CITIZENS TOLD OF GAS COMPANY CONTROL PLAN

Seventy-five of Ranger's leading citizens gathered last night at a banquet at the Lone Star, tendered them for the purpose of introducing Senator A. P. Barrett, president of the Sammie Oil Corporation, who explained the proposition whereby it is intended that local citizens shall control the policies of the local gas distributors.

J. J. Owens was toastmaster. Mayor M. H. Hagaman introduced the honor guest, and the directors who have been elected by the business interests and the committee from the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants association also spoke. All speakers recommended the proposition submitted by Mr. Barrett as unique but meritorious.

After the dinner had consumed the repast to the last mouthful and were contentedly blowing smoke ceilingward while listening to the orchestra's tuneful renditions and the chery singing of Broadway Jones, Mr. Owens arose and stated the purpose of the gathering. He spoke of the early days in Ranger and the difficulties under which gas consumers labored in obtaining sufficient fuel when they wanted it; how he had dropped in here, maybe for a few days, perhaps permanently, and it was through the encouragement of Mayor Hagaman that he had stayed here to establish the present plant of the Sammie company. For this reason, he said, he felt it was eminently proper that the mayor should be the man who introduced Senator Barrett to the citizens.

A Few Facts.

Mr. Hagaman in introducing the principal speaker presented what he termed a "few facts" concerning the bonds. He told of the sale of the city improvement bonds; how people in other sections decided that Ranger was but a temporary oil camp; and refused to purchase its securities; how Ranger then purchased its own bonds, and immediately that word had gone out, offers to purchase poured in; he illustrates the wisdom of home ownership by citing France, which always absorbs its own improvement issues and public service, and has become prosperous thereby, and made the point that Ranger could profit by following this example.

Senator Barrett then unfolded his proposal in detail, relating the steps that had been taken to provide its worth and absence of any unfair intent. The corporation has a capital stock of $500,000 he said, of which $140,000 is in the treasury in the form of 10 cent preferred stock, which is redeemable at the end of two years, or afterward at the option of the company, on payment of a bonus of 5 per cent, but the holders of which have the option of converting it into common stock, share for share. No commissions will be paid on selling this stock, he said, all moneys going into the treasury to be used for improvements, extensions and other corporate purposes to be decided upon by the board of directors.

Local Board.

This board will be composed of Ranger men, if the stock is sold, he said. Although Ranger stockholders will be in the minority, this will be done by the issuance of a power of attorney by Mr. Barrett. Mr. Barrett stressed the fact that Ranger is under no obligation to buy this stock, that it is nothing in the nature of a bonus, but that it will be both a good and safe investment and will also benefit the town through local control, insuring fairness of rates and adequate development. The value to the company of having the stock owned locally is in the friendliness to be gained by the town feeling that it is its own institution. He pledged his co-operation in making Ranger the city that is pictured in the minds of its builders and promised that the money derived from the stock sales will remain here for local development. "I will bring more here than I will take away," he concluded.

Looked for Joker.

Major H. S. Cole, president of the Chamber of Commerce, F. D. Bastopli, a member of the chamber's committee which investigated the proposition, E. J. Barnes and E. M. Humes, of the Retail Merchants' association, J. J. Castellav and Guy Wetzel, newly elected directors, all vouched for the proposition. They frankly said that when first submitted it was so unusual that they looked for a joker somewhere, but could not find it. They believed it was both a good investment and a wise civic move. Mr. Cole expressed the opinion of all in saying that the average public service corporation is looked upon as an octopus which a town must always be fighting, but he believed the ammie company's main consideration in offering the stock here was to secure the friendly interest and co-operation aroused by having local control.

J. J. Castellav stressed the point that if Ranger would derive the benefits of the plan it must buy the stock, and himself lead off with a subscription of $1,000. Total subscriptions of more than $12,000 were made before the meeting adjourned, and M. H. Smith, who was unable to be present, sent word that he would subscribe as much as any other man in town. Ed. Mahler and L. D. Harms also spoke.

Ove Overson summed up the situation in a "spirited" talk which closed the evening. That is, he began with a few well-chosen remarks on the departed occasion a few years ago, and concluded with an appeal to public spirit to carry out the plan as outlined at the banquet. It is a civic duty as well as good investment, he continued, and hearty applause followed and indicated that the speaker had taken the same view.

MAIL ROBBERY FULLY SOLVED, OFFICERS SAY

Ten Men Under Arrest, but Taxi Driver Is Still Sought.

By Associated Press.
COUNCIL BLUFFS, Nov. 19.—Seven more arrests and the recovery of a large amount of money have resulted from the discovery last night of the automobile used. Results to date are rapidly clearing up the mystery of the $3,500,000 mail car robbery in the local yards Saturday night. Two of those arrested are white men and the others negro, who are being held in connection with a missing mail sack.

Following the confession of H. A. Reed, who lives at the home of T. A. Daly, a mail sack containing a large quantity of the honey in $10 denomination bills was recovered from the taxi driver's chicken house. The amount has not been made public.

Federal authorities announced today that the case was cleared up and that the ten men under arrest will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Byers.

TAXI DRIVER MISSING WITH HALF MILLION

International News Service.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 19.—An Omaha taxi driver, believed to have in his possession about $500,000 worth of valuable papers taken from the Burlington, Chicago and Omaha mail train, is being sought this morning by police and postal inspectors. Police believe that his arrest will completely solve the matter.

The three men, who have confessed a part in the holdup, are Merle and Orill Phillips, brothers, and Fred Postengruber. When arrested, Postengruber told the police that he had a mail sack with $800,000 worth of negotiable papers in it, hidden away in his kitchen stove, being afraid to cash the papers at the time.

BOARD TO CALL HIGH SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

An election will be called to vote school bonds for an amount to be decided at the next meeting of the school board for the Ranger district, according to a statement made by a member yesterday. It is expected that the amount to be voted will be used to construct a high school building on the site of the present structure. The date of the meeting of the board has not yet been decided but it is expected that it will be soon. All the members have agreed that for the city to be the leader in education that it expects to be a new school building is absolutely necessary. Nearly the entire citizenship is also of the same opinion.

With public opinion behind the move there is no doubt in the minds of the leaders in education of the city that the bond issue will carry easily. To add to this belief is the fact that no increase in taxes will follow. Ranger, fortunately, from an assessed valuation of $16,000,000, has sufficient income to promote a school system that will rank with the best in the state. Leaders in the work expect to bring this condition about, and are working unceasingly to this end. They hope in time to make the schools the best advertisement that the city has.

SAYS U. S. AGREES TO MAKE JAPS CITIZENS

International News Service.
LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Daily Express printed today the following communication from its Tokyo correspondent, Hugh Byas:

"The main points in the Japanese-American agreement are nearing final completion. Japan agrees to stop further immigration to America, provided America grants the right of citizenship to the Japanese already here. The questions of minor land ownership and dual nationality will be adjusted before the final settlement. There is every prospect that all dangerous elements have been disposed of."

WOMAN'S SKELETON MAKES MURDER SUICIDE PUZZLE

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 19.—Detectives were working today to determine whether Miss Pasqualina Di Nenna, 40, who disappeared from the home of her brother last May, committed suicide or was the victim of foul play. Her skeleton was found in the woods about a mile from her home.

Shortly after she disappeared her brother, Joseph, was shot and killed. Her skeleton was found by hunters. Identification was established by pieces of clothing found near Vincenzo Antico, of Landsville, was indicted, charged with the murder of Joseph, but disappeared before he could be arrested.

INQUEST CONTINUES OVER BODY OF MISS SANDERS

International News Service.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—C. L. Walker of Lorado arrived here today to represent the family of Theodora Sanders, the beautiful young woman who plunged a knife into her breast while in the company of H. H. The inquest was resumed here today by Coroner Peter Hoffman and the testimony indicates that the woman killed herself in dependence over a love affair with Tarver.

CONSTANTINE STILL BELIEVES IN DIVINE RIGHT

Would Not Be Content With Constitution; Own Supporters Disagree.

International News Service.
ATHENS, Nov. 19.—Constantine, former king of Greece, will never be content as constitutional king of that country, if he returns to the throne. He wants to be king on the Hohenzollern plan. His idea is that of sovereignty by divine right, but the Greek constitutionists will stand nothing of this kind, according to the present premier of that country.

Premier Rallis of the Greek government today informed the royal princess, who left there in the wake of the adverse fortunes of ex-King Constantine, that she would be allowed to return. Queen Olga, mother of Constantine, has issued a statement, in which she has asked the people to remain calm. She declares that duty, equality and liberty have been restored to Greece.

Barnes Lumber Co. to Build Big Plant, Austin and Cherry

The E. J. Barnes Lumber company, now located on the Tiffin road, will move its business to Austin and Cherry streets, adding improvements that will involve expenditure of several thousands of dollars. It is planned to build a single-story office building and display room of tile and concrete of considerable dimensions. A one-story lumber shed, 20 by 80 feet; a three-story shed, 30 by 120 feet; and a two-story shed, 20 by 60 feet, are also planned. The three sheds with the ground to be covered will store a stock of lumber in excess of 1,000,000 feet. It is expected that the improvements will begin at once.

Pioneer Company.
The Barnes Lumber company is one of the pioneer companies of the city. It was organized at the time oil was discovered and has been one of the leading companies since. Its general manager, E. J. Barnes, has been connected with the lumber industry in Ranger for twenty years. He is a native of the town and directly after finishing his education he became connected with a local concern. Since that he has been actively engaged in the business. The planned improvements of his company to build on its new location for permanence is evidence that he considers the local field is permanent.

At the present time, it is admitted, the lumber industry has suffered a slump, but, in the opinion of Mr. Barnes, this is only temporary and during the coming year it will resume its normal trend.

H. C. L. GOES UP IN SWITZERLAND

Berne, Nov. 19.—The cost of living in Switzerland reached a new record last month, being 31.2 per cent higher than was ever known here. The cost of maintenance for a family of four, including only the bare necessities of life, now amounts to 2,700 francs yearly. The increase in the price is especially noticeable in the meat and milk trades.

Gas Overcomes Man While in Bath Tub; Saved by Pulmotor

The life of Will Morrison, who had been overcome by gas in the bathroom at the White House on Frisk street, probably was saved yesterday afternoon by the use of a pulmotor. Morrison was apparently dead for twenty minutes before the machine restored respiration. Good fortune also intervened in his behalf in saving him from drowning in the tub after he lost consciousness, his head falling over its edge. An automatic gas water heater that was not functioning properly is said to have let the room full of gas.

Morrison went into the room for the purpose of bathing and turned the water on. The heater is supposed to burn constantly and heat the water as it runs. But, without his knowledge, when the water was loosed the gas stopped burning but continued to flow. A few minutes later Morrison lost consciousness. The landlady at the rooming house, hearing the water running for a longer period than she thought necessary, looked into the window and saw the man lying in the tub. Help was called and he was carried to a room. E. F. Adair of the Milford Undertaking company was summoned with the pulmotor and Dr. A. K. Weir. They worked for twenty minutes before Morrison breathed again.

In telling of the accident, he said that he felt sleepy, then things got dark, and he went to sleep.

WAR VET HUNG AFTER FOUR REPRIEVES

International News Service.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Shotched from the gallows four times, Arthur Hansen was hung here today for the murder of his young wife. He was a veteran of the world war and had hoped, until the last, that a reprieve would halt the execution, as it had on four previous occasions.

During the fifth night of terror, he played casino and entertained his guards with recitals of his experiences while overseas. He was calm, cool and collected until the end, never ceasing to protest his innocence.

SHIPPING BOARD GRAFT CHARGES INVOLVE TEXANS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The federal trade commission has cited thirty-six ship chandlers and ship repair firms operating in southern ports to answer charges, which maintain that they gave gratuities to the captains, officers and employees of the ships brought them for repairs.

The firms will be given forty days in which to file answers, after which the cases will be tried on their merits. Ports in which firms operate include Port Arthur, Galveston and Texas City.

SINCLAIR MAN WARNS OIL OPERATORS AGAINST GOVERNMENT CONTROL

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Warning against the government control of the oil industry "if the industry itself does not meet and necessarily deal with the problems confronting it," was given delegates to the convention of the American Petroleum Institute today by M. L. Requa of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation. Requa was head of the oil department of the United States fuel administration.

"It is not a question of ignoring conditions, but one of choosing the course to be followed, for, regardless of wishes, even will be forced to follow either that of industrial co-operation in conservation or government dictatorship. Government aid may be required," he said.

THIRD VICTIM OF EXPLOSION DEAD; ONE MAN HELD

By Associated Press.
GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 19.—James Bolton, a farmer, whose home near here was dynamited yesterday, died last night, bringing the death list to three. Mrs. Hattie Shipley, Bolton's housekeeper, whose two small children were instantly killed, is believed to be mortally injured. It was first reported the children were Bolton's.

Vernon Thompson is held in connection with the explosion, as Montgomery county authorities maintain that an investigation showed that Bolton and Thompson had been enemies for a long time. Their enemy culminated in an encounter on election day, in which Bolton shot Thompson in the neck.

500 RUSSIAN RADICALS AWAIT DEPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—More than 500 Russian radicals remain to be deported, the department of labor announced today. All except forty of these are at liberty on bail, the others being held in confinement on Deser Island, Boston, and Ellis Island, N. Y., being regarded as too dangerous to be allowed even temporary liberty.

The department of labor explains the delay in deporting the Russians to the fact that the Scandinavian countries refuse to receive the deported ones. The frontier between Finland and Russia is closed.

TWO AMERICAN FLEETS TO JOIN MANOEUVRES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Admiral Conz, chief of naval operations, will witness the first joint maneuvers of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets in Panama Bay and off the South American coast early next year. Secretary Daniels said that if possible he also will be with the fleets at that time.

The fleets will meet in Panama Bay in February, and under command of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commander of the Atlantic fleet, will steam southward.

MERCHANTS WILL DISCUSS WHITE WAY

Plans for a "white way" for all the downtown streets will be discussed tonight at an open meeting of the Retail Merchants' association, to be held in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce.

Representatives from several lighting companies will be present and show schemes for a "white way" can be worked out. Plans for financing the project will also be discussed and considered. It is expected some arrangement can be worked out between the property holders, the merchants and the city.

The meeting will not be confined to members of the association. Everyone who is interested in better lighted streets are asked to be in attendance. The merchants association is of the opinion that no local move at this time is of more importance than a "white way." Once installed, it is said, that its appearance will give a metropolitan air to Ranger that cannot be secured in any other way.

The cost, it is believed, will not be prohibitive if properly allotted to all those who will be benefited.

Rock Slide May Close Pittsburgh Passenger Depot

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 19.—Engineers estimate that a damage varying from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 resulted from the great slide of earth and stone which for the past two weeks has been steadily moving down hill toward the passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad. Nine steam shovels are working day and night to remove the earth as it reaches the railroad tracks. Approximately 5,000 tons are sent out every 24 hours.

The slide began when the city attempted to straighten the curve in the boulevard leading to the station. The slide is moving at the rate of about a foot an hour. The situation is reaching a point where it may be necessary to re-rout the train.

Mayor Babcock has obtained the services of Major General Goethals, Panama canal builder, to advise the city engineers in their effort to stop the slide.

FOURTH MAN ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF ACTRESSES

International News Service.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The fourth man believed to have taken part in the party which resulted in the death of Marie Gurney and Lillian Thompson was arrested today aboard the steamship Eilonia by ichigan police authorities, according to word received by Chicago police. Although given the name of McCarty by both Harold Goegerson and Marcus Bromberg, he stated that his real name was Michael Cox.

Cox first denied any connection with the affair, but finally broke down and confessed that he met the girls a short while prior to the time when they were joined by Bromberg and Goegerson. He maintained that the girls were intoxicated at that time, and denied that he even entered the cab with the girls nor that he was at any time at Grant park.

SENATOR WILL FIGHT FOR FEDERAL CONTROL OF INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A fight over the compulsory arbitration of strikes by the federal government is anticipated by members of congress during the approaching short term. Senator Cummings, Republican senator of Iowa, who is chairman of the senate's interstate commerce committee, stated today that he would seek to have the recent provision adopted by the senate and rejected by the house at the last session of congress, reconsidered.

IRISH QUESTION DIVIDES ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—"Only direct necessity" can justify a resort to arms for the adjustment of disputes in Ireland, Frederick Howe, chairman of the commission from the committee of 10 investigating the Irish question, declared here today at the opening of the commission's hearing. He added that present conditions in Ireland have created a widening of the rift in friendly relations between English-speaking people, not only in the United States, but all over the world.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 19.—Charles Cooper, negro, convicted of the murder last May of Ollie Pickett, white, daughter of a farmer near here, paid the death penalty in the electric chair at 7 o'clock this morning.

Cooper went to his death with little display of emotion. Last Thursday he made an attempt to kill a penitentiary guard.

GERMANY MAY BREAK TREATY OF VERSAILLES

Threatens Action Unless Elected to League of Nations Membership.

International News Service.
GENEVA, Nov. 19.—Germany is threatening to break the treaty of Versailles, according to information received from an authoritative source today. She has sent a note to the League of Nations, demanding that the mandate relative to the German colonies be taken away from the inter-allies' supreme conference, Germany wants representation on the assembly handling the affairs of the conference. The note makes it clear that Germany will reserve the right to break unless her suggestion, regarding the mandate, is accepted.

The first maneuvers of Germany relative to her recent note to the league of nations depends to a large extent upon the assembly's reception of her application for membership. Although it is said that there are a number of the representatives who are willing to pass up any attempt on her part to become a party to the assembly which met behind closed doors today, it is the opinion of those, who have made a thorough canvass of a situation, that in favor of her admittance are the majority.

TROOPS TO VILNA.

International News Service.
GENEVA, Nov. 19.—Great Britain, Spain and Belgium have notified the league of nations assembly that they propose to maintain forces at Vilna for the protection of their interests. Vilna is in Lithuania, but claimed by both the Poles and Lithuanians.

SEN. HARDING WILL NOT VISIT MEXICAN PORT

International News Service.
ON BOARD STEAMSHIP TARIMNALL, Nov. 19.—It was learned today Senator Harding will not touch at some Mexican port to meet with General Obregon, president-elect, to discuss Mexican conditions. His decision was reached after due deliberation, and not because the steamship company was unable to do so, but for the reason that he does not feel free to make such a visit, except with the approval of his co-laborers or the president. Mr. Harding has a very delicate feeling regarding these matters of foreign contact.

JOHN DOE WAS AMONG GUESTS AT BANQUET

Ranger evidently has more than its share of John Does. It is known that three were in the city last night. That is too many John Does for any one town. If it was Smith, now, it might be possible. Two of the Johns were in the bastle last night under charge of drunkenness. One was the guest of the Sammie Gas company at its banquet. It can be easily understood why men named Doe would be at the police station, but just why a banquette under the prevailing drought, would want to be John Doe is not understood. In the days that were, such action might have been construed as following the axiom of safety first—since at that time banquets usually began by each guest telling his neighbor how great was the name he bore. That was in the beginning; later in the evening they sometimes poured forth the history of their misspelt lives.

John might have been under the apprehension that this condition through some subtle art enemy might be restored last night and to be sure that his fair name would not be dragged through the mire, he wrote the name of John Doe on his guest card.

TRIAL OF BRIBED PLAYERS HOLDS UP WHITE SOX DIVVY

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The 1919 world's series prize money, amounting to $15,000, which belongs to the Chicago American baseball team for finishing second has not been awarded as yet, it was announced today.

The old National commission is awaiting the outcome of the trial of eight former White Sox players charged with throwing the 1919 championship games to the Cincinnati Reds. Those White Sox players not under indictment voted in meeting to have the prize money divided into sixteen and one-half shares, excluding members of the 1919 team now under charges. This would make each full share about $900. The commission favors cutting the prize money into twenty-seven and one-half shares, to include seven of the former members charged with crookedness.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Important developments are expected to follow raids made on eight Cincinnati breweries and 100 saloons. The agents took samples of beer from each place visited. Proprietors were warned not to make any more sales until the samples have been analyzed.

2nd Engineers Had Remarkable Record in France

Enlistments Open in Decorated Outfit; Twelve Sign Up in Ranger.

Sergeant McQueen of the army recruiting station at the postoffice reports the enlistment of twelve men during the last week. They are:

Alfred A. Ernst of Youngstown, Ohio; Euin J. Moss of Pangburn, Ark.; Earl W. Huntley of Davenport, Iowa; Neal W. Sullivan of Grant, Okla.; John R. Wood of Ardmore, Richard E. Caudry of St. Louis, John G. Moss of Stephenville and Tom L. Russell of Fort Worth, all of whom enlisted for three years in Panama.

Earl C. Patterson of Mesquite and John Jackson of New York city enlisted in the coast artillery and were sent to the Pacific coast.

Samuel C. Shackelford of Carbon and Wilfred G. Bishofshausen of Haskell will serve one year with the Seventeenth field artillery, Camp Travis, Texas.

Sergeant McQueen reports that there are a few vacancies in the Second Engineers, second division, which was recently awarded the fourragere by the French government for distinguished service at Soissons. The citation reads:

Remarkable Ardor and Tenacity. "Unexpectedly engaged in the offensive of July 18, 1918, in the dead of night, over unknown and difficult ground, this regiment displayed for two days a remarkable ardor and tenacity, not allowing itself to be stopped by fatigue or by the difficulties in obtaining supplies of subsistence and water. It drove the enemy eleven kilometers to the rear, captured 2,700 prisoners, twelve cannon and several hundred machine guns."

The Second Engineers has an enviable war record; at Chateau Thierry half the regiment was attached to the marine brigade, and half to the infantry brigade (Ninth and Twenty-third infantry). It was at this time that the famous Belleau Woods action took place. After Chateau Thierry, the regiment went to Soissons with the Second division, then came St. Mihiel, then Blanc Mont; after this battle the Second division was ordered back for a few days' rest. The Second Engineers was not relieved, however, but were attached to the Thirty-sixth division, who had no engineers, and it served with this division at the battle of Cantigny.

At the conclusion of this battle, the regiment was ordered to rejoin the Second division, and without rest, went into the Argonne and fought until the armistice.

On the night of Nov. 10, the regiment built two bridges across the Meuse river under heavy fire—the far bank being held by the enemy.

RED CROSS WORK MUST SPEED UP IF RANGER IS TO HOLD LEAD IN COUNTY

Less than one-third of the amount necessary for the work to be done by the Red Cross during the coming year had been subscribed last night and the roll call has lost momentum. Even with the encouragement that has been received, fewer workers have responded each day. Yesterday only two were working.

Eastland and Cisco are reporting large successes in the roll call. Last year the membership gained in Ranger was over and above any other city in the oil fields. Unless more workers can be secured, leaders say that in the present enrollment it will be overshadowed by other cities.

Last night Rev. Mr. Winsett, who is here organizing a Christian church, spoke in the theaters. As a result of his talks 128 members were added to those already secured.

Tomorrow it is hoped that a large force of workers can be stationed on the downtown streets. An effort is being made today to obtain these workers.

HOTEL KEEPER FINED FOR HAVING IMMORAL ASSOCIATES

A fine of $100 and court costs was assessed against R. H. Rice yesterday afternoon under a charge of associating with immoral women, which under the law is vagrancy. The case was appealed to the county court. Beverly S.

Dudley represented the city. The defense was represented by Lee J. Marks and L. R. Pearson.

Rice testified that he was the proprietor of the Rice hotel and three snacks on Cherry street. The jury was composed of V. V. Cooper, Colonel Brashner, O. C. Williams, W. A. Hritt, R. L. Smith and S. A. Landers. Police Judge L. H. Flewelen presided.

CONCRETE PAVING BASE BEING LAID ON RUSK

Concrete base is being laid today by the McKenzie Construction company on Rusk street between Walnut and Cherry.

On Lamar street from Railroad avenue to Oak street preparations are being made to lay the curb and gutter. When the base is down on this block it is expected that Lamar street will be opened for traffic until the work of paving the remainder of the street to the Hamon-Kell station begins. This will be delayed for several weeks pending carrying out of all legal phases of the contract the construction company made with the city.

NO BLAZE BUT TRAIN BLOCKS FIREMEN SECOND TIME WITHIN WEEK

A false alarm sent the fire department to the Hamon-Kell station at 12 o'clock last night. When it arrived no blaze could be discovered.

If a fire had been in progress, firemen say that it would have done damage for the reason that they were blocked by a Hamon-Kell southbound passenger train at Lamar street crossing. It is also said that this is the second time within a week that they have been stopped by the same cause.

Last night perhaps five minutes lapsed before the crossing was cleared. Experienced firemen declare that at times even one minute is the deciding factor in saving burning property.

In Zealand the girls and women all wear full long black skirts, white cap, tiny gold spirals, coral beads and aprons.

SOCIETY.

A wedding that came as a surprise to Ranger relatives and friends was that of Mrs. Erma Goley of Ranger, to Mr. Franz Kofelt of Dallas. The wedding took place in Fort Worth at the Mistletoe Heights home of Mrs. Winifred Bowden, formerly of Ranger.

Among the startling discoveries made by Mrs. J. R. Forbes, the well known traveler, who lately returned after wandering for several months from Morocco to Syria, was a tribe of women who lived underground. They are to be found in caves in the Tripoli mountains, and come up, says Mrs. Forbes, only once in the course of their lives. That is when they marry and change their abode for that of their husband.

LAMB—Nazimova in "Madame Peacock," and Pathe News.

TEMPLE

Bill Hart is back in a true-to-life western role in "Sand" which is announced as the first of the new Hart series that the rugged actor is depending entirely upon his own efforts to "put over." And "Sand" has sand. It is a typical Hart picture, only somewhat better than those he has been making for the last year or so. It shows careful attention to everything, a novel plot and enough thrills to make it please most everybody. The pluto pony shares honors with the star. In one scene Hart and the horse leap from a cliff into the river and the only criticism of this is that the scene is altogether too short. The story has been worked out so the audience has an idea of the finish, but it brings a certain amount of sympathy to the hero. Particular mention should be made of Mary Thurman, who is the leading woman. There are a few river scenes that will command the admiration of everybody. The only difference in the character portrayed by the star in this picture, as compared to any of his previous western dramas, is that he is a hero throughout, and not a bandit or a bad man. At the Temple today and Saturday.

TEACHER GIVES COLLEGE SAVINGS OF LIFETIME

WILMINGTON, O., Nov. 19.—Miss Ellen C. Wright, known as "Teacher Ellen," to thousands of students who have attended Wilmington College during her fifty years on the faculty, has again endeared herself to them by the donation of her savings to the fund for new college buildings.

In the campaign recently started to raise funds for new buildings at the college, which is one of the oldest Friends institutions in the country, "Teacher Ellen" was among the first to make a sizable donation. Graduating from Wilmington College more than a half century ago, Miss Wright accepted a position on the faculty in the Latin department. Continuously since then she has been connected with the institution. She now holds the chair of professor Latin emeritus and librarian.

Maj. H. S. Cole, President, Chamber of Commerce, Ranger, Texas.
 Dear Sir:—

The undersigned committee appointed to investigate the accuracy of the statement submitted by the Sammies Oil Corporation to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, completed this work last evening.

We found that the estimates they had made on Gross Sales and Increased Number of Customers were very conservative; while their estimates on General Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes appear to be more than ample.

Our understanding of Senator Barrett's proposition is that he wishes to dispose of $140,000 of Preferred Stock (Treasury) paying 10 per cent annually; to local people; this amount along with what has already been issued makes a total of Preferred Stock issued $250,000. The Common Stock issued of $250,000 does not participate in the earnings of the company until the Operation, Maintenance Expense, New Construction, Interest on Bonds and 10 per cent Dividends on the Preferred Stock issue has been paid.

The Common Stock only has voting power and Senator Barrett's statement to us was that if the Chamber of Commerce approved this plan of selling the $140,000 of Preferred Stock to local people he would agree to give Power of Attorney to four men, to be selected later, transferring to them for voting a majority of the Common Stock issue for a term of two years.

Under the motion as carried at the last meeting of the Board of Directors, it is the Committee's understanding that their approval of Senator Barrett's plan would automatically give the sanction and approval of the Chamber of Commerce. Also,

Your Committee does approve the figures and estimates as submitted and gives their unqualified approval to the proposition as submitted by Senator Barrett.

Very truly yours,
 M. H. SMITH,

Mr. M. O. Burt, Secretary, Ranger Retail Merchants' Association, Ranger, Texas.
 Dear Sir:—

We, your committee, appointed to go into the details of the proposition of the Sammies Oil Corporation, placing on the market $140,000 of 10 per cent preferred stock to be absorbed by the citizens of Ranger, beg to advise you that we have gone into this matter very thoroughly and find that the estimates which they have made in regard to the earnings are based on the actual earnings for 1919. In fact, we have found that their records bear out every statement which they have made and we are glad to state that we believe it is one of the safest investments ever offered to the people of Ranger.

The proposition is so unusual and so very conservative that we unhesitatingly give it our fullest endorsement.
 Respectfully submitted, E. M. HUMES, E. J. BARNES.

ENDOWED PHILANTHROPISTS.

When one considers statistics of the number of millionaires and other alleged wealthy persons in America, he is filled with awe. If those persons who have had the pleasure of being millionaires—philanthropic ones—while in the employ of Uncle Sam could be listed, our awe would become awful.

The disposition of minor officers of the army, who have been given authority apparently far beyond their mentality, to sell anything at any price, becomes more nauseating every day. They have dispensed millions—but not their own—with a generous hand, their only rule being, it seems, that public beneficence as extended by them shall be to the benefit of private individuals and not for that of the people who pay the taxes.

Now comes the shipping board in the same sorry mess of waste and loot.

Americans are supposed to be business people, but it becomes more apparent every day that we are either incompetent in handling affairs, or business and honor will not mix. During the war amazingly excessive quantities of everything under the sun was bought at preposterous prices in the name of the government by persons whose relative position in the service was about as high as the bark's janitor is to the president.

Then the war ended. And by a peculiar coincidence Uncle Sam was found to be overstocked with everything which anyone had offered for sale, including fly paper and red woolen wristlets. It was under the further disadvantage (?) of being overstocked at a time when—owing to the war forces' excessive purchases—there was a shortage of everything and a consequently rising market. These conditions, it seems, made it necessary for Uncle Sam to throw his supplies on the market at any price the bidder would give, and naturally they only brought from one-tenth to one-half of their market value at the time of sale, especially as it was not considered good form to let the public in on these sales. Oh, no, that would be ruinous to prosperity. It would cause prices to fall.

Assume that these sales were made by honest but incompetent men, or the other way around, why should they have been approved? There are supposed to be men somewhere in the government organization who are sufficiently alive to conditions to know that this wastage of public moneys was unnecessary. Actually, the salvage obtained from war stocks is too small to be worth considering. It might well be applied to convicting and punishing the individuals who are responsible.

This is a procedure that should be right in line with Congressman Blanton's type of activities, and since the next congress is Republican, he should have plenty of help.

HURTING A GOOD CAUSE.

Nothing sillier has happened in New York for a long time than the persistent refusal of a number of excitable people, who disapprove of the British government, to allow an uptown theatrical proprietor to include the British flag in his decorations; unless it was the exhibition given by women pickets who paraded in front of an armory because sixteen or seventeen British soldiers were by courtesy quartered there. Perhaps those who wish justice for India, Egypt, Mesopotamia or Ireland think they will get it by parading up Broadway with such battlecries as "To hell with England!" and "Down with the Black and Tans," but the bystander cannot understand just how these demonstrations help the purpose.

A display of tolerance, a manifestation of the spirit of live and let live, might do more than all this froth and violence. If England has been wrong in Ireland (and she has been), it has been because of her intolerance, because of her violence, because of her unwillingness to live and let live. The sympathies of all liberal people are with Ireland. But they are with her despite, not because of, the terrorism practiced by at least a portion of the Sinn Fein and the rabid intolerance which a few self-styled friends of Ireland have tried to inject into American life and politics. No decent American can approve of every detail of British imperial policy, but neither can he approve of attempts to alienate the English and American peoples. At heart the English are as sound and as liberty-loving as we are. If colonial policies were held to represent faithfully the national character, they might point to our record in Haiti as we point to their record in India and Egypt; if natural liberties were under discussion, they might point, not to Ireland, for we have no Ireland, but to parts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Colorado, Arizona and Montana, where such liberties, in times of industrial warfare, have been repeatedly and unjustly taken away.

The Irish cause is so good that it is a shame it has been injured by terrorism in Ireland and blackguardism here.—New York Globe.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

The Woman's Friend Who Is a Fiend at Games has invented a new one. She found the fields in the Finger Lake region heavy with Indian summer beauty and she and her companion declared the harvest scenes "wonderful," "beautiful," "lovely," until they had exhausted their store of adjectives and knew that Mr. Thoreau was right when he said that there are no hues in the language adequate to describe color out of doors. Conversation lagged toward the end of a ten-day trolley trip, and then the Friend Who Is a Fiend at Games thought a moment and the idea was born. Said she to her touring partner, "Let's keep count of all the live stock we see in the fields for the next half hour, counting so many points for each animal. You take the first five minutes and I'll take the next, then alternating until the time is up, each keeping her score for the whole period."

They agreed on the following count: Sheep, 5; cows, 10; horses, 15; white horses, 20; pigs, goats, 25; cats and dogs, 25; a cat in a window, 50; dog under a wagon, 50, and wild animals, 100. The game began and the excitement mounted higher each minute. The other passengers took note of the performance, though most of them had not the slightest notion why the two craned their necks and ejaculated, "Oh, there's a 25!" "See that 50." And when the perpetrator of the game discovered a woodchuck in a cornfield the excitement grew so great that a particularly curious old gentleman came over and asked what the trouble was. It is a good game and the minutes fly, but the Friend Who Is a Fiend at Games says the real way to play it is in a buggy built for two behind a good old horse in a country lane. "You take the right side of the road and I'll take the left side." Page David Grayson.

The Originals.

Amanda-by-the-Hour was busy with her customary "reddin' up" after breakfast. She polished the brasses with a practiced hand, and lifted the ginger jar full of asters to flick away some fallen purple petals, dousing the while in an undertone, "When-Noey-went-into-de-ark, O Lawd, he did! * * * swinging into the refrain while she dusted the wing chair. Into a neat pile in the rack went some recent magazines. "He took a he-an' a shee-er'r kind, O Lord, he did! * * * Say, Miss Mary, does you want this heeb papah?" and she held up a marked sheet.

"Yes, indeed I do, Mandy. There's an article in it I want to read."

Mandy looked at the sheet, her attention caught by the row of good-looking women smiling out from the first page. "Yassum, heeb it is * * * Miss Mary, what in lan' sakes has them purty ladies been doin' to git their pictures in the papah?"

"Oh, they are feminists—women who are doing some outside work in addition to running their homes well and being interesting wives," was Miss Mary's very general explanation. "Is dat all they done. Well, you kin jes' bet this, that Ah's some work 'oman, an' Ah's some wife, but Ah ain't, an' my maw ain't, an' her maw ain't never give up a good job for no no-account nigger! No, ma'am."

THE KING INSIDE THE DEN

When Tinker Bob took a good hold on the tail of Mr. Wolf, something happened. He thought all the time that it was a spirit who was talking to him, but this changed his mind. He sprang into the air and cried at the top of his voice: "Let go of my tail, let go of my tail!" I can tell you he was so scared that he pined the air trying to get away.

"Don't be in a hurry," said Tinker Bob. "You are such a brave fellow that everyone in the Forest is afraid of you. Now you are afraid even in your own cave. Just be quiet while I talk to you."

"Let go of my tail, I say," cried Mr. Wolf as he struggled to free himself from Tinker Bob whom he could not see.

"I'll let go of your tail when you promise to be quiet," said Tinker.

"I'll be quiet if you will not hurt me," said Mr. Wolf.

"Let Go of My Tail, I Say," Cried Mr. Wolf.

"I thought you were such a terrible fellow that everyone in the Forest was afraid of you. I thought you were planning to be away when the King came to see you so you could capture him in your cave, and here you are trying to get away when a visitor comes to see you. You are a coward. You dare not stay even in the same place with me. Tell me, how are you going to capture the King of the Forest?"

Poor Mr. Wolf didn't know what to say. He looked as hard as he could look but could see no one. Tinker Bob was there but he could not be seen, for the power to become invisible had been given him by Old Man Experience through the Stone of the Unseen. As soon as he touched the Stone of Knowledge no one could see him.

"Just let me get out of here and I will never trouble any one again in all the Forest," Mr. Wolf cried out.

"I know all about you, Mr. Wolf. You don't know how to tell the truth. If I let you go out of here you will go to your friends and the very first thing you would do, would be to see how you could catch the King of the Forest. I think you had better stay right here till I say you can go, and then there will be time enough to tell your friends."

"Oh, no," said Mr. Wolf. "I'll do what I say I'll do, and I said I would not harm anyone in the great Forest, again if you would let me out of here." Mr. Wolf trembled because he was so afraid.

"What makes you tremble so, Mr. Wolf?" asked Tinker Bob. "That's the way with these brave fellows that are always growling about. They make others think they are brave, but down in their hearts they are afraid of their own shadows."

Suddenly from outside the entrance of the cave there was a whining sound that called the attention of the King. Tomorrow we will see who it was.

Tomorrow—It Was the King in the Cave.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE IMPOSSIBLE.
I cannot talk worth fourteen cents, and so no spels I spring; and much I envy gifted gent's who make the welkin ring. Chautauqua magnates ply their game, and promise bundles fine, if I'll but write my moral name upon the dotted line. And given I am tempted sore; then I hear Conscience say, "What right have you, I ask to bore an audience, for pay? You know that every time you've tried to paint the welkin red, a lot of wilted eggs were shed, in anger, at your head." How much of boredom we avoid, how much of language blue, if fewer fellows were employed at work they cannot do! I'm weary of singer's serenade who knocks the notes to pulp; I'm tired of hearing blacksmith's preach, and seeing farmers scold. I'm glad that I have sense enough to know where I'm a frost, and so I dodge the platform stuff, though at a frightful cost; for there the easy money lies, and there the soft snags grow; the country's full of talking guys who trade hot air for dough. But as a speaker I am tough, which cannot be denied; I'm glad that I have sense enough to let the welkin slide.

WASHINGTON IS OIL CAPITAL OF WORLD WHILE AMERICAN PETROLEUM INSTITUTE MEETS

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS,
Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Washington is the oil capital of the world this week. Around the Willard, Washington, Raleigh and Ebbitt hotels are gathered dozens of men who made millions in the oil fields of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, California and Wyoming. There are men who started the game in Pennsylvania and followed it westward as new fields were opened up.

The second annual meeting and election of officers and directors of the American Petroleum Institute opened at the Willard Wednesday and that is the magnet which has drawn the men who follow the oil game here. In the assembled hosts are not only men who have followed the game in America, but who have sought the elusive black gold in Mexico, in Central America, in Europe, Asia and Africa.

World Problems Discussed.
The world problems of petroleum, production and consumption, and the future of petroleum and the oil business will be the major subjects of consideration, at the session. Speakers of national and international reputation will discuss them.

Taxation, transportation, research, statistics, specifications, improvements in methods and other topics will be discussed in the group meetings. The annual reports of officers will be submitted today. A banquet at the Willard hotel Friday evening will be the only social affair under the auspices of the Institute although many affairs for wives of the oil men will be given.

The program covering the general session has been divided into general topics of outstanding importance. The world petroleum problem is to be discussed in its vital national and international phases. W. C. Tragle, president of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) will take up specifically America's position, while Sir John Cadman, adviser to the petroleum executive of the British government and widely known in the petroleum affairs abroad, is expected to deal with Great Britain. Edward L. Doherty, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company, will address the meeting on Mexico, while an effort is being made to have John Bassett Moore, authority on international law speak on the widely discussed international features of the petroleum problem.

Talks on Production.
Production and consumption were taken up at the general sessions yesterday. The production side of the situation was discussed by D. M. Folsom, Thomas A. O'Donnell, Mr. Folsom particularly dealt with the present day situation, while Mr. O'Donnell took up the subject of the future of oil production. The two greatest consuming agencies of petroleum are represented on the program to discuss consumption. They are the automotive industry and shipping. G. F. Kettering, widely known in automotive circles and head of the General Motors Research Department, Dayton, Ohio, will tell of the automotive industry's problems, with special reference to fuel. Admiral W. S. Henson, chairman of the U. S. Shipping Board, will take up the subject of marine consumption of oil, present and future.

The future of the oil business will be discussed at the general meeting on the afternoon of Friday. H. L. Doherty, president of the Cities Service Company will be heard and Mr. E. L. Reina, of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation and formerly general director of the Oil Division, U. S. Fuel Administration, will deal with conservation of petroleum.

Rounding out the program, there will be heard at the annual banquet, Pat Malloy, president of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association, who will speak on "The Oil Man of the West," Victor Murdock, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, who will be heard on "Ethics of Business"; a representative of the State Department on "International Relations"; Dr. T. A. Le Breton, Ambassador to the U. S. from Argentina, on the "Future Development of the South American Oil Industry."

No less important than the general sessions are the group meetings. Specific subjects will be discussed at these group meetings by experts on transportation, taxation, statistics, research, etc., and questions will be asked and answered, so that the fullest benefit may be derived from these sessions.

FIVE MILLIONS CHANGE HANDS IN OIL DEAL

Kansas & Gulf Company Buys
100 Producing Wells

What is said to be the largest transfer of oil holdings ever recorded in the state was made at Wichita Falls, when, for a consideration of approximately $5,000,000, the Kansas & Gulf company acquired the partnership oil properties of J. I. Staley, P. P. Langford and N. B. Chenaud.

The Kansas & Gulf company takes immediate possession of 100 producing wells in the North Texas fields and an additional well operate a casinghead gas plant at Burk Burnett and a fleet of forty-one tank cars.

EXCHANGE HERE WILL FURNISH OIL QUOTATIONS

D. W. Young, manager of the Oil Exchange and Board of Trade of Breckenridge, announces that he has completed arrangements with Bryant & Co. of Ranger, with offices in the Guaranty Bank building, to furnish the Ranger firm with quotations from the three board sessions of the Breckenridge exchange immediately upon the closing of each session.

This will put the exchange facilities in Ranger for the convenience of the large number of people who hold Breckenridge stock and unit issues. Depending upon the success of the present service, it is likely that minute wire service will be installed within a week or ten days.

The Times will carry daily quotations from the three board sessions.

WALKER NO. 2 LAST WEEK'S RECORD WELL

The record well for the Breckenridge district last week was the Walker-Caldwell No. 2 of Hoffmeier-Deegens, which struck the pay at 3,112 and at last report was making 3,400 barrels. The well adjoins the location of Humble's Walker-Caldwell No. 2, now making 2,400.

Market Steady on Refined Oil; Drop Predicted

The market on refined products remains steady, with indications in some sections that point to strengthening and a weakening tendency shown in others.

A Standard Oil bulletin predicts that the period of readjustment through which the country is now passing, which is accompanied by a sharp drop in the prices of many commodities will see a lowered cost of producing and refining oil. The lubricating market is slightly stronger.

MUST PIPE PRODUCT 1,500 MILES FROM NEWLY FOUND RICH OIL FIELD IN MacKENZIE BASIN

International News Service.
EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 19.—The richest oil field in the world is believed to have been discovered in the Mackenzie river basin. It is supposed to extend between the Rocky Mountains and the Great Barrens, Great Slave Lake and course of the Mackenzie river.

This is the thrilling news brought from the north by A. L. Shaw, of the Imperial Oil company, and R. A. Brooks, one of the company's geologists. A sensational oil strike was made at Fort Norman August 25 by a drill crew of the Imperial Oil company, the Canadian subsidiary of the Standard Oil. The vein was tapped at a depth of 800 feet. The flow is estimated at 1500 barrels a day. The oil burst up from a six-inch casing with a force that carried it fifteen feet over the derrick. The well has been capped for the winter and left under guard.

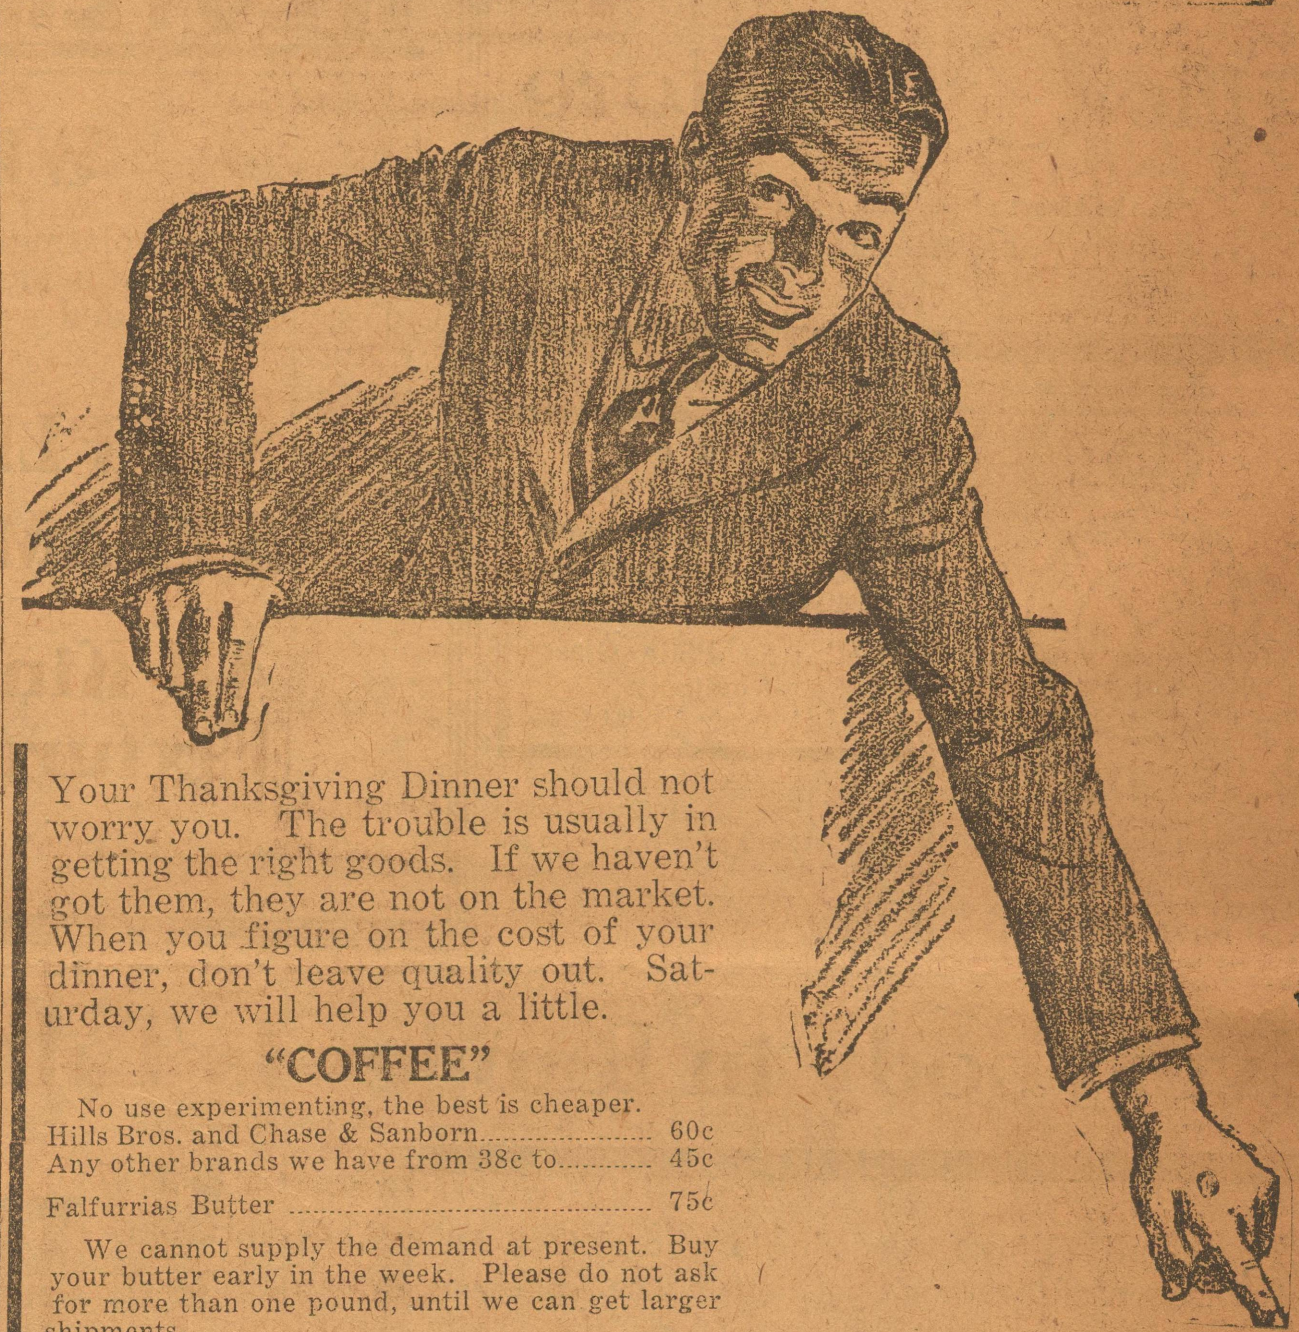

Mr. Brooks and other geologists who have been in the region for five months believe the well taps the gigantic reservoir of oil which scientists have been confident for years was hidden somewhere in the neighborhood of the famous tar sands of the Athabasca. They are of the opinion that at almost any point north of Fort Norman as abundant a flow can be struck. If this is true the new field is a potential bonanza that dwarfs the riches of Texas or Tampico.

But how to get the oil to market is a problem. It can be sent by steamboat to rail connection at Fort McMurray of Peace river and shipped to Edmonton over the northern branch of the Canadian Pacific railway. But the river route is open only a few months in the year. The alternative is to construct a 1,500 mile pipe line from the Mackenzie to Edmonton, which, according to President Stillman, of the Imperial company would cost $70,000,000. Three or four years, it is believed, will pass before the transportation problem is solved. It is uncertain, in consequence, when the industrial development of the new oil field will begin.

Interchurch World Movement Was 'Far From Failure,' Says Bishop

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 19.—The Interchurch World movement was "far from a failure," in the opinion of Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago, who today addressed the committee on conservation and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church. He added that a plan was on foot "to bring all interdenominational Protestant forces together in a forward movement of larger proportion than any yet undertaken."

"The movement brought together the protestant churches in a cooperation never before known to them, and resulted in the raising of $155,000,000," said Bishop Nicholson. "It has left a deepening conviction throughout the nation that there must be a perpetuation of the thing for which that movement stood. As chairman of the reorganization committee, I can say that we have just completed in New York a three days' series of conferences with various interdenominational organizations. We found a universal desire for the reorganization and continuation of the Interchurch Movement either under that or some other name.

"The meeting in New York last week convinced me more than ever before that the aims and ideals of the last three years are desirable, profitable and workable. We shall learn by our mistakes but we shall go forward on large lines."

PROVES TO BE DEATH OMEN

By International News Service
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—When a dog howls to the moon in the dead of night some one has died.

So runs the ancient superstition just how ancient none know.

Recently a stray hound slipped into the yard of the home of Mrs. R. Peavey

Out of the shadows of the fence he made his way beneath a window—and howled. Inside the house Mrs. E. J. Bulgin, of Portland, Ore., heard the howl and recounted to her sister the superstition of the howling canine and death.

The following morning Mrs. Bulgin received from her husband, the Rev. E. J. Bulgin, a telegram stating that their son Arthur, twenty-three, formerly a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, had been killed on a hunting trip.

HOLLANDER WHO INVENTED GERMAN FIGHTING PLANE NOW ON VISIT TO AMERICA

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Anthony H. G. Fokker, inventor and manufacturer of the fighting plane of that name which gave Germany the supremacy of the air in the early part of the war, has arrived with his wife, on the liner Noordam.

Fokker, who is only thirty years old, made clear at once he is a Hollander.

"Although I had my business in Germany during the war," he explained, "I never lost my Dutch citizenship."

He said he had offered his planes to England and America in 1912 but they refused them.

"I had to sell my products somewhere," he went on, "so I found a customer in Germany. I never was in the German army or in the service of the German government."

"Do you believe regular transatlantic air travel feasible in the near future?" he was asked.

Less Than Day Cross Ocean. "I am more than ever convinced," he replied, "that in between five and ten years from now we shall cross the ocean in less than a day as safely in giant airplanes as we do now in liners, and more comfortably."

"Flying with certainty in a fog will be made easy by the development of directional wireless, and airplanes will find their way by its means just as liners now do by their submarine signals."

Two things will be necessary to make airplanes as common as automobiles, the inventor asserted.

"First, provision of sufficient flying fields, with equipment so that the use of an airplane will be an undoubted saving of time. Second, we shall have to make machines which will ascend from a very small space, such as a roof. For this the development of a very light engine will be necessary."

He said airplanes must be made simpler, stronger and cheaper in order to become commercially profitable. Asked about his plans here, Mr. Fokker said:

"Frankly, I am out for business all over the world. Air transport is of international importance and its possibilities must be studied everywhere. I have my eye not only on the requirements for transatlantic traffic but also on the question of a transatlantic service."

"I have recently equipped the Dutch air force with new military machines. I am still improving my war machines and bringing out inventions for military purposes. I am of course always prepared to build airplanes embodying my latest ideas for any government which requires them."

Makes New Machines. "My latest machines for passenger, mail and freight services have proved successful and now are in daily use on some of the air lines between London and the Continent. Next year the entire air mail service between London, Brussels, Amsterdam, Hamburg, Copenhagen, and Berlin will be carried in big Fokker monoplane."

He said landing machines will be used in the future for long distance and among islands and in other parts of the world where there is plenty of water and no landing grounds seaplanes will be more valuable.

Concerning the all-metal planes, Mr. Fokker said: "I believe aluminum alloys and steel have been used indiscriminately and excessively. Accidents have been caused by the use of these metals for important parts of the machines. I think the existing types are impractical."

Mr. Fokker said he has been working for several years on the possibility of human flight without engines.

"There is energy in the air which we must learn to utilize for ascent and propulsion," he said.

According to statistics gathered from twelve large cities there are more working girls between the ages of 14 and 16 in the continuation schools than there are girls in the high schools.

Congressmen Say There's Too Much Massachusetts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Western Republican members of Congress who are arriving here in advance of the opening of the next session are voicing the cry of "Too much Massachusetts" in the management of the Republican party's affairs in Congress, and with that slogan are trying to start a movement for the election of a Western man to be Speaker of the next House.

By a "Western man" is meant one who resides west of Pennsylvania. Under the precedent that has governed for a long time Frederick H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, the present speaker, would be entitled to re-election, but he is at a disadvantage because Henry Cabot Lodge, also of Massachusetts, is leader of the majority of the senate, and another Massachusetts man, Calvin Coolidge, will preside over the senate as Vice President after March 4. If the rule of seniority is continued the next chairman of the important house committee of interests and foreign commerce will be Samuel J. Wainwright, of Massachusetts.

The next house will be full of Westerners, many of whom will be serving their first term. They may join the present house, who, under the leadership of Representative Longworth, made a stiff fight two years ago to change the seniority rule in the appointment of committees.

After Mr. Gillett was elected to be speaker he and his friends lost interest in the abolition of the seniority rule, and the old conditions prevailed.

It is hinted that the fight against seniority and arbitrary processes is to be resumed, but the anti-Gillett movement has not reached the stage at which a candidate is chosen. There will be no difficulty in finding available timber, however. Three Ohio men have been mentioned at various times for the speakership.

They are Representatives Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, and Representative-elect Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland.

Mr. Burton has served sixteen years in the house and six in the senate, and, it is expected, will wield commanding influence in the next house by reason of his long experience.

Finds Phony Among English Crown Jewels

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Sir George Youngusband, keeper of the Jewel House at the Tower of London, has just revealed the fact that one of the British crown jewels, of which he is custodian, is an imitation. The stone was believed to be a magnificent aquamarine, but proved on examination to be only a piece of colored glass. It figured first in the crown of King James II. The mystery of when the imitation was substituted for the real stone has not been solved.

BRAND WIFE WITH SCARLET LETTER FOR ONE MISSTEP

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Ada McIntyre, the young wife of "Scotty" McIntyre, a steel worker, whom the town has ostracized because she took an automobile ride with another man, is leaving Newcastle in spite of the fact that the townspeople, who pilloried her for her act, are willing to forgive.

The forgiveness comes after she had been condemned by everyone and ministers in their pulpits had censured her for her act.

The town now admits she committed no grave error, save to accept the proffer of an automobile ride with another married woman and two men. One of the men had been drinking, the motor broke down, and in a quarrel one of the men was killed.

Mrs. McIntyre has made a dramatic appeal for mercy in a letter written to local newspapers.

"Because of one mistake must I be forced to submit to ridicule and scorn of people forever? The owner of the property in which my husband and I reside gave us notice to vacate.

"Where we can go I don't know. We cannot find rooms and unless we move my husband and baby and myself will be turned out into the street."

Wine is said to have been drunk on the automobile ride, and at a lonely spot seven miles from the city the party alighted.

PLOUGHING UP SNAKE EGGS.

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., Nov. 18.—W. H. Sturdevant, Lorane, offers a new egg story. While ploughing a few days ago he turned up several white eggs. He wondered whether or not some of his pullets had learned a new stunt and were providing themselves with subterranean nests. The next day he turned up a large spotted snake, which made him certain that the eggs had been laid by a snake. Upon opening one of them he found that his suspicions were correct. He has found no market for the eggs, although they are as pretty an white as any hen eggs.

Mrs. Esther M. Richardson has been a school teacher in Kansas for the past sixty-three years.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

"Some Biscuit!"

"BEST BY TEST"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

DULLNESS PAVES WAY TO CRIME, PRISON SURVEYORS POINT OUT IN TEST OF BACKWARD PUPILS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A definite relationship between dullness in school and crime has been established, according to a statement by Adolph Lewisohn, chairman of the Prison survey committee which has submitted its report to Governor Smith.

Statistics fitted in the committee's report go to prove that if a boy is retarded behind his normal grade in school his chances of getting into prison are eight times to one against his chances if not retarded. This does not prove that retardation is the cause of crime, but it does establish with certainty that the factors which contribute to retardation also contribute to getting into prison.

"In this fact," says the committee's report, "lies the lesson for parents, teachers, educators, school boards and society. Every means available should be brought to bear upon the removal of the causes of retardation of backward pupils, for mental defectiveness and crime have an indisputable relationship."

For the purpose of studying the connection between backwardness in school and crime, 1,295 inmates of state prisons, selected at random, were examined. It was learned that only 19.6 per cent of the number had left school in the grade they should have had they entered school at six or seven years of age and advanced one grade each year. The number of "accelerated"—that is, in advance of their normal grade—was only 1.9 per cent. All the remainder of the 1,295 prisoners were "retarded"; 76.6 per cent were retarded by one year or more; 54.3 per cent were retarded two years or more; 42.9 per cent were retarded by three years or more, and so on down the line until it was found that 0.9 per cent were retarded ten years or more.

Arguing for a fuller and broader educational system in the prisons, the committee made public the record of 530 men entering the prison school at Auburn during one year. Of that number 67 had never been in school before, 61 had attended school one year or less, 64 from one to two years, 58 from two to three years, 52 from three to four years, 61 from four to five years and 62 from five to six years or more.

Of the total number, 130 had never before been in a school teaching English, 183 were unable to read or write English when entering prison, and 118 were absolutely illiterate.

"These men," say the report, "are imprisoned for the violation of laws, the meaning of which they do not know and the text of which they can not read. If the state owed these men an education when they were free members of society and did not meet its obligation, it certainly owes it to them in their more unfortunate condition."

"On the other hand, if they were indifferently before commitment to obtaining what are the merest tools of expressions, they must be required to learn to use these common tools before being released."

"It seems hardly possible to believe that the state imprisons an illiterate for a term of years, and then allows that man to be paroled without reference to his ability to read and write and understand the simplest English expressions, and yet such is a fact. There is something ludicrous, if it were not such a serious matter, in seeing a body of men being marched to schoolrooms for daily instructions given by one of their own members out of books and with methods obviously intended for children."

"Their expressions suggest those of patients unwillingly taking a hypodermic injection of some unwhipped serum. The guards sit or stand nearby to see that the full dose is received. One can see by the attitude of the inmates how little of it is absorbed into the system. Education cannot be injected in the human mind in this way. Compulsory attendance is always possible and compulsory attention may be imposed by the guards, but no one can make to order compulsory thinking and mental growth."

"Something more than hearing and something more than doing compulsory arithmetic or compulsory spelling. These men need to feel the advantages of having an education, must be made to feel the desire themselves to learn, to absorb into their experience the facts which come from books and ideas, so that they may leave with a better understanding of the true mental, normal, vocational and civic interests of life."

Together with the oil refinery, plant, works, fixtures and improvements thereon as well as all tools, apparatuses and appliances of whatsoever nature or character connected with or incident to the operation of said oil refinery, plant and works owned by said defendant and now situated on said land and premises.

Terms of sale, cash. Sale to be subject to the approval and confirmation by the said District Court of the Ninety-First Judicial District of Eastland County, State of Texas.

Given under our hands this 1st day of November, 1920.

BABY RECOVERS VOICE

GALESBURG, Kan., Nov. 19.—Helen Reed, two-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Reed of this city, has recovered her voice, after a tracheotomy operation, in a local hospital. The little girl had her voice five months ago, after what seemed to be an ordinary attack of tonsillitis. An X-ray picture revealed a wire paper clip in the trachea, or wind pipe, just below the vocal chords. An opening was made in the trachea in order to insert a silver tube through which the baby could breathe. The paper clip was removed, and the little patient is now well.

TENSE PRESSURE ON HER HEAD

"My Sides, Back and Head Pained Me Just All the Time," Says Alabama Lady, Who Took Cardui and Got Well.

Uniontown, Ala.—"After the birth of my baby, I came near dying," writes Mrs. Maude Felts, of Uniontown. "I was in an awful condition. . . . It just looked like I would die.

"I couldn't bear anyone to even touch me, I was so sore, not even to turn me in bed. My sides, back and head all pained me, just all the time.

"We had the doctor every day and he did everything he knew how, it looked like. Yet I lay there suffering such intense pains as seems I can't describe.

"Finally, I said to my husband, let us try Cardui. . . . He went for it at once, and before I had taken the first bottle the . . . came back, the soreness began to go away, and I began to mend. The intense pressure seemed all at once to leave my head, and before long I was up.

"I took three bottles and was well and strong and able to do my work. I believed Cardui saved my life. . . . I cannot praise it enough for what it did for me."

If you are a woman, and need a tonic—
 Take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

ROCKEFELLER FUND LEADS TUBERCULAR FIGHT IN FRANCE

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Rockefeller Foundation which has been assisting France in its fight against tuberculosis, over to the complete control of France, an elaborate anti-tubercular organization which has been developed in the department Eure-et-Loire, at a cost of 4,000,000 francs.

The organization, the most complete of its purpose in France, consists of 24 dispensaries, four complete isolation services, a departmental sanatorium, and a modern departmental laboratory. In addition to this, the Rockefeller Foundation has started among the children of the department an organization known as the Modern Health Crusaders, a system of child education and having for its object the prevention of tuberculosis by the thorough teaching of hygiene.

Although it will not be possible to duplicate the Eure-et-Loire system, it will be used by the other departments of France as a general model. The Rockefeller Foundation is assisting the French people in their campaign against consumption in 38 of the 87 departments and work probably will continue for the next 15 months or two years.

BLIGHTING TAXATION OF THE MINING INDUSTRY WILL MEET OPPOSITION OF CONVENTION

By Associated Press
DENVER, Nov. 19.—Complete revision of all tax laws pertaining to the mining industry, a "clearing of the atmosphere" between capital and labor, and a general review of the gold problem are among the subjects slated for action at the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining Congress, beginning here tomorrow and to continue until Nov. 20.

"Excessive taxation which has all but killed the industry," said an official announcement issued at headquarters here, "will be chief among the matter discussed."

"The allied tax committee of the congress, which met recently in New York, will bring a report to the convention recommending complete revision of all existing mining tax laws, both national and local."

"In addition it is generally recognized among mining men there must be a general clearing of the atmosphere to show where the reasonable line is between capital and labor."

Legislation which would "require incorporation of labor unions to make contracts binding and enforceable" will be proposed and discussed, it was officially stated.

Invitations have been sent to 17,000 mining operators throughout the country. The speaking program includes addresses by Governors Em-met D. Boyle of Nevada and Henry J. Allen of Kansas. Governor John J. Cornwell of West Virginia, whose actions have been closely followed by mining men in connection with the extended strike of miners in that state, has been invited and officials of the congress expect him to accept.

Eight general divisions of work will be undertaken by the convention, according to the program. They are:

Industrial, legislation, standardization, taxation, the gold problem, including furtherance of a movement to prevent greater depletion of the nation's monetary gold reserve; floatation conference, and schools of mines and metallurgy.

Each general division is under supervision of a special committee and conferences will be held daily during the five days of the convention.

"Reconstruction of the monetary system of the nation" will be the topic of an address by Representative Louis T. McFadden of Pennsylvania, father of the gold excise tax bill.

Twenty-four years ago Mrs. Jacob Bair went to Chicago as a school girl stenographer and now she has the largest income of any woman in the Windy City. She is president and director of a company which puts in circulation every year $11,000,000 worth of fruit syrups and fizzing water, and her net earnings for the past two years has averaged $1,525,000 a year.

GERMANS WANT AMERICANS TO OPERATE MINES

By Associated Press
BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Deputy Schlichtebauer, a member of the economic commission of the Bavarian Diet, suggests that participation of American capital in the Ruhr district should be invited in order to circumvent any French attempt at occupying this region.

He proposes that this German industrial district should be organized into a single economic unit, in which American capital should be given a 25 per cent interest. Such American holdings, he states, would suffice to head off any French invasion.

HADN'T BEEN TO ST. LOUIS IN FIFTY-FIVE YEARS—LIVED EIGHTEEN MILES AWAY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 18.—George Putnam, a retired Edwardsville business man, spent the other afternoon in St. Louis. He had not been in the city for fifty-five years, although he lived all the time but eighteen miles away, and there are three steam roads and three electric interurban lines between St. Louis and Edwardsville.

He returned in time for supper, but in the meantime there had been consternation at the St. James Hotel, which is his home. When his absence was noted Mrs. Mary Kirkpatrick, the proprietor, and her assistants, searched the building for him.

"St. Louis has changed quite a bit since 1865," said Putnam when he returned.

MILD INVIGORANT

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 18.—"Canned heat," a preparation of alcohol and paraffin, put up in cubes for use in small alcohol stoves, is the latest "mild" invigorant being adopted by local Indians, according to Chief of Police Frank Heater. It was especially popular here during fair week.

Highly satisfactory jags may be had by the drinking of a combination of ten on extract and the alcohol squeezed from one of these cubes, according to Heater. Two good drinks are said to start the "spirits" moving, while three are guaranteed to produce a menagerie, such as no circus ever possessed.

Several of the white "inveterates" are switching their patronage to the new mixtures, according to Heater, as it produces all the results of denatured alcohol, minus the possibility of becoming a corpse.

WOMEN CLASH OVER APRON UNIFORM FOR POSTOFFICE CLERKS

DETROIT, Nov. 18.—Two "wars of the aprons" rage in Detroit's Federal building.

While women militants in the post-office department protest volubly against the edict of Postmaster Nagel that on Dec. 1 all women employees shall don bungalow aprons, other women employees of Uncle Sam are urging the adoption of the aprons in the internal revenue department.

Hostilities broke out in Collector Grogan's office Friday, following the disclosure that two women employees had been interviewed, with the permission of the collector, and had declared emphatically against aprons or any uniform garb for employees of the office.

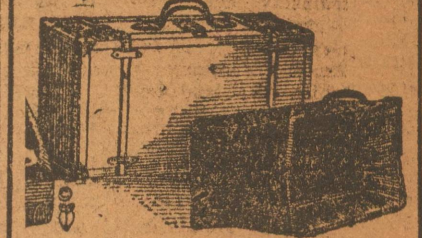

Collector Grogan soon learned that other women employees of his department feel they also should have been accorded an opportunity to give their views.

"I guess we'll have to put the matter to a vote," Mr. Grogan said.

HARDING SENDS LETTER TO MINE HEARD AT DENVER

By Associated Press
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 19.—Despite a "trying period in which national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and misjudged," the United States is "sound and secure" and the "world's mainstay and hope," President-elect Warren G. Harding declared to Bulkeley Wells of Denver, president of the American Mining congress, in a letter which was read tonight at the annual convention of the congress.

He also declared that he was anxious to take counsel with such men as would attend the congress in outlining the policies of his administration.

Senator Harding's letter follows:
"Hon. Bulkeley Wells, President American Mining Congress, Denver, Colo.:
My Dear Mr. Wells:
"I have to thank you for your invitation to the 23rd annual convention of the American Mining congress, and to express my regrets that it will be impossible for me to accept. My regrets are the more keen because your meeting will bring together a body of men with which I am anxious to take counsel in outlining the policies of the next administration. I am aware of the difficulties that confront the mining industry of the country and would be glad of the opportunity to familiarize myself with some of the details.
"It is my hope and belief that we will presently be brought to realize that the tendency to reaction and industrial depression is only momentary. Not only is our own country sound and secure, but it is the world's mainstay and hope. We have been through a trying period, in which the national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and misjudged. We have now had a convincing demonstration of the real attitude of the American people and it will not fall to reassure both our own people and the rest of the world, which so greatly needs our steadfast support and aid. A mighty effort will be required of us to meet the demands that a recovering world will impose. In no direction will these demands be more pressing than in supplying those necessities of life and reconstruction that must come from the richness of American mines. With wisdom and distribution such as we hope to secure by dint of enlisting the aid of such expert authorities as your own organization represents, I believe we shall place our country and its industry once more on the highroad of prosperity and success. To that end you may be assured that every energy and effort of the new administration will be directed.

"Please be good enough to convey to the congress and all its members the assurance of my pleasure in receiving your invitation, and of my wish to serve you, in common with every other worthy American interest.
"Most sincerely yours,
(Signed),
"WARREN G. HARDING."

HEIRESS FOUND AFTER SIXTY-YEAR SEARCH

WAVERLY, O., Nov. 13.—Heir to a share of the $50,000,000 fortune left by her California father, Mrs. Mary Richardson, 70 years of age, was found after a sixty-year search, in a tiny wooden house perched on the side of an Ohio hill.
Until his death in 1815, Henry W. Putman, San Francisco millionaire, inventor of the safety-pin, bottle fastener and a score of other successful wire devices, sought to find the daughters he had left in a New Orleans orphanage when he headed west in 1849, taking his son, Henry, with him.

Instead of hunting gold with the California "forty-niners" Putman bought two springs and supplied water to the citizens of San Francisco, laying the foundation of his immense fortune.
"Little Mary" was found, living meagerly on a few acres, by her brother Henry W. Putman Jr., New York multi-millionaire, who took up the search after the death of his father. The twin sister had died before the brother could reach her.

STARTS FOR POLAND IN STOLEN BOAT; ARRESTED

NORTHUMBERLAND, Pa., Nov. 19.—Arrested while rowing a stolen boat down the Susquehanna here, Joseph Stover, of Milton, stoutly asserted that he was on his way to New York, and believed if he followed the course of the river it would bring him there. Stover was en route to Poland, his native land. He said friends had told him to follow the river, as it flowed past the New York City Hall.
Stover had more than $400 in his possession and a bank book showing deposits of $500 in a New York bank. He was allowed to go minus the boat.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated with Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While you Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.
