of the instruction is the absence of sectarian advocacy, this phase of the work being particularly watched by members of the faculty.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH ASSAULT SOUGHT BY LYNCHERS

FORT WORTH, Nov. 3.—Robert Pitts, negro, is under heavy guard in the jail here charged with assaulting a 10-year-old white girl at her home in Arlington Monday. For two hours the Arlington jail where the negro had been confined after being garrotted, was besieged by a mob of 500 who sought the life of the suspect. Officers removed the prisoner after promising a speedy trial. The case will be given to the grand jury today.

GOOD ROADS TO BE TOPIC HERE TONIGHT

Vital Necessity of Suitable Highways and Means of Obtaining Them Up.

The construction of Eastland county's good roads, just what has been done, what is being done at this moment and the plans for the future, will be discussed tonight by Judge C. R. Starnes at the public forum meeting to the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the assembly rooms of the chamber.

Judge Starnes has all the information concerning the roads and will thoroughly cover the subject.

As has been pointed out by J. E. T. Peters, the good roads program at this moment is the most important of all the improvements planned for Ranger. This he said, the citizens understood and he expected a representative membership at the forum meeting tonight.

Dr. R. H. Hodges, chairman of the good roads committee, will also be in the meeting and report the work that he has done.

Beginning with tonight the forum meetings will be resumed, one being held each week in order that the combined opinions of the membership and their advice can be given the directors of the organization.

MAN AND WOMAN HELD AFTER YOUNG GIRL SAYS TRICKERY WAS USED TO BRING HER HERE

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Makes Statement Against Her Sister and a Local Man; Police Hold Couple.

Telling a story of the fear and misery she has suffered in keeping her virtue inviolate against the influence of her own sister, known in Ranger as Mickey Young, and W. D. Young, Little Olive Hisey, 15 years old, went before Judge Fenlaw and signed a sworn statement which led to a charge of white slavery against the man and woman. Both Young and Mickey Young, arrested under the name of Clara Conner, were taken by the police today and will be sent to Abilene to answer the charge. An additional charge of criminal assault has been filed against Young.

Sister Tricked Her.

WOMAN SUES TO GET MILLIONS HER HUSBAND LEFT WITH TRUSTEE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—A prolonged and bitter fight for the control of millions loomed up today as the result of a suit begun by Mrs. Augusta J. Glendenning to oust her former chauffeur, Thomas Davis, as trustee of the $2,440,200 estate of Robert Glendenning, her husband.

Mrs. Glendenning declares that her husband, taken to a sanitarium under the influence of the chauffeur, died mysteriously. She charges that she was kidnapped, pronounced insane and shut up in a madhouse in Wisconsin.

The widow also filed suit for $100,000 against Davis and others she alleges aided him to have her confined in an asylum.

Davis, although employed as a chauffeur, is said to be a distant relative of the Glendennings, and it is for this reason that he was made a trustee of the estate, the widow asserts. The former chauffeur, denying Mrs. Glendenning's charges, declares that she has been influenced by religious workers who seek to have control of her husband's millions so that charitable institutions in which they are interested may benefit.

Glendenning was the head of a patent roofing company. He died in a sanitarium here last February.

Mrs. Glendenning and her children are en route to Florida today, where they will spend the winter.

Olive Hisey has no mother or father. She has been living in Iola, Kan. In her sworn statement she sets out that her sister, Clara Conners, wired her at Iola that she was sending her $20 and for her to come to Ranger.

She worked one day and a half in the Main Street cabaret. On Oct. 24, the statement continues, she was sleeping in a room in a hotel in the same bed with Young and that three times during the night her sister left the room and Young tried to assault her. Each time telling her that it would be all right with her sister.

The sworn statement adds that Young and Clara Conner were indiscriminate in their intimacy in the presence of the girl.

Aside from the statement the little Hisey girl told members of the police department that her sister, when she sent for her, promised her a place in a millinery store that Clara Conner said she owned. On arrival there was no millinery store and her sister insisted that she work in cabarets and live indecently.

Finally she grew tired of the persecution and fled to the home of a minister, who gave her into charge of the Salvation Army, where she is now staying.

A local physician gave assurance to the Salvation Army matron and the police department that Olive Hisey was unharmed by her experience.

The girl this morning, through eyes that hid no guile, fearlessly talked to the police of the things that she probably had never heard until she came to Ranger, and every statement rang with truth. At her side was the motherly matron of the Salvation Army, Mrs. Captain Mullins, who will see that no further harm comes to her.

Policemen John Moore and Jim Hunt handled the case.

SILVERTON CLAIMS TO BE THE STATE'S BIG INLAND TOWN

SILVERTON, Nov. 3.—Silverton claims to be the largest inland town in Texas, says W. K. Whipple, field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. It is on the Ozark trail, which has just erected a concrete guide post in the main street. Many new settlers are now coming into this territory. The wonderful wheat production of this territory has inspired hundreds to come and investigate land little before known. A new bank has just sprung up here as a reflection of local prosperity, named Briscoe State bank. The county also has good roads.

PISTOL IS SOLD TO OBTAIN RELEASE OF MAN WHO TOTED IT

A Colt's automatic pistol was the means of getting J. E. Davis in jail, charged with displaying the weapon and the same pistol was the means of getting him out again. However, his freedom was not gained through the "hands up" method.

Davis was arrested by C. C. Hamilton and pleaded guilty to the charge. The fine was $5 and court costs. Davis was unable to pay the amount and Officer Hamilton, with the prisoners' consent, went out and sold the gun for enough money to get its owner out of jail.

Kennedy Had Suit Cases Ready to Leave Night Hotel was Fired; Denies Charge

No Explanation Given of His Hurried Departure From City; Case Hinges on Future Statements of Alleged Eye Witness. Continue Police Investigation.

H. B. Kennedy, under charge of arson in connection with the Pine street fire, in a statement made to the police, said that he was not in the Prince Rupert hotel at the time of the fire but in the gambling room that was running over the Bryan garage. He also has admitted, the police say, that his clothing was packed in suitcases and was at an Austin street address the night of the fire. He has not explained why his clothing was there.

In his account of how he spent the night when the block burned, he declared "that early in the night he went to bed in his room at the Prince Rupert, and that he felt restless." To remove this feeling he went to a restaurant and ate supper. Returning to the hotel he went to bed again. Later, arising and going to the place above the garage, being there when the fire broke out.

Detectives Pearl Hunt and Dick Rust, who have been working on the case, say that they have established the fact that the arrested man took his suitcase to the gambling room that was running over the Bryan garage. He also has admitted, this evidence Kennedy admitted, they say, that it was true but would not offer any explanation.

It has not yet been learned just what light Herbert C. Kay, who is supposed to have seen the fire, can throw on the case. The police have no power to bring him to Ranger except on a warrant for his arrest.

Kennedy will be turned over to the county officials. It is expected that the grand jury will investigate the charge against him within the next day or two.

PROGRAM

LAMB—"The Branding Iron."

OPERA HOUSE—Vaudeville and Francis Ford in "Crimson Shoals."

LIBERTY—Doug Fairbanks in "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo."

TEMPLE—Ethel Clayton in "A City Sparrow."

OPERA HOUSE.

The special photoplay which comes to the Opera House today and Thursday bears the interesting title "Crimson Shoals." Made under the personal direction of Francis Ford, it also presents the well known screen player as the star. Ford portrays in "Crimson Shoals" the most unique character of his long screen career. He is called upon to enact three roles, those of son, father and grandfather. His make-up, attention to detail and character delineation in this triple effort marks one of the finest pieces of acting ever seen on the screen in the city of Ranger. "Crimson Shoals" itself is a vibrant melodrama, carrying with it a big cast of well-known players, wonderful scenery and a plot which for mystery and interest compelling powers has rarely been equaled. The story revolves around the efforts of a band of coral thieves who seek to gain control of a lonely island in the Pacific rich in this wonderful mineral. The manner in which their plotting is frustrated gives opportunity for many thrilling scenes, in all of which Ford appears in his triple character.

LAMB.

The branding iron has long offered foundation for stories of the great West. Now it returns to the screen. But this time not as a weapon of the cattle rustler. In the hands of a jealous husband, becomes the brand of ownership, scars his cruel design into the fair white of his terrified young wife. Such a paragraph, is the underlying theme of the powerful Goldwyn film, "The Branding Iron." Around it revolves a story in which brazen men of the great West reveal their hates and their loves for little Jean Carver, while in the hands of its champion in the person of the New York playwright, Smasher, now scenes beautifully portrayed, of the sort that holds and romance of the good old-fashioned kind offer settings for the splendid art of the brilliant Barbara Castleman as Joan. "The Branding Iron" will brand itself in memory long after other pictures forgotten.

TEMPLE.

Side! A terrible thought, but he never live without her, so he must the sooner the better. The gas is already filling the room with its deadly fumes. But hark! Is that the scolding sound of poker chips rattling next door? Are those human voices saying, "Open for five!" "Raise you five!" and other poker expressions? Even so, Ah, life after all is sweet and women at times unnecessary, yea, at times like this, superfluous. Good-bye, suicide!

Walter Hiers is the hero of this little scene and this is one of the comedy relief moments in Ethel Clayton's latest starring vehicle, "A City Sparrow," to be shown at the Temple theatre today. The leading man is Clyde Fillmore. The picture was directed by Sam Wood, and the adaptation of Kate Jordan's splendid story was made by Clara G. Kennedy.

At the present rate of expenditure the maintenance of the Allied armies in German occupied territories will cost Berlin 27,900,000,000 marks this year.

SHRINERS TO KICK OVER DASHBOARD IN HONOR OF VISITORS

A grand doo-doo-doo with spangly trimmings will be flung here tonight by the Shrine club of Ranger at which visiting nobles from Dallas and Fort Worth will be treated to water-buffalo steaks fried in toad frog lard and garnished with poison ivy.

Large delegations from both Dallas and Fort Worth will reach the Texas & Pacific station tonight at 7:20. "Spot" Collins, with the bright and gaudy keeper of the Jeweled Whip and Grand Whoop-La of the Exalted So-and-So, has requested local Shriner to be present at the station to welcome the visiting nobles. It is also urged that local Shriner wear their fez top-pieces and bring their own or someone else's automobiles.

A jazz band and the Ranger Glee club will furnish music at the festivities. Eats will be plentiful. The delegation from Fort Worth and Dallas likely will exceed 150 nobles, it is understood.

WOMAN BURGLAR FORGETS HER GLOVES WHILE LOOTING HOUSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A woman is believed to be the leader of a gang of burglars that has been raiding Flatbush. The police arrived at this theory yesterday after making a survey of the home of Miss Maude E. Connelly, which was entered Tuesday evening. Miss Connelly was attending church. The robbery netted the thieves clothing and jewelry valued at several thousand dollars.

The Connelly home sets back from the avenue and is surrounded by a spacious lawn. Part of the mansion is occupied by David M. Bothwell, a real estate man, who is related to Miss Connelly.

She returned to find the home ransacked. Electric lights were blazing in every room.

Many cigarette stubs indicating that the thieves had operated deliberately, were scattered about. In one of the rooms a pair of women's gloves which Miss Connelly said were not hers, were found. The gloves, the police believe, were forgotten when the burglars departed.

ST. LOUIS BURGLAR DE LUXE WORKS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—The "Burglar de Luxe" has arrived in St. Louis. He is a rare bird, who detests interruptions and altercations. Consequently he calls by appointment only, the host being entirely unaware, however, that he is to be honored by the visit.

His is a life of ease, the element of danger is conspicuously absent and his remuneration is ample. He probably looks up a customer's rating before he bothers one at all. If it is AA1 he calls, otherwise the name is scratched off his list.

The "Burglar de Luxe" has been calling the home of Mrs. E. F. Sparwasser, 1121 Lawrence avenue, by the telephone several times each day during the past two weeks. Each time he has called someone answered and he has asked: "Is Carriet there?" or "Is Clara there?"

Being assured that no one answered from the number he was ringing the "Burglar de Luxe" called. When he departed he took with him clothing and jewelry valued at $700.

If you want good schools you must do your part. Pay your taxes.—211 Marston Bldg.—Adv.

wife." One merchant introduced himself as a "petticoat merchant." Another said he "dealt in hijackers' tools and operated a pawn shop."

Between the speeches that followed, the election returns were read and solos were sung by Mrs. Grubbs and Miss Betzer. Readings were given by Miss Jordan. Each of the ladies was forced to respond to an encore. Miss Covart, who rendered a piano selection, despite the tremendous applause given her refused to appear a second time.

While the election returns were being read several Harding supporters took their lives in their hands and openly cheered.

Carnival Plan Lauded.

Lytton R. Taylor led the speakers. He said that Chicago or New York might have turned out the crowd that was at the drawing when the prizes of the first carnival were given away, but he doubted if any other city in the state could have duplicated it. In the crowd of 7,000 that had gathered there was born a new spirit, the speaker said—a spirit that would take their noses from their own private grindstones and co-ordinate themselves into a solid movement for the upbuilding of the city.

Mr. Taylor believed that the retail merchants and the trade carnival have done and will do wonderful work which would get everybody better acquainted, make this city a good place in which to live and make for it a place in the sun.

Carnival Boomed Trade.

In support of the interest that was taken in the trade carnival just passed, J. B. Owens cited one instance. He said that on Sunday his company ran a notice in the Times that tickets would be given for bills paid up until 2:30 o'clock

THOUSANDS AGREE AS TO THIS

That Black-Draught Is Excellent for Stomach and Liver Disorders. Hence Its Great Popularity.—Mississippi Planter's Indorsement.

Houston, Miss.—Mr. J. A. Trenor, a well-known planter of this place, recently related his experience in using Theoford's Black-Draught. "I don't believe there is a better liver medicine made," said Mr. Trenor. "I use it for headache, stomach disorders and torpid liver.

"It is not bad to take, does not leave a constipated condition, as so many of the liver pills and medicines do. It does its work and leaves you feeling like a new person."

Thousands of others have found Black-Draught as helpful as Mr. Trenor describes, and a valuable remedy for derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. It is purely vegetable, having an active effect upon the bowels, gently stimulating the liver, and helping to increase the flow of bile.

Black-Draught has been found to assist in the digestion of food, and relieves constipation in a prompt and normal way.

On account of Black-Draught's long-proved merit and immense popularity, many imitations are being offered for sale. For your own satisfaction it will pay you to insist upon the genuine, and be sure the package bears the name "Theoford's Black-Draught."

At your druggist's—ready for instant use—full directions in package.—Adv.

Monday. Between the hours of 12:30 and 1:30 o'clock, he said that the volume of bill payers grew great. Mr. Owens thought the way for the city and the Retail Merchants association to grow and expand was for everybody to get in personal touch with each other. Through the association, he thought this was being done.

Mr. Crosby, a new citizen from Chicago, was asked to give his opinion of the city. In response, he said he had been here only a day, but that in that time he had found a spirit that could not be developed in such magnitude in his city, and that he would be permanently located with Vallant & Company.

Asks Educational Aid.

An appeal to the assemblage for the little school children, and for community effort, was the gist of J. E. T. Peters' talk. It was community effort, Mr. Peters said, that had secured the new station that is going to be built, and which secured the things promised from the telephone company in yesterday's Times. The little children of Ranger, the speaker said, were going to school in shacks, but that soon the voters would have an opportunity to vote a new high school to cost $250,000. Mr. Peters asked that this issue be carried for the sake of the little children who in time would make Ranger's population 40,000.

For an illustration to show how the retail merchants were taking the lead in city building, C. C. Chenoweth went back to the old days and told how, when the vast herds started from the plains to the markets a certain bunch of cattle always took the lead. These, Mr. Chenoweth said, were known as leaders and day after day they might be found out in front. To either side of them were two cowboys known as pointers. In Ranger, the speaker declared, the situation was the same. Others might point, but the merchants were day after day out in the lead.

A Davenport declared that today, for the first time in months, his company was going to add a new clerk to its staff. The credit he gave to the work of advertising being done by the association over Ranger's trade territory.

Advertising Pays.

Mr. Davenport said that when he was approached to buy some of the dollar-a-inch advertising being offered in the organization's trade paper which is to be gotten out, he refused, but since that time he had changed his mind and was going to buy some, because he knew it was worth the money.

The toastmaster explained that the paper referred to would be of twenty pages, newspaper size, and would be circulated in 25,000 homes in a forty-mile radius. He then asked E. J. Barnes to explain the value of this advertising. Mr. Barnes explained that he had no means of measuring this value exactly; but he did know that no man had ever failed from advertising.

E. H. Hume declared that the customers expected to be given trade tickets when they made purchases, and when they failed to get them voluntarily they went away with a feeling that they had been slighted. He believed that for the carnival to reach its full success the merchants should make it a point to see that every customer received the proper amount of tickets.

It was M. H. Smith who likened the banquet spirit to that which pervaded the country during the war. It was this same spirit, he said, which would turn grouches and knockers into optimists and who would make Ranger the greatest city in this section.

City's Fame is Wide.

The advertising being given Ranger by the association was putting the name of this city in the mouths of many people in many states, Secretary Burt declared. In proof of this he stated that in his office were many letters asking what Ranger was doing and if it was coming back. Folks, he said, were talking about the city even as they did about Denver and Tulsa and other towns that had grown to cities with less than Ranger's opportunities. It was by making the strangers talk that a city was built, the speaker said.

Nathan Alexander, in discussing the trade carnival just passed and the distribution of gifts, declared that the system used gave the folks of this and surrounding country absolute confidence in the fairness of the scheme. During the course of the carnival many had expressed the doubt that the awarding of the gifts would be "on the square," but now they knew that the merchants did and will give away valuable gifts that would be won and awarded fairly, he said.

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Burt asserted that much of the success of the

SHALL FIERY LOVE BAR RICH MEXICAN FROM COUNTRY? ARDENT MR. AMADOR APPEALS TO CAPITAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Should Victor J. Amador, a wealthy Mexican commission merchant, be barred from this country because he loves a young Mexican girl now living in New York with such a fiery and jealous desire that he has, as is alleged, threatened to kill her if he can't have her.

Would his admittance to this country cause a tragedy or would it result in happy ending for a love story?

These questions have baffled the authorities at Ellis Island, who have ordered the exclusion of Amador but frankly admit that they don't know whether they are acting wisely in preventing murder and suicide, or foolishly interfering with the course of true love. Official settlement of the problem has now gone to Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The girl is Maria Smerani, daughter of a wealthy and cultivated Mexican family now living in Brooklyn. Her parents were born in Mount Lebanon, Syria, which was the birthplace of her suitor.

Her brother, Antonio, several weeks ago asked the authorities to be on the watch for Amador and prevent his entry, claiming that he had a strange influence over Maria and was desperate enough to commit murder and suicide.

When Amador arrived on a ship from Mexico City, Oct. 17, he was sent to Ellis Island and questioned about Smerani's story. He said his trip was only to buy dry goods to ship to Mexico and denied he was pursuing the youthful Maria.

An official inquiry was then held. Antonio revealed that Amador had a wife and children in Yucatan and there was some question whether he had obtained a divorce. He produced a letter to him from Amador, threatening to kill himself and Maria if they were kept apart.

The girl testified that a year ago she promised to marry Amador, but agreed to give him up "to save her father's life." Once when they were walking in Merida, her home town, she said Amador produced a revolver and threatened her, but she declared she did not believe he would kill her—it was only his jealousy.

Maria said she came here with her family to try to forget her love for Amador. But she broke down and cried when they asked her if she still loved Amador. Finally she said she did, but would give him up for her father's sake. She produced a fervent love letter Amador had written to her from Havana on his trip here, saying that he could not live without her and was on his way to her.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly for the benefit of Times readers.

In the line of ready-to-wear now carried by the Agnes Dillard millinery is an attractive frock of brown duvet de laine embroidered in golden brown with the choker collar and vest of duvetyn, matching the embroidery. The big sleeves are cut in points and faced with duvetyn. A dark blue coat suit has a cleverly cut back, the long narrow girdle which ties in front and the panel back keeping all cut together. Gray squirrel fur makes the fashionable high collar.

Beige georgette embroidered with brown chenille and bugle beads makes a very striking blouse shown at Hume's. The design is elaborate and new and the color combination pretty. The long sleeves are also trimmed with a bit of embroidery. Another pretty blouse and only $10 is dark blue georgette trimmed with a combination braid of tangerine and silver. Hume's also carries hand bags in bead, mesh, leather and velvet.

A 25 per cent reduction is now being given on the entire stock of the Silk Art Shop.

ALTAR SOCIETY ELECTION. The Altar Society of St. Rita's Catholic church will hold its regular meeting at the church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to attend as the election of the society's officers will be held and other business attended to.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—Adv.

BIG WHEAT CROP ON CHEAP LANDS IN WEST TEXAS

HAPPY, Nov. 3.—Ten years ago a wheat crop averaging over fifty bushels per acre was not believed possible, says W. K. Whipple, field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. E. F. Arnold, a farmer of Happy, however, raised on one tract of summer fallowed land an average of fifty bushels and twenty-five pounds per acre. This was done on $40 land. Mr. Arnold and his 12-year-old boy operate a farm of over 700 acres and use the latest type of machinery, including combination harrow-thresher. Arnold is a thorough booster for West Texas, president of the local Chamber of Commerce and a great believer in better schools.

MEN FROM THE NORTH.

As the smoke from the political arena clears away after the election here in Texas the fact that the Republican vote in this state is gaining yearly will become more and more evident.

Politically, this augurs bad. Economically it can be looked upon with considerable satisfaction.

Like the whooping-cough, Republicans for the most part come into Texas from the north. Whatever their political shortcomings may be, most Republicans, except when the scales of partisan bias blind them and the din of political tom-toms stir their blood and cause them to trumpet like their elephantine party emblem, are tolerably nice folk. Many of them are progressive. In some respects a few of them are equal to fair-to-middlin' Democrats. They should be welcomed in Texas.

Texas Democrats ought to be weary of fighting between themselves, anyhow. In the past political conflicts Texas Democrats have fought one another back and forth, and annal, sooner or later must result. The entrance of the new gladiators, however unworthy of the mantle of the Lone Star State's girdled champions, will furnish a diversion.

Besides, Texas needs new blood. Every state does. And the coming of the Republicans from the north is, in a way, a subtle compliment to Texas and Texans. If Texas wasn't a bell-ringer among the commonwealths of the country, Republicans wouldn't come here. Predatory birds of prey by nature, they always seek rich forage.

Welcome the Republicans to Texas. And watch them!

TUMULTY ON WILSON.

Secretary Tumulty's portrayal of the character of President Wilson will take high rank among the classics of American biography. It is the work of an admiring friend who has had extraordinary opportunities to study his subject in the most intimate relations and whose knowledge is verified by his discriminating recognition of qualities which he wishes might have been different. A masterpiece of analysis, it is also a personal tribute of rare eloquence.

When we come to understand the President's abhorrence of war, his hatred of aggression, tyranny and wrong, his idealistic devotion to Democratic self-government and his invincible belief in the ultimate triumph of right, many things are made plain. He has not magnified the responsibilities of his office. They have exalted him. Bound to duty by a conscience as unbending as his will, he appealed to arms only when every other resource had been exhausted and the man of peace and justice became in war the most terrible of the foes of autocracy. With victory gained, such a chieftain could no more surrender its fruits than he could have struck his colors when the conflict was raging.

In the wolfish campaign of destruction waged against him for two years past, many people have become convinced that the President is obstinate and despotic. Lacking the arts of the demagogue, incapable of playing an unworthy part austere, perhaps, in his relations with the public, the fact remains that he is headstrong for nothing but the cause for which tens of thousands of Americans have nobly died and hundreds of thousands are suffering. Others have doubted and wavered, but, broken in body, he is keeping the faith even unto death. It is not his faith alone. It is the faith once gloriously upheld by the freemen that he led to sanguinary fields and immortal triumphs. Obscured as it may be for a time, that faith will endure.

TINKER BOB

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

RED FOX HAS A SECRET.

I wonder if you have guessed who it was that the King saw through the underbrush? Well, I'll tell you—it was Red Fox, and he had come to see Tinker Bob for the same purpose that Jerry the Jay had been there for a few moments before. Yes, just to tell a secret.

"You don't need be afraid," said Tinker Bob, "for there's no one here that will harm you. Tinker knew there was something on Red Fox's mind.

Red Fox was not the kind of a fellow that took advice from even the King of the Forest. He was born that way. So he looked first to one side and then to the other side to satisfy himself that all was well, then he came close to the King and began to speak.

"Oh, King of the Forest, I know a stranger thing than ever the sane Jay Bird told, for he told you something that was not new."

"Red Fox," said Tinker Bob, "you are quite a wonderful fellow. I knew your father when he was carrying Lady Duck to the river, and I knew all of your brothers, but you have the reddest hair of all and I like you even though you are a daring fellow of the Forest. Pray tell me what do you know that is more wonderful than the things that Jerry told. You know that it is very wonderful to run away with the Moon. It will be more wonderful if O Possum doesn't fall off his swing and break his nose on the ground. But tell me what is your secret?"

Red Fox stood very close to the King, so close that his cold nose touched the King's cheek. "Oh, King, know more about Mr. Loggerhead than Jerry the Jay ever did. You see, Mr. Loggerhead didn't know the fellow he was quarreling with when he started a fuss with Rufus the Tree Mouse. Really, Mr. Rat Rufus' grandfather, is a good friend to Mr. Loggerhead, and to think that he would start a fight with the grandson of such a fellow as Mr. Rat is terrible. I saw Mr. Loggerhead just the other day dropping food down from the treetop to Mr. Rat.

I Saw Mr. Loggerhead just the Other Day Dropping Food Down From the Treetop to Mr. Rat.

"And that isn't all, oh King. Do you know that the bundle of food that Rufus the Tree Mouse had on his shoulder was the food that Mr. Loggerhead had dropped down to Mr. Rat from the top of a beech tree?"

Tinker Bob was astonished at the thought of such a silly thing. "Then," said he, "you mean to say that Mr. Loggerhead gathered the food for Rufus in the first place?" Tinker Bob shut the door of his palace. "Now, Red Fox, you and I shall see whether this fellow gathers the food the second time. You stand right here till I call the wonderful Creature of my Desire and she will take us to the place where we can know it all."

Tinker Bob tapped the stone of Knowledge and the Beautiful Creature came quickly.

Tomorrow—Mr. Rat Gathers Another Bundle.

RIPPLING RHYMES

LACK OF WORRY.

There's nothing I can worry over in all my daily round, and so my heart is sad and sore and briny tears abound. The larder's stocked with luscious pies, the cellar's full of spuds, and every morning when I rise I have a change of duds. The diamonds on my harness clank, I have silk shirts galore, and I have money in the bank and credit at the store. No man can say I am in debt, for this or that or those, and so I've no excuse to fret or curse a string of woes. And, having no excuse to brood, I brood and fret and cuss, and in a fierce and bitter mood I make a ghastly fuss. For worry is a state of mind that every man enjoys, and he grows weary of his grind if not a thing annoys. Without a grievance man is lost, his mental innards ache; he'll find a woe at any cost, even tho' it be a fake. And so I grumble when it rains and file a savage roar, and when the sunshine gilds the plains, I grumble all the more, an wasn't born to go his way, without a cross or care; some ill should prod him every day or he is in despair. A sugar diet fattens men, but undermines the spine; a dash of bitters now and then, or vinegar, is fine.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Undaunted by the H. C. of L.

Sitting for a few minutes on a park bench the Woman could not help overhearing the conversation of her neighbors. They were women of the so-called poorer class and they had brought out their sewing and their babies for an airing. Plump, healthy babies, too, and the mothers kept them trim and neat. They were a thrifty looking lot and in these days, when, in spite of high prices, it sometimes seems as if every one had turned shiftless and extravagant, it was a goodly sight to see. Just how thrifty a careful young mother can be it took the latest comer to reveal. All the other mothers had exclaimed over the charms of the pink sweater and the little white dress worn by her dot of a baby girl.

"Well," said the newcomer, "my husband doesn't make as much money as some other people around where I live, but I manage. That sweater? Oh, I made it from one of mother's. It was all torn under the sleeves—you know she's a big woman—so I took and ravelled it out, washed the yarn, dyed it pink—it only took five cents worth of dye—knit it into a

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

By LEE PAPE

We was having joggerly in skool today and the windows was open and I felt almost as much like summer as wat summer does, and I hadn't studied my homework and I was afraid maybe I mite not be able to make up an answer in case Miss Kitty asked me a question, and all of a suddin I had a idee to get out early, thinking, G. I'll ask as if I thawt I was sick and maybe Miss Kitty will tell me to go home and go to bed.

And I started to put my hand on my forehead and quick take it away agen as if it coulnd stand the hot fever, and after a while Miss Kitty said, Bonny Potts, wot in the world do you think you doing?

I must be sick, I sed.

Nonsents, you wats the matter with you? sed Miss Kitty, and I sed It feels something like the meezles coming on.

My goodniss, sed Miss Kitty. And she quick came down to my desk and everybody started to look jelliss on account of thinking I was going to get out early, and Miss Kitty put her hand on my forehead, saying, Do you feel any fever?

Lots, I sed, And she kept her hand here a minit, saying, O, I see, and do you feel any other simptoms of meezles, are your elbows stiff?

Yes mam, awfyll stiff, I sed.

Have you got suddin panes in the end of your nose? sed Miss Kitty.

Yes mam, suddin as anything, I sed.

Youre suffering from acute imagination, thats wats the matter with you, young man, sippose you stay in an hour tffir skool and see if that will make you feel better, sed Miss Kitty.

Wich I did, making me feel warse insted of better.

GIRL MARRIED UNDER THREATS GIVEN FREEDOM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Accusing Benjamin Berman, a singer and entertainer, with having given her 17-year-old daughter, Rose Presnall, a classical dancer of 355 Grove street, intoxicants and promising to make a theatrical star out of her, Mrs. Gertrude Presnall, the girl's mother, today obtained an annulment of her daughter's marriage on a charge of fraud, in Superior Judge E. P. Mogan's court.

According to the girl's testimony, Berman called at her home on Sept. 11 in his auto and drove her to Redwood City, where, under threats she declared, he compelled her to marry him.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood. For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Director, 160 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

sweater for the baby and you may be sure she doesn't wear it unless I am with her to take care of it. The little black velvet I run in around the waist cost 37 cents.

"Then the dress. My mother gave me a good linen towel, but cotton will do for us. So I took it and made Mamie that little slip. And the buttons! Well, I guess I won't tell you about the buttons."

"Oh, go on, you've told us the rest," chorused the other mothers. And the Woman almost added her voice to the chant.

"Well," returned the mother of the pink-sweatered baby. "I went down with my ashes one morning and there in the can was a waist with six pearl buttons on it. Think of any one throwing away those beautiful buttons! I covered it up with a newspaper, took it upstairs and ripped 'em off. Don't they look fine?"

They did and all the mothers said so and the Woman on the adjoining bench felt like clapping her hands and saying "Bravo!"

Oh, What's the Use? "I wish you'd try, my dear, to realize that you're not at college now, that you're home for the summer with your family and friends and that we all speak a normal, healthy language!"

"But, mother," came the young crisp voice, "you can't possibly expect me to drop in a couple of weeks a talent it took me a whole term to study."

"Study!" Mother's exclamation was a shriek. "Study! Do you mean to tell me you studied that lingo?"

"Mother, it isn't a lingo. It's just an abbreviation, a code of terms, as it were. And you're simply out of it if you don't speak the way the other girls do. The night before we left one of the prof's wives chaperoned us to the wettest dog on the hill, where—"

"Wettest dog! Dorothe-a! What do you mean?"

"I mean a bum hash house, er—er, Oh, gee, mother it's no use."

And it wasn't. The Woman watched mother and daughter leave the bus in gloomy silence.

A Teacher of Statesmanship. "Behold a victim of wasted energy," and a buyer in a department store within a stone's throw of Bryant park indicated an energetic looking woman racing in the direction of the elevators, the papers in her hand fluttering agitatedly. "If all that pep could only be applied to some practical purpose!" he sighed. "She is the originator of a school for salespeople, and is making the rounds of the stores getting points from executives on how to train the young idea to turn merchandise over at a profit. Of course, the store executives tell her all they know and a lot that they conceive on the spot, and all of them honestly hope that she will get along. And why? For the reason that we cannot coax young men and women to come into the stores and learn to be salespeople."

"Personally I do not blame them, when they can make more money doing something else. Possessed of wit and initiative, they can earn twice as much somewhere else. But more power to the lady. Maybe she will be able to sell something that we can give away with a bonus. Some people don't think a thing is any good unless it comes high, you know."

An important contribution to scientific achievement has been made by Sister Monica Taylor, of the convent of Notre Dame, in Glasgow, whose work has attracted notable attention in the world of science. She has discovered what many have sought, the method of breeding anachore, lowly lying things which biological students are set to study early in their careers.

PRINCE'S PET MAY DROWN IN HEAVY FOG OF LONDON

"Mountain Devil" Never Drinks, Absorbs Dew Through Pores.

By Associated Press

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 3.—The Prince of Wales collected a varied menagerie in the course of his trip to the United States and British Dominions. The pride of his collection when he reached Bermuda on his way back to London was an ugly little creature about eight inches long, part lizard and part toad and called "Horace."

In Australia whence he came, they call him "mountain devil," though he and his family live on a hot, dry plain. The strange thing about him is that he never drinks. His family have dwelt so long in their arid land that nature has enabled them to absorb dew through their pores. Some of the newspaper men aboard the Bonaventure expressed the fear that when Horace encountered a London fog he would absorb so much moisture that he would drown.

Other components of the royal menagerie were about 500 canary birds, an equal number of parrots, four laughing jackasses and a small kangaroo. Most of them were destined to become residents of the London Zoological Gardens.

UNIVERSITY TO AID LEGION TO CONSTRUCT TUBERCULAR HOSPICE

AUSTIN, Nov. 3.—Co-operating with the American Legion, the University of Texas Interscholastic league is to aid in the raising of funds for the American Legion tubercular hospital to be erected at Kerrville.

W. R. Duffy, assistant state director of publicity for the American Legion through the extension department of the University of Texas, is making a direct appeal to the University Interscholastic leaguers. Circular letters have been sent to practically every public school in the state. These letters appeal to the patriotism of the children. Instructions for carrying out the plans of the American Legion are also given. On Nov. 6, the day proclaimed by Governor Hobby as American Legion tag day, the school children of the state will sell the tags, which are being sent out to the several schools by the extension department.

Your school taxes must be paid. They need it now.—211 Marston Bldg.—Adv.

structed to Refund Price
While you Wait at Counter
if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four tea-spoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.
